The Grand Abridgment of the LAW

To the Right Honourable,

The Lord Chief Juſtice of his Majeſtie's Court of Kings-Bench;

The Lord Chief Juſtice of his Majeſtie's Court of Common-Pleas;

The Lord Chief Baron of his Maieſtie's Court of Exchequer;

And the reſt of the Honourable Juſtices of the ſaid ſeverall COURTS.

My Lords,

ALthough this work being onely a Collection of all the Principall Caſes and Points of Law, from the beginning of the Reign of the late Queen Elizabeth, to this preſent Time, which have been Reported and publiſhed in the Books of the moſt Reverend and Learned Judges and Sages of the Law, (reduced under the general Titles of Law, and their Diviſions) needeth not any further approbation: Yet becauſe I well know, That the Cenſure of a Work of this nature, doth moſt properly belong unto your Lordſhips; the ſubject matter thereof ſuiting to your Lordſhips Judicious Gravities; Who are the Pillars, Supporters, and Diſpenſors of the Common-Lawes of the Kingdom; And becauſe I humbly conceive, That there is not a Caſe therein which your your Lordſhips do not know, or remember; And alſo be cauſe this Work was undertaken by me (at the Importunity of ſome Friends) for the good, eaſe, and benefit of all Practicers and Students of the Common-Lawes, and other his Majeſty's Subjects. I have preſumed (in all humility) to tender it to your Honours. I ſhall not ſay any thing for the Work it ſelf, I hope it will ſpeak for it ſelf; and find ſuch acceptance with your Lordſhips, as will engage me to finiſh the whole work (if God give me life) in a ſhort time, ſome further part of it being now ready for the Preſs. In the mean time, deſiring that your Lordſhips would be pleaſed to accept of theſe my Pains and Endeavours for the propagating ſo neceſſary a Work, and to honour it with your Lordſhips Protections and Approbations, I preſent and ſubmit it to your Lordſhips moſt grave and judicious Cenſures.

From my Study in Grayes-Inn, the 28. of June, 1660.

Your Lordſhips in all Duty and Service,

William Hughes.

Abatement of Writ. See Writ.

1. IN an Action of Detinue of a Chain; It was found by a Speciall Verdict, That the Bishop of Cork in Ireland, granted Letters of Administration of goods in Ireland, here in London: and it was moved, Whether the Jury here might find things, or a matter done in Ireland, out of this Realm? Or whether the Writ brought here should abate? And it was holden clearly, per totam Curiam, That upon a general Issue here, the Jury might find a forreign matter as a thing done out of the Realm; and it should not abate the Writ, if it be not matter of substance, and not pleaded before. Pasch. 27 Eliz. in Co. B. Carter and Crosis Case. Godbolt. 34.

2. In all Actions where the thing in demand cannot be had, or the person against whom the thing is demanded, cannot yield the thing in demand, the Writ shall abate. As if a Writ of Annuity be brought by the Grantee of an Annuity for years, and the term expireth, the Writ shall abate. So where Tenant in speciall tail brings Waste, and, pendant his Writ, his Issue dyeth, the Writ shall abate. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Wadt and Preestballs Case. Leo 329.

3. A Writ of Waste was brought (by two Coparceners, and the heir of the third Coparcener, who were the daughters of Sir Roger Lewknor; the third Coparcener being dead, and her husband Tenant by the Curtesie;) against Ford; and the Writ was, Quod fecit Vastum in terris, quas Sir Roger Lewknor the Father, cujus hæres ipse sunt demisit defendenti; whereas it was said, It should have been, Cujus hæredes de Corpore ipsa sunt; and further the Writ was, quod tenuerunt, which (as was objected) shall be tenuerunt joyntly; whereas they were Tenants in Common: But notwithstanding these Exceptions, the Writ did not abate, but was holden good: and because there is no other form of Writ, then quod tenuerunt, the Writ was holden good: and so also the Writ was good; without naming the Tenant by the Curtesie. Quære that, 29 Eliz. in Co. B. Sir Roger Lewknor's and Ford's Case. Godbolt. 114.

4. The Father and the Son were bound in a Statute Merchant joyntly, The Defendant sued Execution; and their Lands severally were extended: They brought a Joynt Audita Querela; It was adjudged, That the Writ should abate; for they ought to have had several Audita Querela; because their grievance by the Execution was severall. Pasch. 38 Eliz. in Co. B. Worsley and Charnock's Case. Owen 106. See P. 36 Eliz. in B.R. Curtise and Overscott Case. Owen. ibid. acc.

5. A Writ of Errour was brought to reverse a Judgment in an Action of Trover and Conversion, at Launceston in Cornwall, upon a Nihil dicit. The Errour assigned was, That the Record was returned by the Mayor, Aldermen, and Deputy-Recorder. Whereas the Writ of Errour was to return a Record before the Mayor, Aldermen, and Recorder. The Writ of Errour was abated by Judgment of the Court. Hill. 1649. Spry and Mills Case. Styles. 203.

6. If a Writ of Covenant to levy a Fine be directed to A. Sheriff of the County of B. whereas the said A. the Sheriff is one of Defforceants to the Fine; the Writ is abateable: although it be but a summons, and the Sheriff may summon him; but in such case, If the Writ be directed to the Coroners, the same is good, and shall stand good. Trin. 8 Car. Rott. 1310. B. R. Smithier and Sir Rich. Danes Case, Cro. 1. Part. 300.

7. A Formedon was brought in the Common-Pleas, and a Verdict found, and Judgment given against the Plaintiff for a fault in the Writ; and he brought a Writ of Errour in B. R. and it was said by Popham, Chief Justice, If there be no Writ, It is not holpen by the Statute of 18 Eliz. but a Writ insufficient in form, and sufficient in matter, is holpen by the said Statute. M. 31 Eliz. Downall and Catesbyes Case. Goldesbr. 126.

8. A Scire facias upon a Recognisance against M. as Terr-Tenant; the Defendant pleaded, That B. was seized in Fee, of three Acres of the Land not named in the Writ; and so prayed, the Writ might abate. The Jury found, That B. and J. S. were Joynt-Tenants of the three Acres; It was holden, That the Writ should not abate. Trinit. 30 Eliz. The Lady Grisham and Man's Case. Goldesbr. 160.

9. The Earl Rivers was arrested at the Suit of More by a Bill of Middlesex in a Plea of Debt; and being not able to put in bayl, he was committed to the Custody of the Marshall of the Mar-

ſhalſie of the Upper-Bench. The Earl brought his Habeas Corpus, and pleaded his Priviledge of Peerage: and that he ought not to be arreſted; and prayes the Writ might be abated. And upon Demurrer it was holden by the Juſtices, He ought to have prayed, That the Writ might be abated before he was turned over to the Marſhall; but now it was too late to abate the Writ; and any body that had cauſe of Action, might now declare againſt him. Trinit. 1649. B. R. More and the Earl Rivers Caſe. Styles 222.

10. A Writ of Errour was brought to reverſe a Judgment given in a Writ of Dower: and the Writ of Errour was returnable Coram cuſtodibus Libertatis, &c. apud Weſtm. whereas it ought to have been Coram Cuſtodibus ubicunq; for they are not fixed at Weſtm. Quære, If the Writ of Errour ſhall abate; for the Court doubted of it, and it was not adjudged. Mich. 1650. B. R. Fairfax and Fairfax Caſe. Styles. 236.

11. Error brought to Reverſe a Judgment in an Inferiour Court; The Error aſſigned was, That the Judgment was Quod recuperare debent, where it ought to be recuperare debet; ſo there is no Judgment given, and ſo no Writ of Error lyes; the Writ was abated, Paſc. 1651. Rott. 211. B. R. Shedlock, and Pa Peres Caſe. Styles 265.

12. Treſpaſſe, Quare filiam et heredem rapuit et maritavit; and the Writ doth not ſay, cujus maritagium ad ipſum pertinet; and for that cauſe, I was prayed the Writ might Abate; But adjudged the Writ was good; for if it may be either wayes, as the Writ is, or with the other words, cujus, &c. for of right the Father ought to have the Marriage of his Son. M. 1651. B. R. Wood and Topham's Caſe. Styles 303.

13. No Appeal ſhall be abated if the Appealor declare in certain: 1. The Fact. 2. In what place of the body. 3. The year. 4. The Day. 5. The Hour. 6. The time of the thing. 7. The Town or place where the Deed was done. 8. With what weapon he was ſlain; but if all theſe be not certainly expreſſed in the Declaration, then there can be no proceeding upon the Appeal, but the Appeal ſhall be abated; And therefore where the hour is not certainly expreſſed, but is ſaid to be circa horam undecimam, ante meridiem ejuſdem diei; and circa horam predictam; an appeal of Murder was Abated. And ſo an Appeal ſhall be abated for falſe Latine, Omiſſion, or other matter of Form, in favorem vitæ. See Egerton, and Morgan's Caſe. M. 8. Jac. B. R. Botſtr. part. 1. from fol. 69. to fol. 84. where divers Caſes are mentioned: for what cauſes an Appeal ſhall Abate, and for what not.

14. The diſcontinuee of a Meſſuage had other Lands by good Title adjoyning to it; and abated the Meſſuage, and built another which was larger, ſo as part of it extended upon his own land, to which he had good Title; The heir brought a Sur Cui in vita, and demanded the houſe by the name of a meſſuage, whereas part was built upon the Land to which he had no right, and ſo found by Verdict: It was moved that the Writ ſhould abate, for if the defendant ſhall have Judgment according to his Writ, it ſhould be Quod recuperet Meſſuagium; and that would be erronious, for it appeareth that the Defendant hath not Title to part of it; But the Writ was awarded to be good, and a ſpeciall Judgment given, viz. That Querens recuperet Meſſuagium predict. viz. ſo many feet in length, and ſo many in breadth, according as it was found by the Verdict. Trin. 31. Eliz. C. B. Frayes and Allens Caſe, Leon. 152.

15. A. makes B. his Executor, and dyes, B. makes C. his Executor, and dyes: If C. as Executor to B. brings an Action of Debt, for a Debt due to A. the firſt Teſtatour, the Writ ſhall abate. Trinit. 32. Eliz. C. B. Ivory and Fryes Caſe. Leon. 155.

16. Husband and Wife, were Tenants for life, their Remainder in Fee to an Infant: and then all three bring a Writ of Error to reverſe the Fine; the Writ ſhall not abate, but ſtand good, and the Fine ſhall be Reverſed as to the Infant onely. Leon. 1. part. Mich. 31. Eliz. in B. R. 137.

17. Husband and Wife brought an Aſſize of Freſh-force againſt A. B. and C. his Wife, and 11. others, the Defendants appeared, and pleaded by Attorney, and pleaded in abatement of the Writ, that there were never ſuch perſon, C. Wife of B. in rerum natura, as is ſuppoſed by the Plaint; upon which the Plaintiff did demur; and it was adjudged that the Plea did not abate, the Plaint againſt all the Defendants; but againſt that party onely, and that the Plaint did ſtand good againſt the other defendants. See Pollard and Jekells Caſe. Plowden 9.

Where the Writ ſhall abate by Death of one of the parties, Plaintiff or Defendant; where not.

1. AN Attaint was brought againſt the Jurors, upon a Verdict againſt Ingrove, given in an Aſſize; and depending the Writ, Ingrave dyed; and yet it was adjudged, That the Writ ſhould not abate. 3 Ma. Dyer. 131. Heydon's Caſe.

2. In a Replevin; the Parties were at Iſſue; which was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved by

by the Defendants Counſel, That after the laſt Continuance, one of the Defendants dyed; and the Plaintiff prayed his Judgment notwithſtanding his death. The opinion of the Court was, That the Writ ſhould not abate: and Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff, 2 Eliz. Dyer. 175. Sackvil's Caſe.

3. The next Avoidance of the Church is granted to two; and they bring a Quare impedit upon a diſturbance; and hanging the Writ, one of them dyeth. It was holden the Writ ſhould abate. 11 Eliz. Dyer. 279.

4. In a Writ of Entry upon a Diſſeiſin, he in the reverſion was received upon the default of Tenant for life; and pleaded to Iſſue; which at the Aſſizes was found for him; and before the day in Bank the Tenant for life dyed. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 258. in the Earl of Suſſex Caſe it is a Quære, if the Writ ſhall abate.

5. In an Original Writ, the death of one of the Parties doth abate the Writ. As if the Huſband & Wife bring a Scire Facias upon a Judgment in an Action of debt, and pendant the Writ, the Husband dyeth, the Scire facias ſhall abate; for it is now in the nature of an Original Writ, to revive the firſt Judgment. Norton and Sym's Caſe. 11 Jac. in Co. B. Brownlow. 64. b.

6. A Writ of Errour was brought againſt two, upon a Recovery in a Precipe quod reddat; and one of them dyed: the Queſtion was, Whether the Writ ſhould abate? It was ſaid, That a Writ of Errour was but a Commiſſion to Examine the Record, and the party ſhould recover nothing thereby: and therefore the Writ ſhould not abate. It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That if the Recovery were in a perſonal Action, the Writ, to reverſe the Judgment, ſhould not abate: but contrary, if it were in a reall action, for the Writ ſhould abate; for that he ſhould be reſtored to the Land. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbold. 66. and ibid. 68. Sir Edward Hobbie's Caſe.

7. Debt was brought againſt three Executors, and one of the Executors dyed pendant the Writ; It was ſaid, That here the plural number remains, viz. two Executors; and it is not like where the Writ is brought againſt two Executors, and one dyeth. But the whole Court was clear of opinion, That by the death of one of the Executors, the Writ ſhould abate. Mich. 29 Eliz. C. B. Knight's Caſe. Leon. 44.

8. If one be condemned in an Action upon the Caſe; or Treſpaſs, upon Nihil dicit, or Demurrer, and a Writ of Enquiry of Damages iſſueth; and before the Return of it, the Defendant dyeth; By Dyer and Manwood the Writ ſhould not at all abate. And in a Writ of Accompt, If the Defendant account, and be found in Arrearages, and dyeth, the Writ ſhall not abate; but the Executors ſhall be charged: and yet an Account doth not lye againſt them. 19 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 263.

9. A Writ of Right of Advowſon was brought againſt three, as Coparceners; and after the Darrein Continuance, and before the Terminer, one of them dyed; which was pleaded in abatement of the Writ. It was adjudged, That the Writ ſhould abate: For all the Court agreed, That were they Coparceners or Joynts, that by the death of one of them, the Writ ſhould abate, being in a Real Action: and it is not like the Caſe of an Aſſiſe of Novel Diſſeiſin. Or Aſſiſe of Mortdanceſtor, where the death of one of the Tenants ſhall not abate the Writ as long as there is a Tenant living; for that every of them is Tenant of the Free-hold. And upon a Writ of Errour brought, the Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. The King, and Byden, and others Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 415. and 423. See Goldſc. 98. acc. 30 Eliz.

10. An Action was brought againſt the Huſband, and Eliz. his Wife, as daughter and heir of Sir Thomas Watſon; and pendant the Writ the husband dyed; and becauſe the writ is brought againſt the wife as heir; where the Land is Aſſets, in which the husband had nothing. The opinion of Hobart, Chief Juſtice, was, That the Writ ſhould not abate. Mich. 22 Jac. in Co. B. Holman and Sir Tho. Pope's Caſe. Winch. 102.

11. In an Ejectione Firmæ againſt two, after Verdict found for the Plaintiff, and before Judgment given, one of the Defendants dyed; yet adjudged the Writ ſhould ſtand good againſt the other. M. 30 Eliz. Cleyton and Lawſell's Caſe. Gold. 80.

12. In Treſpaſſe Quare clauſum fregit againſt Husband and Wife, after Verdict found for the Plaintiff, the husband dyed betwixt the day of Niſi Prius, and the day in Bank. It was holden by the Court, That although Husband and Wife be one perſon in Law; yet by the death of the Husband, the Writ ſhall abate. But yet it was holden, That the Wife ſurviving ſhould be chargeable for the Treſpaſſe. 14 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part. 366.

13. An Action upon the Caſe for Slanderous words, was brought by husband and wife; againſt the husband and wife: the Defendants husband dyed, the wife took another husband depending the Writ; the Writ was abated per Curiam. 24 Car. B. R. White, and Whorewoods Caſe. Styles. 138.

14. Errour brought upon a Judgment in the Kings-Bench; and one of the parties dyed, hanging the Writ: It is an abatement of the Writ, and ſhalſie of the Upper-Bench. The Earl brought his Habeas Corpus, and pleaded his Priviledge of Peerage: and that he ought not to be arreſted; and prayes the Writ might be abated. And upon Demurrer it was holden by the Juſtices, He ought to have prayed, That the Writ might be abated before he was turned over to the Marſhall; but now it was too late to abate the Writ; and any body that had cauſe of Action, might now declare againſt him. Trinit. 1649. B. R. More and the Earl Rivers Caſe. Styles 222.

10. A Writ of Errour was brought to reverſe a Judgment given in a Writ of Dower: and the Writ of Errour was returnable Coram cuſtodibus Libertatis, &c. apud Weſtm. whereas it ought to have been Coram Cuſtodibus ubicunq; for they are not fixed at Weſtm. Quære, If the Writ of Errour ſhall abate; for the Court doubted of it, and it was not adjudged. Mich. 1650. B. R. Fairfax and Fairfax Caſe. Styles. 236.

11. Error brought to Reverſe a Judgment in an Inferiour Court; The Error aſſigned was, That the Judgment was Quod recuperare debent, where it ought to be recuperare debet; ſo there is no Judgment given, and ſo no Writ of Error lyes; the Writ was abated, Paſc. 1651. Rott. 211. B. R. Shedlock, and Pa Peres Caſe. Styles 265.

12. Treſpaſſe, Quare filiam et heredem rapuit et maritavit; and the Writ doth not ſay, cujus maritagium ad ipſum pertinet; and for that cauſe, I was prayed the Writ might Abate; But adjudged the Writ was good; for if it may be either wayes, as the Writ is, or with the other words, cujus, &c. for of right the Father ought to have the Marriage of his Son. M. 1651. B. R. Wood and Topham's Caſe. Styles 303.

13. No Appeal ſhall be abated if the Appealor declare in certain: 1. The Fact. 2. In what place of the body. 3. The year. 4. The Day. 5. The Hour. 6. The time of the thing. 7. The Town or place where the Deed was done. 8. With what weapon he was ſlain; but if all theſe be not certainly expreſſed in the Declaration, then there can be no proceeding upon the Appeal, but the Appeal ſhall be abated; And therefore where the hour is not certainly expreſſed, but is ſaid to be Circa horam undecimam, ante meridiem ejuſdem diei; and circa horam predictam; an appeal of Murder was Abated. And ſo an Appeal ſhall be abated for falſe Latine, Omiſſion, or other matter of Form, in favorem vitæ. See Egerton, and Morgan's Caſe. M. 8. Jac. B. R. Botſtr. part. 1. from fol. 69. to fol. 84. where divers Caſes are mentioned: for what cauſes an Appeal ſhall Abate, and for what not.

14. The diſcontinuee of a Meſſuage had other Lands by good Title adjoyning to it; and abated the Meſſuage, and built another which was larger, ſo as part of it extended upon his own land, to which he had good Title; The heir brought a Sur Cui in vita, and demanded the houſe by the name of a meſſuage, whereas part was built upon the Land to which he had no right, and ſo found by Verdict: It was moved that the Writ ſhould abate, for if the defendant ſhall have Judgment according to his Writ, it ſhould be Quod recuperet Meſſuagium; and that would be erronious, for it appeareth that the Defendant hath not Title to part of it; But the Writ was awarded to be good, and a ſpeciall Judgment given, viz. That Querens recuperet Meſſuagium predict. viz. ſo many feet in length, and ſo many in breadth, according as it was found by the Verdict. Trin. 31. Eliz. C. B. Frayes and Allens Caſe, Leon. 152.

15. A. makes B. his Executor, and dyes, B. makes C. his Executor, and dyes: If C. as Executor to B. brings an Action of Debt, for a Debt due to A. the firſt Teſtatour, the Writ ſhall abate. Trinit. 32. Eliz. C. B. Ivory and Fryes Caſe. Leon. 155.

16. Husband and Wife, were Tenants for life, their Remainder in Fee to an Infant: and then all three bring a Writ of Error to reverſe the Fine; the Writ ſhall not abate, but ſtand good, and the Fine ſhall be Reverſed as to the Infant onely. Leon. 1. part. Mich. 31. Eliz. in B. R. 137.

17. Husband and Wife brought an Aſſize of Freſh-force againſt A. B. and C. his Wife, and 11. others, the Defendants appeared, and pleaded by Attorney, and pleaded in abatement of the Writ, that there were never ſuch perſon, C. Wife of B. in rerum natura, as is ſuppoſed by the Plaint; upon which the Plaintiff did demur; and it was adjudged that the Plea did not abate, the Plaint againſt all the Defendants; but againſt that party onely, and that the Plaint did ſtand good againſt the other defendants. See Pollard and Jekells Caſe. Plowden 9.

Where the Writ ſhall abate by Death of one of the parties, Plaintiff or Defendant; where not.

1. AN Attaint was brought againſt the Jurors, upon a Verdict againſt Ibgrove, given in an Aſſize; and depending the Writ, Ibgrave dyed; and yet it was adjudged, That the Writ ſhould not abate. 3 Ma. Dyer. 131. Heydon's Caſe.

2. In a Replevin; the Parties were at Iſſue; which was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved by

by the Defendants Counſel, That after the laſt Continuance, one of the Defendants dyed; and the Plaintiff prayed his Judgment notwithſtanding his death. The opinion of the Court was, That the Writ ſhould not abate: and Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff, 2 Eliz. Dyer. 175. Sackvil's Caſe.

3. The next Avoidance of the Church is granted to two; and they bring a Quare Impedit upon a diſturbance; and hanging the Writ, one of them dyeth. It was holden the Writ ſhould abate. 11 Eliz, Dyer. 279.

4. In a Writ of Entry upon a Diſſeiſin, he in the reverſion was received upon the default of Tenant for life; and pleaded to Iſſue; which at the Aſſizes was found for him; and before the day in Bank the Tenant for life dyed. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 258. in the Earl of Suſſex Caſe it is a Quære, if the Writ ſhall abate.

5. In an Original Writ, the death of one of the Parties doth abate the Writ. As if the Huſband & Wife bring a Scire Facias upon a Judgment in an Action of debt, and pendant the Writ, the Husband dyeth, the Scire facias ſhall abate; for it is now in the nature of an Original Writ, to revive the firſt Judgment. Norton and Sym's Caſe. 11 Jac. in Co. B. Brownlow. 64. b.

6. A Writ of Errour was brought againſt two, upon a Recovery in a Precipe quod reddat; and one of them dyed: the Queſtion was, Whether the Writ ſhould abate? It was ſaid, That a Writ of Errour was but a Commiſſion to Examine the Record, and the party ſhould recover nothing thereby: and therefore the Writ ſhould not abate. It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That if the Recovery were in a perſonal Action, the Writ, to reverſe the Judgment, ſhould not abate: but contrary, if it were in a reall action, for the Writ ſhould abate; for that he ſhould be reſtored to the Land. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbold. 66. and ibid. 68. Sir Edward Hobbie's Caſe.

7. Debt was brought againſt three Executors, and one of the Executors dyed pendant the Writ; It was ſaid, That here the plural number remains, viz. two Executors; and it is not like where the Writ is brought againſt two Executors, and one dyeth. But the whole Court was clear of opinion, That by the death of one of the Executors, the Writ ſhould abate. Mich. 29 Eliz. C. B. Knight's Caſe. Leon. 44.

8. If one be condemned in an Action upon the Caſe; or Treſpaſs, upon Nihil dicit, or Demurrer, and a Writ of Enquiry of Damages iſſueth; and before the Return of it, the Defendant dyeth; By Dyer and Manwood the Writ ſhould not at all abate. And in a Writ of Accompt, If the Defendant account, and be found in Arrearages, and dyeth, the Writ ſhall not abate; but the Executors ſhall be charged: and yet an Account doth not lye againſt them. 19 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 263.

9. A Writ of Right of Advowſon was brought againſt three, as Coparceners; and after the Darrein Continuance, and before the Terminer, one of them dyed; which was pleaded in abatement of the Writ. It was adjudged, That the Writ ſhould abate: For all the Court agreed, That were they Coparceners or Joynts, that by the death of one of them, the Writ ſhould abate, being in a Real Action: and it is not like the Caſe of an Aſſiſe of Novel Diſſeiſin. Or Aſſiſe of Mortdanceſtor, where the death of one of the Tenants ſhall not abate the Writ as long as there is a Tenant living; for that every of them is Tenant of the Free-hold. 10. An Action was brought againſt the Huſband, and Eliz. his Wife, as daughter and heir of Sir Thomas Watſon; and pendant the Writ the husband dyed; and becauſe the writ is brought againſt the wife as heir; where the Land is Aſſets, in which the husband had nothing. The opinion of Hobart, Chief Juſtice, was, That the Writ ſhould not abate. Mich. 22 Jac. in Co. B. Holman and Sir Tho. Pope's Caſe. Winch. 102.

11. In an Ejectione Firmæ againſt two, after Verdict found for the Plaintiff, and before Judgment given, one of the Defendants dyed; yet adjudged the Writ ſhould ſtand good againſt the other. M. 30 Eliz. Cleyton and Lawſell's Caſe. Gold. 80.

12. In Treſpaſſe Quare clauſum fregit againſt Husband and Wife, after Verdict found for the Plaintiff, the husband dyed betwixt the day of Niſi Prius, and the day in Bank. It was holden by the Court, That although Husband and Wife be one perſon in Law; yet by the death of the Husband, the Writ ſhall abate. But yet it was holden, That the Wife ſurviving ſhould be chargeable for the Treſpaſſe. 14 Car. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part. 366.

13. An Action upon the Caſe for ſlanderous words, was brought by husband and wife; againſt the husband and wife: the Defendants husband dyed, the wife took another husband depending the Writ; the Writ was abated per Curiam. 24 Car. B. R. White, and Whorewoods Caſe. Styles. 138.

14. Errour brought upon a Judgment in the Kings-Bench; and one of the parties dyed, hanging the Writ: It is an abatement of the Writ, and he ought to have a new Writ. Pasc. 30 Eliz. Goldesb. 98.

15. Hughson brought Debt against B. as Administrator of F. and declared upon a simple Contract made by the Intestate; the Defendant pleaded plene administravit; which was found against him. The Court ex Officio abated the Writ, because an Executor or Administrator cannot be charged upon a simple Contract. P. 30 Eliz. C. B. Rott. 421. Hughsons Case. Goldesbr. 107. See C. 9. Part 86. Pinchins Case adjudged, That an Action upon the Case will lye against Executors, for a debt due by the Testator upon a simple Contract.

16. If a Writ of Covenant be brought against three, and one of them dyes, the Writ is abated onely against him; but is not abated to the rest, but onely abateable. Trinit. 1654. B. R. Jones and Graves Case. Styles. 421.

17. In an Action of Account, if the Plaintiff dye before the second Judgment, the Writ shall abate, and no Scire facias lyeth for the Executor, if the Defendant dye before the second Judgment. Brownlow. 25. Ac.

18. If Two be adjudged to Account, and process issueth out against them, and one of them appears, and the other is Outlawed; he who appears shall account alone: For the Writ is determined, and shall abate as against the other. Brownlow. 25.

19. A Recovered against B. 300 l. debt in Co. B. and made E. his Executrix, who dyed before Execution Intestate: took administration of the goods of A. and married J. D. the Husband and Wife brought three several Scire facias against the Terr-Tenants in severall Counties; which Writs were returned; and before any Execution done, the Husband dyed: The Question was, Whether all the Writs should abate as well against all the Terr-Tenants; as against such of the Terr-Tenants who appeared, and Judgment was against them? And the better opinion of the Court was, The Writ should abate against them all. But Quære; for it was not Resolved. Trin. 17 Jac. Co. B. Whittingham, and the Terr-Tenants of the Earl of Darbyes Case. Hob. 287.

3. Where the Writ shall abate, for false Latine, Misnosmer of the Town or Person, omission of matter, surplusage, or other default of form; and where not.

1. A Note was delivered to the Cursitor, to make an Original against J. S. Knight; and he made the Original against J. S. Gent. and in the Exigent, Count; and other Process he was named Knight. It was adjudged, That by the Common-Law, an Original was not amendable in the case of a common person; but now by the Statutes of 8 H. 6. and 18 Eliz. such a Misprision of the Clerk is amendable. And there it was holden, That if a Writ be false Latine; or if it be defective for want of a Letter or Syllable; as Hos bre. for Hoc Brevet, the Writ shall abate: But if a word which is not Latine, be written for a Latine word, the Writ shall not abate, but shall be amended: as, Imaginavit, for Imaginatus est. 8 Jac. Blackamors Case. C. 8. part.

2. A Writ was Ad respondendum J. S. et Fidei uxoricius, and the Defendant pleaded in abatement of the Writ, because the Wifes name was Faith, in English: and yet adjudged, the Writ should not abate. And Rodes, Justice, said, He knew a woman who was called Troth, in English; and in Latine she was called Trothia; and good. Pasc. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldesb. 86.

3. If a man brings a Formedon in the Reverter, or Remainder, as heir, if there be Omission of an Eldest Son which survived his Father in the Pedegree on the part of the Donor, or of him in the Remainder, it shall abate the Writ: But the Demandant needs not to name any of the Issues of the Donee in the Clause, Qua post mortem; but to say generally, That post mortem of the Donee, ad ipsum reverti debet, because the Donee dyed without Issue, because the Demandant is a stranger to the Pedigree of the Donee; and therefore such an Omission shall not abate his Writ. See Blackamors Case. C. 8. Part. 88.

4. An Action was laid in Launceston; and the Writ de venire facias, was awarded de Vicineto de Launceston. And it was holden, That the Venire was mis-awarded, and should abate: And so was it adjudged, 10 Jac. in Procter and Cliffords Case; Where the Venire facias was, de Vicineto Civitatis Coventrie; where it should have been, de Civitate Coventrie. 3 Car. in B. R. Godbolt. 382.

5. A Writ of Errour was brought, to reverse a Judgment given at York: and the Errour was, That the Venire facias was de ballino suo; whereas it ought to be de corpore Comitatus: and for that cause, the Venire facias was adjudged not good. Mich. 22 Car. Dickenson and Prestons Case. Styles. 7.

6. If a Writ of Trespasse be brought against divers persons, if it abate for default against one, it shall abate against all; but if it be for matter of fact onely, as Misnosmer of one Defendant, it shall abate against him onely: so omission, or addition, which doth not alter the form of the Writ, shall not abate the Writ; but the Writ shall be amended.

amended. See Blackamors Caſe. C. 8. Part. acc.

7. A Writ of Errour ſhall not abate for falſe Latine, and an Omiſſion or Addition of the party therein, is not material, adjudged. Mich. 11 Jac. in Sir Chriſtopher Heydon and Godſoles Caſe. Bulſt. 2. Part. 165.

8. Husband and Wife, Joyntts of a Mannor, and to the heirs of the body of the husband, the remainder to B. in tail; a common Recovery is had againſt the husband alone, in the life of the wife with voucher; he in the remainder is attainted of Treaſon; the husband dyeth without Iſſue of his body; the wife dyeth: It was adjudged, That although as well the Husband, as the Vouchee, might have abated the Writ, becauſe the Wife was joyntly ſeized, and not named in the Writ: Yet when the Vouchee enters generally into the Warranty, he admits the Writ good, and ſo the Recovery ſhall be a good barr for one moyety; and ſhall not abate for the whole. 25 Eliz. C. 3. part. 1. The Marquiſs of Winchester's Caſe.

9. Where a Writ abates by the act or default of the Demandant himſelf, as Miſnoſmer of the Tenant, or of the Town; there the Demandant ſhall not have a new Writ by Journeys accompts, but where it abates for Miſpriſion of the Clerk, falſe Latine, &c. or other matter of Form, there the demandant ſhall have a new Writ. C. 6. Part. 45 Eliz. Spencer's Caſe. in Co. B. 9.

10. If the Plaintiff in a Quare Impedit after appearance, be Nonſuit, diſcontinue; or be made a Knight; this is his own act, and ſhall abate the Writ; and is peremptory: otherwiſe if it abate for want of Form, Miſnoſmer. 40 Eliz. Sir Hugh Portman's Caſe. C. 7. Part. 27. See Blackamor's Caſe. acc.

11. Dethick was by the Kings Letters Patents created King of Armis, and that he ſhould be called Principalis Rex Armorum: and becauſe the ſame was a name of Dignity, and by his Juſtallation was parcel of his Name; becauſe he was not named in the Writ by his Name according to his Office and the Kings Letters Patents; the Writ was abated. Hill. 29 Eliz. Clarentius and Dethicks Caſe. Owen. 61.

12. A Writ of Covenant to levy a Fine bare Teſte the 24th of April; returnable 15. Paſch. which in truth was 15th of April; yet the Writ did not abate, but was amended: becauſe a Common Recovery was a Common Aſſurance, and had by conſent of parties; but ſuch defects in other Writs ſhall abate the Writ. 41 Eliz. B.R. Gage's Caſe. C. 6. Part.

13. A Quare Impedit was brought, and the Writ was ſuam ſpectat donationem: and the word (Ad) was omitted; the Writ did not abate, but was amended. Hill. 30 Eliz. Brockſby's Caſe Goldeſb. 78.

14. A Quod Ei Deforceat was brought in Wales in the Nature of a Writ of Right, of 20 Acres of Pampna, et Erueria; It was moved, That the Writ ſhould abate, becauſe of the generality, and the particular Quantity and nature of them is not ſet forth in the Writ, But it was adjudged, the Writ was well enough; for that Pampna and Bruera, are not intended Lands of ſeverall ſorts, but of one and the ſame Land. Hill. 5 Car. Griffith and Jenkins Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 128.

15. Quare Impedit brought againſt the Patron Richard Biſhop of Lincoln, Ordinary and Incumbant; the Incumbant pleaded, That at the day of the Writ brought, there was no ſuch Richard Biſhop of Lincola in rerum natura. It was holden a good Plea, to abate the Writ. Trinit. 16 Jac. in Co. B. Coppledick and Tanſeys Caſe. Hutton. 31.

16. A man hath Title to preſent to an Avoydance of the Church in the right of his Wife: The Husband and Wife bring a Quare Impedit; and after Iſſue joyned, and before the Venire facias returned to try the Iſſue, the Wife dyeth: It was holden, The Quare Impedit did not abate, nor the Venire, by the death of the wife; becauſe the Avoidance was a Chattel veſted in the husband in the life of his wife. 22 Jac. in C. B. Blunt and Hutchinſon's Caſe. Winch. 73.

17. A man brought Treſpaſſe againſt a Parſon, for taking away his Tythe-Corn, which he claimed as a Portion in the Right of his Wife; and layed the Treſpaſſe to be done the 27th of Aug. 29 Eliz. And it appeared upon the Evidence, That the Plaintiff delivered to the Defendant a Licenſe to be married, dated 28. Aug. 29 Eliz. and that he was married the ſame day; It was adjudged, That the matter ſhewed did not abate the Writ; becauſe it appears, that at the time of the Treſpaſſe aſſigned, the Plaintiff had no title to the Tythe-Corn. Paſc. 30 Eliz. B. R. Pawlet and Lawrence's Caſe. Leon. 104.

18. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Biſhop of Bath and Wells, and T. N. Clerk, for diſturbing him to preſent to the Viccarage of W. It was Reſolved, That the Writ ſhould abate, becauſe the Patron was not named in the Writ, for ſo the Patronage might be recovered againſt him that had nothing in it; and it is no reaſon the Patron ſhould be outſted of his Patronage, when he is no party to the Writ. 31 Eliz. C. 7. Part. Hal's Caſe. 25.

19. If the Plaintiff in a Quare Impedit after appearance, be Nonſuit or diſcontinue, or be made a Knight, pendant the Writ; the Writ ſhall abate, becauſe it is his own Act: Otherwiſe, if it it abate for want of Form or Miſnoſmer, for that may be the default of the Clerk. 40 Eliz. Sir Hugh Portman's Caſe. C. 7. Part. 27.

Where the Writ ſhall abate by the Demiſe of the King.

1. IF an Original Writ be purchaſed in the time of one King, and he dyeth before the Return of it; the Original is gone, and cannot be returned in the time of another King. But all proceſs made upon any Original depending in any Court of Record, may be executed and returned in the time of the new King, by the Statute of 1 Ed. 6. Cap. 7. 1 Eliz. Dyer. 165.

2. A Writ of Extent upon a Statute, was executed in the time of Queen Mary, returnable Quind Martini; before which, the Queen dyed; yet the Writ was returned, and a Liberate granted in the time of the new Queen. 4 Eliz. Dyer. 206.

3. All Suits depending in Inferiour Courts, are out of the Statute of 1 E. 6. Cap. 7. and if the King dyeth after an Information is preferred by him, all the proceedings are loſt; but the Information it ſelf, which being a Record, for the King, ſhall not abate. 1 Jacob. C. 7. Part. 29.

4. An Information was upon the Statute of 23 Eliz. for not coming to Church; by an Informer, tam pro Domino Rege quam pro ſe ipſo, the Defendant demurred upon the Declaration; and then the King dyed: It was adjudged, That the Action was not abated by the death of the King: for that the Action was at the Suit of the party, for he might be Non-ſuited; and when the Jury come again to deliver their Verdict, the King cannot diſcharge them and be Non-ſuit, and the King cannot diſcharge the Action. Trinit. 22 Car. Rott. 446. in B. R. Farrington and Arrundel's Caſe. Hutton. 82.

Where the Writ ſhall abate of the Plaintiff's own ſhewing.

1. NOte. If the Plaintiff will in any Action diſcover to the Court, any thing whereby it may appear, that he had no cauſe of Action when he begun his Suit, his Writ ſhall abate. And therefore where the Plaintiff brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of York, and A. C. for diſturbing him to preſent to the Church of L. which belonged to him; and the Biſhop pleaded, that J. S. the Incumbant dyed. 1 Janu. 12 Jac. and the Church remained void, and he preſented J.S. for Lapps; and claimed nothing but as Ordinary: and the Incumbant confeſſed the Plaintiffs Title, and pleaded the Collation of the Biſhop of him to the Church. The Plaintiff by his Replication ſhewed, That after the death of J. S. and before the firſt day of Jan. 12. viz. 29 May, 1615, he preſented J. D. to the Church, and the Biſhop refuſed him; and that afterwards the Biſhop did Collate A. C. to the Church: now upon his own ſhewing, he hath abated his Writ, becauſe the Action was brought before the cauſe of Action: and no diſturbance can be before an Action brought. Mich. 15 Jac. C. B. Birkhead and the Biſhop of York's Caſe. Hob. 197. 198. 199.

2. J. S. did Covenant with J. D. that he would ſatisfie him all ſuch ſums of money as his ſon the Plaintiffs Apprentice ſhould imbeſil from him, within three moneths after Requeſt; and the deed was within three moneths after Requeſt and due proof made, And in an Action of Covenant brought, and found for the Plaintiff. But becauſe the proof was to be made in a Court which was not done; It was adjudged, That the Action of Covenant brought before cauſe of Action was given, ſhould abate. Hill. 15 Jac. Co. B. Rott. 2001. Crookhay and Woodward's Caſe. Hob. 217.

3. An Adminiſtrator brought an Action of Debt againſt J. S. and after Iſſue joyned, and found for the Plaintiff, It was moved, that the Action was brought 2. April. 16 Jac. and the Adminiſtration was in the Declaration ſaid to be the 11th of May after; and that being before any cauſe of action, the Writ was to be abated: and the Judgment was ſtayd, it being upon his own ſhewing. Where the Writ ſhall abate for Variance; where not.

1. LAnds were given to Eliz. Coxton, and the heirs of her body, the remainder to John Piſing and his heirs; and in a Formedon in the Remainder: the Writ was, Que poſt mortem pradict. Eliz. et Johan. Piſing: Johan. Freak, et et Mabel fil. et hered. Johan. Piſing remanere debent per formam doni, eo quod praedict. Eliz. obiit ſine herede de Corpore, &c. Whereas by the form of the Regiſter, it ought to be Poſt mortem praedict. Eliz. & Johan. praſat. Johan. Freak et Mabell ut conſanguin. et hered. praedic. Johan. Piſing remanere debeo per formam, &c. But it was holden, That the Writ ſhould not abate for ſuch variance, though it agree not with the Regiſter, in regard it is equivalent. Freak and Bruford's Caſe. Hill. 11 Jac. Rott. 30. Co. 2. In Debt, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant ſtood bound to him in [Septingent. et quinquagint. libris, and upon Oyer, the words were [Septuagent. et Quinquagint libris]; and upon a Demurrer, adjudged, Such Variance no cauſe to abate the Writ. 4. A Writ of Errour to remove a Record, was, [de loquela quæ fuit in Curia noſtra coram Juſticiariis noſtris per breve noſtrum;] whereas the Judgment was given in the time of King H. 8. the Writ did not abate, but was amended. 2 Ma. Dy. 105. See C. 8. Part. Blackamors Caſe. Acc.

5. A Writ of Errour was brought againſt B. upon Errour in a Writ of Covenant, where in the Writ of Covenant B. was named Aſſignee of C. and the Writ did not abate for the Variance, becauſe there is the full name of the Plaintiff. 19 Eliz. Dyer. 356.

6. Debt was brought by an Adminiſtrator 2 April, 16 Jac. and in the Plaintiffs Declaration, the Adminiſtration was ſaid to be granted the 11th of May after: the ſame did abate the Writ; Judgment was ſtayd. Tr. 16 Jac. Rott. 843. Bickfords Caſe. Hob. 245.

7. In Ejectione Firme, the Original bore date 24. Jan. 6 Car. returnable Craſtin. Purificationis. After Verdict found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment Entred, It was adjudged [per Curiam] That the Judgment was Erronious, becauſe the Original was taken out, before there was cauſe of Action, which is not helped by any Statute. 8. In an Action of Waſte, the Plaintiff aſſigned the Waſte to be in the Towns of Burginham, Flaxbridge and Appleby: and in his Declaration, he aſſigned alſo Waſte to be in a Town called Langton; which was not named in the Writ: and it was adjudged, That the aſſignment of Waſte in a Town not mentioned in the Writ, was a fault incurable; and therefore the Writ was abated for the Variance from the Original. 10 Jac. 9. An Action of Beating his Servant, by reaſon whereof he loſt his Service; and declares, That the Battery was done 19. Jan. 16 Jac. and that he loſt his Service, viz. for the ſpace of ſix moneths then next following. It was objected, That the Original did bear date before the end of the ſix moneths; and therefore the Writ was to be abated. But it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; and the Writ did not abate; for that in the Original was more then was needfull. Tri. 17 Jac. B. R. rott. 944. Hunt and Lawrings Caſe. Hob. 284.

10. In Treſpaſſe upon the Caſe; the Writ was ad damnum 40 l. and the Declaration was 60 l. and this was ſhewed after Verdict in Arreſt of Judgment; but it was not allowed: but it was holden, That the Plaintiff ſhould not have more damages then in the Writ; but the Writ was not abated for that cauſe. Where the Writ ſhall abate by Entry into part, or into all, and where not: or by recovery of part; and where not.

1. THE Office of Keeper of Clipſon Park, was granted by Q. Eliz. to Markham for life; King James reciting the Grant to Markham by his Letters Patents, grants to the Earl of Rutland for life, the Office of Keeper of the ſaid Park, to begin upon the death, forfeit, ſurrender of Markham. Afterwards King James grants the Reverſion of the Manner and of the Park in Fee to the Lord Mountjoy, who grants the ſame to the Earl of Shrewſbury. Markham dyed; the Earl of Rutland entred; The Earl of Shrewsbury entred upon him: upon which, the Earl of Rutland brought an Aſſiſe, and had Judgment in the Common-Pleas: And it was aſſigned for Errour, upon a Writ of Errour brought in the Kings-Bench. That mean after the Verdict, and before the Judgment, the Plaintiff in the Aſſiſe did enter into the Park, and did

did there hunt, and kill a Stag, and did take the Shoulder of it for his Fee, and whether ſuch Entry ſhould abate his Writ, was the queſtion; and it was holden by the better opinion of the Juſtices; that ſuch Entry did not abate the Writ. See 7 Jac. the Earl of Shrewesbury, and Earl of Rutland's Caſe. Eatſt. 1. part. 5. 6. 7. 8. &c. Brownlow. 232. 233. the ſame Caſe.

2. An Aſſize of Freſh-force; It was holden, in the Parſon of Hony-Lanes Caſe, that the Entry into a Celler, hanging the Aſſize, to view the Antiquity of the Cellar, did not abate the Writ. Plow. Cond. 92.

3. A Leaſe is made for years, rendring Rent, with Clauſe of Re-Entry, for non-payment, the Rent is arrear, the Seſſor brings an Action of debt for the Rent, and depending the Suit, Re-enters into the Land; Adjudged, That the Writ once abated by the Plaintiffs Entry, pending the Writ, is not revived. Abeyance.

1. IF the Keeper of a Park may preſcribe to have tonſuram prati, or other profit of the Land, was doubted; and it was the better opinion, that he could not, being an Officer for life; for if he might ſo do, great inconvenience would follow, viz. That after the death of the Officer, and untill another Officer was appointed, and put into the place, the Free-hold and profit of the Land ſhould be in abeyance; if the Office do not diſcend to an Heir, or to a man who hath perpetuall ſucceſſion by the Common-Law, for that in no caſe; except in the Caſe of a Parſon of the Church, a Free-hold can be in abeyance. 6 E. 6. D. 7. 7. 3. Iſhams Caſe. See 10 Car. B. R. Ward and Peiſers Caſe. 1 Cro. 263. The Freehold in him who hath primam Tonſuram.

2. The Reverſion upon a Term for years is granted to the uſe of the grantor for life, and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of his Executors and Aſſigns, for 21 years, the Remainder over Intail; afterwards the Grantor is attainted of Treaſon, and dyeth inteſtate without any Aſſignment made, although it was ſaid, That the eſtate to take in futuro, in the grantor; was in Abeyance, and ſo could not be forfeited; yet it was the better opinion of the Court, and ſo afterwards adjudged; That the Terme is ſuch an intereſt in the Grantor, which might ſtand in him, notwithſtanding his eſtate for life; and that by his Attainder, the Queen ſhould have the Term as forfeited to her; and to that purpoſe that the Term for years is in eſſe. 4 Eliz. Dyer. 309.

3. After the Statute of 27 H. 8. of uſes; a man made a Feoffment to divers perſons, to the uſe of his Wife for her life, and if the Feoffer did ſurvive his Wife, then to the uſe of the Feoffer, and of ſuch perſon as he ſhould marry for the Term of their lives, for the Joynter of the Wife for her life, the Remainder over to a ſtranger, afterwards, he in the remainder, and the Feoffees, with the privity of the Feoffee, levy a Fine accordingly, the firſt Wife dyeth, the Husband takes another Wife, and dyeth, the Opinion of Mouſon and Harper Juſtices, was that the future uſe was in Abeyance, and in the cuſtody of the Law, and was not deſtroyed by the Feoffment of the Feoffees; and ſo the Feoffment was void. But the opinion of Manwood, and the Lord Dyer was, that the uſe was drowned; and although the Feoffment had taken away the Entry of the firſt Feoffees, yet they had a mean intereſt in regard of the dormant uſe, which was conveyed by the Feoffment: 17 Eliz. Dyer. 340. C. 1. part, Shelleys Caſe, 101. Co. 1. part 128. Chadleigh's Caſe.

4. Before the Statute of 27 H. 8. a man enfeoffed J. S. to the uſe of B. and his Heirs; afterwards the Feoffee, enfeoffed J. N. to the uſe of B. and his Wife, and the heirs of B: B. dyed, living his Wife, having a Son; It was holden, that the Son ſhould be in Ward, during the life of the Wife, for that the Ancient uſe was not gone, but was preſerved in the Cuſtody of the Law, but onely for ſo much as it was altered in, ſo as it was a Reverſion in the Son, and not a new Remainder. 39 H. 8. Dyer. 10, 11. 12. Bockenhams Caſe.

Tenant in Capite, levied a Fine with a render to himſelf, Intaile the Remainder to King Henry the 7th. and his Heirs Males, the Remainder to his own right Heirs, afterwards he dyed without Iſſue, Henry the 7th dyeth, having no Iſſue Male living; the Queſtion was if the right Heir of the Conuſor ſhould be in Ward to Queen Mary: It was holden that the Fee-ſimple of the Seignory was in Abeyance in conſideration of the Law, and that the Queen ſhould have the Wardſhip of the generall Heir by the reviving of the Seignory in an Inſtant, which was before ſuſpended. 2. Mi. Dyer. 102. the Marqueſſe Barkly's Caſe.

6. Note, When the Right of Fee-ſimple is perpetually by Judgmen of Law, in Abeyance, without any expectation to come in eſſe; in ſuch caſe. he who hath the qualified Fee, may charge it, as in the Caſe of Parſon or Vicear, when the Patron and Ordinary joyn with him in the Charge, or Grant; But where the Fee-ſimple is an Abeyance, albeit, it may every day come by poſſibility, come in esse, yet it is incertain when, and whether ever it may happen; and in such Case the Fee-Simple cannot be charged, or Alienes; as if a Lease be made for life, the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. the Fee-simple cannot be charged before J. S. be dead, in case J. S. dye, living the Tenant for life; but if the Tenant for life do dye before J. S. then is the Remainder vanished, because it cannot rest immediately after the death of Tenant for life. See 1. Coo. Instit. 343. and 378. acc.

in

7. A Tenant for life, the Remainder to B. In-tail, the Remainder in Fee to B. and his Heirs expectant, B. levyes a Fine to C. and D. and to the Heirs of C. to the use of them and their Heirs, and hath Issue, and dyeth before all the Proclamations were past, the Issue then being beyond Sea, the Proclamations passe: It was Resolved in that Case, that the State Tail which passed by the Fine, was not absolutely determined by the death of Tenant Intail; but that it was in the Election of the Issue, to make it voidable, or void; and where Littleton saith that the Grantee of Tenant in tail hath not an estate but for the life of Tenant in tail; the meaning of Littleton was not, that the estate tail, was by the death of the Tenant in tail determined; for that it was in Abeyance; but that the Grantee had not any fixed or perdurable estate, but for the life of Tenant in tail; but that the issue after his death, might determine the same at his Election. 1 Co. 3. part. 44 Eliz. 84. in the Case of Fines.

8. By the Providence and Wisdome of the Law, the Fee-Simple of the Parsonage and Vicarage, are said to be in Abeyance, for that the Parson and Vicar have Curam animarum, and were bound to celebrate Divine Service, and therefore no Act of the Predecessour could make a discontinuance, to take away the Entry of the Successour, and to drive him to a real Action, whereby he should be destitute of maintenance in the mean time. Co. Instit. 344. a.

9. Lands were devised to the father for life, the Remainder to the next Heir male of the Father, and to the Heirs Males of his body; the Devisor dyed; and afterwards the Father made a Feoffment to J. S. with Warrant; It was the better opinion of the Court in this Case, although that the Remainder was in Abeyance, yet the Feoffment of the Father with Warranty, did bind the Remainder. 10 Eliz. Co. 1. part. 66. Archers Case.

10. Note, the Law will not preserve Estates which are in Abeyance, so that they may not be destroyed; nor contingent estates: and therefore it was Resolved, That if Tenant in tail be the Remainder to the right Heirs of J. S. if Tenant in tail suffer a common Recovery, the Remainder which is in Abeyance, is barred. Co. 6. part. 3. Jac. Sir Anthony Mildmayes Case, fol. 40. 41. See C. 1. part. Corbets Case, acc. Abettors.

IN an Appeal brought of the death of his Brother, against five Principals, and three as Accessaries; and some of the principals pleaded Not Guilty; and others were Nonsuit; and some discharged upon Demurrer; and damages assessed: and one who was as accessorie came in upon the Exigent, and was acquitted: upon the Acquittal of all the principals, and damages found to 200 l. and that the Plaintiff was insufficient, and the Party prayed that the Abettors might be enquired of; and six more were Abettors ex malitia; and a Scire facias was awarded against the Abettors; and Exception was taken to the Scire facias, because there was no mention made of the acquittal of the principals: and some of the Abettors pleaded, they did not abett: and others justified by a common fame; and both being for him, he recovered his damages against the Abettors. 3 Ma. Dyer 131. Reads Case.

Abridgment.

1. NOte, It was agreed by the Chief Justice, and Chief Baron, in an Assise where the plaint was of one Messuage, and four Acres of Lands in East-Malling in Kent, That the Plaintiff might abridge his Plaint of the Messuage, because the Jurors had the View but of the Land. Pasch. 38 H. 8. Dyer. 61. Pennington and Morses Case.

2. In an Assise, the Plaint was of 53 s. 4 d. of Rent; and afterward the Plaint was abridged to 20 s. and it was the opinion of the Court, The same was Errour, because that a Rent is an entire thing, and cannot be abridged, as Land and the like may be. Pasch. 38 H. 8. Dyer. 61.

3. An Assise of Novel Disseisin was brought against three; and the Plaint was of six Acres of Land, the Defendants pleaded Nul. tort. &c. and the Recognitors found, That one of the three named at the time of the Writ brought, was sole Tenant of two Acres; and shewed which; and of one of them disseised the Plaintiff; and of the other that he did not disseise him; and so of the second; and as to the third, That at the time of the Writ brought, he was sole Tenant of the two Acres residue, and disseised the Plaintiff, and dyed pendant the Writ; and after Verdict, the Plaintiff abridged his Plaint of all that, of which no disseisin is found in the hands of the two. Query, if the Plaintiff shall recover that of which he who dyed seised was Tenant. 7 E. 6. Dyer. 88.

4. An Assise was brought against three, and they all appeared, and pleaded by Attorney nul Franktenant nosme in the Writ; And if, &c. nul tort, Nat. dissin. and the Jury appeared, and afterwards the Plaintiff was abridged; and the Jurors found Special Verdict, That A. was seised in Fee, and that the Surveyors of the said A. granted by Indenture the Tenement, with the appurtenances, to one of the Defendants Tenants; who entred, and found, that the Plaintiff was seised of the Tenements in Fee, until by all the Defendants disseised: and there nothing was moved, but that the Abridgment of the Plaint was well enough. 3 and 4 Ma. Dyer. 132.

5. Waste was brought and assigned, in taking down a Leaden Copper which was fixed to the house by the Lessee for years; the Defendant pleaded in bar a devise of it by the Termor, and that he took it down, and removed it with the assent of the Executors: and Issue was joyned, and a Venire facias awarded. It was holden by the Court in this Case, That if the Grant be assigned in domibus, the Plaintiff cannot so abridge the Waste in domibus et boscis: for if he doth so, his Writ shall abate. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 272. The Lord of Abargavenny's Case.

6. In an Ejectione Custodiæ terræ et hæredes, they were at Issue upon the tenure; which was found for the Plaintiff, and damages assessed. It was moved in Arrest of Judgment, That Ejectione Custodiæ did not lye of the body. In that case the Writ did not abate. But because the damages and costs were assessed for both, the Plaintiff relinquished his damages, and had Judgment for the Ejectment of the Land only. 22 Eliz. Dyer. 369. Clifford's Case. And see C. 11. Part. 12 Jac. 56. Benham's Case, That if Damages or Costs are not well assessed by the Jury, the Plaintiff may Release them, and have his Judgment.

Acceptance.

1. THe Queen was seised of a Mannor, and her Steward granted Copy-hold Lands to one by Coppy in Fee: Afterwards the Queen under her Exchequer Seal, made a Lease of the same Lands to another for 21 years: who granted the same term to the Copy-holder. It was Resolved, That the estate of the Copy-holder was determined by the Acceptance of the Lease for years: for that the acceptance was his own act. 29 Eliz. Lane's Case, Co. 2. Part. 16. 17.

2. Husband and Wife make a Lease for years by Indenture rendring Rent, the Lessor enters; the husband dyeth before any day of payment of the Rent; the Wife takes a second husband who accepts the Rent, and afterwards dyes. It was holden per Curiam, that the Wife might avoid the Lease, notwithstanding the Acceptance of the husband; for that the acceptance of the new Lease, was a surrender of the first Lease. 4 Ma. Dyer. 141. Goughs Case. See 5 Ma. Dyer. 159. acc. by three Justices.

3. Tenant in tail makes a Lease for years, rendring 20 s. Rent; and afterwards releases 19 s. of the Rent, and dyeth, and the Issue in tail accepteth of the 12 d. Rent. It was a Question if he might distrain for the 19 s. The Court was divided in opinion. But I conceive the better opinion to be, That the acceptance of the Rent doth make good the Lease; and then he may not distrain for the 19 s. 14 Eliz. Dy. 304.

4. Debt brought upon an Obligation, the Condition of which was, That if the Defendant should make Composition with A. for Lands, &c. that then he should pay to the Plaintiff 40 l. The Defendant pleaded, he made no Composition. The Plaintiff replyed, That A. did grant to him a Rent-Charge in satisfaction of his Title; and so he made a Composition, and that the Defendant accepted of the said Rent: The Defendant said, he did not accept it in satisfaction: and it was holden to be a good Plea; for it is no Composition without consent which depends upon acceptance: and the acceptance is denyed. Hob. 178. Earl and Yark's Case. Hill. 14 Jac.

5. If a Lease be made rendring Rent upon Condition of Re-entry, and the Lessee payes his Rent to the Lessor, and he accepts of it, and puts it in his purse; and afterwards he finds that he hath hath received counterfeit money, and refuſeth to carry the money away; but enters for the Condition broken. It was adjudged in ſuch caſe, That his Entry was not lawfull; for when he had accepted of the money, the ſame was at his perill; and after allowance once of it, he cannot take any Exception to it; but is barred by his firſt acceptance. Tr. 43 Eliz. rott. 406. C. B. Wade's Caſe. C. 5. Part. 113. Vane and Studleys Caſe. ibid.

6. A Copy-holder committed Waſte, by which a Forfeiture accrued to the Lord, who afterward accepted the Rent: the Queſtion was, Whether the Lord by the Acceptance of the Rent was concluded to enter for the forfeiture? And the opinion of the Court was, That he was not: for that the Copy-hold was in him preſently by the very forfeiture: And it is not like the caſe, where a Leaſe is made upon Condition, That the Leſſee ſhall do no Waſte, and he commits Waſte, and then the Leſſor accepts the Rent; there he cannot enter: But if the Condition had been, That if he do Waſte, that his eſtate ſhall ceaſe; there no Acceptance of the Rent can make the Leaſe good. M. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godb. 47.

7. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee by Indenture, 14. Nov. 14 Jac. demiſed the Land to J. S. rendring 20 s. Rent, to commence from the Annunciation which ſhould be 1619. And afterwards by another Indenture dat. 3. December, 15 Jac. demiſed the ſame Lands for 99. years to the Lady Perpoynt, to begin from the Annunciation laſt paſt. And afterwards by another Indenture dat. 16 Jac. to commence from 17. No. 1619. demiſed the ſame Land to the ſaid J. S. for 41 years, who accepted of it: The Queſtion was, If the Acceptance of the ſecond Leaſe by J. S. had extinguiſhed the former Leaſe? And it was adjudged, That it had not; becauſe that by the Leaſe made to the Lady Perpoynt, the Leſſor had but a Reverſion, and could not contract afterwards with J. S. to give any Intereſt unto him. But it was holden, That the taking of the ſecond Leaſe, had been a ſurrender of the former, were it not by reaſon of the Leaſe for 99 years, which diſables the Leſſor to contract for the 41 years. Hill. 3 Car. Rott. 1302. B. R. Watt. and Maidwell's Caſe. Hutton. 104.

8. Lord and Tenant, the Rent is behind for many years, and the Tenant makes a Feoffment in Fee, If the Lord accept of the Rent, or Services of the Feoffee due in his time, he ſhall loſe the arrerages due in the time of the Feoffer, for after ſuch acceptance, he ſhall not avow upon the Feoffer, nor upon the Feoffee, for the Arrerages incurred in the time of the Feoffer, C. 3. part. 65. 66. Pennant's Caſe, C. Litt. 269. acc.

9. In debt brought for Rent due, the Defendant pleaded in bar, that after the Leaſe made to him, and before the Action brought, he aſſigned over his Leaſe to J. S. and that after the Aſſignment for Rent which afterwards grew due, the Leſſor had received the Rent of the Aſſignee; The queſtion was whether this acceptance of the Rent of the Aſſignee, having no particular notice given to him of the aſſignment, ſhall be ſaid to be an acceptance of him as his Rent, or as the Rent of the firſt Leſſee, by his hands, and as his Bayliff, or Servant, and whether the acceptance of the Rent of J. S. be not a ſufficient notice of the Aſſignment; And it was adjudged, that as this Caſe is, no ſpeciall Notice ought to be given to the Plaintiff of the Aſſignment, but the acceptance of the Rent of J. S. was a ſufficient notice of the Aſſignment, and the Plaintiff could not reſort to the firſt Leſſee to recover his Rent behind, againſt him, and Judgment was given for the Defendant; Marſh and Bracers Caſe, M. 11. Jac. in B. R. Bolſtr. 2. part. 151. See C. 3. part. Walkers Caſe, 24. See there. Marrow and Turpins Caſe. P. 41. Eliz. in Co. B. rott. 2485. Debt brought againſt an Adminiſtrator of a Termor, who pleaded an Aſſignment of his Terme, of which the Plaintiff had notice, and accepted the Rent by the hands of the Aſſignee; and adjudged that by the death of the Leſſee, the privity of Contract was determined; and ſo the Action would not lye againſt the Adminiſtrators.

10. The Priviledg not to be impeached for Waſte, is a thing which is annexed to the eſtate of the Tenant, but if the Tenant do accept of a Confirmation of a greater eſtate; or if he aſſign over his eſtate, the Priviledge is gone and deſtroyed; See Co. 11. part. in Lewis Bowles's Caſe, in fine.

11. Debt upon a Bond, the Defendant pleaded, That it was agreed between the Plaintiff, and divers of the Creditors of the Defendant; That the Defendant by Indenture of Bargain and Sale, ſhould aſſure divers Lands in the County of Lincoln, to certain of the Creditors to be ſold by them, and the money to be paid amongſt them; and that he aſſigned to them a leaſe for years of the Cuſtomes of Wines, and certain other Sums of Money, which the Creditors by the ſaid Indenture accepted of; and ſayes de facto, that by the ſaid Indenture, he ſold the ſaid Lands to the ſaid perſons; and made them a Letter of Attorney, to receive the Sums of Money; it was reſolved, foraſmuch as the Indenture ſounds in the nature of a Covenant, it ſhall not be adjudged to be accepted of in ſatisfaction, nor pleaded in ſatisfaction in the Action; And farther, admit it had been in ſatisfaction, if performed, yet being not performed, it is no bar to the Action, although the ſaid Indenture was accepted of by the Creditors. Hill. 3. Car. 3. Rott. 378. in B. R. Simonds and Medeſworth's Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 139.

12. A Woman was Copyholder for life, her Husband by Indenture made a Leaſe for one year of the Land; and the ſame day and year made a ſecond Leaſe to the ſame perſon, for a year, and to begin two dayes after the end of the firſt Leaſe; and ſo he made a third Leaſe, each Leaſe two dayes betwixt the beginning of the new Leaſe, and the end of the former; afterwards the Husband ſurrendred the Copy-hold to the Lord, who entred, and let the Lands to the Defendant for 40 years; The queſtion in this Caſe was, Admitting that the making of the Leaſes as before, be a Forfeiture, yet whether the Lords acceptance of the Surrender, not knowing of the forfeiture, be a diſpenſation thereof; And it was holden by the Court, that the acceptance of the ſurrender by the Lord, was no diſpenſation of the forfeiture; and that there the Leaſe made by the Lord for 40 years was a good Leaſe; and his Leſſee had a good eſtate againſt the Copyholder, and his Leſſee. Hill. 4 Car. rott. 496. in B. R. Matthews and Whettons Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 169.

2. Where Acceptance of one thing ſhall be a good barre to demand another thing; et è contra.

1. A Man was bound in an Obligation, to make an Accompt before the Feaſt of Mich. of all the Rents and Profits of the Mannor of D. In an Action of Debt brought upon the Obligation. The Defendant pleaded in Barr, That in ſatisfaction of all Accompts before Mich. he made a Leaſe of certain Lands to the Plaintiff for certain years; which he accepted of. And it was holden no Plea: for that where the Condition of the Bond is collateral, there acceptance of another thing is no barre: but if the Condition had been for the payment of money; then the Acceptance had been a good barre of the Action. 4 H. 8. Dyer. 1.

2. A man was bounden in an Obligation, That B. ſhould at ſuch a day pay unto the Obligee 20 l. In an Action of Debt brought upon the Obligation, the Defendant pleaded, That before the day B. gave to the Obligee a Horſe in ſatisfaction of the 20 l. which he accepted of; and per Curiam holden a good Plea; and the Bond thereby is diſcharged. But it was holden, That if the payment had been to a ſtranger to the Obligation, the ſame had not been good. 35 H. 8. Dyer. 56.

3. In an Ejectione Firmæ brought againſt three, one of the Defendants pleaded in barre, That there was an Agreement betwixt the parties, that one of the Defendants ſhould pay unto the Plaintiff 10 l. in ſatisfaction of the Treſpaſſe and Ejectment, and ſhould give a Bond for the ſame; which he had performed, and the Plaintiff had accepted of. And it was holden to be a good Plea. 9 Jac. Henry Peyſers caſe. C. 9. Part. 77. And it was there Reſolved, That when the Condition in a Deed is to do a collateral act, there an Agreement with execution for money, or other thing, is no Plea to ſave the forfeiture; but when the Condition in a Deed by the Original Contract is to pay money, there by agreement any other thing may be given in ſatisfaction of the money, becauſe Nummus eſt menſura rerum commutandarum.

4. If a man be bounden in 200 Quarters of Corn, upon Condition to pay 20 l. the Obligor by Agreement may give to the Obligee a Horſe or other thing, in ſatisfaction of the 20 l. although that Mony be collateral to the Bond: But if a man be bounden in 100 Quarters of Corn, to pay 50 Quarters, or any other thing in ſatisfaction of it, there he can not give money or other thing in ſatisfaction of it, becauſe the Contract was not made for money, but for a Collateral thing; and therefore, Acceptance thereof, is no barre of the Bond in Debt brought. Henry Peyſers Caſe. Co. ibid. and ſee there. 28 H. 8. in Co. B. vouched to be adjudged accordingly.

5. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt Husband and Wife; and the Plaintiff declared, That the Wife whileſt ſhe was ſole, in Conſideration that the Plaintiff had expended 1500 l. about the Suits of the Wife whileſt ſhe was ſole, did promiſe to pay the Plaintiff the ſaid 1500 l. and more. The Defendants pleaded, That the Plaintiff did not expend above 10 l. &c. and that the heir in recompence of her Dower, concluded to make a Leaſe for years to the Wife, to begin after her death; which Leaſe ſhe cauſed to be made over to the Plaintiff, to the uſe of the Wife; and that after the marriage the husband agreed, That in ſatisfaction of his Travell and the ſaid expences, that he ſhould retain the ſaid Leaſe to his own uſe; which he accepted of. Upon which there was a Demurrer by the Plaintiff. And the better Opinion of the Court was, Becauſe that the agreement for acceptance of the Leaſe, ad diem futurum, was but executory, and not executed; the acceptance of the ſaid Recompence, was not material to make the agreement good; as the acceptance of one Mannor for another, or of the one Quantity or value; upon a Condition to be performed, in debt brought upon a Bond is not good: and therefore it was adjudged, That the Plea in barr was inſufficient. Paſch. 19 Eliz. Onely and the Earl of Rivers Caſe. Dyer. 356.

6. In an Action upon the Caſe, upon a Promiſe brought by an Executrix; the Plaintiff declared, That in Conſideration of two Weighs of Corn delivered by the Teſtator to the Defendant, he promiſed to pay the Plaintiff 10 l. The Defendant ſaid, That after the promiſe, the Plaintiff in Conſideration that the ſaid two Weighs of Corn were drowned; and that in conſideration of every of the ſaid 20 s. of the ſaid 10 l. he would pay him 3 s. 4 d. in toto, 33 s. 4 d. he would diſcharge the Defendant of the ſaid promiſe; and added, he was ready to pay the 33 s. 4d. upon which there was a Demurrer: And the opinion of the Court was for the Plaintiff; becauſe that by this New Agreement (and acceptance thereof if ſuch had been) no profit but damages was to come to the Plaintiff; and the Defendant was not put to any charge by it; and therefore it was Reſolved, It was not ſuch Agreement as ſhould bind the Plaintiff. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 72. Richards and Bartlet's Caſe. Leon. 19.

7. The Husband, ſeiſed of Lands in the Right of his Wife, made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf for life without improvement of Waſte, & afterwards to the uſe of his Wife for her life, for her Joynture, upon condition ſhe ſhould perform his laſt Will: the Husband dyed, the Wife entred and agreed to the eſtate; and afterwards brought Dower. It was Reſolved, That a Right or a Title which a woman had to an eſtate of Inheritance, could not be barred by Acceptance of any collateral ſatisfaction or Recompence: For Accord or Agreement is no Plea in real Actions, but onely in perſonal Actions; And therefore ſuch Collateral ſatisfaction or recompence did not barre her of Dower at the Common Law. Mich. 15 Eliz. in Co. B. Vernons Caſe. C. 4. Part. 1.

8. If the Lord accept a Rent or Service by the hands of the Feoffee, the ſame ſhall not barre the Lord of his Releiſe after due: for that Releiſe is no Service, nor debt will not lye for it. Pennants caſe. C. 3. Part. 66.

9. In Debt brought upon an Obligation, the Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff after the day of payment, and before the Writ brought, had accepted a Statute-Staple for the ſame debt, and in ſatisfaction of the Obligation. It was adjudged no good Plea; for although that the Statute be of Record, yet it is but an Obligation recorded; and the Obligation did remain yet in force, and it is in the Election of the Plaintiff, to take his remedy upon the one, or the other. 2 Jac. in C. B. Braithwait and Cornwall's caſe. vouch. in Higgens Caſe. C. 6. Part. 44.

10. If the Lord be entituled to have a Writ of Eſcheat, and he doth accept the Homage of the Tenant, he ſhall not have a Writ of Eſcheat afterwards againſt him, becauſe he hath accepted him for his Tenant; the like if he accept Fealty of him. C. 3. Part. 66.

3. Where Acceptance of the Rent ſhall make the Leaſe good; and where ſuch acceptance ſhall barr the Party to claim the Land, or other thing.

1. Compton purchaſed a Copy-hold of the Lord Audley, to him and his Wife, &c. for life; the Lord Audley Leaſed the Free-hold by Indenture to B. reſerving Rent, and made Livery; and afterwards he levied a Fine to Compton of the ſame Land, and Compton accepted of the Rent of B. The Queſtion was, Whether the Copy-hold was extinct? Quære. But there reſolved, That if a diſſeiſor makes a Leaſe for life rendring Rent, and afterwards grants the Reverſion to the diſſeiſee, and he accepts of the Rent of the Leſſee, that he ſhall not avoid the Leaſe. 28 H. 8. Compton and Brent's Caſe. Dyer. 30. b.

2. A Biſhop made a Leaſe to two for years, rendring Rent, afterwards he made a new Leaſe to one of them, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter: the Biſhop dyed: In the principal caſe it was holden, That the Leaſe was void in the whole; and the acceptance of the Rent did not make the Leaſe good; the ſame being in prejudice of the ſecond Leaſe: otherwiſe it is, if the ſecond Leaſe had not been made. And ſo it is, If an Abbot, or Tenant in tail had made a Leaſe, the acceptance of the Rent had made the Leaſe good. But if a Parſon, or Tenant for life, make a Leaſe for years, there no Acceptance can make the Leaſe good; becauſe the Leaſe is void by their death. 32 H. 8. Dyer. 46. See Pennants Caſe. C 3. Part. acc.

3. Note: It was agreed by the Juſtices, If before the Statute of 32 H. 8. the Husband and Wife make a Leaſe by word, rendring Rent; and the husband dyeth, and the Wife accepts the Rent, that the ſame doth not make the Leaſe good, becauſe her aſſent ought to be to the making of the Leaſe, which cannot be without Deed. But Quære that Caſe: for 36 Eliz. It was adjudged contrary; and M. 33 Eliz. in Moſley and Gilbert's caſe, It was adjudged, That her aſſent by word was good enough. 1 Mr. Dyer. 91. See Co. 4. Part, Vernon's caſe. See Villers caſe. Dyer. 46.

4. Sir Thomas Wiat, Tenant in tail to him and the heirs males of his body, made a Leaſe for 30 years to Auſtin, rendring Rent to him, his heirs, and aſſigns; and dyed, having Iſſue, Sir Tho. his ſon, ſon, who accepted the Rent of Auſtin; and afterwards was attainted of Treaſon, and executed, having Iſſue alive, and the King afterwards accepted the Rent; Yet it was adjudged in the Exchequer upon an Information of Intruſion, That the Lands being in the Kings hands by the Attainder, and not in point of Reverter, that the acceptance of the Rent, did not make the Leaſe good. 3 Ma. Dyer. 115. But ſee C. 7. Part. 18. in the Earl of Bedford's Caſe; That becauſe in this Caſe the King avoided the Leaſe that is to his primer ſeiſin, and that after Livery made, it is in the Election of the Iſſue in tail, by Acceptance of the Rent, to make the Leaſe good; becauſe the Leaſe was avoided by the King but for part of the Term. See Hob. 314. acc.

5. The Provoſt of Wells Parſon Impersonee of the Parſonage of W. Leaſed the Tythes for 50 years rendring Rent, which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter, but not by the Patron or Ordinary, the Provoſtſhip was united unto the ſaid Deanery; the Provoſt dyed, the Dean accepted the Rent; it was adjudged, That by the Acceptance the Leaſe was not affirmed; for the Leaſe of the Provoſt was void by his death; and in this caſe the Acceptance of the Rent is to no purpoſe, for the Reverſion is detained, and the name of the Succeſſors altered: And ſo is it, If Tenant in Dower, or other particular Tenant had made a Leaſe, and dyed; and he in the Reverſion or Remainder had accepted the Rent, the Leaſe had not been affirmed. Hodgeſly's and Tucker's Caſe. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 239, See C. 7. Part. the Earl of Bedford's Caſe. 8. See before, Sect. 2.

6. Tenant for life, the remainder in tail, a ſtranger levies a Fine with proclamations to him in the Remainder. who renders the Land to the Conuſor, rendring Rent, and dyeth; proclamations paſſe, Tenant for life dyeth; the Iſſue in tail accepts the Rent: It was holden, That by the Fine, and the Acceptance of the Rent, the Leaſe was affirmed. 11 Eliz. Dyer, 299. See Smith and Stapleton's Caſe. Plow. Com. 418. acc. But by Manwood, If Tenant in taile makes a Leaſe for years to begin after his death, rendring Rent, the acceptance of the Rent ſhall not barre the Iſſue, becauſe the Leaſe takes not effect in his life. ibid.

7. A Parſon 28 H. 8. made a Leaſe for life of Lands, which were given to him and his Succeſſors, to find Lights, the Rent is imployed to that purpoſe, after the Statute of 1 E. 6. of Chauntryes; the Parſon dyeth, his Succeſſour accepteth the Rent, the King after the Statute, grants the Lands to a ſtranger; It was the opinion of the Court, that the Patentee might enter, and avoid the Leaſe, for that the acceptance of the Rent was void, as to make the Leaſe good. 16 Eliz. Dyer 337. See before, the Provoſt of Wells Caſe. Sect. 5. acc. and ſee C. 3. part. 8. the Earl of Bedfords Caſe, acc.

8. A man made a Leaſe for years, rendring rent at the Feaſt of our Lady, &c. with Clauſe of Reentry for non-payment; the rent is behind at the Day; afterwards the Leſſor accepted of the rent, and then entred for the condition broken; It was holden that his Entry was Lawfull, for the rent was due before the condition broken; but if the Leſſor accepts the next quarters rent, then he hath loſt the benefit of his re-entry, for thereby he admits the Leſſee to be his Tenant; and ſo it is if the Leſſor diſtrain for his rent after the forfeiture, he cannot after re-enter for the forfeiture; and ſo if he make an Acquittance for the rent as a rent. 18 Eliz. in B. R. Greens Caſe, Leon. 262.

9. The Maſter and Fellows of Magdalen Colledg grant Lands unto the Queen in Fee, rendring rent, upon condition to grant it over, which is done accordingly, the grantor levies a Fine with Proclamations of the Land; the Maſter dyeth, the Succeſſor accepts the Rent of the Conuſor of the Fine, and makes an acquittance thereof, under his hand, without a Seal, and afterwards he dieth, It was adjudged, That the acceptance of the rent doth not bar the Colledg, being a body aggregate of many, and alſo the acceptance of the Maſter ſole, doth not likewiſe barr them, and ſo much the rather, being without deed; but that they may well enter, notwithſtanding the Fine, and acceptance of the Rent. 13 Jac. Co. 11. part. Magdalen Colledge Caſe, 60.

10. A man makes a Leaſe for years upon Condition that he ſhall not alien nor aſſigne without the aſſent of the Leſſor; and if he do aſſign the ſame or any part of the Land, that the Leſſor ſhall re-enter, the Leſſee aſſignes part of the Land without the aſſent of the Leſſor, and before notice thereof or re-entry, the Leſſor accepts the Rent, and after enters for the Condition broken, and adjudged his entry is lawfull, for the condition being collaterall, it might be ſo ſecretly contrived, that it is not poſſible to come to the knowledge of it, and in caſe of a condition annexed to the rent; as if a man make a Leaſe for years, rendring rent upon condition, if the rent be not paid, to re-enter; If the Leſſor demand the rent, and it be not paid, if after he accept the rent (before re-entry) at another day he hath diſpenſed with the condition, for there the condition is annexed to the rent; and he well knew the condition was broken. But in the principal Caſe, although he accept the rent, yet he may re-enter, for aſwell before as after, he may have debt for the rent. Pennants Caſe. Co. 3. part 65. See 40. Eliz. Co. Accompt.

1. IF Lands be ſeized into the Kings hand by Commiſſion, by reaſon of the Lunacy of J. S. and the King granteth the Cuſtody of the Lunatique, ſine Computo reddendo; yet the Lunatique ſhall have an account of the profits of the Lands when he becomes of ſane memory. But if it be of an Idiot, à Nativitate, there it is otherwiſe; becauſe in ſuch caſe, the King, as alſo his Pattentee, ſhall have the profits to their own uſe. Hill. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 25.

2. Note: It was the opinion of the Juſtices, That where a man deviſeth, That his Executors ſhall ſell his Lands; and out of the ſums of money ariſing by ſuch ſale, ſhall pay certain portions to his daughters: Suit for theſe ſums of money ſhall not be in the Spiritual Court; for that the ſame are not Teſtamentary: But in ſuch caſe, the party is to have his remedy at the Common-Law by Action of Accompt; becauſe the money is a charge riſing out of the Lands. Mich. 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer. 151, 152.

3. A man delivered money to deliver over; and afterwards he brought an Action of Accompt againſt the Bayliff, upon a baylment by his own hands: the Defendant pleaded, That he never was his Receiver to render an Account; and gave the matter before in Evidence. It was held by the Juſtices, That the ſame was no good Evidence; for that he was his Receiver conditionally; viz. if he had not delivered it over: but in ſuch caſe he ought to have pleaded the ſpecial matter in barre of the Account. Hill. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 196. Hungerfords Caſe.

4. If one be charged as a Receiver by Indenture, he ſhall not be admitted to plead, that he was not Receiver. Brownlow. 1. Part. 25.

5. If two be adjudged to Accompt, and a Capias, and Exigent iſſue, and the one appeareth, and the other is Outlawed; he that appeareth ſhall account alone; for the Plaintiff's Proceſs is detained as againſt the other: and ſo if the one dyeth, the other ſhall accompt alone. Brownlow. 25. 1. Part.

6. An Action of Accompt was brought againſt one as his Bayliff, to his damage of 100. l. The Defendant pleaded, he never was his Bayliff; which was found againſt him: and Judgment was given, That he ſhould render an Account: And at the day the Defendant made default. Wherefore the Court gave Judgment, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover againſt the Defendant 40 l. The Defendant upon that brought a Writ of Errour: aſſigned for Errour, That the Court gave Judgment of the value, without inquiring of the value. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Judgment ought to have been given to the value the Plaintiff had counted of. Whereupon the Judgment was reverſed. Altham, Baron, ſaid, It was adjudged Hill. 43 Eliz. B. R. That the Court in diſcretion might give a leſſer ſum. Paſch. 19 Jac. B. R. White and Williams Caſe. Winch. 5.

7. In an Account, a Receiver by the hands of the Plaintiff, the Defendant waged his Law; and at the day, he would have confeſſed his Action for part, and have waged his Law for the reſidue. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Confeſſion ſhould not be received. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 265.

8. An Action of Accompt was brought as Receiver of the Plantiffs mony, The Defendant pleaded that he never was Receiver, whereas he hath a Releaſe of the Plaintiff: It was holden per Curiam, that he ſhall loſe the benefit of his Releaſe, and that he cannot give the ſame in evidence upon that Iſſue. Willoughby and Smales Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part. 24.

9. Note. Where the Defendant is charged to Accompt for moneys received from the hands of the Plaintiff, there he may wage his Law; and likewiſe for goods delivered to be ſold. But it is otherwiſe where the Receipt is by the hands of a Teſtator, or of any other then the Plaintiff. Brownlow. 1. Part. 25.

10. A man did buy certain Fiſhes, viz. Carps, Tenches, and Trouts, and did put them into his Pond for ſtore; and afterwards dyed, his heir within age; and the Guardianſhip was granted to J. S. The Queſtion was, Whether the Guardian in Socage, ſhould anſwer for the Fiſh upon an Account? It was not reſolved: But it was ſaid, and 5 R 2. Waſte. 97. vouched for it, That an Action of Waſte doth lye againſt Guardian in Chivalry, for taking Fiſh out of a Pool, by the Statute of Magna Charta. Greys Caſe. 37 Eliz. B. R. rott. 25. Owen 20.

11. Note. It was agreed by the whole Court, and affirmed by all the Prothonotaris the Courſe to be, That if in Actions, the Defendant be adjudged to account, and be taken by a Capias ad Computandum, and bailed pendant the Action before the Auditors, and doth not keep his day before them; that a new Capias ad Computandum ſhall iſſue forth againſt him. Mich. 30. Eliz. in Co. B. Leon. 87.

12. In Debt upon Surpluſage upon an Account, It was agreed by Periam and Anderſon, Juſtices, That

That if I make J. S. my Auditor-general, to take Accompts of all my Bayliffs and Receivers, he is not a ſufficient Auditor without a Patent; for when he is made an Auditor generally, he is an Officer; and that he cannot be without a Deed. But if a Bayliff or Receiver be accountable to me, I may appoint one to be my Auditor, to take the Account of him by word pro hac vice: and if afterwards he take an Account by colour of the ſaid Warrant, without my Commandment, he is not a ſufficient Auditor to ſuch intent, either to take the Account, or to aſſeſſe the Arrearages, if the Accountant be found in Arrearage; Or to make allowance to him if he be in Surpluſage. And if one be Bayliff to me of his own wrong without my appointment, he is accountable to me; but I am not compellable to make him Allowances for his expences. Mich. 33 Eliz. in Co. B. Gauton and the Lord Dacres Caſe. Leon. 219.

13. In an Action of Account, the Plaintiff charged the Defendant as Bayliff of his Shop, Curam habens et adminiſtrationem bonorum; The Defendant anſwered to the goods onely, and not to the Shop. The Queſtion was, Whether the ſame were good, or not? And the better Opinion of the Court was, That it was not good; but that he ought to anſwer to all. And note in that Caſe, this difference was taken to be Law, That if one chargeth me as Bayliff of his goods ad Merchizandum, that in ſuch caſe I ſhall anſwer for the Encreaſe, and ſhall be puniſhed for my negligence: But if he chargeth me as his Receiver ad Computandum, I ſhall not be anſwerable but for the bare money, or the thing which was delivered. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Gomerſall and Gomerſall's Caſe. Godb. 55, 56.

14. An Action of Account was brought for that the Defendant occupied as Guardian of J. D. for 9 years, Lands which were granted to W. D. Father of the ſaid J. D. by Copy of Court-Roll, tenendum ſecundum conſuetudinem Manerii de B. who entred and dyed ſeiſed thereof, which diſcended to the ſaid J. D. and that J. D. dyed, and the Plaintiff as his Adminiſtrator brought the Action. Iſſue was joyned, That he did not receive the profits as Guardian: which was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That it doth not appear, that the Lands were Free-hold, but Copy-hold, and then an Action doth not lye againſt a perſon who Occupieth Copy-hold Lands. But it was adjudged for the Plaintiff: For although it be mentioned, that the Land was granted by Copy; It is not ſaid, Tenendum ad voluntatem Domini: and ſo it may be intended a Free-hold; and many Freeholds have been granted by Coppy, and by the Rodd. Mich. 7 Car. in B. R. Hughes and Harris's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 166.

15. In an Action of Account, the Caſe was thus; The Defendant by his Deed did acknowledge the Receipt of 100 l. from the Plaintiff, to be imployed by him in Merchandize. And Covenanted, at his return, to give him a ſufficient account of it. Upon his Return, the Plaintiff brought an Action of Account. The Defendant pleaded, That at his Return, he returned an Account to the Plaintiff; which he refuſed. It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That although there is no word of Account here, Yet upon the Defendants Receipt, the Plaintiff may well have an Action of Accompt; for that the Covenant doth not take away the Action of Accompt. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Rawlins and Parkers Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part. 256.

16. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That after the firſt Judgment given, Quod Computet; that before the ſecond Judgment be given, that a Writ of Errour doth not lye: For that the firſt Judgment is no other then an Award, and no finall Judgment untill he hath Accounted before Auditors; and the death of any of the parties before the ſecond Judgment, ſhall abate the Writ: and thus Judgment doth not determine the Originall: and the Plaintiff may be Non-ſuited before the ſecond Judgment. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part. 356. Metcalf and Wood's Caſe. See C. 11. Part. Metcalf's Caſe. acc.

17. An Account was brought by the Husband and Wife Executrix of J. S. that he render him Account as Bayliff to J. S. ex quacunq; cauſa ac contractu ad eum utilitatem of J. S. and one W. P. de Quibuſdam Merchandizis of the ſaid J. S. of the third part of 38 Tunne of Wine: which Merchandize the ſaid J. S. and W. P. the Defendant had occupied to their common profit, and which were committed to the Defendants hands by the aſſent of the ſaid J. S. and W. P. for their common profit. The Defendant pleaded, he was never his Receiver; which was found againſt him. In Arreſt of Judgment it was moved, becauſe the demand was againſt him as a general Baylie: whereas the Plaintiff ſhewes, That he was Baylie ex quacunq; cauſa ad utilitam of him and W. P. and ſo he ought not to have demanded it as in general, but ſpecially. 2. Becauſe he demands an Account of the third part of ſuch goods; whereas in the Account, the other ought to have been joyned: But the Opinion of the Court was in both points againſt the Defendant; for that he might demand an Account of the third part, for that it might be, that he ſolely committed the third part: And for the other point, it was adjudged, That he might have the Account alone, without joyning his Companion in the Writ. And therefore that the Accompt brought by the husband and Wife as Executrix, was well brought. Mich. 14 Jac. in the Kings-

Kings-Bench. Dr. Hackwell and Eastmans Case. Cro. 2 Part. 410.

18. An Accompt was brought against the Defendant upon a Receipt of money by the hands of one J.S. for 200 l. The Defendant pleaded, That he was not Receiver to render an Accompt. Upon a Special Verdict, the Jury found, That J.S. was indebted to the Plaintiff in 200 l. and the Plaintiff required the Defendant to receive the said 200 l. and that the Defendant required J. S. to pay it; and J. S. upon request to him made, desired the Defendant to borrow 200 l. of any person, and to pay the Plaintiff; and he accordingly borrowed 200 l. of one B. and received it of him, to pay over to the Plaintiff: and J. S. gave Bond to B. for the payment of it: and the Defendant appointed his Wife to pay it over to the Plaintiff. It was adjudged in this Case by the whole Court, That the Action was well brought against the Defendant; for that the Defendant took upon him to be Servant as well to the Plaintiff to ask and Receive the 200 l. of J. S. as to J. S, to borrow where he could the 200 l. and that not onely with an intent to pay it over to the Plaintiff, but with an expresse Commission to pay it over: So that although B. lent the money to be paid over to the Plaintiff, yet it is found, that the Defendant received it as Lent to J. S. whereby it became J.S. his money; and the rather, when he had given Bond for it. And so Judgment was given, That the Defendant was a Receiver. And in that case, it was agreed for Law by the Justices, That if A. deliver money over to B. to deliver and pay over to C. That in such case B. is answerable to two Actions of Accompt conditionally. Hill. 10 Jac. in Co. B. rott. 3230. Harrington and Deanes Case. Hob. 36. See Brown. 1. Part. 26. acc. the same case.

19. Note: It was holden by Rolls, Chief Justice, That Rent alone lyeth not in Accompt; because a Rent is a certain thing; and also it is in the Realty: But if a Rent be mixed with other things, then an Accompt will lye of it. And it was holden, That if one receiveth money due to me upon an Obligation, I shall have either an Action of Debt, or an Action of Accompt against him; So, if a man receiveth my Rents without my Consent. Trinit. 1651. in B.R. Hamond and Ward's Case, rott. 58. Styles. 287.

20. Note; It was holden by all the Justices, That the King shall have an Accompt against Executors, because the Law maketh a privity; It being found by matter of Record, that the Testator was indebted to the King; which Record cannot be denyed: But in the Case of a common person, an Accompt will not lye against Executors for want of privity. And the Accompt which the King brings, is ad Computandum ad Dominum Regem, without setting forth how the person came liable to Accompt: but a common person in his accompt ought to shew that the party was Receiver, Bayliff, &c. See Sir Edward Coke's Case, Pasch. 21 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Godbolt. 289. See C. 11 Part 89, the Earl of Devonshire's Case. The Master of the Ordnance pretending, That the old broken Ordnance and unserviceable did belong to him by reason of his Office, procured a Privy Seal, &c. and afterwards disposed of them to his own use, and dyed; his Executor was forced to Accompt for them. See 37 & 38 Eliz. Rott. 312. in the Exchequer, Sir Walter Mildmayes Case, adjudged accordingly. See C. 11. Part. 90. 91. there vouched.

21. One Executor sued another by way of Bill, in the Court of Requests, to Accompt there. And it was moved to have a Prohibition; for that before the Statute of Westm. 2. an Executor at the Common-Law, could not have an Accompt for want of privity, but now since that Statute, he might have an Accompt; but then it ought to be sued by Writ, and not by Bill in that Court: and further, for that they had given damages, where no damages ought to be given in an Accompt; and also they had there sequestred the Lands against Law. It was holden, That if the truth of the Case was such, That a Prohibition should be granted. But upon the View of the Bill, it appeared, That it was not an Accompt, but a Bill onely of discovery against Trustees, who went about to defeat an Infant; and that it was for a meer breach of Trust, and for a Confederacy and Combination: and therefore the Prohibition was denyed. Trinit. 17 Jac. in B.R. But in that case, It was agreed per Curiam, That a Bill lyeth for an Attorney of the Court, or of the Common-Pleas, or Exchequer, for an Accompt: and also it was clearly adjudged, That in an Accompt, a man should recover damages upon the second Judgment given.

22. Where a man is indebted unto another for Wares, and the Debt is super-annuated according to the Statute of 21 Jac. and afterwards the parties Accompt together, and the party is found to be Indebted unto the other party in so much money for such Wares; It was agreed in that case, although the party was without remedy before; yet now he shall have Debt upon an Accompt: and it is sufficient to say, That the Defendant was Indebted to him upon Accompt pro diversis Mercimoniis. Trin. 17 Car. in Co. B. White and Grubbs Case, adjudged accordingly.

2. Where an Account lyeth, and where not; and by whom, and againſt whom it lyeth: and where not.

1. A Man received 20 l. to bear an Adventure to Roan, and there to beſtow the ſame in Merchandizes: afterwards he dyed Inteſtate, and Adminiſtration was committed of his goods to J. S. The Queſtion was, Whether Debt, or Accompt lay againſt the Adminiſtrator: and it was adjudged, That an Action of Debt did lye, and not an Accompt; and that an Accompt did not lye againſt an Executor or an Adminiſtrator. But if a man bayle money, to bayle over, if he doth not deliver it over according to the Condition; there no Action of Debt lyeth, but an Account; for he receiveth the money, not to detain it: but preſently when he doth not deliver it over, he is accomptable to the bailour. So if a man deliver goods to Merchandize, if he doth not beſtow the money, an Accompt lyeth preſently; and that as well for the profits and encreaſe which he hath gained; as what he might have gotten by the Occupation of the money. Trinit. 28 H. 8. Dyer. Core and Woodyes Caſe. 20. 21.

2. A man brought an Accompt as Adminiſtrator of J. S. againſt Huſband and Wife; and the Writ was, That the Wife was Adminiſtrator; and declared of a Receipt by the Wife dum ſola fuit. The Defendant pleaded in barr, That the Huſband made his Will, and made J. D. his Executor, who proved the Will; and that afterwards the ſaid Executor made his Will, and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed, and that ſhe proved the Will, and adminiſtred as well the goods of the firſt Teſtator, as of the ſecond Teſtator; and demanded Judgment of the Writ, without taking any traverſe to the dying Inteſtate: upon which the Plaintiff did Demur in Law. See Paſch. 3 Eliz. rott. 1085. Dyer. 202. Cleeres Caſe.

3. Leſſee for years deviſed his Terme for his life, the remainder over to another, and made the Deviſee his Executor, and dyed; the Deviſee proved the Will, and Entred, and made his Will, and dyed; and the Executor entred and took the profits for a year: and he in the Remainder brought an Action of Accompt againſt him as Bayliff. And the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Action did not lye; for although, that the Deviſe be good to him in the Remainder, as an Executory deviſe (as it was adjudged, C. 8. Part. M. Maxings Caſe); yet becauſe he never was in poſſeſſion of the Land, nor took the profits of it, for want of privity, an Accompt did not lye againſt the Defendant: and the Entry of the Defendant in this caſe ſhall be adjudged as Executor, and then an Accompt will not lye againſt an Executor for want of privity. Trinit. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 277. See 22 Eliz. Dyer. 367. and Co. 10. Part. in Campitts Caſe.

4. In an Action of Accompt the caſe was; A man deviſed a ſumme of money to a Feme Covert, the Huſband and Wife made a Letter of Atturney to receive the money of the Executor, who received it to the uſe of the Wife: after, the husband and wife both dyed, and the Adminiſtrator of the Huſband brought an Accompt for the money. And the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Accompt did lye: and it was holden, If the Huſband ſole, had made the Letter of Attorney, the Action would have lyen. And it was alſo there agreed, That when money is delivered to deliver over to another, the other ſhall have an Action of Accompt; albeit before he had not any propriety in it. And ſo if a debt be due to a ſingle woman upon an Obligation, if ſhe take huſband, and the husband ſole make a Letter of Attorney to receive the money, and he receive it; the husband alone ſhall have an Accompt. See M. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Huntley and Griffs Caſe. Goldeſbr. 158.

5. Note: By Fennor, Juſtice, That an Action of Accompt ſhall be maintainable againſt a Servant; but not againſt an Apprentice. Mich. 31 Eliz. Goldeſbr. 161. See C. 11. Part. 89. acc.

6. In an Accompt the Defendant pleaded, That he never was his Bayliff to render an Accompt: the Caſe was thus; The Plaintiff had a Leaſe of a Parſonage, and the Defendant not clayming any Intereſt, took the Tythes being ſet forth, and carried them away. The Queſtion was, If the Leſſee might have an Accompt againſt ſuch Treſpaſſor? It was adjudged, That in ſuch caſe an accompt would not lye, becauſe there is no privity; and wrongs are alwayes without privity. Alſo it was agreed, That an Abator or an Intruder ſhall not be charged in Accompt, becauſe they pretend to be Owners. And it hath been adjudged, Where one under colour of a Deviſe did occupy Lands in London for 20. years, and the Will was afterwards made void, and he that had Right thereupon brought an accompt. But it was adjudged, That it would not lye. But Dyer ſaid, That in the principal Caſe, the Leſſee might have an Action of Treſpaſſe for the Tythes; becauſe they were immediately in him upon the ſetting forth. Or he might have an Ejectione Firmæ of them. But an Accompt would not lye in the Caſe. Mich. 14. and and 15 Eliz. in Co. B. Tottenham and Bodiegfield's Caſe. Owen. 35.

7. In an Accompt brought by the heir of a Copy holder, for the profits of his Copy-hold taken during his Non-age, The Defendant pleaded, That by the Cuſtome of the Mannor, the Lord might aſſign one to take the profits of the Copy-hold deſcended to the Infant to his own uſe, without rendring an Accompt. It was holden to be a good Cuſtome: yet it was adjudged, That the Action of Accompt doth not lye; for the Defendant hath not entred and taken the profits as Prochyn-Amy; in which caſe he is chargeable; but claymeth by the Cuſtome and Grant of the Lord of the Mannor, and not in the Right of the Heir. And it hath been adjudged, That if one Entreth into Land claiming by Deviſe; whereas in truth the Land deviſed is entailed, that he ſhall not be charged in an Accompt. In the principal caſe it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. 20 Eliz. in Co. B. Leon. 266.

8. A man charged two men in an Accompt as his Receivers; and the Queſtion was, Whether one of them might plead, Ne unq; ſon Receiver, without traverſing, that he and his Companion were his Receivers. And the Opinion of Clenche and Suit, Juſtices, was, That it was well without traverſe; and vouched, 10 E. 4. 8. Where an Accompt was brought againſt one, ſuppoſing the Receipt of 200 marks, by the hands of A. B. and C. D. The Defendant as to one 100 marks pleaded, That he received it by the hands of A. B. onely, without that that he received it by the hands of A. B. and C. D. And as to the other 100 marks, he received them by the hands of C. D. onely; without that that he received them by the hands of A. B. and C. D. and there it is doubted, Whether it be a good Plea or not. Quære. For it ſeems by Fitzh. Accompt 14. If an Accompt be brought againſt two; and one ſaith he was his ſole Receiver, and hath accompted before ſuch an Auditor, that if the Plaintiff doth anſwer to the Barre, he ſhall abate his Writ, becauſe the Receipt is ſuppoſed to be a Joynt Receipt. Mich. 28 & 29 Eliz. B. R. Godbolt. 43.

6. If two men be Partners of Merchandizes in one Ship; and one of them makes a Factor of all his Merchandizes. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That both of them may have ſeveral Writs of Accompt againſt the Factor, or they may joyn in one Writ of Accompt if they pleaſe. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godb. 90.

10. Note. It was ſaid by Coke, Chief Juſtice, and agreed by the whole Court, That if a man delivereth money unto J. S. to my uſe; that I may have an Action of Debt, or an Accompt againſt him for the ſame at my Election. See M. 11 Jac in Co. B. Clark's Caſe. Godbold. 210.

11. It was a Queſtion, At what age of the Infant, he might have an accompt againſt his Guardian for the profits of his Lands received during his minority? And that doubt did ariſe upon the Statute of Marlbridg; which gives the accompt againſt the Guardian. But it was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That the heir after his age of 14 years, ſhould have an Accompt againſt his Guardian in Socage, at what time he pleaſed. Paſch. 16 Eliz. in Co. B. Rott. 436. See accompt. C. Inſtitut. 1. Part. 89. acc. and ſee there, that the Guardian in Socage ſhall render an accompt of his Marriage-money to the heir, or his Executors. And Legitima ætas, of an heir in ſuch caſe, is 14 years. See ibid.

12. Note. That an Action of Accompt lyeth againſt a Guardian in Socage; and the Defendant cannot therein wage his Law. But an Action of an accompt doth not lye againſt the Executors of a Guardian in Socage, for want of privity.

13. If two Joynt Merchants occupy their ſtock, goods, and Merchandizes in Common, to their common profit, one of them naming himſelf a Merchant, ſhall have an Accompt againſt the other, naming him alſo a Merchant, and ſhall charge him as Receptor Denariorum ex quacunq; cauſa ad Communem utilitatem ipſorum. See Co. 1. Part, Inſtitut. 172. acc.

14. Note: It was admitted per Curiam, That an Infant was admitted to ſue an Accompt againſt his Guardian in Socage, for the profits received after the Infant had accompliſhed his age of 14. years: and the Action was brought againſt him as Bayliff. Mich. 6 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part 219.

3. What ſhall be ſaid a good Plea in Barr of an Accompt, et è contra: And where Pleas before Auditors are good, et è contra.

1. ONe brought an Accompt for Tynn delivered by him to the Defendant for to render an Accompt. The Defendant pleaded in Barr, That he had ſold it, and taken an Obligation for it. It was holden per Curiam, That it was no good Plea, in Barr of the Accompt; but that it was a good Plea for his diſcharge before Auditors. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 29.

2. An Information was for the Queen Exhibited in the Kings-Bench by the Attorney-General, againſt Wiſe, a Receiver of Ireland, for the Debt of 2000 l. arrearages of his Accompt adjudged before Auditors aſſigned by Commiſſion. The Defendant pleaded Nihil debet per Patriam: and it was holden a good Plea: but he cannot wage his Law; In debt brought for Arrearages before Auditors. 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer. 145. Wiſe's Caſe.

3. In accompt, the Defendant ſaid, That for the Receipt of the money, he made to the Plaintiff a Bill, and demanded Judgment of the Action: and adjudged, It was no Plea; becauſe it was but a Teſtimony of the Accompt. 28 H 8. Dyer. 20. 1 H. 6. there vouched. So if a man be found in arrearages before Auditors, and he make a Bond for them; the ſame is no barre of the Accompt 11 H. 6. vouched. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 21.

4. In an Accompt brought, the Plaintiff declared of a Receipt of moneys by the hands of a ſtranger. The Defendant pleaded in Barre a gift of the ſame money afterwards to him. It was holden by Warburton, Juſtice, That it was a good Plea; for that by the gift, it is become his own money. But without all doubt, it is a good diſcharge before Auditors. See 28 H. 6. 7. there cited. Paſch. 19 Jac. in C. B. Harrington and Harrington's Caſe. Winch. 9.

5. In Debt brought for the Arrearages upon an Accompt; the Defendant pleaded, That before the Accompt, the Plaintiff of his own wrong did Impriſon the Defendant, and aſſigned Auditors to him being in priſon, and ſo the Accompt was made by dureſſe of Impriſonment. And it was holden by all the Juſtices of both the Benches, That it was a good Plea in Barre; and Judgment was given accordingly. Hill. 25 Eliz. in B. R. The Earl of Northumberland's Caſe. Leon. 13.

6. In an Accompt, the Defendant pleaded, That he never was his Receiver to render Accompt: which was found againſt him, and he adjudged to accompt before Auditors: and he pleaded, That before the Action brought, he had put himſelf in Arbitrament of all Debts, Accompts, Actions, &c. and the Arbitrators awarded, That he ſhould pay 10 l. onely in diſcharge of all debts, accompts, &c. which he had paid. It was adjudged, That this Arbitrament ought to have been pleaded in barr of the Action; which being omitted, the party hath loſt the advantage of it; and that he ſhould not now plead it before the Auditors in diſcharge of his Accompt. Trin. 4 Car. in Co. B. Taylor and Pages Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 82.

7. In an Accompt the Caſe was; A. depoſited 200 l. in the hands of B. laid upon a Horſe-Race, to be delivered to the party that ſhould win, according to Articles made betwixt the Plaintiff and another: A. ſuppoſing he had won the money, demands it of B. who had delivered it over to another whom he ſuppoſed had won the Wager. The Defendant as to one hundred pound, pleads, That he was never Receiver: upon which Plea, he was adjudged to accompt before Auditors: and before Auditors, he pleads that in diſcharge of the Accompt, That he had delivered the money over to another that had won. The Plaintiff replyed, There was falſe play uſed by the other party. The Queſtion was, If the ſame were a good Plea in diſcharge of the Accompt before Auditors? It was Reſolved and adjudged by the Court, That the ſame had been a good Plea in barre of the accompt; but it was not a good Plea in diſcharge before Auditors: For where matter may be pleaded in barr, the party ſhall not be compelled to come before Auditors, for that were reaſonable. The undoubtenely here is, If there be apparent matter to the Court to hinder the Plaintiff from Judgment: And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Articles ſhould be interpreted fairly, and that there ought not to be foul play, according to common Intendment, and that it was material to ſhew, that there was foul play in the Replication; and ſo the Iſſue being well joyned, Judgment ought to be for the Plaintiff: and accordingly Judgment was given for him. Mich. 1651. in B. R. Entratur. Trinit. 1651. rott. 574. Boynton and Cheeks Caſe. Styles. 353, 354.

8. If a man doth recover againſt J. S. in a perſonal Action, and hath Judgment, the ſaid recovery is a good Barre in an Accompt afterwards brought for the ſame thing. C. 6. Part. Ferrers Caſe, acc.

9. In an Accompt the Defendant pleaded. Ne unq; Receptor. It was found for the Plaintiff, and the Defendant adjudged to Accompt before Auditors: and before the Auditors, the Defendant pleaded, That he had delivered over part of the money: The Plaintiff Demurred; for that it was contrary to the Verdict: for that is, That he ſhould accompt for all; and he would accompt but for part. It was ſaid, It was lately adjudged in this Court, in Boynton's Caſe, That it was no good Plea before Auditors; for it would be miſchievous, if it ſhould be otherwiſe, in Reſerving ſuch matter to be tryed again. And of that Opinion was the whole Court; and therefore Judgment was given according to the Opinion delivered in Boynton's Caſe. Trinit. 1654. in B. R. rott. 723. Pendarves and St. Aubin's Caſe. Styles. 410. See Boynton and Cheeks Caſe before. Sect. 7. acc.

10. In an Action of Accompt, the Defendant pleaded, Ne unq; Receptor: A Verdict was for the Plaintiff: and Auditors aſſigned, and before the Auditors he pleaded, That he received the money of the Plaintiff to deliver over; and accordingly he had delivered it over. It was moved, If it were a good Plea before Auditors in diſcharge? The Opinion of Rolls, Chief Juſtice, was, If he plead, That it was paid by his conſent, it is a good Plea before the Auditors. But it is clear, It is a good Plea in barr, if the money were paid accordingly: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 1653. rott. 579. B. R. Kirk and Lucas's Caſe, Siyles. 430.

4. The Proceſs in an Accompt.

1. THe Proceſs in an Accompt is Summous, Pone, and Diſtreſſe; and upon a Nichel returned upon the Summons, Pone, or Diſtreſſe, the Outlawry lyes; and the Proceſs is returned from 15. dayes, to 15 dayes; and an Eſſoine lyes, 15 Jacob. in the Common-Pleas. Brownlow. 1. Part. 24.

2. In an Action upon Accompt there are two Judgments; the firſt Judgment is, That the Defendant ſhall accompt; becauſe he hath not accompted before. In this firſt Judgment, the Plaintiff ſhall not recover Coſts, or Damages; but a Capias ad Computandum ſhall iſſue; and if a Non eſt inventus ſhall be returned thereupon, then an Exigent: and when the Defendant is by rigour of Law Impriſoned; yet the Court in Favour of him, doth take baile; for he ſhall Accompt before Auditors which the Court ſhall appoint; and he ſhall appear from day to day before the Auditors, untill the Accompt ſhall be determined: and before the Auditors the Plaintiff or Defendant may joyn Iſſue; or Demur upon the Plea pleaded before the Auditors: and if any of the parties ſhall make default, and ſhall not appear; then if after appearance the Defendant ſhall not plead, or if he ſhall joyn Iſſue, or joyn in Demurrer, the Auditors ſhall certifie that to the Court, and the Court ſhall proceed to tryall of the Iſſue, if the Iſſue be joyned; or by Arguing the Demurrer, as the cauſe ſhall require: And if the Plaintiff ſhall make default, or ſhall not proſecute; or, if the Defendant ſhall not anſwer, the Court may commit him to the Fleet: and if Verdict paſſe for the Plaintiff, Coſts and Damages ſhall be recovered; and the Plaintiff ſhall recover his goods or moneys demanded, with his Coſts and Damages, and a Fieri facias, Elegit, or Capias ad ſatisfaciendum ſhall be awarded; And if a Non eſt Inventus be returned, Then an Outlawrie after Judgment. 15 Jac. in Co. B. See Brownlow. 1. Part. 24 & 25. acc.

Accord and Concord.

1. IN an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That for 20 l. whereof the moyety was paid, and the reſt agreed to be paid at a certain time; the Defendant promiſed to deliver to the Plaintiff 400 l. of Wax at ſuch a day: and that at the day he delivered to him 200 l. of ill Wax. The Defendant pleaded an Accord between them afterwards for the ſaid 200 l. which was inſufficient; which Agreement he had perfomed. It was agreed by the Court, That the Barr was good; becauſe a Concord executed, is a good barr where damages are onely to be recovered. 6 E. 6. Dyer. 75. Andrews Caſe.

2. A man brought an Action of Covenant againſt an Aſſignee, for not repairing of a houſe. The Defendant pleaded in barr, an Accord betwixt them, and execution of it in ſatisfaction of the Reparation. 1. It was Objected, That when an Action is grounded upon a Wrong, (as in this caſe) that an Accord with ſatisfaction is no plea in barre of the Action. 2. It was Objected, That where the Action is founded upon a Deed, (as it was in that caſe, an Action of Covenant) there it could not be diſcharged without a Deed; by any accord or agreement in Pais. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Plea in barre was good: For when a duty accrues by the deed in certainty; as by Covenant, Bill, or Bond, to pay a ſum of money there, becauſe it takes his eſſence by writing, it ought to be avoided by matter of as high nature; there an Accord without writing is no ſatisfaction. But where no certain duty accrueth by the Deed, but a wrong is done ſubſequent to the deed for which damages is onely recoverable; there an Accord with ſatisfaction is a good Plea. C. 6. Part. 43. Blakes Caſe.

3. When a Treſpaſſe is done, and an Action is brought upon it; there an Accord executory is no Plea in barr; becauſe thereby the wrong is confeſſed, and yet there is no Recompence given in fact for the ſame. But in ſuch caſe, an Accord or Arbitrament is a good Plea in barr of an Action brought, if upon the Arbitrament a certain tain ſum of money is to be paid at a certain day, becauſe there he hath a remedy for it C. 6. Part. ibid.

4. In an Action of Forgery of falſe deeds brought, the Defendant pleaded an Arbitrament made, That the Defendant ſhould be Nonſuit in an Action which he had againſt the Plaintiff: and it was adjudged to be no Plea, becauſe a Non-ſuit could be no ſatisfaction; and he could not compell him to be Nonſuit, which was in an Aſſiſe which he had brought againſt the Plaintiff. See Plo. Com. 11. acc.

5. An Ejectione Firme was brought againſt three Defendants. They pleaded, That, after the Treſpaſſe and Ejectment done, there was an agreement between the Plaintiff and the Defendants, That one of the Defendants ſhould pay unto the Plaintiff 10 l. in ſatisfaction thereof; and ſhould give his Bond to the Plaintiff for the ſame, which he had performed. And in this caſe, it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Plea was good. And it was Reſolved, That in all Actions which ſuppoſe a wrong to be done Vi et armis, where a Capias, or an Exigent lyeth at the Common-Law; that there in ſuch caſe Accord is a good Plea for Redemption of his body from Impriſonment; and that an Ejectione Firme includes in it ſelf, an Action of Treſpaſſe, as it appeareth by the Writ; for the Writ is, Vi et armis, and alſo the Entry of an Ejectione Firme is, In plainto tranſpectionis, et Ejectionis Firme. And it was agreed and Reſolved likewiſe by the Juſtices, That the beſt way of pleading an Accord is, To plead the ſame by way of Satisfaction, and not by way of Accord. Mich. 9 Jacobi. in the Common-Pleas. Intrator. Trinit. 9 Jac. Rott. 1151. Peto and Chery, and Sherman's Caſe. C. 9. Part. 77.

6. Note: By all the Juſtices, That in all theſe Actions, an Accord is a good Plea. 1. In a Raviſhment of Ward, upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cap. 35. 2. In a Quare Ejectm infra terminum, becauſe therein a Chattel onely is to be recovered. 3. In Writ brought againſt Leſſee for years. 4. In Detinue of Charters, although they concern the Free-hold. 5. In Detinue of a Horſe, or other goods perſonal 6. In Debt upon a Leaſe for term of years, although there be a certainty demanded: and ſo in Covenant for want of Reparations, becauſe the ſame is mixed with a wrong in which Damages are to be recovered. Co. 9. Part. ibid. See Eaten and Blake's Caſe. C. 6. Part. 43. devant. Sect. 2.

7. Note. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That at the Common-Law, a Right or Title of a Free hold cannot be barred by an Acceptance of a Collateral Satisfaction, or a Collateral recompence; as, if a Diſſeiſor of the Mannor of D. gives to the Defendant the Mannor of S. in ſatisfaction of all his Right: And it is agreed in all our Books, That an Accord with ſatisfaction is a good Plea in a perſonal action where damages onely are to be recovered; but not in a Reall Action: and there. Where in a Writ of Dower brought, It was alledged, That the woman had agreed and accepted of an Eſtate in Pais upon a Condition, in ſatisfaction of her Dower; that ſuch an Accord or agreement was no barre of her Dower. C. 4. Part. 14 & 15. Vernon's Caſe.

1. NOte: It was ſaid by Fitzherbert and Shelley, That if a man hath a Dogg which killeth Sheep; and the Maſter is ignorant of the Condition of the Dogg; that an Action upon the Caſe will not lye againſt the Maſter. 28 H. 8. 20. & 25. But Quære of it. For ſome are of opinion, That the Sciens ipſum eſſe conſuetum ad mordendum, is not material.

2. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe, That in Conſideration of 20 l. whereof the moyety was paid, and the reſt agreed to be paid at a day certain: The Defendant promiſed to deliver 400 pound of Wax to the Plaintiff ſuch a day: and at the day he delivered him 372 pound of ill Wax, and warranted it to be good and Merchantable, by which he was damnified, &c. The Defendant pleaded an Agreement made betwixt them; as well for the naughtineſſe of the Wax, as for the reſt not delivered, which the Plaintiff accepted of. And it was holden a good barre; and that the deceit was not material to be anſwered, becauſe the warranty of the ſufficiency, was after the Contract. 6 E. 6. Dyer. 75. See C. 6. Part. 41. Blages Caſe. acc.

3. A man who had a Free-hold in a Mill, brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt one, who had the Free-hold in a Meadow; and ſuppoſed by his Writ, that the Defendant d vertit, multos Curſus aquarum; ſo as where the Mill uſed to grinde two Quarters a day, that now by the Defendants turning of the water, he could now grind but one Quarter. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 248. It is a Quære, Whether the Action lyeth, or an Aſſiſe: but ſee C. 4. Part. Lutterells Caſe: agreed, the action doth lye. See 13 Eliz. 4. An Action upon the Caſe was brought for the malitious miſ-turning of part of a Courſe of Water of a Conduit, which ran from a Fountain in Clarkenwell, to the Plaintiffs houſe: and upon the Evidence it appeared, that the diverſion was of a Pipe, out of which the husband made a Quill with a Cock, to ſerve his houſe with water; and that the husband dyed; It was holden, That the Action brought againſt the wife after the death of the husband did lye; becauſe every opening of the Cock is a new diverſion. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer. 319. More and the Lady Brown's Caſe.

5. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt Joyce, an Inne-keeper of the Bell at M. in Kent, for not ſcowring of a Ditch which ran betwixt the houſe of the Defendant and another man: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, That the Action did not lye: but upon a Writ of Errour brought, and for divers Errours aſſigned in the Declaration, the Judgment was reverſed. 6. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt a Common Hoſtler; and the Iſſue was, If the goods were ſtollen by the Defendants default? And it was given in Evidence, That the Houſe was full, and that therefore he refuſed the Plaintiff; and he ſaid he would make ſhift. And it was holden by the Court, That if the cauſe be falſe, an action lyeth againſt the Hoſtler for the refuſal. 5 Ma. Dyer. 158. See Co. 8. 7. An Action upon the Caſe brought, for ſtopping up of the Plaintiffs way: and he declared, That J. S. was Lord of the Mannor of M. and of two acres of Cuſtomary Land, and that the Lord for himſelf and his Cuſtomary Tenants of the ſaid two acres, had a way in, by, and thorow, &c. and that the Lord granted the Two acres to the Plaintiff, and that the Defendant had erected a Ditch and Hedge, by reaſon whereof he loſt the Benefit of his way. It was found for the Plaintiff: and becauſe it did not appear in the Declaration, to what Village the way led, the Judgment was reverſed. But if it had been a Common way, it had been good, Alyns and Sparks Caſe. Trin. 8 Jac. in Co. B. rott. 1606. Brownlow. 1. Part. 6.

8. Note: It was holden per Curiam, If a man will encourage one that was robbed, to cauſe the Felon to be Indicted, and to that purpoſe do accompany him to the Aſſizes; the ſame is Lawfull, without the incurring the damage of an Action upon the Caſe upon Conſpiracy: but if he knew, that he was not robbed, then the Action upon the Caſe lyeth. Stone and Bates Caſe. Paſc. 12 Jac. in Co. B. Brownlow. 1. Part. 9.

9. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe, For that the Defendant ſued forth a Fieri Facias upon a Judgment which he had againſt the Plaintiff; upon which Judgment the Defendant had before ſued out a Fieri Facias, and the Sheriff of O. thereupon had returned, That he had levied the debt and damages, and that they Remained in his hands for want of buyers; and notwithſtanding that he knew this, yet he proſecuted another Fieri facias; and thereupon the Sheriff had levied the debt and damages, and paid the ſame to the Plaintiff. It was adjudged, That although the Fieri facias was an Act in Law, yet the Action was well brought. Warter and Freeman's Caſe. M. 15 Jac. in Co. B. rott. 1941. Brownlow. 12.

10. Note, by Popham, Chief Juſtice, If a man agrees with me, that I ſhall ſet the Outer-Wall of my houſe upon his Land, and I do it accordingly; and afterwards the party that grants me the Licenſe, breaketh it down; if the grant were by Deed, I ſhall have an Action of Covenant for it; but if it be by word, yet I ſhall have an Action upon the Caſe againſt him. 11. In an Action upon the Caſe; the caſe was, The Defendant being a Goldſmith in London, and having Counterfeit Jewels, knowing them to be counterfeit, ſent his Servant J. S. with them to the Plaintiff, being a Merchant in Barbary, to make ſale of the Jewels to the King of Barbary, to whom the Plaintiff ſold them for 800 l. J. S. having received the money, went from thence. The Jewels afterwards being diſcovered to be counterfeit, the Plaintiff by Impriſonment was enforced to make Reſtitution to the King. It was agreed in this Caſe, That although the Defendant did not command his Servant to make uſe of the Plaintiff; and that the Jewels were of ſome value, viz. of 80 l. Yet the Action did well lye; and that the Maſter ſhould anſwer for his Servant. And there it was ſaid by Doderidge, Juſtice, That 22 Eliz. an Action upon the Caſe was brought in the Common-Pleas by a Clothier; That whereas he had gained great Reputation by making of his Cloath, and had great benefit thereby, and had uſed to ſet his mark to his Cloath; That another Clothier perceiving it, uſed the ſame mark to his ill Cloath on purpoſe to deceive him; and thereupon he brought his Action upon the Caſe againſt him: And it was Reſolved, That the Action did well lye. Southern and Howes Caſe. 12. A man being ſeiſed of ſuch a Meſſuage in ſuch a Pariſh in London, let to the Plaintiff the Cellar

tain ſum of money is to be paid at a certain day, becauſe there he hath a remedy for it C. 6. Part. ibid.

4. In an Action of Forgery of falſe deeds brought, the Defendant pleaded an Arbitrament made, That the Defendant ſhould be Nonſuit in an Action which he had againſt the Plaintiff: and it was adjudged to be no Plea, becauſe a Non-ſuit could be no ſatisfaction; and he could not compell him to be Nonſuit, which was in an Aſſiſe which he had brought againſt the Plaintiff. See Plo. Com. 11. acc.

5. An Ejectione Firme was brought againſt three Defendants. They pleaded, That, after the Treſpaſſe and Ejectment done, there was an agreement between the Plaintiff and the Defendants, That one of the Defendants ſhould pay unto the Plaintiff 10 l. in ſatisfaction thereof; and ſhould give his Bond to the Plaintiff for the ſame, which he had performed. And in this caſe, it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Plea was good. And it was Reſolved, That in all Actions which ſuppoſe a wrong to be done Vi et armis, where a Capias, or an Exigent lyeth at the Common-Law; that there in ſuch caſe Accord is a good Plea for Redemption of his body from Impriſonment; and that an Ejectione Firme includes in it ſelf, an Action of Treſpaſſe, as it appeareth by the Writ; for the Writ is, Vi et armis, and alſo the Entry of an Ejectione Firme is, In placito tranſpectionis, et Ejectionis Firme. And it was agreed and Reſolved likewiſe by the Juſtices, That the beſt way of pleading an Accord is, To plead the ſame by way of Satisfaction, and not by way of Accord. Mich. 9 Jacobi. in the Common-Pleas. Intrator. Trinit. 9 Jac. Rott. 1151. Peto and Chery, and Sherman's Caſe. C. 9. Part. 77.

6. Note: By all the Juſtices, That in all theſe Actions, an Accord is a good Plea. 1. In a Raviſhment of Ward, upon the Statute of Weſt. 2. Cap. 35. 2. In a Quare Ejectm infra terminum, becauſe therein a Chattel onely is to be recovered. 3. In Writ brought againſt Leſſee for years. 4. In Detinue of Charters, although they concern the Free-hold. 5. In Detinue of a Horſe, or other goods perſonal 6. In Debt upon a Leaſe for term of years, although there be a certainty demanded: and ſo in Covenant for want of Reparations, becauſe the ſame is mixed with a wrong in which Damages are to be recovered. Co. 9. Part. ibid. See Eaten and Blake's Caſe. C. 6. Part. 43. devant. Sect. 2.

7. Note. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That at the Common-Law, a Right or Title of a Free hold cannot be barred by an Acceptance of a Collateral Satisfaction, or a Collateral recompence; as, if a Diſſeiſor of the Mannor of D. gives to the Defendant the Mannor of S. in ſatisfaction of all his Right: And it is agreed in all our Books, That an Accord with ſatisfaction is a good Plea in a perſonal action where damages onely are to be recovered; but not in a Reall Action: and there. Where in a Writ of Dower brought, It was alledged, That the woman had agreed and accepted of an Eſtate in Pais upon a Condition, in ſatisfaction of her Dower; that ſuch an Accord or agreement was no barre of her Dower. Action upon the Caſe.

1. NOte: It was ſaid by Fitzherbert and Shelley, That if a man hath a Dogg which killeth Sheep; and the Maſter is ignorant of the Condition of the Dogg; that an Action upon the Caſe will not lye againſt the Maſter. 28 H. 8. 20. & 25. But Quære of it. For ſome are of opinion, That the Sciens ipſum eſſe conſuetum ad mordendum, is not material.

2. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe, That in Conſideration of 20 l. whereof the moyety was paid, and the reſt agreed to be paid at a day certain: The Defendant promiſed to deliver 400 pound of Wax to the Plaintiff ſuch a day: and at the day he delivered him 372 pound of ill Wax, and warranted it to be good and Merchantable, by which he was damnified, &c. The Defendant pleaded an Agreement made betwixt them; as well for the naughtineſſe of the Wax, as for the reſt not delivered, which the Plaintiff accepted of. And it was holden a good barre; and that the deceit was not material to be anſwered, becauſe the warranty of the ſufficiency, was after the Contract. 6 E. 6. Dyer. 75. See C. 6. 3. A man who had a Free-hold in a Mill, brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt one, who had the Free-hold in a Meadow; and ſuppoſed by his Writ, that the Defendant divertit multos curſus aquarum; ſo as where the Mill uſed to grinde two Quarters a day, that now by the Defendants turning of the water, he could now grind but one Quarter. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 248. It is a Quære, Whether the Action lyeth, or an Aſſiſe: but ſee C. 4. Part. Lutterells Caſe: agreed, the action doth lye. See 13 Eliz. M. rott. 1168. Wicks and Seatles Caſe; an Aſſiſe of Nuſance was brought; and

4. An Action upon the Case was brought for the malitious mis-turning of part of a Course of Water of a Conduit, which ran from a Fountain in Clarkenwell, to the Plaintiffs house: and upon the Evidence it appeared, that the diversion was of a Pipe, out of which the husband made a Quill with a Cock, to serve his house with water; and that the husband dyed; It was holden, That the Action brought against the wife after the death of the husband did lye; because every opening of the Cock is a new diversion. 5. An Action upon the Case was brought against Joyce, an Inne-keeper of the Bell at M. in Kent, for not scowring of a Ditch which ran betwixt the house of the Defendant and another man: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, That the Action did not lye: but upon a Writ of Errour brought, and for divers Errours assigned in the Declaration, the Judgment was reversed. 6. An Action upon the Case was brought against a Common Hostler; and the Issue was, If the goods were stollen by the Defendants default? And it was given in Evidence, That the House was full, and that therefore he refused the Plaintiff; and he said he would make shift. And it was holden by the Court, That if the cause be false, an action lyeth against the Hostler for the refusal. 5 Ma. Dyer. 158. See Co. 8. 7. An Action upon the Case brought, for stopping up of the Plaintiffs way: and he declared, That J. S. was Lord of the Mannor of M. and of two acres of Customary Land, and that the Lord for himself and his Customary Tenants of the said two acres, had a way in, by, and thorow, &c. and that the Lord granted the Two acres to the Plaintiff, and that the Defendant had erected a Ditch and Hedge, by reason whereof he lost the Benefit of his way. It was found for the Plaintiff: and because it did not appear in the Declaration, to what Village the way led, the Judgment was reversed. 8. Note: It was holden per Curiam, If a man will encourage one that was robbed, to cause the Felon to be Indicted, and to that purpose do accompany him to the Assizes; the same is Lawfull, without the incurring the damage of an Action upon the Case upon Conspiracy: but if he knew, that he was not robbed, then the Action upon the Case lyeth. Stone and Bates Case. 9. A man brought an Action upon the Case, For that the Defendant sued forth a Fieri Facias upon a Judgment which he had against the Plaintiff; upon which Judgment the Defendant had before sued out a Fieri Facias, and the Sheriff of O. thereupon had returned, That he had levied the debt and damages, and that they Remained in his hands for want of buyers; and notwithstanding that he knew this, yet he prosecuted another Fieri facias; and thereupon the Sheriff had levied the debt and damages, and paid the same to the Plaintiff. 11. In an Action upon the Case; the case was, The Defendant being a Goldsmith in London, and having Counterfeit Jewels, knowing them to be counterfeit, sent his Servant J. S. with them to the Plaintiff, being a Merchant in Barbary, to make sale of the Jewels to the King of Barbary, to whom the Plaintiff sold them for 800 l. J. S. having received the money, went from thence. The Jewels afterwards being discovered to be counterfeit, the Plaintiff by Imprisonment was enforced to make Restitution to the King. It was agreed in this Case, That although the Defendant did not command his Servant to make use of the Plaintiff; and that the Jewels were of some value, viz. of 80 l. Yet the Action did well lye; and that the Master should answer for his Servant. And there it was said by Doderidge, Justice, That 22 Eliz. an Action upon the Case was brought in the Common-Pleas by a Clothier; That whereas he had gained great Reputation by making of his Cloath, and had great benefit thereby, and had used to set his mark to his Cloath; That another Clothier perceiving it, used the same mark to his ill Cloth on purpose to deceive him; and thereupon he brought his Action upon the Case against him: And it was Resolved, That the Action did well lye. Southern and Howes Case. 12. A man being seised of such a Messuage in such a Parish in London, let to the Plaintiff the Cellar

Cellar of the ſaid Houſe from Week to Week at ſuch a Rent, ſo long as the parties ſhould pleaſe. The Plaintiff entred and was poſſeſſed; and the Defendant was poſſeſſed of a Ware-houſe over the ſaid Cellar; and the Plaintiff having three Butts of Sack in the Cellar, the Defendant put ſuch a Quantity and burthen of Merchandizes into the Ware-houſe, that by the force and weight of the burthen, the floor thereof was broken, and fell into the ſaid Cellar upon the Plaintiff's Wines, that the Wine did fly out of the Veſſels, and became of no value. The Defendant ſaid, That the Floor of the ſaid Ware-houſe ſuſtained as great a burthen of Merchandizes as that was; and for want of Reparations by them to whom the Ware-houſe did belong, it was ſo ruinous, that the poſts of the Cellar brake ſuddenly. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Action did lye. Whereupon a Writ of Errour was brought, and the Judgment was affirmed: for that the Plaintiff had alledged, That the floor brake by the weight of the merchandizes put upon it; and that it did bear more weight before, is but an anſwer by Argument. And it was ſaid by the Court, That he that takes a ruinous houſe, ought to mind well what weight he puts upon it, at his perill. Paſch. 36 Eliz. Edwards and Halinders Caſe. Popham. 46. & 47. See Leon. 2. Part. acc. the ſame Caſe.

13. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe, for ſtopping his Water-Courſe; and declared, That 22 Jac. he was poſſeſſed of the Rectory of M. of which a Curtilage was parcel: and that in this Curtilage, is, and hath been time out of mind, a Water-Courſe, for the watering of the Cattel of the Plaintiffs and others, and for other neceſſary uſes: and that a certain Water-Courſe time out of mind flowed from Medford ſtream, to the Curtilage, and filled the Pond; and that the Defendant knowing this, intending to damm up the ſaid Water-Courſe, had built a Stone-Wall thereupon, whereby the Water-courſe was ſtopt up, to his damage: and laid it to be with a Continuando, That King Henry the Eighth was ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannor and Rectory in Fee, and of a piece of ground lying between the Water-houſe and the ſaid Stream; and by Letters Patents granted, they came to one Box, which by mean conveyance came to the Defendant, who was ſeiſed, and juſtified the filling up of the ſaid Water-courſe. And the onely Queſtion was, Whether the Unity of poſſeſſion had extinguiſhed the Water-courſe, or not? And upon long Argument, wherein many Caſes were vouched, [which ſee there] It was adjudged That the Action did well lye; and that the Water-courſe was not extinguiſhed by the Unity of poſſeſſion, and that the preſcription was not gone. Sury and Pigotts Caſe. Hill. 1 Car. Rott. 124. Popham. 166.

14. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That he was ſeiſed of certain Lands; and that the Defendant had ſtopped a Water-Courſe, by which his Land was drowned. It was found for the Plaintiff: and moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That it appeareth upon the Plaintiffs own ſhewing, that he had the Free-hold, and therefore he ought to have had an Aſſiſe. But the Exception was not allowed, and the Plaintiff had Judgment. Trinit. 32 Eliz. B. R. rott. 314. Sly and Mordants Caſe. Leonard. 217.

15. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That J. S. was ſeiſed of a houſe in A. and that he and all thoſe whoſe eſtate, &c. time out of mind have had a way over certain Lands of the Defendants called C. pro quibuſdam averiis ſuis: and that the Defendant had ſtopt his Way. It was found for the Plaintiff. In arreſt of Judgment it was moved, That the Title to the Way was not certainly ſet forth: for it is pro quibuſdam averii ſuis, which is uncertain: And of that Opinion was the whole Court. But yet Gawdy, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, The ſame was no cauſe to ſtay Judgment: for it appeareth, the Plaintiff hath cauſe of Action: and although the matter be incertainly alledged; yet the Defendant hath loſt his advantage of it, in ſurceaſing his pleading to it: and therefore Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. M. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Martingal and Andrews Caſe. Leonard. 236.

16. In an Action upon the Caſe; The Plaintiff declared, That whereas he brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt one Lerding; the Defendant at the Tryall being produced as a Witneſſe for the Defendant, gave Evidence upon his Oath to the Jury, That the Plaintiff was a common Lyer, and ſo recorded in the Starr-Chamber: by reaſon whereof, though the Jury found for the Plaintiff; yet they gave but ſmall damages to the Plaintiff. It was found for the Plaintiff: And upon a Motion in Arreſt of Judgment, It was adjudged by the whole Court, That the Action doth not lye, and that this is a new Invention; and it is impoſſible to be known, Whether the Jury gave the leſſer damages for that: And if ſuch Actions ſhould be allowed, Every Witneſſe upon ſuch a ſurmiſe, might be charged in an Action upon the Caſe. Alſo it is not averred, that the Plaintiff was not a common lyer; or that he was not recorded for a common lyer in the Starr-Chamber. Mich. 11 Jac. in Co. B. Harding and Bodman's Caſe. Hutton. 11.

17. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That whereas J. S. brought an Action againſt him for 30 l. and thereupon a Non prof. was entred, and coſts aſſeſſed for the now Plaintiff: the Defendant being Attorney for the ſaid J. S. having having notice thereof, unduly and malitiouſly cauſed Judgment to be entred for the ſaid J. S. againſt the Plaintiff; by reaſon whereof he was impriſoned, untill he was delivered by a Superſedeas. It was adjudged, the Action did lye; 1. Becauſe that by the procurement of the ſaid Judgment for J. S. although the Judgment was Erronious, yet the Plaintiff was Impriſoned thereby, which is good cauſe of Action. And, 2. admitting there was never a Judgment of Non proſ. yet when the Defendant procured him to be taken in Execution, the ſame is ſufficient cauſe of Action. Mich. 10 Car. B. R. Knight and Coppings Caſe. Hutton. 225.

18. A man ſells Sheep, and Warrants that they are ſound, and ſhall be ſound for a year: upon which Warranty, an Action upon the Caſe was brought. It was moved, That the Warranty is impoſſible to be performed, becauſe it is onely the Act of God to make them ſound for a year. But the Court was clear of a contrary Opinion; for it is not Impoſſible: no more then to warrant, That ſuch a Ship ſhall return ſafe to London: which is an uſuall Warranty amongſt Merchants. Mich. 39 Eliz. in C. B. King and Braines Caſe. Owen, 60.

19 An Action upon the Caſe was brought; for that the Defendant to take away the Plaintiffs good name, did malitiouſly prefer a Bill of Indictment at the Seſſions of the Peace againſt the Plaintiff, containing, That the Plaintiff had ſtollen two bundels of Fetches, and did entice J. S. to give in Evidence, that the Indictment was true, by which the Plaintiff was bound to anſwer it at the next Aſſizes; and there he was acquitted. It was ſaid, That this Action did not lye, but a Writ of Conſpiracy. But it was holden by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, and others, That although it was not ſhewed in the Declaration, that the Bill was found; yet it was a great Scandall, to give this matter in evidence to the Jury: And as the Courſe of Juſtice ought not to be ſtopt, by hindring the preferring of a Bill; ſo a mans good name in things which concern his life, ought not to be taken away without good cauſe. 20. One man ſhall not have an Action upon the Caſe, for a Common Nuſance done upon the High-way: but the ſame is puniſhable in other places in the Leet by Preſentment. 21. In an Action upon the Caſe; the Caſe was, That a Copy-holder in Fee did preſcribe to have Common in B. and alledged, That the Defendant put his Cattel into the Common; and that they did deſtroy the Common, ſo as Communiam habere non potuit, ſed totam proficuum ſuum amiſit. It was adjudged, becauſe it did not appear that any other had Common there, That the Action did lye: and although the Cattel did eſcape into the Common, yet the Action would lye. 10 Jac. C. 9. Part. 111. Mayes Caſe.

22. In an Action upon the Caſe, The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant tam negligenter et improvidè cuſtodivit ignem ſuum, quod domus combuſta fuit; upon a Leaſe of a houſe at Will: upon Not guilty pleaded, it was found, he was but Tenant at Will. It was adjudged, That for permiſſive Waſte, no Action lyeth againſt Tenant for years, or at Will, by the Common-Law. But if a Tenant at Will commit voluntary Waſte, as, pulling down of houſes, cutting of Trees; and where a confidence is put in the partie, there an Action of the Caſe will lye, although the Defendant cometh to the poſſeſſion by the act of the party. 43 Eliz. 24. In an Action upon the Caſe, The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant malitiouſly intending to deprive the Plaintiff of the profits and caſements of his houſe; Erected a Wood-pile ſo nigh the Hall and Parlour of the Plaintiff, that he was barred of his Light: and alſo erected a Hogſtie ſo near his Hall and Parlour, that by the ſtink of them, he could not endure his houſe. It was Objected, That the Cuſtome was not good, being too generall Alledged againſt all and every the Inhabitants. But the Cuſtome was adjudged to be good; and ſuch a preſcription, by way of Tenure, to grind all his Corn at his &ill, is good; and if it be good by way of Tenure à fortiori by Preſcription and Cuſtome: and ſo by the Opinion of the whole Court, it was adjudged, That the Action did well lye. 27. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was laid to be, That every Copy-holder might nominate one to his Copy-hold eſtate, who upon tender of his Fine to the Lord in Court, ought by him to be admitted; and the Plaintiff layed it, That he being nominated to the Copy-hold eſtate, did tender his Fine to the Lord in Court, and prayed to be admitted; and the Lord refuſed to do it: and for his refuſal, he brought his Action upon the Caſe. And upon a long debate, It was Reſolved, That the Action did not lye, becauſe he might have his remedy by Subpœna in the Chancery; no more then an Action upon the Caſe doth lye againſt Feoffees in Truſt, who refuſe to perform the Truſt repoſed in them; becauſe they may compell them to it by Subpœna in the Chancery. 28. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt divers; for that they had falſly accuſed him of Treaſon at D. in the County of N. and had cauſed him to be apprehended by a Conſtable, and brought before a Juſtice of Peace, who committed him to the Goal, and at the next Aſſizes malitiouſly exhibited a Bill of Indictment of Treaſon againſt him, and falſly affirmed it to be true. It was found for the Plaintiff. And moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Action lyes not, becauſe there was never any Preſident ſeen of any ſuch Action brought: for the miſchief that might enſue to the State, if men ſhould be deterred for diſcovering Treaſon. But it was reſolved by the whole Court, That the Action did lye; and the Defendants are not to be excuſed of ſuch falſities; when the Plaintiff was diſcharged by Proclamation; and the Law will not ſuffer the Defendants to go unpuniſhed. 29. The Lady Cavendiſh by her Steward bought certain Cattel of the Defendants for 80 l. paying 20 l. in hand, and 60 l. reſidue at the end of a moneth: the Steward paid down 20 l. and at the end of the moneth paid likewiſe the 60 l. to the Defendant. The Steward dyed; The Defendant afterwards demanded of the Lady the 60 l. affirming, the ſame was not paid; and the fidem adhibens to his aſſertion paid him the 60 l. whereas revera he had received it before: and for this deceit, ſhe brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Defendant. It was moved, That the Action did not lye, becauſe ſhe ought to have an Action of Accompt. But all the Court agreed, That the Action did well lye. Mich. 4 Car. B. R. 30. In an Action upon the Case; The Plaintiff declared, Whereas the Defendant kept a Maſtiff, Sciens, that he was aſſuetus ad mordendum porcos; and that the Plaintiff was poſſeſſed of a Sow great with Piggs; and that the ſaid Maſtiff did bite the ſaid Sow, ſo as ſhe dyed of the biting. It was ſaid, That the biting of Hoggs was neceſſary; and it is not like to the keeping of a Dogg which uſually bites Sheep. And therefore the Court was of Opinion, That the Action did well lye. 31. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt the Defendant; For that he being an Apparator, falſly and malitiouſly, without cauſe or colour of Suſpition ex Officio, upon pretence of Incontinency of the Plaintiff with one E. cited him to the Eccleſiaſtical Court, where he was charged, untill cleared upon Sentence. Upon Not Guilty pleaded, It was found for the Plaintiff. It was ſaid, That the Action did not lye, becauſe he did nothing but by vertue of his Office. But it was adjudged per Curiam, becauſe it was malitiouſly done, and of his own head, to gain to himſelf, and not upon pretence of Common Fame, that the Action did lye. And Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 7 Car. B. R. rott. 1147. Cadion and Hill's Caſe Cro. 1. Part. 212. See Paſch. 10 Jac. rott. 628. B. R. Powel and Godfrey's Caſe. Cro. 2. 32. An Inne-keeper brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Defendant; For that the Defendant erected a Tallow Furnace, and therein malitiouſly boyled much ſtinking Tallow, to the great annoyance of him and his gueſts, and layed it, That by reaſon of ſuch ſtench, many of his Gueſts left his houſe, and many of his Family became unhealthful. Upon Non-Guilty, It was found for the Plaintiff. And although it was moved, That a Tallow-Chandler ought to uſe his Trade, which cannot be ſaid to be a Nuſance; Yet it was holden by the Court, That the Action was maintainable; for every one ought ſic uti ſuo, ut alienum non ladat: And ſuch erection of a Furnace in Denmark-Street in the Strand was found to be a Nuſance, upon an Indictment in Tobyes Caſe, and was removed. 33. A man was ſeiſed of a Wood adjoyning to a Common; where the Copy-holders of the Manor had Common; and he maintained Conies in the ſaid Wood, which ran out thereof into the Common, and did eat up the Common: whereupon the Copy-holder brought an Action upon the Caſe: But becauſe, although the Commoner hath loſſe; yet becauſe it is without Injury done by the Defendant; and for that when the Conies are out of the Wood, the owner hath no property in them, they being feræ naturæ; and the Commoner is at no miſchief, for that he may kill the Conies; I was adjudged, That the Action would not lye againſt the Defendant. 34. A man ſued forth a Fieri facias upon a Judgment, and delivered it to the Sheriff; who by vertue thereof took goods of the Plaintiff's, and ſo made his Return; and that the goods remained in the Sheriff's hands pro defectu emptoris: and afterwards the ſame party well knowing the ſame to vex and double-charge the Plaintiff, ſued forth another Fieri facias to the ſame Sheriff, who levied other money of the Plaintiff's goods, and paid it to the Defendant. And for ſuing forth this double Execution, the Plaintiff brought his Action upon the Caſe; and it was adjudged, That the Action did well lye. And it was there Reſolved, That if a man ſueth me in a proper Court, yet if his Suit be utterly without ground of Truth, and that known to himſelf, an Action of the Caſe lyeth againſt him for the undue vexation and damage which he putteth me unto by his ill practice; although the Suit in it ſelf be legal. So, if a man charge me with a Crime in a Court who hath not Juriſdiction of the cauſe; I ſhall have an Action the Caſe for it, C. 4. Part. 14. And therefore it was Reſolved, That in no cauſe, a new Action muſt be brought before the firſt is determined; becauſe till then, it cannot appear to be juſt. Mich. 15 Jac. Co. 35. In an Action upon the Caſe, The Plaintiff declared, That 20. Jan. 9 Jac. he delivered to the Defendant, who was a common Hoy-man, and uſed to carry goods by water for hire from London to Milton in Kent, a Port-manteau with 50*l.* in it, to be carried; for which, the ſame day, he gave him 2 d. and that the Defendant had ſuffered the ſame goods to be loſt. The Defendant pleaded, That the 21. day of the ſame January, the Plaintiff diſcharged him of keeping them. Which the Plaintiff traverſed; Upon which the Defendant did Demur in Law. And it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for that by the Demurrer in Law, he confeſſeth there was no diſcharge of the carrying; and then by the Common Law the Action lyeth. And upon a Writ of Errour brought in the Exchequer, the Judgment was affirmed. Trin. 12 Jac. B. R. rott 1543. Rich and Kneeland's Caſe. Hob. 17, & 18. Cro. 2. Part. 330. the ſame caſe.

36. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt an Inne-keeper for goods imbeſtiled out of his Inne; It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That he had not alledged it to be in Communi Hoſpitio: Yet becauſe the Declaration laid the Cuſtome to be ſo common Innes; and then layed, That he was Hoſpitatus in Hoſpitio; But it was adjudged for the Plaintiff: for it ſhall be intended Domus non Hoſpitium, if it be not Commune. 37. Note; It was agreed, That if the Ordinary do admit a Clark contrary to the Verdict in a Jure Patronatus, the Patron after a Recovery had againſt the Uſurper and his Incumbent, may have an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Ordinary, for his wilfull wrong, delay and trouble that he hath put him to; and he ſhall recover his damages and coſts againſt him: But the Patron ſhall not have any Action upon the Caſe, before he hath tryed his Title in a proper Action, and againſt the proper perſons. 38. Note; It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if one be bounden by Preſcription or otherwiſe, to Repair a Wall or Sea-Bank, if any default be in him, and the danger is not inevitable, but he himſelf may well repair it, The Commiſſioners of Sewers may charge him onely to repair it; and if by his default, the danger become inevitable, or that he is not able to repair it, by reaſon whereof others are charged; in ſuch caſe each of them may have an Action upon the Caſe againſt him who ought to Repair the Wall or Sea-Bank, and recover their damage according to their loſſe. Reighley's Caſe. Coo. 10. 39. The Defendant being a Goldſmith, and having skill in Jewels and precious Stones, had a Stone which he affirmed to be a Bezars Stone; and ſold it to the Plaintiff for 100 l. whereas revera it was not a Bezars ſtone; for which deceit, the Plaintiff brought an Action upon the Caſe. It was holden in the Exchequer-Chamber by all the Juſtices, That the bare affirmation of it to be a Bezars ſtone, without warranting of it to be ſo, was no cauſe of Action. But, Anderſon, Chief Juſtice, was of Opinion, That the Deceit for ſelling it for a Bezar, whereas it was not ſo, was a good cauſe of Action. But notwithſtanding it was otherwiſe adjudged. 40. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff ſuppoſed, that he was ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of H. and of a Fair to be held there every Aſcenſion day; and that the Defendant diſturbed him to take Toll. Upon Not Guilty, found for the Plaintiff; It was moved, That he doth not ſhew a Title to the Fair by Grant or preſcription; and ſo no cauſe of Action: but it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, becauſe the ſame is but Conveyance to the Action, and is not any claim as to the Right; and therefore the Declaration is good, without a ſpecial title comprized in it. Paſch. 2 Jac. B. R. Dent and Olivers Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 43. and ibid. 122. acc.

41. In an Action upon the Caſe; againſt an Inne-keeper: the caſe was; That the Plaintiff left his goods with the Defendant, being Gueſt of the Defendant, ſaying, he would return within two or three dayes. He returned within three dayes, and in the Interim, the goods were ſtolne when he was abſent. And whether the Inne-keeper ſhould be charged without any ſpecial promiſe for the ſafe keeping of them, was the Queſtion. It was adjudged, That where the party leaves his goods to keep, whereof the Inne-keeper hath not any benefit, and goeth from thence for two or three dayes, although he ſaith he will return, he is at his liberty, and therefore is not any Gueſt at that time; and in ſuch caſe the Inne-keeper is not chargeable if the goods be ſtollen, unleſſe he make a ſpecial promiſe for the ſafe keeping of them. And it is not like to Sir Edwin Sands Caſe, who came to an Inne, and lodged there, and went out in the morning, and left his Cloak-bagg there, intending to return at night, and returned accordingly: and in the Interim, his Cloak-bagg was ſtollen, for there he is ſtill a Gueſt: and in ſuch caſe the Action lyeth againſt the Inne-keeper, if the goods be ſtollen. 42. An Action upon the Caſe was brought, for a diſturbance and uſing a Way. The Plaintiff ſhewed, That the Defendant was ſeiſed in Fee of Land over which the Way is; and by Indenture of Bargain and Sale, ſold the Land to J. S. in Fee, with a Way over his Land; and that J. S. let the Land to the Plaintiff for years; and the Defendant did diſturb him: It was moved for ſtay of Judgment, becauſe he doth not ſhew the Deed of Leaſe; and becauſe a Leaſe is pleaded of Land, without expreſſe words of a Way. But for that point, the Court held the Declaration good; for when Land is granted with a Way, it is quaſi appendant to it, and a thing of neceſſity; and therefore it paſſeth without expreſſed in the Deed; and Land cannot be uſed without a Way. But upon view of the Record it appeared, That there was not any grant of the Way in the Indenture; but onely a ſale of the Land, and of a Way out of other Land: for nothing thing but the uſe paſſed by the Deed; and there cannot be an uſe of a thing which is not in eſſe, as a Way common, &c. which are newly created; and no uſe paſſed by the Indenture untill they were created; and of that Opinion was the whole Court: and that for this cauſe; the Plaintiff had not ſhewed any good title. 43. If the Servant be lodged in a Common Inne with the goods of his Maſter, and the goods being in the Inne, by default of the Inne-keeper or his Servants, be took and carried away: It was adjudged, That the Maſter may have an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Inne-keeper; and ſo was affirmed upon a Writ of Errour brought in the Exchequer: It was alledged, That the Judgment was, That he ſhould be in miſericordia; where it ought to have been Capiatur: but, the Exception was not allowed; for that it is not ſuch a Contempt for which the King ſhall have a Fine, as it is in Actions which are Contra pacem. 45. In an Action upon the Caſe, upon a Reſcous, The Plaintiff declared, That J. S. was indebted to him in 300 l. and that he ſued a Latitate out of B. R. directed to the Sheriff of Nott. to arreſt him, and delivered the Writ to J. D. the Sheriff, who made a Warrant to the Bayliff of the Kings Liberty of Newark to execute it; which Warrant was delivered to one J. G. Deputy of the Lord Burleigh the Kings Bayliff of his Wapentake of Newark; who arreſted the ſaid J. S. and that the Defendant did reſcous him, ſo as he eſcaped, whereby he loſt his Debt. It was found for the Plaintiff, to his damage of 180 l. Whereupon Errour was brought; and it was aſſigned for Errour, that it is ſhewed, That he was reſcouſed from the Deputy of the Bayliff: whereas it ought to have been, That he was reſcued from the Bayliff himſelf, or from the Sheriff. But the Errour was not allowed: for there is a difference where it is an Action upon the Caſe, wherein he ſhall ſhew the truth rei veritate as it is; and upon returns of Reſcous, or Indictments; and ſo was it holden. Paſch. 31 Eliz. rott. 248. in Burgh and Appletons Caſe; That the Bayliff of a Liberty arreſted the party, and delivered the party to the Sheriffs Deputy. And the party Defendant reſcued him from the Sheriff's Deputy: And in an Action upon the Caſe, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. 2. It was ſaid, That the King could not have the Liberties, for that they were extinct in his hands: But that alſo was diſallowed; for the King may have Liberties, by the ſuppreſſion of Abbies, and ſuch Liberties ſhall not be extinct but in Eſſe, unleſſe it be ſhewed to the contrary. The Judgment was affirmed. Paſc. 9 Jac. in B.R. Kent and Elvis Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 241.

46. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe: for that the Plaintiff tore off the ſeal of a Deed, whereby J. S. granted unto him unum annuale reditum ſive annuitatem of 10. l. during his life: It was found upon not-Guilty, for the Plaintiff; and although it was not ſhewed, that whether it was an Annuity, or a Rent iſſuing out of Land; Nor that it was the Seal of the Grantor; for it is Sigillum eidem annexat. and he doth not ſay the Seal of the ſame Deed; or that he thereby loſt his Annuity: notwithſtanding theſe matters were moved to ſtay Judgment; yet it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 8 Jac. B. R. Aſh and Bradnell's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 255.

47. The Plaintiff being a Merchant of London, 20 May. 32 Eliz. went beyond the Sea to merchandize: and the ſame 20 May at London did truſt and appoint the Defendant as his Servant, to receive in his abſence all Merchandizes of the Plaintiff, to the Plaintiff's own uſe, or which were conſigned unto him, and to pay the Cuſtoms and Subſidies for them due and payable; and to diſpoſe and convert them to the Plaintiff's uſe. That in the Plaintiff's abſence, 20 Pieces of Velvet, of the value of 800 l. were conſigned by one Martin Billingſley his Factour in Stoade beyond Sea; which by way of Merchandize were brought into England in a Ship, to a Port in London: That the Defendant having Notice thereof, and that Subſidy was due to the Queen for the ſame, to deceive the Queen of her Subſidy, and yet to deduct from the Plaintiff ſo much as ſhould be due for the Subſidy, as if it had been paid, cauſed the ſaid goods to be unladen, and put aſhoare, the ſubſidy due for them not being paid, nor the Collector agreed with; whereby the goods were forfeited, and ſeiſed; and upon an Information in the Exchequer, adjudged to be forfeited. For which matter the Plaintiff brought his Action upon the Caſe againſt the Defendant, who pleaded Not Guilty, and found for the Plaintiff. It was adjudged, That in regard the Defendant was put in truſt with all the goods to merchandize and diſpoſe to his Maſters profit; therefore it ſhall be intended he had means to pay the Cuſtome; for he muſt agree for the Cuſtome, and then ſell the goods, and pay the Cuſtome. Alſo ſo he is chargeable, becauſe he cauſed the goods to be taken out of the Ship not being Cuſtomed; and he might have left them there, & not have meddled with them; wherefore if he had been a ſtranger, for this cauſe he had bin chargeable, à fortiori being a Servant, and doing it by colour of authority: and ſo was it holden by all the Barons in the Exchequer; and that this Special Action upon the Caſe here did well lye againſt the Defendant. Mich. 8 Jac. in Exchequer. Lewſon and Kirks Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 265.

48. Note; It was ſaid, That no Conſpiracy, nor Action upon the Caſe in the nature of Conſpiracy lyeth, for procuring one to be Indicted of Treaſon; for every man is bounden to diſcover Treaſon, and ought not to conceal it for the leaſt time, becauſe it is againſt the ſtate of the Common-wealth: But an Action upon the Caſe hath been maintained, for procuring one to be Indicted of Felony. 50. An Action upon the Caſe was brought, for laying Loggs in the High-way, whereby the way was ſtraightned; and the Plaintiff riding in the Way in the Evening, his Horſe ſtumbled upon the Loggs, and much hurt him. The Defendant did preſcribe, That the Inhabitants of ſuch a Town had time out of mind uſed to lay Loggs in waſte places of the Way before their doors for their fuel, leaving ſufficient paſſage for Carts, Horſe and foot; and that the Plaintiff riding improvidently upon the Way, turned his horſe upon the blocks and fell. It was adjudged, That the Plaintiff having a ſpeciall damage, the Action did lye, although the Nuſance was a common Nuſance; according to Co. 5. Part. 77. Williams Caſe. And 2. 51. If a man ſelleth unto J. S. goods falſly and deceitfully, affirming, that they are his own goods; whereas revera, they are the goods of another man: the very ſale of them is an Offence, for which an Action upon the Caſe lyeth preſently by the Vendee: for if he ſhould ſtay till the goods were taken from him by the lawful Owner, it might be perhaps miſchievous to him. 52. Leſſee for years would not permit him in the Reverſion to enter into the houſe, and View if Waſte were done; for which cauſe he brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Leſſee. Upon Not-guilty pleaded, It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That it was not ſhewed, what Waſte was done, and it was never ſeen, that ſuch Action before was brought, therefore not now to be allowed. But it was adjudged, the Action did well lye; for that the Law preſumes, he cannot aſſign what the Waſte is, unleſſe he may enter and have the View. And 2. the Law gives him a Liberty to enter, to ſee if there be Waſte; and if he be diſturbed of his Entrance and View, the Law will not leave him without his remedy. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. 53. In an Action upon the Caſe; The Plaintiff declared, That he was a Free-Maſon, and uſed to ſell ſtones, and to make ſtone-Buildings: And that he was poſſeſſed for years of a ſtonepit in H. in the County of O. and digged Stones there as well to ſell, as to build withall: And that the Defendant to diſcredit him, and deprive him of the Commodity of the Mine, impoſed ſo many threats upon his Work-men, and diſturbed all Commers, threatning to maym them, and vex them with ſuits if they bought any Stones; whereupon they all deſiſted from buying, and others from working. After Judgment by nihil dicit: It was moved that the Action did not lye; for that nothing is alleadged but Words, and no Act done; and cauſeleſs ſuits for fear, are no Cauſe of Action. But it was adjudged, that the threatning of Maim, and Suits whereby they durſt not work or buy, was great damage to the Plaintiff, and the loſſe of his Quarries a good cauſe of Action: And Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff Hill. 17 *Jac. 54. A. recovered againſt B. 127 l. in the Common-Pleas; and took out a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, to the Sheriffs of Glouceſt. who took B. in Execution, who in exitu ab eorum officio, delivered him over to the new Sheriffs, by vertue of which he was in Execution under the new Sheriffs, and upon a Habeas Corpus he was delivered to the Marſhal in Execution, who ſuffered him to eſcape, for which A. brought his Action upon the Caſe againſt the Marſhal. The Defendant demurred upon the Declaration, becauſe it was not ſhewed in it, that the old Sheriffs delivered him in execution to the new Sheriff, with the Cauſes of his impriſonment: For it might be, that he was delivered by

Indenture

Indenture for ſome other Cauſe, and not for that Cauſe, and then it is no eſcape in the Marſhal, but in him: and although it was ſaid, virtute cujus, he was in Execution under the new Sheriffs. Yet that doth not help it; and if he was not in Execution before the virtute cujus will not ſerve: The better opinion of the Court ſeemed to be, That he was not in Execution under the new Sheriffs; And ſo the Action did not lye againſt the Marſhal. 55. Action upon the Caſe: Quare filium & hæredem ſuum rapuit & maritavit. It was moved in arreſt of Judgment; that it ought to be, Cujus maritagium ad ipſum pertinet: 2. he doth not ſay filium ſuum apparentem; and 3. it is not expreſſed that the heir was infra ætatem, and 4. he doth not ſay in Cuſtodia ſua, and therefore the Declaration was void for Incertainties: But the better opinion of the Court was, that the Writ did lye, and the Declaration was well enough: and a man ſhall have this Action; Though he be not within age; and the Father hath the marriage of his Son, though he hath no Land to leave him. Paſc. 1649. Wood and Topham's Caſe. Styles 216. 236.

56. Action upon the Caſe. The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant did ſell him a Gelding, and upon the ſale did falſly affirm, That the Gelding was his own, and that he bred him of a Colt; whereas in truth, it was another mans Gelding, and he did not breed him of a Colt. The Defendant pleaded, That the Defendant made no warranty of it; and therefore the Action did not lye. But it was holden per Curiam, the words were ſufficient to imply a deceit; for the words are, falſo et fraudulenter. And it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. But it was reſolved, the Action did lye, notwithſtanding the Exceptions. And it was ſaid by the Court, That it is in the Election of the the party in ſuch caſe to have an Action upon the Caſe, or an Action of Treſpaſs. And if one be arreſted at my Suit, I have an Intereſt in the body, and therefore I may well maintain the Action. Mich. 1652. Gough and Cann's Caſe. Styles. 342.

58. An Action upon the Caſe was brought; for ſelling to the Plaintiff falſe Bills of Publique Faith to the value of 800 l. knowing them to be falſe, with an intent to deceive him: It was Objected, That it was an Aſſignment of Papers, which is not aſſignable, being a thing in action. 2. That the Commiſſioners in the Ordinance ought to be named by their Chriſtian names; which they are not. But it was adjudged the Declaration was good, and the Action did lye; for the deceit is, in aſſigning of falſe Bills, affirming them to be true; and the Ordinance of Parliament doth give authority to aſſign Papers, and the Commiſſioners need not be named by their Chriſtian names. Mich. 1652. Fowke and Boyles Caſe. Styles. 348.

59. Action upon the Caſe, for not paying moneys upon the Receipt of a Bill of Exchange, according to the Cuſtome of Merchants: It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved; It doth not appear, that there was a demand of the money, whether according to the old ſtyle, or according to the new ſtyle. But it was adjudged, That if the Bill of Exchange be accepted, there is no neceſſity to alledg any demand. And it was ſaid, That if there be two Merchants that have a Joynt-Trade, if one of them accept of a Bill of Exchange, and doth not pay the money, an Action upon the Caſe lyes againſt the other. Paſch. 1653. Styles. 370.

60. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt the Defendant, for cauſing a falſe preſentment to be made againſt the Plaintiff before the Conſervators of the River of Thames, for ſuffering 8. Loads of Earth to fall in to the River: After Verdict for the Plaintiff, It was moved, What authority the Conſervators had to take the Preſentment? But it was holden, Though the Conſervators had no Authority, yet the Action did lye for the malitious proſecutions and the unjuſt vexation of the Plaintiff. And Rolls, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, That an Action upon the Caſe doth lye, for bringing an Appeal againſt one in the Common-Pleas, though it be Coram non-judice; by reaſon of the unjuſt vexation. Trin. 1653. Atwood and Monger's Caſe. Styles. 378.

61. Note; By Rolls, Chief Juſtice, an Action upon the Caſe doth not lye againſt one, for cauſing another to be Indicted of Treſpaſs; but for cauſing one to be Indicted for a thing which deſerves corporal puniſhment, or a thing which ſounds in ſcandal of the party Indicted, an Action upon the Caſe will lye. Quod nota. Trinit. 1654. B. R. Styles. 424.

62. An Action upon the Caſe was brought by the Plaintiff againſt his Attorney, for delivering a Fieri facias againſt him in a Suit wherein he was Attorney for him to the Under-Sheriff, and his procuring of it to be executed, contrary to the truſt repoſed in him. It was moved, after Verdict, on the part of the Defendant; that there being a Judgment, the Suit is determined; and ſo the truſt alſo was determined. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Defendant did not onely deliver the Writ to the Sheriff, but did procure it to be executed; which ſhews a Combination againſt him: and the Warrant of Attorney is not determined by the Judgment; for that the Attorney after the Judgment is called to ſay, why there ſhould not be execution againſt his Clyent? Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1654. Lawrence and Harriſon's Caſe. Styles. 426.

was,

63. Note; By Rolls, Chief Juſtice, an Action upon the Caſe will lye againſt one who brings Vexatious Actions againſt another; Or for entring Actions of a great value to force the party to put in great Bail, where he hath but ſmall cauſe of Action. Paſch. 1655. B. R. Styles. 451.

64. In an Action upon the Caſe, for diverting a Water-Courſe. The Preſcription for the Water-courſe being laid to be in one Pariſh, to have a Water-Cloſe to his houſe in another Pariſh. Upon Not-Guilty pleaded, The Venire facias was for a Jury of both the Pariſhes; which was ſaid, ought not to have been, but of one Pariſh, in which the diverting is laid to be. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That the ground of the Action here is the Preſcription; and Not-guilty being pleaded, it goeth to all before alledged; and therefore the Venire facias for tryal ought to be from both Pariſhes; where the Preſcription is in Iſſue, upon Not Guilty pleaded: But if the parties be upon a ſpecial Iſſue, that he did not divert the ſame, then the Venire facias is to be from that place where the diverting is ſaid to be. It was adjudged, That the Declaration in the principal Caſe was good, and the Venire facias well awarded: Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 13 Jac. B. R. Moore and Salter's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 79.

65. Action upon the Caſe, for ſtopping of a Way which the Plaintiff claimed by Preſcription; upon Iſſue joyned upon the place where the diſturbance was laid to be: a Verdict was for the Plaintiff. It was moved in arreſt of Judgment, That the Declaration was not good; becauſe it is ſhewed, That A. was ſeiſed of the Houſe in S. and that he and all thoſe who, &c. time out of mind have uſed to have a Way; without ſhewing that it was Antiquum Meſſuagium. 2. It is not ſhewed certain where the Way is, nor how it goeth. 3. Becauſe not layed in what Town this Way is. 4. Becauſe not ſhewed, what manner of Way it was, whether Appendant or, &c. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Declaration was good, notwithſtanding the Exceptions: For the difference is where a thing is claimed as Appendent, and Incident; for there it ought to be pleaded, That the houſe is Antiquum Meſſuagium, elſe it is not good: But the ſame is not ſo here, being onely, That he hath had a Way; ſo as this Way is not claimed as an Incident to the houſe, but the houſe is onely Terminus à Quo; and therefore he ought not to plead, that it was Antiquum Meſſuagium. 2. Here the Jury have found this Way for the Plaintiff, and ſo the Verdict hath helped all the other Imperfections: and the Plaintiff had good cauſe of Action for the wrong done to him; and having a Verdict, he ought to have Judgment. And afterwards Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. Trin. 1 Car. in B. R. Harriſon and Rock's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part 334.

Action upon the Caſe: For Slanderous words, where lyeth; and where not.

1. HIll. 28 H. 9. Dyer. 26. I will abide by it, That Chriſtopher Ruſſel was and is a falſe Theef, and was at my door in the Seſſions-day at Night between one and two of the Clock after midnight, and would have robbed me, and did break open my doors, and put me in jeopardy of my life; adjudged Actionable. Ruſſel's Caſe.

2. Mich. 6 Ed. 6. Dyer. 117. in B. R. William Kempe will be within theſe two daies a Bankrupt. Upon a Demurrer, adjudged, The Action will lye. Mich. 2 E. 6. Dyer. 72.

3. Paſch. 3 Mar. Dyer. 118. Action brought for theſe words, viz. Men cannot have their Cattle go upon the Common, But Babor and his children will kill them with Babor's Dogs; and the words being found by Verdict, and Judgment thereupon for the Plaintiff in the Common-Pleas. Upon a Writ of Errour brought in B.R. the Judgment was reverſed; becauſe the words will not bear an Action.

4. Mich. 6 Ed. 6. Dyer. 75. Action for theſe words; There is a great neſt of Theeves at Pirton, and John Burgis is the maintainer of them, and is a ſtrong Theef himſelf. Adjudged, the Action would lye for theſe words. Burgis and Wartenfords Caſe.

5. Mich. 7 Eliz. Dyer. 236. An Action was brought, for calling the Plaintiff Murderer and Theef. The Defendant juſtified the word, Murtherer, becauſe the Plaintiff was Indicted of Murther at Cheſter; whereas the Plaintiff was acquitted, ſhewed by Exemplification under the great Seal. And [Theef] the Defendant juſtified, becauſe a Robbery was done; and common fame was, it was done by the Plaintiff. But it was adjudged, That none of the Juſtifications were good, and the Action did well lye.

6. Mich.

6. Mich. 15 Eliz. Dyer. 317. Action brought for theſe words, viz. Mr. Halley (meaning the Plaintiff) is infected of the Robbery and Murther lately committed; and doth ſmell of it. Adjudged the words actionable, by reaſon of the word [infected] Halley and Sidenham's Caſe.

7. 27 Eliz. Co. 4. Part. 15. Theſe words were ſpoken of Mr. Stanhop, Surveyor of the Dutchy, and a Juſtice of Peace, viz. Mr. Stanhop hath but one Mannor, and that he hath gotten by ſwearing and forſwearing: Adjudged, the words are too general and uncertain; and he doth not charge the Plaintiff with direct ſwearing; and he might get a Mannor by ſwearing, &c. and yet not to be procuring or aſſenting to it: and therefore adjudged, That the Action doth not lye. 2. To charge a man generally, that he hath forſworn himſelf, is not actionable; becauſe it may be in uſual communication: and benignior ſententia in verbis dubiis eſt præferenda. Stanhop and Blubes Caſe.

8. 27 Eliz. Coo. 4. Part. 15. Action for theſe words; For my Grounds in Allerton, H. Hext ſeeks my life; and if I could find out J. H. I do not doubt but in two dayes to arreſt Hext for ſuſpition of Felony. Reſolved the Action doth not lye, 1. Becauſe he may ſeek his life for juſt cauſe, and his Lands may be holden of him. 2. Seeking is too general; and for ſeeking onely, no puniſhment can be inflicted by the Law. Hext and Yeomans Caſe.

9. 34 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 14. Sir Richard Buckley was charged in a Bill in the Star-Chamber by Wood; That he was a maintainer of Pyrats and Murtherers, and a procurer of Pyrats: adjudged, that the Action doth lye for thoſe words in the Bill; for that the matter of Murther and Piracy was not examinable there; and the Defendant there cannot purge himſelf of the Crimes, by anſwer to an Engliſh Bill: But becauſe he ſaid the words in the County of S. in auditu quamplurimorum, that his Bill was true, and the Action was thereupon brought, without expreſſing the matter in particular. Upon a Writ of Errour brought, the Judgment was reverſed. Sir Richard Buckley and Wood's Caſe.

10. 28 Eliz. Co. 4. Part. 16. In an Action upon the Caſe; the Caſe was, That the Defendant ſaid to B. (a Clerk of the Kings-Bench, ſworn to deal without corruption) You are known to be a corrupt man, and to deal corruptly. Adjudged, becauſe the words ſcandalize him in the duty of his Profeſſion, that the Action will lye; and the words ex cauſa Dicendi, imply, That he dealt corruptly in his Profeſſion. But if the precedent ſpeech had been, That B. was a Uſurer, &c. and upon that the Defendant had ſpoken the words, then no Action will lye. Birchley's Caſe.

11. 45 Eliz. Co. 4. Part. 16. The Defendant ſaid of the Plaintiff; Mr. Stukley (being a Juſtice of Peace) covereth and hideth Felonies, and is not worthy to be a Juſtice of Peace. And becauſe this is againſt his Office and Oath, and for which he may be Indicted and Fined, and put out of Commiſſion, It was adjudged, That the Action would lye for the words. Stuckley and Bulbeads Caſe.

12. 39 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 16. The Defendant ſaid of the Plaintiff; Thou haſt killed my Wife, and art a Traytor: And it appeared in the Declaration, that the Wife was then alive; and therefore adjudged, That the words were vain, and no ſcandal: and an Action would not lye contrary, if the Wife had been then dead. Snagg and Gees Caſe.

13. 40 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 16. Action brought for theſe words, viz. He is a Brabler, and a Quarreller, for he gave his Champion to make a Deed of his goods to kill me, and then to flye out of the Country; but God preſerved me. Adjudged, That the Action will not lye: becauſe a purpoſe without an act, is not puniſhable. Eaton and Allen's Caſe.

14. 35 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 16, The Defendant ſaid to one Anthony Alcock; (who was a Suitor to the Plaintiff, and with whom there was near an Agreement of Marriage) I know Davies daughter well, ſhe did dwell in Cheap-ſide, and a Grocer did get her with child. And the Plaintiff declared, That by reaſon of thoſe words, Alcock refuſed to take her to Wife. Adjudged, That the Action would lye at the Common Law for the words, and the Suit was not to be in the Spiritual Court for defamation; but at the Common-Law, for that ſhe is prejudiced in that which ſhould be her Temporal advancement; and the ground of the Action is temporal: And ſee there, That to ſay of a Woman who is an Inne-holder, that ſhe hath a great infectious diſeaſe; that an Action will lye. Anne Davies and Gardiner's Caſe. See this Caſe, in Popham's Reports. 36. a.

15. 28 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 14. If a man exhibit Articles to a Juſtice of Peace againſt another, containing great abuſes and miſdemeanors, to the end to bind him to the good Behaviour; In ſuch caſe, the party ſhall not have any Action upon the Caſe, becauſe he hath purſued the ordinary courſe of Juſtice. Cutler and Dixons Caſe. See before, Sir Richard Buckley's Caſe. Sect. 9.

16. 41 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 18. The Plaintiff brought an Action in London, for calling the Wife of the Plaintiff Whore: The Defendant removed it out of London by Habeas Corpus; a Procedendo was prayed, becauſe the Action was maintainable in London by Cuſtome. Adjudged, That no Procedendo cedendo was prayed, becauſe the Action was maintainable in London by Cuſtome. Adjudged, That no Procedendo ſhould be; for that a Cuſtome to maintain brabling words, is againſt Law. Oxford and Croſſe's Caſe.

17. 45 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 19. Britteridge's Caſe. The words were, Britteridge is a perjured old Knave, and that is proved by a ſtake parting the Land of A. and B. Adjudged, 1. the words are Actionable, though adjective words: eſpecially when they preſume an Act committed as in this caſe. Or when they ſcandalize a man in his Office, Function or Trades, by which he gets his Living: See there, 25 Eliz. Philips and Bradbery's Caſe: An Action brought by a Batchelour of Divinity, for ſaying theſe words; viz. Thou haſt made a Seditious Sermon, and moved the people to Sedition this day, becauſe, that although the firſt words were meer adjective words; yet becauſe they ſcandalized him in his Function, the Action did lye. 44 Eliz. Milton's Caſe: So to ſay of a Merchant, He is a Bankruptly Knave, or a Bankrupt Knave. 2. Reſolved, That in the principal Caſe, No Action would lye upon all the words put together, for that the laſt words explain his intent to be, of no Judicial perjury: and a Stake cannot prove a man to be perjured. But if the truth of the caſe had been ſet forth in the Declaration, then the Action would have lyen; for the truth was, there was a Controverſie betwixt two, Whether the ſtake ſtood upon the Land of the one or the other, and the Plaintiff as a witneſſe depoſed; and by the Defendants pretence perjured himſelf in his Depoſition.

18. Mich. 45 Eliz. in B. R. C. 4. Part. 20 Action for theſe words, Mr. Barham did burn my Barn (inuendo a Barn with Corn) with his own hands, and none but he. Adjudged, the words not Actionable; for it is not Felony to burn a Barn, if it be not parcel of a Manſion-houſe, Or full of Corn: and the Inuendo will not ſerve, when the words in themſelves are not ſcandalous. Barham's Caſe.

19. 25 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 20. Touching Defamation; for which, Suit is in the Eccleſiaſtical Court. Reſolved, The matter muſt be meer ſpiritual and determinable onely there; for if it concern any matter which is determinable at the Common Law, the ſpiritual Judge ſhall not have Conuſans of it. Palmer and Thorp's Caſe.

20. Hill. 1 Jac. rott. 1372. Smaile and Bele's Caſe. Brown. Reports. 6. An Action brought againſt Huſband and Wife, becauſe the Wife called the Plaintiff, Mainſworn Thief. The Defendants pleaded Not Guilty; and it was found for the Plaintiff: but no Judgment was given, becauſe the Defendants ſhould have pleaded, That the Wife onely was not guilty: and ſo in effect there was no Iſſue joyned. See Hob. 126. the ſame Caſe. And See Hob. Trinit. 14 Jac. rott. 1953. Slater and Franks Caſe. Hobert. Reports. The words were, viz. Thou art a Mainſworn, and a Bankrupt Lad; and it was not added in the Declaration, That he was a Merchant, and ſo the word Bankrupt of no force: But for the word Mainſworn; yet becauſe in the North it was a Word which was underſtood to be as much as perjured, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, though it was not added, It was ſpoken in the preſence of thoſe who underſtood the word. 21. Hill. 14 Jac. rott. 1506. Male and Ketts Caſe. Hob. Reports. Popham 129. idem. William Male did ſteal my Corn out of my Barn: Adjudged, That the Action d'd lye for the words, for that it is ſelony; though not Capital. See the ſame Caſe. Brownlow's Reports. fo. 2.

22. Hill. 10 Jac. Rott. 3176. Cowle and Gilbert's Caſe. Hob. 77. Thou art a Thief, and haſt ſtollen a Tree. Adjudged, No Action lyeth: for although they come under the general word (And) which is in common ſenſe to be underſtood to be but the making good the word which is general (Thief) yet the word Tree, ſhall be taken rather a Tree ſtanding, then Woods felled. See Brownlow. fo. 2. b. the ſame Caſe.

23. Trinit. 14 Jac. rott. 541. Scarlet and Style's Caſe. Hob. 192. Action for theſe words, Thou didſt ſteal a Sack, and a Curricomb: and thou didſt ſteal my Fathers wood, and didſt give it to a Whore. The Defendant did juſtifie, That ſuch a day the goods was ſtollen, and the common fame was, the Defendant had ſtollen them: and upon that Report, the Plaintiff did ſay the Defendant had ſtollen them: and complaining thereof to a Juſtice of the Peace, informing him of the premiſſes he did ſpeak the words; Thou didſt ſteal, &c. And upon Demurrer, It was a good cauſe to arreſt one if a Felony be committed; but not to ſpeak words to defame one. See Brownlow. pag. 2, the ſame Caſe.

24. Mich. 15 Jac. rott. 635. Roberts Caſe. Brown. pag. 2. See Hutton. 13. idem. For theſe words, viz. Thou art a Witch and an Inchanter, and thou haſt bewitched Strong's Children; no Action lyes. But, Thou art a Witch, and haſt bewitched Children, and they were waſted and deſtroyed; are Actionable. See Creely and Hopkins Caſe. 13 Car. Cro. 1. Part. 341. acc.

25. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Action for theſe words, Thou didſt ſubborn, procure, and bring in falſe Witneſſes in ſuch a Court at Weſtminſter; It was found he did procure and bring in falſe Witneſſes, but was acquitted of the ſubborning. Adjudged, judged the Action will lye; for the words ſhall be taken in malam partem, and cannot be ſpoken of an honeſt man. Bowſe and Cary's Caſe. Leon. 101.

26. Hill. 31 Eliz. rott. 796. in B. R. Thou waſt forſworn in the Court of the Requeſts, and I will make thee ſtand upon a ſtage for it. Adjudged, the Action will lye; for it cannot be meant but in a Court of Juſtice; and before the Judges there Juri-dice, and the ſubſequent words found ſo much, viz. I will make thee ſtand upon a Stage for it. Brook and Dowlyes Caſe. Leon. 13. See Tr. 28 Eliz. Rott. 882. Foſter and Thorns Caſe. idem.

27. Hill. 31 Eliz. Rott. 434. Pierce hath taken a falſe Oath in the Court of the Conſiſtory of the Biſhop of Exeter. It was objected, That for matters in the Spiritual Court, an Action will not lye; and the Stat. of 5 Eliz. of Perjury, doth not extend to thoſe Courts. But it was Reſolved, That the Action did lye for thoſe words; and that the Statute doth extend to ſuch and the like Courts; as the Court of Star-Chamber, &c. and the words, That he hath taken a falſe Oath; ſhall be intended actively, and ſhall amount to theſe words, He is forſworn. Pierce and Howes Caſe. Leon. 131.

28. Trinit. 31 Eliz. in B. R. The Caſe was, That the Defendant being a Juſtice of Peace, and the Plaintiff a man of good fame; the Defendant directed his Warrant to divers Bayliffs and Conſtables to arreſt the Plaintiff: and it was alledged in the Warrant, That the Plaintiff was accuſed before him for ſtealing the horſe of A. the Plaintiff was arreſted, and kept in durance untill he entred Bond for his appearance. Whereas the Plaintiff was never accuſed thereof, nor ſtole any horſe; and the Defendant himſelf knew he was guiltleſs. It was adjudged, That although a Juſtice of Peace may direct his Warrant to arreſt a man upon an Accuſation of Felony before him, though the Accuſation be falſe: Yet if in truth the party was never accuſed, and ſuch Warrant is directed by a Juſtice of Peace, and the party arreſted; it is otherwiſe: and therefore adjudged in the principal caſe, the Action did lye: and the Lord Lumley and Ford's Caſe was agreed: Where Ford in a Letter written by him, had written, It is reported the Lord Lumley ſeeketh my life. And the Truth was, It was not reported. Windham and Sir Ed. Cleers Caſe. Leon. 187.

29. Trinit. 32 Eliz. in B. R. An Action was brought for theſe words ſpoken by the Defendant to the Servant of the Plaintiff: viz. It is well known that I am a true Subject; but thou (inuendo the Servant) ſerveſt no true Subject, and thine own Conſcience may accuſe thee thereof. Note, The Plaintiff was a Juſtice of Peace, Sheriff of the County, and Captain of a Troop of Horſe, to attend the preſervation of the Queens Perſon. It was adjudged, That to touch, reproach, and ſlander a man in the duty of a Subject; or in the duty of his Office, or courſe of life; the words are Actionable: And in the principal Caſe Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. And the Quality of the Perſon addeth much to the Action. To call one Papiſt, no Action will lye: But if one call the Archbiſhop of Canterbury Papiſt, an Action will lye; for that he is the Governour of the Church. Walgrave and Agar's Caſe. Leon. 335.

30. Trinit. 11 Jac. Stephens and Batters Caſe. Brown. 3. The words were, viz. Thou haſt cozened Mr. Windſor of his Fee, and I will ſue thee for it in the Star-Chamber, for that thou didſt not come for Windſor. Adjudged, the Action did lye.

31. Trinit. 11 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words, Thou art a Whoremaſter, for thou haſt layen with Brown's Wife, and hadſt to do with her againſt a Chair. And the Plaintiff ſet forth, That by reaſon of theſe words, he loſt his Marriage. It was Objected, That the matter was tryable in the Eccleſiaſtical Court. Adjudged, That the words were actionable, and tryable at the Common-Law, in regard of the Circumſtances; and loſſe of Marriage extends as well to a man as a woman. See in Davies Caſe. Matthew and Croſſes Caſe, Bol. 2. Part. 90.

32. Paſch. 11 Jac. rott. 307. Action for theſe words, viz. His Son Brooks hath deceived me in a Reckoning for Wares: and his Debt-book which he keepeth for ſale of his Wares in his Shop, is a falſe Debt-book; and I will make him aſhamed of his Calling. Adjudged, the words will bear no Action. Brook and Clark's Caſe. Brown. 4. See Godbolt. 243. the ſame caſe.

33. Paſch. 11 Jac. rott. 352. C. B. Thomas and Alworth's Caſe. Hob. 2. Action for theſe words; This is John Thomas his writing (inuendo the Plaintiff); and he hath forged this Warrant, meaning a certain Warrant made by Sir Richard Butler, Knight, then Sheriff of the County of, &c. upon a Caſias iſſued out of the Common-Pleas by M. H. to the ſaid Sheriff directed. It was adjudged, That the Inuendo ſhould not ſupport the Action; nor the Action inlarged, or made certain, by the Inuendo. And, Mich. 11 Jac. rott. 1252. C. B. Brown. 6. Tardly and Ellits Caſe was vouched to be adjudged accordingly. See Brown. 4. the ſame Caſe. 6. acc.

34. Trinit. 13 Jac. Rott. 1994 C. B. Action for theſe words; Thou art a Cozening Knave, and thou haſt Cozened me in ſelling falſe meaſure in my Barley; and the Country is bound to curſe thee for ſelling with falſe meaſure, and I will prove it;

it; and thou haſt changed my Barley which I bought of thee; and the Plaintiff was Bayliſt to J. S. for three years, and had the ſelling of Corn and Grain growing upon the Land. Adjudged the Action would not lye; becauſe it doth not appear that the words were ſpoken of the ſale of the Grain whileſt he was Bayliff; nor that it was his Maſters Corn, nor to the damage of his Maſter. But if a man be a common Badger, and he is charged with ſelling by falſe meaſure; ſuch words will bear an Action. Bray and Hayes Caſe. Hob. 6. Brown. 4. acc.

15. Paſch. 13 Jac. Rott. 234. C. B. Action for theſe words, Brown is a good Attorney, but he will play on both ſides: Adjudged Actionable. But becauſe the Plaintiff did not ſhew in his Declaration that the words were ſpoken of himſelf, No Judgment was entred. Brown and Hoales Caſe. Brown. 5.

36. Mich. 11 Jac Rott. 1291. C. B. Action for theſe words, Thou didſt keep and ſell by falſe Weights, and in 24 s. beſtowing, thy Weights were falſe two Ounces, and thy man will be a witneſſe againſt thee, and I will prove it: Adjudged, the words were Actionable. Stober and Green's Caſe. Brown. 5.

37. 14 Jac. C. B. Box an Attorney brought an Action againſt Barnaby for theſe words; Thou art a common maintainer of Suits, and a Champertor, and I will have thee thrown over the Barr next Term. Adjudged, the Action lyes for the word Champertor; for it is a ſlander of him in his Vocation. Box and Barnaby's Caſe. Hob. 117. See Brownlow. 17. acc. the ſame Caſe.

38. Hill. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Action for theſe words; William Crow is forſworn and perjured, in ſwearing at the Common-Pleas Barr, upon the Deeds which he then had in his hands. Adjudged, the words Actionable. Crow and Carter's Caſe. Owen. 13.

39. Mich. 37 Eliz. C. B. Palmer and Bowyer's Caſe. Owen. 17. The Defendant ſaid to J. S. in diſcourſe of the Plaintiff, who was a Barriſtor and Steward of his Court, theſe words, viz. I marvail you will have ſuch a paultry Lawyer, for your Steward, for he hath as much Law as a Jack-an-apes. And the Plaintiff layed in his Declaration, that by reaſon of them he was diſcharged of his Stewardſhip. Adjudged that the Action will lye for the words. See Goldeſb. 126. acc.

40. Trinit. 30 Eliz. B. R. the words were; Thou art a Thief, and haſt forged a Deed. Adjudged, for Thief, generally, Action will not lye: But for the words, Thou haſt forged a Deed; an Action will lye, though it be not alledged what manner of Deed it was. Moſſe and Read's Caſe. Owen. 47.

41. Hill. 37 Eliz. B. R. Action for theſe words; Thou haſt ſtollen half an Acre of Corn, (inuendo) Corn ſevered. Adjudged, the words are not Actionable; for the inuendo cannot alter the precedent words: and no man can think, that half an Acre of Corn, was Corn ſevered: But if it had been ſo many Loads, or ſo many Buſhells, then the Action maintainable. Caſtleman and Hobbs's Caſe. Owen. 57.

42. Hill. 38 Eliz. Rott. 944. B. R. for theſe words: He was perjured, and I will prove him ſo by two Witneſſes: Adjudged for the Plaintiff, That the words are Actionable. And upon a Writ of Errour brought, the Judgment was affirmed in the Exchequer. Rainer and Grimſton's Caſe. Owen. 62.

43. Mich. 39 & 40 Eliz. B. R. Martin, Attorney, brought an Action for theſe words, viz. Is Martin your Attorney? he is the fooliſheſt and ſimpleſt Attorney towards the Law; and if he do not overthrow your Cauſe, I will give you my Ears. He is a Fool and an Aſſe, and ſo I will prove him. Adjudged, the words are Actionable. And Popham ſaid, To ſay, That an Attorney will overthrow his Clyents Cauſe, is actionable. Martin and Burlings Caſe. Goldeſb. 128.

44. 39 & 40 Eliz. in B. R. Parlor brought an Action againſt J. S. for theſe words, viz. Parlor was in priſon in a Jayl, for ſtealing of Mr. Piggotts Beaſts. It was Objected, That it is onely by Implication that he ſtole them. But Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; for here is a direct affirmance of ſtealing; and a man cannot be Impriſoned for ſtealing, if he do not ſteal. Parlor's Caſe. Goldeſb. 130

45. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Redfrein brought an Action for theſe words againſt J. S. viz. I was robbed, and you were privy thereunto, and had part of the money. Adjudged, that the Action would lye. Redfrein's Caſe. Goldeſb. 138. See Halley's Caſe. 15 Eliz. Dyer. before, Sect. 6. acc.

46. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Pollard and his Wife brought an Action againſt Armſhaw for theſe words, viz. Thou art a Whore, for J. S. Goldſmith hath the uſe of thy body, and the Cart is too good for thee. Per Curiam, the Action will not lye; for the Common-Law cannot define who is a Whore: But if one keep a Victualling-houſe: and one ſay, She keeps a houſe of Bawdry; an Action will lye. Pollard and Armſhaw's Caſe. Goldeſb. 172. 48. Mich. 13 Jac. Rott. 1134. B. R. Action for theſe words; The Devil appears unto thee every night in the likeneſſe of a black man riding upon a black Horſe, and thou converreſt with him; and whatſoever thou doeſt ask, he doth give it thee: and that is the reaſon thou haſt ſo much money. Adjudged, the words Actionable; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Marſhal and Steward's Caſe, Hob. 129.

49. Mich. 13 Jac. rott. 347. B R. In an Action for words; Theſe words were found by the Jury, viz. I think in my Conſcience, if Sir John Sidenham might have his Will, he would kill all the Subjects in England, and the King too; and he is a maintainer of Papiſtry and Rebellious perſons. Adjudged, that the words would bear an Action. Sir John Sidenham and Mayes Caſe. Hob. 180.

50. 16 Jac. in B.R. A man brought an Action againſt another, for ſaying, That he had caught the French Pox, and had carried them home to his Wife. Adjudged, the Action did lye. Crittall and Horner's Caſe. Hob. 219.

He hath forſworn himſelf before the Councel of the Marches, (meaning his Majeſties Councel in the Marches of Wales) in a Suit I had againſt him there; and I will ſue him for Perjury there. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, and 10 l. damages given. Adams and Flemmings Caſe. Hob. 283.

52. Paſch. 19 Jac. in C. B. an Action for theſe words; Thou haſt ſtollen Hay from Mr. Bell's Ricks. Adjudged, the Action will lye for the words; for where a man is charged with Petty-Larceny, to ſteal under the Value of 12 d. yet an Action will lye, for the diſcredit is not in the value, but in taking of it with a Felonious intent. See before, Male and Ketts Caſe. Sect. 21. acc. But ſee ibid. Winch. 15. An Action was brought, for theſe words, viz. He (innendo the Plaintiff) ſtole the Tobacco out of his Maſters Shop: there, becauſe he ſaid (the Tobacco) in his Maſters Shop, and did not aver, That there was Tobacco there; the Action did not lye: But if he had ſaid, That he ſtole two or three pound out of his Maſters Shop, there the Action would have lyen. Wetherly and Wells Caſe. Winch. 6.

53. Mich. 20 Jac. in C. B. Winch. 41. An Action brought for theſe words; The Plaintiff did load a Ship of my Fathers with Barley, and did ſteal, and cozened ſeven Quarters thereof in meaſure. It was adjudged, That notwithſtanding the word Cozened, be joyned with the word Stole; yet the Action will lye. See Crompton and Philpott's Caſe. 22 Eliz. in C. B. Winch. 102.

54. Trinit. 20. Jac. in C. B. Auditor Curle brought an Action againſt Turk; and ſet forth, That he was an Auditor ſworn of the Court of Wards, and that the Defendant, having communication with the Plaintiff concerning his behaviour in his Office, ſaid to him theſe words, viz. you have taken mony for ingroſſing Feodaries, Inuendo, Accompts; you are a Cozener, and live by Cozenage, and I will prove that to be Cozenage: It was objected; that the words, viz. for the taking of mony for the Ingroſſing of Feodaries are inſenſible, and the Inuendo will not help it. 2. The word Cozener is not applyed to his Office: But it was adjudged that the Action would ly; for although it be ſhewed that 2 s. was due for the Ingroſſing of Feodaries; yet it ſhall be intended that he took more then his due, and this is extortion; and Sir Miles Fleetwoods Caſe, who was a receivor of the Court of Wards, was remembred by the Court, Where one ſaid to him Mr. Deceivor hath cozened the King, and delt deceitfully with him. 55. Hill. 12. Jac. in C. B. The Defendant ſpake theſe words of Sir Robert Hitcham, the King's Serjeant at Law; viz. I doubt not to prove, He (inuendo Sir Robert Hitcham) hath ſpoken Treaſon: It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgement, that the words are no direct affirmation that he ſpake Treaſon, and it might be in his Infancy; nor was there any conference before had of the King, and the ſpeech of Treaſon but when there is an intent to commit it: On the other ſide it was ſaid, that this is more then a bare affirmation, for he ſaid, he doubted not but to prove that: and to that purpoſe Whoorwood's Caſe was cited, viz. So ſure as you believe God rules the world, and the King rules the Kingdom, ſo ſure did Whoorwood ſteal ſuch goods; and adjudged actionable: But it was adjudged that where words may be taken in a double ſenſe, the beſt ſenſe ſhall be taken; and therefore it ſhall be intended, that he ſpake Treaſon in putting of a Caſe, or in ſpeaking that after another: and ſo not offended; and therefore Quære for the principall Caſe was not adjudged. For the firſt words, The Defendant was found guilty; but not for the laſt: Yet it was adjudged the Action did lye, for it is a great ſlander to an Attorney to be called a common Barretor, who is a maintainer of Brables and Quarrels; and words ſhall be conſtrued ſecundum conditionem Perſonæ of whom they are ſpoken, See ibid. 166. the like Caſe. The Plantiff declared, That he was and had been an Attorney of the common Pleas 15 years, and that one Style reteyned him as his Atturney, to proſecute a ſuit againſt I. D; And the Defendant, having communication with Style, to ſcandalize the Plantiff in his Profeſſion, and to diſſwade others from reteyning him; ſaid of the Plantiff theſe words: I marvail you will imploy ſuch a Knave as Nicholls, meaning the Plantiff; You will have but diſgrace and diſcredit by imploying him: he is a proclaimed Knave in a Market: It was found for the Plaintiff and Judgment given: and in Error brought in B. R. It was objected, To call an Atturney Knave is but a word of Heat, and, proclaimed in a Market is but an aggravation of the word Knave: But it was adjudged the words are actionable; for it is not intendable, but that he ſpake them of him as an ill dealer in his profeſſion, to which they have relation; and the firſt Judgment was affirmed. Nicholls and Webbs Caſe. Cro. 1. S.* anſwering, That others have a better opinion of him; he replyed: He was never accounted but a Dunce in the Middle Temple. It was moved; That Dunce was a great man, and he was compared to him, and then no diſcredit: But the opinion of the Court was that the Action would lye for thoſe words; for the words are to be taken according to common intendment and ſpeech: and Dunce in common ſpeech is taken for one of dull Capacity and not fit for a Lawyer; and the words were ſpoken maliciouſly, and ſo found to the intent to ſlander him in his profeſſion; and the words; That he will not get much by the Law; are to be taken: He will not diſerve to gain, &c. and Judgement was given for the Plaintiff. Peard and Johnes Caſe. Cro. 1. But the Court were all of opinion that the Action did lye for the words; for although he chargeth him with an act which is not Felony; yet he chargeth him not only with the Intention, which is as near Felony as may be; and with more then Riot, and for which Fine and Impriſonment are due; wherefore it was adjudged for the Plantiff. Lewkner and Cruchleys Caſe. Cro. 1. It was ſaid, That Whore is not actionable; and her children by her former husband, are Frambiſh's Baſtards, is repugnant in it ſelf; for they cannot be Baſtards who are born in marriage. But adjudged, the Action lyes: For it is a great diſcredit to ſay of a Widow, ſhe played the Whore in her former husbands time, and is the cauſe of loſſe of her marriage: and for the later words, though they are not Baſtards in Law, yet they are in reputation. Though it was Objected, That two cannot commit one Witchcraft. But adjudged, the words ſhall be referred as they were ſpoken; and ſhall be as much as if ſeverally they had committed the offence. Smiths and Cooks Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 368. See Sect. 67. acc.

81. Trinit. 15 Car. B. R. The Defendant ſaid of the Plaintiff being a Merchant, He was a Cheating Knave, and had cheated his Father by returning 20 l. for Wares. Adjudged Actionable, becauſe it touched him in his Profeſſion. Arundell and Mares Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 398.

82. Hill. 15 Car. B. R. Action for theſe words; He hath ſtollen a Tree formerly cut down, which is Felony, and I will cauſe him to be Indicted for it. Judgment was for the Plaintiff: and upon Errour brought, the Judgment was affirmed. Brian and Wikes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part 413.

83. Paſch. 15 Jac. B. R. Waterman and Thou, (meaning the Plaintiff) haſt killed thy Maſters Cook. It was ſaid, the words are uncertain; and ſhall not be made good by Inuendo: nor doth it appear who was his Maſter; or that his Maſter had a Cook. Adjudged, that the words are Actionable, and import he had a Maſter; and his Maſter, a Cook. Cooper and Smith's Caſe. Popham 128. See Longs Caſe. Styles 65. acc. Thou haſt ſacrificed thy Child to the Devil; are words actionable. ibid.

84. Hill. 17 Jac. B. R. I arreſt you for Felony; but doth not ſay he committed Felony: Yet adjudged the words actionable; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Serle and Mandes Caſe. Popham. 150.

85. Hill. 1 Car. B. R. Thou art a Knave of Record, and a forgering Knave. Quære, if the Action will lye, for the incertainty of underſtanding of the word, Forgering. But ſee there, 28 Eliz. for theſe words, Thou haſt forged my Fathers Will, an Action will lye. Debborn and Martin's Caſe. Popham. 177.

86. Trin. 2 Car. B. R. Sir William Barton, a Juſtice of Peace, brought an Action for theſe words; Sir William Barton's men have ſtollen Sheep, and he ſpake to me that I ſhould not proſecute them, Adjudged the Action doth not lye; becauſe it is not averred, That Sir William is a Juſtice of the Peace; and for that it doth not appear in what County the Felony was done. Sir William Barton's Caſe. Popham. 180.

87. Trinit. 2 Car. B. R. Action for theſe words; Rayner is a baſe Gentleman, he hath four Children by his ſervant Agnes, and he hath killed them all, or cauſed them to be killed. Adjudged, That all the words joyned together, are Actionable; and that by reaſon of the averment, that he is not Guilty, or Incontinent. Reynor and Hallett's Caſe. Popham. 187.

88. Trinit. 2 Car. B. R. An Action for theſe words; You a Counſellour? A Fool, an Aſſe, a Hangman; a Counſellour of Law, a Fool in the profeſſion; the words adjudged actionable. Cary's Caſe. Popham 207. See Sect. 65. Peard's Caſe, acc.

89. Hill. 16 Jac. B. R. Thou art Luſcomb's Hackney, a Pockey Whore, and a Theeviſh Whore; and I will prove thee to be ſo. Not Actionable; Quia verba accipienda ſunt in mitiori ſenſu. Cullford's Caſe. Godb. 278. See Kings Caſe, 24 Car. Styles. 100. acc. See Cro. 2. Part. 514. the ſame Caſe.

90. Hill. 16 Jac. in B. R. Theſe words ſpoken of a Mathematitian, a Meaſurer of Land, and a Surveyor of Land, viz. Thou art a Cozener and a Cheating Knave, and that I can prove; are Actionable, per Curiam. And, a Geometrician, or a Mathematician is an Art or Faculty; and ſo it is a ſcandalizing in his Profeſſion. Gold. 278.

91. Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Theſe words were ſpoken of Sir William Bronker a Knight, and one of the Gent. of his Majeſties Privy Chamber; Sir William Bronker is a Cozening Knave, and lives by Coſenage. Adjudged, the words not actionable. Sir William Bronker's Caſe. Godb. 284. See Cro. 2. Part. 427. acc.

92. Paſch. 21 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words, viz. Thou (meaning the Plaintiff) haſt raviſhed a woman twice, and I will make thee ſtand in a white ſheet for it. Adjudged, the words are actionable. Quære. Bridges and Mills Caſe. Godb. 287.

93. Paſch. 8 Jac. C. B. Action for theſe words; Thou mayeſt well be richer then I; for thou haſt coyned 30 s. in one day, thou art a Coyner of money. Adjudged not actionable; for he might Coyn by Authority; as the men who work in the Mint are called Coyners; et verba accipienda ſunt in mitiori ſenſu. Ward and Pool's Caſe. Godb. 167. See 3 Car. B. R. Syms Caſe. Godb. 391. acc. Trinit. 3 Car. B.R. Mills Caſe. acc. Godb. 375.

94. Trinit. 21 Jac. B.R. A Midwife brought an Action for theſe words, Thou art a Witch, and wert the death of ſuch a ones Child, at whoſe Birth thou wert Midwife. Adjudged, the Action would lye; for that puniſhment is to be inflicted upon a Witch, by the Statute of 1 Jac. But ſee the ſame Term, Thou art a Witch, and haſt bewitched my Child; Judgment was ſtayed, becauſe the words ſhall be taken in mitiori ſenſu. Shooter and Emetts Caſe. Godb. 341. 95. Trinit. 8 Car. in B. R. Action for theſe words; Theſe Jones's are proper Witneſſes, they will ſwear any thing; They have already forſworn themſelves in the Chancery, and the Lord Keeper committed them for it. Adjudged, the Action would lye for the words: and the addition (in the Chancery) is as much as if he was perjured there. And Hemſies Caſe was put, Where one ſaid of a Witneſſe preſently after a Tryal at the Guild-Hall, London; You have forſworn your ſelf: and adjudged actionable. Jones and Ballard's Caſe. Godb. 444.

96. Paſch. 13 Car. in B. R. A man was heir to his Father, and alſo to his younger brother; And the Defendant, to bring him in diſgrace with them, and make the Father and Brother give their Lands from him; ſaid to the Plaintiff, Thou art a Baſtard; in the preſence of the Father and younger brother; by reaſon of which they do give their Lands from the Plaintiff: And adjudged, the words were actionable, and Judgment given accordingly. Humphreys and Studfields Caſe. Godb. 451.

99. Paſch. 19 Jac. Thou art a falſe forſworn Knave, and didſt take a falſe Oath againſt me at a Commiſſion at Eccleſall, innuendo a Commiſſion out of the High-Commiſſion. Adjudged, the words not actionable; and no innuendo will ſupply matter which gives not cauſe of Action; but the words muſt contain ſcandall in themſelves. King and Bowen's Caſe. Hutt. 44. C. B.

100. Mich. 19 Jac. A. Gent. merchandized for Lead in the County of Derby, and thereby got money towards his livelihood; and the Defendant ſaid of him; He is a Bankrupt, and is not able to pay his debts, but will run the Country. Adjudged, the Action would lye for the words. Allen and Smith's Caſe. Hutt. 46.

101. Mich. 8 Car. B. R. Thou art a Thief, and haſt cozened my Coſin Baldwin of his Lands; not Actionable. Herbert and Angells Caſe. Hutton. 113.

102. Mich. 8 Car. B. R. A man went to a Juſtice of Peace for a Warrant againſt the Plaintiff; and ſaid before the Juſtice of the Plaintiff, Sir, I will charge him with flat Felony for ſtealing my Hops from my Shop. Adjudged, the words not actionable. Ram and Lumley's Caſe. Hutton. 113.

103. Paſch. 9 Car. C. B. Theſe words were ſpoken of an Attorney, Town-Clerk of Southampton, who kept the Rolls and Certificates of the proceedings there; Thou haſt made many falſe Certificates to the Mayor and Burgeſſes; and the more thou ſtirreſt in it, the more it will ſtink. It was adjudged, the Action would not lye for theſe cauſes; becauſe, 1. It is not alledged, that there was ſpeech of his Office. 2. Nor that the making of Certificates did belong to his Office. 3. It is not averred, That he knew them to be falſe; or that he made them falſe malitiouſly. Smith and Cornelius's Caſe. Hutton. 123.

104. Mich. 14 Car. Harriſon, a Batchelour of Divinity, came to the Common-Pleas, Juſtice Hutton ſitting there, and giving Rules, &c. and ſaid; I accuſe Mr. Juſtice Hutton of High Treaſon. And Juſtice Hutton brought his Action for the words, and recovered 10000 l. damages. Juſtice Hutton and Harriſon's Caſe. Hutton. 131. See Sir Robert Hitcham's Caſe. Sect. 55.

105. Mich. 9 Jac. B. R. rott. 285. Theſe words were ſpoken of a Merchant, being an Alien born, born, and a ſtranger, who traded here; Tirſot the Plaintiff is a Brankrupt. Adjudged, the words actionable: and an Action lyeth for them by an Alien. Tirſot's and Mern's Caſe. Bulſt. 134. 1. Part.

106. Mich. 8 Jac. rott. 702. B. R. Theſe words ſpoken of the Plaintiff, viz. He is not worthy to bear Office in ſuch a place; For he keeps a Bawdy-houſe in London. The words are actionable; and Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Simpſon and Brooks Caſe. Bolſt. 138. 1. Part.

107. Mich. 11 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words, viz. The Deed which Sir George Reynell ſhewed forth before Sir John Tindall, was forged, and made under a hedge: adjudged, the words conjoyned, are actionable; and Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Sir George Reynel and Sackfields Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part. 132.

108. Mich. 11 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; viz. Thy Father is a Theef, and hath ſtollen more goods then I am worth; and there is no averment, that he was worth ſo much in goods, and that he had ſuch goods. But adjudged, the words are actionable, without any averment: and ſee there the difference, between the words, For, and And; where in the one caſe an averment muſt be, but not in the other. Painter and Warns Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part. 140.

109. Mich. 11 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words, Thou art a Sheep-Theef; ſpoken in Weſtmerland, where ſuch ſpeech is taken for a ſtealer of Sheep; actionable. So the words, Thou art an Out-putter; there commonly known for a Horſe-ſtealer. So the words, Thou haſt ſtreined a Mare, are actionable; becauſe by Cuſtome of the Country, they are taken for, ſtealing a Mare. Stetneman and Richardſon's Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part. 145.

110. Trinit. 12 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words, viz. Mr. Crook came into Cornwall with a blew Coat on his back; and hath now gotten a great quantity of wealth by Trading with Pyrats, cozening in the tale of Pilchers; and by extortion: Adjudged per Curiam, the words are too general, and not actionable: and words which are actionable, ought to be expreſly ſcandalous, and not by Implication. Crook and Avery's Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part. 226.

111. Paſch. 23 Car. B. R. Theſe words were ſpoken of the Plaintiff, being a Juſtice of Peace; Mr. Hamond did put in of his own head, theſe words taken in an Examination by him, viz. J. S. did ſteal 20 Sheep of ſuch a mans: and for theſe words; Mr. Hamond was adebauched man, and not fit to be a Juſtice of Peace. Adjudged, the firſt words are actionable; but for the ſecond words, Curia adviſare vult. Hamond and Kingſmells Caſe. Styles. 22.

112. Hill. 23 Car. B. R. Action for theſe words, viz. Margaret Whitacres is a Theef, and did ſteal my Wood, and I will ſend her to Bride-well. Quære, if actionable; for the Court was divided in Opinion. Hill 22 Car. rott. 1318. Drake and Whitacres Caſe. Styles. 24.

113. Mich. 23 Car. B. R. Action for theſe words; Your ſon ſtole a horſe, and ſold him for 10 l. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Perſon and Dawſon's Caſe. Styles. 46.

114. Mich. 23 Car. B. R. Mary Yates is a Sorcerer and a Witch, and a white Witch, ſhe can bewitch and unwitch: Adjudged, not actionable. But the ſame Term, Turner's Caſe; She is a Witch, and I will take my Oath of it. Quære; for Judgment was not given, but reſpited. Yates and Lindens Caſe. Styles. 47. Mich. 23 Car. B. R. Turner's Caſe. Styles. 47.

115. M. 23 Car. B. R. Thou art a Witch, and haſt bewitched my Cow; It was ſaid that it is not averred that the Cow was hurt or deſtroyed by the bewitching. It was adjudged the Action doth lye; and the words, Thou haſt bewitched, implyes hurt done to the thing bewitched. See Sect. 67. Sawyer and Ruſſel's Caſe. Styles 59. See Long's Caſe, ib. d 65. ibid.

116. M. 23. Car. B. R. The Defendant ſpake thus of the Plaintiff, to the Conſtable; viz. There he is, take him, for I charge him with flat Felony; and Mr. Nevill hath taken my ſheep with a felonious intent: It was ſaid, That it is not ſaid, the words were ſpoken falſly or malitiouſly; Yet Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; for where the words appear to be ſcandalous, the Action lyeth; though not ſaid to be malitiouſly ſpoken. Nevill and Mott's Caſe. Styles 59.

117. Trin. 23. Car. B. R. Rot. 1078. An Innkeeper brought an Action for theſe words; Col. Egerton had the French Pox, and hath ſet it in the houſe; and the Plaintiff and his wife have it, and you all: It was ſaid, to ſet the Pox in the houſe is impoſſible, for the houſe cannot have the Pox, and the words [Smith and his wife have it] ſhall not be meant they have the Pox, but the houſe; and the Husband onely brings the Action. It was adjudged, That if an Action be brought for words, and ſome of them are actionable and ſome not, the Action lyes for them that are actionable; and the words here are actionable: and the Husband may bring the Action for damages to himſelf. Smith and Hobſon's Caſe. Styles 112.

118. Trin. 9. Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; Mr. Long was robbed of 40 l. and of ſo much Plate, and that Long and King have the ſame, and for which (by God) they will be hanged; per Curiam, the words are actionable; for theſe words are ſpoken, whereby the life of a man may be taken away, they are actionable; and the latter words do much aggravate the former; and the words are ſpoken adviſedly, and import defamation; and the fame of a man is more precious then riches, nay then life it ſelf: adjudged for the Plaintiff. King, Long and Lorking's Caſe. Bolſt. 1. Part. 147.

119. Paſc. 10. Jac. B. R. Theſe words were ſpoken of the Plaintiff, That he had harboured and received his Son into his houſe having notice of him before, that he was a ſeminary Prieſt; per Curiam, the words are actionable in a high meaſure, for that the ſame offence is Felony by the Statute of 27 Eliz. Cap. 2. Smith and Flint's Caſe. Bolſt. 1. Part. 181.

120. Trin. 1650. B. R. Action for theſe words, Thou wentſt to the Wells to be cured of the Pox: adjudged actionable. Hobſon and Hadſons Caſe, Styles. 219.

121. M. 1650. Theſe words were ſpoken of Gibbs a Barreſtor and Practizer of Lincolns Inn, viz. William Gibbs hath done falſly with me being his Client, and hath joyned with my adverſary; upon averment that he is a Practicer; the Action lyeth. Gibbs and Price's Caſe. Styles 283.

122. Trin. 1651. Action for theſe words; viz. Thou art a Baſtard-getting Rogue, and hadſt a Baſtard at Oxford, and art a pocky Rogue, and for ought I know, thou haſt filled my bed full of the French Pox, and no ſuch pockey Rogue ſhall lye with me. Verdict found for the Plaintiff; and the words adjudged actionable. Elyot and Blagues Caſe, Styles. 283.

123. Trinit. 1652. B. R. The Plaintiff as a Witneſſe before a Juſtice of Peace appeared; and to weaken his Teſtimony, the Defendant ſpake theſe words of him, viz. Thou haſt been a Contentious man this 30 years, and a breeder of ſtrife, and haſt taken a falſe Oath againſt my brother and ſiſter in a matter of Incontinency, and haſt taken 20 s. for it, and I will ſhew it upon Record. Adjudged, That the words taken together, are actionable; and they are ſaid to be falſo et malitioſe; Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Heard and Read's Caſe. Styles. 335.

124. Trinit. 1653. B. R. Action for theſe words; He (meaning the Plaintiff) got Mary Nab with Child, and the Child is his, and I have tryed it with a Sieve and a pair of Shears. It was moved, The laſt words were inſenſible. But it was adjudged, the firſt words were actionable and ſcandalous; and the ſubſequent words are not material: and he put confidence in the Sieve and the Shears; and it matters not whether his confidence be true or falſe. Shercroft and Weeks Caſe. Styles 379.

125. Trinit. 1653. B. R. rott. 743. Townſend and Barker had been Copartners in Trade; and Townſend brought an Action for theſe words ſpoken of him by Barker, viz. You are a Cozening Knave, and did cozen me of 1200 l. at one time, and that was in making an Accompt in the year 1648. Adjudged, whether the Partnerſhip continued or not, yet the words are ſcandalous: and although an Accompt be a private thing; yet the Plaintiff is thereby diſgraced: for none will deal with him that will cozen his own Partner. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Townſend and Barker's Caſe. Styles. 388.

126. Trinit. 1654. rott. 1384. Action brought for theſe words, viz. You have cozened the State of 20000 l. and I will prove it; for you have received 25000 l. profits of the Office, and not compounded for it; and have foiſted in words in the Order of your Commiſſion. Adjudged, the words are actionable; becauſe they bring the Plaintiff in compaſſe of Sequeſtration, and becauſe they inſtance in what he cozened the State: and foiſting in, ſhall be taken for falſifying the Committees Order: and the Plaintiff was Officer; and there needs no averment, That Mr. Whitwick is alive; during whoſe life he claims the Office. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Henley and Sir Ed. Boynton's Caſe. Styles. 436.

127. Action for theſe words ſpoken of the Plaintiff, Mich. 2 Jac. B.R. Thou art a Theef, and haſt ſtollen my Corn: Adjudged actionable; and ſtealing Corn, ſhall be intended Corn reaped in the worſt ſenſe. Kellam and Maneſby's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 39.

128. Hill. 2 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words ſpoken of a Juſtice of Peace; I am in danger of my life, my bloud is ſought, and I was like to have been murdered; I was at Sir Johns Harper's houſe, and John Harper, ſon of the Plaintiff, drew me forth to ſee a Gelding in the Stable; and then Tho. Beaumont, Sir Henry Beaumont's ſon, did throw his Dagger at me twice, and thruſt me through the Breeches twice with his Rapier to have killed me; all this was done by the Inſtigation of Sir John Harper, and I can prove it. It was moved, There is no charge laid of Felony, but an Inſtigation: but it was adjudged, That Inſtigation by a Juſtice of Peace to do an Outragious act, is againſt his Oath and miſdemeanour; for which he ſhall be put out of the Commiſſion; and all the words laid together, being falſe and ſlanderous; the Action doth lye. Sir John Harper and Beaumont's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 56.

129. Paſch. 3. Jac. B. R. A Commiſſion was directed to the Plaintiff and others, to examine Witneſſes in a Suit betwixt the Defendant and one King. And the Defendant ſaid of the Plaintiff, one of the Commiſſioners, Si George More is a corrupt man, and hath taken bribes of King for executing that Commiſſion. And further; King hath ſet Sir George More on Horſeback with his bribes, to pervert vert Juſtice and Equity. It was moved, He was but a voluntary Commiſſioner, by aſſent of the parties, and but as an Arbitrator, and not a Judge. But it was adjudged, that though he was not ſworn a Commiſſioner; yet having the Kings Commiſſion to execute, it is a Truſt repoſed in him; and if he take bribes for it, it is an Offence for which he is puniſhable in the Star-Chamber; and therefore the Action doth lye. Sir George More and Foſter's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 65.

130. Mich. 3 Jac. B.R. The Defendant ſpake theſe words of a Juſtice of Peace, viz. Mr. Kemp is a Basket Juſtice, a Partial Juſtice, I will give 5 l. every year for his gifts for Juſtice matters. Adjudged, Partial Juſtice, toucheth him in his Office; and therefore actionable. Kemp and Houſegoes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 90.

131. Paſch. 3 Jac. rott. 906. Action for theſe words; He, (meaning the Plaintiff) and one Allen are perjured Knaves. Moved, That [He,] cannot be referred to two perſosn: and the words [are perjured Knaves] cannot be referred to one perſon. But the Court held it good enough; although it be falſe Engliſh: and it is not like where one ſaith, That J. S. and J. D. is perjured: for that is void for incertainty. Turner and Sir Ed. Davies Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 102.

132. Hill. 3 Jac. B. R. The Defendant ſpake of the Plaintiff being his natural brother; My Brother (meaning the Plaintiff) is perjured: It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, The Action doth not lye for the incertainty; what Brother he intended: for it might be, that he had divers brothers; and when words do not Import a certain ſlander, an Innendo will not help them. But it was adjudged, It doth not appear to the Court, that there were more brothers then one: and it is averred by the Plaintiff, That he ſpake of him, and is ſo found by the Verdict; and therefore per Curiam, adjudged, the Action did well lye. Wiſeman and Wiſeman's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 107.

133. Hill. 3 Jac. B. R. Thou art a Theef, and haſt ſtollen Mr. St. George's Tree. Adjudged, the firſt words, Thou art a Theef, actionable; and the other words, though diſtinct, are not a diminution, but an addition to them. Minors and Letford's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 114.

134. Hill. 4 Jac. B. R. The Defendant ſpake theſe words of the Plaintiff, being a Juſtice of Peace, viz. You are a ſweet Juſtice; you ſent your Warrant for J. S. to be brought before you for ſuſpition of Felony; and afterwards ſent J. D. unto him, to give him warning thereof, that he might abſent himſelf. Adjudged the words actionable; for that it toucheth him in his Office. Burton and Token's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 413.

135. Hill. 4 Jac. Action for theſe words; Thou art a Leprous Knave: adjudged actionable; for they be as if he had ſaid, Thou waſt layed of the Pox. Taylor and Perkins's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 144.

136. Hill. 4 Jac. Action for theſe words; Thou art a Witch, and I will prove thee a Witch: per Curiam, they are actionable, being ſpoken againſt the Statute, which makes Witchcraft Felony. Edwards and Ouſley's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 150.

137. Mich. 4 Jac. Thou haſt robbed the Church, (meaning the Church of St. Alphage) and thou haſt ſtollen the Lead off from the Church, (meaning the Church of St. Alphage). Adjudged the words Actionable; for they ſhall be taken to be ſpoken according to the worſt ſenſe, according to common underſtanding: and the latter words are an addition of further aggravation. Benſon and Morley's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 153.

138. Paſch. 4 Jac. Thou haſt been in the Goal for ſtealing of a Pan. Adjudged actionable. Showell and Hamans Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 154.

139. Paſch. 5 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; Thou haſt procured one Smith to come 30 miles to commit perjury before my Lord of Wincheſter, and haſt given him 10 l. for that purpoſe; Adjudged actionable. Harris and Dixons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 158.

140. Hill. 4 Jac. rott. 1153. B. R. The Plaintiff was in ſpeech of a Marriage with the Earl of Kent; and the Defendant ſpake theſe words of her; Arſcot hath reported, That he had the uſe of her body; (inuendo that he had carnal copulation with her) whereas he never made any ſuch report: by reaſon whereof the Earl deſiſted his Suit. Adjudged, the words ſhall be taken in the worſt ſenſe, according to the common ſenſe of them, which is ſcandalous to a Lady of ſuch Reputation; and therefore actionable. The Lady Morſon and Cades Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 162.

141. Trinit. 4 Jac. rott. 353. B. R. Thou haſt ſtollen my Wood: It ſhall be intended Wood cut down. Adjudged actionable. Lo: and Sanders Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 166.

142. Hill. 5 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; Arthur Colome is a forſworn man, and hath taken a falſe Oath in his Depoſition at Tiverton, where he waged his Law againſt me. Adjudged, the words actionable. Colomes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 204.

143. Mich. Jac. B. R. The Defendant ſpake theſe words of the Plaintiff being a Juſtice of the Peace; He (meaning the Plaintiff) for malice and ſpleen, did many times wreſt the Law, and pervert Juſtice, to ſerve his own turn. It was moved, it is not alledged, That there was communication with with any other of the Plaintiff, or that it was about the Execution of his Office. And then the words, [He did &c.] Non conſtat, whether the ſtanders by knew they were ſpoken of the Plaintiff: and the words [That he did many times wreſt the Law &c.] might be ſpoken long before he was a Juſtice: But adjudged, the Action doth lye; the declaration being that he de præfato Thomâ dixit: and 2ly. The words ſhall be taken in the worſt ſenſe, to ſcandalize him in his Office. Sir Tho. Beaumont and Sir Hen. Haſtings Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 240.

44. Hill. 7. Jac. B. R. The Defendant at W. in the County of G. in the hearing of diverſe, ſpake theſe words of the Plaintiff, being a Counſellour at Law: You are a Paultry Lawyer, and uſe to play on both hands; and at another time, before the Chancellor of the Biſhop of Glouceſter, for he ſpake to the Chancellor of the Plantiff: I hope you will not believe Mr. Rich, for he (innuendo Mr. Rich) is the ſurtherer and maintainer of Felonies: Adjudged the firſt words not actionable: but the laſt words, viz. That he was a furtherer of Felonies, were actionable; and ſo was it adjudged in Sir Hen. Leas Caſe. Rich and Holt's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 266.

145. Paſc. 9. Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words, Mr. Berisford (meaning the Plaintiff) hath ſpoken Treaſon, and that I will prove: moved, The words are not actionable, 1. Becauſe there is no expreſs affirmation that the Plaintiff is a Traytor. 2. The words, That I will prove, is quaſi by way of Argument, which is not to be taken in ill part: But the Opinion of 3 of the Juſtices was, that the words ſhall not be taken argumentativè, but affirmativè; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Berisford and Weſſe's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 275.

146. M. 11. Jac. B. R. The Defendant ſpeaking of one Alice Dunſcomb Widdow, concerning the death of her Husband, ſaid; Tooſe his wife (meaning the Pliantiff) killed thy Husband, (meaning John Dunſcomb) her Husband being lately dead: It was moved; That ſhe is not accuſed thereby of Felony, for ſhe might kill him by Phyſick, or other means: But per Curiam the Action lyes; for it ſhall be intended, he ſpake them in the worſt part; and in ſlander of the Plaintiff. Tooſe's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 306.

147. Paſc. 12. Jac B.R. Action for theſe words: Thou art a Bankrupt Knave; adjudged the words actionable, being two Subſtantives; Otherwiſe, if the words had been adjectively ſpoken: Bankruptly Knave. Selby and Carvier's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 345.

148. Trin. 14. Jac. B. R. Rott. 39. An Action for theſe words: The 12 of December 13. Jac. That John Piers did ſay, That John Lewis (meaning the Plaintiff) did ſay: That there is no Prince in England, whereas re vera John Piers never ſpake any ſuch words; and the Plaintiff adds that the King and his Son, Prince Charles, were then in England: It was moved, 1. That it was but the report of another and not his own ſpeech: 2. It is not ſhewed when the words were uſed, for it might be in the time of Q. Eliz. But it was adjudged, That the Action lyes, for it ſhall be taken He ſpake them in the worſt ſenſe to draw him in queſtion for his life; and they touch him in his loyalty, which is a capitall offence if true; and he adds, the words were never ſpoken, wherefore he cannot ſhew any time of ſpeaking of that which was never ſpoken. Lewis and Walter's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 406, & 413.

149. Paſc. 15 Jac. B. R. There was a communication betwixt the Plaintiff and one Mary Syvedale of a Marriage, and he was offered in Marriage with her 600 l. and the Defendant, to ſcandalize him, and hinder him in his ſaid Marriage, having ſpeech with I. S. of the Plaintiff, ſaid theſe words of the Plaintiff, Hath that baſtard Brian Nelſon cauſed you to be arreſted? Is that all the ſpight the ſaid baſtard can do you? by reaſon of which words he loſt his marriage. The words were adjudged actionable; notwithſtanding they were ſpoken by way of Interrogation. Nelſon and Staff's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 422.

150. Paſc. 14. Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; Thou haſt killed thy Maſter's Cook, (meaning John Yarrington Servant to Mr. Dingly) who was murthered: Moved, the words are uncertain becauſe he doth not ſhew who was the Plaintiff's Maſter; nor Mr. Dingly Maſter to him who was ſlain: adjudged, actionable becauſe the words themſelvs import ſlander. Cooper and Smith's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 423.

151. Hill. 9 Jac. Rott. 832. B, R. Action for theſe words; Thou art a Bankrupt Rogue, and accounted a common Knave; and thou art a Thief, and haſt ſtolen my Corn: Adjudged, the firſt words were not actionable; but the ſecond were: But becauſe the Judgment was intire, and the damages intire; the Judgment was reverſed upon a Writ of Erour brought. Loyd and Pearſe's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 424.

152. Paſc. 15. Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; Thou haſt committed Treaſon beyond Seas, and haſt run away from thy Captain: adjudged, actionable; for there is a violent Intendment, that he committed Treaſon to the State here, and it is tryable here, and the latter words do not detract from the former. Lewis and Cook's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 424.

153. Trin. 15. Jac. B. R. Action by Husband and Wife for theſe words; Mrs. Miller is a Whore and hath had the Pox, and hath holes one may turn his finger in them; Mr. King the Apothecary gave her a drink for it, and therefore take heed how how you drink with her: But adjudged per Curiam the words are actionable. Miller's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 430. See Sect. 135. acc.

154. Mich. 15. Jac. The Plaintiff's Husband dyed by the viſitation of God, 1. Febr. 13 Jac. and 2. Feb. 13 Jac. The Defendant ſaid to the Plaintiff, Thou haſt poyſoned thy Husband, (meaning George the Plaintiff's Husband) and I will juſtifie it; and afterwards ſhe ſaid to another, Goodwife Gardiner hath poyſoned her Husband, and I will juſtify it, and have told her ſo much to her face: It was adjudged the words are actionable; for when it was ſhewed the Plaintiff's Husband was lately dead, and the Defendant ſaid, The Plaintiff had poyſoned him, it is a great ſcandal; and ſhe chargeth her with poyſoning to death. Gardiner and Spurdents Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 438.

155. M. 16. Jac. B. R. The Plaintiff was a Surveyor and Meaſurer of Lands, and the Defendant having ſpeech with him about meaſuring of Lands, ſpake of him theſe words; Thou art a Coſening and a ſhifting Knave, and a cheating Knave: adjudged, That in regard a Surveyor is an Officer of skill, theſe words, touching him in his profeſſion, and taking from him his means of living, are actionable; adjuded for the Plaintiff. Blunden and Euſtace Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 504. See Sect. 90.

156. Trin. 17 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words Thou waſt in Launceſton Goal for coining: The Plaintiff Replyes, If I was there, I anſwered well enough. Yea, ſaid the Defendant, you were burnt in the hand for it. It was ſaid, It is no affirmation, that he did coyn; and he doth not ſay, falſe Coyning. Adjudged, the words malitious, and ſhew his intent to accuſe him for being impriſoned for Coyning: and the latter words exaggravate the former. Gainford and Tukes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 536.

157. Paſch. 18 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; Have you brought home the 40 l. you ſtole? Adjudged, the words actionable, though they be not ſpoken affirmatively, but by way of Interrogation: and the Judgment affirmed upon a Writ of Errour brought. May and Gibbons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 568. See Sect. 449. acc.

158. Trinit. 18 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; The Plaintiff alledged, That 1. April 17. Jac. he was a Merchant, and the ſaid, 1. April. 17 Jac. the Defendant ſpake theſe words of the Plaintiff; He is a Bankrupt ſlave. The Defendant juſtifies, becauſe, 1. April, 17 Jac. the Plaintiff became Bankrupt. But adjudged, the words actionable; and the Defendants Barr inſufficient, becauſe he doth not alledge, he continueth ſtill a Bankrupt: For it may be he afterwards recovered himſelf, and became a good Merchant. Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Uſher and Batts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 578.

159. Trinit. 19 Jac. B. R. Husband and Wife brought an Action for theſe words ſpoken of the Wife; Thou perjured beaſt, I will make thee ſtand upon a Scaffold in the Star-Chamber. Adjudged Actionable: and the laſt words do not mitigate the former words. Benſon and Hall's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 613.

160. Mich. Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; That he was a Theef, and had ſtollen his Gold. It was ſaid, It is uncertain; for it is not ſaid when they were ſpoken: and it may be before the general Pardon; or in the time of Queen Eliz. But it was adjudged, the words are actionable: for although a pardon may diſcharge him of the puniſhment; yet the ſcandal of the offence remains. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Boſton and Tatam's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 622.

161. Hill. 9 Jac. B. R. Whereas Sir William Ayliff was robbed of divers goods by perſons unknown, the Defendant to ſcandalize the Plaintiff, being ſervant to Sir William Ayliff, ſpake theſe words; Thou art a maintainer of Theeves, to ſteal my Maſters goods (meaning the goods of Sir William Ayliff): Adjudged, That the words ſhall be taken in the worſt part, and moſt ſcandalous part as he ſpake them. Bennet and Tabram's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 629.

162. Trinit. 20 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; Chriſtian Munn (the Plaintiff's Wife) is a Witch, and hath bewitched two of the Servants of J. S. to death. It was ſaid, That there is no averment, that any perſon is dead, nor in what matter ſhe is a Witch. Adjudged, That the words That ſhe is a Witch, are actionable. Munn and Porters Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 639.

163. Mich. 20 Jac. B. R. Action for theſe words; Whereas the Defendant was arreſted by a Warrant made upon a Latitat directed to the Sheriff of Middleſex, The Defendant ſpake theſe words of the Plaintiff; This is a Counterfeit Warrant made by Mr. Stone; (meaning, the Plaintiff had counterfeited the Warrant). It was moved, It is not alledged, that he had forged any Warrant; nor is it any forging within the Statute of 5 Eliz. But, per Curiam, the Action lyes; For ſaying, It was a Counterfeited Warrant made by him; It is intended to be counterfeit by him, and a great ſlander. Stone and Smalecomb's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 648.

164. Mich. 21 Jac. Action for theſe words; The Defendant having ſpeech with one Chapman of the Plaintiff, ſpake theſe words; She (meaning the Plaintiff) is a Theef to you, and to me, and hath ſtollen 20 l. from me, and 40 l. from you. The Defendant juſtified, That ſhe was a Theef, and ſtole two Hens from her ſuch a day and year Feloniouſly. The Plaintiff Demurred upon the Juſtification, fication, becauſe it is not a Juſtification of all the words, or of any part of the laſt words. Adjudged, the Juſtification was not good; and therefore the Plea vitious: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hilſden and Mercer's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 676.

165. Trinit. 22 Jac. in C.B. Action for theſe words; Thou art as arrant a Theef as is any in England; for thou haſt broken up J. S. his Cheſt, and taken away 40 l. Adjudged, The firſt words without any averment, will not maintain an Action; and the words do not prove any Felony committed; and the money may be taken away, and the Cheſt broken open upon pretence of Title, and in midday, in the preſence of divers; and then it is no Felony. Judgment was for the Defendant. Foſter and Browning's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 687.

166. The Plaintiff being an Attorney in B. R. for one Ecombridge, proſecuted for him a Latitat againſt Lord, which he delivered to the Sheriff; upon which Lord was arreſted. The Defendant having ſpeeches with Ecombridg concerning the Plaintiff and his honeſty as an Attorney, and concerning the ſaid Latitat; ex malitia præcogitata, ſaid theſe words of the Plaintiff; Go tell your Lawyer Roberts, That I ſay, he is a baſe Raſcall, and I will make him loſe his ears; and I will teach him, or any Lawyer of them all, to have a Writ ſerved on me. Upon Not-guilty, it was found for the Plaintiff. And upon Debate between the Judges, It was Reſolved, That the words were Actionable. Trinit. 3 Car. Rott. 1170. in B. R. Roberts and Lord's Caſe. Ly. 70.

167. Action for theſe words, viz. Old Apthorp is a perjured Knave; for he did ſwear at the Aſſizes, That ſuch a Wood was worth 40 s. whereas it was dear at a mark. It was holden, That the Plaintiff ought to have ſaid in his Declaration, that it was not worth a mark: and here it is ſaid, It is dear at a mark: for a man may pay 40 s. for it, and yet it may be dear at a mark; and that which is alledged in the Declaration, is but by way of Argument. Mich. 13 Jac. B. R. Apthorp and Cockerell's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 147. 150.

168. Action for words; The Plaintiff declared, That one named Carolus being of good fame and name; The Defendant ſaid, de præfato Carolo; Where is this Baker? (Innuendo, Carolus Baker) He hath taken a falſe Oath, and I could make him look through the Pillory. It was moved, That the Innuendo will not make it good, there being no Baker ſpoken of before. But the Opinion of the Court was, The Declaration was good. And if one ſay of a Counſellour, Where is this Counſellour, Innuendo, ſuch a one, it is good. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trinit. 13 Jac. in B. R. Baker's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 72.

169. Action brought for theſe words; Sir Herbert Croſts keepeth men to rob me, (the Truth was, that the Defendant was robbed by two of Sir Herbert Croſts men) and upon this the Defendant ſpake the words: but the Defendant doth not ſay, That he did keep them ſo to do. It was agreed by Coke, Chief Juſtice, and all the Court, That the Action would not lye for theſe words; for that there is done; and it is to be intended his keeping of them to be lawful; and the words [to rob me] this is but an intent, and no act; and an Intent without an Act, is not puniſhable. And Hill. 39 Eliz. in C.B. Snag and Gets Caſe was vouched by Coke; Where the words were, Thou haſt killed my Wife: and it appeared, the Wife was then living. Adjudged, the words not actionable; In the principal Caſe, it being found for the Plaintiff. The Judgment was arreſted, becauſe the words were not actionable. Paſch. 14 Jac. in B.R. Sir Herbert Croſts and Brown's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 161.

170. In Action upon the Caſe for words; it was found, upon Not-Guilty, for the Plaintiff: The words ſpoken by the Defendant to the Plaintiff, were theſe, viz. Thou haſt forged Writings, for which thou ſhouldeſt loſe thy ears. It was layed in the Declaration, That the Plaintiff was a Practitioner, a Sollicitor, and a Steward of a Manor. The Court was divided in Opinion: For Mountague, Chief Juſtices and Crook were of Opinion, That the words were actionable; for although the firſt words of themſelves are not actionable; yet the ſubſequent words added to them, make them actionable. Like the Caſe, If one ſaith, Thou haſt ſtollen, no Action will lye for the words: but if he doth adde theſe words, viz. for which thou ſhouldſt be hanged; then an Action upon the Caſe will lye: and the precedent words are to receive conſtruction by the ſubſequent words. Haughton and Doddridge, The Action will not lye; for the words here are uncertain, what manner of writings they were; and they may be frivolous writings, for which he ought not to be called in Queſtion; and no Indictment will lye for this forgery; and then if he be not in danger of his Ears, and ſo no Action will lye for the words. Curia aviſare vult. for ſearch of Preſidents. And afterwards the Caſe was not moved again, but was ended by agreement between the parties. Paſch. 14 Jac. in B. R. Froſt and Ayres Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 265. 266.

171. Action brought for theſe words, viz. Thou art a falſe forſworn Knave, and thou haſt been Indicted for perjury by 12 men, and haſt compounded for the ſame. It was moved, That theſe words are not actionable, being too general; and for that an Indictment is but an Accuſation, and and the ſame may be compounded upon a juſt cauſe. But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the words were ſcandalous and actionable; becauſe an Indictment is an Accuſation upon Record; the Indictment being the Kings Declaration; and the additional words, viz. (and haſt compounded for this) is a Confeſſion of the matter of the Indictment to be true, for fatetur facinus, qui Judicium fugit. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1 Car. in B. R. Gibert and Reddes Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 304.

172. In an Action upon the Caſe for words: It was found for the Plaintiff. It was layed in the Declaration, Cum quidem malefactores ignoti had felloniouſly ſhorn the ſheep of J. S; upon a Communication had between the Defendant and another touching the ſhearing of theſe ſheep, the Defendant ſpake theſe words; I do know who did ſhear the Sheep; (prædict. J. S. innuendo) the other deſired of her who this was? She anſwered, It was the Plaintiff and M. that did ſhear them, (Innuendo, Felonicè.) It was, upon Motion for ſtay of Judgment, adjudged, That the words were not actionable; and that the general words ſhall not be reſtrained to particulars: and the Innuendo will not help it: and in the Declaration it is layed, there was Communication betwixt the Defendant and another concerning the ſhearing of the ſheep (but not concerning the Felony) and it is not ſaid, That ſhe did know who did ſhear the ſheep felonioufly; but who did ſhear them generally; and the ſcandal grows out of an inference onely; which ought not to be, to make words Actionable; but the words themſelves ought to be directly ſcandalous. Judgment was Arreſted. Mich. 13 Jac. B. R. Helly and Henders Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 83.

173. Action upon the Caſe for words. Upon Not-Guilty, found for the Plaintiff: It was moved, in Arreſt of Judgment, the words were not Actionable. The words were theſe, viz. The Defendant ſaid, That one J. S. did ſay, That Mr. Lewes the Plantiff (being a Juſtice of Peace) did ſay, That there was no Prince in England; whereas revera, the Plaintiff did never ſpeak theſe words. It was ſaid, That the words ſhall be taken by a favourable Conſtruction; viz. That the Prince might be in another Realm, and non conſtat certeine de perſona, of what Prince they are ſpoken: for that all Dukes, and Earls of England are Princes in their degrees, becauſe they wear Crowns: and alſo there is no time expreſſed certain when the words were ſpoken; and it is but a Report, which he had from the Hear-ſay of another. And the words here are ſpoken ſuddenly; no Communication being of the Prince; alſo the Prince might then be in Scotland. And for one to ſay, That the Prince is not in England; and, There is no Prince in England, is all one. But it was Reſolved, That the words were Actionable: and it doth not reſt here upon the Innuendo, but upon the declaration of the perſon. And when ſpeech is of the Prince, by this is meant the moſt eminent, where in England he ſpeaks generally of the Prince; and is to be underſtood of the eldeſt ſon of the King. And, if one will ſay to us, That there is no Prince; he ought for ſo ſaying, preſently to be committed: and theſe words ſpoken, are ſuch, as ſhall make the party ſpeaking them, in danger of his head and life. And words ſcandalouſly ſpoken of a Subject, ſhall be taken in mitiori ſenſu: but when they are ſpoken of the King or Prince, and are touching matter of Allegiance, they ſhall alwayes be taken in graviori ſenſu: and the words here were ſpoken of the Plaintiff malitioſè, to cauſe him to be ſuſpected in point of Allegiance. And though it be ſaid, That he ſpake them by the Report of another, or upon a hear-ſay; yet being malitiouſly ſpoken, the words are Actionable. Like the Caſe of the Lady Moriſon and Lane. 5 Jac. in B. R. and 41 Eliz. the Lord North and Coapes Caſe, Caſes of a Hear-ſay: and adjudged, That the Action did well lye; the Lady Moriſon's Caſe being affirmed upon a Writ of Errour in the Exchequer Chamber. Trinit. 14 Jac. in B.R. rott. 39. Lewes and Walter's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 225. 226. 227.

174. An Action for theſe words; viz. Mr. Lowes is a Witch, and I will prove it; for I have ſeen him add his Imps, and evil ſpirits, appear unto me in my Chamber, and put me in fear of my life: and he ſaid, Come, they will never be at quiet, till we have killed him. And he did bewitch a Child of mine. It was adjudged, That the words were actionable in the Kings-Bench. And if one ſaith of J. S. That he hath Conference with evil ſpirits, the words will bear Action. But for one to ſay, That ſuch a one is a Witch, in anger, the words are not actionable. Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Trinit. 13 Jac. in B. R rott. 114. & 130. Lowes Caſe. But yet afterwards a Writ of Errour was brought upon this Judgment in the Exchequer-Chamber, and there holden by the Judges, The words were not actionable; and the firſt Judgment was reverſed. Trinit. 13 Jac. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 74.

175. In an Action upon the Caſe for words; The Plaintiff in his Declaration ſet forth, That there was a Communication betwixt the Father of the plaintiff and the Defendant; who ſaid to him, That Taylor did ſteal the Mare of J. S. and thy ſon was conſenting to it. Being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved, That the Declaration was not good; becauſe he doth not aver, (as he ought to have done in this Case) That his Father had no more Sons but onely this who was Plaintiff. It was Objected, That there needs no such averment, because the Law doth not presume a plurality of sons. But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That without such averment, the Action would not lye, and that for want of such averment, the Declaration was not good; and the Judgment was stayed. Trinit. 14 Jac. in B. R. rott. 41. Lenkner and Godman's Case. Bolstr. 3. Part. 249.

176. Action upon the Case for words spoken at several times; the first time layed to be spoken of the Plaintiff, these words; viz. That perjured Knave, (innuendo the Plaintiff, speech being had of him) stands perjured upon Record at the Guild-Hall, London, and I will prove it. At another time layed, That he spake to the Plaintiff himself; viz. Thou art a perjured Knave, and stands perjured upon Record, for denying of thy hand, and I will prove it; and being found for the Plaintiff, intire damages was given to him. It was moved to stay Judgment, because it is not shewed in what Court this perjury is recorded, there being two Courts there, one of Record, the other not; and the latter words do extenuate the former. It was the Clear Opinion of the Court, That it must of necessity be intended the Court of Record; for it is oppositum in Objecto, to say, To stand perjured upon Record, if it was not a Court of Record: And for the latter words, they are actionable without colour of defence, and the Damages well given by the Jury. Hill. 14 Jac. B. R. Mesflyne and Farrenden's Case. Bolstr. 3. Part 283.

177. Note; It was agreed by the whole Court, That if a man doth speak these words of another, viz. Thou art a Sheep-stealer; or, Thou art a Horse-stealer; although they be general words, yet an Action lyeth for them: And so it was adjudged, Mich. 1 Car. in B. R. in Parret and Payne's Case. Bolstr. 3. Part. 303.

178. See Sir James Sydenham and Ray's Case, reported at large, Mich. 13 Jac. rott. 347. in B. R. Bolstrod. 3. part 260. See before, Sect. . . for the same Case.

Where an Action upon the Case lyeth for slandering the Plaintiff's Title; and where not.

1. Waldmay brought an Action upon the Case against Standish, for saying, That Lands were lawfully assured to Jo. Talbott for 1600 years, and that he was thereof lawfully possessed; whereas in truth the Lands were not lawfully assured for the said term nor the said John Talbott possessed of the Interest thereof. It was adjudged, That although Talbott had a Limitation of the Land by Will, which was the reason why the Defendant affirmed the words; Yet because he took upon him the Notice of the Law, and meddled in a matter which did not concern him; Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mildmay's Case. 24 Eliz. C. 4. Part. 175.

2. In an Action upon the Case; the Plaintiff declared, That he was in Communication with A. B. for to demise to him the Mannor of D. and the Defendant, præmissorum non ignorans, said; I have a Lease for 99 years of the said Mannor, and shewed a demise of one L. Audley, Grandfather, &c. from whom the Plaintiff claimed; whereas in truth, the Defendant knew this to be counterfeit; by reason of which A. B. did not proceed, &c. It was Resolved, That in regard the Defendant knew of the Communication, and that the Lease was forged, and yet published it, by which the Plaintiff lost his bargain; that the Action did lye. Sir Gilbert Gerard and Dickenson's Case. 33 Eliz. Co. 4. Part. 18.

3. In an Action upon the Case for slandering the Plaintiff's Title; The Plaintiff declared, That he was seised in Fee as a Copy-holder of Lands in D. within Jurisdiction of the Defendants Court; and that the Defendant said, He had not any Title to those Lands: It was found for the Plaintiff: and upon a Writ of Errour brought, the Judgment was reversed; because the Plaintiff did not shew, that by Occasion of those words, he had any prejudice; as by any bargain of the Inheritance or Lease of the Land; and an Action upon the Case is not maintainable, without shewing a special prejudice. Mich. 3 Car. B. R. Lowe and Harwood's Case. Cro. 1 Part. 99.

4. In an Action upon the Case, for slandering the Plaintiff's Title; The Plaintiff declared, That Henry Earl of Arrundell was seised in Fee of the Mannor of D. and gave it to the Plaintiff in tail; and that the Defendant was a Customary Tenant for life of a Messuage parcel of the said Mannor; and the Plaintiff was in Communication with J. S. to make a Lease for years to him of the Land, to begin after the estate of the Defendant for life was determined, for which J. S. agreed to give him 500 l. That the Defendant intending to hinder that bargain, and to slander his Title, spake these words; The late Earl of Arrundell Lord of the Mannor of D. did make a Lease of my Tenement to one J. D. for 60 years, to begin after my Customary estate ended, and the same is a good Lease. Whereas the said Earl did not make such Lease: by reason whereof, neither J. S. nor any other person, would give him 10 l. for the Lease.

The

The Defendant juſtifies; for that Henry Earl of Arrundell before the gift made to the Plaintiff, made ſuch a Leaſe to J. S. for 60 years, and that J. S. conveyed the Leaſe to him. It was Objected, That the words import not any ſlander; nor is it alledged when the Earl made the Leaſe. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the words ſhall be taken in the worſt ſenſe according to his Intent which he ſpake, when he ſaid it to be a good Leaſe: and the words themſelves imply, That he ſpake them to countenance the Title of a ſtranger; which is not lawfull: and now he cannot excuſe himſelf, by intituling of himſelf, when at the firſt the words did not import as much; and now he cometh too late to Juſtifie. Mich. 4 Jac. B. R. The Earl of Northumberland and Byrs's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 163.

5. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That his brother was ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, and dyed ſeiſed without Iſſue, and the Land diſcended to him as heir, and that he had a purpoſe and intent to aſſure part of it upon his Son, and to make Leaſes of part: and to fruſtrate his Intent, the Defendant uſed theſe words; The Plaintiff hath no more Right to the Land then a Stranger. And becauſe he did not ſhew any ſufficient cauſe of loſſe; for it is not ſhewed, that he was in communication of any Leaſe or Aſſurance for his ſon, but had an intent onely, which might be ſecret. It was adjudged, That the Action did not lye. Paſch. 14 Jac. B.R. Smead and Badley's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 397.

6. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That whereas he was Son and heir of J. M. and A. his Wife, daughter and heir of J. S. and had divers Lands by diſcent from them of the value of 200 l. per annum. The Defendant envying his eſtate, ſpeaking of the Plaintiff and his Wife, ſaid, Shall Elborow his Wife ſit above my Wife? He is but a Baſtard. By reaſon of which words he was much ſcandalized in his eſtate, and forced to great expences to defend his Title. It was Objected, The words are not actionable, becauſe it is not ſhewed, That there was any ſpeech about his eſtate, or that he was about ſelling, or Leaſing the Lands. But the Court held, the words in themſelves were ſcandalous and dangerous, to cauſe his Inheritance to be Queſtioned; and ſo the Plaintiff layed it in his Declaration: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Action upon the Caſe in nature of Conſpiracy.

1. IF a man be acquitted upon a general Pardon by Parliament, and he doth not plead it, but puts himſelf upon tryal, and is acquitted; he ſhall not have an Action in the nature of a Conſpiracy, againſt the Indictors of him, becauſe he was not lawfully acquitted, for that the Juſtices ought to have allowed him his pardon without pleading of it. 28. H. 8. Dyer. 28. and E. 6. Dyer 85.

2. If a man be acquitted by Verdict, or by confeſſion upon inſufficient Indictment, and no Judgment be given upon it; he cannot have an Action in the nature of Conſpiracy againſt the Parties who indicted him; becauſe he may again be indicted and arraigned for the ſame felony, and his life was never in jeopardy; and when the Law ſaies, that Autorfoits acquit is a good plea, it ſhall be intended of a lawfull Acquittall. C. 4. Part. 41. 33. Eliz. Vaux Caſe.

3. Three men conſpired betwixt themſelvs to charge I. S. with a Robbery, and to procure him to be indicted, and procured diverſe Warrants from Juſtices of Peace, by which I. S. was apprehended and examined; and at the Aſſizes a Bill of Indictment was preferred againſt him by them; and thereupon an Ignoramus found: It was reſolved that in that Caſe an Action, in the nature of Conſpiracy, did lye againſt them; or the Conſpirators might be puniſhed for the ſame in the Star-Chamber; and it was alſo reſolved, That ſuch Conſpiracy ſhall be puniſhed, although nothing be put in Execution: and it was farther reſolved, That every Conſpiracy, before it be executed, ought to be malitious for an unjuſt revenge, againſt an innocent; and alſo ought to be done voluntarily out of Court. Coo. 9. Part. 55. The Poulters Caſe.

4. A man brought a Bill of Conſpiracy againſt H. and others, and divers of the Jury, for that they had indicted him of Perjury: and it was reſolved by the whole Court in the Star-Chamber, that the Bill did not lye, before the Indictment be traverſed or otherwiſe reverſed by Error, becauſe it ſhould be a means to quaſh the tryal at the Common Law, and ſhall prevent it; and it was alſo reſolved, that before a man be acquitted, that an Action of the nature of Conſpiracy will not lye againſt the Law. Paſ. 29. Eliz. in Cam. Stellat. Haiſtone and Glaſcor's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 51.

5. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe a gainſt another, becauſe he cauſed him to be indicted and arraigned of a Robbery, and the Plaintiff did not ſhew in his Declaration that he was Legitimo modo acquietatus; It was holden the Declaration was not good, and the Court ſaid that a man ſhall not have an Action without a Cauſe, and if he were not convicted, then there is no Cauſe of Action, and he hath not ſhewed that he was either convicted or acquitted; and it was there holden, that the difference betwixt an Action in the nature of Conſpiracy, and a Writ of Conſpiracy was this, That a Writ of Conſpiracy ought to be brought againſt two at the leaſt, but an Action upon the Caſe may lye againſt one, and that in both he ought to ſhew, that he was Legitimo modo acquietatus. M. 29. Eliz. in B. R. Shotbold's Caſe. Godb. 76. See Sect. 1. and 2. M. 7. Car. B. R. Mills and Mills Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 173. acc.

6. Note, It was ſaid by the two Chief Juſtices and Egerton Lord Chancellor in the Star-Chamber; That a Conſpiracy ought not to be only falſe but malitiouſly contrived, otherwiſe it will not be a Conſpiracy and ſuch malice ought to be proved: For if a poor man, travailing upon the High-way, be robbed by another man, and he knowes not the party; If afterwards he doth accuſe ſuch a one of the Robbery, and the party accuſed be found not guilty, he ſhall not have an Action of Conſpiracy againſt the Accuſer, for although he was falſly accuſed, yet he was not malitiouſly accuſed, and it might be he took him to be the offender, becauſe he was like to him that robbed him. M. 11. Jac. in Cam. Stellat. in Reginalds and Baſſet's Caſe. Godb. 206. See Paſc. 22. Jac. C. B. Mankleton and Allen's Caſe. Hutton 73. acc.

7. It was reſolved by Popham and Cook Chief Juſtices, and the Chief Baron, and Egerton Lord Chancellour, in the Court of Star-Chamber; That when the Grand-Jury indicts one of Murther or Felony, and after the Party is acquitted, That no Conſpiracy lyeth for him who is acquitted, againſt the Indictors, for that they are returned by the Sheriff, to make Enquiry of offences upon their Oath and it is for the ſervice of the King and the Common-wealth, and there Indictment or Verdict is matter of Record, and no attaint lyes, for the Law will not ſuppoſe any un-indifferent when he is ſworn to ſerve the King: But otherwiſe, It is of a Witneſſe, for if he conſpire out of Court and afterwards ſwear in Court, his Oath ſhall not excuſe him for his Conſpiracy before; for he is a private perſon, and not returned by the Sheriff. But if a Jury hath acquitted a Felon or a Traitor againſt manifeſt proof, they may be charged in the Star-chamber for their partiality, in finding a man feſt Offender Not Guilty. 2. Reſolved, That although the offender upon the Indictment be acquitted yet the Judg, be he Judge of Aſſiſe, or Judge by commiſſion of Record, or Juſtice of Peace, or other perſon ſworn to do Juſtice, cannot be charged in Conſpiracy for that which he did in open Court as Judge or Juſtice of of Peace, but if he hath conſpired before out of Court, the ſame is extra-judicial; and he may be puniſhed for it. P. 5. Jac. Cam. Stell. Rice ap Evan and Barkers Caſe. Co. 12. Part. 23. 24.

8. In an Action upon the Caſe in the nature of Conſpiracy againſt the Mayor, Town-Clerk, and Goaler of B. the Plaintiff declared, that where he had affirmed a Plaint of Debt in the Town-Court, before the Mayor, &c. againſt I. S. and thereupon had cauſed him to be arreſted, the Defendants did conſpire together to delay him in his ſuit, and in peril of his debt, had let I. S. goe at large without Bail; It was objected that the Action did not lye; becauſe the not taking of Bail, was a judiciall Act, for which they ſhall not be impeached: But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Action did well lye, for that the taking of Bail is not the cauſe of the Action, but the Conſpiracy. M. 31. Eliz. in C. B. Cockſhel and the Mayor of Boultons Caſe. Leon. 189.

9. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt Husband and Wife, and one Dorothy Cox, for a malitious Conſpiracy of chargeing the Plaintiff with the felonious Rape of the ſaid Dorothy Cox, and that they procured him to be examined before a Juſtice of Peace, who bound him by Recognizance to appear at the next generall Seſſions of the Peace for the County; and from thence to the next Aſſizes: and there before the Juſtices of Aſſize, of their malice aforeſaid, preferred a Bill of Indictment againſt him, and by the procurement of the Husband and Wife, the ſaid Dorothy gave evidence to the Jury, but the Jury finding and perceiving the malice and falſity did not find the Bill; It was found, after Not Guilty pleaded for the Plaintiff, and a Writ of Error brought, and the Judgement affirmed. Hill. 19. Jac. B. R. Hord and Cordery's Caſe. Hulton 49. See 5. Jac. B. R. Dogata and Lamy's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 199. acc.

10. An Action was brought, The Plaintiff declared, that the Defendants falſly procured him to be indicted of ſuch a Felony, Et in priſona detineri quousque, before ſuch Juſtices, legitimo modo fuit acquietatus; It was moved in arreſt of Judgment, becauſe it is not alledged quòd fuit inde acquietatus: But upon view of the Regiſter and Fitz. N. B. where, in ſome of the Writs, the word [inde] is omitted, the Court held the Declaration to be well enough; for when it is alledged they procured him falſly falſly to be indicted, and to be detained in priſon quouſq; he was acquitted; it cannot be intended that he ſhould be acquitted for any other matter, but of that whereof he was indicted. M. 7. Jac. B. R. Bell and Fox's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 230.

11. An Action upon the Caſe was brought in the nature of a Conſpiracy, for that the Defendant ex malitiâ upon the Plaintiff's Wife, crimen Felonie impoſuit, and cauſed her to be brought before a Juſtice, and falſò & malitioſè ſaid before him, ad tunc & ibidem, that he charged her with Felony, whereupon ſhe was forced to find ſureties for her appearance at the Aſſizes: It was moved in arreſt of Judgment that the Action lyes not; becauſe they do not ſay the Defendant impoſed upon her falſò the crime of Felony; and do not ſhew the day and place whither he cauſed her to be brought: and 3. becauſe they joyn Action for words, and in the Nature of Conſpiracy together. But all the Exceptions were diſallowed by the Court; for when they ſay, The Defendant ex malitia impoſed Crimen Felonie, that implyes falſò; and when they ſay he brought her before a Juſtice of Peace, that is coupled with the other, and ſhall be intended at the ſame time and place, eſpecially when he ſaith, ad tunc et ibidem. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, Mich. 8 Car. B. R. Manning and Fitzherbert's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 197.

12. In an Action of Conſpiracy brought, for conſpiring to Indict the Plaintiff for the ſuppoſed counterfeiting of a Letter, and for malitious proſecuting the ſame at the Aſſizes, and that he was acquitted; The Defendant made a ſpecial Juſtification, and ſhewed, That a ſtranger, who was unknown to him, brought him a Letter from one of his friends, the which was a counterfeit Letter; and with this Letter, had cozened him of 30 l. that the Plaintiff and he who brought the Letter, were both unknown to him, but very like; and when this Letter was brought him, three other were preſent, and did ſee the delivery of the Letter, and ſaid, If they did ſee the party again, and could hear him ſpeak, they ſhould know him again: and afterwards they with him did ſee the Plaintiff; and conceiving him in all likelihood to be the ſame party, they all agreeing in this, he complained to a Juſtice of Peace, who ſent for him, and examining him, and finding cauſe of ſuſpition, bound him to appear at the Aſſizes; which he did, and there he came and ſhewed all his matter to the Jury, who did acquit him; and ſo juſtifies his proceedings: And whether this be a good Juſtification, was the Queſtion. And the Opinion of Williams, Croke, and Flemming, Chief Juſtice, was, That the Juſtification was not good; and that the Plaintiff hath good cauſe of Action; for that the proſecution is not upon the Defendant's own ſuſpition, but upon the ſuſpition of others: and his proſecution and juſtification ought to be upon good probabilities, and not upon the ſuſpition of others. 13. Note, by Rolls, Chief Juſtice; An Action upon the Caſe doth not lye againſt one, for cauſing another to be Indicted of a Treſpaſs; but for cauſing one to be Indicted of a thing which cauſes a corporal puniſhment, or which ſounds in ſcandall of the party Indicted; an Action upon the Caſe doth lye. Mich. 1654. B. R. Stevens and Aſhes Caſe. Styles 424.

14. A man brought a Bill of Conſpiracy againſt Hurleſtone and others, and divers of the Jury, for that they had Indicted him of Perjury, before the Indictment traverſed, or avoyded by Errour; and the Opinion of the Court was, That the Bill did not lye, becauſe this ſhould quaſh and prevent the Tryal at the Common-Law: and before a man be acquitted, an Action upon the Caſe for a Conſpiracy will not lye. See Paſch. 25 Eliz. C. B. Goldeſb. 51.

15. An Action upon the Caſe for Conſpiracy was brought for Conſpiring to Indict the Plaintiff for ſpeaking Treaſonable words. After Not-Guilty pleaded, and a Verdict for the Plaintiff; It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Action did not lye, being for matter of high Treaſon. But after a long Debate, It was adjudged, That the Action did well lye: And the Court ſaid, That as to this, there was no difference between the caſe of Treaſon, and of Felony. Mich. 1 Car. B. R. Smith and Crawſhawes Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part. 271, 272.

16. Note: It was holden by the Juſtices, That an Action upon the Caſe lyeth for procuring one to be Indicted, although the party himſelf do not do it; and one may exhibit a Bill of Indictment to the Grand-Jury without Oath: and therefore in the principal Caſe at Barr, which was, for preferring of a Bill of Indictment againſt the Plaintiff for ſtealing a Mare; and the Jury found Ignoramus; for as much as the Action might be as well grounded upon the ſcandal which grew to the party who was Indicted, as upon the trouble which might befall him by reaſon of preferring of the Bill; the Court held, That the Action might well lye. Paſch. 23 Car. B. R. Style's 10. and 11.

17. A man brought an Action upon the Caſe in Nature of a Conſpiracy, for cauſing him to be Indicted of Felony, as acceſſory for ſuffering a Priſoner to eſcape that was convicted. Judgment was for for the Plaintiff. And upon a Writ of Errour, it was aſſigned for Errour, That the party was Indicted for a matter which was but Treſpaſs. And ſo the Action upon the Caſe did not lye. But the Court anſwered, That the charge of the Indictment is Felony: although the matter he is charged withall is not Felony, and a Scandall lay upon him by it; and therefore the Action lyes. Mich. 1649. B. R. Gardiner and Follyes Caſe. Styles. 157.

18. An Action upon the Caſe was brought in nature of Conſpiracy; for that the Defendant procured the Plaintiff to be Indicted as a common Barretor before J. S. and J. D. Juſtices of the Peace; necnon ad diverſas felonias, &c. audiend. et terminand. aſſign: and layed, That he was acquitted. In the Record, they are mentioned as Juſtices of the Peace onely: and ſo there was a failer of the Record. But becauſe the Juſtices of Peace have authority to Enquire and hear it without any Commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer; therefore the Court was of Opinion, That there was no failer of the Record: and that the Action did well lye. Trinit. 2 Jac. B. R. Barnes and Conſtantine's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 32.

19. In an Action upon the Caſe in nature of a Conſpiracy; The Caſe was, The daughter complained to her father, that ſhe was raviſhed by the Plaintiff: the Father ſhewed it to a Juſtice of Peace, who convented the Plaintiff before him, and examined him, and bound him over to the next Goal-delivery; and alſo bound the Defendant to prefer a Bill of Indictment; which he did: upon which the Plaintiff was arraigned and acquitted. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That an Action upon the Caſe lyes where one ſole falſo et malitioſe, procures another to be Indicted. 2. It was Reſolved in the principal Caſe; In as much as the Father did prefer the Indictment upon his daughters complaint, to whom by nature he is conpaſſionate; although the matter had not been a good cauſe of Arreſt for ſuſpition of Felony; (no felony being committed) yet it is a good cauſe of Excuſe of his cauſe of complaint to the Father, who binding them both over, the one to appear, and the other to prefer a Bill, is a good cauſe to excuſe him from a malitious procuring of the Indictment: and ſo the Court took it for a good cauſe of Excuſe; and that the Action brought by the Plaintiff did not lye. Hill. 4 Jac. B.R. rott. 856. Cox and Wirrall's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 193.

20. Note: It was agreed by the Juſtices, That a Conſpiracy, nor a Writ in the nature of Conſpiracy, will not lye, if the Plaintiff be not legitimo modo acquietatus: But yet if one proſecute another to be Indicted and Impriſoned falſo et malitioſe, he ſhall have an Action upon the Caſe for the ſlander and vexation, though that he be never acquitted, and that by reaſon of the words, falſo et malitioſe. Actions upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, and Promiſe.

1. IF the ſervant buyeth Wares for the uſe of his Maſter, and maketh a Bill, which is not ſealed, in which he bindeth himſelf to pay the debt: Debt lyeth not againſt the Maſter; but an Action upon the Caſe lyeth againſt the Servant. 6 Eliz. Dyer. 230. Alford's Caſe.

2. The Servant of A. being arreſted, and bayled in the Abſence of the Maſter by two of his friends; the Maſter for their friendſhip promiſed to ſave them harmleſſe of all Damages and Coſts: they after are ſued; and brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Maſter. It was adjudged, That the Action did not lye, for want of Conſideration; for the baylment was of their own heads, and executed before the promiſe. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 272. Hunt and Baker's Caſe. See 12 Eliz. in C. B. Sidenham and Worlington's Caſe. Godb. 33. acc.

3. In an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit; the Caſe was; That the Defendant being poſſeſſed of a Term as Executor to J. S. who was indebted to the Plaintiff: In conſideration that the Plaintiff would not moleſt him, but would defer the payment untill Michaelmas, that he would pay him the money, or aſſign to him the Land at Michaelmas. It was moved, upon Judgment for the Plaintiff, and Errour brought, That the Plaintiff had not averred, the Defendant had Aſſetts. But notwithſtanding, it was adjudged, the Action did lye, and the Law preſumes he hath Aſſetts; and that the Teſtator would not leave a greater charge upon his Executors, then he had Aſſetts to diſcharge. 9 Jac. B. R. C. 9. Part. Banes Caſe.

4. A. made a Leaſe for years to B. and aſſumed, that B. the Leſſee ſhould peaceably and quietly have and enjoy, during the Term, without Eviction or Interruption of any perſon, &c. the Father of A. entred upon B. the Leſſee; whereupon he brought his Action upon the Caſe againſt A. It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That the the Action did not lye, becauſe he might have his remedy againſt the Father by Action of Treſpaſſe; But it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, becauſe it was an expreſs promiſe that he ſhould not be interrupted or moleſted. Mich. 16. Eliz. Dyer. 328. Mountford and Catesby's Caſe.

5. A. Widdow had divers buſineſſes, ſuits, and quarrels depending; and at her requeſt I. S. had been at great travell, and expended upon her buſineſs, and ſuits, 1500 l. and ſhe, in conſideration thereof, did aſſume and promiſe, that ſhe would bear and pay all the charges and expences which he had born and expended upon requeſt, whereupon he brought an Action upon the Caſe, and layed it That licet he had expended and paid 1500 l. circa negotia & ſuites of the Defendant, yet ſhe did not pay him the 1500 l. and the Opinion of Dyer was, that it was a good conſideration, and charitable to aid and eaſe a Feme in her Widdow-hood in her ſuits; and therefore the Action did well lye. Paſch. 19. Eliz. Dyer. 356 Ouly's Caſe.

6. An Infant is indebted to I. S. upon a contract and dyeth, his Executor aſſumeth to pay the mony; In an Aſſumpſit againſt the Executor, he pleaded the Non-age of the Infant: It was objected, If the Infant had aſſumed the payment at his full age, it had been good: and it was vouched, that where the Lord Grey, as Heir to his Father, was not bound to pay his Father's debts, due upon ſimple contract, yet in regard he did aſſume to pay them, he was chargeable; But the Opinion of the whole Court was, that the conſideration was not good, and the Contract was void; and it was ſaid in that caſe, That the conſideration is the ground of every Action upon the Caſe, and it muſt be either a charge to the Plaintiff or a benefit to the Defendant; And therefore if one promiſeth, that in conſideration that the Plaintiff will not ſue him, that he will pay: the ſame is a good conſideration. Trinit. 30. Eliz. Stone and Whitepool's Caſe. Owen 94. See Leon 113. Idem.

7. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared that I. S. was indebted to him 100 l. for which he had pawned to the Plaintiff goods to the value of 200 l. and the Defendant promiſed the Plaintiff to pay the debt if he would deliver the Pawn; The doubt was if this were a ſufficient conſideration, to maintain Aſſumpſit, and the Opinion of the Court was that it was a good conſideration: for he who hath goods in Pawn hath a property in them, and may uſe them in ſuch a manner as the Owner would; It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 7. Jac. in C. B. More and Conhom's Caſe. Owen 123.

8. Aſſumpſit: The Caſe was; A Woman was Executrix, and had Aſſets to pay all Debts and Legacies, the Woman dyed, and the goods remayned in the hands of the Husband; the Plaintiff demanded the Legacy of the Husband, who ſaid, Forbear till Michelmas, and I will pay you; Adjudged, It was no good conſideration to ground an Aſſumpſit upon: becauſe the Husband could not be ſued for the Legacy. Smith and Jones Caſe. Owen. 133.

9. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, that I. S. was indebted to A. 60 l. for which he was arreſted; and the Plaintiff was his Bail; A. recovered the Debt againſt him, and ſued a Scire facias againſt the Bail: Whereupon A. in conſideration that the Plaintiff the Bail would pay him the 60 l. promiſed to aſſigne over to him the firſt Bond in which I. S. was bounden to him, and ſaid that he had paid the 60 l. to the Defendant A. and that he had not aſſigned over the Bond; It was holden a good conſideration by the Court, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 30. Eliz. Dixon and Adam's Caſe. Goldeſb. 156.

10. An Enfant and another were bound in an Obligation for the Debt of the Enfant; the Enfant at full Age did aſſume to ſave the other harmleſſe againſt the Bond; It was reſolved by all the Juſtices, that upon this Aſſumpſit an Action upon the Caſe would lye againſt the Executors of the Enfant. M. 27. Eliz. B. R. Burton and Edmonds Caſe. God. 138.

11. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, that A. was Leſſee for years of Lands, the Inheritance of which was in the Plaintiff's Wife, upon which Leaſe a Rent was reſerved; and that the Defendant in conſideration that the Plaintiff would procure A. to aſſigne the Leaſe to the Defendant, promiſed to pay the Rent to the Plaintiff for all the reſidue of the Term: It was Objected, the Action did not lye becauſe the Plaintiff might have had a higher remedy for the Rent, viz. an Action of Debt, or might diſtrein for it: But per Curiam the Action did well lye, for that upon the promiſe, an Action for the Rent is given to the Husband alone, whereas the Rent was not due to the Husband, but in the Right of his Wife, and before it was payable upon the Land, but now it is payable to the perſon of the Husband. M. 29. Eliz. C. B. Carter's Caſe Leon. 43. See Trinit. 32. Eliz. C. B. Read and Johnſon's Caſe. acc.

12. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant was indebted to the Plaintiff in a certain ſum of mony, and ſhewed how the Defendant in conſideration that the Plaintiff per parvum tempus deferret diem ſolutionis, did promiſe to pay &c. found for the Plaintiff. Moved in arreſt of Judgment, that there was no conſideration, for that the time limited for forbearance was uncertain, and parvum tempus may be but punctum temporis. But the Exception was not allowed; for that the Debt in it ſelf is a ſufficient conſideration. Paſ. 29. Eliz. C. B. Gill and Harewood's Caſe. Leon. 61. 155. b.

13. Aſſumpſit

13. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, That he delivered goods to the Brother of the Defendant who made the Defendant his Executor and dyed, and the Plaintiff came to the Defendant and ſpake of him concerning the goods; upon which ſpeech, the Defendant promiſed the Plaintiff that if the Plaintiff could prove that the goods were delivered to the Teſtator, he would pay the value of them to the Plaintiff, and averred the goods came to the Teſtator's hands: Upon Non Aſſumpſit; It was found and adjudged for the Plaintiff; Whereupon Error was brought; and two Errors aſſigned, The firſt, that the Plaintiff had not averred that he had proved the delivery of the goods to the Teſtator, for the words of the promiſe are ſi probare potuiſſet, 2. That here was not any conſideration; for that the Defendant had no profit nor advantage by the Bailment of the goods to the brother of the Defendant, and alſo it is a thing before executed, and not depending upon the promiſe, nor the promiſe upon it, and to that purpoſe; Hudſon's Caſe in B. R. was vouched, viz. The Defendant in conſideration that he was natural Son and adminiſtrator to the Inteſtate, and that the goods of his Father came to his hands, promiſed to pay the debt to the Plaintiff, and it was found that no goods came to his hands; and there it was holden, That the conſideration, that he was Adminiſtrator and Son of the Teſtator was not of any force; to maintain the Action. But notwithſtanding theſe cauſes; in the principal Caſe; the Judgment was affirmed: and in that caſe, It was ſaid, That if an Action be brought upon an Aſſumpſit of the Teſtator, Judgment ſhall be of the goods of the Teſtator: but if of the promiſe of the Executor, then of his own goods. Hill. 30. Eliz. in B. R. Mowel and Trivaman's Caſe. Leon. 93. 94.

14. In Aſſumpſit: the Caſe was, The Defendant leaſed Lands to the Plaintiff rendring Rent, and, after ſome years expired, The Leſſor in conſideration that the Leſſee had occupied the Land and had paid his Rent, promiſed the Plaintiff to ſave him harmleſſe againſt all perſons, for the Occupation of the Lands of the time paſt, and alſo to come: Afterwards I. S. diſtrained the Plaintiff's Cattle upon the Land; upon which the Plaintiff brought Aſſumpſit againſt the Defendant; It was Objected, that the payment of the Rent is no conſideration, for he hath the profit of the Lands for it; and alſo the conſideration is paſt: But it was adjudged, the Action did well lye, for that the Occupation, which is the conſideration, continues: like a gift in Frank-Marriage, after the eſpouſals, lyeth, and yet the Marriage is paſt, but the bond continues: and here the payment of the Rent is executory every year, and if the Leſſee be ſaved harmleſſe for his Occupation he will pay the Rent the better; Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 30. Eliz. Pearl and Edwards Caſe. Leon. 102.

15. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, That where the Defendant pretended that one R. made his Will, and thereby gave Legacies to the Defendant; and the Plaintiff ſued in the Prerogative Court to diſprove the Will, and if he proſecutus fuiſſet, he might have diſproved the Will, and ſo defeated the Defendant of his Legacies: That the Defendant, in conſideration, that the Plaintiff ultra non procederet, promiſed to give the Plaintiff 100 l. and the Plaintiff averred that he ſurceaſed his ſuit, and farther declared licèt the Defendant ad hoc requiſitus tali die: It was ſaid, that here is not any conſideration, for the Defendant hath not any means to compell the Plaintiff to ſurceaſe his ſuit, and if he do once ſurceaſe his ſuit, yet he may begin again; and then for the Plaintiff to have ſhewed a releaſe or diſcharge of it. But it was reſolved that the Action did well lye: and Trin. 28. Eliz. Rott. 523. Smith and Smith's Caſe was vouched to prove it: Where, in an Aſſumpſit, upon conſideration that the Plaintiff ſhould not implead the Defendant upon a Bond, the Plaintiff had Judgment to recover; and alſo in the principal Caſe: the Requeſt generally lyes; licèt requiſitus was well layed. Trin. 30 Eliz. B. R. Rivett and Rivet's Caſe. Leon. 118.

16. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared; That the Defendant did aſſume to perform the award of I. S. and alſo aſſumed that he would not ſue execution upon a Judgment which he had obtained againſt the Plaintiff, in an Action; and ſhewed, the award was made (which award in Law was void) and that the Defendant had not performed that award, and alſo that he had ſued execution againſt the Plaintiff. Upon Non aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff: and thereupon Error was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber; and the Error aſſigned was, That the Plaintiff had declared upon two breaches, whereas for one there was no cauſe of Action; and the Jury had aſſeſſed damages intirely for both breaches; and ſo the Verdict was void, and then the Judgment given upon it was erroneous. Manwood Chief Baron ſaid that the Verdict was well enough, for that there was but one Iſſue upon the whole Aſſumpſit, but if ſeverall Iſſues had been joyned, and both had been found for the Plaintiff, and damages intire aſſeſſed for both, the Judgment had been erroneous; for that being ſeverall Iſſues, they might had ſevered the damages: But after a long debate, becauſe the Jury had aſſeſſed Damages intirely for both; the Opinion of the Court was, that the Judgment ſhould be reverſed. 17. Aſſumpſit:

17. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, the Defendant was indebted to him, 19 Maii 29 Eliz. The Defendant, in conſideration that the Plaintiff would forbear to ſue him until ſuch a day after, promiſed at the ſaid day to pay the debt: The Defendant pleaded, That 29 Maii 29 Eliz. he was indebted to the Plaintiff in the ſaid ſum, for aſſurance of which afterwards, he acknowledged a Statute to the Plaintiff, upon which he had execution, and levyed the mony abſque hoc that he was indebted to the Plaintiff, antea vel poſt, the ſaid day aliquo modo. It was holden by the Court, that the cauſe of the Action is the Aſſumpſion; and there the conſideration is not traverſeable; and alwaies the ground of the Action is traverſeable; and the Aſſumpſit in this caſe is the ground of the Action, and not the debt. Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Trinit. 33. Eliz. in B. R. Smith and Hitchcock's Caſe. Leon. 252. 253.

18. Aſſumpſit: The Caſe was, A woman ſeiſed of a Rent charge for life took Husband, the Rent was arrear, the Wife dyed; The Tenant of the Land charged with the Rent in conſideration the Rent was behind, promiſed to pay the Rent; It was moved, It was a Rent payable by deed, and therefore this Action did not lye; no more then a promiſe to pay a debt due upon an Obligation. But it was holden by the whole Court, and adjudged for the Plaintiff. M. 27. Eliz. C. B. Leon. 293. See 16. Jac. Green and Hanyngdon's Caſe. Hutton 34. acc.

19. Aſſumpſit: The Caſe was; A. was indebted to B. in 20 l. and C. was endebted to A. in 30 l. A. in ſatisfaction of the debt which he owed to B. aſſigned the debt of 30 l. which C. owed him, and made a Letter of Attorney to ſue in his Name: A. and B. acquainted C. with this agreement, who promiſed to B. in conſideration that he would forbear him till ſuch a day, that he would pay the mony: Upon Non aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in arreſt of Judgment, that the conſideration was not ſufficient, and ſuch was the Opinion of the whole Court: For that B. hath had only an authority to ſue, and that is at all times countermandable by A. Paſch. 19. Jac. in B. R. Potter and Turner's Caſe. Winch. 7 & 8.

20. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared that the Defendant was Rector of the Rectory of D. and that he and all his predeceſſors had uſed to have all manner of Tythes, and that the Plaintiff occupied 100 Acres of Land in the Pariſh; and that the Defendant promiſed to the Plaintiff, in conſideration, that he would plant his Land with Hopps, and ſo make the Tythes to be the better, that he would allow him towards every Acre he ſhould ſo plant 40 s. towards the charge in planting them; and ſhewed that he had planted one Acre at the requeſt of the Defendant; and ſo &c. It was moved whether this be a good conſideration, becauſe the Tythes are not bettered by the planting; but by the growing and encreaſe of them: and it is not averred that the Tythes were of better value then they were before; The Court doubted of it: But the Court ſaid, that if the Plaintiff had ſhewed in his Declaration that he might have made more benefit of his Land by other wayes then by the planting of it with Hopps, the Tythes alſo being bettered, the Caſe had been clear. Paſch. 22. Jac. Co. B. Summers and Dug's Caſe. Winch. 80.

21. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, That in conſideration of 20 l. paid, the Defendant did promiſe 1. Martii to pay and deliver the Plaintiff 20 Quarters of Barly, the next ſeed time. Upon Non aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved that the Plaintiff ought to have ſhewed in his Declaration when the ſeed time was, which he hath not done. But it was reſolved per Curiam that he need not do, becauſe the Action is brought half a year after the promiſe, for not payment and delivery of the ſame at ſeed time, which was betwixt the Promiſe and the Aſſumpſit; and here it appears the Action was brought at Michaelmas, by which it appears ſufficiently that the ſeed time was paſt: Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 21. Jac. B. R. Totnam and Hopkin's Caſe. Godb. 350.

22. Aſſumpſit brought by Husband and Wife againſt J. S. Executor of T. S. The Plaintiff declared that there was a Communication had of a Marriage between the Wife the Plaintiff, and the ſaid T. S. that the ſaid T. S. in conſideration, that the ſaid Wife the Plaintiff would take him to her Husband, he promiſed, that if after the Marriage he, the ſaid T. S. dyed, living the ſaid Wife, that he would leave her worth 100 l. and averrs that ſhe did marry him; who died and did not leave her worth 100 l. Upon Non aſſumpſit it was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved, That by the Inter-Marriage the Action was extinguiſhed, and thereby the Promiſe was releaſed, and of that Opinion was Hobart Juſtice; But Winch and Hutton held the contrary; for that the Law will not work a releaſe contrary to the intent of the parties, and that the marriage will not deſtroy that which it ſelf creates. Hill. 15 Jac. C. B. Rott. 906. Smith and Stafford's Caſe. Hutton. 17.

23. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, That whereas the Defendant was poſſeſſed of a Houſe and Land in M. in the County of L. for 21. years of Sir John W. and whereas one J. D. was in ſpeech of buying the ſaid Leaſe, and the Defendant could not ſell it without the conſent of Sir John W. The Defendant, in conſideration that the Plaintiff would procure Licence of the ſaid Sir John, promiſed to pay him ſo much as he ſhould diſburſe and deſerve therefore: And added, he did procure a Licence, and diſburſed ſuch a ſum, and deſerved for his labour ſuch a ſum. The Defendant demurred upon the Declaration: The Queſtion was, If that were a good conſideration or no? for that it did not appear that there was any reſtraint upon him from making any Aſſignment: But it was adjudged a good conſideration, for it appears there was privity betwixt them: and it may be he had promiſed that he would not aſſign it without his Licence; and it was at his Inſtance and for his ſatisfaction: Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 18. Jac. Hall and Woollen's Caſe. Hutton 39.

24. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, Whereas one was indebted to the Plaintiff in 100 l. by Bond; The Defendant, in conſideration that the Plaintiff at his requeſt would forbear to ſue the ſaid party; and if he did not pay it, the Defendant would. It was moved, That it was no conſideration, for the incertainty; for if he forbare for an hour, or a day, it is a forbearance. But the Court was of Opinion for the Plaintiff; and this difference was taken; when the promiſe appears to be ſuch, that it ſhall not be any benefit to the party in whoſe behalf it is requeſted, as forbearance for an hour, or a like time; there it is not good. But where it is general, and not limited to any time, there it ſhall be a totall forbearance, or at leaſt, a forbearance for a convenient time. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 19 Jac. C. 25. Aſſumpſit. The Caſe was; A. promiſed B. That if he would marry his daughter, he would give with her a Childs part; and at the time of his death, he would give her as much as to any of his Children, excepting his eldeſt ſon; and made his Executors, and dyed. B. brought an Action againſt the Executors, and ſhewed, That the Executor had not given her a Childs part, and that ſuch a younger ſon of the Teſtator had 100 l. given him. It was adjudged, That the promiſe of a Childs part was incertain; but being as much as any of his Children had, and ſhewing, That a younger ſon had 100 l. it was certain enough. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 17 Jac. B. R. Silveſter's Caſe. Popham. 48. See Arnold and Dickſon's Caſe. 17 Jac. Popham. 183. acc.

26. Aſſumpſit. The Caſe was; That in caſe the Plaintiff would diſcharge B. of an Execution, the Defendant promiſed to pay him 10 l. In an Aſſumpſit, the Plaintiff ſhewed quod exoneravit illam de Executione, generally; and the diſcharge was by word, and not by writing. It was moved, That the conſideration was layed to be too general. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Declaration was well enough; and he need not plead, the ſame was by Writing; for the diſcharge by word was a ſufficient diſcharge. 2 Car. in B. R. Popham. 206.

27. Aſſumpſit. The Caſe was, The Defendant requeſted the Plaintiff to give his credit for one J. S. to J. D. for two Tunns of Wine value 50 l. the Plaintiff gave Bond to J. D. of 100 l. for the payment thereof: upon which he was ſued, and forced to pay 30 l. In Conſideration of which the Defendant promiſed to pay the 50 l. at ſuch a day, and did not pay it; for which the Action was brought. It was moved, The Conſideration was not ſufficient, becauſe it was upon a Conſideration paſt. But becauſe J. S. had credit given him by J. D. at the Defendants requeſt upon the Plaintiff's undertaking; the Court held the Conſideration to be ſufficient, and not paſt. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. 28. An Executor having Aſſetts in his hands ſufficient to pay all the Debts and Legacies of his Teſtator; and the Teſtator was indebted to the Plaintiff upon a ſingle Contract: and the Executor aſſumed to the Plaintiff, That if he would forbear to ſue him till ſuch a time, he would pay the Debt. It was adjudged by the Court, the ſame was a ſufficient Conſideration; and that in ſuch caſe Aſſumpſit did lye againſt the Executor. Mich. 2 Jac. B. R. Fiſher and Richardſon's Caſe. Cro. 2. 29. In Aſſumpſit, the Caſe was; An Executor ſued forth an Elegit to the Sheriff; the Defendant ut animus Executoris, promiſed the Sheriff, the Plaintiff, if he would execute the Writ, and for 6. d. given by the Plaintiff, to give to the Plaintiff 6 l. which not paid, the Plaintiff brought his Action It was adjudged not to be a ſufficient Conſideration, to ground an Aſſumpſit upon; for that the Sheriff by duty of his Office, ought to execute the Writ; and a promiſe of conſideration to execute it is not lawful, but quaſi Extortion; and the giving of the 6. d. was no ſufficient Conſideration, being joyned with the other which was unlawfull. Mich. 3 Jac. B. R. Bridge and Cage's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 103.

30. Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in Conſideration of a ſum of money paid to him, promiſed him to aſſure ſuch Copy-hold Lands to him in ſuch a manner as J. D. ſhould ſhould adviſe, who adviſed, That the Defendant ſhould at the next Court ſurrender the Land to the uſe of the Plaintiff and his heirs, and ſhould enter into a Bond of 40 l. for the doing of it. It was found for the Plaintiff: But it was adjudged by the Court, That the alledging of the breach in not entring into the Bond was not good; for that it was out of the Aſſumpſit: and alſo becauſe that damages were intirely given, as well for not entring into the Bond, as not ſurrendring the Land: for the one of which, there was no cauſe of Action. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Paſch. 4 Jac. B. R. Staynroyde and Locotke's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 115.

31. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That he was an Inne-keeper, and a Commiſſion iſſued in a Suit betwixt the Defendant and others, to examine Witneſſes; which Commiſſion was to be ſet upon, in the Plaintiff's houſe, being an Inne; and in Conſideration that the Plaintiff did promiſe to find Horſe-meat and Mans-meat for the Defendant and his Company during the ſitting of the Commiſſion, the Defendant promiſed to pay all ſuch ſummes as the dyet and Horſe-meat ſhould amount unto, when he ſhould be requeſted; and the Plaintiff alledged in facto, that he found the ſaid Horſe-meat and mans-meat during all the time of three dayes the Commiſſion there was ſet upon, which came to 5 l. which the Defendant Licet requiſitus had not paid. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, found for the Plaintiff; It was moved, That the promiſe being to pay upon requeſt, the year, day, and place ought to be expreſſed. And of that Opinion was the whole Court: For when the Defendant is chargeable upon a Collateral promiſe, there ought to be a preciſe requeſt alledged; and Licet ſæpius requiſitus is inſufficient: and therefore in the principal Caſe, the Judgment was ſtayed. Mich. 5 Jac. B. R. Selman and King's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 183. See Hill. 16 Jac. B. R Hill and Waldes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 523. adjudged accordingly.

32. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant promiſed the Wife of the Plaintiff in her Widow-hood, That if ſhe would marry J. S. he would pay her yearly after the death of J. S. during her life, 40 s. and afterwards ſhe married J. S. and after his death married the Plaintiff; and for Non payment of the 40 s. yearly after the death of J. S. the Plaintiff brought the Action. The Defendant pleaded a Releaſe of J. S. of all Action and Demands: And by the Court, it is no Plea, for being a promiſe to perform a payment after the death of J. S. there was no any poſſibility it could be demanded by him, and therefore the Releaſe void in Law; and the Action well brought by the now Plaintiff. Trin. 6 Jac. B.R. Belcher and Hudſon's Caſe. rott. 132. Cro. 2. Part. 222.

33. Aſſumpſit. The Defendant in conſideration the Plaintiff would marry his Cozen, promiſed he would give him 100 l. The Plaintiff alledged, he married her ſuch a day and place: And upon Non Aſſumpſit found for the Plaintiff; It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That he had not given the Defendant Notice of the Marriage, and therefore the Declaration was not good. But it was Reſolved, that it was good enough; for it is a neceſſary intendment, That when after the marriage he requeſted the money, that notice was given of the Marriage: and ſo was it adjudged in Morley and Hodges Caſe in the Exchequer-Chamber. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Bradley and Todei's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 228.

34. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, Whereas the Defendant 10. Febr. 7 Jac. was indebted to the Plaintiff in diverſis denariorum ſummis, in 40 l. promiſed to pay to the Plaintiff the ſaid 40 l. ante inceptionem proximis itineris of the Plaintiff to London; and the Plaintiff alledged in facto, that upon the 23. Febr. following, incepit iter ſuum to London, and came thither the 29. of the ſame moneth. Which being found for the Plaintiff; Upon Arreſt of Judgment, becauſe he did not ſhew in his Declaration, that it was his proximum iter to London, (although it was alledged it ſhould be ſo intended, being in ſo ſhort a time after the bargain) Yet it was ruled by the Court, That the Declaration was not good; for that the Plaintiff to enable him to the Action, ought to ſhew the commencement of his next Journey to London. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Trinit. 8 Jac. B. R. Rook and Rook's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 245.

35. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared; Whereas the Lord Burgh, 1. Apr. 39 Eliz. poſſeſſed of goods of the value of 500 l. pawned them the ſame day and year to the Plaintiff; and was alſo indebted to the Plaintiff for ſilver plate delivered to the Wife of the Lord Burgh 25 l. That the Defendant 9. May, 40 Eliz. in Conſideration the Plaintiff would at the Defendant's requeſt deliver to the ſaid Lady Burgh being then a Widow, the ſaid goods then being of the value of 500 l. pawned to him for 403 l. 6 s. 8 d. by the Defendant to be payed, promiſed he would pay to the Plaintiff the 25 l. when he ſhould be required. And the Plaintiff alledged in his Declaration, That 9. May, 40 Eliz. at the Defendant's requeſt, upon the payment of the 403 l. 6 s. 8 d. he delivered to the Lody Burgh the goods pawned to him. And Licet ſuch a day he requeſted, the Defendant had not paid to him the 25 l. Upon Non Aſſumpſit, being found for the Plaintiff; It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Conſideration was not good; becauſe it is not averred, That the Lord Burgh agreed, for the Plaintiff ſold and delivered to his Wife; and alſo for that it is not averred, That the goods were of the value of 500 l. at the time of delivery of them to the Lady Burgh; but theſe Exceptions were not allowed of: For the firſt is to be neceſſarily intended: and for the ſecond; the ſame being delivered the ſame day the Aſſumpſit was made, the goods ſhall be intended to be of the ſame value of 500 l. And 3. It was holden, That the pleading of the goods being for 400 l. and the goods alledged to be of the value of 500 l. the delivery of them for 400 l. was holden to be a good Conſideration. Mich. 8 Jac. B. R. Barreclock and Michell's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 256.

36. Note: If a man delivers goods to a common Carrier, to be delivered at ſuch a place certain and ſign in London; and undertakes rationabiliter to content him for his carriage, and the Carrier promiſeth to deliver them at the place aforeſaid, but doth not do it: It was holden per Curiam, That the Conſideration that he would rationabiliter content him for the Carriage, not promiſing any ſum certain, is a ſufficient Conſideration to ground an Aſſumpſit. And it was adjudged, That upon ſuch a Promiſe, the Action did lye in the principal Caſe. Mich. 8 Jac. in B.R. Rogers and Heads Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 262.

37. A. was indebted to the Plaintiff in 60 l. and made his Wife his Executrix, and entreated her to pay that debt, and dyed: ſhe proved the Will; and pretextu predict. Teſtament. was poſſeſſed of a Leaſe for years; In conſideration the Plaintiff would not moleſt her, but would give her a Quarters day, viz. till Michaelmas next, ſhe promiſed to pay the 60 l. It was moved, That no Action lay againſt the Executrix, being upon a Contract; and alſo, becauſe it is not averred in the Declaration, That ſhe had Aſſetts in her hands; for the Allegation, that ſhe was poſſeſſed of a Term pretextu Teſtament. doth not imply ſhe hath Aſſetts. But it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; For the Loan implyes a promiſe, and the Action is grounded upon her promiſe; and being alledged, that ſhe had the Term, It ſhall be intended ſhe had it as Aſſetts, and his forbearance of Suit is a good cauſe of Action. Paſch. 9 Jac. B.R. Bond and Payne's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 273.

38. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That at the Defendant's requeſt he was bound in a Recognizance for the Defendant's appearing before the Juſtices of the Goal-delivery at the next Aſſizes, he obtained a Certiorari out of the Kings-Bench, directed to the Juſtices of Goal-Delivery of the ſaid County: and that 10 Martii An. 8. the Writ was delivered to the Juſtices of Aſſize there, and was allowed. It was adjudged, That that did not excuſe him of his appearance; for he ought to have had his appearance recorded; and, that not being done, he had broken his promiſe: and alſo the plea is not good, becauſe it is not alledged, That he delivered the Writ, which is Iſſuable; and ſo the Plea not good: and the Action maintainable. And it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trinit. 9 Jac. B. R. Roſſe and Pyes Caſe. Cro. 9. Part. 281.

39. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That in conſideration of 10 l. paid by him to the Defendant, he promiſed to make him a Leaſe for 21 years, 11 April. 9 Jac. and the Defendant being poſſeſſed of a houſe adjoyning, whereof a Shop was parcel, promiſed the Plaintiff he would not ſuffer the Trade of a Joyner to be uſed in the ſaid Shop during the Term: and alledged that he paid him the 10 l. and that the ſame day the Defendant demiſit tenementa predict. for 21 years in forma predict. and 10 Aprilis, 10 Jac. he permitted J. S. to uſe the Trade of a Joyner in Shoppa parcell Meſſuagii predict. contra formam aſſumptionis predict. It was moved, the Declaration was not good, becauſe he doth not ſay in Shoppa predict. nor that it was parcel of the houſe tempore aſſumptionis; nor that the promiſe was made during the Term: But all theſe Exceptions were diſallowed of by the Court, and Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. Mich. 11 Jac. B. R. Rogers and Parry's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 326.

40. In Aſſumpſit; the Plaintiff declared, That in conſideration the Plaintiff paid the Defendant a ſum of money, the Defendant promiſed to take his ſon to be his Apprentice for ſeven years in ſuch a Trade, and to find him meat, drink, and apparel durante termino predict. and aſſigns breach, for that he did not find him meat, drink, and apparel; but doth not aver in his Declaration, That he put him as an Apprentice, or that the other accepted him: And for theſe cauſes the Court held the Declaration not to be good. And although it was ſaid, That it ſhall be intended, the breach being aſſigned, in not finding him meat, &c. durante termino Apprenticii; yet in regard the Plaintiff had not ſufficiently intituled himſelf to the Action, and the Defeddant pleaded Non-Aſſumpſit, which is found againſt him; yet it was adjudged for the Defendant. Mich. 14 Jac. B. R. Talkarn and Wigg's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 406.

41. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared; Whereas J. S. was in Execution for 40 l. the Defendant ſaid; Deliver J. S. out of Execution; and what it coſts you, I will repay: whereupon the Plaintiff diſcharged J. S. The Defendant ſaid, That after the Aſſumpſit, and before any thing was done in it, he he forbad the Plaintiff to meddle therein, and that he would not ſtand to his promiſe. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff upon a Demurrer. For a man may diſcharge an Aſſumpſit made to himſelf; but not an Aſſumpſit made by himſelf. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 13 Jac. rott. 543, B. R. Hunford and Piles Caſe. Cro. 2. 42. In an Aſſumpſit brought by an Executor; he declared, That the Defendant in conſideration the Teſtator would buy and pay for the Defendant 23 yards of Velvet, and three yards of Broad-Cloath, and make him a Cloak, promiſed the Teſtator he would pay ſuch moneys as he ſhould pay for the Wares, and would alſo pay him ſo much as he ſhould deſerve for the making of the ſaid Cloak: and alſo declared, That the Defendant was indebted to the Teſtator in 27 l. for a doublet and pair of Hoſe of Velvet made for him; and that he had not paid the moneys. The Defendant pleaded, That at the time of the ſeverall Promiſes he was within age. And it was adjudged for the Defendant, in regard it doth not appear, that this Cloak, Doublet, and Hoſe were for the Defendant himſelf: and alſo if it had been ſo averred, and for his own wearing; yet becauſe it was not averred, they were neceſſary and convenient for him to wear according to his eſtate and degree; therefore the promiſe did not bind him. Hill. 17 Jac. B. R. Ive and Cheſter's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 560. See Stone and Withypoles Caſe. Sect.

43. In Aſſumpſit; The Plaintiff declared, That in conſideration he would marry the Teſtator, promiſed he would leave her worth 500 l. and the Plaintiff alledged in facto he did not leave her worth 500 l. It was moved, an Aſſumpſit doth not lye againſt an Executor upon a Collateral promiſe of the Teſtator, and that the perſonal contract was determined by the Inter-marriage. But it was otherwiſe adjudged; and if a Releaſe had been made, the debt had not been determined; for it never was a duty in the Husband, nor could be releaſed by him. Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; and the Judgment affirmed in a Writ of Errour, That the Action will lye againſt the Executors of the Husband. Hill. 17 Jac. B. 44. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared; Whereas the Defendant's Teſtator was indebted to him 33 l. In conſideration the Plaintiff would forbear to ſue the Defendant untill he had execution upon ſuch a Judgment, the Defendant promiſed to pay the ſaid 33 l. upon Requeſt after he had obtained Execution of ſuch Judgment; and alledged, he had obtained execution of the ſaid Judgment, et licet ſæpius requiſitus, &c. It was moved, It did not appear how he was indebted, nor that the Defendant had Aſſetts. But adjudged for the Plaintiff, becauſe it is an Action grounded upon his own promiſe, and it ſhall be intended he was indebted, otherwiſe he would not have promiſed. Mich. 18 Jac. B. 45. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant was a Mercer, and kept a Shop in N. and had his Shop furniſhed with old ſullied Wares: and the Plaintiff had a Shop there furniſhed with new and freſh Wares; And in conſideration that the Plaintiff would buy of him his Wares in his Shop, and pay for them ſuch prizes as he paid when he firſt bought them, The Defendant promiſed he would not any longer keep any Shop at N. and the Plaintiff declared, That he bought the Defendant's ſaid Wares, and paid 300 l. for them, the price the Defendant bought them at; whereas the Wares were not worth then 100 l. and yet the Defendant contrary his promiſe, kept his ſaid Shop there, and furniſhed it with new Wares, to the Plaintiff's damage of 500 l. It was moved, in Arreſt of Judgment, it being upon Non-Aſſumpſit found for the Plaintiff, That the Aſſumpſit was againſt Law, being to reſtrain the uſe of a lawful Trade. But all the Juſtices held, It was a good Aſſumpſit, for it is voluntary: and that a man upon a valuable conſideration may reſtrain himſelf that he will not uſe his Trade in ſuch a Town; which is uſual in London: and volenti non fit injuria; and it is not like the caſe of 2 H. the Caſe of the Dyer, for there he was compelled to enter into Bond, not to uſe the Trade of a Dyer: and yet in that caſe the Defendant durſt not demur; and upon the matter it is but the ſelling of his Cuſtome; and leaving another to gain it: and a Preſcription to reſtrain one to uſe a Trade in ſuch a place, is good. And Paſch. 18 Jac. Bragg and Tanner's Caſe was agreed, where one for 10 s. promiſed to pay 100 l. if he thence forward kept any Draper's Shop in Newgate-Market; that the Aſſumpſit was good: And in the principal Caſe, upon a Writ of Errour in the Exchequer-Chamber, the Judgment was affirmed by all the Juſtices. Hil. 17 Jac. rott. 1265. B. R. Broad and Follet's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 596.

46. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That he let the Defendant a Ware-houſe in D. and the Defendant promiſed to pay to him 9 s. for every

Week

Week that he occupied it; and alledged, that he occupied it 27 Weeks; and for not payment upon Requeſt, he brought the Action. It was moved, That this was a Leaſe at Will of the Ware-houſe, and the 8 s. weekly was in the nature of a Rent; and ſo Aſſumpſit did not lye for it. The Court agreed, That for a Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe, Aſſumpſit did not lye: But ſaid, This was but a Promiſe, and not a Leaſe, and that it is not any Rent, but meerly a Promiſe in conſideration of occupying; and therefore the Action did well lye. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 18 Jac. B. R. Dorrill and Morgan's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 596. See Hill. 20 Jac. B. R. Slack and Bowſal's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 668. Aſſumpſit to pay a Rent is admitted to be good.

47. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared; In conſideration the Plaintiff would lend to the Defendant 7 l. and would accept of a Bond of 80 l. of J. S. and a Letter of Attorney to ſue it; and would promiſe to releaſe the Defendant of all Actions and Demands; The Defendant aſſumed, That if the Plaintiff could not recover from J. S. 40 l. within ſuch a time, he would pay that 40 l. to him upon Requeſt: and he alledged the payment of the 7 l. and the acceptance of the Bond of 80 l, and the Letter of Attorney; and that he releaſed to the Defendant all Actions and Demands; and that the Defendant had not according to his promiſe paid him the 40 l. licet requiſitus: (although he could not receive from J. S. the 40 l. licet requiſitus). Upon Non Aſſumpſit, It was moved, That the Releaſe had extinguiſhed the Action upon the Plaintiff's own ſhewing. But the Court held the Action maintainable, for that the Releaſe is part of the Conſideration; and though it be a Releaſe of all Actions and Demands, it doth not diſcharge what is future, according to Hoes Caſe. C. 5. 48. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared; Whereas the Defendant had a Fieri facias for 61 l. of the goods of J. S. and delivered that Writ to the Sheriff to whom it was directed; and affirmed to the Plaintiff, That the Woollen Cloath in the Shop of C. S. were the Wares of J. S. lyable to the execution, and required the Plaintiff to execute it. That the Defendant then and there in conſideration the Plaintiff would ſeize the ſaid Cloath for the ſaid Execution, promiſed the Plaintiff he would enter Bond to the Sheriff when he ſhould be required in any reaſonable ſum, to ſave the Sheriff and the Plaintiff harmleſſe againſt all perſons, for entring the ſaid Shop, and taking the ſaid goods in Execution; and the Plaintiff giving credit to his promiſe, entred the Shop, and took the ſaid goods in execution; for which C. S. ſued him in Treſpaſs, and recovered againſt him 17 l. and the Defendant Licet requiſitus had not entred Bond to the Sheriff. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That the promiſe was upon a Conſideration againſt Law, to take Execution of goods which were not the Defendants, and to ſave him harmleſs againſt all perſons. But it was adjudged, the Conſideration was good, and requiring the Sheriff to do execution, it is reaſonable he ſhould ſave him harmleſſe; and the promiſe to give a Bond in a reaſonable penalty, is good enough; though not agreed what the penalty ſhould be: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 20 Jac. B. R. Arundel and Gardiner's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 652 See Sect. 41.

49. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That whereas he at the Defendant's requeſt demiſed to one J. S. his houſe in L. rendring 5 s. Quarterly; The Defendant promiſed, That if J. S. did not pay the Rent, that he would pay it; and alledged J. S. virtute dimiſſionis entred; and was poſſeſſed, and had not paid the Rent. The Defendant pleaded Non-Aſſumpſit; and found againſt him, and Judgment given; and he brought Errour in the Exchequer-Chamber, and aſſigned, the entry is alledged before the Term began; and ſo it is a diſſeiſin, and no Rent due; but the Court held the Rent to be due upon the contract; and the promiſe is the cauſe of the Action. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 21 Jac. B. R. Brookbank and Taylor's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 684.

50. Note: It was Reſolved, That every Contract executory impoſes in it ſelf an Aſſumpſit: For when one doth agree to pay mony, or to deliver any thing, by that he doth aſſume or promiſe to pay or deliver the thing, and therefore when he ſelleth any goods to another, and agreeth to deliver them at a day to come, and the other in conſideration thereof, agreeth to pay ſo much money at ſuch a day; in this caſe both parties may have an Action of Debt, or an Action upon the Caſe upon an Aſſumpſit; for the mutual executory agreement of both parties, impoſes in themſelves as well a Reciprocal Action upon the Caſe, as an Action of Debt; and a barre in an Action of Debt, is a good barre in an Action upon the Caſe, upon an Aſſumpſit brought upon the ſame Contract. 44 Eliz. C. 4 Part. 92. Slades Caſe.

51. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That at the requeſt of B. he made a Gown for the ſaid A. which lay by him, becauſe it was not paid for: And the Defendant in conſideration the Plaintiff would deliver the ſaid Gown to the ſaid A. promiſed to the Plaintiff, that he would pay as much as the Gown was worth: and ie facto ſaid, That upon that promiſe he delivered the Gown to A. and that that it was worth 15 l. and he requested the Defendant to pay it, and he refused. Upon Assumpsit brought, and found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given, Errour was brought. It was assigned, It is uncertain to whom the money should be paid. 2. That the Consideration was not good, because the Defendant had no benefit by the delivery of the Gown to A; and also the delivery to A. is not said to be to her own use. But notwithstanding these, It was Resolved by all the Justices, That the Declaration was good; and the promise to pay, shall be intended to the Plaintiff; otherwise the promise should be idle; and also the delivery of the Gown out of his hands at the Defendant's request, is a sufficient Consideration. And it is usually to lay down an incertainty, viz. tantum quantum meruit; The Judgment was affirmed. Trinit. 3 Car. in the Exchequer. Roberts and Sharp's Case. Cro. 1. Part. 55.

52. Note: It was Resolved by all the Justices, That an Action upon the Case upon an Assumpsit, lyes not upon a general Assumpsit to pay a Rent: But if the Consideration be, That he should forbear the Rent untill such a day, or upon such a special Consideration, there the Action doth lye. Hill. 9 Car. B. R. Brett and Read's Case. Cro. 1. Part. 250.

53. A man promised to go such a Voyage in such a Ship before August following; and in an Assumpsit brought for non-performance, The Defendant pleaded, That before any breach, the Plaintiff at such a place exoneravit cum; It was said, The pleading of this discharge was not good, without shewing how. But the Court was of Opinion, That in as much as it was a Promise which was grounded upon word, it might be discharged by word before any breach; for eodem modo quæ oritur, eodem modo dissolvitur. Mich. 10 Car. B. R. Langden and Stokes Case. Cro. 1. Part. 279.

54. In Assumpsit; the Case was, A. by Will devised 60 l. to the Plaintiff, to be paid to him at his age of 21 years, and made his wife his Executrix, and left Assets; the Wife took to Husband the Defendant, the Plaintiff came of Age, and the Husband and Wife paid the Plaintiff 53 l. who gave the Defendant and his Wife a generall Release: The Defendant afterwards, in consideration that the Plaintiff at the Defendant's request had made the generall Release, promised the Plaintiff, that if his Wife did not pay the 7 l. residue of the Legacy in her life time, that he would pay it him after his Wives death; and the Wife did not pay it in her life time, per quod Actio accrevit: The Defendant demurrs upon the declaration: It was said, here is not a continuing consideration, but nudum pactum unde non oritur Actio. But the Opinion of the Court was, It was a good Promise; for if it had bin made at the time of the Release, it had been clearly good: and though it be after the Release, yet in regard it was made at the Defendant's request, and the Defendant hath the benefit of the continuance of the Release, upon this consideration it is good enough. H. 11. Car. Rot. 774. Townsend and Hunt's Case. Cro. 1. Part. 295.

55. In Assumpsit: The Plaintiff declared, that at the Defendant's request he amended such a Boat and diverse Boats of the Defendant's, and that the Defendant promised to pay him for his labour and charges about the amendment of the said Boats, tantum quantum meruit, and he alledges quod meruit 30 l. Upon Non Assumpsit found for the Plaintiff, It was moved that the Declaration was not good for the Intricacy, and the Defendant cannot know how much to pay: like Playter's Case. C. 2. Part. 34. But it was adjudged that the Declaration was good enough; and the Defendant (at whose request the Boats were amended) might well take conusance what Boats he desired to have repaired: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. 56. Assumpsit. The Case was; The Defendant promised the Plaintiff, That if the Plaintiff at the Defendant's instance would marry the Defendant's daughter, he would pay unto him 20 l. and give him 20 French pieces, which amounts to 6 l. It was moved, The Declaration was not good, for that the promise was ceremonial, if he ad instantiam, &c. and he doth not say, That he married her ad instantiam Defendentis, which he ought to have added. But the Court agreed, That he marrying her, It shall be intended ad instantiam Defendentis. It was also agreed, That the 20 French pieces, shall be French Crowns, which are the common Coyn of France here known. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trinit. 6 Car. B. R. Poynter and Poynter's Case. Cro. 1. Part. 141.

57. Assumpsit. The consideration was; Whereas the Defendant was indebted to the Plaintiff in such a sum; that the Plaintiff pro aliquo tempore should forbear; he promised. It was adjudged, That pro aliquo tempore is so short a time, that it is no Consideration, no more then per Paululum tempus. Trinit. 11 Car. B. R. rott. 687. Tolson and Clerk's Case. Cro. 1. Part. 316.

58. Assumpsit. The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant promised him, in Consideration that he would procure J. S. to be presented and instituted to the Chappel of the Tower, it being a Donative in the King's gift, to pay him 20 l. upon request: and layes in facto, that by his means the King presented him, and he was Instituted and Inducted:

Inducted: and upon Non Assumpsit, Judgment was for the Plaintiff; and thereupon a Writ of Errour brought, It was moved, That the Consideration was good, for that it is for his sollicitation and labour in procuring him to be presented, which in it self is no Simony, nor cause to avoid the Contract; and also it is a spiritual offence, of which the Common-Law takes no Notice. But the Court held the Consideration to be illegal; for the consideration is to have mony to procure him to be Rector of the Church, which is a Simoniacal Contract; and the Common Law doth take Notice of such Simoniacal Contracts. Also the Declaration is not good, for the promise is to pay after that he is Rector: and he shewes, he was Rector by his procurement upon this promise; which cannot be, for he never was Rector, but a person disabled by the Simoniacal Contract: the Judgment was reversed. Mich. 9 Car. in B. R. Muskaller and Toddetick's Case. Cro. 1. Part. 263.

59. Assumpsit. The Plaintiff declared, That he being an Attorney, Mich. 14 Jac. prosecuted an Attachment of Priviledge against the Testator returnable in Hillary Term; and the Testator knowing of it, In consideration that at his request the Plaintiff would forbear to prosecute the said Writ any further against the Testator, the Testator did promise to pay him 50 l. After Verdict, it was moved, That the Action would not lye against an Executor. 2. It is not averred, the Plaintiff had good cause of Action. But it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for Suits are not presumed to be causeless, and, the promise argues he desired to stay the Suit: And though it did not discharge the Action, yet it was a losse of the Writ, and a delay of the Suit, which was both a benefit to the one, and a losse to the other. Hill. 15 Jac. rott. 1765. Bidwell and Cotton's Case. Hob. 216.

60. Assumpsit was made to the Mother, in Consideration that she would give her consent to the marriage of her daughter with the Defendant, the Defendant promised to give her 100 l. Upon Assumpsit brought, It was found for the Plaintiff; It was moved in arrest of Judgment, That this was no Consideration; for there is nothing to be done on the Plaintiff's part either of travel or charge, but to give a naked consent, which is not necessary to a marriage; nor is she her heir, or in her power as Guardian by Nature, or otherwise. But the Court held it a good Consideration, for that the Mother by the Law of Nature, and in the affection of the daughter, bare a special stroke to encline the daughters mind one way or other in her marriage, and the desire of her consent, and the working of it, shews it; and therefore it shall be presumed to be of importance to have her consent, which being had at the Plaintiff's request, shall be accounted a good Consideration to ground an Assumpsit upon. Hill. 11 Jac. rott. 1866. C. B. Grisley and Lother's Case. Hob. 10.

61. Assumpsit. In consideration, that the Plaintiff promised to deliver to the Defendant to his own use a Cow; the Defendant promised to deliver to him 50 s. In Assumpsit brought, it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, and that the Plaintiff need not deliver the delivery of the Cowe, because it is a promise for a promise. But Note; the promises must be at one time, or else they will be both Nuda pacta. Hill. 12 Jac. rott. 131. Nicholls and Reinbreds Case. Hob. 80.

62. Assumpsit. The Plaintiff declared, In Consideration he should dye divers Devonshire Kersies into several Colours, naming so many as amounted in the whole to be 60; the Testator did promise to pay him a certain sum of money for the dying of every several Cloath: and the Plaintiff averrs, he dyed the said Cloathes, amounting to 59 in toto: whereas indeed they were 60; and that the money came to 19 l. Found and adjudged for the Plaintiff: It was said, It appeares he should have dyed 60, and he dyed but 59; and so the summ aforesaid not due: and also the Jury hath assessed dumages occasione debiti prædict. whereas it should have been occasione non performationis Assumptionis. But after Errour brought, the Court affirmed the Judgment; for that it was first averred, he dyed All; which appeared to be 60: and the other was but a misnumbring: and, 2. It was a debt, and a promise implyed upon it. Trinit. 12 Jac. Rott. 1599. Boyle and Gird's Case. Hob. 89.

63. Note: It was agreed by all the Justices, That a meer voluntary Courtesie will not carry a Consideration to uphold an Assumpsit: But if that Courtesie be moved by Suit or request of the party that gives the Assumpsit, it will bind; for the promise although it followes, yet is not naked, but couples with the Suit before, and the merits of the party procured by the Suit; and therefore in the Case, where the Defendant requested the Plaintiff, that he would labour and endeavour to obtain his pardon for a Felony: and the Plaintiff doth his endeavour by riding and journeying at his own charges from London to Royston, and back again to the King to obtain his pardon; and in consideration thereof, the Defendant doth promise to pay the Plaintiff 100 l. though it did not appear that he did any thing towards the obtaining of the Defendant's pardon but riding up and down: Yet the same was holden a good Consideration to bring an Assumpsit upon. Mich. 13 Jac. in C. B. rott. 712. Lampleigh and Brathwait's Case. Hob. 105.

64. An Aſſumpſit: The Plaintiff declared, That the husband of the Teſtator was indebted to the Plaintiff in 200 l. and the Defendant her ſelf was likewiſe indebted to the Plaintiff in 70 l. and upon an Accompt, the Defendant promiſed the payment of the moneys, which ſhe did not pay: whereupon the Plaintiff brought one Action of Aſſumpſit againſt the Defendant. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Defendant was to be charged by two ſeveral Actions, becauſe ſhe was charged in two manners, one in her own Right, and the other as Adminiſtratrix; and therefore the Judgment given upon One Aſſumpſit brought, was reverſed per Curiam upon a Writ of Errour. 65. In Aſſumpſit: the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant promiſed to deliver ſo many Oats to the Plaintiff, as, according to the rate of 10 s. 9 d. the Quarter, did amount to 52 l. to be delivered at ſuch a time; which money the Plaintiff promiſed to pay at ſuch a time; and that the ſaid Oats at ſuch a Rate came to 96 Quarters and 6 buſhels, which the Defendant had not delivered to him. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit, it was found for the Plaintiff. Errour was brought, and Errour aſſigned, That 96 Quarters and 6 buſhels at the rate aforeſaid, came to 52 l. 3 farthings; and ſo no breach. But the Judgment was affirmed, becauſe it was not certain, whether it amounted to any more; and becauſe it was not poſſible in effect to mince the Meaſure, ſo that it hit the juſt ſum, et de minimis non curat Lex. Hill. 11 Jac. 67. The Defendant promiſed the Plaintiff, That if he would forbear his Suit againſt one who had aſſaulted and beaten him, that he would pay to the Plaintiff ſo much money as he was damnified by the Aſſault and Battery. After Verdict, It was moved, It did not appear, that the Plaintiff had any Intention to ſue the party for the battery, ſo it is no Conſideration; and alſo he doth not ſet forth, he gave Notice what damages he ſuſtained. But the Court ſaid, The Defendant took Notice of it, when he made the Aſſumpſit; and the requeſt to perform the Aſſumpſit, implyes Notice. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 23 Car. B. 68. In the caſe of an Aſſumpſit it was holden per Curiam, That if one promiſeth to ſave another harmleſs from any thing, he that made the promiſe ought to do it at his perill without requeſt; and the requeſt is not material, although the promiſe ſay, upon Requeſt: But if he be damnified, If I do recompence him upon requeſt made, the promiſe is not broken. 70. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in conſideration that the Plaintiff would deliver to the Defendant's ſon ſuch Wares as his ſon ſhould deſire, did promiſe the Plaintiff, That he would pay the Plaintiff for them; and averrs, he delivered certain Wares to the ſon, and the Defendant did refuſe to pay for them. It was moved, That it doth not appear the ſon of the Defendant did deſire the Wares, and the Declaration ought to ſet forth an Actual deſire. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Acceptance of the Wares was an actual deſire, and that is more then a verbal deſire. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 1649. Johnſon and Abington's Caſe. Styles. 163.

71. A. and B. brought Aſſumpſit againſt J. S. and declared, That the Defendant in conſideration of 10 l. paid by the Plaintiffs to the Defendant, promiſed to the Plaintiffs, to procure certain Cattel of the Plaintiffs taken from them by a third perſon, to be redelivered to them ſuch a day; and for not performance, they brought their Action: And being found for the Plaintiffs, The Defendant moved, That the Plaintiffs ought to have ſeveral Actions, and not one Joynt Action, in regard the promiſe upon which the Action was brought, was not one promiſe, but ſeveral promiſes made to each Plaintiff. But the better Opinion of the Court was, and ſo the Jury found, That the promiſe was made to them both, and not ſeveral: and the Conſideration given is intire, and cannot be divided, and there is no inconvenience in joyning in the Action in this caſe: but if one had brought the Action alone, it might have been queſtionable: and Judgment was given for the Plaintiffs. 72. An Executor brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt an Adminiſtratrix; and declared,

In conſideration that he would forbear Suit till ſhe had taken out Letters of Adminiſtration, ſhe did promiſe to pay the Plaintiff a certain ſum of money owing to him by the Inteſtate. Judgment was for the Plaintiff. And upon Errour brought, it was adjudged, the ſame was no good conſideration; for that the Defendant was not lyable to be ſued as Adminiſtratrix, untill ſhe had taken out Letters of Adminiſtration, except there were a Cauſe depending, as here there was not; and it doth not appear that ſhe did intermeddle with the goods; nor is the Defendant compellable to take Letters of Adminiſtration, for they may be granted to the next of Kin by the Ordinary: the Judgment was reverſed. 73. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared; That in conſideration that the Plaintiff would ſurrender to the Defendant and his heirs a Copy-hold according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, The Defendant did promiſe to pay the Plaintiff 500 l. A Verdict was for the Plaintiff. The Defendant moved, The Conſideration on the Plaintiff's part was not performed; for the Conſideration was, to ſurrender to the Plaintiff and his heirs; and he hath ſet forth the ſurrender, to be to the hands of a Copy-hold Tenant to the uſe of the Defendant, which is no ſurrender, untill it be preſented in Court. And of that Opinion was Rolls, Chief Juſtice; for it is not an effectual ſurrender, untill it be preſented in Court, though it be expreſſed to be ſecundum Conſuetudinem Mariti. Paſch. 1651. B. 74. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in conſideration that ſhe the Plaintiff would leave her Father's houſe, and come to the houſe of the Defendant at ſuch a place, did promiſe unto her, that he would marry her; and ſets forth, that thereupon ſhe did leave her Father's houſe, and did come to the Defendant's houſe et obtulit ſe in maritagium conjungi. Upon Verdict for the Plaintiff, It was moved, That ſhe did not ſhew When ſhe left her Father's houſe; nor that ſhe gave him notice of it. The Queſtion was, Whether the words, Obtulit ſe, implyed Notice. It was ſaid, That if the thing be to be done by the party himſelf, Notice ought to be; otherwiſe, if it be to be done by a ſtranger. Jerman, Juſtice, ſaid, There is no tender of Marriage, if the other party be not there. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 1651. B. R. Peck and Ingram's Caſe. Styles. 263. & 273.

75. Note: It was agreed by the Court, That if a man doth promiſe to a Feme-Covert, That if ſhe will procure her husband to levy a Fine of ſuch Land, that he will give her a Riding-Suit; That the Husband and Wife cannot joyn in an Action for breach of this promiſe. So if a Promiſe be made to the Husband, to pay a Legacy which was given to his Wife; the Action muſt not be brought in the names of the Husband and Wife, but in the husband's name onely; and ſo it was adjudged, in an Aſſumpſit. Mich. 1651. B.R. in Cottrell and Theobalds Caſe. Styles. 297.

76. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared; Whereas there was a ſpeech of a Marriage betwixt her and the Defendant: In conſideration that the Plaintiff would marry the Defendant; the Defendant did promiſe to her, that he would marry her; and afterwards the Defendant in conſideration that the Plaintiff would diſcharge the Defendant of his promiſe, did promiſe that he would pay to the Plaintiff 1000 l. and ſhe ſets forth, ſhe did diſcharge the Defendant of his promiſe of Marriage. Upon Non-Aſſumpſit and Verdict for the Plaintiff, It was moved, That here are two promiſes, and it is incertain to which the Declaration doth relate. And, 2. the promiſe is to diſſolve a Contract of Marriage, which is a thing illegal, and ſo no Conſideration. But per Curiam, here is a mutual promiſe made by both parties, and divers Actions have of late been brought for this cauſe, and have been adjudged good; and the Engagement to marry is not meerly a ſpiritual matter; and this Action is not to compell the Marriage upon the Contract, but to recover damages, and here is temporal loſſe; and therefore the Action doth well lye; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff: and it ſhall be intended, that the diſ-engagement was to the party himſelf. Trinit. 1651. B. R. Baker and Smith's Caſe. Styles. 295. & 303. 304.

77. Note; It was ſaid by Rolls, Chief Juſtice, If one make a Leaſe for years of Land rendring Rent; and afterwards the Leſſee promiſeth the Leſſor to pay the Rent, an Action will lye upon this Promiſe, if the promiſe be made at the time of the Leaſe made, but in the Action the promiſe muſt be expreſly averred to be ſo. 78. Aſſumpſit. The Plaintiff declared; That the Defendant in conſideration that the Plaintiff would forbear to proteſt a Bill of Exchange drawn upon the Defendant, did promiſe he would pay the moneys when he ſhould next come to London. It was moved upon a Verdict for the Plaintiff, That there was no Conſideration to ground the promiſe upon; for he doth not ſhew, that he came to London, but dyed at Plymouth. Per Curiam, the coming to London is not material; for the payment of the money was a duty; and the moneys to be paid were received beyond Sea; and ſo there is a duty and a good conſideration. Judgment for the Plaintiff. Hill. 1654. Pinchard and Fowk's Caſe. Styles 416.

79. The Debtee accepted of the Debtor 100 l. for his debt of 400 l. the Defendant upon payment of the mony, had a generall Releaſe; and afterwards promiſed, in conſideration that he would make a generall Releaſe, he would pay him the reſidue of the debt when he ſhould be able: The Debtor became able, and the Debtee ſued him for the reſidue upon that promiſe; The Debtor pleaded the Statute of 21. Jac. of Limitation of Actions, and that was to a Bill exhibited in Equity for the reſidue of the debt; It was moved for a Prohibition to the Court of Equity, which was denyed. 1. Becauſe there is no remedy but in Equity, for the Aſſumpſit made before the Releaſe was diſcharged by the Releaſe; and the Aſſumpſit made after, void for want of conſideration, the debt being releaſed before; and it is not within the Statute of Limitation of Actions becauſe it is onely a Truſt repoſed in the Debtor, that he will pay the reſidue when he is able. Hill. 17. Car. in B. R. adjunged.

80. In an Action upon the Caſe, for the payment of a Marriage portion; The Caſe was, That the Father promiſed to pay the Marriage-portion ad diem Maritagii or infra 10. dies poſt Maritagium: and in an Aſſumpſit brought, upon Non Aſſumpſit pleaded, it was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That in the Declaration it is not expreſſed, That Notice thereof was given by the Plaintiff to the Defendant, of the day of Marriage; It was adjudged that in this Caſe no Notice was to be given, the Promiſe being made by the Father, for the Law preſumes he had Notice of it, and Notice here is no part of the promiſe, and the requeſt onely implies a Notice; Wherefore it was agreed, that the Declaration was good; and a difference was taken where the payment is to be made to the party, and where to a ſtranger upon requeſt. See Coo. 6. Part. Boothe's Caſe. & Coo. 8. Part. Frances Caſe: and the Caſe was ſo adjudged this Term, as it was ſaid by Hitcham Serjeant; wherefore Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. Trin. 1. Car. Alſrey and Blackamore's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 326. 327.

81. Action upon Aſſumpſit againſt an Executor upon a promiſe made by the Teſtator for a Marriage-portion: Upon Non Aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved 1. That this is matter matrimoniall for which an Executor ſhall not be charged, if it were not by deed, and 45. E. 3. 24. and diverſe other books vouched to that purpoſe: Alſo, Trin. 13. Jac. in B. R. Sanders and Eſtabie's Caſe, and Herban and Eliot's Caſe in the Exchequer was vouched, where in the like Caſe Judgment being given in B. R. for the Plaintiff; The matter now alledged, was alledged there for Error, in the one Caſe where the promiſe was made by the Teſtator for a Marriage portion; and the other, where promiſe was made by the Teſtator, that if he married his Kinſwoman he promiſed to give him ſo much, and it was holden in the Exchequer; that the Executor was not to be charged with this promiſe of the Teſtator, the promiſe being to pay 60 l. and 10 l. Quarterly in Maritagium. 2. It was ſaid that here was no notice given of the day of Marriage; and if a man be bounden to pay another ſo much mony at the Marriage day of J. S. he ought to give notice to him of this. But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, and ſo reſolved, That the Action did well lye againſt the Executor upon the Aſſumpſit of the Teſtator: 2. It was holden, That no notice was requiſite to be given of the Marriage, although part of the mony was to be paid upon the Marriage day, for that the promiſe makes it a debt which ſtill continues; and two Preſidents were ſhewed, one Trin. 44. Eliz. in B. R. Rott. 238. Hodges and Waveley's Caſe: where the matter demanded is become a debt no notice is to be given. And the other Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. Rot. 705. Bradley and Cobb's Caſe: where Judgment was given upon ſuch a promiſe without any Notice given; and a difference was taken, where a collateral thing is to be done upon a Marriage day; and where payment of mony and a due debt to the party himſelf, and where it was objected, that the Action did not lye againſt the Executor, being for a thing which it was impoſſible for the Teſtator himſelf to perform, it being a Marriage-portion to be paid upon promiſe after his death; It was anſwered, That 37 Eliz. Judgment was given here in ſuch Caſe before Slade's Caſe was reported. Co. 4. Part. 92. That an Action lyeth againſt an Executor upon an Indebitatus Aſſumpſit; and in this Caſe it is not to pay after his death, but it is to be paid tempore mortis: and if the Teſtator, upon a good conſideration, make promiſe to pay ſuch a ſum a year after his death, his Executor ſhal be charged with it: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 14. Jac. in B. R. Berisford and Gooddenſh's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 235. 236. 237.

82. Upon Aſſumpſit, The Caſe was: Goods were pawned to a man by J. S. who ſaid in the preſence of the Defendant, That if J. S. would not pay him his mony, he would then ſell the pawn to raiſe the mony; whereupon the Defendant ſaid, Keep the goods untill ſuch a day by you, and if he do not then pay you, I will pay you the meny and take the goods. Upon this the Plaintiff kept the goods by him without ſale; and the Defendant not paying the mony, the Plaintiff brought his Action; It was agreed per Curiam, That this was a good conditionall bargain and ſale of goods, and that in th's Caſe there was a good conſideration to raiſe a promiſe. Trinit. 13. Jac. in B. R. Copper and Dickenſon's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 70.

83. In Aſſumpſit: The Caſe was, The Defendant was a Suiter to a young maid who did ſojourn in the Plaintiff's houſe; afterwards the Defendant did marry her, and did then deſire the Plaintiff that his Wife might ſtill continue to ſojourn with him for a year longer, to which the Plaintiff agreed; and afterwards, which was about the middle of the year, the Defendant did promiſe, that in conſideration that he would ſuffer his Wife to continue there as a ſojourner for the whole year, that he would pay him for the whole year, as well for that which was paſt as for that which was to come; It was objected, that Aſſumpſit did not lye being grounded upon a conſideration which was paſt, See 10. Eliz. Dyer 272. But it was agreed by the whole Court, that the conſideration was good to raiſe the promiſe; for although the Plaintiff had agreed to ſojourn the Defendant's Wife for a year, yet there was no certain ſum agreed upon to be paid for the ſame, and therefore it was in his election to keep her till the end of the year or not, and therefore if the Defendant had not made him this promiſe, in the middle of the year, to pay him ſo much, he would not have ſojourned his Wife till the end of the year: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 17. Jac. in B. R. Cotten and Weſcot's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 187.

84. In Aſſumpſit: The Caſe was, A friend of the Defendant coming to the Plaintiff's houſe being an Inn-keeper in Ciceſter; and there ſick, the Defendant came thither, and hearing of it, ſaid to the Plaintiff, the Inn-keeper; Provide for him ſuch neceſſaries as he ſhall want, & pro omnibus talibus neceſſariis, did promiſe to him benè ſolvere: and the Plaintiff in his Declaration ſhewed that he found him neceſſaries amounting to ſuch a ſum: It was moved, The Declaration was not good becauſe he did not ſhew what neceſſaries in particular he provided for him: But it was the Opinion of the whole Court, that the Declaration was good, and that the generall Allegation, [That he had provided him neceſſaries] amounting to 15 l. was good: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 13. Jac. in B. R. Cryps and Sir Hen. Boynton's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3 Part. 31.

85. In Aſſumpſit: The Caſe was, The Plaintiff delivered certain Cloaths to the Defendant for ſo much, & ſic indebitatus fuit, to him in ſo much, The Defendant, poſtea in conſideratione indè, did promiſe to pay this a year after; Upon Non Aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, that this promiſe ſhould not bind him, (it being ſaid, poſtea in conſideratione indè, he promiſed), which promiſe is grounded upon a conſideration paſt: But it was reſolved per Curiam, that the promiſe here was grounded upon a good conſideration; for that the debt there remained, and no diſcharge could be made of it, but by payment. Mich. 14. Jac. in B. R. Hodge and Vavior's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 222.

86. In Aſſumpſit: The Caſe was, The Defendant being to account with the Plaintiff pro diverſis debitis, in ſimul computaverunt; and found upon the account, to be in arrearages in ſuch a ſum, & in conſideratione indè, the ſame day, the Defendant did promiſe to pay this at a certain day to come; at which time he failed to pay the ſame; and being found for the Plaintiff: upon Non Aſſumpſit, It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe it was not ſhewed the promiſe to be made in conſideration of forbearance, but in conſideratione indè: But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That in conſideratione indè, was a good conſideration without ſhewing any forbearance; for here is a duty preſently to be paid, or afterwards by promiſe to pay this. Trin. 14. Jac. in B. R. Johnſon and Cullamor's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 208.

87. In an Action upon the Caſe upon a Promiſe for a Horſe, The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant made him a promiſe in this manner, viz. That if the Plaintiff would make him a Leaſe of 21 years, of certain Land for 10 l. yearly Rent, he, in conſideration thereof, did promiſe to give him a Horſe, and ſets forth that he made a Leaſe to him of the Land; and he had not given him the Horſe: It being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved in arreſt of Judgment that the Plaintiff had not intituled himſelf to the Action; having ſet forth generally that he made him a Leaſe, making no mention of any Rent reſerved: It was the opinion of the whole Court, That by this Leaſe, thus made, without any Rent reſerved, he had not purſued the contract, and ſo by conſequence the Action was not maintainable for the Horſe; It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Paſc. 13. Jac. in B. R. Lea and Adam's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 35. 36.

88. In Aſſumpſit: The Caſe was, That J. S. being indebted to the Plaintiff in ſuch a ſum, for which the Plaintiff purpoſed to ſue him; for the preventing the ſuit, the Defendant came to the Plaintiff and deſired him to forbear him for a reaſonable time, and if he did not then pay the Plaintiff, the Defendant promiſed to pay the ſame to the Plaintiff; and the Plaintiff ſets forth, that upon this promiſe he did forbear to ſue him, and that J. S. did not pay him; It was moved that the Declaration was not good, becauſe it is not ſhewed therein, how J. S. became firſt indebted to the Plaintiff, & alſo becauſe it doth not ſhew certainly what time it ſhould be that he ought to forbear him: The Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Declaration was good, without ſhewing how indebitatus fuit; and alſo becauſe the Court ſhall judge what ſhall be ſaid to be a reaſonable time; and it appeared to the Court, that the Plaintiff did forbear him for 8 years, which is a reaſonable time. Trin. 14. Jac. in B. R. Lingen and Broughton's Caſe. Bolſt. 3. Part. 206.

89. In Aſſumpſit: the Caſe was, In conſideration of 40 l. given by the Plaintiff to the Defendant, the Defendant did promiſe to take the Son of the Plaintiff for his Apprentice for 9 years, and to teach him his Trade, and to find him, during all that time, with Meat, Drink, and Apparell; The Plaintiff ſets forth in his Declaration that he had paid him the 40 l. and that the Defendant, according to his promiſe, had not found his Son with Meat, Drink, and Apparell. Upon Non Aſſumpſit, It was found for the Plaintiff; It was moved in arreſt of Judgment, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe he hath not ſhewed therein that the Defendant had taken his Son to be his Apprentice, and if he never was Apprentice, then there could never be breach of promiſe. For the Plaintiff it was ſaid, That there were ſeverall conſiderations layed, the one not depending upon the other; and the Plaintiff hath layed the breach of one of them, viz. the not finding him with Meat, Drink, and Apparell: But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Declaration was not good. For if he hath not taken him his Apprentice, then the Term is not begun: for when he is Apprentice, he is to find him with Meat, &c. and the Plaintiff ought to have averred in his Declaration, that he had taken him for his Apprentice, and for want of ſuch averment, the Declaration is not good; and the Plaintiff is to do the firſt Act, viz. He is to put his Son to the Defendant to be his Apprentice: Adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 14. Jac. in B. R. Talton and Wright's Caſe. Bolſt. 3. Part. 221.

Actions upon Statutes.

1. NOte: Upon Aſſembly of all the Juſtices upon the King's Commandment, A Queſtion was moved, That if an Offence be made by a Statute, which was no offence at the Common-Law, and a penalty is appointed by the Act, to be recovered in money in any of the King's Courts of Record by Action of Debt; If this Offence and the penalty may be determined and Recovered by a Commiſſion of Oyer and Terminer in the Country? And the better Opinion of the Juſtices was, That it could not, but onely in the four Ordinary Courts of Record at Weſtminſter: But if no Court be appointed, it is otherwiſe: For then the King ſhall have his Prerogative to ſue in what Court he pleaſeth. Mich. 6 and 7 Eliz. Dyer. 236.

2. Two men being robbed of a Joynt ſum of money in the Hundred of W. brought a joynt Action againſt the Inhabitants of the ſaid Hundred, upon the Statute of Wincheſter. The Defendants pleaded, That they had purſued the Felons by three Towns, naming them in the ſaid Hundred, to the Town of A. in the ſaid Hundred next adjacent, and there levied Hue-and-Cry of the Inhabitants; It was adjudged to be no Plea; for that the Statute is not ſatisfied without apprehending of the parties, or of the Defendant's knowing their names, that ſo they might be Indicted and Outlawed. 22 Eliz. Dyer. 370. See now, the Statute of 27 Eliz.

3. In Debt brought upon the Statute of 5 E. 6. of Uſury; the Plaintiff in his Writ did miſ-recite the Statute, to be made 5 E. 6. The Plaintiff declared of a Loan of 85 l. for a moneth, for two marks of Intereſt and Uſury: and that the Defendant had and received the ſaid Uſury. The Defendant pleaded, Quod non habuit, nec recepit for the Loane of the ſaid ſum of 85 l. the ſaid two marks ultra the ſaid 85 l. It was holden by the Court, That the ſame was a Confeſſion of the Contract, which is within the Statute; and then the Court ex Officio ought to take Notice of it, and give Judgment accordingly; and the Statute provides for the puniſhment of Uſurers, viz. the Lenders, and not the Borrowers; and the Intent and hope of the gain, is within the Statute; although the party doth not receive the money hoped for: And if one promiſe to maintain, although he doth not maintain in fact; yet he is within the Statute of maintenance. See 1 Ma. Dyer. 95. Whitton's Caſe.

4. An Action upon the Statute of 1 & 2 Ma. cap. 12. was brought for leading of a diſtreſſe into a Forrain County; and becauſe the Statute giveth 4 l. and treble damages; therefore it was adjudged, That the Plaintiff ſhould not have Coſts, although they were aſſeſſed by the Jury. Hill. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 177. See upon the ſame Statute, If an Action be brought upon the ſecond branch of the ſaid Statute of impounding on intire diſtreſſe in ſeveral Pounds; there the place is not material: but it is otherwiſe in the firſt branch; for that there the diſtance of the place is the Offence. 7 Eliz. Dyer. 338.

5. A man who holdeth Lands of ſeveral Lords by Heriot-Cuſtome, to defraud one of the Lords of his Heriot, makes a fraudulent guift of all his Cattel heriotable, which are 20 horſes; upon an Action brought upon the Statute of 13 Eliz. cap.

cap. 5. of fraudulent Conveyances; It was holden, That the Action did well lye, by the intendment of the Statute; for the value of the 20 horſes. Manwood contra, Becauſe the Statute did never intend to recompence a man more then he was grieved and endamaged; and he was endamaged, but in not having one of the horſes for his Heriot. Trinit. 18 Eliz. in C. B. Dyer. 351.

6. Debt was brought upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 9. of Maintenance and buying of Titles, againſt two; and the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendants had bargained, granted, demiſed, and to Farm lett, for years to A. and B. a Meſſuage, and 11 Acres of Land belonging to it, of the value of 80 l. per annum. Of which Lands and Tenements, the Defendants themſelves, nor any of their Auncеſtors, nor they by whom the Defendants claimed the ſaid Tenements, were in poſſeſſion of them, nor of the Reverſion, nor Remainder of them, nor took the Rents or profits of them, by the ſpace of a whole year next before the ſaid Bargain, grant, and demiſe thereof made; for which the Action was brought: and the Defendants did demur upon the Declaration: divers Exceptions were taken to the pleadings: all which were not agreed by the Juſtices. The matters in Law agreed by the Juſtices, were theſe: 1. That this Statute, being a penal Law, ſhould not be taken by Equity. 2. That a Leaſe or promiſe for years made againſt the form of the Statute, was within the Statute as well as a Leaſe for life, or an eſtate in tail, or in Fee. But they held, That every Leaſe for years, where the Leſſor hath not been in poſſeſſion, nor received the profits by a year, was not within the danger of the Statute: As if a man recovereth in a Formedon or other Action, or entreth by Mortmane, they may leaſe the Lands for years, notwithſtanding that they have not been in poſſeſſion a whole year before: but a pretended Right or Title within the Statute is, where one is in poſſeſſion of Lands or Tenements, and another who is out of poſſeſſion, claims the ſame, or ſueth for the ſame: It was Agreed and Reſolved, That in the principal Caſe, the Plaintiff ought to have ſhewed, That the Defendants promiſed to Leaſe the ſame Lands, of which they were out of poſſeſſion, or ought to have averred, That the Leaſe was made for maintenance; which he hath not ſhewed nor averred. And therefore the Court was clear of Opinion, That it ſhall be intended, That the Defendants were in poſſeſſion; becauſe it is ſhewed, That they made the Leaſe; and he who makes a Leaſe, ſhall be intended in poſſeſſion: and if he be ſo, although it be but poſſeſſion for an hour, it is out of the Statute: and ſo it was adjudged for the Defendants. See Partridge and Strange, and Croker's Caſe. Hill. 7 E. 6. Plow. Com. 78. And ſee 6 E. 6. Dyer. 74. the ſame Caſe.

7. Note: Upon the ſaid Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 9. of Maintenance and buying of Title, theſe Points have been reſolved: 1. If A. be owner of Land in poſſeſſion, and B. who hath no Right to it, contracteth with another for the Land, although the Grant be meerly void, yet the Grantor and Grantee are both within the Intent of the Statute. 2. If the Diſſeiſee (being out of poſſeſſion) contracteth with another for the Land, he thereby makes his good Right, a pretended Right, and the Grantor and Grantee are both within the Statute. 3. Whoſoever hath the abſolute Ownerſhip of the Land, ſuch an Owner may at his pleaſure bargain or contract for the Land, and needs not ſtay a year before he make a Sale or Contract for it; and therefore the Mortgagee who hath redeemed his Land, may ſell it within the year; and if the Diſſeiſee doth Releaſe to the diſſeiſor, the diſſeiſor may ſell the Land within the year, and the ſame is out of the Statute. 4. If the Diſſeiſee, diſſeiſeth the heir of the diſſeiſor, although that he hath an ancient Right; yet for as much as his poſſeſſion is not lawfull, if he bargaineth the Land before he hath been in poſſeſſion by a year, he is within the Statute, becauſe that the heir of the diſſeiſor hath right to the poſſeſſion. 5. The buying of a Leaſe for years is within the Statute, and the Offender ſhall forfeit the value of the Land: But if a man maketh a Leaſe for years to try a Title in an Ejectione Firmæ, the ſame is out of the Statute, becauſe it is in courſe of Law; but if he maketh it to a Great Man, or to any other to ſway, or countenance the cauſe, the ſame is within the Statute. 6. A Cuſtomary Right, or a pretence unto it is within the Statute. 7. If there be Tenant for life the Remainder in Fee by good title, he in the Remainder may obtain the pretended Right or Title of another, becauſe the ſame is a means to extinguiſh Suits and troubles, and it cannot prejudice any one. 8. If a Diſſeiſor maketh a Leaſe for life or years, the Remainder for life, in Tail, or in Fee; he in the Remainder cannot take any promiſe or covenant, that when the Diſſeiſee hath entred upon the Land, and recovered the ſame, that then he ſhall convey the Land to him in the Remainder, to avoid the particular eſtate, becauſe the ſame is not a lawfull and reaſonable means. See Co. Inſtitut. 1. Part. 369. a diſcontinuance, or do any other prejudice to any in the Remainder, that his eſtate ſhould ceaſe, and that then they would ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of ſuch next in the remainder, according to the limitation of the deed: A. afterwards granted all his eſtate to his eldeſt ſon, who levied a Fine with proclamations of the Land, and 5 years paſſed; the Baſtard ſon ſuppoſing that he had title without any entry, made a Leaſe to try the title; and afterwards an Information was exhibited upon the Statute of 32 H.8. Cap. 9. of pretenſed titles againſt the Baſtard. And the Opinion of all the Juſtices was; 1. That that was a Leaſe within the Statute. 2. That no uſe upon the Deed could ariſe to the Baſtard, without an expreſſe Conſideration; becauſe he was not de Sanguine Patris, but in Law a ſtranger. 3. That if the Baſtard had any Title, it was barred by the Fine; and alſo he was not the next in the Remainder, to enter for the forfeiture, living the Father: who had a new Title devolved to him. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer. 374. Worſley's Caſe.

8. A. ſeiſed of Land, Covenanted with his eldeſt ſon and two others, to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life the Remainder to his eldeſt ſon in tail, remainder to B. his baſtard ſon in tail; and if any of them in Reverſion ſhould make any diſcon-

9. Debt was brought by Sir Rich. Buckley againſt the Sheriff of A. upon the Statute of 23 H.6. Cap. 13. concerning Elections of Knights to the Parliament. And the Plaintiff recited a great part of the Statute of 27 H. 8. Of the uniting of Wales to England; and of the Statute of 34 and 35 H. 8. That every County of Wales ſhould find a Burgeſſe to the Parliament of England, and that a Writ was directed to the Defendant Sheriff of A. to make Election of a Knight, &c. and Licet the Plaintiff was electus et nominatus, Knight for the County of A. to come for the ſame County to the Parliament, per majorem numerum Gentium within the ſaid County of A. by proteſtation that the ſaid Sheriff returned no Indenture of the ſaid Election; he in facto ſaid, he did not return the Plaintiff to be Knight for the ſaid County, but returned the ſaid Writ; and that one B. was elected Knight to come for the ſaid Parliament; for which he brought his Action for 100 l. And it was adjudged, That the Action did well lye: for they ſaid, Although the Statute of 27 H. 8. doth not make mention of the Return of Knights choſen to the Parliament; nor of the penalty againſt the Sheriff for his falſe Return; yet the Plaintiff ſhall have benefit of it, becauſe they of Wales ſhall have all ſuch Rights and Priviledges and Lawes within this Realm, as other the Subjects of the King of England ſhould have: And it was holden, That the Licèt electus fuit per majorem numerum Gentium was good and certain enough, without expreſſing the number of the Freeholders who made the Election. Trinit. 1 & 2 Ma. Plowden. Comment. 118. Sir Rich. Buckley's Caſe.

10. In Action upon the Statute 13 E. 1. of Winchester, Of Hue and Cry: The Caſe was, That the Plaintiff received monyes of the Lady Rich, and when he had this monie he was robbed of it, and the mony taken from him; and the Queſtion was, Whether the Plaintiff, who was the Servant and the Receivor, or the Lady, ſhould bring the Action againſt the Hundred? and the Opinion of the Juſtices was, that the Action brought by the Servant, the Receivor of the mony, was well brought againſt the Hundred; and Rodes, Juſtice, ſaid, That if my Servant be poſſeſſed of my goods, and be robbed, he ſhall have an Appeal. 11. It was reſolved upon the Statute of 13 E. 1. of Wincheſter, That if a man be robbed in the day in his Houſe, or in the night, the Hundred ſhall not be charged; for every one ought to defend his own Houſe at his perill: and ſuch a Robbery for which the Country ſhall be charged, ought to be done openly, ſo that the Country themſelvs may take notice of it: 27. 12. In an Information upon the Statute of 5. E. 6. cap. 15. of Regrators, &c. for buying of Wheat-meal, and converting it into Starch: It was reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the ſame was not within the Statute; But it was agreed by them, that if one bought Corn, and thereof made Meal, or Oatmeal, and ſold it, that this was within the Statute, for it is no alteration; but Starch is altred by a Trade, which is a Myſtery, and ſo it is not the ſame thing that was ſold. Trin. 9. Jac. in C. B. Weſt's Caſe. Owen 135. Note, Cook, Chief Juſtice, ſaid in the ſame Caſe, That it was adjudged Mich. 40. Eliz. in B. R. in Frenklingham's Caſe. Where one bought Barley, and made it in the houſe of another that it was within the Statute: and 42 Eliz. It was adjudged, If a Miller buyes Corn and grinds it and ſells it within his own houſe, it is within the Statute. ibid. 135.

13. It was referred to the Juſtices to certify to the Star-Chamber, Whether by the Statute of 3 H. 7. cap. 2, the taking of any Woman againſt her Will,

Will, and the marrying or deflowring of her, be Felony? Or only of ſuch a Woman who hath ſubſtance, or goods, or lands, or otherwiſe be an Heir apparant; the Act being generall: It was reſolved, that the body of the Act ſhall have relation to the Preamble; and that is, viz. Maid, Widdow, or Wife having ſubſtance, and to an Heir apparant, and no other: and ſo was it adjudged. 10. 14. A Writ de rationabili parte Bonorum was brought, and the Plaintiff declared of the Cuſtom of the County of N. and ſhewed that the Defendant deteined particular goods of the Plaintiff's, which did appertain to him as his part and portion. The Defendant pleaded Non detinet, and it was found by Verdict that the Plaintiff was intituled to this Action many years before the Statute of 21 Jac. of Limitation of Actions, and that he had not brought his Action within the time limited by the ſaid Statute, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, for that this Action is an originall Writ not mentioned in the Act, and although the Iſſue be Non detinet, yet it is no Action of Detinue, for Detinue lyes not for mony unleſſe it be in Bags, but rationabili parte bonorum lyes de pecuniis numeratis; and becauſe Statutes are not made to extend to thoſe Caſes which ſeldome or never happen, as this Caſe is; and this Statute of 21, Jac. ſhall not be extended to Equity. 15. In an Action brought againſt an Hundred upon the Statute of Hue and Cry: the poynt was, If one be aſſaulted to be robbed in one Hundred and he eſcape and flee into another Hundred, and the Thieves inſtantly purſue him and robb him there, if the Hundred in which he was robbed ſhould be onely charged: and the Opinion of the whole Court was, that it ſhould. 16. Note, That it was agreed and reſolved by all the Juſtices of England, at a meeting at Serjeants Inn in Fleet-ſtreet and upon peruſall and conſideration had of the Statute of 5. Eliz. cap. 4. concerning Aliens: That all Aliens and Denizens are reſtreined by the ſaid Statute of 5 Eliz. 17. An Executor brought an Action of Debt upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. for Arrearages of Rents; for the Arrearages of diverſe Rents as well Copy-hold Rents, as Free-hold Rents perteining to the Mannor whereof the Teſtator was ſeiſed and died ſeiſed; and ſhewed that the Rents were not paid to the Teſtator in his life time, and that they belonged to him as Executor: It was holden by the whole Court, That the Action did not lye for the Arrearages of Rents of Copy-hold Land for that the Statute doth not extend to them, but onely to Rents going out of Free-hold: It was alſo reſolved, That in this Caſe the Action did not lye for the Free-hold Rents; for that the Plaintiff hath not ſhewed, that the Defendant had attorned to the Teſtator in his life time; and when the Rent of Free-hold comes in debate, it behoves both the Owner of the Mannor and his Executor, that demands the Rent, to convey a privity betwixt the Tenant and the Lord, which ought to be by Attornment. Mich. 6. Jac. in C. B. Apleton's and Baily's Caſe. Brownl. 1 Part. 102.

18. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor by deed indented, enfeoffed thereof J. S. and his Heirs, rendring Rent to A. his Heirs and Aſſigns; A. dyed ſeiſed, the Rent diſcended to his Son and Heir, who dyed inteſtate; his Adminiſtrators diſtreined and avowed for the Rent: It was reſolved upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. cap. 37. which giveth diſtreſſe to an Executor or Adminiſtrator, in like manner and form as the Teſtator might or ought to have done, &c. and upon another clauſe of the ſaid Statute, That the Adminiſtrators were not driven in their Avowry, for the ſaid Rent, to alledge any ſeiſin within 40 years; for in caſe of Reſervation, or grant of a Rent, the deed is the Title, and the commencement of it appeareth to be within time of memory, and no encrochment in ſuch caſe ſhall hurt, nor any ſeiſin is materiall, but he ſhall avoid the ſame in Avowry: and the Statute of Magna Charta cap. 10. upon which Ne injuſte vivet is grounded, doth not extend to Tenant in Tail, Leſſee for life, or to Grantee of a Rent charge. 6. 10. An Action upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. cap. 9. was brought againſt Husband and Wife for the penalty of 10 l. againſt him that is ſerved with proceſs ad teſtificandum, and doth not appear; and the Plaintiff ſhewed, that proceſs was ſerved upon the Defendant's Wife, and ſufficient charges left and tendred to her according to her degree, and the diſtance of the place, and ſhe did not appear; It was found for the Plaintiff: and in arreſt of Judgment it was moved, That a Feme Covert was not within the Statute; and alſo that he hath not ſhewed how the Plaintiff was damnified; and alſo that the tender ought to have been to the Husband: But it was reſolved, That although the party be not damnified, yet the penalty is forfeited; and 2. That a Feme covert is within the Statute, otherwiſe it might be a great miſchief, for ſhe might be the onely Witneſs: and 3. The Wife ought to appear, and therefore the tender is to be to her: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 30 Eliz.

21. In an Action upon the Statute of 27 Eliz. of Hue-and-Cry, the Caſe was, Money was delivered to a Carrier, who put the ſame in his Cart, and ſent his boy with the Cart, and before he could get to the Cart, it was robbed, and the money carried away. The Boy made Hue-and-Cry, and came before a Juſtice, and prayed he would examine him, who would not; but the Carrier would not go to the Juſtice to be examined: but the Plaintiff went to him, and was examined; and afterwards brought his Action againſt the Hundred: It was holden by the Court, That the Plaintiff had failed in his Action, for want of ſufficient examination: for the Servant who was robbed, ought to be examined; and the Examination of the Maſter, or of the Owner of the goods, was to no purpoſe. It was then moved, If an Action upon the Caſe framed upon the Statute, did lye againſt the Juſtice of Peace who refuſed to examine the Boy? And the better Opinion of the Court was, That it did; for that the Examination is to be before him by the Statute, not as a Judge, but as a Miniſter appointed by the Statute. Trin. 31 Eliz. C. 22. A man brought his Action upon the Statute of 27 Eliz. of Hue-and-Cry; for that he was robbed of 70 l. and made Hue-and Cry, and amends was not made, nor any of the Robbers taken; and that he took his Oath before J. S. Juſtice of the Peace within the ſaid County, and Inhabiting within the Hundred within 20 dayes before the Writ brought, That he was robbed, and did not know the parties according to the Statute of 27 Eliz. The Oath was taken before J. S. at his Chamber in the Middle-Temple, London. It was Objected, That a Juſtice of Peace could not exerciſe any Juriſdict on but within the County, where he was a Juſtice of the Peace. But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices of both Benches, That the examination taken at London by a Juſtice of the County, Inhabiting with his Family in the Hundred, was good enough. And Charen and Barns Caſe. 27 Eliz. in C. 24. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes. It was found by Special Verdict, That the Lands whereof the Tythes were demanded, were parcel of the Poſſeſſions of the Templers, who were diſſolved temps, E. 2. and their Lands annexed to the Priory of St. Johns; and that the Templers had a ſpecial Priviledge to be diſcharged of thoſe Lands which propriis manibus excolunt; and by a ſpecial Act of Parliament 32 H. 8. the poſſeſſions of the Priory of St. John, were given to the King by general words, of all Lands, &c. in tam amplis modo, &c. as the Abbot held them: and from the King the Lands came to the Defendant. It was Reſolved, That the Defendant ſhould not have the Priviledg to be diſcharged; for by the Common-Law, a Lay-perſon was not capable of ſuch a Priviledge; and the King ſhould not have the Benefit of the Priviledge, untill the Statute of 31 H. 8. and by the Statute of 31 H. 8. Monaſteries, Abbies, &c. which had before, or after ſhould come to the King by ſuppreſſion, ſurrender, &c. the King ſhould have them diſcharged of payment of Tythes, as the Abbots, &c. But the ſaid Statute extends onely to ſuch poſſeſſions as came to the King by ſurrender, and ſhould be veſted in him by that Act, and doth not extend to poſſeſſions which are veſted in him by another Act of Parliament: and theſe Lands were given to the King by a ſpecial Act of Parliament; and therefore not diſcharged of Tythes. 25. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes. The Plaintiff ſet forth, That two parts of the Tythes belonged to the Rectory, and a third part to the Vicaridge; and that he had a Leaſe for years of the Rectory, and another Leaſe of the Vicaridge, and demanded the treble value. Upon Non debet, It was found for the Plaintiff. It was Objected, That he ſhould have brought ſeveral Actions, his cauſe of Action being upon ſeveral Leaſes. But the Court held, The Action was well brought, in regard he hath both Titles in him, and he is to have the entire Tythes; and the Action is brought upon this wrong, That he did not ſet them forth. 26. An Information was upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. of Apprentices; becauſe he uſed the Trade of a Spurrier in London, not having been Apprentice in that Trade by ſeven years. 27. Debt upon the Statute of 37 H. 8. of Uſury. The Writ was, That he corruptivè lent 40 l. againſt the form of the Statute; and that he ſuch a day lent 20 l. againſt the Statute, and doth not ſay corruptivè. Adjudged, the Action was good for part; and being for ſeveral ſums, it is in the Nature of two ſeveral Actions: ſo that although void for the one, it is good for the other. And if the Defendant had demurred upon the Declaration, it had been good for the one; and the Plaintiff ſhould have had Judgment for the other. 3 Jac. in B. R. Woody's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 104.

28. In an Information upon the Statute of 27 Eliz. of Fraudulent Conveyances; It was adjudged, Where one after marriage voluntarily aſſigned a Leaſe of years quaſi in Joynture for his Wife, and took the profits, and afterwards ſold it to one who had not any Notice of this Conveyance, That this was within the Statute, although at firſt it was not made upon truſt to be revoked, nor any Clauſe of Recompence therein; becauſe it was a voluntary Conveyance at firſt, which ſhall be intended fraudulent. But if at the time of the Marriage, or after by reaſon of a Portion given by his Wives friends in Recompence thereof, and for a proviſion for the maintenance of the Wife, he had made an Aſſignment of ſuch a Leaſe, and had afterwards taken the profits, and then had ſold that term, it had not been within the Statute. 29. An Information in the Exchequer, for exerciſing the Trade of a Brewer, contrary to the Statute of 5 Eliz. Cap. 4. of Apprentices; not having been brought up ſeven years an Apprentice. It was Objected, That the Art of a Brewer is not within the Statute. 2. That by the Statute of 31 Eliz. Cap. 5. that the Offence is maintainable onely in the Seſſions of the Peace. But it was adjudged, That a Brewer is within the Statute: and for the ſecond point, and the Statute of 31 Eliz. Cap. 5. it is not in the Negative, and this being a Suit for the King, and in this Court proper for him; the Information is maintainable here. 30. An Action upon the Statute of Winton. and Stat. 27 Eliz. of Hue-and-Cry, The Plaintiff Counts upon the ſaid Statute: and in his Count ſhews alſo, how that within 40 dayes before the Action brought, he was ſworn before a Juſtice of the Peace; that he was robbed of ſo much, and did not know any of the Felons: and concludes, That the Defendants had not taken any of the Felons, nor ſatisfied him, contr. formam Statut. predict. It was moved, That the Concluſion was not good. But it was Reſolved by the Court, upon View of Preſidents, that the Concluſion was good, and the beſt form: and not to conclude, contr. formam Statutorum predict. becauſe the Action was grounded upon the Statute of Winton: which gives onely the penalty and remedy: and the other Statute ſhews only how the Examination ſhall be, but gives not any Action. And Statuti predict. refers onely to the Statute of Winton. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trinit. 5 Jac. B. R. Andrew and the Inhabitants of Lewknor's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 187.

31. In an Information upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. for Ingroſſing of Apples, being dead Victual; It was adjudged in the Exchequer, and affirmed in a Writ of Errour brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, That it is out of the Statute; and it is not ſuch a Victual as the Law intends. Cook ſaid, Every thing prohibited within the Statute had a Proviſo: but there was no Proviſo for Apples, therefore it was never intended to be reſtrained. 32. In Debt, upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes, the Caſe was; A man being poſſeſſed of Leaſe of Tythes in the Right of his Wife, as Executrix of her former husband's grants totum jus titulum, et intereſſe ſuum de et in decimis predictis. It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That the Plaintiff had not ſet forth any good Title to himſelf. But it was Reſolved, That the grant was good, and the Leaſe which he had of the Tythes in the Right of his Wife did thereby paſſe: for the word, ſuum, doth import a proprie y in poſſeſſion. It was then Objected, That this was a Leaſe made by an Abbot within the year before the Diſſolution, and therefore void. It was anſwered, That the Iſſue here onely was, Whether he were diſcharged of Tythes: and the Jury hath given their Verdict, That at the time of Diſſolution, there was no diſcharge of Tythes:

Tythes: and this Leaſe being but an Inducement to the Title of the Plaintiff: and therefore the Iſſue is well enough. Hill. 10 Jac. B. R. Arnold and Bidgoods Caſe. Hill. 10 Jac. Rott. 166. Cro. 2. Part. 308.

33. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes. The Plaintiff declared, That he was Leſſee of the Rectory for ſeven years, and the Defendant was an Occupier of Lands within the Pariſh for ſix moneths by a Demiſe made 10 Martii 10 Jac. and that the Defendant 27 of Auguſt the ſame year, did cut his Corn there growing; and 10. Sept. following, did carry it away, not ſetting out the Tythes: It was moved, That Plaintiff had no cauſe of Action; for that upon his own ſhewing, the Defendant's Intereſt in the Land was determined before the Tythes were carried away. But the Court held, That though his Intereſt in the Land was determined; yet he remained Owner of the Corn: For if Corn be cut down, though a ſtranger take it away before ſeverance, yet an Action will lye againſt him by the Statute. Mich. 11 Jac. B.R. Kipping and Swayn's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part 324.

34. Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes. The Plaintiff declared, That J. S. Parſon of the Rectory of S. let him the Rectory for ſix years, if he lived ſo long, and continued Parſon there; and that the Defendant being an Occupier of Lands, within the Pariſh, ſowed with Wheat, reaped and carried away the ſame, the Tythes not ſet forth, and averred the life of J. S. and that he continued Parſon. It was found by Verdict, That the Parſon made the Leaſe for ſix years, if he lived ſo long: and that the words, If he continued Parſon, were not within the Leaſe. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Variance betwixt the Leaſe in the Declaration, and the Leaſe found, was not any prejudice; for it is all one in ſubſtance, and the addition in the Declaration, If he ſo long continue Parſon, is no more then what the Law tacitè implyes: Alſo the Leaſe is not the ground of the Action, but the taking away of the Tythes; and for remedy of the wrong, the Action is; and the Allegation of the Leaſe is but an Inducement to the Action. But if Debt had been brought upon the Leaſe for years, perhaps ſuch variance would have been material, becauſe the Leaſe is the ground of the Action. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. 35. In Debt upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if a man will buy Corn which is ſtanding of a Proprietor of a Rectory, if he hath not ſpeciall words of Diſcharge, he ought to pay Tythes; and the carrying away of ſuch Corn, without ſetting out the Tythes, is an Offence within the Statute. 36. In an Action upon the Statute of Winton of Hue-and-Cry. It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if one be robbed upon the Sunday in the time of Divine Service, and makes Hue-and-Cry; and none of the Robbers be apprehended, That the Hundred ſhall be charged: For the Hundred are to provide, That Robberies be not committed; and the Statute is made for the Peace of the Realm, and the Advancement of Juſtice; and the purſuing of Felons upon the Sabbath day, is no Offence, but an act of Mercy and Charity: And many perſons are neceſſitated to travel upon the Sabbath day: as Phyſitians, Midwives, &c. And if an Inſurrection be upon the Sabbath day, if it be not ſuppreſſed immediately (as it was in the Earl of Eſſex's Caſe) the Officers are Finable. And Miniſterial acts done upon the Sunday are good; but not Judicial acts. C. 9. Part. Machally's Caſe. And therefore in the principal caſe it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. 37. In an Action of Debt, upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting forth of Tythes, for the treble value: The Plaintiff in his Declaration did demand leſſe then the treble value did amount unto, or that the due debt was by the Statute, and did not ſhew ſatisfaction of the reſt; and for that cauſe, It was moved, That the Declaration was not good. But per Curiam, it is good enough: For there is a difference when the Action is grounded upon a Specialty or a Contract, which is a certain ſumme; and upon a Statute which gives a certain ſumm for the penalty; for there he may not vary from the Specialty. But when the demand is of no ſum certain, but onely of ſo much as ſhall be given by a Jury, although he varies in his Declaration from the firſt valuation, it is not material; for he ſhall not recover according to his demand in the Declaration, but according to the Verdict. Actions.

1. Where Actions are to be brought and laid in the County; where the Cauſe of Action ariſeth; and where not; at the Election of the Party.

1. A Man brought an Action upon the Caſe in the County of N. and declared, That A. recovered againſt him 20 l. in the Court of Common-Pleas; and after Judgment, and before Execution, A. dyed, and that the Defendant knowing it, and malitiouſly to Out-law the Plaintiff, brought in the name of A. in the County of Middleſex a Capias directed to the Sheriffs of London; and there alſo ſued an Exigent, and took forth a Capias utlagatum, directed to the Sheriff of Norfolk, by which he was taken and impriſoned in the County of Norfolk; and the Plaintiff layed his Action againſt the Defendant in the County of Norfolk. Upon which the Defendant did demur in Law, becauſe that the Action ought to have been brought in that County where the wrong did begin, and that was the County of Middleſex; for there the Capias, Exigent, and Capias utlagatum, were firſt ſued. But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Action was well brought in the County of Norfolk, for the viſible wrong was in the County of Norfolk, for there the Plaintiff was impriſoned; and when matter in fact is mixt with matter of Record, and the matter in one County doth depend on the matter in another County; there the Plaintiff may chooſe in what County he will bring his Action. 27 Eliz. Co. 7. 2. A. brought an Appeal of Robbery againſt B. and C. as Acceſſories; and the Appeal was brought in the County of W. and the Plaintiff declared, That J. S. and others to the Felony aforeſaid. It was adjudged in that caſe, That the Appeal ſhould be brought in London where the procurement was, and the Tryall ſhould be there; for that it is a maxim in Law, That Tryals ſhall be there where the beſt notice may be of the matter in fact; and where the wrong begins: and becauſe the Abetment began and was in London; the Appeal ought to have been brought in London. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 39. 3. If a Leaſe be made of Lands in one County, and the Land lyeth in another County, the Action of Waſte ſhall be brought where the Land lyeth, and not where the Leaſe was made. But if a man brings an Action of Debt, and Count of a Leaſe for years in one County, of Land in another County; there he muſt bring his Action in the County where the Leaſe was made, and not in the County where the Land lyes; becauſe the Contract is the ground of the Leaſe, and the Cauſe of the Action. 27 Eliz. C. 7. Part. Bullwers Caſe, acc. And ſee divers Books there to that purpoſe.

4. A man brought a Writ of Raviſhment of Ward in the County of York; and ſuppoſed by his Writ, that the Raviſhment was in the County of D. and that he brought the heir into the County of York. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, upon a Writ of Errour brought, That the Original Writ of Raviſhment was to be brought in the County of D. where the wrong began; and not in the County of York where he brought the heir. 12 Eliz. Dyer. 289. Fitzherbert's Caſe.

5. The Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield was Patron of two Prebends, and granted the next Avoidence alterius eorum primo vacant. to J. S. which was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter; the Biſhop dyed, and then one of the Prebends became void; and the ſucceſſor Biſhop did preſent J. D. to the ſaid Avoidance; whereupon the ſaid J. S. within the ſix moneths brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop Patron and the Incumbent. It was adjudged in that caſe, That the Quare Impedit muſt be brought, where the Church is, and not where the body of the Prebend is. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 194.

6. In Debt, the Plaintiff declared upon a Recognizance taken before the Lord Hobart, Lord Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, in Fleet-ſtreet in Serjeants-Inne, out of Term, and laid his Action in London: The Queſtion was, Whether the Action ought to be brought in Middleſex where the Recognizance is recorded, or in London, becauſe the Entry of the Record is, That the Recognizance was acknowledged before the Lord Hobart, ut ſupra. And in this caſe it was agreed,

1. That

1. That the ſeveral Judges may take Recognizances out of Term in any part of England. 2. That though it was not a perfect Record before it was entred upon the Roll; yet when it is entred, It is a Recognizance from the firſt acknowledgment, and binds the perſon as a Recognizance from that time. 3. That it might be in London, as the firſt and more worthy part of the Act; and it was Reſolved by all the Protonotories, That a Scire facias upon ſuch a Recognizance, ſhall be directed to the Sheriff of London, and not to the Sheriff of Middleſex. And a Preſident was cited, That upon a Judgment given in the Common-Pleas at Hertford Term, and the Records brought to Weſtminſter; yet the Scire facias went to the Sheriff of Hertford, not to the Sheriff of Middleſex, becauſe by the Record it appeared, the Judgment was given at Hertford: But if the Entry of the Record were general, that the Record was taken before the Lord Hobart, then it ſhould be underſtood it was in Court, and then the Action was to be brought in Middleſex. 14 Jac. in Co. B. Hall and Winchfield's Caſe, Hob. 195.

7. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. That whereas he lent the Defendant a Mare to plough his ground by two dayes, The Defendant at Dale promiſed, That he would deliver her ſafe at the end of the two dayes; and he did, during thoſe two dayes, exceſſively labour the Mare, that ſhe dyed thereof. And being found for the Plaintiff, the Judgment was ſtayed, becauſe there was no place in the Declaration ſet, where the Labouring was, which is put in Iſſue, and ought to be tryed: But if the promiſe had been layed to be in one place, and the labouring in another, the Plaintiff might, at his Election, layed and brought his Action in either place. Trin. 15 Jac. B. R. rott. 559. Rives and Moxham's Caſe, Hob. 187, 188.

8. An Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt Inne-Keeper, upon the Cuſtome of England, for the ſafe keeping of the goods of his Gueſts; and he brought the Action in another County then where the Inne was. It was the Opinion of Clench, and other the Juſtices, That if it were an Action upon the Caſe upon a Contract, or for words ſpoken, or ſuch tranſitory things, that it might be brought in any County; but in the principall Caſe they conceived, It ought to be brought in the County where the Inne was. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Godbold.

9. Audita Querela was brought by three, to avoid a Judgment againſt the ſaid three in B. R. in Treſpaſs; whereas onely one of them was taken in Execution upon the Judgment; and the ſurmiſe in the Audita Querela was; Whereas one J. S. was ſued in the Common-Bench for a Battery, to be done in London; by Verdict, the Plaintiff had Judgment for 30 l. damages and Coſts, and J. S. was taken in Execution for thoſe Coſts; and afterwards he, and the other Defendants were ſued in this Court for the ſame battery, ſuppoſed to be done in the County of Hertford; and all three were condemned by Judgment in this Court: and it appeared, that this Action, and the Action in the Common-Pleas were for one and the ſame Battery; and that the then Plaintiff had acknowledged ſatisfaction of the ſaid Judgment; and yet had ſued to have Execution of the ſaid Judgment, where he was ſatisfied for the ſame Treſpaſs. It was Excepted to the Writ and Declaration, 1. That it ought to have been brought onely by him who was in Execution; and the other who were not grieved, ought not to joyn with him: But that Exception was diſallowed; becauſe, for the other were parties to the Judgment, and liable to the Execution; and although it was never ſued againſt him, yet for their indempnity, they might joyn with him in Audita Querela, who was taken in Execution. 2. The Surmiſe was excepted unto, becauſe one Recovery being in London, and the other in Hertford, it cannot be intended for one and the ſame Battery. But that alſo was diſallowed; For the Action being Tranſitory may be layd in what County the Plaintiff will, and it being averred by the Record to be one and the ſame Treſpaſſe, and not divers; and that confeſſed by the Demurrer, the Plaintiff's are not ſtrangers to the Record, but they may have benefit of the ſatisfaction by the Record: And therefore it was adjudged the ſurmiſe was good; and adjudged for the Plaintiff. 10. It was holden by the Court, That a Conſtable cannot be ſued out of the County where he is Conſtable, for a thing done by him in the Execution of his Office; but for other things he may. Mich, 1653. B. R. Styles. 393.

2. Where Actions muſt be joynt, where ſeverall; Where the Husband and Wife are to joyn in them, et è contrà. And where the Party ſhall have his Election to bring what Action he will; where not.

1. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. for procuring a Commiſſion of Bankrupts againſt him; by vertue of which he broke open his Shop, and took away his goods and Shop-books, whereby he was diſcredited in his Trade. The

The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff heretofore did bring his Action of Treſpaſſe againſt him for breaking of his Shop, and taking away of his goods, and in that Action recovered damages him; and that a Recovery in one perſonal Action is a barr in all perſonal Actions touching the ſame thing; and in this Action there appears no malice in the party in that fact, (as muſt be in all Actions upon the Caſe) for what was done before, was by a lawfull authority to warrant the fact; ſcilicet, by virtue of a Condition of Bankrupts: But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Action was well brought; for this Action is brought for the damage he ſuſtained in his Trade, and hindrance in his Trade, and ſo diſparaging in his reputation; and though the breaking up of the ſhop, and taking of his goods be named in this Action, yet it is but by way of inducement, and not to recover damages for that wrong: and although he might have brought this Action at the firſt; yet he was not compellable thereunto, for he hath his Election as the birth-right of a Subject to bring what Action firſt he will. Hill. 20 Car. B. R. Watſon and Norbury's Caſe. Styles. 3. and 4.

2. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. upon a Paroll Aſſumpſit, to find him meat, drink, lodging, and to teach him the Trade of a Mercer: which Agreement was after put in writing. The Plaintiff had a Verdict upon the Parol, Agreement, and Judgment. The Defendant brought Errour, and aſſigned, There was no Aſſumpſit declared upon, or proved to warrant the Judgment, becauſe by reducing the agreement to writing, the Parol Aſſumpſit became void, and no Action could be brought upon it. The Court inclined for that cauſe, to reverſe the Judgment; and a Rule of the Court was entred to ſhew cauſe, Wherefore the Judgment ſhould not be reverſed. Mich. 22 Car. B. R. rott. 433. Curtice and Columbine's Caſe. Styles. 19.

3. In an Action of Covenant, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant Covenanted with him, to pay him ſo much money as he ſhould expend for Repairing and Victualling a Ship for him; and he averrs, He expended 300 l. in it, and gave notice to the Defendant; and for non-payment of the money, he brought the Action. It was Objected, The Plaintiff ſhould have brought Debt, and not Covenant. But it was ruled by the Court, That the Action was well enough; for that it was in the Election of the Plaintiff to bring either Debt or Covenant; and it hath been doubted, Whether in ſuch caſe Debt doth lye; but never doubted that Covenant did lye: and in Debt, a demand is neceſſary; but not in Covenant. Trin. 3 Car. in B. R. Styles. 31. See Mich. 1654. Jones and Graves Caſe. acc. Styles. 427.

4. The Plaintiff brought Treſpaſſe vi & armis againſt the Defendant, for reſcuing a Priſoner out of his poſſeſſion, and had a Verdict; The Defendant in arreſt of Judgment ſaid, The Plaintiff ought to have had an Action of Treſpaſſe upon the Caſe, and not Treſpaſſe vi & armis: But it was ruled by the Court, that he might have the one Action or the other at his election. Paſc. 21. Car. B. R. Styles 99. 100. See M. 1652. Gough and Cann's Caſe. acc. Styles 341.

5. A. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. for ſurcharging of a Common, and treeding the graſſe; and obtained Judgment: It was moved, That an Action upon the Caſe doth not lye in ſuch caſe, but an Aſſize: But the Opinion of Rolls Chief Juſtice was, That the Plaintiff might have an Action upon the Caſe, or an Aſſize at his election, although there be a diſturbance of the Plaintiff's Free-hold, though the old Books ſay the contrary. M. 1649. B. R. Ayre and Pnicomb's Caſe. Styles 164.

6. An Action of debt was brought againſt the Defendant, upon an In ſimul computaverunt, and a Verdict and Judgment for the Plaintiff: And Error brought, and the Error aſſigned was, That the Action was brought againſt him for Rent, as Tenant of the Land and not as Receivor: It was ruled by the Court, That Rent alone lyes not in accompt, becauſe it is certain and in the realty, but if it be mixed with other things, an Account will lye of it; and if one receive mony due to me upon an Obligation, I may have either an Action of Debt or an Account againſt him, at my election. Trin. 1651. Paſc. rott. 58. B. R. Hamond and Ward's Caſe. Styles 287. See to Account Sect.

7. In an Action of Treſpaſſe, for breaking his Cloſet and carrying away 250 l. againſt B. The Caſe was upon a ſpeciall Verdict thus; B. did felonioufly break the Plaintiff's houſe, and carry away 250 l. and was indicted for it, and found guilty and burnt in the hand for it; and the Queſtion was, If after, for this fact, an Action of Treſpaſſe &c. would lye againſt the party, for breaking the houſe and carrying away the mony, by the party robbed, againſt him who robbed him or not; It was objected, That the Action is brought for which the party is tryed, and it is unreaſonable he ſhould be doubly troubled for it, and if an Action ſhould lye againſt him, a great inconvenience would come to the Common-wealth, if in ſuch caſe the Plaintiff might have his election, to have his Action, or to indict the party. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Action did well lye, and the eſpeciall matter is no Barr to the Action; and it is in the Election of the party to bring his Action; and the party was indicted at the ſuit of the Common-wealth, and not at the proſecution of the party, and ſo he hath not made his election till now; and the ſpeciall Verdict doth not find that any evidence was given againſt the Defendant, by the Plaintiff, to this Action upon the Plaintiff's Indictment, but for the State onely; and the inconvenience would be much the greater, if the Felon ſhould take advantage of his own wrong; and ſince the Plaintiff could not have his remedy before, he ſhall now have it. And ſo it was adjudged, That the Action was well brought; and Judgment given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 1650. rott. 653. B. R. Dawes and Coverlighs Caſe. Styles. 346. 347.

8. Note: It was ſaid by the Court, That if an Obligation be made to the Husband and Wife, that the husband may bring the Action upon this Obligation in his own name, or he may bring it in the name of him and his Wife, joyntly: and ſo in an Action upon the Caſe upon a promiſe made to the husband and wife during the Coverture. See Dyer. 91. Paſch. 23 Car. in B. R. Hellior's Caſe. Styles. 9.

9. Treſpaſſe of Aſſault and Battery was brought by Husband and Wife, for aſſaulting and beating of the Wife. In Arreſt of Judgment, being found for the Plaintiffs, It was moved, That they ought not to joyn in the Action; but the Husband ought to bring the Action alone, becauſe the damages ſhall go onely to the Husband. See 9 E. 4. 51. The Judgment was ſtayed, till the Plaintiffs ſhould move. Mich. 23 Car. B.R. Styles 52. See Trinit. 23 Car. rott. 1078. Smith and Hobſon's Caſe. acc. Styles. 112, 113. 10. Husband and Wife brought an Action upon the Caſe upon an Aſſumpſit, againſt B. and declared, That the Defendant in conſideration the Plaintiff would marry A. that is now the Plaintiff's Wife, he did promiſe to the Plaintiff, to make good a Legacy given her by her Fathers Will, and would alſo give her 40 l. more out of his own part given him by the ſaid Will, at her age of 18 years. Upon Non Aſſumpſit and Verdict for the Pliantiffs; It was moved, and ſo at laſt Reſolved by the Court, That the Wife ought not to joyn in the Action with her husband, becauſe the promiſe was made to the Husband alone; and the ſole Conſideration of the promiſe doth ariſe from the husband by marrying the woman: and though the money be to be paid to both, yet it were inconvenient to entitle the wife to it; and it was the folly of the husband to joyn his Wife in the Action; for he hath alledged the promiſe to be made to him alone. It was adjudged, the Action did not lye, being brought by them both. Mich. 1651. B. R. Cotterell and Theobalds Caſe. Styles. 297, 313, 314.

11. The Father and Son were bound in a Statute-Merchant to C. who ſued Execution againſt them, and their Lands were ſeverally extended; and becauſe they ſuppoſed the Statute was not ſealed with both their Seals, they brought a Joynt Audita Querela; And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Action was not well brought; for it ought to be brought according to its cauſe of wrong; and the wrong begun in the ſuing of the Execution, and that was ſeveral, and therefore the Audita Querela ought to be ſeveral alſo. It was adjudged, they ought to have ſeveral Writs. Paſch. 38 Eliz. in C. B. Worſley and Charnock's Caſe. Owen 106.

12. If three Coparceners be, and a ſtranger purchaſeth part of one of them; he and the other cannot joyn in a Writ de Partitione faciendâ againſt the third, neither by the Common-Law, nor by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 32. becauſe the one may have his Writ at the Common-Law, and the other by the Statute-Law, and ſo they have ſeveral Remedies, therefore they ſhall not joyn. See 3 Ma. Dyer. 128. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 243. See Coo. Litt. 174. And Mich. 8 Eliz. Wootton and Cook's Caſe in Bendloes Reports there vouched.

13. In Treſpaſſe for an Aſſault and Battery againſt two, the Plaintiff declared againſt one for the Battery, and againſt the other for the taking away of the goods; and had Judgment againſt them both for joynt damages. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the two Defendants cannot be joyned in one Action, becauſe they are Treſpaſſers of ſeveral Natures: therefore Judgment was againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 24 Car. B. R. Cuſworth's Caſe. Styles. 153.

14. Note, for a Rule in Law, That for all things which are Intire, Tenants in common ſhall joyn in Actions; but for things which are ſeverable and Reall, they ſhall have ſeveral Actions realls, but they ſhall joyn in Actions perſonals. Coo. 5. Part. 21. Coo. Inſtitut. 196.

15. A. and B. brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt J. S. upon Aſſumpſit, and the Caſe was; That the ſeverall Cattel of the Plaintiff's were diſtrained; and the Defendant upon Conſideration of 10 l. paid to him by the Plaintiffs, did promiſe to them, to procure the Cattel to be redelivered to them: and becauſe they were not redelivered, they brought their Action joyntly. It was ſaid by Rolls, Chief Juſtice, That the promiſe here is intire; for the Conſideration is intire:

and ſo he conceived the Action might be joyntly brought: and ſuch after was the Opinion of the Court; and ſo Judgment was entred for the Plaintiffs. Mich. 1649. Vane and Stewards Caſe, B. R. Styles. 157. and 203.

16. A Judgment was given againſt divers; where ſome were found Guilty in the Action brought, and others were acquitted. And it was moved to the Court, Whether in ſuch caſe a Writ of Errour did not lye for ſome of them. It was Objected, That another Writ may be abated againſt one perſon, and ſtand good againſt another: but a Writ of Errour is abated in all: But the Opinion of the Court was, That Privies in Record may joyn in a Writ of Errour; and ſo in the principal Caſe, and an Inconvenience may come to all the parties by the Judgment, although ſome of the parties againſt whom the Action was brought, are found guilty; and others acquitted: and therefore it was adjudged, that they might all joyn in the Writ of Errour. Trin. 1649. rott. 791. B. R. Barnwall and Grant's Caſe. Styles 190.

17. The Caſe was thus; One promiſed to the Father, That in Conſideration he would ſurrender a Copy-hold to the Defendant, that he would give to his two Daughters 20 l. a piece. In an Action upon the Caſe, after Verdict, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved to ſtay Judgment, That the Plaintiff declared upon a joynt promiſe made, which concerned another, with the Plaintiff; and yet the Action is brought but by one of them, where they ought to have joyned in the Action. But the Court ſaid, the parties have diſtinct Intereſts, and ſo any one of them may bring an Action; and the Law doth diſtinguiſh their Intereſts, though the Declaration be general; and the Action is brought but for one 20 l. due to one of the Daughters. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Thomas's Caſe. Mich. 1655. B. R. Styles. 461.

18. A Pariſhioner brought an Action againſt one being Parſon of L. and declared, That he at the Pariſh of L. had layed out the Parſon 15. Cheeſes for his Tythes; and the Defendant ſuffered them to remain in the houſe of the Plaintiff for ſuch a time, and did not take them away, to his damage. It was ſaid in this Caſe, That when an Occupier of Land ſets forth Tythes, the property is altered, and is in the Parſon; and then if he ſuffer it to remain upon the Lands of the Pariſhioner; an Action lyeth upon the Caſe againſt the Parſon for it. Paſch. 20 Jac. Rott. 286. in B. R. Wiſeman and Denham's Caſe. Ley. 69.

3. Where one ſhall be ſaid to be well entituled to his Action; and where not. And where Actions ſhall be well brought; and where not.

1. IN an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Defendant for ſtopping of a Way in a Meadow, called Madbrook in R. in C. B. Upon Not-guilty, after Verdict, it was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in arreſt of Judgment, That the Plaintiff, a Leſſee to the Company of Haberdaſhers of London, claimed to have a Way for them; whereas they having let the ſame, cannot have the Way, but the Leſſee; and the preſcription is not rightly applyed; for it ought to have been for them to have the Way pro tenentibus et occupatoribus ſuis. But upon View of the Record, It appeared not who the Occupier or Tenant the Plaintiff was, but onely by way of Argument: And the Court ſaid, They muſt not take things by Intendment; and here is a failer in the very laying of the Action; for the Plaintiff hath not entituled himſelf to the Action, for he hath no Intereſt; and it doth not appear, how he is Occupator; nor doth he ſay that he is Occupator ſuus: and as he hath layed it in the Declaration, the Company ought to have the Action. And for theſe cauſes, It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Mich. 1651. B. R. Cautrill and Stephens Caſe. Styles 300.

2. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant in Conſideration the Plaintiff would marry his Siſter, promiſed he would give his Siſter 300 l. for her Marriage-Portion, upon his marriage with her: and for this breach, the Plaintiff brings his Action, and hath a Verdict. The Defendant in arreſt of Judgment moved, The breach is not well aſſigned in the Declaration; for that it recites another promiſe then upon which the Plaintiff had declared: for he declares of a promiſe to give 300 l. in marriage to the Plaintiff with his Siſter, and aſſigns the breach, in not paying the 300 l. to the Plaintiff; ſo the breach doth not anſwer the promiſe: for if the money be paid to the Wife, the promiſe is not broken. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the breach is well aſſigned; for the Husband is to give the Acquittance for the money, and the moneys are to be paid to the Husband, which the Jury hath found are not paid: and it is all one, as if the Plaintiff had ſaid, That the Defendant had marriage; and ſo the husband is well entituled to the Action. Mich. 1653. B. R. Bedall and Fennick's Caſe. Styles 393. See Hill. 1655. rott. 1511. B. R. Conye and Lawes Caſe accords. Styles. 472, 473.

3. In an Action upon the Statute of Winchester of Hue-and-Cry brought againſt a Hundred; It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Hundred was ſued by Bill; whereas it ought to be ſued by Original. But the Court Over-ruled the Exception, and ſaid, There are many Preſidents to prove, That ſuch Actions may be ſued and brought as well by Bill as by Original. Paſch. 1649. B. R. Styles. 215. See Trin. 1653. B. R. Hill and Dechairs Caſe, Debt in the Nature of an Information brought for 3 l. for ſelling of Wine without Licenſe contrary to the Statute. It was Objected, That by the Statute of 18 Eliz. it ought to be by Original, and not by Bill. But the Court held the Information to be an Original Action; and it was not the meaning of the Statute to take away the Juriſdiction of this Court, but to exclude inferiour Courts. And an Original Action may be by Bill, and the party being in Cuſtodia Marſhalli, may be ſued by Bill.

4. In an Action upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. for uſing the Trade of a Draper. Upon Not-Guilty, and a Verdict for the Plaintiff; It was moved to the Court, That the Action was not well layd; for that it ought to be brought in the County where the Offence was committed, and not in this Court: and of that Opinion was the Court, for that the Statute is not ſatisfied; for it ſayes, the party ſhall not be compelled to appear out of the County, and here he is compelled ſo to do; and this is not helped by the Verdict. Hill. 23 Car. B. R. rott. 611. Naylor and Aſhes Caſe. Styles 223.

5. In Trover and Converſion of three Cart-Loads of Oats, Barley, and Peaſe; The Defendant pleaded, That the Land where the Trover was ſuppoſed to be, is 5 Acres of Lands lying in W. within the County Palatine of Cheſter, and that he held the Lands for years, by virtue whereof he did ſowe and take the Corn there growing, and traverſeth the Converſion out of the County Palatine; and averrs, There are Courts of Juſtice holden within the County Palatine; ſo that Juſtice may be done there, and ſayes, He ought to be ſued in the County Palatine, and not elſewhere, and ſo pleads to the Juriſdiction of the Court. Upon which Plea, the Plaintiff demurred; and for cauſe ſhewed, that the Action being for a Tranſitory matter, may be tryed out of the County Palatine, as well as within it; and the party here hath pleaded Not-guilty, which may be tryed any where. It was Anſwered, That the Action here by the pleading is made real; and all Actions perſonal and reall within Cheſter are triable there: and much was ſaid of Tryal in the ſaid County Palatine. And after many long Arguments on both ſides, It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Plea of the Defendant was not good; for that it appears not, Whether the Cuſtome extends to W. where the Trover was, becauſe it appears not, whether W. lye within the County Palatine of Cheſter, or no; and the Plea cannot be good in part, and void in part; and if a Plea be naught, the other party ſhall not be ſaid to confeſſe any thing by Demurrer upon it; and here the Defendant hath pleaded a Plea in barr, viz. Not-guilty; and hath alſo pleaded to the Juriſdiction of the Court, which cannot be; and the Court is not to examine the Juriſdiction, but the pleading: and the Court is not bound to take notice of the Cuſtome of Cheſter, otherwiſe then it is pleaded: and for this cauſe, the Plaintiff hath well entituled him to his Action; and therefore it was ruled, That the Defendant ſhould plead in Chief. Paſch. 1652. rott. 354. in B. R. Rogers and Bones Caſe. Styles. 331, 332, 333.

6. An Action upon the Caſe was brought for words againſt Husband and Wife. The Jury found, That the husband was guilty, and the wife was not guilty. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, becauſe the Action was Joynt, and one of them is found not guilty: and the ſpeaking of the words cannot be a joynt act as they are laid in the Declaration, but they are ſeveral acts, and ſeveral offences. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Declaration was not well layd; for it cannot be a Joynt ſpeaking of the words by the husband and the wife, and therefore they ought not to be joyned in the Action, and ſo there ought to be ſeveral Judgments and damages, if the Plaintiff will recover. But yet the Court held, That the matter was here helped by the Verdict; for here is not a Verdict againſt them both, but onely a diſcharge; and here might have been a Releaſe of the damages as to the Wife, if both had been found guilty: but here in effect is but a Judgment againſt one of the Defendants. And ſo Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; for that he hath well entituled himſelf to the Action. Mich. 1652. B. R. Butcher and Orchards Caſe. Styles. 349, 350.

7. An Action upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. for uſing a Trade, not having ſerved therein an Apprentiſhip in the Town of Newberry: and Judgment thereupon. 1. THe Caſe was, That a Copy-holder was a Lunatique, and the Lord committed the Copy-hold of his Land to one, who brought an Action of Treſpaſſe; and whether the Action ought to be brought by him, or by the Lunatique, was the Queſtion. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Committee was but a Bayliff, and hath no Intereſt, but for the profit of the Lunatique, and as his Servant; and it is contrary to the nature of his authority, to give an Action to him in his own name: and ſee C. 4. Part. Beverley's Caſe. A Lunatique ſhall have a Quare Impedit in his own name. And it was alſo agreed by the Court, That the Lord of a Mannor hath not power to commit or diſpoſe of the Copy-hold of a Lunatique without ſpecial Cuſtome. Paſch. 16 Jac. in C. B. Hutton. 16.

2. A. Feme Covert in the abſence of her husband (he being beyond the Sea) brought an Action of Treſpaſſe for an Aſſault and Battery made upon her; and the Action was brought in her own name, and in the Name of her abſent husband. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Action was well brought. And further, the Opinion of the Court was, That in the abſence of her husband beyond Sea, ſhe may well bring ſuch an Action in her name, and without her husband, but ſhe cannot be ſued by another without her husband, nor by any before her husband doth return again. Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Bolſtr. 1. Part. 140, 141.

3. In Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was; A. Copy-holder in Fee married B. There was a Cuſtome within the Mannor, that the Wife ſhould have the Copy-hold as of Free-bench during her Widowhood, Si tam diu caſta viveret; and this had uſed always to be challenged, and alſo be granted by the Lord. The husband A. dyed, and B. his Wife after his death came into Court, and challenged her Free-bench; and prayed to be admitted; which the Steward refuſed her: whereupon ſhe entred, and made a Leaſe to try the Title to the Plaintiff for one year, and he being ouſted, brought an Ejectione Firmæ. And it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Action did well lye; for that this eſtate ariſeth out of the eſtate of the husband, and buddeth forth of the firſt eſtate; and the Admittance of the Tenant for life is the Admittance of him in the Remainder: and if an Admittance had been neceſſary in this caſe, ſhe hath done all that ſhe could do, and that amounts to an admittance in Law, to an eſtate created by Cuſtome. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 6 Jac. in C. B. Jurden and Stones Caſe. Hutton. 18.

4. In Debt for Rent, upon a Leaſe for a year, and ſo from year to year, the Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of Lands, deviſed them to his daughter and her heirs when ſhe came to her age of 18 years, and that his Wife ſhould take the profits of the Lands to her uſe, without any Accompt to be made, untill the daughter come to her age of 18 years, and made his Wife his Executor, and dyed. It was provided, that the Wife ſhould pay the old Rent, and find the daughter untill ſhe could write and read Engliſh; the Wife proves the Will, takes husband, and dyes; the husband aſſigns the Term to the Leſſor, who brought the Action. And it was found, That all the Conditions was performed, and that the daughter was within the age of 18. years. The Queſtion was, Whether it be a Term for years in the Wife? and whether the husband ſhall have it after the death of the Wife? And the Opinion of the Court was, That it being by Will, it was a good Leaſe, and that the Husband ſhould have the Term; and that it was not a truſt only in the Wife for ſo long as ſhe ſhould educate the daughter, and find her at School: And therefore it was adjudged, That the Action brought by the Aſſignee for the Rent was maintainable. 17 Jac. in C. B. Blackburn's Caſe. Hutton. 36.

5. The Plaintiff, being an Alien born, brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Defendant, for ſaying, That he was a Bankrupt: and being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved, That he was alienigena ſub legiantia of another, et extra legiantiam Domini Regis; and ſuch an Alien may have an Action here, if the ſame be for his Merchandize, and he may have a houſe here; and the Law doth give him power to maintain a perſonal Action for the ſame; but he cannot maintain a perſonal Action at Law for defaming him, by any words ſpoken of him; and it is a good plea in barr, (according to Litt. 198.) to ſay, The Plaintiff is an Alien born. But the Court was clear of Opinion, That the Action was well maintainable; for Merchants ſtrangers are enabled to Trade here; and Merchants ſtrangers, they are enabled by the Law, to have here all Actions perſonals whatſoever, as Debt, and the like; and an Alien born may well have here an Action for an Aſſault and Battery done upon himſelf: Wherefore the Rule of the Court was, That Judgment ſhould be entred for the Plaintiff. Trinit. 9 Jac. in B. R. Tirlat and Morris's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part. 134.

Battery

6. A. brought an Action of Covenant againſt B. and declared, That the Defendant by his Deed Covenanted with him, That he would ſatisfie all ſuch ſumms of money as J. his Son, the Plaintiff's Apprentice, ſhould imbezel, within three moneths after the Requeſt: and the Covenant upon the Deed was in hæc verba, To ſatisfie within three moneths after requeſt, and due proof made of ſuch Imbezelling. Upon which, Iſſue was taken by the Defendant, That J. did not imbezel: and being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Plaintiff ought not to have brought his Action untill after the three moneths were encurred, as well after the proof, as after the Requeſt; and the Plaintiff hath averred no proof made in his Declaration: and this matter appearing upon the Record, It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff: for the proof intended in the Covenant, is Judicial proof, which ought to be ſet down in the Plea, with all the Circumſtances, ſo as the Court may judge of it: and becauſe in the principal Caſe, becauſe the word proof is at large, and may be made in Court Judicially in an Action brought againſt the Apprentice, before the Action brought upon the Covenant made by another. The Court was of Opinion, That the Plaintiff upon his own ſhewing had brought this Action before he had cauſe of Action. And Note: It was ſaid in this caſe, That a Warrantia Charte, or a Writ of Meſne may be brought before the party take loſſe, but yet he hath cauſe of Action when he brings it, and the Action is but Proviſionall: But in the Caſe at Barr, the Action is remediall; the Court muſt judge, Whether the proof be ſufficient, or not? and therefore it being brought before due proof made, It was adjudged againſt the Plantiff. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 2001. Crookhay and Woodward's Caſe. See before.

7. In an Action of Battery the Defendant pleaded Not-Guilty, which was entred; afterwards the Defendant would have confeſſed the Action: and although all the Protonotaries ſaid, That they had never ſeen a Confeſſion refuſed, if it were offered before the Niſi Prius ſealed; yet the Court, as alſo the Plaintiff, refuſed to admit of the Confeſſion, of the Plaintiff to accept of the ſame; for that they conceived it came too late, and for that the Battery was very grievous. Paſch. 16 Jac. C. B. Rott. 2313. Claſebrook and Livſey's Caſe. Hob. 220.

8. In Treſpaſſe, upon Not-guilty, the Jury found a Special Verdict, That A. was ſeiſed of the Lands in Queſtion, and held the ſame of the Manor of D. which is Ancient Demeſne; and that C. recovered againſt him 40 l. in the Court of Common-Pleas; and took out an Elegit, by force of which the Sheriff delivered the Lands in Queſtion to C. upon whom A. entred; and the Queſtion was, Whether Lands in Ancient Demeſne might be delivered in Execution by the Sheriff upon an Elegit out of the King's Court. And it was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That it might. Another Queſtion was, If a new Action be given by Statute which lyeth in the Kings Courts, and not in Ancient Demeſne, Whether the party ſhall loſe his Action, rather than have it in the Kings Court to the prejudice of Ancient Demeſne? As to the firſt Point, It was Reſolved, Though the poſſeſſion of the Lands be gained by the Sheriff's acts; yet the Land was never put in plea directly in the King's Courts. And it appears by our books, that the Conizee of a Statute having Lands in Ancient Demeſne in Execution, had an Aſſiſe of it in the King's Court. And in an Action of Debt brought againſt the Heir in the King's Court, Lands in Ancient Demeſne have been liable to Execution: And ſince the Judgment was good, That C. ſhould recover the Debt in the King's Court, and the Elegit did warrant the extending of half his Land, and Ancient Demeſne is his Land, as well as other, that the Sheriff had ſufficient warrant to deliver it; and neither the Sheriff nor he that receives it, are ſubject to an Action of Treſpaſſe: but if any Relief be, it is by Audita Querela, becauſe there was no time to plead it before. As to the ſecond Point, It was Reſolved, That Actions at Common-Law upon which no remedy could be had in Ancient Demeſne, do lye in the King's Courts, though they ſtirr the poſſeſſion: As a Quare Impedit, becauſe they there cannot write to the Biſhop; and becauſe the Common-Law being as ancient as their Priviledges, cannot endure, that there be a failer of Original Right: But of new rights or remedies brought in by Statutes, (which are not preſumed to intend their prejudice) it is otherwiſe: and we ſee they are ſubject to all Statutes which do not concern their Free-hold. It was adjudged in the principal Caſe for the Plaintiff. Hill 10 Jac. Rott. 2541. Cox and Barnſley's Caſe. Hob. 47, 48.

9. A. Executor of J. S. Grantee of the next Preſentation to the Arch-deaconry of L. brought a Quare Impedit, and declared of a preſentment and diſturbance in vitâ Teſtatoris, et quod Eccleſia vacavit, et vacua eſt. It was queſtioned, Whether a Quare Impedit will lye for an Executor for a diſturbance in vitâ Teſtatoris. It was Objected, That Executors were not within the Statute of 4 E. 3. for that extends to things onely available to the Teſtator; and this doth not: for it ſhall not be Aſſetts to the Executors. But it was Reſolved, That the Action would lye; for the Statute ſaith, they ſhall have an Action of Treſpaſſe, for taking of goods in vitâ Teſtatoris; and that is put by way of reſemblance, and not that they ſhall have an Action for taking goods onely: And an Advowſon in the hands of Executors ſhall be Aſſetts. Paſch. 31 Eliz. C. B. Sale and the Biſhop of Lichfield's Caſe. Owen. 99.

10. Note: It was holden by the Juſtices, That if a man hath Judgment in Debt upon an Obligation, and no Execution; that he may begin another Action upon the ſame Obligation, but it is otherwiſe of a Contract. Trin. 30 Eliz. in C. B. in Viſcount Bindon's Caſe. Owen. 37.

5. Actions and Things Reall and Perſonal; and Poſſeſſory: where extinct, ſuſpended, and revived, and dye with the perſon: and where not.

1. NOte: It was adjudged by all the Juſtices, in the Caſe of Proxies in Ireland, That All Reall Actions are extinguiſhed by unity of poſſeſſion: The Caſe there was this; The Biſhop of M. before the Statute of Diſſolution had two ſeveral Proxies of 15 s. and 20 s. yearly paid unto him out of a Commaundry, parcel of the poſſeſſions of the Hoſpital of St. Jobus of Jeruſalem in Ireland, and out of the Rectory of S. parcel of the poſſeſſions of the Abbot of T. in the County of D. 33 H. 8. the Hoſpital and Abbey were diſſolved, and all the poſſeſſions veſted in the Crown by Act of Parliament, ſaving Proxies to all Biſhops and their Succeſſors. The Biſhop by Deed 36 H. 8. granted Proxies to the King, the King then being in actuall poſſeſſion of the Commandry and Rectory, out of which the Proxies was paid. Queen Eliz. Anno 33. of her Reign, demiſed the Commaundry and Rectory to J. S. rendring rent without any Reſervation of Proxies, and afterwards the Proxies were behind: In this caſe were theſe points; 1. If the Proxies were extinct by the ſuppreſſion and diſſolution of the Hoſpital and Abby, notwithſtanding the ſaving in the Act. 2. If they were extinct by the unity of poſſeſſion in the hands of the King. For the firſt point, It was Reſolved, That although the Religious houſes were diſſolved, yet the certain ſums of moneys which came in lieu of the Proxies, which were in Eſſe, were not extinct.

2. That they were not extinguiſhed in the hands of the King; but ſuſpended onely, untill the King by his grant had ſevered the one of them from the other: and yet it was Reſolved, That things which have their original beginning out of Land, and are due in reſpect of the Land onely, if they be parcel of the profits of the Land, are extinguiſhed by Unity of poſſeſſion; for there is Reſolutio ad primam materiam, and all reall Actions concerning the ſame are extinguiſhed by ſuch unity of poſſeſſion. Davis Reports in the Caſe of Proxies.

2. A. Parſon had common Appendant to his Parſonage, out of the Lands of an Abby; afterwards the Abbot had the Parſonage appropriate to him and his Succeſſours: the Queſtion was, Whether the Common was Extinct? It was ſaid, It was, becauſe he had as high an eſtate in the Common, as he had in the Land. But the better Opinion of the Court was, That it was not extinct; for that the Parſonage may be diſappropriate, and then he ſhall have the Common again; and although he hath as high an eſtate, yet he hath not as perdurable an eſtate: and this caſe was vouched out of 21 E. 3. 2. An Aſſiſe of Nuſance was brought for ſtreightning of a Way; which the Plaintiff ought to have to his Mill. The Defendant did alledge unity of poſſeſſion of the Land and of the Mill in W. and demanded Judgment if, &c. The Plaintiff ſaid, That W. had two Daughters, and dyed ſeiſed, and the Mill was allotted to one of them in partition, and the Land to the other, and the Way was reſerved to her who had the Mill, and the Aſſiſe was awarded; and ſo by the partition, the Way was revived, and appendant as it was before; and yet W. the Father had as high an eſtate in the Land, as he had in the Way. 6. Where a Right of Action, and other Right ſhall ſurvive; Where forfeited by Attainder or otherwiſe; et è contrà: Or where given away by generall words; or in the Livery if the Land: where not.

1. IN an Ejectione Firmæ; upon a Speciall Verdict found, the Caſe was; A. was poſſeſſed of a Leaſe of Lands for 31 years, and married J. S. The Husband and Wife mortgaged their Intereſt and Term to B. for the payment of money at a day: and before the day of payment, A. the Wife dyed; the husband paid the money money at the day, in redemption of the Mortgage, and entred, and made his Wife his Executrix. J. D. takes Letters of Administration of the goods of A. and entred upon the Leſſee of the Executrix of J. S. the husband. It was adjudged in this caſe, That though the Leaſe was firſt the Leaſe of the Wife, and that the husband was poſſeſſed thereof in her right; yet by the Enter-marriage he had full power to alien it; and when he ſurvives his Wife, the Condition ſurvives with him, and reſtores him to the Leaſe, in ſuch ſtate as it ſhould have been, if it had not been alliened: and the rather, becauſe the husband paid all the money after the death of the Wife. See Shelley's Caſe, C. 1. Part. there, 9 H. 7. 25. If a man make a Feoffment of Lands upon condition, That if the Feoffor or his heirs pay 10 l. that he may re-enter, and dyes, leaving a daughter who payes the money and enters; and then a Son is born; yet the daughter ſhall retain the Land. Paſch. 11 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1515. Young and Radford's Caſe. Hob. 3.

2. A. enfeoffed B. to the uſe of A. for life, and afterwards to the uſe of B. in Taile, and after to the uſe of C. in Fee, with Proviſo and liberty to revoke the uſes, and to limit new uſes if A. ſurvive B; and afterwards A. maketh a Feoffment, and B. dyeth; and whether A. might limit new uſes againſt his own Feoffment, was the Queſtion? It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That, by the Feoffment as well his power to Revoke, as to limit new uſes, was gone and determined: For a Livery is of ſuch a force, that it giveth and excludeth the Feoffer not onely of all his preſent Rights, but of all future Rights and Titles. See Plow. Com. Delamar's Caſe, a Future uſe ſhall be given away and extinguiſhed by the Livery of the Land. Co. 1. Part. 111. Albanies Caſe.

3. In a Monſtrans de Droit, the Caſe was this; In 17 E. 2. John de malo Lacu, gave to Peter de malo Lacu, and the heirs of his body, the Caſtle and Mannor of Mulgrave; which came to Sir Ralph Bigod: Sir Ralph, 6 H. 8. made thereof a Feoffment in Fee to W. and others, to the uſe of his laſt Will, and dyed; the Right of the Land, together with the entail and the uſe, diſcended to Sir Fr. Bigod. 21 H. 8. Sir Francis made a Feoffment to J. S. and others, to the uſe of himſelf and Katherine his Wife, and the heirs of their two bodies; and had Iſſue Ralph Bigod, and Dorothy. 26 H. 8. the Statute of forfeiture for Treaſon was made: 29 H. 8. Sir Francis was attainted of Treaſon, and executed, and Katherine ſurvived him: 31 H. 8. a ſpecial Act was made of his Attainder and forfeiture. 6 Eliz. Ralph Bigod, ſon of Sir Francis and Katherine were reſtored in blood by Parliament, and dyed without Iſſue; Dorothy married Roger Ratcliff, and they had iſſue Francis Ratcliff. 8 Eliz. Katherine dyed, Francis entred. 33 Eliz. all this was found by Office. 34 Eliz. Francis Ratcliff dyed, having iſſue Roger Ratcliff. 34 Eliz. the Queen granted the Caſtle and Mannor, &c. to Edmund Lord Sheffeild, and the heirs males of his body: Roger Ratcliff brought his Monſtrans de Droit, and had Judgment. Whereupon, Errour was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber. There were two Queſtions in the Caſe; the firſt, Whether Francis Bigod who had an eſtate in ſpecial tail in poſſeſſion, had alſo any right of the old intaile in him at the time of his Atrainder? or whether it were in Abeyance, in reſpect of the Feoffment made by him 21 H. 8? And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Feoffment gives away all the eſtate the Tenant in taile the Feoffer had concerning himſelf, or any benefit that he might receive thereby; but as concerning his iſſue inheritable to that Intaile, and to him in the Reverſion, and for their good, there remained ſtill in him a Right of that Intail by force of the Statute of Weſt. 2. for the good of thoſe that are ſaved by that Statute: but whether it be in the Feoffer himſelf, ſleeping till there be an heir of the Taile, or in Abeyance or conſideration of the Law, is the Queſtion? 2. It was Reſolved, That this old right of the eſtate Taile was forfeited to the Crown, by the Statute of 26 H. 8. for that there was an actual eſtate in taile in the perſon a tainted, at the time of his Attainder. 3. It was Reſolved, That their Rights were bound by the expreſs words of the Statute, there being no ſaving therein for them. 4. That when the Office was found, the Iſſue in taile was barred, notwithſtanding any Remitter in the Caſe: And therefore Judgment was given for the King and the Lord Sheffeild, that the former Judgment given ſhould be reverſed. 13 Jac. in the Exchequer. rott. 96. The Lord Sheffeild and Ratcliff's Caſe. Hob. 334. Godbolt. 314. the ſame Caſe.

4. Henry Savell Leſſor for years of the Mannor of D. granted the ſaid Mannor Habendum, for ſo many years ſhould be to come after his death to Cordall Maſter of the Rolls, if Dorothy his wife ſhould live ſo long. Afterwards Henry Savell, and he in the Reverſion levied a Fine; In this caſe one point was; If by the Fine levied, the poſſibility as well as the right in poſſeſſion in certain did paſs. It was, 1. Reſolved, That by Deed a man might grant a Poſſibility to come; as 9 H. 7. where a man ſeiſed in the right of his Wife, made a Feoffment in Fee, and took back an eſtate to him and his Wife in Fee, and afterwards they had Iſſue, and the Wife dyed, he ſhould not be Tenant by the Curteſie, and yet his Wife was remitted: And if a man hath cauſe to have a Writ of Errour; if he entreth upon the Land, and makes a Feoffment, the Writ of Errour is gone for ever: and in the principal Caſe, It was holden, That if Cordall had entred and made a Feoffment in Fee, the poſſibility which he had to have the Terms, had been drowned Trin. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Sævell and Cordall's Caſe.

Writ

Action upon the Caſe, of Trover and Converſion.

1. Of what things Trover and Converſion will lye; and of what not. And by whom, and againſt whom it lyeth; et è contra.

1. NOte: It was adjudged by Cook, Chief Juſtice, and the whole Court, That an Action of Trover and Converſion lyeth of money, although it be not in baggs; but not an Action of Detinue. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Clark's Caſe. Godb. 210.

2. In an Action upon Trover and Converſion of divers goods et inter alia, of 190 l. in pecuniis numeratis. Upon Not-guilty, it was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given, and entire damages. Whereupon Errour was brought; and the Errour aſſigned, was, Becauſe Trover and Converſion cannot be of money out of baggs. But all the Juſtices and Barons agreed, That the Action did well lye, it being found, that he converted the Plaintiff's money, (for the loſing is but a ſurmiſe, not material; for the Defendant may take it in the preſence of the Plaintiff, or any other,) and though he take it as a Treſpaſſer, yet the Plaintiff may charge him in an Action upon the Caſe, if he will: Wherefore the firſt Judgment was affirmed: And all the Juſtices and Barons held, That Trover and Converſion lyes as well of moneys out of bags, as of Coin which cannot be known. Hill. 2 Car. rott. 850. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Kinaſton and More's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 63.

3. An Action of Trover and Converſion was brought of 100 Muſk-Catts, and 60 Monkeys; and found for the Plaintiff. It was moved, That the Action lay not, Becauſe it is not ſhewed, that they were tame or reclaimed. See 14 Eliz. Dyer. But it was adjudged, That the Action did lye, for that they were Merchandizes, and valuable. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Grimes and Shack's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 262. See Bolſtrod. 1. Part. 95. the ſame caſe.

4. In Trover and Converſion of 300 Todas Lanæ; upon Not-guilty pleaded, It was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given: and Errour was brought; and the Errour aſſigned was, Becauſe Todas is no Latine word; Anglicè vocat. Todds: but the Errour was not allowed of by the Court; for that it is a framed word to that purpoſe, to ſhew the intent of the parties, although it be not a proper Latine word: and in the Regiſter, there is Pipam vini, Barrel cervisiæ: and a Preſident was ſhewed of 12 H. 7. of Toddas Lanæ, and Judgment there was given for the Plaintiff: and ſo in the Principal Caſe it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 10 Jac. in B. R. Cliſon and Proctor's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 307.

5. Action of Trover brought of a Hatband ſet with Diamonds; and adjudged the Action maintainable. Hill. 7 Jac. B. R. rott. 1217. Sir John Ratcliff and Davies Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 244. See Trin. 23 Car. B. R. Vincent and Fuſſys Caſe. Sty'es. 44. acc.

6. An Action of Trover and Converſion was brought of divers goods et inter alia, de uno Riſco. Anglicè, a Trunk full of Fine Linnen, to the value of 20 l. et de una pixid', Anglicè a Box full of Bands and Cuffs, and Shirts, to the value of 10 l. and of divers parcels of other goods. Upon Not-Guilty, It was found for the Plaintiff, and damages entire aſſeſſed to 80 l. It was moved, That Riſcus is but a Trunk only; and Anglicè full of fine Linnen, to the value of 20 l. is uncertain; and it differs from Co. 10. Part. 130. Oſborn's Caſe, Fulcrum lecti; for that may be underſtood of all which appertains to the Furniture of a Bed: but Riſcus, cannot be referred to Linnen. But the Court held it to be good, and that the damages ſhall be intended to be given for the Trunk onely: wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; And upon a Writ of Errour brought, the Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 19 Jac. in B. R. rott. 963. Bantroſt and Cooes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 664. See Co. 10. Part 130. Oſborn's Caſe, there the Action was an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit; and adjudged according to the Opinion of the Court here in this caſe.

7. Action of Trover and Converſion was brought; for that the Plaintiff 9. Martii 18 Jac. at Chelmſford was poſſeſſed of a Writing Obligatory, wherein A. and B. were bounden to the Plaintiff in 60 l. ſealed with the ſeals of the ſaid A. and B. as of their proper Bond; and 12 Martii. 18 Jac. loſt it, and that 13 Martii 18 Jac. it came to the Defendant's hand by Trover, and that 20 Martii he converted it to his own uſe. The Defendant demurred demurred upon the Declaration, becauſe the date of the Bond was not mentioned, nor that it was delivered as their Deed: But Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; for he needs not ſhew the date of it, becauſe it was loſt; and the Defendant hath eſſoyned it; and alſo the Plaintiff is not to recover the debt, but damages therefore. And it was Reſolved, That the allegation, That it was Scriptum Obligatorium, wherein they were obliged, hath ſufficient intendment, that they delivered it as their Deed. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 20 Jac. in B. R. Upchard and Tatam's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 637. See Trin. 8 Car. in B. R. Wilſon and Chambers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 190. acc.

8. In Trover and Converſion, the Caſe was; That Lands whereupon Beans grew, were the Lands of a Lunatique, and Copy-hold Lands; and the Lord granted to one the Cuſtody of the Land, by whoſe leave the Plaintiff did ſowe the Lands. The Queſtion was, In whoſe name the Action ſhould be brought. And it was the Opinion of the Court? That the Action was to be brought in the Name of the Lunatique; for that there was no Intereſt gained in his Lands by the Commitment; and the Lord hath not power over the Lunatique's Land without a Cuſtome. Hill. 15 Jac. C. B. Cocks and Darſon's Caſe. Hob. 215.

9. In an Action of Trover of divers goods, and Converting of them, the Defendant pleaded Not guilty; which was found againſt him, and damages aſſeſſed to 40 l. It was moved for ſtay of Judgment, That the Action was brought by an Adminiſtrator of goods of the Inteſtate, and that parcell of the goods were things annexed to the Free-hold, and as parcel thereof, for which the Action did not lye; and divers of them were inſenſibly alledged, and alſo the damages being intire, there ought not to be any Judgment: For the Declaration is, That he was poſſeſſed de duobus Arctis, vocat. Portal cum ſuſpenſis, vocat. hinges. de uno Molendino, vocat. a hand-Mill: de uno plumbo, voc t. a Lead: de uno Avevolo, vocat. a Waſh-fat; which things appear to be fixed to the houſe. But the Exception was diſallowed by the Court; for that the Declaration is, That he was poſſeſſed of them ut de bonis propriis, and it may be that thoſe things were ſevered from the Free-hold, and lying by; and ſo ſhall be intended when the Plaintiff ſo declares: and the contrary appears not to the Court by the Defendant's Plea. Another Exception was taken to the Declaration, becauſe he declared de uno Spadone cum equa precii 53 s. 4 d. ſo there is not any price at all for the Gelding. But upon View of the Roll in Court, although the Record of Niſi Prius was ſo, yet the Roll is de uno Spadone, et una equa precii 53 s. 4 d. ſo as the price extends to both: And therefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 4 Jac. in B. R. Wood and Smith's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 129.

10. The Lord Mountegle brought an Action of Trover and Converſion againſt the Counteſs of Worceſter; and ſuppoſed by his Writ and Declaration, That whereas he was poſſeſſed of a Chain of Gold of the price of 100 l. and ſo poſſeſſed the ſame, ſuch a day at London, in ſuch a Pariſh, &c. he caſually loſt it, which came to the Defendant's hands; and the Defendant knowing that Chain to be the Plaintiff's Chain, intending to defraud him, ſold it to divers perſons unknown. The Defendant traverſed, That he did not ſell it modo et forma; and demanded Judgment if Action. Upon which Plea the Plaintiff did demur in Law; becauſe it is but Not-guilty by Argument; and alſo becauſe he ought to have concluded et de hoc ponit ſe ſuper Patriam. It was holden by the Lord Dyer, and the better Opinion of the Court, That the Declaration was not good; for that it is impoſſible, that poſſeſſionatus amiſit, and the Plantiff ſuppoſeth a fraud, where there was neither privity, nor Conſideracte; but it appears, the Defendant came to the Chain by Trover: and alſo that in this caſe an Action upon the Caſe doth not lye, becauſe the Plaintiff had his remedy by Detinue; for he hath not ſhewed the ſale to be in Market, or to change the property: And for theſe cauſes it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. 3 Ma. Dyer. 121. The Lord Mountegle and the Counteſs of Worceſters Caſe.

11. In Trover and Converſion the Caſe was this; Fines loſt a Hawk, and J. S. found it, and ſold it to A. and he gave it to Sir John Spencer, who ſold it over, and though he knew the Hawk. Yet it was holden by the Court, That he was not chargeable in an Action of Trover: And it was holden in that caſe, that he ought to declare, That it was a tame Hawk, and reclaimed. Yet Southcote, Juſtice, ſaid, That the words were, That he was poſſeſſed of it ut de bonis propriis; and that implyed it was a Reclaimed Hawk. 14 Eliz. Dyer. 307. Fines Caſe.

12. In an Action of Trover and Converſion of a Hawk, Judgment was for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, becauſe it was not ſaid in the Declaration, That it was a tame Hawk; for the words were Accipitem ſuam, vocat. a Ramiſh Hawk; which is as much as to ſay, Inter ramos agens. It was agreed by the whole Court, That the Judgment ſhould be ſtayed, becauſe that a Hawk is feræ naturæ; and although it be tamed, yet if it fly away and hath not animum revertendi, occupanti conceditur; and although the Declaration

tion was de bonis ſuis propriis, yet that doth not mend the caſe; for the party had but a Right of poſſeſſion, and not of property: and if it be, it is but a Qualified property. See Cook 7. Part. 17. b. And it was agreed, That if a man hath a Wild Hawk in his poſſeſſion, and another man takes it out of his poſſeſſion, that an Action of Treſpaſſe will lye: but if it fly away, then Capiat qui Capere poteſt. The Judgment was ſtayd. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. Liſter and Hones Caſe.

13. Note: In an Action of Trover and Converſion of goods, the Opinion of the whole Court was clear, That no other place is to be expreſſed in the Declaration, but onely the place where the goods came to the Defendant's hands. Paſch. 10 Jac. B. R. Atkins and Wheeler's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part. 206.

14. In Trover and Converſion: The Plaintiff declared of a Trover and Converſion de decem arboribus; Whereas the Trees were Timber Trees which were felled. It was Objected, That Arbor ſignifies a Tree that groweth; and ſo Trover cannot be brought de arbore. But the Court ruled it to be good enough. Mich. 1650. B. R. Pepham and White's Caſe. Styles. 235.

15. Note: It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That Trover and Converſion lyes for goods found and converted, although they come afterwards to the hands of the party that loſt them. Paſch. 1651. B. R. Gowe's Caſe. Styles. 361.

16. An Adminiſtrator may bring an Action of Trover and Converſion for the goods of the Inteſtates, taken by one before the Letters of Adminiſtration be granted to him; becauſe the Letters of Adminiſtration do relate to the time of the death of the Inteſtate; and not to the time of the granting of them. Mich. 1652. Imag and Hebbs Caſe in B.R. Styles. 341.

17. In Trover and Converſion, the Plaintiff declared, Of a Trunk with Writings; alſo of a great Beam, Scales and Weights; and alſo of a pair of Hangings. It was moved for the Defendant in Arreſt of Judgment, it being found for the Plaintiff, That the Declaration was incertain. It was holden by the Court, That for the firſt, viz. a Trunk with Writings, the ſame was good enough: and ſo it hath been adjudged, where an Action upon the Caſe was brought for two Trunks of Cloathes, without expreſſing what Cloathes. But for the other two, viz. a great Beam, and Weights and Scales, and alſo for two pair of Hangings, the Court conceived the ſame to be incertain: Although it was ſaid, as to the firſt, That it appeareth by the Regiſter, that Treſpaſs was brought pro carruca cum apparatu, & adjudged to be good; where the Court moved the Defendant, that the Plaintiff might amend his Declaration, and he to plead de novo, and to conſent to a new Tryal. Hill. 1652. Webb and Waſhborn's Caſe. B. R. Styles. 361.

18. In an Action of Trover and Converſion of divers goods and houſhold-ſtuff; amongſt other, the Plaintiff declared of a Trover and Converſion of 6. Tunns. The Court was of Opinion, That it is incertain what the Plaintiff doth mean by the words, ſix Tuns: and this Caſe is not like to Oſborn's Caſe, where Fulcrum Lecti, ſignifies a Bedſted with Curtains and Vallens; and the word Anglicè is added: but here the word Tun, ſignifies divers things; and it is incertain what it doth ſignifie here: and therefore it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, Mich. 1655. Clark and Fitz-Williams Caſe. Styles. 482.

19. In an Action of Trover and Converſion of goods, brought by two, the Defendant pleaded, That, dependant the Writ, one of the Plaintiffs dyed; and this was moved in Arreſt of Judgment. But the Court was of Opinion, the ſame was no cauſe to ſtay Judgment for being the goods of them both, by the death of one of them the Action ſurvives to the other: and therefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Spring and Garret's Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part. 262.

20. If goods be delivered to a Bargeman or Boatman, by him to be carried to Graveſend by water; and by a ſudden ſtorm which doth ariſe, the paſſengers in the Barge or Boat be in danger of their lives, and for ſaving of the lives of them which are in the Barge, the Bargeman or Boatman for lightning of the Barge, doth caſt the goods over board: It was the clear Opinion of the Court, that this being the act of God, this ſudden ſtorm which occaſioned the Barge-man or Boat-man for the throwing over of the goods, which could not otherwiſe be avoided, ſhall not be any cauſe to charge the Barge-man, with Action of Trover and Converſion, of the goods delivered, miſcarried by him, Mich. 12 Jac. in B. C. Bird and Alſtock's Caſe. Bolſt. 2. Part. 280.

21. An Action of Trover and Converſion was brought againſt the Husband and Wife, of ſheaves of Corn; and declared, That they did convert thoſe ſheaves ad uſum ipſorum, viz. of the Husband and the Wife. It was Ruled by the Court, 1. That the Declaration was not good, being of two ſheaves of Corn, being incertain, not expreſſing the Certainty what Corn it was; and Declarations ought to comprehend certainty. And, 2. That the Declaration was not good, being layd, That the Converſion was ad inſorum uſum, for that the Wife hath no property in them, during the life of her husband. Quære: for Jones, Juſtice, ſaid, That there may be a Converſion by the Wife to her own uſe; as, if ſhe bake the Corn into bread, and eat. But for the firſt point, the whole Court was of Opinion, That it was not good for the Incertainty: and therefore Judgment was for the Defendant. Mich. 14 Car. in B. R. Hodges and Simpſon's Caſe.

22. In Trover and Converſion of goods, and inter alia, of 60 l. in money, brought againſt husband and wife, ſuppoſing they converted them to their proper uſe. It was found againſt them for the 60 l. and Judgment againſt them, and that they ſhould be in miſericordia. Whereupon Errour was brought in the Exchequer Chamber: and the Opinion of all the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, and of the Barons was, That the Judgment ſhould be reverſed; for that it is the Converſion of the husband onely, and that they are onely to his uſe: and ſo it was adjudged, Paſch. 19 Jac. in Harriſon and Bradford's Caſe, That the Action did not lye againſt the husband and wife. It was then moved, That the Judgment might be reverſed onely quoad the wife; but that was not allowed But the Judgment as to them both was reverſed. Hill. 20 Jac. in the Exchequer Chamber. Terry and Nays Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 661. See Trin. 13 Car. B. R. rott. 402. Perry and Diggs Caſe. acc. Cro. 1. Part. 355. See Trin. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Maſhes Caſe. Leon. 312. adjudged contrary; That the Trover and Converſion lyeth againſt the husband and Wife.

23. In Trover, the Caſe was; The Defendant's Bayliff ſeiſed the Plaintiff's beaſts for a Heriot, whereas there was not any due: whereto the Defendant agreed and converted them. The onely Queſtion was, Whether the Plaintiff ought to have this Action, or an Action of Treſpaſſe. It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was in the Plaintiff's Election, whether he will admit himſelf to be out of poſſeſſion or not; for he might have had a Replevin if he would: and in this Action the Trover is not traverſeable, but the Converſion onely. And therefore it was the Opinion of the Court, That he had Election to bring either Trover or Treſpaſs at his pleaſure. Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 42 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 730. Biſhop and Viſcount Mountagu's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 50.

2. What ſhall make a Converſion, and what not; where it ſhall be juſtifiable, and and where not; and what ſhall be a a good Barr in Trover and Converſion; et è contra.

1. IN Trover and Converſion of certain goods brought by an Executor, It was found by a Special Verdict, That the Teſtator was poſſeſſed of divers goods, and loſt them; and the Defendant found them, and knowing them to be the goods of the Teſtator, upon demand denyed to deliver them: and, If this denyal to deliver the goods, was a Converſion of them, was the Queſtion. And the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the denyal to deliver them, was a Converſion; for the requeſt and denyal makes a Converſion: and, as the keeping of goods by an Executor ſhall be accounted as an Adminiſtration; by the ſame reaſon, the denyal of them in the principal Caſe ſhall be a Converſion. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Liſt and Newman's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 152.

2. An Action upon the Caſe was brought of Trover and Converſion of a Cow at the Caſtle of York. The Defendant pleaded in barr, that the Biſhop of D. was ſeiſed of the Town of B. in the County of D. and did preſcribe to have a Fair there, and Toll; and for not payment thereof, the Cow was taken by the Defendant as ſervant to the Biſhop, Abſq; hoc, that he was guilty at the Caſtle of York, or elſewhere; and becauſe the Defendant had not confeſſed the Converſion (for that is the ground of the Action, and ought to be traverſed, or confeſſed and avoided) and the Defendant did not claim any property; It was adjudged for the Plaintiff: and in that caſe it was holden, That if a man hath goods of mine by Trover or Bailment, yet when I require them of him, he can no longer withhold them; and therefore when he ſtill detaineth them from me, it argueth he claimeth them as his own, and ſo to uſe them: and alſo in that caſe it was ſaid, That a Diſtreſſe was no Converſion: but becauſe he did not anſwer to the point of the Action, it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B rott. 318. Agar and Liſle's Caſe. Hutton 10. See Hob. 187. the ſame Caſe. See Co. 10. Part. 46, 47.

3. In Trover and Converſion, the Plaintiff declared, That he was poſſeſſed of 27 Ells of Linnen Cloath as of his own goods; and that the goods came to the Defendant's hands by Trover; and that he knowing them to be the Plaintiff's goods, ſold them to perſons unknown, and converted the money to his own uſe. The Defendant as to 24 Els, ſaid, That long before the loſing, J. S. was poſſeſſed thereof ut de bonis ſuis propriis, and ſold them to the Defendant, who before notice that they were the Plaintiff's goods, and before requeſt, ſold them to perſons unknown; and as to the three other Els, he was ready to deliver them to the Plaintiff: and upon theſe Pleas the Plaintiff did demur in Law: and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff: for the Defendant confeſſeth the Converſion, but hath not conveyed a ſufficient title to himſelf to the goods, by which he might juſtifie the Converſion: for the Plaintiff declares of a Converſion of his own goods; and the Defendant juſtifies, becauſe the property of the goods was in J. S. who ſold them to him; which cannot be a good title for him without a Traverſe, unleſſe he had ſhewed he had bought them in Market Overt: and alſo the Defendant's Plea might be true, and yet the Defendant is guilty; for, it may be the Defendant himſelf ſold them to the Plaintiff, or to another who ſold them to the Plaintiff, and afterwards the Defendant found them; and here the Converſion is confeſſed, and not avoided by a ſufficient Juſtification. And as to the latter Plea, it is not ſufficient; for it amounteth but to Not-guilty; and alſo the ſale in the firſt Plea is not good, That it was made to perſons unknown; for it cannot be, but that he muſt have Notice of the buyers, and therefore he ought to have expreſſed their names. And therefore for the inſufficiency of the Defendant's Plea, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Vandrink and Archer's Caſe. Leon. 221, 222.

4. In Trover and Converſion, the Caſe was; A. Sheriff, upon a Fieri facias ſeiſed goods into his hands to the value of the debt; and payed part of the debt; and the goods not being ſold, nor the Writ returned, he is diſcharged of his Office, and afterward he ſells the goods without any Writ of Venditioni Exponas. It was Reſolved, It was a good Sale, though he was diſcharged of his Office; for that the Fieri Facias gives him power to ſell them without any Writ: and therefore adjudged, That the Action of Trover and Converſion brought by the Plaintiff, would not lye againſt him. Trin. 13 Jac. in B. R. Style and Hearing's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 73.

5. In an Action upon Trover and Converſion, the Defendant pleaded, That as Bayliff of the King for a Diſtreſſe upon a Plaint, he took the goods, and ſold them. It was adjudged to be no Plea; for upon a diſtreſſe, the goods ſhall not be ſold, although it be in the caſe of the King: and therefore adjudged the Action did lye againſt the Defendant. Mich. 8 Jac. B. R. Somerſall and Waits Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 255.

6. In Trover and Converſion for converting of goods, the Defendant pleaded a Sale in Market Overt, and ſo juſtified the Converſion; and per Curiam it was holden to be no Plea; for that it amounted but to the general Iſſue. Trin. 5 Jac. B. R. Johns and Williams Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 165.

7. In an Action of Trover of certain Plate, the Defendant pleaded, That at another time the Plaintiff had brought his Action againſt J. S. for the ſame Plate, ſuppoſing the Converſion to have been by him, and in that Action he had recovered damages. It was adjudged, That it was a good plea in barr: and in caſe, one have cauſe of Action againſt two, and he obtaineth a Judgment againſt one, he ſhall not have remedy againſt the other; although it was ſaid, That the parties taking or being in Execution, is no ſatisfaction, if the money be not paid. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Trinit. 3 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1099. Brown and Wotton's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 73.

8. Upon Trover and Converſion of goods, the Plaintiff ſuppoſeth; That 3 Maii, 14 Jac. he was poſſeſſed of the ſame goods, and the ſame day loſt them; and that 4. Maii, Anno ſupradict. they came to the Defendant's hand by Trover; and that poſtea, viz. 1. Maii Anno ſupradict. he converted them. It was found for the Plaintiff: and moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe the Converſion is alledged before the Trover, which cannot be. But it was adjudged, That poſtea convertit is ſufficient, and the Scilicet was void: Whereupon it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 15 Jac. rott. 199. B. R. Teſmond and Johnſon's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 428.

9. Trover was brought in the County of certain Corn, for a tryall of a Title of Land in the County of B. and the parties being at Iſſue, and the Jury ready at the Barr, the Defendant pleaded, That the Enqueſt might not be taken, becauſe after the laſt Continuance, and before the Iſſue joyned, the Plaintiff was Excomenge; and brought the Letters of the Biſhop of L. Ordinary, where the Excomengement was; which bare date 3 Jac. reciting, he was Excomenge for Recuſancy: whereupon the Plaintiff demurred. 1. Becauſe he doth not ſhew in the Letters when he was Excomenge, and every Plea dilatory, or in abatement, ought to be certain; 2. Becauſe it is not averred, That the Plaintiff, and he named in the Excomengement be one and the ſame perſon, The Court held the Letters of Excomengement not ſufficient, becauſe they were after the demurrer, and becauſe the day of Excom-

Excommengement was not certain ſhewed to the Court: wherefore the Jury was taken, who found for the Plaintiff. Mich. 3 Jac. B.R. Baker and Goughs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 13.

10. In Trover, of a Silk Quilt, a Teſtern of a Bed, 5. Curtains, a Petticoat and a Cloak; the Defendant to all but the two laſt, pleaded Not-guilty: and as to the Petticoat and Cloak, ſaid, That London is an ancient City, and within the ſame is a Market every day for all goods to be ſold in every part of the City, ſo as one of the Contractors be a Freeman; and that he being a Freeman of the Company of Mercers, bought thoſe things in his open Shop, wherein he long time uſed to buy Wares, of one J. S. for a ſum of money; and ſo Juſtifies the Converſion. Upon which Plea, the Plaintiff did demur. And it was adjudged the plea was not good; for that the Cuſtome is too general, for every Freeman to buy all manner of Wares in every Shop; for then a Scrivener might buy plate in his Shop: and for that he being a Mercer, to buy Petticoats and Cloaks, is not agreeable to his Trade. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 2 Jac. B.R. Taylor and Chambers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 68.

11. In Trover of 5. Kine; upon a Speciall Verdict, the Caſe was; A. was poſſeſſed of thoſe Kine, and put them to paſture with the Defendant, and agreed to pay to him 12 d. for every Cow weekly as long as they remained with him at paſture. Afterwards A. ſold them to the Plaintiff, who required them of the Defendant; who refuſed to deliver them, unleſſe he would pay for the Paſturage, which amounted to 10 l. Afterwards J. D. paid the 10 l. by the appointment of A. and the Defendant delivered to him the Cattel. It was adjudged by the Court, That this denyall of them upon demand, and delivery of them to J. D. was a Converſion; and that the Defendant might not detain the Cattel againſt the Plaintiff who bought them, untill the 10 l. were paid; but for that, the Defendant is put to his Action againſt him, who put them to him to paſturage. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 7 Car. in B.R. Chapman and Allen's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 197.

12. In Trover and Converſion of 200 Loads of Timber, and 200 Loads of Stackwood, the Caſe was; Tenant for life without Impeachment of Waſte, except voluntary Waſte, he in the Reverſion ſold the Timber Trees growing upon the Land to the Plaintiff; Tenant for life cut down the Trees and ſold them to the Defendant, who ſold them to J. S. And whether the Bargainee of the Trees ſhould have an Action of Trover againſt the Vendee of the Tenant for life, the Tenant for life being alive, was the Queſtion. The Caſe was not reſolved. See Co. 11. Part. Bowles Caſe And ſee Co. 11. Part. Richard Lyſords Caſe, for the Reſolution of this Caſe.

13. Upon Trover and Converſion of a Bond of 100 l. conditioned to pay 50 l. at ſuch a day; which came to the Defendant's hands: and he being required ſuch a day to deliver it, refuſed, and converted it to his own uſe. Upon Not-Guilty, It was found, and Judgment for the Plaintiff; and Errour brought, becauſe no date of the Bond is mentioned, and the day and place of the Converſion not alledged. But the Exceptions were overruled by the Court; for being loſt and converted, peradventure he did not know the certain date of it; and if he ſhould recite a date, and miſ-recite it, it might be a failer of his Action; and the denying to deliver the Bond upon requeſt, is a Converſion; and the aſſignment of the place of it, is not material, when there is a ſufficient Converſion. Trin. 8 Car. B. R. Wilſon and Chambers Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 190.

14. In Trover and Converſion of goods; The Writ was, That ſuch a day, apud A. in Com. S. he was poſſeſſed, &c. and loſt them; and the Defendant found them, and converted them; and in the Declaration, the Plaintiff ſhewed the Trover and Converſion to be apud A. predict. Exception was taken to the Writ, becauſe the place of the Converſion was not ſhewed in it; and 3 H. 6. vouched to that purpoſe. But the Court Reſolved the Writ to be good; for the poſſeſſion ſuppoſed to be at A. and the loſſe, Trover, and Converſion being all conjoyned with a Copulative, all ſhall be intended to be at one place at A. The Judgment was affirmed. Paſch. 14 Car. B. R. rott. 365. White and Hanbies Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 376.

15. In Trover and Converſion of a Bagg of money; upon Special Verdict, the Caſe was; A. recovered againſt B. 40 l. in the County Court. A Capias iſſued againſt B. and Non eſt inventus returned by the Defendant, Serjeant at Mace. A Fieri Facias iſſued againſt W. one of the Pledges of B. and upon this, 3. Butts of W. his goods were taken in Execution. The Plaintiff being preſent to ſtay the ſale of the goods taken ſo in execution, pawned the ſaid bagg of money, and left it in the hands of the Defendant, to the end he ſhould keep the ſame, till the next Court day; and this onely as a pledge for the redelivery of the goods to the Defendant upon his requeſt, if W. in the interim did not obtain from A. the ſparing of the Execution; and the Jury found no requeſt made, nor W. had procured the ſtay of the Execution; but found the Requeſt of the Plaintiff to the Defendant, to deliver the bagg of money; and his Refuſal to do it. The Opinion of the whole Court was, That this being upon a Bailment; and the Writ of Execution being expired, and the time paſt limited to the Defendant by the Writ to ſell the goods, there it was impoſſible for the Defendant to have the goods again; but he is to have the bag of money which was pledged for them: and therefore he was to keep the ſame for his ſatisfaction; and this retainer of the bagg of money, though upon requeſt, in this Caſe was no Converſion. And ſo in the principal Caſe Judgment was given for the Defendant againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 11 Jac. B. R. rott. 1100. Iſaac and Clarks Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part. 307. 308. 309. to 314.

16. In Trover and Converſion of ſo many Hogſheads of Cider in London; The Defendant pleaded bailment of them to him, to redeliver to another in Com. Oxon. to be ſpent in his houſe, abſq; hoc, that he converted them at London, aut alibi extra Com. Oxon. It was holden by the Court to be no good Plea, becauſe it is no more but Not-guilty, the general Iſſue; and a difference was taken, where one doth juſtifie in another County, and ſhews a ſpecial Cauſe of Juſtification, as by reaſon of a Special Warrant of a Juſtice of the Peace, there ſuch traverſe may be taken: but not where the thing is meerly perſonal and tranſitory, as in this caſe, Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. Phillips and Wicks Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. Part. 209.

17. In Trover and Converſion, the Caſe was; The Defendant keeping a Common Inne, a ſtranger brought the Plaintiff's horſe to the Inne, and there ſet him for ſome time; afterwards he went away, leaving the Plaintiff's horſe there for a pledge for his meat. The Defendant not being paid for the horſe-meat, detained the Horſe; the Plaintiff demanded the horſe: which the Defendant refuſed to deliver to him: whereupon he brought the Action; and the Defendant pleaded the ſpecial matter aforeſaid: upon which the Plaintiff demurred in Law. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Demurrer was not good; but the Defendant's Plea was good; and Reſolved, That an Inne-keeper may retain and keep a Horſe left in his Inne for his meat, although it be the horſe of a ſtranger: for otherwiſe it might be a fine trick for the Plaintiff to have his horſe kept, and to give the Inne-keeper nothing for the ſame; but inſtead of payment of him for his meat, to pay him with an Action: and ſo it was adjudged, Mich. 6 Jac. in B.R. in Harlew and Wood's Caſe. Part. 106. Shelly's Caſe.

2. The Caſe was this; There was Robert Bingham the Grandfather, Robert the Father, and Richard the Son. The Grandfather held the Mannor of Binghams by Knights-Service of Sir John Horſey, as of his Mannor of Horſey's Melcam, and levied a Fine of the Mannor of Bingham's Melcam, unto the uſe of himſelf and his Wife, and the heirs of Robert the Grandfather; and afterwards he levied another Fine of the ſaid Mannor to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of Robert the Father being heir in taile, the Remainder to the right heirs of the Grandfather. Robert the Father dyed; Richard his Son and heir being within age, by which the Remainder diſcended to him: Sir John Horſey ſuffered a Common Recovery of his Mannor of Horſeys Melcum unto the uſe of himſelf, and Dorothy his Wife in taile, and afterwards to the uſe of Sir Ralph Horſey and his Wife in taile; the Remainder to the right heirs of Sir John: Sir John Horſey and Dorothy dyed without Iſſue, Sir Ralph Horſey entred into the Mannor of Horſeys Melcum. Afterwards Robert Bingham the Grandfather dyed, by which the Reverſion of that Mannor diſcended to Richard Bingham.

Bingham. Afterwards Jane the Wife of Robert Bingham the Father dyed, Richard Bingham within age entred into the Mannor of Binghams Melcam, & made a Leaſe to J.S. of part of the Demeans thereof for 7. years, who demiſed it to J.D. who entred; Upon whom Sir Ralph Horſey entred, and J.D. brought againſt him Ejectione Firmæ of the Demeans of the Mannor of Binghams Melcam. It was Reſolved by the whole Court in this Caſe, That Sir Ralph Horſey the Defendant ſhould not have the Wardſhip of Richard Bingham, becauſe Robert Bingham the Father held not of him, nor any of his, nor any of his Anceſtors at the time of his death; nor was the Land within the Fee and Seigniory of Sir Ralph Horſey at the time of the death of Robert Bingham the Father; and a man ſhall never have the Wardſhip of the heir, when the Land was not in his Fee or Seignory at the time of the death of the Tenant: and it was ſaid, That in the principal Caſe, the Law ſhall look back to the death of him in the Remainder, and the diſcent from him to one within age, which is the Original Cauſe of Wardſhip, then to the death of the Tenant for life, viz. Robert the Grandfather, which is but the cauſa ſine qua non; and rather a Removal of the Impediment; then a cauſe of the Wardſhip. Cook. 2. Part 9. Bingham's Caſe.

3. The Baroneſs of Mounteagle in her Widowhood, retained J. S. to be her Chaplain, according to the Statute of 21 H. 8. who had a Benefice of the value of 8 l. per annum. The Baroneſs married the Lord Compton. Afterwards J. S. having obtained a Diſpenſation, was Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted into a ſecond Benefice. It was Reſolved, That in this caſe, That J. S. after the marriage might have a Diſpenſation, and thereupon a ſecond Benefice; for that the Law in this caſe looks back upon the Original Act, which was the Retainer of the Chaplain by the Baroneſs in her Widowhood, which had a good beginning; and therefore ſo long as the Baroneſs continued a Baroneſs, ſhe had power to retain two Chaplains: and ſuch Chaplains might have a Plurality; and in this caſe ſhe continued a Baroneſſe, and the Priviledge was not loſt by her Inter-marriage with the Lord Compton. Cook. 4. Part. 117, 118. Alton's Caſe.

4. A. brought a Writ of Covenant againſt B. for not repairing a houſe; The Defendant pleaded an Accord between him and the Plaintiff, and execution of it in ſatisfaction of the default of Repairing. In this caſe it was Objected, That this Action of Covenant was founded upon the Deed, and ſo could not be diſcharged but by matter of as high a nature, and not by matter of Accord in Pais. Yet it was Reſolved, becauſe the duty did accrue not meerly by the Deed, but by matter ſubſequent together with the Deed: For there is a difference, when a duty accrues by the Deed inter tainty tempore Confectionis, as by Covenant, Bill, Obligation; there this duty takes his eſſence and operation originally from the Deed, Bill, or Obligation; and muſt be avoided by matter of as high Nature, viz. by Writing: But when no certainty accrues by the Deed, but a wrong or a ſubſequent default do give an Action to recover damages, which are onely in the perſonalty, there for ſuch wrong or default, Accord with ſatisfaction is a good Plea. See Cook. 6. Part. 41. Blake's Caſe.

5. If a man make a Feoffment in Fee upon Condition, That the Feoffee before ſuch a day ſhall re-enfeoffe the Feoffor, and the Feoffee taketh a Wife, or entreth into Religion and is profeſt; in theſe Caſes the Feoffer may enter preſently before the day: albeit that before the day the Wife dyeth, or the Feoffee be deraigned or take back the eſtate; becauſe the Law looks upon the Original Act, the diſability in the Feoffee: for once diſabled, he is diſabled for ever. But if a man maketh a Feoffment upon Condition, That if the Feoffor or his heirs pay a ſum of money before ſuch a day, and the Feoffor commits Treaſon, and is Attainted and executed, now there is a diſability on the part of the Feoffor, for he hath no heir; but if the heir be reſtored before the day, he may perform the Condition: And ſo it was adjudged, 18 Eliz. in C.B. in Sir Thomas Wiat's Caſe: otherwiſe it is, if ſuch diſability had been on the part of the Feoffee; and the reaſon of the difference is, becauſe that the eſtate of the Land did originally flow from the the Feoffor, ſo as there remains a kind of Right to have the Land again: and ſo it is in caſe the Feoffor enters into Religion and is profeſt, and before the day is deraigned, in ſuch caſe he may perform the Condition for the cauſe aforeſaid. See Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 221. acc.

2. Where a man may not do an Act to himſelf, et è contrà: and what Acts may be ſo done. And where a man may do an Act; and take by the ſame act: where not.

1. Roſſe was bound in a Recogniſance of 1000 l. to A. and B. Afterwards Roſſe and his Wife gave part of the Mannors of Dale and Sale in the County of York, to the Conuſees: A. one of the Conuſees, ſued execution of the ſaid Recogniſance againſt Roſſe in London; and he was taken in Execution: and afterwards he ſuppoſing the giving of the Lands unto the Conuſees, had diſcharged the ſaid Recogniſance, brought an Audita Querela. It was Reſolved in that caſe, That the Audita Querela did not lye, becauſe in that caſe, the Land was not the debtor, but the body of the Conuſor remained the debtor; and the Land was not chargeable with the debt, but at the Election of the Conuſees: But yet in that caſe it was holden, That if the Conuſor doth enfeoffe the Conuſee of part of the Land, and a ſtranger of another part of it, and reſerve a part in his own hands; that in that caſe the Conuſee ſhall not have Execution againſt the ſtranger: For if the Conuſee himſelf be one of the Feoffees, the Lands in the hands of the other Feoffees ſhall not be chargeable with the Execution; for that the Conuſee himſelf cannot be contributary with them, (for his part towards the ſatisfying of the charge) becauſe he cannot contribute to himſelf, nor can he be contributary for a perſonal thing due to himſelf: Howbeit againſt the Conuſor himſelf the Conuſee ſhall have execution againſt him for the part of the Lands which remaineth in his hands. 5 E. 6. Plow. Comment. 72. Roſſe and Pope's Caſe.

2. If there be Lord and Tenant, and the Lord releaſeth to his Tenant the Seignory, the ſame of neceſſity muſt enure by way of Extinguiſhment; for that the Tenant cannot have Service to be taken of himſelf; nor can one and the ſame man be Lord and Tenant; and ſo it is if a Rent-Charge be granted out of Land, and the grantee Releaſeth, or granteth the Rent to the Tenant of the Land, the ſame muſt needs enure by way of Extinguiſhment; for that a man cannot have Land and a Rent iſſuing out of the ſame Land at one time. See Litt. 479, 480. See Cook. Inſtitutes 1. Part. 307. acc.

3. Sir Ralph Howlet Knight, ſeiſed in taile of the Mannor of Gorham Bury, the remainder in tail, the remainder in Fee to Sir Ralph; ſuffered a common Recovery thereof in a Writ of Entry, he being then Sheriff of the County of Hertford, where the Mannor was; and therefore becauſe he was Sheriff of the County, and could not ſue himſelf, or ſummon himſelf. It was deviſed, that a Writ of Errour ſhould be brought againſt him; wherein a Releaſe of all Errours made by him ſhould be pleaded, thereby intending to barre the Iſſue: which was done accordingly. But notwithſtanding this; In that caſe it was adjudged, That the Iſſue in taile was not barred, nor he in the Remainder by the ſame Recovery, but might avoid the ſame in a Writ of Errour brought by them: for that the firſt Recovery was void, in that Sir Ralph Howlet being Sheriff, could not do an act to himſelf, viz. ſummon himſelf upon the Writ of Entry brought. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 188. Sir Ralph Howlet's Caſe.

4. The younger brother diſſeiſed the eldeſt brother, who was barred in an Aſſiſe by falſe oath. The younger brother charged the Land, and dyed without Iſſue, and the Land diſcended to the eldeſt. It was adjudged, That he was without remedy to avoid the Charge, becauſe he could not be remitted againſt the Record, and there was none (but himſelf) againſt whom he could bring his Action; and he could not bring the Action againſt himſelf. 25 H. 8. Dyer. 5. See C. 3. Part. in the Marqueſs of Winchester's Caſe, acc.

5. Note: It was agreed by the Juſtices, That if a Parſon of a Church purchaſe a Mannor within his Pariſh, that by this purchaſe and unity of poſſeſſion, the Mannor is diſcharged of Tythes in the hands of the Parſon, which was chargeable before, becauſe the Parſon cannot pay Tythes to himſelf; but if afterwards he leaſeth the Mannor to a ſtranger, there he himſelf ſhall pay Tythes. But it was holden, If a Parſon Leaſe his Glebe, rendring Rent, there the Leſſee ſhall pay Tythes. 30 H. 8. Dyer. 105. See Coo. 1. Part. Albanie's Caſe. Coo. 2. Part. Biſhop of Canterburies Caſe: and Coo. 11. Part. 13. in Pridle and Nappon's Caſe.

6. It was holden by the Juſtices, That if a woman be Guardian of the Fleet, and one who is there impriſoned marrieth the Woman Guardian; the ſame ſhall be adjudged an eſcape in the woman, and the Law ſhall adjudge the priſoner to be at large, becauſe he cannot be in priſon under the Cuſtody of his Wife. And ſo if the Warden of the Fleet who hath the Office in Fee-ſimple, dyeth ſeiſed of the Office, his ſon and heir then being in priſon, the Law ſhall adjudge him to be out of priſon; priſon; although he hath fetters upon his leggs: becauſe he cannot keep himſelf in priſon, or be a priſoner to himſelf: and there ore in ſuch caſe, It ſhall be intended an Eſcape. Paſch. 4 E. 6. Plow. Com. Plate and the Sheriff of London's Caſe, 37.

7. A Recognizance was made to Sir Nicholas Bacon Knight, Keeper of the Great Seal, and two others: and it was taken before the ſaid Sir Nicholas Bacon; and if it were good, or not, was the Queſtion. And the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That as to Sir Nicholas Bacon it was void; for that he could not take a Recognizance to himſelf; but as to the two others, it was good. Paſch. 5 Eliz. Dyer. 220. Sir Nicholas Bacon's Caſe.

8. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was, That the next Avoidance of the Church was granted to three, Habendum to them et uni eorum conjunctim et diviſim: the two firſt named in the Grant, preſented the third, who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted: and it was adjudged to be good. But it was holden, If the Biſhop had refuſed his Preſentment alone; then the Quare Impedit would not have layen: becauſe the ſeverance in the Habendum was void in Law; and ſo he could not preſent himſelf. 14 Eliz. Dyer. 302.

9. If the Advowſon of the Church of D. be granted to the Parſon of D. and his Succeſſors; It is void as to the Succeſſors, becauſe that the Succeſſor cannot take it, nor can have any benefit of it by way of preſentation, becauſe he cannot preſent himſelf to the ſame. Cook. 2. Part. 51. in Sir Hugh Cholmley's Caſe.

10. Excommunication is a ſpiritual act; and if it be pleaded in diſability of the party in the King's Temporal Courts, it muſt be certified to the Court by the Biſhop himſelf, for that none can certifie an Excomengement to the Court, but he who is immediate Officer to the Court, and an Excomengement certified by his Commiſſary, is not good: and ſuch Certificate made by the Biſhop of an Excomengement ſhall be good. But yet if a Biſhop be Defendant in an Action brought againſt him, an Excomengement of the Plaintiff in that Action being certified by him in his own Court, ſhall not be allowed by the Judges of the Common Law, to be any diſability of the Plaintiff in the Action; for that the Biſhop ſhall not be Judge in his own cauſe; and the Temporal Judges ſhall intend it to be in the ſame cauſe. Mich. 6 Jac. in the Exchequer. Coo. 8. Part. 68. in Trollop's Caſe.

11. In an Action of Debt brought upon an Obligation, the Caſe was; Two were bound to a Third perſon joyntly and ſeverally; The Obligee made the Wife of one of the Obligors his Executrix, and dyed, who adminiſtred: The Husband the Obliger made her alſo his Executrix, and dyed, leaving Aſſetts to pay the debt, then ſhe dyed. The Plaintiff took Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods and Chattels of the Obligee, not adminiſtred; who brought Debt againſt the Defendant being the ſurviving Obligor: and in this Caſe it was adjudged by the whole Court, That the Action would not lye; For that when the Obligor made the Executrix of the Obligor his Executrix, and left Aſſetts, the Executrix could not ſue her ſelf, but the debt was forthwith ſatisfied by way of Retainer; and being a perſonal Action, once ſuſpended, it was for ever extinct, and ſo no new Action could be brought for that debt. Hill. 11 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1999. Fryer and Gildridges Caſe. Hob. 10.

12. In Treſpaſſe for taking away a Bag of Nutmegs, the Defendant pleaded, That the City of London is an Ancient City time out of mind, and that the Mayor, Citizens, and Comminalty had been a Body politique time out of mind, and ſeiſed of a Wharf in London called Queen-Hithe; and by all that time had uſed to take for goods layd upon the ſaid Wharf, to be conveyed from thence, of perſons not lawfully diſcharged Wharfage, ſcil. 1 d. for every Porter's burthen; and for not payment, to diſtrein for ſuch Wharfage upon the ſaid Wharf: and ſhewed, that two Porters burthens of the Plaintiff's goods, being no perſon diſcharged, (whereof the Bag of Nutmegs was part) was brought and layed upon the Wharf, to be conveyed by Water; and the Defendant being the Collector, demanded the Wharfage; and becauſe the ſame was not paid, he diſtrained the bagg of Nutmegs. The Plaintiff by Replication ſaid, That within the ſame City there was, and time out of mind had been a Cuſtome, That all the Free-men of the ſaid City had been, and ought to be diſcharged of the ſaid payment of Wharfage; and averred, he was a Freeman of the City, &c. The Defendant ſaid, There was no ſuch Cuſtome within the ſaid City. And then ſayes, That within the City there is, and time out of mind hath been a Cuſtome, That when any Iſſue, &c. upon any Cuſtome of the ſaid City is joyned, though the Mayor, Comminalty, and Citizens be parties to the Action; The Mayor and Aldermen of the City have uſed to certifie to the Juſtices the truth of the Cuſtome. The Plaintiff ſaid, That the ſaid Iſſue ought to be tryed by Jury, and not by Certificate; and that the Cuſtome for the tryal by Certificate was againſt Law: upon which the Defendant demurred in Law. The Queſtion only was, Whether the Cuſtome alledged in this ſpecial Caſe, were good or not? that the Mayor and Aldermen ſhould certifie a Cuſtome which concerned the Intereſt of the Corporation, whereof they were a part. And in that that Caſe, It was adjudged by the whole (amongſt other points) That it was againſt Right and Juſtice, and againſt natural Equity, to allow them their Certificate, wherein they are to try and judge their own cauſe. And although in the pleading it was confeſſed, That the Cuſtome of Certificate of the Cuſtomes of London is confirmed by Parliament; yet it made no change in the caſe againſt natural Equity, becauſe it is none of the Cuſtomes intended, but a kind of Preſcription, or in the nature of a Preſcription, and ſo not within their Cuſtomes. And an Act of Parliament made againſt natural Equity, to make a man Judge in his own cauſe, is void in it ſelf. And therefore it was Reſolved, That the Tryal in the principal caſe ſhould be by Jury, and not by the Certificate. Trin. 12 Jac. in C.B. rott. 619. Day and Savage's Caſe. Hob. 85.

13. If there be Lord and Tenant, and the Tenant make a Leaſe to a man for the Term of his life; ſaving the Reverſion to himſelf: If the Lord grant the Seignory to the Tenant for life in Fee, (although as to all things concerning the right, the Seignory hath its being) yet as to the poſſeſſion during the particular eſtate, the Grantee ſhall take no benefit of the Seignory, and during that time he ſhall have no Rent, Service, Wardſhip or the like, becauſe thoſe duties belong to the poſſeſſion; and he cannot do or pay them to himſelf. Cos. 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 314. acc.

14. Note: A man cannot preſent himſelf unto a Benefice by way of Preſentation: But yet in ſome caſes a man ſhall do an Act by the ſufferance of the Law, to himſelf; as, a man may vouch himſelf for to ſave the tail, or pray in ayd of himſelf, or a man may pay himſelf by way of Retainer; but a man cannot give a thing to himſelf; no more then the husband can give to the Wife, becauſe they are one perſon in Law. See 13 H.8. 13. Heckey's Caſe.

15. The Lord of a Mannor did preſcribe, That he had uſed to diſtrain the Cattle, which were upon the demeans of his Mannor for damage feaſant, and to detain the diſtreſſe untill a Fine were paid to him for damages at his Will, and the Preſcription was adjudged void, becauſe it was againſt a Rule in Law, that no man ſhould be Judge in his own cauſe. See Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 141. And ſee, That a Cuſtome, that the Lord ſhall ſeize for a Heriot, the beaſt of a ſtranger levant and couchant upon the Land of the Tenant; is a void Cuſtome; for ſo he ſhould be his own Judge. See Dyer. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 199. See Davis Reports in the Caſe of Tanaſtrie, acc. Hill. 17 Car. in B.R. in Thorn and Tyes Caſe, by Brampton, Juſtice, the Cuſtome to diſtrain the Cattle of a ſtranger for a Heriot, is good, becauſe the diſtreſs is onely a pledge, and a means to get the Heriot.

Acts of God, of the Law, and of the Party.

And where they ſhall bind; Where not. And where ſuch Acts ſhall ſtand good; Where not.

1. WHen the Law preſcribeth a means to perfect or ſettle any right or eſtate, if by the Act of God this means in ſome circumſtance come impoſſible; yet no party who was to have received benefit if the means had been withall circumſtances performed, ſhall not receive any prejudice for not executing thereof in ſuch circumſtance, which becomes impoſſible by the act of God, if all be done without Lacheſſe that the parties might do: and therefore the Rule of Law is, That a man ſhall not be Tenant by the Curteſie without actual ſeiſin: Yea of a Rent, or of an Advowſon, if the Wife dye before the Rent due, or before the Avoidance, he ſhall be Tenant by the Curteſie; becauſe it was impoſſible for him by the Act of God to have Actual poſſeſſion. So if Leſſee for the Term of another man's life be diſſeiſed of Lands, and the diſſeiſor takes the profits: the means which the Law preſcribes for the Recovery of the mean profits is, that the Tenant for life make his re-entry, and ſo bring an Action of Treſpaſſe. But if the means become impoſſible by the Act of God, ſcil. by the death of Ceſtuy que vie, in ſuch caſe he ſhall have an Action of Treſpaſſe without any re-entry. See Cook. 1. Part. 97. in Shelly's Caſe.

2. Edward Shelley Leaſed Lands for years, and afterwards Covenanted to ſuffer a Common Recovery, which ſhould be to the uſe of himſelf, and after to the uſe of A. for 24 years, and afterwards to the heirs males of the body of Ed. Shelley, and the heirs males of the body of the ſaid heirs males. Ed. Shelley 9. October, the firſt day of the Term in the morning betwixt 5. and 6. of the Clock dyed, the Recovery paſſeth the ſame day, and an Habere facias ſeiſinam was awarded, but the Recovery was not executed untill 19. of October: the 4th of December ember the Wife of the Eldeſt ſon (before dead) of Ed. Shelley was delivered of a ſon, named Henry Shelley. It was adjudged in this caſe, when Ed. Shelley dyeth the morning of the ſame day that the Judgment was given, and immediately upon the Judgment, the Recoverers ſue forth Execution by Habere facias ſiſinam, ſo as there was no Laheſſe in the party, but it became impoſſible by the Act of God, that Execution ſhould be ſued in the life of Ed. Shelley. It was adjudged, That the ſame ſhould not prejudice the ſon that was after born, who at that time was in utero Matris. Cook. 1. Part. 98. Shelley's Caſe.

3. Two men are condemned in Debt, the one was taken and dyed in Execution. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the taking of the other in Execution was lawfull; and an Audita Querela brought by him did not lye: and it was Reſolved, That if the party dyeth in Execution, that the Plaintiff may have a New Execution by Elegitor Fieri facias, becauſe the Act of God, viz. the death of the party ſhall not tend to the prejudice of any man; and ſo likewiſe it is of the Act of the Law. 39 Eliz. in B.R. rott. 259. Cook. 5. Part. 86. Blunfield's Caſe. See Trin. 10 Jac. rott. 38. C.B. Foſter and Jackſon's Caſe. Hob. 52. adjudged, That a man dying in Execution, his Heirs or Executors are no further Chargeable: contrary to the Judgment in Blunfield's Caſe. And ſee Paſch. 43 Eliz. Williams and Cutteryes Caſe there vouched, adjudged accordingly.

4. Tenant in Capite dyed, his heir of full age, who tendered his Livery, and was admitted to it, and within the time given him for the proſecution of his Livery, he bargained and ſold part of the Lands to another in Fee, and within that time alſo dyed. It was adjudged in that caſe, That when the heir at his full age tendered his Livery, the ſame was as much as he could do, then when he dyed within the time for the proſecution of his Livery, ſo as the ſuing out of it was become impoſſible by the Act of God, the Intereſt which the King had, was determined by the death of the heir, and the bargainee might entet and occupy the Land without any Monſtrans de droit, or Amoveas manum. Cook. 8. Part. 172. Hales Caſe.

5. If the Grantee of a Rent-Charge purchaſeth parcel of the Land; he cannot afterwards maintain a Writ of Annuity, becauſe the Rent is extinct by his own act; But if the Rent determineth by the Act of God, or by the Act of the Law, there he ſhall have a Writ of Annuity; quia Actus Legis non facit injuriam. Cook. 2. Part. 36. Fulwood and Ward's Caſe.

6. Note; That a man by his own Act cannot alter the nature of his Action: As in Waſte, If the Leſſor releaſe Actions reall, he cannot have an Action perſonal, nor è contra; but by the Act of Law, the nature of an Action may be changed: As if Leſſee for the life of another man committeth Waſte, and Ceſtuy que vie dyeth, an Action of Waſte lyeth onely for the damages in the perſonalty, becauſe the Action real is determined by the Act of God, and of the Law. See Coo. 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 285. acc.

7. A Woman Copy-holder of certain Land durante viduitate ſua, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor ſowed the Land; and before ſeverance of the Corn ſowed, ſhe took a husband: and the Queſtion was, Whether the Husband, or the Lord of the Mannor ſhould have the Corn ſowed? And it was adjudged, That the Lord of the Mannor ſhould have it; for although at the time of the ſowing, the eſtate of the Wife was incertain; and although her eſtate be ended by Limitation, and not by Condition either in Fact, or in Law; yet becauſe it determineth by the Act of the Leſſee herſelf, the Lord ſhall have the Corn, and not the Husband. Hill. 37 Eliz. rott. 924. in B.R. Coo. 5. Part. 116. Oland's Caſe.

8. In a Prohibition, the Caſe was, Tho. Lord de la Ware was ſeiſed of 140 Acres of Land in Cowfield, parcel of an Ancient Park repleniſhed with Deer; and preſcribed, That all the Farmers and Occupiers thereof time out of mind had uſed to pay to the Vicar of Cowfield 2 s. a year, and a ſhoulder of every third Deer which ſhould be felled in the Park, in full ſatisfaction of all Tythes remaining upon the ſaid 140 Acres of Land. The Vicar by proteſtation denying the preſcription, ſaid, That the Deer in the ſaid Park were utterly deſtroyed by the Owners and Occupiers of the ſaid 140 Acres of Land, and the Lands converted into arrable; and ſo prayed Tythe in kind of the Lands. It was holden in this Caſe, by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, That if all the Deer dye of ſome diſeaſe by the Act of God; yet the Owner is not bound to repleniſh the Park with Deer to maintain the modus Decimandi: and yet he held, That the modus did continue, becauſe the Act of God ſhould not prejudice the party in their preſcription. Mich. 10 Jac. C. B. Cooper and Andrews Caſe. Hob. 40.

9. In a Writ of Errour brought to reverſe a Judgment given in an Inferiour Court, the Error aſſigned was, That it is ſaid in the Style of the Court, that the Court was holden per Conſuetudinem, et per Literas Patentes: And the Opinion of the Court was, That the ſame was a good Cauſe to reverſe the Judgment: For it was agreed, That if a Court be holden by Cuſtome, and afterwards a Patent be purchaſed to hold it, and they hold it after by the Letters Patents: That, becauſe this is by the Act of the parties who have the Court; the Cuſtome to hold the Court, is utterly deſtroyed. Mich. 24 Car. in B. R. Tompkins and Fourdon's Caſe. Styles. 131.

10. A. ſingle Woman, who was Tenant for life, made a Leaſe at Will rendring Rent; and afterwards ſhe took a husband: It was a Queſtion, Whether by this intermarriage of the Wife with the Husband, it being her act, had determined the eſtate at Will, or not? And in this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That by the Intermarrying, the Leaſe at Will was not determined, becauſe of the ſpecial prejudice which might come to the husband; and the Wife by no act of hers could prejudice the husband: for if ſhe might, the husband ſhould loſe the Rent reſerved; and therefore the Eſtate at Will could not be determined but by an expreſſe act done after the Intermarriage, by the husband himſelf. 2. It was Reſolved, That after the marriage the Wife her ſelf could not determine the Leaſe at Will, becauſe by the Entermarriage ſhe had ſubmitted her ſelf and her whole Will unto the Will of her husband. See Mich. 37 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 1634. Cook. 5. Part. 10. Henſtead's Caſe.

11. The Caſe was; There was Husband and Wife, and the Wife declared the uſes of a Fine, That it ſhould be to the uſe of her ſelf for life, and after to the uſe of the Conuſees; and after the husband by another Indenture without the aſſent of the Wife, declared the uſe of the ſame Land to be to the uſe of the husband and wife for their lives, without Impeachment of Waſte, and afterwards to the uſe of the Conuſees: and afterwards the Fine was levyed by the husband and wife. In this caſe it was adjudged, That both the Limitations and the Declarations of the uſes were void. But in that caſe, It was Reſolved, That each of them might diſpoſe of the uſe of the Land according to the eſtate they had in the Land. 27 Eliz. Cook. 2. Part. 59. Beckwiths Caſe.

12. It is a Rule in Law, That a Feme Covert cannot do an Act to her husband, or give any thing to her husband; nor the man during the Coverture to his Wife: and therefore in Debt brought againſt a woman Executrix, ſhe pleaded, That ſhe had fully adminiſtred; and it was found, that ſhe had taken the Obligor to husband, and that the husband was dead. It was holden, That this was no Releaſe in Law, nor that the Debt was thereby extinct, but ſuſpended onely during the Coverture; for ſhe could not by taking him to husband, releaſe to him the debt. Mich. 31 Eliz. Cook. 8. Part. 136. Sir John Nordhom's Caſe. But yet ſee in ſome caſe, the husband by a Secondary means may give Lands to his Wife: and therefore a Copy-holder may ſurrender his Land to the uſe of his Wife, and the ſurrender ſhall be good; becauſe the husband doth it not immediately to his Wife, but by means, viz. by ſurrender to the Lord to the uſe of his Wife; and by the admittance of the Lord according to the ſurrender, the Wife takes the eſtate. Cook. 4. Part. 29. Bunting's Caſe.

13. The Law will never adjudge by parcels in ſubverſion of the intents and agreements of the parties; but when all Acts are done in performance of an Original Contract and Agreement of the parties, the Law will judge upon them all as executed at one time. As, if a man make a Leaſe for life by Indenture of Land in ſeveral Counties, and makes Livery of the Land in one County; and many dayes after, makes Livery in the other County; yet one intire Rent ſhall iſſue out of the Lands in both Counties: So if a man makes a Charter of Feoffment with warranty, and delivers the Deed to the Feoffee; and afterwards at another time he makes Livery ſecundum formam Charta, now the Warranty is good; and yet when the Deed was delivered, no eſtate paſſed to which the Warranty might be annexed. See Cook. 2. Part. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe. acc.

14. A. brought an Action of Debt upon an Obligation of 60 l. againſt B. for the payment of 30 l. at Coventry; Iſſue was taken, that the money was paid at Coventry: Afterwards by the act and conſent of the parties, and a paper Rule of the Court, the Iſſue was tryed in London, and found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment thereupon given. Upon which Judgment, a Writ of Errour was brought in the Exchequer Chamber, and there by all the Juſtices, the Judgment was reverſed; for that it was holden, That the parties by their Acts, or by their Conſents could not change the Law concerning the tryal of the Iſſue. Paſch. 7 Jac. in the Exchequer, rott. 47. Crow and Edwards's Caſe. Hob. 5.

15. In an Action upon an Obligation for not performance of Covenants, the caſe was; Sir Daniel Norton Knight, Sheriff of the County of B. made Chamberlain his Under-Sheriff at his Will; and amongſt other Covenants, there was a Covenant or Proviſo, That Chamberlain the Under-Sheriff, ſhould not execute any Extent, Liberate, Elegit, or other execution, for any ſum above the ſum of 20 l. before he had made it firſt known to Sir Daniel the High Sheriff. It was holden by all the Juſtices, That ſuch Covenant or Proviſo was void in Law; being againſt the Law and Juſtice: and in that caſe it was holden, Though it was in the Election and power of Sir Daniel Norton, whether he would make an under-Sheriff at all or not. Yet it was adjudged, that by any Act, Proviſo, or Covenant, he could not leave him to be Under-Sheriff, and yet abridge him of the power which the Law gave unto him; for the doing and ſerving of Executions according to the Law. Paſc. 11 Jac. in C. B. Sir Daniel Norton and Simmes Caſe. Hob. 12. 13.

16. If one Tenant in Common entreth into the whole Land, and claims all the Land expreſly, he cannot by this his Act and entry diſpoſſeſſe his Companion; for the poſſeſſion is the ſame as well before his entry and claim, as it is after: and hence it is, That a Coparcener or a Joynt, or a Tenant in Common can never be diſſeiſed by his Companion: and for the ſame reaſon it is, That if a Tenant in Common do alone bring an Action of Treſpaſſe againſt a ſtranger, his Action ſhall be abated, by pleading him to be Tenant in Common with another, although his entry were generally and expreſly into all. Trinit. 12 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2141. Smales and Dales Caſe. Hob. 120.

2. What ſhall be an Act executed within the Statutes of 32 and 34 Hen. 8. of Wills.

1. A. Seiſed of Lands holden in Capite, in Conſideration of money to him paid, being parcel of the Marriage-Portion of M. his Sons Wife; for the better maintenance and livelihood of the ſaid M. during her life, and for the advancement of the Iſſue males of the ſaid M. by his ſon begotten; Conveys Lands to B. and C and their heirs during the life of the ſaid Margaret, and after to the uſe of A. during his life, and after to the uſe of H. ſon and heir of his ſaid ſon, and M. in tail; which Conveyance to B. and C. and their heirs was in truſt, for the profit and benefit of the ſaid M. The ſaid A. dyeth, his ſon being his next heir of full age. It was Reſolved by the Chief Juſtices and Chief Baron in the Court of Wards, That the ſaid Conveyance to B. and C. and their heirs during the life of the ſaid M. was an Act executed within the Statutes of 32 & 34 H. of Wills, and that his ſaid ſon is Child within the ſaid Statute; and the Conveyance in Truſt to others for M. is all one, as if it had been to her ſelf to her own uſe. Mich. 9 Jac. in Court of Wards. Cleer's Caſe. Ley. 44.

A. by Indenture 43 Eliz. did Convey Lands holden in Capite to B. and C. and their heirs, to the uſe of A. for life, and after to the uſe of ſuch perſons as the ſaid A. by his laſt Will ſhould appoint during the minority of D. his Grandchild, and after to his ſaid Grandchild in taile, the Remainder to the right heirs of the body of J. C. his ſon. A. afterwards by his Will, appointed that the Lands which were upon the ſaid Conveyance ſhall come to D. his Grandchild, and ſhould with the profits of the ſame during his minority be imployed by his Executors, the one moyety for the bringing up of his ſaid Grandchild; and the other moyety for the payment of his debts and other uſes. A. made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; D. his Grandchild within the age of 21 years. It was Reſolved, That as concerning the Moyety of the ſaid Lands, the profits of which were appointed to be taken by the Wife Executrix; and for the bringing up of his ſaid Grandchild was no Act executed in the life of A. within the Statutes of 32 and 34 H. 8. of Wills; for that the Grandchild in the life of his father was no Child of the Grandfather within the meaning of the ſaid Statutes; but as for the other moyety appointed for the payment of his debts. It was Reſolved, That the ſaid Conveyance and Will, were Acts executed within the ſaid Statutes. Mich. 9 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Sir Edward Cleeres Caſe. Ley. 44.

Acts of Parliament. See Parliament.

1. Acts of Parliament; When, and from whence they ſhall be ſaid to take effect; and When and Where they ſhall relate; & è contra.

1. IN Debt brought by an Informer tam pro Domino Rege, quàm pro ſeipſo, upon the Statute made Anno 5 E. 6. of Uſury, the Writ was, Ad reſpondendum Domino Regi quam parti de placito quod reddat tam Domino Regi, quam parti, &c. quas præfato Domino Regi et præfato Querent. debet et injuſtè detinet ratione cujuſdam attempt. contra formam Statuti in Parliamento Domini Regis nunc tent. apud Weſtm. Anno Regni ſui ſexto contra eos qui; and declared, That the Parliament was holden 23 die Januarii Anno quinto, and continued uſq; 15 Aprilis Anno ſexto. The Defendant pleaded, Quod non recep. contra formam Statuti, &c. which was found againſt the Defendant. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Statute was miſ-recited. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That though it was true, becauſe the Act hath relation to the firſt day of the Seſſion; yet the miſ-recital of the Statute in the Action was not material; and the words, ratione cujuſdam attempt. &c. were void, and ſurpluſage; and ſo Judgment was for the Plaintiff. See 1 Ma. Dyer. 95. Whitton and Morrice's Caſe.

2. An Action of Treſpaſſe of Aſſault, Battery, and Impriſonment, was brought againſt a Conſtable: The Defendant pleaded Not guilty; and juſtified the Impriſonment, by reaſon of a Warrant directed to him by a Juſtice of Peace, for the taking and Impriſoning the Plaintiff, for keeping of an Ale-houſe contrary to to the Statute of 12. Feb. 5 Eliz. whereas the Statute was made 12. Febr. 5 Ed. 6. and the matter being found by Special Verdict; It was holden by All the Juſtices, That the miſ-recital of the Act was not material; for it being a general Act, the Juſtice ought to take notice of it: And it was there holden, That a man cannot plead Nul tiel Record againſt an Act of Parliament; although in truth the Record be imbezeled, if it be a general Act, becauſe every man is party to it. Mich. 8 Jac. in C.B. Folly Woollſey's Caſe. Godbolt. 178.

3. The Act of Parliament of General Pardon, doth Pardon All Felony, &c. In which Act, Burglary was excepted. It was a Queſtion, Whether the Attainder of one for a Burglary was Excepted? It was Objected, That by the Attainder and Judgment the offence of Burglary which was but matter in fact, was altered by the Judgment, and become of Record, and thereby the Offence utterly Extinct; and then it was not by the name of Burglary excepted, and ſo by conſequence he, who was ſo Attainted, ſhould be pardoned. But the Opinion of All the Judges of England was, That when Burglary was excepted out of the general Pardon, that the Attainder of Burglary was excepted; for that the Offence remained after the Judgment, and was the foundation of it. 19 Eliz. Cook. The Caſe of general Pardon. 14.

4. A. Parſon of B. was deprived Anno 12 Eliz. for committing Adultery, and afterwards by the general Act of Parliament, Anno 13 Eliz. the Offence of Adultery, (inter alia) was pardoned before 14. Febr. then laſt paſt. It was ſaid, That before the pardon, That before the crimen Adulterii prædict. tranſivit in rem judicatam, and therefore the ſentence ſhould remain in force, and therefore untill the ſentence was repealed, the Deprivation ſhould remain in force: But it was Reſolved, That A. by virtue of the ſaid Pardon ſhould become Parſon again without any ſentence declaring the Deprivation to be void, for by the Pardon, the Adultery, which was the Cauſe of the ſentence, was diſcharged, and by conſequence all that which did depend upon the ſame foundation, was alſo diſcharged. 20 Eliz. Dyer. vouched in Cook. 6. Part. in the Caſe of Pardons. 14.

5. A. five years before the general Act of Pardon, 35 Eliz. exhibited his Bill in the Star-Chamber againſt B. for Riots, Rowts, &c. and then came the General Pardon of 19 Feb. 35 Eliz. and therein was excepted, All Penalties, forfeitures, now due accrued or grown, or which ſhall or may accrue or grow to the Queen, by reaſon of any Offence, miſdemeanor or contempt, whereof, and for which any Action, Bill, Plaint, or Information at any time within 8. years next before the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament hath been or ſhall be exhibited, and that be there the laſt day of this preſent Seſſion of Parliament depending or remaining to be proſecuted; And alſo excepted, All Offences, diſcords, Covins, Frauds and miſdemeanors, whereof and for which any Suit, Bill, or Plaint within 4 years next before the laſt day of this Seſſion of Parliament ſhould be commenced or exhibited. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That the Fine due to the Queen was excepted; but the Impriſonment, and all the Corporal puniſhment was pardoned; for in the firſt Exception, the Offence it ſelf is not excepted, but the forfeiture and penalty due to the Queen is not excepted; for it is not included within the words, Forfeiture, penalty, or profit. But if the Bill had been exhibited within the 4. years, then the Offence it ſelf being excepted, all Incidents or dependents to it, as well corporal as pecuniary, had been excepted; and therefore it was Reſolved, in ſuch caſe nothing was pardoned. 2. Where it is a Parliament, and where not; and where an Action will lye: though no Act be for not returning a Burgeſs. And who ſhall be a Peer of Parliament.

1. NOte: It was ſaid by the Court, That the Intended Parliament of 10 Jac. if it might or ought to be judged by the Journal book, was a large and well occupied Parliament. But becauſe no Act paſſed by it, nor no Record is of it, therefore it was Reſolved by all the Judges, to be No Parliament; In the King and Lord Hunſdon's Caſe, Caſe, and the Counteſs of Arundell. Trin. 14 Jac. in the Chancery. Hob. 611.

2. An Action of Debt was brought againſt the Defendant Bayliff of S. upon the Statute of 21 H. 6. for not returning him Burgeſs of the Town of S. for the laſt Intended Parliament: and where the words of the Statute are, That the Sheriff ſhall ſend his Precept to the Mayor; if there be no Mayor, then to the Bayliff. The Plaintiff declared, That the Sheriff had made his Precept to the Bayliff, without averring, There was no Mayor: and after a Verdict, the ſame was moved in Arreſt of Judgment. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was good: for the Court ſhall not intend, That there is a Mayor, except it be ſhewed; and if there was one, it ſhould properly come on the other ſide: And although the Parliament was none, becauſe there was no Act nor Record of it: Yet it was adjudged, That the Action did lye; for that there was a Return of the Writs; and there were many ſittings in the houſes. Hill. 10 Jac. Saint-John, and St. Johns Caſe. Hob. 78.

3. In an Information brought upon the Statute of 5 Eliz. Cap. 4. for uſing the Trade of an Upholſter, in which he was not brought up; The Defendant pleaded the Cuſtome of London, and ſhewed, that he was a Free-man; and ſo enabled to uſe any Trade: And ſaid, That the Cuſtome was confirmed per Regem in Parliamento; And whether this Cuſtome was layed to be well confirmed, or not, was a Queſtion. It was ſaid and agreed, That three things were requiſite to make a perfect Act of Parliament; 1. To have the aſſent and conſent of the Lords. 2. To have the aſſent of the Commons. 3. The aſſent of the King; and without theſe Conſents, there can be no good Act of Parliament: and this appears by 33 H. 6. 13. 22 E. 3. 3. 4 H. 7. 18. Plow. Com. 79. in Partridge and Crooker's Caſe. But yet it was holden, That divers Acts of Parliament are in force, although theſe three Aſſents are not ſpecified within the ſame; but onely it is Dominus Rex Statuit Cook. 8. Part. 20. in the Prince's Caſe, Dominus Rex in Parliamento ſuo, Statuta edidit; and Dominus Rex de Communi Concilio Statuit: and Dominus Rex in Parliamento Statuit; and all theſe by uſe are good: But yet, when the party will plead an Act of Parliament for his benefit, then he ought to plead it according to Law, and to ſet forth all the Aſſents aforeſaid; and ſo it remained a Quære, Whether the pleading of the Confirmation of the Cuſtome were well or not; which point was not Reſolved in the caſe by the Juſtices. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Allen and Tooley's Caſe; rott. 23. Bolſtr. 2. Part. 186, 187, 188.

4. Note; That upon a private Conference by the Judges with Yelverton the King's Solicitor, upon the diſſolving of the Parliament, which was in this Term ſuddenly diſſolved, and ſo nothing done; Cook, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, It appears by 33 H. 8. Brooks Caſe. 52. Plowdens Comment. 79. in Partridges Caſe, What ſhall be ſaid to be a Seſſion of Parliament; and what not: and that every Seſſion in which the King doth ſign Bills, is a day and Parliament by it ſelf; and that there can be no Roul without a Seſſion; No Parliament without a Roul; Nor no Seſſion without the Royal aſſent. Bolſtr. 2. Part. 235.

5. In a Writ of Errour in Parliament, to diſſolve a Judgment in an Aſſiſe, the Parliament being diſſolved; It was moved in the Court of Kings-Beach, to have Execution of the former Judgment. In that Caſe it was ſaid by Cook, Chief Juſtice, That this was no Parliament, becauſe that, No Bill paſſed, nor any Royal Aſſent; This was onely but an Inception of a Parliament; but if any aſſent or diſ-aſſent had been to any Bill, then this ſhould have been ſaid to be a Seſſion; and then a Roul of this was to be made. Alſo it is not to be tryed by a Jury, Whether there was a Parliament or not: And in the principal caſe, this being a Judgment in an Aſſiſe, is feſtinum remedium, and there it ought not to be now delayed, but that execution ought to be granted; for the Record was never Removed: And execution was granted accordingly. Trinit. 12 Jac. Sir Chriſtopher Heydon and Godſole's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part. 237.

6. Note; Upon an Aſſembly of All the Juſtices, to take Conſideration of the Statute of 35 Eliz. Cap. 1. for abjuration of Sectaries, Whether the ſaid Statute was in force, or not? theſe Points were Reſolved; 1. If a Parliament be aſſembled, and divers Orders made, and a Writ of Errour be brought, and the Record delivered to the Upper-Houſe, and divers Bills are agreed, but no Bills ſigned; That this is but a Convention, and no Parliament, or Seſſion: as it was Anno 12 Jac. in which (as it was affirmed by them which had ſeen the Roll) it is entred, That it is not any Seſſion, or Parliament, becauſe that no Bill was ſigned: But every Seſſion in which the King ſigns Bills, is a Parliament. 2. It was agreed, That if divers Statutes be continued untill the next Parliament, or Seſſion, and there is a Parliament, or Seſſion, and nothing done therein as to continuance; all the ſaid Statutes are diſcontinued and gone. 3. It was agreed, That that Statute was diſcontinued, and that every Parliament is a Seſſion, but not è converſo, for one Parliament may have divers Seſſions; as the Parliament of 1 Jac. had 4. Seſſions, and ended 7 Jac. 4. That the Proviſo was not to any purpoſe, but to continue their proceedings in the ſame Eſtate, as if the Act had not been made, and if the Proviſo had not been; that the Statute had been been diſcontinued by the Act of Subſidie; and when this ends and is determined, then is the Seſſion ended. Hill. 20 Jac. Hutton. 61.

7. Edward Nevil, the Father of Edward Lord of Aburgaveny, 2 and & 3 Mary, was called by Writ to Parliament, and dyed before the Parliament: and if he were a Baron, or no, and ſo ought to be called, was the Queſtion. And it was Reſolved by the Lord Chancelor, and all the Juſtices, That the direction and delivery of the Writ, did not make him a Baron or Noble, untill he did come to the Parliament, and there ſit according to the Commandment of the Writ: for untill that, the Writ did not take effect; and he cannot be called a Peer of Parliament, untill he ſit in Parliament; and he cannot ſit and be of Parliament, untill the Parliament begin: But if the King create any Baron by Letters Patents to him and his heirs, or the heirs of his body, or for life, there he is a Noble-man preſently; which cannot be countermanded (as a Baron by Writ may be, before he ſit in Parliament): and he ought to have a Writ of Summons to Parliament, of Right, and of Courſe; and ſhall be tryed by his Peers, if he be arraigned before any Parliament; but ſo ſhall not he who is called by Writ. Trin. 8 Jac. the Lord Aburgavenies Caſe. Cook. 12. Part. 70.

3. Where, and of what Acts of Parliament, the Court and Judges ſhall take notice of Ex Officio; et è contra: And what Acts ſhall bind the King; et è contra.

1. THe Lord Cromwell brought an Action de Scandalis Magnatum, againſt Denny Vicar of N. tam pro Domino Rege, quam pro ſe ipſo; and declared upon the Statute of 2 R. 2. Cap. 5. That if any Contrive aliqua falſa nuncia de Prælatis, Ducibus. Comitibus, et aliis Baronibus et Magnatibus Angliæ: by which, debate may ariſe betwixt the Lords and Commons, by which danger, and deſtruction may happen to the whole Realm, et quicunq; contra fecerit, ſhall incur the penalty of the Statute of weſt. 1. Cap. 33. and charged the Defendant, that he ſaid to the Plaintiff then a Baron of the Realm, It is no marvel you like not me, for you like thoſe who maintain Sedition againſt the Queens proceedings. The Defendant juſtified the words; upon which the Plaintiff did demur; and the Barr was holden inſufficient. The Defendant moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Declaration was inſufficient, becauſe the ſaid Act of 2 R. 2. was miſ-recited. And it was Objected, That the Act was a private Act concerning the Prelates, Nobles, and certain great Officers of the Court; Of which the Judges ſhall not take Notice ex Officio: But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That it was ſuch an Act whereof the Judges ought to take Notice; and ſo much the rather, becauſe the ſame by a mean doth concern the King himſelf. And of All Statutes which concern the King, the Judges ought to take Notice of them. Cook. 4. Part. 12. Trin. 20 Eliz. in B. R. The Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

2. A man was Inducted into a Benefice with Cure of Souls, of the value of 8 l. and accepted another Benefice, and afterwards he was nominated and Created a Biſhop; and before his Creation and Inſtallation, the King by his Letters Patents granted him a Plurality, and that he might hold both his Benefices, above his Biſhoprick: and afterwards the Preſentee of the King pretending the Letters Patents to be void, Libelled in the Spiritual Court againſt the Leſſee of the Biſhop; and ſet forth the matter aforeſaid upon a Conſultation, granted after a Prohibition, but made no mention in his Plea, of the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 13. which made the acceptance of the ſecond Benefice, to be an Avoidance of the Church: In this Caſe it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Act of 21 H. 8. Cap. 13. was ſo general an Act, That the Judges, although it be not ſet forth in the pleading by the party, ought to take Notice of it ex Officio: For the Rule of Law is, That of general Statutes the Judges ought to take Notice, although they be not pleaded; but otherwiſe of ſpecial, or peculiar Statutes. Trin. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Coo. 4. Part. 75. Holland's Caſe.

3. A. Biſhop, after the Statute of 1 Eliz. made a Leaſe for years, and afterwards ouſted the Leſſee, and made a Leaſe for 3. Lives, rendring the Ancient and accuſtomed Rent; In this Caſe it was Reſolved, That the Leaſe was voidable by the Succeſſor, 1. Becauſe the Statute of 1 Eliz. is in the disjunctive, for 21 years or 3. Lives. 2. Becauſe the Rent was not payable within the meaning of the Statute; for the Statute was made to maintain Hoſpitality, and to avoid Delapidations; and that cannot be, but by a continual annual Revenue payable; and if this Leaſe for 3. Lives ſhould be good, the Leſſee ſhould have the Rent reſerved upon the Leaſe for years; and if they ſurvived the Leaſe, then the Biſhop and his Succeſſors ſhould have remedy for the Rent and arrearages reſerved upon the Leaſe for life. But in the principal Caſe, Judgment was given againſt the Biſhop, becauſe he did not plead the Statute of

1 Eliz.

1 Eliz. for it was ſaid, That the Act becauſe it concerned Biſhops onely, was a ſpecial and private Act; of which the Judges were not to take Notice, if it were not pleaded. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 5. Part. 2. Elms and Gales Caſe. But where an Act is general, and doth concern all the ſpiritualty, as the Statute of 21 H. 8. Cap. 13. is, there the Judges ought to take Notice of it, without pleading of it. See before, Holland's Caſe, Cook. 4. Part. 75.

4. A. being a Priſoner in Ludgate upon a Capias utlagatum in Detinue, J. S. the Gaoler took an Obligation of him, and two Sureties, with Condition to ſave him harmleſs, and for to diſcharge his Fees, and to render his body alwayes upon Summons, &c. In Debt brought upon the Obligation againſt one of the Sureties, he pleaded Coditions performed: But the chief Queſtion in the Caſe was, If the Court ex Officio be bound to take Notice of the Statute of 23 H. 8. cap. 10. the ſame not being pleaded by the party; and to ſtay Judgment thereupon: The Opinion of the Lord Dyer was, That the Statute of 23 H. 8. cap. 10. was but a private Act, which extended onely to Sheriffs: and that the Court was not bounden to take Notice of it, if it were not pleaded by the party. 3 Mar. Dyer. 119.

5. Acts of Parliament concerning Myſteries or Trades, are general Acts; But an Act of Parliament concerning the Trade of Grocery, is a ſpecial Act. See 28 H. 8. Dyer. 27. becauſe the Trade of Grocers containeth under it but Individuums, or ſingular perſons; The Statute of Marlbridge, Cap. 3. Non ideo puniatur Dominus per redemptionem, is a general Act; for the word [Seignior] is a general word: But an Act concerning all the Nobility, or Lords of the Parliament, or all the Biſhops of England, or all Corporations made by ſuch a King, are but ſpeciall and particular Acts, of which the Judges are not to take Notice, if not pleaded: But yet of every Act, although it concern Individua, or ſingle things; yet if they touch the King, the Judges ex Officio are to take knowledge of them. See Plow. Com. Lord Berkley's Caſe. And Wimbiſh and Talbot's Caſe, 53. See before, C. 4. Part, 75. in Holland's Caſe, &c.

4. Where one Act of Parliament ſhall be repealed by another Act; et è contra. And where an Act of Parliament ſhall be erronious in part, or in all; Where not.

1. IN a Writ of Intruſion againſt John Porter, upon a Special Verdict, the Caſe was found to be, J. G. was ſeiſed of a Wharf and houſe holden in Burgage in Fee; and by his Will, 32 H. 8. deviſed the ſame to A. his Wife, and her heirs, upon Condition, That his Wife, with advice of Counſel, ſhould with all ſpeed after his deceaſe, give and aſſure all his Lands for to maintain a Free-School, and Alms-men and Alms-women for ever, and that his Wife ſhould have the Iſſues and profits of them during her life, bearing the charges of the ſaid School, &c. and made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed: ſhe entred, and was ſeiſed accordingly, and afterwards made a Leaſe of the Lands for years; which Term came to the Defendant. The heir of J. G. entred into the Houſe and Wharf, and conveyed the ſame to the Queen her heirs and Succeſſors; by force of which the Queen was ſeiſed: upon whom the Defendant entred, claiming his Term. And whether his Entry was lawfull, or not, was the Queſtion. It was Objected, That the uſes appointed by the Will, were void by the Act of 23 H. 8. Cap. 10. But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Act of 23 H. 8. did not extend to take away good and charitable uſes; (ſuch as the uſes were in the Caſe at Barr) for the ſaid Statute took away onely ſuperſtitious uſes; as other Statutes, viz. the Statute of 26 & 28 H. 8. and the Statute of 31 and 37 H. 8. did. And it was ſaid by the Statute of 1 E. 6. Education of Youth in Virtue and Piety at Grammer-Schools; Or for augmentation of the Univerſities; ſuch uſes, are called good uſes: and therefore it ſhall not be intended, That ſuch goodly uſes were void by the Act of 23 H. 8. And ſo it was adjudged in 6 E. 6. as appeareth in Bendloes Reports, That a Feoffment to the uſe of Poor people was not within the ſaid Statute. And ſo alſo it was adjudged 35 Eliz. In the Kings-Bench, in Gibbons Caſe. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Statute of 32 and 34 H. 8. of Wills, did take away the force of the ſaid Act of 32 H. 8. And ſo it was adjudged, That a deviſe made 4 & 5 Mar. to the Maſters and Schollers of Trinity-Colledg in Cambridge, bridge, for to find a Grammer-School and poor Schollers, was good, by the Statute of 1 & 2 Ma. which enabled a Device to ſpiritual Corporations. Et leges poſteriores priores contrarias abrogant. Cook 1. Part. 23. 24. Porter's Caſe.

2. King Henry the 8th by his Letters Patents erected a Colledge of Phyſitians in London; and by the ſame Letters Patents granted to them, That none ſhould exerciſe the Art of Phyſick within the of City London, or 7. miles from it, unleſſe he were allowed by the Preſident and others of the ſaid Colledge: And by the ſaid Letters Patents granted to them, That there ſhould be 4. Cenſors or Governours yearly choſen by them, who ſhould have the tryal and examination of all Phyſitians which practiſed Phyſick within the ſaid City, or 7. miles of it. And further, by the ſaid Letters Patents granted to them, That they ſhould have the punihment of all thoſe who practiſed Phyſick within the ſaid City pro delictis ſuis in non bene exequendo, faciendo, et utendo facultate Medicinæ per fines, amerciament et impriſonmen', corporum eorum. The ſaid Charter was confirmed by Act of Parliament, 14 H. 8. By which Act it was further enacted, That no perſon ſhould be ſuffered to practiſe Phyſick through England, untill he be examined at London by the Preſident and 3. of the Cenſors, Except he be a Graduate of Oxford or Cambridge. And afterwards by an Act of 1 Ma. the ſaid Letters Patents were alſo Confirmed; and by the ſame Act it was Enacted, That whenſoever the Preſident, or ſuch as the Colledge ſhould yearly authorize, ſhould ſend or commit any ſuch Offender for any offence or diſobedience contrary to any Article of the ſaid Grant, to any Goal or Priſon, That the Gaoler or Keeper ſhould receive ſuch perſon, and ſhould keep them without bayl or mainprize. Bonham, who was a Graduate, ſcil. a Doctor of Phyſick in the Univerſity of Cambridge, practiſed Phyſick in London, and was ſummoned to appear before the Preſident and Cenſors, for practiſing Phyſick in London, contrary to the ſaid Letters Patents, and Acts of Parliament; and he did not come to them: Wherefore it was awarded by them, That for his diſobedience he ſhould be amerced 10 l. and that he ſhould be arreſted and committed to priſon. And Bonham ſaid, That he had practiſed Phyſick, and would practiſe Phyſick in London, nullâ de Collegio petitâ veniâ: and affirmed, That neither the Preſident nor the Cenſors had any authority over them who were Doctors of the Univerſities. Afterwards he was committed to priſon by them; and Bonham brought his Writ of Falſe Impriſonment againſt them; and had Judgment given for him. And in this Caſe it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, (amongſt other Points) That the Act of 1 Mar. did not enlarge the power of the Cenſors, to Fine or Impriſon any for any cauſe for which they ought not to be fined by the Act of 14 H. 8. For the words of the Act of 1. Ma. are according to the Tenor and meaning of the ſaid Act: But in the Caſe at Barr, Bonham did not any act which appeared within the Record contrary to any Article or Clauſe within the Letters Patents, or the ſaid Act of 14 H. 8. 2. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, Foraſmuch as the Phyſitians had not any Court granted to them by the Letters Patents, they could not by any authority implicite granted to them, or for any miſdemeanor done by Bonham, commit him to priſon without bayl and mainprize, untill he ſhould be delivered by the Commandment of the Preſident and Cenſors; as they did in this caſe: And for proof thereof, the Caſe of the Mayor, and Comminalty of the City of London, 38 Eliz. in a Quo Warranto was remembred, A Grant was made to the Mayor and Comminalty, That the Mayor for the time being ſhould have plenam et integram Scrutiniam, gubernationem, et correctionem, omnium et ſingulorum Myſteriorum, without granting to them any Court; in which there ſhould be any legal proceedings; That the ſame was good for to ſearch, by which a diſcovery might be made of ſuch Offences, which by the Law might be puniſhed in any Court; but the ſame did not give them any abſolute or irregular power to puniſh any Subjects of the Realm at their pleaſure. And it was agreed by the Court in the principal Caſe, That when an Act of Parliament is againſt Common right and reaſon, and repugnant and impoſſible to be performed, that the Common-Law doth adjudge ſuch an Act to be void. See 14 Eliz. Dyer. 13. The Statute of 1 E. 6. cap. 14. gave Chauntries to the King, ſaving to Donor all ſuch Rents and Services; The Common-Law ſhall adjudge it void as to the Services: for it ſhould be againſt right and reaſon, that the King ſhould hold of any, or ſhould do any ſervice to any of his Subjects. 5. How

5. How an Act or Ordinance is to be Interpreted; And when it ſhall be ſaid to be in force; when not.

1. IN an Ejectione Firmæ; It was found by Special Verdict, That Sir Tho. Morgan was ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of C. and 13 Car. he made a ſettlement of the ſame to himſelf for life, the Remainder to Mary his daughter for life, the remainder to the heirs of the firſt Tenant for life, with a power of Revocation to alter all or any part of the ſettlement at any time during his life: That in the year 1645, There was an Ordinance of Parliament made, That Sir Tho. Morgan ſhould forfeit all his Lands and Eſtate which he was then ſeiſed of, or poſſeſſed of, or had been ſeiſed or poſſeſſed of from the year 1641: And by the ſaid Ordinance, the Lands in Queſtion were given to Mr. Pymm; who entred by virtue of the Ordinance, and was ſeiſed, and dyed ſo ſeiſed: After whoſe death his heir entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff. Sir Thomas Morgan dyed; Mary his daughter entred, claiming the Remainder by the Conveyance; and the Plaintiff, the Leſſee of Mr. Pymm, brought the Action. The Queſtion was, Whether by the Ordinance made 1645, yet looking back to 1641; the remainder of the Lands limited to Mary, were forfeited. It was Objected, That it was forfeited, becauſe the ſettlement was with a Proviſo of Revocation, ſo as at the time of the Ordinance, the Eſtate was in Morgan to diſpoſe of: and the Ordinance gave all the Eſtate of Morgan to Pymm, and the children of Morgan were excepted out of the Proviſoes in the Ordinance: alſo it was ſaid, Morgan was a Recuſant, and the ſettlement was no real ſettlement, but by way of ſubtilty onely, to prevent a forfeiture. But the better Opinion of the Court was, That the Eſtate of Mary was not forfeited, nor given away by the Ordinance of 1645; for both the grounds of the Ordinance, viz. the deſerts of Pymm, and the Offence of Morgan can extend no further then the year 1641; and not to the time of the ſettlement, which was 13 Car. 2. no man can forfeit a thing which he hath not; and Morgan had not then the Eſtate, and therefore he could not forfeit it; the Eſtate being ſettled before 41, to which the Ordinance particularly referreth: and notwithſtanding the power of Revocation; yet the Eſtate was not given to Pymm: for the Ordinance was made by the Houſe of Commons; and the Proviſo was put in by the Houſe of Lords. 2. Captain Streater was committed to priſon by an Order of Parliament, for publiſhing Scandalous and Seditious Books; and afterwards the the Parliament being diſſolved, He was brought by Habeas Corpus to the Upper-Bench; and prayed that he might be bayled; becauſe the Order by which he was committed, was of no force now the Parliament being diſſolved. It was Objected, That the Parliament was not diſſolved; for that by the Law, a Parliament ought to be every year; and ſo this in effect was but an Adjournment, and not a Diſſolution. It was Anſwered and Reſolved by the Court, That although the Authority of Parliament ceaſeth not, yet a Particular Parliament might be diſſolved, as this was: and by the Diſſolution of this Parliament, the Order is determined; and ſo it would have done by Prorogation of the Parliament, becauſe that is another Seſſion, and a New Parliament hath not reference to an old: but it is a new Court created upon a new Summons: and if one committed by Order of Parliament cannot be delivered untill another Parliament, the Liberty of the Subject will be loſt: and this Order is not like an Act which continues after the Parliament: and it was the Opinion alſo of the Court, That the Return was too general, for that it doth not appear in what the Books were ſcandalous, for the publiſhing whereof he was committed. And ſo by the Rule of the Court, the Defendant Captain Streater was bayled. Hill. 1654. The Proector and Captain Streater's Caſe. Styles. 415. and 416.

6. Where an Act of Parliament ſhall make an Eſtate void as to one perſon; and yet it ſhall ſtand good to another perſon. And where an Act of Parliament ſhall extend to a Copy-hold eſtate; where not.

1. NOte: If Lands be given to husband and wife, and to the heirs of their two bodies lawfully begotten: and the husband levieth a Fine with Proclamation, and dyeth: Now this Fine by the Act of Parliament of 32 H. 8. cap. 36. ſhall barre the Iſſue in tayle; but it ſhall not bind the Wife, and ſo in reſpect of the one, it is a good barr; and in reſpect of the other, it is no barr.

See 18 H. 8. Dyer. 351. Cook 1. Part. 87. Corbet's Case. Cook 6. Part. 41. &c.

2. If a man hath title to Lands in tail, and afterwards the same Land is given to him by Act of Parliament, the heir shall not be remitted; for by the Act of Parliament all Titles are excluded for ever: and when Land is given to any person by name by Act of Parliament, he nor his heirs shall have any other estate but that which is given him by the Act. 29 H. 8. Br. Parliament. 73.

3. When an Act of Parliament alters the Service Tenure, Interest of the Estate, or other thing in prejudice of the Lord, or the Custome of the Mannor, or of the Tenant; there the general words of an Act of Parliament doth not extend to Copy-holds. But when an Act is generally made for the publique, and no prejudice can accrew by reason of any Interest, Service Tenure, or Custome, their Customary and Copy-hold Estates are within the preview of such Acts of Parliament. Cook 3. Addition.

1. THe husband was Indicted of the Murther of his Wife; and it was thus, Quod Eliz. fuit in pace, quousq; &c. prædict. A. vir præfat. Eliz. de H. in Com. prædict. Yeoman: It was holden by the Justices, The Addition Yeoman, although Eliz. be the next precedent, shall be referred to the husband; because a Woman may not be a Yeoman; contrary of Spinster, 30 H. 8. Dyer. 47.

2. A Writ of Partition was brought by R. H. Esquire, and the Lady Anne Powes his Wife; and the Writ was abated, because the word, Lady, was in the Writ, and the party was driven to bring a new Writ, and to leave out the word, Lady. 7 E. 6. Dyer. 79.

3. An Appeal of Murther was brought by a woman, of the death of her husband, against Margaret Old-Castle, Spinster; whereas she was a Gentlewoman: It was holden by the Court to be no good Addition: but she was estopped to plead the same in abatement of the Writ; because upon such Writ she purchased a supersedeas. 7 E. 6. Dyer. 88.

4. An Accompt was brought by Ed. Cleere, as Administrator of Sir John Cleere, Knight, who dyed Intestate, against Richard Bartue Esquire, and Katherine his Wife, who was Dutchess of Suffolk; but she was not so named in the Writ, nor was Bartue named of any place, as he ought to have been in this Case, where proces of Outlawry lyeth: And therefore the Opinion of the Court was, That the Writ was abateable: But because no Exception was taken to it, the Writ did stand. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 202.

5. Nicholas Davie, an Attorney of the Common-Pleas, was sued by the Addition of Husbandman; and thereupon condemned in an Action of Debt: and being arrested, he was brought to the Court by a Habeas Corpus; and for that cause was discharged. 7 Eliz. Dyer. 244.

6. The Statute of 1 E. 5. is, That it ought to be named of what Town, Hamlet, or place the party is. Yet it was agreed by the Justices, That if an Action be brought against such a One, Chancellor of the University of Oxford, though it be not of the Town of Oxford; it is well enough. Mich. 36 Eliz. in B. R. in Burton and Wrightman's Case. Popham 56. & 57.

7. Note: It was agreed by the two Chief Justices, and by the whole Court of Star-Chamber, That whereas there was a Bill preferred in the Star-Chamber against Justice Crook, by the name of Sir George Crook onely, without the Addition of his Office and dignity of a Judge; that the Bill should be abated. Trin. 16 Car. in Cam. Stellat. Justice Crook's Case.

8. In an Action brought against Sir Edmund Plowden, the Plaintiff declared against him by the name of Sir Edmund Plowden Knight; whereas he by Creation, is Count Palatine of Nova Albion; and therefore he by his Counsel prayed a day to plead a special Plea: But the Court Resolved, That a Count Palatine of Nova Albion, or a Count of Ireland, are not Additions in England, nor is the same part of his name, and therefore Ruled him peremptorily to plead within a Week. Mich. 1649. B. R. Weston and Plowden's Case. Styles. 173.

9. In an Indictment of Forcible Entry; because there was no Addition of the County where the party dwelt, who made the forcible Entry; Nor no County expressed from whence the Issue should come: and without such Addition, no proces of Outlawry lyes against the party by the Statute of 1 H. 5. Cap. 5. the Indictment was quashed. Trin. 23 Car. in B. R. Styles. 26.

10. An Indictment of one Indicted, for refusing to serve in the Office of a Headborough, was quashed, because it did not shew that he was chosen to the Office; and because the party Indicted, wanted an Addition. Mich. 1654. B. R. Styles. 394.

11. Errour was brought of a Judgment in an Assumpsit;

Aſſumpſit: The Errour aſſigned was, That the Plaintiff brought his Action againſt the Defendant Sir Francis Forteſcue, who was the Knight of the Bath, and Baronet; by the name of Knight of the Bath onely, and not by the name of Knight and Baronet: But becauſe he appeared to that name, and pleaded thereunto, the Opinion of the Court was, That he was concluded; and the Judgment was affirmed. Paſch. 12 Jac. rott. 147. B. Sir Francis Forteſcue and Markham's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part. 482.

2. Where a New Addition to a Grant, or Leaſe, ſhall make the whole Grant, or Leaſe void; and where not.

IN a Replevin the Caſe was, That the Predeceſſor of the Biſhop of Chicheſter ſeiſed of a Park in the right of his Biſhoprick by Deed 44 Eliz. granted a Leaſe of keeping of the Park, and all profits appertaining to it, to John Freeland the Defendant, for life; Et ulterius granted pro executione Officii prædict. 5 marks, with clauſe of diſtreſs, una cum a Livery, and 13 s. 4 d. necnon paſturam pro duobus equis, together with the Windfalls, which was confirmed in the life-time of the Biſhop by the Dean and Chapter: and the Defendant in his Avowry ſhewed, That the ſaid Park had been anciently granted with the Fee of 5 marks: and for arrears of the Fee, the Defendant did avow the taking of the Cattel. The Plaintiff pleaded the Statute of 1 Eliz. cap. 25. and ſaid, That this Paſtorage was a larger Fee then was ever granted before. Upon which the Avowant did demur: And the Queſtion was, If this new Addition of the Paſtorage to the Grant of the Office of Keeper, made the Grant void: The Court was divided in their Opinions. But it ſeemed the better Opinion to be, That this Augmentation of Paſtorage, did not make the Grant void in all, but for the Augmentation onely; and that it was ſeveral in ſpecie from the 5 marks; and that this was out of the Statute of 1 Eliz. and the things are ſeveral, and may ſeverally be recovered as diſtinct things in their nature in the intent of the Grantor: and therefore that the Grant was void quoad the paſtorage; but not to make the Grant of the Office with the Fee of 5 marks, void. Paſch. 1 Car. in C. B. The Biſhop of Chicheſter and Freeland's Caſe. Ley. 71.

Adjournment.

1. WHere the Term ſhall be adjourned in part, or in all; and the manner of Adjournment of it, 2 Eliz. Dyer. 186. See 5 and 6 Eliz. Dyer 225. 1 Car. Cro. 1. Part. 19. Mich. 6 Car. 3 Returns of Michaelmas Term adjourned, and the manner of Adjournment of them, Mich. 6 Car. Cro. 1. Part. 145. Trinity Term adjourned from Tres Trin. to Octabis Trin. by reaſon of the Peſtilence. Cro. 1. Part. 331, 335.

2. The Statute of 1 Ma. Cap. 7. is, That all Fines levied or to be levied before the Juſtices of the Court of Common-Pleas, with Proclamations upon Adjournment of the Term, ſhall ſtand good: It was Reſolved, 2 Eliz. Dyer. 186. That if part of the Term be adjourned; the ſame is alſo helped by the Statute as to the Proclamations; becauſe the Statute is general, and ſhall be taken by Equity. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 186. acc.

3. Note: Aſſizes adjourned into the Common-Pleas were without day for the not coming of the Juſtices, notwithſtanding the Adjournment of the Term; although that they were not diſcontinued, by reaſon of the Statute of 1 E. 6. and the Plaintiffs are to ſue Re-attachments againſt the Defendant; and Re-Summons, or Habeas corpus againſt the Recognitors returnable the next Aſſizes. 6 Eliz. Dyer. 226.

4. It was agreed by all the Juſtices, That the Original Writs for Fines and Recoveries of that Term might be made returnable ſafely after, in Octab. Sancti Hill. at Weſtm. and non in Quindena Hillarii vel Craſtin. Purific. apud Caſtrum Hereford. becauſe the Adjournment was made 20 Jan. from Weſtm. to Hertford, and between that day and any of the 3. Returns there are not 15 dayes, and yet the Fine ſhall be, Hac eſt finalis Concordia fact. in Curia. Reg. apud Hertford. 6 Eliz. Dyer. 227.

5. A Writ of Errour was brought in the Common-Pleas, upon a Judgment given before the Juſtices of Aſſize in the County of Monmouth. The Defendant demurred to the Juriſdiction of the Court, to hold Plea of Errour upon a Judgment in an Aſſize before Juſtices made by the King's Letters Patents. And although divers books and Caſes were vouched, viz. 8 E. 2. Aſſize 396. 242. 19 H. 6. 19. 8. Aſs. 8. and divers other Records, That the Court of Common-Pleas had Jurisdiction to hold Plea of Errour or Attaints upon a false Oath in Inferiour Courts, and used to write to Inferiour Courts, to have the Record certified to try the thing before them: Yet it was the Opinion of all the Justices of the Common-Pleas, That the Writ of Errour brought in the Common-Pleas for an Erronious Judgment in an Assize did not lye. And to that purpose, see Britton. Lib. 1. Cap. 1. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 250.

6. J. S. in 8 Eliz. brought an Assize against divers Tenants of E. and recovered by Verdict. Afterwards they brought a Writ of Errour in the King's Bench; and assigned for Errours in it, That the Justices did adjourn the Assize into a Forraign County for pleading; and there it was pleaded to the Assise; and the Assise passed for J. S. the Plaintiff, without any Writ of Re-Summons of the Assize before awarded; and also because that no place was in the Teste of the Writ of Hab. Corpora: and notwithstanding those Errours, the Judgment in the Assise was affirmed in the King's Bench: and now they brought a Writ of Errour in Parliament, of the Judgment given in the Kings-Bench: And the Chief Justice brought the Record in Parliament, and also the Transcript; and after the same was there examined, the Record was sent back, and the Transcript remained, upon which Scire facias was awarded: The Errours assigned in the King's Bench were, Because the parties were adjourned into a forrein County to plead, &c. and as before. Note, There was no Judgment given in the Case, 23 Eliz. Dyer. 375.

7. Roger Earl of Rutland brought an Assise of Nouel Disseisin against Gilbert Earl of Shrewsbury, and others; and complained himself to be disseised of his Freehold in Clipson in the County of Nottingham; and his Complaint was, That he was disseised of the Office of Keeper of the Park: The Assise for matter of difficulty was removed in the Court of Common-Pleas, upon points of Law, viz. upon the point, Whether the Grant of the King of the Herbage and Pannage were good or not? Which Point was Resolved by the Justices of the Common-Pleas, That the Grant was good upon a Special Verdict there found. But thereupon a Writ of Errour was brought in the Kings-Bench: and there one Errour assigned was, That the Assise was not brought in the proper County, as it ought to have been, by the Statute of Statute of Magna Charta: and for that, and other Errours assigned in the Record, in which the Justices of the Kings-Bench were not agreed, the Judgment as to those Errours onely was reversed; but as for the principal matter of Law, upon the points of the King's Grants to the Earl of Pembroke, which were adjudged in the Court of Common-Pleas; the Judgment given there was affirmed. And afterwards a New Assise was brought before Warburton and Fosser in the County of Derby, Justices of Assise; and the Plaintiff there had a general Verdict according to the Resolution of All the Justices, at the same Assizes; and execution was thereupon awarded accordingly. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. The Earl of Rutland's Case.

8. Note: The Statute of West. 2. Cap. 25. made 25 E. 1. gave Certificate of Assise, but gave No Adjournment of it; But Adjournment is taken by the Equity of the Statute of Magna Charta, made 9 H. 3. Cook. 4. Part. 4. in Vernon's Case.

Ad Quod Damnum.

1. IT appeareth by the Register, and by Fitzherbert in his Natura Brevium, That in Ancient Times, upon every Grant, Lease, Release, Confirmation or Licence, to be made to the King; That before any such Grant or Patent passed, That a Writ of Ad Quod Damnum was awarded to enquire of the whole truth, and of every circumstance thereof, and what damage and prejudice the King should have by the same: and upon such Inquisition certified and Returned, the King used to make such Grants, Releases, Confirmations, or Licences. Fitz. Na. Brevium. acc.

2. If one Abbot will give Lands or Tenements in Mortmain to another Abbot or Prior, or Body politique, he ought to have the Kings License so to do, because of the words of the Statute of Mortmain; and there he ought to sue for a Writ of Ad Quod Damnum, to enquire as aforesaid. But now the Common Experience is, That they will not sue the Writ of Ad Quod Damnum, when they purchase leave to alien in Mortmain; but the use is, to have these words in the end of the Patent, viz. That this be without suing any Writ of Ad Quod Damnum, or any other Writs or Inquisitions or Mandates thereupon to be had, made, or prosecuted. But the Opinion of Mr. Fitzherbert was, That such Patents are dubious whether they be good or not, if it be evidently proved, that such Patents are unto the damage of others who are the Kings Tenants: and therefore he conceived it the best course to sue forth Writs of Ad Quod Damnum, to enquire of such Licences in Mortmain, so as the King be not deceived in his Grant. See 16 E. 3. and Fitz. Na. Brevium. 223. and 226.

3. A Man held a Menalty of the King in Capite, and the Tenant held certain Lands of the Meane Meaſne in Knights-Service; and alſo held other Lands of the Dutchy of Cornwall in Knights Service; the King granted his Dutchy to his eldeſt ſon, ſimul cum Wardis et Maritagiis non obſtante Prerogativa regia, the Meaſne dyed, and his heir in Ward to the King, the Tenant dyed his heir within age. It was holden, That the King ſhould have the prerogative of the Ward of the body and marriage, becauſe of the Ward, and that the general words of the Kings Letters Patents, ſhall not have ſuch a ſpecial intendment to paſſe away the ſame, 10 Eliz. Dyer 269. Yet ſee there many Caſes vouched, where the King's Grant is ex certa ſcientia ſpeciali gratiâ et mero motu, That it ſhall be beneficially expounded for the Grantee: and therefore where one was ſeiſed of a Leaſe holden of the King in Burgage, and he granted Licenſe to his Tenant quod poſsit dare illud Meſſuagium ad manum Mortuam, without ſuch, quod de vobis tenetur, that ſuch a Grant was good, and ſhould bind the King; and that in that Caſe the Writ of Ad Quod Damnum needed not to be awardep, becauſe the Grant was ex ſpeciali gra. Mich. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 299. a.

4. King Henry the 8th was ſeiſed of the Manor of Torrington in the County of Devon, and of a Market within the ſaid Manor every Week; and of a Fair holden there in vigilia, Feſto, et Craſtino St. Mich. Queen Mary did Incorporate the Town by the name of Mayor, Aldermen, and Burgeſſes, and doth not grant to them feriam ſuam, or Nundinas ſuas, but grants to them de gra. ſpeciali, &c. quod ipſi et ſucceſſores ſui poſsint habere et tenere unum Mercatum quolibet die Sabati et duas Nundinas ibidem annuatim una in vigilia, Feſto et craſtino Sancti Mich. et unam in feſto Sancti Georgii Martyris, niſi Mercatum et Nundinæ illæ eſſent ad Nocumentum vicinorum Mercatorum et vicinarum Nundinarum. It was adjudged, That the Grant was void, becauſe the Queens intent appeared by her Grant to create a Fair in Vigilia feſto et craſtino Michaelis niſi ſit ad Nocumentum: and although it was ſaid, That the Patent being ex certa ſcientia ſpeciali gra. et mero motu ſhould paſſe the old Fair; yet it was adjudged, It did not paſſe, againſt the intent and purpoſe of the Grant; although in the caſe of a common perſon, it would have paſſed: and although there was in the Letters Patents, Non obſtante; aliquo brevi; De Ad Quod Damnum, was in the Letters Patents. See 10 Eliz. Dyer. 276. Baſſet's Caſe. and Cook 1. Part. Altonwoods Caſe. 49. acc.

5. The King by his Letters Patents Licenſed his Tenant to alien to two Chaplains and their heirs; and afterwards it appeared by a Fine in the Treaſury, that he who alienel, had but an eſtate in taile, the Reverſion to the King. It was adjudged, That the Licenſe was void, and ſhould not enure to alien ſo much as he might lawfully alien; ſcil. to them and their heirs during his life; becauſe the King was deceived, and was not conuſant of his own eſtate, when he granted the Licenſe unto them to alien to them and their heirs. See C. 4. Part. 44. in Alton-Woods Caſe.

6. Upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. Cap. 5. of Sewers, The Commiſſioners decreed, That a new River ſhould be made out of the River of Owſe through the main Land by 7. miles, to another part of the ſame River; and taxed 9. ſeverall Towns in the County of C. and the Inhabitants for the ſame. And it was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That if an old Ditch or Trench be coming from the Sea, to a Town by which Boats and Veſſels paſſe to the Town, If the ſame be ſtopped by Outrage of the Sea, if a man would have a new Ditch or Trench, and ſtop the old Ditch or Trench, he ought firſt to ſue Ad Quod Damnum, to know what damage it ſhall be to the King or others; and no new Ditch or River which runneth to the Sea, can be made without the Writ of Ad Quod Damnum, and thereupon obtain the King's leave to do it. For if Commiſſioners of Sewers might ex officio do it, great inconvenience would follow thereupon to private men, as well as to the Common-wealth, for ſtopping of Havens, and particular prejudice alſo to private men, in drowning of their Lands. And therefore in the principal Caſe it was adjudged, That the ſaid New River could not be made without the Kings Licenſe, and ſuing forth Ad Quod Damnum; and therefore that the tax in that caſe was not warranted by their Commiſſion. The Caſe of the Iſle of Ely. Cook 10. Part. 142, 143.

7. In an Information, for ſtopping of a High-way; It was ſet forth, That time out of mind there was a Common High-way, for horſe, foot, and Carriages, in ſuch a Lane leading to divers Market-Towns, and that the Defendant with hedges and ditches ſtopped it, and encloſed it, and ſo held it. The Defendants confeſſe the old way; but ſay, it was ſo foul and ſurrounded with water and dirt, that paſſengers could not paſſe it; and that for the profit and eaſe of the paſſengers, J.S ſeiſed of a Cloſe adjoyning, layed out another Way more commodious for the people: and before the laying out of it, A Writ of Ad Quod Damnum iſſued to Enquire, Whether it were to the damage of, &c. if the King ſhould grant ſuch a Licenſe to the Defendants: and that an Inquiſition was taken, That it was not to the damage, &c. It was holden by the Court, That the Plea was naught both in matter and form, becauſe in the Plea it did not appear by what Authority J. S. did it, for it is but at his pleasure, and he may stop it when he will: and by that laying out, the Subjects have not any Interest therein; nor is it such a Way as Inhabitants are bound to watch in, or to make amends if a Robbery be done in it: and the pleading of the Ad Quod Dammum, and the Inquisition upon it is to no purpose, when he doth not plead, that he obtained the Kings License. Admiral, and Admiralty.

The Antiquity and Jurisdiction of the Admiral, and Court of Admiralty; and where Suit may be in that Court, and where not; and for what things.

1. IN ancient time, the Jurisdiction of the Admiral was called Maritima Angliæ, sometimes Marina Angliæ; which signifies Admiralship or Marinship of England; and from Almarah, comes Admiral; and so Archigubernus, signifies the Admiral, or Chief Governour, or Chief Captain of Mariners: Admiral of the Fleet, and Admiral of the Ships, are Synonima. Hill. 8 Jac. Co. 12. Part. 19.

2. The Jurisdiction of the Admiralty is more Ancient then the Time of Edward the Third; for it appeareth, That many Grants were made by the King, of the Office of Admiralty, before the time of Ed. the 3d. As 6 H. 3. Rott. Patentium: The King granted Galfrido de Lacy Maritimam Angliæ custodiendam quamdiu placuerit. Anno 9 H. 3. The King granted Ricardo Agnillum Marinam Guardian Norf. et Suff. cum omnibus pertinenciis. Anno 15 H. 3. Petrus de Rivall, habeat. ad totam vitam suum Custodiam omnium Portuum et totius Costeræ Maris Angliæ, cum omnibus Libertatibus et Consuetudinibus, &c. Anno 25 1. 1. Pars. Patent. Johannes Botoret Custos Regis Portuum Maritimorum. Anno 10 E. 2. Pars. Patent. Nicholas Kirkill. Constituitur Admirals del Fleete. And see the Book-Case. temps E. 1. Avowry 192. A Replevin of a Ship taken upon the Coast of Scarborough upon the Sea, and carried into the County of Norfolk: Because the Coast contained 4. Leagues upon the Sea, the Jurisdiction did belong to the Admiralty. And there, out of the Book, these 4. things are collected: 1. That of things done upon the Sea, certain Judgment is given to Mariners, that is, to Admirals; and doth not belong to the Kings Courts: But of a thing in any Town or place from whence a Jury may come, there the Admiral hath not Jurisdiction. 2. That so long as there hath been Trade and Traffique, (which is the life of every Island) there was Marine Jurisdiction to redresse, Depredations, Piracies, and other Offences upon the Sea. 3. If part of a matter be done upon the Sea, and other part in a County, the Common Law shall have the Jurisdiction. 4. The Sea within the Admiral's Jurisdiction, is out of any County: And the Admiral hath Jurisdiction where the Common-Law cannot give Remedy, Cook 12. Part. ibid. 80. See Cook 4. part. 47. Dowdall's Case. 31 Eliz. and 28 Eliz. ibid. Constantine and Gyans Case.

3. Note; It was said by Cook, Chief Justice, That it was adjudged in Wright's Case, That a thing made at Constantinople, should not be tryed in the Admiralty; for it ought to be made upon the deep Sea; otherwise the Admiral Court shall have no tryal of it: And if a man be slain or murdered beyond Sea, the Offender shall not be punished in the Admiralty, And Walmesley and Warburton, Justices, agreed; That if a thing be done beyond Sea, and may be tryed by the Common-Law, the Admiral Court shall have no Jurisdiction: But if an Obligation bear date beyond Sea, or be so Local, that it cannot be tryed by the Common-Law, the Admiral may hold Plea of it; for it is no prejudice to the King, or the Common-Law. 8 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow. 16. 17.

4. It was agreed by the Justices, That the Court of Admiralty may cause the party to enter into a Bond which is in the nature of a Caution or Stipulation, and is in the Nature of a Bail at the Common Law; and the words (hæredes) are necessary in such Caution or Stipulation; for that for the most part the Sureties were strangers, and the Civil Law doth not take Notice of the (Executors) and therefore the word hæredes, is used in it, which extends to Executors, as also to Administrators; and if the party render his body, the Sureties are discharged; and Execution is to be of the goods; for the Ship is onely Arrested: and the Libel ought to be onely against the Ship, and not against the party. But yet it was agreed, they may take the body in Execution, which are for the most part Masters of Ships, and Merchants, who are transiants; and therefore if they could not arrest their bodies, they might perhaps lose the benefit of their Suits: but in no case they might take forth Execution upon Lands. And in that case it was agreed, That all the Ports and Havens within England are infra Corpus Comitatus; and that Court of of Admiralty cannot hold Jurisdiction of any thing done in them: and that appeareth in Holland's Case, 30 H. 6. who was Earl of Exeter, and Admiral of England; and because he held Plea in the Admiralty of a thing done infra Portum de Hull, damages were recovered against him of 2000 l. Mich. 19 Jac. in C. B. Greenway and Barker's Case. Goldb. 260. 261.

5. In an Action of Debt brought for Suing in the Court of Admiralty, contrary to the Statutes of 13 & 15 R. 2. upon a Special Verdict, the Case was; That a Charter part was made betwixt J. S. and the Plaintiff at Dunkirk; and the Defendant as Attorney of J. S. by force of a Letter of Attorney, did prosecute a Suit in the Admiral Court against the now Plaintiff: And in this case there were two points; 1. Upon the Jurisdiction of the Admiralty; the Contract being made at Dunkirk. 2. If the Defendant being an Attorney onely by Letter of Attorney, be such a Prosecutor as is within the said Statutes. It was holden, 1. That if all the matter were to be done at Dunkirk, then all were a Marine Cause, and the Admiral should have Jurisdiction; but if part were to be done in England, then it is otherwise. 2. It was holden, That the Attorney is not such a person as might prosecute within the Statute; and therefore the Action did lye against him. But Quære; for the point was not resolved. Pasch. 3 Car. in the Kings-Bench. Cremer and Tookley's Case. Godbolt. 385. See Pool and Tryans Case. Mich. 1655. B. R. Styles. 470. acc.

6. A Bargain was made between two Merchants in France, and for not performance of the bargain, the one Libelled against the other in the Admiral Court: and it appeared upon the Libel, That the bargain was made at Marcelles in France, and so not upon the Sea: And Flemming, Chief Justice, would not grant a Prohibition, although the Admiralty hath nothing to do in the matter, because this Court cannot hold Plea of the Contract: But Yelverton and Williams, Justices, said, The Contract might be layed to be made at Marcelles in Kent, or in Norfolk. Mich. 8 Jac. C. B. Brownlow. 2. Part. 11. See Sect. 2. and 4.

7. A Bill was sued against the Defendant upon the Statute of 2 H. 4. Cap. 11. for suing in the Admiral Court, upon a Contract made on the Land at New England, and not super altum Mare; where the Defendant had obtained a Judgment in the Admiral Court, and taken the party in Execution for 112 l. But in regard that he was returned to be in Custodia Marischalli, although the Suit were by Bill, and not by Original Writ; and for that being at New-England, it was not alledged to be in partibus transmarinis; The Court held, it was out of the Admiral's Jurisdiction, and that he had no Authority to entermeddle therewith. Wherefore it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; and the party being returned in Execution for this cause onely, which was held Coram non Judice, he was discharged by the Court. Pasch. 16 Car. B. R. Ball and Trelawny's Case. Cro. 1. Part. 438.

2. In what Cases, and for what Causes, a Prohibition shall be granted to stay a Suit in the Admiral Court; and for what not.

1. THE Case was this; A. Master of a Ship, gave money to B. to buy Saylors Cloaths for him, who bought such Cloathes of J. S. in the Parish of S. Katherines near the Tower of London. J. S. delivered the Cloaths in his Ship which was in the River of Thames adjoyning to S. Katherines; and because the money was not paid, J. S. sued A. in the Admiral Court; and in this Case a Prohibition was granted by the Court, because the Contract was made in the Land et infra Corpus Comitatus, and because the Admiral hath not Jurisdiction but of Contracts made super altum mare: And it was said, That the Admiral should not have Jurisdiction where a man may see from one side to the other; but the Coroner of the County should enquire of Felonies there. And their difference is, where the place is covered with Salt-water out of any County, there it is altum mare: but where it is within any County, it is not altum mare: and for Criminal Offences, the Statute of 25 H. 8. Cap. 15. extends to such onely as are done super altum mare; and not in any Creek or Place where the Admiral hath no Jurisdiction. Mich. 7 Jac. C. B. Leigh and Burley's Case. Owen. 122. 123.

2. It was Resolved per totam Curiam, That if one be sued in the Admiral Court for a thing alledged to be done super altum mare, and the Defendant plead to it, and confesse the thing to be done, and Sentence is given, that upon a surmise against his own confession, that it was done, the Court will not grant a Prohibition, unless it be made appear to the Court by matter in writing, or other good matter, that it was made upon the Land; for although the admittance of the party cannot give Jurisdiction to a Court, where it of right hath none; yet when the Court shall be advised, that this Suit is meerly for delay and vexation, and after a Sentence, unless upon good matter shewed to the Court, the Court will not grant a Prohibition. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Cook 12. Part. 79. See Mich. 9 Jac. in C.B. Jennings and Audley's Case Brownlow. 30. acc.

3. A. Libelled in the Admiral Court, for an Agreement made at Sea, for well transporting of Sugars againſt B. and that the Agreement was put in writing in Barbary, and that the Sugars were ſpoyled at Sea; and hereupon a Prohibition was granted: but if the writing had not been at Land under Seal, but a ſimple remembrance of the agreement, it had been otherwiſe. Mich. 9 Jac. in C. B. Palmer and Pope's Caſe. Hob. 79. and in the like caſe, a Prohibition was granted, upon a Contract made at Malaga, within the Streights of Gibralter infra juriſdictionem maritimam, becauſe it appeared the Contract was made at the Iſland of Malaga. Mich. 9 Jac. Hob. ibid. 79.

4. Don Alonſo de Valaſco, Embaſſadour for the King of Spain, Libelled in the Admiral Court againſt one Cornereo, declaring, That he being a Subject of the King of Spain, had committed divers crimes againſt the King, for which his goods were confiſcated, and that he was come into England, and had brought with him 3000 l. weight of Tobacco, to the value of 800 l. and afterwards attached them in the hands of Sir John Watts: Watts moved for a Prohibition, who had bought them of Cornereo; and the Prohibition was granted: For if any Subject bring goods into his Kingdome, though they were confiſcated before; the property here ſhall be tryed onely at the Common-Law. Mich. 9 Jac. C.B. Don Alonſo de Valaſco and Cornereo's Caſe. Hob. 212.

5. Sir Julius Cæſar, Judge of the Admiralty, put a Bill ex Officio Judicis into the Admiral Court againſt Nicholas, an Officer of the Mayor of London, for meaſuring of Coals at a Wharf in the Pariſh of St. Dunſtan in the Eaſt, London, upon the River of Thames; and a Prohibition was prayed, grounded upon the Statutes of 13 and 15 R. 2. becauſe the meaſuring of Coals had alwayes appertained to the Mayor of London: And it was ſaid, That this meaſuring was in the body of the County. It was ſaid by Wray, Chief Juſtice, It was hard, that Sir Julius Cæſar ſhould be both Plaintiff and Judge, and that his Juriſdiction ſhould be tryed by himſelf. Egerton, who was of Councel for Cæſar, ſaid, He had ſpoken with the Lord Admiral, who told him, That the Mayor of London uſed to take a Fine for meaſurage, and made it an Office; and that he conceived it to be Extortion, being made upon the Water, and ſo puniſhable in that Court. But the Juſtices ſaid, If it be Extortion in the Mayor, there is no remedy for it in the Court of Admiralty; but in the King's Court: and it ſhall be redreſſed in a Quo Warranto: And a Prohibition was granted, Paſch. 30 Eliz. in B.R. Sir Julius Cæſar's Caſe. Leon. 106, 107.

6. A. Libelled in the Court of Admiralty againſt B. for a Ship lying at Anchor at Lymehouſe. The Libel was in the nature of a Detinue at the Common-Law: and becauſe it was in Corpore Comitatus, and not within the Admiral's Juriſdiction, a Prohibition was granted. Mich. 16 Jac. B. R. Violet, and Bagues Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 514. And the like Prohibition was granted, 13 Jac. where a Ship lying at Anchor at Blackwall, was broken by another Ship; and Suit was commenced for the ſame in the Admiral Court. Cro. ibid.

7. The Caſe was this; An Engliſh-man came into Spain, and there within the Dominions of the King of Spain, he did fell down and carry away many Loads of Braſil wood, for which Don Diego Servient Deacuno, Embaſſadour of the King of Spain, did Libel againſt him in the Court of Admiralty here. And it was clearly Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Admiral Court had not Juriſdiction to try the ſame there; but the ſame may be layed to be done at any place here in England, and ſo be here tryed. And Cook, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, That the Admiral here is but like to Neptune; and by the Statute of 15 R. 2. his power is limited, which he is not to exceed, and he is to have Juriſdiction of matters done onely ſuper altum mare. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Don Diego Servient. Deacuno, and Bruntiſhes Caſe, Bolſtr. 322, 323.

8. The King was ſeiſed of the Mannor and Fee of Holderneſs in Com. York, and granted the ſaid Mannor and Fee, with wreck of Sea within the ſaid Mannor and Fee, to the Earl of Northumberland in Fee; and it was found, that divers goods were wreck, and caſt ſuper arenas aqua ſalſa minimè coopertas manerii de D. infra fluxum & refluxum maris in Manerio de Dale; and that Dale was parcel of the Fee of Holderneſs, and that the ſaid goods were floting ſuper aquis Maris refluentes ex arenis ejuſdem Manerii de D. infra fluxum & refluxum Maris. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That nothing ſhall be ſaid Wreccam Maris, but that which is left upon the Land, or caſt upon it by the Sea; And that the Admiral ſhall not have Conuſans or Juriſdiction of Wreck of the Sea: But of Flotſam maris, Jetſam maris, and Ligan, which is, where goods are ſunk, and tyed by a Buoy to diſcover where they lye; the Admiral Court ſhall have the Juriſdiction. Alſo it was Reſolved, That the Lord of a Mannor may have Wreck of Sea by preſcription; and that the ſoile upon which the Sea doth flow and reflow, ſcil. between the high-water mark, and the Low-water mark, may be parcel of a Mana Mannor. And alſo Reſolved, That ad plenitudinem Maris, the Admiral ſhall have Juriſdiction of every thing done upon the Water between the High-water and the Low-water-mark. 43 Eliz. in B. R. C. 5. part. 106. Sir Henry Conſtable's Caſe.

9. Concerning the Juriſdiction of the Admiralty, theſe points were Reſolved by All the Juſtices of both the Benches; 1. If Suits be commenced in the Admiralty upon Contracts, or other perſonal things done beyond Sea, or upon the Sea, no Prohibition is to be awarded. 2. If Suit be there for Freight, or Mariners Wages, or for breach of Charter-parties, though the Charter-party happen to be made within the Realm, ſo as the Penalty be not demanded; no Prohibition is to be granted. 3. If Suit be there for building, amending, ſaving, or neceſſary victualling of a Ship, againſt a Ship, and not againſt the party by name; No Prohibition lyes, though it be done within the Realm. 4. Although of ſome Cauſes ariſing upon the Thames, the King's Courts have Conuſans; yet the Admiralty hath alſo Juriſdiction there in the point ſpecially mentioned in the Statute of 15 R. 2. and by Equity thereof may enquire of, and redreſſe all Annoyances and Obſtructions in thoſe Rivers that are any impediment to Navigation, or paſſage to and from the Sea. Hill. 8 Jac. Cro. 1. Part. 216.

10. A Frenchman had his Ship taken by a Dunkirk upon the Sea; and before it was brought infra præſidia of the King of Spain, It was driven into Weymouth in England, and there the Dunkirk ſold the Ship and the goods. The Frenchman having notice of it, Libelled in the Court of Admiralty pro intereſſe ſuo againſt the Vendee, ſhewing it was taken by Pyracy, and not by Letters of Mart, as was pretended; and prayed a Prohibition. And it was agreed by the Juſtices, That if a Ship be taken by Piracy, or by Letters of Mart, and be not brought infra præſidia of that King by whoſe Subject it was taken, that it is no lawfull Prize, and the property is not altered: and ſuch was ſaid to be the Law of the Court of Admiralty. And therefore the Court would not grant a Prohibition. Trin. 17 Car. in B. R.

11. One Kent was indebted to J. S. in a ſum of money upon an Agreement made ſuper altum mare; Kent dyed, J. S. attached certain goods of Kents in the hands of J. D. and upon ſummons and tender of Caution to redeliver the goods attached, if the Debt were diſproved within the year, the goods were to be delivered to him; which the ſaid J. D. would not deliver; for which he was impriſoned in the Court of Admiralty: whereupon he brought his Habeas Corpus; and this matter was ſhewed to the Court upon the Return: and it was adjudged, That J. D. ſhould be diſcharged, becauſe the Cuſtome to attach goods after th death of the party, is not good; and the Action in the Spiritual Court ought to be againſt the perſon, and not the goods: and by their Law, the death of the party did abate the Action. Paſch. 18 Car. in B. R. Heamans Caſe.

12. One was arreſted in the Admiral Court, for reſcuing one out of the hands of a Meſſenger, who was taken by him by the Warrant of the Court, in a Suit there depending betwixt him and another: And the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That if the Cauſe were Maritime which was depending there, the Court may examine a Contempt to the Court in that cauſe; but they cannot proceed criminally againſt the party that reſcued him that did the contempt. Mich. 1649. B. R. Styles 171. Tench and Harriſons Caſe. See Styles. ibid. 340. acc.

13. Note; It was adjudged, That when the Court of Admiralty, or other Court is prohibited by Statute to hold Plea of certain cauſes, If one be ſued there contrary to the Statute, he may not onely have a Superſedeas in the nature of a Prohibition, to cauſe the Judge to ceaſe his proceedings, but he may have an Action alſo upon the Statute againſt the party that ſues contrary to the Statute; although the words of the Statute do not give expreſly ſuch Action to the party; for the ſame Releife is implyed in every Statute. Co. 10. Part. 75. in the Caſe of the Marſhalſee.

Adminiſtrators, and Adminiſtration.

1. AN Adminiſtratrix ſued the Defendant in the Court of Chancery; the Defendant ſhewed, that before the Adminiſtration was committed to the Plaintiff, he had put in a Caveat in the Spiritual Court, hanging which Caveat, the Plaintiff obtained Letters of Adminiſtration, of which he demanded Judgment pendant the Appeal. It was ſaid, That the ſame was a good cauſe to ſtay the Suit, untill the Appeal ſhould be determined; and that the ſame was not like unto a Writ of Errour; for by the purchaſing of a Writ of Errour, the Judgment is not impeached untill the Record be Reverſed: But the very bringing of an Appeal is a ſuſpenſion of the firſt Judgment for the principal matter. Mich. 42 Eliz. Willoughby and Willoughby's Caſe. Goldeſb. 119.

2. If Adminiſtration be committed to the Obligor, the ſame doth not extinguiſh the Debt. But if the Obligee makes the Obligor his Executor, the ſame is a Releaſe in Law of the debt, becauſe it is the Act of the Obligee himſelf: But if a woman who is an Executrix takes the debtor to husband, and the husband dyeth, the ſame is no Releaſe of the debt, becauſe it was onely ſo ſuſpended during the Coverture. Co. 8. Part. 135. in Sir John Needham's Caſe.

3. An Adminiſtrator brought an Action of Debt for Rent, which was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment given. Exception was taken, that the Plaintiff had not ſhewed by whom the Letters of Adminiſtration were granted to him: But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was now too late to ſhew that after Verdict: for that the Jury have found, that the Adminiſtration was duly granted. And it was ſaid by the Court, That in a Declaration it is not neceſſary to ſhew by whom the Letters of Adminiſtration are granted; or to ſay, that they were granted by him cui pertinuit, or per loci illius Ordinarium. Trin. 1651. in B.R. Marſhall and Ledſham's Caſe. Styles 282. See 1 Jac. in Exchequer Chamber. Wade and Atkinſon's Caſe, adjudged contrary. Cro. 2. Part. 10.

4. Note; It was ſaid by Glyn, Chief Juſtice, That if an Adminiſtrator bring an Action againſt an Adminiſtrator; It is not neceſſary for the Plaintiff to ſhew by whom the Letters were granted to the Defendant; but he muſt ſhew by whom the Letters of Adminiſtration were granted to himſelf to entitle him to the Action; for if it appear not to the Court, that he is Adminiſtrator, he cannot ſue. Mich. 1655. in B. R. Ingram and Fawſett's Caſe. Styles. 463.

5. A man was poſſeſſed of Cattel, Corn, moveable goods, and of a Leaſe for years of Lands, and made his Will, and thereby made his Wife Executrix of all his Cattel, Corn, and moveable goods, not mentioning what ſhould be done concerning the Reſidue of his eſtate, and made no other Executor. The Wife proved the Will, and Adminiſtration was committed to her omnium bonorum jurium et creditorum prædict. (her husband) et ejus Teſtamentum qualitercunq; concernent. The Queſtion was, Whether this be a general Adminiſtration committed, or onely an Adminiſtration of the goods of which ſhe was made Executrix. Berkley, Juſtice, held, That it was but a ſpeciall Adminiſtration, becauſe it is bonorum, jurium, et Creditorum prædict (the husband) et predict. Teſtamentum concernent. But the greater Opinion of the Court was, That it was a general Adminiſtration committed; for Jurium et Creditorum, are general words; and the word (Et) ſhould be expounded as (aut) and it cannot be tyed onely to the Teſtament, for there be not any words of debts, as Creditorum imports. Trin. 7. Car. in B. R. rott. 497. Roſe and Bartlet's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 213.

6. If an Executor in an Action brought by him recovereth, and afterwards dyeth Inteſtate, and Adminiſtration of the Goods of the firſt Teſtator be committed to J. S. J.S. ſhall not ſue forth Execution upon ſuch a Recovery; becauſe the Adminiſtrator comes in paramount, and claims immediately from the firſt Inteſtate. Trin. 11 Car. in B. R. Cleve and Veers Caſe, Cro. 1. Part. 325. & 329. See C. 5. Part. 9. Bynſtell's Caſe, acc. See Cro. 2. Part. 1 Jac. B. R. Yate and Gaugh's Caſe, acc.

7. If an Adminiſtrator doth compound with one who hath a Judgment of 100 l. for 40 l. this under-hand Compoſition ſhall not prejudice any other Creditor who is a ſtranger to it: For every Adminiſtrator ought to execute his Office lawfully, in paying Debts, Duties, and Legacies in ſuch precedency as the Law requires: and an Agreement made between them and others ſhall not be to the prejudice of a third perſon. 8 Jac. C. 8. Part. 132. Turner's Caſe.

8. The Executor of A. brought Debt upon a Bond againſt B. the Executor of J. D. The Defendant pleaded, That J. D. dyed Inteſtate, and that before the Writ brought, Adminiſtration of his goods were committed to J. N. who adminiſtred, and yet doth. The Plaintiff Replyed, That J. D. dyed Inteſtate, and before the Adminiſtration granted, divers goods of his came to the Defendant's hands, which the Defendant as Executor of the ſaid J. D. adminiſtred ſeu aliter ad ſuum proprium uſum diſpoſuit. Whereupon Iſſue being joyned, It was found for the Plaintiff: for ſince there was an Executor before the Adminiſtration granted, the Plaintiff had cauſe of Action veſted in him, which ſhall not be taken away by an Adminiſtration afterwards granted, though it be before the Action brought; and ſo much the rather, becauſe the goods taken by wrong before the Adminiſtration, ſhall not be Aſſetts in the hands of the Adminiſtrator, till they be recovered, or damages for them. Trin. 12 Jac. in C.B. rott. 4087. Kebit and Oſbaſton's Caſe. Hob. 49.

9. A. had a Judgment againſt J. S. in an Action of Debt. J. S. dyed Inteſtate, J. D. took Adminiſtration of his goods; againſt whom A. took forth a Scire facias with a Fieri facias to enquire of the goods of J. S. in the hands of the Adminiſtrator, and to take them in Execution. The Defendant appeared to the Scire Facias, and pleaded, fully adminiſtred: upon which A. did demur; for that he ſhould have pleaded Non Devaſtavit, and not fully adminiſtred: But it was ſaid by the Court,

That

That this being a Scire facias with a Fieri facias, It ſhould be dangerous to plead non Devaſtavit; and it hath been a good Plea, and ſo before adjudged, to plead fully adminiſtred. For all ſuch proces of Scire facias, is but to make the Defendant to anſwer; and this Plea is a good anſwer. Mich. 23 Car. in B.R. Fitchett and Wolſton's Caſe. Styles 56. 57.

10. An Action of Debt was brought againſt J. S. as Adminiſtrator of J. D. The Defendant pleaded, That the Inteſtate was Outlawed at the Suit of J. N. after Judgment; and ſo being Outlawed, dyed Inteſtate. It was Reſolved, That the Plea was not good; for it is but a Plea, by Implication, that he hath not any goods; and ſo but argumentative. See 37 H. 6. 27. by Priſot. acc. And Trinit. 37 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 2954. Woolley and Bradwell's Caſe, was vouched to be adjudged accordingly: and therefore the Court upon the View of the Record in Woolleys Caſe, gave Judgment, That in the principal Caſe it was no Plea. Mich. 20 Jac. in C. B. Bullen and Gervis Caſe. Hutton. 53.

11. An Action of Trover and Converſion was brought by an Adminiſtrator of the Inteſtate's goods; and the time of the Converſion was ſuppoſed to be after the adminiſtration committed; and it was found againſt the Plaintiff. It was Reſolved, That in this caſe the Plaintiff ſhould pay Coſts to the Defendant, the Action being grounded upon a Converſion in his own time, and not in the time of the Inteſtate. Trin. 5 Car. in B.R. Atkey and Heard's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 159.

12. In Trover and Converſion, the Caſe was; A man dyed Inteſtate, and the Ordinary committed Adminiſtration to a ſtranger; and afterwards the next of Kinn of the Inteſtate ſued a Citation in the Spiritual Court to have it repealed; and pendente lite, the Adminiſtrator ſold the goods of the deceaſed to defeat the Plaintiff; and afterwards the Letters of Adminiſtration were Revoked by Sentence, and the firſt Sentence annulled and made void, and new Adminiſtration granted to the Plaintiff. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That the Action did not lye; and in this caſe, the difference was holden between a Suit by Citation, for to countermand or revoke the former Adminiſtration; and an Appeal, which is alwayes a Reſerving of a former Sentence: for an Appeal doth ſuſpend the former Sentence; otherwiſe of a Citation: And in this Caſe, becauſe the firſt Adminiſtrator had the abſolute property of the goods in him, he might ſell them to whom he would; and although the Adminiſtration be afterwards revoked, the ſame ſhall not make void the ſale. 37 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 6. part. 28. Pathman's Caſe.

13. The Commiſſary of the Biſhop of London committed the Adminiſtration of goods by Word, and gave an Oath to the Adminiſtrator, which was entred in the Acts of the Commiſſary; but there were no Letters of Adminiſtration, either in the name of the Commiſſary or Ordinary; and whether this was a good Adminiſtration granted by word, was a Queſtion? It was not Reſolved, but the better Opinion ſeemed to be, That it was not. See 21 H. 6. 29. 21 E. 4. 50. It cannot be without Deed. See Cook. 8. Part. 31. acc.

14. If divers perſons be made Executors, and ſome of them refuſe at one time, and ſome at another, before the Ordinary, they may afterwards adminiſter the goods of the Teſtator; but if they all refuſe before the Ordinary, and the Ordinary commits the Adminiſtration of the goods to another; afterwards they cannot prove the Will. Cook 9. part. 39. Henſloes Caſe.

15. The Probate of Teſtaments did belong to Ordinaries, but of later times, de Conſuetudine Angliæ et non de Communi jure: and the Power to grant Adminiſtration, was granted to the Ordinary by the Statute of 31 E. 3. cap. 11. and before that time, the King was accuſtomed to ſeize the goods of the Inteſtate, to the intent they might be beſtowed for the burial of the dead, and the payment of the Inteſtate's debts, and the advancement of his Wife and Children; and the Ordinary himſelf hath not power to ſell the goods of the Inteſtate, though they be in danger of periſhing; nor Releaſe a debt due to the Inteſtate; by the Statute of 31 E. 3. Cook. 9. Part. ibid. Henſloe Caſe.

16. The Commiſſary of the Biſhop of the Diocеſs granted Letters ad Colligend. et ad vendend. ea quæ peritura eſſent, et inde compotum reddere; the Grantee ſold goods which would not keep, but periſhed; and an Action of Debt was brought againſt him as Executor in his own wrong: and it was adjudged maintainable, becauſe the Ordinary himſelf had not ſuch power; and therefore he could not give it to another. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 256.

17. A Teſtament is diſproved in the Spiritual Court, and the party appeals to the Metropolitan, and it is there diſproved: and afterwards there is an Appeal to the Court of Delegates, and it is there diſproved alſo: and at laſt the party Appealed to the Queen in Chancery, by the Statute of 25 H. 8. and there alſo it was diſproved before the Commiſſioners: And, If the Queen ex authoritate ſua regali might grant Letters of Adminiſtration, was the Queſtion. And the Opinion of the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, was, That ſhe might, becauſe the ſaid Court of Chancery is the higheſt Court; and the matter being once there, it cannot be determined in any Inferiour Court: and then the party may ſhew in his Declaration generally the matter, and that Adminiſtration was granted to him by the Queen ex ſua regal's authoritate, under the Seal of her Court of Delegates. Mich. 14 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. See after, 10 Jac. in B. R. Stevenſon's Caſe contrary, That the Court of Delegates cannot grant Letters of Adminiſtration.

18. In Debt brought againſt an Adminiſtrator It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That an Adminiſtrator might retain moneys in his own hands of the Inteſtates, to ſatisfie a debt due to himſelf: But an Executor of his own wrong ſhould not retain to ſatisfie his own debt. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Bond and Green's Caſe. Godb. 216. See Cook. 5. Part. Coulters Caſe.

19. An Adminiſtratrix, durante minore ætate of an Executrix made divers Obligations unto the Creditors of the Teſtator, and afterwards took husband: and the Opinion of the Court was, That ſo much of the goods of the Teſtators as amounted unto the value of the debts paid, and undertaken for, the husband might retain as his own. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. Briers and Goddard's Caſe. Hob. 250.

2. Where Adminiſtration of goods ſhall be good, and where not; And what things ſhall be put into the Inventory, and what not.

1. THE Caſe was; J. S. had a Wife called Bridget, who dyed; he afterwards took another Wife called alſo Bridget, and then dyed Inteſtate. The ſecond Wife took Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods of her husband; the Son ſued in the Prerogative Court to repeal thoſe Letters of Adminiſtration, upon pretence Bridget the firſt Wife was living. It was adjudged per Curiam, That where the Ordinary hath granted Letters of Adminiſtration to one who ought to have them, that in ſuch caſe they ought not to be repealed by the Ordinary. Paſch. 23 Car. in B. R. Beteſworth and Beteſworths Caſe. Styles 10.

2. The Lady Cromwell was poſſeſſed of divers Leaſes, and conveyed them in truſt; and and afterwards married with Sir John Saint John; the Lady received the money upon the Leaſes, and with part of the money ſhe bought Jewels; and other part of the money ſhe left: and afterwards dyed: Sir John St. John took Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods of his Wife; and in a Suit in the Eccleſiaſticall Court; the Court would have compelled him to have given an Accompt of the Jewels and for the money, to have put them into the Inventory. But the Opinion of the whole Court of B. R. was, That he ſhould not put them into the Inventory; becauſe the property of the Jewels was abſolutely in him as husband, and he had them not as Adminiſtrator; But of ſuch things as be in action, as he ſhall have as Adminiſtrator, he ſhall be accomptable for, and they ſhall be put into the Inventory: and for the moneys received upon truſt, It was Reſolved, that the ſame was the moneys of the Truſtees, and the Wife had no remedy for it, but in Equity, and therefore the husband ſhould have it as Adminiſtrator: and in that caſe, It was Reſolved, That if a woman do Convey a Leaſe in truſt for her uſe, and afterwards marrieth, that in ſuch caſe it lyes not in the power of the husband to diſpoſe of it: and if the Wife dye, the husband ſhall not have it, but the Executor of the Wife. Trin. 15 Car. in B.R. Sir John St. John's Caſe.

3. A man dyed Inteſtate, and there being a Controverſie between the Widow of the Inteſtate, and one of the next of Kinn, about the Adminiſtration: It was agreed, the Widow ſhould have the Adminiſtration, and ſhould enter Bond in the Prerogative Office, to make an equal diſtribution of the goods of the Inteſtate amongſt the Kindred; and ſhe entred Bond again, and had adminiſtration; and afterwards the Bond was ſued againſt her in the Spiritual Court. It was ſaid, That in regard the Adminiſtration was granted to one to whom the Ordinary was not bound to grant it, that ſuch a Bond taken for equal diſtribution was good. But it was Reſolved, That the taking of the Bond was not lawfull; for when the Ordinary hath once commited the Adminiſtration to the party, his power is determined: and he cannot grant Letters of Adminiſtration upon a Condition: And in the principal Caſe a Prohibition was granted to ſtay the proceedings upon the Bond in the Spirituall Court. Paſch. 1655. in B. R. Davies and Mathewes Caſe. Styles. 456.

3. Where.

3. Where the Letters of Adminiſtration may be revoked and repealed, and where not; and what ſhall be a ſufficient Revocation or Repeal of them; et è contra.

1. AN Adminiſtration may be granted upon Condition; and ſuch an Adminiſtration, if the Condition be not performed, may be revoked or Repealed: But if ſuch an Adminiſtrator, before the Condition be broken, giveth away the goods; yet ſuch a guift is good. Cook 6. Part. 19. in Packman's Caſe.

2. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Caſe was; A man dyed Inteſtate, and the Ordinary granted Adminiſtration to a ſtranger; the next of Kindred ſued a Citation out of the Spiritual Court, to have the Adminiſtration repealed: and, depending the Suit, the Adminiſtrator ſold the goods of the Inteſtate; and afterwards the Letters of Adminiſtration were Revoked by Sentence; and afterwards brought the Action. It was adjudged, the Action would not lye: and the difference was taken between a Suit by Citation to Revoke a former adminiſtration; and an Appeal: for an Appeal doth but ſuſpend the Sentence; otherwiſe of a Citation: and in the principal caſe, becauſe the firſt Adminiſtrator had the abſolute property of the goods in him, the ſale of them was good, although that the adminiſtration was afterwards revoked: But if ſuch ſale had been by Covin, it had been void againſt Creditors, by the Statute of 13 Eliz. Co. 6. Part. 18. Packman's Caſe.

3. Letters of Adminiſtration were granted to J. S. and he releaſed all Actions; and afterwards the adminiſtration was revoked, and declared to be null and void by Sentence. It was adjudged, That in that caſe the Releaſe was void. Mich. 9 Jac. rott. 2304. in C B. Throgmorton and Hobby's Caſe. Brown. 1. Part. 51.

4. Note: An Adminiſtration cannot be revoked, for the not bringing in of the Inventory and the Accompt by the Adminiſtrator: and the Ordinary upon an Adminiſtration granted, hath not power to make any diſtribution of the ſurpluſage, nor to take any Bond for to anſwer the ſurpluſage, by the true meaning of the Statute of 21 H. 8. which Intends a benefit to the Adminiſtrator, and not an unprofitable burthen. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. Tooker and Loanes Caſe. Hob. 190. See Styles, Paſch. 24 Car. B.R. Hill and Bird's Caſe, acc. See Hill. 16 Car. in C.B. Merſh. 93. the Ordinary hath not power to make diſtribution of the goods, becauſe there may be a debt which was unknown; and if he might diſtribute, then the Adminiſtrator ſhould be charged with the debt of his own goods. See Brierley's Caſe. Brown. 1. Part. 31. acc.

4. Where, and what Actions will lye brought by Adminiſtrators; and what Actions lye againſt them: And what Pleas they may plead; and what not.

1. LEſſee for years dyed Inteſtate, J. S. took Adminiſtration of his goods; and for Rent arrear, in the time of the Adminiſtrator after the death of the Inteſtate, the Leſſee brought an Action of Debt againſt the adminiſtration in the debet et Detinet: And it was adjudged, That the Action was maintainable. Cook. 5. Part 31. Hargraves Caſe. Quære. For I have ſeen a Report, Hill. 43 Eliz. That Hargraves Caſe was reverſed in the Exchequer Chamber; and then adjudged, That the Action ought to have been brought in the Detinet only: But in all Caſes and Actions brought by Executors, as Executors, the Writ ſhall be in the Detinet tantum, although the duty doth accrue in his own time; becauſe the thing recovered ſhall be Aſſets: And ſo it was adjudged, Paſc. 7 Jac. in B. R. in the Lord Rich and Franks Caſe: and in 43 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench, in Sparks Caſe.

2. The Caſe was; A. promiſed to B. that if B. would pay 50 l. to C. his ſon, who was married to D. the daughter of J. that he would pay 100 l. to D. his Daughter at ſuch a time. B. paid the 50 l. to C. J. failed of payment of the 100 l. B. dyed Inteſtate, E. his Executor brought an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, upon the promiſe made to B. the Teſtator: and it was adjudged, That the Action did well lye by the Adminiſtrator, although he ſhould have no benefit by it, if he did recover. Mich. 22 Car. in B. R. Styles, 6.

3. Note: It was ſaid by Rolls, Chief Juſtice, That Letters of Adminiſtration do relate to the time of the death of the Inteſtate, and not to the time of the granting of them; and therefore an Adminiſtrator may bring an Action of Treſpaſſe, or a Trover and Converſion for goods taken by one before the Letters granted to him; otherwiſe there would be no remedy of the wrong done. Mich. 1652. in B.R. Long and Hebbs Caſe. Styles. 341.

4. In

4. In an Action of Debt the Caſe was; A man dyed Inteſtate, and a ſtranger poſſeſſed himſelf of the Inteſtate's goods, after Letters were granted to a Creditor of the Inteſtate, who brought an Action of debt againſt the ſtranger for the debt due to him by the Inteſtate, as Executor of his own wrong. The Queſtion was, Whether the Creditor by taking the Letters of Adminiſtration, had not ſuſpended his Action for the time that he ſhould continue to be Adminiſtrator. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Action was not ſuſpended; for here is but a Right to Aſſetts in the Adminiſtrator; and no Aſſetts in his hands to charge him withall: and the granting unto him Letters of Adminiſtration, hinders him not from bringing his Action, becauſe the goods were not taken away after the Adminiſtration granted, but before; and if they had been taken after the Adminiſtration, he might have had a Trover and Converſion, or an Action of Treſpaſs, for the taking of them. Mich. 1652. rott. 686. in B. R. Aſhby and Childs Caſe. Styles 384.

5. To whom Letters of Adminiſtration muſt be granted; and by whom; And where they ſhall be granted by the Ordinance, and where by the Metropolitan; et è contra.

1. IT was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, againſt the Statute of 5 E. 6. That the Father and the Mother are the next to whom adminiſtration ſhall be granted, of the goods of the Son or Daughter who dye Inteſtate, 34 Eliz. C. 3. Part. in Ratcliff's Caſe.

2. If an Enfant be made Executor, Adminiſtration, during the minority of the Enfant, may be committed to the Mother; and the ſame ſhall ceaſe and be void, when the Enfant is of the age of 14 years: But ſuch Adminiſtrator cannot ſell the goods of the Teſtator, unleſſe it be for neceſſity of payment of Debts, becauſe he hath the Office of Adminiſtrator, onely pro bono et Commodo of the Enfant, and not to its prejudice. Coo. 5. Part. Prince's Caſe. 29.

3. One had goods ſolely in an Inferiour Dioceſſe, and the Metropolitan of the Province pretending that he had bona Notabilia in divers Dioceſſes; committed the Adminiſtration of the goods. It was Reſolved, That ſuch adminiſtration granted by the Metroplitan, was not void, but voidable by Sentence, becauſe the Metropolitan hath Juriſdiction of all places within his Province. But if the Ordinary of one Dioceſſe committeth Adminiſtration of goods when the party hath Bona notabilia, in divers Dioceſſes, the Adminiſtration is void as well for his goods within the Dioceſs as without, 22 Eliz. in C. B. Vere and Jeffey's Caſe. Co. 5. Part. 29.

4. A Merchant of Ireland by an Obligation made in Ireland, became bounden to J. D. of London; which bond was in London, and there remained: J. D. dyed inteſtate in Com. B. in England, the Biſhop of Ireland committed Adminiſtration to the ſon of J. D. who releaſed the Debt. The Archbiſhop of Canterbury committed the Adminiſtration to the Wife of J. D. and ſhe brought an Action of Debt againſt the Obligor; and adjudged, the Action was maintainable; for that the Adminiſtration ſhall be committed by the Ordinary of the place where the Obligation is, and not where the debt firſt did ariſe; becauſe it is not locall. 14 Eliz. Dyer 303. Lukars Caſe.

5. The Caſe was; One dyed Inteſtate in the County of York; and a ſtranger prayed Letters of Adminiſtration to be granted to him, which was Repealed by the Delegates at York; there was an Appeal to the Court of Delegates in the Chancery, who did repeal the former ſentence at York; and adjudged, that the party made no Will; and granted Letters of Adminiſtration to him who appealed to them: The Archbiſhop of Canterbury granted adminiſtration to a ſecond perſon; and the Archbiſhop of York, to a third perſon, who made a Releaſe unto the debtor of the Inteſtate; upon which Releaſe, Debt was brought by the firſt Adminiſtrator, againſt the Defendant, who pleaded the Releaſe made to him: and whether this grant of Letters of Adminiſtration by the Judges Delegates were good, or not, was the Queſtion. But the better Opinion of the Court was, That the Letters of Adminiſtration which were granted by the Judges Delegates, was not good; but there being bona Notabilia, the Adminiſtration was to be granted by the Archbiſhop: and it was ſaid, That if the party who dyed Inteſtate had goods in ſeveral Provinces, both the Archbiſhops there having a Peculiar, might grant Letters of Adminiſtration; and although the King be Supream Ordinary, and by Delegates may do many acts; yet the Court of Delegates cannot do this, nor have they power to prove any Wills: For the power of the Judges Delegates, is poteſtas Delegata, corrigere, non exequi, to examine, and not to correct: And the Court ſaid, That it was adjudged in one Brakenburies Caſe, That the Judges Delegates had not power to grant any Letters of Adminiſtration. Mich. 10 Jac. in B.R. Stevenſon and Wood's Caſe, Bolſtr. 2. Part. 3. & 4.

6. In an Aſſumpſit brought by Husband and Wife, Adminiſtrators of the goods of J. S. the Defendant

Defendant did impale; and afterwards demanded Oyer of the Letters of Adminiſtration. And it appeared, That the Letters of Adminiſtration were granted to the Plaintiffs by one Tho: Taylor, Batchelour of Law, Commiſſary of the Biſhop of London. The Defendant pleaded after the Darrien continuance, That adminiſtration was granted to him under the Seal of the Vicar-general; and alſo pleaded the Statute of 37 H. 8. which ſayes, It ſhall be lawfull for any perſon, being a Doctor of Law to be Commiſſary, and exerciſe Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction; and then ſhewes, that the ſaid Tho: Taylor was a meer Lay-man, and not Doctor Legis Civilis nec Miniſter allocatus; whereby he had no power to commit adminiſtration: But it was adjudged by the whole Court, That the adminiſtration granted to the Plaintiffs, was a good Adminiſtration, being under the Seal of the Officer, untill it be avoided by Sentence; and yet ſuch an Avoidance ſhall not make a mans act to be void; no more then if a Lay-man be preſented to a Benefice, albeit it be a nullity in our Law: yet the Church ſhall not be void by our Law, but from the time of the Deprivation, of which, Notice ought to the given to the Patrone; and if it ſhould be otherwiſe in the principal Caſe, an infinite number of Adminiſtrations might be drawn into Queſtion, upon ſuch an averment, That he who granted them was a Lay-perſon: Which is not to be ſuffered, for the Inconveniencies which might happen. 2. It was Reſolved, the pleading of the Adminiſtration to the Defendant was not good, becauſe it appeareth by the date of it, it was after the laſt continuance; and therefore could not be pleaded, untill a new Continuance after. Hill. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Stoakes Caſe. Popham. 37.

7. In Debt brought by an Adminiſtratrix, upon an Adminiſtration granted by the Biſhop of R. the Defendant pleaded an Adminiſtration committed to him by the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury, ſede vacante, becauſe the Inteſtate had bona Notabilia. The Plaintiff replyed, That the ſaid Adminiſtration was repealed: and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; 1. Becauſe the Defendant did not ſhew what bona Notabilia the Inteſtate had in certain: and it ſhall be intended he had not bona Notabilia; and ſuch Adminiſtration is but voidable. 2. Becauſe, before the Repeal of the Adminiſtration committed by the Metropolitan, the Inferiour Ordinary may commit adminiſtration: and when the Defendant's adminiſtration is Repealed, it is void ab initio; and in the Principal caſe, It was alſo Reſolved, That whereas the Adminiſtration was committed to the Obligor, that the debt was not extinct, becauſe it is in another right: Otherwiſe it is, If the Obligee himſelf make the Obligor his Executor. 8 Jac. Coo. 8. Part. Sir John Needham's Caſe. fo. 135.

8. In Detinue brought by an Adminiſtrator of a Chain, of which the Inteſtate dyed poſſeſſed, and which after came to the Defendant's hands: the Caſe was, upon a Special Verdict, That the Adminiſtration was committed to the Defendant in London by the Biſhop of Cork being in London; but they did not find, that the Defendant was poſſeſſed of the Chain in London: and in this caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved; 1. That a Biſhop of Ireland being in England, might commit Adminiſtration of things in Ireland, becauſe it is but a power and authority which followes his perſon whereſoever it is. 2. That an Adminiſtrator made by a Biſhop of Ireland, could not bring an Action here as adminiſtrator, becauſe of the Letters of adminiſtration granted in Ireland, there could be no tryall here. 3. That an Adminiſtrator might declare of his own poſſeſſion, although he was never poſſeſſed, if the Inteſtate at the time of his death was poſſeſſed, for that the Law caſts a poſſeſſion upon him. 4. That upon a general Iſſue pleaded, the Jury might find a forrein matter, as a thing done out of England. 5. It was Reſolved, That in the principal Caſe, the ſubſtance of it was the poſſeſſion, and not the Adminiſtration. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Carter and Croſts Caſe. Godbold. 33. See Dyer. 304.

9. Note: It was Reſolved per Curiam, That an Adminiſtration durante minore ætate of an Executrix was not within the Statute of 21 H. 8. of neceſſity to be granted to the Widow of the Teſtator, becauſe there is an Executor all the while; otherwiſe, if the Executor were made from a time to come. Mich. 15 Jac. C. B. Briers and Goddard's Caſe. Hob. 250.

10. In the Caſe of a Prohibition granted to the Eccleſiaſtical Court, for granting Letters of Adminiſtration to a ſiſter of the half blood, when there was a brother of the whole blood, who ſued for them. It was agreed by the Court, That it is in the power of the Ordinary, to grant adminiſtration either to the brother of the whole blood, or to the Siſter of the half blood, at his Election, becauſe they are in equal degree of kindred to the Inteſtate. But if adminiſtration be granted to the husband and wife where the husband is not of kinn to the Inteſtate, but a ſtranger; in ſuch caſe, if he ſurvive his wife, he ſhould have all the goods, and the kindred be defrauded, which is not reaſonable; and therefore ſuch adminiſtration ſhall be void. Mich. 23 Car. in B. R. Styles 74, 75. See Paſch. 24 Car. in B. R. Hill and Bird's Caſe. Styles 102. acc.

6. Who

6. Who ſhall be ſaid to be an Adminiſtrator of his own wrong: and what act ſhall make him to be ſo; et è contra.

A Woman who is an Executrix, taketh a husband; afterwards ſhe and her husband are divorced upon a precontract; the wife appeals to the Delegates, and, pendant the Appeal, the husband adminiſtreth the goods: and then the man dyeth: It was a Quære in 2 Mary, Dyer 105. 106. If the husband ſhould be ſaid to be an Executor of his own wrong. But ſee 2 Jac. C. 5. Part. Read's Caſe. 33. That when a man dyeth Inteſtate, and a ſtranger taketh the goods of the Inteſtate, and uſeth them, or ſells them, he is an Executor of his own wrong; for thoſe to whom the deceaſed was Indebted have not any other againſt whom they can bring their Actions for the Recovery of their debts: and ſo note, that the very ſeizure of goods will make one an adminiſtrator of his own wrong. 2 Ma. Dyer. 106. and C. 5. Part. 33. See Porter's Caſe, 1 Eliz. Dyer. 166. acc.

7. Where Adminiſtration Durante minori ætate of an Enfant Executor ſhall be good; and what Acts done by ſuch an Adminiſtrator ſhall be good; and when ſuch Adminiſtration ſhall ceaſe and determine, et è contra.

1. AN Enfant was made Executor; and Adminiſtration was granted to another durante minore ætate of the Enfant, who brought debt for money due to the Inteſtate, and had the Defendant in Execution, and then the Executor came of full age. It was moved, That the Defendant might be diſcharged out of Execution, becauſe the authority of the Adminiſtrator was determined, and he cannot acknowledge ſatisfaction: And it was ſaid, That he was rather a Bayliff to the Enfant, then an Adminiſtrator. But the Judgment of the Court was, That though the authority of the Adminiſtrator was determined; yet the Recovery and Judgment did remain. Mich. 29 Eliz, in C. B. Goldb. 104.

2. One was bounden to pay a certain ſum of money to the Obligee his Heirs, Executors, or Aſſigns? The Obligee made an Enfant his Executor, and adminiſtration was committed to another during his minority, and the Obligor paid the money to the Adminiſtrator. It was a Quære, 28 Eliz. in C. B. as Rodes, Juſtice, ſaid, if the ſame were a ſufficient payment to excuſe him, or not? But the better Opinion was, That it was: but it was not Reſolved.

3. Upon an Aſſignment of Bonds to the Queen, a Scire facias was brought againſt an Enfant, who pleaded, That Adminiſtration of the goods were granted to two other perſons during his minority. It was holden by the Court, That the ſame was no Plea: by which Caſe the Court conceived, That the Adminiſtrator, durante minore ætate, had not any power of, or Intereſt in, the eſtate. Hill. 33 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Miller and Gores Caſe. Godbold. 104.

4. In an Accompt brought by an Adminiſtrator durante minore ætate againſt the Defendant as Bayliff of ſuch a Mannor: It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That it is not ſhewed, that the Executor the Enfant was within the age of 17 years; and it might be he was above the age of 17 years, and yet under age. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it ſhall not be ſo Intended, unleſſe it be ſhewed, that he was above 17 years; and eſpecially when the Defendant had admitted him to bring the Action, and had pleaded to Iſſue. Admittance. See Copy-holder.

1. A Woman Copy-holder for life took a husband; the Reverſion of the ſaid Copy-hold was granted to three, viz. A. B. & C. cum acciderit poſt mortem, ſurrender or forfeiture for their Lives ſucceſſively according to the Cuſtome. The husband ſurrendred to the uſe of A. for life; To whom the Lord granted a Copy-hold for the life of A. B. dyed; and the Opinion of the Court was, That C. ſhould not be admitted, for that after the death of the husband, the Wife might enter, or have her plaint in in the nature of a Cui in vita; and during the life of the husband, the Lord ſhould have it in nature of an Occupancy. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 264.

2. A. Copy-holder in Fee had iſſue two daughters by ſeveral women, and dyed; the daughters entred, and the eldeſt daughter dyed before Admittance. It was holden by the Court, That the poſſeſſion of the eldeſt daughter ſhould be ſuch a poſſeſſio fratris, as ſhould make her Collateral heir inheritable. 13 Eliz. Dyer. 291. See Co. 4. Part. 21. acc.

3. A. Copy-holder in Fee by Licence made a Leaſe for years, the Leſſee entred; the Copy-holder having iſſue a ſon and a daughter by one woman, and a ſon by another, dyed, the Eldeſt ſon dyed before Admittance. In this caſe theſe points were Reſolved and adjudged; 1. That the Land ſhould diſcend to the daughter of the whole blood. 2. That where the Cuſtomary Inheritance diſcendeth to the heir before Admittance, that he may enter and take the profits; and that there ſhall be a poſſeſſio fratris before admittance upon an actual poſſeſſion, but not to prejudice the Lord of his Fine. 3. That the admittance of Tenant for life, is the Admittance of him in the Remainder, but ſhall not barr the Lord, of the Fine he ought to have by the Cuſtome. 4. That after the admittance, the heir may in pleading alledge it as a grant, and that as well upon a diſcent, as upon a ſurrender. But the heir cannot plead, that his Father was ſeiſed in Fee at the will of the Lord according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, and dyed ſeiſed, and that the Copy-hold diſcended to him; though he hath an Intereſt in Law diſcendible, becauſe he is Tenant at Will according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor. Mich. 23 & 24 Eliz. in C. B, Cook 4. Part. 21. Brown's Caſe.

4. The heir of a Copy-holder may enter, and have an Action of Treſpaſs before Admittance; and ſo, if the heir dye before Admiſſion, his heir may enter and take the profits. See Trin. 20 Eliz. in B. R. Clark and Pennyfathers Caſe. Co. 4. Part. 24. See Brown's Caſe. acc.

5. Note: It was adjudged, That where a Copy-holder ſurrendred his Copy-hold Lands into the hands of Tenants, That before the preſentment be preſented in Court, That the heir of the ſurrenderor might take the profits againſt the ſurrenderee, for that none can have right to a Copy-hold, but by admittance of the Lord: But it was agreed, That if the Lord taketh notice of the ſurrender, and accepts of the Cuſtomary Rent, as Rent due from the Tenant, as being admitted, the ſame ſhall amount to an Admittance; but otherwiſe, if he accept of it as a duty generally. Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. Treſwell and Welches Caſe. Godbold. 269.

6. A. Copy-holder in Fee of divers Lands ſurrendred the ſame into the hands of the Lord, unto the uſe of W. her ſon and his heirs in Fee, at the next Court holden for the Mannor, the Entry in the Court-Roll was to this effect; Ad hanc curiam venerunt W. et Johan. uxor ejus. et ceperunt de Domino Tenementa prædict. cum pertinenciis in quibus, &c. præfat. W. et Johan. uxori ejus Tenend. ejuſd cm W. et Johann. et hæredibus ſuis: W. dyed, Johan ſurvived, and ſurrendred the Tenements to the uſe of the Defendants, who entred; upon whom the heirs of W. entred: the Defendants re-entred, and the heir of W. brought Treſpaſs: And in this Caſe it was Reſolved by the Court, 1. When A. ſurrendred the Land to the uſe of W. the Lord by the Cuſtome hath but a Cuſtomary power to make admittance according to the form and effect of the ſurrender; and although the Lord granteth the Land over to another by Copy, all is without warrant; for notwithſtanding that the Lord may make Admittance according to the ſurrender, and where a Copy-holder ſurrendreth to the uſe of another for life, and the Lord admitteth him to hold to him and his heirs; yet he who is admitted, hath but an eſtate for life, for he is in after the admittance by force of the ſurrender: and ſo it was adjudged, 27 Eliz. in Bunting's Caſe. Trin. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Weſtwick and Weyers Caſe. C. 4. Part. 28.

7. Upon a Special Verdict, the Caſe was this; J. B. did contract Matrimony with A. Adingſhall. Afterwards the ſaid A. Adingſhall took to husband T: J. B. Libelled in the ſpiritual Court againſt A. upon the ſaid Contract: and it was decreed, That ſhe ſhould marry J. B. and the marriage with T. declared to be null and void: J. and A. intermarry, and had Iſſue the Plaintiff; J. B. dyed, R. B. a Copy-holder in Fee of Lands holden of the Mannor of G. out of Court according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, did ſurrender them to the Lord, to the uſe of M. Wife of Robert his younger ſon, and dyed; the ſurrender was preſented, the Lord of the Mannor thereupon gave admittance and ſeiſin to M. and Robert, and the heirs of Robert: M. dyed, Robert ſurvived, and ſurrendred the Land to the uſe of E. his Wife, and dyed: C. B. Couzen and heir of R. B. viz. ſon and heir of J. ſon and heir of R. entred upon E. upon whom E. re-entred. And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. When R. B. did ſurrender into the hands of the Lord to the uſe of the ſaid M. and Robert, without limiting of any eſtate; that they had but an eſtate for their Lives. 2. When the Lord made an Admittance and delivered ſeiſin to M. and Robert, and to the heirs of Robert, the ſame was an Admittance to them onely for their Lives, the Reverſion over to the ſurrenderor, becauſe the Lord was but an Inſtrument to paſſe the eſtate; and when he hath made the Admittance, nothing remained in him. 3. Where he to whom the ſurrender was made dyeth before Admittance, yet his heir ſhall be admitted: as it was Reſolved in Weſtwick's Caſe, Mich. 28 Eliz. Bunting and Lepingwell's Caſe, Co. 4. Part. 29.

8. The Lord of a Mannor may admit a Copyholder out of the Mannor; but the Steward of the Court cannot make a Grant or an Admittance out of the Mannor, becauſe the Court ought to be holden within the Mannor: But by Cuſtome, the Court may be holden out of the Mannor, and then Grants and Admittances there ſhall be good. 9. If Diſſeiſor, the Feoffee of a Diſſeiſor, or any other who hath a tortious and defeſible eſtate or Intereſt ſubject to Action or entry of another, holdeth Court, and make any voluntary Grant upon an Eſcheat or forfeiture of a Copy-hold; ſuch voluntary Grant ſhall not bind him who hath Right, when he hath recontinued the Mannor by Action or entry: But if ſuch a Lord who hath ſuch a tortious and defeſible eſtate, makes admittance unto any upon the ſurrender of another; or admits the heir upon a diſcent, ſuch acts are lawful and good; which by a Court of Equity he may be compelled to do; and ſuch acts ſhall bind him who hath right. 10. The Father Copyholder in Fee, made a ſurrender to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of his ſon for life, and after to the uſe of his laſt Will. The Father was admitted, and dyed: The Lord pretending a forfeiture, granted the Copy-hold to a ſtranger. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the admittance of the Tenant for life, was the admittance of him in the Remainder: and alſo that the Fee-ſimple being limited to the uſe of his Will, remained in the Copy-holder, and not on the Lord. Paſch. 36 Eliz. B. R. Fitzh. and Huckley's Caſe. Co. 4. Part. 23. See Browns Caſe, before.

11. The Caſe was this; A Copy-holder in Fee of a Mannor of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtm. ſurrendred the Copy-hold Lands out of Court by the hands of Tenants, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, to the uſe of another and his heirs, upon certain Conditions; at the next Court the ſurrender was preſented, but in the preſentment the Conditions were omitted; He to whom the ſurrender was made being dead, the Lord by his Steward according to the Cuſtome admitted his daughters and heirs who entred; he who made the ſurrender by his Deed, Releaſed to the daughters being in poſſeſſion: In this Caſe (amongſt other points) It was Reſolved, That the Releaſe in the Caſe at Barr had extinguiſhed the Right of the Copy-holder, becauſe that he to whom the Releaſe was made, was admitted to the Tenements, and ſo Copy-holder in poſſeſſion, ſo as the Releaſe of the Cuſtomary right did enure unto them; and thereby the Lord was not at any prejudice, becauſe he had his Fine upon the Admittance; and they to whom the Releaſe was made, were in by Title, ſcil. by admittance of the Lord, and ſo the Releaſe did enure by way of extinguiſhment. Paſch. 31 Eliz. B. R. Kiſt and Quinton's Caſe. Co. 4. Part. 25.

12. Note: It was Reſolved by the Court, That there is no Fine due to the Lord of a Copyholder before Admittance; and if after admittance the Fine be denyed, the ſame is a forfeiture of the Copy-hold eſtate. C. 4. Part. 28. Sands Caſe, vouched in Hubbard and Hamond's Caſe. Mich. 43 Eliz. B. R. C. 4. Part. 28.

13. A. Copy-holder in Fee deviſed his Copyhold to his Wife for life, the remainder to William his ſon in Fee, and made a ſurrender to thoſe uſes, and dyed, the Wife was generally admitted: It was ſaid, That this was no Admittance of him in the Remainder: for it is not like the Caſe of a Diſcent where the Reverſion ſhould have diſcended, becauſe in this Caſe William cannot ſurrender before Admittance: But it was ſaid, That one who hath it by diſcent, might ſurrender before Admittance; but when it is by purchaſe, it cannot be ſurrendred. But the contrary was holden by the Court; for the Remainder veſts when the particular eſtate veſts, or elſe it ſhall never veſt; and it is executed, when the particular eſtate is executed: and it is like to the Caſe, 7 R. 2. Scire facias 3. where Tenant for life ſueth Execution, it is an execution for him in the Remainder. And ſee Fitzh. N. B. 201. where one deviſeth for life the Remainder in taile, and an Ex gravi Querela was ſued, the ſame ſhall ſerve as well for him in the Remainder, as for the Tenant for life: and ſee Plow. Com. Weldon's Caſe, An aſſent to the deviſee for life, is an execution of the deviſee to him in the Remainder. Trinit. 30 Eliz. in B. R. John Kippings Caſe. Goldeſbr. 95.

14. In an Ejectione Firme brought, This was one Queſtion which was ſtirred up and moved to the Court; Whether the Cuſtome, That a Copy-holder for life might name to the Lord of the Mannor who ſhould ſucceed him in the Copy-hold, were a good Cuſtome? And, 2. If ſuch a Copy-holder for life might cut down Trees? And for the firſt point it was holden, That a Copy-holder by Cuſtome may name his Succeſſour: and if in ſuch Caſe, the Lord ſhall refuſe to admit ſuch perſon, the Homage by Cuſtome may ſet a Reaſonable Fine, and ſo the party ſhall be admitted. And for the ſecond point, It was holden, That if a Copy-holder who hath this Priviledge, doth cut down Trees, It is no forfeiture of his Copy-hold; for that he hath a greater eſtate then a ſole Tenant for life, becauſe he ſhall name his Succeſſour. Hill. 6 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2613. Rolles and Maſon's Caſe. Brown. 1. Part. 132.

15. In an Ejectione Firme the Caſe was this; A man was ſeiſed of a Copyhold Tenement in the right of his Wife in Demeaſne as of Fee, and the Husband ſurrendred the ſame by himſelf, without his Wife, to the uſe of a ſtranger in Fee, who was admitted by the Lord: the husband dyed, then the wife dyed; the heir of the wife without any Admittance entred upon the ſtranger, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff; the Defendant in the right of him to whom the ſurrender was made, re-entred; and the Plaintiff brought the Action. It was adjudged, That the Plaintiff ought to recover: and that the ſurrender of the husband was not a diſcontinuance againſt the Wife, to put the heir to his Plaint in the Nature of a Sur Cui in vita; and here it ſhall be taken as if the Grant had been made by the husband, which paſſed but his eſtate, which he might lawfully grant, without prejudice to the wife. 2. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the heir notwithſtanſtaning that he was not admitted; yet he might enter and take the profits, and make a Leaſe according to the Cuſtome; or bring Treſpaſs againſt him who diſturbs him: But if the Lord require his Fine, or Service, if he refuſe to do them, it may be a cauſe of forfeiture of his Copy-hold; but untill lawfull ſeizure made by the Lord, he may entermeddle with the poſſeſſion, albeit he be not admitted by the Lord, where it is an eſtate of Inheritance by Cuſtome. Hill. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Bullock and Dibler's Caſe. Poph. 39.

16. In Ejectione Firme, the Caſe was; A. Copy-holder in Fee ſurrendred his Lands into the hands of the Lord, by the hands of Tenants, according to the Cuſtome, without ſaying to whoſe uſe the ſurrender ſhould be. At the next Court, A. was admitted Habendum to him and his wife in tail, the Remainder to the right heirs of A. It was Objected, 1. That the ſurrender was void, becauſe no uſe was limited; and therefore by conſtruction of Law ſhould be to the uſe of the Lord. And, 2. That the Admittance was not available to paſſe any eſtate to the Wife, becauſe ſhe was not named in the premiſſes, but onely in the Habendum. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the ſubſequent act ſhall explain the ſurrender; for when abeſt Proviſio partis, adeſt Proviſio Legis. And when the Copy-holder accepts a new Admittance, the Law intends the ſurrender generally made, to be to ſuch as is ſpecified in the Admittance, and the Lord is onely an Inſtrument to convey the eſtate, and, as it were, put in truſt to make Admittance, as he who ſurrenders will have him to make. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Wife ſhould take by the Admittance, albeit ſhe was not named in the premiſſes, but in the Habendum; and they agreed, That in Feoffments and Grants the party that is not named in the premiſſes, ſhall not take by the Habendum, according to Throgmorton and Tracies Caſe, Plow. Com. But this caſe of a Copy-hold, is like to the caſe of a Will, or the caſe of Frankmarriage, in which it is ſufficient to paſſe an eſtate, if the party be named in the Habendum onely. Trinit. 15 Jac. in B. R. which began Hill. 15. Rott. 194. Brook and Brook's Caſe. Popham 125.

17. Note; That it was ſaid by Popham, in the Argument of Dillon and Fraines Caſe, C. 1. Part. 20. Chadleigh's Caſe, That it was agreed by all the Juſtices, in the Caſe of the Mannor of Haſelbury Brian, between the Earl of Arundell, and the Earl of Northumberland, That Admittance upon ſurrender of a Copy-holder in Fee to the uſe of another; Or of an heir in caſe of Diſcent of a Copy-hold, was good, although being made by a Diſſeiſor of a Mannor, or any other who hath it by wrong, becauſe the ſame is an act of neceſſity, and for the benefit of a ſtranger, viz. of him who is to have the Land by the ſurrender, or of the heir. See Popham. 71.

18. Note: After long Arguments on both ſides, It was adjudged by the whole Court, That where the Cuſtome of a Copyhold Mannor was to admit for life, and in the Remainder for life at any time when there was but one Copyholder for life in poſſeſſion: That during the minority of the heir within the age of 14 years, the Guardian in Socage in his own name did admit a Copyholder in Remainder for life, That the ſame was a good Admittance according to the Cuſtome: although it was Objected, The Guardian in Socage is but Servus, and not Dominus. But becauſe it was agreed, That he had a lawfull Intereſt, the Admittance was adjudged good. Trin. 1 Jac. rott. 854. in C. B. Sapland and Ridlers Caſe. Godbold. 143. Cro. 2. Part. 98. the ſame Caſe.

19. In an Ejectione Firme, It was holden by the Court, That if Copyhold did diſcend to the Younger ſon by Cuſtome, and he entreth, and Leaſeth it to another who takes the profits, and after is Ejected, That he ſhall have an Ejectione Firme without any Admittance of his Leſſor, or preſentment, that he is heir. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Rumney and Evet Caſe. Leon. 100.

20. A. Copyholder in Fee had iſſue 3. ſons, B. C. D. and ſurrendred his Lands to the uſe of his Will, and thereby deviſed the ſame to F. his wife for life, the remainder to C. and the heirs males of his body. F. dyed, after Admittance C. dyed without iſſue, and the Lord granted the Copy-land to D. and his heirs, who ſurrendred it to the uſe of the Defendant for life, and afterwards dyed without iſſue. B. eldeſt ſon of A. entred; and the Opinion of the Court was, That his entry was Lawfull, and that Admittance for him was not neceſſary: for that, If a Copy-holder ſurrendreth to the uſe of one for life, and dyeth: he in the Reverſion or Remainder may enter without any new Admittance: and ſo Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Bullein and Grannis Caſe. Leon. 174.

21. A. Copyholder, with Licenſe of the Lord, Leaſed his Copyhold for years, and afterwards ſurrendred the Reverſion, with the Rent, to the uſe of a Stranger, who was admitted. It was moved, If in this caſe there needed any Attornment either to ſettle the Reverſion, or to create a privity? And the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That the ſurrender and admittance were in the nature of an Inrollment; and ſo amounted to an Attornment, or at the leaſt do ſupply the want of it. Hill. 28 Eliz. in the Common-Pleas. Leon. 397.

22. The Caſe was; A. Copy-holder deviſed his Copy-hold Lands to F. and R. his two ſons, and to the heirs of their two bodies begotten; and Wills, That each of them ſhall enter at their ſeverall ages of 21 years, and that his Executors ſhall take the profits of the Lands, untill they come to their ſeverall ages of 21 years. F. comes to his full age, enters and ſeals an Ejectment Leaſe. It was agreed by the Court, That the ſons of the Copy-holder cannot have the profits of the Lands to them deviſed, untill they do both of them come to the age of 21 years; but the Executors are to have the ſame in the mean time, to perform the Will: But in this Caſe it was agreed, That if Copy-hold Land doth diſcend to one, he may make a Leaſe before Admittance; and the poſſeſſion of a Termor for years, is the poſſeſſion of him in the Remainder; and he in the Remainder may make a Leaſe before Admittance, and the admittance of his Termor ſhall be good enough to this purpoſe for him in the Remainder; and a Copy-holder may have an Action of Treſpaſs, and may take the profits of the Copy-hold Lands before Admittance, upon a diſcent to him. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Eyſe and Chopley's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part. 42.

23. Note: It was holden by the Juſtices; and therewith agreeth Co. 11. Part. Sir Henry Nevil's Caſe, That there may be a Cuſtomary Manor, and held by Copy; and that ſuch a Cuſtomary Lord may hold Courts, and grant Coppies; and that ſuch Cuſtomary Manor may paſſe by ſurrender and Admittance; and that Fines ſhall be paid upon Admittance, as well upon alienation, as upon diſcent: And the Manor of Aylſham in Norfolk is holden by Coppy of Court-Roll: The King and Stafferton's Caſe of Quo Warranto. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Bolſtr. 1. Part. 57. & 58.

24. Didicote ſeiſed of Cuſtomary Lands, ſurrendred the ſame, to the intent the Lord ſhould grant the ſame de novo, to the uſe of himſelf for his life, and after to the uſe of F. his wife, during the Non-age of his ſon and heir, and after to the uſe of the ſon and heir in taile. Didicote before any Admittance dyed, the Lord granted the Cuſtomary Lands to the wife to have during the Non-age of the heir, the Remainder over accordingly, the ſon being then but of the age of 5 years, ſo as the Wife had a Term in the Lands for 16. years. The Wife took Husband, and dyed. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the husband ſhould have the Land during the Non-age of the heir: But the Queſtion was, Whether in that caſe, the Husband ought to be admitted to the Land? But the Opinion of Weſton, Juſtice, was, That in that caſe there needed no Admittance, for that preſently by the Marriage he was Tenant to the Lord, and he is in of the ſame eſtate to which the Wife was admitted: and yet he ſaid, That Executors of the Leſſee ought to be admitted; for in ſuch caſe the Lord doth not know his Tenant and therefore the ſame ought to be made certain by Admittance; but here in this caſe the Lord knew his Tenant, and who ſhould be Tenant after the death of the wife. 7 Eliz. in C. B. Didicote's Caſe.

25. Note: It was holden by the whole Court in the Kings-Bench, That if a Copy-holder doth ſurrender his Copy-hold Lands to the uſe of a ſtranger for ever, and the Lord admits the ſurrenderee To have and to hold the Lands to him and his heirs, That if the ſurrender was made to the uſe of his Will, and in his Will it is deviſed, that the Deviſee ſhall have his Lands for ever; that in ſuch caſe the Copy-holder ſhall have a Fee-ſimple in the Copy-hold. But if the ſurrender be to a ſtranger for ever, without having any relation to any deviſe of the Lands by his Will, or that the ſurrender be not to the uſe of his Will; That in that caſe, if the Lord do admit the ſurrenderee To hold the Land to him and his heirs for ever, that ſuch admittance ſhall not be good to give an eſtate in Fee to him. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Poſſhals Caſe.

26. Note: It was holden by the Court in this Caſe, That where the Cuſtome of a Manor was, That after the death of the husband, the Wife ſhould ſhould have Free-bench quam diu caſtè viveret, that if ſhe liveth incontinently, of which the Lord of the Mannor hath not Notice, and afterwards the Lord doth admit her to her Free-bench; that ſuch his admittance ſhall bind the Lord, and he ſhall not take advantage of the Cuſtome, although he had not Notice of it. Hill. 3 Jac. in C. B. Wheeler's Caſe.

27. The Lord of a Mannor ſeized a Copy-hold without cauſe, and granted it to another in Fee, the Grantee dyed ſeiſed, and his heir is admitted; the firſt Copy-holder dyed, his heir entred, and ſurrendred to the uſe of a ſtranger. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That a diſcent of a Copy-holder ſhould not take away the entry of another Copyholder who had right; and that the heir entring without admittance, his entire was lawful; and, being his ſurrender, was good. Trin. 2 Jac. B.R. Joyner and Lamberts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 26.

28. Two Joynt Copy-holders in Fee, one of them ſurrendred into the hands of two Tenants, to the uſe of his laſt Will, and made his Will of his Lands, and dyed; and the ſurrender was preſented, and the party to whom the deviſe was made, was admitted accordingly. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the ſaid ſurrender & admittance ſhould bind the Survivor; for that it ſhall relate to the time of the firſt ſurrender. Mich. 3 Jac. in B.R. Porter and Porter's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 100.

29. The Caſe was; A Copy-holder had ſix ſons, the Land was of the nature of Borough Engliſh as well for the Brother, as the ſon; the 6th and youngeſt ſon was admitted, the 5th ſon went beyond Sea; the 6th ſon dyed without Iſſue, the 4th brother was admitted, upon a pretence that the 5th was dead without iſſue, and afterwards ſurrendred into the Stewards hands to the uſe of another in Fee: The Lord informed, That the 5th ſon was alive; and it being ſo preſented, 3. Proclamations were made for his coming to be admitted. The 5th ſon beyond Sea did Releaſe to a Copy-holder; After the Lord ſeized the Copy-holder as forfeit, for not coming of the 5th ſon. There were 3. Queſtions in this Caſe, 1. Whether the Releaſe made by him who had Right to a Copyholder who came in by Admittance of the Lord, was good? 2. Whether the Non-claym ſhould bind him who was beyond Sea? 3. Whether the Lord by Admittance of the 4th ſon as heir, and acceptance of his ſurrender to the uſe of another, and admittance of another, did bind the Lord, or not? The Opinion of the Court for the ſecond point was, That the Non-claym, and not coming to be admitted and take up the Copy-hold did not bind him who was beyond the Sea: And for the other points, there was no Opinion delivered by the Court. But I conceive, That the Releaſe to the Copy-holder is good; and alſo, that the acceptance of the ſurrender, and admittance of the ſtranger to the Copy-holder by the Lord, ſhall bind the Lord: for I find it afterwards to have been ſo adjudged: Paſch. 3 Jac. 30. Upon a Demurrer, It was Reſolved by the Court, That if one plead the ſeiſin of a Copy-holder in Fee, and claims under him, he ought to ſhew, of whoſe Grant; yet if he ſhew the Admittance of the laſt heir, it is ſufficient; for that ſhall be in the nature of a Grant, and may be pleaded by way of Grant. Trin. 3 Jac. in C. B. rott. 341. Piſter and Hemling's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 103.

31. A Copy-holder in Fee makes a Leaſe for years by Licenſe rendring Rent to him, his heirs, and aſſigns at Michaelmas and the Annunciation, and he is admitted; and for not payment of the Rent, and at the day, a Re-entry is; He ſurrenders over to the Leſſor of the Plaintiff in Fee, who being alſo admitted, at the day demands the Rent, and for non-payment, enters. The Queſtion was; Whether he who hath the Reverſion of a Copy-hold by way of ſurrender, might take advantage of the Condition within the Equity of 32 H. 8. And it was holden, That he could not, neither by the Common-Law, nor by the Statute of 10 Jac. B. R. Beal and Brafier's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 305.

32. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That a Copy-holder for life might nominate his Succeſſour to have the Copyhold for life, and that ſuch a perſon ſhould compound with the Lord for his Fine; and if he would not compound, then he ſhould give ſuch Fine as the Homage ſhould aſſeſs, and he ſhould be admitted: and ſaid in facto, that his Father, Copyholder, named him his Succeſſour to have for life, and dyed, and that he tendered his Compoſition, which would not be accepted; and thereupon the Homage aſſeſſed 40 s. for the Fine, which he tendered to the Lord, and he would not accept of it, nor admit him: and for not ſo doing, he brought his Action upon the Caſe againſt the Lord. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Action would not lye: for that he hath no remedy to compell the Lord to admit him, but by Order in Chancery: and he hath not any Intereſt in the Copyhold before admittance. Paſc. 12 Jac. in B. R. Ford and Hoskins Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 368.

33. There was a Copy-hold Meſſuage called Symonds, whereunto divers Copy-hold Lands were apper-

appertaining: the ſaid Meſſuage called Symons cum pertinentiis were ſurrendred to the Lord to the uſe of J. S. who was admitted to it. The Queſtion was, Whether all his right in the other Lands did paſs by the ſurrender, or not? And the Opinion of the Court was, That they did not paſſe, but onely the Meſſuage and the Curtilage, Orchards and Yards. Another Queſtion was; If there be husband and wife Copy-holder in the Right of the wife, and they ſurrender out of Court into the hands of the Steward, and the Wife is examined by him, it not being proved that he was Steward by Patent, nor any Cuſtome to warrant it, and upon ſuch ſurrender the party is admitted; whether the ſame be good, or not? and it was Reſolved, That it was good: and ſo it hath been often adjudged. Paſch. 17 Jac. in B. R. Smithſon and Gages Caſe.

34. The Cuſtome of a Manior was, to admit for life and in remainder for life, at any time when there was but one Copy-holder in poſſeſſion; and during the minority of the heir within 14 years, the Guardian in Socage in his own name did admit a Copy-holder in Remainder for life. And after long Arguments at the Barr, It was adjudged, That the Admittance was good, and according to the Cuſtome; and that the Guardian was a good Dominus pro tempore to that purpoſe: although it was Objected by Walmeſley, That the Guardian is but Servus, and not Dominus. But becauſe it was agreed, he had a lawfull Intereſt, the admittance was good. Trin. 1 Jac. in C. B. rott. 854. Sapland and Ridler's Caſe. Godbolt. 143.

1. Of Advowſons in general; The Original of them, How they firſt began in England; and in whom the Patronage of Advowſons were firſt ſettled.

1. AFter the Diviſion of the Iſlands of England and Ireland into Counties, which was in the Saxons times; in whoſe time the Chriſtian Faith was firſt planted in thoſe Iſlands; The Kings of theſe Iſlands did begin to erect Cathedral Churches, create Biſhops, and erect Biſhopricks, Abbies, Monaſteries, Priories, and other Religious Houſes and Churches: And after, in imitation of the ſaid Kings, Particular Lords of Grand Seignories and Lordſhips, did upon ſome parcel of their Demeans erect and found particular Churches, endowed them with Lands and with other profits and immunities; Reſerving to the ſaid Founders of Abbyes, Priories, and Church, a Right and power to confer and beſtow the ſame upon ſuch as were fit perſons, To be holden to them, and their Succeſſours for ever. Coke. 2. Part. Inſtitutes. Dodd. Treatiſe of Advowſons.

2. The word (Advowſon) was not applyed to a Church onely: for although it was ſaid by Perring, in 7 E. 3. f. Quare Impedit 19. That by Grant of the Church the Advowſon paſſed; and Herle, That Long a man did not know what an Advowſon was: But when a man gave an Advowſon, he ſaid onely, That he gave Eccleſiam: Yet I find by old Books, That the word Advowſon, was not applyed onely to a Church, but to Priories, Monaſteries, and other Eccleſiaſticall Foundations: For, John de Boys brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop of London: And Counted, that he was ſeiſed of the Advowſon of the Priory of W. to which the Biſhop had diſturbed him to Preſent. See 24 E. 3. Quare Impedit. 17 6 E. 3. Quare Imp. 38. 11 E. 3. Quare Imp. 157. ibid.

3. An Advowſon in general then, is a Right of Preſentation, which the Founder of any Monaſtery, Abby, Priory, Church, or Chappel, reſerved unto himſelf, his heirs, or Succeſſours, upon the Foundation thereof, to confer and beſtow the ſame ſo often as the ſame ſhould happen to become void; and may aptly be applyed to any thing of which a man might have had a Quare Impedit, if he were diſturbed in the Donation, or Preſentation to the ſame: And to this purpoſe, ſee theſe authorities of the Old books following; If he were diſturbed of his Preſentation to an Abby, 22 H. 6. 25. 25 E. 3. Quare Imp. 16. 10 E. 3. 32. 11 R. 2. Bre. 643. 29 E. 3. Quare Imp. 190. 2. The Definition of an Advowſon; What it is by the Civil and Canon-Law; and what by the Common Law of the Realm.

1. AN Advowſon, or Patronage by the Canon or Civil Law, is a Right of Preſentation, or a Right to preſent to the Biſhop a fit perſon to be admitted and Inſtituted into any Eccleſiaſticall Living, when the ſame ſhall become void. It is called Advocatio, ſometimes, ſcil. an avowing, and taking into Protection; ſometimes, Patronatus: Jus Patronatus, eſt Jus præſentandi Clericum ad Eccleſiam vacantem, ex gratiæ conceſſum, qui conſentiente Epiſcopo vel Inſtruxit vel dotavit Eccleſiam. Cowell title Patronus.

2. Advocatus eſt ad quem pertinet jus Advocationis alicujus Eccleſiæ ut ad Eccleſiam nomine proprio non alieno poſſit præſentare; and they are called Advocati, becauſe they do defend the Church; and the Cauſes of the Church, from the word Patrocinio; and alſo becauſe they were the firſt Founders and Benefactors of the Church. Bracton. Lib. 4. 240. Cook. Inſtitut. 17. acc.

3. Patronus (according to the Canoniſts and Civilian) tenetur protegere Eccleſiam ſi minitetur ruinam, et de bono Sacerdot. providere. Hence cometh that old Verſe, Patronum faciunt Dos, Ædificatio, Fundus. Dodd. Lib. de Advocatione.

4. The Right of Patronage by the Common-Law, is a real Right fixed in the Patron or Founder of the Church, wherein he hath as abſolute a property and ownerſhip, as any other man hath to his Lands and Tenements whatſoever. See 8. Aſſ. 29. 13 Aſſ. 22. 11 H. 4. 84. which is further proved by theſe two Caſes following; A man was Patron of the Priory of Spalding; And by Deed Indented betwixt A. and B. Prior, It was Covenanted, That, at every Avoidance of the Priory, they ſhould not have any thing in the Priory at the vacancy thereof, but only to chooſe their Prior, who ſhould be maintained out of the Priory: Saving unto A. and his heirs All Preſentations unto Churches which ſhould fall void. In a Quare Impedit brought againſt the ſub-Prior and Covent by A. of a Preſentation to the Church annexed to the Priory. It was adjudged, That by the Saving, The Advowſon of the Church did remain to A. and his heirs. And upon the acknowledgment of the Deed aforeſaid, A. had a Writ to the Biſhop, to admit his Clerk to the Church. Paſch. 9 E. 3. Quare Imp. 30. Cook 2. Part. Inſtitutes. acc.

5. The King founded the Chappel of P. and endowed it with two Hides of Land: The King was Patron; and although afterwards the Chappel and Lands came to the hands of a Prior; which Priory, after the guift, was founded by the Biſhop; and the King after the foundation of the ſaid Priory, did grant to the Prior and Covent, quod transferre, et retinere poſsint Eccleſiam; and did alſo grant the two Hides of Lands, Canonicis, quos Epiſcopus poſuit: Yet becauſe the King by his Charter did not grant the Patronage by expreſſo words; It was adjudged, That the King remained Patron; and although the Prior after the Foundation had preſented time out of mind to the Chappel; Yet it was adjudged, The ſame did not take away the King's title of Patronage. 38 Aſſ. 22. the Prior of Plympton's Caſe, Cook. 2. Part. Inſtitutes. acc.

3. That Advowſon, or the Right of the Patron to preſent, is a Temporal, and not a Spiritual Inheritance; and the reaſons to prove it to be ſo.

1. AN Advowſon or the Right of the Patron to preſent, may be Appendant unto, and parcel of a Mannor, which is a Temporall Inheritance; and when a Mannor was firſt created, and Lands given to build or erect a Church upon it, the Advowſon of that Church became Appendant to the Mannor, which was a Temporal thing; and by the Grant of the Mannor cum pertinentiis, the Advowſon of the Church paſſed: and if a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon is appendant, and the Diſſeiſee doth enter into the Mannor, the ſaid entry ſhall veſt the Advowſon again in the Diſſeiſee, becauſe the Advowſon is parcel of, and appendant to the Mannor. 9 E. 439. 33 H. 6. 33.

2. If the King be ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. to which an Advowſon is Appendant, and Lets the Mannor to J. D. for years, Excepting the Advowſon; and afterwards the King by his Letters Patents granted totum illud Manerium de D. cum pertinentiis to J. D. in Fee (exceptis, quæ in iiſdem Literis patentibus excipiuntur) and further grants, Manerium prædict. ac nomina et ſingula præmiſſa adeo plene et integre, et in tam ampliſs modo et forma prout præmiſſa ad manus noſtras devenerunt; It was adjudged in that caſe, That by the Grant of the Mannor, without making mention of the Advowſon, that the Advowſon paſſed, becauſe it was parcel of, and appendant to the Mannor. Cook. 10 Part.

10. Part. Whiſler's Caſe. See acc. Trin. 8 Jac. in C. B. Walter and Bould's Caſe. Dolſtr. 1. Part. 32. 33. 34.

3. An Advowſon is a Temporal Inheritance; for that it lyeth in Tenure, and may be holden either of the King, or of a Common perſon; of the King in Capite, or of Knights Service. See 12 H. 17. 19. See 21 E. 3. 5. Where a Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Abbot of the Webbaik; and the Plaintiff here Counted, that the ſaid Abbot held the ſaid Advowſon of him by Homage, Fealty and Eſcuage.

4. A Writ of Annuity was brought by the Prior of Caſtle-Acre, againſt the Prior of Butley; The Defendant pleaded, That he was ſeiſed of the Church of Aſpall in the County of Suffex, ut de feodo et jure Monaſterii ſui de Butley; and that he held the Advowſon of the Priory of Caſtle-Acre by the Service of Fealty, and 2 s. 8 d. per annum: In that caſe it was agreed, That an Advowſon doth lye in Tenure; and that the Lord might diſtrein in the Glebe Lands for the Rents and Services, the Cattle of the Patron, if he found any there upon the Land; but not the Cattel of a ſtranger.

5. A Writ of Ceſſavit lyeth of an Advowſon. See for that, 22 E. 3. 3. a. A Writ of Ceſſavit was brought againſt John de Gremeſby, Parſon of the Church; Where the Tenant demanded the View; and was Ouſted of the View, becauſe it was of his own Ceſſer, and afterwards he prayed in Ayd of the Patron and Ordinary, and the ayd was granted.

6. In a Writ of Right of Advowſon, the Tenant ſhall be ſummoned in the Glebe of his Church. And ſo it is in a Quare Impedit, the Summons ſhall be in the Church. 24 E. 3. 46. a.

7. A Writ of Right of Advowſon lyeth for him who hath an eſtate in the Advowſon in Fee-ſimple, or Right of an eſtate to him and his heirs in Fee-ſimple; and the Writ lyeth as well of the moyety, third, or fourth part of the Advowſon, as of the whole Advowſon; and the Writ doth ſuppoſe a Tenure; for that the words of the Writ are; Quod clamat tenere de te, 15 H. 8. by All the Juſtices. See alſo Fitzh. N. Br. title Droit de Advowſon. acc.

8. An Advowſon is a Temporal Inheritance, becauſe a Precipe Quod Reddat lyeth of it; as it is adjudged, 20 E. 4. 15. And a Writ of Entry ſur diſſeiſin in the Poſt was brought of an Advowſon: whereupon a Common Recovery was ſuffered of an Advowſon: and it was adjudged, the Writ did well lye; and that the Recovery ſuffered, was a good Recovery; 35 Eliz. in C. B. Crother and Dormer's Caſe. Popham 22. See Cook. 5. Part. 40. acc. the ſame Caſe. See Cook. 2. part. 74. and Co. 1. Part. 56. acc.

9. An Advowſon is a Temporal Inheritance, becauſe it may be forfeited by Attainder of Treaſon or Felony, and alſo be loſt, by uſurpation, and 6. moneths plenarty, by Recuſancy, by Outlawry, by Negligence and Lacheſſe of preſentment by Tranſlation, or Ceſſer, and given away, in Mortmain. See 9 H. 6. 57. Cook. 10. Part. 55. in the Chancellor of Oxford's Caſe.

10. It is a Temporal Inheritance; For the Wife ſhall be endowed of it, and ſhe ſhall have the third preſentment; and the husband ſhall be Tenant by the Curteſie of it; and it may be divided betwixt Coparceners either by word or writing, and the eldeſt Siſter ſhall have the firſt preſentment; Or it may be given in exchange for other Temporal Inheritances; and though it be not valuable in it ſelf after the Church is once void, and ſo not accomptable by Guardian in Socage; yet it is valuable to the Incumbent: and by grant of all Lands and Tenements, an Advowſon will paſſe, if not by Livery, yet by Deed it is transferable as other Temporal Inheritances are. See Hughes Parſons Law, 39 & 40; and ſee the Authorities there vouched, to prove the points aforeſaid.

4. Advowſons, Appendants, or in Groſſe, to what they ſhall be appendant, and to what not: And by what acts they ſhall become diſappendant.

1. ADvowſons, are either Appendants, or in Groſſe; and Appendancy is ever by preſcription; and Advowſons for the moſt part paſſe with the Mannors and Lands to which they are Appendant, unleſſe they be ſevered from the ſame by Grant, by Deed, or by Partition, or by ſome other legal Act. Coo. Inſtitutes, 1. Part.

2. If a man bring a Quare Impedit for diſturbing him to preſent to an Advowſon appendant to a Mannor; he needs in his Count ſhew how the Plainff's turn to preſent doth commence; for that being Appendant, it is apparant, that the ſame is by preſcription, 13 Eliz. Dyer. 299. in Eveleigh's Caſe.

3. Things which are Appendants, muſt be Appendants to things of a ſuperiour nature, and which may have a perpetual ſubſiſtance and continuance: and therefore Advowſons which are Inheritances incorporeal, cannot be Appendants to Offices, Fairs, Services, and other Inheritances which are Incorporeal: But Advowſons may be Appendants to the Demeaſnes of a Mannor, or unto unto Honours, Caſtles, or other Lands, or other things Corporeall, which may have a continuall being or ſubſiſtance. Cook Inſtitutes, 1. Part. 122. 5 Eliz. Dyer. 70. Plow. Comment. 169. 170. Co. 4. Part, Terringham's Caſe, 37.

4. An Advowſon cannot properly, and Originally, in ſtrictneſſe of Law, be ſaid to be appendant to a houſe for habitation: And yet in 7 E. 4. 20. in a Quare Impedit brought, for diſturbing the Plaintiff to preſent his Clerk to the Church: The Defendant did plead, That one J. was ſeiſed of a houſe, unto which the ſaid Advowſon was Appendant, in his demeaſne as of Fee, and gave the ſame houſe, with the appurtenances, unto the Anceſtor of the Deſendant in taile. But I conceive the Plea there muſt have this Conſtruction, That the Advowſon was appendant to the Land upon which the houſe was builded; and not to the houſe, quatenus a houſe for habitation: But by a ſecondary means, an Advowſon may be ſaid to be appendant to a houſe, and not otherwiſe: For if a man be ſeiſed of a houſe to which an Advowſon is appendant, and afterwards the houſe doth fall down; now the party ſhall have the Advowſon by reaſon of the ſoile; and the Advowſon ſhall be ſaid to be Appendant to the Land upon which the houſe ſtood: and herewith agrees 10 H. 7. 13. Keble.

5. If Tenant in taile, or the husband be ſeiſed in the Right of his Wife, of a Mannor to which an Advowſon is appendant, and makes a Feoffment in Fee of the Mannor, or of part thereof, with the Advowſon; The Advowſon at leaſt after preſentment ſhall paſſe as Appendant to the Mannor, or to part of the Mannor, and not to the eſtate of the Land; for that the eſtate of the Land is diſcontinued by the Feoffment. Cook 1. Part. 122. in Chudleigh's Caſe.

6. A man was ſeiſed of the Advowſon of a Vicaridge, which was appendant to the Rectory of Weſt Bodwin, and was attainted of Felony, which was concealed from the Crown in the time of King E. 6. The Queen afterwards granted the Rectory et omnia tenementa parcel ſpectant. dict. Rectoriæ, to J. S. In that caſe it was holden by the Juſtices, That a Vicaridge might be appendant to a Rectory; and that by the Grant of the Rectory by the words aforeſaid, the Advowſon of the Vicaridge did paſſe to the Grantee, 18 Eliz. Dyer. 350. 351.

7. If an Advowſon be Appendant to a Mannor which diſcendeth to divers Coparceners, and the Coparceners make Partition of the Mannor to which, &c. without ſpeaking of the Advowſon; the Advowſon notwithſtanding the diviſion and ſeverance from the Mannor to which, &c. doth remain appendant, Cook. 8. Part. 8. in Wiat Wilds Caſe.

8. If a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon is appendant, and by Deed granteth one Acre belonging to the Mannor una cum advocatione Eccleſiæ; and further by the ſame Deed giveth and granteth the ſaid Advowſon; the Queſtion in that caſe was, Whether the Advowſon did paſſe as appendant to the Acre; or as an Advowſon in Groſſe? And the better Opinion of the Book is, That by that Grant the Advowſon was ſevered from the Mannor, and was become in Groſſe; for the Deed ſhall be taken moſt beneficiall for the Grantee to have the Advowſon in groſſe then appendant to the Acre. But in that caſe it was agreed, If the whole Mannor had been granted, then the Advowſon had paſſed as appendant, and not in groſſe. 33 H. 8. Dyer. 48.

9. If a man grant the Mannor of D. to which an Advowſon is appendant, and by the ſame Deed he grants the Advowſon of the Church of D. ſo as it is named in groſſe; yet it ſhall paſſe as appendant; by the Opinion of Finchden, in 48 E. 3.

10. If a man doth bargain, ſell, give and grant a Mannor, with an Advowſon to one, and afterwards levieth a Fine, or enrolleth the Deed: It was holden by the Lord Dyer, that the Advowſon doth paſſe by the bargain and ſale as in Groſſe, before the Inrollment of the Deed. But Quære: For it hath been holden, That the Advowſon cannot paſſe, unleſſe the Deed be Inrolled; and then it ſhall paſſe as appendant, and not in groſſe, by reaſon of the Intent of the parties. 14 Eliz. Dyer. 311.

11. Two Coparceners of two Mannors, to one of which an Advowſon is appendant, they make Partition, and the one hath the one Mannor, and the other the other Mannor, and they make compoſition to preſent by Turns; as to one of them, the Mannor is appendant; and as to the other, in groſſe: So if a Mannor be divided betwixt two Coparceners, and every one of them hath a part of the Mannor allotted unto them, without ſaying any thing of the Advowſon, the Advowſon remains in Coparcenary, and in groſſe; and yet in every of their turns it is appendant to that part of the Mannor which they have. See 13 E. 3. Quare Imp. 58. 45 E. 3. 35. Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 122. a.

12. A. was ſeiſed in Fee of a Capital Meſſuage, and 100 Acres of Lands known time out of mind, by the name of the Mannor of F. to which the Advowſon was appendant; which by meſne conveyance came to J. S. who without Deed did enfeoffe J. D. of the Mannor, and made Livery and Seiſin upon the Demeaſnes: J. D. by Deed made a Grant of the Advowſons, and afterwards the Tenement attorned to J. D. It was the Opinion of

8. If a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon is appendant, and by Deed granteth one Acre belonging to the Mannor una cum advocatione Eccleſiæ; and further by the ſame Deed giveth and granteth the ſaid Advowſon; the Queſtion in that caſe was, Whether the Advowſon did paſſe as appendant to the Acre; or as an Advowſon in Groſſe? And the better Opinion of the Book is, That by that Grant the Advowſon was ſevered from the Mannor, and was become in Groſſe; for the Deed ſhall be taken moſt beneficiall for the Grantee to have the Advowſon in groſſe then appendant to the Acre. But in that caſe it was agreed, If the whole Mannor had been granted, then the Advowſon had paſſed as appendant, and not in groſſe. 33 H. 8. Dyer. 48.

9. If a man grant the Mannor of D. to which an Advowſon is appendant, and by the ſame Deed he grants the Advowſon of the Church of D. ſo as it is named in groſſe; yet it ſhall paſſe as appendant; by the Opinion of Finchden, in 48 E. 3.

10. If a man doth bargain, ſell, give and grant a Mannor, with an Advowſon to one, and afterwards levieth a Fine, or enrolleth the Deed: It was holden by the Lord Dyer, that the Advowſon doth paſſe by the bargain and ſale as in Groſſe, before the Inrollment of the Deed. But Quære: For it hath been holden, That the Advowſon cannot paſſe, unleſſe the Deed be Inrolled; and then it ſhall paſſe as appendant, and not in groſſe, by reaſon of the Intent of the parties. 14 Eliz. Dyer. 311.

11. Two Coparceners of two Mannors, to one of which an Advowſon is appendant, they make Partition, and the one hath the one Mannor, and the other the other Mannor, and they make compoſition to preſent by Turns; as to one of them, the Mannor is appendant; and as to the other, in groſſe: So if a Mannor be divided betwixt two Coparceners, and every one of them hath a part of the Mannor allotted unto them, without ſaying any thing of the Advowſon, the Advowſon remains in Coparcenary, and in groſſe; and yet in every of their turns it is appendant to that part of the Mannor which they have. See 13 E. 3. Quare Imp. 58. 45 E. 3. 35. Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 122. a.

12. A. was ſeiſed in Fee of a Capital Meſſuage, and 100 Acres of Lands known time out of mind, by the name of the Mannor of F. to which the Advowſon was appendant; which by meſne conveyance came to J. S. who without Deed did enfeoffe J. D. of the Mannor, and made Livery and Seiſin upon the Demeaſnes: J. D. by Deed made a Grant of the Advowſons, and afterwards the Tenement attorned to J. D. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That the Advowſon was appendant to all the Manner, but moſt properly to the Demeaſnes out of which it was at the beginning derived; and that the Attornment afterwards ſhould have relation to the Livery, the Advowſon ſhould paſſe inclusive in the Livery; and that the Grant of the Advowſon made Meſne between the Livery and Attornment, was void. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Long and Hemmings Caſe. Leon. 207, 208.

5. By what, and whoſe Act an Advowſon which is appendant, may become diſappendant, and in Groſſe; and where they ſhall be Appendant again.

1. A Man was ſeiſed of 4. Mannors, to one of which an Advowſon was appendant, and had Iſſue 4 daughters, and dyed: The daughters made Partition of the Mannors, without making mention of the Advowſon; and the Mannor to which the Advowſon was Appendant, was allotted to the youngeſt daughter for her part. It was Reſolved in that Caſe, upon a long debate, That the Advowſon upon the Partition was ſevered, and did remain in groſſe: and yet in that caſe it was holden, That if all the other Siſters did dye, but ſhe to whom the Advowſon appendant was allotted, that the Advowſon became again appendant to that Mannor: But becauſe in the firſt caſe upon the Partition made, there was an expreſſe Exception made of the Advowſon, it was ſaid, That Advowſon remained in Coparcener in groſſe. 2 H. 7. 5. But Quære of that caſe; For 19 E. 3. Quare Imp. 59. there a Quare Impedit was brought: and the Plaintiff Counted, That A. was ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was appendant, and preſented and dyed, and that after the Mannor diſcended to his two daughters, who made partition of the Mannor, and that he had the eſtate of the eldeſt daughter, and that the Church was void by the death of A. ſo as he having the eſtate of the Eldeſt daughter, ought to preſent, but made no mention of any agreement to preſent by Turns: and there Skipwith took exception to the Count, becauſe the Plaintiff did ſuppoſe, that the Advowſon was appendant to the Mannor: and the Exception was diſallowed by the Court, becauſe the Advowſon did remain appendant as it did before. And note, The reaſon of the difference betwixt thoſe caſes might be, becauſe in this later caſe there was no particular exception made, as there was in the firſt caſe. See Cook. 9. Part. in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Marcella. acc.

2. If the King maketh a Leaſe for life of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon is appendant, without ſpeaking of the Advowſon; the Advowſon doth remain in the King as in groſſe; as was granted by the Juſtices; and it was ſaid by them, That in ſuch caſe by grant of the Reverſion, Habendum the Reverſion with the Advowſon, the Advowſon ſhall not paſſe to the Patentee, for that the Advowſon was ſevered, and became in groſſe as to the Fee. Cook 11. Part. 47. in Liford's Caſe.

3. It was found before Commiſſioners, That A. was ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was appendant, and was a Recuſant convict; whereupon two parts of the Mannor were ſeiſed into the Kings hands, who Leaſed the Mannor, with Appurtenances, and all profits and Commodities, and hereditaments to the ſame belonging, to J. S. for 21 years, if A. &c. and afterwards the Church became void: It was holden in that Caſe, That although there was no mention in the ſeizure of the Advowſon; yet the preſentment did belong to the King, and that the King alone ſhould preſent. And, 2. That there were no words in the Kings Grant to J. S. to carry away the Advowſon from the King, and that notwithſtanding that Grant, the Advowſon remained ſtill Appendant to the Mannor, Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. rott. 651. The Chancellor of Cambridge and Walgroves Caſe. Hob. 127.

4. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was this; A. was ſeiſed of the Prebend of N. in the Collegiate Church of St. Mary of S. to which the Advowſon of the Vicaridge of S. was appendant, and did belong: A. made a Leaſe of ſeveral parts of the Prebend; in the Concluſion of which Leaſe, were theſe words, viz. cum omnibus Commoditatibus, emolumentis, proficuis, et advantagiis cum pertinentiis eidem Prebend. ſpectant. ſeu aliquo modo pertinent: And the Queſtion in this Caſe was, Whether the Advowſon of the Vicaridge did paſſe, by this Leaſe. And it was adjudged, That the Advowſon of the Vicaridge did not paſſe; for all the words do imply things gainfull; which is contrary to the nature of an Advowſon; and the words in Grants ſhall not be conſtrued to a ſtrained and unuſual and unreaſonable ſenſe; as an Appropriation will not paſſe by the name of an Advowſon: And ſo where the King grants, that Monks ſhall have all their poſſeſſions of the Abby in the time of vacation for their ſuſtentation: yet it was Ruled, 39 H. 6. that they ſhould not have the Advowſon, becauſe no ſuſtentation did ariſe from them. Note and obſerve in the principal Caſe, two points Reſolved, 1. That the Advowſon of a Vicaridge may be appendant to a Prebend, 2. That it

If an Advowſon be once appendant, it will not paſs without ſpeciall words of grant of it, Mich. 16 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1877. John London; and the Collegiate Church of St. Mary Southwell's Caſe. Hob. 303. 304.

5. The King ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon was appendant, granted the Mannor to J. S. for life, and then granted the Mannor to J. D. after the death of J. S. Habendum cum advocatione; and then by Parliament the King reciting both the Grants, confirmed them by Parliament: Yet it was adjudged in that caſe, That the Advowſon did not paſſe. 33 H. 6. 33. vouched in Colt and the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield's Caſe. Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 2642. Hob. 160.

6. If an Advowſon be appurtenant to a Mannor, by the Grant of the Mannor cum pertinenciis, the Advowſon paſſeth: but by the Grant of an Acre of Land parcel of the Mannor cum pertinenciis, the Advowſon doth not paſſe: and if Tenant in taile be of a Mannor to which an Advowſon is appendant, the Church being full, and he grants proximam advocationem, and then dyes; by his death, the Grant is meerly void. Trin. 8 Jac. in B. R. Walter and Boulds Caſe. Bolſtrod. 1. Part. 35.

7. As Advowſons by Conveyance and Exception, may be made to be diſappendant and in groſs, ſo they may be ſevered and divided by tortious acts; as by Diſcontinuance of the Mannor or Lands, to which they were appendants, by diſſeiſins and by uſurpations; in which caſes, although the Church doth become void, yet the Rightfull Patron ſhall not preſent to the Avoidance, untill he hath recontinued the Mannor or Lands; and in ſome other caſes, the Patron ſhall preſent without any entry made, or Recontinuance of the Mannors or Lands to which they were appendants. 24 H. 8. Dyer 9. Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 122. Cook. 3. Part. The Marqueſs of Winton's Caſe.

8. If a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon is appendant, If he be diſſeiſed of the Mannor, and then the Church doth become void, if he enter into the Mannor, he may preſent unto the Avoidance; becauſe by the entry, the poſſeſſion of the diſſeiſor is defeated; and every eſtate which he made of the Advowſon, which was appendant to the Mannor, is defeated: and ſo if a man be diſſeiſed of a Mannor to which an Advowſon is appendant, after the Church becomes void, he may preſent to the Avoydance before his entry into the Mannor; for the Advowſon is ſeverable from the Mannor, 21 H. 6. 19. 31 H. 6. 33. But if the diſſeiſor dye ſeiſed of the Mannor, and then the Church doth become void, the Diſſeiſee ſhall not preſent to the Avoidance before he hath entred into the Mannor; for that it is a Rule in Law, That a man ſhall never be admitted to the acceſſary or Appendant, where he hath no Right to the Principal, and his right in that caſe is bound by the diſcent: ſo, The Iſſue in taile ſhall not be remitted to an Inheritance regardant or Appendant upon a diſcent had before he hath recovered the Mannor or thing to which it was Appendant, or Regardant. Cook 8. Part. Inſtitut. 3. 49.

9. If a Number ſeiſed of an Advowſon Appendant, and is diſſeiſed of the Mannor to which the Advowſon is appendant, and the diſſeiſor preſents, and afterwards the Diſſeiſee doth enter upon the Diſſeiſor, and then the Church doth become void again, and the Diſſeiſor doth diſturb him to preſent, he may have a Quare Impedit againſt him: But otherwiſe it is, of an Advowſon in Groſſe; for if he were diſturbed of his Advowſon in Groſſe, he hath no remedy but a Writ of Right: and the Diſſeiſee of a Mannor to which the Advowſon is appendant, cannot preſent after a diſcent, untill he hath recontinued the Mannor to which the Advowſon is appendant; but before a diſcent, his entry is wageable. See 24 H. 8. Dyer 4. Cook 3. Part. Marqueſs of Winton's Caſe, &c.

10. If the Patron of an Advowſon be outlawed, and the Church doth become void, and a ſtranger doth uſurp, and preſents his Clerk to the Avoidance, and 6. moneths do paſſe, and afterwards the King being inſtituted to the Avoidance by reaſon of the Outlawry, brings a Quare Impedit againſt the Incumbent who is in by wrong, and removes him: By this means, the Advowſon is recontinued again to the rightful Patron, of which he was ouſted by the uſurpation; and if he doth reverſe the Outlawry, and the Church do become void again, he ſhall preſent. Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 363.

11. If a man have three Avoidances granted to him of one Church at one time, and by one Deed, and the Church doth become void; and the Grantor uſurps upon the Grantee, and preſents his Clerk to the Biſhop, who is admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted; and afterwards the Church doth become void again, the Grantee ſhall preſent to the ſecond Avoidance, becauſe the firſt preſentation made by the Grantor, did not put the Grantee out of poſſeſſion of all the Avoidances. Mich. 18 Eliz. in C. B. adjudged accordingly.

6. Of Preſentation and Collation unto the Avoidance of a Church, or an Advowſon; and the difference betwixt them: and of Nomination, and who ſhall be accounted the Patron of the Church, or Benefice.

1. PReſentation is the Nomination of a Fit and able perſon to the Biſhop or Ordinary of the Dioceſs where the Church is void, to be admitted and Inſtituted by him unto the Benefice which is void. Collation is, when the perſon is admitted to the Church or Benefice by the Biſhop or other perſon Eccleſiaſtical, who is Patron of the Benefice; Or when the Biſhop or Ordinary hath right to preſent for Lapſe of the Patron.

2. Preſentation and Nomination, and Collation are commonly taken for one thing in ſubſtance, though ſometimes they be diſtinguiſhed, 14 H. 7. 22. by Kingsmill.

3. In a Quare Impedit brought by the Chapter againſt the Dean of Lincoln, They Counted, that they were ſeiſed of an Advowſon, and made a Collation and Induction of their Clerk. Exception was taken to the Count, becauſe it was ſaid, of their Collation; and the Writ of Quare Impedit was of a Preſentation; and therefore Judgment was prayed of their Count: But the Exception was diſallowed by the Court; for that Collation and Preſentation were in ſubſtance one and the ſame thing. 17 E. 3. 64.

4. It hath been a Queſtion, If one hath the Nomination, and another the Preſentation, Which of them ſhall be ſaid to be the very Patron? But it hath always been taken to be the better Opinion, That he who hath the Nomination, is Patron of the Church; and may maintain a Quare Impedit in his own Name; Quare Impedit præſentare ad Eccleſiam. But Quære, if the Writ be Quod permittat ipſum Nominare ad Eccleſiam, if the Writ ſhall not abate; for ſo it was holden in 14 H. 4. 31.

5. If an Abbot hath the Preſentation, and another the Nomination, and the Abby is ſurrendred to the King; he that hath the Nomination, ſhall now have all; for the King ſhall not preſent for him, it being a thing undecent for the King, 1 Car. in B. R. Dickenſon and Greenhowes Caſe. Popham. 158.

6. If I have Right to have the Nomination of a Clerk to a Benefice, and another diſturbs me, I cannot have Quare Impedit ipſum Nominare ad Eccleſiam, but the Writ ſhall be Quod permittat ipſum præſentare: and the Count ſhall be, That I of Right ought to name a Clerk to ſuch a one who ought to preſent him to the Biſhop, and that a ſtranger doth diſturb me of my Nomination; and in caſe I do recover, the Judgment ſhall be Quod Epiſcopus admittat Clericum ad Nominationem meam. 21 H. 6. 17. by Fulthorp.

7. In a Quare Impedit, the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That if a man grant to me, that I ſhall name a Clerk to him to the Church when it is void; and that he ſhall preſent my Clerk to the Biſhop; In that caſe the preſentment is in me, and I ſhall have a Quare Impedit; for all the profit is in me: and the grant of the Nomination and Preſentation, is all one. But if I grant to one, that he ſhall nominate to me two Clerks, and I ſhall preſent one of them; In that caſe, The Preſentation is not given to the Grantee, becauſe it is in my Election which of them ſhall have the Benefice. 14 E. 4. 2. Smith and Clayton's Caſe.

8. If one man hath the Nomination to an Advowſon, and another the Preſentation; if he nominates his Clerk, and the other that ſhould preſent, preſents another Clerk, he that hath the Nomination, ſhall have a Quare Impedit, and the Writ ſhall be Quod permittat ipſum præſentare, albeit he had but the Nomination: for otherwiſe he ſhould be without remedy. Upon the ſame reaſon it is, upon a diſturbance to one to preſent to a Priory or Chauntry Donative to the King, or other, a Quare Impedit lyeth; and the Writ ſhall be quod permittat preſentare, becauſe there is no other Writ whereby the party may have right done him; and therefore the Law, although the words be improper in it, doth admit ſuch Writ. Fitzh. N. B. 33. b.

9. A Preſentation is but a Commendation of a fit man by the Patron to the Biſhop or Ordinary to be admitted and Inſtituted into the Benefice; and that may be done either by word or by Letter, or by writing; and ſo likewiſe may be by the King, under any of his Seals, and the Preſentment ſhall be good, in ſome caſes; and in ſome not.

10. Mich. 31 Eliz. in a Quare Impedit, the Plaintiff declared upon a grant of the next Avoidance; and upon Oyer of the Deed, the Plaintiff ſhewed a Letter which was written to his Father, to the true Patron; by which he had written to his Father, That he had given to his Son that of the Plaintiff the next Avoidance: And the Opinion of the whole Court was, That ſuch a Letter was a mockery; for that the Grant was not good without Deed. Mich. 31 & 32 Eliz. in C. B. Cripp and the Biſhop of Canterburies Caſe. Owen, 47.

11. The

11. The Caſe was; A. & B. his Wife preſented to a Church to which they had no Right; the husband dyed: the Queſtion was, Whether the Preſentation did gain any thing to the Wife? It was adjudged, It did not; for the Preſentation was but a Commendation, and the Act of the husband onely, and it was not like an Entry into Land by them. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. Neiſon and Hampton's Caſe.

12. In 11 Jac. In the Court of Common-Pleas, it came in Queſtion, Whether that a Preſentation made by the King, unto an Advowſon appendant to a Manner parcell of his Dutchy, under the great Seal of England, were good or not? and whether the ſame ought not to have been under the Seal of the Dutchy? And it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Preſentation was well made: For that the Preſentation was but the Kings Commendation of his Clerk to the Ordinary, and was not an intereſt of the Inheritance of the Advowſon, but onely it was a thing concerning the Advowſon, and but as a flower fallen from the Stock which did not now participate of the Root; and alſo for that the King might have preſented by word onely; and then the Caſe betwixt the King and the Biſhop of Chicheſter. Mich. 8 Jac. in C.B. was affirmed for Law; That where the King had an Advowſon in the Right of his Ward, and preſented unto the Avoidance under the Great Seal, that the ſame was well made, although it was not under the Seal of the Court of Wards; for that the King might preſent by word onely, and his Preſentation was but his Commendation of his Clerk to the Biſhop: and there Stephen Gardiner's Caſe was vouched by Cook, Chief Juſtice, where the Preſentation of Stephen Gardiner to the Deanery of Norwich was good; although that the King in his Preſentation did miſtake and miſ-recite the name of the Foundation of the Deanery, for that his Preſentation was but his Commendation of the Dean, and touched not the Inheritance of the Deanery. Mich. 11 Jac. in C.B. The King and the Biſhop of Lincoln's Caſe. See Mich. 3 Car. in B.R. Stephens and Potter's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 70. 71. acc. See Trin. 8 Jac. in C.B. rott. 1811. Cro. 2. Part. 247. the ſame Caſe.

13. A. ſeiſed of an Advowſon in Fee, grants Preſentationem to one Quandocunq; et quotieſcunq; Eccleſia vacare contigerit pro unica vice tantum; and in the Grant there was further this clauſe, Inſuper voluit et conceſſit, That the Grant ſhould remain in force quouſq; Clericum habilem et idoneum, by his Preſentment ſhall be Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted; afterwards he granted away the Advowſon in Fee, the Church became void, the Patron preſents; the Church becomes void again, the Patron preſents J. S. and upon a diſturbance by C. the Preſentee of the firſt Grantee a Quare Impedit is brought; and the Queſtion was, whether the Grantee not preſenting upon the firſt Avoidance, had loſt his benefit of his Grant. It was adjudged by the whole Court in this caſe, That although the Grantor grants Donationem to Preſentationem, quandocunq; Eccleſia vacare contigerit, pro unica vice tantum; yet he ought to take the firſt preſentment that happeneth; and he hath no Election to take any other turn but the firſt, when the Church ſhall firſt become void; and by his neglect in not preſenting then, he hath loſt the benefit of his Grant; and the ſubſequent words in the Grant, are but onely an Explanation of the words precedent, and relate to the next Avoydance. Trin. 8 Jac. in B.R Stark and Poles Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part. 26. 27.

14. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor with an Advowſon appendant, preſented B. who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted; afterwards A. ſold the Mannor to which the Advowſon was appendant, to J. S. the Church became void by the death of B. The Queen, the Church being void, 15. Feb. 1588. preſented J. D. by theſe words, Per mortem naturalem Incumbentis ibid. vacant. who upon the ſaid Preſentation 20. of the ſaid moneth of Feb. was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted by Letters of Inſtitution Per Dominam Reginam veram et indubitatam Patronam: J. D. dyed, the King preſented Rone in theſe words, ad noſtram preſentationem ſive ex pleno Jure, ſive per Lapſum temporis ſive alio quocunq; modo ſpectant; The onely Queſtion was, Whether, notwithſtanding all this matter, the Advowſon did remain appendant, or not? And it was adjudged by the Court, That the Advowſon remained Appendant, notwithſtanding the Queens preſentation of J. D. for it appeared, there was no colour of Title to the Queen to preſent; No Lapps, for the Preſentation and Inſtitution, &c. were all in the ſame moneth wherein the Avoidance was: and it was no uſurpation by the Queen, becauſe the preſentation ſuppoſed a right where none was, and ſo was void; for the Queen meant to do no wrong; and ſo the preſentation of Rone upon the ſame reaſon was void. And it was holden by the Court, That the preſentation of J. D. being void, It was but a Collation of the Biſhop, which makes no diſappendancy, nor ſo much as a Plenarty againſt the true Patron, but that he may bring his Quare Impedit when he will; and if the Biſhop receive his Clerk, the other is out ipſo facto. Hill. 17 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1840. Gawdy and the Biſhop of Canterburies and Rones Caſe. Hob. 301.

7. Within what time Preſentation muſt be to avoid Lapſe; and where Lapſe ſhall encurre for want of Preſentation, et è contra. Of Examination of the Clerk, and what ſhall be a ſufficient Cauſe of his refuſal to admit and Inſtitute the Clerk preſented, and what not; and how the Lapſe ſhall be accounted: And where the Ordinary and where the King ſhall preſent for Lapſe.

1. THE Law hath given 6. moneths to the Patron after the Church is void, to preſent his Clerk to the Biſhop or Ordinary; but if he doth not preſent his Clerk within 6. moneths; then the Lapſe ſhall run to the Biſhop or Ordinary, and he ſhall Collate to the Church: and if the Biſhop or Ordinary ſhall ſurceaſe his time, and ſhall not Collate within his ſix moneths; then the Lapſe ſhall devolve to the Metropolitan; and if he doth ſurceaſe his time, and doth not preſent to the Avoidance, then the King as Supream Ordinary of all Benefices, ſhall preſent. Doctor and Student. 125. Cook 4. Part. 17. Cook 5. Part. 58. Specott's Caſe. acc.

2. Every Preſentation of the Clerk upon the Avoidance of the Church muſt be made to the Biſhop of the Dioceſs, who is the Superviſor; and for the moſt part Viſitor of all the Churches within his Dioceſs: He is called Ordinary, becauſe he hath Ordinary Juriſdiction in all Cauſes Eccleſiaſtical immediate to the King; for, for the doing of Juſtice within his Dioceſs in jure proprio, et non per deputationem, it is his care to ſee that the Church be provided of an able Curate, Habet enim curam Curarum, viz. to ſee that Divine Service be ſerved, and to compell Curates to do it by Eccleſiaſtical Cenſures; and therefore all Preſentations are made to the Biſhop or Ordinary. But in the time of the vacancy of the Epiſcopal See, Or if the Biſhop be in remotis agendis about the affairs of the King or State, then the preſentation muſt be to the Guardian of the Spiritualties, which commonly is the Dean and Chapter; or unto the Vicar General, who ſupplyeth the place and Room of the Biſhop. See Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes. acc.

3. If a man doth recover, and have Judgment given for him in a Quare Impedit, and afterwards the Biſhop who is Ordinary, dyeth, he for the Clerk be admitted to the Benefice, the Writ to admit the Clerk, muſt be directed to the Guardian of the Spiritualties ſede vacante, to give Admiſſion to him; But if before his Admiſſion, another man be created Biſhop of that See, and conſecrated Biſhop, the power of the Guardian of the Spiritualties doth then ceaſe, and the party may have a new Writ to the New Biſhop to admit his Clerk. 18 Eliz. Dyer. 350.

4. When the Clerk is preſented by the Patron of the Advowſon, before he be admitted Clerk to ſerve the Cure; the Ordinary is to examine him of his ability: For if upon his Examination he be found unable to ſerve the Cure, or be criminous, the Ordinary may refuſe to admit and Inſtitute him into the Benefice. Cook. 5. Part. 58. Specotts Caſe.

5. Examination of the Clerk is to be done at a convenient time within the 6. moneths; for the Ordinary cannot refuſe to examine the Clerk during all the 6. moneths, and to ſuffer Lapſe to incurr to himſelf; for if he ſo doth, the Patron ſhould loſe his Preſentment, and the Ordinary ſhould take advantage of his own wrong. But if the Ordinary, when the Clerk comes to be examined, ſedet circa Curam Paſtoralem, he is not bound to leave the buſineſs in hand, and preſently examine the Clerk; but he may appoint a convenient time and place for the examining of him. Mich. 15 Jac. in C.B. adjudged. See acc. 5 H. 7. 7. Cook. 5. Part. Specott's Caſe.

6. If the Biſhop doth demand of the Clerk his Letters of Orders, and Letters of Teſtimonial of his good behaviour, and he requires time to ſhew them, the ſpace of a week, becauſe he hath not them there with him; but doth not return with them; and the Biſhop doth thereupon refuſe him to the Church, and preſents another: the Biſhop in ſuch caſe was adjudged to be a diſturber; for that the Statute of 13 Eliz. doth not compell the Clerk to ſhew his Orders nor Letters of Teſtimonial of his good behaviour: as it was adjudged, Paſch. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Palmes and the Biſhop of Pete borough's Caſe. Leon. 230.

7. The Juriſdiction of the Ordinary or Biſhop as to the Excommunication of the Clerk is not Local, or tyed to be within his own Dioceſs, or unto the Admiſſion, or Inſtitution of him; but it followeth the perſon of the Biſhop whereſoever he is: and therefore if a Clerk be preſented to the Biſhop of Norwich, to a Church which is void within his Dioceſs of Norwich, who is in London; Or if it be to a Biſhop of Ireland, who is in England, and in London, the Biſhop may examine the Clerk, or give him Admiſſion or Inſtitution in London: and ſo it was adjudged, 27 Eliz. in the Common-Pleas, in Carter and Croſts Caſe. Leon. 33. and Paſch. 21 Jac.

21 Jac. in C. B. in Knollys and Dobbins Caſe. Leon. 342.

8. If two men preſent one man ſeverally to the Biſhop to be admitted and Inſtituted to the Church; The Biſhop cannot admit him generally, but the Biſhop in his admittance of the Incumbent, muſt admit him Incumbent of the Preſentation of one of them: and if they make ſuch ſeveral Preſentations, claiming by ſeveral Titles, the Biſhop is to direct his Writ de Jure Patronatus; for that in that caſe the Church is become Litigious, but the Biſhop is not to award the Writ of Jure Patronatus, but at the requeſt and prayer of the parties. And Quære, at whoſe charge the Jure Patronatus muſt be ſued forth; whether at the charge of the Biſhop, or of the Parties: for that the Old Books do differ in it. Mich. 8 Jac. in C.B. Danby and Linleys Caſe. See 7 E. 4. Quare Imp. 100. 34 H. 6. 41. 21 H. 6. 43. 22 H. 6. 28. Doctor and Student. 17. & 117.

9. Every Rectory doth conſiſt upon Spiritualty and Temporalty: as to the Spiritualty, Scil. Cura animarum; the Preſentee is compleat Parſon by Inſtitution; for when the Biſhop upon examination finds him able, then he doth inſtitute him in theſe words, viz. Inſtitutione ad tale beneficium et habere Curam animarum, of ſuch a Pariſh, the accipe Curam tuam et meam. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Co. 4. Part. 79. Digbie's Caſe.

10. If a Clerk be preſented, admitted, and Inſtituted to a Benefice, with Cure of the value of 8 l. and afterwards and before Induction, he accepteth of another Benefice with Cure, and is inducted in the ſame; the firſt Benefice is void by the Statute of 21 H. 8. for the words of the Act are; I, Parſon, having one Benefice with Cure, &c. accept and take another, &c. And he who is Inſtituted to a Benefice, is ſaid to have accepted a Benefice, and to have a Benefice. Co. 4. Part. 97. Digby's Caſe.

11. In a Quare Impedit the Caſe was this; A. Vicar of the Church of J. being a Benefice with Cure above the value of 8 l. 15 Jac. took a ſecond Benefice with Cure, and was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, whereby the firſt Benefice became void, and continued void for two years; and ſo derived a Title to the King to preſent. The Defendant pleaded the General Pardon of 21 Jac. and that A. was not a perſon excepted, nor the cauſe of Lapps excepted: and that A. being ſo Incumbent, reſigned the ſaid Benefice of J. to J. D. who preſented the Defendant, who was Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted before the Quare Impedit brought before the King, on the part of the King. The Exception in the Pardon was ſhewed, wherein all Titles and Actions of Quare Impedit, other then ſuch Actions and Quare Imp. which the King hath or may have ratione lapſus, incurred ultra 3. years laſt paſt for or concerning any Benefice whereof any Incumbent was, or the laſt day of the Parliament, ſhould be in actuall poſſeſſion by the Preſentation of any Patron, or Collation of any Ordinary, and traverſed, that the Vicarage of J. became void by the Reſignation of A. upon which the Defendant demurred in Law. The Queſtions in this caſe were, 1. The Church continuing void by Lapps for divers years, Whether the ſucceeding King might take advantage of the ſaid Lapps? or whether he was barred by the Statute of 25 E. 3. cap. 1. and it was ſtrongly urged, That the King had not this in his proper right, or as his proper Advowſon, but in the right of him who had the Inheritance; and that the Statute of 25 E. 3. extended to all the Succeſſors and heirs of King Edw. 3. and that none of them might preſent to a Church in anothers Right. But it was holden by the Court, That the Title of the King was not bound by that Statute. And that he might preſent to a Church fallen in the time of his Predeceſſor. The ſecond Queſtion was, Whether A. were Incumbent, and might reſign; and that reſted upon the Statute of 21 Jac. of the General Pardon, and upon the Statute of 21 H. 8. of Pluralities. It was urged ſtrongly, That the Church was not abſolutely void by the Statute of 21 H. 8. but voidable onely quoad the Patron; and that till he preſented, the other remained Incumbent; and then he continuing ſo for three years, and being in poſſeſſion, the General Pardon of 21 Jac. eſtabliſhed him in his poſſeſſion; and that afterwards he could not be ouſted by the King or any other. But it was holden and Reſolved by the greater part of the Juſtices in the Exchequer Chamber, That the Church was abſolutely void in facto et jure, by the taking of the ſecond Benefice; and the Patron at his perill ought to take notice thereof, and preſent within 6. moneths, otherwiſe Lapps ſhould incurr; and that appears by the pleading, which is, That by the Admiſſion, Inſtitution, and Induction to the ſecond Benefice, Prima Eccleſia vacavit de perſona of the Incumbent, et vacans Continuavit; and it was holden by them, That the general words in a Pardon, ſhall not enure to make a diſpenſation, and the Church being once void, ſhall not be full, without a new preſentation, admiſſion, and Inſtitution: alſo the Exception in the Pardon did not extend to A. for it extended onely to thoſe who were Incumbents; which A. was de jure, and not to ſuch Incumbents as are in by uſurpation, or wrong, or are removeable by a Quare Impedit; and in the principal Caſe, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. 12. If a Prebendary, Parſon, or Vicar, after he is admitted and Inſtituted, and before he be Inducted, grant an Annuity out of his Prebend, Parſonage, or Vicaridge, and the ſame be confirmed by the Patron and Ordinary, or by the Dean and Chapter, yet this ſhall not charge the Glebe, or the Succeſſour of the Prebendary or Parſon; for although by his Inſtitution he hath Jus ad rem, yet he hath not Jus in re, but the Charge in ſuch caſe ſhall lye upon the Parſon, and not upon the Lands. 5 Eliz. Dyer. 221. See Hare and Birkley's Caſe. Plow. com. 528. acc.

13. The Church at this day, ſince the Statute of Weſt. 2. is not full by Inſtitution of the King; and therefore if the King hath title to preſent by Lapps pro hac vice, and he preſents, and his Clerk is Inſtituted, and dyes before Induction, the King may preſent again: and ſo it was adjudged in 38 Eliz. in Giles Caſe; which, ſee Co. 10. Part. 132. in Holt's Caſe. See 18 Eliz. Dyer 348. in Weſton's Caſe, acc.

14. The making of a Clerk compleat Incumbent of the Church, is Induction; which is nothing elſe but the putting of him in the actual poſſeſſion of the Church and Glebe, which are the Temporalties of the Church; as the old books are of 15 H. 4. 76. b. 14 H. 6. Quare Impedit 162. 38 H. 6. 15.

15. If the Arch-Deacon will not Induct the Clerk into the Benefice after the Biſhop hath Admitted and Inſtituted him, an Action upon the Caſe lyeth againſt the Arch-Deacon, becauſe the Induction is a Temporal Act. See Fitzh. N. Br. 47. 26 H. 8. 3. by Knightly; and ſo was it adjudged Paſch. 23 Eliz. in the Common-Pleas. Godb. 23.

16. After the Incumbent is Inducted, he may plead any plea in barr of a Quare Impedit brought againſt him which concerneth his poſſeſſion; as he may plead a Releaſe in barr, becauſe he hath the Freehold in him, which ſhall not be loſt without his Anſwer. 4 H. 8. Dyer. 1.

In what Actions it ſhall be granted; And where the Plea ſhall demur for Nonage, et è contra.

1. IN a Præcipe quod reddat, the Tenant vouched, and ſummons to warranty iſſued forth againſt the Vouchee; and the Sheriff returned, That the Vouchee was dead. It was moved, If the Tenant might revouch, one as ſon and heir, and pray, that for his Non-age the Plea might demur. It was holden by the Court, If he were not within age, that he might well vouch at large; but whether he might vouch within age, the Court doubted. See 40 E. 3. the Quære reſolved; and that he may vouch one within age; but the Plea ſhall demur for the Nonage, of the Vouchee. See 28 H. 8. Dyer. 7.

2. In a Formedon, the Tenant vouched one Townſend, as Cozen and heir of Sir Roger Townſend; and for his Non-age prayed the plea might demur. And it was the Opinion of the Court of Common-Pleas, That the parol ſhould demur; but then he muſt ſhew how he is Cozen. Hill. 6 & 7 E. 6. Dyer. 79.

3. A man recovered in a Dum fuit infra ætatem by default after default againſt an Enfant, who brought a Writ of Errour, and aſſigned for Errour, that he was within the age of 21 years at the time of the Judgment; and did not aver, That he had the Lands by diſcent: and it appeared to the Court by Inſpection, that he was within age; and a Preſident was ſhewed, 6 H. 8. rott. 22, in B.R. That a Writ of Errour was brought by one Carr upon a Judgment given againſt him in the Common-Pleas, by default after default, in a Formedon in Reverter, and aſſigned Non-age generally: and it was tryed by Inſpection of the Court, and he adjudged within age; and thereupon the Judgment was Reverſed; and ſo according to this Preſident, the Judgment in the Caſe at barr was reverſed. Mich. 1 & 2. Ma. Dyer and 104 Anderſon and Wards Caſe.

4. Note; the heir of the Feoffee of a Diſſeiſor, Vouchee prayes in Ayd, and Tenant by Reſceit within age, ſhall have their age. If a Writ of Conſimil Caſu be brought by the husband, Infant and his Wife in Reverſion upon an Alienation by Tenant for life, becauſe it is the right of the wife, the Paroll ſhall not demur. But in a Formedon in the the Reverter, the Parol ſhall Demur: and ſo in an appeal of Murder, becauſe he cannot deraign the Battaile; and although he may have a Champion in a Writ of Right, yet the Plea ſhall demur, becauſe he cannot well diſcern his Right. 4 Ma. Dyer 137.

5. A. Baſſet, ſon of Sir John Baſſet, within age ſued a Petition of Right of Land, of which a Recovery was ſuffered before, 27 H. 8. the which is averred to be to the uſe of the Lord Dawbeny in tail, the Remainder to Sir John Baſſet in Fee; and averred, That the Lord Daubeny dyed without Iſſue, and conceived the Remainder to Sir John Baſſet: and it was demurred in Law, If the Plea ſhould demur, during the Nonage of the Plaintiff; and it was the Opinion of Juſtices, That the parol ſhould demur: For it is a Rule in Law, That an Enfant in all things which ſound in his benefit, ſhall be Favoured, and be preferred in Law, but ſhall not be prejudiced in any thing to his diſadvantage, and at the Common Law, In Writs of Right, ſur diſſeiſin Formedon in the Reverter, and Diſcender, Dum infra ætatem et Non Compos Mentis, and in all other actions Rents founded upon a Right, diſcended to an heir within age, and in which ſeiſin and Explees ought to lye in the Auncеſtor, whoſe heir he is; the Tenant by exception to the perſon of the Demandant ſo within in age, ſhall ſtay the Plea, without any Plea pleaded in barr; but the Writ ought not to abate, as the Statute of Weſt. 1. cap. 41. ſuppoſeth. Hill. 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer. 137. Baſſets Caſe. See Dyer 133. acc.

6. An Audita Querela was brought by Harriſon againſt Worſley, to avoid a Recognizance in the Nature of a Statute-Staple made by him whileſt he was within age; and he being now of the age of 23 years, if it did lye or not, was the Doubt: and notwithſtanding the Opinion of Fitzherbert in his Writ of Audita Querela in his Natura Brevium, It was holden, That it did not lye; but he ſhould have brought it whileſt he was within age, ſo as his age might have been tryed by the Inſpection of the Court. Mich. 7 Eliz. in C. B. Dyer 232. Harriſon and Worſley's Caſe.

7. A Writ of Falſe Judgment was brought, of a Judgment given in the Court of Godmanchеſter, which is Ancient Demeaſne parcel of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, upon a Writ of Right proſecuted there in the Nature of a Writ of Aiel: and alledged the falſe Judges; That whereas the Tenant ſhewed a dying ſeiſed, and a Diſcent of the Land to him from his Father, and he being within age, prayed that the Paroll might demur; that he was ouſted of his prayer, and compelled to anſwer: and by the Judgment of the Court, the ſaid Judgment was reverſed. And although that the Cuſtome was in the Court as was ſuppoſed in the Record, That an Enfant there impleaded at the age of 16 or more, ſhould be driven to anſwer, without any ſtay of the Plea: Yet the Court took no Regard of the ſaid Cuſtome, which is contrary to the Common-Law. And it was ſaid by the Court, That although by the Cuſtome he was enabled at the age of 16 years to alien his Lands, yet he ſhall not thereby be driven to anſwer in a Precipe quod reddat at ſuch age. Trin. 9 Eliz. in C. B. Dyer. 262.

8. In an Action of Debt brought againſt three heirs in Gavel-kind upon the Obligation of their Anceſtor, the one being within age, they were Outlawed; the two of full age preſented their pardon, and upon a Scire facias, the Plaintiff declared againſt them all together: And the Queſtion was, Whether the Plea ſhould abide for the Non-age of the third. And the Opinion of the Court was, That it ſhould not, becauſe by the Outlawry the Original was determined as againſt him; and alſo becauſe it was not void, becauſe he was an Enfant, but voidable by a Writ of Errour. See 15 E. 3. Debt. 7. 11 H. 7. 12. Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes 378. b. Trin. 7 Eliz. Dyer. 239. Hawtry's Caſe.

9. If the Tenant in a real Action voucheth A. as heir within age; Or if the Tenant for life be impleaded, and he prayeth in Aid of A. in Reverſion who is within age, and prayeth that the Paroll may demur, &c. in the one caſe and the other; if the Demandant replyeth, That he is of full age, it ſhall not be tryed by the Country for the great delay of the Demandant; but a Writ ſhall be awarded to the Sheriff, commanding him, That Venire facias talidem prædict. A. ut per aſpectum Corporis ſui, conſtare poterit præfat. Juſticar. numeres, ſi prædict. A. ſit plenæ ætatis, nec ne. Cook, 9. Part. 31. in the Caſe of the Abbot of Swata Marcella.

10. In a Scire facias to have Execution of Damages recovered in a Writ of Intruſion of a Ward, the Sheriff returned the Defendant againſt whom the Judgment was given, dead; for which a Writ iſſued to warn the Tenants of the Lands who were to the Defendant at the time of the Judgment. One of the Tenants ſaid, That his Cozen dyed ſeiſed, whoſe heir he is, and is within age, and prayed his age, and that the Paroll might demur againſt all the other Terr-Tenants, untill he was of Age. Upon which Caſe Cook Collected, That if there be Grandfather, Father, and two Daughters, and the Father dyeth, one of the daughters within age, and the other of full age, the other ſhall take benefit thereof; and the eldeſt Siſter ſhall not be charged alone, but ſhall take advantage of the Infancy of her Siſter; for both are here in one degree: and ſo it is if a man be bound-den in a Recognisance, and hath Issue two daughters, and dyeth, and they make partition; one alone shall not be charged: and if one be within age, the other shall take benefit thereof, and shall have his age: And the Case of Sir John Langford was agreed for Law; where the Case was, That four were bound in a Recognizance acknowledged in the Court of Chester to Sir Richard Langford, one of the Conusors, dyed his heir within age; Sir John Langford brought a Scire facias against the other three, who pleaded, That the heir of the Conusor was dead within age; and because Sir Richard Langford did not deny it, It was adjudged, That the paroll should Demur. 29 E. 3. 80. vouch. in Cook 3. Part. 13. in Sir William Herbert's Case.

11. A Formedon in the Remainder was brought by an Enfant, of a Remainder which was limited to his Father; and in that Case it was adjudged, That the Tenant without a Plea pleaded, could not pray that the Paroll might Demur for the Non-age of the Demandant: and in that case, these Rules were taken for Law; 1. That in all Actions reall which an Enfant brings of his own possession, although he hath the Land by discent, and although the Tenant pleads the Deed or Warranty of his Ancestors, the Paroll shall not Demur for Non-age; for when his Ancestor dyeth seised, and the Land descends to an Enfant, and he taketh the profits, it should be prejudice to the Enfant that he should lose his possession which he had, and should be thereof delayed untill his full age; and the granting that the Paroll shall Demur, shall be by intendment of Law in favour of the Enfant. But when a bare right discends to him, there the Enfant is not at such prejudice; and therefore there the Plea shall demur for Non-age. 2. In all Actions when a naked right descends from any Auncestor (which once was in possession) to an Enfant, there in some Actions Auncestral brought by him, the Tenant without any Plea pleaded, may pray, that the Plea abide as in a Writ of Right or Formedon in the Reverter brought by an Enfant as heir, and he layes the Explees in his Auncestor. But in a Formedon in the Remainder, although that he demands the Fee-simple, yet because his Auncestor whose heir he is, was never seised, nor took any profits; for that cause the Tenant without a Plea, cannot pray that the Paroll do abide, because that the Remainder was not in the possession of any of his Auncestors; and the Defendant himself shall be the first in which it shall vest, and who shall have seisin of the Land in demand. 3. In all Actions Auncestral possessory, as Cosinage, Besail, Aiel, the Tenant cannot, without Plea pleaded, pray, that the Parol Demur for the Non-age of the Defendant. But as the Common-Law, If the Tenant had pleaded a Feoffment, or other act of his Auncestor in barr; by which it appeareth, that nothing, or but a naked right at the most, discended, there the Tenant upon such Plea pleaded, might pray, That the Paroll Demur. 4. In a Formedon in the Discender, in which the Demandant shall not recover the meer right, but a limited estate per formam doni, the paroll shall not demur by the prayer of the Tenant, but he shall be answered within age, unlesse that something be pleaded against him, to which he cannot be party to try within age; But in an Assise, or an Assise of Mortdauncester brought by an Enfant, because that there is a Jury the first day, and the Jury shall enquire of the Circumstances, the Paroll upon some Plea pleaded shall not demur, 5. In all Actions reals at the Common-Law, If the Tenant were within age, and in by discent, he shall have his age, unlesse it be in a Nuper Obiit, when he claims as heir from the same Auncestor, and unlesse it be in a Writ de partitione facienda, because that both are in possession; and unlesse it be in an Attaint for the mischief of the death of the Petty Jury; and so the Law favoureth more the Tenant within age, who hath possession by discent, than the Demandant, who hath but a meer right by discent. 35 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 6. Part. 3. Mankall's Case.

12. The Case was; There was Lord and Tenant by Fealty and Rent, the Lord made a Feoffment of the Mannor; the Tenant being within the age of 21 years, having Lands by discent attorned: the Question was, If the Attornment were good? And in that case, It was Resolved, That in a Per quæ Servitia against an Enfant who hath the Tenancy by discent, he shall not have his age, because the Lord at first departed with the Land, in consideration that the Tenant should hold of him, and should pay to him his rent: and it is presumed, that the Tenant hath benefit and availe above the Services which he doth, and the rent which he payeth; and therefore he is called Tenant per availe: and the Tenant who hath the Land by discent, shall be distrained for the Rent being behind during his Non-age, and he shall not have his age. In a Writ of Customes and Services, and in a Cessavit against an Enfant of his own Cesser, although he hath the Tenancy by discent, he shall have his age, because he cannot know what arrerages he shall tender before Judgment; and if he doth not make a true tender, he shall lose his Land. In a Quid juris clamat brought by an Enfant, If the Plea demur for Non-age, the Enfant when he cometh of full age, may have all advantages to have the Arrearages of the Rent, or for Waste, as if the Tenant had attorned at the time of the Action brought.

brought. 8 Jac. in C. B. Cook 9. Part. 84. Conty's Caſe.

13. A. hath Iſſue B. and C. Enfants within age; A Leaſe is made to A. for life, the remainder to B. in taile, the remainder to C. in taile. A. Tenant for life is diſſeiſed, and afterwards releaſeth to the Diſſeiſor with Warranty, and dyeth, and the Warranty diſcendeth upon B. within age; afterwards B. dyeth within age; C. being then his brother and heir, and within age when the Warranty doth diſcend; and afterwards C. cometh of age, and 3. years after his full age, entreth into the Lands: It was a Queſtion, If his Entry was Lawfull? And it was Reſolved, That if the entry of an Enfant be lawful, and he cannot enter in the life of his Anceſtor, and doth not enter, the Warranty ſhall not bind him in ſuch caſe, à fortiori, when the Warranty diſcendeth upon him, his entry being lawfull, and no Lacheſſe is to be attributed to him; but if his entry were not lawfull, ſo that he was put to his Action, there the Warranty ſhould bind him: and if Warranty doth diſcend upon an Enfant, he may enter when he will, and ſhall have benefit of his age, and he needeth not haſtily to enter; but in convenient time after his full age: but in ſuch caſe he is to take heed that he ſuffer not a diſcent after his full age before his Entry, for there the Warranty ſhall bind him. Cook. 1. Part. 140. Chudleigh's Caſe.

14. In a Dum fuit infra ætatem, The Tenant ſaid, That his Father was ſeiſed, and dyed ſeiſed, and prayed his age. The Defendant Counterpleaded the age, becauſe that his Father and he were joyntly enfeoffed, and to the heirs of the Father: And it was adjudged in that Caſe, that he ſhould not have his Age; for though the refuſall ſhall have Relation as to himſelf, yet as to the Demandant who is a ſtranger, it ſhall not have Relation to delay his Action; whereas in truth he had the Free-hold by purchaſe. See Cook 3. Part. 29. in Butler and Bakers Caſe.

15. Tenant in taile of divers houſes and of other Lands holden in Capite by Deed Indented, made a Leaſe of the houſes whereof he was Tenant in taile, not warranted by the Statute of 32 H. 8. and dyed without Iſſue, the Reverſion deſcended to his gentral heirs who were in Ward to the King; and it was found by Office, that he dyed ſeiſed of the ſaid houſes, and that they deſcended to his heirs generally. It was in that Caſe Reſolved, That the King in privity of the heirs in taile, who were in his Cuſtody, ſhould avoid the Leaſes during the time that they were in his Wardſhip; and that in reſpect of their Enfancy. 29 Eliz. Cook 7. Part. 7. The Earl of Rutford's Caſe.

16. A man ſeiſed of Lands in fee holden in Socage, by his Will deviſed them to his baſtard daughter & her heirs, and dyed; The daughter within age made a Feoffment of the ſaid Lands, and dyed without Iſſue. In that caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That privies in blood enheritable, as general heir, ſpecial heir, or as general or ſpecial heir, ſhall take advantage of the Enfancy of their Anceſtor, and may enter upon a Feoffment made by their Anceſtor within age; But privies in eſtate ſhall not take advantage of the Enfancy one of the other. If two Joynt-Tenants in Fee be within age, the one makes a Feoffment of his moyety, and dyeth, the Survivor cannot enter for the Enfancy of his Companion; for by the Feoffment the Joynture is ſevered, ſo long as the Feoffment remaineth in force; and the heir of the Feoffor ſhall have Dum fuit infra ætatem, and in ſuch caſe ſhall take advantage of the Enfancy, and ſhall enter into the moyety: It was alſo Reſolved, That privies in Law (as the Lord by Eſcheat) ſhould never take advantage of Infancy, becauſe he is a ſtranger to him: But in the principal Caſe, becauſe it appeared that the Feoffment made by the Enfant, was executed by Attorney. It was holden, That the Feoffment was void. Cook. 8. Part. 42. 45 Eliz. Whittingham's Caſe.

17. If an Enfant being a Feme-Covert, levyeth a Fine with a Grant, and render to her ſelf in taile, or for life, and the husband dyeth; the Wife ſhall not take advantage of her Non-age, and have a Writ of Errour to reverſe the Fine, becauſe ſhe is Tenant of the Land, and ſhe cannot have a Writ of Errour againſt her ſelf, ſo as ſhe is without remedy; and ſo it is in the Caſe of another Enfant, he ſhall not have the advantage of his Age. Hill. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Owen. 33.

18. If there be husband and wife, and they both within age joyn in a Feoffment by Deed Indented, reſerving Rent, and the husband dyeth; the Wife may enter, or have Dum fuit infra ætatem: But if ſhe be of full age, then ſhe ſhall not have Dum fuit infra ætatem for the Non-age of her husband; although husband and wife be one perſon in Law. Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 337.

19. A Writ of Entry Sur diſſeiſin in the Poſt was brought againſt Sir Henry Mildmay upon a Recovery had againſt him, of the Manor of Wanſted, againſt the Earl of Newport; where he appeared by his Guardians, and vouched the common Vouchee, and Judgment was given againſt him upon his default, after appearance; and the Earl brought a Writ of Errour, for that the Judgment was given by default, he being an Enfant: And it was adjudged, That the Writ of Errour would not lye; and this being a Common Recovery, ought not to be ſhaken by Enfancy; and the Court is truſted, That they will not admit ſuch a one to be Guardian; but ſuch as ſhall anſwer to the Enfant.

for his loſſe if he hath any. Paſch. 9 Jac. in B.R. rott. 439. The Earl of Newport and Sir Henry Mildmay's Caſe, Cro. 1. Part. 224. But ſee by Cook, Cook. 10. Part. 44. in Marg. Portington's Caſe, That a Common Recovery againſt an Enfant, who appeareth by his Guardian, ſhall not bind the Enfant; for an Enfant hath not ſuch a diſpoſing power over the Land, as Husband and Wife have, but he is diſabled in Law to transfer his Land during his minority: Note; the Law is now taken, That an Enfant may ſuffer a Recovery by his Guardian.

20. A man for ſeveral purpoſes hath divers ages aſſigned unto him, viz. 12 years, to take the Oath of Allegiance in the Court-Leet; 14 years to conſent to a Marriage; at 14 years for the heir in Socage to chooſe his Guardian; which age is accounted his age of Diſcretion: at 15 years, for the Lord to have Aid to make his ſon Knight: under the age of 21 years, for the heir to be in Ward to the Lord of whom he holdeth his Land by Knights-Service; under 14 years to be in Ward to a Guardian in Socage, and after that age to be out of his Guardianſhip, and able to have Accompt againſt his Guardian: at 21 years to be out of Ward to Guardian in Knights-Service: and to alien his Lands, Goods, and Chattels. Alſo a woman hath ſeven ſeveral ages for ſeveral purpoſes: at 7. years, for the Lord to have Aid to marry her: at 12 years, to conſent to a marriage: untill 14 years, to be in Ward: 14 years to be out of Ward, if ſhe attain to that age in the life of her Anceſtor: 16 years, for to tender her a marriage: 21 years, to alien her Lands, Goods and Chattels. 21. Poynes an Enfant levied a Fine, and in Trinity Term after brought his Writ of Errour; and aſſigned for Errour, That at the time the Fine was levied, and yet he was an Enfant, and prayed that he might be Inſpected: and becauſe he had not his proofs there, he was not Inſpected; but day was given untill Octob. Mich. next: on which day, the day of Eſſoines, he came and prayed Crook, Juſtice, to Inſpect him, and to take his proofs, who did Inſpect him accordingly de bene eſſe; and before Menſe Mich. he came of full age: And if the Inſpection was well taken, was the Queſtion? And it was the Opinion of Flemming, Chief Juſtice, That the Court was full there, although there was but one Judge; and if the Inſpection be upon the day of Eſſoines; and before 4to die poſt he come of full age, this is good. 22. The Wife after the death of her husband, brought Errour to reverſe a Fine levied by her and her husband: and aſſigned for Errour, That the Dedimus Poteſtatem bore date before the Writ of Covenant; and had a Scire facias to warn the heir and Terr-Tenant; the heir appeared, and pleaded, That the Conuſee his Father dyed ſeiſed, and the Land diſcended to him as heir, and he is Terr-Tenant, and within age, and prayed the Paroll might demur. The Plaintiff Counter-pleaded the age; that ſhe was intituled to Dower before the Fine levied; and now is barred by the Fine: wherefore ſhe prayed ſhe might be reſtored to her Writ of Dower. And although it was Objected, That in Dower, age is not allowable for the miſchief that ſhe may do, claiming but an eſtate for life: and alſo, that in a Writ of Diſcent, or Attaint, an Enfant ſhall not have his age, for doubt of the death of one of the Jurours, and of the Summoners and Veiors: and alſo in the principal Caſe it is confeſſed by the Demurrer, She had title of Dower if the Fine were avoided. Yet the Opinion of the Court was, That in as much as it is a Rule in Law, That an Enfant by intendment hath not conuſance to plead in defence of his Title; and he might have divers Pleas to avoid the Writ of Errour: and although ſhe now pretends, that ſhe claims but Dower: but if the Fine were reverſed, ſhe might claim another Title, which might reach to the Inheritance; and by this means, the Enfant might be diſ-inherited; and therefore although both Dower and Enfancy were favoured in Law; It was, for the Cauſes aforeſaid, and other Cauſes adjudged, That the Parol ſhould Demur, and the Enfant have his age; and the Counter-plea, was no good Counter-plea of his age. Agreement and Diſagreement.

1. THE Statute of 1 Ed. 6. cap. 13. is, That if any Merchandizes be laid upon the Land, and the Cuſtome be not paid, or the Collector not agreed with for the ſame, that the ſame ſhall be forfeited. And upon an Information in the Exchequer, that 1693. Kentals of green wood was put upon the Land; the Cuſtome not paid, nor the Collector agreed with for the ſame; the Iſſue was, Whether the Defendant did agree with the Collector according to the former forme of the ſaid Statute, or not? And for the Defendant, It was given in Evidence, That Fogeſſa a Merchant ſtranger, ſhipped 4500 Kentals of green Woad, and brought them towards England, and a great Tempeſt did ariſe upon the Sea, ſo as the Ship was in danger to be ſunk; and for the ſaving of the lives of them which were in the Ship, and the goods, the Maſter of the Ship, and the Mariners, caſt into the Sea a great part of the Woad, and afterwards the Ship came to the Port of Southampton with the reſidue; and becauſe the certainty of the Woad which was left in the Ship, was not known to the Defendant before the Ship was unladen, he came to the Collector of the Cuſtoms, and ſhewed him all the matter aforeſaid; and ſaid, he conceived there was 2000 Kentals left in the Ship, and required him to make an Entrance thereof in his book; and if there was more then 2000 Kentals, that he would pay to him the Cuſtome for the uſe of the King all that ſhould be due when it ſhould be tryed at the King's Beam, or otherwiſe known, and prayed him to give him Licenſe to lay it upon the Land: and the Collector agreed, and granted him Licenſe ſo to do: and thereupon he agreed with the Collector for all the Cuſtome, according to the rate of 12 in value for every 20 s. and afterwards he layd all the Woad which was left upon the Land: which 2000 Kentals, and 1693 Kentals more were ſeiſed upon, as forfeited to the King by force of the ſaid Statute; and upon this Evidence the King's Attorney did demur in Law. And the Opinion of all the Juſtices of England in the Exchequer Chamber was, That this ſpecial matter given in Evidence was ſufficient, to prove the agreement with the Collector of the King for the Cuſtomes, and that no part of the ſaid Merchandizes were forfeited by the ſaid Statute of 1 Ed. 6. and therefore Judgment was given againſt the King. 2. In a Replevin, the Avowant pleaded, That W. B. was ſeiſed of the place in Fee, and dyed ſeiſed, and the Land diſcended to C. his daughter and heir, who took husband the Avowant: The Plaintiff in barr to the Avowry, confeſſed the ſeiſin of W. B. and the diſcent to C. but ſaid, That on 16. of April, 1 Jac. the husband and wife by their Deed Indented and Inrolled, did bargain and ſell the Land to J. S. and levied a Fine thereof, and J S. 3 Jac. bargained and ſold the Land to J. D. in Fee; and that he being ſeiſed, Licenſed the Plaintiff to put in his Cattel. The Avowant replyed, That in the ſaid bargain and ſale by the husband and wife, there was a Proviſo, That if the Defendant ſhould pay 100 l. a year after, then, &c. and pleaded the Statute of 13 Eliz. of Uſury, with an averment, That the profits of the Lands were of the value of 12 l. per annum. The Plaintiff Rejoyned, That it is true, there was ſuch a Proviſo in the Indenture: But ſaid, That before the ſealing of the Indenture, It was agreed by word, That the Defendant ſhould have and receive the profits, and not the Plaintiff; upon which the Avowant demurred: The Caſe was, The Defendant bargained and ſold the Lands to J.S. for 100 l. to be paid a year after; and that the Bargaine; ſhould have the profits: the Bargainor enters as upon a void ſale, becauſe of the Statute of 13 Eliz. of Uſury; for by the Proviſo he is to have the 100 l. and the 10 l. for the forbearance; and by the Law, he is to have the profits, the which did amount to above 10 l. in the hundred: the bargainee to avoid the Uſury, pleaded an Agreement by word before the ſealing of the bargain and ſale: and the Queſtion was in this Caſe, If the Bargainee might plead this agreement by word for avoiding of the Deed? And it was the Opinion of the whole Court, That he might plead the verball agreement to avoid the Deed which ſuppoſed the Uſury: For it was agreed, That when a Deed is perfected and delivered as his Deed, there no verbal agreement may be pleaded afterwards in deſtruction of it; but when the Agreement is parcel of the Original Contract, (as it was in this Caſe) then it may be pleaded againſt it: but if it had been expreſſed within the Deed, that the bargainee ſhould have the profits, and that it was delivered accordingly, That then no Agreement or Aſſignment of the profits could then avoid it: for then it is an Uſurious Contract: And Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, That he might well plead the Agreement. And it was ſaid by Cook, Chief Juſtice, That it was adjudged in Booth's Caſe, That a Contract or Agreement made with a Pariſhioner for keeping back of his Tythes ſo ſo many years as he ſhall be Parſon, was not good. And ſo alſo it was adjudged in Wellowes Caſe in this Court. 4. A man ſeiſed in Fee of Lands holden in Socage, having Iſſue 3. daughters, deviſed the ſame to his youngeſt daughter when ſhe ſhould accompliſh the age of 18 years, and to the heirs of her body; the remainder to his eldeſt daughter in taile, with divers remainders over; Proviſo, if his ſaid daughter, or any other perſon before named ſhall willingly or adviſedly conclude and agree to or for the doing of any Act, whereby the premiſes ſo intailed, ſhall or may be diſcontinued or aliened, or ſhall do any Act or thing whereby the Lands ſhall not come to them in remainder, &c. that then and immediately after ſuch Concluding and agreeing, the eſtates limited to them ſhould ceaſe, as if they were dead without Iſſue of their bodies. The youngeſt daughter took a husband, and the husband and wife concluded and agreed to ſuffer a Common Recovery to the uſe of them and their heirs; which was done accordingly: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Concluſion and Agreement to ſuffer a Common Recovery, could not be reſtrained by any Condition or limitation, becauſe they were incidents tacitè annexed to their Eſtates; and therefore it ſhould be repugnant to reſtrain them by ſuch Condition or limitation. And it was Reſolved, That the Recovery ſuffered by the wife, was not a forfeiture of her eſtate, becauſe that the Concluſion by the Indenture onely was (as the Plaintiff pretended) a forfeiture of her Eſtate, and then the Recovery was not of any effect, becauſe that her eſtate was determined before by the Concluſion before the Recovery: and therefore it is no more then if the husband and wife had concluded without any Recovery; and here the Proviſo diſables them to ſuffer a Common Recovery; and againſt the Indenture the Wife may plead, that it is not her Deed. And it was Reſolved,

1. That at the Common-Law, If Lands be given to husband and wife in taile, or in Fee, and the husband dyeth, the Wife cannot by any verbal agreement in pais deveſt the Freehold which is veſted in her: but if ſhe agreeth to an eſtate in pais by word, ſhe may afterwards wave it in a Court of Record; but if ſhe entreth into the Lands and takes the profits, the ſame is a good agreement to it in Law; for the Law reſpects more an Act without words; then words without an Act. 2. It was Reſolved, That the refuſall in pais to have the Mannor of Hinton, and the entry and agreement to the Mannor of Toby was a good agreement to the one, and a refuſal to the other, and thereby the Inheritance was deveſted by force of the Statute of Uſes; by which Statute, a woman may refuſe her Joynture in pais, and be endowed by her conſent in pais, or by a Writ of Dower. 33 & 34 Eliz. Cook. 3. 7. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Releaſe was good, and that there was a ſufficient aſſent and agreement in the Executor, to take the houſe, &c. becauſe that the Releaſe was made at the ſpecial inſtance and requeſt of the Executor; which impleyeth an aſſent

and an Agreement, 10 Jac. Cook 10. Part. 46. Lampitt's Caſe.

8. Note, there is a difference between an Agreement and Diſagreement; for an Agreement to a thing may be done in the abſence of the party; as an Attornment, which is an Agreement, may be done in the abſence of the Grantee of the Reverſion; but in caſe of a Diſagreement it ought to be done to the party himſelf: and the reaſon of the difference is, becauſe that in caſe of diſagreement, the party might perſwade and move the other by reaſon, by intreaty, or by other means, to give his conſent; and therefore the Law requireth, that the diſagreement be made to the party, for the prejudice which might otherwiſe happen unto him: but in caſe of Conſent, as in the caſe of an Attornment, which is to ſettle and perfect the eſtate of the Grantee, and ſo for his benefit, the ſame may be done in his abſence, as well as in his preſence. Cook 2. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Queen ſhould have the marriage of Ambroſia; for that it was not any Compleat marriage before, becauſe there was not any agreement or conſent unto it as there ought to be, et conſentire non poſſunt infra annos nubiles. And it was holden by the Court, That there was no difference, to a diſagreement to a marriage at the age of Conſent, and death before that Age: for when the heir is married by the Father infra annos Nubiles, and diſagreement to it, then Clearly the Lord ſhall have the Ward-ſhip. But it was holden in that Caſe, that if the Venire facias had been awarded by agreement or aſſent of the parties, the ſame had been good, and then the Tryall had been good. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That although a Rent, granted pro Conſilio Impendendo, cannot be aſſigned in Law; yet the ſame being by the ſpecial Agreement and Grant of the Grantor, That the grantee ſhall have it to him and his Aſſigns, the ſame is good: and the Aſſignee may diſtrain for it, if it be behind. Cook. 7. Aid of a Common Perſon.

Where, and to what perſons, and in what Actions Aid ſhall be granted; and in what not: and what ſhall be a good Counter-Plea of it; et è contra.

1. A Man recovered in a Writ of Annuity againſt a Parſon: and upon the Recovery he brought a Scire Facias againſt the Succeſſour, who prayed in Aid of the Patron and Ordinary, and the Aid was granted, and one of them was eſſoin'd onely. And the Opinion of the Court was, That one of them might not be eſſoined onely. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 26.

2. In a Writ of Entry in the Quibus brought againſt a Parſon, ſuppoſing that he diſſeiſed the Plaintiff; the Defendant prayed in Aid of the Parſon and Ordinary; and the Aid was denyed, becauſe a man ſhall never have Aid, where he is ſeiſed of the Land in his own wrong.

3. The Provoſt of Wells was Parſon imparſonee of the Parſonage of W. and Leaſed the Tythe, rendring Rent; which Leaſe was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter, but not by the Patron and Ordinary: The Provoſtſhip was united to the Deanery cum primò vacare contigerit; the Provoſt dyed, the Dean accepted the Rent: It was adjudged, That the Leaſe was not affirmed by the acceptance of the Rent; but was void by the death of the Provoſt: As if it had been the demiſe of the Parſon of a Church, or a Prebendary, Preſentative or Collative, who are not able in Law to make make any diſcontinuance, without the Patron in Ordinary, of whom they ſhall have Aid in Actions brought againſt them; and therefore the Patron and Ordinary ought to joyn in ſuch Leaſe; and if any diſcontinuance be made by Parſon or Prebend; their Succeſſors ſhall have a Juris utrum. 7 Eliz. Dyer 239.

4. Note; That at the Common-Law, an Aſſiſe was remedium maximè feſtinum, et remedium maximè beneficiale feſtinum; and therein the Defendant ſhall not be eſſoined, nor caſt a protection alſo in it; he ſhall not pray in Aid but onely of the King; nor ſhall vouch a ſtranger, nor any party to the Writ, unleſſe he enter preſently into the Warranty. Cook. 8. Part. 50. Jehu Webb's Caſe.

5. King Edward the third founded a Priory, and granted to the Monks, that they might chooſe a Prior; & before that the Prior was choſen, W. made a Leaſe to one A. for life therein, the remainder to the Prior and Covent; and in a Scire facias brought againſt A. he pleaded, That W. was ſeiſed in Fee, and Leaſed to A. the remainder to the Prior and Covent who were newly founded by the King: and becauſe there was not yet a Prior, the right was in the King untill, and prayed Aid of the King; and the Aid by Ward of the Court was granted; and a Writ of Procedendo came; and then A. the Defendant ſhewed, That after the Aid granted, there was a Prior made and Ordained, in whom the Right remained, and prayed in Aid of the Prior, &c. And in that caſe he was ouſted of the Aid, becauſe he had Aid before, and Aid ſhall not be twice granted in one Caſe of ſeveral perſons, and in one Writ. See 32 E. 3. Aide 39. vouched in Cook. 10. part. 31. in the Caſe of Sutton's Hoſpital.

6. If a man ſeiſed of 6. Acres of Lands in Fee, dyeth, every acre being of equal value, having Iſſue two daughters; and upon Partition each hath 3. Acres: and after, one Siſter is impeached for one Acre by one who hath title paramount; and prayeth in Aid of her Coparcener, ſhe ſhall have Aid; but ſhe ſhall not recover an Acre, but an half Acre, ſo as each of them ſhall have an equall part; for in as much as both of them claim by diſcent, by the Law both of them ought to have equal part of the Inheritance of their Anceſtor: and for this cauſe ſhe ſhall recover upon the Aid prayed, but the Moyety which ſhe loſt. Out of which Caſe Obſerve, That one Copa. cener ſhall have Aid of the other to Recover pro rata. See to this purpoſe, 5 E. 3. Voucher 249. Robert de Paris Caſe, and Cook. 4. Part. 122. Buſſard's Caſe.

7. Lord and Tenant by Fealty and Rent; the Tenant makes a Leaſe for years, the Leſſor doth his Fealty, and continually payeth his Rent to the Lord; the Lord diſtrains the Cattel of the Tenant, and avowes upon a ſtranger, as his very Tenant. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Leſſee for years of himſelf could not plead in abatement of the Avowry; but the Leſſee might ſhew the ſpecial matter, and pray in Aid of him; and then he and his Leſſor ſhould joyn in Abatement of the Avowry made upon him who had nothing, and ſhall compell the Lord to avow upon him as his very Tenant in Right and in Law. And if there be Lord, Meſne and Tenant, and the Lord avoweth upon a Stranger, and not upon the Meſne, there the Tenant is without remedy to have Aid of the Meſne, becauſe that he is Tenant in Fee-ſimple, and may plead any plea that the Meſne may plead; and the Meſne cannot joyn with the Tenant, becauſe the Avowry is not made upon the Meſne: But in that caſe, the Tenant is not left without remedy, but he may reſort to the Meſne, and ſhew to him his caſe, and pray the Meſne to take his Cattel out of the Pound, and put in his own Cattel, and ſo demand Acquittal againſt the Meſne: and if upon ſuch requeſt, the Meſne refuſeth, he may have a Writ of Meſne againſt him, and plead therein, That he was diſtrained in default of the Meſne, and recover his Coſts and damages againſt him. Cook. 9. Part. 20. 21. In the Caſe of Avowry.

8. Note: In an Ejectione Firme, It was ſaid by Brooker Prothonotary; and not denyed by the Court, That where the Title of him in the Reverſion is not diſcloſed in pleading, nor cometh in Queſtion, Aid ſhall not be granted. Hill. 8 Jac. in C. B. Owen. 43.

9. Note, by Anderſon, Chief Juſtice, If the Defendant in Treſpaſs prayes in Aid of a ſtranger, this is a forfeiture; and if the Aid be Counterpleaded, yet it is a forfeiture; and the denyal alters not the Caſe. 20 Eliz. in the Common-Pleas, Sir Wolſton Dixy, and Alderman Spencer's Caſe. Owen. 81.

10. If Tenant by the Curteſie grant his Eſtate with Warranty to J. S. and comes in as Vouchee, he ſhall have Aid of him in the Reverſion, as if he were Tenant in poſſeſſion: And if a Coparcener make a Feoffment with Warranty, and comes in as Vouchee, he ſhall have Aid to deraign the Warranty paramount, as if he were in poſſeſſion: And whereas it hath been doubted, That upon a Releaſe or Confirmation with Warranty, a man cannot vouch; and therefore he ſhall have a Warrantia Charta. It was held clearly, That as to him that warranteth, he may vouch; but yet the Caſe may be ſuch as the Demandant may counterplead the voucher; and then the Tenant is driven to his Warrantia Charta, for default of his voucher in in Deed. Trinit. 9 Jac. in C. B. Sir Henry Rolls, and Sir Robert Osborn's Caſe, rott. 2205, Heb. 20, 21, 22.

11. Two Coparceners be, and one of them makes a Feoffment in Fee, the Feoffee is impleaded, and vouch'th the Feoffor, ſhe ſhall have Aid of her ſiſter Coparcener to deraigne the Warranty paramount, but not to recover pro rata, becauſe ſhe diſmiſſed her ſelf by the Feoffment, to have any thing in the Land. But if a man be ſeiſed in Fee, and makes a guift in tail to one daughter; and the Reverſion diſcends to both the Siſters, and the Donee is impleaded, ſhe ſhall not pray in Aid of the other, either to recover pro rata, or to deraign the Warranty, becauſe the other ſiſter was a ſtranger to the Eſtate taile, and partition was never done of it. Cook. 1. Part. Inſtiutes. 174. a b. See Rolls Caſe, Hob. 21, 22, 23. acc.

12. The Lord paramount avowed for the Services of his Tenant; the Plaintiff who was a Termor ſaid, That he held of the Tenant for 10 years, whereas he held for 40 years, and prayed in Aid, and the Aid was granted: And in that caſe it was holden, That the ſame ſhould conclude him of the reſt of the Term after the 10 years expired: For in the Aid Prayer, the number of the years is not material, nor traverſable. 12 Eliz. Dyer 289.

13. In a Quo Warranto againſt Roger Mortimer and Joan his Wife, before Juſtices in Eyre in the County of Middleſex, to ſhew by what Warrant they claimed to have Conuſans contra voluntatem in their Manno: of F. The Defendants ſaid, That Walter de Lacie, Anceſtor to the ſaid Joan, was ſeiſed of the ſaid Manno:, and of other Lands after time of memory, viz. in the time of R. 1. and had the Franchiſe to have Conuſans of Pleas in the ſaid Manno: before the time of R. 1. and that the ſaid Manno: diſcended to many daughters, and conveyed part thereof after partition, to the Wife of the Defendant in allowance of other Lands; and the Defendants prayed in Aid of the Coparceners, and the Juſtices denyed the Aid; and becauſe the Defendants held themſelves to the Aide, the Juſtices did forjudge them of the Franchiſe: Whereupon they brought a Writ of Error in B. R. and the firſt Judgment was reverſed for two Cauſes; 1. Becauſe the Juſtices denyed the Defendant Aid, where the Aid was grantable. 2. Becauſe they forjudged the Defendants to have the Franchiſes for ever; whereas for want of pleading, the Franchiſes ought not to have been forjudged, but ſeiſed onely, if the Defendants Anſwer had not been ſufficient: And therefore the Court awarded, the Judgment ſhould be reverſed. 2 E. 3. 29. vouched, in Cook. 9. Part. 28. in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Marcella. By which Caſe, Note: 1. Where one Coparcener ſhall have Aide of the other; and, 2. Where the decrying of Aide, where Aid is grantable, is Errour.

14. An Annuity was granted with a Nomine pene; In that caſe, If an Action be brought for the Nomine pene againſt the Succeſſour, Aide doth not lye in that caſe; but if an Annuity be brought, there he ſhall have Aid. Paſch. 1 Car. in C. B The Biſhop of Chicheſter and Freeland's Caſe Ley. 72.

Aid of the King; where granted, and where not.

1. IF a Biſhop granteth Cuſtomary Lands by Coppy, and dyeth, the Copy-hold is not determined by his death; for he is Dominus pro tempore; and this Grant ſhall bind the King: and the Grantee of the Temporalties being in the King's hands, ſhall have Aid of the King. Cook. 4. part. 21, 22, 23. in Brown's Caſe.

2. The heir of a Copyholder recovered in a Plaint in the Nature of an Aſſiſe of Mortdauncеſter in the Court of the Biſhop of London, as of his Manno: of Stepney in the County of Middleſex; the Tenant brought a Writ of Falſe Judgment, retornable in the Court of Common-Pleas; and a Writ of falſe Judgment doth not lye in that caſe: But in that caſe it was ſaid, That he had no other remedy, but to pray in Aid of the Lord of the Mannor, and to ſue to him by Petition: and if there be cauſe, he may reverſe the Judgment. Cook 4. Part. 21. Brown's Caſe. 13 R. 2. Faux Judgment. 7. acc.

3. In an Action of Trover and Converſion of 40 Sheep, the Defendant pleaded, That the Queen was ſeiſed of the Mannor of Newport-Pannell in the County of N. and that certain perſons unknown did ſteal the Sheep from the Plaintiff, and brought them within the Mannor, and there left and waived them; for which the Defendant as the Queens Bayliff of the Mannor did ſeiſe them to the Queens uſe, as goods waived; and prayed in Aid of the Queen: And in that caſe it was adjudged, That he ſhould be ouſted of the Aid; for it doth not appear by the barr of the Defendant, that the goods were forfeited to the Queen. Paſch. 43 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench. Cook 5. Part. 109. Foxley's Caſe.

4. If the husband ſeiſed of Lands in the Right of his Wife, be attainted of Felony, and the King upon Office found ſeiſeth the Land, and giveth the ſame to another in Fee, the ſame is good to paſs the the eſtate during the Coverture, which the King hath gained by the forfeiture of the husband; and if in ſuch caſe the Patentee be impleaded, he may pray in Aid of the King, and the Aid ſhall be granted unto him. Cook 1. Part. 48. in the Caſe of Alton-woods. See 33. Aſſ. 10. acc.

5. Note: It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That when the Heir is within age, and in Ward of the King, and is committed over, and he is impleaded, or cometh in as Vouchee in a Writ of Dower; there Aide of the King ſhall not be granted; and that appeareth by the Statute of Bigamis, Cap. 3. and therefore in the Caſe of 4 H. 7. 1. In a Writ of Dower brought againſt the Committee of the King during the Non-age of the heir, the Defendant ſaid, That it was found by Office, that the Father of the husband of the demandant was ſeiſed in Fee of certain Lands, and held the ſame of the King, and had iſſue the husband, and dyed, and the husband entred and dyed his heir within age, without any Livery, for which the King ſeiſed the Ward, and committed it to the Defendant, and demanded Judgment of the Action; upon which there was a Demurrer: And Brian, Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, ſaid, It appeareth to us, That the right is in the King, and therefore we will not proceed Rege inconſulto. But when in that Caſe Townſend cited the Statute of Bigamis, Brian, conſideration had of the Act, altered his opinion, and diſcharged him of the Aide of the King; and ſo the Demandant recovered the Dower: and the Defendant was ouſted of the Aid. It was alſo Reſolved, in the Caſe of Beddingfield, That although the Statute of Prerogativa Regis, 17 E. 2. gives power to the King to endow the Wife, although the Heir be of full age; yet the Statute leaves it to the Election of the Wife, to be endowed by the King in Chancery, or by the heir; and therefore, If the wife bring a Writ of Dower againſt the heir, being of full age, he ſhall not have Aide of the King in that caſe. Cook 9. Part 17. Anne Beddingfield's Caſe.

6. If an Aſſiſe be brought by a Chaplain of the King againſt another Chaplain for Lands, and the Defendant claims the ſame Chauntry by the Kings Collation, and prayeth in Aide of the King: Now if the Defendant cannot ſhew Title in the Chauntry for the King, the Plaintiff may have a Procedendo directed to the Juſtices of Aſſiſe, to proceed to the taking of the Aſſiſe, notwithſtanding the allegation made of the King's Collation, and he may ſue the like Writ where the Defendant doth pray in Aide of the King in an Aſſiſe, if he cannot ſhew Title for the King, the Plaintiff may have a Procedendo: But if in an Aſſiſe the King ſendeth his Writ to the Juſtices, reciting, That the Defendant by Charter holdeth Lands of the King for life, commanding them, That they do not proceed Rege inconſulto, though the Tenant will not plead the ſame, yet the Juſtices ought to ſtay their proceedings. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 378, 379. acc.

7. A Scire facias was brought in the name of the King, at the Petition of the Prince in the Chancery, to Repeal a Grant made by King Rich. 2d. and Confirmed by King Henry the 4th, of the Manor of Helefton in Kerſer in the County of Cornwall, to Nicholas Surnfield Knight, and Margaret his Wife, for their lives; and at the Return of the Scire facias, the Prince by his Attorney appeared, and alſo the ſaid Margaret, her husband being dead; And the Prince prayed, that the ſaid Letters Patents in manner aforeſaid made, might be revoked and made void, and the Lands be ſeiſed in the Kings hands, and delivered to the Prince as parcel of his Dutchy; according to the form and effect of the Grant, and union of the Grandfather of the King, made of the ſaid Lands to the Dutchy: And the Record of it being delivered in by the Chancellor into the Kings-Bench, Gaſcoigne being then Lord Chief Juſtice, Margaret the Defendant pleaded the Grant of the King R. 2. to her for life, and prayed in Aid of the King, and had it; and the Court gave day, &c. And the Prince at the day brought a Procedendo in loquela dum tamen ad judicium reddendum Domino Rege inconſulto nullatenus procederetur: and thereupon, Margaret made default, and thereupon day was given to the Prince, who brought a Procedendo ad judicium: upon which the Court gave Judgment, That the ſaid Manner, &c. ſhould be ſeiſed into the Kings hands, and delivered to the Prince as parcel of his Dutchy. Out of which Caſe, It is to be Noted, Where Ayd ſhall be of the King; and that in caſe of Aid Preyer, the Judges will not proceed to Judgment, before a Procedendo be awarded unto them. Cook 8. Part. 23. in the Caſe of the Prince.

8. The King ſeiſed the body and Lands of Lunatique by force of a Commiſſion, and granted the ſame over to a ſtranger; againſt whom an Action of Treſpaſs was brought, and the Patentee prayed in Ayd of the King: and it was adjudged he ſhould not have Aid; for the Grant was void; for the King nor his Patentee ſhall not have the profits of the Lands of a Lunatique, but ſhall have them onely to find him neceſſaries: but otherwiſe it is in the caſe of an Idiot, for there they ſhall have the profits to their own uſes. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 25. Holmes Caſe.

9. In a Writ of Dower, the Tenant vouched the heir of the husband who was in Ward to the King, for cauſe of Ward, and prayed in Aid of the King; and the Aid was granted; and then there there came a Procedendo, to proceed to Judgment: and the Court was in doubt, what ſhould be done; But after upon adviſement, they gave Judgment, That the Demandant ſhould recover againſt the Tenants, and they over in value againſt the heir; but Execution was ſtayed. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 256. Michaels Caſe.

10. In an Ejectione Firme, the Deſendant prayed Aid of the Queen, becauſe the Reverſion after the Term ended, which the Defendant held, was come into the Queen by the Attainder of the Earl of Northumberland; and the Aid was granted: and in the Chancery the Deſendant prayed for him and the Queen, That the Court would grant a ſearch for the Queens Title: But the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That no ſearch ſhould be granted in this caſe, becauſe the Queen was at no damage or prejudice, if the Plaintiff recover in an Ejectione Firme: and the Court held, That ſearch was grantable in any Action, but in a Petition of Right: Wherefore in the principal Caſe a Procedendo was granted; for that upon an Aide Preyer, no ſearch was grantable; but not to proceed to Judgment Regina inconſulta. Mich. 15 Eliz. in B. R. Dyer. 320. Gay and Bandes Caſe.

11. King Henry the 8th gave Lands in taile to Tho: Culpeper, the remainder in taile to John Culpeper; Thomas was Attainted of Treaſon, which Attainder was confirmed by Parliament, and the actual ſeiſin of the Land given by the Act to Henry the 8th, ſaving Rights, Titles, Entries, Reverſions, Remainders, &c. of ſtrangers. The King ſeiſed of the Land, granted the ſame to one Buſh in Fee; Thomas Culpeper dyed without Iſſue, John Culpeper entred, and being ouſted by Buſh, brought a Writ of Entry ſur Diſſeiſin againſt Buſh, who ſhewed all the matter; and the diſcent of the Seignory to King Edward the 6th, and prayed in Aide of him, and the Aide was granted, and 4. ſearches were granted in the Chancery, depending with a Mandamus, was awarded at the Suit of Buſh; and upon that, the Grant in taile to Tho. Culpeper was found, and the Attainder and Execution, and the Dates being falſe, a Melius Inquirendum was awarded; the true date of the Letters Patents was found, but the Attainder and Execution were found to be before the Grant: upon which Return in the Chancery, for the apparent untruths, a Procedendo was awarded; and the Demandant was not put to his Petition, or Monſtrans de Droit; Becauſe it ſeemed to the Juſtices upon the matter in Law, That the baſe Fee of the King was determined by the death of Tho. Culpeper without Iſſue; and that the Remainder and Entry of the Plaintiff, was ſaved by the ſaid Act of Parliament: But yet the Juſtices in this Caſe would not proceed to Judgment, without a Procedendo to them awarded. See Trin. 1 Ma. Dyer 100. Culpeper's Caſe.

12. In an Action of Treſpaſs brought againſt two; The Defendants claimed ſeverally Common appendant to the Mannor of B. whereof they were ſeveral Tenants; which Mannor was holden of King Henry the 5th, as of his Dutchy of Lancaſter, by Knights Service, and was in Ward of the King for the Non-age of J. S. The Wardſhip of whom was granted by King Henry the 5th, to one of the Defendants, under the Seal of the Dutchy of Lancaſter, rendring to him and the heirs of his Dutchy 20 l. per annum, during the Non-age of the heir; and prayed in Aide of King Henry the 6th; and he had Aide by theſe words, ſcil. ſequatur penes Dominum Regem; and afterwards a Procedendo came out of the Chancery in the name of the King, and not as Duke of Lancaſter, to proceed in loquela ſed non ad judicium rege inconſulto. Mich. 4 Eliz. Dyer. 209. acc.

13. In Ejectione Firme, The Defendant pleaded, That Queen Elizabeth was ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of St. Needs, of which the Tenements were parcel, and by her Letters Patents Anno 31 of her Raign, demiſed the Tenements to A. for life, the remainder to J. S. for life, the remainder to J. D. for life; and that the Queen dyed, and the Reverſion came to the King. A. dyed, and 14 Jac. J. S. did demiſe the Tenements to the Defendant for three years; and that C. & D. did ouſt him, and diſſeiſed J. D. whereby they were ſeiſed by diſſeiſin, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff, upon which the Defendant did enter, claiming his Term, and ſo was poſſeſſed, the Reverſion to J. S. for life, the Remainder to J. D. for life, the Reverſion to the King; and prayed in Aide of the King, and did aver the life of J. S. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That the Aide was not grantable, 1. Becauſe it is but an Action of Treſpaſs; and no Freehold is to be recovered, and he is able to plead to all matters in Treſpaſs. 2 Becauſe a man ſhall never have Aid of the King, but where he is Bayly, or Servant immediate to the King. Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. Bryſon and Mannings Caſe. Bridgman 87.

14. In a Writ of Errour brought to reverſe a Judgment, Aide was prayed of the King by the Defendant in the Writ of Errour. It was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, and ſo adjudged, That no Aid ought to be granted in this caſe: But where Land is granted in Fee Farm, and demanded, there the party ſhall have Aid granted unto him; but not where Land is not demanded, or but collaterally demanded: but when the Land comes once in Queſtion, then Aid ſhall be granted, but never before. Trin. 10 Jac. in B. R. Baker and Nichols Caſe. Bulſtr. 1. Part. 218.

15. In Treſpaſſe, for taking two Steers; The Defendant juſtified, For that the King by his Letters Patents did grant to him and his heirs, That he ſhould take at two Bridges within his Mannor of Doncaſter, viz. Mary-bridge, and Willow-bridge, ſuch Toll for the paſſage of Cattel, as is uſed to be taken ibi et alibi infra Regnum Angliæ; and the Defendant averrs, That at Burrow-Bridge in the County of York, there was uſed to be taken 6 d. for every Score of Beaſts; and ſo he juſtifies the taking of 12 d. for the paſſage of 40 beaſts, and prayed in Aide of the King. It was adjudged per Curiam, That he ſhould be ouſted of the Aide, becauſe the Patent is, ſuch Toll as hath been uſed to be paid ibi et alibi, which is meer incertain and void; and the averring the payment at another place, and not there, was not good: Wherefore it was awarded he ſhould Anſwer, without Aide. Paſch. 15 Jac. in B.R. Lightfoot and Lenett's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 421.

Aide to marry the Lords eldeſt Daughter; and to make his eldeſt Son a Knight.

1. BY the Ancient Common-Law, every Tenant in Knights ſervice, and every Tenant in Socage, was to give his Lord a reaſonable Aide to make his Eldeſt Son a Knight, and to marry his Eldeſt Daughter: But this Aide was incertain by the Common-Law; but by the Statutes of Weſt. 1. and 1 E. Cap. 35. the ſaid Aide was made certain; and there is called Rationabile Auxilium, viz. he who holdeth his Lands by Knights ſervice, ſhall pay 20 s. to the Lord to make his Son a Knight, or to marry the Daughter, and no more: and he who holdeth Lands of the yearly value of 20 l. in Socage, he ſhall pay 20 s. to the Lord to make his Son a Knight, and 20 s. to marry his Eldeſt Daughter: and for this Aide the Lord might diſtrain and avow if he pleaſed.

2. The Kings Tenant in like manner ſhall pay Aide to the King to make his Eldeſt Son a Knight, or for to marry his Eldeſt Daughter, viz. every one who holdeth a Knights Fee, 20 s. and he who holdeth half a Knights Fee, 10 s. and ſo according to that rate. See 30 H. 3. ex parte remembr. Domini. Theſaur. in Scaccario Auxilium nobis Conceſſum, ad primogenitam filiam noſtram maritandam. And ſee divers Records vouched, to prove Aid was granted for the making of the Kings Eldeſt Son a Knight, and the marriage of his Eldeſt Daughter, in Cook. Seleſt Caſes. 29.

3. If the Eldeſt Son dyeth before he cometh to the age of 15 years, or before the Lord hath levied the Aide to make him Knight; then the Lord ſhall have Aide for the younger Son to make him Knight when he cometh to the age of 15 years; and yet he is not primogenitus ſitus, but he is the primogenitus which is then alive; for that is ſufficient: for he ought to be heir apparant: and ſo if the danghter dyeth who is eldeſt, before the Lord hath levied Aide of his Tenant to marry her, then he may have Aide for the next eldeſt, after ſhe is of the age of 7. years. Fitzh. N. Br. acc. 82.

4. If the Lord have Aide to make his Son Knight, or to marry his daughter, and dyeth before he hath paid the ſame, then the Son or daughter ſhall have an Action of Debt againſt the Fathers executors for the money; and if the Executors have no goods of the Father, then the daughter ſhall have an Action of debt for ſo much of the money as ſhe wanteth againſt the Fathers heir; and this appeareth by the Statute of Weſtm. 1. Cap. 35. See the Statute.

5. Note: It was moved to the Court of Common-Pleas; If Tenant in Burgage ſhould pay Aide unto the King, to make his Eldeſt Son Knight; and the point reſted in this, If Tenure in Burgage were a Tenure in Socage? for every Tenure in Socage was to yield a reaſonable Aide to make the Eldeſt Son Knight, and to marry the Eldeſt Daughter. And it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That Burgage Tenure is Socage. See Litt. 36. B. Burgage Tenure is, where an Ancient Borough is, of which the King is Lord; and thoſe who have Tenements within their Borough, hold of the King their Tenements, that every Tenant for his Tenement ought to pay to the King a certain Rent; and ſuch a Tenure is but Tenure in Socage; and all Socage Land is Contributory to Aid, and therefore a Tenant in Socage is Contributory to it. But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices of England, That no Tenure ſhould pay for a reaſonable Aid to marry the daughter, or to make the ſon a Knight, but Tenure by Knights ſervice, and Tenure by Socage. But Tenure by Grand Serjantie, Tenure by Frankalmoigne, Tenure by Divine Service, ſhall not pay ſuch Aide. Alſo it was holden, That he who holdeth a Rent of the King by Knights Service, or in Socage, ſhould pay Aide: And a Rent may be holden in Socage. Hill. 6 Jac. in C.B. Cook. Seleſt Caſes. 27, 28, 29.

Alien and Denizen.

Who ſhall be an Alien, and who not; And where Lands ſhall diſcend to an Alien, where not: And where and What he may purchaſe; and to whoſe uſe.

1. AN Alien is a Subject that is born out of the Allegiance of the King, and under the Legiance of another, and can have no reall or perſonal Action for or concerning Land; but in every ſuch Action the Tenant or Defendant may plead, That he was born in ſuch a Country which is not within the Legiance of the King; and demand Judgment if he ſhall be anſwered. Cook 7. Part. 16. Calvin's Caſe.

2. Alienigena eſt, alienæ gentis, ſeu alienæ Ligeantiæ, qui etiam dicitur peregrinus, alienus, exoticus, extrarius, &c. But he who is born, ſub Fide, Legiantia, Obedientia Domini regis, is not an Alien; and therefore thoſe perſons as were born in Gaſcoign, Normandy, Aquitaine, Turney, Callite, Guyan, whileſt they were under the Dominion of the Kings of England, were natural born Subjects, and not Aliens. Cook 7. Part. 22. Calvin's Caſe 5 Eliz. Dyer 224.

3. Robert Calvin, by his Guardian, brought an Aſſiſe of Novel Diſſeiſin againſt Richard Smith, and Nicholas Smith, of certain Tenements in Hagerſton, in the Pariſh of St. Leonard Shoreditch; The Defendants pleaded, That he ought not to be Anſwered, Quia eſt alienigena, natus 50. Novemb. Anno Domini Regis Jac. Angliæ &c. tertio, apud Edenborough infra regnum Scotiæ ac infra Ligeantiam Domini Regis Regni ſui Scotiæ, ac extra Ligeantiam Regni ſui Angliæ; Upon which the Plaintiffs demurred: And the Queſtion in Law was, If the Plaintiff being born in Scotland ſince the Crown of England diſcended to his Majeſtie, were an Alien born, and ſo diſabled to bring any Action reall or perſonal for any Lands within the Realm of England? And this Caſe being argued by all the Judges of England in the Exchequer-Chamber, and by the Lord Chancellor Egerton, It was adjudged, That the Plaintiff ought to be Anſwered; for that he was Poſt natus, and not an Alien born out of the Faith, Allegiance, and Obedience of the then King of England: But in that Caſe it was Reſolved, That thoſe who were born in Scotland, under the Allegiance of the King, as of his Kingdome of Scotland, before he came to the Crown of England, were Aliens born; and ſuch plea againſt ſuch perſons, was a good plea. Cook 7. Part. 1. Calvin's Caſe.

4. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee hath Iſſue an Alien, viz. born out of the Kings Ligeance, that Iſſue cannot be his heir propter defectum ſubjectionis, albeit he be born within Lawfull marriage; nor ſhall he be Inheritable to his Father or any other, although he be made a Denizen by the Kings Letters Patents: But if the ſame man be Naturalized by Act of Parliament, then he ſhall be not accounted in Law alienigena, but he ſhall be capable to purchaſe Lands in England. See Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 8. Cook 7. Part. Calvin's Caſe.

5. Cornelius Godfrey brought Debt upon a Leaſe againſt Dixon, and declared, That Cornelius Godfrey his Father being an Alien, had iſſue Daniel Godfrey born in Flanders: The Father was made Denizen, and had Iſſue the Plaintiff his ſecond ſon born in England; afterward Cornelius the Father dyed, and Daniel his eldeſt ſon was Naturalized by Act of Parliament, and made the Leaſe for years to Dixon rendring Rent, and dyed without Iſſue; and his brother the Plaintiff brought an Action of Debt for the Rent. It was holden in this Caſe, That by the Naturalization by Act of Parliament, Daniel was made Capable to purchaſe: and that the Leaſe made by him, was a good Leaſe: and that the Action of Debt would well lye for the Rent: But in that Caſe, It was agreed, That Denization by the Kings Charter doth not make the heir Inheritable. Hill. 16 Jac. B. R. Godfrey & Dixon's Caſe. Godb. 275.

6. An Alien Friend may by the Common-Law acquire and get within the Realm, by Guift, Trade, or any other lawfull means, any Treaſure or Goods perſonal whatſoever; and may maintain any Action for the ſame: But an Alien Friend cannot acquire, get or purchaſe any Lands, or maintain any Action real or perſonal for Lands, unleſs it be a houſe for their neceſſary habitation; which to deny to them, were to deny them Trade and Traffique, which is the life of every Iſland: But if ſuch an Alien Friend become an Enemy, then he is utterly diſabled to maintain any Action, or to get any thing within the Realm. See Cook. 7. part. 17. Calvin's Caſe.

7. If an Alien be made a Denizen, and purchaſeth Lands, and dyeth without Iſſue, the Lord by Eſchéat ſhall have the Land. Cook. 1. part. Inſtitutes 2. But if an Alien Merchant purchaſeth a Leaſe for years; in ſuch caſe upon Office found, the King ſhall have it: but if he purchaſeth a houſe for his habitation by reaſon of his Commerce and Traffique, there the King ſhall not have have it: But if he relinquiſheth the Kingdome, or dyeth within the Term there upon Office found, the King ſhall have the houſe, and not his Executors. Cook. 1. part. Inſtitutes. Mich. 29 Eliz. Sir John Croſts Caſe. acc.

7. An Alien hath Iſſue two ſons, one of them purchaſeth Lands in Fee, and dyeth without Iſſue; the other ſhall not be his heir, becauſe there never was Inheritable blood betwixt the Father and them: and where the ſon by no poſſibility might be heir to the father, the one cannot be heir to the other. But if a man hath Iſſue two ſons, and after is attainted, and one of them purchaſeth Lands, and dyeth without Iſſue, the other ſhall be his heir, becauſe by the Attainder, the Lineal blood was only corrupted, and not the Collateral blood betwixt the ſons, which was veſted in them before the Attainder. Mich. 41 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Hobbies Caſe.

9. If a man be ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, and taketh an Alien to Wife, and then dyeth, the wife ſhall not be endowed; but if the King taketh an Alien to Wife, and dyeth, his wife ſhall be endowed by the Law of the Crown: Yet Edmond, the Brother of E. 1. married the Queen of Navarre, an Alien, and dyed; and yet it was adjudged, That ſhe ſhould be endowed of the third part of all his Lands of which he dyed ſeiſed. Cook 1. part. Inſtitutes 31. acc.

10. A Woman brought Debt as Adminiſtratrix to another; the Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff was an Alien born in Gaunt, under the Obedience of Philip King of Spain, the Queens Enemy. It was moved to be no plea, becauſe the Recovery was to another's uſe; and the King of Spain was no Enemy, becauſe no War was proclaimed. Anderſon ſaid, That there could not be a more open Enemy than King Philip, who Conſpired the death of the Queen; But Periam doubted, Whether he could be called Enemy or not, before Proclamation. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Owen 45.

11. An Alien born purchaſed Lands, and before Office found, the Queen by her Letters Patents made him a Denizen, and then confirmed his Eſtate: and the Queſtion was, Whether the Queen ſhould have the Lands before Office found? It was ſaid by Rodes, Juſtice, That he ſhould take the Lands only to the uſe of the Queen; and then the Confirmation was void. And it was ſaid by Fenner, Serjeant, That if the Kings Neece purchaſeth Lands, and takes a husband, and hath Iſſue by her, and then ſhe dyeth, that the husband ſhould be Tenant by the Curteſie of thoſe Lands. 33. Aſſ. And if an Engliſh-man and an Alien purchaſed Lands joyntly, and the Alien dyed, that it was adjudged, That the other ſhould have all by Survivour. But Periam and Anderſon were of a contrary Opinion in both Caſes: for if the Freehold ſhould be in the Alien untill Office were found, then if Treſpaſs ſhould be done upon the Land, who ſhall puniſh it? for they held, That Alien could not have any Action. The Caſe was not Reſolved, Ideo Quære. But as to the Caſe of purchaſe by an Alien and a Denizen, the Caſe of 11 Eliz. Dyer. 283. was vouched; where King enfeoffed two, viz. an Alien and a Denizen, to his uſe; that there, if Office were found of it, the uſe to King for the moyety was gone, and that the Queen ſhould be ſeiſed to their own uſe, by her Prerogative. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Goldeſbr. 29.

12. Note: It is a good Plea in diſability of the perſon, that the Demandant or Plaintiff is an Alien born; and that in all Actions reall and perſonall againſt an Alien Enemy; but not abſolutely ſo againſt all other Aliens: For the Law doth diſtinguiſh between an Alien that is a Subject to one who is an Enemy to the King, and one that is a Subject to one who is in League with the King; for an Alien Enemy ſhall maintain no Action either real or perſonal, untill both Nations be in Peace and Amity: But the other Alien may maintain perſonal Actions; for he may buy and ſell; and then of neceſſity he muſt be of Ability to bring perſonal Actions. See Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 129. Cook 7. Part. 17. Calvin's Caſe; and there ſee, That it was adjudged, Mich. 6 Jac. in the Common-Pleas, That an Alien born being no free Denizen, may defend, and bring a Writ of Errour; and it is no plea to ſay, That he is an Alien born. Brownlow. 1. part. 41.

13. Note: It is ſaid in Beaumonts Caſe, That if Lands be given to an Alien and the heirs of his body, that he hath an Eſtate taile; and yet ſuch Eſtate after his death is not diſcendable to his Iſſues. Cook 9. Part. 141. in Beaumont's Caſe.

14. The Caſe was this; A Copyhold was ſurrendred to J. S. in Truſt, that Holland, an Alien, ſhould take the profits thereof to his own uſe and benefit; and upon this, an Inquiſition was taken for the King, that the King ſhould have the Truſt; and that this Truſt was not a thing meerly in Action, but an Hereditament; and every Alien that purchaſeth, is ſaid to purchaſe to the Kings uſe; and it is here a truſt mixed with an Intereſt; and a Feoffment made in Truſt for an Alien, is all one with an uſe for an Alien. And that it was adjudged, That Truſts of Annuities, made for the Lord of Sommerſet who was attainted, were forfeited to the King. But it was adjudged, That the Inquiſition found for the King to entitle him to the Copyhold, ſhould be quaſhed becauſe the King cannot be entitled to the Copy-hold Lands of an

Alien,

Alien, much leſs to the uſe of Copy-hold Lands; and ſuch an uſe is a thing which lyeth onely in Privity: and in this caſe it was a truſt for the Alien to take the profits, and the Alien had no Eſtate in the Land; and it is a thing which lyeth onely in Action, and in Privity, and therfore not to be ſeized upon by another: and if the King ſhould have it, the Lord ſhould be wronged; which the King cannot do. Alſo it is not for the honour of King to have a Copy-hold Eſtate, which is a baſe Tenure: Alſo the Commiſſioners who found the Inquiſition for the King, had no power to ſeiſe the Lands into the Kings hands, but onely to enquire what Lands the Alien had: And afterwards Judgment was given, That the Lands ſhould be reſtored. Paſch. 23 Car. in B. R. The King and Hollands Caſe. Stylis. 20, 21, 40, 41, 75, 76, 84, 90, 94, 95.

15. A man ſeiſed of divers Houſes in Fee deviſed them by his Will to his wife, (being an Alien born) The King by his Letters Patents under the Great Seal, made the Wife a Denizen; the Deviſor dyed; the Wife took another husband, and the Letters Patents being corrupted in the Teſte, they obtained an Exemplification of the Inrollment of the Letters Patents under the Great Seal, which was with the true Teſte; and afterwards Office is found before Commiſſioners by force of a Commiſſion to them directed, under the Exchequer Seal; by which it was found, That the Wife was an Alien born. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Office found by Commiſſioners under the Exchequer Seal, was not ſufficient to entitle the King to the Lands of an Alien born; but ſuch Office which conce as Fee and Freehold, ought to be by force of a Commiſſion under the Great Seal: And in that caſe it was Reſolved, That in the Caſe of an alien, perſon attainted, and the like, the Inheritance, or Freehold of the Land, ſhall not reſt in the King till Office found under the Great Seal: and alſo in that caſe it was Reſolved, That if an Alien and a Subject purchaſe Lands to them and their heirs, that they are Joyntts untill Office be found, and Survivour ſhall take place. Mich. 30 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Cook 5. Part. Pages Caſe.

16. A Bill was exhibited by the King's Atturney in the Star-Chamber againſt William Courteen, and 160 more Dutch-men, for buying and Tranſporting ſeverall great ſums of money ſince the beginning of the Kings Raign: In this Suit moſt of the Defendants had pleaded in Barr, Not Guilty; and after in their Rejoynder pleaded the General Pardon of 7 Jacobi, which did extend to buying of money, but not to tranſporting. Whereupon two Queſtions were made, 1. Whether ſo many of the Defendants as were neither Naturalized, nor Indenized, were capable of the Pardon? 2. Whether the ſame was now receiveable, not being pleaded in Barr? And in this Caſe it was holden by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, That the Dutch living here within the Kings protection, being of a friend Country, were truly under the King's ſubjection, and ſo capable of the Title of his Loving Subjects, and Obedient Subjects; and ſo within the words of the Preamble of the Act: but they are not capable of the diſtinct Title of Natural Subjects; and therefore if ſuch a ſtranger in Amity commit Treaſon here, the Indictment ſhall conclude contra debitam allegiantiam, and ſhall call the King Dominum ſuum, but not Dominum naturalem; and ſuch a ſtranger ſhall have benefit of the General Pardon againſt Common penal Laws, and Common penal Offences. Paſch. 16 Jac. in Com. Stallat. Curteens Caſe. Hob. 271.

Triall of Aliens born, in what manner: And where it ſhall be per medietatem Linguæ, et è contra.

1. John Sheltys a French-man, one of the Rebels with Stafford, who rebelliouſly took the Caſtle of Scarborough in the County of York, was arraigned in the Kings-Bench, upon an Indictment of Treaſon; and the Indictment was contra Legiantiam ſuam debitam: and the Indictment was holden to be good, although he was no Subject, becauſe it was in time of Peace between the Queen and King of France. But it was holden, That if it had been in the time of War, then the party ſhould not have been Indicted, but ranſomed. 2. It was holden, That the Tryal was good, where the Venire facias was awarded in York was general, and not de medietate Linguæ; for ſuch Tryall per mediatatem Linguæ doth not extend to Treaſons. See 4 Ma. Dyer. 145. Sir John Shirley's Caſe.

2. Stephano Ferrara de Gama, and Emanuel Lewes Tinoco, two Portugals born, coming into England under the Queens ſafe Conduct, and living here under her protection, joyned with Dr. Lopez in Treaſon within the Realms of the Queen: And in this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Indictment ought to begin, that they intended Treaſon contra Dominam Reginam, &c. omitting the words (naturalem Dominam ſuam) and it ought to conclude contra Legiantiæ ſuæ debitum: But it was Reſolved, If an Alien Enemy come into this Realm, and be taken in War, he cannot be Indicted of Treaſon; for the Indictment cannot conclude conclude contra Legiancie ſuæ debitum; for he never was in the protection of the King, and therefore he ſhall be put to death by Martial Law; and ſo it was in 13 H. 7. in Perkin Warbeck's Caſe, who being an Alien born in Flanders, faigned himſelf to be one of the Sons of King Edward the 4th, and invaded the Realm, with an intent to take upon him the Dignity; who had his Judgment and Tryall by Martial Law, and not by the Common-Law of England. Hill. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Stephano Ferrara de Gama's Caſe. See Cook 7. part. 6. in Calvin's Caſe.

3. The Kingdome of Ireland was a Dominion ſeparated and divided from England at the firſt; and came to the Crown of England by Conqueſt, in the time of Henry the ſecond; and the meer Iriſh were as aliens Enemies to the Crown of England, and were diſabled to bring any Action, and out of the protection of the Laws: and 5. Septs of the Iriſh Nation were onely enabled to the Lawes of England, viz. Oneil de ultonia, Omologhlin de Media, O Connegher de Connacia, O Brian de Tholmonio, and Mac Murrogh de Lagenia; as appears by Records of the Dominion of Ireland; which ſee, in Sir John Davis's Book, of the Diſcovery why Ireland was not ſubdued, till the time of King James, fol. 103, 104, 105. and ſeverall Patents of Denization were granted to the Iriſh; which proved them to be meer Aliens. But afterwards, though the ſame was a ſeparate and divided Kingdom; yet whileſt they were under the Subjection and Obedience of the Kings of England, If High Treaſon had been committed by any Iriſhman, he might be arraigned, Indicted, and tryed for the ſame within England, and by the Laws of England; and ſo it was Reſolved by all the Judges of England in Orucks Caſe, Anno 33 Eliz. and ſo alſo it was Reſolved in Sir John Perrott's Caſe, That Ireland was out of England, and yet that All Treaſons committed there, were to be tryed in England, and that by virtue of the Statute of 33 H. 8. Cap. 23. Cook 7. Part. 23. in Calvin's Caſe.

4. Sir Julius Cæſar, Maſter of the Requeſts, brought an Action in the Kings-Bench, for ſlanderous words againſt Philip Conſini; The Defendant pleaded, Not Guilty, and ſaid, That he was an Alien born, &c. and prayed tryall per mediatatem Linguæ; which was granted: and at the Niſi Prius in London, but 6. Engliſhmen, and 5. Aliens appeared; and the Plaintiff prayed a Tales de Circumſtantibus per mediatatem Linguæ; and it was granted, ſo as there wanted one Alien; and the Record was, Ideo alius Alienigena de Circumſtantibus per vic. London ad requiſitionem infra nominati Julii Cæſaris per mandat. Juſticiar. de novo appoſit, cujus nomen panello predict. affixatur ſecundum formam Statuti in hujuſmodi Caſu nuper edit. & proviſ. Qui quidem Jurator, ſic de novo appoſitus, viz. Chriſtianus Dethick alienigena, exactus venit ac in Juratam illam ſimul cum aliis Juratoribus predict. prius impanellatis et juratis Juratus fuit. And the Jury found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That no Tales was to be granted de Circumſtantibus, when the Tryall is per mediatatem Linguæ by the Juſtices of Niſi Prius, by the Act. of 35 H. 8. becauſe in the Act it is ſpoken of Freehold of Jurours, and an Alien is not properly ſaid of any County, or to have any Freehold; nor can have Iſſues returned upon him. But it was adjudged, becauſe that the Statute was made for ſpeedy Execution, That it ſhould be expounded favourably, according to the intent and meaning of the makers of the Act: and though in the principal Caſe the Tales was prayed by the Plaintiff, whereas it ought to be ad requiſitionem Defendentis; yet that ſhould be taken to be but the Miſpriſion of the Clerk, and ſhould be amended. Mich. 35 & 36 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Julius Cæſar's Caſe. See Cook 10. Part 104. Denbawds Caſe, acc.

Alienation without Licence; and what ſhall be a good Licence.

1. WHere the Kings Tenant who holdeth of him in Chief as of his Crown, alien the Land which he holdeth for life, in taile, or in Fee, without the Kings Licence, there the King may ſeiſe the Lands till a Fine be paid for ſuch Alienation: But where a man holdeth Land of the King, as of any Honour, Caſtle, Manor, being in his hands, which he hath by diſcent from any Collateral Auncеſtor, and the Tenant doth alien his Lands without Licence granted him by the King, if the Sheriff or Eſcheator doth diſturb the poſſeſſion of the Alienee, upon the Statute of 1 E. 3. cap. 23. he may have a Writ to the Sheriff or Eſcheator not to diſturb him, or diſtrain him for any Fine in ſuch caſe. But if a man hold of the King in Capite as of an Honour, the uſe is to take a Fine to the King for alienation without Licence. See Fitzh. N. Br. and Cook 4. Part. in the Warden of Sadlers Caſe.

2. If the Tenant holdeth of the King in Capite, and dyeth, his Wife ought not to marry her ſelf again without the Kings Licence; and if ſhe doth, then the King may ſeiſe thoſe Lands which ſhe holdeth in Dower, untill ſhe hath paid a Fine to the King, which commonly is one years value of of the Lands which ſhe holdeth in Dower; and this is by the Statute of Prærogativa Regis, cap. 3. But note, that ſince the Statute of 32 H. 8. cap. 46. The Compoſition is given to the Maſter of the Wards, with 3. of the Councel of that Court; So they may take a reaſonable Fine at their diſcretion; and the King ought not to ſeize any other Lands, but the Lands which ſhe holdeth in Dower: and if the Wife will not claim nor ſue for her Dower, ſhe ſhall pay no Fine, nor ſhall any of her Lands be ſeiſed. See Fitzh. Na. Br. acc.

3. If a man be Tenant in taile, the Reverſion to the King, and the King doth grant him Licence to alien in Fee, and to take back an eſtate to himſelf and his wife in taile, the remainder to his right heirs, and he maketh ſuch a Feoffment, and taketh back an eſtate to him and his wife in taile, the remainder to his right heirs, and dyeth, his heir within age; The King notwithſtanding his Licence ſhall have the Wardſhip of the heir during the life of the wife; for that the Licence doth not give him power to alien the Kings Reverſion. Fitz. Na. Brevium. acc.

4. It was found by Office, that T. by Licence of the King, did marry the Kings Neece, and that certain Lands diſcended to the ſaid Neece, which her husband aliened without the Kings Licence to another; and for that cauſe the Lands were ſeiſed. Whereupon the Alienee came into the Chancery, and ſhewed all this matter, viz. That the Neece was married with the Kings Licence: And it was awarded, That the husband ſhould hold the Lands as Tenant by the Courteſie: and thereupon the Alienee had reſtitution. 33 E. 3. traverſe 36. Cook. 4. Part. The Warden and Comminalty of Sadlers Caſe. 55.

5. Every Grand Serjeanty is a Tenure in Capite, 30 H. 8. Dyer. 44. and ſee 14 E. 3. Quare Impedit 54. Wilby ſaith, That if Tenant by Grand Serjanty alieneth his Lands without Licence, the ſame is a forfeiture, becauſe the ſervice of the body of a man cannot be transferred over to another. But notwithſtanding the Opinion of Wilby, It was holden by all the Juſtices, Mich. 39 Eliz. That at this day, Grand Serjanty ſhall not be forfeited for Alienation without Licence, and that by the Statute of 1 E. 3. Cap. 12. See Cook 2. part. 81. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe.

6. The Lord Clifford held his Barony, and the Sheriffwick of Weſtmerland of the King, by Grand Serjeanty in Capite; and the King gave Licence to the Lord Clifford, that he might thereof enfeoffe two Chaplains; ſo that they gave back the ſame to the Lord Clifford, and the heirs males of his body the remainder over: The Lord Clifford according to the Licence did enfeoffe the Chaplains; and before they had given the Land back, the Lord Clifford dyed, his ſon and heir within age and in Ward to the King by reaſon of other Lands: All which matter was found by Diem clauſit extremam returned in the Chancery: And thereupon a Scire facias iſſued forth againſt the two Chaplains, if they could ſay, the ſaid Lands ſo occupied by them ſhould not be ſeized into the Kings hands; who appeared, and pleaded the Kings Licence: and the Feoffment of the Lord Clifford, and ſo they was the Kings Tenants by his Licence; and as to the re-enfeoffment, it was at their will to do it, with that that they were alwayes ready to have made the reſeoffment to his ſon and heir: and in that Caſe Judgment was given for the King, and that the Tenements ſhould be ſeized into the Kings hands. Out of which Caſe, Cook Collecteth, That the Lands were holden by Grand Serjanty, becauſe it ſaith, He aliened a great part of his Barony and the Sheriffwick of Weſtmerland, which was parcel of his Barony; and every Barony anciently was holden by Grand Serjeanty. Secondly, Hampton there, either forgetting the Statute of 1 E. 3. or not conceiving the ſame to extend to Grand Serjeanty, ſaith, That the King was ſeiſed in his own right, and diſ-inherited the heirs, ſcil. (if an Eſtate taile ſhall be made without Licence) which by the Expreſs letter of the Act of 1 E. 3. could not be, if it were holden in Capite, and not by Grand Serjanty. 18 Aſſ. ultimo. See Cook. 4. part. 80, 81. The Warden and Comminalty of Sadlers Caſe.

7. The King Licenced his Tenant to alien to two, and their heirs, and it appeared by a Fine in the Treaſury, that he who aliened had but an Eſtate in taile, the Reverſion unto the King. It was adjudged, That the Licence was void, and ſhall not enure to a Licence to alien ſo much as he might lawfully alien; ſcil. to them and their heirs during his life; for longer he could not alien, the Reverſion being in the King: But becauſe that the King was deceived when he gave the Licence to alien to them and their heirs, for that cauſe the Licence was void, and the Land was ſeized into the Kings hands. Cook. 1. Part. 44. in the Caſe of Alton Woods.

8. If the King Licenceth a man to alien two parts of the Manner of D. which is holden of him in Capite, and he alieneth the whole Manner, he hath not purſued his Licence, and there the King may ſeize the Land for ſuch alienation. But when an Act of Parliament authorizeth the owner of Capite Land to charge two parts of the Lands, and he chargeth the whole, It is good for the two parts, and void for the third part. Cook. 8. Part. 85. Sir Richard Pexhall's Caſe.

9. A. ſeiſed of divers Mannors holden in Capite, Covenanted with J. S. and J. D. to ſuffer a Common Recovery, to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of B. in taile, and after to the uſe of C. in taile, and after to the uſe of B. in Fee, with power of Revocation and Declaration of new uſes, in his life, or by his laſt Will. The King Licenſed A. to alien the ſaid Mannors to J. S. and J. D. and their heirs, without mention of any Declaration of any Uſes within the Licence; The Recovery is had accordingly: A. revokes the firſt uſes, and declares, that preſently after his death C. ſhould have the ſaid Mannors in taile, with divers remainders over. It was adjudged, That the King ſhould not have a Fine for this alienation upon the Revocation and Declaration of the new uſe. For it was Reſolved, That although no uſe is mentioned in the Licence, and the Licence was onely to alien to J. S. and J. D. that although the Eſtate of the Land was transferred to another, ſo as the King did not know his Tenant: yet becauſe it was executed by the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, and an Act of Parliament, to which every one is party, cannot do wrong, for that cauſe when the King giveth Licence to alien to J. S. and J. D. and the Statute executes the poſſeſſion in another, there ſhall not be any Fine to the King for that execution of the Eſtate by force of the ſaid Act of Parliament. Cook. 6. Part. 28. Viſcount Mountagues Caſe.

10. Tenant in Capite Levies a Fine to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of his eldeſt ſon in taile, and after to the uſe of his 2d. ſon in taile, with divers remainders over; Proviſo, that it ſhall be lawfull for him to limit by writing the ſame Lands, to the uſe of any woman who he ſhould afterwards marry, for her life, in the Name of a Joynture; The King pardoneth his alienation without Licence, and afterwards by writing he limits the ſame Lands to one whom he had married for her life: And it was adjudged, That for the ſaid alienation no new Fine ſhould be paid to the King. 43 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Sir William Mounſon's Caſe. Cook. 6. Part. 29. ibid.

11. The Advowſon of a Prebend holden of the King, was aliened to an Abbot and his Succeſſours; And the King granted to the Abbot and his Succeſſours, That he and his Succeſſours ſhould hold the Prebend to his own uſe; Yet it was holden, that the King ſhould ſeize the Advowſon for the alienation in Mortmain, and ſhould deſtroy the Appropriation; for that the King ſhall not be ouſted of his right to the Advowſon by implication. 27 E. 3. 39. Cook. 5. Part. 56. in Knights Caſe.

12. Thomas Earl of S. being ſeiſed in Fee of an Acre and dimidium of Land in W. held the ſame of the Queen as of her Fee of Crowland. The Earl ſo ſeiſed, did procure a Licence from the Queen, and ſuffered a Recovery thereof, and made a Joynture, 24 Eliz. to his Wife; the Earl and his Wife dyed ſeiſed; the Lands (inter alia) deſcend to the now Earl, who ſold the ſaid Acre and dimidium of Land to J. S. who dyed ſeiſed in Fee; and the ſame Land (inter alia) deſcended to his ſon and heir; and upon Office by vertue of Que plura, it was found, That the ſaid Acre and dimidium of Land was holden at the taking of the Inquiſition of the King in Capite. The Queſtion in the Caſe was, Whether the ſaid Acre and half of Land was holden by Knights ſervice in Capite, or onely by Knights ſervice? And it was the Opinion of Cook, Chief Juſtice, and Tanfield Chief Baron, and ſo adjudged in the Court of Wards, That the ſuing of the Licence of alienation, is no concluſion unto the party, whereby the ſaid Lands ſhould become to be holden of the King in Capite, becauſe the words of the Licence are, Que de nobis tenentur in Capite, ut dicitur, onely: and ſo it was adjudged, Mich. 39 & 40 Eliz. in the Exchequer, Where the Alienee hath Licence, and pleaded his Licence upon a Quo titulo; and the Judges then reſolved, That neither the Licence, nor a Pardon, nor the pleading of them were any concluſion, to bind or eſtopp the party touching a ſuppoſed Tenure in Capite, becauſe the plea hath relation onely to the Licence or Pardon: But where the party is directly charged with a Tenure, and he will confeſſe a Tenure, as by Bene, et Verum eſt, &c. in ſuch caſe the Plea is a Concluſion to the party: And ſo they reſolved, That the ſaid Acre and half holden of the Queen as of her Fee of Crowland, was not holden by Knights ſervice in Capite. Mich. 7 Jac. in the Court of Wards, Daviſon and Dymock's Caſe. Ley. 16, 17.

Amendment.

1. IN a Writ of Partition between Wotton Plaintiff, and Anthony Cook, and Temple Defendants; Temple confeſſed the Partition, and Judgment was given againſt him with a Ceſſet executio: Cook pleaded to Iſſue; and in the Record of Niſi Prius, by negligence of the Clerk, the name of the Defendant was omitted; for it was, Et prædict. ſimiliter, and the word, Anthonius left out; but the principal Record was perfect: and notwithſtanding the default, the Iſſue was tryed and found for the Plaintiff; and that matter being moved in Arreſt of Judgment: But it was Reſolved, that notwithſtanding the ſaid omiſſion, (and alſo that the Iſſue was, Inter Wolton, Quære et Cook et Temple Defendants; where Temple was no party to the Iſſue) that the Verdict was well taken; and that the ſaid defaults were amendable. Paſch. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 260.

21. In Formedon brought upon a Patent made by King Henry the 7th to Digby, The four firſt letters of the four firſt in the Patent of the King were left out, and a ſpace made for them, viz. H.R.F. and A. Yet it was adjudged a good Patent; for it is for the honour of the King; for the ſaid Letters were left out onely, to have them the more flouriſhed with gold, and ſo lymned out for the King's honour, and afterwards the Patent was allowed in the Kings Bench. Paſch. 17 Eliz. Dyer. 342. Mountford and Digbies Caſe.

3. A Common Recovery was ſuffered in a Writ of Entry to barr the Iſſue in taile, where the Warrant of Attorney was entred Quod Alicia poſuit loco ſuo; whereas her name was Eliz. And it was a Quære there, Whether it was amendable by the Statute of 8 H. 6. Cap. 23. But ſee that Quære reſolved in Cook. 8. Part. in Blackamore's Caſe. Which ſee 1 & 2 Ma. Dy. 105.

4. Killegrew recovered in Debt, Mich. 3 Eliz. againſt Trewynnard as heir, upon an Obligation made by his Father by Nihil dicit; and for default of a Warrant of Attorney for himſelf, he brought a Writ of Errour, which was returnable the firſt day of Trinity Term, Anno 5 Eliz. but the Writ was not delivered to the Clerk of the Treaſury till ſix dayes after the day of Retorn of it. And by the Opinion of the Court, the Defendant was Received to put in a Warrant of Attorney for the Plaintiff in the Writ of Errour: and Commandment was given to the Clerk of the Warranty to enter the Warrant accordingly. So Note, That in ſome Caſe, an Amendment may be after a Writ of Errour brought. Trinit. 5 Eliz. Dyer. 225.

5. After the Death of the Lord Powes, a Writ of Mandamus was awarded out of the Court of Wards to the Eſcheator, who by virtue of the Writ, gave their Verdict to the Eſcheator in Paper: Afterwards at the Suit of Herbert and his Wife, a ſuperſedeas came to the Eſcheator; and in the Writ, this ſyllable (ſe) was omitted; for the word was, Superdeas, at length: and in this Caſe, theſe two points were reſolved, 1. That the ſaid Writ was not amendable: and, 2. That No Superſedeas did lye in this Caſe. Mich. 1 and 2 Eliz. Dyer. in the Court of Wards. The Lord Powes Caſe. 170.

6. Upon a Writ of Annuity brought, the Judgment was, That the Plaintiff ſhould recover the arrearages before and pendant the Writ, Quæ quidem arreragia in toto ſe attingunt to 75 l. and that was a Quarters Annuity more then in truth was behind; and that the ſame was aſſigned for Errour, in Errour brought to reverſe the Judgment: And by the Opinion of the Court, the ſame was no Errour; for it appeareth by the Record, to what the arrearages did amount unto; for the day of the Writ brought, and alſo of the Judgment are certain; and the Judgment had been perfect, if the arrearages had not been put in it Certain; for that was not the Office of the Clerk to do; and therefore it was but the miſtaking and default of the Clerk, which is amendable: and the Judgment was affirmed. Paſch. 35 H. 8. Dyer. 55. Trewynnard and Shewes Caſe.

7. In an Action of Waſte brought upon the Statute of Glouceſter, the Writ was, Quod nullus faciat vaſtum venditionem et diſtrictionem; whereas it ſhould have been deſtructionem. And it was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That this being an Original Writ, ſhould not be amended, becauſe it is matter of ſubſtance; for diſtrictio is a Latine word, and doth alter the ſenſe of the Statute, &c. that matter of ſubſtance in an Original Writ is not amendable by any Statute. 2. It was Reſolved, That if an Original Writ wants form, or contains falſe Latine, or varies from the Regiſter in matter of form, after Verdict, no Judgment ſhall be ſtayed for the ſame; but if it wanteth ſubſtance, although be the Omiſſion of the Clerk, the ſame is not remedied by any Statute. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 4. Part. 44 & 45. Freeman's Caſe.

8. In Debt, after Verdict, it was ſhewed to the Court, That Robert Moor was returned upon the Venire facias, and ſo named in the Diſtringas: But in the Pannel before the Juſtices of Niſi Prius, he was named Robert Mawre, and ſo upon the Poſtea; and it was Reſolved by the Court, That if it can appear upon Examination, that his right name is Robert Moor, ſo as he be well named in the Venire facias; and alſo that he was the ſame man who was returned and was ſworn, that the Poſtea ſhould be amended: And in that caſe, It was Reſolved, That at this day all diſcontinuances are remedied by the Statutes of 32 H. 8. and 18 Eliz. Mich. 35 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 5. Part. 42. The Counteſs of Rutlands Caſe.

9. In an Appeal of Maheim; A Jurour in the Pannell of the Venire facias was named Paulus Cheate; and in the Diſtringas and Poſtea, he was named Paulus Cheate; and becauſe the name of the Jurour was miſ-named in the Venire facias, and eſpecially in his Chriſtian name, It was Reſolved, That the Judgment ſhould be reverſed. Mich. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 4. Part. 43. Codwell's Caſe.

10. A Fine was levyed of a Mannor, and of a great number of Acres of Land, Meadow, &c. and

and after to the uſe of B. in taile, and after to the uſe of C. in taile, and after to the uſe of B. in Fee, with power of Revocation and Declaration of new uſes, in his life, or by his laſt Will. The King Licenſed A. to alien the ſaid Mannors to J. S. and J. D. and their heirs, without mention of any Declaration of any Uſes within the Licence; The Recovery is had accordingly: A. revokes the firſt uſes, and declares, that preſently after his death C. ſhould have the ſaid Mannors in taile, with divers remainders over. It was adjudged, That the King ſhould not have a Fine for this alienation upon the Revocation and Declaration of the new uſe. For it was Reſolved, That although no uſe is mentioned in the Licence, and the Licence was onely to alien to J. S. and J. D. that although the Eſtate of the Land was transferred to another, ſo as the King did not know his Tenant: yet becauſe it was executed by the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, and an Act of Parliament, to which every one is party, cannot do wrong, for that cauſe when the King giveth Licence to alien to J. S. and J. D. and the Statute executes the poſſeſſion in another, there ſhall not be any Fine to the King for that execution of the Eſtate by force of the ſaid Act of Parliament. Cook. 6. Part. 28. Viſcount Mountagues Caſe.

10. Tenant in Capite Levies a Fine to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of his eldeſt ſon in taile, and after to the uſe of his 2d. ſon in taile, with divers remainders over; Proviſo, that it ſhall be lawfull for him to limit by writing the ſame Lands, to the uſe of any woman who he ſhould afterwards marry, for her life, in the Name of a Joynture; The King pardoneth his alienation without Licence, and afterwards by writing he limits the ſame Lands to one whom he had married for her life: And it was adjudged, That for the ſaid alienation no new Fine ſhould be paid to the King. 43 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Sir William Mounſon's Caſe. Cook. 6. Part. 29. Ibid.

11. The Advowſon of a Prebend holden of the King, was aliened to an Abbot and his Succeſſours; And the King granted to the Abbot and his Succeſſours, That he and his Succeſſours ſhould hold the Prebend to his own uſe; Yet it was holden, that the King ſhould ſeize the Advowſon for the alienation in Mortmain, and ſhould deſtroy the Appropriation; for that the King ſhall not be ouſted of his right to the Advowſon by implication. 17 E. 3. 39. Cook. 5. 10. A Fine was levyed of a Mannor, and of a great number of Acres of Land, Meadow, &c. and the Clerk who entred the Kings Silver, entred it in this manner; N. B. dat Dominæ Reginæ 40 s. pro Licentia Concordandi in Placito Conventionis, of ſo many Acres of Land, Meadow, &c. leaving out the Manor: and becauſe it appeared upon examination, and upon the ſurvey of all the parts of the Fine, that the ſame was but the Miſpriſion of the Clerk who entred the Kings ſilver, and that the ſaid ſum of 40 s. was in truth as well for the Manor, as for the Reſidue; It was Reſolved, That the Entry ſhould be amended. Mich. 39 Eliz. Cook 5. Part. 43. Bohon's Caſe.

11. A Formedon was brought of the Mannor of Ilfield, the Defendant pleaded in barr a Common Recovery againſt the Donee in taile of the ſaid Mannor; The Plaintiff pleaded, Nul tiel Record: The Record was Iffeild for Ilfeild. It was adjudged, That if it appear to be the Miſpriſion of the Clerk, or corrupted after, that it ſhould be amended, becauſe it was Common Recovery ſuffered by aſſent of the parties. Trin. 41 Eliz. 12. A Writ of Errour was brought to reverſe a Fine; and it was aſſigned for Errour, That the Writ of Covenant was Teſtè 24 Aprilis, returnable 15 Paſch. and ſo the Retorn was before the Teſtè. It was adjudged, That it ſhould be amended; For a Fine, and a Common Recovery are Common Aſſurances made by conſent of the parties; and therefore ſuch Miſpriſions may be amended: But in other Actions, no amendment ſhall be in ſuch Caſe: and that it was ſaid, That 18 Eliz. Norris's Caſe was, That a Writ of Errour was brought to reverſe a Common Recovery, 19 H. 8. and the Teſtè was a day after the Retorn: and becauſe it appeared, that it was the miſpriſion of the Clerk, the ſame was amended. 13. An Action of Treſpaſs was brought, for breaking of his Cloſe; ſcil. 380 Acres parcel of Colme-Park in Com. Eſſex, and 300 Oakes, 300 Aſhes, 300 Maples, 100 Beeches there growing Cutting, and a 1000 Load of Wood and underwood carrying away. The Defendant to the whole Treſpaſs præter fractionem clauſorum, necnon præter ſucciſionem 200 Oakes, and 10 Aſhes, &c. pleaded, Not Guilty; et quoad fractionem clauſorum prædict. ac herbæ prædict. pedibus ambuland. conculcat, et conſumptionem; the Defendant pleaded matter in Law, by which he intitled himſelf to the ſame Land, and juſtified the Cutting of the Trees; but in the Quoad, &c. as appeareth before, the Treſpaſs as to the Trees was utterly omitted, and ſo in Law nothing pleaded thereunto; and then the Demurrer being joyned, is all in the diſjunctive; and therefore, to the intent that the matter in Law might appear by aſſent, the Defendants Plea was amended; For it was agreed by the whole Court, That all was diſcontinued, and thereupon the Roll was amended, and Quoad ſucciſionem arborum was inſerted. Paſch. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part. 62. Herlakenden's Caſe.

14. Debt was brought againſt Husband and Wife, upon an Obligation made by the Wife before marriage; the Defendant pleaded to Iſſue; which was found againſt him: upon which Judgment was found againſt him. And afterwards a Writ of Errour was brought, and it was aſſigned for Errour, That the Writ was brought againſt them in the Detinet onely; whereas it ought to be in the debet et detinet. And it was Reſolved by the Court, That this being matter of ſubſtance, was not remedied by the Statute of 18 Eliz. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Wilcott's Caſe. Cook. 5. Part. 36.

15. In Treſpaſs, upon the general Iſſue pleaded, at the Aſſiſes, one of the Jurours of the Principall Pannell appeared onely; and at the prayer of the Plaintiff, a Pannel de Tales de Circumſtantibus was returned by the Sheriff in this manner; the title was, Nomina decem Talium, and under the ſame he returned 11. Jurours. And it was Reſolved, That this Miſpriſion of the Clerk ſhould be amended, and Decem put out of the title; and then the Title ſhall be Nomina Talium onely, and that ſhall be good enough. Cook. 10. Part. 102. Denbands Caſe.

16. A Note was delivered to the Curſitor, to make an Original againſt J. S. militem; and he made the Original againſt J. S. generoſum; and in the Exigent, and in the other proceſs, and in the Declaration, he was named Miles: and If the Original being out of the Chancery, ſhould be amended in the Common-Pleas, was the Queſtion? It was Reſolved, That an Original was not amendable by the Common-Law in the caſe of a Common perſon; but in the caſe of the King it was amendable in the Chancery. And in that caſe theſe Grounds and Rules were put and agreed; 1. At the Common-Law, default of an Entry of a Continuance of an Eſſoine which was Miſpriſion of the ſame Court in form of the Entry, was amendable by the Court. 2. Variance from any part of the Record was amendable by the Common-Law. 3. In the ſame Term, the Judges may amend as well their Judgment, as any other part of the Record; for the ſame Term the Record is in the breaſts of the Judges, and not in the Roll. But the Miſpriſion of the Clerk in proceſs in another Term, was not amendable in the Court; for then the Roll is the Record. 4. The Statute of 14 E. 3. Cap. 6. doth not extend but to amendment of the Miſpriſion of the Clerk in Proceſs, to be amended in due form; and that Statute extends to a Judicial Writ or proceſs; but that doth not extend to an Original, nor to a Writ which is in the nature of an Original, becauſe the ſame is not included with n the word Proceſs. 5. A Protection ſhall not be amended in the Common-Pleas, becauſe it is made in another Court. 6. An Original Writ ſhall abate for want of form; but a Judiciall Writ ſhall not abate if it hath ſubſtance. 7. By the Statute of 14 E. 3. Cap. 6. A word may be amended which wants, as well as a letter, or ſyllable; and a tittle ſhall be amended within the word ſyllable. 8. If an Original wanteth Legall form, the ſame is ſuch a Miſpriſion as is not amendable by the Statute of 8 H. 6. cap. 12. for the Officers and Clerks of the Chancery are tyed to have skill and knowledge in the true form of Original Writs. 9. Falſe Latine in an Original ſhall not be amended, as hos breve, for hoc breve; but the manner of Miſpriſion as negligent writing of a word which is not a Latine word, as, Imaginavit, for Imaginatus eſt, is amendable. 10. Negligent omiſſion, or addition of a thing wh.ch appeareth he himſelf ought to have added, or omitted of courſe, ſhall be amended: But omiſſion, or addition of any thing which alters the form of the Writ, is not amendable. 11. Miſpriſion or negligence of a Clerk or Officer not in writing, but in negligent keeping of Records, or in voluntary defacing of them, by which the Record becomes imperfect or Erroneous, ſhall be amended by the Statute of 8 H. 6. cap. 12. Counts which want ſubſtance ſhall not be amended in another Term; but by the Statute of 36 E. 3. a Count ſhall not abate for form. 13. Matters of ſubſtance in a Barr, or Replication, eſpecially matters in fact ſhall not be amended in another Term; But a thing apparent to be Miſpriſion, which the Clerk of Courſe ought to have added without any inſtruction of the party, although it be in a point materiall, ſhall be amended in another Term. 14. If any Errour be in the Judgment, the ſame ſhall not be amended in another Term, as if the Entry be Ideo in Miſericordia, where it ought to be Capiatur. Cook. 8. Part. 156, 157, 158, 159, &c. Blackamores Caſe.

to

17. In Waſte for digging of Land, and taking away Oaks, The Defendant ſaid, That the Queen by her Letters Patents under the great Seal of England granted to him, that he might digg for Mines of Cole in the Land, and prayed it might be entred verbatim; and the Grant under the Exchequer-Seal was entred; upon which the Plaintiff demurred. It was moved, It might be amended: But the Opinion of the Court was, It cannot be amended after Demurrer. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 28 Eliz. C. B. Goldeſbr. 1.

18. In a Replevin they were at Iſſue, Mich. 28 & 29 Eliz. and the Plaintiff had a Venire facias in Mich. Term, returnable Termino Hill. and in Hill. Term took an Alias, retornable in Termino Paſch. and ſo award d it in the Roll of Mich. to the intent the matter ſhould not be tryed at the Aſſizes in Kent, and thereupon the Avowant moved the Court, and prayed expedition; and the Court cauſed the Roll to be brought in, and notwithſtanding that it was a Roll of Mich. Term; Yet becauſe it was awarded the ſame Term, they amended the Roll, and awarded the Alias retornable the ſame Term of Hillary. Mich. 29 Eliz. Boſſe and Hawtrey's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 31.

19. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Biſhop of Lincoln and others; and the Writ was, Suum ſpectat donat.onem, and the word (ad) was omitted; and the Court took time to adviſe: and at laſt, by the Opinion of all the Juſtices, it was amendable, and a Clerk of the Chancery came into the Court of the Common-Pleas, and amended it. Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Brookly and the Biſhop of Lincoln's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 78. & 79.

20. A Writ of Errour was brought by the Lord Seymour againſt Sir John Cliſton upon a Judgment given againſt him; and the Errour deſigned was, That the Judgment was, Quod recuperet verſus Ed. Seymour; and did not ſay, prædict. Ed. Seymour, but the word [prædict.] was omitted. And all the Juſtices agreed, That it was amendable; and ſo the Judgment was affirmed. Paſch 30 Eliz. The Lord Seymour and Sir John Cliſton's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 89.

21. An Original Writ was returned by —— Needham Eſquire, Sheriff, and his Chriſtian name was left out: It was moved to have his name put into the Writ, but the Court denyed it, becauſe the Record was made up. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C.B. Broughton and Field's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 113.

22. Thomas Welcome Executor of Anthony Welcome, Executor of John Welcome, brought Debt againſt J. S. in the Common-Pleas, and Judgment was given, and entred quod prædict. Johannes Welcome recuperet; when it ſhould be, Quod prædictus Thomas recuperet It was moved, That the Record might be amended, for that it was the Miſpriſion of the Clerk: But it was adjudged to the contrary, becauſe the Judgment is the Act of the Court, and not of the Clerk Hill. 43 Eliz. in C.B. Welcome's Caſe. Gold ſbr. 104.

23. A Writ of Errour was brought upon a Judgment given in Debt in C. B. and the Errour aſſigned was, That the Original Writ was 20 l. and all the mean proceſs were ſo; but when the Defendant appeared to the Exigent, the Entry was, Quod Defendens obtulit ſe in placito debiti decem librarum, where it ought to be 20 l. It was moved, it might be amended, being Miſpriſion of the Clerk;

Clerk: but upon view of the Record, it appeared, That no Original was certified, and therefore could not be amended. Ter. Hill. 43 Eliz. Staugiſton's Caſe. Goldeſb. 133.

24. In Debt brought in the Common-Pleas upon an Obligation bearing date 12 die Novemb. the Defendant imparled, and the next Term the Plaintiff declared anew upon an Obligation bearing date 12. Febr. and upon Nihil dicit had Judgment. Errour was brought by the Defendant. The Plaintiff prayed that it might be amended. The Court was divided in Opinion. Ideo Quære. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Wilkinſon's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 136.

25. A Writ of Errour was brought upon a Judgment in the Common-Pleas; and it was aſſigned for Errour, that the Judgment was, That the Defendant ſhould recover 20 l. aſſeſſed to him per Jur. nec non 10 l. aſſeſſed to him hic per Jur. where it ought to be per Cur. The Court ſaid, They would have the Record brought out of the Common-Pleas thither, to ſee if it were ſo; and if it were ſo, it ſhould be amended: But the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas would not ſend the Record; Cook prayed it might be amended; for it is but the Miſpriſion of a Clerk, and that of a letter onely, viz. of J. for the letter C. for the word is written Jur. ſhort, whereas it ought to have been Cur. and ſo amendable by the Statute of 8 H. 6. But the Court was of a contrary Opinion, for that it is parcel of the Judgment; and you never ſaw the Judgment of the Court amended; for which it cannot be amended here. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Harecourt's Caſe. Goldeſbr 151.

26. A Writ of Errour was brought upon a Judgment given in the Common Pleas in a Replevin; the Errour aſſigned was; For that Kidman was returned in the Venire facias, and Bidnam was returned in the diſtringas and Habeas Corpora. It was ſaid, That it was not amendable, and that no amendment ſhould be after Judgment; for if it ſhould be, the Attaint of the party ſhould be taken away; and a Caſe between Croſſy and Willet was avouched; where George Thompſon was returned in the Venire facias, and George Tomſon was in the Diſtringas, and it could not be amended. But at laſt, the opinion of all the Juſtices of England was, That it ſhould be amended, in aſmuch as it appears upon examination the ſame party in the Venire facias was ſworn; and ſo there was no damage to any. 27. An Action was brought upon the Statute of Wincheſter of Hue-and-Cry, againſt the Hundred of C. and it was found for the Plaintiff; and a Writ of Errour was brought, and all the Record was Certified; and now the Plaintiff prayed that two things might be amended; the firſt, the title of the Action; for upon the Roll it is an Action upon the Caſe, and it ſhould be an Action upon the Statute. But it was ſaid by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, and agreed by the whole Court, That it could not be amended; for that the Statute of 18 Eliz. did not give Amendments upon Indictments, or upon popular Actions, or Actions upon penal Statutes. The ſecond was upon the Venire facias, where Gregory was returned, but the Clerk of the Aſſizes returned one George: And by the Opinion of the whole Court there needs no amendment of it; it being in the Tales de Circumſtantibus, and not in the principal pannel, and alſo it was by conſent of the parties: and Hobart ſaid, If that Variance had been material, it ſhould not be amended; for that we will not make a New Certificate, for the Court of Kings-Bench may chooſe to credit the firſt or the ſecond Certificate, and ſo we ſhall ſubmit our Judgments to the Cenſure and pleaſure of another Court, which we will not do. Trin. 21 Jac. in C. B. Harvey and the Hundred of Chelſams Caſe. Winch. 66.

25. A Quare Impedit was brought ad præſentandum ad Eccleſiam de Watton; and before appearance, It was moved, That the Writ might be amended, for that his title of preſentation was to the Vicaridge of the ſaid Church, and not to the Parſonage: and the Court much doubted of it, becauſe it was in an Original Writ, and in a point of ſubſtance. See Fitzh. Na.Br. 32. and 15 Eliz. Dyer. 323. Yet becauſe the Attorney gave a Note to the Curſitor to draw a Writ ad præſentandum ad Vicariam Eccleſiæ de Watton: and becauſe it is a peremptory Action, and that the Miſpriſion happened by the fault of the Clerk, who did not purſue his direction. It was Ruled, That the Writ ſhould be amended; and the Curſitor being preſent in Court, was appointed to mend it. Trinit. 3 Car. in C. B. Turner and Palmer's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 53. 29. In an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, The Writ and Declaration were againſt Aunt Executrix of Sir William Wade, and the Iſſue, Record, and Venire facias were accordingly for a tryall betwixt the ſaid parties; but the Tryal being by Niſi Prius in London, the Writ of Habeas Corpora, was to have Corpora Juratorum, &c. betwixt the Plaintiff and the Lady Wilde, Executrix of Sir Henry Wade, Knight; and this in arreſt of Judgment was moved to be a Tryall without warrant:

rant: But the whole Court was of Opinion, That in as much as the Iſſue is good, the Record of Niſi prius good, the Venire facias good, according to the Iſſue, though there was a miſpriſion in the Habeas Corpora, it was but the default of the Clerk, and might be amended, becauſe there is not any alteration of the Verdict; and it was appointed to be amended; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. 30. An Attorney of the Common Pleas brought an Attachment of Priviledge againſt Hole, and declared in an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit; and after Verdict for the Plaintiff, and Judgment, Errour was brought, and aſſigned, becauſe there was no pledges entred upon the Imparlance Roll: It was moved, That it might be amended, and pledges inſerted; for it was ſaid, It was but matter of form, and ayded by the Statute of 18 Eliz. But the Court denyed the Amendment; for although the Iſſue Roll ſhall be amended by the Imparlance Roll, yet the Imparlance Roll ſhall not be amended by the Iſſue Roll being ſubſequent: and the Record being Removed, they would not amend it, being matter of ſubſtance, Mich. 3 Car. in C. 31. In a Quo Warranto againſt the Corporation of Maidſtone, for claiming Liberties in the Village and Pariſh of Maidſtone, (in which a houſe called the Mote, wherein Sir Humphry Tuſton dwelt, and a great houſe called the Archbiſhops Palace, which was conveyed to Sir John Aſhley, were ſcituated) a Judgment was entred by Diſclaimer with conſent of parties virtute vel prætextu Literarum Patentium geren. dat. Anno decimo Septimo Jacobi Regis; but becauſe the words geren. date Decimo ſeptimo Jac. Regis were in the Margent, and by reaſon of a ſtroke made croſſe the words, the Clerk had omitted them in the Ingroſſing of the Judgment which was entred upon Record, Anno 2 Car. Regis. It was moved, That thoſe words might be enterlined, and the Record amended, being omitted by the negligence of the Clerk: which was much oppoſed by Sir Humphrey and Sir John Aſhley's Councel, that the Record could not be amended, being in another Term, much leſs in another year, eſpecially in the Kings Caſe: and when none of the Statutes of Amendments extend to a Quo Warranto, or Suits where the King is party: But it was holden by the Court to be amendable by the Courſe of the Common-Law, as well in another Term, as in the Term when it was entred; and being meerly a miſpriſion of the Clerk by the miſreading of the paper-book by examination of all Circumſtances, it is no more then when a Special Verdict is miſ-ſealed, which may be rectified by the Notes of the Clerk of the Aſſiſe; And thereupon the Record was amended. Mich. 4 Car. Regis. Sir Humphrey Tuſton and Sir John Aſhley's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 102.

32. In Debt againſt the heir of J. S. The Plaintiff declared, That J. S. by his Bond which he ſhewed, had bound himſelf in 200 l. &c. and left out the words which were in the Bond, (Et ad eandem ſolutionem obligo me et hæredes meos) which matter was moved in Arreſt of Judgment: It was moved, That the ſame might be amended, becauſe it was the meer fault of the Clerk, who had the Bond before him, and who confeſſed it to be ſo upon his examination: Againſt which it was ſaid, That it was not amendable, becauſe it was the ſubſtance of the Declaration, no more then where one declares in the Debet et Detinet; where it ought to be in the Detinet onely. But the Opinion of the Court was, It ſhould be amended; for the Action is brought againſt the heir, and ſo he is named in the Bond; and it was meerly the omiſſion of the Clerk, which is amendable. 33. Debt was brought for 300 l. againſt Arrowſmith, for part ſur emiſſet, and the other part ſur inſimul Computaſſet; and in the Imparlance Roll both did not amount to 300 l. but wanted 60 l. and after Errour brought, it was amended. 34. Upon a Fine levied, Mich. 11. Eliz. The proclamations endorſed by the Chirographer, were well upon the Fine; but in the Tranſcript and Note of the Fine, which is delivered to the Cuſtos Brevium by the Chirographer by the Statute; the ſecond proclamation was entred to be made 20. Maii, where it ſhould have been 23 Maii, and that by Miſpriſion of the Clerk. The Court was of Opinion, That it ſhould be amended; for the Ingroſſment upon the Fine by the Chirographer is the foundation, and that being well, it is a ſufficient warrant to mend the other. And the Court held it a good Fine without any Amendment. Paſch. 9 Car. in C. B. Strilleys Caſe. Hutton 122.

35. In an Action upon the Caſe againſt the Keeper of the Gate-houſe, for an Eſcape of one in Execution, Trin. 2 Car. the Defendant pleaded Not Guilty. In London it was found by Niſi Prius;

Prius; and becauſe the Record of the Niſi Prius mentions the Judgment to be Trin. 3 Car. which was a Miſpriſion of the Record, the Plaintiff was Nonſuit. It was moved, that by reaſon of this miſpriſion, the Record of Niſi Prius was not warranted by the Roll; and the Nonſuit thereupon being Null, the Poſtea ſhall not be Recorded: Wherefore à Diſtringas de Novo was prayed; and upon ſhewing of Preſidents, a Diſtringas de Novo was awarded. Mich. 6 Car. in B. R. Aquila Weeks Caſe. Cro. 1 Part. 147.

36. Errour brought of a Judgment in Dower; the Record certified the Defendant in miſericordia; and the Errour aſſigned was, becauſe the Defendant being an Enfant, and appearing by Guardian, ought not to be amerced; It was amended in C.B. and made Nihil in miſericordia, quia Infans; upon a Certiorari this was certified into the Kings-Bench; It was prayed, it might be amended in that Court: and becauſe it was certified, that the firſt was miſ-recited, the Court would not intend that it was amended after the Judgment was entred, but that the Record in the Court there was well entred at the firſt; and being in caſe of Dower which is favoured, the Court agreed, That the Certiorari to ayd the Judgment was well awarded; and the Record was amended accordingly, and the Judgment affirmed. 37. An Ejectione Firme brought againſt two; the Entry in the Declaration was layed to be in the plural number Intraverunt, and the Expulſion and Ejectment layed to be in the ſingular number, Scil. expulit et ejecit; And whether it was amendable, was the onely Queſtion? And the Opinion of the Court was, That it was amendable; and afterwards was amended accordingly: and two Preſidents were vouched and ſhewed: The one was before Yelverton Juſtice at the Aſſizes: where the Caſe was, That in caſe of Felony two was Indicted, and found guilty; and the Indictment was in the ſingular number: and the ſame being a doubt to Yelverton, he moved it to all the Judges, and 9. Judges delivered their Opinions, That the Indictment was amendable; and was amended accordingly, and the parties were hanged for the Felony. The other was in an Ejectment, which ought to be Vi et armis; and Vi et armis was omitted, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff; and upon a Writ of Errour brought, and that aſſigned for Errour, the Judgment was affirmed. See Mich. 10 Jac. Odington and Darbies Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. Part 35,

38. In Aſſumpſit in the Common-Pleas, a Verdict was againſt the Defendant, and a Judgment; and he brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe the Judgment; and the Errour aſſigned was, That there was no Iſſue joyned between the parties; for it is et pradict. Rectores ſimiliter, where it ſhould be prædict. Joſephus. It was holden by the Court, That it could not be amended, becauſe the Iſſue is altered; for it is joyned between other parties: and ſo was adjudged in 9 Eliz. in Dyer. See Trinit. 24 Car. in B. R. Pitcher and Symons Caſe. Styles 113.

39. In an Inferiour Court a Plaint was entred againſt Francis, and all the proceedings were againſt John: And upon a Writ of Errour brought, the Opinion of the Court was, That a Plaint is in the Nature of an Original Writ; and if that be erroneous, it cannot be amended, nor helped, after Verdict: and the Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 24 Car. B. R. Brereton and Monington's Caſe. Styles 115.

40. In an Information by Mr. Attorney General againſt the Inhabitants of Burmingham, for not repairing Burmingham Bridge; it was found for the Defendants: It was moved, That Mr. Attorney had miſtaken the Chriſtian name of one of the Defendants in his Replication; and therefore it was prayed, that the Record might be amended before it was entred, that the Judgment might not be erronious by reaſon of that miſtake. But the Court ſaid, They could not ſee how it could be amended; for that they conceived, there was no Iſſue joyned. Mich. 1649. in B.R. Styles 167.

41. It was moved to the Court, That the word (publicæ) might be put into an Indictment which was removed into the Kings-Bench by Certiorari: But the Court anſwered, That it could not be, becauſe the Indictment was of another Term. Styles. Hill. 1651. in B. R. 321.

42. It was prayed in B.R. to amend a Record, wherein a Judgment was given in the Common-Pleas, after the Record was removed by a Writ of Errour into the Exchequer-Chamber; and the fault to be amended was, That there is day given to the parties from Eaſter Term to Mich. Term, and Trinity Term is left out: which was ſaid to be the Miſpriſion of the Clerk; and but a Miſcontinuance: But the Opinion of the Court was, That here it is not a Miſcontinuance, but a Diſcontinuance; for here wants a day, which makes it a Diſcontinuance, which cannot be amended; and it is upon a Writ of Errour brought upon a Judgment given here: and therefore we cannot amend it. Trin. 1652. in B.R. Fiend and Bakers Caſe. Style's 339.

43. The Caſe was, One of the Juſtices of Aſſiſe fell ſick, and dyed at Chelmſford in Eſſex: the Aſſizes were adjourned to Brentwood in the ſame County; and before the ſitting there, the other Judge fell ſick, and dyed at London: whereupon a New Commiſſion iſſued forth to authorize another Judge to ſit at Brentwood according to the adjourn-

Adjournment; and there a Tryall was had upon the Old Jurata which had been returned before the other Judges. It was a Queſtion, If this was not a Miſ-tryal? But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was not; becauſe the death of the Juſtices was not materiall to make it void; for the Juſtices are not named in the Jurata: And in this caſe it was ſaid by Rolls, Chief Juſtice, That if a Clerk miſ-enter a thing uſual in matter of form, it is to be amended; but he ſaid, That the Errour of the Judge may not be amended: and for that, he vouched, Mich. 13 Car. in this Court, Sawyer and Horton's Caſe; and Hill. 15 Car. in B.R. Belch and Flates Caſe. 44. An Ejectione Firme was brought: In Arreſt of Judgment after Verdict, It was ſhewed, That in the Venire facias, the Concluſion was, Et habeas ibi hoc Breve, omitting Nomina Juratorum; and alſo where but one was of the Tales, the title of Addition was, Nomina Juratorum: and notwithſtanding theſe, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; for the Venire facias is warranted, and muſt be amended by the Roll. 45. In Treſpaſs, after Verdict it was found, That the Venire facias, and Habeas Corpora; was de Placito Debiti; and it was amended per Curiam. Trin. 16 Car. C. B. Harris and Ap-Johns Caſe. Hob. 246.

46. An Action of the Caſe was brought againſt husband and wife, for ſlanderous words ſpoken by the Wife, and the Plaintiff had Judgment; and the Judgment was, Et prædict. the wife in miſericordia, where both ought to be amerced: And upon Errour brought, the Record was Certified into the Kings-Bench; and yet by Order of the Court, the Record here in C. B. was amended, becauſe upon View of the Prothonotories Book of Judgments, it appeared there to be well entred and directed. Mich. 12 Jac. in C. 47. In an Aſſiſe, The Writ was ad faciendam Recognitionem illam; where it ſhould have been illam; and becauſe it was in an Original Writ, though the Cuſtos made Oath, That a Note produced in Court by him (which was right) was the Original Note; yet the Court would not amend it, becauſe in Pennington's Aſſiſe, 11 H. 7. the like default in the Writ would not be amended. Trin. 14 Jac. in C.B. Oglethorp and Maudes Caſe. Hob. 128.

48. A Warrantia Chartæ was brought by I. S. againſt Bowes, and Counted upon a Feoffment made by Dedi et Conceſſi ad Dunham in N. whereas the Land lay in another Town: and upon Demurrer, it was denyed to be amended, becauſe it was pleaded without a Serjants hand. Hill. 16 Jac. in C. B. Barrets Caſe. Hob. 249.

49. In Treſpaſs for taking a Kettle at Weſt-Town; the Defendant juſtified by reaſon of a Cuſtome in the Mannor of T. the Plaintiff joyned Iſſue de murria ſuo proprio: The Venire facias was awarded de Vicineto de Weſtowne, et Manerio de T. by the Roll, and a Verdict for the Plaintiff: but becauſe the Sheriff had returned the pannell de vicineto de Weſtowne onely; the ſame was holden to be incurable, though the award was by the Roll de vicineto de weſtowne, and the Manner both: and it was Ruled, That the Venire facias was not to be amended, for two reaſons: 1. It ought not to be de Weſtowne at all, becauſe the taking was confeſſed on both ſides, ſo required no Tryall; but the Cauſe onely controverted, was the Cuſtome and other things ariſing from the Mannor of T. and although the Roll had been perfect from the Mannor onely, (as it ought to have been) ſo as the Venire facias might have been amended by warrant of it; yet now when it appears to the Court, that the Tryal was not had by ſuch a Jury as the Roll and the Law required, to the prejudice of the truth in ſhew it ought not to be allowed; and therefore not to be amended. Mich. 12 Jac. in C. B. Banks and Parkers Caſe, Hob. 76, 77.

50. In Treſpaſs: after Verdict, it was moved, That the Venire facias was thus, viz. Jacobus Dei Comiti, &c. omitting of what County he was Sheriff; and therefore it was a Miſ-tryall, and here is an ill Writ; and it is not the want of a Writ which is helped by the Statute, and not Conſtat, by what Sheriff of the County, nor by whom it is returnable: But becauſe the Writ was warranted by the Roll, which was well; It being a Judicial Writ, was holden by the Court amendable; and was amended, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff. Tr. 3 Jac. in B. R. Lea and Lacons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 78.

51. A Writ of Errour was brought to reverſe a Judgment given in C. B. and after a Certiorari, and Errours aſſigned, they in the Common-Pleas did amend the Record: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, They could not do it, becauſe after a tranſmittur, they have not the Record before them: And there is a difference betwixt the Common-Pleas, and Kings-Bench; and betwixt the Kings-Bench and the Exchequer; for the Record remains alwayes here, notwithſtanding Errour be brought in the Exchequer Chamber; and therefore we may mend after; And therefore the Court awarded, If the thing were amendable, that they would amend, &c. But the Court of Common-Pleas cannot ſo do. Mich. 15 Car. in B. R.

52. In Debt; Judgment was given againſt

the principal; whereupon a Scire facias iſſued forth againſt the Baile, and Judgment upon Nihil dicit was given againſt them: whereupon Errour was brought, and Errour aſſigned, That there was no warrant of Attorney filed for the Plaintiff: And in that caſe, theſe differences were agreed; 1. If there was no Warrant of Attorney, the Court cannot order the making of one; but if there was, they might Order the filing of it. 2. If the Warrant of Attorney were on the Plaintiff's part, there ſuch Warrant ſhall not be filed, becauſe the party ſhall not take advantage of his own wrong: But where the Record by Lacheſſe of the Plaintiff in the Writ of Errour is not certified in due time, there the Warrant of Attorney may be filed. And it was the Opinion of the Court, That in the principal Caſe, it was not helped by the Statute of 8 H. 6. cap. 1. or the Statute of 18 Eliz. for that Statute helps the Warrant of Attorney after Verdict onely; and not upon Confeſſion, or Nihil dicit, or Non ſum Informatus. Mich. 17 Car. in B. R. Firburn and Cruſes Caſe.

53. In Ejectione Firme, the Writ was, Vi et armis, but it wanted it in the Declaration; and whether it was amendable, or not, was the Queſtion: But the better Opinion of the Court ſeemed to be, That it was amendable; but no Judgment was given in the Caſe. Paſch. 16 Car. in B. R.

54. The Court was moved to mend a Venire facias, which was, album breve; but would not do it, although the Sheriff's name was put to the Pannel. But if the Sheriff upon the Venire facias had returned, that the Execution of that did appear in a Pannel annexed to that Writ, and had not put his name to the Writ of Venire facias, but to the Pannel, the Court would have amended the Writ of Venire facias. 55. In Debt upon a Bond, the Plaintiff in the Imparlance Roll declared upon a Bond made 10. Martii, and an Imparlance was there upon untill the next Term, and then he declared of a Bond made 10. Maii; The Defendant pleaded per Dureſs, which was entred upon Record. It was ſaid, That it could not be amended, becauſe the Defendant had pleaded to it, and by amendment his plea ſhould be altered: But per Curiam, it was amended, for the Imparlance was entred, Hill. 1 Jac. and the Iſſue was, Paſch. 2 Jac. and the Defendant was admitted to plead anew at his pleaſure. 56. An Ejectione Firme was brought ex dimiſſione W. G. and the Original Writ was made ex diviſione: and after Tryall, by the Order of the Court it was amended, Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1859. Marſh and Spurryes Caſe. Brownlow, 130.

57. An Ejectione Firme was brought of two houſes, but the Bill was onely for one, and it was filed; the Defendant by his paper-book pleaded to both houſes; and in the Roll, and Record of Niſi Prius were two houſes, and a Verdict was for the Plaintiff, and Judgment entred accordingly: a Writ of Errour was brought by the Defendant; and before the Record was removed, the Plaintiff moved, That the Bill upon the file might be amended, and made two houſes. And it was Reſolved, It ſhould be amended; for that Bill which made mention of one houſe, could not be the ground of all the proceedings afterwards; but it was as if no Bill had been filed. Mich. 7 Jac. in C. B. Saunders and Cottington's Caſe. Brownlow, 144.

58. A Venire facias was awarded in the Common-Pleas, and returned in the time of Queen Eliz. and an Habeas Corpora; and an alias Habeas Corpora pro defectu Jurator. was awarded in the time of King James; which was, Quod habeat Corpora Jurator. nuper ſommonit. in Curia noſtra et apponat eis decem Tales; and Tryal being had thereupon in B. R. and Judgment upon it; and the Judgment was reverſed, for that the Habeas Corpora is of Jurours ſommonit. in Curia noſtra. Et quod ad illos apponit decem Tales; ſo the Sheriff had not any authority apponere decem tales; but to the Jurours firſt ſummoned in Curia Regis, and there was not any ſuch, and ſo what the Sheriff did, he did without warrant, and could not be amended. Sir Francis Knowls and Beckinſhaws Caſe. Cro' 2. Part. 161.

59. In the Caſe concerning the School at Bury, The Venire facias was awarded in the time of the Queen, and a Diſtringas with N ſi Prius in the time of King James, reciting, Quod diſtringat Jurator. nuper ſommonit. in Curia noſtra: whereas in truth there had been no Summons in the Court of the King; but of the Queen onely, and tryall thereupon, and Judgment in the Common-Pleas. And upon a Writ of Errour brought in the Exchequer Chamber, the ſame was aſſigned for Errour; and the Judgment was reverſed: and the reaſon was, becauſe the Diſtringas with a Niſi Prius was a ſpeciall authority to the Juſtices; which being Juſtices by that ſpeciall Commiſſion, had not any authority to take any Jury, but ſuch as was ſummoned before in Curia Regis; and therefore the ſame could not be amended; but the Tryall was holden to be Erronious. Goodwyn's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 162.

60. Note, by Tanfield, Chief Baron, That amendment amendment ſhall be of Judicial Writs after tryall, to make them accord with the Roll, when that is made well: and it was adjudged in Short and Arundell Caſe; Where a Venire facias bare Teſte out of Term, the ſame being aſſigned for Errour, was amended, and made to accord with the Roll; and ſo where the Venire facias bears Teſte upon the Sunday, it ſhall be amended: and ſo where a Diſtringas is awarded a long time before the tryal; yet the Roll being good, it was amended. See Hill. 2 Jac. in C. B. Comyn and Rynelo's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 161.

61. Debt upon an Obligation, to ſtand to an Award of J. S. and J. D. The Defendant pleaded, The Arbitrators made no award: The Plaintiff ſhewes the Award, but aſſigned no breach: Iſſue being joyned upon the Award, Judgment was for the Plaintiff. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Plaintiff in his Replication having aſſigned no breach, there was no cauſe of Action, and ſo the Court cannot give Judgment; and though a Verdict be given for the Plaintiff, yet the ſaid defect in the Replication is matter of ſubſtance, and is not to be helped by any Statute, nor amended: and ſo Judgment was ſtayed. Trin. 7 Jac. in B. R. Barret and Fletchers Caſe, Cro. 2. Part. 220.

62. In a Writ of Errour of a Judgment in C. B. in Ejectione Firme, It was aſſigned for Errour, That the firſt Declaration was, That J. S. 25 March 6 Jac. let Lands to the Plaintiff for 7. years, by virtue of which he entred, and was poſſeſſed untill the Defendant poſtea, ſcil. anno 6to. ſupradict. ejected him. After Imparlance, the Plaintiff made a ſecond Declaration; and there the Ejectment is ſuppoſed to be 26 Maii, Anno ſupradict. and the Writ being brought of that Ejectment, It was found againſt the Defendant, and Judgment for the Plaintiff: And whether it was erronious, becauſe no day was mentioned in the firſt Declaration, was a Queſtion? It was agreed by the Court, That the firſt Declaration is the principal and material Declaration; and if any matter of ſubſtance be omitted in it, it cannot be helped or amended by the ſecond; for that is but a meer recital: and therefore if the firſt be not good, though the ſecond be good, and the tryal is thereupon, it is erronious: But the Court held in the principal Caſe, the firſt Declaration was good; for he declares of a Leaſe 25 March, 6 Jac. which is the firſt day of the year, and the Poſtea, ſcil. 6 Jac. that the Defendant ejected him, is certain enough; for the year when he made the Ejectment, and the day of Ejectment, is not material, it being before the Action brought: The Judgment was affirmed. Berrell and Smith's Caſe. Hill. 9 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part. 211.

63. Errour of a Judgment in the Common-Pleas in a Second Deliverance; The Errour aſſigned was, That there was not any Writ of Second Deliverance certified; In nullo eſt Erratum pleaded. It was moved, That it was not material, for it is awarded upon the Roll; and the parties appearing and pleading it, is not now material. But it was adjudged to be ill for that cauſe; for there ought to be a Writ, and if it vary from the Declaration in the Replevin, it ſhall be abated: The Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 9 Jac. in B. R. Newman and Mores Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 424.

64. Errour brought of a Judgment in Treſpaſs: The Errour aſſigned was, That at the Niſi Prius one Jury-man appeared; and a Tales de Circumſtantibus was awarded; which was returned, viz. Nomina decem Talium de novo appoſit. and there were 11. names returned, and 11 ſworn. But it was adjudged by all the Judges and Barons, That the Juſtices might award a Tales de Circumſtantibus when one Jury-man onely appeared; and the Tales not to be Decem, or Octo Tales, but generally de Circumſtantibus: and the addition of Decem, in the Retorn was void, and ought to be ſtricken out, and then the Retorn was well enough. Hill. 9 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1111. Denbaughs and Woodley's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 316.

65. In Debt for 800 l. The Plaintiff declared upon a Statute Obligatory ſolvendum upon requeſt; and it appeared to be payable at a certain day. This by the whole Court was holden to be a fault incurable, and not amendable. It was then moved, That the Plaintiff might diſcontinue his Suit, elſe by that ſlip he ſhould be barred of his Bond. But it was holden by the Court, That after a Demurrer, the Plaintiff could not diſcontinue it without Licence of the Court. Hill. 9 Jac. in C. B. rott. 948. Fox and Jakes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 316.

66. Errour was brought by the Son and heir againſt H. B. of a Judgment given by default in Formedon in the Diſcender againſt the Father, of a Meſſuage and Lands in Sunning-Hall in Com. Berks: The Plaintiff aſſigned for Errour, the default of the Warrant of Attorney, who was for the Defendant in the Formedon, viz. Hen. B. pro loco ſuo, Dawley Attornatum ſuum, without putting his name of Baptiſme. It was holden by the Court, That it was not ayded by any Statute, nor amendable. Trin. 11 Jac. rott. 924. B. R. Bartholomew and Belfields Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 332. See 15 Eliz. Dyer. 336. 365. acc.

67. Errour upon a Judgment in Debt, upon an Obligation of 60 l. Oyer being delivered, the Obligation was entred in hac verba, &c. pro ſexaginta, ſexinginta: and upon this variance, Errour was brought, and the ſame aſſigned. But by the Judgment of the Court, the Judgment was affirmed; for it was holden, the Obligation was good, and the words all one by intendment; and therefore amendable. Mich. 11 Jac. B. R. rott. 2073. Marſhaw and Jalle's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 338.

68. In Debt upon Obligation; after Iſſue of Dureſſe pleaded, the Defendant relicta verificatione dicit quod non poteſt decere actionem, nec quin ipſe fuit ſui juris et Scriptum præd. fecit voluntarie: Judgment was for the Plaintiff; and Error brought, becauſe the Entry was non poteſt dicere, where it ought to have been dedicere. It was the Opinion of the Court, That that made all the ſentence vitious and inſenſible, and not amendable: and the Judgment was reverſed. Trin. 10 Jac. in B. R. rott. 1153. Cro. 2. Part. 343.

69. Debt was brought by an Executor againſt the ſon and heir of Redner; the Plaintiff recovered by default in the Common-Pleas: Errour was brought, and aſſigned for Errour, That there wanted a Warrant of Attorney for the Plaintiff: The Warrant of Attorney was certified thus, Chriſtoph. Hilmiles po. loco ſuo J. S. Attornatum ſuum, verſus J. Redner. It was ſaid to be inſufficient, becauſe he was not named Executor, in it: But the Court held it amendable, and the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 4 Jac. in B. R. Sir Chriſtopher Hilliard and Redners Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 135.

70 After Verdict for the Plaintiff, It was moved to ſtay Judgment, That the name of the Sheriff was not endorſed to the Writ of Diſtringas with Niſi Prius. It was ſaid, That this being a Judicial Writ, it was not neceſſary, and might be amended: But all the Court held it was ill, and not amendable, nor helped by the Statutes of 32 H. 8. nor 18 Eliz. and it is all one with the Caſe of Venire facias, where the name of the Sheriff is not thereto; which hath been often adjudged ill, and not amendable; wherefore ruled the Tryal was ill. Mich. 4 Jac. in B. R. Holdeſworth and Sir Stephen Proctors Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 188.

71. Debt upon an Obligation; and demands 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. The Bond was, Noverint, &c. teneri in Viginti. Nobulis; whereupon it was demurred, becauſe Nobulis was of no ſenſe. But upon view of the Dictionary, where Nobilis is ſet down for a Nobleman, as alſo for the ſumme of 6 s. 8 d. It was Reſolved, The Bond was good; and Judgment for the Plaintiff. Hill. 3 Jac. rott. 547. B. R. Matthew and Vaughans Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 203.

72. In Errour in the Exchequer upon a Judgment in B. R. in Treſpaſs. The Errour was, That the Iſſue being tryed by Niſi Prius, the Record was entred in this manner, viz. Ad quem diem, &c. J. S. J. D. &c of the principall pannel came, et jurati exiſtunt et qui reſidui, did not appear, &c. W. N. and J. N. &c. de novo apponantur qui ad veritatem de infra content: electi jurati et triati dicunt ſuper Sacramentum ſuum; omitting the uſual words, ſimul cum aliis Juratoribus prius Impanellat. and for this cauſe it was a Verdict by the Tales onely, and by thoſe with whom they were ſworn. And by the Opinion of all the Judges and Barons, for this cauſe the Judgment was reverſed. Paſch. 6 Jac. in Exchequer. Kempton and Bartel Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 207.

73. In Debt upon a Bond, againſt the heir, the Defendant pleaded Nothing by diſcent, but 15 acres in D. in Com. C. The Plaintiff replyed, The Defendant had more Lands by diſcent, viz. 15 Acres in S. and the Plaintiff had Judgment for the 15 Acres in D. and upon Errour brought, aſſigned for Errour, a Diſcontinuance in the Record of the Plea, from Eaſter Term, to Michaelmaſs Term. It was adjudged, That being after Verdict, it was out of the Statute of 18 Eliz. and not amendable, becauſe the Judgment was not grounded upon the Verdict, but upon the Defendant's confeſſion of Aſſetts onely: and the Verdict was onely to make his Confeſſion the ſtronger; The Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 7 Jac. in B. R. Mollineux and Mollineux Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 236.

74. In Debt upon an Obligation, the Condition was, That if each a one appear in the Kings Bench the next Term following, and put in good baile at the Suit of H. H. That then &c. The Defendant pleaded, That the Term was adjourned to the Caſtle of Hertford, and that he there put in good baile; the Iſſue was, He did not put in good bayl; which was found for the Plaintiff, and Judgment for him. And Errour brought in the Exchequer Chamber, becauſe the Venire facias was, de Vicineto de Hertford, where it ought to have been de Caſtro de Hartford. And it was holden by all the Judges and Barons, to be Errour; for Caſtrum Hartford, is a diſtinct name of a place of it ſelf: and all the Preſidents are, where a thing is alledged to be done apud Caſtrum Ebor. apud Caſtrum Norwich; and for that caſe, it was not amendable, but the Judgment was reverſed. Paſch. 8 Jac. in Exchequer Chamber. Cunningham and Hugh Hares Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 239.

75. Errour to reveaſe a Judgment in Debt, where bayl being entred for the Defendant, Judgment was for the Plaintiff. The Errour was, That the Entry of the bayl was ſub pœna Executionis, in adjudicatione Executionis, whereas it ought to have been ſub pœna Condemnationis. It was moved, That the bayl might be diſcharged; which the Court would not grant; for bayl once taken, ſtands ſtands as well for the Judgment as the Execution, and therefore it was amended, and made ſub pœna Executionis Judicii, as well as for the Execution. Hill. 8 Jac. in B. R. Hampton and Courtney's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 272.

76. Ejectione Firme againſt two: The Declaration was, That the two Defendants Intravit et expulit the Plaintiff: whereas it ought to be Intraverunt et ejecerunt, &c. It was Objected, Not to be amendable, being the point of the Action: But all the Juſtices held it amendable; for it is an apparent Miſpriſion of the Clerk. Mich. 10 Jac. B. R. Oginſells and Derbies Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 306.

77. In a Scire facias upon a Judgment; It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, becauſe the Niſi Prius Roll whereupon the Tryal was, is, That Challenge being made to the Sheriff after Iſſue, and confeſſed; Venire facias was awarded to the Coroners; but the Roll of Niſi Prius was, That the Venire facias was awarded to the Sheriff, and the Diſtringas was awarded to the Sheriff, and thereupon the Tryal had, which cannot be the Venire facias being awarded to the Coroners. But it was holden, (for that this Roll of Niſi Prius is a Miſpriſion, and ought to be warranted by the Record) That it ſhould be amended; and it was amended, and Judgment given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 12 Jac. B. R. Sir Ed. Muſgrave and *Wharton*s Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 353.

78. An Outlawry was reverſed, becauſe the Capias was awarded againſt five, viz. three men, and two women, and ſo the Exigent, the Returne was, Quod ad quartum Comitatum, &c. non comparuerunt, and doth not ſay, nec eorum aliquis comparuit. 2. The Exigent is returned, Ideo per Judicium Coronatorum utlagati ſunt; but doth not ſhew, that there is any Coroner, or his name. 3. Becauſe it was returned, utlagati exiſtunt; where for the Women it ought to have been, waviata exiſtant: And for theſe Cauſes the Outlawry was reverſed. Trin. 12 Jac. rott 15. B. R. Middletons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 358.

79. In an Ejectione Firme; The Diſtringas was, Inter John Fowkes and John Child; and the Writ was ſo; But the Pannel annexed was Entituled, Nomina Jurat. inter Rich. Fowkes, and William Child, and the Jurours were the ſame who were returned upon the Venire facias: and the Truth was, there were two Records of Niſi Prius, the one, Richard Fowkes, and William Child; the other, betwixt Rich. Fowkes, and John Child; and by the Sheriffs miſpriſion, The Pannel which was betwixt Rich. Fowkes and William Child, was annexed to the Writ of Diſtringas betwixt Richard Fowkes and John Child. It was Reſolved by the Court, the ſame was ayded by the Statute of Jeofailes; and it is, as if there had been no Writ at all. Paſch. 14 Jac. in B. R. Fowks and Childs Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 396.

80. In Trover; the party ſuppoſeth, That 3. Maii 14 Jac. he was poſſeſſed of goods, and the ſame day loſt them; and that 4. Maii, Anno 14. ſupradict. they came to the Defendant's hands, and that Poſtea, viz. 1. Maii, Anno 14. ſupradict. he converted them. It was moved, It was not good, becauſe the Converſion is layed to be before the Trover. But it was adjudged, That Poſtea Convertit, is ſufficient, and the viz. was void, and Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. rott. 199. Teſmond and Johnſon's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part. 428.

82. After the Record removed, and Errour aſſigned; Whereas the Entry after the Imparlance was, Ad quem diem venerunt tam prædict. Thomas, quam prædict. Samuel per Attornat. ſuos, et prædict. Thomas Defendant. vim, &c. et dicit non eſt inde culpabilis; and ſo Thomas was miſtaken for Samuel. It was Ordered, That it ſhould be amended; and Preſidents ſhewed, where after the Record removed, and Errour aſſigned, there hath been amendment in the like Caſes, viz. Trin. 12 Jac. rott. 1466. Spray and Parſons Caſe; and ſo Moile and Ewers Caſe. Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. rott. 629. Leeſer and Weſts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 444, 445. See Sir Bernard Greenvill, and Sir Nicholas Smith's Caſe. Mich. 19 Jac. in C. B. Cro. 2. Part. 627. acc.

83. In a Writ of Errour, upon a Judgment in a Writ of Annates, The Errours aſſigned was, That a Jurour was returned upon the Venire, Hugh Maltby; and upon the Diſtringas, Hugh Maltby was returned and ſworn. 2. One John Collingham of Cortlington was returned upon the Venire; and one John Collingham of Gortlington was returned and ſworn upon the Habeas Corpora: And by the Court both theſe were amended; the firſt, becauſe the Jurour came in Court, and was examined, and it appeared, that he was the ſame man; the other was amended, for that the alteration of the name of the Town where the Jurour dwelt, is not material; for he may be Inhabitant of ſuch a Town at the time of the Venire returned, and at the time of the Habeas Corpora, or Diſtringas, he may be Commorant at another Town; The Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 15 Jac. in B. R. Sir Philip Stanhope, and William Stanhope's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 457.

84. A Bill of Treſpaſs was filed, Hill. 18 Jac. For that the Defendant 20. Jan. 17 Jac. did aſſault, beat, and wound his ſervant, per quod ſervitium of his ſervant, per magnum tempus, ſcil. a prædict. 20. March, 17. ſupradict. uſq; primæ Martii, proxime ſequend. perdidit: Judgment upon Nihil dicit was for the Plaintiff, and damages to 10 l. It was moved, That the Plaintiff ſhould not recover, but the Bill ſhould abate; for the loſs of Service is layd to be per magnum tempus, ſcil. à prædict. 20. Martii, 17 Jac. uſq; prim. Martii following, which was in March, 18 Jac. and damages are given for the time of the Action brought. It was Objected, That the Scilicet was not material; like to the Caſe of Teſmond and Johnſon; but the Scilicet was idle, and therefore it was amendable. But the Opinion of the Court was, That in this caſe, the point of the Action was the loſs of his ſervice, which ought to be ſhewed certainly; and if the time certain is not expreſſed, the Declaration is not good: And therefore the (Scil.) and what comes after it, is material; which being ill alledged, the Declaration is not good, and the ſame is not to be amended: Judgment was for the Defendant. Paſch. 19 Jac. in B. R. rott. 128. Hanbury and Irelands Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 618.

Amercements & Fines impoſed in Courts.

1. Amercement what it is; What Courts have power to Amerce or Impoſe a Fine; and by whom Amercements are to be aſſeſſed; and Fines Impoſed; and who are to aſſer them.

1. AMercement, is a ſum which is aſſeſſed upon ſome perſon or perſons in a Court-Baron or other Court, which is not a Court of Record, properly, for ſome treſpaſs or offence: and it is called Miſericordia, in Engliſh, Mercy; for the ſmallneſs of it, which alwayes ought to be leſſe then the Offence; and the ſame is founded upon the Statute of Magna Charta, Cap. 14. which is, Quod Nullus Liber homo amercietur, niſi ſecundum quantitatem delicti, &c. and therefore if an Amercement be unreaſonable, the Law hath provided a Writ for the ſame, which is grounded upon the ſaid Statute; which is called, Moderata Miſericordia, Cook 5. Part. 39, 40, 41. and Cook 11. Part. Godfreys Caſe. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 181, 182. acc. And though Amercements be ordinarily aſſeſſed for defects, or defaults in Inferiour Courts; as Court-Barons, &c. Yet Amercements may be, and uſual are, Aſſeſſed, in the Courts of Records, upon ſundry defaults, made by the Plaintiffs and Defendants, or other perſons; where the Court hath power to Amerce. Ibid.

2. If a man be convicted before the Sheriff in the County-Court in a Writ of Reception, he ſhall be amerced, and render damages for his contempt: But if he be Convicted before the Juſtices in a Court of Record in a Writ of Reception, he ſhall be fined, and not amerced; and therewith agrees the book 39 E. 3. 36. and Cook. 8. Part. Greiſley's Caſe.

3. In perſonal Actions in the Common-Pleas, where there are divers plaintiffs, & they are amerced, in ſuch caſe every Amercement ought to be ſeverally aſſeſſed upon every one of them for his own Offence; and one ought not to be amerced for the Offence of another: For the Nature of the word Miſericordia, is, that a man ſhall not be puniſhed ſo much as he deſerved: and then if he ſhould be amerced for the Offence of another, it were unreaſonable: and when a man is amerced in the Common-Pleas, the Juſtices do not aſſeſſe any ſum upon the perſon; but make their entry in this manner, viz. A. pro falſo Clamore againſt B. in placito, &c. in miſericordia: and he by the equity of the Statute of Weſt. 1. Cap. 18. The uſage in the Court of Common-Pleas, as alſo in the Kings-Bench, and Exchequer is, That the Coroners Aſſeſſe the Amercements, and deliver them to the Clerks of the Aſſizes; who deliver them back to the Clerk of the Warrants, who maketh the Eſtreats; and then one of the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, or the Clerk of the Warrants, goeth with the Rolls of the Eſtreats into the Exchequer, and there puts them before the Barons of the Exchequer. Fitzh. Na. Br. acc. in the Writ of Moderata Miſericordia.

4. In a Replevin; The Caſe was; The Lord of the Mannor of A. had a Leet within his Mannor; And time out of mind there was a Cuſtome, That the Inhabitants and Reſiants within the Mannor, at the Court-Leet holden within the Mannor, within the Moneth next after the Feaſt of St. Michael the Arch-Angel, had uſed to chooſe an able man of the Inhabitants within the Mannor to be Conſtable for the year following; which man ſo choſen, uſed to execute the ſaid Office; and if he were then preſent, he uſed to be ſworn in open Court by the Steward of the Mannor, to execute the ſaid Office: At a Court-Leet holden for the ſaid Mannor, by J. S. Steward of the Court; the Defendant being an Inhabitant within the Mannor, was according to the Cuſtome choſen to be Conſtable of A. within the Leet by the Jurours and Preſentors; and he being preſent in Court, was charged by the Steward to take the Oath of Conſtable; which he refuſed to do, but departed in contempt of the Court; for which the Steward in the the Court ſet a Fine of 5 l. upon the Plaintiff in the Replevin; for which the Defendant as Bayliff of the Lord, diſtrained the Plaintiff's Cattle. And in this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved by the whole Court: 1. If any Contempt or diſturbance to the Court, be committed in any Court of Record, That the Judges may impoſe upon the Offenders a Reaſonable Fine; and a Leet is a Court of Record, in which the Steward is Judge; and for any Contempt done to the Court before him, he may impoſe a Reaſonable Fine. 2. That if a Fine be impoſed by the Steward upon any in a Court-Leet, the ſame is good, although it be not afferred or aſſeſſed by the Jury or Enqueſt; for a Fine impoſed by the Court. But by the Statute of Magna Charta; and Weſt. 1. Cap. 6. Amercements ought to be afferred or taxed, per pares; and therefore in every Caſe where the Plaintiff is Nonſuit, or Judgment given againſt the Defendant, the Juſtices do not aſſeſs any Amercement; but the Entry is, That he being in Miſericordia generally. But if a man be Nonſuit after the Jury are ready to give their Verdict, the Court may cauſe the Amercement to be afferred preſently by the Jurours in Court. 3. That the Amercement of any one who is a Miniſter of Juſtice, or of any Officer who hath the Execution of any of the Kings Writs, ſhall be by the Judges of the Court where the Caſe dependeth; and the ſame is out of the Statute of Magna Charta; and Weſt. 1. for thoſe Statutes extend onely to private men, and not to the Miniſters of Juſtice, whoſe offences are done to the Court it ſelf; and that which is aſſeſſed upon an Officer or Miniſter of the Court, is called Amercement; but that which is aſſeſſed upon a ſtranger for a Miſdemeanour, is called a Fine. 4. That the Lord of the Leet may diſtrain as well for a Fine impoſed by the Steward for a Contempt; as for an Amercement, Et quod Licitum eſt pro minore, pro majore Licitum eſt; and it ſhould be paid to drive the Lord to an Action of Debt, for every ſmall Fine, or pain; but the Lord may diſtrain, and ſell the diſtreſs, or impound it at his election. Cook. 8. Part. 38. Greiſly's Caſe.

5. The Steward of a Court-Leet impoſed a Fine joyntly upon A. B. and C. chief pledges, becauſe they refuſed at the ſaid Court-Leet to preſent, that they ought to pay at every Leet, pro certo Leeto, 10 s. to the Lord. And becauſe the ſame was not paid, the Lord diſtrained, and avowed: And in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. That the Fine ought to have been aſſeſſed upon them ſeverally, and not joyntly, becauſe the refuſal of every of them was ſeveral, and perſonal. 2. That the reaſonableneſs of the Fine ſhould be adjudged by the Juſtices; and if the Fine be exceſſive, the ſame doth not bind for Exceſſus in re qualibet jure reprobatur; as Exceſſive Diſtreſſe, Outragious Aide, and Exceſſive Amercement, is againſt the Common Law: and an Exceſſive Fine at the Will of the Lord, ſhall be taken to be an oppreſſion of the people, and a Copy-holder may deny to pay it; and the reaſonableneſs of the Fine ſhall be determined by the Juſtices. 3. When a Fine is impoſed againſt Law, as joynt, where it ſhould be ſeveral, if it be unreaſonable, it may be avoided by Plea or Judgment of the Court in which the Suit depends, becauſe he hath no other remedy. 4. That the Lord could not diſtrain for Head-ſilver, or Certainty of Leet, becauſe the ſame is againſt right, and for the private of the Lord, the which he could not have without preſcription: and therefore as he ought to preſcribe in the principal, ſcil. the Head-ſilver; ſo he ought in the Diſtreſſe. 5. That for an Amercement in a Court-Baron, the Lord cannot diſtrein without preſcription: But for a Fine or an Amercement in the Leet, a Diſtreſſe is incident of Common right. Cook 11. 2. Where the Plaintiff, or Defendant ſhall be Amerced or Fined, and in what Actions, and for what; And divers Rules concerning Fines and Amercements.

1. A. Brought Debt againſt B. by Quo minus in the Exchequer, and it was found againſt the Plaintiff; and for default of a good Venire, the Judgment was arreſted: And afterwards A. by his Attorney eatred a Retraxit, i. e. fatetur ſe, in Curia hoc ulterius nolle proſequi; upon which, Judgment was given, That the Defendant eat ſine die; but there was no Amercement aſſeſſed upon the Plaintiff: Afterwards for that cauſe, A. brought a Writ of Errour. And it was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the Plaintiff ought to have been amerced; For a Retraxit is a voluntary acknowledgment, that he hath no cauſe of Action; and the ſame is a good barr for ever: and therefore becauſe he was not amerced, it was Errour. And although a man ſhall not aſſign that for Errour which is for his advantage, yet in this caſe the Judgment was not perfect, for the Amercement ought to be parcel of the Judgment; and that for the advantage of the King: and therefore for default thereof, the Judgment was reverſed; Cook 8. Part. 58, 59. Note; In that Caſe divers Rules are put and agreed. Where the Plaintiff, or Defendant ſhall be Fined, or Amerced. Concerning Fines: 1. In all Actions, Quare vi et armis, is Reſcous, Treſpas vi et armis, If Judgment be given againſt the Defendant, he ſhall be Fined and Impriſoned; for to every Fine, Impriſonment is incident: and when the Judgment is, Quod defendens Capiatur, it is as much as to ſay, Capiatur uſq; finem fecit. 2. In a Writ of Deceit upon Recovery by default in a real action, if it be found, the Tenant was not lawfully ſummoned, the Judgment ſhall be, Quod defendens pro falſitate et deceptione Capiatur. 3. If the Defendant plead a falſe Deed to him, or deny his own Deed, if it be found againſt him, or if he, relicta verificatione, confeſſeth the Action, he ſhall be fined; but if he pleadeth the Deed of his Anceſtor, or denyeth it, if it be found againſt him, he ſhall be amerced onely. 4. If the Defendant in a Replevin claimeth property falſly, if it be found againſt him, he ſhall be Fined and Impriſoned. 5. In an Appeal of Death, Robbery, Felony, or Maheime; if the Plaintiff be barred, Nonſuit, or his Writ abate by his own default, he ſhall be Fined and Impriſoned; and ſo in Attaint. 6. If any one uſeth the Countenance of the Court, for double vexation, he ſhall be Fined. 7. For Contempts done to any Court of Record againſt the King's Command by his Writ, the Defendant ſhall be Fined and Impriſoned. 8. In all Caſes, where a thing is forbidden by any Statute, the Offender ſhall be Fined and Impriſoned. 9. In ſome Action the Defendant ſhall be Fined in one Court, and yet but Amerced in another, and yet the Offence ſhall be one: as in a Reception, if it be brought in the Common-Pleas, the Judgment ſhall be, That the Defendant ſhall be Fined and Impriſoned; but if it be before the Sheriff in the County; there he ſhall be onely amerced, becauſe a Court which is not of Record, cannot impoſe a Fine. Concerning Amercements, theſe Rules were agreed; 1. In all Writs of Precipe quod reddat, as Writ of Right, Formedon, Quod permittat, Writ of Cuſtomes and Services, If the Defendant be barred, or he be Nonſuit, or his Writ abate for matter or form, the Defendant ſhall be amerced; and if there be two Defendants, and the Writ abate for the death of one of them, the other ſhall not be amerced. 2. In all Actions perſonal, as Debt, Detinue, &c. without force, and alſo in Actions which comprehend force or deceit by a Court of Record, if the Plaintiff be barred, Nonſuit, or his Writ abate for matter or form, he ſhall be amerced onely; but if the Writ abate by the death of one Plaintiff, or if one appeareth, and the other be Nonſuit, (which in Law is a Nonſuit of both; he who ſurviveth, ſhall not be amerced; but he who appeareth not. 3. In all Judicial proceſs, If the Plaintiff be barred, Nonſuit, or his Writ abate, the Plaintiff ſhall not be amerced, becauſe the proceſs is founded upon a Judgment, and Record; and in thoſe Actions he ſhall not find pledges. 4. In all Actions reall and perſonal, If part be found for the Defendant, and part againſt him; or all, or part againſt one Tenant, and nothing, or part againſt the other, the Defendant or Plaintiff ſhall not be amerced: and therefore in Treſpas of battery againſt husband and wife, ſuppoſing the battery to be done by them both, and the Wife is onely found guilty, yet the Plaintiff ſhall not be amerced. 5. In all Actions real or perſonal, where there is but one Tenant, or Defendant, he ſhall not be twice amerced; but there where there is but one Demandant, or Plaintiff, the Plaintiff may divers times be ameted. 6. Upon Diſcontinuance in reall or perſonal Actions, the Plaintiff ſhall not be amerced, becauſe it is the Act of the Court: and ſo it is when the Court is ouſted of the Juriſdiction. 7. In all Actions reall or perſonal, if the Tenant or Defendant appeareth the firſt day, and tendreth the thing demanded, he ſhall not be amerced, for that he doth what the King commandeth by his Writ: But in all Actions in which the Offence is ſuppoſed with force, or of the Deceit of the Court, if the Defendant at the firſt day confeſſeth the Action, yet he ſhall be Fined and Impriſoned; for his Confeſſion is a manifeſtation, and not a ſatisfaction of the Offence. 8. In all Actions, when a real and perſonal Writ doth abate for want of form, or matter, or the Defendant or Plaintiff, be barred; The Judgment is, Quod Querens nihil Capiat per breve ſuum, ſed ſit in miſericordia, pro falſo Clamore ſuo inde, et prædict. tenens, eat inde ſine die: But if the Defendant or Plaintiff be Nonſuit in any Action; the Judgment is, Ideo Conſideratum eſt quod Querens, et Plegii ſui de proſequend. ſint inde in miſericordia. 9. Some perſons ſhall not be amerced, and therefore they ſhall not find Pledges; as the King, Queen; and ſo it is of Enfant, and therefore they ſhall not find Pledges: But the Entry is, Ideo in miſericordia ſit pardonetur; quia Enfans. Cook. 8. Part. 61. Butcher's Caſe.

2. In a Writ of Entry in the Quibus brought in Wales; the Defendant pleaded; Non deſcivit, and depending the Plea, the Pardon of 35 Eliz. was made, by which all Fines and Amercements, and Contempts were pardoned; and afterwards the Iſſue was found for the Demandant, and Judgment given, but no in Miſericordia quia pardonatur. And upon a Writ of Errour brought, the ſame was aſſigned for Errour. But it was Reſolved, That the Original Cauſe of the Amercement, was the wrong and the Contempt of the Tenant, that he did not render the Land to the Demandant; and the Original Cauſe being pardoned, the Amercement by by Conſequence was pardoned. Mich. 40 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 5. Part. 49. Vaughan's Caſe.

3. Where the Plaintiff upon Nonſuit, or upon a falſe ſuppoſal in his Writ, ſhall be amerced; et è contra: And where the Sheriff ſhall be amerced, for a falſe Returne made; where not.

1. A Writ of Entry in the Quibus in the Nature of an Aſſiſe was brought againſt the Mother, and the Son within age; the Mother by Attorney, and the Son by Guardian plead Non diſſeiſint; and it was found againſt the Mother, That ſhe did diſſeiſe the Demandant, but the ſon did not diſſeiſe him. The Queſtion was, If Judgment ſhould be againſt the Mother, of the Whole; and that the Plaintiff ſhould be amerced pro falſo clamore againſt the Son, or for the moyety onely? And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Judgment ſhould be againſt the Mother for the Whole. Trinit. 14 Eliz. in C. B. Dyer. 312.

2. If an Enfant Plaintiff by his Prochein Amy after his full age maketh an Attorney, and after is Nonſuit, he ſhall be amerced; yet if he had been Nonſuit before his full age, he ſhould not have been amerced, becauſe that he was within age: And ſo was the Opinion of the whole Court. Mich. 17 Eliz. Dyer. 338. See 2 Ma. Dyer. 104. his Nonſuit in a Quare Impedit, is peremptory; and his Sureties ſhall be amerced.

3. A Precipe was brought againſt an Enfant, and pendant the Plea he came of full age. It was adjudged, That he ſhould be amerced for the delay, after his full age. Mich. 15 & 16 Eliz. in C. B. See Cook. 5. Part. 49. in Vaughan's Caſe.

4. A Writ of Errour was brought of a Judgment in Dower; The Record certified the Defendant in Miſericordia; and the Errour intended to be aſſigned was, becauſe the Defendant being an Enfant, and appearing by his Guardian, ought not to be amerced. And thereupon, the Defendant in the Writ of Errour moved in the Common-Pleas, That the ſame might be amended, and made Nihil in miſericordia, quia Enfans: And the Opinion of the Court was, That it ſhould be amended, and made ſo: becauſe an Enfant is not in ſuch caſe to be amerced. And afterwards the Judgment was affirmed in the Kings-Bench. Trin. 11 Car. in B. R. Smith and Smith's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 296

5. A Diſtringas in an Attaint was returnable the firſt day of the Term in the Common-Pleas, ſcil. 15 Paſch. And the Sheriff at the requeſt of the Plaintiff, becauſe Jurours enow did not appear at the day, kept out the Writ, and did not return it untill the Monday following; at which day, the Writ and the Pannel were returned; and the Jurours of the Grand Jury appeared; and both parties prayed the Court, That they would take the Jury. But the Court would not agree to it, but delivered back the Writ to the Sheriff, and Amerced him in 20 l. and diſcharged the Jury. Paſc. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 198.

6. In the City of Glouceſter there are two Sheriffs by their Charter; and one of them was impleaded with two others in a Writ of Entry in le Quibus. And upon the Original Writ the Sheriffs return the Summons of the two, but he returned, He could not ſummon himſelf, being Sheriff: And after Iſſue joyned, and found for the Defendant, this matter was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, It was a Quære, Whether the Sheriff for this Return, ſhould be amerced? And the Opinion of Fitzherbert 18 H. 8. was vouched, That the Sheriff ſhould be Amerced for ſuch a Return. It was not Reſolved. Mich. 9 & 10 Eliz. Dyer. 266.

7. A. had Judgment in Debt againſt B. and by Deed enrolled, aſſigned the ſame to the Queen, in ſatisfaction of a debt due to her, as Collector of Fifteens; Proviſo, That the Lord Trevor and all the Barons of the Exchequer, or any two of them, for any Cauſe reaſonable, diſallow the Aſſignment, and revoke it by writing, then the Aſſignment to be void. Afterwards by a Writ of Prerogative out of the Exchequer, the Lands of B. were extended, and his goods ſeized by the Sheriff by vertue of that Writ, but the Writ was not returned; three of the Barons revoked the Aſſignment after the death of the Teſtator, becauſe the Teſtator had ſatiſied the Queens debt: and now the Executor brought a Scire facias to have Execution of the Judgment: It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Execution for the Queen was good, although the Writ was not returned. And in this caſe it was ſaid and agreed, That in caſe of a common perſon, If the Sheriff by force of a Fieri facias levy the debt, and deliver it to the party, that the Execution is good, without the Return of the Writ; for the Debt was well levied, the Authority which the Sheriff had by the Writ was well executed; and if the Execution ſhould not be good, the Sheriff ſhould not find buyers upon any Execution, which ſhould be a great delay of Executions. But in that caſe it was adjudged,

That if the Sheriff did not return the Writ, that he ſhould be amerced; but the Execution ſhould remain good. Mich. 42 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Cook. 5. Part. 90. Hoes Caſe.

8. A man brought a Quare Impedit, and after Judgment had, a Writ to the Biſhop of N. and at the Alias the Biſhop returned, That after the awarding of the firſt Writ, and before the Receipt of the Alias the Queen had preſented the ſame Defendant by her Letters Patents, who is admitted, inſtituted and Inducted: The Opinion of the Court was, That the Biſhop as well for his Contempt in not returning the firſt Writ, as for his ill return made upon the Alias, ſhould be amerced; and ſo he was Amerced 10 l. and a new Writ awarded to admit the Clerk of the Plaintiff. Trinit. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Moore and the Biſhop of Norwich's Caſe, Goldſbr. 3. & 24.

9. A Proclamation was directed to the Sheriff of C. againſt J. H. and the Writ was returned thus; Tali die ad Comitat. meum, tent. in le Shire-Hall, &c. Proclamationem feci, at eodem die ad generalem Seſſionem, &c. Proclamationem feci, &c. And this matter was pleaded in avoidance of an Outlawry to reverſe it, becauſe thoſe Proclamations were made upon one day; whereas the Writ was, (Tribus ſeparalibus diebus) and for this ill return, he was amerced 40 s. And at another day, the ſame Sheriff was amerced other 40 s. becauſe he had returned divers Writs in Secretary hand. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Goldſbr. 111.

4. Where a Town, or a County ſhall be amerced; and for what Cauſe; and where not.

1. NOte: It was ſaid by the Juſtices, That for the Eſcape of a Murderer, the Townſhip ſhould be amerced for the Eſcape, if it were tempore diurno; although that the Murder was committed in a Field of the Town, or in a By-Lane of the Town. Hill. 4 Eliz. Dyer. 210.

2. The Town of Green in Suſſex was amerced for the Eſcape of a Felon, and the ſaid Amercement was grounded upon an Inquiſition taken before the Coroner, by whom the Eſcape was found. It was moved, That there was not any Eſcape found, for which the Town ought to be amerced: For it was found, That he who eſcaped 10. die Januarii, 30 Eliz. Circa horam quartam poſt meridiem, with a Pitch-fork ſtruck one A. who of the ſaid ſtroke dyed at 8. in the Evening of the ſame day; and that then the other Eſcaped; for which Eſcape being made in the Night, the Town by Law ought not to be amerced: for it is not Felony till the party dyeth. Wray, Chief Juſtice, ſaid, it ſhould be hard, that the Town ſhould be amerced upon this matter; for although the Town in diſcretion might have ſtayed the Offender before the death of the party; yet it was not bound ſo to do. The Court took time to adviſe of the Caſe. Paſch. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Leonard. 1. Part. 107.

3. At the Common-Law, If one be ſlain in a Town by day, viz. ſo long as there is full day-light; and the Murderer eſcape; The Town where the Felony was committed, ſhall be amerced for the Eſcape; but if ſuch a Murder or Manſlaughter be committed in the Night, the Town by the Common-Law ſhall not be amerced; for no Lacheſſe can be attributed to them. Cook. 7. Part. 4. Milburn's Caſe.

5. Of Amercements in Inferiour Courts; as the County Court, Leet, Court-Barons; Where the Lord may preſcribe for ſuch Amercements; Where diſtrain and Avow for them: and where Damages and Coſts ſhall be given for them; who ſhall afferre them: and what remedy is given if ſuch Amercements be exceſſive, or outragious.

1. IF a Jury, or a Leet tax an Amercement, it ſufficeth without any affeerment; for the affeerment may be well done per totum Homagium, as well as by ſpeciall Afferrors; becauſe the Amercement is the Act of the Court, and the Affeerment the Act of the Jurours, 10 E. 3. 9. & 10. Cook. 8. Part. 40. Greiſleys Caſe.

2. If a man be Nonſuit in an Action, and Amerced, the Land onely which he had at the time of the Amercement, ſhall be charged, and not that which he had at the time of the finding of the Pledges: For the Amercement is not in regard of the Land; but for want of proſecution, which was a default in his perſon: But the Iſſues of Jurours ſhall be levied upon the Feoffee of the Lands, albeit they were not loſt before the Feoffment, becauſe he was returned and ſworn in reſpect of the Land. Cook. Inſtitutes. 102. 2.

3. In a Replevin, the Defendant made Comſans as Bayliff to Sir J. S for that he was ſeiſed in Fee of the Mannor of S. whereof a great Waſte, called Kins-Moore was parcel, and that he, and and all thoſe whoſe Eſtates, &c. had uſed to have a Court to be holden every year by the Steward of the ſaid Mannor; in which Court upon reaſonable Summons, all Commoners within the ſaid Common uſed to repair and appear, or elſe to be amerced; and that there was a Cuſtome within the ſaid Mannor, That the Steward ſhould out of the Commoners chooſe a Jury to enquire of all prepreſſures, and Miſeaſors within the ſaid Common, and had uſed to make Ordinances concerning the well uſing of the Common; and all thoſe that had Common, uſed to be obedient to ſuch Ordinances, under a reaſonable pain to be ſet by the Jurours: for which pains forfeited, the Lord uſed to diſtrain: and that at ſuch a Court a By-Law was made, whereby it was Ordered, That no Commoner ſhould keep any Sheep in the Bounds below the Meer, under the pain of 3 s. 4 d. and for keeping Sheep againſt the ſaid Ordinance, and the penalty forfeited, the diſtreſs was taken: The Plaintiff Demurred upon the Conuſans; & Judgment was given for the Avowant: and thereupon Errour was brought. It was ſaid, It was no good By-Law to bind one for his Inheritance. But the Court held, That the Ordinance by Cuſtome for the Government of the Common was good; and being proclaimed in Court, the Plaintiff being a Commoner, was bound to take notice of it: But the great Queſtion in the Caſe was, Whether in this Caſe Damages and Coſts ought to be given to him who juſtifies a Diſtreſs as Bayliff, being adjuged for him? or, whether the giving of them was Errour? And the better Opinion of the Court was, That the giving of the Coſts and Damages was no Errour; and that the ſame was within the Statute of 7 H. 8. Cap. 4. within the word Cuſtome, for that he diſtrained for a Duty grounded upon a Cuſtome; and that Damages and Coſts are recoverable as well by the Statute of 7 H. 8. as by the Statute of 21 H. 8. Cap. 9. which adds, That the Avowant for Damage Feſant ſhall have Coſts. But if the Lord diſtrains for Relief, or pro valore Maritagii, as he may, for that they be not Services and Cuſtomes, but flowes or fruit fallen from them. But Quære of the Caſe for Relief, becauſe they are in the nature of Services. And M. 44 & 45, It was Shetherd and Mackworth's Caſe, where the Bayliff of the Lord Berkley diſtrained for Relief; and the Queſtion was, becauſe the Lord had been in Ward to the Queen by reaſon of other Lands holden of her in Capite, Whether the Heir ſhould pay Relief to the other Lords at his full age? And adjudged he ſhould: and there damages was given by the Jury to the Avowant. Hill. 11 Car. rott. 753. in B. R. James and Turneys Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 357. & 383

4. In Treſpaſs, for taking of a Bullock and ſelling it; the Defendant Juſtified, becauſe at the Sheriff's Turne the Plaintiff was preſented for not appearing at the Turn, being debito modo ſummonitus, and amerced by the Jury, which was afferred by four of the Jury at 40 s. and after at the next Seſſions of the Peace it was certified and ratified by the Juſtices of the Peace: whereupon the Steward made a Warrant to him to levy the 40 ſhillings; and he took the Bullock and ſold it: upon which Plea, the Plaintiff demurred; and Exceptions was taken to the Plea, becauſe the Amercement is alledged to be made by the Jury, and afferred by four of the Jurours; whereas it ought alwayes to be aſſeſſed by the Court: for it is a Judicial Act, and ſhall be afferred by Afferrors appointed: Alſo for that the Amercement was levied by the Defendant as Bayliff, by Warrant from the Steward of the Court; whereas, by the Statute of 1 E. 4. it is expreſſly appointed, That no Fine or Amercement in the Turn ſhall be levied, unleſs it be certified at the next Seſſions of the Juſtices by Indenture, and inrolled there, and by proceſs made from the Juſtices of the Peace of the Seſſions to the Sheriff; and none of theſe Circumſtances were obſerved in this Caſe: wherefore the levying of the Amercement by Warrant from the Steward was not good. And of that Opinion was the whole Court: and thereupon it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 8 Car. in B. R. Griffith and Biddles Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 200.

5. In Treſpaſs; the Defendant juſtified, That the Plaintiff was a common Baker dwelling in T. in the County of N. and that it was preſented in a Leet in T. that he had ſold bread againſt the Aſſize in locis vicinis; whereupon he was Amerced; and by amercement afferred to 10 s. and that by a Precept out of the Court he did diſtrain the Plaintiff. And in this caſe, The Court gave Judgment for the Plaintiff, becauſe it did not appear that the Offence was committed within the Juriſdiction of the Leet; which ſhall not be preſumed to be, unleſs it be ſpecially pleaded: and that in this Caſe the Plea was abſurd: For it was ſaid, That he was amerced without ſaying (What) and that the Amercement was afferred to 10 s. for which he diſtrained: Now the Jury muſt amerce to a certain ſumme which may be mitigated and afferred by others. Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 153. Wilton and Hardingham's Caſe. Hob. 129.

6. In a Replevin, the Defendant did avow as Farmor of the Manor of B. in the County of B. to St. John's Colledge in Oxford; and layd a Preſcription in him and his Farmors, to diſtrain for all Amercements in the Court of the ſaid Manno: and ſhewed, that the Plaintiff in the Replevin was preſented by the Homage, for not repair-ng a house being a Customary Tenant of the Mannor according to a Fine imposed upon him at a former Court, for which he was amerced by the Steward to 10 s. and at the same Court he was amerced for not ringing his Hoggs, to 3 s. 4 d. for which Amercements he did distrain: And upon Nihil dicit, Judgment was given for the Avowant to have Retorne: and Errour was brought; and the Errour assigned was, That there was not any prescription layd in the Avowry, for the Lord to amerce the Tenants, and of common right he cannot do it: and such Amercement should be Extortion, for the Lord cannot be his own Judge; and therefore he ought to enable himself to distrain by Prescription: Also the Fine is layd to be assessed by the Steward; whereas it ought to be by the Suitors; for they are Judges, and not the Steward. It was holden by the Court, That the Steward may assess a Fine for a Contempt; but not amercements, if not by Prescription. And 2. It was holden, That the Lord of a Mannor cannot assesse an Amercement for a Trespass done to himself upon his Lands; but otherwise it is of a Common Trespass done in the Land of another; but for a Distress he ought to prescribe. The Judgment was Reversed. Mich. 32 & 33 Eliz. in B. R. Blunt and Whittoms Case. Leon. 242.

7. Errour of a Judgment in B. R. in Trespass; Whereas the Plaintiff was Nonsuited in Trespass Evidence; The Judgment is entred, Quod Querens et plegii sui sint in misericordia pro falso Clamore suo: whereas it ought to have been Qui non prosecuti sunt; for it ought not to be pro falso clamore; but where it is after Verdict, or Judgment upon Demurrer: and for that cause the Judgment was reversed. Hill. 3 Jac. Rott. 606. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part. 213.

8. Errour was brought to reverse an Amercement, which was afferred in a Court-Leet; the Errour assigned was, That it was an unreasonable Amercement: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That after an Amercement is once afferred; it cannot be reversed for Errour in the unreasonableness of it: and that no Writ of Moderata misericordia lyeth in such case. Trinit. 7 Jac. B. R. rott. 963. Stubbs and Flowers Case, Bastrod. 1. Part. 125.

Annuity.

1. Annuity what it is; And where, and in what Case a Writ of Annuity lyeth: and where it shall charge the person of the grantor: And where it shall be a Rent, or Annuity at the Election of the Grantee, and by his Act.

1. AN Annuity is a yearly payment of a certain sum of money, granted to another in Fee, for life, or years, charging the person of the Grantor onely, which doth not enure to the Grantee onely, for his heir, and his and their Grantee shall and may have a Writ of Annuity against the Grantor, if the same be behind and unpaid. Cook 1. Part. Institut. 144. But if a Rent be granted to a man and his heirs, he shall not have a Writ of Annuity against the heir of the Grantor; albeit he hath Assets by discent, unless the Grant be for him and his heirs. Ibid.

2. If a man grant a yearly Rent for life, for years, or in Fee, and doth not express in the Grant, that it shall be taken out of any Lands or Tenements, nor any Distress is granted for non-payment of it, then it is merely taken for an Annuity; and the Grantee shall not have any remedy for the same but a Writ of Annuity. Fitzh. Nat. Br. acc.

3. An Annuity was granted for years, which was behind and not paid; The Grantee brought an Action of Debt for the Arrearages: Upon Nihil debet pleaded, Issue was joyned; and it was found for the Plaintiff. The Defendant moved in Arrest of Judgment, That Debt did not lye for the Arrearages, but he ought to have brought a Writ of Annuity, because it was for the Arrearages of an Annuity: which yet continued. And of that Opinion was the whole Court, and the Judgment was stayed. Mich. 1649. Tindal and Harrington's Case. in B. R. Styles. 162. See Cook. Hill. 29 Eliz. in C. B. 4. Part. in Oxnell's Case, a difference is put betwixt a Rent, and an Annuity, scil. that for an Annuity, an Action of Debt may be brought for the Arrearages, although the Annuity continue: As, if a Parson or Prebend have an Annuity, and the Annuity is behind, and the Parson or Prebend resign, he shall have an Action of Debt for the Arrearages: But in case of a Rent, when when the ſame continueth of any eſtate of Inheritance, or Freehold, there by the Common-Law no Action of Debt did lye for the Arrearages. Cook. 4. Part. 49. Ognells Caſe.

4. If the Grantee of a Rent-Charge purchaſe parcel of the Land, he cannot afterwards maintain a Writ of Annuity, becauſe the Rent is extinct; but if the Rent determineth by the Act of God, or by the Act of the Law, there he ſhall have a Writ of Annuity, quia actus Legis non facit injuriam. Cook. 2. Part. 36. Fulwood and Wards Caſe.

5. An Abbot with the aſſent of his Covent granted for them and their Succeſſours to a man and his heirs, to find one of his Monks to ſay Maſs every Holy-day in ſuch a Chappel; and further granted, That toties quoties fuerit defectus in aliquo, that they would forfeit to him and his heirs 5 l. And the Queſtion was, Whether in this Caſe, Debt did lye for the heir, or a Writ of Annuity: The Opinion of the Court was, That in this caſe a Writ of Annuity did not lye, becauſe the thing granted was not annual: And yet the Court held, That a man might have a Writ of Annuity; for a Rent granted every ſecond or third year. Mich. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 24. but in ſuch caſe an Action of debt lyeth for the heir.

6. If a Rent-charge be granted for life, Proviſo quod non onerabit perſonam; If the Grantee dyeth, Debt lyeth by the Executors of the Grantee againſt the Grantor, for otherwiſe they ſhould be without remedy. Cook. 6. Part. 41. in Sir Anthony Mildmay's Caſe.

7. Sis Giles Capell, by his Deed granted an Annuity to one Barton for the Term of his life, out of all his Lands in Potters-Hall in Com. H. Et ſi contingat prædict. annuitatem aretro fore, &c. quod huic bene licuerit B. in Tenementis prædict. tam pro prædict. annuitate, quam pro 6 s. 8 d. nomine pœnæ toties quoties diſtringere; and there was no word of Grant in the penalty; The Annuity was behind for divers years: and for the Arrearages, and alſo the penalty, the Executors of B. brought Debt againſt the Executors of Sir Giles; and declared upon that Grant, virtute cujus, the Grantee was ſeiſed in Dominico ut de Libero ſuo Tenemento. The Defendant pleaded, That there was not any ſuch place called Potters-Hall: Upon which the Plaintiff demurred in Law. It was agreed by the Juſtices in this Caſe, That for the penalty no Action of Debt did lye; becauſe the perſon of the Grantor was not charged with it: But it was agreed, That if a Rent-charge be granted for life with a Proviſo, That it ſhall not extend to charge the perſon by a Writ of Annuity; yet after the Eſtate determined for the Arrearages, the Executors of the Grantee ſhould have an Action of Debt. Hill. 6 Eliz. Dyer. 227. Sir Giles Capell's Caſe.

8. If a man granteth a Rent by Deed out of certain Lands, there to charge the Land it is remedileſs; but the Grantee may charge the perſon of the Grantor in a Writ of Annuity: & if he addeth a Proviſo to it, That it ſhall not charge the perſon of the Grantor, it is void, if he doth not give him ſeiſin upon the Delivery of the Deed, for that ſuch a Proviſo taketh away all his remedy. Cook. 6. Part. 58. in Bredimans Caſe.

9. William Ward being Tenant for years determinable upon the life of Tho: Lord Pagett, of a Barn and certain Tythes in Stretton in Com. W. granted a Rent of 10 l. per ann. by his Deed dated 30. Junii, 29 Eliz. out of the ſaid Barn and Tythes to Fulwood for 15 years, with clauſe of Diſtreſs: Afterwards 32 Eliz. the Lord Pagett dyed: In that caſe it was adjudged, That a Writ of Annuity was maintainable for the Arrearages after the death of the Lord Pagett; for in ſuch caſe there was not Election given to have any one of two things, but to have one ſumme in one degree as a Rent, or in another as an Annuity: and therefore preſently by the Grant, the thing veſted in the Grantee, and his Election did remain, either to make it a Rent-thing to charge the Land, or a perſonal thing to charge the perſon in a Writ of Annuity. And in that Caſe it was alſo adjudged, That by the death of the Lord Pagett, the Rent was not determined. Cook. 2. Part. 37. Fulwood and Wards Caſe. Vouched in Cook. 2. Part. 37. in Sir Rowland Heyward's Caſe.

10. A Rent-Charge was granted to a Femeſole and her heirs, without words for the Grantor and his heirs; The husband and wife brought a Writ of Annuity and declared, and were Non-ſuit; and afterwards the husband and wife were divorced Cauſa adulterii, the Rent was behind, the wife diſtrained for the Arrearages. In that caſe it was holden, That the Declaration by the husband and Wife was an Election to make it an Annuity, and not a Rent-Charge; and that the Declaration of the husband had prejudiced the wife in her Inheritance; for if the husband had not declared, it ſhould have been a Rent in Fee to the Wife; but being turned into an Annuity, ſhe had but an Eſtate for life. And in that Caſe it was holden, That Debt did lye, or ſhe might diſtrain for the Arrearages. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Richardſon's Caſe adjudged.

11. In a Writ of Annuity the Plaintiff declared, That whereas the King by his Letters Patents had granted to the Defendants certain Priviledges and Licences concerning the making of Allome within this Realm, that for the Counſel given by him before to the Defendants, he being a Counſellour at Law, concerning the drawing of the Letters Patents, as for his Counſel to be given afterwards, granted to him an annual ſum of 40 l. for 26 years; The Defendants plead, That the King granted to them the ſole making of Allome, and confeſs the Annuity to be granted to the Plaintiff by Deed Indented, but ſay, that the Annuity was granted percipiend. extra clara Lucra et proficua, which accrued to them by the making of Allome; and averred, That no cleer gains or profits accrued to them by the making of Allome ſince the making of the ſaid Indenture; upon which the Plaintiff did demur in Law: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for it is a good grant of an Annuity to charge their perſons. Trin. 17. Jac. Intr. Mich. 16 Jac. in C. B. rott. 3339. Smith and Sir John Bowcher and Jones Caſe. Hutton 33. See Hob. 248. the ſame Caſe.

12. One granted a Rent out of Land to a man and his heirs, without ſaying pro ſe et heredibus; the Grantor dyed, and the Grantee brought a Writ of Annuity againſt the heir of the Grantor, who appeared, and imparled till the next Term; and then the Plaintiff diſcontinued his Suit, and then diſtrained, and avowed, and then the Plaintiff in the Replevin pleaded the Writ of Annuity in barr: whereupon it was demurred: And it was adjudged for the Grantee; for the perſon of the heir was not chargeable, and therefore the Election was void and none in Law; and therefore per Curiam, though they had proceeded to Judgment in the Writ of Annuity, yet the Land might ſtill have been charged: But in that caſe it was ſaid, If the Writ of Annuity had been brought againſt the Grantor himſelf, it would have bound for ever, and ſo it would have turned the Rent-Charge in Fee-ſimple into an Annuity onely for the life of the Grantor Mich. 17 & 18 Eliz. Dyer. 344. See Foſter and Jackſon's Caſe. Trin. 10 Jac. Hob. 58. acc.

13. An Annuity is granted to a Woman for life, who afterwards marries; the Arrearages of the Annuity incurr, and the wife dyes; whereby the Annuity is determined: It was adjudged, That the husband ſhould have an Action of Debt at the Common-Law; for an Annuity is more then a thing in Action, and may be granted over. And it was agreed by the Court in this Caſe, That if a man grant an Annuity out of Land in which he hath no Intereſt, yet it is a good Annuity to charge the perſon of the Grantor, in a Writ of Annuity. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in C. B. Owen. 3.

2. Where by Eviction of the Land, an Annuity or Rent granted out of the Land ſhall ceaſe, and be Extinct; and where not.

1. IF a man grant an Annuity pro una acra terræ, this is a Condition; and if the Land be evicted, the Annuity ſhall ceaſe: But if a man maketh a Leaſe for life of one Acre for another Acre, if the Acre be evicted, yet the Leſſor ſhall not enter, becauſe in that caſe the Eſtate is executed; but in the other Caſe, the Annuity is onely executory. Cook. Inſtitutes 204 and it is like the Caſe, if a Woman give Lands to a man and his heirs Cauſa Matrimonii prælocuti; If ſhe marry him; or if he refuſe to marry her, the woman ſhal have the Land again to her and her heirs: But if a man giveth Land to a Woman Cauſa Matrimonii prælocuti; there although the marriage takes effect, or ſhe refuſe, the man ſhall not have his Land again; for in the one Caſe it is executory; and in the other, executed. Cook. Litt. 204.

2. If Tenant for life of another man by his Deed granteth a Rent-Charge to one for 21 years, and Ceſtuy que vie, dyeth, thereby the Rent-charge is determined; and yet the Grantee may have during the years a Writ of Annuity for the Arrearages incurred after the death of Ceſtuy que vie, becauſe the Rent-charge did determine by the Act of God; and ſo it is, If Land, out of which a Rent-charge is granted, be recovered by Eigne title, the Rent-charge is determined; yet the Grantee ſhall have a Writ of Annuity, for that the Rent is avoided by Courſe of Law. See wards Caſe, Cook. 2. Part. 36. in Heyward's Caſe. acc.

3. Where

3. Where Annuity granted pro Conſilio, &c. or for the executing of an Office, is good; For what Cauſe it ſhall determine, and what not; And where the Fee ſhall remain, though the Office be determined et è contra. And where ſuch an Annuity may be forfeited; or granted over; where not.

1. IN a Replevin, the Defendant avowed for a Rent-charge which was granted to him pro Conſilio impendendo. The Plaintiff in barr of the Avowry pleaded, That the Defendant was attainted of Treaſon, and was committed to the Tower; and that the Grantor had buſineſs to uſe his Councel, and could not be admitted to him: and upon Demurrer, It was adjudged, That the Avowant ſhould have the Rent; and the Defendant in ſuch Caſe may give Counſel when he is in priſon, as when he is at large. 2. It was agreed in that caſe, That ſuch a Rent ſhall not be forfeited by Attainder; nor can it be granted over. 6 H. 8. Dyer. 2.

2. The Parſon of Boſworth granted an Annuity out of his Rectory of B. to J. S. and his Aſſigns for the life of the Grantor, and the Grant was pro Conſilio impenſo. J. S. granted it over to a Stranger, who for Arrearages incurred after the Grant, brought a Writ of Annuity; and therein declared, That J. S. was ſeiſed in Dominico decimo ſuo ut de Libero tenemento. It was a Quære, Whether it were aſſignable over? and whether Annuity did lye firſt, becauſe the Defendant in his Count, had counted, that he was ſeiſed in his Demean as of Free-hold; and ſo determined his Election to have it as a Rent-ſeck. See Cook. Inſtitutes 144. it is aſſignable over: and ſee Cook. 2. Part. the Election is determined to have it as a Rent, in Sir Rowland Hayward's Caſe.

3. An Annuity was granted to an Attorney pro Conſilio impenſo et impendendo; and there being a difference betwixt the Grantor and a Stranger, he was of Councel with the Adverſary of the Grantor, not being requeſted to give Counſel to the Grantor. In that Caſe it was adjudged, That the Annuity was not gone, nor determined. Paſch. 22 Eliz. Dyer. 369. Plomers Caſe.

4. A Writ of Annuity was brought for an Annuity granted for the exerciſing of the Office of a Steward; and after Recovery had in the Writ of Annuity, the ſame was behind again; and thereupon the Grantee brought a Scire facias upon the firſt Judgment. The Defendant pleaded in barr, That, depending the Writ, the Plaintiff, although requeſted, had refuſed to execute the Office of Steward, viz. to hold a Court. It was adjudged to be a good Plea; for that when he refuſeth to hold a Court, the Annuity ceaſeth; and then if Arrearages be behind, he ſhall have Debt onely for the Arrearages. Trinit. 25 Eliz. Dyer. 377.

5. A Writ of Annuity was brought for an Annuity granted pro Conſilio impenſo, et impendendo. The Defendant pleaded in barr, That he carried a Bill to the Plaintiff, to have him ſet his hand to it; and becauſe he refuſed, he detained the Annuity. It was holden by the whole Court, to be no Plea; for the Counſellour is bound to give his advice, but he is not bounden to ſet his hand to every Bill, for that may be inconvenient for him. Paſch. 16 Jac. in B. R. Mingies Caſe. Popham 135.

6. A Writ of Annuity was brought for the Arrearages of an Annuity of 20 l. per annum granted to the Plaintiff by the Defendant pro Conſilio impenſo et impendendo. The Defendant pleaded, That before any Arrearages incurred, he required the Plaintiff to do him ſervice, and he refuſed. The Plaintiff Replyed, That before the Refuſal, ſuch a day and place the Defendant diſcharged the Plaintiff of his ſervice. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Plea in barr was not good; for that he ought to have ſhewed for what manner of ſervice the Plaintiff was retained, and for what kind of ſervice the Annuity was granted; and then to have ſhewed ſpecially, what ſervice he required of the Plaintiff; and what ſervice the Plaintiff refuſed. It was further moved in this Caſe, If the diſcharge were an abſolute diſcharge of the Plaintiff, of the ſervice and of his attendance, ſo as afterwards the Defendant could not require ſervice of the Plaintiff? And the better Opinion of the Court was, That becauſe the Plaintiff had the Annuity for his life, it was reaſon, that he continue his ſervice for his life, as long as the Annuity doth continue, if he be required: But in caſe where one is retained but for one or two years; there, he once diſcharged, it is peremptory and abſolute. Mich. 32 & 33 Eliz. in C. B. Bigſhaw and the Earl of Shrewsbury's Caſe. Leon. 209.

7. A. granted the Office of Stewardſhip of a Mannor to B. for life, with a Fee of 40 s. for the exerciſe of the ſaid Office; Afterwards the Grantor by Deed reciting, That whereas the ſaid B. had, and held, the Office of Steward for his life, he granted the Reverſion of the ſaid Office by name of reverſion after the death of the firſt Grantee, una cum feodo of 40 s. pro exercitio Off. præ-

diſt. the ſecond Grantee held Courts; and for arrearages, diſtrained and avowed. It was in that caſe adjudged, That the ſecond Grant was void, becauſe there was no reverſion of it: and alſo the grant of the Fee was void; for that it was an executory recompence for the execution of an Office. Paſch. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 259. Sir John Savage's Caſe.

8. Husband and Wife ſeiſed of a Mannor, to them and the heirs of the husband; The Husband granted the Stewardſhip of the ſaid Mannor to the Father for life, and by the ſame Deed, granted the ſame to the Son for life after the death of the Father, and granted a Rent-charge to them both joyntly, for the exerciſe of the ſaid Office of Steward out of the Mannor; the Father exerciſed the Office; the Rent is behind, the Grantor dyed, and his Wife ſurvived him; the Father dyed; The Wife granted a Copy-hold which was eſcheated to a ſtranger for life; the ſon diſtrained in the Copyhold, for the arrearages of the Rent incurred in the life of the Father, and avowed; the Copyholder pleaded all the matter in barr. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Diſtreſs and Avowry was maintainable, and that the Copy-holder ſhould hold the Copyhold charged: But in that Caſe, it was agreed, That the Son ſhould be driven to ſhew that he had exerciſed the Office of Steward after the death of his Father; for if he doth not ſo, the Annuity and Rent is determinable, and not diſtrainable, &c. But Debt ſhould lye for the Arrearages onely. Hill. 10 Eliz. Dyer. 270. Walton's Caſe.

9. Note: It was holden by all the Juſtices, That a man may retain one to be Steward of his Courts for a time, as for a year or more, and that he ſhall have ſo much for his pains; and the ſame ſhall be good without a Deed; and if he keep the Courts, he ſhall have Debt for his Sallary againſt the Lord; But he ſhall not have or maintain a Writ of Annuity without a Deed of the Office; and a Steward may be retained without Deed. Hill. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 248. See Trin. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Harris and Fayes Caſe. Cook. 4. Part. 30. adjudged acc.

10. A Biſhop granted the Stewardſhip of a Mannor to one for life, and a Fee of 40 s. for the exerciſe of the Office percipiend. out of the Mannor of D. The Plaintiff brought an Annuity againſt the Succeſſour, and ſhewed that he kept Courts, but averred not the Ingroſſing of the Roll; and afterwards the Biſhop diſcharged him. It was holden in that Caſe, That the Plaintiff ought to render his ſervice to every Succeſſour; for it is Iſſuable, the Succeſſour non exoneravit eum. Hill. 4 & 5 Ma. Dyer. 156, 157. Lucas's Caſe.

11. A Biſhop after the Statute of 1 Eliz. granted the Office of Surveyor of all his Manor-Lands, &c. to J. S. & J. D. for their lives, and granted a Fee of 20 nobles to them for the execution of the ſame, with clauſe of Diſtreſs for the ſame, if it were behind and demanded; which Grant was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter: and in a Replevin the Defendant ſhewed all this matter, and avowed the diſtreſs for the Arrearages; and averred, the ſaid Office was an ancient Office, and that the ſaid Office with the Fee were grantable by the Biſhop and his Predeceſſours tali perſonæ et perſonis quibus ſibi placuerit: and that the Rent was behind, and for default of payment he avowed; and upon pleading of the Statute of 1 Eliz. in barr of the Avowry, and the Office had been granted but for one life, the Avowant demurred in Law. And it was adjudged, That the Grant of the ſaid Office for two lives, was void againſt the Succeſſour by the Statute of 1 Eliz. And in this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved; 1. That by the Common-Law, ſuch a Grant for two Lives, with the aſſent of the Chapter, had been good, although that it had not been granted for two Lives before. 2. It was Reſolved, That the ſaid Office may be ſaid, belonging to the Biſhoprick; for that the word, belonging, ſhall be taken, for concerning, and although that he himſelf could not exerciſe the ſaid Office, yet he had an Inheritance in the guift and diſpoſition of it. 3. Reſolved, That when an Office is ancient and neceſſary, the grant of the ſame with the Ancient Fee, is no diminution of the old Revenue; and therefore ſuch Grants are exempted out of the reſtraint of the Statute of 1 Eliz. But yet it was Reſolved, That although that ſuch an Office for neceſſity might be granted to one for life, yet of neceſſity it was not to be granted to two, for by ſuch means it might be granted in infinitum, for life, in taile, or in Fee; and therefore ſuch a Grant was reſtrained by the Statute of 1 Eliz. 4. Reſolved, That the grant of any Ancient Office by a Biſhop ſhall not bind his Succeſſour, unleſs it be confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. 5. Reſolved, That if the Biſhop be tranſlated, depoſed, or removed, who made the Grant, that the Grant is void againſt the Succeſſour, although he be alive who makes the Grant. Cook 19. Part. 51. The Biſhop of Salisbury's Caſe.

12. Note: That theſe points were Reſolved for Law in the Earl of Shrewſbury's Caſe. Cook. 9. Part. 46. to 53. 1. That when the King granted to the Earl of Rut'land the Stewardſhip of the Mannors of A. B. & C. although it is not expreſſed in the Patent in what Counties the Mannors lye; yet the grant is good and certain enough: for Manerium de A. B. & C. are certain enough; and in the Letters Patents, there may be divers circumſtances cumſtances to deſcribe what Mannors the King meant, as in whoſe tenure, occupation, poſſeſſion, the value, or the particular; but if a man would plead ſuch a Grant, there in his pleading he ought to alledge the grant of the Mannors in a County certain. 2. Reſolved, Although the King cannot grant an Office from a day to come, as he did in this caſe, ſcil. à tempore plenæ ætatis 21. annorum Comitis Rutland; yet it ſhall be good for the life of the Patentee to begin by the Grant, and void for the time paſt. 3. Reſolved, That although without ſpecial words, a Steward cannot make a Deputy, becauſe it is an Office of skill, knowledg, and diſcretion, and theſe Qualities are ſo individually annexed to him, that he cannot make a Deputy, nor an Aſſignee without ſpecial words. Yet it was Reſolved, That when the King grants to an Earl the Office of Stewardſhip of his Mannors, that he may make a Deputy, in reſpect of the baſeneſs of the Office, and the great reſpect which the Law hath to the perſon of an Earl, who is præfectus, or Præpoſitus Comitatus, and therefore for conveniency he may make a Deputy, although there be not any expreſs words in his Patent; and alſo for neceſſity, for he ſhall be intended to be imployed in the great buſineſs of the Realm, and ſo cannot intend ſuch an inferiour Office. 4. Reſolved, That there are three Cauſes of forfeiture of Offices by matter in fact, Abuſe, Refuſall, Not Uſer. Abuſe, as if the Marſhal or Gaoler do ſuffer voluntary Eſcapes. But it was Reſolved, That the not-Uſer of the Office of Steward in this caſe, was no forfeiture of it, becauſe that this Office is not to be exerciſed but upon demand or requeſt made by him, to whom he is Officer: But the not uſer of Offices, which do concern the Adminiſtration of Juſtice, and which require continual Attendance, as Chamberlain of the Exchequer, Prejgnothory, Clerk of the Market, &c. there the Non uſer of ſuch Offices is a cauſe of forfeiture of them: But the not uſer of any Office is not a forfeiture of it, if his not Attendance be no damage to him to whom he is Officer; as the Keeper of a Park, if he do not attend two dayes, it is no forfeiture; but if by reaſon of his abſence, perſons unknown kill the Deer, there it is a forfeiture. 5. It was Reſolved, That an Action upon the Caſe being brought vi et armis, for the diſturbance of the party in the exerciſing of ſuch an Office, was maintainable. 6. It was Reſolved, That the holding of the Courts, and the taking of the Fees, was a diſturbance; and if any diſturbance be alledged, it is ſufficient, although all the Circumſtances of the diſturbance be not found. Note; In this Caſe, it was ſaid, That if in any former Patent of the ſaid Office, the Patentee had expreſs power to make a Deputy; then the Clauſe in the ſaid grant of the Office of Stewardſhip, una cum omnibus aliis proficiis, juribus, dicto Officio ſpectantibus, &c. et adeo plene et integre, &c. prout aliquis et alii in Offic. prædict. occupant, ſive occupantes, habuit, &c. being applyed to a particular Charter, which hath expreſs authority; the Plaintiff in the principal Caſe, might make a Deputy. Cook. 9. Part. 42. to 53.

4. Where an Annuity is by Preſcription; what remedy for it, and where. And where ſuch an Annuity ſhall be lyable to Charge the Heir, or other perſon; where not.

1. THe Heir ſhall be charged by a Writ of Annuity upon the Grant of the Father, if he hath aſſetts by diſcent from his Father: But a Writ of Annuity ſhall not be maintainable againſt the heir by preſcription, becauſe it cannot be known, whether he hath Aſſetts by diſcent from the ſame Anceſtor, by whom the Annuity was firſt granted: But an Annuity may be by Preſcription; and may be maintained without ſhewing a Deed of it: and therewith agrees the old books of 41 E. 3. & 10 E. 4. 10. Fitzh. Na. Br. 152. b.

2. If a Parſon or a Vicar, have a Penſion out of another Church, and the Penſion is kept from them, or another Parſon taketh and claimeth the ſame; The Parſon or Vicar who ought to have the Penſion, may ſue for the ſame in the Eccleſiaſticall Court; and ſo if a Parſon or Vicar ſue in the Spiritual Court for a Penſion which they or their predeceſſors have had time out of mind: But yet in ſuch Caſe, at the Election of the Parſon or Vicar, they may have and maintain a Writ of Annuity at the Common-Law for the ſame: But if they once ſhew a Writ of Annuity at the Common-Law for the ſame, and declare upon the Preſcription, they ſhall not afterwards ſue in the Spiritual Court for the ſame in the name of a Penſion; and if they do, a Prohibition lyeth: and all this was agreed and adjudged, Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. in Spratt and Nicholſon's Caſe; where the Caſe was, Spratt, ſub-Deacon of Exeter, did Libel in the Spiritual Court againſt Nicholſon, Parſon of A. pro annuali penſione de 30. out of his Parſonage, and ſhewed in his Libel, how that, tam per realem compoſitionem quam per antiquam et Laudabilem Conſuetudinem ipſe, et prædeceſſores ſui habuerunt et habere conſueverunt prædict. annualem penſionem, out of the Parſonage of A. And it was adjudged, That although he claimed the ſame by temporal grounds, viz. by Preſcription and real Compoſition; yet becauſe the parties were both ſpiritual perſons, he had his Election to ſue for the ſame in the Spiritual Court, or in the Temporal Court: And the Statute of 34 H. 8. doth Licence ſpiritual perſons to ſue for Penſions in the Spiritual Court. But in that Caſe it was agreed, That if ſuch a Spiritual perſon, who hath ſuch a Penſion, doth bring a Writ of Annuity for the ſame, (as he well might do) and declare upon the Preſcription, he cannot afterwards ſue for the ſame Annuity, by the name of a Penſion, in the Spiritual Court; and if he doth, that a Prohibition lyeth. See; By all the Juſtices, A Penſion iſſuing out of a Rectory, is the ſame with a Rent. Popham made a Quære, If ſuch a Penſion were demandable in the Spiritual Court? or ſhall be demanded by the Common-Law in the Common-Law Courts? But all the Juſtices held, It might be demanded at the Common-Law: And ſo ſuch a Penſion was demanded in a Writ of Entry; whereupon a Common Recovery was had. Mich. 35 Eliz. Crocker and Dormers Caſe. Popham. 23.

3. The Biſhop of Rocheſter brought a Writ of Annuity againſt the Dean and Chapter of Rocheſter, and declared of an Annuity by Preſcription from the Prior of St. Andrews of Rocheſter; which Priory was diſſolved 28 H. 8 and 31 H. 8. their poſſeſſions were committed by the King to the Dean and Chapter of Rocheſter: The Queſtion was, Whether the Annuity did remain, or not? It was the Opinion of the Lord Anderſon, Chief Juſtice, That the Annuity was gone; for an Annuity charges only the perſon; and then the perſons being the Corporation, being diſſolved, the Annuity is gone: But if there be any thing granted by which the Land is charged, there it continues. If a Priory be charged with an Annuity, the Annuity ſhall continue, although the Priory be changed into an Abbey; and 21 H. 7. an Annuity out of a Parſonage is not a meer perſonal Charge, but chargeth the perſon only in reſpect of the Land: The Court took time to adviſe of the Caſe. Paſch. 38 Eliz. C. B. the Biſhop of Rocheſter's Caſe. Owen. 73.

Appearance.

1. Where an Appearance ſhall be good, and where not. And how it ſhall be tryed.

1. THE Condition of an Obligation was to appear at his Suit in the Kings-Bench; and upon Conditions performed, pleaded, It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the tryal of the appearance ought to have been by the Record, and Not by the Country: It was ſaid, That the tryall was good enough, for it may be he appeared there, and yet there is no Record made thereof. But the Court anſwered, Then it is no Appearance, if it be not Recorded; and the appearance ſhall be tryed by the Record. The Judgment was ſtayed. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Brett and Shepherd's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 67. See Leon. 90. the ſame Caſe more at large.

2. A Priſoner in the Fleet was brought to the Common-Pleas Barr by Habeas Corpus, to the intent to have him appear to an Original in debt brought againſt him: and being demanded, whether he was the ſame party againſt whom the Original was brought; he confeſſed it, but denyed to appear to the Action. It was ſaid by one of the Preignothories, That the Court ought to record his appearance, confeſſing himſelf to be the ſame perſon. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was no Appearance: Wherefore he was remanded to the Fleet. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C.B. Tamworth and Aſcough's Caſe. Goldeſbr. 118.

3. Note; by Glyn, Chief Juſtice, If one come in upon the Exigent, he may appear by his Attorney; but if he come in upon the Outlawry, he muſt appear in his proper perſon, and not by Attorney; and ſo is the conſtant practice of the Common-Pleas, and of this Court alſo. Mich. 1655. B. R. Styles. 465.

4. A Writ of Errour was brought upon a Judgment in a Quid juris clamat, and it was aſſigned for Errour, That the Tenant did appear by Attorney; whereas he ought not but in perſon, becauſe he is to do an Act in proper perſon, if it be not in caſe of neceſſity, where the Attorney may be received by the Kings Writ, or plead in barre of Attornment; as if he claime Fee, &c. or other peremptory matter; after which Plea pleaded, he may make Attorney; and it is not

ſhewed

ſhewed in the Quid juris clamat, what Eſtate the Tenant hath: But the Opinion of the Court was, That becauſe the ſame is admitted by the Court and the Plaintiff. It was holden to be no Errour. See 32 H. 6. 22. and 1 H. 7. 27. by Brian and Conſtby, acc. Mich. 26 & 27 Eliz. in B.R. Leon. 290.

5. Debt was brought upon a Bond, with a Condition, that the Defendant ſhould appear before the King at a certain day, viz. die Jovis poſt Oct. Martini; and upon Nul tiel Record pleaded, the Defendant brought his Record of Appearance, Lunæ poſt 15. Martini: and this was holden by the Court an appearance at the day in the Condition. Mich. 13 Jac. in C. B. Carter and Freeman's Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part. 74.

6. A. brought debt upon an Obligation made to him as Sheriff, with a Condition, That the Defendant ſhould appear. It was ſaid for the Defendant, That he had pleaded his appearance, but had omitted to ſay; as it appeareth by the Record: and that was held not to be good: But the Record being peruſed, it appeared, That the Caſe was, That the Defendant was bound to appear in the Kings-Bench at a day prefixed in the Writ; and the Defendant pleaded, There was no day prefixed in the Writ for his appearance. It was holden by the Court, That that was no plea, for the Defendant was eſtopped: and the Court commanded Judgment to be entred for the Plaintiff. Trin. 4 Jac. in B.R. Andrews and Robbins Caſe. Brown. 1. Part. 81.

7. Note; The Court was moved, upon an Affidavit, That the Defendant might plead and go to tryall, becauſe his Attorney had appeared; and now he ſaith, He is not an Attorney of this Court, and doth refuſe to plead. The Court ſaid, If he hath appeared, and will not plead, enter Judgment againſt his Clyent; and though he hath not appeared, if he did promiſe to appear, we will force him to do it. Where I obſerve, the Court may compell one to appear. Hill. 1649. in B.R. Derwick and Bambers Caſe. Styles 208.

8. In an Ejectione Firmæ againſt Thomas the Father, and John his ſon; the Father appearing by J. S. his Attorney; John by the ſame; J.S. was admitted by the Court his prochyn Amy pro eodem, Johanne ad proſequendum; whereas he ought to have been admitted to plead by his Guardian, ad defendendum et non ad proſequendum; and the ſame was aſſigned for Errour. It was ſaid, That it was no Errour; for that Guardian and Prochyn Amy are both one. But the Opinion of the Court was, That for both Caſes, it was Errour; for that the Defendant Enfant ought alwayes to appear by his Guardian, and not by Prochyn Amy. Fitzh. Na. Br. 27. and that to admit the Defendant ad proſequendum, was prepoſterous, and ill. See Dyer. 104. Trin. 20 Jac. in C.B. Simpſon an Jackſons Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 640, 641.

9. Sir William Read Outlawed upon an Indictment, for not repairing a Bridge, brought Errour, and moved to purſue it by Attorney, and to put in bail, and not to appear in perſon: But it was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That none might aſſign Errour upon an Indictment, but he ought to be in perſon, and put in baile in perſon, it being againſt the Courſe of the Court to do otherwiſe: Wherefore he being 80 years of age, was brought to London in a Horſe-Litter from his houſe, upon mens ſhoulders to the Barre, and there aſſigned Errour, and put in bail to proſecute, &c. Trinit. 19 Jac. in B.R. Sir William Reads Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 616.

2. Appearance of an Enfant and Feme Covert: Where his appearance by Attorney is not good, et è contra; and where he muſt appear by Guardian; and where the appearance of the husband is good for the wife, et è contra. And where one may appear by Attorney; and in what Suit.

1. Judgment was given for Jones, in an Action by him brought in the Common-Pleas againſt Lewes; Lewes brought a Writ of Errour, and aſſigned for Errour, That he was an Enfant at the time of the Action brought againſt him, and that he appeared by Attorney: whereas he ought to appear by Guardian, or Prochyn Amy: The Defendant in avoidance of the Writ of Errour pleaded, That there was no Warrant of Attorney. The Judgment was reverſed for the Errour aforeſaid. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the better way for the Plaintiff, had been to have demurred in Law; for there being no Warrant of Attorney, there was no appearance at all. Paſch. 15 Car. in B.R. Lewes and Jones Caſe.

2. Errour was brought in the Kings-Bench to reverſe a Judgment given in the Common-Pleas; The Errour aſſigned was, That the Action was brought againſt three perſons, one of whom was within age, and they all appeared by Attorney; whereas he within age ought to have appeared by his Guardian: and ſo the Judgment was erroneous as to him, as conſequently to the reſt, becauſe it was a joynt Judgment: And of that Opinion was the Court; for it being a joynt Judgment, if it be naught in part, it is naught in the whole. The Judgment was reverſed. Hill. 1654. in B. R. Bocking and Symons Caſe. Styles 400.

3. A Writ of Errour was brought to reverſe a Judgment given in an Action upon the Caſe againſt two Executors; The Errour was, That one of the Defendants was within age at the time of the Action brought, and did appear, and plead by his Attorney; whereas he ought to have done it by his Guardian. It was ſaid, Where he appears in his own Right, he ought to appear by his Guardian; but where he appears in Autre droit, as he doth here, being an Executor, he may appear by Attorney: and ſo was Drayton's Caſe. 9 Car. But the Opinion of the Court was, That it may be, that the Executor may be charged of his proper goods, and then it is not reaſon but that he ſhould plead by his Guardian; and he is not within the Statute of 21 Jac. for that Statute was made for the Plaintiff, and this is in the caſe of a Defendant, therefore he ſhould have appeared by his Guardian. The Judgment was reverſed, Hill. 1650. rott. 1193. B. R. Weld and Rumney's Caſe. Styles 318.

4. Richard Holland and Margaret his Wife, one of the Daughters and heirs of Sir Robert Langley Knight, and William Danſey and Anne his Wife, the other daughter of the ſaid Sir Robert, brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe a Common Recovery had at Lancaſter, 13 Eliz. in a Writ of Entry ſur diſſiſin in le Poſt, of divers Mannors and Lands, &c. in Alkerington, &c. Wherein the Tenants did vouch Tho. Leigh and Katherine his Wife, who appeared by their Attorney, who entred into warranty, and did vouch the Common vouchee. The Writ of Recovery was certified, and the Plaintiffs aſſigned Errour; For that Katherine was within age at the time of the Appearance of her and her huſband by the ſaid Attorney, and was within the age of 21 years at the time of the Judgment, viz. of the age of 18 years, and no more. And the Queſtion was, (amongſt divers other points) Whether the appearance of the wife within age by Attorney, was Errour or not? It was argued for the Plaintiffs in the Writ of Errour, That the Rule of Law is, That in every Precipe quod reddat wherein Land is demanded, the Tenant ought to appear either in perſon, or by one lawfully authorized by him; and that is the reaſon, that if Judgment be given againſt one by an appearance by an Attorney, where the Attorney hath no Warrant to appear, the ſame is Errour: and the reaſon is, becauſe the Land or thing in demand is loſt, or gained by one who had no Warrant of Attorney: And alſo it is a Rule in Law, That an Infant ſhall not appear by Attorney; as the Books 1 H. 5. 6, 22 H. 6. 31. b. &c. It was Objected, That the husband in this caſe was of full age, and therefore he might make an Attorney for his Wife. But to that it was anſwered, That it is a Rule of Law, That the husband cannot give away, or loſe the Inheritance of his Wife; but it muſt be given and loſt by her ſelf, and her own Act: and therefore the Inheritance in this Caſe being in the wife, ſhe is the principal Owner only to be taken Notice of; and then ſhe ought to appear in ſuch manner as the Law hath appointed in regard of her Non-age; And the Conſtituting of an Attorney is utterly void as to the wife, of which every ſtranger ſhall take advantage of. See 37 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 253. Bartholmew and Hobb's Caſe. Cook. 10. Part. Mary Portingtons Caſe. The Caſe was not adjudged, becauſe one of the Plaintiffs in the Writ of Errour dyed, depending the Suit, Hill. 13 Jac. in B. R. Holland and Jacksons Caſe. Bridgman. 70, 71, 72, 73, 74.

5. A man was Outlawed for Murder, and dyed; his Adminiſtrator brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe the Outlawry. It was prayed, That he might appear by Attorney, and it was granted by the Court, that he might; for the reaſon wherefore the party himſelf was bound to appear in perſon, is, that he may ſtand rectus in Curiâ, and may anſwer to the matter in fait, which fails in this Caſe: and therefore the Adminiſtrator may appear by Attorney. Trinit. 17 Car. in B.R. adjudged acc.

6. A man was Outlawed after Judgment before the general Pardon, 43 Eliz. and after the Pardon dyed; his Executors made ſatisfaction upon Record; and without any proceſs they pleaded the General Pardon, with an averment, That they are not any perſons excepted. In this caſe, it was Reſolved, 1. Although the words in the Proviſo in the Pardon are, (untill ſuch time as the perſon ſo Outlawed ſhall ſatisfie) the ſame is ſuch an Intereſt in the perſon Outlawed, that although that he dyeth after the Pardon, yet his Executors may ſatisfie, and have benefit of the Pardon. 2. Reſolved, Foraſmuch as no Scire facias, nor Capias utlagatum, nor other proceſs lyeth againſt the Executors, they may gratis come in (for neceſſity, without proceſs) and plead the General Pardon, with averment, That they are not any perſons except; and every Subject by himſelf, or by his Attorney, ſhall plead the Act for his or their diſcharge. 5 Jac. in C. B. Cook. 5. Part. 79. Sir Ed. Phittons Caſe.

3. Where

3. Where an Appearance ſhall be good to prevent a forfeiture of Land; where not.

IN an Action of Treſpaſs the Caſe was this; The Defendant being Lord of a Manner, and holding his Court, the Plaintiff being a Tenant, and being in Court; and there being a Queſtion, Whether the Court were then legally holden, or not? and he being asked, If he did appear, or not? He anſwered, If it be a legal Court, I do appear; and if it be not a legal Court, I do not appear. And the Queſtion was, Whether this be an Appearance, or ſuch a refuſal to appear, a Copy-holder ſhall forfeit his Copy-hold, or not? It was Objected, It was no Appearance, and therefore the Copyhold was forfeited, 42 E. 3. 25. acc. and it is dixit Comparuit, which doth not anſwer to the fact alledged: On the other ſide, It was argued to be no forfeiture; for if the Court be well holden, then he doth appear, as his words manifeſt, and ſo there is no Contempt; and if the Court were not well held, his not appearing ſhall not hurt him, for he is not required to do it. Beſides, it doth not appear that the Court was legally ſummoned as it ought to be, nor any Proclamation made for holding the Court, nor any Notice given to the Tenants of it. The Court ſaid, It was a hard thing to make a forfeiture of a Copyhold, If there were a reall Controverſie, whether the Court were well held or not. All the Judges inclined, That it was no forfeiture; but the Caſe was adjourned. Hill. 23 Car. in B.R. rott. 66. Parker and Cooke Caſe. Styles 241.

4. For what Cauſe, after an Appearance, the party ſhall be diſcharged, and where Appearance is peremptory.

1. NOte, It was Reſolved by the whole Court That the Cuſtome of the Court is, That if a man ſueth another for ſuch a ſumme, or thing, for which the Plaintiff ought to have ſpecial bail, and doth not declare againſt him in 3. Terms, That the Defendant being brought to the Barre by Habeas Corpus, ought to be diſcharged upon on Ordinary appearance; and ſo alſo is the practice in the Kings-Bench, Hill. 17 Car. in C. B. adjudged, Rutter's Caſe.

2. Nonſuit after appearance is peremptory; but before Appearance it is not peremptory, becauſe a ſtranger may purchaſe a Writ in the name of him who hath cauſe of Action. Fitzh. Na. Br. 35. Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 139.

3. After Appearance, a Protection cannot be caſt the ſame Term, untill a new continuance be taken. Ibid. 13.

5. Where the Court, in the ſame Term, upon ſpeciall matter ſhewed, may order the Defendants to Appear and Anſwer, without an Imparlance till the next Term.

NOte; It was Ruled this Term, That where a Suit was brought againſt Executors for 2000 l. a juſt Debt; and they had appeared; (upon the motion of the Plaintiff) That the Action being brought againſt them as Executors, that he on purpoſe to defeat the Plaintiff of his debt, would confeſſe Actions to others: The Defendants were Ordered to Anſwer the ſame: For it was holden by all the Juſtices, That upon ſpeciall matter ſhewed, the Court may order the Defendant to appear, and put in his Anſwer the ſame Term; (whereas by the general courſe of the Court, he might Imparle untill the next Term) and ſo adjudged. Trinit, 9 Jac. in B.R. Bolſtrod. 1. Part. 122, 123.

Appeal.

1. What it is; By whom, and againſt whom it may be brought; and when, and in what County to be brought; and for what, as Murder, Manſlaughter, Maheime, &c.

1. AN Appeal, is the violent purſuing of a Subject unto death; and is the niceſt Suit that is, and every ſmall matter will quaſh the ſame, if it be not freſhly purſued; and ſhall in divers Reſpects be taken ſtrictly, in favorem vitæ: and the proceſs in every Appeal is to bear date the ſame day of Return; and if it be but a day after, it will be the diſcontinuance of the proceſs; and the omiſſion of any word in the Writ of Appeal which is material, will abate the Writ; and it doth vary from all other proceedings; for there ſhall be no Amendment of the Writ of Appeal; nor the diſcontinuance of it helped by any Statute. Mich. 8 Jac. in B.R. rott, 407. Bradlly and Banks Caſe, 141 142, 143.

2. The Statute of 31 H. 8. made it Treaſon for a woman to poyſon her husband; A woman poyſoned her husband: Afterwards the Act of 32 H. 8. of General Pardon, pardoned the offence; the heir brought an Appeal of Murder; and it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That now an Appeal of the Murder did not lye for the heir, for that now Murder was turned into Treaſon; and the greater Offence ſhall extinguiſh the leſſer. Mich. 33 H. 8. Dyer. 50. Saccombs Caſe. See Cook. 6. Part. 13. in the Caſe of Pardons. acc. And ſee 7 Eliz. Dyer. 235. where Petty Treaſon is pardoned by a General Pardon; there one who killed his Maſter, was Indicted of Murder, and holden, the Indictment did not lye againſt him: but being found guilty, was Reprieved.

3. An Appeal of Murder was brought againſt Warniford, to anſwer to A. B. alias dict. A.B. fratri et heredi of the dead; but becauſe in that caſe, the Plaintiff in the Appeal was called, and named Brother and heir in the alias dictus; and the aliat dictus is no part of the Name, the Appeal did abate, and the Defendant was diſcharged by the Court. Mich. 33 H. 8. Dyer. 51. Warnifords Caſe. See 33 Eliz. in B. R. Wrote and Wigges Caſe adjudged acc. Cook 4. Part. 45.

4. The ſon and heir brought an Appeal againſt Mary Pigott prediorie, and Eliz. L. felonice, for that they conſpired the death of Rob. Pigott his Father; and that the ſaid Mary proditorie to that purpoſe, and the ſaid Eliz. L. felonice gave him ſuch a kind of poyſon in a poſſet, which he not knowing, drank up, and afterwards within ſuch a time dyed: The Defendants being arraigned in Trinit. Term, 14 Car. pleaded Not guilty. Afterwards in Mich. Term following they were tryed at the Barr, and Mary found guilty, and Elizabeth Not guilty. It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, 1. That there was no Declaration upon the File in the ſaid Mich. Term. And, 2. That there ought to have been ſeveral Venire facias, becauſe they were ſeveral Offenders, and not one Venire facias onely. But the Opinion of the Court was, That in regard the Appeal was arraigned at the Barre in Trinity Term, 14 Car. and the Defendants being at the Barre inſtantly pleaded thereunto, that the ſame was well enough without any other Declaration; but if they had not pleaded the ſame Term, or had pleaded any other plea, than Not-guilty, then the Declaration ought to have been filed. And for the ſecond point, It was agreed by the Court, That the Plaintiff might take out one or ſeveral Venire facias, for doubt of Challenge. See 9 E. 4. 27. and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, That Mary ſhould be burnt to death. Trin. 14 Car. in B. R. Pigott and Pigotts Caſe, Cro. 1. Part. 382, 383.

5. There were 3. Brothers; and the middle brother is killed, the eldeſt brother dyeth within the year; and no Appeal was brought by him: the Queſtion was, Whether the younger brother might maintain an Appeal? It was not Reſolved, but left a Quære. 5 E. 6. Dyer. 69. Bell and Crakenthorps Caſe. See 11 E. 4 11. Stamford. 59. 20 H. 6. 43. by Fortcſcue, that he ſhall not have an Appeal: But ſee 16 H. 7. 15. contrary. Ideo Quære.

6. The Wife brought an Appeal of Murther of her husband againſt divers; and afterward ſhe brought another Appeal againſt others: It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That all the ſaid Appeals but the firſt ſhould abate; for ſhe ought to have had one Appeal againſt them all, and ſhe cannot have two Appeals of death; but ſhe ought to joyn all in one Writ: And if one brings an Appeal of death againſt divers, and all but one makes default; yet the Plaintiff muſt declare againſt them all. Cook 4. Part. 47. Weites Caſe. See there; The Principals and Acceſſories muſt be all joyned in one Appeal.

7. The Brother and Heir brought an Appeal of Murder again J. S. as principal, and J. D. as Acceſſory

ceſſory of the death of his brother. The Principal pleaded Not-guilty, and was found guilty of Manſlaughter, and had his Clergy. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That the Acceſſory was diſcharged, becauſe he could not be acceſſory before the fact in caſe of Manſlaughter. 2. Although the principal was convict, yet forasmuch as he had his Clergy before Judgment; for this caſe it was adjudged, That the Acceſſory ſhould be diſcharged: and ſo it is, where the principal upon his arraignment confeſſeth the Felony, and before Judgment obtains his pardon, the acceſſory thereby is diſcharged. Paſch. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part. 43 Blubes Caſe.

8. The Wife brought an Appeal of the Murder of her husband; The Defendant pleaded, That he himſelf at another time, 8. October, 32 Eliz. by Inquiſition taken before the Coroners of the County of Middleſex, at Shepperton in the ſaid County; It was preſented, That the Defendant 23. Sept 31 Eliz. felloniouſly did ſtrike, &c. whereof he dyed 24. Sept. following, and ſo he was Indicted of Manſlaughter. Which Inquiſition being certified to the Juſtices of Goal-delivery at Newgate, he was arraigned upon the ſame Indictment, and confeſſed the Felony, and had his Clergy; and pleaded over to the Felony. And it appeared, that the ſaid Arraignment, and Confeſſion, and Allowance of Clergy, was after the Writ of Appeal brought and returned. In this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved; 1. That, Auſtoſt's convict of Manſlaughter, and Clergy allowed, was a good barr in Appeal of Murder. See Burghe and Holcroft's Caſe in B. R. Paſch. 20 Eliz. adjudged accordingly, 2. Reſolved, That by the Common-Law, the Coroner of the Kings houſhold had an Exempt Juriſdiction within the Verge, and that the Coroner of the County could not intermeddle with the death of a man within the Verge, viz. 12 miles off the Court: and ſo was it adjudged, 14 Eliz. in Swift's Caſe. 3. Reſolved, That the Indictment taken before the Coroner of the houſhold, and the Coroner of the County, was inſufficient, becauſe it doth not appear that Shepperton was within the Verge, and it cannot be ſupplyed by an averment of the party. 4. Reſolved, The Indictment being inſufficient, notwithſtanding ſuch Conviction, the party may be arraigned, or appealed again of the ſame Offence, as was Reſolved in Heydon's Caſe, 28 Eliz. becauſe his life was never in jeopardy. See 33 Eliz. Cook 4. Part. Vaux Caſe, acc. 5. Reſolved, That though the Conviction was dependent the Appeal, yet if it had been lawfull, and before his pardon, it had been a good barre. Mich. 34 Eliz. in B. R. Wrote and Wigges Caſe, Cook 4. Part. 45.

9. An Appeal was brought by a woman of the death of her husband; The Defendant pleaded Not guilty: and afterwards the Plaintiff took a new husband. It was adjudged, That the Appeal was determined by her Intermarriage. Trinit. 6 E. 6. Dyer. 88.

10. A man was Indicted of the Murder of J. S. and found guilty; the Wife of J. S. immediately brought an Appeal of the death of her husband. To which the Defendant by his Counſel pleaded, That after the death of her husband, ſhe had taken a new husband at D. in a forrain County. To which the Plaintiff replyed, and the matter depended a whole year; afterwards by Certiorari the proceedings was removed into the Kings-Bench; and the Defendant there being demanded, Why Judgment ſhould not be given againſt him? pleaded, That the Appeal did yet depend: and becauſe that no continuance had been of the Appeal after the Plea pleaded in the Forrain County, becauſe the taking of the husband was the determination of the Appeal; the Plaintiff in the Appeal was Nonſuit; and Judgment upon the Indictment given, That the Defendant be hanged. Mich. 13 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench, Dyer. 296. Stanley's Caſe.

11. A woman brought an Appeal of Rape againſt R. P. who pleaded Not-guilty; and was found guilty: and being in Priſon, divers Exceptions were taken to the Court, 1. That it was, that the Defendant tali die et anno in Parochia, &c. felonicè rapuit, et eam defloravit et carnaliter cognovit, not ſaying felonicè. 2. It was not averred in fact, that ſhe did not conſent before, nor after. 3. The Concluſion was not contra formam Statuti. See 1 H. 6. 1. P. 1. for that ſhe doth not ſay, felonicè rapuit: The Points were not reſolved. But in that Caſe it was ſaid, That the Defendant might have his Clergy: but that is now taken away by the Statute of 18 Eliz. Cap. 17. where Clergy is taken away in an Appeal of Rape: Alſo in that caſe it was ſaid, That the Queen might pardon the Impriſonment, and the burning of the hand; which is Reſolved now accordingly, Cook 5. Part. 50. in Biggins Caſe. Trinit. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 201. Ellen Lambs Caſe. See 39 E. 3. the wife in poſſeſſion, though not in Right, ſhall have an Appeal of the Murder of her husband; and ſo agreed in Leigh's Caſe. Paſch. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 12. See 11 H. 4 & 12 Eliz. Dyer 312.

12. In an Appeal of Mayhem againſt divers; one of the Defendants pleaded, That there was Nul tiel in rerum natura, and if it be not found them to the Felony and Mayhem, not guilty. It was Objected, That in an Appeal of death, it was holden a good plea, in favorem vitæ. But it was agreed by the whole Court, That ſuch a manner of plea is not to be ſuffered in an Appeal of Mayhem, becauſe

Appeal.

7. The Brother and Heir brought an Appeal of Murder again J. S. as principal, and J. D. as Acceſſory

ceſſory of the death of his brother. The Principal pleaded Not-guilty, and was found guilty of Manſlaughter, and had his Clergy. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, 1. That the Acceſſory was diſcharged, becauſe he could not be acceſſory before the fact in caſe of Manſlaughter. 2. Although the principal was convict, yet forasmuch as he had his Clergy before Judgment; for this caſe it was adjudged, That the Acceſſory ſhould be diſcharged: and ſo it is, where the principal upon his arraignment confeſſeth the Felony, and before Judgment obtains his pardon, the acceſſory thereby is diſcharged. Paſch. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part. 43 Blythes Caſe.

8. The Wife brought an Appeal of the Murder of her husband; The Defendant pleaded, That he himſelf at another time, 8. October, 32 Eliz. by Inquiſition taken before the Coroners of the County of Middleſex, at Shepperton in the ſaid County; It was preſented, That the Defendant 23. Sept 31 Eliz. felloniouſly did ſtrike, &c. whereof he dyed 24. Sept. following, and ſo he was Indicted of Manſlaughter. Which Inquiſition being certified to the Juſtices of Goal-delivery at Newgate, he was arraigned upon the ſame Indictment, and confeſſed the Felony, and had his Clergy; and pleaded over to the Felony. And it appeared, that the ſaid Arraignment, and Confeſſion, and Allowance of Clergy, was after the Writ of Appeal brought and returned. In this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved; 1. That, Aunſoil's convict of Manſlaughter, and Clergy allowed, was a good barr in Appeal of Murder. See Burghe and Holcroft's Caſe in B. R. Paſch. 20 Eliz. adjudged accordingly, 2. Reſolved, That by the Common-Law, the Coroner of the Kings houſhold had an Exempt Juriſdiction within the Verge, and that the Coroner of the County could not intermeddle with the death of a man within the Verge, viz. 12 miles off the Court: and ſo was it adjudged, 14 Eliz. in Swift's Caſe. 3. Reſolved, That the Indictment taken before the Coroner of the houſhold, and the Coroner of the County, was inſufficient, becauſe it doth not appear that Shepperton was within the Verge, and it cannot be ſupplyed by an averment of the party. 4. Reſolved, The Indictment being inſufficient, notwithſtanding ſuch Conviction, the party may be arraigned, or appealed again of the ſame Offence, as was Reſolved in Heydon's Caſe, 28 Eliz. becauſe his life was never in jeopardy. See 33 Eliz. Cook 4. Part. Vaux Caſe, acc. 5. Reſolved, That though the Conviction was dependent the Appeal, yet if it had been lawfull, and before his pardon, it had been a good barre. Mich. 34 Eliz. in B. R. Wyote and Wigges Caſe, Cook 4. Part. 45.

9. An Appeal was brought by a woman of the death of her husband; The Defendant pleaded Not guilty: and afterwards the Plaintiff took a new husband. It was adjudged, That the Appeal was determined by her Intermarriage. Trinit. 6 E. 6. Dyer. 88.

10. A man was Indicted of the Murder of J. S. and found guilty; the Wife of J. S. immediately brought an Appeal of the death of her husband. To which the Defendant by his Counſel pleaded, That after the death of her husband, ſhe had taken a new husband at D. in a forrain County. To which the Plaintiff replyed, and the matter depended a whole year; afterwards by Certiorari the proceedings was removed into the Kings-Bench; and the Defendant there being demanded, Why Judgment ſhould not be given againſt him? pleaded, That the Appeal did yet depend: and becauſe that no continuance had been of the Appeal after the Plea pleaded in the Forrain County, becauſe the taking of the husband was the determination of the Appeal; the Plaintiff in the Appeal was Nonſuit; and Judgment upon the Indictment given, That the Defendant be hanged. Mich. 13 Eliz. in the Kings-Bench, Dyer. 296. Stanley's Caſe.

11. A woman brought an Appeal of Rape againſt R. P. who pleaded Not-guilty; and was found guilty: and being in Priſon, divers Exceptions were taken to the Court, 1. That it was, that the Defendant tali die et anno in Parochia, &c. felonicè rapuit, et eam defloravit et carnaliter cognovit, not ſaying felonicè. 2. It was not averred in fact, that ſhe did not conſent before, nor after. 3. The Concluſion was not contra formam Statuti. See 1 H. 6. 1. P. 1. for that ſhe doth not ſay, felonicè rapuit: The Points were not reſolved. But in that Caſe it was ſaid, That the Defendant might have his Clergy: but that is now taken away by the Statute of 18 Eliz. Cap. 17. where Clergy is taken away in an Appeal of Rape: Alſo in that caſe it was ſaid, That the Queen might pardon the Impriſonment, and the burning of the hand; which is Reſolved now accordingly, Cook 5. Part. 50. in Biggins Caſe. Trinit. 3 Eliz. Dyer 201. Ellen Lambs Caſe. See 39 E. 3. the wife in poſſeſſion, tho gh not in Right, ſhall have an Appeal of the Murder of her husband; and ſo agreed in Leigh's Caſe. Paſch. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 12. See 11 H. 4 & 12 Eliz Dyer 312.

12. In an Appeal of Mayhem againſt divers; one of the Defendants pleaded, That there was Nul tiel in rerum natura, and if it be not found them to the Felony and Mayhem, not guilty. It was Objected, That in an Appeal of death, it was holden a good plea, in favorem vitæ. But it was agreed by the whole Court, That ſuch a manner of plea is not to be ſuffered in an Appeal of Mayhem, becauſe cauſe no life is put in danger by the Suit; and therefore it was Reſolved, That the other plea, viz. Not-guilty, ſhould ſtand. Mich. 39 Eliz. in B.R. Kirton and Hoxtons Caſe. Popham 115.

13. A man was Indicted of Felony for breaking a houſe, and taking away 250 l. and found guilty, and burnt in the hand; afterwards the party robbed, brought an Action of Treſpaſs Quare Clauſum fregit, and for carrying away the 250 l. And the Queſtion was, If upon the ſpeciall matter before found, the Action of Treſpaſs would lye. It was Objected, That the Treſpaſs was brought for the ſame matter for which the party was tryed, and it ſhould be unreaſonable he ſhould be doubly puniſhed for it. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Action did lye; for if he had been attainted for another Felony, it would not have barred the Plaintiff of his Action: and there is no fear in this Caſe, that the Felon ſhall not be tryed for the felony; for in this Caſe the Action is brought after Conviction, and there is no Inconvenience, if the Action do lye; and ſince the Plaintiff could not have his remedy before, he ſhall not now loſe it; for there is no danger of Compounding for it: Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, Hill. 1650. Rott. 653. in B.R. Dawks and Cordneighs Caſe. Styles 346, 347, 348.

14. If the Lord mayheim his Villain; the Villain ſhall not have an Appeal of Mayhem againſt the Lord; and the reaſon thereof is, becauſe damages are therein to be recovered; which if the ſame be given againſt the Lord, and execution ſued out of them, the Lord may afterwards take them again from the Villain: and therefore in that caſe, the Lord ſhall be puniſhed by Endictment at the King's Sute. But the Villain may have Mayhem or Appeal of the death of his Father or other Anceſtor, whoſe heir he is, againſt the Lord; and in ſuch caſe, if it be found for the Plaintiff, the ſame is an Enfranchiſement of the Villain for ever; and there is no difference whether he be a Villain regardant, or a Villain in groſs, in that caſe; though the old book of 1 H.4. 6. ſeemeth to make a difference betwixt them. So the Book, 29 H. 6. Corone ei and Stamford. 60. The Villain ſhall not have an Appeal of Robbery againſt his Lord; but in ſuch caſe the Lord may be Indicted at the Kings Sute. But by the Statutes of Weſt 1. & Weſt. 2. The Wife ſhall have and maintain an Appeal of Rape againſt her Lord. See for that, 11 H.4. 13. 1 E.41. and Litt. 41. Sect. 189.

15. If a man be ſtrucken in one County, and dyeth in another County; The Appeal of Murder may be brought in the one or the other County; and yet the Defendant did nothing in the County where the party dyeth; but the death which followeth the ſtroke, maketh the Felony. If a man committeth Robbery in one County, & carrieth the goods into another County; The party robbed may have an Appeal of Felony in which of the Counties he will, but not an Appeal of Robbery, but onely in the County where the Robbery was done, for it is Felony in all the Counties where the goods are carried, (for Felony doth not deveſt property) but it is not Robbery, but onely in the County where the Robbery was done. Cook. 7. Part. 2. in Bulwares Caſe.

16. A Woman brought an Appeal of Murder in the County of Salop, being the next County adjoyning to Montgomery in Wales for the Murder of her husband at Montgomery in the County of Montgomery: After a Verdict for the Plaintiff, being tryed by a Jury of the County of Salop, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Appeal ought to have been brought in the County of Montgomery where the fact was done, and not in the County of Salop. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Writ ſhould abate; for it is a Fundamental Rule of Law, That a Tryal for Murder by Appeal or otherwiſe, ſhould be out of the County where it is committed; And it was ſaid, That no Preſidents can be ſhewed, where Appeals have been allowed in Counties adjoyning, for Murder committed in Wales: And Mich. 25 Eliz. in B.R. a Writ of Appeal was brought againſt one Thomas, in the County of Salop, for a Murder in the County of Montgomery; ſed nihil inde venit. Hill. 5 Car. in B. R. rott. 1276. Sontley and Price's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 179.

2. Where an Appeal will not lye after a Recovery in Treſpaſſe; and where not.

A Man brought an Appeal of Mayheim againſt J. S. for mayhming his right hand, and cutting his Fingers, whereby he loſt the benefit of his Fingers: The Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff had brought againſt him an Action of Aſſault and Battery and Wounding, and therein had Judgment, and Execution, and ſatisfaction acknowledged upon Record, of 200 marks damages aſſeſſed him by the Jury, and of 11 l. de juramento by the Court. It was moved for the Plaintiff, That the barr was not good; for that it is ſuppoſed, and the averment is, That the ſtroke and Wounding in the Writ of Treſpaſs, and in his Appeal of Mayheim are all one; but it is averred, That any damages were given for the Mahim, or that the mayme was given in Evidence. See 22 E. 3. 82. But it was the Opinion of the Court, and and ſo Reſolved, That the Jurours are to take conſideration of the Wound in an Action of Treſpaſs, and to give damages according to the hurt, and the Jury in this Caſe hath given damages 200 marks; which the Defendant hath paid to the Plaintiff: and if there was any ſuch ſpecial matter, that it was not a Maheym at the time of the Action brought of Treſpaſs, it ought to have been ſhewed to the Court; otherwiſe it ſhall not be ſo intended: and ſo it was adjudged, That the barr was good, and the Action did not lye. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Hudſon and Leigh's Caſe. Leo. 318. and ſo alſo was it adjudged, Paſch. 19 Eliz. rott. 74. in B.R. In Ryder and Cobham's Caſe. Ibid. See Hobart 94. acc.

3. Where upon a Sentence given in the Eccleſiaſtical Court an Appeal lyeth; and to whom it ſhall be; where not. And of what effect Appeals in the Spiritual Courts are, and the manner of Proſecution of them.

1. THe Viſitation of Magdalen Colledge in Oxford (for the good government of the houſe according to the Lawes and Statutes doth belong to the Biſhop of Wincheſter) exempted from every Ordinary; The Preſident of the ſaid Colledge was deprived by Sentence of the Biſhop of Wincheſter; and from the ſentence of the Biſhop, he appealed to the Queen in her Chancery: It was Reſolved by the Juſtices, That the Appeal did not lye; and that the ſame was out of the Statutes of 24 & 25 H. 8. and that he had no remedy, but an Aſſiſe, if put from his place. Mich. 3 & 4 Eliz. Dyer. 209. Coveneys Caſe.

2. A Parſon within the the Dioceſs of Wincheſter made a Leaſe for years, and afterwards he was deprived by the Commiſſary of the Biſhop of Winton; and he appealed to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury in Curia Prærogativa ſua de Arcubus; depending which Appeal, another was Collated to the Parſonage by the Biſhop of Winton; who made a Leaſe for years to the Commiſſary aforeſaid, who gave the Sentence of Deprivation: The firſt Leſſee brought an Ejectione Firmæ, in which the Defendant pleaded the Deprivation aforeſaid: And becauſe the words of the Statute of 24 H. 8. Cap. 12. are, That an Appeal ſhall be to the Archbiſhop of the Province where, &c. without limiting any Court in certain, the Defendant did Demur. It was holden by the Court, That the words, to the Archbiſhop, were ſufficient, and the reſt were but ſurpluſage: But becauſe the Defendant demurred generally, the Court could not take Notice of their Juriſdiction. Trin. 7 Eliz. Dyer in B.R. Heath and Attworth's Caſe, 240.

3. The Deanery of Wells was diſſolved by Parliament, and a new Deanery erected; to which the poſſeſſions of the Prebend of C. were annexed; and by the ſaid Act, it was Ordained, That the King might make a new Dean, and that the new Dean might make Leaſes, as the Old might: The King made Goodman Dean; he took the Prebend of W. one of the Prebends of the ſame Church; for which the Biſhop by a Commiſſion of Viſitation deprived him, for taking of two Dignities in one Church; which Deprivation was affirmed upon an Appeal to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and a new Dean made: Goodman appealed to Queen Mary; and by Commiſſioners Delegates, the Deprivation of Goodman was diſallowed; whereupon he made Leaſes, which were confirmed by the Biſhop and Chapter; and afterwards upon another Appeal to Commiſſioners Delegates, he was deprived and removed, and another made Dean; who would have avoided the Leaſes made by Goodman: And the Queſtion was upon Iſſue joyned, If Goodman were Dean at the time of the making of the Leaſes? In this caſe divers Points were moved, 1. If a Deanery were a Temporal promotion, or a Spiritual? It was holden by the Juſtices to be a Spiritual promotion. 2. If Goodman were juſtly deprived, becauſe the Prebend of C. was not extinct, for the Prebend it ſelf was not annexed by the Act. 3. If the Deanery were ipſo facto, and without any Sentence of Deprivation? But theſe Queſtions were not then Reſolved; But it was then Reſolved by the Juſtices, That there need not any Confirmation of the King of the Leaſes, nor any Confirmation of the Biſhop; but onely by the Chapter. Trinit. Paſch. Anno 10 Eliz. Dyer. 273.

4. A Teſtament was diſproved in the Spiritual Court, and the party did appeal to the Metropolitan, and it was there alſo diſproved: Afterwards the party appealed to the Court of Delegates, and there alſo it was diſproved; and at laſt, he appealed to the Queen her ſelf in her Chancery by the Statute of 25 H. 8. and it was there alſo diſproved before Commiſſioners: and then, the Queſtion was, If the Queen ex authoritate ſua regali, ſhould grant Letters of Adminiſtration. And it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, That ſhe might; becauſe the Court of Chancery was her higheſt Court. Then the Queſtion was, If the Queen might grant Letters of Adminiſtration, If the Adminiſtrator bring an Action as Adminiſtrator, If he ought to ſhew generally in his Declaration, That the Letters of Adminiſtration were granted to him by the Queen ex authoritate ſua regali, under the Seal of her Court of Delegates; or that he ſhould ſet forth all the ſpeciall matter, and how the ſame came into the Chancery, and ſo the Queen granted to him by her Letters Patents Letters of Adminiſtration: And the Opinion of all the Juſtices was, That he ought to ſet forth all the ſpecial matter; and ſo it was adjudged. Mich. 24 Eliz. in C.B. adjudged.

5. A. was ſued by B. in the Spiritual Court for Tythes. A. did alledge, That B. did not read the Articles according to the Statute of 13 Eliz. and that the Eccleſiaſtical Judge did refuſe to allow the ſame. The Queſtion was, Whether his refuſal was traverſable? And the Opinion of the Court was, That it was traverſable; for otherwiſe upon ſuch ſurmiſe, all matters might be prohibited in the Spiritual Court, although the ſpiritual Judge doth all which belongeth to Law and Juſtice; and in that caſe the party grieved may have his remedy by Appeal. Mich. 31 Eliz. Morris and Eaton's Caſe. vouched in Cook. 2. Part. 45. in the Biſhop of Winchester's Caſe.

6. Note: It was holden by Rolls, Chief Juſtice of the Kings-Bench, That if one be ſued in the Court of Admiralty to a Sentence, and he is in Execution upon it, and he be brought to the Kings-Bench by Habeas Corpus; If upon the Return, it doth not appear, that the Admiralty had not Juriſdiction of the Cauſe, but it proceeds onely, that they proceeded to a Sentence againſt the Rule of their own Court, That in ſuch caſe the Kings-Bench will not deliver the priſoner out of Execution; for he ought to have made his Appeal before he was taken in Execution. Mich. 24 Car. in B.R. Styles 129

7. A man made his laſt Will, and made two Executors; the Executors dyed in the life of the Teſtator; the Teſtator dyed, having two Siſters: the eldeſt Siſter procured Letters of Adminiſtration; the younger Siſter moved for a Prohibition to Repeal the Adminiſtration granted, becauſe ſhe being in equall degree, ought to have an equal ſhare in the Adminiſtration of the goods: But in that caſe the Court refuſed to grant a Prohibition; nor doth it lye in the caſe, becauſe the party might have her Appeal, if the Adminiſtration were not rightly granted. Mich. 24 Car. in B.R. Brown and Poynes Caſe. Styles 147.

8. A woman, who was Executor to J. S, took a husband, who afterwards were divorced Cauſa præcontractus; the woman Appealed from the Sentence to the Delegates; depending which Appeal, the husband adminiſtred the goods; and afterwards the wife dyed: It was a Quære in that caſe, If the husband were chargeable as Executor of his own wrong? and whether ſeizure onely, without diſpoſing of the goods, be an Adminiſtration? 2 Ma. Dyer. 105. But ſee Cook. 5. Part. 33. Read's Caſe, where that Quære is reſolved.

9. In a Suite for the Subſtraction of Tythes, a man had a Prohibition in the Common-Pleas upon a ſurmiſe, That the Plaintiff in the Prohibition (Defendant in the Spiritual Court) had but one Witneſs to prove a Leaſe of the Tythes; which was not there allowed, becauſe it was ſingularis Teſtis. And upon Adviſement of all the Juſtices had in this Caſe, It was Reſolved, That a Conſultation ſhould be awarded: for where Cognitio principalis is, Cognitio acceſſaris followeth: and if ſuch ſurmiſe ſhould be allowed in every Caſe, the Spiritual Court ſhould be ouſted of its Juriſdiction. Hill. 8 Jac. in B. R. Roberts Caſe. Cro. 2. Part 269.

10. A. brought a Prohibition in B. R. ſuppoſing he was Rector of the Rectory of L. in N. and Libelled againſt P. for the ſubſtraction of Tythes: in which Caſe, W. came in pro intereſſe ſuo, and claimed it by Letters Patents from the Queen, to one H. who enfeoffed D. who Let it to W. and the Plaintiff in the Prohibition claimed by a former feoffment made to H. by Sir Ed. Clere Knight, and pretended, that he proved it by one Witneſs; and that they in the Spiritual Court would not allow of it; and for that cauſe had a Prohibition: W. upon a Conſultation prayed, affirmed, That he claimed by a Deed of Feoffment of the Rectory, and proved the Deed, but could not prove Livery and Seiſin: for which they ſentenced him, and traverſed, that he denyed to allow it being proved by one Witneſs: upon which the Plaintiff in the Prohibition demurred: In this caſe it was Objected, That this is matter tryable at the Common-Law, Whether Feoffment or not. But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That Conſultation ſhould be awarded: For if they proceed invito Ordine, it ſhall be redreſſed by Appeal; and when the Original Cauſe belongs to them, although matter triable at the Common-Law ariſeth depending upon the Original Cauſe: yet it ſhall be determined in the Eccleſiaſtical Court; and it was Reſolved in that Caſe, That the ſurmiſe that he hath but one Witneſs, is not ſufficient to have a Prohibition where the Eccleſiaſtical Court hath Juriſdiction of the principal. Paſch. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Futter and Whiskins Caſe.

11. In Debt brought by the Plaintiff as Executor, he being Executor ratione Teſtamenti; from this Will, the Defendant Appeals by way of Plea: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That notwithſtanding the Appeal; yet he was a full Executor by the Probate, and ſo remained; this being but but a ſhift, and as much as to ſay, that the Will was not proved; and ſo for the miſchief and Inconvenience which may enſue, he ſhall not have this Plea; for he may traverſe the Probate, if he ſhew it not in Court; Or he may demand Oyer of the Teſtament. Trinit. 13 Jac. in B. R. Hornegold and Bryans Caſe. Bolſtrod. 3. Part. 72, 73.

Appendant, Appurtenant, Parcell, and Incident.

1. What things ſhall be Appendant, Appurtenant, Parcel, and Incident; And to what they may be ſaid to be Appendant, Appurtenant, Parcell, or Incident.

1. APpendency is ever by Preſcription: And Preſcription doth not make a thing to be appendant, if not that the thing which ſhall be appendant, agree in Quality and Nature to the thing, to which it ſhall be appendant: A thing Corporeate cannot be appendant to a thing Corporeate, nor a thing incorporeate to a thing incorporeate. And therefore Land cannot be appendant to Land or to a Meſſuage. Mich. 2 & 3 Ma. Plow. Com. 168, 169, 170. 3 Ma. Dyer. 130. Mich. 27 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 4. Part. Tyrringham's Caſe. 37.

2. Lands may be appertaining, or appendant, to a Grange; and that appears by 16 Eliz. Dyer. 331. Where King Henry the 8th was ſeiſed of a Grange called S. in the Pariſh of great Brickhill in the County of Buck. with divers Lands and Tenements to the ſame appertaining, as well in the ſaid Pariſh, as within another Pariſh in the ſaid County: and by his Letters Patents granted the the ſaid Grange with the appurtenances, &c. but becauſe there was a Miſnoſmer of ſome of the Lands in the Letters Patents; the ſame did not paſſe, 16 Eliz. Dyer. 331. And ſo ſee 23 Eliz. Dyer. 374. Lands may be appertaining to a Farm. See Liſords Caſe, Mich. 12 Jac. Cook 11. Part 46. acc. and that two Cloſes of Land are ſaid to be parcel of a Farm called Wittenhams. See Trin. 42 Eliz. B. R. Sherwood and Winſtons Caſe, holden, That Tythes cannot be Appendant to a Manor. See Hob. 34. Styles 279. acc.

3. Upon ſpecial matter alledged; a man may have Tythes as appurtenant to a Mannor. Cook. 2. Part. 45. in the Biſhop of Wincheſter's Caſe: But yet a man cannot preſcribe generally in him and all thoſe whoſe eſtate he hath in the Mannor, to have Tythes appertaining to the ſame; for without ſpecial matter ſhewed, Tythes which are ſpiritual things, and due Jure Divino, cannot be parcel or appurtenant to a Mannor, or any other Temporal Inheritance, Hill. 35 Eliz. Winchcombs Caſe, vouch in Cook 2. Part. the Biſhop of Wintons Caſe.

4. An Advowſon may be appendant to a Mannor; and one Mannor may be holden of another Mannor: If a man holdeth a Mannor of the King, to which Mannor Regall Franchiſes are appendant, ſcil. to have Eſcheats of all Treaſons of thoſe who hold of the Mannor; and one holdeth another Mannor of the ſame Mannor, and he who holdeth the Mannor of the King is attainted of Treaſon, and the King ſeizeth; and afterwards he who holdeth the other Mannor is attainted of Treaſon, for which the King ſeiſeth, and afterwards the King grants the Mannor which was holden of him una cum advocationibus eidem pertinent. in that caſe the Advowſon ſhall not paſſe with that Mannor, but it is appendant as it was before. 30 H. 8. Dyer. 44. acc.

5. An Advowſon may be Appendant to a Mannor; or to an Acre of Land parcel of the Mannor; but an Advowſon which is appendant to a Mannor, cannot be made appendant to a Rent, or Service of the Mannor. 5 E. 6. Dyer 70. in Iſhams Caſe: but it may be appendant to the Demeaſnes of the Mannor.

6. In a Quare Impedit, the Iſſue was, If T. L. the Father of the Plaintiff did enfeoffe the Father of the Mannor of F. to which the Advowſon of the Church was appendant before he granted the Advowſon to J. S. who granted it to the Defendant: The Caſe upon a Special Verdict found, was, That the Abbot of S. was ſeiſed of a Capital Meſſuage in F. and 100 Acres of Lands there; and there was a Tenancy holden of the ſaid Capital Meſſuage; and that the ſaid Capital Meſſuage had been known time out of mind by the name of the Mannor of F; and that the Advowſon was appendant to it, and conveyed the Meſſuage and Advowſon to the King by the Statute of Diſſolution; and from the King to the ſaid T. L. who enfeoffed the Plaintiff of the ſaid Mannor, and made Livery and Seiſin upon the Demeans: and that T. L. by his Deed made a grant of the Advowſon to J. S. and afterwards the Freeholder attorned to the Plaintiff: In this caſe, it was the clear Opinion of the whole Court, That he was a ſufficient Mannor to which an Advowſon might be appendant, and that in Law the Advowſon is appendant to all the Mannor, but moſt properly to the Demeaſnes, out of which at the Commencement it was derived; and therefore by the Attornment afterwards by conſtruction of Law, ſhall have Relation to the Livery, the Advowſon did paſſe inclusive in the Livery. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Long and Hemmings Caſe. Leon. 207.

7. An Advowſon of a Priory may be appendant to a Mannor per Curiam, 33 E. 3. 15.

8. If an Advowſon be Appendant to a houſe, and the houſe is decayed, the Advowſon ſhall be Appendant to the Land upon which the houſe ſtood. See 10 H. 7. 13. b. 16 H. 79. See before, in the Title of Advowſons.

9. An Advowſon of a Vicaridge may be appendant to a Rectory. The Rectory of Weſt Bodin came to the King by an Attainder of Felony, to which the Advowſon of the Vicarage was Appendant: The King granted the Rectory, et omnia hereditamenta parcel. ſpectant. vel pertin. dicta Rectoriæ. It was adjudged, That the Advowſon of the Vicarage paſſed without ſpecial naming it. 18 Eliz. Dyer. 350.

10. One Office may be appendant to another Office. See 4 Eliz. Dyer. 213. That divers Offices did belong to the Office of Door-keeper of the Exchequer; and there it appeareth, that the ſaid Office of Door-keeper was holden of the King by Grand Serjeanty, in the time of Ed. the 4th. See 7. Aſſ. pl. 12. and ſee Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 106. a.

11. The Office of Exigenter of London, is inciden: to the Office of the Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas; and therefore a Grant made thereof by Queen Mary was holden void, 2 Eliz. Dyer. 175.

12. Queen Elizabeth by Letters Patents did grant the Office of Clerkſhip of the County of S. to Mitton, with all Fees, &c. for life. Hopton, Sheriff of the ſaid County interrupted Mitton, becauſe the ſaid Office was incident to his Office of Sheriff. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, Nullo contradicente, that the Letters Patents granted to Mitton were void: and their Reaſon was, That the Office of Sheriff was an ancient Office before the Conqueſt, of great Truſt, and Authority, and although the King might determine the ſaid Office ad bene placitum; yet he could not determine it in part, or abridge the Sheriff of any Incidents to his Office; for the Office being intire, ſo ought to continue without any fraction or diminution: and the County Court, and the entring of all proceedings therein, are Incident to the Sheriff's Office. 26 Eliz. Cook. 4. Part. 32. Mitton's Caſe.

13. A Villain is regardant to a Mannor: But if a man hath a Mannor to which a Villain is regardant, and he makes a Feoffment of an Acre of the Mannor by theſe words, Dedi unam acram, &c. et ulterius, Dedi et conceſſi J. S. Villanam meam; It was holden, That the Villain ſhall paſs in groſſe, becauſe they are ſeveral guifts: And ſo it is, If a man hath a Mannor to which an Advowſon is appendant, and he makes a Feoffment of one Acre, and by the ſame Deed afterwards grants the Advowſon; the ſame is become in groſſe: Otherwiſe it ſhould be, if the Feoffment were made of the whole Mannor. Paſch. 33 H. 8. Dyer. 48.

14. Felons Goods cannot be appendant to a Mannor by Preſcription: In a Quo Warranto for uſing of Waifes, Eſtrays in Felons goods in L. It was Reſolved by the Court, That if the King granteth the Mannor of D. to J. S. and his heirs, and within the ſaid Mannor to have Waife, Eſtray, et bona felonum, &c. dicto Manerio, ſpectant. et pertinent.) do not refer to the Felons goods which lye in Charter, and cannot be by uſage or time appendant to a Mannor: but yet they ſhall paſſe, although they were never demiſed, or uſed with the Mannor.

15. Common of Turbary may be appendant to a houſe; but Common of Turbary cannot be appendant to Land. Cook. 4. Part. 37. in Terringham Caſe.

16. A man claimed Common Appendant by preſcription time out of mind to a Houſe, Meadow, and Paſture: But the ſame was Reſolved to be Common appurtenant, and not Common Appendant: For common Appendant is of common right, and a man needeth not to preſcribe in it: and the ſame is appendant to arrable Land, Hiem and Gaine, and onely for Carrel, and Horſes, and Oxen to plough the Land, and Cowes and Sheep to manure the Land; and therefore the ſame is againſt the nature of it to be appendant to Meadow or Paſture. Cook. 4. Part. 37. in Terringham's Caſe.

17. A Corodie is incident to the Foundation of every Religious houſe; and where the King is Founder of any Abby, or Priory, or other Religious houſe, the King of Common Right ought to have a Corodie, and a reaſonable allowance for any of his Valeletts in the ſame houſe. Cook. 9. Part. 129. Fitzh. N. Br. Cook 10. Part. 33. in the Caſe of Sutton's Hoſpital: and a Corodie may be appendant to the Patronage of a Priory, Biſhoprick, &c. Ibid.

18. Waife, Eſtray, &c. may be parcel of, or appendant to a Leet: and a Leet may be Appendant to a Mannor, Houſe, Land, Chappel or Church, Church. Cook 4. Part, 36, 37. Cook 10. part. 64. Annd ſee there, That a Forreſt, Warren, or Chaſe may be parcel of, or appendant unto, an Honnour or Mannor.

19. A Fair may be appendant to a Mannor, Cook. 4. Part. 31. and a Court of Pipowders is Incident to a Fair or Market, Cook 6. Part. Jentlemans Caſe, 12. And ſee there, of what things the ſaid Courts have Juriſdiction; they muſt be of things, and Contracts within the Fair or Market.

20. A Writ of Errour was brought by Hall againſt Jones in the Kings Bench, of a Judgment given in the Court of Pipowders, of the Market in the City of Glouceſter; becauſe that Hall had publiſhed ſlanderous words of him; ſcil. That Mr. Jones and his Clerks have by colour of their Office extorted, and taken, and gotten 300 l. per annum by unlawful means for many years together, above their Ordinary Fees, for proving of Teſtaments, and granting of Adminiſtrations. In that caſe the Judgment was reverſed, for two Errours; 1. Becauſe the ſaid words did not concern any thing touching the ſaid Market. And, 2. Becauſe the words were ſpoken before the Market; and not within the Market: For as that Court of Pypowders hath not Juriſdiction but of things concerning the Market; ſo likewiſe it hath not Juriſdiction for things concerning the Market, if they be not done in the Market. Mich. 42 & 43 Eliz. in B. R. Hall and Jones Caſe. See Cook 10. Part. in the Caſe of the Marſhalſie, 73. acc.

21. Deeds, Charters, and Evidences, are ratione terræ, and Incident to the Lands; and therefore, If a man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee-ſimple, hath divers Charters, Deeds, and Evidences concerning the Lands, and he maketh a Feoffment of Lands in Fee without Warranty, or with Warranty, only againſt him and his heirs; The purchaſer ſhall have all the Charters as Incidents to the Lands; for the Evidences are as it were the ſinews of the Lands: But if the Feoffor be bounden to Warranty, there the Feoffee ſhall not have the Deeds which comprehend the warranty; but the Feoffor ſhall have them to deraign the Warranty paramount. Cook 1. Part. 1. The Lord Buckhurſt's Caſe.

22. Fealty is incident to Homage, becauſe it is a part of Homage, and all the words of Fealty are comprehended in the words of Homage, Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitut. 68. a. And therefore, though Tenure in Frankmarriage be a Free Tenure, as Littleton ſaith, tilll the 4th degree be paſt; yet Tenant in Frankmarriage ſhall do Fealty, becauſe Fealty is incident to every Tenure, (except it be Tenure in Frankalmoigne) and cannot be ſeparated from it.

23. A Reverſion may be parcel of a Mannor notwithſtanding it be ſevered in poſſeſſion by Leaſe. See Cook. 5. Part. 11. Cook 8. Part. 79. And Fealty and Rent are inſeparably incident to the Reverſion; and therefore, If there be Lord and Tenant, and the Tenant makes reſerving to him and his heirs a certain Rent, and afterwards the Leſſor dyeth without heir, ſo as the Reverſion comes to the Lord by Eſcheat, and the Rent is behind, the Lord by Eſcheat ſhall diſtrain for the Rent behind, although it was reſerved to the Leſſor and his heirs; becauſe the Rent being reſerved of Inheritance to him and his heirs, the ſame is incident to the Reverſion, and ſhall go with the Reverſion, Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes. 215. See Litt. 348. acc.

24. Note: It was ſaid by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, in the Argument of Colt and the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield's Caſe, Hob. 161. which was Mich. 10 Jac. rott. 2642. in C. B. That where the King was ſeiſed of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon was appendant; and the King granteth the Mannor to J. S. for life; and afterwards the King granteth the Mannor to J. D. after the death of J. S. Habendum una cum advocatione; and afterwards the King by Parliament confirmeth both the Grants; that yet the Advowſon doth not paſſe: and the reaſon thereof is, becauſe an Advowſon in poſſeſſion cannot be appendant to a Reverſion expectant upon an Eſtate for life. See Hob. 161. acc. See Cook. 11. Part. Lidford's Caſe, acc.

25. Land may be parcel of a Caſtle; and a Hundred may be parcel of a Caſtle, as well as of a Mannor; and if a man holds by Caſtle-guard, or to pay ſo much for Caſtle-Guard, and the Caſtle be deſtroyed, yet the Tenure remains; and a Caſtle includes in it ſelf a Mannor, and it is Nomen Collectivum et generale; and may include divers things, as Demeans and Services, as a Mannor may do. Cook 4. Part. Paſch. 43 Eliz. rott. 596. in B. R. in Lutteralls Caſe.

26. Eſtovers out of Wood may by Preſcription be appendant to a houſe for habitation. And if a man hath Eſtovers to his houſe either by grant, or by Preſcription, he may alter the Rooms of his houſe, and yet the Eſtovers which are appendant, ſhall not thereby be deſtroyed; but if he maketh new Chymneys, or there be an Addition to the old houſe, he cannot imploy the Eſtovers, or ſpend the Eſtovers in the new Chymneys or new Addition which is to his houſe: and if a man hath Common of Eſtovers appendant to his houſe, and he ſuffers his houſe to fall down, he can now claim no Eſtovers; and if he ſue for them, and the other pleads, That his houſe is down, he ſhall not have Judgment with a Ceſſat executio, till he have re-edified his houſe: but in ſuch caſe the Plaintiff ſhall be barred, for that at the time of the Action brought brought, he hath no right of Eſtovers, but it is in ſuſpence; and it is but a temporal barre, and if he re-edifieth his houſe again, the Eſtovers ſhall be revived; by Hobart Chief Juſtice, vouched by him in Cowper and Andrews Caſe. Mich. 10 Jac. in C.B. rott. 1223. in Hobart 39.

27. A man ſeiſed of two Old and ruinous Fulling-Mills, preſcribed, Quod magna pars aquæ cujuſdem Pooli did run from a place called D. to the ſaid two Mills, and that there was a Bank to keep the water within the Current, and he threw down the Fulling-Mills, and converted them to Corn-Mills; and the Defendant brake the Bank, and turned the water from the Mills. Upon Not-guilty pleaded, It was found for the Plaintiff. Errour was brought; and it was aſſigned for Errour, That by the building of the new Mills, he had deſtroyed his Preſcription. In this Caſe, two Points were Reſolved; 1. That the Preſcription did extend to the New Mills, and the Writ ſhall be de Molendino generally, without any addition. 2. That when a man hath any thing appendant or appurtenant to a Houſe or Mill, the moſt durable thing is the Land, which is the foundation: and therefore it was Reſolved, That although the houſe or Mill falls by the act or default of the Owner, or by the wrong done of another; yet becauſe the perdurable part remains, he may re-edifie it again without loſſe of any Appendant, or Appurtenant to it; but then, the ſame muſt be upon the place where the ancient houſe ſtood, and which was the Old Foundation. Cook. 4. Part. 86. Lutterell's Caſe.

2. How things which are Appendant, ſhall be made diſappendant, and by what Act: where appendant in part, and in groſſe in part: Where once diſappendant, they may be appendant again: And where things Parcel or Incident, can by no means be ſevered.

1. NOte: There is difference, where things appendant or belonging to a Mannor, are ſevered and made diſappendant by the Act of the party, and where by the Act of the Law: and therefore the Caſe was, Mich. 4 Jac. in the Common-Pleas, The Lady Moile was ſeiſed of the Mannor of B. in the County of Kent for the Term of her life, the remainder to Katherine Lady Finch in Fee; The Lady Finch took to her husband, St. Leger; and 10 Eliz. he and his Wife, and one B. levied a Fine of all the Demeans of the ſaid Mannor (by certain Quantity of Acres whith did include all the Demeans) to T. F. and his heirs, who granted and rendred the Demeans of the ſaid Mannor to the ſaid B. for 50 years rendring Rent, and granted the Reverſion to St. Leger, and the Lady Finch, and the heirs of the Lady. And in this Caſe it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That although on an inſtant the Demeans were granted to Katherine and the Lady Finch, and to the heirs of the Lady Finch, ſo as there was not any tranſmutation of poſſeſſion; yet the Demeans being by the act of the party once ſevered in Fee-ſimple from the ſervices of the Mannor, that the Mannor was deſtroyed for ever: and there the difference was taken between the Act of the Parties, and the Act of Law. For if there be two Coparceners of a Mannor, and upon partition, the Demeans be allotted to the one, and the Services unto another; in ſuch caſe, although there be an abſolute ſeverance, yet if one dyeth without Iſſue, and the Demeans diſcends to her who hath the Services, the Mannor is revived, becauſe the Demeans and Services are united by Act of Law: and ſo if upon a Partition, an Advowſon which is appendant be allotted to one, and the Mannor to another, and afterwards one of them dyeth without Iſſue, by which the Law uniteth them again, the Advowſon which was once ſevered, is now appendant. But if a man hath a Mannor, and he granteth part of the Demeans, and parcel of the Services to another, he ſhall not have a Mannor; for that a man by his own Act cannot create a Mannor at this day, and by his Grant, the Services which were incident to the Demeans and the Mannor: for a Mannor is entire, and conſiſts of Demeans and Services, were ſevered and divided. Cook. 6. Part. 65. Sir Moile Finch's Caſe.

2. A man by Indenture demiſed a Meſſuage and Lands, excepting all Trees then growing above the age of 21. years, To have the Tenements aforeſaid, with the appurtenances (except before excepted) for life; And afterwards by Indenture he covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed of the Tenements aforeſaid, with the appurtenances to the uſe of J. S. in taile, with divers remainders over. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That notwithſtanding the Exception, that the Trees did remain parcel, and ſhould diſcend to the heir, and ſhould go to him in the Reverſion: and a difference was put betwixt this Caſe, and the Caſe of an Advowſon: For it was agreed, That if a man maketh a Leaſe for life of a Mannor, to which an Advowſon is appendant, and excepteth one Acre with the Advowſon; In that caſe, if he grant over the Reverſion, the Acre with the Advowſon ſhall not paſſe to the Grantee, but they are ſevered and diſunited from the Mannor for ever: but but Trees notwithſtanding the Exception, are growing out of the Land, and are not rei veritate divided from it: And therefore, if a man maketh a Feoffment of a Manor excepting the Trees, and afterwards the Feoffor buyeth the Trees, they are again made parcel of the Inheritance, though they were abſolutely divided and ſevered for a time: But in that caſe, If one Acre, or a houſe had been excepted, and the Feoffee afterwards purchaſe the Acre or houſe, none of them ſhall be parcel of it again. Cook. 11. Part. 46. Richard Lidford's Caſe.

3. If an Advowſon be appendant to a Mannor, which Mannor diſcendeth to divers Coparceners, and the Coparceners make Partition of the Mannor to which, &c. without ſpeaking of the Advowſon, The Advowſon notwithſtanding the Diviſion and ſeverance from the Mannor to which, doth remain appendant, 13 E. 3. Quare Impedit, 38. See Cook. 8. Part. in Vincor's Caſe acc.

4. Eſtovers granted to be burned in ſuch a houſe, ſhall go to him that hath the houſe, by what Title ſoever he holdeth it: And therefore if a man be ſeiſed of a houſe in the right of his Wife, and another granteth to the husband and his heirs to have ſufficient Eſtovers to burn in the houſe; In that caſe the Eſtovers are appurtenant to that houſe, and ſhall diſcend to the Iſſue of the husband and wife. See Cook. 8. Part. 54. Sym's Caſe.

5. If one be a Founder of a Colledge, &c. and he will grant his Founderſhip to the King by Deed Indented and Inrolled, the Grant is void, becauſe the Founderſhip is an inſeparable Incident to the blood, and cannot be ſevered or granted over: And therefore it was holden in Cook. 11. Part. in Magdalen Colledg Caſe, That if a Grant had been made of ſuch an inſeparable Incident, the ſaid Grant would not have been made good by the Statute of 18 Eliz. Cap. 2.

3. Where a thing which is appendant, or which hath been uſed or occupied with another thing, ſhall paſſe by the words, cum pertinenciis; et è contra.

1. THe King, ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. to which an Advowſon was appendant, demiſed the Mannor to J. S. for years, except the Advowſon; And afterwards the King granted by his Letters Patents totum illud Manerium de D. cum pertinenciis to J. D. in Fee, exceptis quæ in eiſdem Literis Patentibus excipiuntur, reciting the Letters Patents granted for years before: And further he granted Manerium prædict. et omnia et ſingula præmiſſa cum pertinenciis adeo plene et integre, et in tam amplis modo et forma prout omnia et ſingula præmiſſa, aut aliqua inde parcella, ad manus noſtras devenerunt; ac in manibus noſtris jam exiſtunt. The Queſtion was, Whether the Advowſon appendant to the Mannor, did paſſe by the Letters Patents? And it was Reſolved, 1. That the Advowſon did paſſe; for when the King's Grant in general Terms refers to a Certainty, the ſame contains as expreſs mention, as if the Certainty had been expreſſed in the Grant. 2. Reſolved, That by the Common-Law, If the King grant a Mannor to which an Advowſon is appendant, without making mention of the Advowſon, cum pertinenciis, That the Advowſon paſſeth. 3. It was Reſolved, That if the ſaid Clauſe, de adeo plene et integre, had been omitted, that the Advowſon had not paſſed by the firſt Clauſe; but by addition of it in the latter Clauſe, the ſame made the Advowſon to paſſe. 10 Jac. Cook. 10. Part. 62. Whiſtlers Caſe.

2. One had Houſes and Lands which had been in the Tenures of thoſe who had had the Houſes; and he deviſed his Houſes with the appurtenances: It was holden and adjudged by the whole Court, That the Lands did paſſe, by the words [with the Appurtenances] for that it was in a Will, in which the intent of the Deviſor ſhall be obſerved. Hill. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Harwood and Higham's Caſe. Godbold. 40.

3. In an Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was; A. Copyholder in Fee of a Tenement called Keyſhams, erected a building by Encroachment upon 6. foot of the Waſte of the Mannor; and adjoyned it to the Shop of the Tenement: The Lord of the Mannor, 33 Eliz. by Deed demiſed to the ſaid A. the ſaid 6. foot ſo built upon and adjoyning for 100 yeart. A. 1 Jac. ſurrendred the ſaid Tenement called Keyſhams, to the uſe of B. and her heirs; and 5 Jac. aſſigned all his Term in the ſaid 6. foot of Waſte ſo built upon to B. who by Indenture 19 Jac. demiſed the ſaid Tenement called Keyſhams, cum pertinentiis to W. for 70 years. The Queſtion in this Caſe was, Whether by theſe words, the Meſſuage called Keyſhams cum pertinenciis, this Shop built as aforeſaid, and annexed as aforeſaid, ſhould paſſe? It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That it paſſed not; for being a new purpreſture, and added to the Shop, 33 Eliz. and not being found that it had been uſed altogether with the houſe, or reputed as parcel thereof, that nothing paſſed but what was parcel of the Houſe for the time, &c. Hobart ſaid, That peradventure in a Deviſe, it might paſſe. Trin. 20 Jac. rott. 602. in C. B. Brian and Wetherhead's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 12.

4. It was found by a Special Verdict in an Ejectione Firme, That one Knight was ſeiſed of a Farm called Locks, and of Lands belonging to it, and alſo that he was ſeiſed of a Farm called Brocks, and of Lands belonging to it; and and that he deviſed his Farm called Locks, to his eldeſt ſon; and all his Farm called Brocks, to his younger ſon; and the Land in queſtion was purchaſed long after that the Deviſor purchaſed Brocks: but it was not found that the ſaid Land was occupied either with Locks or Brocks; nor that it was expreſly named in the Will: And therefore the Opinion of the Court was, That the ſaid Land ſhould diſcend to the heir, viz. to the Eldeſt Son. In this Caſe, it was ſaid, That in ſtrictneſs of Law, Land cannot be ſaid to belong to a Houſe or Land; but in vulgar reputation it may be ſaid to be belonging. Doddridge, Juſtice, ſaid, That if it had been found, that the Deviſor had turned all the profits of the ſaid Lands to Brocks; then the ſame being in caſe of a Will, had paſſed by the Deviſe to the younger ſon. Crook, Juſtice, ſaid, That in a Will, Land which had been enjoyed with other, might paſſe: And therefore, If A. hath two houſes adjoyning, viz. the Swan and the Red-Lyon, and hath the Swan in his own poſſeſſion, and occupyeth a Parlour or a Hall which in truth belongeth to the Red-Lyon with the Swan houſe, and then Leaſeth the Red-Lyon houſe. And then by his Will deviſeth his houſe called the Swan, the Rooms of the Lyon which A. occupied with the Swan, ſhall paſſe. Paſch. 36 Eliz. Ewer and Haydon's Caſe; A man hath a houſe and divers Lands in W. and a ſo a houſe and Land in D. and by his Will, he deviſeth his houſe and all his Lands in W. and D. there the houſe in D. doth not paſs: But if he had deviſed all his Lands in W. and had not ſpoken of the houſe, the houſes had paſſed. Trin, 20 Jac. in B. R. Knight's Caſe. Godbold. 352, 353.

5. It was found by Special Verdict in Ejectione Firme, That R. K. was ſeiſed in Fee of a Meſſuage and two Acres of Land in Chipping-Norton, and of two Acres of Meadow in Kingham, and uſed and occupied the two Acres of Meadow, being four miles diſtant from the houſe, together with his Lands and Tenements in Chipping-Norton, and held them all in Socage; and 31 Eliz. by his Will deviſed the houſe cum omnibus et ſingulis pertinenciis, ad inde vel aliquo modo ſpectantibus F. K. filio ſuo et hæredibus ſuis in perpetuum; and for default of heirs of the ſaid F. K. to A. daughter of the ſaid R. K. for ever: One Queſtion in the Caſe was, Whether by this deviſe of R. K. of the Meſſuage cum pertinentiis, thoſe 2. Acres of Meadow paſſed, being uſed with it? And all the Court were of Opinion, That they did not paſſe, becauſe by the words, cum pertinentiis, Land paſſeth not, but onely ſuch things which properly may be appertaining: but otherwiſe it had been, if it had been cum terris pertinentibus; for then that which was uſed with it would have paſſed; but by the bare words, cum pertinenciis, without other Circumſtances, to declare his intent, they ſhall not paſſe, Hill. 1 Car, rott. 1876. in C. B. Hearn and Allens Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 41.

6. Upon a Special Verdict in an Ejectione Firme, the Caſe was thus; The Prior of Launceſton was ſeiſed in Fee of 4. Cloſes in North Drocomb in Launceſton, and 27 H. 8. demiſed the ſame to J. S. by the name of 4. Cloſes in Dorcomb infra Burgam de Launceſton for 99. years. The Priory and the poſſeſſions left, it came to King Henry the 8th by the Statute of Diſſolutions; and afterwards to Queen Elizabeth, who by her Letters Patents, Anno 24. of her Raign, granted to B. and C. and their heirs, Totum illud Meſſuagium et Tenementum vocat. Drocombs aliàs Drotons, et omnia terras, Tenementa diſt. Meſſuagio ſpectan. vel cum eodem demiſſa ſcituat. jacent. et exiſtent. in Launceſton nuper Prioratui de Launceſton ſpectantia; but before this Leaſe, viz. Anno 21 Eliz. 1 houſe was erected upon a Rod of Land parcel of the ſaid Cloſes, by the Occupiers thereof: And it was found, That Tenement. in narratione mentionat. eodem Meſſuagio ſpectabat; and was demiſed and granted with the ſaid Meſſuage, and was always called by the name of Dorcombs, as well as by the name of North-Dorcombs. It was a Queſtion in this Caſe, The Patent being made of a Meſſuage and Lands thereunto appertaining, this Meſſuage being newly erected after, 1 Eliz. Whether the Land ſhould paſs? for it was ſaid, That although in a common perſon's caſe, Land may paſs by the name of Lands, appertaining to a houſe, yet it cannot ſo in the Caſe of the Queen; for it ought to be for a longer time than 20 years, if you would have it obtain Reputation of paſſing by the word Pertaining: But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Patent was good for the Meſſuage and all the Lands; For although the Meſſuage was not built upon it when it was demiſed, and that afterwards a Meſſuage was erected upon it; yet it ſhould be granted as it is, & by ſuch name as it is known at the time of the Letters Patents: And the Opinion of the Court was in this Caſe, That Lands may be ſaid to be appertaining to a houſe as well in the King's Caſe, as in the caſe of a Common perſon, when it hath been Lett and occupied together by a convenient time. Apportionment.

I. Where a Rent-Service, Seck, or Rent-Charge ſhall be apportioned; where not: Where by the Act of Law; where by the Act of the Party; and where not.

1. LEſſee for years of Land rendring Rent, granted over his Term in parcel of the Land; the Grantee made a Feoffment unto a Stranger of the parcel: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That debt did not lye for the Rent before the Reverſion was recontinued by the firſt Leſſor; But upon the Recontinuance, It was holden, That the Leſſor might ſue the firſt Leſſee for the whole Rent; for that the privity remained, and there ſhould be no apportionment; for that no Apportionment lyeth by the Act of the party; but by act of Law, the Rent might be apportioned. Trin. 24 H. 8. Dyer. 4. Ruſhton's Caſe. See Mich. 41 Eliz. Brome and Horis Caſe, vouched in Cook 3. Part. in Walker's Caſe, acc.

2. A man made a Leaſe of Lands, and of a Stock of Sheep, rendring Rent; all the ſheep dyed; the Queſtion was, Whether the Rent ſhould be apportioned: Divers were of Opinion, That the Rent being entire, ſhould not be apportioned: But the better Opinion was, That, it being by the act of God, the Rent ſhould be apportioned, as well as if part of the Land had been evicted by an Eigne title, which is the Act of the Law. Trinit. 35 H. 8. Dyer 56. See Cook. 5. Part. in Spencer's Caſe: and 2 Ma. Dyer 100. that in that caſe the Rent is iſſuing out of the Land, and not out of the Stock. See 20 Eliz. Dyer 361. acc.

3. An Action of Debt was brought againſt the Executors of Potter for Rent, which incurred upon a Leaſe for years after the death of the Teſtator; They pleaded, That part of the Land was evicted in the life of the Teſtator; and that they tendered the Reſidue. The Plaintiff demurred upon the Plea; but afterwards waived the Demurrer: and he accepted of Rent according to the apportionment; for that the Rent was apportionable by the Eviction, 7 E. 6. Dyer 81. Note; In this Caſe, the Action was brought againſt the Executors in the Debet et Detinet: and ſo was it, Mich. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 5. Part. 31. in Hargraves Caſe: and ſo Paſch. 7 Jac. in B. R. it was in the Lord Rich and Franks Caſe, againſt Adminiſtrators, it was in the Debet et Detinet. But Note, It hath been ſaid, Hill. 43 Eliz. That the Judgment given in Hargraves Caſe was reverſed; and then adjudged, It ought to be brought in the Detinet onely and it was there ſaid, That C. 5. Part vouched Hargraves Caſe; but did not ſpeak of the Reverſal of it.

4. A Leaſe was made for years of the Greyhound in Fleetſtreet with divers implements, rendring Rent; the Leſſor entred and made a Feoffment; the Leſſee re-entred; the Feoffee brought Debt for the Rent behind, and it was adjudged maintainable: and in that caſe it was holden, That there ſhould be no apportionment of the Rent in reſpect of the Implements; and it is not like to the Caſe, where there is an Eviction of part of the Term; for that here the Leſſee continued his Term in the houſe and Implements. Paſch. 4 Eliz. Dyer 213.

5. Humphrey de Bohune held Mannors of the King by Knights-Service to be Conſtable of England; He had Iſſue two Daughters, and dyed; the daughters took husband; the husband of the youngeſt is made King: It was holden in this Caſe, That by Unity of the Seignory, and parcel of the Tenancy in the King, that the Services were not ſuſpended; but that the whole Service ſhould iſſue out of the reſidue, becauſe it was by the act of Law; and ſo it ſhall be of every Service which is intire and not apportionable, Mich. 11 Eliz. Dyer. 285.

6. Note: If a man Leaſe 3. Acres rendring Rent, and the Leſſor ouſteth the Leſſee of one Acre, he ſhall not have an Action of Debt for any part of the Rent: But if the Leſſor do recover part in an Action of Waſte, or enter in part for a forfeiture, or by ſurrender, or by ſpecial Condition for entry in part, or if the Land be evicted by title paramount; in all theſe Caſes, the Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe for years which is a Rent-Service, ſhall be apportioned. See 20 H. 6. 23. 21 E. 4. 29. But Note, the ſame books are intended of a lawful entry as for a forfeiture, or by ſurrender, and not of a tortious Entry. See Cook. 3. Part. 22. in Walkers Caſe.

7. A Rent-Service may be apportioned by the Common Law, as if the Leſſee ſurrendreth part of the Land to the Leſſor, or part of the Land be recovered in Waſte, or by entry for a forfeiture, in ſuch caſes the Rent ſhall be apportioned: So if the Leſſor granteth part of the Reverſion to a ſtranger, the Rent ſhall be apportioned, becauſe it is incident to the Reverſion: and ſo if Tenant by Knights-Service by his Will deviſeth the Reverſion of two parts of the Land, the Deviſee ſhall have two parts of the Rent, and the Rent ſhall be apportioned. See Cook. 6. Part. 2. in Bruerton's Caſe. Cook. 8. Part. 105. in Talbotts Caſe. See Paſch. 39 Eliz. rott. 233. in B. 8. If the King gives two Acres of Land of equal value to J. S. in Fee, for life, or in taile, reſerving 2 s. Rent; If one Acre be evicted by a title paramount, the Rent ſhall be apportioned; as it was adjudged, Mich. 8 Eliz. in the Earl of Huntington's Caſe.

9. A Rent, or a thing which is intire in reſpect of the realty may be apportioned, but in the perſonalty is indiviſible, and by Act of Law ſhall not be divided; as if the Conuſee of a Statute extend the Land, and afterwards part of the Land diſcends to him, the whole Execution is avoided, becauſe the duty is perſonal and indiviſible. Cook. 1. Part. Inſtitutes 150.

10. Tenant for life makes a Leaſe for years, rendring Rent at Eaſter, and the Leſſee holdeth the Land for 3. Quarters of the year, and dyeth in the laſt Quarter before Eaſter; in that caſe, becauſe the Rent is intire, there ſhall be no apportionment of the Rent for the 3. Quarters of the year. But in that caſe, if any part of the Land had been evicted before Eaſter: It was adjudged, That in ſuch caſe, the Rent ſhould have been apportioned. Cook 10. Part. 128. Clans Caſe.

11. A Mannor, which did conſiſt of Free Rents 7 l. Copy-Rents 3 l. and of Demeans which had uſually been demiſed, for ſeveral Rents of 8 l. To which Mannor, an Acre of Waſte parcel of the Mannor, and of the yearly value of 12 d. Heriots, Court-Baron, Leet, and perquiſites of Court, which were never demiſed for life, years, or otherwiſe, were incident, and did appertain, were by a private Act of Parliament, 27 H. 8. given to A. and B. in taile, with divers remainders over: And the Donees by the Act were reſtrained Quod non facerent aliquid ad nocumentum, or diſ-inheriſin of the Iſſue in taile, or them in remainder: and they had power to make a Leaſe for life, years, or at will, rendring the true and ancient Rent of the ſaid Tenements ſo to be demiſed; and that all other acts ſhould be void; Tenant in taile accepted of a Fine of a ſtranger of the Mannor; by which Fine, they did grant and render the Mannor for 300 years rendring Rent, amounting to the Free Rents, Copy-Rents, Farm Rents, and 18 d. more; and 12 d. for the Waſte, to be paid at 2. Feaſts; whereas the old rent was payable at 4. Feaſts. Tenant in taile dyed; and, If the Leaſe for 300 years was to be avoided by the ſaid Clauſe of reſtraint in the Act of Parliament, was the Queſtion? In this Caſe many Points were Reſolved: Amongſt other things to make the Leaſe for 300 years to be good; It was Objected, That, If the render as to the Acre of Waſte, the Services, Heriotts, Leet, &c. ſhall be void by the Act, then it followeth, that it is good for the Demeans, and then all the Rent reſerved ſhall go out of the Demeans; and if the Leaſe ſhall not be void as to ſuch things which were demiſed before, yet after the death of him who made the Render, there ſhould be an Apportionment of the Rent for them; then foraſmuch as the whole Rent and more is reſerved for the Demeans, the Render ſhall be good for the Demeans. But it was Reſolved, That in this Caſe no Apportionment could be to make the render for 300 years good; foraſmuch as in this Caſe there be Copy-holds for mens lives, which depend upon the providence of God, Heriots, profits of Courts, and other caſualties which cannot be reduced to an yearly value: And an Apportionment ought to be of a certainty. And, 2. In this caſe, though there may be an apportionment after the death of Tenant in taile, yet that will not ſerve to make the Grant and Render good; for if the true ancient Rent be not reſerved during the term, the power which the Tenant hath is not followed; for it is not ſufficient that the old Rent be reſerved to the heirs in taile; but it muſt be reſerved to Tenant in taile himſelf. Cook 3. Part. 5 & 6. The Lord Mountjoyes Caſe.

12. A. made a Leaſe for years of two Acres of Land, rendring rent; the Leſſee granted all his Eſtate in one of the Acres to J. S; the Leſſor confirmed the Eſtate of J. S. It was in this Caſe Reſolved by the Court, That by this Confirmation, the intire Rent was gone in all the other Acres; for it being an intire Contract, and his own Act, there cannot be an Apportionment for part, and an Extinguiſhment for the other part: and therefore the Leſſor in ſuch caſe ſhall not avow for the Rent determined, Mich. 34 Eliz. in C. B. Goddard's Caſe. Owen 10.

13. A man ſeiſed of two Cloſes called Blanch, made a Leaſe of them, rendring 10 s. Rent; The Leſſee granted all his Eſtate in one of them to A. and in the other to B. The Leſſor did deviſe all his Land called Blanch in the Tenure of A. and dyed; the Deviſee brought Debt for the whole Rent againſt the firſt Leſſee. It was holden by the Court, That the Action did not lye; becauſe in ſuch caſe but the Reverſion of one Cloſe paſſed; and alſo in that caſe the Rent ſhould not be apportioned, becauſe a Term is out of the Statute of Quia Emptores terrarum, and a Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe for years ſhall not be apportioned by by the Act of the Leſſor; as where he takes a ſurrender of part of the Land, Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Wiſeman and Wallingers Caſe, Godbold. 95.

14. Note: It was holden by the whole Court, That if a man maketh a Leaſe of Copy-hold-Land and Free-hold Land, rendring Rent, and the Copy hold Land diſcendeth to one, and the Free-hold to another; that in ſuch caſe, the Rent ſhall be apportioned, Mich. 30 Eliz. in B.R. Harding's Caſe. Godbold. 139.

15. Note; This difference was taken and agreed per Curiam, That if Grantee of a Rent-Charge releaſe parcel of the Rent to the Grantor, and his heirs, the reſidue may be apportioned, and the Land ſhall remain chargeable ſtill for the Reſidue; but if he Releaſe in one Acre parcel of the Land charged, then all the Rent is gone, Mich. 40 Eliz. in C. B. Goldeſbr. 118.

16. In a Replevin, the Caſe was, A man made a Leaſe of Lands of which he was ſeiſed by good Title; and of Lands of which he was ſeiſed of a defeicible Title for years, rendring Rent; And the Leſſor avowed for the whole Rent; the Plaintiff in the Replevin ſaid, That after the Leaſe made, the Diſſeiſee entred upon part of the Land; whereupon it was demurred: the Queſtion was in this Caſe, If the Avowant ſhould have Retorn of the Cattel. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Avowant ſhould not have Return: For all the Court agreed, That in this Caſe, the apportionment muſt be made by the Judges, and the Judges in this Caſe could not make an apportionment, becauſe the value did not appear to them; and the Eviction is matter of privity, which ought to be diſcovered by the Leſſee, and he ought to give Notice of it to the Leſſor, and he ought to ſhew the Value of the Land from which he is evicted to the Judges; and although the Land evicted ought to be apportioned; yet becauſe the value did not appear to the Judges, it could not be apportioned. 2. Where Suit-Service, Herriots, Common Appendant, or Appurtenant, Debts, Warranty, Conditions, and other the like things, ſhall be apportioned; and where not: And where ſuſpended and extinguiſhed, where not: and by what, and whoſe Act.

1. LOrd and Tenant of 3. Acres of Land by Homage, Fealty, annual Service of a Hawk, Suit of Court, the Tenant maketh a Feoffment in Fee of one Acre; the Feoffee by the Common-Law ſhall hold by Homage, Fealty, a Hawk and Suit of Court, for Quæ in partes dividi nequeunt, ſolida ſingulis præſtantur: and the Statute of Quia Emptores terrarum, doth not extend to intire Services to hold pro particula, Cook. 6. Part. 1. & 2. Bruerton's Caſe. In which Caſe, concerning Apportionment, Multiplication, and Extinguiſhment; theſe differences were taken, had, and agreed: 1. If the Lord accept of any part of the Tenancy, All the Annual Services were gone; for ſuch Services cannot be apportioned: and ſo it is if the Lord doth releaſe his Seignory in part, the whole Tenancy by his own Act is gone. 2. There is a difference between Services which are for the ſole benefit of the Lord, and are a charge unto the Tenant, as the Service of a Hawk, &c. and Services intire which are for the good of the Common-wealth, or for Religion, Charity, Devotion, &c. for although that the Lord purchaſeth parcel of the Tenancy, ſuch intire Services do remain: As if the Tenure be to make a Bridge, Beacon, or to marry poor Virgins, or to find a Preacher, or to find Aide to the Sheriffs, or to be High-Conſtable of England, &c. In ſuch cases, by the Lords purchaſe of parcel, the whole Service doth remain; and ſo it is, if the Tenure be concerning the Adminiſtration of Juſtice; as to be Keeper of the Kings Records. But if the Tenure be to be Carver, Sewer, &c. which is for a private benefit, it is otherwiſe. 3. There is a difference betwixt intire Services, when the doing of the Service by one Tenant in part ſhall ſerve for all, and he who doth it, ſhall have contribution; and when every ſeveral Tenant ſhall do the ſeveral intire ſervices, as in caſe of Suit; and therefore in ſuch caſe, if any parcel cometh to the Lord, though it be by diſcent, which is the Act of Law, yet all Suit is gone. Cook 6. Part. 2. Brueton's Caſe.

2. A man held a Meſſuage and half a yard Land, Meadow and Paſture, of the Lord by Fealty, Suit of Court, and Heriot, to be paid after the death of every Tenant, thereof dying ſeiſed, The Lord purchaſed parcel of the Land, and afterwards the Tenant enfeoffed J. S. of other parcel of the Land. It was adjudged in that caſe, That by the purchaſe of parcel of the Land by the Lord, the Heriot-ſervice was extinct: But it was alſo Reſolved, That if the Cuſtome of the Mannor be, That upon the death of every Tenant of the Mannor who dyeth ſeiſed of Lands holden of the Mannor, that the Lord ſhall have have a Heriot; in that caſe, If the Lord purchaſe parcel of the Tenancy, yet the Lord ſhall have a Heriot by the Cuſtome. Cook 8. Part. Talbott's Caſe. 105, 106.

3. Common Appendant may be apportioned, becauſe it is of common right: and therefore by purchaſe of parcel of the Land to which the Common is appendant, the Common ſhall be apportioned: But Common Appurtenant cannot be apportioned by the Act of the party, and therefore by purchaſe of parcel of the Land, the whole Common is extinct: and Unity of poſſeſſion of the whole Land to which, and of the whole Land in which, makes an Extinguiſhment of Common Appendant. Cook 4. Part. Terringham's Caſe. Cook 8. Part. 79. Weilds Caſe, acc. See Hob. 25. acc.

4. Note: It was adjudged, That where a man had a Common appurtenant to 10. Acres of Land for all his beaſts levant, and couchant upon the ſame, and ſold part of it; That the Common ſhould be apportioned, and every one ſhould have Common for his beaſts levant and couchant upon his part: For things are intire in ſeveral degrees; ſome cannot be divided by any act of the parties; as Warranty, Conditions; and yet by act in Law they are divided. But the caſe of Common is not ſo ſtrict an intierty, and the miſchief of the generality of the Caſe requires an extenſion of it for common good. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. Hobart. 235.

5. A man having two Sons, and A. and B his two Daughters, gave his Lands to his eldeſt Son in taile, the remainder to the younger ſon in taile, the remainder to A. his eldeſt daughter, and to her heirs; Tenant in taile in poſſeſſion levied a Fine with Warranty; he in the remainder in taile dyed without Iſſue; Tenant in taile in poſſeſſion dyed without Iſſue; The Warranty diſcended upon both Daughters as ſiſters and heirs to Tenant in taile; and if this Warranty ſhould barr the heir of A. the eldeſt daughter for the whole, or but for a moyety, was the Queſtion? And it was adjudged, That the heir of A. ſhould be barred for the whole; for that the Warranty is in her, and extended to the whole Land, and it is a barre to every perſon to whom the Land diſcends, of all the right which ſhe hath in the ſame Land; and whether they have a joynt, or a ſeveral right in the Land, every one is barred: and if one hath right, and the other hath nothing in the Land, he who hath the right is barred: and a Warranty is ſuch an intire thing as cannot be ſevered and divided. Cook. 8. Part. 51, 52, Hill. 5 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2541. Syms Caſe.

6. The Maſter and Schollers of Corpus Chriſti Colledge in Oxford, made a Leaſe for years of Lands. Proviſo, That the Leſſee nor his aſſignees ſhould not alien to any perſon or perſons without ſpecial Licence of the Leſſors; Afterwards they gave ſpecial Licence to the Leſſee, to alien or demiſe the Lands to any perſon or perſons whatſoever; the Leſſee aſſigned his Term to J. S. who by his Will deviſed the ſame to his ſon; the Leſſors by their Attorney entred for the Condition broken. It was Reſolved in that caſe, That the alienation by Licence to J. S. had deſtroyed the Condition; for that the Leſſors could not diſpence with the Condition in part; and retain it in other part: for a Condition being an intire thing, cannot be apportioned by the act of the party; but by act of Law the ſame might be apportioned: And ſo it was adjudged, 14 Eliz. in the Common-Pleas, rott. 1015. where the caſe was; a man by Indenture made Leaſe for years of 3. Mannors, A. B. and C. rendring Rent for A. 6 l. for B. 5 l. and for C. 10 l. with Condition to re-enter in all the 3. Mannors for want of payment of the ſaid Rents, or any of them: Afterwards the Leſſor bargained and ſold the Reverſion of one houſe, and of 40 Acres of Land parcel of the Mannor of A. to J. S. and his heirs; and afterwards bargained and ſold all the reſt to another and his heirs: It was adjudged in that Caſe, That the ſecond Bargainee could not enter for the Condition broken, becauſe the Condition being intire, it could not be apportioned by the act of the parties; but by the ſeverance of part of the Condition, the whole was deſtroyed. See Cook. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Damports Caſe. Cook. 4. Part. 119.

7. A Prior ſeiſed of divers houſes with the conſent of his Covent, made a Leaſe of them for years, rendring the yearly Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. at the 4. Feaſts of the year, uſual in the City of London, viz. for one houſe 3 l. 11 d. for another 20 s. and for the other houſes ſeveral Rents reſidue of the 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. with condition, if the 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. be arrear in part or in all at any of the ſaid Feaſts, then the Prior and his Succeſſors to enter: The Prior came to the King by ſurrender, who by his Letters Patents granted one of

of the houſes to the Leſſee, and to another in Fee; afterwards it was found by Commiſſion, that parcel of the ſaid Rent of 5 l. 10 s. 11 d. was behind at one of the ſaid Feaſts; and before the Commiſſioners returned, the King granted the reſidue to J.S. in Fee. In this caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That it was but one intire Leaſe, one intire Rent, one intire reſervation; and that the viz. did not make any ſeverance. 2. That becauſe the Condition was intire, giving a Re-entry into the whole, for default of payment of any part of the Rent, that (if it were in the caſe of a common perſon) the condition was utterly deſtroyed. 3. It was Reſolved, That in this caſe, in the caſe of the King, the Condition by the ſeverance of part of the Reverſion, was not utterly deſtroyed, but the Condition ſhould be divided and apportioned; and therefore the Patentee of parcel ſhould not take advantage of the Condition; but as to that part of the Land demiſed the ſame was diſcharged of the Condition; but as to the reſt, the Condition did remain to the reverſion, which the King had. Cook 5. Part. 55. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Knight's Caſe.

8. A man enfeoffed two men, upon Condition, That the Feoffees before ſuch a day ſhould make back an eſtate to the Feoffor for the Term of his life, the remainder over in Fee to a ſtranger; one of the Feoffees made the Eſtate accordingly: It was the better Opinion of the Court, That the ſame was good for one moyety, becauſe the Condition being intire, the party by his acceptance of the Eſtate, had diſpenſed with the Condition; which could not be ſevered or divided. Trinit. 6 E. 6. Dyer. 69, 70.

9. Two Joynt-Tenants were with Warranty; and Partition was made betwixt them by Judgment, in a Writ of Partitione facienda: It was adjudged in that caſe, That the Warranty did remain, becauſe by the Statute of 31 H. 8. cap. 1. they are compellable to make partition: But if they had made Partition by Deed by Conſent, in ſuch caſe, ſuch partition had remained at the Common-Law; and then a Warranty being a thing intire, Partition would not be made of it; for it muſt either intirely remain, or intirely be annulled, and extinguiſhed; and ſo the Warranty abſolutely gone. Cook 6. Part. 12. Morrice's Caſe.

10. Cartwright being poſſeſſed of a houſe called the Ship, without Temple-Barre, for 30 years by Leaſe, except a Stable, whereof one Warlowe was poſſeſſed for two years, aſſigned all his Intereſt to Rawlins; Afterwards Rawlins (the Demiſe of the Stable to Warlow being ended) by Deed Indented, for a Fine of 25 l. to be paid, re-demiſed all the houſe to Cartwright for 21 years, rendring 24 l. paid quarterly, and 5 l. quarterly at the ſame Feaſt, untill the 25 l. were paid; upon condition, That if the ſaid ſum of 25 l. or the ſaid Rent was behind at any Feaſt, then it ſhould be lawful for Rawlins to re-enter: Afterwards before any day of payment, Cartwright re-demiſed the ſtable to Rawlins for 10 years, who entred, and afterwards the Rent, and alſo the 5 l. parcel of the ſumme in groſſe for the Fine was not paid: In this Caſe, It was adjudged, That here were not ſeveral Conditions, but one intire Condition; and therefore the ſame being ſuſpended in part, and a Condition being intire, cannot be divided or apportioned by the Act of the parties; and that the Condition was intire, appeareth by the Concluſion, ſcil. for non-payment of the one, or the other, it ſhould be lawful to re-enter into the whole. Appropriations, Commendams, Pluralities, and Diſpenſations.

1. The Antiquity of Appropriations; and that thoſe of Ancient time, are not now Queſtionable.

1. NOte; In the Book of Dr. Ridley, Intituled, A View of the Civil Law, fol. 153, 154, & 155; it is ſaid, That the Beginning of Appropriations, and of Diſcharge of Tythes, was, after Benedict, who was the Inſtitutor of Monks, &c. And that the Saxon Kings appropriated 8. Churches to the Monaſtery of Crowland; as it appeareth by Ingulphus, who was Abbot there. Cook. 12. Part. 4.

2. The Abbot of Subby held the Parſonage of Lubbenham in the County of L. to his own uſe; which, as a Parſonage Impropriate, came to King Henry the 8th by the Statute of 31 H. 8. of Diſſolutions; the ſaid King, Anno 37 of his Raign, granted it in Fee-Farm; under which Grant, the Plaintiff claymed: The Defendant obtained a Preſentation from the Queen; and to deſtroy the Impropriation, did ſhew the Original of it, which was, 22 E. 4. with a Condition in it, That a Vicarage ſhould be perpetually endowed; and alledged, That there never was a Vicarage endowed, and therefore the Appropriation was void: But becauſe the Rectory was for all the time of the Appropriation, reputed and taken to be Appropriated, and a Vicar preſented, admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted; it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That it ſhall be preſumed, that the Vicarage in reſpect of Continuance was endowed: And in that caſe it was ſaid, It ſhall be dangerous to Examine the Original of Appropriations of Parſonages, and Endowments of Vicarages; for that the Original of them in time will periſh. Trin. 37 Eliz. in Exchequer Chamber. Grimes and Smith's Caſe; Cook. 12. Part. 4.

3. Anno 31 E. 1. The King was ſeiſed of the Mannor of Kimbolton, to which the Advowſon of the Church was Appended; and by his Letters Patents granted the Mannor with the Appurtenances to Humphrey de Bohume in general Taile: The Iſſue in taile by Deed, 4 E. 3. granted the Advowſon then full of an Incumbent to the Prior of Stoneley, and his Succeſſours, who at the next Avoidance held it in proprios uſus; And ſo the Prior and his Succeſſours held the Church to their proper uſes, untill the Diſſolution of the Monaſtery, which was in 27 H. 8. The Mannor diſcended to Edward Duke of Buckingham; the reverſion to King Henry the 8th. The Duke, 13 H. 8. was Attainted of Treaſon: The King granted the Mannor with the appurtenances to Wingfield in taile. It was Enacted by Parliament, That the Duke ſhould forfeit all Mannors, &c. Advowſons, &c. which he had in 4 H. 8. Anno 37 H. 8. the King granted and ſold for money the Rectory of Kimbolton as Impropriate in Fee: And afterwards 37 Eliz. one Beard obtained a Preſentation of the Queen for Lapſe, pretending, that the ſaid Church was not lawfully Appropriated to the Prior of Stoneley; for that the Iſſue in taile who granted it to the Prior of Stoneley, had nothing in it; for that it did not paſſe to his Anceſtour, by the words, Manerium cum pertinenciis; and alſo that he being but Tenant in taile by his death, his Grant was void. In this Caſe, it was Reſolved by Egerton, Lord Chancellour of England, being Aſſiſted with the Principal Judges, That although the Advowſon did not paſſe by the Grant of the King in ſtrictneſs of Law, by the words cum pertinenciis; yet it ſhall be intended in reſpect of the Ancient and continued poſſeſſion, that there was a lawful grant of the King to Humphrey de Bohume, ſo as he might lawfully grant it to the Priory, and all ſhall be preſumed to be done, which might make the ancient Appropriation good: For if the Appropriation had been drawn in Queſtion in the life-time of any of the parties to it, they might have ſhewed the truth of the matter: But after ſo many ſucceſſions of Ages, in which the Church was eſteemed to be rightfully appropriated, the Appropriation ſhall not now be drawn in Queſtion. Hill. 4 Jac. in Chancery, Predle and Beard and Wingfields Caſe. Cook. 12. Part. 5.

4. A Quare Impedit was brought againſt the Defendant for the Church of Penmark in the County of Glamorgan; the Suit was ſtayed by Aide Prayer, and the Record removed into the Chancery: The Plaintiff moved for a Procedendo, and ſhewed a guiſt in taile of the Advowſon made to his Anceſtor, 18 R. 2. and a Preſentation by his Grandfather to the ſaid Church of a Clerk, who was Inſtituted and Inducted with poſſeſſion for divers years. It was Reſolved in this Caſe by Sir Tho. Bromley Lord Chancellor, Sir Gilbert Gerard Maſter of the Rolls, Sute and Windham Juſtices, Popham and Egerton Solicitors of the Queen, That (becauſe the Defendant and thoſe from whom he claimed, time out of mind had had the poſſeſſion of the Parſonage as Impropriate (ſaving for ſome ſmall time); and becauſe it ſhall be a dangerous Preſident to the Queen and others, Owners of Impropriations, to maintain the Appropriations to be perfect in all Points and Circumſtances requiſite to an abſolute Appropriation, the Appropriations being made of ancient time) no Procedendo ſhould be granted in that caſe. Trin. 29 Eliz. in the Chancery. The Lord St. John of Bletſo, and the Dean and Capter of Glouceſters Caſe. See Cook. 12. Part. 3. acc.

5. A. Prior was ſeiſed of an Advowſon of a Parſonage; The Church being void, the Biſhop gave him Licence to hold it to his proper uſes; and there was not Endowment of the Vicarage; and the Jury found the Statute of 4 H. 4. of Appropriations, and the Statute of 27 H. 8. which gives Priories and Religious houſes to the King; the Queſtion was, Whether the Appropriation was good, there being no Endowment of the Vicarage? and whether the ſaid Statute of 4 H. 4. being in the Affirmative, (that Vicarages ſhall be endowed) makes all Appropriations void, unleſs there be a Vicarage endowed? And whether Appropriations without the King's Licence, was good? It was Reſolved, That whether the Appropriation be good, or not, cannot now be called in Queſtion, but ſhall be intended to be good, and to all requiſite Circumſtances: But in that caſe, becauſe the Defendant claimed per Preſentationem Regis ratione Lapſus; whereas the King if he had any title to preſent, it was Jure Coronæ; the Preſentment of the Plaintiff was utterly void, and that the Plaintiff had no Title, who had brought an Action upon the Statute of 2 E. 6. for not ſetting ſetting out Tythes. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Hunſton and Cockett's Caſe, Cro. 2. Part. 210.

2. Where, how, and at what time, and by whom, and to what perſons, and by whoſe aſſent Appropriations may be made; and where, and when, and by what Perſons, not.

1. KIng Edward the 6th being Patron of a Church which was full of an Incumbent; by his Letters Patents granted the Advowſon to the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield; and by the ſaid Letters Patents granted, that after the Avoydance of the ſaid Church by death, reſignation or otherwiſe, that the Biſhop or his Succeſſours ſhould hold the ſaid Church in propios uſus; The Biſhop made a Leaſe by Indenture for 60 years, to begin at ſuch time as the ſaid Parſonage ſhould come to the hands of the ſaid Biſhop or his Succeſſors by death, ſurrender, or otherwiſe; which Leaſe was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter; the Biſhop dyed, the Incumbent dyed; the Succeſſour-Biſhop entred, and made a Leaſe for 21 years: It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Leaſe was void: and the reaſon was; becauſe the Leſſor had not any thing in the Parſonage Impropriate during the life of the Incumbent; by which caſe it appeareth, That an Appropriation cannot be made to a Church, which is full of an Incumbent; but by ſpecial words. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer 244. the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield's Caſe. See Ibid. Jobſon and Michaels Caſe, adjudged in Cancell. acc. See Cook 11. Part. 11. a. Cook 10. 2. King E. 1. Anno 12 of his Raign, granted to the Biſhop of St. Davids and his Succeſſours, the Advowſons of 34 Churches within his Dioceſs of Wales, ſo as they might appropriate them or any of them to their Church of St. Davids and Averguelley, or make or annex any Prebends of them in their ſaid Churches; The Biſhop with the Kings aſſent, and the Dean and Chapter of St. Davids, erected a Colledge or Collegiate Church in Lawrybreyve being one of the 34 Churches; and Ordained 13 Cannons, and annexed and appropriated 13 of the ſaid Churches to the ſaid Cannons, and made them Prebends and Prebendaries, and the profits of the Church of Lawrybreyve, he divided by Appropriation after the death of the Incumbent of it, amongſt the Prebendaries, Reſerving to the Biſhop and his Succeſſours, and to the Dern and Chapter, Locum et ſtallum in Choro, et Capitalo: And afterwards 18 E. 1. he appropriated to the ſaid Deanery another of the ſaid 34 Churches, ſcil. Lannarthe, with the Chappel of Lanina, with the Kings aſſent. Afterwards King E. 3. reciting, the foundation of the ſaid Colledge, and all the premiſſes by his Letters Patents confirmed all and ſingular the premiſſes to the Biſhop and his Succeſſours, notwithſtanding the Statute of Mortmain, and that the Appropriations were given without the King's Licence; and ſo Lawrybrevie continued, and was taken for a Colledge in all points. It was holden in this Caſe by all the Juſtices of both Benches, (except Harper) That the Appropriations were well made; and that this was a good Colledge, and given to the King by the Statute of 1 E. 6. Mich. 9 & 10 Eliz. Dyer. 267. See 7 E. 6. Dyer 81. acc. and the reaſon of the Juſtices was, in the Caſe aforeſaid, becauſe that this Colledge had the Countenance of the King's Letters Patents: And although there was no Endowment of a Vicar, which ought to be upon every Appropriation: Yet it was holden by them, That by the ſaid Act of 1 E. 6. power is given to the Commiſſioners to eſtabliſh a Vicar in every Colledge which was a Parochiall Church. See Cook. 4. Part. 107. in Adams and Lamberts Caſe, acc.

3. No man can make an Appropriation of any Church, having Cure of Souls, the ſame being a thing meerly Eccleſiaſtical, and to be made by ſome Eccleſiaſtical perſon; but he onely who hath Eccleſiaſtical Juriſdiction. See Cook 5. Part. 10. in Cawdries Caſe: And therefore in all Appropriations, the Inſtrument of Appropriation is made by the Biſhop, or Ordinary, and runs in this or the like form, viz. authoritate noſtra Ordinaria, Eccleſiam Parochialem de B. Priori et Conventui, annectimus, appropriamus, et unimus per præſentes. But the King is ſuch a ſpiritual perſon, as he of himſelf may appropriate any Church or Advowſon, becauſe he hath the Eccleſiaſticall Power and Juriſdiction in him, Cook 5. Part. 10. in Cawdries Caſe. Cook 11. Part, 10, 11. in Priddle and Nappers Caſe, acc.

4. Note: It was holden by the whole Court, That a Vicarage endowed might be Appropriated; but not to the Parſon: and (as the book in 21 H. 6.) is ſuch a Vicarage, as may afterwards be diſſolved: And further it was holden, That an Appropriation may be by the King Sole, where he is Patron: But in no caſe an Appropriation can be made by the Patron himſelf onely. Trinit. 16 Jac. in B. R. Ward's Caſe. Popham 144, 145.

5. The

5. The Prior of D. was ſeiſed of the Advowſon of N. appropriated to his Priory, and alſo of the Vicarage of N. endowed with ſmall tythes. This Appropriation and Endowment was in the time of King John; and ſo continued till the time of Henry the 6th, when the Pope granted by his Bulls, That the Prior ſhould appoint one of his Monks to Officiate the Cure, who ſhould be removeable ad nutum Prioris; The Queſtion was, Whether the Vicarage were thereby diſſolved? It was Objected, It was, in regard, the Pope was then Supream Ordinary: and it was good without the King's Licence, in regard the endowing was a ſpiritual Act, and the Patron had nothing to do therein; and as the Endowment of a Vicarage is a ſpiritual Act, ſo is the diſſolving of it: But it was holden, 1. That a Vicarage perpetual, could not be diſſolved after the Statute of 4 H. 4. 2. It was holden, That the Pope had not any power to make any Ordinance againſt that Statute; and the Pope could not diſſolve the Vicarage in this caſe, for that by the ſaid Statute he had not any right to meddle with Advowſons, Benefices, &c. and the Pope by his Bulls cannot diſpence with the Law, though they tend in Ordine ad ſpiritualia. 3. That there was no diſſolving of the Vicarage alledged in the Caſe, or any words that amount to it; but the words only are, That the Vicar ſhould be ad nutum Prioris. 4. It was ſaid, That a Parſonage and a Vicarage are two diſtinct Benefices, and both have Curam animarum, the Parſon habitualiter, the Vicar actualiter; and although the Vicarage be ſpiritual; yet the Corporation is Temporal, which the Pope cannot diſſolve. And in this Caſe, Parry and Banks Caſe, 12 Jac. in the Exchequer was vouched, which was; A Parſonage was Appropriate to the Deanery of St. Aſaph, 24 H. 8. and a Vicarage endowed; The Biſhop 24 Eliz. diſſolved the Vicarage; Parry pretending the Vicarage was not diſſolved, but remained in the Kings hands by Lapps obtained a Preſentation. It was Reſolved in that caſe, That after the Statute of 31 H. 8. which made Parſonages Lay-Fees, that the Ordinary might not diſſolve the Vicarage, when the Parſonage is in a Temporal hand; for that ſhould be to deſtroy the Cure: but in that caſe, it being appropriate to the Donee, it might be well diſſolved. In the principal Caſe it was holden, The Vicarage was not diſſolved, Mich. 16 Jac. in B.R. Britton and Wades Caſe, Cro. 2. Part. 516, 517, 518.

3. That no Appropriations within the Realm can be made but by the King, or by Authority derived from the King, and by his Licence; and that all other Appropriations are void in Law; And to whom the Licence muſt be made.

1. APpropriations made by the Pope, or by Authority derived from the Pope, were never approved and allowed, of by the Lawes of this Realm. Cook. 5. Part, 11, 12, 13. acc. And therefore where a Quare Impedit was brought by the Maſter of Merton-Hall, who alledged Plenary: It was ſent to the Biſhop to certifie, If full, or not: who certified, That the Church was not void; but was full of the Maſter and Schollars; who made entry to it by an Authority from the Pope: Shipwith ſaid, In that Caſe the Avoidance doth not lye in his Conuſance, and therefore the Certificate was not good. And it was holden, That the Entry by the Authority of the Pope onely, was not good; and that he could not appropriate the Church to them, to hold to their own uſe. See 22 E. 3. 13. Cook 5. Part, vouched in Cawdries Caſe.

2. A Writ of Right of Advowſon was brought againſt a Prior; the parties joyned the Grand Aſſiſe upon the meer right; and the Demandant was Nonſuit. It was prayed, That final Judgment might be given againſt the Demandant: Hankford took the Record, and looked in the Roll; and afterwards ſaid, That the Prior claymed the Advowſon in the right of him and his Succeſſours; and it is not declared, Whether he held the ſame to his own uſe by Appropriation as Parſon by Licence of the Pope; Or that he held the Advowſon as his Lay-Fee by the Grant of the Patron, and the Licence of the King. Horton, We claim to hold the ſame to our proper uſes by the Appropriation of the Pope: Thirminge and Hankford ſaid, That the ſame was not good; for that the Appropriation by the Pope cannot be good without the Kings Licence: and therefore it was adjudged in that caſe, That in regard the Licence of the King was not Recorded; That a Writ ſhould be awarded to the Biſhop for the King: and the Appropriation was void. Trin. 11 H. 4. 87. vouched in Davies Reports, in the Caſe of Commendams. See Plowdens Com. 500, 501, 502. in Grendon's Caſe, acc.

3. An

3. An Advowſon of a Prebend holden of the King, was alienedto an Abbot and his Succeſſors; And afterwards the King granted unto the Abbot and his Succeſſors, That the Abbot and his Succeſſours ſhould hold the ſaid Prebend in their own hands. In that caſe, becauſe the firſt Alienation was made without the Kings Licence, the King did ſeiſe the Prebend, notwithſtanding his ſubſequent Grant. 17 E. 3. 39. Cook 5, Part. 65. in Knight's Caſe.

4. Upon the Special Verdict, it was found, That the King by his Letters Patents, Licentiam dedit Priori, et Conventui, quod ipſi Eccleſiam Parochialem de B. appropriare, conſolidare, incorporare, &c. et eam ſic appropriatam, conſolidatam, et incorporatam in manibus et uſus proprios retinere poſſint. Cook 11. Part 9. a. Pridle and Napper's Caſe; by which Caſe it clearly appeareth, that the Appropriation muſt be made to a ſpiritual perſon, or to a ſpiritual Body Politique.

4. Whether Appropriations of Churches may be made when the Church is full of an Incumbent, or not: and what are the proper words to make an Appropriation. And when a Church Appropriate, ſhall become diſappropriate; when not.

1. KIng Edward the 6th being ſeiſed in Fee of the Advowſon of the Church of Deane as in groſſe, by his Letters Patents Anno 1. of his Raign, the ſaid Church being full of the Preſentment of King Henry the 8th, of one Haltman, granted to the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Chriſt, and St. Mary the Virgin, of Worceſter, the ſaid Advowſon to them and their Succeſſors, and gave and granted Licence unto them and their Succeſſours, That they the Advowſon of the ſaid Church, when by death, Reſignation, or Deprivation, or other means, it ſhould be void, they might immediately retain it to the proper uſe of them and their Succeſſours, without any Preſentment, Nomination, Admiſſion or Induction of any Incumbent after in the ſame Church; and by the ſame Letters Patents, the King did Appropriate, Conſolidate, Unite, and Incorporate, the Church and Rectory to the Dean and Chapter, and their Succeſſours: Haltman dyed; King Ed. 6. preſented Chamberlain, who was Admitted and Inducted: the King dyed, Queen Mary granted the Advowſon to A. and B. in Fee, who granted it over to Tho. Grendon, who dyed: Afterwards it diſcended to Roger Grendon the Plaintiff; the Church voided by the Deprivation of Chamberlain, the Plaintiff preſented, and the Defendants did diſturb him; and he brought a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop and Dean and Chapter; the Biſhop pleaded, That he claimed nothing but as Ordinary: and the Dean and Chapter pleaded the whole matter aforeſaid; upon which the Plaintiff did demur in Law: And in this caſe divers Points were Reſolved by the Juſtices; 1. That none is capable of Appropriation but a Body Corporate or Politique Spiritual, which hath a Succeſſion: For the effect of an Appropriation as to the firſt Inſtitution of it, was to make the Body Politique perpetual Incumbent, and to have the Rectory, and that he hath the Cure of all the Souls of the Pariſhioners: and therefore he muſt be a ſpiritual perſon. 2. That the Ordinary, Patron, and King, ought to be aſſenting unto every Appropriation; and that the Authority which the Pope had uſurped in this Realm, was by Parliament. Anno 25 H. 8. acknowledged to be in the King; and the King being Supream Ordinary, might of his own Authority and Juriſdiction make an Appropriation without the Aſſent of the Biſhop. 3. That the Appropriation might be made by Apt words, when the Church is full, as to ſay, That the Parſon who is a ſpiritual perſon, after that the Church ſhall be void, ſhall be Parſon, and may retain the Glebe, and the fruits of the Church to his proper uſe; and that the ſame ſhall be a good Appropriation, when the Church ſhall be void by death, or otherwiſe, Paſch. 19 Eliz. in C. B. Plowden Comment. 496, 497, 498, 500, 501. &c. Grendons Caſe.

2. Note; It was the Opinion of the Maſter of the Rolls, in the great Caſe of Conſultation, which was argued in the Exchequer Chamber, 18 H. 6, 21. a. That an Advowſon could not be appropriate without a Succeſſion, although that the Incumbent purchaſe the Advowſon by Licence to hold to his Own uſe. For if a Prior be ſeiſed of an Advowſon to him and his heirs, and he purchaſe Licence of Impropriation; and that he and his Succeſſours may hold the Advowſon to their own uſe; yet the Advowſon ſhall diſcend to his heirs: But in ſuch caſe, if he will have the Appropriation to be good. It is beſt to alien the Advowſon; and to repurchaſe it to him and his Succeſſours; and then the Appropriation will be good.

3. Appropriations are not regularly grantable over, nor can they endure longer then the Bodies whereunto they were firſt appropriate; and the reaſons thereof are, becauſe that an Appropriation carries not onely the Glebe and the Tythes, (which they might grant away) but it doth alſo give mein the ſpiritual function, and doth make them Parſons of the Church, and doth ſupply Inſtitution and Induction; which being the higheſt parts of Truſts, cannot be eſtranged, and therefore the Inſtrument of Appropriation runs in theſe words; That they and their Succeſſours, not their Aſſignees, ſhall be Parſons, or by a Periphraſis hold the Church in their proper uſe: But yet by Parliament an Appropriation may be tranſlated. Pill. 15 Jac. Rott. 1510. in C. B. in Wright and Gerrard's Caſe. Hobart. 307.

4. In a Prohibition againſt the Biſhop of Carlile, The Biſhop pretending himſelf Parſon or Commendatory, &c. pleads himſelf the Parſon or Commendatory of the Church by Preſentation, &c. from the Counteſſe of Arundel; and yet he ſhews, that his Faculty and Confirmation was ſo long as he ſhould be Biſhop of Carlile, which may well ſtand together, that he may be Parſon abſolute, yet qualified by his faculty to hold but for a time, Trin. 13. Jac. in C. B. Rot. 3474. Wilſon and Biſhop of Carliſ'es Caſe. Hobart. 107.

5. Note, by Hobart Chief Juſtice: That by the meaning of the Statute of 31. H. 8. Of Diſſolution of Monaſteries; That between the Statute of 25 H. 8. & the Diſſolution of Monaſteries, That the Arch-Biſhop could not appropriate a Benefice with Cure to a Nunnery, although the Pope many times did it de facto, for that a Woman cannot be a Paſtor of the Church by the Law of God. And in Plowden Com. in Grendon's Caſe, It is ſaid by Dyer, ſuch a thing was ſaid to be abominable, Alſo it is againſt the Law of the Realm, for Beneficium non datur niſi propter Officium; and it is no Reply that the Cure may be ſerved by a Curate for them, and the Queſtion is not, How they may make a Curate? but, How themſelves are capable? and the proper and operative word that doth make the Appropriation is, to make the perſon and his Succeſſors perpetual Parſons, which failes in this Caſe. See Mich. 10. Jac. in C. B. Colt and the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield's Caſe. Rot. 2642. Hobart 147.

6. All Appropriations have been uſually to Corporations or Perſons ſpiritual, and not to Bodies Politick, conſiſting of meer Lay-men, nor Lay Corporations. But, See Trin. 9. Car. in B. R. in Alden and Tothil's Caſe. It was then in Queſtion Whether the King, ſince the Statute of 25. H. 8. might by his Letters Patents appropriate a Church Parochial, which was before Preſentative, unto a Lay-Corporation, all the Members of the Corporation being meer Lay-men: which Caſe was not then reſolved.

7. In all Appropriations, The Patron's Preſentment, or Act, firſt takes place; and the Patron's Right to the Church is not ſubject to any the Eccleſiaſtical Officers; And no Act of the Ordinary alone can diſappropriate the Church, But if the Parſon appropriate (which is the Patron preſent;) the ſame doth diſappropriate the Church. And he doth preſent his Clark, and he is refuſed for juſt cauſe; and, Notice given of it, Lapps ſhall incurre, for that the Approbation gives him a choyce to hold it or not. See in Colt and the Biſhop of Coventry's Caſe. Hobart 152. acc.

8. If the Advowſon of a Church by Licence be granted to a Prior and his Succeſſor's, and afterwards the ſame Church is appropriated to him and his Succeſſors, ſo as they be perpetual Parſons imimperſonees: In that caſe if the Wife of the Grantor, be endowed of the Advowſon, and preſenteth a Clerk, who is Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted, the Appropriation is defeated for ever; for the whole Eſtate of the Parſon imparſonee is avoided: and ſo it was adjudged, 2 E. 3. 8. Quere of that Caſe, for it was holden by the Court, Paſch. 33 Eliz. in B. R. in Lancaſter and Lucas Caſe, That in ſuch caſe the Church was diſappropriated but during the life of the Wife; and that after her death it ſhould remain as appropriated, 33 Eliz. in B. R. Leonar. 235.

9. A Church which is appropriated to a Spiritual Corporation, becometh diſappropriate, if the Corporation be diſſolved. See 3 E. 74. Finch. Comment. 14. acc.

5. By what words an Appropriation of a Church, or the Advowſon of it, will paſſe, et è contra. And by what words Appropriations will paſſe to the King by the Statute of 27 H. 8. and 31 H. 8. of Diſſolution of Monaſteries: And wherein Reputation ſhall paſſe and veſt in the King; et è contra.

1. IN a Quare Impedit brought againſt the Chapter of the Collegiate Church of the bleſſed Mary of Southwell of the Vicarage of Southwell, the Plaintiff declared, That A. was ſeiſed of the Prebend of N. in the ſaid Collegiate Church to which the Advowſon of the ſaid Vicarage did belong in Fee, and preſented, and conveyes down the Prebend to Robert Abbot, who did demiſe the Prebend to him for years, and that the Church became void, and the Defendants diſturbed him: The Defendants pleaded, That Robert Abbot did not demiſe the Prebend Prebend to the Plaintiff; and upon Iſſue joyned, the Jury found, That Robert Abbot made the Plaintiff two Leaſes of one date, of divers ſeverall parcels of the Prebend, with theſe general words, Cum omnibus Commoditatibus, emolumentis, proficuis, et advantagiis, cum pertinent. eidem Prebend. ſpectant. ſeu aliquo modo pertinent. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Advowſon did not paſſe by the ſaid Leaſe: for the words, Commodities Emoluments, Profits, and Advantages, are all of one ſenſe and nature, implying things gainful, which is contrary to the Nature of an Advowſon. And it was holden, That an Appropriation, or the Advowſon of it, will not paſſe by the Name of an Advowſon; and yet an Advowſon will be conteined under the name of a Tenement; and may be ſeiſed in value upon a Voucher; but the words here will not paſſe it: no more then in the Caſe of 39. H. 6. Where the King granted that the Monks ſhould have all their poſſeſſions of the Abbey for the time of the Vacation for their ſuſtentation: and it was ruled, They ſhould not have Advowſons, becauſe no ſuſtentation ariſes from them. Mich 16 Jac. in C. B. London, and the Chapter of the Collegiate Church of the bleſſed Virgin Mary of Southwells Caſe. rott. 1877. Hobart. 303.

2. In a Prohibition, the Caſe was thus; The Prior of Hatfield and his Predeceſſors time out of mind were ſeiſed of the Parſonage of Hatfield, and a Farm in the ſame Pariſh called Downhall Farm, ſimul et ſemel. The Priory being under the value of 200 l. per annum was given to the King by the Statute of 27 H. 8. The King granted the Parſonage and Farm to the Abbeſſe of Barking; the Abbeſſee ſurrendred all, 31 H. 8. to the King. And the Queſtion was, Whether the King and all thoſe that claimed under him ſhould hold the Farm diſcharged of Tythes by force of the perpetual Unity: In that caſe, It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, and a Conſultation granted: And amongſt other Points in the Caſe, one point was, Whether the Appropriation in this Caſe came to the King, and remained in him a Parſonage Appropriated by force of the Statute of 27 H. 8. only, as well as the like Appropriations did by the other Statute of 31 H. 8. It was Objected, That all Appropriations had been diſſolved upon 31 H. 8. if the Clauſe of diſcharge in that Statute had not been: But to that it was anſwered, That ſhall never be underſtood, that the Appropriation ſhould be diſſolved, and the Church made preſentative; and yet by the Statute, both Glebes and Tythes ſhould be taken from the Church, and given to the King: But it was holden, That Appropriations were well given to the King; and that by a proper word in the Statute: For the Statute gives (inter alia) the Churches, Chappels, Advowſons, and Patronages of ſuch Monaſteries; which ſhall be underſtood, their Churches as they were in them either appropriate where they were ſo, or their Advowſons, where they were not: And Eccleſia and Rectoria, are Synonyma; and words of Appropriating are, that they ſhall hold Eccleſiam et Rectoriam in propriis uſus, as it is ſaid in Plow. Com. in Grendon's Caſe. Again, the Statute of 27 H. 8. gives all thoſe Monaſteries whereof the poſſeſſions did not exceed 200 l. per annum; ſo that whatſoever made to that yearly Revenue, was meant to be given to the King; and a great part of their yearly profits did conſiſt in Appropriations; for it was eaſie for them to get Advowſons, and as eaſie to get them appropriate: And Appropriations although but in Reputation, paſſed both by the Statutes of 27 H. 8. and 31 H. 8. as it was holden in Cook 11. Part. 13. in Pridle and Napper's Caſe. Hill. 15 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1510. Wright and Gerards Caſe, Hobart 306, 307, 308. and ſee in Colt and the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfields Caſe, Hobart 148. before, That all Appropriations however defective, were given to the King, by the true meaning of the Laws of Monaſteries, which meant to give all as well in Reputation as in truth. And ſee Cook in Pridle and Nappers Caſe, 13. where it is ſaid, Not onely thoſe which were truly Appropriate; but likewiſe ſuch as were or had been ſo in Reputation were given to King Henry the 8th, by Intendment of the Statutes of Diſſolution; for albeit in thoſe Statures there was a ſaving of Rights, yet the Founders, Donours, &c. are excepted out of that Saving: So they are bound by the body of the Act.

6. Of Diſpenſations for Pluralities and taking Benefices with Cure, granted before the Statute of 21 and 25 Hen. 8. where good; where not: and who might be diſpenſed withall for the taking of them. And of Pluralities and Commendams in general.

1. BY a Canon of the Church made in the Councel of Lateran, the words of which Canon were thus; Plurima potiſſimum Beneficia quibus animarum Cura ſubmiſſa eſt non ſine gravi Eccleſiarum damno ab uno obtineri: Cum unus in pluribus Eccleſiis vitè Officia perſolvere, aut rebus earum curam neceſſariam impendere nequeat: It appeareth, That no Eccleſiaſtical perſon could have held ſimul et ſemel, two Benefices with Cure of Souls, but that upon the taking of the ſecond, the firſt Benefice was ipſo facto void: Yet the Pope in ancient time by uſurpation, and the King de jure, was not bound by, but might have diſpenſed with, the ſaid Canon; and the reaſon was, That the ſaid Canon, though made in the Spiritual Court, yet the ſame was not repugnant to the Common-Lawes of the Land; and Kings and Lay-Subjects were the firſt Donors of all Benefices unto Eccleſiaſtical perſons; for the Donations were Eleemoſynæ Regum et Laicorum; and notwithſtanding the ſaid Canon, the King did from time to time, grant Diſpenſation to hold two Benefices with Cure. See Cook. 4. Part. 75. in Hollands Caſe, 24 E. 3. 38. and Fitzh. Nat. Br. 34. there vouched. Alſo the King, notwithſtanding the ſaid Canon, and that the Pope did grant ſuch kind of Diſpenſation: Yet the King if he pleaſed might have removed the Incumbent; for that the ſaid Canon did not bind the King; as appeareth by the Book-caſe of 26 E. 3. Quare Impedit 189. But ſee now by the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 13. What the Pope did by Uſurpation, is now veſted in the King de jure; and therefore at this day, the King may grant Diſpenſations for Pluralities, or to have and hold two Benefices with Cure ſimul et ſemel.

2. A man was Parſon of a Church with a Vicarage endowed; The Parſon accepted of a Preſentation to the Vicarage without a Diſpenſation; and the Queſtion was, Whether the ſame were Plurality by the Canon, & by the Statute of 21 H. 8. And it was the Opinion of Hobart, Chief Juſtice, That notwithſtanding that they were ſeverall Advowſons, and ſeveral Quare Impedits might be brought of them, and ſeveral other Actions might be maintained for or concerning their ſeveral poſſeſſions; Yet the Preſentment of one man unto the Parſonage and Vicarage was no Plurality, becauſe the Parſonage and Vicarage are both but one Cure, the Vicarage being endowed out of the Parſonage; and alſo becauſe there is a Proviſo in the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 13. That no Parſonage that hath a Vicar endowed, be taken by the name of a Benefice with Cure of Souls, within the ſaid Statute, as to make it a Plurality, Mich. 21 Jac. in C. B. Woodley and Manneringes Caſe.

3. Note; That although by the Statute of 21 H. 8. by the taking of a ſecond Benefice with Cure, that the firſt Benefice is void; yet the King, notwithſtanding the ſaid Statute, may grant Diſpenſation to have Plurality, or divers Benefices in Commendam, ſo as the ſame be made by apt words, and be made in fit and due time; and by the Statute of 25 H. 8. 21 H. 8. and 1 Eliz. The King and the Archbiſhop, his Commiſſaries and ſufficient Deputies, have power for granting Diſpenſations for them, by authority derived from the Crown. But yet note; That there is a great difference between diſpenſations and Faculties granted by the Pope in ancient times; and Diſpenſations granted by the King or the Archbiſhop at this day. See Cok & the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfields Caſe, Mob. 147. to 164. And note there the difference between Commendams, retinere; and Commendams, obtinere et recipere, Ibid. 156.

4. A. Prebend of Salisbury, was Elected Biſhop of St. Davids; and before he was Conſecrated, he obtained a Diſpenſation from the Pope, retinere all his Benefices in Commendam; and afterwards he was Conſecrated Biſhop: And the better Opinion of that Book is, That ſuch Diſpenſation retinere beneficium, was good; and that the King could not have and maintain a Quare Impedit againſt the Biſhop; for the Prebend, nor any Action upon the Statute of 25 E. 3. which gave the Preſentation to the King, where the Pope by Proviſion gave any Benefice, whereof the Patronage did belong to a ſpiritual perſon, 11 H. 4. 170, 211, 229. The Biſhop of St. David's Caſe. And Note; It is ſaid there by Haukford, That in ſuch caſe of Diſpenſation retinere, that the Biſhop ſhall not pay Firſt-fruits: But it was there much Debated, but not Reſolved, That if the Diſpenſation retinere, had been granted unto him after he had been Conſecrated, Whether the Prebend had been void, and whether any faculty could have been granted to him to have holden the ſame againſt the King.

5. A man was Inducted into a Benefice of N. with Cure of the value of 8 l. And further, he had the moyety of another Church of D. which was a Benefice with Cure; And afterwards he was Elected Biſhop of Carlile, and before Conſecration and Inſtallation to his Biſhoprick, the Queen by her Letters Patents granted to him, et licentiam et poteſtatem dedit, quod ipſe in ipſam Eccleſiæ Cathedralis de Carlile conſecrat. procuret et obtinere, necnon realem, actualem, et Corporalem poſſeſſionem, &c. recipere et obtinere, &c. nihilominus prædict. medietam dict. Eccleſiæ de, &c. ac Rectoriam de N. unà cum dicto Epiſcopatu, quamdiu eidem Epiſcopatui præeſſet, retinere, et poſſidere, ac fructus et emolumenta inde, quamdiu eidem Epiſcopatus præeſſet, in ſuos proprios uſus convertere. Afterwards upon a pretence that the Letters Patents were void, the Queen preſented J. S. by Lapps, who Libelled in the Spiritual Court for Tythes; and upon a Prohibition awarded, upon the matter aforeſaid, prayed a Conſultation, not making mention of the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 13. in his Plea. And in this caſe, It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That before the Statute of 21 H. 8. If a man had a Benefice with Cure, and took another Benefice with with Cure, that the firſt Benefice was void, but that was void by the Spiritual Law, ſcil. by the Canon made in the Councel of Lateran, holden under Pope Innocent the third, Tom. 4. 221. cap. 19. and not by the Common-Law, and that no Lapps ſhould incurre; as upon Deprivation, or Reſignation; and yet the Patron might preſent, and take upon him Notice if he pleaſed; ſo as for the benefit of the Patron, the Church is void in the principal Caſe, but not for his diſadvantage: But now becauſe it is affirmed by the Act of 21 H. 8. That, if the firſt Benefice be not of the value of 8 l. the Patron at his peril ought to preſent, for, in as much as it is an Avoydance by Act of Parliament, to which every one is party; Every one ought to take Notice of it at his peril: But if the firſt Benefice was not of the value of 8 l. per annum, it is otherwiſe; for then it is void meerly by the Eccleſiaſtical Law, of which the Patron needs not to take Notice at his peril. Trin. 39 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part. 75. Hollands Caſe. Note, The words of Diſpenſation and Licence, are, viz. procuret et obtineret; recipere, et obtinere: And Quære; If thoſe words make the Diſpenſation good. See afterward, Colt and Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfields Caſe, Hobart 156.

6. A. was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted into the Rectory of Horton, being a Benefice with Cure of the value of 8 l. per annum. The King afterwards preſented him to the Church of Stanes, which was alſo a Benefice with Cure; and he was Admitted and Inſtituted: before, A. was Inducted into Stanes, the Lady Borough received him to be her houſhold-Chaplain. Afterwards the Archbiſhop of Canterbury granted to him quod una cum Rectoria de Horton quam ad tunc obtinuit, Eccleſiam de Stanes, recipere, et quoad vixerit retinere liberè et licitè valeat, et poſſit; authoritate Parliamenti, diſpenſavit, which Letters of Diſpenſation, the Queen confirmed; and afterwards he was Inducted into the Church of Stanes, 29 Eliz. Afterwards the Queen by Lapps preſented B. to the Church of Horton; who was Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted: And in this Caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the ſaid Diſpenſation made to A. came too late, becauſe it came after the Inſtitution; for by Inſtitution, the Church is plena, et conſulta, againſt all perſons, but againſt the King; and as to the Spiritualties, he is full Parſon by the Inſtitution, but he hath not the Temporalties in him untill his Induction: And by the Statute of 21 H. 8. the firſt Benefice was void by Inſtitution to the ſecond Benefice. 2. Reſolved, Admit the firſt Benefice was not void by the Inſtitution, untill Induction into the ſecond; yet the Diſpenſation came too late; for the words of the Statute of 21 H. 8. are, (may purchaſe Licence to receive and keep two benefices with Cure of Souls) and the words of Diſpenſation are, Recipere et retinere; and for as much as by the Inſtitution the Church was full, he could not purchaſe Licence to receive that which he had before; nor he could not retain that which he could not Receive, Mich. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 4. Part 79. Digbies Caſe.

7. Note: If a man be Incumbent of a Church as Parſon, or Vicar thereof, de facto; there a Diſpenſation granted to him retinere the ſame Benefice upon the promotion to the Office or Dignity of a Biſhop is good, and cometh time enough: and ſo it was adjudged, Paſch. 3 Car. in the Kings-Bench, in Evans and Aſcues Caſe; and Note, That in that caſe it was ſaid, That ſuch Diſpenſation or Faculty, by the Archbiſhop, his Commiſſary, or by the Guardian of the Spiritualties, (ſede vacante) is ſufficient, although the ſame be not enrolled in the Chancery, or any other of the King's Courts of Record, but onely enrred with the Regiſter of the Archbiſhop. See 7 Eliz. Dyer. 233. acc.

8. A. before the Statute of 21 H. 8. had a Diſpenſation from the Pope for a Plurality, and at the time of the making of the ſaid Statute had one Benefice with Cure of the value of 8 l. and within a year after the making of the Statute of 28 H. 8. cap. 16. he obtained from the King a Confirmation of his former Diſpenſation, with words in it to hold, uſe, and enjoy the effect of it: In that caſe, it was the Opinion of Mounſon and Manwood, Juſtices, That the firſt Benefice was void by the Statute of 21 H. 8. and the Statute of 28 H. 8. did not reſtore him to the ſame without a new Preſentation, notwithſtanding that the Statute of 28 H. 8. made the Pope's Bulls of Diſpenſation good for a year; and that the Chancellor of the Augmentation might make a new Diſpenſation to him: But by Dyer, Juſtice, as the Statute of 21 H. 8. made the firſt Benefice void; ſo the Statute of 28 H. 8. did reſtore him to the Benefice; For when two Statutes are croſſe in appearance, the one to the other, and no clauſe of Non obſtante is contained in the ſecond Statute, ſo as the one may ſtand with the other, ſuch conſtruction ſhall be made of the Statutes, that both of them ſhall take effect, 18 Eliz. Dyer. 341. Weſton's Caſe.

9. In a Quare Impedit, the Caſe was this; The Corporation of Kilkenny in Ireland, Patrons of a Vicarage within the Dioceſs of Oſory, preſented one A. to it, who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted: Afterwards during the Incumbency, the Biſhop of Dublin, and B. Commiſſioners Delegates for granting of Faculties and Diſpenſations according to the Statute of 28 H. 8. cap. 20. by Letters of Grace, 33 Eliz. granted to J. S. then Biſhop

Biſhop of Oſory, That the ſaid Biſhop unum vel plura Beneficia Curata, vel non Curata retinere poſſit perpetuæ Commendæ titulo; which Diſpenſation was confirmed by the Queens Letters Patents, Anno 38. of her Reign: A. dyed, the Vicarage voided, and ſo continued 6. moneths; The Biſhop by virtue of the ſaid Diſpenſation retained the ſaid Vicarage in Commendam, and took the profits during his life, and dyed; J.D. purchaſed the next Avoidance, and preſented C. who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted: The King preſented E. who was diſturbed by J.D. and C. and the King brought the Quare Impedit; And the Queſtion was, If the ſaid Biſhop by virtue of the ſaid Diſpenſation was ſo perfect Incumbent, that the Church being full of him, no Lapſe ſhould encurre to the King during the life of the Biſhop? And for the King it was ſaid, 1. That a Biſhop by the Eccleſiaſtical Law of England, could not hold another Benefice with Cure within his own Dioceſs; becauſe he could not Viſit himſelf; and one and the ſame perſon could not be Soveraign and Subject. 2. That the Faculty granted by the Commiſſioners was not warranted by the ſaid Act of 28 H. 8. becauſe no ſuch Faculty or Diſpenſation was accuſtomed to be granted in the Court of Rome. 2. Becauſe in this Faculty granted to the Biſhop, there is no Obſtante, in derogation of the right of Patronage, either of the King, or of other Lay-Patrons. 3. Becauſe that by the Faculty, he who obtains it, needs not to be put into poſſeſſion by any Eccleſiaſtical Miniſter, but might take the poſſeſſion of the Benefice immediately, without any Preſentation, Inſtitution, Induction, or other legal Collation, which are contrary to Faculties granted in the Court of Rome; for there, in every Faculty or Licence granted by the Pope, to make a permutation, union, or Appropriation; the aſſent of the Patron was required. 3. That by this Faculty, the Biſhop was not perfect Incumbent, becauſe the Church ſhall not be ſaid full, againſt a Common perſon, if the Incumbent be not in by Preſentation, and Inſtitution, and no Plenarty ſhall be againſt the King before Induction: But it was agreed on that ſide, That if a Clerk be preſented to a Benefice with Cure, and is Admitted and Inducted, and afterwards he is preſented to another Benefice; and before he be inſtituted to the ſecond, he obtains a Diſpenſation retinere the firſt Benefice for life in Commendam, the firſt Benefice ſhall not be void; but he ſhall be full Incumbent during his life, becauſe there was not any wrong or injury to the Patron, and the Church doth not become void by reaſon of Diſpenſation: And it was ſaid by them, That a Faculty or diſpenſation to hold a Benefice in perpetual Commendam, is good to ſuch a perſon onely, who is full and perfect Incumbent at the time of the granting of the Diſpenſation to him: but not to him who hath not any thing in the Benefice. And a Faculty granted to one who is not Incumbent to take a void Benefice, is void; But a Faculty to one to retain a Benefice who is Incumbent, is good; and ſo concluded, That the Faculty granted to the Biſhop being void, the Vicarage was never full of him; and then the King had good title to preſent. On the other ſide, for the Defendants it was ſaid, That the Diſpenſation was good; 1. Becauſe it was by a poſitive Law, viz. the Statute of 28 H. 6. 2. Becauſe ſuch Faculties had uſed to be granted in the Court of Rome; and the Caſe of 41 E. 3. 5. was vouched. One W. had a Prebend in the Church of Salisbury, and the Pope before his Conſecration, had given him his Benefices which he had before, and the King reciting the guift, granted to him the Temporalties: And it was adjudged, That the Prebend did not become void, but that the Biſhop might retain the ſame after his Conſecration. 3. Becauſe this Diſpenſation was not contrary to the Scripture, nor repugnant to the Lawes of the Realm: And, 4. Becauſe the Faculty was well executed to the Biſhop by his acceptance, without any Preſentation, Inſtitution or Induction; for that it is not neceſſary that thoſe Ceremonies be uſed in the Conferring of any Parſonage or Vicarage, which may be done by other wayes; as by Appropriation or Union: And, 5. becauſe when the Biſhop entred and held the Benefice by virtue of the Diſpenſation, the Church was full, becauſe he had the Benefice by Canonical title; ſcil. virtute Commendæ perpetuæ, and that amounts to Admiſſion, Inſtitution and Induction. The Caſe was not Reſolved, Ideò Quære. See Sir John Davies Reports, the Caſe of Commendam.

10. In a Quare Impedit brought of a Preſentation to the Church of Clifton Camvil againſt the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield, the Plaintiffs declared, That A. was ſeiſed of the Manor of Clifton Camvil to which the Advowſon was appendant, and preſented J. S. and that afterwards the Manor and Advowſon came to Herſey and Moile, and that afterwards the ſame by mean conveyances came to J. D. and then the Church became void by the death of J. S. and then that J. D. preſented one W. who was Admitted, Inſtituted and Inducted; and then Conveyes the Manor and Advowſon to Heningham in taile; who made a grant of the next Avoidance to the Plaintiffs: and then that the Church became void by the death of W. and ſo it belonged to the Plaintiffs to preſent: The Defendant confeſſed all the Conveyances, and the Grants of Herſey and Moile, the death of J. S. and the preſentation of W. and pleaded the Statute of 20 H. 8. of Pluralities, and that Clifton Camvil was a Benefice with Cure, above the value of 8 l. per annum, and that W. 3 Eliz. took the Benefice of Y. and was therein Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, and ſo Cliſton Camvil was void, and remained void, and ſo it did belong to the King to preſent; and then pleaded the Statute of 25 H. 8. of power given to the Archbiſhop of Canterbury, and in vacation, to the Guardian of the Spiritualties to grant Diſpenſation; and that the Dean and Chapter of Canterbury Guardian of the Spiritualties, Sede vacante in Novemb. 1610. the Biſhop of Rocheſter, being Elect Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield, who held the Rectory of Southfleet in Kent in Commendam with his Biſhoprick of Rocheſter, to provide for a Biſhops Eſtate, and that it ſhould not be vilified, did grant, Inter alia ut Rectoriam de Southfleet, nec non ut unum aliud, vel plura Curata, vel non Curata Beneficia Eccleſiaſtica infra Regnum Angliæ cujuſcunq; nominis, qualitatis aut dignitatis in Commendam ibidem Obtinere, acceptare et recipere; ac propria ſua authoritate capere, et apprehendere; ac realem, actualem, et corporalem poſſeſſionem ejuſdem, abſq; Inſtitutione, Collatione, Inductione vel aliâ quacunq; juris ſolennitate intrare, ac omnes Decimas, proficua, &c. quam diu viveret, et dicto Epiſcopatui Coventry et Lichfield præeſſet, in Commendam tenere, poſſidere, et habere, et in ſuos proprios uſus, et utilitatem convertere, ac de eiſdem omnibus, et ſingulis, integrè, ac pro ſuo arbitrio libere ac licitè diſponere poſſit in tam amplis modo et forma et effectu, ac ſi Epiſcopatum non ſuiſſet aſſequutus, ac ſi in eadem in titulum Canonicum ac cum Legitima diſpenſatione poſſideret; ac in eiſdem debitam et perſonalem Reſidentiam faceret, ac ſicut veri Rectores, & Incumbentes, convertere poſſent, licet non faceret Reſidentiam. Provided, That all his Benefices of all ſorts ſhould not exceed 100 marks in the Kings books, with averment, that the Diſpenſation was not againſt the Law of God, and that the like Diſpenſations were had and uſed in the Court of Rome; and then pleaded the Kings Letters Patents, 10 Jac. of Confirmation of the ſame Diſpenſation under the Great Seal, and that the King Ad Eccleſiam prædict. of Cliſton Camvil being void by Lapps, præſentavit eundem Epiſcopum, eandemq; Eccleſiam ei Commendavit: and further granted, verbatim, as in the former Letters of Diſpenſation granted by the Dean and Chapter Guardian of the Spiritualties had granted him; and then avers the remains Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield, and that he had no Benefice with Cure at the time of his Diſpenſation, but Southfleet, and that Cliſton is a Benefice with Cure, and that the yearly value of all his Benefices quæ jam retinet exceeds not 100 marks: The Plaintiffs by Proteſtation, That W. did not accept Y. and alſo that ſuch diſpenſations were not had at Rome, for Biſhops King Henry the 8th Subjects before the ſaid Act of 25 H. 8. demanding Oyer of the Diſpenſation, Confirmation, and the Kings preſentation, did thereupon demur in Law: And this Caſe was adjourned out of the Common-Pleas into the Exchequer-Chamber; and there argued by ten Judges: And 8. of the Judges were of Opinion, That as this Caſe was, Judgment ought to be given for the Plaintiffs: and that the Diſpenſation thus granted, and the Commendam was void in Law; wherein divers Queſtions were made, and Points Reſolved. The firſt Queſtion was, Whether a Commendam of this Tenour and form (having the Clauſes that this hath, and wanting others which this wants) made by an Archbiſhop of Canterbury, or Dean and Chapter, with the Kings Ordinary Confirmation to a Biſhop, to take Benefices de Novo, to the value of 200 marks Tax in the Kings books with Cure, or without, and to hold them and their fruits for a time limited more then 6. moneths, and leſs then for life, be warranted by the Statute of 25 H. 8. and the true meaning of it: 1. It was Reſolved, That although the Statute 25 H. 8. ſayes, All Diſpenſations ſhall be granted in manner and form following, and not otherwiſe; yet the King is hereby not reſtrained, but his power remains full and perfect as before: but the Statute is to be underſtood of thoſe things that the Pope was by the erroneous opinion of that time ſuppoſed to do lawfully; ſcil. in ſpiritualibus merely. 2. Reſolved, That this Commendam granted to the Biſhop was void in Law for 7. reaſons; 1. That power is given to the Biſhop, Propria Authoritate, to take Benefices with Cure, or without, and to take poſſeſſion of them, and receive the fruits and profits of them to his own uſe, without Inſtitution, Collation, Induction, no reſtraint being had, or proviſion made, that the Benefices which he ſhall ſo take, ſhall be void, when he ſhall take, enter, and poſſeſs them. 2. Becauſe it is not provided, that the allowance and conſent of the Patron be had before he execute the Commendam as it ought to be. 3. Becauſe this Commendam is Temporary, more then for 6. moneths, and leſs then for life, which cannot be, and ſtand with the Rules of the Common-Law. 4. Becauſe there was never Commendam of this form or nature heard of in any book of Law or Record, before 25 H. 8. or ever any ſuch hath received allowance by any Judgment, or Judiciall Opinion, but have ever been diſallowed and condemned. 5. This Commendam is void by the Statute of 21 H. 8. of Pluralities, becauſe it contains not the number of Benefices allowed by the Law. 6. Where there is no Statute or Law againſt Pluralities, yet Commenda to take Benefices of any ſort, or number, ſo the value exceed not

was

200

200 marks, is not warranted by 25 H. 8. but the clean contrary: and to the firſt reaſon, a Patron cannot preſent to a Church full, nor can a Commendam be made to a Church then full, and there is no difference between a Commendam, and a Preſentment, but that the one preſents the Parſon to the Church; and the other commits the Church to the Parſon; and all the Canons, which ſpeak of Commendams, rely upon Eccleſias vacantes: and, If an Appropriation be made to a Church then full, the Appropriation is void, except it be by expreſſe words, de futuro quando vacaverit, Plow. Com. Grendon's Caſe, 501. which is wanting in this caſe; ſo as the fault in this Commendam is not in the Execution of it, but in the Conſtitution of it; which not being warranted by the Laws of Commendam, makes it no Commendam at all. 2. In this Commendam there is no proviſion that the Patrons conſent be had; but the Commendam doth expreſly exclude the Patron, viz. Authoritate ſuâ propria capere, & apprehendere abſq; Inſtitutione, Collatione, Inductione, vel alia quacunq; juris ſolennitate. Now the Patron's Right was never ſubject to the Church-men, nor Eccleſiaſtical Officers, and it is the firſt and moſt worthy act in all promotions to Benefices, as in ordinary Preſentations, Appropriations, and Unions of Churches, and the Patronage is both granted and pleaded by the name of Libera diſpoſitio Eccleſiæ; and the Writ of Quare Impedit is, Quod permittat præſentare ad Eccleſiam, &c. quæ vacat, & ad ſuam ſpectat Donationem. 3. This Commendam is temporary, which brings in many incongruities, inconveniencies, and abſurdities in Law; for the Church here is neither abſolutely full, nor altogether void; for he hath not the Benefice intirely, neither in Paſtoral Cure, for there is but a Proviſion put upon him, that the Church be not defrauded; Neither hath he the Benefice wholly to him as Rector, ſo as he may be ſaid to be ſeiſed in Fee, or be ſaid to be a Succeſſour, or Predeceſſour to the Parſons which are before, or that ſhall follow; and a Benefice is ſo intire and indiviſible, that it cannot be commended by parts, as the Cure without the fruits, or the fruits without the Cure. No man can ſhew a Book of Law-Statute, or authentical Reſolution, Judicial Opinion, Hiſtory, or Chronicle, That did ever allow in this Realm a Commendam in the Capere, or apprehendere, and to hold propria authoritate for a leſſe time then for life: But a Commendam in the retinere, may be made temporary, or for years; and to ſay truth, a Commendam retinere, is no Commendam properly, though it be commonly ſo called, but is onely a Faculty of Retention and Continuation of the Benefice in the ſame perſon and ſtate wherein it was, notwithſtanding ſome intervenings, as a Biſhoprick, or the like, which without ſuch a Faculty, would have avoided it, ſo it is not a Commendam; for my own Benefice cannot be Commended to my ſelf, Mich. 10 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2642. Colt and the Biſhop of Coventry and Lichfield's Caſe. Hobart, 141. to 161. acc.

11. If a Biſhop have or take two Benefices, Parſonages, or Vicarages with Cure, either by Retainer, or otherwiſe de novo, he is directly (as to thoſe Benefices) within the Statute of 21 H. 8. of Pluralities; for he is to all purpoſes for thoſe not a Biſhop, but a Parſon or Vicar, and by that name muſt ſue and be ſued: For the words are plain, If any perſon having one Benefice with Cure, &c. take another, &c. whoſoever will hold two Benefices, muſt have both ſuch a Qualification, and ſuch a Diſpenſation, as the Statute requires. And therefore if a man be qualified Chaplain to any Subject, and then he be made a Biſhop, his Qualification is void, ſo as he cannot take two Benefices de novo after, by force of that Qualification; but if he had lawfully two Benefices before his Biſhoprick, he may by Diſpenſation of Retainer (beſides his former Diſpenſation, to take two Benefices) hold them with his Biſhoprick: And if a man being the Kings Chaplain take a Biſhoprick, he ceaſeth to be the King's Chaplain; and Biſhops are not in that reſpect Chaplains to the King, within the meaning of the Statute of 21 H. 8. See ibidem. 157. by Hobart, Juſtice. And Note by him, That a Biſhop, by Diſpenſation, may retain as many Benefices as he had lawfully before; but he can take none of New, (if he had his number before) for that the words are as well againſt having of Benefices, as taking of them; and if he had none before, then he can take but one de Novo, unleſs by Qualification he can be a Chaplain, and alſo by a double Diſpenſation have Licence to take two Benefices, and hold them with his Biſhoprick. Ibidem. 158.

7. What ſhall be a good retainer of a Chaplain within the Statute of 21 H. 8. cap. 13. And where ſuch Chaplain ſhall be qualified to have Plurality; where not.

1. IN a Quare Impedit brought by the Queen, the Caſe was this; A Counteſs being a Widow, did retain two Chaplains, and afterwards did retain a third; which third firſt purchaſed Diſpenſation to have two Benefices with Cure, and accordingly was advanced to two, whereof the firſt was above the value of 8 l; and if he was lawfully qualified, then the firſt Benefice by taking of the ſecond was not void; and ſo the Quare Impedit would not lye. But it was adjudged, That the Quare Impedit was well brought: For when the Counteſs had retained two Chaplains, thoſe two onely were capable of Diſpenſation within the Statute; and the retainer of the third Chaplain, could not deveſt the capacity of Diſpenſation which was in the two firſt Chaplains; and ſhe could qualifie but two Chaplains by the Statute: and therefore the Retainer of the third Chaplain was void, and the Diſpenſation purchaſed by him for Plurality was alſo void; and ſo the Quare Impedit did lye; And Judgment was given for the Queen. Trin. 43 Eliz. Cook 4 Part. 90. Druries Caſe.

2. If a Baron who is allowed but 3. Chaplains, retaineth 6. Chaplains by his Letters Teſtimonial at one time, and all 6. are preferred to 6. ſeverall Pluralities; the three firſt Chaplains are onely warranted by the Statute, and Diſpenſation purchaſed by them onely for Plurality, is good; and the 3. laſt ſhall not be reputed his Chaplains within the Statute, ſo long as the firſt 3. are within his ſervice, or are living: And therefore the purchaſe of Diſpenſation by the 3. laſt for Pluralities, are meerly void.

3. If a Baron retains three Chaplains according to the Statute, and each of them purchaſe Diſpenſation to have Plurality, or two Benefices with Cure, and are advanced according to the Statute; If the Baron doth afterwards diſcharge one of them of his ſervice, he cannot retain another during the life of him that is ſo diſcharged; for then the Statute ſhould be defrauded, and he might advance Chaplains without number: And ſo it was adjudged, Paſch. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Rott. 1130. Stuarts Caſe. And in that Caſe it was alſo Reſolved, That the Qualification of the Chaplain muſt be ſub ſigno, et ſigillo; either of the King, or other Lord whoſe Chaplain he is.

4. The Baroneſs of Mounteagle in her Widowhood retained Carmell to be her Chaplain, according to the Statute of 21 H. 8. and he then having the Benefice of Claycotton, obtained a Diſpenſation, with Confirmation of the Queen, for a Plurality; and afterwards the Baroneſs married with the Lord Compton, being a Peer of the Realm; and afterwards Carmell accepted of the Vicarage of G. and was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted to it: The Queſtion was, Whether this Diſpenſation was well purchaſed, or not; in regard the Baroneſs being a Feme Covert, had loſt her Dignity of Baroneſs by her Inter-marriage: But it was adjudged in that caſe, That her Retainer was good, and the Qualification of the Chaplain was good; and the Diſpenſation and purchaſe of Plurality good, and was not Countermanded by the Enter-marriage, Hill. 45 Eliz. in C. B. Cook. 4. Part. 117. Aſtons Caſe. But if an Earl or Baron retaineth a Chaplain; and before the Chaplain be advanced unto one Benefice with Cure, the Earl or Baron be Attainted; Then the Retainer is determined, and ſuch Chaplain cannot purchaſe Diſpenſation to have a ſecond Benefice, becauſe then he who is Attainted is dead in Law; and then the Retainer is determined before the Diſpenſation obtained; and therefore if ſuch a Parſon having a Benefice with Cure of the value of 8 l. doth afterwards without other Diſpenſation obtained, purchaſe, or take another Benefice, the firſt Benefice is void by the Statute; as it was adjudged in the Earl of Weſtmerlands Caſe, vouched in Cook. 4. Part. 119. in Aſtons Caſe.

Arbitrators, Arbitrament, and Award. See Plus Award.

1. Arbitrators, what they are; and their Power, what they may do; what not: And where such Power shall be said to be well executed; where not.

1. ARbitrators, are persons indifferently chosen by the parties, to hear, end, and to determine matters in Controversie betwixt them; They are styled Arbitrators, because they have Arbitrary power to Judge, according to their wills and discretions; so as they keep themselves close to their submission: Their sentence is absolutely definitive, from which there is no Appeal; and if they do Erre, no Writ of Errour lyeth to reverse their Judgment; nor any Appeal from it, to any Court, either of Law or Equity: They are not sworn Judges, nor are they tyed to such Rules and formalities of Law; as Judges of Courts are; and yet they have as great, if not a greater power then other Judges have: But notwithstanding they have so large a power to judge; yet that which they do, must be certain; and their Awards grounded upon certainty according to their submission to them: And this their power is so inseparably incident to their persons, that they cannot delegate or assign over their power unto any other persons, but they themselves ought to Judge and determine the matters in Controversie, which are submitted to their Judgments, Pasch. 19 Eliz. Dyer 356. Cook 5. Part. 78. Sammons Case. Pasch. 17 Car. in B. R. Rudstone and Yates Case, adjudged accordingly.

2. In Debt to perform an Award, The Defendant pleaded, That there was no Award made; The Plaintiff set forth the Award, and assigned the breach: The Defendant did demur, & shewed, That the Award was, That one of the parties should make such a general Release to the other as Councel should advise; so as the Councel are made Arbitrators: But the Opinion of the Court was, That the referring of the making of the Release to Councel was warrantable, because it was but a ministerial Act; but it had been otherwise, if it had been a Judicial Act; for that had been for the Arbitrators to delegate their power to others, which is not warrantable, because it is contrary to the submission of the parties, Hill. 1649. 10tt. 102. in B. R. Cator and Stanines Case. Style 217, 218.

3. The Condition of a Bond for the performance of an Award, was, To make the Arbitrament and Award in writing, under hand and seal Indented; the same to be delivered before such a day. In debt brought for not performing the Award; the Defendant pleaded, Nullum tale fecit Arbitrium: And it was found, That the Arbitrament was under the Arbitrator's seal, but not under his hand. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That his hand ought to be subscribed to the Award in pursuance, and according to the Condition. the same ought to be by writing Indented, and under his hand and seal; and if he cannot write, he is to set his mark to it, and it ought to be delivered: and for want of such subscription, Judgment was given for the Defendant, and against the Plaintiff, Pasch. 9 Jac. in B. R. Scott and Scott's Case. Bolstr. 1. Part. 110. Quære that Case: For in an Action of Debt brought upon an Obligation to stand to an Award, The Defendant pleaded Nullum Arbitrium: The Plaintiff Replyes, That the Arbitrators did make an Award, and sets it forth in hæc verba; and the Defendant demurred, and shewed for cause, That the Award was not well set forth; For that the party doth not shew, That the Award was delivered up by the Arbitrators according to the submission: But Roll, Chief Justice, said, That it was well enough, though it be not: and the Award was adjudged good, and the Plaintiff had his Judgment. Trinit. 24 Car. in B. R. Langly and Wyborn's Case, Styles 110.

4. In Debt brought to perform an Award; the Award was, That the Plaintiff should not prosecute nor proceed in the same Term in such an Action: It was holden by the Court, To be a good Award: And it was holden further by the Court, That the entry of the Continuance by the Attorney from Term to Term, was no breach of it: And it was said by the Court, That if one be bound, that he shall not continue such a Suit, if he continue it by Attorney, it is a breach of the Bond; but if the Attorney enter the Continuance without his privity, it is no breach of it, Hill. 16 Jac. in B. R. Gray and Gray's Case. Cro. 2. Part. 525.

2. What

2. What ſhall be a good Arbitrament and Award, what not: where of part of the thing put in ſubmiſſion; where not: And where it ſeeming larger then the ſubmiſſion, or ſhorter than it, ſhall be ſaid to be good; et è contra.

1. UPon a Special Verdict, the Caſe was, J.S. and J. D. did ſubmit themſelves to the Award, Order, Rule, and Judgment of A. and B. for all Matters, Quarrels, and Debates: and Bond was made to perform the Award, Order, Rule, and Judgment made by them. They Award and Adjudge, That J. S. ſhall pay to W.N. who was a Stranger, 20 s. It was holden by the whole Court, That the Award was void, becauſe that it was out of their ſubmiſſion; for they cannot award a man to do that which doth not lye in his power: and in this Caſe, W. N. is a ſtranger, and it is in his Election if he will accept of the money, or not: And it was holden alſo in that caſe, That the Bond alſo was void, becauſe that the Condition was to perform that which was againſt Law. Quære that Caſe. Alſo it was then holden by them, That Awards concerning Acts to be done by them which have not ſubmitted: and in all caſes where the parties ſubmitted have not ſome things, are void. Paſch. 24 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 13. acc.

2. In Debt upon a Bond for not performance of an Arbitrament, the Defendant pleaded, That the Arbitrators nullum fecerant Arbitramentum: The Plaintiff Replyed, That they did make an Arbitrament, viz. That the Defendant and one of the Arbitrators ſhould enter into a Bond of 8 l. to the Plaintiff, and that after the bond entred into, that the Plaintiff and Defendant ſhould Releaſe all Actions each to other: and Iſſue being joyned upon the Arbitrament, it was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, that upon the Plaintiffs own ſhewing, the Arbitrament was void; for the Arbitrament is, That a ſtranger, viz. that one of the Arbitrators ſhould enter in Bond: and that after the Bond entred into, that the Plaintiff ſhould Releaſe all Actions, whereby the bond ſhould be releaſed; and ſo it was a void Arbitrament: And a void Arbitrament is no Arbitrament. It was holden by the Court, That the Arbitrament was void as to the Bond, to be entred into as to the Arbitrator; and alſo that it was void as to the extinguiſhment of the bond by the Releaſe of all Actions: But the Court conceived, That the Arbitrament did conſiſt of two parts, and matters which were diſtinct, and might be ſevered: For although the Arbitrament be void as to one matter, yet it ſhould ſtand good, and be a good Arbitrament as to the other: But Cook, Chief Juſtice, held, That the bond being intire, could not be divided. But it was holden by the Court, That the Plaintiff had not alledged any breach of the Arbitrament: For he hath put it, That the Defendant and the Arbitrator had not entred into the bond; and although they joyntly had not done it, yet it might be, that the Defendant alone had entred into the bond; and therefore for not alledging a ſufficient breach, it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Paſch. 8 Jac. in C. B. Pitts and Wardell's Caſe, Godbold. 164, 165.

3. In Debt brought, for not performing of an Award, the Caſe was, That the Arbitrators made an Award, That the Plaintiff ſhould make ſuch a Releaſe as one of the Arbitrators ſhould like of: In this Caſe, it was holden by the Court, That the Arbitrament was void, becauſe this was the dividing of an Authority, which was given to them all, unto one of them; which was not according to the ſubmiſſion; and therefore was void. Mich. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Emery and Emeries Caſe, adjudged.

4. Bedell recovered in an Action of Waſte againſt Moor 40 l. damages: After Judgment, they ſubmitted themſelves to the Award of A. and B; The Arbitrators Award, That Moor ſhall pay Bedell 10 l. at a certain day, and 15 l. at other dayes; and that one J. D. ſhould be ready to ſeal ſeverall Obligations for the payment of the ſaid 15 l. at the dayes; and alſo that the ſaid J. D. ſhould do other things which were not within the ſubmiſſion. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That all which was to be done by J. D. he being a ſtranger to the ſubmiſſion, was void. Mich 29 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 476. Moore and Bedells Caſe. And ſee the like Caſe, Paſch. 24 Eliz. rott. 2417. in B. R. Eccleſfield and Mallard's Caſe.

5. Debt was brought upon an Obligation; the Condition of which was, To perform the Award of A. indifferently choſen by the parties, to Arbitrate, &c. of, for, in, and upon the Delapidations of the Parſonage of S. being in decay; and alſo of in and upon all and ſingular Actions, Suits, Quarrels and Debates had and depending in variance between the ſaid parties; ſo as the ſame Award be made, ſealed and delivered in writing under the Seal of the Arbitrator before, &c. A. made an Award in this form, viz. The Award made by me A. indifferently choſen by the Obligor on the one part, and the Obligee on the other part: and the Award was onely of the Delapidations, with a Proteſtation, That he would not medle dle with the reſt: and the Iſſue being upon Nullum fecit Arbitrium, this ſpecial matter was found; It was a Quære, If it were an Award between the parties? But it was holden to be a good Award between the parties. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Arbitrator had diſabled himſelf, becauſe he had not arbitrated all; for that the ſubmiſſion was conditional; ſo as the ſame award be made. But it was holden by the Court, That if it be a ſubmiſſion of two things only, that the Award of one onely of them ſhould be good. 4. Eliz. Dyer 217. See Mich. 5 Jac. in C. B. Middleton, and Wells's Caſe, Cro. 2. part. 200. acc.

6 The Condition of an Obligation was, That if the Defendant do fulfill and keep the Arbitrament and Award of J. S. indifferently choſen by the Defendant and the Plaintiff, to Order, Rule, and finall determination to make, of all matters, Suits and demands whatſoever, had, or depending between the Deſendant and the Plaintiff, from the beginning of the World, untill the day of the date of the Obligation, That then, &c. In Debt brought upon the Obligation, The Deſendant pleaded, That the Arbitrator Nullum fecit Arbitrium, de et ſuper præmiſſis in conditione præditt. ſpecificat. The Plaintiff replyed that the Arbitrator fecit Arbitrium de et ſuper præmiſſis modo ſequente ſcil. that where there was a Suit depending between the Deſendant and the Plaintiff for a Debt of 20 l. due by the Defendant to the Plaintiff, which Debt the Defendant had promiſed to pay to the Plaintiff, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff for the ſaid Debt long due, and his coſts, 22 l. In this Caſe, it was adjudged that the award was good, for the Award is as well of the one part as of the other; for the one receives mony, and the other a diſcharge of his Debt, and of his promiſe to pay it. And, 2. It appeareth that the Award was made de præmiſſis præditt. in conditione præditt. ſpecificat. Which words imply that he hath made Arbitrament of all that which was referred to him, and ſo it ſhall be intended untill the contrary be ſhewed on the other part; For when a ſubmiſſion is generall of all Actions, generale nihil certi implicat, and therefore it may well ſtand with the generality of the words, that there was but one Cauſe depending in Controverſy betwixt them; But where a ſubmiſſion is of certain things in ſpeciall, with a Condition that the Award be made de præmiſſis, that it behoves that the Arbitrament be made of all Debts, &c. otherwiſe it is void; But if divers things in Speciall are ſubmitted without ſuch a Condition all Concluſion, there the Arbitrator may make an Award of one of them: It was reſolved further, That if many things be in Controverſy betwixt the parties, and one of them be onely notified to the Arbitrator, that he may make an Award of that onely, for that he is in the place of a Judge, and is to determine ſecundum allegata et probata; and he being a ſtranger, the party grieved, ought to ſignifie the Cauſes of Controverſie to him. Cook. 9. Part. 97. 7 Jac. B. Groves Caſe. See Brownlow 2. Part, 309. the ſame Caſe.

7. In Debt upon an Obligation to ſtand to an Arbitrament; the Caſe was, That the Plaintiff and the Defendant put themſelves upon the Arbitrament of J. S. of all matters between them till the 9th day of March, 18 Jac. and he made an Award, That each of them ſhould releaſe to the other matters and differences betwixt them till the 9th of March, 18 Jac. It was Objected, That by the Releaſe, the Obligation upon which the Action was brought, is diſcharged: But the Opinion of the Court was, That it was a good Award; for though it ſhall be void for that part of the Award, yet it ſhall be good for the reſt. Hill. 18 Jac. in C. B. Norton and Lakins Caſe. Winch. 1. See before, pl. 2. Pitts and Wardell's Caſe, acc.

8. The Condition of an Obligation to perform an Arbitrament, was, That if the Defendant his Executors, &c. ſhould perform the Award of A. B. C. and D. Arbitrators as well for the ſaid Defendant, as for the Plaintiff, elected to Arbitrate, for, and upon all manner of Actions, Suits, Treſpaſſes, Debts, Duties, and all other demands whatſoever, which between the ſaid parties have been had, moved, or now depending; ſo the ſame Award of the Arbitrators or any 3. of them of the premiſſes be made and given up before, &c. the Defendant in debt brought, did plead, That the Arbitrators did not make any Award: The Plaintiff Replyed, That B. C. and D. three of the Arbitrators did make their Award by writing Indented, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 57 l. Upon the 25th of November next 20 l. and ſeveral other ſums at ſeveral other dayes: and whereas the Defendant and one J. D. were bound to the Plaintiff in 22 l. for the payment of 6 l. at certain dayes, that the ſaid Obligation ſhould be to the Plaintiff in force as it then was; and that he ſhould have ben ſit thereof as he might have had before; That the Plaintiff ſhould acquit and ſave the Defendant harmleſs from all debts, duties, and moneys, for which the Defendant with the Plaintiff was indebted to E. F. G. and H. or any of them; and all Actions depending between the parties for any matter betwixt them, except the matters contained in the Arbitrament; and that if any Controverſie ſhould happen between the parties about any word, ſentence, or thing in the Arbitrament, that the parties ſhould perform ſuch Conſtruction as the ſaid 3. Arbitrators ſhould make under their hands; and that the the Plaintiff ſhould pay to J. N. for drawing and ingroſſing the Arbitrament 6 s. 8 d. and then the Plaintiff ſhewes, That although he performed all, yet the Defendant did not pay the 20 l. upon the 25 of November: And a Demurrer in Law being joyned upon this Award, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff: and the Defendant thereupon brought a Writ of Errour in the Exchequer Chamber, and aſſigned many Errours; 1. Becauſe the ſubmiſſion was to 4, and the Arbitrament was by 3. onely. 2. That the Arbitrators did not make any Award of the Bond of 12 l. and the ſubmiſſion was conditionall. 3. That the Arbitrators have made an Award of all matters concerning them for the future which is not in their power; for that all the Award ought to be before the laſt of May. 4. They award 6 s. 8 d. to be paid for ingroſſing the Award, which is not within their ſubmiſſion; J. N. being a ſtranger, and the thing awarded being agreed upon after the ſubmiſſion. But it was holden by all the Juſtices and Barons, That the Arbitrament was well made; for it ſhall be taken to be a ſubmiſſion to 4, or any 3. of them. 2. That the breach was well aſſigned; for if he did not pay the 20 l. upon the 25 of Novemb. it was not paid before the day: and they agreed, That the Arbitrament for the payment of the 6 s. 8 d. was void; but that was not material, for that the Award was void onely for that; but good for the reſidue: The Judgment was affirmed. 9. In Debt upon an Obligation; The Condition was, That whereas there were differences between the parties concerning ſome Actions, they had put themſelves upon the Award and Arbitrament of J. S. to be before the laſt day of December next; If therefore the Defendant his Executors, do and ſhall ſtand to and keep the ſaid Arbitrament of the ſaid J. S. that then, the Defendant delivered Oyer of the Condition, and then pleaded, That the Plaintiff ought not to have Action; becauſe he ſaid, The ſaid J. S. did not make any Arbitrament. The Plaintiff replyed, and ſhewed the Arbitrament, by which J. S. did award to the Plaintiff, intereſt to be paid for money, amongſt other things; upon which it was demurred. It was Objected, That the Arbitrament was void; for that it was for the payment of Intereſt: and Arbitrators indifferently choſen, may not award Intereſt to be paid; for that it is an unlawfull thing; and theſe differences which are to be ſubmitted, ought to be intended of lawful differences: And a Caſe was cited to be adjudged in the Kings Bench; That a Promiſe upon Conſideration to pay the principal together with the Intereſt, at a certain day upon forbearance, did lye, becauſe there the Intereſt certain was ſet down; but if the Intereſt certain had not been ſet down, then the promiſe to pay Intereſt had not been good. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Award was good; for that the Award is not for Intereſt, but rather for damage, for forbearance of the money: but admit it were for Intereſt, yet it is not void; for then the Statutes of 13 Eliz. & 27 Eliz. ſhould be frivolous, if ſuch Contract ſhould be utterly void; for they made the Contracts void onely for above 10 l. in the 100 l; and then if Contracts for uſury are good, then whatſoever a man may contract for, the ſame may be awarded, if the Contract will bear it: and Uſury is not malum in ſe, but malum prohibitum. The Court held, That the Award was good in this caſe; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 22 Jac. in C. B. Gilſon and Fencers Caſe, Winch. 114. and 120.

10. A ſubmiſſion was made by the parties the 29. December, 6 Car. to J. S. and J. D. Arbitrators, of all Actions, Suits, and Demands betwixt them, ſo that they made their Award before the 6th of January following: upon the 5th of January they made their award upon the premiſſes, and awarded 72 l. to be paid by the Defendant to the Plaintiff; and that either of them before the 12th of January following, ſhould make a Releaſe from the one to the other, of all Actions, Suits and Demands before the 28. of December laſt paſt: In Debt brought for the 72 l. upon Nil debet, It was found for the Plaintiff. In arreſt of Judgment, it was moved, That there were Actions depending betwixt them the 29th of December, and therefore the Arbitrament was void. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Arbitrament being made de et ſuper præmiſſis, it ſhall not be intended, that new Actions aroſe betwixt them the 28. of December, unleſſe it be ſpecially ſhewed; and therefore the Award is good, eſpecially when the party takes Iſſue Nihil debet; or Nullum tale fecerunt Arbitrium. Trin. 7 Car. in B. R. Ward and Uncornes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 157. And ſo was it adjudged in the like caſe, Trin. 43 Eliz. rott. 947. in Barnes and Greenewayes Caſe; which ſee, Ibid. See Trin. 5 Jac. rott. 1618. Goſſe and Browns Caſe. Hobart. 190. acc.

11. Debt upon an Obligation, for not performing forming an Arbitrament; The Award was, That the Defendant ſhould acquit and diſcharge the Plaintiff concerning a Bond of 100 l. wherein the Plaintiff and Defendant were jointly bound for the payment of 50 l. to J. S. The Defendant demurred, and for cauſe ſhews, That the Arbitrament was void, to award, that he ſhould acquit and diſcharge him of a Bond made to a ſtranger, for that it is not in his power to procure a diſcharge. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the party might well acquit and diſcharge, if the 40 l. be payable at a future day, as here it ſhall be intended it was. Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. Bardſey and Cluſtons Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 389.

12. Debt upon a Bond dated January, 13 Jac. for not performing an Award of all Cauſes between them. The Defendant pleaded, No Award made; The Plaintiff replyed, That in April 14. there was an Award made between them, de et ſuper præmiſſis, ſcil. that the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 20 l. in full ſatisfaction of all Controverſies untill the day of the Award, and that the Defendant paid it not. Whereupon the Defendant did demurr. In this caſe, upon view of the Preſidents of Barnes and Greeneways Caſe, Trin. 43 Eliz. and of Goſſe and Brown's Caſe, Trin. 5 Jac. both which Caſes are before vouched in Ward and Hacaynes Caſe, with which they agreed in Termino: The Court were ſtrongly for the Plaintiff, and gave Judgment for him: And yet if the Defendant had paid the 20 l. and the Plaintiff had accepted of it according to the Award, it would have ſatisfied and diſcharged any Treſpaſs or the like done by the Defendant to the Plaintiff, between the date of the Bond, and the Award; for it might be averred a ſatisfaction for it. Mich. 14 Jac. rott. 953. Lea and Payoes Caſe, Hobart. 191. See Brownlow 48. the ſame caſe. Hutton 9. the ſame caſe.

13. In Debt brought upon an Obligation to perform an Award; The Defendant pleaded, That the Arbitrators awarded, That whereas there was a Suit in the Chancery depending againſt the Plaintiff for divers matters, that the Plaintiff ſhould be acquitted of that Suit, and of all matters contained in the ſame Bill: and the Defendant alleaged, That he did not make any proſecution of that Bill, but the Plaintiff ſtands acquitted thereof. The Plaintiff Replyed, That the Defendant after the ſaid Award, viz. ſuch a day and year exhibited a New Bill, which did contain the ſame matter which the firſt Bill did: and ſet forth both Bills to the Court. Upon which, the Defendant did demur, and ſet forth for cauſe of Demurrer, That the Plaintiff had pleaded, That the Defendant had exhibited a New Bill; but that not taken forth any proceſs upon the ſame. It was adjudged, That the Defendant's Plea was good; and the exhibiting of a New Bill, or token of proceſs upon it, could be no prejudice; for the Bill is but a Petition; and the proceſs is ſuch, by which neither body nor goods ſhall be taken, and to the Plaintiff not prejudiced: and the Defendant hath pleaded, That he acquitted him of the Suit; and ſo Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 11 Jac. in C. B. Freeman and Sheild's Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part. 122.

14. Debt upon a Bond, to perform an Arbitrament; The Condition was, to perform the Award of two Arbitrators of all Actions, Demands, &c. from the beginning of the World, to the day of the date of the Obligation, ſo the Arbitrament be made before the 10th of December: The Defendant pleadad, No ſuch Award before the day: The Plaintiff Replyed, The 9th of December the award of and upon the premiſſes, that the Defendant ſhould pay the Plaintiff 14 l. at two days, and that upon the laſt day, the Plaintiff ſhould make a general Releaſe to the Defendant, and the Defendant likewiſe to the Plaintiff; and alledges a breach for not payment of the firſt 7 l. and avers, the 14 l. was awarded the Plaintiff in full ſatisfaction of all Suits, &c. It was Objected, The Releaſe to be made, is not appointed, but after the payment of the money, and is then to be made of more then is ſubmitted to. But per Curiam, the Award is good; and it ſhall not be intended there were more matters betwixt them after the date of the Obligation. Paſch. 17 Jac. Aſhbyes and Cliffords Caſe, Hutton 29.

3. Where the Arbitrament and Award ſhall be void, becauſe of incertainty, impoſſibility to be performed; and where it is made but of one part or ſide only; et è contra. And where ſubmiſſion is of ſeverall matters; where Award made of one of them ſhall be good; where not.

1. THe Plaintiff and Defendant did refer all matters and Controverſies which were betwixt them, to the Arbitrament and Award of J. S. the Arbitrators did award, That the Defendant ſhould enter into a Bond to the Plaintiff, that the Plaintiff and his Wife ſhould enjoy enjoy certain Lands, which he had not done. In an Action upon the Caſe brought for not performing of the ſame Award: It was Reſolved, That the Action did not lye, becauſe the Award was void for the Incertainty; for it doth not appear of what ſum the Bond entred into ſhould be; and every Award ought to be certain, 36 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 5. Part. Samons Caſe.

2. Debt brought upon an Obligation to ſtand to the Arbitrament of J. S. for the title of Copy-hold Lands between the parties; The ſaid J. S. Arbitrator awards, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 20 marks, ſcil. 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. ſuper victſimum primum diem Maii, and 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. at the Feaſt of St. Mich. next, and that the Plaintiff ſhould releaſe to the Defendant all his right in the Copy-hold Lands, ſuper prædictum primum diem Maii. The Defendant pleaded, That there was no Award made. The Plaintiff replyes, and ſets forth the Award, and that the Defendant had not paid the 6 l. 13 s. 4 d. upon the firſt of May. The Defendant demurred in Law. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Arbitrament was void in the whole, becauſe the day to which the Releaſe is referred unto, is uncertain; and ſo it doth not appear when it ſhall be made: and in this caſe it was ſaid, That if an Arbitrament doth conſiſt of divers parts, yet if any part of it be uncertain, the Arbitrament is void in all; for that an Arbitrament or Award is like a Judgment, which if it be imperfect in any part, is void for the whole. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Mich. 4 Jac. in B. R. rott. 32. Markham and Jennens Caſe.

3. Two men referred themſelves to the Arbitrament of J. S. and J. D. The Arbitrators made an Award, That one of them ſhould pay a certain ſum to the other at ſuch a day; and that the other in Conſideration thereof, ſhould acquit him of a Bond wherein they both were bounden unto a third perſon in 100 l. &c. et ſo Circiter: In an Action brought for not performance of the ſame Award, It was Objected, That the Arbitrators had Arbitrated a thing uncertain, by reaſon of the words, ſo Circiter. But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That there was ſufficient certainty, becauſe in this caſe, it doth not lye in their powers to know the direct ſum; and becauſe a ſmall variation is not material. But if they will arbitrate, That one ſhall be bound in a bond to another, and not expreſſe in what ſum, the ſame is utterly void for the incertainty; as it was adjudged in Sammon's Caſe. Paſch. 15 Car. in B. R. Marſh. 18.

4. Upon Debt upon an Obligation to perform an Award, upon Oyer of the Condition, the Defendant pleaded, That the Arbitrators made no Award; upon which Iſſue was joyned. The Jury found by Special Verdict, That the Defendant and one Watſon ſubmitted themſelves to Arbitrament, and found, that the Arbitrators made an Award in hæc verba, &c. but further they found, That Watſon one of the Obligees, was an Enfant within age at the time of the ſubmiſſion; and that the Arbitrators awarded, (amongſt other things) that Watſon the Enfant ſhould pay 5 l. to the other party for Quit-Rents, and other ſmall things: In this caſe 3. Points were Reſolved; 1. That the ſubmiſſion of the Enfant to an Award, was utterly void. 2. That the Award was void, becauſe of the incertainty of thoſe other ſmall things, it not appearing what thoſe other things were; and it might be, that they were ſuch things for which an Enfant by Law might not be chargeable; and alſo for that by the ſame reaſon that they have aſſeſſed 5 l. for the Enfant to pay, they might have aſſeſſed 20 l. 3. It was Reſolved, That the whole Award was void; and that as well againſt the Defendant Yates, as againſt Watſon the Enfant; for the ſubmiſſion is an intire thing; and void in part, is void in all. Trin. 17 Car. in B.R. Rudſtone and Yates Caſe. Marſh 111. & 141.

5. Two men ſubmitted themſelves to an Arbitrament, by Recognizance for the right and Intereſt in 200 Acres of Lands called Kelſtorn-ling, and for all other Actions and Suits concerning the ſame, Ita quod Arbitrium, &c. before ſuch a day. The Arbitrators awarded, That the Defendant ſhould have the brakes there growing during his life, paying to the Plaintiff yearly 2 s. without making any mention of Actions, Suits, &c. and upon demurrer joyned, It was adjudged, That the Arbitrament was void for 3. Cauſes: 1. Becauſe the Arbitrators had diſabled themſelves, their authority being upon Condition, viz. Ita quod, &c. inſomuch, as they had made an Award but of one thing, where the ſubmiſſion was of two: But it was holden, That if the ſubmiſſion had been by word, the Award had been good for that part. 2. It was a void Arbitrament, becauſe they had not awarded the property of Land of which the ſubmiſſion was; but had awarded onely a profit out of the Land, viz. to have the Brakes yearly. And, 3. It was holden, That the Award was void, becauſe they had not named the place Kelſtorn Ling; for although they intended that, yet it was holden, That the averment of the party, could not declare the Intent of the Arbitrators. Mich. 8 Eliz. Dyer 242.

6. Debt upon a Bond to perform an Award, to be delivered in writing; The Defendant pleaded, The Arbitrators made no Award: The Plaintiff ſhewed the Award made de et ſuper premiſſis in conditione, &c. in writing, which was, That the Defendant ſhould depart from the houſe where ſhe dwelt, dwelt, and ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 3 l. 10 s. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff for two cauſes; 1. Becauſe the Arbitrament was but onely of one ſide. And, 2. For the incertainty, for that it doth not appear for what the 3 l. 10 s. ſhould be paid; and every Controverſie is betwixt two at the leaſt: and it appears to the Court, the Controverſie cannot be ended but in reſpect of both parties: And if an Award be, That the Obligor in a ſingle Bond ſhall pay the debt; this is no good award, unleſs it be provided, that he be diſcharged, becauſe payment is no diſcharge in ſuch caſe. Hill. 12 Jac. rott. 3027. in C. B. Nichols and Grunnions Caſe. Hob. 49.

7. Debt upon a Bond for not performing an Award, which was, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 20 l. per annum, during the continuance of two Leaſes for years in being, of the Parſonage Impropriate of Yarmouth, &c. It was not ſhewed in the Award for what Term the Leaſes were: but the Plaintiff ſhewed for what Term they were, and the continuance of them; and alledged a breach in not payment of the 20 l. &c. It was Objected, That the Award was void for incertainty, becauſe the Term of years were not expreſſed in it, which cannot be helped by an Averment of the party. But the Court held the Award to be good; for that the payment of the 20 l. per annum is referred to the continuance of the Leaſes, which is certain, et id certum eſt, quod certum reddi poteſt. Paſch. 3 Jac. in B. R. rott. 478. Girling and Goſnold's Caſe.

8. Debt brought upon an Obligation, the Condition of which was, To ſtand to the Arbitrament of J. S. concerning all matters between them to the time of the ſubmiſſion: The Arbitrator awards, That one ſhall pay 20 s. and that the other ſhall make a general Releaſe to him, of all matters from the beginning of the World, to the time of the Arbitrament. It was agreed by the whole Court, That this is but an Arbitrament of one part, and therefore void; for it ſhall be intended by reaſonable Conſtruction, that the other party ſhould be diſcharged and acquitted. See 7 H. 6. 40. acc. Mich. 15 Jac. B. R. May, and Samuels Caſe, Popham 134.

9. Note; It was holden by the whole Court, and agreed by all the Serjeants, That if two men ſubmit themſelves to the Arbitrament of J. S. and the Arbitrator awards, That the one ſhall pay 10 l. and that the other ſhall make to him a Releaſe, that the ſame is a void Arbitrament, unleſs that the Submiſſion be by Deed, by which he to whom the Releaſe is to be made may have remedy, for otherwiſe the one ſhould have the 10 l. and the other ſhould be without remedy for the Releaſe. It was further Reſolved, That upon the ſubmiſſion and Arbitrament, the party ſhould not have an Action upon the Caſe for the making of the Releaſe: and the reaſon was, becauſe no Action upon the Caſe lyeth upon an Arbitrament, becauſe the ſame is in the Nature of a Judgment: and in this Caſe, Cook ſaid, It was wiſely done by Maunwood, Chief Baron, That when he made ſuch an Arbitrament to Releaſe or to do ſuch a Collateral thing; To arbitrate alſo, that he make the Releaſe or pay 10 l. for which the other might have remedy. Paſch. 10 Jac. in C. B. The Lord Mounteagle and Penruddocks Caſe.

10. In Debt brought upon an Obligation to perform an Award; the Defendant ſaid, That the Award was, That the Defendant ſhould ſurceaſe all Suits depending betwixt them, which he had done: The Plaintiff Replyed, That the Arbitrators made the Award ut ſupra: and alſo awarded, That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 20 l. at the houſe of J. S. without that, that they made the other award onely; The Defendant rejoyned, It is true, they made theſe Awards, but they farther awarded, That the Plaintiff ſhould releaſe to the Defendant, which he hath not done: Upon which Rejoynder, the Plaintiff did demur. It was Objected, That the Award was void, becauſe it is to do a thing upon the Land of another, which he cannot lawfully do: And although the Arbitrators may award to do a thing which is inconvenient, yet not to do a thing which is Impoſſible. But the Opinion of all the Juſtices was, That the Award was good: For, 1. The money is to be paid apud Domum J. S. and not in domo, and it might be, for any cauſe that appeareth to the contrary, that the ſaid houſe was adjoyning to the High-way, ſo that every ſtranger might come thither to the houſe, although he cannot come into the houſe without being a Treſpaſſor: but if it were not adjoyning to the High-way, yet he ought to come ſo near the houſe, as he might; and there he might make tender of the money, or he might procure leave to come into the houſe. 2. It was Reſolved, That although the Award ſhould be void as to that part; yet for the reſidue it was good: and therefore for not performance of the reſidue, the Bond was forfeited. See to that purpoſe, Cook 10. Part. 131. in Oſborns Caſe. If J. D. and J. N. ſubmit themſelves to the Award of J. S. who awards, That J. D. ſhall ſurceaſe all Suits, and procure J. N. to be bounden with a ſtranger, to make a Feoffment of his Manor of Dale, which is out of the ſubmiſſion. In that caſe there were 3. things enforcing the Arbitrament, & the firſt is only good, the ſecond againſt Law; and the third not within the ſubmiſſion: yet the Award being good in parte, the ſame ought to be performed. Paſch. 12 Jac. in B. R. Lindſey and Aſhtons Caſe.

11. Debt

11. Debt upon an Obligation to ſtand to the Award of A. and B. to be made ante Feſtum St. Andreæ the Apoſtle; The Defendant ſaid, They made no Award: The Plaintiff ſaid, That the Arbitrators, reciting divers ſums of money alledged by the Plaintiff to be due unto him by the Defendant, 18 November, did Order, That the Defendant (inter alia) ſhould pay 9 l. to the Plaintiff: and further, If the ſaid Defendant at or before the Feaſt of St. Andrew then next following ſhould before the ſaid Arbitrators or either of them, diſprove the payment of any the ſeveral ſums aforeſaid, then ſo much to be deducted out of the payment of the ſum: Upon Iſſue joyned, It was found for the Plaintiff: It was moved, That the Award was not good; becauſe it left the matter in ſuſpence, and ſo it was no final Award: and whether the Award ſhould ſtand, and the Reſervation ſhould be void, Curia aviſare vult. Hill. 15 Jac. Rott. 931. Warley and Beckwiths Caſe, Hobart 218.

12. In Debt upon an Obligation to perform an Award, the Caſe was; That 16 March, 33 Eliz. the Defendant was bound to the Plaintiff in 50 l. to ſtand to the Award, final End and Judgment of A. and B. Arbitrators, indifferently choſen to arbitrate, award, and judge of all Actions, Suits, Quarrels and Demands betwixt the parties untill the date of the Obligation, ſo it be made in writing under their hands and Seals, ready to be delivered up to the parties at or before the laſt day of this inſtant April; and the Arbitrators the laſt day April, 33 Eliz. made an Arbitrament in writing under their hands and ſeals, That within 4. dayes next enſuing the Award, Either of the parties ſhall Releaſe to other all Actions, Suits and Demands, before the date of the ſaid Obligation, with this Proviſo, That if either of the ſaid parties ſhall be diſcontented with the ſaid Award, or any part of it within 20 dayes after the Award, that then upon payment of 10 s. by the party which thinks himſelf grieved with the Award, to the other within the 20 dayes, the Award ſhall be void, and either of them be at liberty againſt the other as before the Award. The Queſtion was, Whether this be a good and final Award, or not? It was holden by all the Juſtices, That in this caſe, It ſhall ſhall not be ſaid to be a final Award at the time of the Award made; becauſe that inſtantly upon it, and before the dayes are paſt, there was a power in the parties to have defeated the Award upon the payment of 10 s. and therefore, and for that cauſe, the Award was void: And alſo it was holdden by them, That if the Releaſes had been limited to have been made at a day to come, as 10 dayes after, and that the Proviſo had been to have been performed in the mean time, before the 10 dayes, yet the Award had been void, becauſe they had not purſued the Submiſſion. Hill. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Sherley and Richardſons Caſe. Popham. 15, 16.

13. Debt upon an Obligation, to perform the the Award of J. S. and J. D. ſo as they made their Award before 10. October under their hands and ſeals; and if they did not agree, then to ſtand to the Umpirage of J. N. ſo as it be made in writing under his hand before 20. October. The Defendant pleaded, That neither the Arbitrators, nor the Umpier made award before the ſaid dayes. The Plaintiff Replyed, True it is, J. S. and J. D. did not agree, nor make Arbitrament before 10. October; but J. N. the Umpier did make Award before 20. October, where he awarded, (inter alia) that the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 30 l. at the houſe of A. in Chelmesford, being the ſign of the Cock; and for non-payment, alledged the breach. It was Objected, That the Submiſſion was void and incertain; for it is, If they do not agree; and it doth not appear to what they ſhould agree: and alſo the Arbitrament by the Umpier was void, becauſe he appoints the money to be paid at the houſe of a ſtranger, where by Intendment, the Defendant hath not Intereſt, nor can compell the owner to ſuffer the money to be paid there; for ſo the Defendant might be a Treſpaſſor. But the Court agreed, The Arbitrament was good; and the appointment of the money at a ſtrangers houſe, which ſhall by Intendment be taken to be a Common Inne, ſhall not make it an unlawful Act, and the Plaintiff by Intendment may procure ſuch a kindneſs of the ſtranger. Mich. 7 Car. in B. R. Tavernor and Skingles Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 193. See Trin. 8. Car. in B. R. Jennings and Vendeputs Caſe, Cro. 1. Part. 191. acc.

14 In Debt upon an Arbitrament, The Plaintiff declares that the Defendant and he poſuerunt ſe in arbitrium, ordinationem et judicium. J. S. Arbitrator indifferently choſen de jure titulo et intereſſe in quibuſdam Meſſuagiis, &c. and the ſaid Arbitrator Ordinavit that the Defendant ſhould pay unto the Plaintiff 16 l. in plenam ſatisfactionem, It was moved that the Arbitrament ſet forth in the Declaration was void, becauſe nothing is awarded to the Defendant, and ſo the Declaration is not good; but the Opinion of the Court was; That it doth not appear, but that it may be that the Arbitrament is good, for that the Plaintiff is not to ſhew in his Declaration all the Award, but ſuch thing onely which doth Intitle him to the thing, &c. and if the Defendant will impeach the Award, it ought to come on his part; Adjudged for the Plaintiff. M. 30. Eliz. in C. B. Smith, and Kirſoots Caſe. Leon. 72.

15 In Debt brought upon an Obligation to ſtand to an Award, the Plaintiff ſet forth, that the Arbitrator Awarded, 1. That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 10 l. 2. That the Defendant ſhould yield up, ſurrender, and relinquiſh to the Plaintiff, all ſuch Houſes and Tenements which he had in his poſſeſſion, by reaſon of the cuſtody of the Plaintiff; ſo that the Defendant ſhould acquit and diſcharge the Plaintiff of ſuch an Obligation. The Defendant to the firſt, pleaded, That he was ready, and yet is: As to that, the opinion of the Court was, That the Plea was not good, for that the Defendant ought to have pleaded a Tender. To the 2d the Defendant pleaded, That he had yielded up, &c. all ſuch houſes generally, without ſhewing which in certain. And for that cauſe, the Court was clear of opinion that the Plea was not good, To the 3d the Defendant pleaded, Quod Querens non fuit damnificatus. The Court held the ſame to be inſufficient, for he ought to have ſhewed him how he had diſcharged him; and it is not ſufficient to anſwer onely to the damnification. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 29. and 30. Eliz. in. C. B. Brett and Audars Caſe. Leon. 71.

16 An Action was brought upon an Obligation for not performance of an Award, which was void in part, and good in part, and the breach alledged in that which was good: and the Award was to pay mony, but no time of payment was alledged in the Award; But afterwards, the money was demanded. It was holden that the Award was good, and ſuch demands was alſo holden to be good. Paſc. 16. Jac. in Co. B. rott. 1200. Rayſon and Winders Caſe. Brownlow 1. part 65.

17 Note, It was holden by the whole Court, That if a man be bounden to perform an Award of Arbitrators, and they make an Award accordingly that one ſhall pay money, he to whom the money ought to be paid, may have an Action of debt for the money, and declare upon the Award, and afterwards he may have another Action upon the Obligation, for not performing of the Award. Mich. 5. Car. in C. B. Brownlow. 55.

18. Debt for 10 l. upon an Arbitrament; The Caſe was, the Plaintiff and Defendant, 8 Auguſt, 10. Jac. ſubmitted themſelves to the Arbitrament of J. S. and J. D. of all Treſpaſſes, duties, and demands; and the Arbitrators the ſame day Arbitrated de et ſuper premiſſis, viz. That the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff in ſatisfaction of all Treſpaſſes and injuries done to the Plaintiff by the Defendant, before the day of the Submiſſion, ſo much, &c. The Defendant demurred upon the Declaration; pretending the Arbitrament was void, being but of one part, and the Plaintiff is not to do any thing: But it was adjudged, the Arbitrament was good; and that the Defendant hath benefit by it, for by the payment of the money, he is quit againſt the Plaintiff of all Treſpaſſes, and it is a good bar againſt him; and it ſhall not be intended that the Arbitrators had notice given them; That the Defendant had any cauſe of Action againſt the Plaintiff, but onely that the Treſpaſſes were done onely by the Defendant; and if it were otherwiſe, it is to be ſhewed on the Defendants part: And where a ſubmiſſion is of all Actions, and not with a Condition, ſo that it be made upon the premiſes, if they make an Award of part, it is good for that part wherefore they made their Award; but if the Submiſſion had bin conditionall, it had been otherwiſe; and that difference was agreed by the whole Court. Paſc. 12. Jac. rott. 399. in B. R. Ormelade and Cooks Caſe. Cro. 2. part 354, 355.

19 Debt upon an Obligation for performance of the Award of J. S. and J. D. of all ſuits and demands betwixt the Plaintiff and Defendant, ſo as the Award of, and upon, the premiſes be made ready to be delivered to the parties under their hands and Seals before the Feaſt of St. Bartholmew, &c. The Defendant pleaded, They made no Award; the Plaintiff ſhewed that the Arbitrators accepto onere arbitrandi de et ſuper premiſſis 8. Auguſt, Anno prædict. made Arbitrament under their hands and Seals, de et ſuper præmiſſis, viz. That the Plaintiff ſhould have and enjoy a Horſe, which was in controverſy, and that the Defendant ſhould pay to him 3 l. before Michaelmas towards his charges; and they ſhould releaſe one to the other all matters whatſoever betwixt that time and Michaelmas; and the breach was alledged in not payment of the 3 l. The Defendant demurred; It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, for though it was pleaded that the Arbitrament was made de et ſuper præmiſſis; yet the words being general, the ſame will not help the Plaintiff, unleſſe it be helped by the Plaintiff by an Averment that there was no more cauſes betwixt them, and then the Releaſe appointed being void, there is nothing Arbitrated for the Defendants benefit. Mich. 12. Jac. rott. 155. in B. R. Stain and Wilds Caſe. Cro. 2. part 352, 353.

20 Debt upon an Obligation of 500 l. Conditioned to ſtand to the Award of J. S. and J. D. So that, &c. The Defendant pleaded they made no Award: the Plaintiff replyed, and ſhews the Award; but aſſigns no breach. The Defendant replies, It is not the Arbitrators Award; a Verdict was found for the Plaintiff; It was moved to ſtay Judgment, that, no breach being alledged, there was no cauſe of Action, and ſuch was the opinion of the whole Court, Court, for the Court ought to be ſatisfied, that the Plaintiff had cauſe of Action, otherwiſe they cannot give Judgment, and this defect is matter of Subſtance, and not helped by any Statute. Judgment was Arreſted. 1 Paſc. 7. Jac. in B. R. Barret and Fleetwers Caſe, Cro. 2. part. 320.

21 Debt upon a Bond conditioned to perform the Arbitrament of J. S. ſo it be delivered the 28th Feb. following, at the Shop of R. in C. &c. The Defendant pleaded Nul tiel arbitrament. The Plaintiff ſhewed an Arbitrament 27 Feb. and that he delivered it at the Shop of A. in C. The Defendant demurred becauſe it is not ſaid to be delivered at the ſhop prædict. nor of the ſaid R. prædict. and it may be he hath removed his Shop; and there may be another R. But it was adjudged, that another ſhop and another perſon ſhall not be intended, unleſſe the Contrary had been ſhewen. Alſo it was objected that the Arbitrament is incertain, to pay charges in ſuch a ſuit; But the Court held it certain enough, when the Attorny hath made a Bill of Charges. Mich. 10. Car. in B. R. Beale and Bates Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 279.

22. Debt upon a bond to perform an Arbitrament: The Arbitrament was in this manner, Whereas there was a Controverſy between the Plaintiff and Defendant concerning the Leaſe of a houſe, in C. which the Defendant claymed by Leaſe from Bond, one of the Plaintiffs for 6 years, rending 15 l. paid quarterly, which Rent was behind for a year. That he ſhould for this Rent pay to Furſer the other Plaintiff, 13 l. 6 s. 8 And that he ſhould enjoy it for three years and a half, and ſhould pay half yearly for it to Furſer 15 l. at the Annuntiation, and Saint Michael or within 40 days after, and that if he failed of the payment, then the Award for the enjoying it ſhould be void, The Defendant pleaded payment of the 13 l. 6 s. 8 d. at the day, and of the Rent at the ſaid Tenement, and that none were there to receive it. It was holden by the Court that this was a Sum in groſſe, and payable at demand by the Defendant at his perill, 2. That this Tender is not ſufficiently pleaded, for that it is not pleaded at the Laſt Inſtant as it ought to be. 3. That this conditionall award was good enough, for it is abſolute if the other pay the Rent, otherwiſe it is his own default. Paſc. 14. Jac. in B. R. rott. 354. Furſer and Bond, and Prowds Caſe. Cro. 2. part. 423.

4. Where a ſubmiſſion may be divided, and where a ſubmiſſion by ſeveral Obligations, ſhall be but one ſubmiſſion.

1. THis Queſtion was moved to the Court, ariſing upon a Submiſſion, viz. The Submiſſion was of all Actions, Suits, &c. unto four perſon, and the Umperage of another. And an Aſſumpſit was mutually to perform the order of them five. The four perſons, and the fifth as Umpire, did make the Award, and the party ſubmitting did refuſe to perform this Order and Award: The Queſtion was whether this Award was made according to the ſubmiſſion; It was ſaid by Williams Juſtice, that it was well, and according to the Submiſſion But otherwiſe if it had been, if in the Submiſſion they had been divided, as if it had been, That if the Four could not agree in their Award, that then the Submiſſion be to the Umperage of a fifth man. For then thoſe five could not all of them joyn in the making of the Award. But here the Submiſſion being to four, and to the Umperage of a fifth, they all five might joyn in one Award. Paſc. 10. Jac. in B. R. Eliot and 1 part. 184.

2 Debt by A. upon a Bond of 1000 l. Conditioned for the performance of the Arbitrament of J. S. and J. D. of all Controverſies and demands betwixt A. and B. The Defendant pleaded, They made no Arbitrament. The Plaintiff ſhewed That H. the Father of the ſaid A. and B. was ſeiſed of divers Lands, and had iſſue, the ſaid A. B. and W. and that there were Controverſies betwixt the Plaintiff, A. and W. and B. concerning the ſaid Lands. For which the Plaintiff A. entred into Bond unto the ſaid B. and W. and B. entred into the ſaid bond of 1000 l: and W. at the ſame time entred into another Bond to perform the ſaid Arbitrament; and the Plaintiff ſhewed the Arbitrament, That A. the Plaintiff ſhould releaſe to B. and W. &c. and B. and W. ſhould pay to A. 300 l. at ſuch a time and place, and aſſigned the breach for not payment of the 300 l. The Defendant B. demurred; It was objected that the Arbitrament was void, for that the Defendants bond is for a Reference of all Controverſies betwixt A. and B; and W. is not mentioned in the Bond, and the Award is betwixt A. B. and W; and that W. and B. ſhould pay ſuch a ſum, and it appears that W. is a ſtranger to the Submiſſion, unleſſe by a Collateral ſurmiſe, which is not allowable, and this ſurmiſe is quaſi a departure from the Declaration. 2. The Arbitrament is void, becauſe the submission was only for Land mentioned to be devised to W. and B. or to the use of them; and the Arbitrament is that he make a release of his right in the Lands Conveyed or devised, and there is no Authority to meddle with the Lands Conveyed; But it was resolved by the Court, that forasmuch as this is not a bare surmise, but grounded upon a Deed, which is as high as the other, and made at the same time, so it is but one submission by several Bonds, and the surmise is allowable, and stands with the Bond in Question; and when at the same time they enter into severall bonds, it is but one Submission, and is not any departure from the Declaration. And for the second poynt it was Resolved; that it shall not be intended, there were any Lands conveyed, unlesse it had been shewen. Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. Hil. 10. Car. B. 5. Where the power of the Arbitrators is revocable, and Countermandable; and where Notice is to be given to them of it; And what shall be a good Countermand, or a sufficient notice given of their Award by Arbitrators, et è contra.

1. AN Action of Debt was brought upon an Obligation which was Conditioned for the standing to an Award, To which the Defendant pleaded, That the Arbitrator made no Award, The Plaintiff Replied, that after the making of the Obligation, &c. The Defendant by his Deed, &c. revocavit et abrogavit authoritatem, &c. which he had given by his writing to the Arbitrators, upon which the Defendant did demur in Law, In this Case these poynts were resolved. 1. That when a man is bounden to stand to the Award of J. S. he may afterwards countermand it; and a man by his Act, cannot give such an Authority, or power, or warrant which is not Countermandible, if it be revocable by Law: For my Act, or my words cannot alter the Judgment of Law. 2. It was resolved; That the Plaintiff needed not to add, That the Arbitrators had notice of the said Countermand, for that was implied in the words, Revocavit omnem Authoritatem; and it was taken for a Rule, That when two things are requisite to the performance of an Act, both things to be done by the same party as a Demise, Revocation, or Countermand, there notice is implied; but when the two things are to be performed by several persons, there it is otherwise. 3. It was resolved, That by this Countermand, the Obligation became single, and that the Obligee should take advantage of it, 1. Because the Defendant brake the words of the Obligation. 2. Because the Obligor by his own Act, had made the Condition of the Bond impossible; and therefore the Bond did remain single. Trinit. 7. Jac. rott. 2619. Viners and Wilds Case, Cook 8 part. 82.

2 A man was bounden in an obligation, upon Condition that if he did accompt before an Auditor of the Obligee, to be assigned when he should be required of certain Receipts of the Mannour of Dale, and should pay to him the Arrerages which should be found upon his accompt before the said Auditor, that then the obligation should be void. In Debt upon that Bond, the Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff did assign him such an Auditor before whom he accompted, and that he had been alwayes ready to pay the Arrerages, if the said Auditor had given him notice Fu. 1. H. 6. 5. It was holden by the whole Court, that the plea was insufficient, for inasmuch as he had bound himself thereunto; he was to take notice thereof at his perill: And there the Case was agreed by the whole Court. That if a man bindeth himself in an Obligation, to perform the Award of J. S. and J. S. maketh an Award, the Obligor ought to take notice thereof at his peril, for that he hath bound himself thereunto. Cook 8. part. 92. vouched in Fraunces Case.

Arrests and Imprisonments.

1. Where an Arrest shall be good, lawfull, and justifiable; And by whom, and for what cause: where good by the parties themselves, and where by the Command of others: And how the party arrested, shall be used; et è contra.

1. NOte: It was said by Anderson, Chief Justice, That if a man be sued in the Common-Pleas for a debt; and after he be arrested in another County for the same debt, the penalty is both Fine and Imprisonment; and that is both the Law and the Custome of this Court: And there where an Attorney of that Court brought an Action of Debt against againſt another; whereupon he was arreſted in the Country; and when he came to London, the Attorney cauſed him to be arreſted in London for the ſame Debt: This matter being ſhewed to the Court, the Court committed the Attorney a priſoner to the Fleet: And Windham, Juſtice, ſaid to him, We will puniſh ſuch groſs fault in you more ſeverely, then in others, becauſe you are Attorney here; and your fault is the greater, by how much you are skilfull in the Law and the Cuſtomes of this Court. Mich. 28 & 29 Eliz. in C. B, Goldeſbr. 30.

2. A. in the Court of the Marſhalſey of the Kings houſhold, exhibited a Bill againſt B. in the ſaid Court of Marſhalſey upon an Aſſumpſit, for the payment of 80 l. A. found bayl, R. H. and R. P. and after upon Non-Aſſumpſit pleaded in that Court, It was found for the Plaintiff A. and Judgment given for him; he thereupon ſued forth a Warrant in the nature of a Capias againſt B. directed to the Marſhal of the Marſhalſey of the Houſhold, who returned Non eſt inventus: Afterwards he ſued a Precept in the nature of a Capias, to arreſt the body of B. or of R.H. and R. P. ad ſatisfaciendum, directed to the Marſhal of the Marſhalſey of the Houſhold; who by word commanded C. to execute that Writ within the Verge: By virtue of which Writ, C. did arreſt the body of R. H. and kept him in Execution in the priſon of the Marſhalſey in Southwark; neither the Plaintiff A. nor the ſaid B. at the time of the Bill exhibiting, were ſervants of the King or of his Houſhold: whereupon R. H. brought an Action of Aſſault, Battery, and Falſe Impriſonment againſt C. and A. And in this Caſe, two principal Points were Reſolved, 1. That an Action upon Aſſumpſit for paynent of Debts, being made within the Verge, was not within the Juriſdiction of the Court of the Marſhal of the Marſhalſey of the Kings Houſhold. 2. That the Action did lye againſt the Defendants for the Aſſault, Battery, and Falſe Impriſonment; and the difference was taken, When a Court hath Juriſdiction of the Cauſe, and proceedeth inverſo ordine, or erroniouſly, there the party who ſueth, or the Officer who executeth the proceſs of the Court, no Action lyeth againſt him: But when the Court hath not Juriſdiction of the Cauſe, there the whole proceedings is Coram non Judice; and then an Action will lye againſt the party or Officer who executeth the proceſs of ſuch Court: and ſo it was in this Caſe: And in that caſe, it was ſaid and agreed, That if the Court of Common-Pleas in a plea of Debt doth award a Capias againſt a Duke, Earl, &c. which by the Law doth not lye againſt them: and the ſame appeareth in the Writ it ſelf; Yet if the Sheriff arreſt them by force of the Capias, altho'gh the Writ be againſt Law, notwithſtanding in as much as the Court hath Juriſdiction of the Cauſe, the Sheriff is excuſed. See 38 H. 8. Dyer 60. And ſo if a Juſtice of Peace maketh a Warrant to arreſt one of Felony who is not Indicted, although that the Juſtice erre in the Warrant; yet he who maketh the Arreſt by force of the Warrant, ſhall not be puniſhed by Falſe Impriſonment, becauſe he is Judge of the Cauſe. Cook 10. Part. 69, 70, 71. the Caſe of the Marſhalſey.

3. A. Burgeſs of Parliament was taken upon an Exigent after a Capias: It was holden in that caſe, That notwithſtanding the Execution, that he ſhould have his Priviledge of Parliament for the freeing of his body of the Impriſonment; but the party ſhall not be prejudiced thereby, for that after the Parliament he ſhould be in Execution again: But it was further holden, That admitting that the priviledge would not lye in the Caſe; yet the Sheriff ſhould not be charged, becauſe he is ſworn to execute the proceſs of the Court; but it was ſaid, He is not bound to take notice of the Law. Paſch. 28 H. 8. Dyer 61. Trewynarts Caſe.

4. The Sergeants at Mace of the City of London, had a Warrant to arreſt the Counteſs of Rutland upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum at the Suit of S. who being fearful ſhe would be reſcued by her Servants, and ſo eſcape, if ſhe ſhould be charged with the Execution; The Sergeant did counſel S. to enter a feigned Action of 1000 l. before the Sheriffs of London, upon which they would arreſt the Counteſs, and by force thereof bring her to the Counter, and then take her body in Execution upon the Capias ad ſatisfaciendum. Afterwards the ſaid Serjeants in Cheap-ſide came to the Counteſſes Coach, and ſhewed her their Mace, and touched her body with it, ſaying, We arreſt you, Madam, at the Suit of S. which were all the words they uſed; and thereupon they compelled the Coachman to carry the Counteſſe to the Counter; and at the door thereof, the Sheriff came and carried the Counteſſe to his Houſe, where ſhe remained, untill ſhe had paid the debt: And in this Caſe, theſe Points were Reſolved: 1. That the perſon of one who is a Counteſs by marriage, or by diſcent, is not to be arreſted for debt, or Treſpaſs; for although ſhe cannot ſit in Parliament, yet ſhe is a Peer of the Realm, and ſhall be tryed by her Peers; and the Law preſumes ſhe hath ſufficient by which ſhe may be diſtrained. 2. That the perſon of a Baron who is a Lord of Parliament, ſhall not be arreſted in debt or Treſpaſs; for by reaſon of their dignity they ſhall be intended to have ſufficient to pay their debts. 3. It was Reſolved, That becauſe in the principal Caſe, a Capias was awarded againſt the Counteſs by the Court of Common-Pleas, That the Sheriff, or his Officer by his Warrant, might without offence execute the ſame; same; for that they are not to dispute the Authority of the Court, but they ought to execute the Writs directed to them, and to that they are sworn: and in some cases (as in cases of Contempt) a Capias doth lye against an Earl, Baron, or Countess. 4. It was Resolved, That forasmuch as the Serjeants on the principal case, did arrest the Countess upon a feigned Action upon their own heads without any warrant, that the same was a false Imprisonment: And for that cause they were sentenced in the Star-Chamber: and it was holden by the Justices, That Arrests upon feigned Actions, were utterly condemned in Law. Cook 6. Part. 52, 53. the Countess of Rutlands Case.

5. Note: It is said in Cook 11. Part, in Richard Godfreys Case, That the Constable at the Petit Sessions, for any Affray made in disturbance of the Court, may Arrest and Imprison the party: But no Court may Fine and Imprison a man, or cause him to be arrested for such a Fine, unlesse it be a Court of Record. Cook 11. Part. 44

6. The Earl Rivers was arrested by a Bill of Middlesex in a plea of debt, and not being able to put in sufficient bayl, he was committed to the Custody of the Marshal of the Kings-Bench: By a Habeas Corpus he brings himself into Court, and there pleaded his Priviledge of Peerage, and prayed to be delivered: Upon which the Plaintiff demurred in Law. The Question insisted upon was, Whether by taking away the House of Lords in Parliament, the Priviledge of his Peerage, not to be arrested for debt, was also taken away? It was argued, It was not; and also that by the Common-Law no Capias did lye against a Peer of the Realm, in respect of the Dignity of his person, being Consanguineus Regis: and, 2. because Earls by Intendment have sufficient Free-hold to enforce them to come in and answer; and therefore they are not to be arrested. And such seemed to be the Opinion of the Court. But in regard the Defendant prayed, That the Writ brought against him might abate: It was said by the Court, That he should have prayed the same before he was returned over to the Marshal of the Court; and now he being in Custodia, the Declaration was good against him: and now it was too late for him to claym his Priviledge; and it was now too late to speak in Abatement of the Writ. 7. In an Action of False Imprisonment, the Case was this; King Henry the 8th by his Letters Patents erected a Colledge of Physitians in London, and by the same Letters Patents granted to them, That none should exercise the Art of Physick within the City of London, or 7 miles of it, unles they be allowed of by the President and others of the said Colledge, and by the same Letters Patents granted to them, That there should be 4. Censors, or Governours yearly chosen by them who should have the tryal and examination of all Physitians which practised Physick within the City, or 7 miles of it; and further, by the said Letters Patents granted to them, That they should have the punishment of those who practised Physick within the City pro delictis suis in non bene exequendo, faciendo, et utendo facultate Medicinæ, by Fines, Amercements, et imprisonment, corporum eorum; and the said Charters 14 H. 8. was confirmed by Parliament, and thereby further Enacted, That no person shall be suffered to practise Physick through England, untill he be examined at London by the President and 3. of the Censors, and have Letters Testimonial, except he be a Graduate of Oxford or Cambridge, who hath accomplished his terme without grace: And further, by another Act, Enacted, 1 Ma. the said Letters Patents were confirmed; and by the same Act it is Enacted, That whatsoever the President, or such of the Colledge as he shall authorize, shall send or commit any such Offender for any Offence or disobedience contrary to any Article of the said Grant to any Ward Goal or Prison, that then the Warden, Gaoler, or Keeper shall receive such person and keep them without bayl or mainprize. One Bonham, who was a Graduate, scil. a Doctor of Physick in the University of Cambridge, practised Physick in London, and was summoned by word to appear before the President and Censors, for practising of Physick in London contrary to the said Letters Patents and Acts of Parliament; and he did not appear: Whereupon it was Ordered by them, That for his disobedience he should be amerced 10 l. and that he should be arrested and sent to the Goal: Afterwards he came before them, and being asked, If he would satisfie the Colledge for his disobedience? He said, That he had practised Physick, and he would practise Physick in London, nulla à Collegio petita venia; and then told them, That neither the President nor the Censors had any authority over those who were Doctors of the Universities: For which the President and Censors by their Warrant under the Common Seal, sent him to prison in the Counter of London, there to remain without bayl or Mainprise. And thereupon he brought False Imprisonment. In this Case it was Resolved by the whole Court, 1. That the Censors had not power to commit the Plaintiff to prison for any of the Causes aforesaid: For the power of the Censors to Fine and Imprison, did not extend to the first Clause in the Letters Patents, which prohibited, That none should exercise Physick in London without Licence of the President and Colledge; but onely to punish those which practised Physick in in London, pro deliciis in non bene exequendo ſa-ciendo, et utendo facultate Medicinæ; for, every one who practiſed Phyſick well, although he had not any Degree in the Univerſities, ſhould forfeit nothing, unleſſe he practiſed there by the ſpace of a moneth together. 2. That the Cenſors could not be Judges, Miniſters, and parties, ſcil. to give Judgment, and to make ſummons, and to have the forfeiture. 3. That they had not purſued their authority, becauſe by the Act, the Cenſors onely have power to impoſe a Fine or Amercement, and here the Preſident and Cenſors impoſe the Amercement; and the Fines impoſed by them, do belong to the King, and not to themſelves: and therefore the Impriſonment of the Plaintiff for not paying it to them in proximis Comitiis, is not lawful; alſo the Impriſonment was by parol onely, which was not lawful; and no Impriſonment can be but by thoſe who can make a Record of it, which they had not in this caſe. And laſtly, It was Reſolved, That the Arreſt of the Plaintiff, and his Impriſonment, was without cauſe. And therefore Judgment was given for the Plaintiff; and 300 l. damages given him. Cook 7. Part. Jac. in C. B. Dr. Boaham's Caſe. 94. to 121.

8. A Juſtice of Peace upon view of a Force, or retainer with force, may commit the perſon preſently, but then he ought to make a Record of it, otherwiſe the Commitment is not good; and if without, if the party be Arreſted and Impriſoned, an Action of Falſe Impriſonment lyeth againſt the party who arreſteth or impriſoneth him. Cook. ibid. 120.

9. Note: theſe points were Reſolved by the whole Court, 1. That if a man be arreſted in the Night at the ſuit of a Subject, the ſame is as lawfull as if it were at the Kings Suit: For the Officer or Miniſter of Juſtice ought to arreſt the party, when he can find him; for if he doth not then arreſt him, he is ſubject to an Action upon the Caſe. 2. That an Officer may arreſt a man upon the Sabbath; for that all Miniſteriall Acts may be executed upon that day, but not Judicial acts. 3. That the Sheriff or Officer upon the arreſting of a man, ought to tell him at whoſe Suit the Arreſt is, and out of what Court the proceſs is, that the party arreſted may either pay the money, or take order for his appearance; but that is to be meant when the party arreſted ſubmits to the Arreſt of the Officer; but not when the party arreſted reſiſteth the Officer in the Execution of his Office, and would make Eſcape: and it was there holden, That a known Bayliff or a Serjeant, ought not to ſhew their Warrant or Mace; and a ſpecial Bayliff is not bound to ſhew his Warrant, without it be demanded of him: and if notice be requiſite of it, it is then ſufficient when the Officer that makes the Arreſt, ſayes, I arreſt you in the Kings name Cook. 8. Part. 67, 68. Mackalleys Caſe.

10. A Juſtice of Peace made a Warrant under his Seal to a Conſtable, to bring the Wife of J.S. before any Juſtice of the ſame County, to find Sureties for her good behaviour. The Conſtable by force of the ſaid Warrant did arreſt the Wife; afterwards her husband and his wife, and J. S. offered them to go to B. another Juſtice of the ſaid County, to be bounden according to the purport of the ſaid Warrant, and the Conſtable did refuſe to go with them. Afterwards, the husband, wife, and one C. went to B. the Juſtice, and there entred a Recognizance to appear at the next Seſſions, (which was not according to the firſt Warrant) and the Conſtable afterwards brought the wife before the firſt Juſtice, before whom ſhe refuſed to find Sureties, for which he carried her to the Goal by force of the ſaid Warrant: It was Reſolved in this caſe, 1. When the Warrant is, Coram aliquo Juſticiariorum; that it is in the Election of the Conſtable to carry the party arreſted before what Juſtice he pleaſeth; for by preſumption of Law, he is more indifferent then the Delinquent her ſelf. 2. When the Conſtable in this caſe had brought the party before the Juſtice; and before him, ſhe refuſed to find Sureties; that the Officer without any new Warrant might carry the party to priſon; becauſe the words of his Warrant were, Et ſi hoc facere recuſaverit, that then he carry her to the next Goal: and it was ſaid by Wray, Chief Juſtice, in this caſe, That a Juſtice of Peace might make his Warrant to bring the party before himſelf; and ſuch Warrant is good, Hill. 32 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part. 60, 61. Foſters Caſe.

11. In a Falſe Impriſonment the caſe was; The Plaintiff being a Priſoner in the Counter of Woodſtreet, London, made an Eſcape: The Defendant being Sheriff made purſuit after him; and in his purſuit he met with the Plaintiff in noſturno tempore circa horam nonam; who indecenter ſe geſſit, opprobioſa verba dedit, et detruſit ad murum; ſuper quo the Sheriff videns eum vagantem et tantopere ſeſe malè gerentem, propter malam geſturam cepit et impriſonavit: This was holden to be a good Arreſt and Juſtification of the Impriſonment, both for the matter and the manner of it: For the Sheriff hath Cuſtodiam Comitatus, and is Conſervator pacis, and here was a breach of the Peace, which was a ſufficient cauſe of his Commitment; alſo here is violence offered to the Sheriff, ſcil. quod detruſit ad murum: and if a Conſtable may commit one for a breach of the Peace upon himſelf, à fortiori the Sheriff may do it: and in ſome caſes the Sheriff may arreſt a man, notwithſtanding he doth not break the peace in his preſence; as upon on the Statute of Northampton, If he ſee one to carry weapons in the High-way in terrorem populi, he ought to arreſt him; although he doth not break the peace in his preſence. It was alſo holden by the Court, That Magiſtrates are not to be abuſed; no not with opprobrious words in the execution of their Office. And ſo it was adjudged in the Mayor of Barnſtable's Caſe, who did commit one to priſon, and juſtified the ſame in an Action of falſe Impriſonment brought againſt him, for that he did miſbehave himſelf toward him by ill words: and it appears in the principal caſe, that what was done by the Plaintiff, was willingly to hinder the Sheriff in the purſuit of his eſcaped priſoner: Wherefore it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, Quod nil Capiat Billam. Aſſetts.

1. What ſhall be ſaid to be Aſſets in the hands of Executors, what not; And where the Executors ſhall be Charged, if they have Aſſets without expreſſe mention of them.

1. Debt was brought againſt Executors, the Iſſue was, whether there were Aſſetts in the hands of the Executors the day of the Writ brought; It was given in Evidence for the Plaintiff in the Action, That the ſame day the ſum of a 100 l. was paid unto the Executors in the Prerogative Court, and preſently by the order of the ſaid Court, the Executors paid the ſaid 100 l. to another Creditor of the Teſtator; But the opinion of the Court was, in regard the money was once in the Executors hands; that payment of it over, by the order of the Court of Prerogative, was not to the purpoſe; and therefore the ſame was adjudged to be Aſſets in their hands: But yet it was holden, that upon ſpeciall pleading of ſuch matter, peradventure it might not be Aſſets in their hands; to pay another Debt. 4, and 5. Ma. Dyer. 208.

2. A man did deviſe his Lands which were holden in ſocage to be ſold by his Executors, and that the Money thereof coming, ſhould be diſpoſed of in payment of ſpecial Legacies which he appointed by his ſaid will, the Executors ſold the Lands. One of the Legatees after the Will was proved, ſued the Executors in the ſpirituall Court for his Legacy; whereupon a Prohibition was prayed: It was reſolved in that Caſe. 1. That the Money was Aſſetts in the Executors hands: and 2d That there was no remedy for it but by Suit in the Spiritual Court and therefore a Prohibition did not lye in the Caſe. Trin. 9. Ely. Dyer. 264. But Quære of the 2d payment, For it was holden by all the Juſtices of both Benches. M. 4. and 5. Ma. Dyer. 152. Where a man deviſed, That his Executors ſhould ſell Lands, and of the Mony coming, ſhould give ſuch a portion to his daughter; that this was not a Legacy becauſe going out of Land, and ſuit did not lye for it in the ſpirituall Court, but an account lies at Law for the Mony, and therefore in that Caſe a Prohibition was granted to ſtay the Suit in the Spirituall Court. Dyer. 151, 152.

3. A Reverſion upon a Term was granted to the uſe of the grantor for life, and after his deceaſe to the uſe of his Executors and Aſſigns for 21 years, the Remaynder over intail. The grantor was attainted of Treaſon, and died inteſtate, and without Aſſignment: In this Caſe it was holden that it was an intereſt in the grantor, and that the Queen ſhould have the Term as forfeited; But it was holden, That if the Executors ſhould take any thing by it, they ſhould not have it as purchaſors to their own uſes; but ſhould have it as Aſſetts. Paſc. 14. Eliz. Dyer. 310. And note in that Caſe. this difference was put upon the books of 2 H. 4. and 3 H. 6. If a man enfeoffeth one, or divers upon condition, that they ſhall ſell the Land, and ſhall diſpoſe of the mony for the good of his Soul, and he makes them his Executors, and they ſell the Land accordingly, &c. that the ſame ſhall not be Aſſetts, but if it be of Land deviſeable, or in uſe, and be ſo deviſed to his Executors, for his Soul, the ſame ſhall be Aſſetts.

4. In Debt brought againſt Executors; they were at Iſſue if Aſſetts were in their hands or not; And the Jury found by a ſpeciall Verdict, That the Teſtator was ſeiſed of a houſe in Fee, and made a Leaſe thereof, and of certain implements of houſhold in it for years; rendring Rent to him his Heirs, and Aſſigns, and found that the Executors after the death of the Teſtator, continually received the Rent, and prayed adviſe of the Court, if the ſame were Aſſetts in the Executors hands, and the opinion of the Court was, that it was not Aſſetts, for that the whole Rent was to go with the Land in Reverſion, as magis dignè: and ſo did belong to the Heir. 5 Debt was brought by J. S. againſt J. D. who was the Executor of W. who was the Executor of L. upon an Obligation of L. the firſt Teſtator. The Defendant

Defendant J. D. pleaded that L. the firſt Teſtator was endebted to W. 100 l. upon a Statute Staple; and that after his death, goods of the value of 100 l. came to the hands of W. as Executor of L. which goods he adminiſtred, and paid himſelf by way of Receiver, and ultra dict. bona of 100 l. which he adminiſtred of the goods of L. he had nothing in his hands: the Plaintiff averred Aſſetts, in the hands of W. in London, ultra the 100 l. tempore mortis L. adminiſtrand. It was found for the Plaintiff. In that Caſe the Plaintiff had judgment of the goods of L. in the Defendants hands, not adminiſtred by W. and damages of the proper goods of the Defendant, upon a Demonſtravit returned, becauſe the Jury found Aſſetts in the hands of W. at the time of the death of L. which were not adminiſtred. Tr. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 185. Woodward and Sir John Chichester's Caſe. See Plo. Com. 184. That an Executor did retain goods in ſatisfaction of a debt due to him, and the Reteyner was holden good. See 4 Eliz. Dyer. 210. Debt againſt two Executors, one appeared and confeſſed the Action, the other made default, and Judgment was given to recover de bonis Teſtatoris, in both their hands, whereupon a Scire facias iſſued. The Sheriff returned Nihil; but he who made default had waſted the goods, upon which a Scire feci iſſued againſt him who had waſted the goods, and upon Scire feci returned, execution was Awarded, of his own proper goods only, without his Companion.

6 Debt was brought againſt Executors of R. who pleaded, That they had fully adminiſtred; the Plaintiff gave evidence that they had goods in their hands, the Defendant ſhewed, that the goods were pledged by their Teſtator, and that they had redeemed them with their own money to the full value, and that for the reſt of the goods, that they had paid to the Teſtator as much for them as they were worth: It was holden, That the ſame did well maintain their Iſſue of Fully adminiſtred; for that an Executor ſhall be recompenced that which he hath paid by way of Reteiner. 6 H. 8. Dyer. 2. 20 H. 7. Kelloway 58. But ſee Cook 5. part 30. Coulters Caſe. An Executor of his own wrong cannot retain goods; but they ſhall be Aſſetts in his hands.

7 Two men were poſſeſſed of goods as Executors, the one of them took the goods into his hands and did lay out and diſpoſe of divers ſums of mony, in piis uſibus et operibus charitatis, as for payment of the Taxes of a poor Town, and for reparation of the Church in Eleemoſynas proſolute animæ Teſtatoris: which ſums did amount to more then the goods of the Teſtator were worth; and he did retain the Teſtators goods as his own proper goods, and did convert them to his own uſe, and made his Will, and Executors, and died poſſeſſed of the ſaid goods. The ſurviving Executor brought Detinue of the ſaid goods againſt the Executor, ad valentiam of a 100 l. upon which the Defendant pleaded the matter Supra; It was adjudged, that the Reteyner was lawfull; and that thoſe goods now in the hands of the Executors, were not Aſſetts, or goods of the firſt Teſtator in the Executors hands. M. 2, Eliz. Dyer. 187.

8 Debt againſt Executors upon a Bond of 200 l. The Defendant pleaded that he had nothing in his hands, The Jury found that he had Aſſetts to the value of 172 l. It was reſolved that the Plaintiff ſhould recover the whole Debt of 200 l. and coſts and damages of the goods of the Teſtator, if, &c. and if not of his own goods; for, upon the Plea in Bar, the Plaintiff may pray his Judgment preſently. So if debt be brought againſt an Heir, upon Nothing by diſcent pleaded: the Plaintiff ſhall have Judgment preſently, and a Scire facies upon it, when Aſſetts deſcends. M. 4. Jac. in B. R. Mary Shipleys Caſe. Co. 8. part. 134.

9 Debt againſt an Adminiſtrator, the Defendant pleaded, That J. S. recovered againſt him in the Court of Cheſter, a debt of 100 l. and other Judgments in other Courts, all which amount to 500 l. and that he had not goods of the Inteſtate, præterquam bona et catalla quæ non attingunt, ad valentiam predict. 500 l. verſus ipſum inform. predict. recuperat. The Plaintiff replyed, That J. S. accepted of 60 l. in ſatisfaction of the ſaid Judgment, and would have acknowledged ſatisfaction upon Record in the ſaid Court, but the Defendant by fraud would not ſuffer the ſame, to the intent to deceive the Plaintiff of his juſt Debt. It was reſolved in this Caſe, That when an Adminiſtrator compounds with one who hat'ra Judgment of 100 l. for 60 l. who offereth to acknowledg ſatisfaction, and the other defers it to the intent to ſuffer it to ſtand in force to deceive a Creditor, yet the ſame ſhall not hurt the Creditor, but he ſhall recover; and the mony remaining in the Adminiſtrators hands, ſhall be Aſſetts, notwithſtanding ſuch compoſition. P. 8. Jac. in C. B. Turners Caſe. C. 8. part. 132.

10. Notwithſtanding, it was holden by the whole Court, in C. B. That if I deviſe Lands to my Executors for three years for the payment of my debts, and I make Executors, and dye, that this is Aſſetts in the Executors hands. But if I deviſe my Land to be ſold for the payment of my debts, this is no Aſſetts before the Lands be ſold. P. 9. Jac. in C. B. Browlow. 1 part. 34. and See Hill. 10. Jac. in C. B. Browlow. 2. part. 47. acc.

11 A Scire facias was brought againſt W. Adminiſtrator of W. to revive a Judgment againſt the Inteſtate, Inteſtate. The Defendant pleaded, Fully adminiſtred; The Jury found; That the Inteſtate conveyed a Leaſe to one F. in truſt; and F. promiſed upon the payment of 300 l. to reaſſure the Intereſt to him; Afterwards the Adminiſtrator of W. by vertue of an Order out of the Chancery, received for the Intereſt of the ſaid Leaſe of F. (more then the 300 l.) the ſum of 1060 l. and the Queſtion was whether this ſhould be Aſſetts in the Adminiſtrators hands, and it was holden by the Court to be Aſſetts; And it was holden, that if an Executor doth make gain of the Teſtators money, the ſame ſhall be Aſſetts in his hands. Hill. 11. Jac. in Co. B. 10ut. 1963. Harcock and Wrenhams Caſe. Brownlow. 1. part. 76, 77.

12 In Debt againſt Executors upon Fully adminiſtred, pleaded. It was found by Verdict, That A. made the Defendants his Executors, who being within age, Adminiſtration was committed to another untill they came of full age, and that after they came of full age, the Jury found, That in the hands of the Adminiſtrator, fuerunt bona et catalla Teſtatoris, to the value of 4000 l. To which Adminiſtrator, the Defendants, the Executors, at their full age, did releaſe all demands: And the queſtion was, whether that Releaſe were Aſſetts in the hands of the Executors; It was objected that the releaſe of a thing incertain, and in Action cannot be ſaid to be Aſſetts; But the opinion of the whole Court was, That this releaſe is Aſſetts, for by the Releaſe, they have given away that which might have been Aſſetts: And it is not requiſite that every Aſſetts be a thing in poſſeſſion, or in the hands of the Teſtator, for a thing may be Aſſetts which was never in the Teſtators hands, if thoſe things come in lieu of the things which were in the Teſtators hands, as money for Land or other goods ſold. And it was ſaid by the Court, That things in Action, or poſſeſſion, certain, or uncertain; if they be releaſed, they are Aſſetts. And the incertainty muſt be ſuch that the ſame cannot be proved to the Court, or Jury, that the thing releaſed might not by poſſibility be Aſſetts: For if Treſpaſſe be done to the Teſtator in his life time, for taking his goods, and he dyeth, and his Executors releaſe all Actions, the ſame is Aſſetts, becauſe it might be proved to the Jury. That had they not releaſed, but had brought their Action of Treſpaſſe de bonis aſportatis in vita teſtatoris; that they might have recovered damages, which would have ſatisfied debts or Legacies, and therefore ſhall be Aſſetts, In the principall Caſe, It was adjudged that the Releaſe of the Executors was Aſſetts. 13 In a Prohibition, the Caſe was, A. deviſed that J. S. the Teſtator, and three others, ſhould ſell certain Lands, and ſhould diſpoſe the Money to the Defendant and three others equally; The Land was ſold; the Defendant ſued the Executor of J. S. in the Spirituall Court for the fourth part of the money. It was holden in this Caſe by the Court, That neither the Land nor money was Teſtamentary, for it was not Aſſetts to debts, but a ſum ariſing of Land, and appointed to ſpeciall uſes in way of equity, and not as a Legacy, and therefore not to be ſued for in the Spiritual Court, but in Court of equity. Trin. 17 Jac. in B. R. 10ut. 891, Edwards and Graves's Caſe. Hob. 265. See M. 29. and 30. El z. in C. B. Germys Caſe. Leon. 87. acc.

14 Debt againſt J. S. as Executor of A. the Defendant pleaded, That he was not Executor; The Caſe was. That the ſaid A. gave 40 l. to his daughter within age, with power of Revocation upon the payment of 20 s. and it was found that this was done to defraud Creditors, and that then he died poſſeſſed of goods, and the Defendant ſold the goods, and afterwards took out Letters of Adminiſtration: In this Caſe, two poynts were reſolved. 1. That the Statute of 27 Eliz. made the Teſtators gift void, and the gift being taken away, the property was alſo taken away from the Donee, and ſetled to the Donor, as to any Creditor, and when he dyed, the ſame was Aſſetts in the hands of the Adminiſtrator; and an Adminiſtrator may take the goods which are given by the inteſtate to defraud Creditors, for that the gift is void, and therefore they ſhall be accounted Aſſets. 2. It was reſolved, That the Action was well brought, for when a man doth adminiſter as Executor, and then takes Letters of Adminiſtration; It is at the election of the party to ſue him as Executor or Adminiſtrator. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Mich. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Bethel and Sir Edward Stanhops Caſe. Owen 132.

15 An Action of Covenant was brought againſt an Executrix of the Aſſignee of Leſſee for years, for not payment of Rent, upon the words yielding, and paying: It was holden in this Caſe; That the words [yielding and paying] did imply an expreſſe Covenant, and it is not onely a Covenant in Law. And it was holden, That by her entry ſhe ſhall be accounted a true Executrix: and if one enter as Executrix upon a Term; he ſhall have the Term, if the other will admit him to be a Tenant, and he ſhall not be accounted a Diſſeiſſor to the Leſſor, and to ſtrangers he ſhall be accounted an Executor in Law, if they bring Actions againſt him, and the Term ſhall be Aſſetts in his hands: And in the principall Caſe, It was holden. That the Executrix was chargeable with the Rent; becauſe the the Term is not in this caſe determined, but the Term doth continue: And it was holden in this Caſe. That if one receive my Rents without my Conſent, I may charge him as my Receivor, or make him a Diſſe ſor at my election. H.ll. 1654. in B. R. rott. 723. Porter and Sweetmans Caſe. Styles. 406, 407.

16 The Caſe was. The Obligor made his Executors and dyed: The Executors became bounden to the Obligee for the payment of the ſaid Debt, and the Obligee thereupon delivered back the Obligation of the Teſtator to them: afterwards a Creditor of the Teſtator ſhewed the Executors; who pleaded, that they had fully adminiſtred; upon which they were at iſſue; and the ſpeciall matter aforeſaid was found. It was objected, that in this Caſe, The Executors had not made any payment or ſatisfaction of the debt, but only had made a Bond to pay a ſum at a day to come, before which day, it might happen that the Obligation might be cancelled, or releaſed; and if ſuch plea, ſhould be good; then the Executors in ſuch caſe may make an Obligation to pay the Debt 40 years after, and ſo defraud other Creditors, which were unreaſonable. But all the Juſtices were clear of opinion, That, if in ſuch caſe, The Executors make a ſufficient Obligation to the Creditors of the Teſtator, and ſufficiently diſcharge the Teſtator, without fraud or Covin, that they may retain the goods for ſo much, and the goods reteyned ſhall not be Aſſetts in their hands; and although they have appointed alteriorem diem for the payment of the money, yet that is not materiall. And it was ſaid by Anderſon Chief Juſtice. That if he to whom the Teſtator was endebted in 20 l. be endebted to the Executors in ſo much; and the Executors in ſatisfaction of the debt of the Teſtator releaſeth his debt, the property ſhall be altered preſently of the whole goods in the hands of the Executor; ſo where the debtor makes the Creditor his Executor. Judgment was given for the Executors. Paſc. 30. Eliz. in C. B. Stampe and Hutchins Caſe. Leon. 111. 112.

17 Debt againſt an Executor, for Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe for years made to the Teſtator; the Defendant pleaded, Fully Adminiſtred; and upon the Evidence it appeared, That A. made the Defendant his Executor, who medled with the poſſeſſion of divers goods of the Teſtator, and ſo adminiſtred, and afterwards refuſed in Court. Adminiſtration was afterwards committed to B. and the Inventory of the Teſtators goods came to 1000 l. It was given in evidence for the Defendant, That he himſelf had payed certain debts; and that divers perſons had recovered againſt the Adminiſtrator, divers ſums of money amounting to 1000 l. et alia, &c. It was moved, If that Evidence did maintain the Iſſue for the Defendant, becauſe he had pleaded Plenè adminiſtravit; It was ſaid by Periam Juſtice, That if an Adminiſtrator (who is in truth but a ſtranger) pay any debts with the goods of the Teſtator without commandment of the Executor, the ſame is not an Adminiſtration, and the Executor cannot give ſuch matter in evidence to prove his plea of, Fully Adminiſtrated. And here in this caſe, the defendant is the very Executor, and he hath adminiſtred, in which caſe he cannot afterwards refuſe; and ſo the Adminiſtration is not well committed, and the Adminiſtrator was a ſtranger; and what he did, was without warrant, and therefore it is no Adminiſtration to prove the Iſſue: But it was agreed by him, That in this caſe an Action might be brought either againſt the Executor of his own wrongs, or againſt the adminiſtrator, but not againſt them both Joyntly; And it was holden by him, That if the Teſtator Mortgages a Leaſe for years, and dyes, the Executors may redeem it with their own money: and the Leaſe ſhall be Aſſetts in their hands, for ſo much as the ſame is worth above the ſum which they paid for the redemption of it. Trin. 32. Eliz. in C. B. Hopkins and Lewſes Caſe. Lion. 155.

18 Debt was brought by an Adminiſtratrix againſt an Executrix for the Arrerages of an Annuity, The Defendant pleaded, Fully adminiſtred; The Plaintiff replyed Aſſetts in her hands not Adminiſtred; upon which Iſſue being joyned, a ſpecial Verdict was found, That Sir Thomas Greſham Knight, was ſeized of divers Mannors and other Lands in Fee, and deviſed them by his Will to his Wife the Defendant to uſe at her own pleaſure. And by his ſaid will requeſteth his Wife to pay his debts and Legacies. And it was found, That at the Parliament holden 22 Eliz. A private Act was made, by which it was enacted; That the Lady Greſham the Defendant ſhould take upon her the charge of all her husbands debts, and for the diſcharge thereof, ſhe ſhall ſell ſo much Land as will yield ſo much mony as will ſerve for the payment of the ſaid debts, and if ſhe ſhall fail therein, That then certain Commiſſioners ſhall be appointed for the ſale of ſo much Land, &c. and for all ſuch debts as the ſaid Lady ſhould not acknowledg to be good and true debts, that then the Creditors to whom they were due, ſhould repair to the Commiſſioners, and they ſhould determine both of the certainty of the due debts, and of the damages for the forbearance thereof; and that afterwards the ſaid Creditors ſhould have their remedy againſt the Lady for ſuch ſums ſo agreed upon by the ſaid Commiſſioners; and it was found, that the Lady Greſham had ſold certain parcells of Lands of the poſſeſſions of her Husband, by which ſale ſhe had received 10000 l. which is yet adminiſtred for the greateſt part; and if the ſaid 20000 l. be Aſſetts then they find for the Plaintiff; if not, for the Defendant. It was ſaid on the Defendants part. That it cannot be Aſſetts by the Statute: and the Plaintiff upon this general Iſſue, ſhall not take advantage of the ſpeciall Aſſetts, enacted by Parliament; and the Plaintiff hath not here followed the direction of the ſaid Statute; for they are not agreed of the debt, nor of the damages; and the money ariſing by the ſale of the Lands, ſhall not be Aſſetts, but of ſuch lands as have been appointed by the order of the Commiſſioners to be ſold; and in this Caſe, the Lands are not deviſed to be ſold, but there is onely a requeſt to his Wife, that ſhe would pay his Debts, without any Condition, or expreſſe direction or limitation. Anderſon and Walmeſley, conceived, That the ſame is Aſſetts within the Iſſue, and that the Defendant is chargeable as Executrix, otherwiſe there is no remedy. And the Act confirms her to be Executrix, and ordains, that ſhe ſhall take upon her the charge of payment of the debts: and that the goods and monies which come by the ſale of the Lands, ſhall be Aſſetts. Periam doubted it, and Windham Juſtice held, That the Aſſetts found by the Verdict, are not Aſſetts intended by the Will; and that the Plaintiff hath not purſued the Statute which makes ſuch matter Aſſetts. Quære. It was not adjudged. M. 31, and 32. Eliz. in C. B. Alexand v and the Lady Gr ſhams Caſe. Leon. 224, 225, 226.

19 In Debt brought againſt the Heir, the Defendant pleaded Riens per diſcent; The Jury found that the Anceſtor, whoſe Heir he is, and for whoſe debt he is ſued, was ſeized of Lands in Fee, and by his Will deviſed them to the Defendant being his ſon and heir, and to his Heirs upon Condition, That he ſhould pay his Debts within a year, and if he failed, That his Executors ſhould have all and pay his debts. And that he entred and did not pay the debts, and that the Executors entred, and payed the debts, and ſold the Lands, &c. It was adjudged in C. B. That it was Aſſetts in the Heirs hands: upon Error brought in B. R. the ſame was Aſſigned for Error. And the Court held the Judgment to be erronious: For although he hath a Fee, yet he hath it as a purchaſor, being tied with ſuch a condition. The Judgment was reve ſed. Mich. 5. Car. in 2. R. Gilpins Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 115.

20 Note, A Caſe was cited by Henden Serjeant, to have been adjudged 4 Jac. which was this. A Copyholder made a Leaſe for years by Licence, and the L ſſee dyed, That this Leaſe ſhould not be accounted Aſſetts in the hands of the Executors, nor ſhould it be extended: But that Caſe was denyed by the Court; He alſo ſaid, That if a Co yholder makes a Leaſe for years by Licence of the Lord, and dyes without Heir, the years expiring, the Lord might enter, for that the eſtate, out of which the Leaſe is derived, is determined; Yelverton Juſtice, held, That the Licence ſhould be taken as a confirmation of the Lord, and that the Leaſe ſhould be good againſt him; But it was there agreed by all; That if a Copyholder maketh a Leaſe for a year, this is a Leaſe by the Common Law, and not Cuſtomary, and ſhall be Aſſetts in the hands of the Executors of the Leſſee. Mich. 2 Car. in B. R. Popham, 188.

2. Where the Lands of the heir, and what Lands, and how the ſame ſhall be charged for the Debt of the Father, or Anceſtor; and what not, in regard of Aſſetts diſcended.

1. IN Debt brought againſt the Heir upon an Obligation of his Father; The Defendant was condemned by Nihil dicit. And the Opinion of the Court was, That the Plaintiff ſhould have no Execution, but by a ſpecial Elegit of the Lands which diſcended to him from his Father in Fee-ſimple; of which Lands he was ſeiſed at the time of the Writ brought againſt him. Hill. 6 E. 6. Dyer. 81.

2. Debt was brought againſt the Heir upon an Obligation of his Father; who appeared, and pleaded, That he had not any Lands by diſcent from his Father in Fee-ſimple, but the Rectory of S. and 16 Acres of Lands; and demanded Judgment, if he ſhould be further charged then with thoſe Lands onely: and Judgment was given according. But it was there holden, That if the Heir doth not confeſſe the Action, and ſhew the certainty of the Aſſetts diſcended to him; but pleads, That he hath nothing by diſcent, or is condemned by Nihil dicit, or by Confeſſion, or by Demurrer, or by any other occaſion, without confeſſing of the Aſſetts in certain; the Plaintiff ſhall have Judgment and Execution of his other Lands, or a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum to take his body, as he ſhould have againſt him for the debt of the Heir himſelf. Paſch. 15 Eliz. Plow. Davies and Pipps Caſe, 449. See Hill. 41 Eliz. in B. R. rott. 447. Barker and Browns Caſe, If the Recovery be by Nihil dicit, his own Lands ſhall be charged with the Execution.

3. In Debt brought againſt the Heir upon an Obligation of his Father, hanging the Writ, he aliened aſſened the Aſſetts, and pleaded, Nothing by diſcent, the day of the Writ brought; a general Judgment was given againſt him; and an Elegit ſued forth of the moyety of all the Lands of the Heir, as if it had been his proper debt. Trin. 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer 149. See Peppis Caſe, Sect. before. Plowden. 440.

4. In Debt brought againſt the Heir upon an Obligation of his Father; he pleaded, That he had nothing by diſcent in Fee-ſimple: It was found by Special Verdict, That the Father deviſed all his Knight ſervice Lands to his Wife, untill the Defendant his Heir was of the age of 24 years, and that then the whole Land ſhould be to him and his heirs, and his Wife to have the third part during her life; and if he dyed before he attained to the age of 24 years, that then it ſhould remain to the wife for life; and after her deceaſe, to the Heirs of the Deviſor: the Wife dyed after the Heir attained to the age of 24 years. It was holden by all the Court, That in this caſe there was no Eſtate taile; but that the whole Land did diſcend to the Heir in Fee-ſimple; and that the ſame were Aſſetts diſcended, and he liable to the payment of the debt upon the Obligation of his Father; Mich. 3 Ma. Dyer. 124.

5. In Debt brought againſt the Heir of Muſgrave, upon an Obligation of his Father; The Defendant pleaded, Nothing by diſcent in Fee-ſimple from his Father: and by Special Verdict it was found, That the Grandfather of the Defendant was ſeiſed of divers Lands in Fee, and before the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, made a Feoffment thereof, to the uſe of the heirs of his body lawfully begotten: and that he dyed before the Statute; and that the Lands diſcended to the Defendants, who bound him and his Heirs in the ſaid Bond: The Jury pray the Opinion of the Court, if it were an Eſtate taile, or a Fee-ſimple: and if it were a Fee, then they find for the Plaintiff, and that the Land is Aſſetts, and ſhould bind the ſon as heir to his Father: The Court delivered no Opinion, 1 & 2 Ma. Dyer. 111. But ſee Cook. 6. Part. 42. in Sir Anthony Mildmay's Caſe: The Caſe of Tirling and Trafford, Mich. 12 Eliz. in B. R. where it was adjudged, That the Reverſion or Remainder expectant upon an Eſtate in taile, is no Aſſetts to the Heir in debt upon an Obligation made by his Father.

6. In Debt brought upon an Obligation of the Father, againſt the daughters and heirs of Henningham. The Plaintiff recovered upon Nihil dicit; and Judgment general was given; and upon a Scire facias brought to have Execution of the Judgment: The Defendants pleaded, No moyety diſcent in Fee-ſimple the day of the Writ brought, or after. The Opinion of the Court was, That after a Recovery by Nihil dicit, or Non ſum informatus, or Confeſſion, the Heirs come too late to plead, Nothing by diſcent; but they ought to have pleaded that firſt; and to ſhew the certainty of the ſame. And the Opinion of Dyer in that caſe was, That if the profits received after the death of the Anceſtor, till the Writ brought, are ſufficient to ſatisfie the debt, the Plaintiff ſhall have a general Judgment againſt the Heirs of their own Lands. 18 Eliz. Dyer. 344. Henaingham's Caſe. See Sect. 2.

7. The Caſe was this; A. Recovered againſt B. in an Action of Debt; A. made his Wife his Executor, and dyed; the Wife made C. her Executor, and dyed: B. dyed; C. brought a Scire facias againſt the Heir of B. as Heir apparant to the Land to him diſcended from B; who pleaded, Nothing by diſcent from B: and it was found, that he had two Acres and an half of Land by diſcent. It was prayed, That Judgment might be given againſt the Heir of B. generally; for that his falſe Plea ſhall charge him and his own Lands: and to that purpoſe, Peppes Caſe, Plow. Com. 440. and Henninghams Caſe, Dyer, were vouched. But it was the Opinion of all the Juſtices, That Execution ſhould be awarded againſt the Heir, in other manner than it ſhould be againſt his Anceſtor or other purchaſor: ſcil. of a moyety of that which he had by diſcent; for aſmuch as in this caſe he cannot be charged as Heir, but he ought to be charged as Terr-Tenant, and as a purchaſor; and a purchaſor ſhall never hurt himſelf by his falſe plea: and in this caſe, the Opinions in Peppes Caſe, and in Henninghams Caſe, Com. 440, and 18 Eliz. Dyer, in Henninghams Caſe; That upon a Nihil dicit, or Non ſum informatus, that a general Judgment ſhall be given; were denyed to be Law. And in this caſe it was holden, That the Heir ſhall be charged upon a Recognizance; not as heir, but as Terr-Tenant; for he is not bound in the Recogniſance, but only the Coviſor grants, That the Debt ſhall be levied of all his Lands and Tenements, but not againſt his Heirs. And it was Reſolved, That in the principal caſe the Judgment ſhould be ſpeciall; and no Execution ſhould be but upon the Aſſetts diſcended: and Judgment was given, That the Plaintiff ſhould have Execution of the moyety of the Lands diſcended to the Defendant onely. So Note the difference of Debt againſt the Heir, and Scire facias againſt the Heir. And in this caſe it was alſo holden, If Aſſetts do diſcend to the Heir; yet if the Heir doth alien the Aſſetts before the Writ be brought, that the Heir and his Lands ſhall not be charged with the debt. Hill. 1 Car. in B. R. Bowyer and Rivetts Caſe. Popham 153, 154.

8. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee hath Iſſue two ſons, and binds him and his Heirs in an Obligation, and dyeth ſeiſed of the Lands, and the eldeſt ſon entreth, and dyeth without Iſſue; and the youngeſt ſon entreth: It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That he ſhould be charged by this Aſſetts as Son and Heir to his Father, although that there was a mean diſcent to the elder ſon; and ſo the Law is, If there be Grandfather, Father, and Son: and ſo it is of a Grandfather and two Daughters, which have two ſons, and do not make partition; for that they ſhall joyn in one Aſſiſe, notwithſtanding the ſeveral diſcents, for that they are but one Heir to the Grandfather. Paſch. 22 Eliz. Dyer 368.

9. In a Writ of Dower brought, the Tenant vouched the heirs, who entred as he who had nothing by diſcent in Fee, to render Dower; The Tenant averred, That he had Aſſetts by diſcent: It was the Opinion of the Court, That he ought to ſay, Aſſetts in Fee; for if he hath but in taile, the ſame ſhall not ſave the Lands of the Tenant from rendring of Dower: And in that caſe the Opinion of the Court was, That the Wife ſhould have Judgment preſently againſt the Heir, if he had Aſſetts; and if not, then againſt the Tenant: and that before Iſſue tryed of the Aſſetts. Trin. 3 Eliz. Dyer 201.

10. In Debt brought upon an Obligation; They were at Iſſue upon Conditions performed: The Defendant certainly knowing that the Iſſue would be found againſt him, between the Iſſue joyned, and the Tryall, by fraud to avoid the Execution of the Judgment to be given, by Deed made a Feoffment to divers perſons to the uſe of his eldeſt Son in taile, with divers remainders over, the remainder to the right heirs of the Feoffor, with a Proviſo in the Deed, That if at any time he paid, or tendered to be paid 10 s. to any of the Feoffors, that the uſes ſhould be void, and they ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of the Feoffor and his heirs; and he continually after received the profits of the Lands: And this being found by Inquiſition, and returned upon an Elegit, It was doubted if the moyety of thoſe Lands were liable to the Execution? The Court ſeemed to be of Opinion, upon view of many Caſes, and of the Statutes concerning fraudulent Deeds and Conveyances, That the Lands were lyable to the Execution; and the Caſe of 34 E. 1. was vouched Fitz. Garr. 88. where in a Formedon in the Diſcender, the Warranty of the Anceſtor with Aſſetts diſcended was pleaded in barre; and the Defendant ſaid, Nothing by diſcent: and the Jury found, That 9. dayes before the death of the Anceſtor, to hinder the Heir of the Aſſetts, enfeoffed him of the ſame Land by fraud, &c. It was holden, That in that caſe, he ſhould not have advantage of that fraud. Mich. 12 & 13 Eliz. Dyer. 295. See Cook 3. Part. 82. Twines Caſe. 3. What Lands of the Heir ſhall be charged upon Aſſetts diſcended; and where the Lands of his own purchaſe ſhall be put in Execution for want of Aſſetts; where not. And in what Caſe the heir ſhall have Contribution; and what not: And where the heirs ſhall be equally charged; et è contra.

Matthew Herbert acknowledged a Recognizance to the King of 3000 l. and after his death, a Scire facias iſſued forth againſt his Executors Teſtamenti et ultimæ voluntatis prædict. Mathæi; et hæred. terrarum et tenementorum quæ ſua fuerint: The Sheriff returned, That he had no Executors; but Scire feci Willielmus Herbert, filio et hæred. dict. Mathæi. Will. made, upon which, Judgment was given for the King, quod recuperet uſus prædict. Willielm. dict. 3000 l. Whereupon Errour was brought, and three Errours aſſigned; 1. Becauſe the Scire facias was, Scire facias hæred. terrarum, &c. which was improper; for that one is ſaid to be heir to his Anceſtor, and not the Land. 2. Becauſe the return of the Sheriff is not good; it not being according to his Warrant, for that is to ſummon the Heir of the Lands and Tenements of Mathew; and he returns, He hath ſummoned the Heir of Matthew. 3. Becauſe the Judgment is erronious; for the Judgment is general; whereas it ought to be ſpecial: Theſe were not Reſolved. But in this caſe it was Reſolved; 1. That in Debt againſt the Heir upon an Obligation made by his Anceſtor, the Plaintiff ſhould have all the Lands which diſcended to the Heir in Execution; and yet he ſhould not have Execution of any of the Land againſt the Father himſelf: and the reaſon thereof was, becauſe the Common-Law gave an Action of debt againſt the Heir; and then if he ſhould not have Execution of the Land againſt the Heir, he ſhould not have any fruit of his Action; for the Goods and Chattels of the debtor do belong to the Executors or Adminiſtrators; and ſo for neceſſity in ſuch caſe onely, Land was liable to the Execution of the debt of a Common perſon. But it was Reſolved, That at the Common-Law, the Body, Lands, and Goods of of the Kings debtor, were liable to the Kings Execution. 2. Reſolved, That in caſe of a Common perſon at the Common-Law, he againſt whom the Judgment is given, ſhall be onely charged; and he ſhall not have Execution againſt the Terr-Tenant; and if Execution be ſued againſt the Heir, he ſhall not have Contribution againſt a Purchaſor, although that the Purchaſor comes to the Land without valuable Conſideration: and therefore, If a man ſeiſed of three Acres, acknowledgeth a Recognizance, or a Statute, and makes a Feoffment of two Acres, and the third acre diſcends to the Heir, the Heir ſhall onely be charged, and he ſhall not have Contribution againſt the Purchaſors; as it was adjudged in Gawdies Caſe. 3. It was Reſolved, That in ſome caſes, the Heir ſhall have Contribution, and ſhall not be onely charged with the Aſſetts diſcended, as in the Caſes of Borough Engliſh, or where the Lands diſcend to Coparceners, the one ſhall have Contribution againſt the other, and the one ſhall not be onely charged. 4. It was Reſolved, That in the principal caſe, that although the Heir was charged as Terr-Tenant; yet for the cauſes aforeſaid in the Kings Caſe, the Execution againſt the heir onely, and the Judgment given againſt the Heir onely, was good. 4. Where Aſſetts diſcended may be found in any County by the Jurours.

DEbt was brought againſt Executors; The Defendants pleaded fully adminiſtred: The Plaintiff replyed, That they had Aſſetts at Exeter: and the Jury found Aſſetts in Ireland; and that the Defendants adminiſtred them: In that caſe, the Plaintiff recovered, and had Judgment: It was moved, That the Jurours could not find tranſitory things in a Forraign County: But it was Reſolved, That the finding was good; and the difference was taken, when the place is parcel of the Iſſue, and when not: For when the place is material, as when it is parcel of the Iſſue, there the Jurours cannot find the point in Iſſue in any other place, becauſe the point in Iſſue is reſtrained to a certain place by ſpeciall pleading: but when the place is named onely for Conformity, there it is otherwiſe: And therefore in the principal, the ſame place being named for conformity, and not of neceſſity of a Trial; the Aſſetts found by the Jurours in Ireland, were well found. Cook. 6. Part. 47. Dowdales Caſe. See Cro. 2. 5. Where in an Action brought againſt Executors, Aſſetts need not to be alledged.

AN Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt an Adminiſtrator; and the Plaintiff declared, That whereas the Inteſtate was indebted to him in 10 l. and the Defendant was alſo indebted to him in 40 s. the Defendant did promiſe to pay: Upon Non Aſſumpſit, it was found for the Plaintiff: In ſtay of Judgment, it was moved, That the Plaintiff had not ſhewed any Conſideration to charge the Defendant, becauſe it doth not appear, that the Defendant had Aſſetts. But the Court diſallawed the Exception; for if it were neceſſary, it ought to be preſumed to be found in the Verdict: and it is not of neceſſity to alledge Aſſetts: But if the Caſe be, That if an Executor or Adminiſtrator, who hath not Aſſetts, makes any promiſe of payment, if it be not mixed with any profit to himſelf, ſcil. forbearance, &c. there it ſhall not charge him. Aſſiſe.

1. Where the Writ lyeth; and by whom, and againſt whom it lyeth: and in what County the ſame is to be brought.

1. IF Tenant for life, or in taile, or Tenant in Fee-ſimple be diſſeiſed of his Lands or Tenements, or be put out thereof againſt his Will; In ſuch caſe he ſhall and may have an Aſſiſe of ſuch Ouſter. See Fitzh. Na. Br. acc. and therefore, If the Tenant of the Land payeth his Rent to a ſtranger who ought not to receive, that payment is a Diſſeiſin to him who ought to have the Rent; and on Aſſiſe for that will lye againſt the Tenant: But a man ſhall not be a Diſſeiſor by the act of another, as of his Tenant at will:

will: For although the Tenant at will do reſcous for the Rent, which Reſcous is a diſſeiſin of the Rent; in ſuch caſe, the Tenant at will ſhall be the Diſſeiſor, and not the Tenant of the Freehold. Ibid.

2. A Diſſeiſor made a Leaſe for years; the Leſſee entred; afterwards his Leſſor departed the Realm; and before his departure, he gave Commandment unto, and requeſted his Leſſee, That if the Diſſeiſee did make any entry upon him, (which he miſtruſted he would do) that he ſhould not ſuffer him to continue there, but to keep the poſſeſſion againſt him alwayes as his Termor; the Diſſeiſee entred upon the Leſſee; and the Leſſee re-entred, and payed his Rent to the uſe of his Leſſor, his Leſſor being beyond Sea. The Queſtion was in this caſe, If the Leſſor were ſuch a Diſſeiſor in this caſe, againſt whom an Aſſiſe might lye? or if he were ſuch a Tenant of the Freehold, againſt whom an Aſſiſe might be brought, without his expreſſe agreement to the diſſeiſin? Saundes, Juſtice, was of Opinion, That without expreſs agreement after the diſſeiſin, that the Freehold was not veſted in him ſo as an Aſſiſe might lye againſt him: But others held the contrary. It was not Reſolved. See 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer. 141. Sir John Cutts and Weſts Caſe.

3. Note; It is ſaid in the Serjeants Caſe, 7 E. 6. Dyer. 84. That Tenant by Elegit or by Statute, who have but a Term and a Chattel, ſhall have an Aſſiſe (if they be put out of their poſſeſſion) ut de Libero Tenemento, and not de termino, &c. and ſee Cook 5. Part. 105. It is ſaid, That Tenant by Elegit brought an Aſſiſe; and 22 Aſſ. 45. It was holden, That Ancient Demeſne was a good barre; but the Law is now holden, That it is no good barre; for that no Judgment is given to recover the poſſeſſion of the Land, but only execution done upon the Judgment. See Cook 5. Part. 105. Aldens Caſe. And ſee Cook. 11. Part. 64. in Doctor Foſters Caſe, That the Statute of 13 E. 3. de Mercatoribus, giveth an Aſſiſe to Tenant by Statute-Merchant; but yet that ſhall not take away the Aſſiſe which the Tenant of the Freehold hath before; but that they may both ſtand together. See Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2541. Cox and Barnſleys Caſe, Hob. 47. adjudged acc.

4. If a man hath a Rent-ſervice, or a Rent-Charge, or a Rent-Seck, iſſuing out of Land either for life, in taile, or in Fee, if he be diſſeiſed of the Rent, he may have an Aſſiſe, and the Writ ſhall be general, de Libero Tenemento in N; but then, if the diſſeiſin be of a Rent-charge, or of a Rent-ſeck, all the Tenants of the Lands and Tenements muſt be named in the Writ; but it is not ſo of a Rent-Service; And ſo if a Formedon be brought of a Rent-charge, all the Tenants of the Lands muſt be named in the Writ; but not ſo of a Rent-ſervice. And ſoe, where a Formedon was brought of a Rent-charge iſſuing out of two Acres of Lands: and the Tenant pleaded Joynt-Tenancy in one Acre with a ſtranger: And it was holden by the Juſtices, That that plea ſhould abate the whole Writ. Hill. 28 H. 8. Dyer 31. See Mich. 17 E. 3. Fitz. Writ. 353. acc.

5. The Caſe was this; Grandfather, Father, and two Daughters; A Fine was levied by the Grandfather, with a Render to himſelf for life, the remainder to the Father & the heirs males of his body; the remainder to the eldeſt daughter in tail; the Remainder to the youngeſt daughter in taile, with divers remainders over; The Grandfather and the Father both dyed without Iſſue male: The eldeſt daughter entred; the youngeſt daughter in her own name, and in the name of her ſiſter as heirs to the Grandfather, brought a Writ of Errour againſt the heir of the Conuſee, to reverſe the Fine, who had nothing in the Land; but no Scire facias was awarded againſt the Terr-Tenant the eldeſt ſiſter: And Errours were aſſigned. It was the Opinion of the Juſtices of both Benches in this caſe, That a Scire facias ought to have been ſued forth againſt the Terr-Tenants, before the Juſtices proceeded to Examination of the Errours: For otherwiſe, if he ſhould have Judgment to be reſtored to the Land, he could not have Execution; for that if the Tenant were ouſted without being warned by a Scire facias, he might have an Aſſiſe; and therefore a Scire facias was awarded againſt the elder Siſter as Terr-Tenant; who appeared, but ſaid nothing to the Errours aſſigned. Afterwards the Heir of the Conuſee pleaded in nullo eſt erratum: and afterwards the Fine was affirmed. Hill. 15 Eliz. Dyer 321.

6. If two Tenants in Common be diſſeiſed of their Lands, each of them ſhall have a ſeverall Aſſiſe for his moyety, becauſe they claim and are ſeiſed by ſeveral titles: But if 20 Joynt-Tenants be diſſeiſed, they ſhall have but one Aſſiſe in all their names, becauſe they have but one joynt Title: And ſo it is, If there be three Joynt-Tenants, and one of them releaſeth to one of his Companions all his right; and after, the other two are diſſeiſed of the whole: The other two ſhall have one Aſſiſe in both their names for the two parts, becauſe at the time of the diſſeiſin they held thereby a Joynt Title: but as to the other third part, he to whom the Releaſe was made, ſhall have a ſeveral Aſſiſe of that in his own name, becauſe of that part he is Tenant in Common, and hath title to it by force only of the Releaſe. And if two Coparceners be, and each of them hath Iſſue a Son, and dye, and the Sons before Partition be diſſeiſed, they ſhall joyn in an Aſſiſe; for for although they claim by ſeveral titles in reſpect of diſcents from their Mothers, yet becauſe the Land diſcended intirely from their Grandfather to their Mothers, they are accounted ſtill Parceners; and ſhall have but one Aſſiſe. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitut. 196.

7. If a Termor be ejected out of his Farme, his Leſſor within the year may enter to prevent a diſcent; or he may have an Aſſiſe at his Election: Dyer ſaid, That if the Leſſee will make a Feoffment, the Leſſor being upon the Land, It is no diſſeiſin for which he can have an Aſſiſe: but he agreed, That if the Leſſor be ouſted, and he doth enter; that if after his regreſs he be put out again, that he ſhall have an Aſſiſe, and recover damages, Paſch. 19 Eliz. Dyer 354. The Lord Cromwell and Andrews Caſe.

8. Note: That an Aſſiſe muſt be brought in the County where the Land is, and the Tryall there; unleſs there be a ſpecial Patent to Juſtices for tryal of the Aſſiſe; or it be brought in the Common-Pleas: and therefore, If in Aſſiſe, the tryall be in a Forrein County, although it be by aſſent of the parties, it is erronious: and ſo it was holden, 11 Eliz. Dyer. 267. in Butler and Crouches Caſe.

2. Aſſiſe brought of the Office of Philizer: and the Count was de Libero Tenemento, Paſch. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 7. And, the Plaintiff made his title in the Plaint, and alledged Seiſin, by taking a Capias; and the Poſt, where the Officer was ſet, was put in view. 3 Ma. Dyer 114,

3. 5. An Aſſiſe lyeth of a Mill; and the Writ ſhall be general, de uno Molendino without Addition, of Griſt-Mill, Fulling-Mill, or other Mill; for the Mill is the ſubſtance, and thing to be demanded; and the addition of Griſt, or Fulling, are but to ſhew the Quality or Nature of the Mill: And if a man have a Water-Courſe to his Mill; that if he alter his Mill, in the quality of it, yet the Water-Courſe doth remain. Cook 4. Part. 87. in Lutterells Caſe.

6. An Aſſiſe was brought, and the Plaintiff made his plaint, de Offic. Magiſtr. Ludorum pilarum palmarium, Anglicè, of the Manor of the Tennis-Playes Domini Regis. It was Reſolved, That the Aſſiſe did lye, and the Grant ſhall have a reaſonable Conſtruction; ſcil. the Tennis-Playes for the houſhold of the King, and not onely for the Tennis-Playes when the King himſelf playes in his proper perſon. And whereas in that caſe Exception was taken to the Plaint, That there was not any profit belonging to the ſaid Office: yet it was Reſolved, That the Plaint was good: and there it was ſaid, and agreed, That of an Office of charge, no Aſſiſe lyeth. But it was Reſolved, That if a man be ſeiſed of an Office of which an Aſſiſe lyeth, if he be diſſeiſed of the whole Office, he ſhall have an Aſſiſe de Officio cum pertinentiis; but if he be diſſeiſed of parcel of the Office, he may have an Aſſiſe of that parcel onely. Cook. 8. 7. There were but two Writs of Aſſiſe at the Common-Law; ſcil. the Writ of Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin; and an Aſſiſe of Common of Paſture for his Cattel: and at the Common Law an Aſſiſe did lye de Libero Tenemento, of Land, Rent, and all other things of which a Precipe quod reddat did lye. But of Profits apprehend. in certo loco, the Statute of Weſt. 2. cap. 15. gave an Aſſiſe; and in ſome caſes, the ſaid Statute gave an Aſſiſe, where there was not any clear remedy at the Common-Law; and therefore the Statute gives Aſſiſe of profits Apprehender. gathered or taken in the ſoyl of another; as of Eſtovers in Woods. 2. Of Nuts and Acorns to be taken in Woods. 3. Of a Carodie, which belong to the living, as of apparrel, washing, lodging, Cloathing, &c. 4. Of Toll; which extend to Toll-thorough, Toll-traverſe, and Toll-turn; all which a man may have in his own Land, and yet if he be diſſeiſed of them, he may have an Aſsiſe: ſo of Paſſage, Pontage, Trouage, Pannage, and ſuch like things. 5. Of Offices, ſcil. keeping of Woods, Parks, Chaſes, Warrens, Gates, and other Offices and Bayliwicks in Fee, an Aſsiſe doth lye: But yet of an Office, an Aſsiſe did lye at the Common-Law; for that of all of which a Præcipe quod reddat did lye at the Common-Law, an Aſsiſe did lye; and in ſome caſes an Aſsiſe did lye, although the Diſſeiſee had but an eſtate in the Office for life. Cook 8. Part. 47. John Webbs Caſe.

8. An Aſsiſe lyeth of Common of Paſture: and therefore, If a Commoner hath a Freehold in his Common, and the Lord, or others, will ſeed and eat up all the graſſe in the Land where the Common is to be taken, the Commoner ſhall have an Aſsiſe. Cook. 9. Part. 112. in Mayrs Caſe, but then the feeding muſt not be ſome ſmall Feeding, but ſuch a Feeding per quod proficuum ſuum per totum tempus idem amiſit: and in ſuch caſe likewiſe, the Commoner may take the Cattel damage feaſant; and ſo was it holden, Hill. 5 Jac. in C. B. in Buttolph and Kippings Caſe.

9. Aſsiſe lyeth, de Cellaria; and ſo de Alneto; Bullaria, Salina, and ſuch like; and although they be incertain in the Declaration, yet becauſe they may be made certain, it ſhall be good enough. Mich. 14 Car. in B. R. Sprigg and Rawlinſon's Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 399.

10. An Aſsiſe doth lye of a Rent; The Caſe was; A Rent-Seck of 4 l. per annum was granted by J. S. to B. his ſon, iſſuing out of a houſe called the Unicorn in L. payable at the Feaſts of the Annunciation and Mich. at the houſe of the ſaid J. S. in L. to begin at Michaelmas after his deceaſe, and 6 d. was given in the name of Seiſin: And in an Aſsiſe brought of the Rent, the Jury did find the Grant of the Rent and Seiſin, and the demand at the houſe called the Unicorn, at the Feaſt of the Annunciation, and that none was there to pay it. It was adjudged, That the demand at the Unicorn was a good demand of the Rent; and that, the denying to pay it, was a diſſeiſin; and the guift of the 6 d. in name of ſeiſin, was a good Seiſin. Paſch. 14 Car. in B. R. Smith and Smiths Caſe, Cro. 1. Part. 365. See Hill. 45 Eliz. rott. in C. B. Aſsiſe of a Rent-Seck, adjudged good.

11. A man brought an Aſsiſe of a Rent againſt J. M. and Eliz. his wife; and divers others; and ſet forth, That A. was ſeiſed in Fee of 40. Meſſuages, and 1000 Acres of Lands in divers Towns, and by Will, 1 Jac. deviſed to the Plaintiff a Rent of 20 l. per Annum, going out of the ſaid Tenements for his life, and that A. died, and the Lands diſcended to Eliz. who afterwards married T. M. and that the Plaintiff was Seiſed of the ſaid Rent by the bonds of the ſaid T. M. Husband of the ſaid Eliz. and that he was ſo thereof Seiſed, untill after by the ſaid T. M. and Eliz. and 13 others, he was Diſſeiſed; upon ſeverall pleas pleaded by the Defendants, Judgment was for the Plaintiff againſt ſix of the Defendants; Whereupon Error was brought; and the Errors Aſſigned was. 1. Becauſe he demanded the Rent upon a Deviſe, and it doth not appear when the Deviſor died, ſo as the certainty of the Arrerages cannot be known. 2. Becauſe the Jury find Seiſin given by the hands of the Husband of one daughter, whereas the Land diſcended to two Daughters, and coheirs. 3. Becauſe the Jury find that the Rent was demanded of ſix of the Defendants, but do not find that it was demanded upon the Lands. In this Caſe, It was holden by all the Juſtices, That the demanding it of their perſons off the Land, and their denial was not good, but it ought to have been upon the Land; And alſo becauſe it was not demanded upon the Land; and alſo, for becauſe it was not found when the Deviſor dyed; the Judgment given for the Plaintiff was reverſed. M. 14. Car. in B. R. Monrice and Prinses Caſe. Cro. 1. Part 374, 375.

12. An Aſsize lyeth of an Hoſpitall. And therefore if a Layman be Patron of an Hoſpitall, he may viſit the ſame, and depoſe and deprive the Maſter for good cauſe; but if he be deprived without juſt Cauſe, and by colour thereof be put out, he ſhall have an Aſsize, becauſe he hath no other remedy: But if the Ordinary depriveth a Maſter who is Eccleſiaſtical, without cauſe, he ſhall not have an Aſsiſe, for that he hath other remedy by Appeal. Cook 11. part. 99. in James Baggs Caſe.

13. An Aſsize lyeth of a Way, and ſo of a Piſcary; and ſo of Profits Apprend in cette lieu. Cook 8. part 47, 48. in Jebu Keibs Caſe. And ſo of Turbary, Ibid.

14. An Aſsize was brought of the Office of Sadler to the Queen, which was granted to one by the King: It was holden by the Court that the Aſsize would not lye, for that the King could not make an Officer to the Queen: and alſo, becauſe by the Patent, no place was expreſſed where he ſhould enjoy and exerciſe his Office and therefore the Jury could not have the view. And if the King grant the Office of Uſher of the Prince his Son; It was holden an Aſsize would not lye of it. Paſc. 6. Jac. in C. B. Brownlow. 28.

15. An Aſsize was brought of the office of Clock-keeper of Weſtm. It was holden that an Aſsize would lye of ſuch an Office, but then it was ſaid, That it muſt be an Antient office, and becauſe the Plaintiff could not prove that it was an antient Office, the Plaintiff was Non-ſuit; yet the Plaintiff ſhewed a Grant in E. 6ths. time, but that was holden an Antient times. Paſc. 8. Jac. in C. R. rott. 31. Brownlow. 28. Ceſar and Bulls Caſe.

tiff

16 Note, It was ſaid by Rolls Chief Juſtice. That a Formedon lyeth not de uno Croſto, but an Aſſize doth, becauſe it is put in view to the Recognitors; But a præcipe doth not lye of it, nor an ejectione firmæ. Tr. 23. Car. in B. R. Styles 30. See Paſc. 12. Jac. Ellis and Wallis's Caſe. Bolſtrod. 2. part 214. acc.

17 An Action upon the Caſe was brought by a Commoner, for ſurcharging the Common, and treading the Graſſe; it was moved that the Action did not lye, but an Aſſize; It was holden by the Court, That the Plaintiff might have an Action upon the Caſe, or an Aſſiſe at his election, although that be a diſturbance of the Plaintiffs Freehold. Mich. 1649. Ayre and Pincombs Caſe. Styles 164.

18 Error was brought to reverſe a Judgment given in the Court of New Caſtle in an Aſſize of Novel diſſeiſin; the Error was that the Plaintiff did declare that the Defendant did diſſeiſe him de uno muro Lapideo, and that the Defendant had erected a houſe in the place of it; it was holden by the Court that he ought for this to have brought an Aſſiſe of Nuſance, and not an Aſſiſe of Novel diſſeiſin; and the Judgment was Reverſed. 3. Where by Entry into, and upon Land, the Aſſiſe ſhall be Abated; And where not?

IN a Writ of Errour, brought to reverſe a Judgment given in an Aſſize in the Common Pleas; The Caſe was, Queen Eliz. ſeiſed of the Mannour and Park of Clipſton, by her Letters Pattents, granted Officium Cuſtodis parci prædict. to A. for life; the ſaid Mannour, with the Reverſion of the ſaid Park, came to King James; who reciting the Grant to A. of the Cuſtody of the ſaid Park, Granted to the Earl of Rutland, the Office of Keeper of the ſaid Park, to begin after the death, ſurrender, or forfeiture of A. Afterwards the ſaid King granted the Reverſion of the ſaid Mannour and Park, to the Lord Mountjoy, who granted the ſame to the Earl of Shrewsbury 4 Jac. A. dyed: B. as ſervant to the Earl of Shrewsbury, and by his command, entred into the Park. The Earl of Rutland brought an Aſſiſe in the Common-Pleas, and had Judgment to recover; whereupon the Earl of Shrewsbury brought a Writ of Errour; and aſſigned for Error (amongſt other things) That the Plaintiff in the Aſſize after the Verdict, and before the Judgment, did enter into the Park, and did there hunt, and kill a Stag, and whether by this Entry the Plaintiff had abated his Writ, or not, and the Judgment was erronious, was the queſtion. It was holden by the Juſtices; That this Entry did not abate his Writ, but for ſome other cauſes ariſing in the Caſe, the Judgment was reverſed. Paſc. 7. Jac. in C. B. rott. 610. The Earl of Shrewsbury, and the Earl of Rutlands Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. part 5, 6, 7, 8.

2 An Aſſiſe of Freſhforce was brought by the Parſon of Honylane in London, againſt Moor and the Corporation of Mercers upon a Diſſeiſin done to him of a Cellar under the ſaid Church. The Defendant Moor pleaded to the Aſſiſe, Nul tort, Nul diſſeiſin: and afterwards, relicta verificatione ſua, he pleaded in Abatement of the Aſſiſe; that the Plaintiffe had entred into the Cellar after the laſt continuance, and was ſeiſed thereof in the right of his Church: It was found by a ſpeciall Verdict that the Plaintiff had a ſubpena, delivered unto him to be examined, upon Interrogatories, concerning the Title of the ſaid Cellar, and after the laſt continuance, the Defendant Moor requeſted the Plaintiff that he would dine with him at his houſe in Hony-Lane, and he being there with the Examiner; the Defendant Moor requeſted them to go into the Celler to ſee the Antiquity of the ſaid Cellar, at whoſe requeſt the Plaintiff and the examiner went into the Cellar; and when they had viewed it, they came up, and afterwards the Examiner examined the Plaintiff in Moors houſe upon the Interrogatories; And if ſuch Entry into the Cellar, ſhould be an Entry, to abate the Aſſiſe, was the queſtion; and it was the opinion of the Court, that by ſuch Entry, the Writ was not abated, And there the Caſe of a Formedon was put by Brooke Chief Juſtice; That in a Formedon, The Defendant pleaded in Abatement of the Writ, That the demandant had entred after the laſt continuance; and it appeared upon the Evidence; That divers perſons were cutting down Wood upon the ground, and the Demandant came upon the land, and admoniſhed them at their perills, to do no more then they could do by Law; And he ſaid, that in that Caſe It was adjudged to be no Entry, to Abate the Writ. Assignees and Assignments.

What things may be granted over, and Assigned, and what not? And who may grant or Assign, et e contra; or be an Assignee, Who not?

1. A Rent was granted to a man pro consilio impendendo, the Grantee was after attainted of Treason, and committed to the Tower; the grantor had occasion of Council, and could not have accesse to the Grantee; the question was whether the Rent was forfeited by the Attendor; It was the opinion of the Court, That it was not; because it was such a thing as was incident to the cause; and was not grantable or Assignable over; And there it was said, That if the King giveth Lands to a Duke, to maintain his dignity, this Land cannot be assigned over 6 H. 8. Dyer. 2. But see Davis Reports in the Case of Proxies; That Creation Land, or mony, may be granted or Assigned over to the King himself, although it cannot be granted to a stranger.

2 It was a question whether the Office of a Philizer might be delivered in execution upon a Statute; It was the opinion of Shelley Justice, That it could not, for that nothing shall be delivered over in execution, unlesse it were grantable, or Assignable over; And the Office of a Philizer, was an Office of Trust, to do the businesse of the Court, and not his own businesses; and therefore it could not be assigned over, and so not extended upon a Statute. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 7.

3 A Lease was made to two of Lands, Habendum, to them, ad terminum vitæ eorum conjunctim et ulteriùs diutius viventis ac Assignis suis qui primus eorum decedere contingat durante vita ejus, qui superstes, et non alter. It was a Quære, If he who first dyed, Assigned the whole; whether the same were good for the whole, or for the moyety onely; It was the opinion, that he could Assign but a moyety, for that he had but a moyety in right. See 32 H. 8. Dyer. 46. acc. Co. 1. part. Institutes 187. acc.

4 The Archbishop of Canterbury, seised of the Mannor of A. by Deed, granted to Sir Ed. Nevill, and Sir Hen. Nevil his son, the Office of Warden, and the Custody of the Park of A. for their lives, and the survivor of them, and granted them a Fee of 3 l. 10 s. paid out of the said Mannor, which grant was confirmed by the Dean and Chapter. Sir Ed. Nevil was afterwards attainted of Treason, and executed; after whose death, Sir Henry Nevil came into the Exchequer, and prayed the Court that his Deed might be allowed and enrolled, and that he might have the Arrerages of the said Fee of 3 l. 10 s. which was behind for three years; And after many Arguments at the Bar, all the Barons of the Exchequer (with whom the Justices of the Common Pleas agreed,) were of opinion, gave Judgment that the Deed should be allowed and inrolled, and the said Sir Henry Nevill should have the Arrerages; and agreed that the said Office nor the Fee was forfeited by the Attaindor of Sir Edward Nevil; but that the Fee remained; And in that Case, See what Offices may be assigned and granted over, or forfeited; and see there when a thing is unseparably incident to another thing, or to the person, that the same cannot be granted or Assigned over. See P. 12. Eliz. in the Exchequer. Plow. Com. 379. Sir Henry Nevils Case.

5 A Rent was granted to one and his Assigns for life, pro consilio impendendo, payable yearly at four Feasts; and for default of payment if it be demanded, that it should be lawfull for the Grantor and his Assigns, to distrain, the Grantee Assigned the Rent, the Tenant attained, the Assignee upon the Land, demanded the Rent at the day, and for default of payment distrayned: It was resolved in this Case (amongst other points), That the grant of a Rent to one and his Assigns, pro consilio impendendo, might be assigned over by expresse words granted; for that modus et conventio vincunt Legem. H. 43. Eliz. C. B. Cook 7 part. 28. Maunds Case.

6 The King granted the Office of Marshall-sea for life, and afterwards granted the same in Reversion for 21 years; The Grantee of the Reversion assigned his interest to A. Tenant for life, deputed J. S. at Will, and dyed, A. by Deed Assigned the said Office to J. S. It was resolved in this Case: That the grant of the Office, in Reversion for years was void, and that for many causes. 1. Because the same is an Office of Trust, which is individual and personal, and shall not go to Executors and Administrators. 2. Because it is an Office of attendance in Court, and if the Lesse should dye Intestate, there should be no office untill Administration were granted by the Ordinary. 3. Because such an Officer ought to be admitted and allowed by the Court and if he should dye, his Executors should be Officers without allowance or admittance. 4. Because such Office had always been granted for life, or at Will, so as the person was certainly known, and the ſame was never granted for years. 5. If the ſame might be granted for years, the ſame ſhould be Aſſetts to Executors, or might be forfeited by Outlawry. But yet it was agreed in that Caſe, That by an Act in Law a Term which was but a Chattell, might be in ſuch an Office; as the Caſe. 5 E. 4. 3. If the King Seiſeth of ſuch an Office during the minority of the Heir, he may grant it, but that ſuch office might be granted for years, was denied; wherewith agrees the book of 39 H. 6. 34. See Sir George Reynells Caſe. Cook. 9. part. 96.

7 The Queen granted to Mitton, the Office of Clerk of the County of S. with all Fees, for Term of his life; Afterwards the Queen made A. Sheriff of the ſaid County, who interrupted Mitton, clayming that which was granted to him, as incident to his Office of Sheriff: It was adjudged in that Caſe, that the Letters Pattents of the Queen, were void, for that when the Queen had made a Sheriff; ſhe could not abridge the Sheriff of any thing which was incident to his office, nor aſſign the ſame over to another; and if ſuch a grant, or Aſſignment, of the Queen ſhould be good; many inconveniencies might follow; as the Records might be imbeſled, for which the Sheriff is to anſwer; and the Certificate of all Records out of the County Court doth belong to the Sheriff. Paſc. 36. Eliz. Cook 4. part Mittons Caſe.

8 A. granted a Rent of 20 l. per annum out of Lands to B. his Heirs and Aſſigns, to be paid at two dayes with Clauſe of diſtreſſe, and for further aſſurance, Covenanted to levy a Fine to J. S. and J. D. which ſhould be to the uſes expreſſed in certain Indentures; and further covenanted, that then, and from thenceforth, if the Rent ſhould be behind in part, or in all, and no diſtreſſe upon the Land; that then it ſhould be Lawfull for the Grantee his Heirs or Aſſigns to enter into the Land, and to retain the ſame till he was ſatiſfied the Rent. J. S. dyes before the Fine Levyed; the Grantee Aſſigned the Rent over to W. his Heirs and Aſſigns, who ſold the ſame to F.: afterwards, 10 l. of the Rent was behind. Afterwards the Fine was levyed to the ſaid uſes. The Aſſignee of the Rent, for the Rent, before the Fine levyed, came to reſtrein; and upon a Replevin ſued, entred into the Land for the whole Rent, by force of the ſaid uſe; In this Caſe, theſe poynts were agreed and reſolved. 1. That the uſe ſhould well riſe, the Covenant being, that if the 20 l. or any part of it ſhould be behind. 2. That theſe contingent benefits might be Aſſigned over, becauſe they are Annexed to an eſtate as to an Intereſt, and ſo they are well Aſſignable. 3. That the Aſſignee ſhould have the ſame benefit as his Grantor ſhould have had, 4. That the Aſſignee hath ſuch an eſtate, as that he may make a Leaſe for years, and that he hath not onely a bare occupation but alſo the abſolute poſſeſſion, of which he might make a Leaſe for years. But whether the Aſſignee ſhould have benefit of ſuch contingencies, as happened in the interim before the Fine was levied; and whether the Aſſignee ſhall now come to have the uſe of the Land to ariſe to him, by reaſon of a thing which happened before the Fine was levyed, which was the 10 l. Rent behind, and whether he ſhould have ſuch an eſtate in the Land, of which he might make a Leaſe for years; the Court was divided in opinion; and ſo the principall poynt was not reſolved. M. 14. Jac. in B. R. Havergill, and Hares Caſe. Intrat. Hill. 13. Jac. B. R. rott. 868. Bolſtr. 3. part 251, 252 to 258.

9. Note: It was holden by the Court, That ſome things, in reſpect of the Nature of things, are not grantable, or aſſignable over: as if the Donee in taile holdeth of his Donor by Fealty, and the Donor by Deed Inrolled, granteth the Fealty, (although the Grant be made to the King himſelf) yet the Grant is meerly void, becauſe the Fealty is an Incident inſeparable to the Reverſion: So if a Founder of a Colledge grant his Founderſhip to the King, the Grant is void, although it be by Deed inrolled, for that it is inſeparable to the blood. See Cook 11. Part, in Magdalen Colledge Caſe. 77.

10 Husband and Wife Joynt-Tenants of a Manor, and to the heirs of the body of the husband, the Remainder to B. intaile; a Recovery was had againſt the husband alone in the life of the wife with voucher; B. in remainder was attainted of Treaſon, and executed; and it was Enacted by Parliament, That he ſhould forfeit all ſuch Manors, Lands, Tenements, Reverſions, Uſes, Poſſeſſions, Offices, Rights, Conditions, and other Inheritances which he had in Fee or in taile, in uſe or poſſeſſion the day of the Treaſon committed: The Queen reſtored the ſon of B. and granted to him the Mannors which ſhe had by the Attainder of his Father: and afterwards the Queen brought a Writ of Error againſt the heir of the ſurviving Recoverer, to reverſe the ſaid Recovery. In that caſe, it was Reſolved (amongſt other Points) That a Writ of Error was not given to the Queen by any words of the ſaid Act of Attainder: For this Rule was there taken: That ſuch a Right for which the party hath not remedy but by action, to recover the Land, could not be forfeited by the Common-Law; and by general words of an Act of Parliament, Rights of Actions were never given to the King, but Rights of Entries: and there it was ſaid, That Rights of Actions concerning Inheritances, were not forfeited by Attainder. But Obligations, Statutes, Recognizances, or other ſuch things things in Action are forfeitable by Attainder; alſo it was holden in that Caſe, that poſſibilities were not given to the Queen by the ſaid Act of Attaindor. And 2. It was Reſolved in that Caſe. That by the generall grant of the Mannor, and of all her Intereſt, claims, and demands, the Writ of Error did not paſſe. Cook 3. part 3. & 4. The Marqueſſe of Wincheſters Caſe.

11 Note, In an evidence given to a Jury at the Bar, It was admitted without contradiction, That if Judgment in an Action of Debt be given againſt Leſſee for years, and afterwards the Leſſee altereth his Term, and after the year, the Plaintiff ſueth a Scire facias, and hath execution, the ſame Term is not liable to the Execution, if the Aſſignment be made bona fide. Alſo it was ſaid by Coke Chief Juſtice; That if Leſſee for years Aſſign over by fraud to defeat the Execution, and the Aſſignee Aſſign the ſame over to a ſtranger bona fide, that in the hands of the ſecond Aſſignee, it is not lyable to the Execution. Alſo if a man who hath goods but of the value of 30 l. be endebted to two men, to the one 20 l. to the other 10 l. and the Debtor Aſſigns to him to whom he is endebted the 20 l. all the goods, which are of the value of 30 l. to the intent that for the reſidue above the 20 l. the Debtee ſhould be favourable to him; and this Aſſignment is void in the whole, becauſe that it is fraud in part. But Foſter Juſtice ſaid, it ſhould not be void for the whole, but onely for the overplus, as in Twines Caſe. Cook 3. part 81. Quære. Paſc. 8. Jac. in C. B. Wilſon and Wormall's Caſe.

12 A. made a Leaſe for life of Lands, and afterwards Covenanted to levy a Fine of the ſame Lands to the uſe of J. S. for 40 years to begin after the death of the Leſſee for life. Afterwards A. diſſeiſed the Leſſor for life; J. S. who had the future Intereſt during the diſſeiſin, Aſſigned over his future Intereſt: The Queſtion was, whether the Aſſignment were good or not, It was ſaid it was not, for that by the Diſſeiſin of Tenant for life, the future intereſt to commence after the death of Tenant for life, is converted into a Right; and a Right of a Term cannot be Aſſigned over. But it was ſaid by Williams Juſtice, That it was clear, That if a man have a Leaſe for years to begin after the death of Leſſee for life, that although that the Leſſor for life be diſſeiſed, yet the Intereſt remains a good Intereſt to the Leſſee, and it is not turned into a Right of a Term, and for that cauſe it may be granted over, notwithſtanding the diſſeiſin. Hill. 7. Jac. in C. B. Stydſon and Glaſſes Caſe, Brown 2, part 224, 225.

13 The Lord Mountjoy ſold the Mannor of Camford to Brown in Fee: In the ſame Deed, It was provided, and Brown Covenanted, and granted, that the Lord Mountjoy, his Heirs and Aſſigns might dig for Ore within the Land in Camford, which was a great waſt, without contradiction of Brown, his Heirs, and Aſſigns; The Lord Mountjoy afterwards deviſed his Intereſt to one Laicott for 21 years, and Laicott aſſigned it over to two other men: In this Caſe, two points were agreed, 1. The Lord Mountjoy could not deviſe the ſaid Intereſt to one, viz. to grant to one to dig within parcell of the ſaid Waſt. 2. It was Reſolved that the Aſſignment of the power to two by Laicott was good: But it was further agreed, that the ſaid two Aſſigns could not work ſeverally, but with one ſtock; or ſuch workmen as belonged to them both, See the Lord Mountjoy and the Earl of Huntington's Caſe, P. 25. Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt, 17, 18.

14 Bonds, Obligations, Specialties, may be Aſſigned over: If J. S. be indebted to me, and J. be indebted to J. D. J. may Aſſign that Debt to J. D. with the aſſent of J. S. otherwiſe not, If a Bond be for performance of Covenants conteyned in an Indenture of Leaſe; if he Aſſign the Leaſe, he may Aſſign the Bond alſo, becauſe they are concomitants; and he hath an Intereſt in the Leaſe, and therefore he may ſue the Bond, but if the Covenants be firſt broken, and afterwards he Aſſign over the Leaſe, if the Aſſignee ſues the Bond, it is maintenance, but if he Aſſign over the Leaſe, and afterwards the Covenants are broken; if he ſueth it there, it is no maintenance: But if he Aſſigne over the Bond, and reſerveth the Leaſe in his own hands, and then the Covenants are broken, and the other ſueth the Bond for the performance of Covenants, it is maintenance. And Note, That damages which are to be recovered for Treſpaſſe, Battery, &c. cannot be Aſſigned over, becauſe they are yet uncertain, and perhaps the Aſſignee might be a great man, who might procure a Jury to give him the greater damages. M. 29. Eliz. in B. A. in Raynolds and Truelock's Caſe. Godb. 81.

15 A man was poſſeſſed for the Term of ſix years, of a Tavern in London, and leaſed the ſame to another for three years; And it was Covenanted betwixt them; that, during the three years, quolibet menſe, the Leſſee ſhould give an Accompt to the Leſſor of the Wine which he ſold, and ſhould pay to him for every Tun, ſo much; Afterwards, the Leſſee granted the three years which were remaining of the ſix years to another; and then he did requeſt the Leſſee to Accompt, and he would not, whereupon he brought an Action of Covenant and the Defendant pleaded. That he had accompted to the Aſſignee, of the three years; and upon that there was a demur; and the Opinion of the Court was, That it was no plea, becauſe it was not a Covenant which did go with the Land, but was a

Collateral

Collateral thing, and did not paſſe by the Aſsignment of the three years. M. 29 Eliz. in B. A. Godb. 120.

16 A. Recovered againſt B. 4000 l. damages in an Action upon the Caſe. Afterwards B. being Outlawed, in a perſonall Action, the Queen, Ann. 34. (Reciting the Outlawry, and that B. was dead) granted all his goods and Chattells to J. S. to the uſe of M. the Wife of A. J. S. afterwards Aſſigned that debt and Judgment to J. D. notwithſtanding which, proceſs iſſued in the Kings name, to extend all the Lands which B. had at the time of the Judgment, and Lands in the poſſeſsion of J. D. (which he purchaſed after the Judgment,) were extended, whereupon, he as Terr-Tenant, pleaded againſt the Extent; That by the Aſsignment made by J. S. he was chargeable to him onely, and not to the King: It was upon demur, Reſolved in this Caſe by the whole Court, That as the Kings grant of a thing in Action is good enough; ſo this debt which is forfeited to the King by Outlawry of B. is well granted, and the grantor may have the benefit to levy this debt by Action in his own name, or by extent in the Kings name, although he hath not words in his grant to ſue it in the name of the King. But it was holden, That the Aſsignment over of this debt by J. S. to J. D. was meerly void, For that there cannot by Law any Aſsignment be made by a common perſon of his debt; wherefore it was Adjudged, The plea was not good, and no cauſe of diſcharge, and that the Land ſhould remain in extent for the King. M. 3 Jac. rott. 150. in Scaccario, the King and Twines Caſe. Cro. 2. part 179, 180.

17 A. was endebted to B. 2000 l. by a Statute, B. made his Wife his Executrix and dyed: ſhe married J. S. who was endebted to the King by Bond in the Court of Wards. J. S. and his Wife by Deed inrolled 14. Jac. aſsigned to the King that Statute for the payment of the ſaid debt. Whether this Aſsignment were good, or void by the ſaid Statute of 7 Jac. which Enacts, that no debt ſhall be Aſsigned to the King by his Debtor, Accomptant, or other, then ſuch debts as did before originally grow due to the Kings debtor, Accomptant, bona fide. It was Reſolved, That this was a good Aſsignment, for although this Debt was not due to him originally, but in the right of his Wife; yet forasmuch as they have the ſole intereſt therein, and the Husband the Kings Debtor, may diſcharge it by his releaſe; it was all one as if it had been made to him in his own name; and within the meaning of the makers of the Act of 7 Jac. to be Aſsigned; wherefore proceſſe was awarded for the levying of it. Hill. 16. Jac. in B. R. Fowns Caſe, in Cur. Ward. Cro. part 324.

18 In Aſſumpſit, The Plaintiff declared, That J. S. was endebted to him in a certain ſum of money, and became a Bankrupt, and that a Comiſſion of Bankrupt was ſued out againſt him; and it was found that the Defendant was indebted to the Bankrupt; and that the Commiſsioners did Aſsign over the debt of the Defendant, mentioned in a Schedule, amounting to ſuch a ſum unto the Plaintiff in ſatisfaction of the Debt owing to him by the Bankrupt; and that he Received the ſame Debt of the Defendant, who did promiſe, &c. Upon Non Aſſumpſit, The Jury found the matter aforeſaid, but further found, That the debts mentioned in the Schedule, and Aſsigned to the Plaintiff, amounting to ſuch a ſum, whereas the Defendant did not owe to the Bankrupt ſo much as that Debt Aſsigned is, but a leſſer ſum. It was ſaid, That the Verdict was found for the Defendant, becauſe the debt levyed in the Declaration, and the debt in the Verdict are not the ſame, and ſo the Defendant did not promiſe that which was layed in the Declaration. But the Opinion of the Court was for the Plaintiff, for the Aſsignment was not judicially before them in queſtion, but the Aſſumpſit; alſo the Aſsignment is of the Debt of the Defendant, due to the Bankrupt, and be it more or leſſe, it hath no reference to Account or Reckoning between them, and ſo the Aſsignment is good, though it doth not agree in the ſum what is juſtly due; and the iſſue is upon the Aſſumpſit, and not upon the Aſsignment: Judgment was for the Plaintiff. H. 22. Car. B. R. rott. 222. Baker and Edmonds's Caſe. Styles 62, 63.

19 In an Action upon the Caſe brought for ſelling of falſe Bills of publique Faith to him, to the value of 800 l. the Defendant demurred to the Declaration, for that there is 70 l. mentioned to be paid, as is expreſſed in the papers, and it is not expreſſed at what time, or place it ought to have been; and here is an Aſsignment of Papers, which could not be; for that it is a thing in Action which is not Aſsignable, Nor can an Ordinance of Parliament give Authority to Aſsign a thing in Action. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the Ordinance of Parliament doth give Authority to Aſsign Papers, and the Papers may be Aſsigned; Judgment was for the Plaintiff. M. 1652. Fouk and Boyles Caſe. Styles 348.

20 A Leaſe was made for one year, the Leſſee Covenants for him and his Aſsigns to pay the Rent ſo long, as he and they ſhall have the poſſeſsion of the thing Lett, The Leſſee Aſsigns over his Term, the Term ends, the Aſsignee continues the poſſeſsion after the Term ended; and for Rent behind by the Aſsignee after the end of the Term, the Leſſor brings the Action, and the Queſtion was, Whether here be ſuch an Aſsigning that the Action will lye againſt or not. It was holden,

That

That although he be not an Aſſignee ſtrictly according to the Rules of Law; yet he ſhall be accompted ſuch an Aſſignee as is to perform the Covenants between the parties. Mich. 1651. rott. 353. B. R. Bromfield and Sir John Williamſons Caſe, Styles 407.

21. The Caſe was this; A. made a Leaſe to B. for 9. years, if B. ſhould ſo long live; the remainder after his death to the Executors or Aſſignees of the ſaid B. for 40. years; Afterwards B. dyed inteſtate, and Adminiſtration is committed to C. his wife, who entred, claiming the 40 years: the Defendant claiming by another Leaſe, entred upon her, and ſhe brought the Action. In this caſe, two Points were Reſolved, 1. That Adminiſtrators are not Aſſignees, for an Adminiſtration is appointed by the Ordinary, and Aſſigns muſt be in by the party himſelf, and not by a ſtranger. 2. It was Reſolved, That as this caſe is, the Adminiſtrator ſhould not hold it as a purchaſor, but as a thing veſted in the Inteſtate. Mich. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Sperk and Sperks Caſe, Owen 125.

22. In a Replevin, the Caſe was this; A. being Leſſee for 90 years, did Covenant and grant, That he would not alien, ſub pœna for Faſturæ, niſi uxori ejus durante vita naturali; and for the reſidue to one of his children, vel uni fratrum juniorum. In this caſe, It was Reſolved; 1. That this Covenant by the Leſſee, That he would not alien, was a Condition. 2. When he once had made an Alienation, that the Alienee was now at large, to alien to whom he would, and ſhould not be ſubject to the Condition. 3. It was Reſolved, That the words vel uni fratrum juniorum, gives him an Election to alien which of them he would: But then the Queſtion was, in regard he could not alien it to his wife during his life, becauſe the husband cannot give to his wife; Whether if he deviſed it to his wife for her life; whether ſuch a Deviſee were an Aſſignee within the Condition, or not? but this Point was not Reſolved, but Curia adviſare vult, Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Fox and Whitcheots Caſe, Bolſtr. 2. Part. 191, 192.

Of Aſsignes in fait, and Aſsignes in Law: who ſhall be ſaid to be ſuch: And where an Action of Covenant ſhall lye by, or againſt ſuch Aſsignees; where not: And where they ſhall take advantages of a Condition, or other thing; where not.

1. A Man made a Leaſe for years by Indenture; The Leſſee covenanted, That if he, his Executors, or Aſſigns, did alien, that it ſhould be lawful for the Leſſor to enter. He made his wife his Executrix, and dyed: the wife took another husband who aliened the Term. It was the Opinion of Brown and Shelley, Juſtices, That the husband was an Aſſignee in Law; and that it was a condition, and that the Lands were ſubject to the Condition in whoſe hands ſoever they were. Paſch. 28 H. 8. Dyer 7.

2. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee by Deed enrolled, Covenanted with B. That if B. paid to him, his heirs, or Aſſignees, 100 l. ſuch a day, that then he and his heirs would ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Land to the uſe of B. and his heirs: Before the day of payment, A. having iſſue a ſon, made his Will in writing, and thereof made his Wife his Executrix; the Wife renounced the Executorſhip, and took Letters of Adminiſtration. In this Caſe, the Opinion of the Court was; That the word, Aſsignees, ſhall be intended onely of the Aſſignees of the Eſtate of A; for that he hath an Eſtate aſsignable; and the Law will never ſeek for an Aſſignee in Law, when there is an Aſſignee in Fait. But in that caſe it was ſaid, That if A. had made a Feoffment in Fee, upon Condition, that the Feoffee ſhould pay money to the Feoffor, or his Heirs or Aſſignees there, becauſe he hath departed with his whole Eſtate, and hath but a naked Condition, which cannot be aſſigned over; the Law will make Conſtruction, what perſon (as moſt apt) ſhall be as his aſſignee in Law, to receive the money; and thoſe perſons, the Law adjudgeth to be his Executors, becauſe they repreſent the perſon of the Teſtator for all Goods and Chattels; and in ſuch caſe the Feoffor cannot have an Aſſignee in Fait Cook. 5. Part. 97. in Goodales Caſe.

3. The Husband and Wife made a Leaſe for years, by the word, Demiſe by Indenture; and the Leſſee Covenanted for him, his Executors and Aſſigns, to build a Brick-wall upon the Land Leaſed; The Leſſee aſſigned over his Term; and for not making making of the Brick-wall, the Leſſor brought an Action of Covenant againſt the Aſſignee: In this caſe, It was Reſolved, 1. When a Covenant extends to a thing in eſſe, parcel of the demiſe, the ſame ſhall bind the Aſſignee, although he be not bound by expreſs words; but when the Covenant extends to a thing in eſſe at the time of the demiſe made, the ſame ſhall bind the Leſſor, his Executors and Adminiſtrators, but not the Aſſignee. 2. Reſolved, If a man Leaſeth a ſtock of Cattel, or other perſonal goods for a time; and the Leſſee Covenants for him and his aſſigns at the end of the Term, to leave ſuch Cattel and Goods, or to pay ſuch a price for them, and the Leſſee aſſigns over the Cattel or Goods, ſuch Covenant ſhall not bind the Aſſignee, becauſe it is but a perſonal Contract, and there wants privity betwixt them; but the ſame ſhall bind his Executors or Adminiſtrators; but if a man Leaſeth a Houſe and Land for years, with a ſtock or ſum of money, rendring Rent, and the Leſſee Covenants for him, his Executors and Aſſigns, to deliver the ſtock at the end of the Term, although that the Rent was encreaſed in reſpect of the ſtock; yet the Rent doth not iſſue out of the ſtock: and therefore as to the ſtock, the Covenant is perſonal, and ſhall bind onely the Covenantor, his Executors and Adminiſtrators, and not the Aſſignees. See Cook 5. Part. 16. Spencers Caſe. And Note; In that Caſe it was Reſolved, That the Aſſignee of an Aſſignee, Executors of an Aſſignee, Aſſignees of Executors, or Adminiſtrators of every Aſſignee, ſhall have an Action of Covenant, and are compriſed within the word Aſſignees.

4. A man brought an Action of Covenant againſt the Aſſignee of Leſſee for years, and ſet forth, That he had made a Leaſe for years rendring Rent, with re-entry for non-payment of the Rent, & that the Leſſee did Covenant to build a houſe upon the Land within the firſt 10 years; and that he aſſigned over his Term: The Aſſignee did plead, That the Leſſor did enter, and had the poſſeſſion of part the 9th year; and, if thereby the Covenant was diſcharged, was the Queſtion? It was holden in this Caſe, That the pleading, that the Leſſor generall did enter was not good; for it may be taken, that he entred for the non-payment of the Rent; and then by ſuch entry, the Covenant is not ſuſpended or extinct: And alſo it was holden in this Caſe, that the Aſſignee ought to have ſhewed, That the Leſſor would not ſuffer him to build the houſe: and becauſe in this caſe, the ſame was a Covenant which ran with the Land, and not a Collateral Covenant to do a thing in groſſe: It was holden, That the Action did well lye againſt the Aſſignee. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Barker and Fleetwells Caſe. Godbolt. 69.

5. In an Action of Covenant, the caſe was; Leſſee for 90 years made an Aſſignment of part of the Term, viz. 10 years; and the Aſſignee Covenanted to repair, &c. The firſt Leſſee deviſed the Reverſion of the Term, and dyed: The Deviſee brought an Action of Covenant againſt the Aſſignee for 10 years: The Queſtions in the Caſe, were two; 1. If the Deviſee of the Reverſion being but a Termor, were within the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Conditions? 2. Whether the Covenant did lye againſt the Aſſignee, without Notice of the Aſſignment of the Reverſion? And for the firſt Point, It was Reſolved, That the Termor in the Reverſion was an Aſſignee, to take benefit of the Condition within the Statute: and ſo it was ſaid, It was Reſolved in the time of the Lord Dyer in Leonards Caſe; which was, That Leſſee for years Leaſed part of the Term upon Condition, (which is as much as a Covenant) and afterwards granted the Reverſion: and it was Ruled in that caſe, That the Grantee might enter for the Condition broken. And as to the ſecond point, it was Reſolved, That in this caſe, there needed not any Notice, becauſe there is not any penalty in this caſe; as there was in Cook 5. Part, in Mallories Caſe. And, 3. It was holden in this caſe, That he who is to take advantage of the Statute of 32 H. 8. needs not that he have the whole Reverſion: For that it hath been adjudged, That if the Reverſion be Granted in tail, that ſuch a Grantee ſhould take advantage of the Statute, and ſhould enter for the Condition broken. Paſch. 8 Jac. in C.B. Briſtow and Briſtows Caſe, Godbolt. 161, 162.

6. Note; by Doddridge and Mountague, Juſtices, If Leſſee for years Covenanteth to repair and ſuſtain the houſes in as good plight as they were at the time of the Leaſe made; and afterwards the Leſſee aſſigneth over his Term, and the Leſſor the Reverſion, that the Aſsignee of the Reverſion ſhall maintain an Action of Covenant for the breach of the Covenant againſt the firſt Leſſee. Hill. 15 Jac. in B. R. Godbolt. 271.

7. In an Action of Covenant, the Caſe was; Queen Elizabeth by Letters Patents demiſed a Mill to the Teſtator of the Defendant for 30 years, reſerving Rent; and there was theſe words in the Letters Patents, That the Leſſee his Executors and Aſſignees ſhould repair the Mill during the Term: The Leſſee aſsigned over all his Intereſt to J. S. who attained Tenant, and paid the Rent to the Queen; and after, the Queen granted the Reverſion to the Plaintiff and his Wife: the Aſsignee is accepted Tenant; the Mill came to decay for want of Repairation: the Plaintiff, the Aſsignee of the Queen, brought an Action of Covenant againſt the Executor of the firſt Leſſee; and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff; for theſe Reaſons, Firſt, becauſe by the Statute of 32 H. 8. all the benefit which the Queen had, was transferred to the Grantee of the Reverſion. And, 2. for that it might be parcel of the Conſideration to have the Covenant againſt the Leſſee; for, a Mill is ſuch a thing, which without continual Reparations, will decay. And, 2. It was holden in this caſe, That the Aſsignee had his Election to bring his Action againſt the Leſſee, or againſt the Aſsignee, becauſe it was a Covenant which did run with the Land, Hill. 16 Jac. in B. R. Sir John Brett and Cumberlands Caſe. Godbolt. 277. See 15 Car. Nortons Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 418. acc.

8. In Debt by Executors, upon an Obligation, The Condition was, That the Obligor ſhould pay 20 l. to ſuch a perſon or perſons as the Teſtator ſhould by her laſt Will and Teſtament in Writing name and appoint to be paid. The Defendant pleaded, That ſhe did appoint no perſon to whom the ſame ſhould be paid. The Plaintiff replyed, That ſhe made her Will in writing, and thereby made them her Executors. Upon which, the Defendant demurred in Law. It was the clear Opinion of the Court, That the money is not payable unto the Executors; for though where any thing which is Teſtamentary is Covenanted to be done unto a man or his Aſsigns, that is to be done to the Executors, where there is no actual Aſsignee; becauſe the word, Aſsignee, is indifferent as well to Aſsignees in Fact, as Aſsignees in Law: yet in this caſe the word muſt neceſſarily be underſtood of an Aſsignee in fact, who ſhall take it to his own uſe, for that the word, paying, carrieth property with it. Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Peaſe and Stilemans Caſe, Heb. 9.

9. In Debt for Rent againſt an Aſsignee, by an Aſsignee: The Plaintiff declared, That J. S. made a Leaſe to J. D. for 200 years, rendring 31 s. per annum at Annunciation and Michaelmas, by equal portions; and that J. S. afterwards conveyed the Reverſion to him: and for 15 s. 6 d. due at Annunciation, he brought his Action. The Defendant pleaded, That J. S. demiſed the Land prout; and by the Indenture Covenanted for himſelf, his heirs, and aſsigns, with the Leſſee, his Executors and Aſsigns, That if he be diſturbed for reſpite of homage, or be forced to pay any charge or Iſſues leſt, that he ſhould retain ſo much of his Rent as he ſhould be enforced to pay: and ſhewed, That by force of a Writ iſſuing out of the Exchequer for reſpite of Homage, and Iſſues leſt, ſo much was levied by the Sheriff, which he hath retained of his Rent: Upon which, the Plaintiff did demur. The Queſtion was, whether the Aſsignee of a Term ſhould have remedy upon a Covenant by way of Retainer, againſt the Aſsignee of a Reverſion? And it was holden by the Court, That in this caſe, the Aſsignee ſhould have benefit of this Covenant, both by the Common-Law, and alſo by the Statute of 32 H. 8. for that it was a Covenant which did run with the Land; and at the Common Law he might have taken advantage to detain the Rent reſerved upon the Leaſe for years; for it may be appointed to ceaſe at the Will of the parties. Trin. 4 Car. in B. R. rott. 738. Bayly and Offords Caſe, Cro. 1. Part. 97.

10. In Covenant, The Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant by Indenture did enfeoffe J. S. of ſuch Lands, and Covenanted for him and his heirs, with the Feoffee his heirs and aſsigns, to make further aſſurance upon Requeſt, and becauſe the Defendant did not levy a Fine upon the Plaintiff's requeſt, he brought his Action: The Defendant pleaded a Releaſe from J. S. with whom the firſt Covenant was made, and it was dated after the beginning of the Suit: upon which the Plaintiff demurred: It was agreed by the whole Court, That it was a Covenant which went with the Land, and that the Aſsignee at the Common-Law, or at leaſtwiſe by the Statute ſhould have benefit of it. 2. It was Reſolved, That in regard the breach of the Covenant was in the time of the Aſsignee, and the Action brought by him, and ſo attached in his perſon, that the Covenantee could not releaſe his Action wherein the Aſsignee was intereſſed: Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Trin. 14 Car. in B. R. Midlemore and Goodalls Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 360.

11. Covenant upon an Indenture of Leaſe for years, whereby the Leſſee Covenanted for him, his Executors, and Adminiſtrators, to leave 15. Acres every year for Paſture, ſine cultura; and he granted his eſtate to the Defendant, and the Defendant non reliquit 15. acras ad Paſturam, but ſuch a day and year ploughed up all. The Defendant demurred, becauſe the Aſsignee not being named, it is not any ſuch Covenant as ſhall bind the Aſsignee. It was holden by the Court, That the Covenant doth bind the Aſsignee, although he be not named, becauſe it is for the benefit of the Eſtate. But to do a Collateral Act, as to build de novo, or ſuch like, ſhall not bind him, unleſs named: Adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſch. 4 Jac. B. R. rott. 607. Cockſon and Cocks Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 125.

12. Errour was brought to reverſe a Judgment againſt an Aſsignee in a Writ of Covenant; The Caſe was, The Leſſee covenanted to pay yearly during the Term 20 s. to the Church-Wardens of the Church of S. and to repair the houſes, and leave them well repaired at the end of the Term; and becauſe the Aſsignee did not pay the ſaid Rent, nor repair the houſes, the Action was brought; and Judgment being given upon Nihil dicit, and intire damages found, It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Whereupon Errour was brought, and aſsigned for Errour, That the Aſsignee is not chargeable with this Covenant for the payment of an annual ſum; but it is a meer collateral Covenant: and alſo it is not ſhewed for what time the ſum was behind: And the Opinion of the Court was, That for theſe cauſes, the Declaration was not good: and for that the damages were alſo intire, the Judgment was reverſed. Mayho and Burckbarts Caſe, Mich. 15 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. Part. 439.

Judgment

13. In Debt for Rent, the Caſe was; A. and B. were Joynt-Leſſees for years rendring Rent. A. aſsigned over his part to C. one of the Defendants; the other made his Will, and made D. the other Defendant his Executor, and dyed. The Rent was behind after the Aſsignment; and after the death of the Leſſee, an Action was brought againſt C. and D. the Executor; in the Debet and Detinet for the Rent. It was urged, That the Actions ſhould have been brought ſeverally, the Contract being determined; and Walkers Caſe, Cook. 3. Part, was cited to that purpoſe, becauſe the Privity of the Contract was determined by the death of the Leſſee, and they have ſeveral and divided poſſeſsions. But the Opinion of all the Juſtices was, That the Action was well brought; and the ſeverance of the Land, ſhall not make a ſeverance of the Action; for thereby would follow great inconveniencies by the ſeveral Aſsignments of under-Tenants amongſt themſelves, of which the Leſſor might not have notice: and alſo the Action is always grounded upon the demiſe, which continues one and the ſame, notwithſtanding the alteration made by the Tenants. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Trin. 14 Jac. the Bayliffs of Ipſwich and Martin and Parkers Caſe. Bolſtrod. 3. Part, 211.

14. A. Leaſed Lands to B. rendring Rent; the Leſſee aſsigned over his whole Term. A. brought an Action of Debt againſt B. for the Rent behind after the Aſsignment. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That there are 3. marks of privities; 1. Privity of Eſtate onely; as where the Leſſor giveth over the Reverſion; or if the Reverſion Eſcheat, between the Grantee or Lord by Eſcheat, or the Leſſee, there is privity in Eſtate onely; ſo between the Leſſor and Aſsignee. 2. Of Contract only, which is a perſonal privity, and extends onely to the perſon of the Leſſor, and to the perſon of the Leſſee: as in the principal caſe, after the Aſsignment, this privity doth remain betwixt them, although that the privity of Eſtate be removed, becauſe that the Leſſee by his own act cannot prevent the Leſſor of his remedy, which the Leſſor hath againſt him by his own Contract: And, 2. The Leſſee might grant his Eſtate to a poor man, who for want, or malice, would ſuffer the Land to lye freſh, and ſo the Leſſor ſhould be without remedy by diſtreſs, or action of debt, which ſhould be inconvenient. 3. Of Eſtate and Contract together, as betwixt the Leſſor and the Leſſee himſelf. In the principal caſe it was Reſolved, That the Action was maintainable, in reſpect of the privity of Contract betwixt them remaining, 29 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 3. Part. Walkers Caſe, 22, 23.

15. Debt was brought againſt two Adminiſtrators; The Defendants pleaded, That before Rent was behind, one of them had aſsigned all his Intereſt to J. S. of which the Plaintiff had Notice, and accepted the Rent by the hands of the Aſsignee due after the Aſsignment, and before the Rent demanded was due: upon which the Plaintiff demurred in Law. And it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, becauſe the privity of the Contract was determined by the death of the Leſſee; and therefore after the Aſsignment made by the Adminiſtrator, debt doth not lye for rent due after the Aſsignment, Mich. 41 Eliz. in C. B. Marrow and Lupins Caſe. See Cook. 3. Part. 23, 24. acc.

3. Where the Aſsignee of a Reverſion, upon a Leaſe for years ſhall have the Rent and Debt for it; where not: What Aſsignee of a Reverſion ſhall enter for a Condition broken, what not: And where Waſte lyeth by an Aſsignee of a Reverſion, without Privity or Attornement.

1. THe Queen made a Leaſe for years, rendring rent payable at the Exchequer, ſeu ad manus Baliverum ſeu Receptorum, with Condition, to be void for non payment of the Rent: and afterwards the Queen granted over the Reverſion. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Patentee who was Aſsignee of the Queen, ſhould not have an Action of debt for the Rent; and therein the Opinion in Kedwellyes Caſe, Plow. Com. 70. That he in the Reverſion might enter for non payment of the Rent, without any demand of the Rent, was denyed for Law: But it was Reſolved in that caſe, That the Queen might take advantage of the Condition for non payment of the Rent, without a demand of the Rent: For the Law doth appoint the Subject to attend upon the King, and the Subject ought to do the firſt act, ſcil. either to pay, or tender the Rent; but that prerogative is perſonal onely; and doth not extend to the Grantee of the Queens Reverſion: but the Patentee or Aſſignee ought to deliver the Rent, if he will take advantage of the Condition. Paſch. 38 Eliz. in B. R. Burroughs Caſe. 72.

2. The Preſident, and Schollers of Corpus Chriſti Colledg in Oxford, made a Leaſe for years. Provided, That the Leſſee nor his Aſſigns, ſhould not alien to any perſon or perſons without ſpeciall Licence of the Leſſors: Afterwards by their Deed, they give Licence to the Leſſee to alien, or demiſe, the Land to any perſon or perſons. The Leſſee aſſigned his Term to J. S. who by his Will deviſed the ſame to his ſon; the Leſſors enter for the Condition broken. It was adjudged in this caſe, That by the alienation by Licence to J. S. the Condition was deſtroyed, ſo as no alienation afterwards could give cauſe for the Leſſors to enter: For the Leſſors could not diſpenſe with the Condition in part; and therefore thereby they had diſpenced with all alienations which were after to be made. Hill. 45 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 4. Part. 120. Damports Caſe.

3. A man, by Deed Indented, made a Leaſe for years of 3. Mannors, viz. A. B. and C. rendring Rent for A. 6 l. for B. 5 l. for C. 10 l. with Condition to re-enter in all the three Mannors for default of payment of the ſaid Rents, or any of them. Afterwards the Leſſor bargained and ſold the Reverſion of one houſe, and certain Acres of Lands, parcel of the Mannor of A, to J. S. and his heirs; and afterwards he bargained and ſold the reſidue for other uſes to another and his heirs. It was adjudged in this caſe, That the ſecond Bargainee could not enter for the Condition broken; becauſe the Condition being intire, could not be apportioned by the Act of the parties; but the ſeverance of part from the Reverſion had deſtroyed the whole. See 14 Eliz. in C.B. vouch. acc. in Cook. 4. Part. Damports Caſe.

4. Abbot and Covent made a Leaſe for years, rendring yearly, during the Term, to the Abbot and Covent, or to his Succeſſours, 5 l. rent, at two Feaſts, upon Condition, That if the Rent were behind, to re-enter. The Abbot ſurrendred his Lands to the King; which Lands by mean Conveyances came to J. S. who levied a Fine of the Reverſion to B; B. before Attornment granted by Deed the Reverſion to his ſon and heir, to whom the Termor attorned; the rent was behind, and the ſon in Reverſion entred upon the Lands. In this caſe two Points were Reſolved, 1. That B. the Grantee or Aſſignee by the Fine ſhould not take advantage of the Condition without attornment, by the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Conditions; for that when a Statute ſpeaks of Aſſignees, It ſhall be intended ſuch a compleat Aſſignee, which hath all the Incidents requiſite to ſuch an Aſſignee: and the Conuſee of a Fine before Attornment ſhall not take advantage of a Condition, by the Statute of 32 H. 8. as it was adjudged in Dukes Caſe. But, 2. It was Reſolved in this caſe, which was, his Grantee ſhould take advantage of the Condition, although his Father could not, becauſe he had an expreſs Attornment, and was a compleat Grantee and Aſſignee within the ſaid Statute. Paſch. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part. Mallories Caſe.

5. In Covenant; the Caſe was, A. by Indenture demiſed Lands to B. for 7. years; B. by the ſame Indenture did covenant with A. his heirs and aſſigns, That he, his Executors and Adminiſtrators ſhould pay to A. and his Aſſigns 75 l. per annum: Afterwards A. demiſed the ſame Land to J. S. for life; who demiſed the Reverſion to J. D. for 40 years, if he ſo long lived; the Tenant attorned, and J. D. for Rent due brought an Action of Covenant: It was Reſolved, That this was a good reſervation of Rent, being by Indenture: and the words of the Indenture ſhall be accounted to be his, who may not properly ſpeak them: as it was adjudged in Whitchett and Fox's Caſe, where a man made a Leaſe for 99 years, rendring Rent; and the Leſſee Covenanted by the ſame Deed with the Leſſor, that he would not alien without his aſſent, without pain of forfeiture, and after he aliened: It was in that caſe holden, It was a Condition, although the Plaintiff did covenant; for being by Indenture, they ſhall be the words of them both. 2. In the principal caſe it was Reſolved, That the Aſſignee for 40 years might have Covenant; for it is for payment of Rent: and if the Leſſee Covenants to do any thing upon the Land, there Covenant will lye for the Aſſignee, both by the Common-Law, and alſo by the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Conditions, Mich. 8 Jac. in B.R. Dennis and Hannings Caſe, Owen 151.

6. Husband and Wife were ſeiſed of Lands to them and the Heirs of the husband, and lett the Lands to the Defendant, who covenanted with them and either of them, and with the heirs and aſſigns of the husband, to repair; the husband and wife conveyed the Reverſion to the Plaintiff, who brought an Action of Covenant, for not repairing as Aſſignee to the husband, and did not averr the wife to be dead: It was inſiſted upon, That the Plaintiff having Eſtate as well from the Wife (who had an Eſtate for life) as from him who had the Fee, the Action ſhould have been brought as Aſſignee to both, and not as Aſſignee to him who had the Inheritance; unleſs the wife had been averred to be dead. But it was holden by the Court, That the Action was well brought by the Aſſignee of him him who had the Inheritance, and ſo no prejudice to any, and that the eſtate for life being transferred with the Fee, was thereby drowned, ſo as he being Aſſignee of the whole Eſtate, it was good enough; adjudged for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 8. Attachment; and Attachment upon a Prohibition.

1. Where it lyeth; and for whom, and againſt whom, and for what Cauſe, and to whom it ſhall be directed; when to the Sheriff, when to the Party, and when to the Judge, in an Attachment upon a Prohibition.

1. IF a Writ of Right comes to the Lord of a Mannor, or to his Bayliffs to hold a Court, and to do Right unto the Demandant, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, and the Lord will not hold his Court; the Defendant may ſue forth a Writ directed to the Lord out of the Chancery: commanding him to hold his Court, and if he refuſe to do it, the Demandant may have an Attachment againſt the Lord, returnable into the Common-Pleas, or Kings Bench, and thereupon he ſhall recover his damages. And if the Demandant be delayed of Juſtice in the Lords Court, he may Sue forth a Writ to the Sheriff, commanding him to take with him four diſcreet Knights; to go to the Court of the Lord, to ſee that right be done to the party; And if the Sheriff refuſeth to do it, after an Alias and a Pluries; An Attachment will lye againſt the Sheriff. And ſo if the Plea be in the County Court, and the Sheriff doth delay to proceed therein, the Demandant may ſue forth a Writ directed to the Sheriff, to proceed in the plea to Judgment, and to do right, and upon that have an Alias Pluries, and Attachment againſt the Sheriff if he will not do accordingly. Fitz. Nat. Br. 12.

2 By the Statue of Articuli Cleri. chap. 6. No diſtreſſe is to be taken in the Glebe Land of the Parſon, by the Sheriff or other Officer. And by the Statute of Articuli ſuper Chartas. chap. 12. The Sheriff ought not to make any exceſſive diſtreſſe for the Kings Debt, nor diſtrein the Plough, or Chattel, if he can find any other, and if the party will find ſureties to pay the Kings Debt before the Return of the Writ, the Sheriff is to deliver back the Chattells. In the firſt Caſe; If the Parſon be diſtreyned by the Sheriff in his Glebe-Lands; or if in the ſecond Caſe, the Sheriff doth otherwiſe then is expreſſed in the Statute, the party grieved may have an Attachment againſt the Sheriff. Fitz. Nat. Br.

3 If the Tenants, or any of them, who hold of a Mannor in Ancient demeſne, be diſtreined to do their Lord other ſervices or Cuſtomes, then they or their Anceſtors have uſed to do, they may Sue a Writ of Monſtraverunt directed to the Lord, Commanding him not to diſtrein his Tenants for other Cuſtomes or Services; and if the Lord will not do it, and ſuffer the Tenants to be in peace: Then the Sheriff may charge the Lord, that he do not dimand, nor reſtrain them for other ſervices, then they ought to do, and in ſuch Caſe, if the Lord do yet diſtrain them, the Sheriff may take the power of the County; and command the Neighbours next to the Mannor that they do reſcous in ſuch Caſe. And if after ſuch Writ directed to the Sheriff, the Lord doth yet diſtrein them, An Attachment ſhall be Awarded againſt the Lord Returnable into the Common-Pleas, or Kings-Bench, for the Lord to Anſwer them for this his Contempt. But in ſuch Attachment, the Tenants muſt be named by their proper names. Plow. Com. 129. acc. See 40 E. 3. 44. acc.

4 In Debt upon a ſingle Bill, the Defendant pleaded payment; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and the Defendant was taken in Execution. And afterwards he brought an Audita Querela, and upon a ſingle Averment of payment by him, he was bayled out of Execution: The Plaintiff who had the Judgment, moved the Court to have remedy in this Caſe, for that ſuch a Plea of payment againſt a ſingle Bill, was no plea, but againſt Law: The Court was of opinion that no Audita Querela did lye in this Caſe. And the Court being informed that this baylment being out of Court, The Writ of Audita Querela ſhould be quaſhed, and the bail ſhould be taken off, and diſcharged, and the Defendant was taken in Execution again by the Rule of the Court, he being then preſent in Court; and an Attachment was Granted by the Court againſt the two Attornies who did proſecute this Audita Querela, and the Bailment for the Defendant. Tr. 9. Jac. in B. R. Torry and Addys Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. part. 140.

5 In an Ejectione firme to be tryed at the Bar, to delay, and put off the tryall; Infancy was Aſſigned and pleaded, but it was found by proof, by Oath, Oath, and by Examination of the Church-Book, that the party was of the age of 63 years, and ſo it appeared to the Court, that he was of full age, and that this was but a ſhift. And an Attachment was granted againſt him by the Court. Tr. 9. Jac. in B. R. Lowe and Thornton's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part. 67.

6 In a Scire facias, the Caſe was, A. had Judgment in Debt for 200 l. againſt B. C. the Bayl of B. payes part of the Debt, 65 l. being unable to ſatisfy the whole Judgment. A. upon this payment of 65 l. makes a Releaſe to C. of the whole Debt, Judgment and Execution, and acknowledges ſatisfaction and diſcharge of the whole Debt of 200 l. C. dyes. Afterwards A. ſues forth Execution again, upon the firſt Judgment againſt B. and ſo had B. the principall, again in Execution; The Court being acquainted with this; and B. the Principal having no remedy by Law to help himſelf, but by an Audita Querela; and the Releaſe made to C. the Bayl, being no wayes available to him for his remedy in this Caſe, being ſo full of Equity, granted an Attachment againſt A. who appeared, and notwithſtanding his Releaſe under his hand and Seal, ſaid he did never intend this Releaſe to be a full diſcharge of the whole Judgment; But the whole Court agreed that it was a good diſcharge of the whole; And that if the Bayl be once taken in Execution, he ſhall never after have execution for any part againſt the principall; and ſo if he have the Principall once in Execution, he ſhall never after reſort again to the Bayl; And therefore in this Caſe becauſe he ſued forth a Scire facias againſt the Principall after the death of the Bayl, and after his Releaſe to him, and after ſatisfaction acknowledged; the whole Court was clear of Opinion, That the proceedings were very bad, and undue, and done in contempt of the Court: and an Attachment was awarded againſt A. Paſc. 11. Jac. in B. R. Higgins and Somerlands Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part 68,

8 Upon an Affidavit made, That A. had Arreſted B. after a Verdict found for A. againſt B. to the intent that he may have him in cuſtody when the Judgment is entred againſt him, and for no other Cauſe, the Court held this to be an irregular courſe, and ought not to be; and therefore the Court Ruled; That an Attachment ſhould be Awarded againſt A. if he would not diſcharge B. of the Arreſt and Impriſonment; and in that Caſe; It was agreed, That if one take out a Latitat. againſt another, and hath no cauſe of Action againſt him; the party may have an Action upon the Caſe for it. Poſc. 1649. Lamb and Duffy's Caſe. Styles 211.

8 A. Arreſted P. by Latitat, taken out of the Upper Bench, in the County of Wilts, and thence carried him to the Town of Malborow, and there Arreſted him again by a Serjeant of that Town by a Writ out of that Corporation, and the Plaintiff proceeded there againſt him upon that Writ, and not upon the Latitat, upon which he was firſt Arreſted; It was holden by the Court to be a Contempt to the Court of Upper Bench; and thereupon an Attachment was granted againſt A. and alſo a Habeas Corpus to have the Body of B. cum cauſa. M. 1650. in B. R. Brian and Stones Caſe. Styles 239.

9 The Court of Upper Bench Ruled the poſſeſſion of certain Lands to the Plaintiff, the Defendant contrary to the Rule of the Court, diſturbed the Defendant to have the poſſeſſion, and thereupon the Plaintiff moved for an Attachment againſt the Defendant: It was holden by the Court, that for onely diſturbing his poſſeſſion, no Attachment is to be granted, but if he be put out of poſſeſſion, or if the parties Cattell were upon the Land, if they be driven off the Land, this is an Ouſting of the party of his poſſeſſion, for which an Attachment can be granted. Tr. 1651. Smith and the Earl of Dorſetts Caſe. Styles 277.

10 An Action of Waſt was brought, And an Eſtrepment was Awarded to the Sheriff to prohibit to make waſte, and the Sheriff returned the Writ executed: An Affidavit was made to the Court, that ſince the Eſtrepment, the Defendant had cut down certain Willowes, which grew upon the Bank of the River, by which the Bank fell down, and a Meadow was overflowed; and prayed an Attachment againſt the Defendant; The opinion of the Court was, that this cutting down of Willowes was waſte, becauſe they ſupport the Bank, as if they grew near a houſe; But the Court was of Opinion, Although this was waſte in Law; yet becauſe this appears only by an Affidavit, which is onely the Collection of the party, and doth not appear by pleading, nor by the Return of the Sheriff, that an Attachment ſhould not be Awarded in this Caſe. Tr. 19. Jac. in C. B. Sir George Strippings Caſe. Winch. 15, 16.

11 It was moved to the Court, for an Attachment againſt the Defendant, upon Affidavit, becauſe he had ejected one out of poſſeſſion, that was put into poſſeſſion by an Habere facias poſſeſſionem, and that he had Impriſoned the party ſo put out of poſſeſſion, and others; but becauſe it was ſeiſed by the other ſide; That the party came into the Land by vertue of an Eigne Judgment, and an Extent upon it, the Court would make no Rule in the Caſe. H. 1651. B. R. Foutane and Johnſon's Caſe. Styles 318.

12 Upon a Rule made by the Court, to ſhew Cauſe why an Attachment ſhould not be granted againſt an Attorney of the Court, and the Mayor of of Newberry for iſſuing out of Execution upon a Judgment given there after a Writ of Error brought, and allowed: It was ſhewed, that the Mayor was informed by Councel, that the Record was not removed thence, becauſe the Writ of Errour was not good; and this was allowed for a good cauſe for diſcharge of the Attachment. Hill. 1651. B. R. The Mayor of Newberyes Caſe. Styles 321.

13 A Rule was read on the Crowns ſide in the Upper Bench, for Staples a Juſtice of Peace to ſhew cauſe why an Attachment ſhould not be granted againſt him for proceeding upon an Endictment of Forcible Entry, and Fining the party, after a Certiorari was delivered to him to remove the Endictment: and Sir Thomas Styles, and Sir John Silueys Caſe. 8 Car. was vouched where an Attachment was granted in the like Caſe. It was ſaid by Rolls Chief Juſtice, That upon view of the force, the Juſtice of Peace may ſet a Fine upon the party, and refuſe to admit the party to a Traverſe, or his part, at his pleaſure; but it was not ſo in this caſe. and he ſaid that 15 Car. it was Reſolved, That if a Certiorari be brought to the Seſſions to remove an Endictment of Forcible Entry, preferred againſt divers perſons, if ſome of them come in and find Sureties for the damages, it is good for them all to remove the Endictment for the reſt, elſe it would be miſchievous for them to find the Sureties. The Rule was, That Staples ſhould be examined upon Interrogatives, and make Return of the Certiorari. and that he reſtore the Fine to the party. Mich. 1651. B. R. Staples's Caſe. Styles 359, 360.

14 One who was attending the Court to give Teſtimony as a Witneſſe in a Cauſe there to be heard, was Arreſted; a Superſedeas was granted to diſcharge him of the Arreſt, and an Attachment granted againſt the parties who Arreſted him for this contempt done to the Court. M. 1653. B. R. Cullins Caſe. Styles 395.

15 For a Prohibition to the Prerogative Court, the Caſe was, A. and B. being in Sute in the Prerogative Court, for Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods and Chattells of J. S. who died inteſtate, they agreed by conſent. That A. putting in Bond to perform the Decree of the Prerogative Court, ſhould have the Adminiſtration granted to him, Whereupon A. enters into Bond, and had Adminiſtration. Afterwards the Court made a Decree, That he ſhould diſtribute the Eſtate in ſuch and ſuch a manner; and for not performing this Decree, B. proceeded againſt him in the Prerogative Court, by way of Attachment: whereupon A. prayed a Prohibition. In this Caſe; Two points were Reſolved. 1. That the Prerogative Court could not grant an Attachment for not performing the Decree, although it was made by Conſent. 2. It was Reſolved that they could not, Order, or Decree ſuch a Diſtribution; and their giving of Adminiſtration upon the Bond given, doth abridge them from making of any Order, or Decree, to diſtribute the Eſtate; and for the confirmation of that point, two Preſidents were vouched: one 13 Jac. which, ſee Hob. 83. Slawnyes caſe Where Sir John Bennett, the Judge of the Prerogative, took Bond of Slawney upon granting of Adminiſtration, that the Adminiſtrator ſhould diſpoſe of the ſurpluſage of the goods after the Debts and Legacies paid according to the direction of that Court. In that Caſe it was reſolved, That whereas the Statute of 21 H. 8. appoints the Adminiſtration to be granted; yet it doth not give this vaſt power to the Ordinary, to give the Surpluſage where he will. The other Preſident was, Tr. 15. Jac. in the Common-Pleas, Tooker and Loanes Caſe. which ſee Hob. 191. where the Caſe was; That A. had iſſue the Plaintiffs, and John and Thomas, Thomas had iſſue nine Children, and John three, and were dead, the Children being Infants, The Adminiſtrators the Plaintiffs, upon their Accompts before Sir John Bennet, Judge of the Prerogative by his mediation, and not Judicially, were contented to make a Diſtribution of the Teſtators eſtate, per Capita, not per Stipites, at è converſo. Loane the Defendant being Curator ad Lites for the Infants, appealed to the Delegates; and a Prohibition in that Caſe was granted, becauſe the ordinary hath no power to make diſtribution of the Surpluſage nor to take Bond for it by the true meaning of the Statute of 21 H. 8. which intends a benefit to the Adminiſtrator, and not an unprofitable burthen. 1 Hill. 1654. in B. R. Cooke and Chamber's Caſe. Styles. 439.

16 Four perſons were ſerved with a Subpœna out of the Court of Upper Bench, to appear as Witneſſes for the Protector at a Tryall, upon an Endictment of Perjury, who did not appear, whereby the Tryall could not go on; the Rule of the Court was That an Attachment ſhould iſſue forth againſt them. Paſc. 1655. B. R. Styles 445.

17 A Rule was made by the Court, to ſhew Cauſe why an Attachment ſhould not iſſue forth againſt Commiſſioners of Sewers in Suffolk for ſetting a Fine upon one for not obeying their Orders. After a certiorari was delivered unto them to remove the Orders, made againſt the party; It was ſhewed for Cauſe; That the Fine ſet, was for diſobeying a new Order of theirs made againſt the party, after a Certiorari returned, and not for diſobeying the Orders, removed by the Certiorari, and ſo it was no contempt to the Court. The Opinion of Rolls Chief Juſtice was, That the Certiorari doth not remove the Cõmiſſion of Sewers, and therefore they may proceed upon the Cõmiſſion notwithſtanding ſtanding the Certiorari; The Rule for the Attachment was diſcharged. P. 1655. in B. R. The Lord Protector and Bruſters Caſe. Styles 445.

18 In an Attachment upon a Prohibition; the Caſe was; The Defendant Libelled in the Spiritual Court for Tythes in kind in the year 1610. A modus decimandi was pleaded, and thereupon a Prohibition was granted; Afterwards he Libelled there for Tythes in kind, in the year 1611. It was the clear Opinion of the whole Court, that if he Libelled the ſecond time, for thoſe Tythes in ſpecie, for which before he was prohibited, or if he thus Sueth again, an Attachment lyeth: But for other Tythes due for another year, he is not prohibited, but onely to Sue again for the ſame thing; but for any other Tythes, he is left at liberty to ſue for them; and ſo the Rule of the Court was, That if the Libell be for the ſame Tythes in the former prohibition, that an Attachment be granted for this his contempt. And it was alſo ſaid in this Caſe, That the party alſo might have his ſpecial Action upon the Caſe. And Cook Chief Juſtice ſaid, That he had ſeen a Record in Temp. Ed. 3. That if a Court do proceed contrary to a Prohibition, that not onely an Attachment ſhall be granted for the King, but a ſpecial Action upon the Caſe for the party, for this proſecution thus againſt him. For ubicunque eſt injuria, ibi damnum ſequitur, to the party, for which he ſhall have his Action upon the Caſe. And ſee Fitz. Nat. Br. 92 E. An Action of Treſpaſſe upon the Caſe brought by one having ſerved one with a Prohibition, and delivered the ſame to him, that he, illud Breve in Luto projecit et pedibus ſuis conculcavit, and contrary to it did proſecute his ſute in the ſpiritual Court; in contempt of the King, and to the damage of the party. M. 12. Jac. Downs and Hakesbyes Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part 289.

19 If the Biſhop holdeth plea of an Advowſon or of the fourth part, or of the third part thereof, the party ſhall have a Writ of Prohibition directed to the Biſhop himſelf; and the words of the Writ ſhall be, We forbid thee that thou follow not the plea in the Spiritual Court of the Advowſon of &c. Whereupon C. complaineth that thou draweſt him into the Court, &c. and if the Biſhop do follow it after the Writ cometh to him, an Attachment lyeth againſt the Biſhop. See Regiſtr. 33. 34. And ſee Pryn, Jus Patronatus, 23. In ſuch Caſe the Biſhop ſhall be fined for his contempt, and his temporalties ſeized into the Kings hands.

20 If the Biſhop cite or diſtrein any one to appear before him, to take an Oath at the Will of the Biſhop, againſt the will of him who is ſummoned or cited. An Attachment lyeth againſt the Biſhop, Ex quo ſequitur, That all thoſe generall citations which Biſhops make to cite men to appear before them pro ſalute Animæ, without expreſſing any cauſe, are againſt Law; and the party may have an Attachment againſt the Biſhop for the ſame, and may alſo in ſuch caſe, ſue a Prohibition; and if the Biſhop do expreſſe any cauſe in the Citation, it ought to be for ſome Matrimoniall, or Teſtamentary Cauſe. Fitz. Nat. Br. 41. acc.

21 A man granted Lands, parcell of his Manor to a Parſon in Fee, to be quit of Tythes by Deed, and the Parſon with the aſſent of the Ordinary, grants to him that he ſhall be quit of Tythes of his Manor, for that parcel of Land; If he or his Aſſigns be afterwards impleaded in the Spiritual Court, for the Tythes of his Mannor, or any parcell of the ſame, he and his Aſſigns may have a Prohibition upon that Deed; and if the Deed were made before time of Memory, and the party had ſo continued to be quitted of Tythes of his Mannor, the ſame is a reall compoſition, and ſhall bind the Parſon and his Succeſſors, and if the Parſon afterwards ſue for Tythes in kind in the Spiritual Court, a Prohibition will lye againſt him; and if notwithſtanding ſuch prohibition, he doth proceed in that Court, An Attachment doth lye againſt the Parſon. See Mich. 16. Jac. in C. B. Cowper and Andrews Caſe. Hob. 41, 42. acc.

Where an Attachment lyeth of Debts, or goods, by Cuſtome, where not. And where ſuch Attachment ſhall be good, Where not?

1. A Recovered againſt J. S. 60 l. in an Action upon the Caſe, upon a Promiſe. B. affirmed a Plaint of Debt in London againſt A. and afterwards Attached the 60 l. in the hands of J. S. and had execution according to the Cuſtome of London; A. ſued a Scire facias againſt J. S. who appeared, and pleaded the ſaid Execution by Attachment, upon which A did demur in Law; In that Caſe it was adjudged that it was no plea; for that a Duty which accrueth by matter of Record cannot be Attached by the Cuſtome of London; and although in the Caſe, The Cuſtome of London was layed generally in aliquo debito, and damages recovered are quoddam debitum; yet the Opinion of the Court was clear, That Judgments given in the Kings Courts, ought not, nor can by ſuch particular Cuſtomes be defeated and avoided;

ded: And the Court ſaid, It was ſo lately adjudged in a Weſtern Caſe, Damages were recovered, and the Sheriff by vertue of a Fieri facias levyed the mony, which one to whom the Plaintiff was endebted, did Attach by the Cuſtome, in the hands of the Sheriff, and it was adjudged that the Attachment was not good; for that the Cuſtome of Attachment cannot reach upon a thing of ſo high a nature as a Record is. Tr. 29. Eliz. in B. R. Floud and Sir John Perrots Caſe. Leon. 29.

2 B. of London was endebted to one A. of the ſame City; B. delivered goods to J. S. Carrier of Exeter, who uſed to carry for him certain Wares to be carried to Exeter to certain Tradeſmen there, the ſaid goods to be delivered to them, &c. And ſo the goods and Wares being in the poſſeſſion of the Carrier, A. cauſed them to be Attached in the hands of the Carrier, for the Debt of the ſaid B. the ſaid Carrier who was the Defendant in the Action, being then priviledged in the Common-Pleas by reaſon of an Action there depending; It was the clear Opinion of the whole Court, That the ſaid Attachment ought to be diſſolved; For the Carryer, for the reaſon aforeſaid, is priviledged in his perſon, and his goods, not onely in his own goods whereof the property belongs to him, but alſo in ſuch goods in his poſſeſſion, for which he is anſwerable to others: and ſo it was adjudged. Mich. 32 Eliz. in C. B. Edwards and Tidbury Caſe. Leon. 189.

3 A. did recover in Debt againſt B. whereupon a Scire facias iſſued to the Sheriff of Devon. The Defendant ſeeing the Writ of Execution in the Sheriffs hands, ſaid to him, that he would pay the debt recovered at Exeter ſuch a day to ſatisfy the Execution, at which day the Defendant paid the mony accordingly; and preſently came an Officer of the City of Exeter, and attached the Mony in the Sheriffs hands, ſuppoſing the ſaid A. to be endebted to one C. in whoſe name he made the attachment. A Certiorari was prayed on the behalf of A. to remove the Attachment; It was in this caſe holden by the whole Court, That the Attachment was void, and the Certiorari was granted. Wray. Chief Juſtice ſaid, If it can be proved by Oath, that the Defendant did procure, or was aſſenting to the ſaid Attachment, proceſſe of contempt ſhould iſſue forth againſt him; And the Opinion of the Court further was, That the Sheriff ought to anſwer the Plaintiff the monies which were once in his hands, by force of the Execution, and it was his folly to ſuffer the mony to be taken from him by force: And the Sheriff had his remedy by Action of Treſpaſſe againſt the party, for the Attachment was void, but the Sheriff at the Return of the Writ ought to anſwer the mony. M. 19 Eliz. in B. R. Leon. 246.

4 A. affirmed a Plaint in the Court of the City of Exeter againſt B. for 20 l. and upon Nihil returned, it was ſurmiſed, That J. S. had certain monies in his hands due to B. and according to the Cuſtome of the ſaid City, the ſaid monies were attached in the hands of the ſaid J. S. who appeared upon the Attachment, and pleaded, That he owed nothing to B. upon which there was a demurrer, and Judgment given againſt J. S. becauſe he ought to have pleaded not onely Nihil debet, but further, That he had not any goods of B. in his hands: whereupon J. S. brought Errour, and aſſigned the Error in the principal matter, upon which it was demurred, and Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiff, becauſe the Plea of J. S. (That he owed him nothing) is a good Plea, for if there be not a Debt, it is not Attachable upon ſuch Attachment, The Judgment given at Exeter was reverſed. Tr. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Mitchel and Hores Caſe. Leon. 321.

5 A Citizen of London was endicted to a Forreiner upon an Obligation, and the Forreiner was endebted to him upon a ſimple Contract; The Forreiner dyed, the Citizen upon Oath that his Debt was a due debt, had an Action againſt the Executor of the Forreiner, and upon four defaults recorded, he Attached the Debt in his own hands, upon ſurety found, that if the Executors, within a year and a day, could not diſprove the debt, nor reverſe the Judgment, that he ſhould be diſcharged of ſo much of the Debt which he owed upon the Obligation. It was demurred in Law; If this cuſtome did extend as well to Forreiners as to Citizens; which was not reſolved. But many exceptions were againſt the Plea; one, becauſe it was alledged, That the cuſtome was, that the Debt ought to be affirmed by the Oath of the party in Curia Guildhall; and in the plea, it was pleaded to be done in Curia Vic. in computatorio, ubi querela primo affirmatur et levat. fuit, et ubi judicium datum fuit; which Judgment alſo was, that the Plaintiff ſhould have Judgment of the Debt attached in his own hands, without any Judgment, quod ipſe recuperet debitum, &c. Afterwards upon mediation, the Caſe was agreed. Hill. 3. Eliz. Dyer. 199. Harwood and Lees Caſe.

6 A. was endebted to B. in 100 l. and W. was endebted to A. in 12 l. by Bill. A. dyed Inteſtate, the Ordinary granted Adminiſtration to J. S. After which, B. affirmed a Plaint in London againſt the Ordinary for the 100 l. and upon his ſuggeſtion and default of the Ordinary, (being returned Nihil habet) the 12 l. was attached in the hands of W. and after the 4th default of the Ordinary, being returned, Non eſt inventus; the Plaintiff recovered againſt W. Afterward, W. brought an Action of Debt in the Common-Pleas, as Adminiſtrator of A. for the 12 l. In bar of which, the Cuſtome of forrein Attachment in London was pleaded, upon which W. the Plaintiff demurred in Law: and becauſe it appeared by the plea above-ſaid, That no Action of debt did lye in the Caſe againſt the Ordinary after the Adminiſtration granted, nor any Action for the Ordinary againſt W. the debtor of the Inteſtate: the Plaintiff had Judgment to recover, notwithſtanding the pleading of the Attachment. Hill. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 247. Toſts Caſe.

7 In Detinue of two Gownes, the defandant ſaid, That a Plaint was affirmed in the Sheriffs Court againſt the Plaintiff by the Defendant, and that Attachment was of the two Gowns, being the Plaintiffs goods in the hands of the Defendant within the City, and becauſe the Plaintiff made four defaults which were recorded, the two Gowns were apprized at 22 s. by the Oath of two men, and then delivered to the now Defendant, at the price of 22 s. by pledge to render the two Gowns, or the price, if the Plaintiff did diſprove the Debt within one year after the Apprizement. The Plaintiff pleaded, there was no ſuch Record before the Sheriff; In that Caſe it was holden, That becauſe all the Records before the Mayor, Aldermen, and Sheriffs had, are Ore tenus; a Writ was directed to the Sheriff to certify, if there was any ſuch Record, or not. See Book Entries 207.

Attaint.

Where it lyeth, where not? and againſt whom it lyeth; and whom not? And What Pleas ſhall be good in barr of Attaint, What not?

1. A Writ of Attaint lyeth where falſe Verdict is given in a Court of Record, againſt the Plaintiff, or demand; or againſt the Defendant, or the Tenant, in a reall or perſonal Action; whether it be by Writ, or by Bill if the dury or damages do exceed 40 s. And ſuch Writ lyeth in the Kings Bench. See the Statute of 5 E. 3. cap. 6. See F. Nat. Br. acc.

2. Note, It was agreed by the Court; That an Attaint lyeth in an Aſſiſe of Freſh-force, brought in London: as it was ſaid to be holden in 44 Eliz. 3, 32. and ſo it was adjudged. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Wolſton Dixey, and Sir John Spencers Caſe. Goldsbr. 42.

3. If a man vouch in a Præcipe quod reddat, one who entreth on two Warrants; and pleadeth, and looſeth by falſe Verdict, he ſhall have an Attaint: And ſo if a man prayeth to be received upon the Default of Tenant for life, and he is received, and pleadeth, and looſeth by falſe Judgment, he ſhall have a Writ of Attaint. See 34. H. 6. 3. acc.

4. An Attaint was maintainable by him in the Reverſion, after the death of Tenant for life, upon a falſe Verdict given againſt the Tenant at the Common-Law; and now by the Statute of 1 R. 2. cap. 3. it is maintainable in the life of the Tenant. 4 H. 4. Dyer. 1. acc. See Coke 3. part. in the Marqueſſe of Wincheſter's Caſe. 5. acc.

5. A. brought an Attaint againſt Executors upon a Verdict given as a Quo minus in the Exchequer, brought by the Teſtator as Termor of the King, who held the Land; It was holden by the Court, that it well lyeth againſt Executors by the Equity of the Statute of 23 H. 8. For the Statute was made in mitigation of the rigour of the Common Law, and it was holden that it lyes againſt whomſoever hath the thing which was loſt: and in the principall Caſe, the Executors pleaded a Concord by the Teſtator for the intereſt of the Plaintiff made in London, in the Pariſh of Saint Faith's: upon which the Plaintiff did demur. The matter was afterwards ended by Arbitrament, and after the Darrein Continuance, the Plaintiff releaſed to the Defendants, and acknowledged the writing to be his Deed; and that was pleaded by the Defendants, and alſo by the Petit Jury in Arreſt of the Attaint. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 202. Auſtin and Baker's Caſe.

6. H. brought an Attainder upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. againſt B. upon a Verdict in an Aſſiſe; B. dyed, depending the Writ; It was holden that the Writ did not abate; Their Falſe Oath was Aſſigned in this, That 12. Jurati prima Inquiſitionis, dixerunt, quòd 40 Acr. terræ in Com. prædict. were not conteyned in the Letters Patents, made to J. S. and J. D. Anno. 35 H. 8. the Plaintiff averred, they were conteined. And the truth was; That the Letters Patents did miſrecite the name of the Town, and the name of the laſt Tenant; but the Court held, the ſame was helped by the Statute of 25 H. 8. of miſrecitall; and in this Caſe, the Juſtices of Aſſiſe would not permit mit the Statute to be given in evidence to the Jury in the Countrey; becauſe it was not pleaded. 3 Ma. Dyer. 139. Heydon and Ibgraves Caſe. See in Nedler, and the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe. Hill. 12 Jac. Hob. 227. acc.

7. Note, If the Jury find any thing that is meerly out of the Iſſue; ſuch a Verdict ſo found, is utterly void, and of no force, although it conclude in general, for or againſt the Plaintiff, or the Defendant. And the reaſon is, that the Jurors are Tryers of matters in Fact, put in iſſue between the parties, and their Oath is, that they ſhall truly try the Iſſue between party and party; ſo that whatſoever they do try beſides the Iſſue, is not per Juratos: And ſo if that extravagant matter or part of the Verdict be falſe, it is no perjury; nor doth Attaint lye upon it. See in Tr. 10. Jac. in C. B. in Foſter and Jacksons Caſe. Hob. 53. acc.

8. In Treſpaſſe againſt J. for breaking his houſe at D. and beating him, 1. Oct. 10. Jac. The Defendant pleaded, that he, together with one J. D. the time of the Treſpaſſe ſuppoſed, did joyntly break the Plaintiffs houſe, and beat him, and afterwards 13. Junii 11 Jac. the Plaintiff did releaſe to J. D. by his writing, all Actions, reall and perſonal, and averred, that the Treſpaſſe of which the Plaintiff complained, and that which he and J. D. did joyntly, was one and the ſame, et non alia nique diverſa: It was adjudged for the Defendant; for although a Treſpaſſe be joynt and ſeverall, that he may ſue either one or all, yet when two joyn in Treſpaſſe, they make but one Treſpaſſor, and either of them is anſwerable for his fellow's fact, as for himſelf; and therefore a Releaſe to one diſchargeth the whole Treſpaſſe; and againſt Joynt-Treſpaſſors there can be but one ſatisfaction; and therefore if one be ſued in one Action, though they may ſever in Pleas and Iſſues, yet one Jury ſhall aſſeſſe damages for all; And as to the damages, he that is no party to the Iſſue, ſhall have an Attaint aſwell as his fellow; and if they be ſued in ſeveral Actions, though the Plaintiff make choice of the beſt Advantage, yet when he taketh one ſatisfaction, he can take no more. Tr. 12. Jac. in C. B. Coke and Jenners Caſe. Hob 66.

9. The Court was moved for Judgment formerly ſtayed upon a Certificate made by a Baron of the Exchequer, that the Verdict paſſed againſt his Opinion. The Court held, That the Judgment ought not to be ſtayed; For that the party may have an Attaint againſt the Jury; and there is no other remedy at Law for him; and ſo Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. Mich. 24. Car. B. R. Slades Caſe. Styles 138.

10. Note, That an Attaint lyes not upon a falſe Verdict given in Caſes of Fellony. Cook 6. part. in the Caſe of Pardons, acc.

11. A. ſued an Attaint in London, upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. and proceſſe contained upon the ſaid Statute, and upon the Statute of 37 H. 8. chap. 5. The Judgment was given in the Exchequer, and before Execution: the Record was removed into the Bank by Certiorari: Notwithſtanding the Plaintiffs prayed Judgment, and had it; For the Juſtices ſaid, That an Attaint is not a Superſedeas, as a Writ of Errour is: Alſo they ſaid, That a Superſedeas doth not lye in an Attaint. Note in that Caſe, Becauſe by the ſaid Statute, the Enqueſt ſhall not be compellable to appear out of London, the Juſtices cauſed the Diſtringas to be returned at Guild-Hall; and there they ſate in the Mayor's Court; and a Verdict paſſed for the Plaintiff: but Judgment was reſpited, quia Curia aviſare vult. Hill. 7. Eliz. 6. Dyer. 81.

12. In Treſpaſſe the Plaintiff recovered by Verdict, the Defendant brought Attaint againſt the Plaintiff, and Pettit Jury, and one of the Pettit Jury pleaded an Accord, with ſatisfaction between the Plaintiff and Defendant, and it was holden a good plea; for the Writ of Attaint, is not onely grounded upon the Record, but upon the matter in Fact alſo; for the ſuppoſition of the falſity of the Oath, is matter of Fact: See Attaint brought upon a falſe Oath, in Appeal of Mayheim, one of the Pettit Jury pleaded Arbitrament between the Plaintiff and the Defendant, and holden a good barre. 13 Eliz. 41. 35 H. 6. 30. See Cook 6. part. 44. in Blakes Caſe.

13. If an Attaint be brought; and a Feoffment is made of the Land, the Attaint is extinct, and yet it is collaterall to the right of the Land, for by it no Land is demanded, but onely to reform the erronious proceedings ſc. the falſe Oath, but becauſe by that means, the poſſeſſion and Inheritance of the Land ſhall be removed and diveſted by the ſame; the Attaint is barred and extinct. See 38 Eliz. 3. 16. Cook 1. part. 111. in Albanes Caſe.

2. Where in Attaint, new Evidence ſhall be given, which was not given in the firſt Action; And where not.

1. IN an Attaint brought upon a Verdict given in a Writ of Entry ſur Diſſeiſin; The Will of J. S. was ſhewed in Evidence, in an old paper in writing; but was not proved by the Ordinary, nor any ſubſcription or ſeal to it; three Witneſſes were produced to prove the Will; two of them depoſed upon the Report of others; but the name of the third was ſubſcribed to the Will: and upon this Evidence it was found againſt the Plaintiff, and thereupon Attaint was brought. In this Caſe, two Points were Reſolved: 1. That a Will of Land deviſeable at the Common-Law, was good without a Deed; if it were but in a paper, proved to be the Deviſor's hand. And ſo was it adjudged in the like Caſe, Mich. 12 Jac. in Cancell. in the Caſe between Gage and the Company of Fiſhmongers of London, of Mr. Goddards Will, who by a Paper under his hand written, not ſealed nor ſubſcribed, but proved by Witneſſes to be his hand-writing, of Lands in Bray, to the ſaid Corporation and their Succeſſours, for the building of an Hoſpital, for giving Lands for the maintenance of poor people. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Plaintiff in an Attaint, may not produce more Witneſſes, nor give further matter in Evidence; nor the Witneſſes depoſe other matter than they depoſed in the firſt Action; but it was otherwiſe for the Defendants. 3. That the Jury ought to find according to the Evidence in the firſt Action, if it were pregnant, although it be falſe. Trinit. 34 H. 8. Dyer 59. Roll and Hampdens Caſe. See 3 Eliz. Dyer 201. and Trin. 13 Eliz. Dyer 302. in Chenyes Caſe, adjudged acc.

2. Note: It was holden by the Court, That the Defendant in an Attaint may give new matter in Evidence to enforce the firſt Verdict; and the Plaintiff ſhall have time to diſprove it: but the Plaintiff may not give new Evidence, nor enforce the firſt by new matter diſcloſed. Paſch. 4 Eliz. Dyer 202. Paramours Caſe.

3. In an Aſſiſe, Iſſue was taken, Whether Lands were contained in Letters-Patents, or no, which by the Common-Law were not contained, but by the Statute of 4 H. 8. were contained: The Juſtices would not ſuffer that Statute to be given in Evidence, not being pleaded; Whereupon the Jury found, That the Land was not contained; and thereupon an Attaint was brought; and the Court would not ſuffer that Statute to be given in Evidence to the Grand-Jury, which was not given in Evidence to the Petty-Jury, 3 Ma. Dyer. 129. vouch. in Needler and the Biſhop of Wincheſter's Caſe. Hob. 227.

4. An Enfant brought an Aſſiſe in the Kings-Bench for Lands in Midd. depending which, the Tenant in the ſame Aſſiſe brought an Aſſiſe of the ſame Land in C. B. which laſt Writ bore date, and was returnable after the firſt Writ: The demandant in the laſt Writ did recover againſt the Enfant by default; the Seiſin and Diſſeiſin was found by the Aſſiſe. Upon plea in barr of the firſt Aſſiſe of that Recovery, the Enfant ſet forth all this ſpecial matter: In this caſe, in regard the Enfant could not have Attaint, becauſe the Judgment in C. B. was not onely given upon the default, but alſo upon the Verdict: and becauſe it ſhould be in vain for him to bring an Attaint, becauſe he ſhall not be admitted to give other Evidence, then was given at the firſt Tryal; It was holden by the whole Court, That he might falſifie the Recovery: For it was ſaid, That in all caſes where a man ſhall not have Errour, nor Attaint, he might falſifie. Hill. 15 Jac. in B. R. Platts Caſe, Godbol. 271.

3. Where Attaint lyeth upon a falſe Verdict in aſſeſſing exceſsive Damages; And where it lyeth before Execution be ſued forth: Where well brought; et è contra.

1. IF a man recover in a Precipe quod reddat, againſt a Tenant by falſe Verdict, It was a doubt, Whether the Tenant might have an Attaint before execution were ſued out againſt him. But now, by the Statute of 1 E. 3. a man ſhall have an Attaint of Damages before Execution ſued againſt him. And ſee Temps. E. 1. Fitz. Attaint. In the time of E. 1. the Defendant ſued forth an Attaint for damages upon a falſe Verdict given againſt him in a Writ of Treſpaſs, before the Plaintiff ſued Execution of the damages: And if the Tenant ſhall not have an Attaint before Execution ſued, or Entry made by the demandant or his heirs, then perhaps they will not enter till the Jurours be dead, and then the Tenant ſhall be without remedy by Attaint. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 34 H. 6. 13. See 5 H. 7. 12. And ſee 7 E. 6. Dyer 81. Attaint is no ſuperſedeas, nor doth ſuperſedeas lye in Attaint.

2. In

2. In a Writ de valore Maritagii, Iſſue was joyned upon the Tenure; and it was found for the Plaintiff; and the Jury aſſeſſed Damages and Coſts, but did not enquire of the value of the marriage: It was reſolved in this Caſe, That the Verdict was inſufficient; and that the omiſſion of the value of the marriage, ſhould not be ſupplyed by a Writ of Enquiry of damages; for that ſhould prevent the party of his remedy by Attaint. But in that caſe it was Reſolved, That when the Court ex Officio ought to enquire of any thing, upon which no Attaint lyeth; then the omiſſion of that may be ſupplyed by a Writ of Enquiry of Damages; as in a Quare Impedit, to enquire of of the four points; for of them no Attaint lyeth. Cook. 10. Part, 119. Cheneys Caſe.

3. In Aſſiſe againſt three Coparceners, they pleaded by Bayliff, That there was no Tenant of the Freehold named in the Writ. And it was found, That two of them were Diſſeiſors and Tenants, and that the third had nothing; and afterwards, the three Coparceners brought an Attaint; and after appearance, the third ſiſter who was acquit, was Nonſuit: By the Rule of the Court, the Writ did abate: and the reaſon was, becauſe the third Coparcener had not any cauſe of Attaint, becauſe no Verdict paſſed againſt her. See, in a Writ of Errour to reverſe a Fine levied by an Enfant within age, the Caſe was, That husband and wife were Tenants for life, the remainder to an Enfant in Fee; they levied a Fine; and the Enfant onely brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe the Fine. It was Objected, That they all three ought to joyn in the Writ of Errour. But it was holden, That the Writ was well brought, for that the Enfant was onely grieved by the Fine, and the husband and wife had no cauſe of Action. Like to the caſe of 35 H. 6. In Conſpiracy againſt many; It was found for the Plaintiff; and one of the Defendants brought an Attaint, and aſſigned the falſe Oath in omnibus quæ dixerunt; but afterwards abridged the Aſſignment of the falſe Oath as to the damages: and ſo the Attaint did well lye. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Pigott and Harringtons Caſe, Leon. 317.

4. Debt was brought upon a Bond; the Condition of which was, for the performance of Covenants and Grants in an Indenture; And in the Indenture it is recited, That in Conſideration that the Plaintiff ſhould build a Mill upon the Lands demiſed by the Defendant to the Plaintiff, and a Water-Courſe; the Defendant Leaſed the Land to the Plaintiff, and the Leaſe was by the words, Dedi et Conceſſi: The Plaintiff aſſigned the breach; for that the Defendant had ſtopped the Water-Courſe made by the Plaintiff; upon which they were at Iſſue: and it was found for the Plaintiff. The Defendant brought an Attaint, and the falſe Oath was found. It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, There was no Iſſue, and then by Conſequence no Verdict, and then no falſe Oath, and then no cauſe of Attaint; for the Iſſue is taken upon the ſtopping of the Water, which is no cauſe of Action upon the parties own ſhewing; for there is not any expreſs Covenant or Agreement in the Indenture, that the Leſſee ſhould enjoy the Water-Courſe ſo made; and in this caſe, the Covenant doth not extend to any thing which was not in eſſe at the time of the Covenant made; alſo becauſe the Plaintiff in the Attaint, might have alledged the matter in Arreſt of Judgment, he ſhall not be helped by Attaint: Alſo it was ſaid, That it doth not appear in this caſe, that Execution had been ſued, and then there is no party grieved: and then the Action being brought upon the Statute of 23 H. 8. Cap. 3. which gives Attaint to the party grieved, doth not lye; for a party grieved cannot be intended without Execution ſued. But to that, it was anſwered and reſolved, That by the Statute of 1 E. 3. The Juſtices ſhall not leave to take an Attaint for the damages not paid; ſo as before that Statute, no Attaint lay before Execution. And laſtly, It was ſaid, That Attaint did not lye in this caſe, for that the Plaintiff in the Attaint hath not purſued the Statute: For the Statute gives ſpeciall proceſs in this caſe againſt the Petty-Jury, Grand-Jury, and the Party, viz. Summons, Re-Summons, and Diſtreſs infinite: but the Plaintiff in the principal caſe hath ſued otherwiſe; which is againſt the direction of the Statute: And this was holden by the Court to be a material Exception againſt the Attaint brought. And as to the matter of the Execution, Quære if the Plaintiff be not pars gravata onely; in that he is ſubject to the Judgment, and ſo lyable to Execution. It was not Reſolved, Hill. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Huddy and Fellers Caſe, Leon. 278.

4. Where Attaint is brought in the Common-Pleas, where in the Kings-Bench; And where it followes the Nature of the firſt Action: And what Pleas, the Petty-Jury ſhall have therein, what not.

1. A Writ of Certiorari was directed to the Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, to remove a Record; whereupon a Verdict paſſed by Niſi Prius; and now an Attaint was brought brought in the Kings-Bench upon that Verdict. But the Writ was not allowed; for it was ſaid, That no Preſident could be ſhewed of ſuch Writ brought: But a Certiorari was awarded out of the the Kings-Bench, to remove the very Record of a Fine after Errour adjudged upon the Tranſcript, to the intent to take the Fine off the File and to cancel it in the Kings-Bench: and ſuch Certiorari was allowed of by the Court. Paſch. 10 Eliz. Dyer 274.

2. In Attaint, the parties, and Petty-Jury appeared; and demanded Oyer of the Record upon which the Attaint iſſued, and the Record and Verdict being in the Common-Pleas, they had it; and upon it, the Plaintiff aſſigned the falſe Oath. The Defendants pleaded, That they made a good and lawful Oath; upon which, they were at Iſſue: and the ſame Term the Record was removed by Errour into the Kings-Bench; and there the Plea remained undetermined. It was adjudged in this caſe, That notwithſtanding that the Record was removed into the Kings-Bench: yet the Court might proceed, if the proceſs againſt the Grand-Jury were returned. Paſch. 11 Eliz. in C. B. Dyer 284.

3. Errour was brought in C.B. upon Judgment given before Juſtices of Aſſiſe in the County of Monmouth: See there, divers Caſes vouched of the Juriſdiction of the Common-Pleas to hold plea of Errour, or Attaint upon falſe Oath, in other Courts, and to write to other Courts to have the Record certified to try a thing depending before them. Paſch. 8 Eliz. Dyer 250.

4. In a Replevin againſt ſix, the one avowed, and the other four made Conuſans as Bayliffs to the firſt, for an Amercement for the breaking of a By-law in a Leet; and Judgment was given againſt them, Damages and Coſts; the ſix brought a Writ of Errour: The Defendant pleaded the Releaſe of one of the five in barr; upon which the Plaintiff demurred: It was Objected, That it foundeth in the perſonalty, and no ſummons nor ſeverance lyeth: and therefore the Releaſe of one, ſhall barr all the other: And the Writ of Errour, and Attaint, ſhall follow the nature of the Action upon which they are grounded; viz. If Summons and ſeverance lyeth in the firſt Action, it ſhall alſo lye in the Attaint, or Writ of Errour: But it was Reſolved in the principal caſe, becauſe the Law doth compell the Defendants to joyn in a Writ of Errour, to reap no benefit, but to diſcharge themſelves of a charge impoſed upon them; that the Releaſe of the one ſhould not barr the other: and there the caſe of 35 H. 6. 19. was put and agreed, That if damages are recovered againſt divers in a Writ of Conſpiracy; that all of them ought to joyn in an Attaint; and the Nonſuit of the one ſhall not hurt the other. Cook. 6. Part. 25. Rad. docks Caſe.

5. In Attaint upon a Writ of Treſpaſs, Concord pleaded by one of the Petty-Jury, between the Plaintiff in the Attaint, and the Defendant, is a good plea: and ſo it was holden in 13 E. 4. that in all Actions founded upon a Wrong, as Treſpaſs, Conſpiracy, Maintenance, and the like, where nothing certain is in demand, nor any thing to be recovered but damages, Concord is a good plea, 7 E. 6. Dyer 75. See 3 Eliz. Dyer. 201. Auſtin and Bakers Caſe, before, acc. Where the Petty-Jury pleaded the general Iſſue, and the Executors pleaded a Concord.

6. Debt was brought by Executors upon an Obligation made by the Teſtator; The Defendant pleaded in barre, a Recovery by the Teſtator in his life-time; upon which a Writ of Errour was brought in the Kings-Bench, and there yet remained, the firſt Judgment not ſatisfied. It was Objected, That it ſhould be againſt reaſon to enforce the Plaintiff to ſue Execution upon the firſt Judgment; for that perhaps he knoweth that the ſame is erronious, or that he hath recovered by falſe Oath. In which caſes, the Judgment is reverſeable by Errour, or Attaint; and therefore if he ſhould ſue Execution, it ſhould be in vain; for he ought to reſtore (when the Judgment is reverſed) all that which he hath received: And to that purpoſe, the Caſe of 17 E. 3. 24. was vouched: Where Devon brought Debt upon an Obligation of 20 l. againſt Scott, who pleaded, That the Plaintiff before the Mayor and Bayliffs of Newcaſtle by Plaint upon the Bond, recovered, and had Execution; and there becauſe the Defendant did not procure the Bond to be damned, the Plaintiff had Judgment to recover again notwithſtanding the former Judgment and Execution. But it was adjudged in the principal caſe, That as long as the Judgment did remain in force, the Plaintiffs could not have a new Action upon the ſame Bond: For when a man hath a Debt upon an Obligation, and by Courſe of Law hath Judgment upon the Contract by ſpecialty, which is of inferiour nature, it is by Judgment of Law changed into a matter of Record, which is of higher nature: and if he who recovereth may have a new Action and a new Judgment; he might have infinite Actions and Judgments to a perpetual vexation of the Defendant, et infinitum in Jure reprobatur. And in this caſe it was ſaid, That in ancient time it was holden, That when a man did recover upon an Obligation, the Judgment ſhou'd be, That the Obligation be damned: and that was the reaſon of the Caſe in 17 E. 3. That the Action did lye, becauſe it was the Defendants folly, that the Bond was not damned:

ed: But now, ſince Attaints, and Writs of Errour, are ſo frequent, the Judges thought it dangerous to cancel the Deed, either where the Plaintiff recovered, or where he was barred by Judgment; for that in both caſes, the Judgment might be reverſed by Errour, or Attaint; and therefore the reaſon of the Cauſe of the ſaid Judgment in 17 E. 3. is now changed, Mich. 3 Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part. 45. Higgins Caſe.

Attainder.

Where the heir ſhall inherit, notwithſtanding the Attainder of his Anceſtor; where, not.

1. LAnd was given to husband and Wife in ſpecial taile; they have Iſſue; the husband is attainted of Treaſon, and dyeth; the wife continues in as Tenant in taile; the Iſſue is reſtored by Parliament, and made inheritable to his Father, ſaving to the King all Advantages which were devolved to him by the Attainder of his Father; the Wife dyeth: It was conceived in this caſe, That the Iſſue was inheritable; for the Attainder which diſturbed the Inheritance, is removed, and the blood is reſtored, and nothing can accrue to the King; for the Father had not any Eſtate forfeitable, but all the Eſtate did ſurvive to the Wife not impeachable by the ſaid Attainder; and when the Wife dyeth, then is the Iſſue capable to inherit the Eſtate taile. Some of the Juſtices doubted of the Caſe; yet they all agreed, That if the wife had ſuffered a Common Recovery, the ſame had bound the King. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 157.

2. If the Principal be erroniouſly attainted, either for Errour in the Proceſs, or becauſe he is out of the Realm, he is Out-lawed; or that he was in priſon at the time of the Outlawry; yet the Acceſſary ſhall be attainted; for that the Attainder of the Principal ſtands good, untill it be reverſed: and ſo it was Reſolved, 2 R. 3. 12. by all the Juſtices, and 18 E. 4. 9. where the Caſe was, The Principal was erroniouſly Outlawed for Felony; and the Acceſſary taken, indicted, arraigned, convicted, attainted, and hanged; and afterwards the Principal did reverſe the Outlawry, and was Indicted and arraigned of the ſaid Felony, and found Not-guilty; for which he was acquitted. It was then demanded in ſuch caſe, forasmuch as there cannot be an Acceſſary, if there be not a Principal, (and in ſuch caſe there is no Principal) how the heir of the Acceſſary ſhould be reſtored to his Lands which his Father had forfeited by the ſaid unjuſt Attainder? To that it was anſwered, That the Heir may enter, or bring his Action; for now upon the matter by Act of Law, the Attainder againſt the Father is without any Writ of Errour annulled; for by the reverſing of the Outlawry againſt the Principal, the Attainder of the Acceſſary, which dependeth upon the Attainder of the Principal, is now ipſo facto defeated and void: And this appeareth in the old Book of Caſes, E. 1. Mortdaunceſtor, 46. where the Caſe was; A. was indicted of Felony, and B. of the Receipt of A: A. was Outlawed; B. was taken, and put himſelf to tryal, and found guilty; for which B. was attainted and hanged; the Lord entred as into his Eſcheate: and afterwards A. came and reverſed the Outlawry, and pleaded to the Felony, and was found, Not guilty, and was acquitted. Whereupon the heir of B. brought Mortdaunceſtor againſt the Lord by Eſcheat, who came and ſhewed all the ſpecial matter; and upon a Demurrer, It was Ruled, That the Heir of B. ſhould recover Seiſin of the Land; for if B. were alive, he ſhould go free by the acquittal of A. becauſe he cannot be a Receiver of a Felon, when A. is no Felon. Cook 9. Part. 119. in the Lord Sanchers Caſe.

3. Note: It is ſaid in Cook 8. part, 166. in Digbies Caſe, If Tenant in taile of the guift of the King to hold by Knights ſervice in Capite, had been Attainted of Treaſon before the Statute of 26 H. 8. and had dyed, his ſon within age, that in that caſe, although the blood was corrupted; yet becauſe in that caſe by force of the Statute of Donis Conditionalibus, the Land, notwithſtanding ſuch Attainder, doth diſcend to the ſon, that he ſhould be in Ward to the King, becauſe he is a ſpecial heir; and in proof of that, the Caſe of 7 H. 4. the Caſe of Holland Earl of Kent was put, where the Caſe was: King Rich. 2. did grant divers Mannors to Tho. Holland, Earl of Kent, to him and the heirs of his body; the ſaid Earl, 1 H. 4. levied Warr againſt the King, and committing that Treaſon, was killed without Judgment, his heir within age. Afterwards Tho. Earl of Kent was attainted by Parliament; and Ordained it was by Parliament, That all his Lands in Fee-ſimple ſhould be forfeited: The King ſeiſed the ſaid Mannors; and they were in the Kings hands during the Non-age of Edward ſon of the Earl, who at his full age ſued a Writ of Mandamus out of the Chancery, by which the ſaid Guift, Tenure, and that the ſaid Edward was heir per formam doni, was found: whereupon he came and prayed his Livery. It was there Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That in that caſe the ſon ſhould be in Ward: and although that the King

King ſeiſeth as for forfeiture of Treaſon; yet when the King is in poſſeſſion, the Law will adjudge him in, by reaſon of Wardſhip, becauſe the ſame is his beſt right, for that the Law doth reſpect more a ſmall eſtate during the minority of the Iſſue by Right, then an Eſtate of Fee-ſimple by Wrong: and in that caſe it was agreed, That if there be Grandfather, Father, and Son, and the Grandfather is Tenant in taile, and the Father is attainted of Treaſon, and dyeth ſeiſed, although that the blood be corrupt; yet the Land ſhall diſcend to the ſon per formam Doni. And Note, now ſince the Statute of 26 H. 8. which gives the Forfeiture of the Lands of Tenant in taile for Treaſon, the Law is otherwiſe; and that by the Attainder, the Iſſue is barred. See Cook 8. Part, in Digbies Caſe. See Cook. 3. Part. 10. the Lord Lumleys Caſe, vouched in Dowties Caſe, &c.

4. At the Parliament, 39 Eliz. the Caſe was thus: The Grandfather was ſummoned to Parliament by Writ: Afterwards, the Father by Parl. was diſabled to claime any Dignity or Lordſhip in any Right, Eſtate, &c. by Diſcent, Remainder, or otherwiſe: Afterwards, the Father was called to another Parliament by Writ of Summons, and dyed: The Queſtion then was, Whether the ſon ſhould be reſtored to the Seat of the Grandfather? And it was Reſolved, 1. That he ſhould be reſtored to the Seat of his Grandfather; and the difference was taken between a Diſability which was Perſonal and Temporary, and a Diſability which is abſolute and perpetual. As if one be attainted of Felony, Treaſon; The ſame is a perpetual diſability by corruption of the blood, to claim by the heir any hereditament in Fee, as Ceſin and heir to him, or unto any heir paramount him. But when one is diſabled onely by Parliament, (without any Attainder) to claim any dignity for his Life; the ſame is a perſonal diſability for life onely, and his heir after his death may claim as heir to him, or to any other Auncеſtor paramount him. 2. Reſolved, That the acceptance in that caſe of the new Creation by the Father, ſhould not hurt the ſon, becauſe that the Father at that time was diſabled, and was not a Baron, but an Eſquire; ſo as when the Ancient and New Dignity diſcended to the ſon together, the old ſhould be preferred. Cook 7. Part. 1. The Lord De la Wares Caſe.

5. In a Writ of Errour to reverſe a Judgment given in a Monſtrans de Droit in the Court of Exchequer: the Caſe was this; 17 E. 2. John de malo Lacu, gave to Peter de malo Lacu, and the heirs of his body, the Caſtle and Mannor of Mulgrave; which by many mean Diſcents came to Sir Ralph Bigod. Sir Ralph, 6 H. 8. made a Feoffment to William Fwer and others, to the uſe of his laſt Will, and dyed; and the Right of the Land, together with the entaile, the uſe alſo after the Will performed, diſcended to Sir Francis Bigod. 21 H. 8. Sir Francis made a Feoffment to J. S. and others, to the uſe of himſelf and Katherine his Wife, and the heirs of their two bodies, and they had Iſſue Ralph Bigod and Dorothy. The Statute of 26 H. 8. Cap. 13. of forfeiture for Treaſon, is made, 29 H. 8. Sir Francis Bigod was Attainted of High Treaſon, and was executed 31 H. 8. there was a ſpecial Act of Attainder of Sir Francis Bigod, and his forfeiture amongſt other things is made. 6 Eliz. Ralph Bigod ſon of Francis and Katherine was reſtored in blood by Parliament, and dyed without iſſue: Dorothy married Roger Ratcliff and they have Iſſue Francis Ratcliff. 8 Eliz. Katherine dyed, and Francis Ratcliff entred. 33 Eliz. an Office was found for the Queen. 34 Eliz. Francis Ratcliff dyed, having Iſſue Roger Ratcliff. 34 Eliz. the Queen by Letters Patents granted the Caſtle and Mannor of Mulgrave to Edmond Lord Sheffield, and the heirs males of his body. Roger Ratcliff upon his whole matter ſued his Monſtrans de Droit in the Exchequer, and had Judgment for him: Whereupon a Writ of Errour was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber; and whether the ſaid Judgment ought to be reverſed or affirmed, was the Queſtion? There were many Points in this caſe, 1. Whether Francis Bigod, who had an Eſtate taile in poſſeſſion, had alſo any right of the old entaile veſted in him at the time of his Attainder? or whether it were in abeyance? 2. Whether this Right did accrue to the King by the Attainder. 3. Whether there were a Remitter in the Caſe after the Attainder? and when the Remitter begun, how, and to whom. 4. If there were a Remitter, whether it were not over-reached and removed by the Office found: After many long Arguments by all the Judges, in the Exchequer-Chamber, the greater part being againſt Ratcliff, who had the former Judgment, It was Reſolved and adjudged; 1. That there was a Right of a Remainder which did remain in Francis Bigod after his Attainder. 2. That this Right of Remainder was not in Abeyance, but was given to the King by the Statute of 25 H. 8. and the ſpeciall Act of 31 H. 8. of Attainder of Sir Francis Bigod. 3. That there was no Remitter in the Caſe. And thereupon Judgment was given, That the firſt Judgment ſhould be reverſed; and the now Earl of Mulgrave holdeth the ſaid Caſtle and Mannor of Mulgrave according to the ſaid Judgment. See this Caſe at large notably argued: which was Entred in the Exchequer, 13 Jac. Rott. 96, and was argued in the Exchequer-Chamber. Paſch. 21 Jac. in Hob. 334. to 345. and in Godbolt 300. to 326.

6. Note; It was ſaid by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, If a woman hath cauſe of entry upon the diſcontinuance of her husband; or the Diſſeiſee upon the heir of the Diſſeiſor, and then attainted of Treaſon, That the King upon the Statute of 33 H. 8. of Treaſon, may upon Office ſeiſe thoſe Lands by force of the words of that Statute, that gives the King all Rights of Entry; of which ſort this is, and which hath not the miſchiefs that the Marqueſs of Winchesters Caſe in Cooks Reports ſpeaks of: though it be true, That if the Wife will take an Action, it muſt be a Cui in vita at the leaſt; and the Diſſeiſee, an Entry ſur Diſſeiſin, which the King cannot have. Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. in the Lord Stanhope and the Biſhop of Lincolns Caſe, Hob. 243.

7. Husband and Wife Joynt-Tenants of a Manor, and to the heirs of the body of the Husband, the remainder to B. in taile, a Recovery is had in a Writ of Entry in the Poſt againſt the husband only in the life of the Wife with voucher: B. in Remainder is attainted of Treaſon, and executed; and afterwards by Parliament it is enacted, That he ſhall forfeit all ſuch Mannor, Lands, Tenements, Rents, Reverſions, Remainders, Uſes, Poſſeſſions, Offices, Rights, Conditions, and other Inheritances, which he hath or ought to have in Fee, on in taile, in uſe or poſſeſſion, the day of the Treaſon committed: Afterwards the husband dyeth without Iſſue of his body, the wife dyeth; The Queen grants to C. the ſon of B. and reſtores him to the ſame Mannor which ſhe had by the Attainder; and afterwards, the Queen brought a Writ of Errour againſt the heir of the Survivor Recoverer, to reverſe the Recovery. It was Reſolved in that caſe, That the Writ of Errour was not given to the King by any words in the ſaid Act of Attainder, becauſe the Tenant is in by title, and the entry of the perſon attainted, was not lawful; and a Right of Action is not given to the King by any of the ſaid words. For a Rule was taken, That ſuch a Right for which the party hath no remedy but by Action to recover, the Land could not Eſcheat, or be forfeited by the Common-Law: And by the general words of Attainder, Rights of Actions were never given to the King, but rights of Entries. Cook. 3. Part. 1. the Marqueſs of Winchesters Caſe.

Attorney.

Who, where, when, and in what Courts, and in what Actions, Cauſes, or Suits a man may make Attorney; What things may be done by Attorney; and how the Attorney muſt Iſſue his Warrant: What Priviledges he hath, and how he ought to demean himſelf in his place.

1. BEfore the Statutes which grant, That a man may make an Attorney, &c. The Juſtices would not ſuffer the Plaintiff or Defendant, or the Demandant or Tenant, to make an Attorney in any Suit, or in any Court, &c. becauſe the words of the Writ Command the Defendant to appear, which is to be intended in his proper perſon: And at this day a mans reall Suit at a Leet, or at the Sheriff's Turn, cannot be done by Attorney, but ought to be done in proper perſon: But yet, before the Statutes, the King by his Prerogative by his Letters Patents, might have granted to a man to make Attorney, in every Action or Suit, as well to the Defendant and Tenant, as to the Plaintiff or Demandant: and the Courſe then was, That the King directed his Writ to the Juſtices of the Courts, to receive ſuch perſons as Attorneys, in ſuch Suits or Actions. Fitzh. Na. Br. 25. acc. And ſee to that purpoſe, The Writ de Attornato faciendo et recipiendo, which lay where a man ought to do Suit at the County, or at the Hundred or Wapentake, or other Courts, with Writs. See Fitzh. Na. Br. 156, 157. And the Tenant might make a Patent to his Attorney, to do ſuch Suit at ſuch Court, or at the Lords Court, And if the Steward, Bayliffs, or the Sheriffs, did refuſe ſuch Attorneys after an Aliàs or Pluries, an Attachment did lye againſt them. Fitzh. Na. Br. 158. But now at this day, by the Statutes of Merton, Cap. 10. Weſt. 2. Cap. 10. 7 R. 2. Cap. 14. 4 H. 4. Cap. 18. 7 H. 4. Cap. 13. (all which, ſee in Raſtalls Abridgments of the Statutes) and by divers other Statutes ſince made, a man may make an Attorney, to appear in Actions both in the Courts of Records; as alſo in other Inferiour Courts. See Cook 6. Part. 58. Beechers Caſe, acc.

2. A Quid Juris clamat was brought againſt Eliz. Turton; ſhe ſued forth a Dedimus poteſtatem, with a ſuppoſal that ſhe ought not to anſwer, becauſe ſhe was Tenant in taile; and with this ſug-geſtion, That ſhe was ſo weak and aged, that ſhe could not travel to the Common-Pleas to plead it, The Dedimus was directed to Saunders, Chief Juſtice, to repair to her, and to receive an Attorney to appear for her; which was allowed by the Opinion of the whole Court: although it was ſaid, It was rare in ſuch caſe: And Preſidents were ſhewed, Where ſuch Writ did lye to receive Attornment of a Recluſe; and for a woman which was with child. 4 Ma. Dyer 136. See the like Writ of Dedimus Poteſtatem in a Quid juris clamat, brought by Flowerdew againſt Cook and his Wife, ad recipiend. Cognitionem et juſtificand. attornament. directed to Robert Catlin Knight, Chief Juſtice, which was returned executed. Mich. 3 & 4 Eliz. where the Court would adviſe of it. Dyer. 136.

3. In an Audita Querela, brought by Richard Putnam againſt his younger brother George Putnam, the Juſtices were commanded by Writ, that vocatis coram ipſis partibus prædict. fieri faceret quod de jure et ſecundum Legem foret faciend. They awarded a Venire facias out of the Common-Pleas, againſt George Putnam, ad reſpondend. &c. to which Writ, the Parties appeared by their Attorneys; and good. Mich. 13 Eliz. Dyer. 297.

4. John Verney made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf and Dorothy his Wife, and to the heirs of their two bodies, the remainder to the right heirs of the husband; they had Iſſue Mary, and the husband dyed: Dorothy ſold the Land in Fee; Mary and R. her husband joyned in a Fine in confirmation of the Eſtate; and Mary dyed without Iſſue. Now R. and Dorothy, and one Ed. Verney, brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe the Fine; and R. and Dorothy did not appear; upon which a Summons ad ſequend. ſimul iſſued, which was returned Nihil; and yet afterwards they appeared by Attorney, and joyned gratis with Edward in the Suit. Note here; their appearance by Attorney, Mich. 1 Ma. Dyer. 89. b.

5. Note; There is a difference in the Caſes, Where the Defendant or Tenant cannot by Law appear by Attorney; and in Caſes where the Defendant or Tenant may appear by Attorney, but upon ſome proceſs by reaſon of ſome default or Contempt he ought to appear in perſon: In the firſt Caſe, If the Court admit the Defendant or Tenant by Attorney, the ſame is Errour; but in the other not. As if an Enfant be admitted to appear by an Attorney, the ſame is Errour; but when the Defendant may make an Attorney, and the Cauſe that enforceth him to appear in perſon, is the Contempt to the Court; the Court may diſpence with the Contempt in their diſcretion, and admit him by Attorney. Cook 8. Part. 58. in Beecheys Caſe.

6. Beecher brought an Action of Debt upon two Obligations by Quo minus in the Exchequer againſt J. S. who pleaded in barr payment, according to the Condition; upon which Iſſue was joyned, and found for the Plaintiff: Afterwards, the Plaintiff by his Attorney came into Court, et fatetur ſe in Curia hic ulterius nolle proſequi: upon which Judgment was given, That the Defendant eat ſine die, but no Amercement upon the Plaintiff. Afterwards the Plaintiff brought a Writ of Errour. In this caſe it was Reſolved, That the Judgment was erronious: and in this caſe it was Reſolved, That a Retraxit cannot be, unleſſe the Demandant or Plaintiff be in Court in his proper perſon; and it cannot be by Attorney, becauſe a Retraxit is a perpetual barre, and in manner as a Releaſe. See the Caſe, 4 E. 3. 23. Where three Coparceners were Plaintiffs in a Writ of Deceit, and two of them did appear in perſon, and the third by Attorney, and ſaid, They would not forward ſue; and could not have it, becauſe that one was by Attorney: for which cauſe they were nonſuited. See Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. Part. Beecher and Sir Tho. Shirleys Caſe.

7. A Sub-pœna iſſued out of the Common-Pleas againſt Walter, upon an Information exhibited againſt him by one Topcliff; for taking of Uſury, contra formam Statuti: He made Attorney, ex gratia Curiæ, and in that Caſe pleaded, Not guilty: And if that was an Apt Iſſue, or not, was a Queſtion made by the Court; but being found againſt him, Judgment was given. Hill. 18 Eliz. Dyer. 346, 347.

8. A man was bound in an Obligation, upon Condition to ſtand to the Award of J. S. ſo as the Award were put in writing before Michaelmas; the Obligor before Michaelmas revoked the power of J. S. to make the Award. It was Reſolved in this caſe, That a man cannot by his act make ſuch authority, power, or warrant not countermandable, which by the Law, and of his Nature is Countermandable: As if a man make a Letter of Attorney to make Livery, or to ſue an Action in his name; or if I aſſign Auditors to make an accompt, or I make one my Factor, or I ſubmit my ſelf to Arbitrament, although that theſe are done by expreſs words irrevocably, yet they may be revoked; and therefore (where it is ſaid, in 5 E. 4. If I be bounden to ſtand to the Award which J. S. ſhall make, I cannot diſcharge that Arbitrament, becauſe I am bound to ſtand to his Award; but if it be without an Obligation, it is otherwiſe;) It was Reſolved in the one caſe, I ſhall forfeit my Bond; and in the other caſe, I ſhall forfeit nothing. For ex nudâ ſubmiſſione non oritur actio. Cook. 8. Part, 81. Vincors Caſe.

9. An Action of Aſſault and Battery was brought, and the Defendant was condemned by Nihil dicit, and a Writ to enquire of Damages went forth, and then the Plaintiffs Attorney dyed; and another Attorney without any Warrant prayed the ſecond Judgment and Execution. It was moved, If this were Errour, or not? The Court delivered their Opinion, That if in an Action after Judgment, the Attorney dye, a new Attorney may pray Execution without warrant. But in the principal caſe, becauſe he dyed before the ſecond Judgment, they held, That he ought to have a Warrant of Attorney; for that the firſt Judgment is no final Judgment: And the Preignothories ſaid, That if after the firſt Judgment one of the parties had dyed, the Writ ſhould abate; which the Court granted. Paſch. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Goldeſbr. 49.

10. A Corporation aggregate of many perſons is inviſible, immortal, and reſteth onely in intendment, and Conſideration of the Law: and therefore a Dean and Chapter cannot have a Predeceſſor, or Succeſſor; They may not commit Treaſon, nor be Outlawed, nor excommunicate, for they have no ſouls; neither can they appear in perſon, but by Attorney: They cannot do Fealty, for an Inviſible body cannot be in perſon, nor can ſwear. Cook. 10. Part. 32. in the Caſe of Sutton's Hoſpital.

11. Homage and Fealty are things ſo inſeparably annexed to the perſon, that they cannot be done by Attorney.

12. A Copyholder in Fee made a Letter of Attorney to two Tenants of the Mannor, to ſurrender his Copyhold to the uſe of J. S. and his heirs, who at the next Court bring the ſurrender into Court, and do accordingly, no Cuſtome being found to warrant ſuch ſurrender; Yet it was Reſolved, That the ſurrender was good, becauſe he might do it of Common right, without alledging any Cuſtome to warrant it. Cook 9. Part. 65. Combes Caſe.

12. Two ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, made a Deed of Feoffment to two others, and their heirs; and the Letter of Attorney was in theſe words, pro me et in nomine meo to make Livery, and it was further to enter into the Lands in the name of the Feoffors, and to make Livery ſecundum formam Chartæ: Livery and Seiſin was made to one of the Feoffees by the Attorney, in the abſence of the other Feoffee: the Queſtion was, Whether it was a good Authority, and well executed? It was ſaid, That here was no Authority given to the Attorney to enter into the Lands in the name of both the Feoffors, becauſe the words are in Nomine meo, which cannot comprehend them both, being in the ſingular number; and an Attorney hath nothing but a bare authority, which ought ſtrictly to be purſued, eſpecially it being to paſſe away an Eſtate: But it was holden, That the Letter of Attorney was good, becauſe the Authority given to the Attorney proceeds from both the Feoffors: and therefore the words, in Nomine meo, ſhall be intended the words of them both; and alſo it is well executed to both the Feoffees, becauſe it was by Deed; and the Feoffee who is preſent, is Attorney for the Feoffee which is abſent, to receive Livery for him; and the effect of the Letter of Attorney is well executed; though the words were not. Trin. 1650. B. R. Trotman and Standards Caſe. Siples 284, 285.

13. An Action of Debt was brought for ſuing in the Court of Admiralty againſt the Statutes of 13 & 15 R. 2. againſt J. S. an Attorney; The Caſe upon a Special Verdict found, was, That a Charter-party was made betwixt A. and B. at Dunkirk, and that J. S. did proſecute B. in the Admiral Court, by virtue of a Letter of Attorney: ſo as he as Attorney to A. did proſecute the Suit there: And the Queſtion was, If J.S. being the Attorney, were ſuch a party as might proſecute a Suit within the ſaid Statutes there? It was ſaid, That the Statute of Merton, Cap. 10. gave power to make Attorneys in any Court; but then, the Attorney muſt look at his perill, that that which he doth, be a lawful act: If an Enfant make a Letter of Attorney to make Livery and Seiſin, and the Attorney maketh Livery accordingly, he is a Diſſeiſor; One may do that himſelf, which he cannot do by Attorney. As, the Lord may beat his Villain, but a ſtranger cannot do it for the Lord. It was the better Opinion in this Caſe, That the doing of the Attorney, though at the Command of the Maſter, ſhould not avail him: and therefore this ſuing in the Court of Admiralty was a Contempt; for it was malum prohibitum within the Statutes, and ſo either A. or J.S. his Attorney were puniſhable, and then the Plaintiff had his Election to ſue either A. or his Attorney; and therefore having ſued the Attorney, the Action is well brought. Paſch. 3 Car. in B.R. Cremer and Tookeleys Caſe. Godbold. 385.

14. Note; It was ſaid by the Court, That an Attorney oweth to his Client, fidelity, ſecreſie, ſkill, and diligence, but he oweth not him any diſhoneſt, or undue practice; for by the general Obligation to Juſtice, and the Court where he ſerveth, he is forbidden to do any thing to pervert Juſtice, as appeareth by his Oath: and therefore if he take a Reward, to raſe Record, or to cauſe an Attorney to appear on the other ſide, and confeſſe the Action, or the like, he is puniſhable for it. See Mich. 11 Jac. in C. B. Yardley and Elliſs Caſe. Hob. 9. And ſee Hob. 117. If an Attorney followes a Cauſe, to be paid in groſſe when it is recovered, that it is Champerty. Box and Barnabyes Caſe.

15. An Attorney had profecuted three ſeveral Actions of Debt, every one of them being above the ſum of 40 l. and ſo Fineable to the King, and procured Judgments to be entred upon them, no Original Writs being ſued forth, he having received the charges as well for ſuing the Originals as for the Fine to the King: and becauſe this was done voluntarily in Deceit of the King, and againſt his Oath as Attorney, that he ſhould not practice any Deceit, It was adjudged, That he ſhould be put out of the Roll of Attorneys, and be caſt over the Barr, and committed to the Fleet; and a Preſident was ſhewed of the like Judgment, 30 Eliz. Where one Oſbaſton an Attorney for falſifying and forging a Writ of Capias, was ordered to be put out of the Roll, Caſt over the Barr, Fined, and ſworn never to practice after, as an Attorney. Trin. 3 Car. in C. B. Jeromes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 52.

16. The Warden and Fellowes of All-Soules Colledg in Oxford, Leaſed to J. S. To have and to hold from the Feaſt of the Annunciation next following, to the end of 20 years: the Leaſe bore date, 1. July, 10 Eliz. and made a Letter of Attorney to J. D. to enter into the Mannor, and to ſeal and deliver the ſaid Deed of the Leaſe in their names to the Plaintiff J. S. J. D. by force thereof entred into part of the demiſed premiſſes, and did there ſeal and deliver the ſame: But it was not found that there was any Mannor. It was Objected, That becauſe the Letter of Attorney was to enter in the Mannor, and all the Lands and Tenements of the Colledge in ſuch a Town, and to ſeal the Indenture of Leaſe in the name of the Leſſors, and to deliver it to the Plaintiff as their Deed, That the Attorney in executing the Warrant had not purſued it; for that he onely entred into the Lands; and it is not found that he entred into the Mannor, and ſo the Leaſe was void: and if I Leaſe two Acres in two ſeveral Counties, rendring for the one acre 10 s. and for the other Acre 10 s. and make a Letter of Attorney to make Livery in both; if the Attorney entreth into one acre, and makes Livery, the ſame is void, for that the Attorney hath not purſued his authority; for peradventure I would not have Leaſed the Acre whereof Livery is made, for ſuch a Rent of 10 s. being perhaps of greater yearly value, but with the other acre which was of leſs value, and ſo the miſ-executing my Warrant ſhould prejudice me. But it was holden by the Court, That it doth not appear upon the Special Verdict, but that the Colledge was in poſſeſſion at the time of the Leaſe made, and then there needed not any ſuch entry, but the bare ſealing and delivery of the Attorney had been good enough. And it doth not appear by the Verdict, That the Colledge had any Mannor: and then the Caſe is no other, but that a man leaſeth a Mannor and certain Lands in D. and makes a Letter of Attorney to make Livery of them, where he hath nothing in the Mannor; the ſame is a good Livery, and the authority well executed. But if it had been found, That the Colledge had ſuch a Mannor there, then the entry in the Land onely without meddling with the Mannor, and the Livery made accordingly ſhould not have been good. It was adjudged, That the Authority of the Attorney was well executed. Mich. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Carter and Claycocks Caſe, Leon. 306.

2. What ſhall be a good Letter of Attorney, and what not; And where Livery and Seiſin made by an Attorney, ſhall be good; et è contra. And where his Authority ſhall be ſufficiently purſued; where not.

1. NOte; There is a difference between an Eſtate made in perſon, and made by Attorney; For if an Ideot, or Non compos mentis, maketh a Feoffment in Fee in perſon, and maketh Livery, and dyeth his heir within age, he ſhall not be in Ward; or if he dyeth without heir, the Land ſhall not Eſcheat: But if the Feoffment be made by Letter of Attorney, who maketh Livery, although that the Feoffor ſhall not avoid the ſame; yet after his death as to all others in Judgment of Law, the Eſtate was void: and therefore in ſuch caſe, if his heir be within age, he ſhall be in Ward; or if he dyeth without heir, the Land ſhall eſcheat, 7 H. 4. 5. And ſo, in the Caſe of an Infant, if he maketh a Feoffment in perſon, and maketh Livery, if he dyeth without heir, the Land ſhall not eſcheat; but otherwiſe if it were made by Letter of Attorney, who maketh Livery and Seiſin. Cook 1. Part. 125. Beverleys Caſe.

2. When one hath a power of Revocation, if he ſuffer a thing to be lawfully executed by force of it, as to that he cannot make any Revocation; as if a man make a Letter of Attorney to J. S. to make Livery and Seiſin of Lands before Execution, he may revoke it; but if J. S. by force of the Letter of Attorney maketh Livery and Seiſin, the ſame is a good Livery; and the power being executed, cannot after be revoked by the Feoffor. Cook 5. Part. 90. in Hors Caſe.

3. Note; There is a difference between two joynt Attorneys who have an expreſs authority to take Livery

Livery and Seiſin by Deed; and two Joynt Leſſees who have power to receive Livery for the benefit of another by Warrant of Law: And therefore, If a man make a Leaſe to A. and B. for years, the Remainder to C. for life, the Leſſor muſt make Livery to A. and B. before their entry, and by the Livery to A. and B. C. ſhall preſently take an eſtate in Remainder by force of the Livery made to the Leſſees for years; and in ſuch caſe, Livery made by one Attorney to the ſaid Leſſees in the name of both, is not good; for that he doth not follow his expreſs warrant; for he alone hath not warrant, for they both make but one Attorney: But in the Caſe of two Joynt-Leſſees, there the Livery made to one in the name of both, is good; for they have an Intereſt in the Land before their entry; and Livery to one in the name of both, maketh actuall poſſeſſion in both: which is ſufficient to ſupport the remainder to C. and in the one caſe, Livery is made to the Leſſees who have an Intereſt; and in the other, to him who maketh the Warrant of Attorney by his Attorneys, which have but a bare authority. Cook 5. Part. 94. in Barwicks Caſe.

4. The Cuſtome of a Mannor is, That a Copy-holder out of Court may ſurrender into the hands of the Lord by the hands of two Cuſtomary Tenants: In ſuch caſe, the Copyholder by his Attorney cannot ſurrender into the hands of the Lord by the hands of two Copy-hold Tenants, for the ſurrender ought to be warranted by the Cuſtome; and a ſurrender without a ſpecial Cuſtome to warrant it by Attorney, is not good. Hill 28 Eliz. in B. R. Chapmans Caſe, Note, That that Caſe differs from the principal Caſe; of Combes, in Cook 9. Part. (which ſee before) for that in Combs Caſe, the Common-Law without any particular Cuſtome did warrant the ſurrender; and therefore according to the Rules of the Common-Law, the ſurrender by Attorney was good.

5. In Ejectione Firme, the Caſe was; The Dean and Chapter of Worceſter, by the name of the Dean and Chapter of the Cathedral Church of Chriſt, and the bleſſed Virgin Mary of Worceſter, made a Leaſe for life; Habendum from the day of the date, and made a Letter of Attorney to one to make Livery ſecundum formam Chartæ, the Attorney makes Livery the next day after, and the Jury find the Leaſe for life made the 25th day of &c. and that the Livery by the Attorney was made poſt veceſſimum quintum diem præditt. The Queſtion was, Whether this was a good Leaſe thus made, and well executed It was the Opinion of the whole Court, and ſo Reſolved, That this Leaſe was not good, becauſe the Freehold is not to expect the beginning afterwards; and it is clear, this Leaſe being made for life à die datus is not good; for that according to Bucker and Harvies Caſe, Cook 2. Part, 55. a Freehold cannot begin in futuro, et Quod ab initio non valet tractu temporis non convalescit; and in this Caſe the Lord Dacres Caſe was agreed; which was, That William Lord Dacres made a Feoffment in Fee to Thomas, and Leonard Dacres his ſons, upon condition, to make a Feoffment over to one Parſon Dacres, and to one Middleton, all the Deeds were ready to be delivered; but it ſo happened, that before William had delivered his Deed of Feoffment unto Thomas and Leonard, that they had delivered their Deed to Parſon Dacres and Middleton, with a Letter of Attorney to one to make Livery. Afterwards (William delivers his Deed, Livery was then by virtue of the Letter of Attorney. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That this Livery was void, becauſe at the time of their Feoffment they had nothing to paſs: For if a man makes a Feoffment in Fee, and a Letter of Attorney to one to make Livery, before he himſelf hath an eſtate to paſſe; ſuch a Livery made, is clearly void. Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. rott. 438. Butler and Fitches Caſe. Bulſtrod. 2. Part, 301, 303, 304.

6. If Leſſee for life make a Deed of Feoffment, and a Letter of Attorney to the Leſſor to make Livery, and the Leſſor maketh Livery accordingly, yet the Leſſor may enter for the forfeiture, becauſe the Leſſee for life had a Freehold in him whereupon the Livery might work: But if Leſſee for years maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and the Letter of Attorney to the Leſſor to make Livery, and he makes Livery accordingly, this Livery ſhall bind the Leſſor, and ſhall not be avoided by him; for the Leſſor, as this Caſe is, cannot make Livery, as Attorney to the Leſſee, becauſe the Leſſee had no Freehold whereof to make Livery; but the Freehold was in the Leſſor. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes &c.

7. A Copyholder of Inheritance made Letter of Attorney to two, joyntly and ſeverally to ſurrender his Copyhold Lands in Fee to certain Uſes after his death, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor: It was a Queſtion, Whether it were a good Cuſtome or not? It was argued, That it was no good Cuſtome; for many reaſons; 1. Becauſe it is a Cuſtome to convey Lands againſt a general Law; and the general Law for conveying of Copyhold, is either by ſurrender into the hands of the Lord, or by ſurrender into the hands of Tenants Copy-holders, to the uſe of his Will. 2. An Authority ought to be countermanded and to determine at the death of the party; but this is no ſo. 3. By the death of the Copy-holder, the Lands are ſettled in in the heir, and this authority given to them, ſhall not deveſt it. 4. None can give an Authority to do a thing which he could not do himſelf; but here it ſhould be otherwiſe; and therefore it is not a good Authority: and it is not like the ſurrendring of Lands into the hands of the Lord for a ſurrender, cannot be revoked, but this authority is revokeable. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Cuſtome was no good Cuſtome: and eſpecially for theſe Cauſes; 1. Becauſe it is not found that the Land is demiſeable. 2. Becauſe it is againſt the Rules of Law; for a man cannot deviſe a Copyhold: and here the Caſe is worſe. 3. Becauſe it is not found that the Attorneys were Tenants of the Mannor; and though it be found, that the party was admitted ſecundum Conſuetudinem Manerii, that goes onely to the Admittance, and not to the Letter of Attorney: and it is onely by recital, that the Attorneys were Tenants: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, Hill. 1651. in B. R. Wallis and Bucknalls Caſe. Styles 311. See Trin. 1652. in B. R. A Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That any Copyholder of that Mannor might make a writing in the nature of a Letter of Attorney to two Copyholders of the Mannor, to ſurrender his Copyhold after his death: And it was then holden, That the Cuſtome was good, and that the death of the party doth not revoke this writing made in the nature of a Letter of Attorney; for that it is ſtrengthened by the Cuſtome: and it is not like an Ordinary Letter of Attorney, which becomes void by the death of him that made it; for this Cuſtome is a Law, and the authority here ſurvives. Trin. 1654. B. R. Roby and Twelves Caſe, Styles 421. Quære; for this Caſe ſeems to be contrary to the Judgment given in Wallis and Bucknalls Caſe

3. What Priviledges an Attorney hath: And where he ſhall be allowed ſuch Priviledge; And where he ſhall have an Action for his Fees, and for monies laid out by him; where not?

1. A Writ of Priviledge was ſigned by the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, for a Clark under the Cuſtos Brevium, to free him from being a Souldier, reciting that it is the Cuſtome and Priviledge of the Court, That neither the Attornies nor Clerks of the Court, ſhall be preſſed for Souldiers, nor elected to any other Office ſine voluntate ſua; but ought to atttend the ſervice of the Court. See Cook's Entries, 436. The like Writ of Priviledge was granted to a Clerk of the Kings Bench to diſcharge him from being preſſed for a Souldier. 1. Trin. 1. Car. in C. B. Venables Caſe. Cro. 1. part 8.

2. An Attorney of the Kings Bench was elected Tythingman of the Town of T. in which Town a Cuſtome was pretended to be, That every one ſhould be Conſtable or Tythingman according to their ſeveral houſes, and he having purchaſed two houſes in the ſaid Town, was in a Leet there choſen Tythingman. He brought a Writ of Priviledge to be diſcharged, becauſe he is to be Attendant in this Court: It was prayed that the Writ might not be allowed, for although in truth Attornyes and Clerks in Courts have ſuch a Priviledge to be diſcharged when they are generally elected, becauſe of their attendance here, they ſhall not be compelled to attend ſuch an Office; Yet when there is a ſpecial Cuſtome, that they ſhall be elected in Courſes, that Cuſtome ought to prevail againſt ſuch priviledges; But the Opinion of the Court was, that it cannot be a good Cuſtome, for then a Woman inhabitant in one of the ſaid houſes, it might come to her courſe to be Conſtable, which the Law will not permit: and ſo it was adjudged that this Cuſtome could not prevail againſt a perſon who by his Office is to attend here, whereupon it was Ordered, that he ſhould be diſcharged. M. 10 Car. in B. R. Prowſes Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 283.

3. Note, by Coke Chief Juſtice of the Kings-Bench; If one hath priviledge of this Court, he is not to be ſued in any other Court, but he is onely to be ſued here in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli; and where it is ſaid, 1 H. 7. 12. That no Attorney is here of Record; It appears by the Records in the Tower, before the time of King Henry the 7th, that Attorneyes of this Court were of Record: An Attorney here was then called Clericus; And our Attorneyes are not to be ſued in any other Court; and it appeareth by the Roll in 12 H. 3. in the Tower, that in every Term, Rolls were here made of Warrants of Attornies; And by 31 H. 6. If any one be committed, by any of the Judges of this Court, and be in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli, one may now commence a ſuit againſt him, being in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli. Paſc. 12. Jac. in B. R. Bolſtrod. 2. part 207.

4. A Clerk of the Chancery married a Woman who was Executrix to her former Husband; In Debt brought againſt them in the Common-Pleas, the Plaintiff brought a Writ of Priviledge to have removed the ſaid Action into the Chancery. By all the Juſtices the Writ was diſallowed, becauſe the Wife was joyned in the Action with the Husband, and ſhe could not have the Priviledge, and therefore not the Husband. M. 24, Eliz. in C. B. Poles Caſe. Godbold. 10.

5. J. S. brought Debt againſt Sir Simon Fanſhaw, and his Wife as Executrix of another, and ſued them to the Exigent; at the return of the Exigent, Sir Simon Fanſhaw came voluntarily into the Court, and prayed his Priviledge, becauſe he was an Officer of the Exchequer; and it was a queſtion in this Caſe, if he ſhould have his priviledge or not, for two cauſes, 1. Becauſe he is ſued meerly for conformity and neceſſities ſake, and 2. Becauſe he demands his Priviledge at the Exigent: It was Objected, That he ought to have his Priviledges, and ſome Preſidents were vouched on the point, as Paſc. 44. Eliz. in the Exchequer, James Aſhtons Caſe, ſervant to the Lord Treaver, and 21 Jac. rott. 1211. Stanton's Caſe; in both which Caſes, the Husband and Wife were ſued in the right of the Wife, and the Husband had his priviledge; and ſo it was adjudged Hill. 8. Jac. in the Exchequer in Watts and Glovers Caſe. But the whole Court was of Opinion, in the principal Caſe, That the Defendant ſhould not have his priviledge, becauſe that the Action was brought againſt him in autor Droit, viz. in the right of his Wife as Executrix; but no Judgment was given in the Caſe. Trin. 17. Car. in the Common-Pleas. Levett and Sir Simon Fanſhawes Caſe. M. 149.

6. A Clerk of the Kings-Bench ſued an Officer of the Common-Pleas, and he in the Common-Pleas claimed his priviledge, and could not have it granted unto him; for that it is a general Rule That where each of the perſons is a perſon able to have Priviledge, he who firſt claims it, ſhall have it, viz. the Plaintiff, and not the Defendant. As if an Attorney of the Common-Pleas, ſueth a Clerk of the Kings Bench, yet the Kings Bench ſhall not have the Priviledge, although the Kings Bench be a more high Court, becauſe the other is Plaintiff, and firſt claymeth it. M. 29. Eliz. in B. R. Godbolt. 81.

7. A Servant to Serjeant Headly uſually attending upon him, was Arreſted upon a proceſſe out of the Court of Marſhalſey, whereupon he obtained a Writ of Priviledge out of the Common Pleas reciting, That Serjeants at Law which are attending this Court, and their Servants ordinarily waiting upon them, ought to enjoy the Privilege to be ſued in this Court, which Writ being delivered to the Steward of the Marſhalſey, he would not allow thereof; It was moved to the Court, that they ought to have the Privilege for them and their Servants, for that they are properly attendant at this bar, and none others are admitted to practice here, And a Preſident was ſhewed, where one Martin Serjeant was Arreſted in London, at the Suit of the Biſhop of Winchester, and at the Suit of others: And he had a Writ of Priviledge reciting. That Serjeants at Law were to be Attendants to the ſaid Court; ex Officio plus quam alibi. Whereupon the Writ of Priviledge was allowed, and the party diſcharged of the Suit in the Court of Marſhalſey. M. 3. Car. in C. B. Cro. 1. part. 59.

8. In Debt; The Plaintiff declared that he being an Attorney in the Common-Pleas, that the Defendant retained him to proſecute a Suit for J. S. and agreed to pay him his Fees; and ſhewed that he had laid out ſo much for J. S. in the Suit, and the Defendant had not paid it him; upon Nihil debet pleaded, It was found for, and Judgment for the Plaintiff, and Error brought, and Aſſigned for Error; That the Defendant is but a Sollicitor, and there is not any conſideration, and it is maintenance in him to Sollicite Suits; and 2. That debt doth not lye, but an Action upon the Caſe on Aſſumpſit, for that there is not any Contract betwixt them; But the Opinion of the Court was, that the exceptions were not good: and ſo the Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 3. Car. in C. B. Sands and Trivittians Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 76. See Hill. 16. Jac. in B. R. rott. 416. Bradford and Woodhouſes Caſe. Cro. 2. part. 520. where Debt was brought againſt the Sollicitor of Sir Thomas Elwys; who retained the Plaintiff being an Attorney; to proſecute a Suit againſt the ſaid Sir Thomas Elwys for his Fees; which being found for the Plaintiff, Error was brought, and objected, that Debt did not lye; But it was over-ruled by the Court, that the Action did well lye, and that it is a good Contract made by the Sollicitor; and ſo the Judgment in that Caſe was alſo affirmed.

9. Note, It was holden by the whole Court, That an Attorney may be a Sollicitor for his Client in other Courts, as well as in the Court where he is an Attorney, and is allowable, and a promiſe made to him to pay Fees, is lawful; And a Sollicitor of an inferiour rank, which Sollicites Cauſes for his Clients, may take recompence, and take a promiſe to pay what he ſhall lay out: But if a Perſon of Superiour Rank ſhould do it, it were maintenance: And it was holden: that an Action upon the Caſe, upon Aſſumpſit brought for ſuch mony laid out, or Fees, was maintainable. Trin. 4. Car. in B. R. rott. 217. Thursby and Warrens Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 113.

10. A Writ of Error was brought in Debt in the C[illegible]-Pleas, and Error Aſſigned, whereas the Defendant appeared by J. S. his Attorney, and Judgment was given againſt him by Nihil dicit, That the ſaid J. S. was no Attorney of the Common Pleas at the time of his appearance, nor at any time within the ſaid Term; and the Defendant pleaded, in Nullo eſt erratum. And becauſe it appears that the Defendant appeared by the ſaid J. S. and Imparled untill another Term; ſo as the Court admitted him to be an Attorney; It is againſt the Record;

cord to say that he is not an Attorney: And if he were not an Attorney before, yet this admittance of the Court, implicitely admits him to be an Attorney in the Action; wherefore the Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 16. Jac. in B. R. Haydon and Mynns Case. Cro. 2. part 521.

11. An Attorney of the Common Pleas, sued as Administrator, by Writ of Priviledge: and Exception was taken unto it, and it was said that he ought to sue by Original; And of that Opinion was the whole Court; wherefore he took out his Originall. M. 15. Jac. in C. B. Gages Case. Hob. 177.

12. Note, It was said and agreed by the Court, That if an Attorney of the Court be sued by Bill of Priviledge, he ought not to find Bayl; but if he be sued by Original, and comes in by Capias, then he ought to find bail. Mich. 11. Jac. in C. B. Brownlow. 2. part. 134.

Attornment.

1. What shall be said to be a sufficient Attornment; and what not, and who shall Attorne.

1. A Lease is made for years, rendring Rent, afterwards the Reversion is granted to one for life, the Remainder over in Fee, the Termor Attorned to the Grantee for life; afterwards the Grantee for life released all his right to him in the Remainder, and afterwards he in the Remainder granted his said remainder and the Reversion, with the Rent to one in Fee, to whom the Termor paid the Rent; and also the Grantee for life, released all his right to the Grantee and his Heirs: And if that should amount to an Attornment, was the question: The better Opinion of the Court was, That the Releases were both void, because they had not the Words, of surrender, in them; And that the [illegible] Release should not enure as an Attornment to make the remainder to passe. Pasc. 8. Eliz. Dyer. 151.

2. The Father ensoffted the Son to the use of the Father himself, for the use of himself for his life, and after his decease, then to the use of the Son and his Heirs, after the Father and Son came together upon the Land, and by word without Deed d d deliver Seisin of the Land to the Father. To have to him and his heirs: In that Case it was a question if it were a good Feoffment; but the Opinion of the Court was; that it was a good Feoffment, and that in Law, the Acceptance of the Livery, did imply two things, 1. That it was a surrender, and after a Feoffment: like unto the Case of a surrender to him in the Reversion; in which Case, it shall enure to an Attornment; and then to a surrender. 19 Eliz. Dyer. 358.

3. A man seised of Lands in Fee, leased the same to A. and B. for their lives, and dyed, the Reversion discended to his Son and Heir, who granted the Reversion to C. to whom A. one of the Joynt-Tenants Attorned, and afterwards surrendred all his Interest to C. the Grantee of the Reversion, who entred; In this Case it was adjudged, That the Entry of C. was lawfull, and that he should be Tenant in Common with B. For it was agreed that the Attornment of A. one of the Joynt-Tenants, did vest the intire Reversion in the Grantee, because their estate is intire, and the Attornment is a Lawfull Act, which gives not any interest, but onely perfects the Grant of another: And the Attornment of one Joynt-Tenant, is the Attornment of them both. 2. It was Resolved in that Case. That if the Tenant having notice of the Grant of the Reversion, Attorn unto part, it shall be an Attornment to the whole, because an Attornment is but an Assent which cannot be devided nor apportioned, and therefore, If a Reversion be granted to two, and the Tenant Attorneth to one of them, the same is a good Attornment to them both. Hill. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 2. part 66. Tookers Case. And in that Case, it was further Resolved; That if one of the Joynt-Tenants, hath notice of the Grant of the Reversion, that he may Attorn to the Grant, though in the absence of his Companion, ibid.

4. If a Feme Sole maketh a Lease for life rendring Rent, and afterwards by Deed granteth the Reversion to another, and afterwards, and before Attornment, marrieth with the Grantee, it was holden that this entermarriage shall be no countermand of the Attornment, as if she had married with a stranger, for it is for the benefit of the Husband that it shall not be a Countermand; And therefore by the payment of the Rent by the Tenant, to the Husband in the name of an Attornment, the Reversion doth passe out of the Wife; For the same reason which proveth that the Intermarriage with a stranger, shall be a countermand of the Attornment, for the benefit of the Husband, proveth, that when the Grantor marrieth with the Grantee, that it shall not be a Countermand, for that it shall not be for the benefit of the Husband. 2 R. 2. Fitz. Attornment 8. vouched and agreed, in Forse and Hemlings Case. Cook 4. part 61.

5. Note, A difference was taken and agreed for Law, between an expresse Attornment of the party, and an Act which doth amount in Law to an Attornment.

Attornment. For if a Leaſe be made for life, or for years, rendring Rent; And afterwards the Reverſion is granted to B. by Fine, and before Attornment B. diſſeiſeth, or oufteth the Leſſee and enfeoffeth C. the Leſſee re-entreth, it ſhall not amount in Law to make a privity to C. that he may diſtrain for the Rent, for he ſhall not be in a better Condition then his Feoffer was; but otherwiſe, if the Leſſee had expreſly attained to the Feoffee. M. 37 Eliz. Owſeys Caſe. So where the Conuſee of a Fine of a Reverſion before Attornment, did bargain and ſell the Reverſion to another by deed Indented, and enrolled according to the Statute; It was holden that the bargainee ſhould not diſtrein, for the Rent, before Attornment, for that he ſhould not be in a better condition then he that made the Grant. But if the Conuſee had had an expreſſe Attornment, then the Bargainee ſhould have diſtreined without any Attornment. Knotiſfoords Caſe, vouch. in Mallories Caſe. Cook 5. part. 112. See Paſc. 33. Eliz. in C. B. rott. 409. Ouſley's Caſe. Owen. 23.

6. In Treſpaſſe the Defendant pleaded, That the Dean of Weſtminſter made a leaſe to J. S. who made Leaſes out of it, firſt to A. for certain years rendring Rent, and after the end of that Leaſe, then to B. rendring Rent, and afterwards ſold all the intire intereſt to the Defendant, to whom the ſecond Leſſee (who had no poſſeſſion) Attorned; It was holden by the Court, That this pleading of Attornment was not good, becauſe it is no Attornment. Trin. 29 Eliz. in. C. B. Moor and Hills Caſe. Goldsbr. 57.

7. Lord and Tenant rendring Rent; The Tenancy diſcended to an Enfant, under the age of 21. years, The Lord granted the Seignory; and the Enfant within age Attornment; and it was adjudged, that the Attornment was good, for three reaſons. 1. Becauſe he gives no Intereſt, for it is but a bare Aſſent. 2. His Anceſtors held the ſame Land by the payment of Rent, and doing of Services, and it is reaſon that the Rent ſhould be paid, and the Services performed; and although he ſhall have his age for the Land, yet for the Rent he ſhall not have his age; and although that he ſhall have a Per quæ Servitia, yet after his full age, the Grantee ſhall diſtrein for all his Arrerages due from the firſt, ſo as the Attornment is no prejudice to the Enfant, and our old books are, That an Enfant of the Age of three years Attorned. 32 Eliz. 3. 3. The Attornment is the perfecting of a thing which the Law requires, and that is the grant of the Seignory which is not perfect till the Tenant Attorn. And ſo the Opinion of all the Juſtices was, that the Attornment of the Enfant was good; Paſc. 9 Jac. in C. B. Crane and Coſpits Caſe. Brownlow. 2. part 84.

8. He in the Reverſion upon a Leaſe for years made a Charter of Feoffment to divers perſons to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of his eldeſt Son in tail; and the words of the Charter were, Dedi, Conceſſi, Bargainzain et Feoffain. and he ſealed and delivered the Deed, but no Livery of Seiſin was made: afterwards he came to the Leſſee for years, and ſaid, He had made a Feoffment, and ſhewed alſo the uſes, but did not ſhew to whom the Feoffment was made; To whom the Leſſee ſaid, You have done very well, I am glad of it: It was the Opinion of the Juſtices in that Caſe That the ſame was no Attornment, becauſe it was not made to the Feoffees, and to the Grantee of the Reverſion; for an Attornment ought to be to the Grantee himſelf, and not to Ceſtuy que uſe. And that was the Caſe of one Arden. Paſc. 29. Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 58.

9. If many Joynt-Tenants hold by certain Services, and the Lord granteth the Services to a ſtranger, and one of the Joynt-Tenants Attorneth to the Grant, the ſame is as ſufficient as if they had all Attorned; But otherwiſe it is of a Rent-charge, for there all the Joynt-Tenants of Lands charged upon the grant of the ſaid Rent, ought to Attorn to the grant, for the Terr-Tenant ought to Attorn; and one of them is not Terr-Tenant, But if three Coparceners be of an Advowſon, or three Tenants in Common be of an Advowſon; And the Parſons, Patrons, and Ordinary, joyn in a Leaſe (whereas one of the Patrons is a Feme Covert, and ſo her Act void); In that Caſe the Succeſſor of the Incumbent ſhall avoid ſuch Leaſe, for that they all three ought to agree, but the agreement of one of them in that Caſe is nothing worth; and that Caſe differs from the Caſe of Attornment, for an Attornment is but a bare aſſent, without any Intereſt in him who Attorns, for an Abator may do it; but in the Caſe of a Confirmation, there is matter of Intereſt, and therefore if the Confirmation be not made by them all, the ſame is not good, as it was in the ſaid Caſe of Coparceners, becauſe one of them was a Feme Covert; and ſo the ſame might be avoided by the ſucceſſor of the Parſon, M. 33. Eliz. in B. R. Lancaſter and Lucas's Caſe. Leon. 234.

10. The Caſe was this, Thomas Bracebridge ſeiſed in Fee of a Mannor, Leiſed a Meſſuage, parcell of it to J. S. for 21 years, and afterwards, 35 H. 8. Leaſed the ſame to one Moor for 26 years to begin after the expiration of the firſt Leaſe: afterwards, 5 Eliz. 6. he enfeoffed Griffith and others to the uſe of themſelves and their Heirs, upon Condition, That if the Feoffees did not pay 2000 l. to Thomas Bracebridge within 15 dayes, that immediately after the 15 dayes, the Feoffees ſhould ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannour, to the uſe of the ſaid Thomas Bracebridge, and Joyce his Wife for their lives, without impeachment of waſte; and after, to the uſe of T. B. their ſon in tail, with divers Remainders over; The Feoffees did not pay the 2000 l. within the 15 dayes. Afterwards J. S. Attorned to the Feoffees; In this Caſe, two points were moved. 1. If the Reverſion of the Lands paſſed to J. S. be paſſed by the Feoffment of the Mannor. 2. If by the Attornment of J. S. after the 15 dayes, the uſes did riſe to Bracebridge and his Wife. It was holden by all the Juſtices in this Caſe. 1. That this Attornment of J. S. two yeers after the Livery is ſufficient, for it ſhall have Relation to the Livery to make it parcel of the Mannor, but not to puniſh the Leſſee for waſt done mean between the Livery and Attornment, but betwixt the Feoffer, and the Feoffees, it ſhall paſſe ab initio. 2. It was holden, That although the uſes limited by it are determined by the default of payment, within the 15 dayes, Yet the Feoffees ſhall take the Reverſion by this Attornment to the ſecond uſes; As if I enfeoffone upon condition, to enfeoff J. S. who refuſeth, now the Feoffee ſhall be ſeiſed to my uſe; but if the condition were to give in tail, contrary; ſo here is a limitation beyond the firſt uſe, which ſhall not be defeated for want of Attornment to the firſt uſes; And in this Caſe it was not the meaning of Bracebridge to have the Lands again upon breach of the Condition in his former eſtate, but according to the ſecond uſe; And Judgment was given in the principall Caſe, according to the reſolution of the Judges aforeſaid: And in that Caſe it was further agreed, That if a Feoffment in Fee be made to J. S. upon condition, that he ſhall grant to A. a Rent-charge, who refuſeth it, J. S. ſhall be ſeiſed to his own uſe. 20 Eliz. in C. B. Bracebridges Caſe. Leon. 264, 265.

11. In Treſpaſs, the Caſe was, That J. S. was Tenant for life, the remainder to J. D. in taile: J. D. by Deed granted the remainder to the Plaintiff in Fee; J. S. being Tenant for life, having notice of this Grant, ſaid to B. and C. two ſtrangers, That he was pleaſed and content, that the ſaid Grant was made to the Plaintiff; for that he was his Coſen: and, Whether this was a good Attornment, was the Queſtion? And it was agreed by the Court, That it was an Attornment, although the words were ſpoken to thoſe who were meer ſtrangers, and who peradventure had not any Notice of the Grant, nor were required by the Grantee to take Attornment; for it ſufficeth, that the Tenant have notice of the Grants and Aſſents thereunto: and it is not neceſſary to attorn to the Grantee himſelf; for that, the pleading is, To which Grant he attorned, without mentioning the Attornment to be to the Grantee, or to any other. Trin. 11 Car. in B. R. Hilton and Bembridges Caſe. Cro. 1. Part. 318.

12. If the Lord grants the ſervices of his Tenant to one, and after by another Deed of a later date, grants the ſame ſervices to another: In that caſe, if the Tenant attorn to the laſt Grantee, it makes his Grant good; and afterwards albeit that he attorneth to the other Grantee, yet that cannot make the firſt Grant good. But in that caſe, if the Tenant attorn to them both, the Attornment is void to both for the incertainty. So if a Reverſion be granted for life, and afterwards it is granted to the ſame Grantee for years, and the Tenant attorneth to both the Grantors, this is alſo void for the incertainty. If the Lord by one Deed grant his Seignory to J. Biſhop of L. and his Succeſſours, and by another Deed to J. Biſhop of Land his heirs, and the Tenant attorns to both Grants, it is a void Attornment for both Grants; for although the Grantee be but one perſon, yet he having ſeverall Capacities, and the Grants being ſeverall, it is not according to either of the Grants; and by conſequence void for the incertainty. See Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes 310.

13. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; J. S. was ſeiſed of a Copyhold of the Mannor of J. and by Licence of the Lord, by Indenture demiſed the ſame to the Plaintiff for 20 years, rendring 15 l. per annum rent; J. S. afterwards ſurrendred the Reverſion of the one moyety of the ſaid Copyhold to J. D. to which he was admitted; and then he ſurrendred the other moyety to B. the Wife of J. N. who was alſo admitted. It was Reſolved in this Caſe by the Court, That the ſurrender in this caſe by name of a Reverſion, was good. And, 2. That there needed no Attornment upon the ſurrender made of the moyety by J. S. to J. D. becauſe it paſſed not by way of Grant of the Reverſion and Attornment; but in this caſe there muſt be an Admittance of the Lord; and when that admittance is given, the Eſtate is ſettled; and there is no means in Law to compell the Leſſee to Attorn; and the Admittance is a kind of Act in Law, and puts the eſtate in the party in a ſort in the Poſt. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2049. Swinnerton, and Miller's Caſe. Hob. 177, 178.

14. If a man be ſeiſed of a Mannor which is parcel in demeſne, and parcel in ſervice, If he alien the Mannor to another; all that hold of the Alienor as of his Mannor, ought to attorn to the Alienee: But if the Lord make a Leaſe for years, or for life, of a Mannor, and the Freeholders attorn to the Leſſee; here, if afterwards the Reverſion of that Mannor be granted, the Attornment of the Leſſee for years, or life, ſhall bind the Freeholders; for by their former Attornment, they have put the Attornment into the mouth of the Leſſee, their attornment being involved in his;

If

If there be Lord, Meſne, and Tenant, and the Lord will grant the ſervices of the Meſne; in that caſe albeit in the Grant he make no mention at all of the Meſne; yet the Meſne ought to attorn, and the Tenant paravail, becauſe he is the next privie in Tenure that ought to be charged, &c. See Litt. Sect. 554. & 557. acc.

15. If an Enfant be ſeiſed of a Reverſion, and levieth a Fine thereof; this is defeiſible by a Writ of Errour during his minority; and in that caſe the Tenant ſhall not be compelled to attorn: and ſo, If before the Statute of 4 H. 7. and 32 H. 8. Tenant in taile had levied a Fine, the Tenant could not have been compelled to attorn: But now ſince the ſaid Statutes which give ſtrength to Fines to barr the Iſſue in taile, it is otherwiſe: and to that purpoſe, ſee Juſtice Windham's Caſe, vouch. in Cook 3. Part, in the Caſe of Fines: Where in a Quid Juris clamat brought by Francis Windham, one of the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, the Caſe was this: The Lady Greſham was Tenant for life of the Mannor of Weſt-Bradenham in Norfolk, the Remainder to Rich. Read in taile, the Reverſion to William Read in Fee: Richard levied a Fine of his Remainder to Juſtice Windham and his heirs; and before the engroſſing of the Fine, Juſtice Windham brought a Quid Juris clamat againſt the Lady Greſham, who pleaded, that Richard the Conuſor at the time of the Fine levied had but an Eſtate in taile in Reverſion, and ſhewed how, and demanded Judgment, if thereupon ſhe ſhould be compelled to attorn; upon which the Plaintiff demurred: and although before the Statutes of 4 H. 7. and 32 H. 8. it was a good plea; yet it was adjudged, That now after the ſaid Statutes which makes the Fine a barr, if the eſtate fail, although the Quid juris clamat ought to be brought, and by conſequence before the Eſtate taile be barred, and that it doth not appear at the time of the Quid juris clamat brought, that it ſhall be a Fine at the Common Law, or a Fine levied with proclamations; yet it was adjudged, That ſhe ſhould attorn. See Cook. 3. Part. 86. in the Caſe of Fines. 28 Eliz. Juſtice Windham's Caſe.

2. Where an Attornment is neceſſary, where not: And who ſhall or may Attorn, or be compelled to Attorn; who not. What ſhall be a good Attornment; And where a Reverſion or an Eſtate ſhall paſſe without Attornment; where not.

1. A Man ſeiſed of divers Mannors, and of divers Lands, part in Leaſe for years, with Rent reſerved; part in Copy-hold; upon a valuable Conſideration, demiſed, granted, bargained, and ſold the ſaid Mannors, Lands, &c. with all the Rents reſerved upon any demiſe, to have after the death of the bargainor for 17 years, rendring a Roſe to his heir; The Deed is acknowledged to be enrolled. Afterwards he Covenants to ſtand ſeiſed of the ſame Mannors, &c. to the uſe of himſelf and the heirs of his body, No Attornment is had to the bargainees, and afterwards the bargainor dyeth: It was adjudged in this caſe, That the Leſſees ſhould have the Demeaſnes, and the Rents of the Copyhold by the ſaid bargainee and ſale, without Attornment: for, 1. It was Reſolved, That if the ſame do paſſe as a future Intereſt at the Common-Law, there ought to be an Attornment in the life of the Grantor before the future Intereſt doth begin: but in this caſe, becauſe there was not any Attornment of the Leſſees for years in the life of the bargainor, It was Reſolved, That if they ſhall take this future Intereſt as a Demeſne at the Common-Law, they ſhould not have the Rents reſerved upon the Leaſes for years. 2. It was Reſolved, That in this caſe, that the Leſſees had election to take the ſame by demiſe, or by bargain and ſale; for if the Law ſhould enforce them to take it by demiſe, then they ſhould loſe the Rents reſerved upon the Leaſes for years: But if the Intereſt doth paſſe by bargain and ſale, then there needeth no Attornment, becauſe the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes doth execute the poſſeſſion to it; and the Statute of 37 H. 8. of Inrollments doth not extend to it, becauſe no Eſtate of Freehold paſſed, but onely an Eſtate for years. 3. It was Reſolved, That this Election did remain unto them, notwithſtanding the alteration of the Eſtate, and notwithſtanding the death of the bargainor. Paſch. 35 Eliz. in Cur. Ward. Cook 2. Part. 35. Sir Rowland Heywards Caſe. See Cook 8. Part. 94. Fox's Caſe. acc.

2. The Caſe was this; Tenant for life, the remainder over in Fee; Tenant for life made a Leaſe for years, the Leſſee entred: Tenant for life granted the Tenements aforeſaid to C. Habendum from the Feaſt of St. Mich. next following for life; the Leſſee for years attorned; C. entred, and made a Leaſe at will, to whom the Tenant for life levied a Fine: he in the Remainder entred. In this Caſe, amongſt other Points, it was Reſolved, That the Grant to C. was void, becauſe an Eſtate of Freehold could not begin in futuro. And, 2. It was Reſolved, That the Grant being void from the beginning, the Attornment of the Leſſee for years which came after, could not make the Grant good. Mich. 40 Eliz. in C.B. Cook 2. Part, Bucklers Caſe.

3. A. Leſſee for 30 years of a houſe in poſſeſſion, but of a Stable of which J. S. was poſſeſſed for two years, aſſigned all his Intereſt to B.; afterwards A. by Deed Indented, demiſed the ſaid Stable to J. S. for 6. years; the two years expired, B. by Indenture, in Conſideration of 25 l. re-demiſed all the Houſe to A. for 21. years, rendring to him 24 l. per annum Quarterly, and 5 l. quarterly at the ſame Feaſts, untill the ſaid 25 l. were paid; upon condition, That if the ſaid ſum of 25 l. or the ſaid Rent were behind, that then it ſhould be lawfull for B. to re-enter: and upon the Indenture it was endorſed, that the ſaid J. S. ſhould have the ſaid Stable according to the demiſe made to him; Afterwards, before any day of payment, A. re-demiſed the ſaid ſtable to B. for 10. years, and afterwards the Rent was behind. B. did not enter into the ſtable, but J. S. continued poſſeſſion of it, and J. S. did never attorn. In this caſe, it was adjudged, That the entry of B. was lawful for the Condition broken: And amongſt many other Points, it was Reſolved in this Caſe, That if a man hath a Leaſe for 20. years, and he leaſeth for two years rendring a Rent; and afterwards he granteth all his Term or Intereſt to another, If the Leſſee doth attorn, the Reverſion ſhall paſſe; and if no Attornment be, yet the Intereſt in reverſion ſhall paſſe, ſo as the Grantee ſhall have the Land after the two years determined; for that the Grant of one ſhall not be adjudged void, if to any intent it may take effect. Mich. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Cook. 4. Part, 52. Rawlins Caſe.

4. A. Tenant for life of the Manner of D. the remainder to B. in Fee: B. and her husband levied a Fine, 10 Eliz. of the Demeans of the ſaid Manner, by a certain Quantity of Acres which included all the Demeaſnes, who granted and rendred the Demeaſnes to J S. for 50 years rendring Rent, and granted the Reverſion to the husband and wife, and to the heirs of the wife; and in the Indentures which had the uſe of the Fine, it is agreed, That the husband and wife ſhall have ingreſs and egreſs in and out of the ſaid Mannor, to hold Courts in and upon the Demeaſnes; and it is averred, That the ſaid Demeſnes and Services were within the ſaid Mannor known, reputed, and called by the name of the Mannor of D. 16 Eliz. another Fine is levied by the ſaid husband and wife of divers other Mannors of the wife, excepting the Mannor of D. in which Fine ſo many Acres were contained, which were ſufficient to paſſe the ſaid Demeaſnes, to the uſe of the Wife for life, and after to the uſe of Sir Moile Finch her eldeſt ſon in taile with divers remainders over, 19 Eliz. J. S. made his ſon of the age of 3. years his Executor, and dyed: Adminiſtration durante minore ætate of the Enfant is committed to C. Afterwards 23 Eliz. the husband and wife levy another Fine of the ſaid Mannor of D. and of divers Acres ſufficient to paſſe the Demeaſnes, To the uſe of the husband and wife, and the heirs of the Wife, untill the husband with the aſſent of the wife in writing, declare to what other uſes; and then to ſuch uſes: C. aſſigns to E. for 10 years; A. dyes, E. enters; The husband and wife by Writing declare the Uſes to F. and G. and their heirs, who eject E. and enfeoffe H. and J. to the uſe of the wife for life, the remainder to her younger ſon in taile; the wife dyeth, the rent is behind, the younger ſon diſtrains for the Rent; and the Leſſee of Sir Moile Finch brings a Replevin. And in this caſe, amongſt many other points of Law, It was Reſolved, That in this caſe, foraſmuch as E. the Leſſee had but an Intereſt of a term during the life of A. no Attornment could be made by him to the Fine: and to the declaration of Uſes, there needed not any Attornment; for when an Attornment cannot be had, or is not requiſite to the Fine which is the Root, no Attornment is required to the Declaration of the Uſes, which are but the branches. 2. It was Reſolved, That when a Reverſion is ſettled in any one in Judgment of Law, and he hath not any poſſible means to compell the Tenant to attorn; and no Lacheſs is in him that he ſhall avow, and have an Action of Waſte without Attornment; for it is a Rule, Quod remedio deſtituatur, ne ipſa volet, ſi culpa abſit. 3. It was Reſolved in the principal caſe, That there was no Lacheſs to have an Attornment in the Conuſee, although he hath rented the particular Eſtates in the Fine; for preſently after the Conuſans, and before the Fine engroſſed, the Reverſion paſſed to the Conuſee, and eo inſtante is executed by the Statute of 27 H. of Uſes; ſo as it is not poſſible to have Quid juris clamat, nor other remedy to compell the Tenant to attorn; and in as much as by the Execution of the poſſeſſion to the uſe, the benefit of the Conuſee to have a Quid juris clamat, is taken away; it is reaſon that the Act of Parliament ſhall not turn to the prejudice of any; for impotentia excuſat legem, Mich. 4 Jac. in C.B. Cook 6. Part, 63, 64, 65. Sir Moile Finches Caſe.

5. The Earl of Kent brought Debt againſt J. S. for a Rent, and ſhewed, how that the Counteſs teſs of Derby was Tenant in Dower of the Land, and took to husband the ſaid Earl of Kent: and that Henry Earl of Derby had granted the Land to the ſaid Earl of Kent, Habendum after the death of the Counteſs. In this Caſe, it was ſaid by the Court, That the Attornment was not neceſſary; for that it is but a Leaſe in Reverſion, and then no Rent paſſeth: and ſo it was ſaid, It was adjudged, in Plow. Comment. in Throgmorton and Tracies Caſe. It was moved by Snagge, Serjeant, That he had granted it by the name of a Reverſion, and then the Reverſion will carry the Rent. To whom the Court ſaid, Then your Grant is void; For a man cannot grant his Reverſion, Habendum after the death of another; and therefore quacunq; via data, he could not have the Rent: whereupon the Book ſayes, Snagge conticuit, cum tubore, Mich. 29 Eliz. in C. B. The Earl of Kents Caſe, Goldiſor. 39.

6. Note; It was ſaid, and agreed for Law by the Court, That for acts in Law no Attornment is neceſſary; As if a Leaſe be made for years reſerving Rent, which is aſſigned to a woman for Dower; ſhe ſhall have the Rent without Attornment: In Cambells Caſe, upon an Elegit returned, That a Leſſor was ſeiſed in Fee, and that by virtue of the Judgment, the moyety was delivered to the Plaintiff; and for Rent, reſerved upon the Leaſe for years before Judgment, it was adjudged, That the Plaintiff might have an Action without Attornment. Brownlow 1. Part. 33. acc.

7. Note; Although Tenant in taile may Attorn, where the Reverſion of his Eſtate is granted over; yet he is not Compellable to attorn, although ſuch grant of the Reverſion be by Fine, becauſe he hath an Eſtate of Inheritance, which may continue for ever. So if a Leaſe be made for life, the remainder in taile, the remainder to the right heirs of Tenant for life: In this caſe, if the Tenant for life grant his remainder in Fee, that remainder paſſeth without Attornment; for if any ſhould attorn, it ſhould be the Tenant for life; and it were in vain for the Tenant for life to attorn to his own Grant. Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 316. & 319.

8. If the Reverſion of Leſſee for life be granted, and the Leſſee for life aſſigns over his Eſtate, the Leſſee cannot attorn; but the Attornment of the Aſſignee is good, becauſe it behoveth that the Tenant of the Land do attorn; and after the aſſignment, there is no tenure nor attendance, &c. betweene the Leſſee and him in the Reverſion: So if Leſſee for life aſſign over his Eſtate upon condition, he, having nothing in him but a Condition, ſhall not attorn; but the Aſſignee may attorn, becauſe he is Tenant of the Lands. Ibidem.

9. In Waſte, the Caſe was; A. ſeiſed of a houſe and certain Lands by Indenture demiſed the ſame to B. from Chriſtmas next coming for 16. years, who aſſigned his Intereſt to the Defendant; Afterwards by Deed Indented and Enrolled bargain, and ſold the reverſion to the Plaintiff, who brought the Action: The Defendant confeſſed, That A. was ſeiſed, and made the Leaſe, and confeſſed the Aſſignment; but ſaid, That before the ſaid Indenture of bargain and ſale was enrolled, the ſaid A. did levy a Fine of the premiſſes to the now Plaintiff, after which the ſaid Deed was enrolled. In this caſe the point was, If the Conuſee of the Fine after the Deed enrolled ſhould be in by the Fine, or by the bargain and ſale; for if he be in by the Fine, then no Waſte lyeth before Attornment. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the Conuſee ſhould be in by the Fine, and not by the Indenture enrolled; for when the Fee-ſimple paſſeth by the Fine to the Conuſee and his heirs, the enrolment of the Indenture afterwards cannot deveſt and turn the Eſtate out of him, which was abſolutely ſettled in him by the Fine; and ſo upon the whole matter it was Reſolved, That before Attornment, the Action of Waſte did not lye. Trin. 33 Eliz. C. B. Cook 4. Part, 70. Hinds Caſe.

10. Lord and Tenant by Fealty and Rent; the Lord made a Feoffment of the Mannor, the Tenant being within age of 21 years, having the Lands by diſcent attorned. In this caſe two points were Reſolved; 1. That in a Per quæ ſervitia againſt an Enfant, who hath a Tenancy by diſcent, he ſhall not have his age, becauſe the Lord at firſt departs with the Land, in conſideration that the Tenant ſhall hold of him, and pay to him his Rent; and it is preſumed, that the Tenant hath benefit and availe above the Services which he doth, and the Rent which he payeth: and the Tenant who hath the Lands by diſcent, ſhall be diſtrained for the Rent behind during his Nonage, and ſhall not have his age. 2. It was Reſolved, That although in the principal caſe the Enfant was not compellable to attorn; yet in regard he by a means was compellable to attorn, if a Fine had been levied, that the attornment was good: and an attornment is but a bare aſſent, and is onely to perfect a Grant, and doth not give any Intereſt; and ſhall not amount to an Enfranchiſement of a Villain: and therefore the Attornment by the Enfant is good in this caſe: and ſo an Attornment of the husband in pais to a Grant made by Deed, ſhall bind the Wife, 3 E. 3. 42. Mich. 9 Jac. in C. B. Cook 9. Part, 84, 85. Connys Caſe.

11. A. ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. in Fee, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed thereof to the uſe of himſelf and B. whom he intended to marry for term of their lives without impeachment of Waſte; and after their deceaſe, to the uſe of their firſt Iſſue male, and to the heirs males of ſuch iſſue male; and and for default of ſuch Iſſue, to the uſe of the heirs males of the body of A. and B. lawfully begotten; and for want of ſuch Iſſue, to C. in taile, with divers remainders over: They Intermarry, and have Iſſue D. Afterwards A. dyeth, without having any other Iſſue on the body of B, but the ſaid D. B. enters, a Barn is thrown down by the Wind; B. takes the Timber of the Barn, and converts it to her own uſe. In this caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That till Iſſue, A. and B. were ſeiſed of an Eſtate taile executed ſub modo, untill the birth of the Iſſue male, and then they became Tenants for life, the remainder to the Iſſue in taile, the Reverſion to the heirs males of A. and B. for the Eſtate for their lives was not abſolutely drowned, untill they had Iſſue male. 2. It was Reſolved, That Tenant in taile after poſſibility of Iſſue extinct, hath a greater priviledge in reſpect of the Quality of his Eſtate, then Tenant for life hath: and, amongſt the reſt, this is one, That he ſhall not be driven to attorn: But it was Reſolved in this caſe, That if ſuch Tenant after poſſibility doth grant over his Eſtate, the Grantee in a Quid juris clamat brought againſt him, ſhall attorn; becauſe by aſſignment over of his Eſtate, the priviledg is gone; as it was Reſolved, Mich. 29 Eliz. in Ewers Caſe. Paſch. 13 Jac. Cook. 11. Part, 78, 79. Lewis Bowles Caſe. See Mich. 40 Eliz. in C.B. rott. 3316. Veal and Reads Caſe. Ibid. acc.

12. If a man have a Rent-charge granted to him of 20 l. per annum, and he grant 5 l. a year of it to a ſtranger by Fine, the Tenant is not Compellable to attorn; as it was ſaid by Hobart, Chief Juſtice, in the Argument of Sir Henry Roll, and Oſborns Caſe, Trinit. 9 Jac. in C.B. Hob. 23.

13. A. purchaſor of the Reverſion, by Fine acknowledged, after the Kings ſilver was entred, wrote to the Tenant, giving him notice of the purchaſe, to requeſt him to have his good will and Aſſent to Attornment, without compulſion of Law. To whom Anſwer was made, ſubſcribed by a Letter under the hand of the Tenant, in theſe words; The Conuſor himſelf not having it, I am glad ſo good an heir as of your Ladiſhip ſhall have it. And by the Opinion of Catline, and divers Serjeants at Law, the ſame was holden to be a good Attornment, Hill. 13 Eliz. The Lord Dyer, and the Counteſs of Hereſords Caſe. Dyer 298.

14. Note; That if Leſſee for life or years attorn upon a Condition ſubſequent, the Condition is void; for if the Reverſion, or remainder be once veſted, it cannot be deveſted by any Condition annexed to the Attornment, becauſe the Grantee thereof is not in by the Leſſee, but by the Grantor: but if one attorn upon a Condition precedent, it is no Attornment before the Condition be performed. Cook 2. Part, in Tookers Caſe, acc.

Audita Querela.

I. For whom, and againſt whom, and where, for what, or upon what it lyeth, and where not?

1. THe Writ of Audita Querela lyeth as well upon matter in Fact, as upon matter in writing: And therefore if a man Leaſe Lands to A. for life, and afterwards grants the Reverſion to B. in Fee, and dyeth, and the Heir of the Conuſor in J. D. by Covin betwixt them, ſue forth a Precipe in Capite againſt A. ſuppoſing the Lands to be holden of the King, whereas they are holden of a Common perſon: And in that Writ to appear, they cauſe J. N. as Attorney for A. and to joyn the Miſne upon the Meer Right, and J.N. the Attorney by Covin makes default, ſo as Judgment is given againſt A. In this Caſe, A. ſhall have an Audita Querela, to the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, to make reſtitution to him of the Lands. Fitz. Nat. Br. acc.

2. Executors had Judgment in an Accompt, and had the Defendant in Execution for the Arrerages, afterwards the Will was annulled becauſe the Teſtator was an Ideot, and the Record out of the Spirituall Court, was removed into the Chancery by Writ, and from thence ſent into the Kings Bench, where the Action was brought. And the Defendant thereupon brought an Audita Querela, It is a Quære, in 3 Eliz. Dyer. 203. If the Audita Querela did lye; But ſee Cook 8. part 144. in Doctor Druries Caſe. That in ſuch Caſe, Anno 35 H. 8. It was Reſolved in the Exchequer Chamber, that the Audita Querela would well lye.

3. A Woman and her Husband as Adminiſtrators of the firſt Husband, recovered in Debt depending, which ſuit the Son of the Inteſtate by Covin between him and the Deſendant, procured new Letters of Adminiſtration to be granted to him and his Mother joyntly, and after Judgment releaſed to the Debtor: The Husband and Wife ſued forth Execution, the Debtor brought an Audita Querela depending, which the ſecond Adminiſtration was repealed by ſentence, and the Covin and the Repeal was pleaded in Bar, upon which the Defendant did demur; It was in that Caſe adjudged againſt the Defendant, 17 Eliz. Dyer. 339. But note in that Caſe; If the Letters of Adminiſtration had been good, and the Adminiſtrator had made made a Releaſe, and afterwards the Letters of Adminiſtration had bin repealed, in ſuch Caſe the Releaſe had bin good; and ſo note the difference, between a ſentence declarative, by which the Letters of Adminiſtration are declared void, and a Sentence of Repeal, which allowes them good till they are Repealed.

4. A. B. and C. 28 Eliz. acknowledged a Recognizance of 200 l. to J. S. 29 Eliz. J. S. ſued forth a Scire facias againſt the Recognizors, whereupon Nihil returned, and thereupon a ſecond Scire facias iſſued, and thereupon Judgment was given, That J. S. ſhould recover againſt the ſaid Recognitors the ſaid 200 l. and that he have execution, J. S. ſued forth a Levari facias. It was returned that they had nothing, whereupon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum was Awarded to the Sheriff of N. by force of which he Arreſted the bodies of B. and C. 30 Eliz. and the ſaid B. at the time of the ſaid Arreſt, was in Priſon under the cuſtody of the ſaid Sheriff, being Attainted of Felony; and afterwards B. and C. did eſcape out of the cuſtody of the Sheriff; J. S. brought an Action againſt the Sheriff upon this eſcape; It was Reſolved in that Caſe, that the Awarding of the Capias ad ſatisfaciendum was erronious; for that the bodies of the Recognizors were not by Law lyable to execution; and yet it was adjudged in that Caſe, that becauſe the Sheriff could not take advantage of the Error in the Judgment, that he ſhould anſwer for the eſcape, for the Sheriff cannot plead Nul tiel Record againſt the Judgment, for that untill it be reverſed it remaineth in force, although there be apparent Error in it; but if the Judgment had bin reverſed, then the Sheriff might have bin reteined by bringing his Audita Querela. 31 Eliz. in the Exchequer, Woodhouſe and Ognells Caſe. Leon. acc.

5. In Audita Querela, the Plaintiff ſhewed, how that a Debt of 200 l. was recovered againſt him, upon which he was Outlawed, and afterwards by force of a Capias utlagatum, that he was taken in execution; and ſo being in Execution, the Sheriff ſuffered him to eſcape; The Defendant pleaded that after the ſaid eſcape, and before the Audita Querela was brought, the ſaid Outlawry was declared to be erronious; and ſo pleaded Nul tiel Record of Outlawry, upon which the Plaintiff did demur, It was Reſolved in that Caſe, That when an erronious Judgment is given, and afterwards the ſame is Reverſed by Error, collateral Acts executory are thereby barred; and therefore it was Reſolved that in ſuch Caſe, The Defendants plea of Nul tiel Record, was holden to be a good plea; And the Exigent in that Caſe, which is the Warrant of the Outlawry being declared to be defective for want of ſubſtance, It was therefore void ab initio; and ſo it was adjudged that the Audita Querela did not lye. Cook 8. part 141. Doctor Druries Caſe.

6. If a Statute be acknowledged, or a Recognizance be acknowledged before one, who hath not power to take Recognizance, or Statutes: and after ſuch Statute or Recognizance, the Recognizor doth enteoff a ſtranger of the Land; and afterwards the Recogniſee or Conuſee, ſueth forth execution upon the ſaid Statute or Recognizance, the Feoffee may have, and maintain an Audita Querela, and ſo avoid the Execution. 29 H. 8 Dyer 35.

7. A. acknowledged a Statute to B. and afterwards infeoffed B. the Conuſee, of part of his Land, and afterwards conveyed other part of his Lands to his ſon, and to the Wife of the Son, for the Joynter of the Wife. The Conuſee ſued forth Execution upon the Statute, the Son in his own name, without mentioning his Wife, brought an Audita Querela; It was adjudged in this Caſe, that the Audita Querela did well lye; and that by the purchaſe of part of the Lands by the Conuſee, the Statute was defeated and extinct, and that the Writ did lye, being brought by the Husband alone, and the Wife not named in the Writ. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 193. Gaſcoignes Caſe.

8. A Conuſor of a Statute Staple, ſeiſed of divers Lands in the Counties of S. and D. did enfeoff A. and B. of the Lands in the County of S. and C. of Lands in the County of D. the Conuſee ſued execution in the County of S. onely, and the Lands of A. are extended and delivered in execution, and the Sheriff upon the extent, retorned that thoſe were all the Lands which the Conuſor had in his Bayliwick, and that he had not any other Lands nor Tenements. A. brought an Audita Querela, and had a Scire facias returnable in the County of D. to have C. contributary, who appeared, and pleaded, The leaving out of the Lands in the poſſeſſion of B. in the County of S. in abatement of the Writ; It was holden, that the ſame omiſſion of the Lands in the poſſeſſion of B. was no plea to abate the Writ, for that the Plaintiff was not bound to take notice of it, nor is to take notice of all the Lands which are lyable to the Statute, but of thoſe [illegible]onely which are his proper Lands. 10 Eliz. Dyer 331.

9. In Audita Querela, the Caſe was: T. ſued a Bill of Debt againſt H. in the Kings Bench, who found J. S. his Bail, according to the Courſe of Bail: H. afterwards was condemned, and then dyed without paying the debt, or rendring his body to priſon. A Scire facias was brought againſt the Bail, who, upon two Nihils retorned, were taken in Execution, whereupon they brought an Audita Querela: It was the Opinion of the Court, that execution ſhould not be ſued forth againſt the Bail, til till a default be retorned againſt the Principal; for the Recognizance of the Bail is, that the Principall ſhall yield himſelf, &c, which is to be intended, upon proceſſe Awarded againſt him; and then no proceſſe in the principall Caſe being Awarded againſt him in his life time, and now it is impoſſible that he ſhould yield himſelf to priſon, being dead; It was therefore holden that the Bail was diſcharged: and judgment was awarded for the Plaintiffs in the Audita Querela. Tedcaſtle and Hebbs's Caſe. Mich. 40. Eliz. in B. R. Goldsbr. 174.

10. Two were bound joyntly and ſeverally in an Obligation, both of them were ſeverally ſued and condemned, and ſeverally taken in execution, the one eſcaped, the other brought an Audita Querela; It was adjudged, that the Audita Querela did not lye: for although there ſhall be but one execution, yet that ſhall be intended of an execution with ſatisfaction; for he ſhall have both their bodies in execution; and the body is no execution with ſatisfaction, but onely a pledge for the Debt. M. 29. Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. part. Blumfields Caſe.

11. A man brought Audita Querela, and ſurmiſed, That B. Adminiſtrator of C. brought his Action of Debt upon an Obligation, and that before Judgment that Adminiſtration was revoked, and Adminiſtration granted to another; and notwithſtanding the Revocation, the ſecond Adminiſtrator Releaſed; And upon that Releaſe, the reſt brought an Audita Querela, and the Court would not grant a ſuperſedeas, becauſe the Revocation was but matter in Fact, for that it was not under Seal, and the firſt Adminiſtrator might appeal. Brown. 1. part 29. Beck's Caſe.

12. A. Purchaſed Lands of one, againſt whom a Judgment was given long before the purchaſe. The Vendor afterwards became altogether unable to pay the Judgment: The Plaintiff in the Judgment brought a Scire facias againſt the Defendant, and had Judgment againſt the Defendant by default, and afterwards had an Elegit, and by vertue of that extended the Lands of the Purchaſor, for that the whole Land was not extended. The Court was of Opinion that there was no other remedy for the purchaſor, but by bringing Audita Querela, and thereby ſhewing and ſetting forth the ſpeciall matter. M. 15 Jac. in C. B. Fowles Caſe. Brownlow. 1. part 39.

13. In Audita Querela ſued by Sureties upon an eſcape made by the principall; They being in Execution, offered to bring the mony into Court, or to put in ſufficient ſureties to the Court, and prayed that they might be bayled; It was agreed by the Court, That if Audita Querela be grounded by ſpecialty, or other matter in writing; or upon matter of Record, a ſuperſedeas ſhall be granted before the party be in Execution; and if he be in execution, he ſhall be bailed; but if it be grounded upon a matter in Fact, which is onely a ſurmiſe, he ſhall not have a ſuperſedeas in the one Caſe, nor be bailed in the other Caſe; And ſo was the Opinion of all the Juſtices. Paſc. 12 Jac. in C. B. Brownlow. 2. part. 108.

14. In Debt upon a ſingle Bill, the Defendant pleaded payment, which was found againſt him, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and the Defendant was taken in Execution, after which an Audita Querela was brought by the Defendant upon an averrment of payment made, and the Defendant was bayled: The Plaintiff moved the Court for remedy in this Caſe; The Opinion of the Court in this caſe was, That the Audita Querela was illegally granted, and ought to be quaſhed; And the Court ordered that the party ſhould be taken in execution again upon the former Judgment, for that ſuch a plea of payment againſt a ſingle Bill, was no plea; and therefore the Audita Querela ſhould not have bin allowed nor Bail taken: And an Attachment was awarded againſt them that did proſecute the Audita Querela, and the Bailment of the Defendant. Tr. 9. Jac. in B. R. Torrey and Adys Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. part 140.

15. A Feme Covert did acknowledge a Statute, the Husband died, the Wife was taken in Execution by her body, whereupon ſhe brought her Audita Querela, and ſet forth; That when the Statute was by her ackowledged, ſhe was then a Feme Covert, whereupon ſhe was let to bail; and ſhe averred that the mony in demand was paid and ſatisfied in the life of her Husband; which matter was put in iſſue to be tried. Now forasmuch as the courſe is to take Bail by Manucaptors by Recognizance, to proſecute with effect; The Opinion of all the Juſtices was, That if the iſſue were found againſt the Woman, execution ought to be ſued againſt the Manucaptors, and the Recognizance is to be extended for the Debt, and Execution cannot be ſued again againſt the Woman; and if the matter in iſſue upon the Triall be found for the Woman, that then her Manucaptors are clearly diſcharged, as it was ſaid to have bin adjudged in Sir Anthony Aſhlyes Caſe. Paſc. 10. Jac. in B. R. Dingley and Sir James Creytons Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. part 187.

16. In Audita Querela, the Caſe was this, Cowley and Bates bound themſelves joyntly and ſeverally in a Recognizance of 200 l. to Lydell: After, Lydell brought Debt upon the Recognizance againſt them in the Common-Pleas, upon which Judgment, he had Execution by an Elegit againſt Bates. Afterwards, he brought Debt againſt Cowley in the Kings Bench, upon the ſame Recognizance, after after he had ſued execution upon the Elegit, and the Lands of Bates and his goods, who was Tenant thereof onely for the life of another, he took forth a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt Cowley upon the Judgment againſt him in the Kings Bench, whereupon Cowley brought an Audita Querela; and ſet forth the whole matter: And the Opinion of all the Juſtices upon Argument by them of the Caſe in Court, was, that the Audita Querela was well brought. And firſt it was agreed by them all, That when a man may plead a matter in bar, he ſhall not have an Audita Querela upon the matter; but, as this Caſe was, he could not have pleaded the ſpecial matter; and therefore, as to that poynt, the Audita Querela was well brought. The onely doubt of the Caſe was, whether Lydeot the Defendant might have a new execution by Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, after he had had Execution againſt one of the Obligers by Elegit; It was holden that a Capias doth not lye after Execution ſued forth by an Elegit; and the reaſon is, becauſe upon the prayer to have an Elegit, it is entred in the Roll Elegit ſibi executionem per medietatem terræ, ſo as he is ſtopped by the Record to have any other execution. And alſo an Elegit is in it ſelf a ſatisfactory Execution, and by the Common-Law, a man ſhall have but one Execution with ſatisfaction; And the Court held it no difference, although in the principal Caſe, The Judgments were given in ſeverall Courts againſt the perſons ſeverally, and at ſeveral times; and, where it is but one Judgment againſt one party: And it was alſo agreed in this Caſe, That although there had been an Eviction of the whole land taken in Execution, or that the Judgment had bin reverſed by Error, after he hath Execution againſt one by Elegit; yet the Defendant could not have Execution againſt the other, for that by the firſt Execution he had determined his Election. And ſo the whole Court agreed to relieve the party in the Audita Querela, and to diſcharge him out of Execution, being unjuſtly and illegally taken and Impriſoned for the ſame Debt, after a Satisfaction had before by an Elegit; and therefore it was adjudged that Cowley the party in the Audita Querela ſhould be diſcharged. Tr. 11. Jac. in B. R. Rott. 822. Cowley and Lydeotts Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part. 97, 98, 99. See Godbolt. 257, 258. the ſame Caſe.

17. Requiſh an Enfant of the age of 20 years and three quarters, and who wanted but nine weeks of his full age; The Commiſſioners for the taking of a Fine, took a Fine of him, not having notice that he was within age, and by inſpection they could not perceive whether he was within age or not; He being alſo in Ward to the King. In the Exchequer they took of him a Recognizance of a great ſum, that he ſhould not convey his Land to any one unleſſe it was by aſſent and Order of that Court. In that Caſe, it was ſaid by Cook Chief Juſtice, That this was a Fault in the Commiſſioners, but not a Crime: And as for the Recognizance; It was ſaid, That if he bring an Audita Querela upon this, they will redreſſe it, for that the Law hath made a kind of perpetuity for the preſerving of the Lands of an Enfant during his minority, ſo as he cannot during this time convey away his Lands. The Fine was reverſed; and an Audita Querela ordered to be brought to avoid the Recognizance. Hill. 12. Jac. in Cam. Stellat. Requiſh and Requiſhe's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part. 320.

18. Two are in Execution for Debt, the one eſcaped; for this, an Action of Debt lyeth againſt the Sheriff; and after the Debt recovered againſt the Sheriff, the other which remained in execution ſhall have his Audita Querela to be releined; the body being taken in execution, is no ſatisfaction for the debt, for the body is taken ad ſatisfaciendum. Hill. 12 Jac. in B. R. Doctor Suchloff and Sir George Reynils's Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part. 320.

19. By information upon the Statute of 23 Eliz. of Recuſancy, Judgment was given againſt Doctor Foſter, for the King and the Informer; For ſtay of Execution, it was moved, That he had now conformed himſelf, and therefore he ought to be diſcharged upon his conformity, by the Statute of 1 Car. 4. It was holden in this Caſe, that the Court cannot judicially take notice of his Conformity; and therefore Judgment being given, he ought to pay the money preſently, or elſe execution to go, and he hath no remedy to help himſelf but an Audita Querela; For in Caſe of a Common perſon, if he cannot plead, he is to have his Audita Querela: But a man ſhall not have an Audita Querela againſt the King, and therefore he ought to have pleaded the matter, which is now too late; But it was holden, that he might have an Audita Querela againſt the Informer, and that Audita Querela ſhould not hinder the Execution as to the King; afterwards he brought the mony into Court, and was bailed; and he was adviſed by the Court to make his Petition to the King. M. 11. Jac. in B. R. The King and Doctor Fosters Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part. 324.

20. One Recovered in Debt, and took Execution by Elegit, whereupon the Defendant's Lands were extended, and after aſſigned over and conveyed into ſeverall mens hands. Afterwards the Plaintiff in the Action of Debt Releaſed all ſuch Judgments and Executions; whereupon the Defendant brought Audita Querela: It was demurred upon it, becauſe the Writ was brought againſt the firſt Plaintiff, who did recover; whereas it ought to have been brought againſt the Aſſignee of the extent. But it was adjudged, that the Audita Querela was well brought, for that he being party to the Judgment, his Releaſe had diſcharged the Judgment. Paſc. 7. Car. in B. R. Flower and Elgars Caſe. Cro. 1. part 155.

21. Audita Querela was brought by three to avoid a Judgment given againſt the ſaid three, where one of them was onely taken in Execution upon the ſaid Judgment, the others not being touched; It was objected, That they ought not to have joyned in the Writ, but he onely who was in Execution ought to have had the Writ, and the others are ſtrangers to the Record: But it was Reſolved, that they are not ſtrangers to the Record, but that they may have benefit of the ſatisfaction by the Record becauſe they are all parties to the Act, the Law gives liberty to every one of them to take advantage of any one of their Acts for the others diſcharge, as if a Releaſe were to one of the Treſpaſſors, and the other had it to plead, they ſhould take advantage thereof to diſcharge themſelves accordingly. Hill. 11. Car. in B. R. Corbet and Bates's Caſe. Cro. 1. part 320.

22. Audita Querela by the ſon, to avoid an Extent upon a Statute made by his Father, ſuppoſing the Land to be intailed, and ſo not extendable, the Defendant took iſſue that the Land diſcended to him in Fee; upon the Iſſue it was found, That all was Fee-ſimple, beſides 500 Acres: and upon this the Plaintiff prayed to be diſcharged of thoſe 500 Acres; It was holden in this Caſe, That the Extent was void, and he might help himſelf by Entry, or have an Aſſiſe upon Diſſeiſin: And therefore all the Court held, That the Iſſue ought to be found for the Plaintiff, as he hath pleaded, otherwiſe it is found againſt the Plaintiff in all; Wherefore it was adjudged, the Plaintiff ſhould take nothing by his Writ. M. 3. Jac. in B. R. Sir John Aſhburnham and the Lord Saint John's Caſe. Cro. 2. part 95.

23. One in Execution upon a Statute-Merchant, ſhewed certain Articles betwixt him and the other, to diſcharge him of the Statute; and thereupon brought his Audita Querela, but the Court denyed to diſcharge him; for that one in Execution ought not to be bailed upon a ſurmiſe, but his remedy in this Caſe is to have an Action of Covenant upon the Articles. Hill. 6. Jac. in B. R. Beſton and Robinſons Caſe. Cro. 2. part 218. See 18 Jac. in B. R. Lutterford and Peter le Mayres Caſe. The like Judgment where an Audita Querela was brought, to void execution upon a Judgment, becauſe it was upon a bare ſurmiſe, which is but matter of Fact. Cro. 2. part 579.

24. A. was bound in a Recognizance as Bail for J. S. in 400 l. that if J. S. be condemned at the Suit of J. D. he ſhould either pay the condemnation, or render his body before ſuch a day. Judgment was given upon a Scire facias, upon the ſaid Recognizance. A Writ of Error was brought upon that Judgment, and the Judgment was affirmed. Afterwards a Writ of Error was brought upon the principall Judgment, which was reverſed; and hereupon an Audita Querela was brought. It was holden by the Court, That the firſt Judgment reverſed, is no reverſall of the Judgment in the Scire facias, becauſe it is a Collaterall Judgment by it ſelf; But yet it was holden by the Court, That it is a good Cauſe for an Audita Querela, for it is quaſi dependant upon the firſt Judgment, and the firſt Judgment is the Cauſe he is charged by the Recognizance, and the cauſe of the charge being taken away, it is reaſon the Bail ſhould have remedy to be diſcharged from the Execution upon the Recognizance, and the Judgment thereupon: See Audita Querela by the Bail after Judgment againſt him for Debt upon a Scire facias, becauſe he was within age at the time of the Bail; and by the Audita Querela he was diſcharged. See New Book of Entries. 87. M. 20. Jac. in B. R. Sir John Appeſley and Ives's Caſe. Cro. 2. part 645.

25. Audita Querela, the Plaintiff ſet forth, That he was bound in a Bend with J. S. and that he being within age, the Defendant proſecuted an Original Writ againſt him, and procured one A. B. Attorney without his notice to appear to the Action, without any warrant from him; and upon Non ſum informatus entred, and Judgment by default, he was taken in execution; wherefore he prayed to be diſcharged; It was adjudged, That that is not a ſufficient ſurmiſe to diſcharge, for he ought to take his remedy by a Writ of Deceit againſt the Attorney, and not to relieve himſelf by Audita Querela. M. 22 Jac. in C. B. Alleley and Colleyes Caſe. Cro. 2. part 694.

26. An Enfant was made Executor, and Adminiſtration was committed to another durante minore ætate of the Executor, who brought Debt for money due to the Teſtator, and moved, and had the Defendant in Execution; and the Executor being come of full age, It was moved, That the Defendant might be diſcharged out of Execution, becauſe the authority of the Adminiſtrator is determined, and he cannot acknowledg ſatisfaction. It was ſaid by the Court, That although the authority of the Adminiſtrator was determined, yet the Recovery and Judgment did remain in force. But the Court ſaid, If it doth not appear in the Record, when the Enfant was made Executor, and that Adminiſtration was committed as before, the party perhaps might have an Audita Querela, and thereby ſeiſe releaſe himſelf. Mich. 29 Eliz. in C.B. Godbolt. 104.

27. A man brought an Audita Querela upon a Judgment for Debt, and Coſts, and ſhewed, that he had a Releaſe after the Judgment: The Defendant pleaded, That after the Judgment, and after the Releaſe ſuppoſed to be made, he ſued forth a Scire facias upon the ſaid Judgment; and upon that Writ he had Judgment to have Execution by default. It was ſaid in this caſe, and a Caſe was cited out of 12 H. 7. Crooks Reports, 11. That if the Defendant after Judgment, have a Releaſe made to him by the Plaintiff; and after the Plaintiff ſues a Scire facias upon the ſame Judgment; and the Defendant makes default, and execution be awarded, that he ſhall never have an Audita Querela: otherwiſe it is, if a Nihil be returned upon the Scire facias. Hill. 16 Jac. in C. B. Hanmr and Maſe's Caſe. Hob. 283.

28. The Lord Dudley brought an Audita Querela againſt L. and upon it a Scire facias againſt the ſame party: It was moved, That foraſmuch as no Execution was ſued againſt the perſon of the Lord, ſo as he was not in priſon, that a Scire facias ought not to Iſſue, but a Venire facias. And, 2. That this Audita Querela ought to be ſued in the Chancery, and not in the Common-Pleas. But the Court was clear of Opinion, That it was at the Election of the party grieved, either to ſue a Scire facias, or a Venire facias. 2. That the party might ſue in which of the Courts he would. See 16 Eliz. Dyer, Audita Querela upon a Statute-Merchant directed to the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas; but upon a Statute-Staple, the Suit ſhall be in the Chancery by Audita Querela, or by Scire facias to the Sheriff, quod ſit in Cancellaria, Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. The Lord Dudley and Lacyes Caſe, Leon. 140. See Trinit. 31 Eliz. in C.B. Glanvill and Mallaries Caſe. Leon. 308. acc.

29. A. was bound to the Earl of Lincoln in a Statute-Staple, the Earl ſued Execution; and A. was put in priſon; the friends of A. brought the money into Court, and Caſt an Audita Querela for A, and prayed he might be bailed; and the money remain in Court till the Audita Querela were determined: By Rule, the money was to remain in Court, till the Audita querela was determined: and A. put in baile to anſwer the Coſts of Suit, Hill. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Aſcue and the Earl of Lincoln's Caſe, Leon. 141.

30. Note; It was ſaid by Anderſon, Chief Juſtice, in an Audita Querela, That if a man be in Execution by his body and Lands upon a Statute; If the Sheriff permit the Conuſor to go at large, yet the Execution of the Land is not diſcharged; but if he go at large by the Aſſent of the Conuſee, then the whole Execution is diſcharged, and the Conuſor ſhall have his Land again preſently. Paſch. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Linacre's Caſe. Leon. 231.

31. In Detinue of a Statute-Merchant, the Defendant prayed Garniſhment; the Plaintiff recovered againſt the Garniſhee by Erronious Judgment; by force of which, the Defendant delivered the Statute to the Plaintiff, who had Execution; afterwards the Garniſhee reverſed the Judgment by a Writ of Errour, by which he is reſtored to all that he loſt: yet by that, the Execution ſhall not be avoided; but in ſuch caſe, the party ſhall be helped by Audita Querela. Cook 5. Part. 90. in the caſe of Executions.

32. If the Defendant doth in a perſonal Action after Judgment, releaſe unto the Plaintiff all Actions perſonal, he ſhall not afterwards bring an Audita Querela; becauſe after he hath releaſed to the Plaintiff all perſonal Actions, he cannot have the effect of his Writ, which is to diſcharge him of a perſonall Execution. Cook. 1. Part. Inſtiutes, 289. a.

33. An Enfant at full age brings an Audita Querela in Chancery to avoid a Recognizance in the Nature of a Statute-Staple by him made within age; but becauſe his age was to be tryed by Inſpection of the Court. It was adjudged, That the Audita Querela did not lye: ſo alſo it had been, if he had dyed within age; for in ſuch caſe he ſhould have brought his Audita Querela before his full age. 7 Eliz. Dyer 232.

34. A. had a Judgment againſt B. and B. thereupon was taken in Execution, and being in priſon in the Kings-Bench; A. conſented, That B. ſhould come to him out of priſon to the Horſe-ſhoe-Tavern which was out of the Rule, without a Keeper, or a Rule of Court: who went to him accordingly; and becauſe no agreement could be made between them, A. took the Defendant again in Execution: whereupon he brought his Audita Querela. It was adjudged, That the Audita Querela was well brought, for that the Execution was diſcharged by the Priſoner's going at large; and he could not be taken upon it again. Trin. 24 Car. in B. R. Walker and Alden's Caſe. Styles 117.

35. A Writ of Errour was brought by the baile, to reverſe a Judgment given againſt him upon a Scire facias; the Errour aſſigned was, That there was no Capias taken out againſt the Principal; and therefore the Scire facias againſt the Bail was not good. The Court was of Opinion, If the Judgment was given upon two Nihils returned, it is as much as if Scire facias had been returned; and it is no Errour to give Judgment upon it: but it had been a good plea upon the Scire facias, to ſay, That there was no Capias againſt the Principal; but now it is too late to aſſign the ſame for Errour. But the Court ſaid, That if he were inconvenienced by the Judgment, he was not without remedy, for that he might bring an Audita Querela: and the Judgment was affirmed; and liberty left to the party to bring his Audita Querela. Mich. 1650. rott. 444. in B. R. Barrock and Tompſon's Caſe. Styles, 281. & 288, 324.

36. A Scire facias was iſſued forth againſt Executors; the Sheriff returned Nulla bona; After, upon a ſuppoſal upon a Teſtatum, that the Executors had waſted the goods, a new Scire facias with a Fieri facias in it, iſſued out, and upon two Nihils returned, a Judgment was given againſt them de bonis propriis, and the parties were never ſummoned, or had any Notice of the proceedings. In this caſe, the Court was of Opinion, That if they were condemned upon two Nihils returned where they were never ſummoned, that they might help themſelves by Audita Querela. Trin. 1653. in B. R. Styles 372.

37. Note: It was holden by the Court, If there be a Judgment againſt three, and one of them is taken in Execution, and be afterwards ſet at large by the parties conſent, If any other of the two be afterwards taken in Execution upon the ſame Judgment, he may have an Audita Querela, but he cannot be relieved upon a Motion in Court, though grounded upon an Affidavit. Mich. 1653. Price and Goodrick's Caſe, in B. R. Styles, 387.

38. A. acknowledged a Judgment 17 Car. for 2000 l. upon which Judgment, an Elegit was taken forth againſt A. his Lands in the County of B. which were extended and delivered to the Conuſee, and the Elegit filed, and the Lands enjoyed accordingly for 6 years: The Conuſee made his Wife his Executrix, who took out a Scire facias upon the Judgment of 2000 l. directed to the Sheriff of the County of C. being another County: and upon two Nihils returned, had Judgment and Execution againſt A. for the ſame debt: Who hereupon brought his Audita Querela. The Opinion of the Court was, That one cannot have an Elegit after a former Elegit, if Lands be thereby found, and the Elegit filed. Trin. 1655. in B. R. Strowd and Kekwith's Caſe, Styles 454, 455. See Cowley and Lydeotts Caſe, Sect. 16. acc.

39. In Audita Querela, The Queſtion was, Whether a Purchaſor after an Extent ſued, and the Land delivered, could have an Audita Querela, for that none ſhall have it, but the party grieved; and the Extent being before his time, he ſhould not therefore have it. And it was ſaid, That it was the Opinion of Flemming, Chief Juſtice, That a Feoffee upon an Extent made before his time, could not have it. Wherefore the Court being doubtful in the Caſe, the Audita Querela was granted de bene eſſe, and appointed there ſhould be a Demurrer thereupon. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Dutton and Mollineux Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 227.

40. Sir Edward Grubham brought Audita Querela againſt Sir Ed. Cook, upon a Recogniſance of 4000 l. acknowledged to the uſe of his Mother, and ſhewed, That the Conuſee had enfeoffed him and another of the Land, and that the Conuſee had ſued onely Execution againſt him. It was found for the Plaintiff; In Arreſt of Judgment it was moved, That the Declaration was not good, becauſe he had not ſhewed the day of the Teſte, and of the Return of the Writ and Execution certain, but onely by proceſs ſuch a day out of the Chancery; but he ought to have pleaded all the words of the Extent in ſpeciall; and alſo he had not ſhewed the Execution of the Liberate, and ſo there is no expreſs allegation of any grievance. But it was the Opinion of the Court, That the party may have an Audita Querela before an Ouſter. But yet here the ſhewing, that the Land was delivered to the Conuſee by the Liberate, is a ſufficient averment of an Ouſter: Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. Trin. 19 Jac. in C.B. Sir Edward Grubham, and Sir Edward Cook's Caſe. Winch. 20, 23.

41. A. brought Audita Querela, and ſet forth, That J. S. 10 Jac. brought Treſpaſs in B. R. againſt him, and Damages were aſſeſſed to 14 l. and Coſts to 5 l. 10 s. and Judgment there given for the Damages and Coſts. Afterwards, 11 Jac. A. brought a Writ of Errour in the Exchequer, and 5 l. 10 s. there aſſeſſed for Coſts, for delaying the Execution: J. S. did not enter the firſt Judgment, but mean between the firſt Judgment, and the Judgment in the Writ of Errour, he releaſed to A. all Executions and Demands; and that notwithſtanding this Releaſe, he had ſued Execution as well for the 14 l. damages, and 5 l. 10 s. Coſts upon the firſt Judgment, as for the Coſts upon the Writ of Errour. J. S. who was Plaintiff in the firſt Action, took Iſſue upon the Releaſe, which was found againſt him; and afterwards in Arreſt of Judgment moved, That this Releaſe ſhould not help A. the Plaintiff in the Audita Querela, becauſe that being before the Judgment, and not pleaded, the Execution is now upon the laſt Judgment, and ſo he ſhall not have benefit of the Releaſe. But the Court diſallowed of the ſaid Exception: For that he had no time to plead it, and the ſecond Judgment is onely for the Coſts increaſed; and the Execution for the firſt Coſts and Damages is upon the firſt Judgment, and not upon the ſecond: And therefore the Court was of Opinion, That the Releaſe was a good Barre to it: and although the Execution be intire, yet it is no cauſe of diſcharging the whole, but onely of the firſt Damages and Coſts: Of which it was adjudged, That he ſhould be diſcharged accordingly. Paſch. 12 Jac. in B. R. Child and Durrant's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part. 337.

Opinion

42. A man having Lands in two Counties, did acknowledg a Statute with which his Lands were chargeable: Afterwards of theſe Lands he made two ſeveral Feoffments to A. and B. An Extent upon this Statute is ſued out againſt B. and his Land, who afterwards levies a Fine of this Land to J. S. J. S. brings an Audita Querela againſt A. the other Feoffee, who pleads all the ſpeciall matter, and ſets forth the Extent againſt B. and the Fine alſo levied by him; upon which the Defendant did Demur in Law. The Queſtion onely was, Whether he the ſecond Feoffee might have an Audita Querela, to have Contribution, and remove the Extent? It was Objected, That the Writ of Audita Querela demands nothing, the ſame being but as a Commiſſion to the Juſtices, to examine the matter: And it is a ground in Law, That a Purchaſor who comes in for a valuable Conſideration ſhall not be charged alone, but every one ſhall be equally charged pro rata, and not otherwiſe: and by Fitzh. Na. Br. 104. the Feoffee himſelf ſhall have an Audita Querela, and ſo by the ſame reaſon the Feoffee of a Feoffee ſhall have, and ſo may the 20th Feoffee have it. But the Opinion of the Juſtices was, That this Audita Querela did not lye for this Feoffee, for that he is not the perſon grieved by the Execution, becauſe the Land was clogged with the Execution, and he bought the Land with the Clogg, Et tranſit terra cum onere, Intratur. Hill. 9 Jac. in B. R. rott. 513. Dyer and Mollineux Caſe. Bolſtrod. 2. Part. 15, 16, 17.

43. An Enfant acknowledged a Statute, and during his minority brought an Audita Querela to reverſe it: The Conuſee brought a Writ of Error at the full age of the Enfant, and reverſed the Judgment; and the Conuſor prayed a new Writ of Audita Querela; but he could not have it to avoid the Eſtate. And ſo note, That Audita Querela doth not lye upon Audita Querela. Paſch. 4 Jac. in B. R. Randoll and Wales Caſe.

44. In a Scire facias brought by J. S. againſt J. D. in the Chancery, to avoid a Statute, the caſe was this; A. acknowledged a Statute to J. D. and afterwards conveyed part of the Land liable to the Statute to B. who by bargain and ſale conveyed the ſame to J. D. the Conuſee. J. D. extended the Lands of J. S. the Purchaſor, who thereupon brought his Scire facias to avoid the Statute, becauſe that the Conuſee had purchaſed parcel of the Lands liable to the Statute, and ſo extinguiſhed his Statute. This Caſe coming by Mittimus out of the Chancery into the Kings-Bench; In Arreſt of Judgment, it was moved for J. D. the Defendant, That the Bargain and Sale is alledged to be made to him, but it is not ſhewed that it was by Deed enrolled; but it was pleaded, That virtute cujus, viz. of the bargain and ſale, the Conuſee was ſeiſed, and doth not ſhew that he entred. The queſtion was, What eſtate the Bargainee had, the Deed not being enrolled; and, What eſtate the Conuſee had before Entry, the Deed not being enrolled; and then If the Statute were extinguiſhed. If it was not, then the Scire facias was not well brought. But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Scire facias was well brought. For it was ſaid that J. D. the Defendant perquiſivit ſibi et hæredibus ſuis, and concludes, virtute cujus, and of the Statute of uſe, he was ſeiſed, which is a good averment, that he hath a Fee, and it is not material how he hath it; And this Action being an equitable Action, the Court ſhall conceive ſufficient matter to give Judgment for the Plaintiff. And in this Caſe, It was ſaid and agreed; That if a man be ſeiſed of black Acre, and white Acre, and acknowledgeth a Statute, and after makes a Leaſe for years of White Acre, the Reverſion over in Fee, and afterwards the Conuſee purchaſeth black Acre, and extendeth the Land of the Leſſee for years, that he in the Remainder ſhould have an Audita Querela; or a Scire facias for the damnification, which came to his intereſt; And it was holden, That he who had but intereſſe termini ſhould have an Audita Querela; And that Ceſtuy que uſe, before the Statute might have Audita Querela, which proves the ſame to be but an equitable Action; and in the principall Caſe, Judgment was given for the Plaintiff in the Scire facias. M. 15 Car. in B. R. Leak and Dawes's Caſe. Marſh. 63, and 69.

45. In Audita Querela concerning the perſonalty brought by divers, the Nonſuit of the one is not the Nonſuit of the others, becauſe the ſame goes by way of Freeing themſelves, and therefore the default of the one ſhall not prejudice the other. Cook 6. Part. 25. in Ruddocks Caſe.

46. In a Scire facias in the nature of an Audita Querela, the Plaintiff ſhewes, that 3 Jac. That Sir William Blackſton was ſeiſed of Lands in the Mannor of D. and of other Lands; and being ſo ſeized, he acknowledged a Statute of 400 l. and that he had part of the Land which was ſubject to execution, and was ſeiſed of it, which was taken in execution, there being other Lands in the hands and poſſeſſions of the Defendants, whereupon he brought this Action in the nature of an Audita Querela, to be relieved againſt the other Defendants by way of Contribution;

Contribution; And did ſhew that they were Tenants, but did not ſhew how Tenants; but layed it to be as he ſaid, ad grave damnum: In that Caſe, It was adjudged; That although it was layed generally; and that it was not layed, that he was Tenant Tempore brevis, yet being ex gravi Querela, It ſhall be intended that he was Tenant at the time of the Writ brought. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. M. 1 Car. in B. R. Blackſton and Martins Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. part 305.

Auncient Demeſne.

1. What Lands ſhall be ſaid to be Auncient Demeſne, and pleadable there: How, and by what acts, the Nature of the Land is changed; what not. And what Actions do lye, or are ſuable there; what not: and in what Actions Auncient Demeſne is a good plea; what not.

1. ALl the Lands which were in the hands of Edward the Confeſſor, at the time of making of the Book of Domeſday, are Auncient Demeſne Lands; and the Lands which were in other mens hands, and which are named in the ſaid Book, are Frank Fee. Fitzh. Na. Br. 16. acc. But ſee Cook 4. Part, of Inſtitutes, 270, that the Book of Domeſday was not compiled untill the 4th year of William the Conquerour. And, Na. Br. 14. Tenants in Auncient Demeſne, ought to be Tenants which hold of a Mannor which was in the hand of St. Edward, or in the hands of William the Conquerour; which Mannors are called the Auncient Demeſne of the King, or the Auncient Demeſne of the Crown of England.

2. H. B. and two others, as Tenants of the Mannor of B. which is Auncient Demeſne, brought a Writ of Monſtraverunt againſt the Lord; The Lord prayed, That H. B. might make it appear to the Court, that the Mannor is Auncient Demeſne; becauſe no Tenant is to have Suit by Monſtraverunt, if he be not Tenant in Auncient Demeſne. H. B. ſhewed the Record of the Book of Domeſday in hâc formâ, viz. and Terra Sancti Stephani, was the Titie; and the Record ſpake, That this Mannor was in the King's hands, and recited in it an Inſpeximus of William the Conquerour. Alſo he ſhewed the Charter of King Ed. 3. which ſaid Inſpeximus the Charter of William the Conquerour, who had granted and confirmed the ſame Mannor to one J. B. in Fee; and that the Charter of William the Conquerour, had Inſpeximus Chartam Edwardi Regis. The Court ſaid, That in the Book of Domeſday, there are divers manner of Titles of Land which is Auncient Demeſne; viz. of the Lands which were in the hands of St. Edward, the title of which is Terra Regis Edwardi. But of the Lands which were in the hands of William the Conquerour, the title is Terra Regis, and no more, becauſe it was known, That the Book of Domeſday was made in the time of William the Conquerour: So as a deſcription is made in that book of the whole Realm, ſo that all the Demeſnes which were in the hands of St. Edward, are Auncient Demeſne, although they were aliened before the Book of Domeſday was made: As the Mannor of Totnam at the time of the making of the ſaid Book was aliened before, and then in the hands of the Earl of Cheſter, as it was ſaid by the Court: It was ſaid by the Court, That the Record which the Plaintiff H. B. ſhewed, did not make mention of theſe two Titles; but the title is Terra Sancti Stephani, which was long after the Conqueſt: and ſo the Land did not appear to be Auncient Demeſne. And as to the Charters, the words whereof are Inſpeximus, they held, That the ſame were not material, for that thoſe words, are but words of Form: For which cauſe, the Plaintiff were Non-ſuit. Trin. 49 E. 3. 22. Commentary upon Original Writs, 221, 222.

3. He who holdeth by Knights-Service within Auncient Demeſne, and is ouſted, ſhall have his Action at the Common-Law, and not in Auncient Demeſne; becauſe that no Lands are Auncient Demeſne, but thoſe Lands which are holden in Socage; and if the party claim to hold by Knights-Service, it is a good cauſe to remove the plea: and if before the Statute of Quia Emptores terrarum, the Lord maketh a Feoffment in Fee to hold of him by Knights-Service, the Tenant ſhall not have Monſtraverunt, if he be not diſtrained for other Services then he ought to do; becauſe his Lands now are not Auncient Demeſne of the King: for Auncient Demeſne is onely of ſuch Lands which are holden by the ſervice of the Plough; as, to plough the Lords Lands, or to mowe his graſſe, &c. Na. Br. 14. acc.

4. Note: It is ſaid, That London is not Auncient Demeſne; for then the Writ of Right which is directed to the Mayor and Sheriffs ſhould be cloſe, and not Patent. Na. Br. 6. But yet ſee Cook, 2. Part, Inſtitutes, That the Tower of London, and ſome parts of London, in the Parts of the Weſt, and the Eaſt, may be Auncient Demeſne; for that London is now ſo enlarged, that ſome parts of it might be be Auncient Demeſne, Cook 3. Part. Inſtitutes, in Sir Tho. Overburies Caſe: and in 7 H. 6. in a Writ of Nativo habendo, it is pleaded, That London is the moſt Auncient City within the Realm, and that it is the Chamber of the King: For there the Caſe was, A Writ of Nativo habendo brought in Buck. was removed by Pone; the Sheriff returned Non eſt Inventus, and the party prayed a Latitat to the Sheriff of London, who made return of it, That London is the moſt Auncient City within the Realm, and the Chamber of the King; And Antiquiſſimum Domini cum Regis; and had a Cuſtome time out of mind, That if any man abided in the ſaid City for a year and a day, that he could not be removed from thence by Writ of Nativo habendo, nor by any other proceſs thereupon; and that the party had abided and dwelt there by the ſpace of 40 years, and that he could not execute the Writ Salvis Libertatibus Civitatis prædict. And though in that Caſe it was holden, That London was not Auncient Demeſne: Yet the Priviledg and Preſcription, That a Villain ſhould not be taken out of the City, or arreſted by Capias, or Latitat, was good; and the Retorn in that caſe, was holden to be good; 7 H. 6. 32. acc.

5. If the Lord in Auncient Demeſne confirm the Eſtate of the Tenant to hold by certain Service at the Common-Law. although that the Eſtate of the Tenant be not changed, nor any tranſmutation of the poſſeſſion; yet the Quality of his Eſtate is changed, for the Tenant ſhall not afterwards be impleaded by Petit Writ of Droit cloſe, and the Lands by the Confirmation is diſcharged from the Cuſtomes of the Mannor. Cook. 9. Part, 140. in Beaumonts Caſe.

6. Lands within Auncient Demeſne, which are partible between heirs males; by a Fine levied of the Land is gone: and the reaſon is, becauſe the Cuſtome runneth not with the Lands ſimply, but by reaſon of the Auncient Demeſne; and becauſe the nature of the Land is changed by the Fine from Auncient Demeſne to Land at the Common-Law, the Cuſtome of parting it among males is gone: But it is otherwiſe of the Cuſtome of Gavelkind; for there although a Fine and Recovery be had of it at the Common-Law; yet the Lands remain partable, for that that Cuſtome is by reaſon of the Land, and therefore runs with the Land; and therefore in that caſe the Cuſtome is not gone. 6 E. 6. Dyer 72. Finch. 15. 16.

7. The Iſſue in taile brought a Writ of Right Cloſe, in the Nature of a Formedon of Lands in Auncient Demeſne; The Tenant there pleaded, That the Anceſtor of the Plaintiff being Tenant in taile levied a Fine of the ſaid Lands, which was without proclamations, but good by the Cuſtome upon a Writ of Covenant brought; and that Judgment was there given for the Diſcontinuee of the Tenant in tail, and againſt the Demandant: whereupon the Iſſue in taile brought a Writ of Falſe Judgment, and ſeveral Errours were aſſigned; 1. That the words, parvum and Clauſum, were not in the Writ. 2. That it was 4. Legales homines, where it ought to have been 4. milites. 3. It was ſaid, That the Mannor was de Dominico Reginæ; and it is not ſaid, de antiquo Dominico: but the Exceptions were diſallowed by the Court. And in that caſe it was ſaid by the Court, That if the Judgment were to be reverſed by this Writ of Falſe Judgment; yet the Judgment ſhould be no other, but that he ſhould be reſtored to his Action; and then the Court ſaid, They would judge there according to their Cuſtome; that a Fine levied there without proclamation by Tenant in taile of the Lands within Auncient Demeſne, would barre the Iſſue in taile. Mich. 23 Eliz. Dyer. 373.

8. Note: It was holden by the Court, That if a man levieth a Fine of Land in Auncient Demeſne at the Common-Law to another; now the Lord in Auncient Demeſne ſhall have a Writ of Diſceit againſt him, who levieth the Fine, and he who is Tenant, and thereby he ſhall make void the Fine, and the Conuſor ſhall be reſtored to his poſſeſſion and title which he hath given by the Fine: But if after the Fine, the Conuſor releaſeth to the Conuſee by his Deed being in poſſeſſion, or by his Deed confirm his Eſtate in the Land, notwithſtanding the Fine be avoided; yet the Conuſee ſhall retain and have the Land, becauſe that this Releaſe and Confirmation made to him in poſſeſſion, maketh his eſtate firm and rightfull againſt him and his heirs, who releaſeth or confirmeth. Cook. 10. Part. 50. in Lampitts Caſe.

9. In an Aſſiſe of Rent, Auncient Demeſne of the Land is a good plea, becauſe they have authority to hold plea of the Land out of which the Rent is iſſuing, and à fortiori of the Rent. 28 H. 8. Dyer 8. [illegible] Ickenhams Caſe.

10. [illegible] Ejectione Firmæ, the Defendant pleaded [illegible] the Tenements in which the Ejectment was ſuppoſed were Auncient Demeſne. It was holden by the Court, That it was a good plea. It was Objected, That this Action is in the nature of a Treſpaſs: And in Treſpaſs for breaking of a Cloſe, and cutting down of Trees, Auncient Demeſne is no plea. But it was Reſolved, That the plea was good, becauſe that by common Intendment, the right and title of the Land therein comes in debate; and where the realty comes in debate, it ſhall be but reaſonable, that thoſe who beſt know how to try and determine it, ſhall have Conuſans of it. Hill. 43 Eliz. C. B. Cook 5. Part. Aldens Caſe. So in a Replevin, Writ of Meſne, Writ of Ward, Accompt againſt Guardian in Socage, Auncient Demeſne, is a good plea for the appearance and Common Intendment, that the realty doth come in debate. Ibid.

11. In Treſpaſs for breaking of his Cloſe at Bromeſgrave; upon the Non-Aſſignment, the Defendant pleaded Not-guilty; and the Jury found, That the Defendant was ſeiſed of the Land in queſtion, and held the ſame of the Mannor of Bromeſgrave, which is Auncient Demeſne; and that the Plaintiff recovered againſt him 40 l. in the Common-Pleas; and took out an Elegit, by force of which the Sheriff delivered him the Land in queſtion, in Execution, and he entred, upon whom the Defendant entred. It was the Queſtion, Whether Lands in Auncient Demeſne might be delivered in Execution upon an Elegit? In this caſe divers Points were Reſolved, 1. That no Freehold holden in Auncient Demeſne could be recovered in the Court of the King. 2. That although the Freehold were not to be recovered by the Action, yet if the poſſeſſion was to be recovered by the Action brought in the Kings Court, Auncient Demeſne is a good plea: but in Treſpaſs vi et armis, or upon the Statute of 5 R. 2. though the Freehold come in debate, yet it is no plea, becauſe the Iſſue is upon the wrong. 3. It was Reſolved, That although it be true, That the poſſeſſion of Land in Auncient Demeſne be gained by the Sheriffs act following upon an Award of the Kings Court; yet the Land it ſelf was never put in plea directly in the Kings Court. And Aldens Caſe, Cook. 5. Part, is, That upon an Elegit, Lands in Auncient Demeſne are liable to an Execution: and in 7 H. 4. 14. it is ruled, That in an Action of debt brought againſt the heir in the Kings Court, for the debt of his Anceſtor, Lands in Auncient Demeſne diſcended, ſhall be lyable to Execution. And it was further ſaid in this Caſe, That though an Aſſiſe would not lye in this Caſe in the Kings Court, for him that hath ſuch an Execution; yet he may have [illegible] Aſſiſe in the Court of the Mannor by Writ [illegible] Cloſe and Proteſtation, to ſue it in the [illegible] of an Aſſiſe: And it was ſaid, That for another reaſon this Caſe was clear, That ſince the Judgment was good, that the Plaintiff ſhould recover the debt, and that the Elegit did warrant the extending and delivery of half his Land, and the Auncient Demeſne is his Land as well as other, that the Sheriff had warrant ſufficient to deliver it in Execution; and he is not to diſpute what is lyable, and what not; neither is the Sheriff, nor he that receives it of him, ſubject to an Action of Treſpaſs: But it was ſaid, That in this Caſe, if there were any relief for the Defendant, it were by Audita Querela, becauſe there was no time to plead it before. Hill. 10 Jac. in C. B. Cox and Barnſleys Caſe. Hob. 47, 48.

12. If Lands in Auncient Demeſne is become Frank-Fee, that a Recovery of that Land in the Court of Auncient Demeſne, is coram non Judice; and where Execution is thereof, or of Damages, the party may have an Action of Treſpaſs, and an Aſſiſe of the Land at the Common-Law. But if a Recovery be within Auncient Demeſne, of Land which is lawfully Auncient Demeſne, the Baily may take the Cattel of him againſt whom the Recovery was had, in Execution, in each part of the Mannor, although it be Frank-Fee, by the Opinion of Hulls, in 7 H. 4. 29. See Comment, upon Original Writs, 53. acc.

13. In Treſpaſſe brought for ſpoyling of his graſſe, cutting of Trees, and carrying away of his goods; the Defendant pleaded, That the place where, was Auncient Demeſne, and demanded Judgment of the Writ. It was holden to be no plea: For if the Defendant had pleaded, That it was his Common where the Feeding was, he ought to have concluded, that he did it without wrong: ſo although he ſpeaketh of Common which toucheth the Freehold, yet the point of the Iſſue ſhall be upon the perſonalty: But if to the Trees, he had pleaded, that it was his Freehold, there perhaps it ſhould have been otherwiſe; but not unleſſe it had been ſo pleaded. But in a Replevin of Cattel taken, there it is a good plea, that the place where, is Auncient Demeſne, and thereby the Writ ſhall abate; and ſo in accompt againſt the Bayliff in Auncient Demeſne, becauſe the Freehold may come in debate, and the Iſſue only may be upon the Freehold. But if a Writ of Right be brought in Auncient Demeſne, the Writ ſhall abate. 46 E. 3. Comment. upon Original Writs, 214.

2. Of

2. Of the Priviledges of Tenants in Auncient Demeſne; and what Priviledges they ſhall have for their Lands and Goods; what not. And how Auncient Demeſne ſhall be tryed.

1. TEnants who hold Lands in Auncient Demeſne, have divers Liberties and Priviledges by Law; as, to be quit of Toll and Paſſage, and ſuch other Impoſitions which men ſhall demand of them for their Goods and Chattels ſold and bought in Market open, or in Fairs; and of all things which they ſell, which are ariſing of their Lands; or for the manurnace of their Lands. They ſhall be quit of all Taxes and Tallages granted by Parliament, if not that the King lay a Tax upon Auncient Demeſne, as he may do for ſome cauſe, whenſoever it ſhall ſeem good to him. Fitzh. Na. Br. 34 and therewith agree the Books of 9 H. 6. 25. 10 H. 6. 6. 7 H. 4.

2. If the Sheriff do Retorn Tenants in Auncient Demeſne in any Pannel for their Lands holden in Auncient Demeſne, The Writ de Non ponendis in Aſſiſis et Juratis lyeth by them againſt the Sheriff, or againſt the Bayliffs of Liberties who have Retorn of Writs: and if the Sheriff, or the Bayliffs of ſuch Liberties do retorn any ſuch Tenants to ſerve in Juries, Aſſizes, or Inqueſts, they ſhall have an Attachment againſt him, or them: and that is upon the Statute of Weſt. 1. And the Statute of Articuli ſuper Chartas, Cap. 9. And ſee, That if the Sheriff in an Ejectione Firmæ brought in the Common-Pleas, where the Defendant pleads Auncient Demeſne, retorns any perſons within Auncient Demeſne, they may be challenged and withdrawn. Cook 5. Part, 105. in Aldens Caſe.

3. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That L. parcel of the Mannor of E. in Com. Suff. was Auncient Demeſne of the Crown of England; and that all men and Tenants of Auncient Demeſne ought to be quitted of Toll in all places within the Realm for them, their Goods and Chattels; and that Queen Eliz. Anno 19 of her Raign, Commanded all Mayors, Bayliffs, &c. to permit and ſuffer the Men, and Tenants within Auncient Demeſne to be quit of Toll, Murage, and other exactions throughout the whole Realm; and ſhewed, that he was an Inhabitant of the Town of Land ſuch a day carried his Goods to Yarmouth in the ſaid County; and the Defendant not ignorant of the premiſſes, took and carried away a Cable of the Plaintiffs goods of the value of 8 l. for Toll to his damage, &c. The Defendant pleaded by Proteſtation, That L. was not Auncient Demeſne; and by Proteſtation, that the Tenants in Auncient Demeſne ought not to be quit of Toll; That the Town of Yarmouth was an ancient Borough, & that they have had time out of mind, &c. an Officer called a Water-Bayly; and that time out of mind they and their Predeceſſors have had and taken Toll of the Tenants and Inhabitants of L. for any of their Goods brought there to merchandize with, and if it be not paid, they have uſed time out of mind to diſtrain for it by their Water-Baily; and ſaid, That the Plaintiff ſuch a day brought to Yarmouth 1000 weight of Cable Ropes to ſell, for which there was due for Toll 6 d. for Murage 6 d. for Tronage 4 d. And the Defendant being Water-Baily, demanded of the Plaintiff the ſaid ſums; which he refuſed to pay: for which he took the ſaid Cable, Nomine diſtrictionis, for the ſaid Tronage, &c. In this caſe, two things were objected againſt the Defendant's plea, 1. That the Defendant hath not ſet forth in himſelf any authority to demand the duty. 2. That the Preſcription to have Toll of the Tenants in Auncient Demeſne cannot be good, becauſe it cannot have a lawful beginning; for the Tenants in Auncient Demeſne are quit of Toll by the Common-Law; and ſuch Tenants have an Inheritance in ſuch Liberties, which the King by his Grant cannot take away. To which it was anſwered, as to the firſt Point, That to ſhew the Authority to demand it, is not neceſſary, for that the preſcription is not upon demand to diſtrain: For the Officer hath not authority to demand it; for they ought to demand it, who are to take the thing demanded, and thoſe are the Bayliffs and Burgeſſes, and then when their Water-Baily doth it, it is as much as if it had been done by the Corporation: as to the ſecond point, it was ſaid, that the plea is, That the Defendant take Toll onely for thoſe things which were brought by Sea by Merchants; and not otherwiſe: and Tenants in Auncient Demeſne are not diſcharged of Toll for all things, but onely for ſuch as ariſe out of their Tenements, or are bought for their Tenements or Families there, and their ſuſtentations, or for the manurancy of their Lands: And the Defendant juſtified not only for Toll, but alſo for Tronage, which their Priviledges doth not extend unto: and therefore the Juſtification in this caſe was good. Afterwards in the principal caſe, Judgment was given, Quod Querens nihil capiat per illam; For the Juſtices were all clear of Opinion, That the Tenants in Auncient Demeſne ſhould pay Toll for their Merchandizes. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Ward and Knight's Caſe. Leon. 231.

4. An Iſſue was joyned in Writ of Entry ſur Diſſeiſin en le Poſt, Whether the Mannor of Sudbury in the County of Suff. was Auncient Demeſne, or not? And the Court ſaid to the Tenant who pleaded Auncient Demeſne, That he ſhould have there at a certain day, the Record of the Book of Domeſday: at which day, the Record was brought into the Common-Pleas, by Mittimus out of the Chancery, with the Certiorari which iſſued out of the Chancery directed to the Treaſurer and Chamberlain of the Exchequer: by which Record it was found, that it was Auncient Demeſne. Whereupon Judgment was given, That the Defendant eat ſine die. 8 Eliz. Dyer 250. b.

5. Iſſue was taken, Whether Lands contained in a Fine, were Auncient Demeſne or not? pretending, that they were parcel of the Mannor of Bowden in the County of Northampton, which was pretended to be Auncient Demeſne; and the Book of Domeſday was brought into the Court; and by that Book it appeared, That the Mannor of Bowden was in the County of Leiceſter, and not in the County of Northampton. Trin. 15 Jac. in C. B. Griffin and Palmers Caſe. Brownlow, 1. Part, 43. See Hob. 188. the ſame Caſe, That the Plaintiff was barred in the Action, for that it appeared there was no ſuch Mannor of Bowden in the County of Northampton, that was Auncient Demeſne.

6. If Auncient Demeſne be pleaded of a Mannor, and denyed, It ſhall be tryed by the Record of the Book of Domeſday in the Exchequer: But if Iſſue be taken, That certain Acres are parcel of the Mannor which is Auncient Demeſne, It ſhall be tryed by Jury; for that it cannot be tryed by the ſaid Book. Cook 9. Part, in the Caſe of the Abbot of Strata Mercella. 31.

3. What ſhall be a good cauſe, to remove a Cauſe out of Auncient Demeſne; what not: And whether it may be pleaded after Imparlance.

1. AN Abbot brought a Writ of Right-Cloſe in Auncient Demeſne, againſt Sir Humphrey Stafford, Knight, who made Proteſtation there to ſue in the Nature of a Writ of Right at the Common-Law: The Tenant joyned the Miſe upon the meer Right; and afterwards he ſued a Writ of Accedas ad Curiam, directed to the Sheriff to remove the Record: And, If that were a good cauſe to remove that Record, was the Queſtion? And it was holden to be no cauſe. Wherefore a Procedendo was granted by the Court, directed to the Bayliffs, to proceed there in the firſt Cauſe Hill. 1 & 2 Ma. Dyer 111.

2. Tenant in Auncient Demeſne vouched one at the Common-Law within the ſame County, becauſe he had nothing whereby to be ſummoned within, &c. and upon Demurrer, the Voucher was adjudged good; and day was given in the Common-Pleas to determine the Warranty: and a Summons ad Warrantizandum was Awarded to the Voucher, in the Forein County, who entred into Warranty, and vouched over into another County, &c. Paſch. 5 E. 6. Dyer 69.

3. A Recordare was to remove a Plea, upon a Writ of Right-Cloſe in Auncient Demeſne, becauſe the Lands were holden at the Common-Law by Fine. The Plaintiff in Auncient Demeſne ſaid, That the Lands were holden of a Mannor which was Auncient Demeſne, and time out of mind pleadable by Writ of Right-Cloſe; and prayed that the plea might be remanded, becauſe it appeared that the Fine was levied depending the Writ of Right-Cloſe, in Diſceit of the Juriſdiction of the Lord of the Court, and in the delay of the Plaintiff's Suit there: and upon this, the Plea was remanded. Book. Entries, 235. acc.

4. An Aſſiſe was brought by Executors of Tenements in B. The Defendant ſaid, That the Lands were Auncient Demeſne: The Plaintiff ſaid, That the Lands were Frank-Fee, and pleadable at Common-Law: And the ſame was holden a good cauſe to remove the Cauſe; and ſo it ſhould be in a Recordare. And in that caſe it was ſaid, That if it be found to be Auncient Demeſne, that the Writ ſhould abate, and that the Executors ſhould be without remedy; for they cannot have a Writ of Right-Cloſe, becauſe they have not any Eſtate of Freehold. 22 Aſſ. pl. 45.

5. In Ejectione Firmæ, After Imparlance, the Defendant pleaded Auncient Demeſne; and it was thereupon demurred; for, being after Imparlance, it came too late. But the Court doubted the Caſe, becauſe ſuch Land is not impleadable at the Common-Law; and therefore it came time enough, when he had not pleaded any other Plea. Paſch. 1 Car. in C. Authority.

1. Where an Authority or power given to Persons to make Leases for years, life, or otherwise; shall be good: And how, and under what Deeds such things shall be good, what not; And of Executors to sell.

1. THe Custome of a Mannor is, That the Lord and Surveyor, or his Deputy, might devise by Copy. The Lord granted Authority to two, to make customary estates for payment of his debts, and dyed. They held a Court in their own names, and granted Copies in Reversion according to the custome: Afterwards, the Wife of the Lord had one of the Copyholds assigned unto her by the Sheriff, upon a Recovery of the third part of the Mannor for her Dower. In that Case, it was holden by the Court, That she should avoid the Grant made by the two Assigns. Pasc. 8. Eliz. Dyer. 251. But Quære in this Case, if the Wife shall avoid the Grant. For that Pasc. 26 Eliz. It was Resolved in the Kings Bench, That if the Lord of a Copyholder take a Wife, and afterwards granteth the Land by Copy, according to the Custome, and dyeth; his Wife being endowed of the Lands amongst other things shall not avoid the estate by Copy: for although her Title of Dower was before the Grant; yet the Title of the Copyholder which is the Custome, is Ancienter then the Title of Dower. M. 6. Jac. in C. B. Cook 8. part 63. in Swains Case.

2. A man seised of Lands in Fee, makes A. and B. his Executors, and by his Will in writing appoints, That his Executors shall have and take the profits of two parts of his Lands, untill his Heir shall come of the age of 21 years, to the intent that his Executors with the profits thereof should pay his debts, perform his Legacies, and educate his Children. One Executor dyeth; the Surviving Executor maketh his Executor, and dyeth, the Heir yet being within age; It was holden by the Justices, That the Executors of the Survivor might receive the profits of the Lands, and dispose thereof accordingly during the Nonage of the Heir, because it was in Interest in the Executors by the Devise, and not an Authority or a Trust onely. H. 4. Eliz. Dyer. 210.

3. Cessat quæstio, before the Statute of 27 H. 8. Deviseth, That A. B. and C. his Feoffees shall suffer his Wife to take the profits of his Land, during her life, and after her decease that the premises shall be sold by the said Feoffees, and that the money thereof coming, that the Feoffees should pay the same to certain persons, to certain intents and purposes. The Testator dyed, A. dyed; It was holden by the Court, that B. and C. could not sell: but contrary, if he had spoken generally of his Feoffees without naming of them. 2 Eliz. Dyer. 177.

4. A man seized of divers Lands in Fee; devised all his said Lands to his sister, except his Mannor of R. which I do appoint to pay my debts, and made two Executors by name, and dyed: one Executor dyed, and the other took upon him the charge of the Executorship, and sold the said Mannor of R. for the purpose aforesaid; and the Opinion of the Court was good, That the sale was good, and that it appears by reason, and the Circumstances, that such was the intent of the Testator, and not to leave the Reversion to his heir, but to trust his Executors with the sale of it, for the payment of his debts. M. 23 Eliz. Dyer. 371. Note, The difference between this Case, and the Case next above, of 2 Eliz. Dyer, is; because in the one Case it is but a bare Authority, and in the other it is an Authority coupled with an Interest. Cook. 1. part Inst. 113.

5. If a man devise, that his executors shall sell his Lands; Now by the Statute of 21 H. 8. if one of the Executors refuse the Executorship, yet the other may sell the Land; but the sale cannot be to him who refuseth. 27 H. 8. in Bendloes Reports adjudged. Cook 1. part. Institutes, 113. acc.

6. A man seised of Lands in Fee, devised the same in tail; and if the Donee dyed without issue, that the Land should be sold by his Sons in Law, and he had five Sons in Law, and the one of them dyed in the life of the Donee; It was adjudged in that Case, That the others might sell, because they are named generally, his sons in Law; but if they had bin named by their particular names, there, after the death of the one, the other could not sell: And in that Case it was holden; That the Sons in Law might sell one part at one time and another part at another time; as they cou'd find purchasors. Hill. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Vincent and Lees Case.

7. In Trespasse, the Case was this, A man made his Will, and made A. E. and J. O. his Executors, and devised his Lands to A. E. J. and O. by their speciall names, and to their Heirs; and further devised, that the said Devisees should sell the Lands to J. D. if he before such a day would give for the same a 100 l. and if not, then that they ſhould ſell them to any other to the performance of his Will, viz. for the payment of his Debts. J. D. would not give the 100 l. One of the Executors refuſed to entermeddle, and the other three ſold the Lands, and the queſtion was, Whether the ſale were good or not; It was ſaid that the ſale was not good, becauſe it is a ſpeciall truſt, and a joynt-truſt, and a Joynt-truſt ſhall never ſurvive, for perhaps the Diviſor who is Dead, repoſed more confidence in him who refuſed then in the others; Alſo the Deviſees have an Intereſt in the Lands, and each of them hath a part, and therefore the one of them cannot ſell without the other; But if the Deviſe were, that four ſhould ſell, they have not an Intereſt, but onely an Authority; It was ſaid on the other ſide, that although the Deviſe was to them by their proper names, and not by the name of Executors, yet the intent appeareth that they were to ſell as Executors, becauſe it was to the performance of his Will, and that might well be by three, and the ſale of the Lands doth refer to the performance of his Will, in which Debts and Legacies are to be paid; and although there are divers Authorities to be executed, yet it is but one Truſt. The Court inclined that the ſale was not good, but the Caſe was not reſolved. M. 29 Eliz. in B.R. Bonefant and Sir Richard Greenfields Caſe. Godbolt. 77.

8. The Lord Gray for 800 l. bargained and ſold the Cuſtody and Marriage of his eldeſt Son to four of the Privy Councell by name, to the intent to be married by them without diſparagement, and ſeiſed of Lands in the County of B. and C. thoſe in C. holden in Knights-ſervice, covenanted to aſſure the Lands in B. to them four, to the intent to find him ſuch Wife as he ſhould marry by their appointment, till his age of one and twenty years, and then, the Land to remain to his Son and ſuch Wife, and to the Heirs Males of the body of his Son; A Fine was levied accordingly, one of the four dyed, the Lord Gray dyed: The King upon office found, ſeiſed the Ward, and Granted the marriage to the Earl of Salisbury, who married his daughter to the Son by the Kings Aſſent, and by the appointment of the Survivors. After the age of 21 years, The Son ſold the Lands in C. to J. S. by Fine and Recovery, and dyed; The Wife entred. J. S. brought a Writ of Entry in the Quibus; and upon the matter aforeſaid given in evidence, there was a demurrer in Law. In this Caſe three Judges held, That the Father might not grant the marriage of his Son, it being an inſeparable Prerogative in his perſon; But Dyer and Brown held it an Intereſt, and agreed that the death of the Lord Gray had determined the Grant in reſpect of the Intereſt of the King, by Office found; alſo by the Grant of the King, being under the Seal of the Court of Wards; the King ſhewed that he waved the other intereſt; and then the joyning of the Son is not to the purpoſe, but it ſhall be the Marriage of the Earl of Salisbury onely. And in that Caſe it was holden that the Wife is married by the appointment of the four, for where divers joyn in one Act, the Law adjudgeth them onely Actors which have Authority to do the ſame, and for that reaſon, the Land is onely in the Son, and his Grantee ſhould enjoy it againſt the Wife; And ſo it was adjudged. 3 Eliz. Dyer 190. the Lord Grayes Caſe.

9. A. made a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of B. in tail, and after to the uſe of C. in Fee, with power to revoke the uſes, and to limit new uſes, if A. ſurvive J. S. and J. S. dyeth without Heir Male of his body. A. made a Feoffment, and after by Deed, renounced to B. and C. all the power and Authority of Revocation: It was ſaid in this Caſe, that the power of Revocation was not extinct; For it was ſaid, That an Authority which is collaterall to the Land, cannot be given away or extinguiſhed by a Fine, or a Feoffment made of the Land; as if Ceſtuy que uſe deviſe, that his Feoffees ſell his Lands, and dyeth; they make a Feoffment over, yet they may ſell againſt their own Feoffment: But it was agreed, That by the Feoffment of the Land, the power of Revocation was extinct; For it was ſaid that his power was not meerly collateral, but ſavoured and taſted of the eſtate and Intereſt in the Land; But it was ſaid, That if a Feoffment be made by A. to divers uſes, with a Proviſo, that if B. ſhall revoke, that there the uſes ſhall ceaſe, there B. cannot releaſe this power, and a Fine levied, or a Feoffment made by him ſhall not extinguiſh it, for the power of B. is meerly Collaterall, and the Land doth not move from him, nor the party ſhall not be in, by, or under him. But a Fine or a Feoffment by A. if the power had bin referred to him, would extinguiſh the ſame. Cook 1. part 111. Albanis Caſe. Cook 1. part 174. Digg's Caſe. acc.

10. J. G. was ſeiſed of a certain houſe in London, and, by her Will in Writing, and enrolled, deviſed the ſaid houſe, being holden of the King, to R. G. to him, and to the heirs of his body, ſo that if he dye without iſſue, that the Lands ſhall be ſold by her Executors, or Executors of the Executors, and made W. D. and W. W. and J. de F. her Executors, and dyed without heir. R. G. dyed without iſſue, by which the houſe came to the King by Eſchear, and afterwards J. one of the Executors dyed, W. W. refuſed, and W. D. ſold the Land, and there the queſtion was, If the ſale by one Executor was good or not; It is not there Reſolved, but it is there agreed by all, That if the ſale ſale be good, that the ſame ſhall deveſt the Land out of the King; and the cauſe is for neceſſity of Law: for if the ſale ſhall not deveſt the Land at the time of the ſale, no ſale ſhall be made at all; And the Executors who have but a power, cannot have a Petition, Monſtrans de Droit, or other remedy. 49 E. 3. 16. vouched in Cook 8. part 76. in the Lord Stafford's Caſe.

11. A Copy-holder in Fee, made a Letter of Attorney to two Tenants of the Mannor, to ſurrender his Copyhold to the uſe of J. S. and his Heirs, who did it accordingly, it was adjudged that the Surrender was good; and a difference was taken, That if a man hath a bare Authority, accompted with a Truſt, there he cannot ſurrender by Attorney: But if a man hath an Authority as owner of the Land, as the Copy-holder in this Caſe had, there he may ſurrender by Attorney: But it was reſolved, That he who hath but a particular power to make Leaſes for years, that he cannot make Leaſes by Attorney, and it was ſaid, ſo it was adjudged. M. 28 Eliz. See the Lady Greſhams Caſe. See Cook 9. part 76. Combes Caſe. See before in Title Attorney.

12. Note, It was ſaid and agreed, That powers by which the eſtate or intereſt of ſtrangers ſhall be changed or charged, ſhall be taken ſtrictly, becauſe they extend to the defeating or change of the eſtate of a third perſon. And to that purpoſe, The Caſe was this; Henry Earl of Suſſex conveyed the Mannor of Burnham in Eſſex to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of the Counteſſe of Suſſex for life, with divers Remainders over. Proviſo, That it ſhould be lawfull for the Earl to make Leaſes for 21 years rendring, &c. And afterwards the Earl made a Leaſe of the ſaid Mannor for 21 years, to begin at the Feaſt of Saint Michael the Arch-Angel then following; and although that the power was generall to make Leaſes for twenty one years, without being reſtreined to make them in poſſeſſion, or any number of them, but generally to make Leaſes for twenty one years, Yet it was adjudged that the ſaid Leaſe was void for two cauſes. 1. If by the ſaid power he may make any future Leaſe, or Leaſes in Reverſion; then he may make a Leaſe for twenty one years in poſſeſſion, and afterwards infinite Leaſes in Reverſion for twenty one years, which ſhall be contrary to the meaning of the parties. 2. Becauſe that foraſmuch as this Proviſo gave power to charge the eſtate of a third Perſon, with Tearms of twenty one years; ſuch Proviſo ſhall be taken ſtrictly, and ſhall not extend beyond the Letter and meaning of the parties. M. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Lepar and Wraths Caſe. vouched in Cook 6. part 33. in Fitzwilliams Caſe, but ſee the Caſe more certain put in Leon. 35.

13. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, made a Leaſe of them for life; and afterwards, by Indenture, Covenanted to convey and aſſure the ſaid Lands, to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder to his Son in tail, with divers Remainders over. And further, by the ſaid Indenture it is Covenanted and agreed that it ſhould be lawfull for him at any time after to make of the ſaid Lands any Leaſes or Grants, as well in poſſeſſion, as in Reverſion. Proviſo, That the ſaid Leaſes or Grants do not exceed the number of three lives, or twenty one years, ſo as upon every ſuch Leaſe or Grant, the ancient Rent or more be reſerved during the ſaid Leaſe, or Grant. Afterwards he levied a Fine according to the uſes in the Indenture, and afterwards he made a Leaſe of the ſaid Lands to J. S. to hold to him and his Aſſigns, for nineteen years, if the ſaid J. S. and J. D. ſhould ſo long live, to begin after the death or determination of the eſtate of the Tenant for life, rendring yearly, after the beginning of the ſaid Leaſe to Him, his Heirs or Aſſigns, or to ſuch perſon to whom the Inheritance of the Premiſes ſhould belong during the ſaid Term, 14 s. 4 d. at four Feaſts yearly to be paid: Amongſt other poynts, It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the power which the Leſſor had, was well reſerved and purſued: for his power at the beginning was abſolute, to make Leaſe or Leaſes, Grant or Grants, in poſſeſſion or Reverſion, and the generalty was reſtreined by the Proviſo, that the Leaſe exceed not three lives, or twenty one years. And when he made a Leaſe for ninety nine years, determinable upon three Lives, the ſame did not exceed his power. And a difference was taken between a particular power affirmative, and a generall power reſtreined with a Negative; For if a man hath power to make a Leaſe for three lives, or twenty one years, he cannot make a Leaſe for ninety nine years if three ſo long live. But if he hath power to make any Leaſe or Grant: Proviſo, That ſuch Leaſe or Grant, do not exceed the number of three lives, or twenty one years; there he may make a Leaſe for ninety nine years, if three ſhall ſo long live, and ſuch Leaſe ſhall be good. 6 Jac. Cook B. part 69. Whitlocks Caſe.

2. What

2. What is a good Authority to do a thing, What not? And where it muſt be ſtrictly purſued; And where it may be revoked and Countermanded; And by what Acts it ſhall be Countermanded, what not?

1. A Copy-holder made Letter of Attorney to two joyntly, and ſeverally, to ſurrender his Copy-hold Lands after his death to certain uſes, according to the cuſtome of the Mannor; It was agreed that the Cuſtome was not reaſonable; For that every Authority ought to be Countermandable, and to determine by the death of the party that gives it; and this Autbority is to take effect after his death, and ſo not Revokeable. Trin. 1651. in B. R. Wallis and Bucknalls Caſe. See before the Caſe at large, in Title Attorney, acc.

2. A. made a Leaſe for years, reſerving Rent at Michaelmas, upon Condition that if the Rent be behind at Michaelmas, and a Moneth after, that he might enter. The Leſſee after Michaelmas, and before the Moneth ended, ſent his ſervant to the houſe of A. to pay the mony to A. The Servant delivered the Rent to B. who was the daughter of A. to deliver the ſame to A.; the ſaid B. having at ſeveral other times received the Rent, and paid it to A. which he had accepted of, but now he refuſed to receive it of her, but entred for non payment of the Rent: It was ſaid that his Entry was lawfull, and that the tender made to B. and by B. to the Leſſor, was not good, becauſe the ſervant of the Leſſee had authority to deliver it to the Leſſor, therefore when he delivers it to another, he hath not purſued his Authority. As a letter of Attorney is made to divers to give Livery and Seiſin; If one make Livery alone, it is void, and 18 E. 4. If one hath a letter of Attorney to make livery, he cannot transfer this Authority to make Livery for him. And in the principall Caſe, If a ſtranger had tendred the Rent, the Leſſor was not bound to receive it. But notwithſtanding this, becauſe in the principal Caſe the Rent was due at Michaelmas, and the Moneth after was given, becauſe of the penalty of Re-entry, and the Tender and Refuſal was after the Rent was due, and within the Moneth; and in regard the Leſſor was at no prejudice if he had accepted of the Rent, when B. his daughter tendred it to him; and becauſe it appeared to the Court, that the Leſſor had an intent to defraud the Leſſee of his Leaſe; and the Law doth not favour frauds; therefore it was adjudged againſt A. the Leſſor. Hill. 28 Eliz. in B. R. Cropps Caſe. Godbolt. 38, 39.

3. A man recovered upon a Recognizance, and an Elegit was Awarded to the Sheriff to extend the Lands, and he did extend the Lands; but doth not return the Writ; It was a queſtion if the Sheriff had purſued that Authority which he had by the Writ; It was objected that he had not, For that the words of the Writ of Elegit is, Quod extendi facias et liberari, quouſque the debt be ſatisfied; and therefore if the Land be extended only, and no delivery made of the Land, ut tenementum ſunm liberum, and the Writ be not returned according to the purport of the Writ, there is no execution duly done. But notwithſtanding that, It was holden in that Caſe, If the Land were delivered to the party, by vertue of the Writ of Execution; the Sheriff hath performed and purſued the Authority which is given to him by the Writ, although the Writ be not returned by him. And ſo it was ſaid it was adjudged. M. 20 Eliz. in Colſill and Haſtings Caſe, where the Caſe was; Colſill had an Extent upon the Lands of Haſtings, the Sheriff being a friend to Haſtings, did not deliver full poſſeſſion to Colſill, but gave him poſſeſſion in part, in the name of all; Haſtings continued poſſeſſion of the reſt, and being upon Election of a new Sheriff, Colſill was not over-haſty to put him out, hoping to have a more favourable Sheriff: the firſt Writ was not returned, and there being a new Sheriff, he ſued forth a new Writ to have Execution; the Defendant ſaid, that he had before ſued forth Execution of the like Writ, and had it, Colſill ſaid that the firſt Writ was not returned: But the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the firſt was a good Execution; and that the Sheriff had purſued the Authority which was given him by the ſaid Writ, although in truth the ſaid Writ was not returned. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Raynolds and Trunlocks Caſe. Godbolt. 81.

4. A man levyed a Fine to the uſe of himſelf for life, the Remainder in tail, &c. with power reſerved to the Conuſor to make Leaſes for 80 years in poſſeſſion, or Reverſion, if A. B. and C. did ſo long live, reſerving the Ancient Rent; Afterwards he granted the Reverſion for 80 years, reſerving the Antient Rent; It was a queſtion whether he had purſued his Authority, becauſe by the meaning of the Proviſo, a power was, that the Conuſor ſhould have the Rent preſently, or when the Term did begin; But the Opinion of the Court was, that he had done leſſe then by the Proviſo he might have done, for this Grant of the Reverſion doth expire with the particular eſtate for life. But if he had made a Leaſe to begin after the death of the Tenant for life, the ſame had bin more then this Grant of the Reverſion. And in this Caſe, It was ſaid by Coke Chief Juſtice; That the Grantor might preſently have an Action of Debt againſt the Grantee of the Reverſion, for the Rent: But becauſe in the principall Caſe, it was not averred that any of the Ceſtuy-que vies were alive at the time when the Grantor did diſtrein for the Rent, Judgment in the Caſe was reſpited. Tr. 10 Jac. in B. R. Parrot and Kebles Caſe. Godbolt. 195.

5. An Action was brought againſt a Hundred, upon the Statute of Winton, and the Plaintiff counted upon the Statute, and further ſhewed, that he took his Oath before John Saunders Juſtice of Peace, within the County of Berk, (in which the Robbery was ſuppoſed to be) and Inhabiting within the Hundred within 20 dayes before his Writ brought, That he was robbed, and did not know any of the parties, according to the Statute of 27 Eliz. Upon a ſpecial Verdict it was found for the Plaintiff: The Oath was taken before the ſaid John Saunders, at his Chamber within the Middle-Temple London; and whether he took the Oath before the ſaid John Saunders Juſtice of the Peace of the ſaid County, and Inhabiting in the ſaid County ſecundum formam Statuti, was the queſtion. It was ſaid, That a Juſtice of Peace hath onely his Juriſdiction within the County wherein he is a Juſtice of Peace, and not elſewhere, and may not elſewhere exerciſe his Juriſdiction; and the Statute of 27 Eliz. appoints the Oath and Examination to be taken by Juſtices of the County, Inhabiting in or near the Hundred, and what he doth out of the County, is coram non judice, and then Juriſdiction is a private Juriſdiction, and it was compared to the Caſe where two Juſtices of Peace (upon the Statute of 18 Eliz.) ſet down in order for the keeping of a Baſtard, it cannot be done by them out of the County, and alſo by the Statute of 5 Eliz. Of Labourers. Orders of Juſtices of Peace ought to be by them which are Inhabitants in the County, and when they be in the County, and not to be made out of the ſame. But the Opinion of the Court was, The Caſe being propounded to all the other Juſtices of other Courts, and Barons of the Exchequer; That this Examination taken at London by a Juſtice of Peace of the County, Inhabiting in the Hundred, was good enough; and it was ſaid by them, That the Act of 27 Eliz. was not an Act of exerciſing Juriſdiction, but rather a direction, that ſuch an Oath and Examination ſhall be taken, and which may be as well taken in any other place, as within the County: And there is a difference where a Juſtice of Peace doth an Act to compell another to perform, as to impriſon one for non-performance, or to command one for any offence, to be Impriſoned; ſuch Acts cannot be done, but where his Juriſdiction extends; but Juſtices of Peace may take Informations againſt Offenders in any place out of the County, to prove Offences in the County where they are committed. But they cannot compell any of the County, out of the County to take a Recognizance, for they cannot uſe any coercive power out of the County; Wherefore it was adjudged in the principall Caſe, that the power of the ſaid Juſtice of Peace for the taking of the Oath and Examination was well Executed, within the meaning of the Statute of 27 Eliz. and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Poſc. 7 Car. in B. R. Helier and the Hundred of Benborſts Caſe. Cro. 1. part 153, 154.

6. In an Accompt brought by a Merchant, againſt his Factor, for certain Jewels which he had delivered to him, to merchandize for him beyond the Seas for his beſt profit. The Defendant by Plea ſaid and averred, That he had ſold the Jewels to Mulleſhake the King of Barbary, for the beſt profit he could, and that he was to have returned the money, being 45 l. which he had not done: and upon this Plea, the Plaintiff did demur in Law. It was Objected, That if a man receive goods of another to Merchandize withall as for him; the Owner in this caſe ſhall ſtand to the good, and loſſe of all as it happens and falls out: and in this caſe, as the manner is to have the profit; ſo he ought to bear the loſs and prejudice, if any do happen: And here the Defendant hath ſhewed, that he hath ſold the Jewels, and that is ſufficient; and he hath averred, That he ſold them for the beſt profit of his Maſter. But it was holden by the whole Court, the Plea in this caſe was inſufficient, both for the matter, and for the manner of it; and therefore the Plaintiff had good cauſe of Demurrer: For in caſes of Authority given to any one to ſell, as the caſe is here of a Factor; in the due execution of this authority, he ought preſently upon ſale thereof, to have and receive Quid pro Quo, otherwiſe he doth not well perform the Authority thus to him given; neither ought he upon the ſale thereof to give further time or day of payment, but as he delivers the one, ſo ought he then preſently at the ſame time to receive the money for the ſame for which it was ſold: And a Factor hath not a power given him, to truſt for the Commodities by him ſold: If a man authorize his Baily to ſell things for him, [illegible] called to account; and he ſaith, he hath ſold them to ſuch a one, and names him; and further ſaith, he hath given him 10 years time for payment of the money; this is no good Anſwer, nor juſtifible: and if ſuch plea ſhould be allowed, all Merchants which do give ſuch authority unto, and do repoſe ſuch Truſt and confidence in their Factors, ſhould be very much prejudiced thereby. 7. A.

7. A. had Judgment in Debt againſt B, and by Deed enrolled aſſigned the ſame to the Queen, in ſatisfaction of a Debt due to her as Collector of Fifteens: Proviſo, That if the Lord Treaſurer or the Barons of the Exchequer, or any two of them, for any cauſe reaſonable, diſallow the Aſſignment, and the ſame revoke by Writing, that then the Aſſignment ſhall be void: Afterwards by a Writ of Prerogative out of the Exchequer, the Lands of B. were extended, and his goods ſeiſed by the Sheriff by virtue of that Writ; but the Writ was not returned: three of the Barons revoke the Aſſignment after the death of the Teſtator, becauſe the Teſtator had ſatisfied the Queens debt; and now brought a Scire facias to have Execution of the Judgment. In this caſe (amongſt other points) it was Reſolved, 1. That after the Execution had, the Revocation came too late; for the Queen had the end of the Aſſignment, and the ſame was executed by proceſs of Law; and when a man hath power of Revocation, if he ſuffer any thing to be lawfully executed by force of it, as to that he cannot make any revocation. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Revocation by three of them had been good: But if the words of the Revocation had been Joyntly, or ſeverally, then the three of them could not have done it; for that had been neither joyntly, or ſeverally. Mich. 42 Eliz. in the Exchequer. Cook 5. Part. Hoes Caſe.

8. A man deviſed his Lands to his Wife for life, the remainder to A. to his daughter in taile; and if ſhe dyed without iſſue, that then after the death of his Wife, that it ſhould be ſold pro optimo valore, by his Executors, with the aſſent of A. and B. and made his wife and a ſtranger his Executors; the wife entred and dyed, and A. and B. dyed; the Executor which ſurvived ſold the Land alone. It was a Queſtion, If the ſale were good. The Opinion of the whole Court was, That it was not good, for want of ſufficient Authority. Mich. 5 Eliz. Dyer 219.

9. If a man make a Letter of Attorney to two, to do any act, if one of them dye, the Survivour ſhall not do it: But if a Venire facias be awarded to 4. Coroners, to impannel and Retorn a Jury, and one of them dye, yet the other ſhall execute and retorn the ſame, becauſe it is for the [illegible]ution of Juſtice, and pro bono publico: So if a Quarter of Feoffment be made, and a Letter of Attorney to 4. or 3. joyntly and ſeverally to deliver Seiſin, two of them cannot make Livvery, becauſe it is neither by them 4. joyntly, nor ſeverally. But if the Sheriff upon a Capias directed to him, make a Warrant to 4. or 3. joyntly or ſeverally, to arreſt the Defendant, two of them may arreſt him; for ſuch an Act being for Execution of Juſtice, ſhall be favourably expounded. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 181. acc.

10. Note; A man cannot by his own act make ſuch an Authority, power, or Warrant, as ſhall not be Countermandable, which by the Law, and in its own nature, is Countermandable: As, if I make a Letter of Attorney to make Livery, or to ſue an Action in my name; or if I make any one my Factor, or I do ſubmit to an Arbitrament, although theſe are made by expreſs words irrevokable; or if I bind my ſelf, that they ſhall ſtand irrevokable; yet I may afterwards revoke the ſame; for my act or my words cannot alter the Judgment of Law, and make that irrevokable, which in its own nature is revokable. See Cook 8. Part, 81. in Vincors Caſe. See before.

3. Of Authority and Intereſt, and their difference: where they may be joyned in one Act. And where an Act in it ſelf indifferent ſhall be ſaid to be derived out of an Intereſt.

1. THere is a difference between an Authority and an Intereſt: In the caſe of an Intereſt, It can hardly be ſevered and divided; and therefore to that purpoſe there was a Caſe, Trin. 31 H. 8. rott. 410. in Bendloes Reports, Sir Thomas Langford was ſeiſed of the Mannor of Langford, and did grant to one Fulgeam and to another, the next Advowſon; Habendum eis et eorum uni conjunctim et diviſim: And it was Reſolved, That that Grant was not good, becauſe an Intereſt cannot be divided: and therewith agrees the caſe in 13 Eliz. Dyer. 304. where the next Avoidance was to three, Habendum eis, et uni eorum Conjunctim et diviſim, the firſt preſented the third, who was Admitted, Inſtituted, and Inducted, and well: But it is there ſaid, That if the Biſhop had refuſed his ſole preſentment, peradventure he might have failed in his Quare Impedit; for that as it ſeems, the ſeverance in the Habendum is void in Law: but it is otherwiſe in the caſe of an Authority, for that may be apportioned and divided; as it was ſaid and agreed in the Caſe of Berry and Perrey, Mich. 12 Jac. in the Kings-Bench, rott. 386. which ſee before in the Title of Arbitrament, at large. See Bolſtr. 3. Part, 65, 66, 67. acc.

2. When an Act will work two wayes, the one by an Intereſt, the other by an Authority, or power, and the Act be indifferent, the Law will attribute it it to the Intereſt, and not to the Authority. And therefore it was ruled, Mich. 41 & 42 Eliz. (which ſee, Cook 6. Part. 17. in Sir Edward Cleeres Caſe,) That if a man be ſeiſed of 3. Acres of Lands holden in chief to the uſe of ſuch perſon, and of ſuch Eſtate as he ſhall give or diſpoſe by his Will; and afterwards by his Will gives and deviſes all his Lands to J. S. and his heirs, this ſhall carry but two parts of the Lands in point of Deviſe: But where an Intereſt and Authority meet, if the party declare clearly that his Will is, That this act ſhall take effect by his authority or power, there it ſhall prevail againſt the Intereſt, for Modus et Conventio vincunt Legem; and therefore in the ſame Caſe of Sir Ed. Cleere, it is agreed, That if the Deviſor had recited his power, and had relyed upon that, all would have paſſed by expreſs declaration of the party himſelf. Nay more, though the party do not make an expreſs Declaration, yet if his act do import a neceſſity to work by his power onely, to be wholly void, the Law will give way to effect the meaning of the party: And therefore in that caſe it was Reſolved, That whereas Cleere was ſeiſed (for example) of 3. Acres of Lands, every one of equall value, and conveyed two of them to his Wife for her Joynture; and afterwards made a Feoffment of the third to the uſe of ſuch perſon, &c. and then deviſed that third acre; that deviſe was good by force of the Authority, or elſe the whole Deviſe had been utterly void. Cook 6. Part. 17. Sir Edward Cleeres Caſe.

Averment.

1. Where an Averment is neceſſary, or requiſite in pleading; Where not.

1. IN an Action brought, the Caſe was; The Defendant ſold certain Lands to the Plaintiff ſowed with Woad; and if any reſtraint ſhall be by Proclamation or otherwiſe, that it ſhould not be lawfull to the Plaintiff to ſowe and make Woad, then to have certain money back again; Proclamation was, That no man ſhould ſowe Woad within 4. miles of any Market-Town, or Cloathing-Town or City, within any Manſion-houſe of the King: The Plaintiff ſhewed, That the Land was within 4. miles of a Market-Town; but did not aver, it was a Cloathing-Town alſo: upon which the Defendant demurred. It was the Opinion of the whole Court, That the Defendant had ſhewed ſufficient cauſe of demurrer; for the meaning of the Proclamation was, to reſtrain aſwell all manner of Market-Towns, as thoſe Market-Towns which were Cloathing-Towns. It was afterwards ſhewed, that the reſtraint was onely from ſowing Woad, and not from making; and their Contract was, That if any reſtraint ſhould be from ſowing and making in the Copulative: the Court was of Opinion, That for that, the Plaintiff ſhould be barred. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldeſbr. 7. Cogan and Cogans Caſe.

2. A Writ of Falſe Judgment, was brought upon a Judgment given in the Court of Weſtm. in an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit brought againſt an Adminiſtrator, becauſe it was not averred in the Action of Aſſumpſit, That the Adminiſtrator had goods ſufficient after the Debts and Legacies were paid. It was holden, That the Plaintiff need not Aver, that they had Aſſetts beſide the Debts, &c. for that ought to come and be ſhewed on the other part; and ſo Puckering ſaid, It was adjudged in the Kings Bench. See Plo. Woodwards Caſe, acc. Judgment was given againſt the Adminiſtrator. Tr. 30. Eliz. in C. B. Goldsbr. 97.

3. Debt brought againſt the Husband and Wife Executrix of H. G. nuper diſt. H. G. of London, Taylor. The Defendant pleaded in Bar a Recovery had againſt him in the Kings Bench as Executor Teſtamenti H. G. nuper diſt. H. G. of London Barber-Chirurgion, upon which the Plaintiff demurred, and the Defendant did not aver, That G. Taylor, and G. Chirurgion, was all one perſon, and alſo omitted the word pradict. It was ſaid by the Defendants Councell, that the Plea was good by a common intent: But the Court was of Opinion, that here, by common intent, he ſhall not be intended the ſame perſon, but rather the contrary, for that common intent ſhall be intended, that more ſtrong then any other, and not that which reſteth indifferent, and here common intent is, that he was another perſon, becauſe Barber-Chirurgion, and Taylor, are divers Functions by common intent. And Anderſon Chief Juſtice ſaid. If J. S. bring a Precipe againſt me, And I vouch J. S. it ſhall not be intended the ſame perſon, if he do not ſay expreſly that he is the ſame perſon; à fortiori, here it ſhall not be intended the ſame perſon. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Tr. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Hooker and Gomerſales Caſe. Goldsbr. 111.

4. In an Action upon the Caſe upon Aſſumpſit, the Caſe was. One at the requeſt of the Defendant, and for him (but with the parties own mony) did buy certain Wares and Commodities, the which for him were tranſported into Ireland, and the Defendant, at whoſe requeſt this was done, did promiſe to repay the money ſo by him layed out. Upon an Action brought for non-payment, it was found for the Plaintiff; In Arrest of Judgment it was moved that the Declaration was not good, becauſe the Plaintiff doth not therein aver, that the goods by him ſo bought, did come to the uſe of the Defendant, and the Plaintiff alſo ought to have averred in his Declaration, That when the goods were delivered to him, that he then promiſed for to repay the money; which being omitted, the Declaration is not good, and ſo Judgment ought to be ſtayed: But notwithſtanding theſe exceptions; The Court held that the Declaration was good, and that the promiſe was a good promiſe, and that the Defendant ought to repay this money; and that the Plaintiff had good cauſe of Action; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 9 Jac. in B. R. Moore and Moore's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. part 369.

5. In a Writ of Annuity, the Plaintiff declared, That A. Granted to him by Deed, to be Captain of the Caſtle of D. to have and hold, the ſaid Office during his life, and gave him Authority to nominate a Gunner, Porter, and ſix Souldiers, and by the ſame Deed for the maintenance of them, for him and his heirs Granted an Annuity for life, and dyed; and his Son did not pay it, for which he brought the Action; and upon that, the Defendant did demur in Law, and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff, upon which Judgment Error was brought, and it was Aſſigned for Error, becauſe the Plaintiff in his Declaration had now Averred that he had exerciſed the ſaid Office: And in that Caſe it was Reſolved, that the Declaration was good enough, without ſuch Averment: and the reaſon was, That in all Caſes when an Intereſt or an Eſtate doth commence upon a condition precedent, be it to be performed by the Plaintiff, Defendant, or ſtranger, and be it in the Affirmative or in the Negative, there the Plaintiff in his Declaration ought to ſhew the performance of it, for there the Intereſt is not in him untill the condition is performed; But when the Intereſt or eſtate paſſeth preſently, and reſts in the Grantee (as in the Principall Caſe it doth) and is to be defeated by matter ex poſt Facto, there the Plaintiff may Declare generally without ſhewing the performance of it, and ſhall not be driven to ſhew that which makes againſt him; But the Defendant who is to take advantage of it, ought to plead it. 2. It was reſolved That when an Intereſt paſſeth preſently, and is to be defeated by matter ex poſt facto, if it appeareth to the Court by matter in Law, that the Action ſhall not be maintainable without ſhewing the performance of the Condition, or conſideration, there the Plaintiff in his Declaration ought to aver the performance of it, for the maintenance of his Action. Tr. 33 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 7. part 10. Hughards Caſe.

6. An Action of Debt was brought againſt the Defendant upon the Statute of 23 H. 6. for not returning him Burgeſſe of the Town for the Parliament; where the Words of the Statute are, That the Sheriff ſhall ſend his precept to the Mayor; if there be no Mayor, then to the Bayliff: And the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant had made his Precept to the Bayliff; without Averring there was no Mayor, and after Verdict, this was moved in Arreſt of Judgment: But the Court was of Opinion clearly, That it was good, For we ſhould not intend that there is a Mayor, except it be ſhewed, and if there were one, it ſhould come properly on the other ſide. 10 Jac. in B. R. St. John, and St. John's Caſe. Hob. 78.

7. In an Action upon the Caſe for theſe words, Thy Maſter Brown hath robbed me of all my goods. After Verdict found for the Plaintiff, It was moved that the words are not Actionable, becauſe he doth not ſhew that there was any Condemnation of the Plaintiff, or that he was his Maſter, of whom the words were ſpoken; nor that he ſerved the Plaintiff, and ſo non Conſtat de perſona; But the Exception was not allowed; for when he ſpoke it of the Plaintiff, it is a ſufficient certainty, and there is a ſubſequent demonſtration of the perſon when he names him his Maſter: And in this Caſe, it was agreed by the whole Court, That if one ſaith Thy Son hath robbed me, and his Son brings an Action, he cannot without Averring that he had no more Sons, maintain it; But if one ſaith to a Son, Thy father; or to a Wife, Thy Husband hath robbed me; The Action lyes for the Father or Husband without any ſuch Averment. For there cannot be more Fathers or Husbands. Tr. 15 Car. B. R. Brown and Lowes Caſe. Cro. 2. part. 443.

8. An Action upon the Caſe was brought by a Journey-man of a Shoe-maker's Shop, which was his lively-hood, for theſe words. It is no matter who hath him, for he will Cut him out of Dores, and the Plaintiff Averred, That the common Acceptance of theſe words amongſt Shoe-makers was, That he will begger his Maſter. The Opinion of the Court was, That the Action would lye. For it was agreed, That for ſome words, An Action will lye without particular Averment of any damage; As to call a man Thief, Traytor, or the like; theſe are malum in ſe; But to ſay, Such a one kept his wife baſely, and ſtarved her, the words of themſelves will bear no Action; but if the party of whom the words were ſpoken, were in Election to be married to any other; then with ſuch an Averment they will bear an Action. Paſc. 15 Car. in B. R. adjudged.

9. A. Wife of J. S. promiſeth to B. to whom Adminiſtration was committed, That if he will relinquiſh relinquish the Administration at the request of C. and that A. to Administer, that A. will discharge B. of two Bonds. In Assumpsit brought by B. he alledged that he did renounce the Administration. B. suffered A. to Administer, and that A. had not discharged him of the two Bonds. It was found for the Plaintiff; and Error brought because he did not shew that he did renounce at the request of C. The Court held that it was Error, for consideration is a thing meritorious, and all ought to be performed, as well the request on the part of C. as the permission of the part of B. for perhaps B. was compelled to relinquish it in the Ecclesiasticall Court, as it might be, for of right the Wife ought to Administer: And therefore he ought to have bin Averred, that it was at the requeſt of C.; and therefore if it had bin that he should renounce at the charge of C. It ought to be averred that it was at the charge of C. M. 15 Car. in B. R. Moshes Reports. 56.

10. Debt against an Administrator durante minore ætate of an Executor, and the Plaintiff did not aver that the Executor was within the age of 17. years. The Opinion of the Court was, That he need not; Otherwise it was, If the Plaintiff were such an Administrator. Hill. 13 Car. Carver and Hasslig's Case. Hob. 251.

11. A man did bequeath to each of his Children, being Enfants, a Legacy of 20 l. a piece, The Procurators of the Enfants did Libell in the Court of Arches, against the Executors of the Testator, for the said Legacies being out of the Diocesse; and a Prohibition was Awarded; And in this Case, It was agreed by all the Justices, That the Exception in the Statute of 23 H. 8. cap. 9. doth extend onely to probate of Wills: It was further agreed in this Case, That an Averrment might be that the parties were sued out of their proper Diocesse, if the same doth not appear in the Libell; as it may be in like Case, where one suith in the Admiral Court for a thing done upon the Land; Averment may be made, That the Contract was made infra corpus Comitatus. M. 11 Jac. in C. B. Hughes Case. Godbolt. 214.

12. It was holden by Anderson Chief Justice, That if one deviseth Lands to the heirs of J. S. and the Clerk Writes it to J. S. and his Heirs, That the same may be holpen by Averment, because the intent of the Devisor is written, and more, and it shall be naught, for that which shall be against his Will, and good for the residue. But if a Devise be to J. S. and his heirs, and it is written but to the Heirs of J. S. there an Averment shall not make it good to J. S. because it is not in writing, which the Law requires, and so an Averment to take away any surplusage is good, but not to increase that which is defective in the Will of the Testator. Hill. 29. Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt 131.

13. A man in a Replevin makes Conusans for a Rent for him in the Remainder in tail, and doth not alledge the precise time when the Lessee for life died, but onely that he died, yet it is good because an Avowry is a reall Action, and in real Actions no precise day need to be alledged. 2. Because he Avowes for the Arrear of Rent due to him in the Remainder, which implies that Lessee for life is dead, and there needs no Averment that he is dead. See: A man was Lessee for 90 years, if the Lady Morley should so long live. In an Action brought by him as Lessee for years in his Declaration, he did not Aver that the Lady Morley was alive; and yet it was Awarded good, and see 12 Jac. Ford and Paramours Case. A man Avowed, as heir of Sir John Arrundell, and did not alledge in certain, any time that Sir John Arrundell dyed, and yet the same was Awarded good for the reason aforesaid, and therefore needed not any Averment to be made when he dyed. 2 Car. in B. R. Dicher and Molands Case. Poph. 201.

2. Where an Averment against a Fine by the heir in taile, levied by his Ancestor, shall not be good; where by him in the remainder: Or the Wife against a Fine levied by her husband shall be; where not.

1. A. Tenant for life, the remainder in taile to D. the Reversion in Fee to B. and his heirs expectant. B. levies a Fine to C. and D. and to the heirs of C. unto the use of them and their heirs; and hath issue, and dyeth before all the Proclamations were past; the issue then being beyond Sea, the Proclamations are past: and then the issue returns and makes his claime to the remainder in taile. It was adjudged, That the issue in taile was barred by the Fine and Proclamations; and that by the Statute of 4 H. 7. of Fines; and the Issue in taile in such case cannot aver, That partes finis nihil habuerunt against the Fine. Cook 3. Part, The Case of Fines, 84, 85.

2. Edward Lord Zouch brought a Formedon in the Discender, of the moyety of the Manour of D. against Bamfield, who pleaded in barr, That John, Great Grandfather of the Demandant, levied a Fine sur Conusans de droit come ceo, &c. with proclamations of the said moyety of the said Manour, 30 Pasch. 30 H. 8. which was by the ſaid Fine rendred and granted to the ſaid John and his heirs, whoſe Eſtate the Tenant had. The Demandant replyed, and ſaid, That at the time of the ſaid Fine levied, and at all times after, the ſaid Bamfild was Tenant, and ſeiſed of the Land in demand in his Demeſne as of Fee. It was adjudged by the whole Court in that caſe, That the Demandant being heir in taile, againſt ſuch Fine levied by his Anceſtor, whoſe heir he is, was eſtopped to aver his Seiſin and Continuance thereof in a ſtranger at the time of the Fine levied: nor to aver, That partes finis nihil habuerunt: And it was holden in that Caſe, That before the Statute of 4 H. 7. and 32 H. 8. the iſſue in taile was not admitted to ſuch averments againſt a Fine levied by his Anceſtor. Paſch. 28 Eliz. rott. 13. in C. B. The Lord Zouch and Bamfields Caſe. Leon. 75, 76, 77, 78, &c.

3. Note: It was Reſolved, That if the King be Tenant in taile by the guift of any of his Anceſtors being Subjects, that upon a Fine levied upon a Grant and Render, he may barr the Eſtate taile; and in ſuch caſe no Averment by the iſſue in taile, that partes finis nihil habuerunt, ſhall be good: and the reaſon is, becauſe the King is barred by the Statute of Donis; and it is reaſon, that the King ſhall have benefit of the Statutes of 4 H. 7. and 32 H. 8. and when the King claims in his natural capacity as heir of the body, per formam doni, he ſhall be barred by the ſaid Acts. But in that caſe it was ſaid, That it was neceſſary to have Letters Patents to grant to the Conuſee, that he may enter into the Land; for otherwiſe the Fine being executory upon a Grant and Render, it might be doubted, If the Conuſee without any ſuch Grant, might enter upon the King. Cook. 7. Part. The Caſe of Fine levied by the King, Tenant in taile.

3. Where an Averment againſt the return of the Sheriff or other Officers is good; where not. Where againſt a Record, et è contra.

1. VPon a Writ of Partition upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. of Partition, The Sheriff returned, That the Partition was made by 12, lawfull men: One of the parties ſurmiſed and averred, That there was an inequality in the Partition, and prayed a new Writ to the Sheriff. in 6 E. 6. Dyer 73. It was a Quære, If it ſhould be granted. But ſee now, Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 171; That if the Partition be by Writ, although it be unequall, yet it ſhall not be avoided by Averment; but ſhall bind the party: and ſuch averment of the Retorn of the Sheriff, ſhall not be good.

2. In an Appeal brought of the death of his brother againſt J. S. of M. &c. as Principal, and one F. as Acceſſary; whereas the name of the Principal was T. S. the acceſſary appeared, and pleaded, Nul tiel in rerum natura as J. S. the day of the Writ brought, nor after. It was holden by the Court, Although there be another J. S. in another County, if there be not in the ſame where the Town of M. is; in ſuch caſe in favour of life, a man may aver, and traverſe againſt the Retorn of the Sheriff, 18 Eliz. Dyer. 348.

3. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff ſhewed, That J. S. was bound to the Plaintiff in a Recognizance, and that he took an Elegit upon it to the Sheriff; and the Defendant being Sheriff, took an Inquiſition upon it, upon which Land was extended, but he refuſed to deliver it to the Plaintiff, but made a Retorn, that he had delivered: upon Not-guilty, It was found for the Plaintiff. It was moved in this caſe, That an Averment ſhould not be made againſt the Retorn of the Sheriff. But it was anſwered and Reſolved by the Court, That in another Action, an averment may be made againſt the Retorn of the Sheriff, though not in the ſame Action. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 22 Jac. C. B. Sheis and Sir Francis Glovers Caſe. Winch. 100.

4. An Action was brought againſt one as Executor, who pleaded, That he refuſed; upon which they were at Iſſue. The Biſhop did Certifie Quod non refuſavit; whereas in truth he had refuſed before the Commiſſary. It was moved, That the Court ought to write to the Commiſſary: But that was denyed by the whole Court; for that he is not the Officer to the Court to that purpoſe; but the Biſhop himſelf: and the party cannot aver againſt the Certificate of the Biſhop, no more than againſt the Retorn of the Sheriff. But the Opinion of the Court was, That the onely remedy for the Defendant, was by Action upon the Caſe againſt the Biſhop, for his falſe Retorn and Certificate. Then it was moved, That the Iſſue joyned upon the Refuſal, ought to be tryed by Jury, and not by Certificate of the Biſhop: And ſuch was the Opinion of ſome of the Juſtices. But Periam, Juſtice, ſaid, Where the Iſſue is, whether the Executor did refuſe before ſuch a day, or after, there the Tryall ſhall be by Jury: contrary, where the Iſſue is upon general refuſal, becauſe Refuſal is before him as a Judge; as alſo as Reſignation. Trinit. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 205.

7. In an Action upon the Caſe for calling the Plaintiff Murtherer and Thief, the Defendant juſtified Murtherer, becauſe the Plaintiff was Endicted of a Murder at Cheſter within the County Palatine. But it was holden to be no good Juſtification: but the Plaintiff paſſed that, and ſaid, He was acquitted of that by the Jury; and ſhewed an Exemplification of it under the Seal of the County Palatine. To which the Defendant pleaded, That there was no ſuch Record. It was a Quære, Hill. 7 Eliz. Dyer 236. If it were a good plea againſt the Exemplification.

4. Where a man pleads a General Pardon, Averment muſt be, That he is not a perſon excepted.

1. NOte; That if a man be to take benefit of an Act of Parliament, there he ought in pleading to ſhew, That he is not a perſon excepted by the Act: But when a man claims nothing by an Act of Parliament, but claims to retain that which he had before, there it is not neceſſary to make ſuch Averment. See Plow. Com. 488. in Nicholl's Caſe.

2. A man was Outlawed after Judgment before the General Pardon of 43 Eliz. and after the Pardon, dyed, his Executors made ſatisfaction upon Record; and without any proceſs, they pleaded the General Pardon; with an averment, That they were not any perſons Excepted. And in that caſe it was Reſolved, 1. That the Executors ſhould take advantage of the ſaid General Pardon. 2. Although that the words in the Proviſo in the Pardon are, [untill ſuch time as the perſon ſo Outlawed ſhall ſatisfie,] That is ſuch an Intereſt in the perſon Outlawed, that though that he dyeth after the Pardon, yet his Executors may ſatisfie and have benefit of the Pardon. 3. Reſolved, That forasmuch as no Scire facias, nor Capias utlagatum, nor other Proceſs lay againſt the Executors, they might gratis come in, and plead the general Pardon, with averment, That they are not any perſons excepted; and every Subject by himſelf, or his Attorney, may plead the Act for his diſcharge. 5 Jac. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, Sir Edward Phitton's Caſe.

3. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant had ſpoken to him theſe words, He (meaning the Plaintiff) is a Thief, and why will you take his part? To which the Defendant pleaded, That 1. Aug. 36 Eliz. the Plaintiff did ſteal 6. Sheep of one J. S. by force whereof, &c. and ſo Juſtified, &c. The Plaintiff by Proteſtation ſaith, That he ſtole not the Sheep, and pleads the General Pardon of 7 Jac. and avers, That he is none of the perſons excepted. Whereupon, the Defendant demurred in Law. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff, for that the whole Court was of Opinion, That though he were a Thief once, yet when the Pardon came, it took away not only pœnam, but reatum; for Felony is contra Coronam et dignitatem Regis; and where the King hath diſcharged it, and pardoned him of it, he hath cleared the perſon of the crime and infamy, wherein no private perſon is intereſſed, but the Common-wealth, whereof he is the head, and to whom the reformation of general wrongs belongs. Trin. 13 Jac. in C. B. rott. 913. Cuddington and Wilkins Caſe. Hob. 67. & 81.

4. A man brought a Writ of Errour to reverſe a Judgment given againſt him in Debt in the Exchequer. The Defendant pleaded an Excommunication of the Plaintiff in the ſaid Writ of Errour; and brought the Letters of Excommunication, certified by the Official under the Seal of the Biſhop of D. which recited, That they did proceed againſt him for Recuſancy; and for Contempt for not appearing, he was Excommunicated. The Plaintiff ſaid, That after the Excommunication, the King by his General Pardon of 3 Jac. pardoned all Contempts, and averred, That neither the Offence, nor the perſon were excepted. In this caſe, amongſt other upon the pleading, It was Reſolved, That the plea of Excommunication was inſufficient, becauſe that the Excommunication is certified by the Official, or Commiſſary, where it ought to be by the Biſhop himſelf, who is the immediate Officer to the Court; for none ſhall certifie an Excommunication, by which any one ſhall be diſabled, but he to whom the Court may write, to abſolve the party who is excommunicated. The Point in Law was, If the General Pardon ſhould diſcharge a man Excommunicated of the Excommunication, or not? And by the Award of the Court, the Defendant was ruled to Anſwer over. Mich. 6 Jac. in the Exchequer. Trollop's Caſe, Cook. 8. Part, 68, 69.

5. Where

5. Where an Averment ſhall be vaine, unneceſſary, and ſuperfluous; where not: and where that which plainly appeareth ought not to be averred.

1. COunts, and ſuch as be in the Nature of Counts, (as Avowry, wherein the Defendant is an Actor) need not to be averred; but all other pleas in the affirmative ought to be averred, in this manner, viz. Et hoc paratus eſt verificare, &c. But pleas which are meerly in the Negative, ought not to be averred, becauſe it were in vain to averr them, in regard they cannot be proved. Cook 1. Part. Inſtitutes, 303.

2. A man having iſſue 3 ſons by his wife, ſeiſed of a houſe in Fee, in conſideration of natural affection, and to the intent that the Tenement ſhould continue in his name, Covenanted by Deed Indented, That he and his heirs would ſtand ſeiſed of the ſaid houſe, to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after his deceaſe, to the uſe of his Wife for life; and after their deceaſes, of the one moyety to the uſe of his ſecond ſon in taile; and of the other moyety to the uſe of his third ſon in taile, and dyed. The Queſtion in the Caſe was, If any uſe did riſe to the Wife, or not? And it was Reſolved, That a Conſideration which ſtands with the Deed, and is not repugnant to it, may be averred. 2. Admit, that another Conſideration then what is expreſſed in the Deed, cannot be averred: yet in this caſe, there is an expreſs Conſideration in it ſelf; for when he limits the ſame to the uſe of his Wife for life, the ſame implyes a ſufficient Conſideration in it ſelf, and needs not any averment et manifeſtâ, probatione non indigent: and therefore if the Father, Tenant by Knight-Service, enfeoffeth his ſon and heir apparant within age, it needs not to be averred, That the ſame is by Colluſion, becauſe it is apparant. Cook. 7. Part. 40. Bedell's Caſe.

3. In a Quod permittat, the Plaintiff declared, That the Defendant erected upon his Freehold a houſe ſo near unto the Plaintiff's houſe, that part of the ſaid houſe did hang over the Plaintiffs houſe 17 Inches, and in length 17 feet, to the Nuſance of his Freehold, to his damages of 100 l. It was Objected, That he ought to have ſet forth the Nuſans more certain; ſcil. that the rain diſcended from the houſe new erected upon the Plaintiff's houſe. But it was Reſolved, That the Plaintiff in his Count needed not to ſet forth any ſpecial Nuſans, becauſe in this caſe the Defendant had erected a new houſe which hung over part of the Plaintiff's houſe, ſo of neceſſity the rain which diſcends, muſt fall upon the Plaintiff's houſe; and the Law doth not require that to be averred, which doth appear unto the Court. Mich. 8 Jac. in C.B. Cook. 9. Part, 54. Batten's Caſe.

4. Note; It is ſaid in Cook 8. Part, in the Caſe of the City of London, That the Conſtitution there made concerning the ſale of Wares and Merchandizes, appearing to be agreeable to, and warranted by their Charter; the ſame needed not to be averred to be ſo: And there it is ſaid, That if the ſon brings an Aſſiſe of Mortdauncester, he needs not to aver, That it is within the time of Limitation, for that it appears.

5. In an Action upon the Statute of 32 H. 8, againſt buying of pretenſed Titles; if the Plaintiff ſheweth by his Count, that neither the Defendant, nor any of his Auncеſtors, nor any other by whom he claims, were in poſſeſſion of the Land, &c. nor received the Rents or profits, &c. by the ſpace of a year, The Plaintiff needeth not aver the Title to be pretenced; for that the Statute in it ſelf maketh the right of him which hath not been in poſſeſſion ſo, to be a pretenced right; and therefore to aver that which appears plainly by the Statute and the Declaration it ſelf, is needleſs, and impertinent. Plo. Com. 87. in Partridges and Strange's Caſe.

6. In Debt for performance of Covenants, the Plaintiff aſſigned the breach; That whereas the Plaintiff had Leaſed to the Defendant for years, certain Meſſuages by Indenture; by the ſame Indenture, the Defendant did Covenant to repair all the ſaid Meſſuages alia quàm quæ appunctuata ſerunt divelli preſcriptum dict. J. S. and ſhewed, that the Defendant had not repaired the ſaid Meſſuages, and averred the houſe in which the breach of the Covenant is aſſigned non fuit durante termino prædict. appunctuata divelli; and upon that matter of Reparation they were at Iſſue, and found for the Plaintiff. In Arreſt of Judgment, it was ſaid, That the Averment in the Replication was not ſufficient, for the Leaſe was made in Novemb. to begin at Mich. after; and it might be the Meſſuage, for the repairing of which the breach is aſſigned, was appointed to be pulled down before the Term of years began, and then the Defendant is not bound to repair it, and then the breach is not well aſſigned, and ſo the Averment doth not anſwer the Exception. It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That the averment aforeſaid was ſuperfluous et ex abundanti; for it had been ſufficient for the Plaintiff to have aſſigned the breach, in not repairing of the Meſſuage, without any averment de non appunctuando; and if the houſe, in the not repairing of which, the breach of Covenant nant is aſſigned, was appointed to be pulled down, the ſame ſhall come on the Defendant's part, to whoſe advantage it tendeth; for ſuch appointment doth diſcharge the Covenant as to that. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in B.R. Sir John Smith and Deazes Caſe. Lem.

Avowry.

1. Where an Avowry made for a Rent, or part of it, ſhall be good; where not? And where the Grantee of the Reverſion may diſtrein and Avow, without Attornment, where not? And for what Rents, or other Services, Avowry may be, and by whom made, et è contra.

1. IN a Replevin, the Caſe was: A. Avowed for a Rent-charge, granted to him by a ſtranger, who was ſeiſed of the Land where the diſtreſſe was taken, &c. pro conſilio impendendo; It was pleaded in Bar of the Avowry, That the Defendant was Attainted of Treaſon, and was committed to the Tower, and that the Grantor had buſineſſe for his Counſel, but could not have admittance to him. In that Caſe it was adjudged that the Avowant ſhould have the Rent, for that the Rent could not be forfeited. 6 H. 8. Dyer. 2, Empſons Caſe.

2. Tenant for life ſurrendred one Moyety to the Leſſor, afterwards the Leſſor by Indenture deviſed the whole Land to a ſtranger; Habendum, the one moyety, which he had by ſurrender for the term of his life; and Habendum the other moyety, which the firſt Leſſee held for the Term of 40 years, if he ſhould live ſo long, rendring for all the premiſes 4 l. per annum. The Leſſee was Arrear his Rent for a year, the Leſſor diſtreined, and Avowed for the whole Rent, living the firſt Leſſee. It was holden by the Court, That he might diſtrein and Avow for the intire rent preſently, although that the ſecond Leſſee did occupy but the moyety, becauſe the Reſervation was intire: But becauſe in the principall Caſe he Avowed in Land charged to his diſtreſſe; which is the form in a Rent-charge, and ſo he ſhall Avow upon as Tenant per le manour, and alſo becauſe in his Avowry, he did not tender the moyety, but ſaid generally That he ſeiſed in dominico ſuo, Leſſed, whereas the moyety was not in Demeſne, the Avowry was not good; Note in this Caſe, the difference between an Avowry for a Rent-ſervice, and a Rent-charge M. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 257. See Plo. Com. 191. Adam. and Writoſleys Caſe. acc.

3. Sir John Savage granted the Stewardſhip of a Mannor to one for life, with a Fee of 40 s. for the exerciſe of the ſaid Office, and afterwards by another Deed reciting, whereas the firſt Grantee had, and enjoyed the Office during his life, he granted the Reverſion of the ſaid Office per nomen Reverſionis poſt mortem prediſt. the firſt grantee, with the Fee of 40 s. After the death of the firſt Grantee the ſecond Grantee exerciſed the ſaid Office for divers years, and for the Rent behind (the ſame being granted with Clauſe of diſtreſſe) he diſtreined and Avowed: In this Caſe it was adjudged, That the ſecond grant was void, becauſe there was no Reverſion of it; and therefore the Diſtreſſe and Avowry for the Fee of 40 s. was not good. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 259. Sir John Savages Caſe. But ſee Cook 8. part 57. in the Earl of Rutlands Caſe; That ſuch a Grant of an Office with a Fee in Reverſion by the King, is now good.

4. Husband and Wife ſeiſed of a Mannor, and to the Heirs of the Husband, the Husband granted the Stewardſhip of the Mannor to A. for life, the Remainder by the ſame Deed to the ſon of A. for life, and a Rent to them joyntly out of the Mannor for the exerciſing the ſaid Office, a Copyhold being by eſcheat in the hands of the Husband and Wife at the ſame time; the Rent was behind, the Grantor dyed, the Father dyed, the Wife granted the Copyhold upon which the Son diſtreined for the Arrerages in the life of his Father; the Plaintiff in bar of the Avowry had not Averred the life of the Wife; therefore it was holden, That the diſtreſſe and Avowry was maintainable, for that the Copyholder came under the charge: And upon his Avowry in this Caſe, It was ſaid, he ought to ſhew, that he continued the exerciſing of the ſaid Office of Stewardſhip, for if he ceaſeth that; then Debt onely lay for the Arrerages. 10 Eliz. Dyer 270.

5. J. S. makes a Leaſe for life to A. afterwards he makes a Leaſe of the ſame land to B. for years rendring Rent; A. ſurrenders. J. S. enfeoffs a ſtranger, who ſuffereth a common recovery, Tenant for life dyeth. It is a Quære, If the Recoverers may diſtrein and Avow for the Rent within the Statute of 7 H. 8. becauſe that he againſt whom the Recovery was, could not; becauſe the Leaſe was not begun. 29 H. 8. Dyer 31.

6. In a Replevin, by A. and B. againſt J. S. the Defendant Avowed the diſtreſſe, becauſe that one W. was ſeiſed of the Mannor, whereof the place where, &c. was parcell in Fee, and gave the Mannor to J. D. the father of the Plaintiff, and of the Avowant, and to E. his Wife, and to the heirs heirs of J. D. who by his Will deviſed a Rent to the Avowant of 4 l. out of the ſaid Mannor, with Clauſe of diſtreſſe, for his childs part, to be yearly paid; J. D. the Father dyed, 3 Eliz. 22 Eliz. E. his Wife dyed, and for the Arrerages of the ſaid Rent encurred, mean between the death of J. D. the father, and E. the Wife, the Defendant Avowed, and upon the Avowry, the Plaintiffs did demur in Law, for that the Rent did not begin, in effect, but after the death of E. the Wife of the Deviſor; But it was ſaid and agreed by the Court, That if he in the Reverſion upon a Leaſe for life, grant a Rent-charge of the Grantor, that the Grantee ſhall diſtrein for all the Arrerages encurred after the grant, even during the life of the Grantor, à fortiori in this Caſe; for that this Rent, as it appeareth by the Words of the Deviſe, was deviſed to the Avowant for his lively-hood, and for his Childs part, which words imply a preſent Advancement, and the words Yearly to be paid, is a ſtrong proof to that intent; and therefore it was adjudged for the Avowant that the diſtreſſe and Avowry made, was good. Tr. 25. Eliz. in B. R. rott 746. Rearsby and Rearsbyes Caſe. Leon. 13.

7. In a Replevin, the Defendant Avowed for a Rent-charge, and ſhewed that W. was ſeiſed of the Mannor of W. whereof the place where was parcell, and 26 H. 8. made a Feoffment in Fee of the place where, &c. to one O. rendring Rent, and Suit at the Court of the ſaid Mannor, and that W. was ſeiſed of the ſaid Rent, and ſuit, and dyed thereof ſeiſed, and that the ſame diſcended to A. his ſon and Heir, who was ſeiſed of the ſaid Rent as parcel of the ſaid Mannor, and that A. ſo ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannor and Rent, bargained and ſold the ſaid Mannor and Rent, 26 H. 8. to the Father of the Avowant, by theſe words, Manerium de W. et omnes, et omnimodos redditus, reputed, deemed, or adjudged, part or parcell of the ſaid Mannor. Who entred, and dyed ſeiſed, and the ſame diſcended to the Avowant as Son and Heir, and Averred that the ſaid Rent at the time of the ſaid bargain and ſale, et diu ante, was reputed parcell of the ſaid Mannor, and upon the Avowry the Plaintiff did demur in Law. After many Arguments at the Bar, The Opinion of the Juſtices in this Caſe was, That this Rent-charge did not paſſe by the bargain and ſale made, as above by A. to the Father of the Avowant; For in the premiſes of the Avowry, there is not any matter ſet forth, importing Reputation, or by which it may appear that the Rent in queſtion, was ever reputed parcell of the Mannor, but rather to the contrary, and the bare Averment of Reputation in the percloſe of the Avowry, is not ſufficient to induce Reputation. But if the Avowant had ſet forth in his Avowry any ſpeciall matter to induce the Court to conceive a Reputation upon the matter of the Avowry, as to ſhew that the Bayliffs of the ſaid Mannor, had accompted for it as parcell of the Mannor, and that the Leſſees of the ſaid Mannor had enjoyed the ſame as parcell of the ſaid Mannor the ſame had bin good matter to induce Reputation, and to have encorporated the ſaid rent, with the ſaid Mannor; but that not being done, Judgment in the Caſe was given againſt the Avowant: And in that Caſe it was ſaid by Wray Chief Juſtice, that of ſuch Opinion was Anderſon Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas, and Manwood Chief Baron of the Exchequer. And in this Caſe it was agreed, That a Rent-charge might be parcel of a Mannor. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Forman and Bohans Caſe. Lea. 13, 14, 15.

8. The Duke of Suffolk was ſeiſed of three parts of the Mannor of D, and J. D. of the fourth part of the ſaid Mannor: the Duke granted out of the ſaid three parts, a Rent of 5 l. to G. and afterwards did enfeoff H. of the ſaid three parts. Afterwards J. D. conveyed his 4th part of the ſaid Mannor to H. in Fee: Afterwards H. deviſed the ſaid Mannor, reciting the ſeveral purchaſes to K. his Wife: G. diſtreined the Cattle of K. for the Arrerages of the ſaid Rent, and in a Replevin Avowed the diſtreſſe. The Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Avowry was not good; for the fourth part of the ſaid Mannor, which was in the poſſeſſion of J. D. was not charged with the Rent, and that, although after all the Mannor be in the poſſeſſion of H. yet the Mannor is not ſo conſolidated and united by this unity of poſſeſſion, but that the owner might ſingle out eandem quartam partem, and grant it, and the Grantee ſhall hold the ſame diſcharged of the Rent, as J. D. held it; and it was holden that the diſtreſſe taken of the Cattel of K. in this Caſe was not well taken; and ſo Judgment was given againſt the Avowant. Paſch. 29 Eliz. in C. B. Gomerſton and Hatchers Caſe. Lea. 85.

9. A man makes a Leaſe for years rendring Rent, and after makes a Leaſe of the ſame Land to begin during the firſt Term; it is a good grant of the Reverſion, and he ſhall have the Rent, being but a Chattell, and ſhall diſtrein and Avow for it without Attornment. 28 H. 8. Dy. 26. 10. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; A. was Tenant for life of the Mannor of D. the Remainder to B. his ſon and heir apparent, and the Heirs males of his body, the remainder to the right heirs of A.: A. and B. his Son being within age, joyn in a Deed, whereby A. grants, and B. confirms to the Avowant a Rent of 10 l. per annum, out of the ſaid Mannor of D. at the Annunciation, and Michaelmas, with clauſe of diſtreſſe, and with a

Nomine

Nomine pœnæ, of 20 s. for every Moneth: A. and B. joyn in a Fine of the Mannor, to the uſe of A. and his Heirs, who enfeoffeth the Plaintiff. B. hath iſſue living. The Defendant Avowes for 20 s. parcell of 5 l. due at Michaelmas, 2 Jac. and becauſe 200 l. was due for Nomine pœnæ, he Avowes for 50 l. of this Nomine pœnæ; All this is ſet forth by way of Avowry. The Plaintiff in bar of the Avowry, ſhews the Nonage of him that confirmed and pleaded the Feoffment, and Averment of the life of the Iſſue in tail; The queſtion was whether this debt were lyable upon the Feoffee, becauſe it was granted by Tenant for life, and confirmed by him in the Remaindor in Fee, being within Age at the time of the grant. But it was holden, That in regard he that made the grant was not onely Tenant for life, but had a Remaindor in tail, and after that a Remaindor in Fee, the Rent is Iſſuing out of all his Eſtates; and although it was void as to the Son, who was next in Remaindor in tail, yet becauſe his Eſtate tail is barred by the Fine, and the limitation is to the uſe of him and his heirs who granted the Rent. The Court was of Opinion for the Avowants right to the Rent: But becauſe the Avowry was for 20 s. parcel of the 5 l. and the 5 l. was parcel of the 200 l. penalty, and he did not ſhew that the reſidue of the penalty was diſcharged, therefore it was holden that the Avowry was not good. Tr. 2 Car. in C. B. rott. 731. Sir Thomas Holt and Sambaches Caſe. Cro. 1. part 73, 74.

11. Note, It was agreed for Law, That the Deviſee of the Reverſion of part of the Land ſhall Avow for part of the Rent, and ſuch Avowry ſhall be good and maintainable; and ſo it was adjudged, Hill. 42 Eliz. rott. 100. in C. B. in Ewer and Moyles Caſe. And ſee Paſc. 39 Eliz. in the Kings Bench, rott. 233. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, and of Lands by Copy of Court-Roll in Fee, and made one intire Leaſe of the Lands in Fee, and of the Lands holden by Copy, rendring one intire Rent; and afterwards the Leſſor ſurrendred the Copy-hold Lands to the Plaintiff and his heirs and at another time granted the Reverſion of the Free Lands to C. and his heirs, to which the Leſſee for years Attorned; and afterwards for the Rent behind, C. brought an Action of Debt for the whole Rent, It was adjudged that although C. cometh to the Reverſion by ſeverall conveyances, and at ſeverall times, yet he might bring an Action of Debt for the whole Rent, Collins and Hardings Caſe. Cook. Select Caſes 58. And there, Hill. 43 Eliz. Weſt and Laſtells Caſe. A man made a Leaſe for years, of certain Lands; And afterwards deviſed the Reverſion of two parts to one, he ſhould have two parts of the Rent, and he might have an Action of Debt for the ſame; and have Judgment to recover, and the reaſon is becauſe, that although the contract be intire, yet in regard a Rent reſerved upon a Leaſe for years, is more then a Contract, it is a Rent-ſervice, and therefore is ſeverall; and upon a recovery of part in Waſt, or upon Entry, upon a forfeiture, or upon a ſurrender of part, the Rent is apportionable, Ibid. Select. Caſes, 58.

12. In a Replevin, the Defendant Avowed for a Rent; and ſhewed, That his Father was ſeiſed and Leaſed for years, rendring rent, and dyed; and that the Reverſion diſcended to him, and for rent arrear, he Avowed; The Plaintiff in Bar ſaid, That the Father deviſed the Reverſion to another; the other maintained his Avowry, and traverſed the Deviſe; It was found that the deviſe was onely of two parts, and not of the three parts; for the truth was, That the Land was holden by Knights-Service; and for whom the Jury found was the queſtion: It was Objected that the Jury have found for the Plaintiff, for the Avowant had Avowed for all; and now it appeared by the Verdict, that the Avowant, and the Deviſee are Tenants in common, And Tenants in common ought to joyn in Avowry, and for that reaſon, the Avowants ſhall not have Retorn for any part: But the Opinion of the Court was without queſtion in this Caſe. If the Jury had given a general Verdict, it had been given againſt the Plaintiff, for it was not deviſed, if all was not deviſed according to the Iſſue; And then if it would have bin againſt the Plaintiff, the Speciall Verdict ſhall be conſtrued to be of the ſame nature in Law; and it ſhall be adjudged by us againſt the Plaintiff, For generally, where the generall Iſſue ſhall be againſt any of the parties, there the ſpeciall Verdict ſhall be of the ſame degree: And as to the other poynt: It was holden, That the Avowant ſhould have a Retorn for part, for that the Jury have found the third part of the Reverſion to him; and by that, there appears a ſufficient certainty to the Court, to make an Apportionment, and then if the Court may make an Apportionment; the Avowant ſhall have Retorn for ſo much as is due to him: Afterwards Judgment was entred for the Avowant. M. 20 Jac. in C. B. Cloworthy and Mitchells Caſe. Winch. 49, 50.

13. In a Replevin, the Caſe was; A. was ſeiſed of a Copyhold of the Mannor of Iſlington, and by Licence of the Lord, deviſed the ſame by Indenture to Swinnerton for 20 years, rendring Rent, afterwards the ſaid A. ſurrendred the Reverſion of the one moyety of the ſame to the uſe of B. to which he was admitted, and then ſurrendred the other moyety to Mary the Wife of John Miller, who was alſo admitted; and the Defendant as Bayliff to Mary and her Husband for half the rent, as belonging to half the Reverſion, made Conuſance;

It was holden in this Caſe, That the ſurrender by the name of a Reverſion in this Caſe, was good. And alſo that the rent was to be devided by halfes, according to the halfes of the Reverſion; And in this Caſe there needed no Attornment upon the ſurrender of the moyety by A. to the uſe of B. becauſe it paſſeth not by way of grant of Reverſion; but it muſt ennure by admittance of the Lord, and there is no means to compell the Tenant to Attorn. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Swimerton and Millers Caſe. Hob. 177.

14. In a Replevin, the Defendant made Avowry, and conveyed himſelf to 5 l. rent, due ſuch a day; and for not payment thereof 80 l. Nomine pœnæ, but layed no Actual demand of the rent, and concluded, That for the 85 l. he had diſtreined, and ſo Avowed; It was reſolved in this Caſe. That the Avowry was inſufficient for the Nomine pœnæ, which could not be forfeited without an Actual demand of the rent; and yet it was adjudged that he ſhould have a retorn of the Cattell, becauſe he had juſt cauſe to diſtrein for the Rent. 15. In a Replevin, the Defendant Avowes, becauſe his Anceſtor was ſeiſed, and let the lands in which, &c. for years rendring rent, and for rent due to him and his Wife, in the right of his Wife he Avowed: Exception was taken becauſe the Huſband alone Avowed, whereas it appears the rent was due to him and his Wife; But becauſe he ſhewed the truth of the matter as it was, and did Aver the life of his Wife, and ſo the diſtreſſe was well taken by him. It was adjudged the Avowry was good enough. Paſc. 15 Jac. in B. R. Wiſe and Pelletts Caſe. Cro. 2. part 442.

16. One Avowed, for that J. S. was ſeiſed in Fee, and granted a Rent-charge of 20 l. per annum to J. D. to him and his heirs during his life, and the Lives of his wife; and of C. and E. his daughters; and ſhewed that J. D. dyed 1596. E. being his daughter, who lived and married with the Defendant 1603. and becauſe at Michaelmas 1697. there was 20 l. behind, the Husband diſtreined and avowed; It was found for the Defendant, and Error brought, and Error aſſigned, becauſe this Rent granted to one and his heirs, during his life, and two others is not deſcendable to the heir, nor ſhall the Heir be occupant thereof. But it was holden by the Court that the limitation was good, and that the heir ſhould have the rent as a party, ſpecially nominated, and as heir by diſcent, though it be not properly an eſtate diſcendable. Then it was moved that the Avowry, ſuppoſing 20 l. to be behind, and not paid to the Husband and Wife, whereupon he diſtreins, was not good; becauſe it appears it cannot be due to the Husband, but onely to the Wife dum ſola fuit, ſhe not being married to him till 1603. But it was holden, the Avowry being for rent Arrear, to ſay, that it was behind to him and his Wife, was but Surpluſage, and the iſſue being taken upon a Collaterall matter, and the Verdict found; It ſhall be adjudged according to the Verdict. The Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 7. Jac. in C. B. rott. 1730. Bowles and Poores Caſe Cro. 2. part 282, 283.

22. A man may diſtrein, Avow, or make Conuſance for Homage, Fealty, Eſcuage, Relief, or other the like Service. Cook 4. part. 8. in Breil's Caſe: But then ſuch diſtreſſe muſt not be exceſſive or outragious.

23. A man may diſtrein, Avow, or make Conuſance for a Herriot. Cook 8. part 105. John Talbots Caſe. Cook 10. part 12 Jac. Tiver and Littletons Caſe. vouched in the Chancellor of Oxford's Caſe. 55, & 56.

24. A man may diſtrein, Avow, or make Conuſance, for an Amercement, for not doing ſuit to his Court; or ſuit at his Mill. Cook 11. part 44, 45. in Godfreys Caſe.

25. In a Replevin, the Defendant made Conuſance as Bayliff of J. S. for that he was ſeiſed of the the Mannor of D. and that J. D. held of him a Tenement by rent, and Heriot-Service, payable after the death of the Tenant, and that J. D. dyed poſſeſſed de animalibus, et catallis, and becauſe the Heriot was not paid, he made Conuſance; and the Iſſue being upon the Tenure, it was found for the Defendant: It was moved for ſtay of Judgment becauſe he doth not ſhew what was the beaſt which he demanded, nor the kind thereof, nor the price of it, & therefore the Avowry was incertain, of what thing he ſhould have retorn: But it was Reſolved, That the Avowry was well made, for peradventure the Avowant did not know what was the beſt beaſt; and the Plaintiff having done wrong by eſſoyning the Cattell, he at his perill ought to tender a ſufficient recompence for it: and ſo it was vouched to be adjudged. Trin. 18 Eliz. in Dicker and Higgons Caſe. Hill. 5 Car. in B. R. Major and Brandwoods Caſe. Cro. 1. part. 189. See Mich. 14 Jac. in C. B. Shaw and Taylors Caſe. The Defendant made Avowry for Heriot-ſervice, the Plaintiff pleaded in Bar, That the Tenant at the time of his death Nulla habuit animalia, upon which the Defendant demurred. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff becauſe the Avowry was inſufficient, for that it did not ſet down in certain what the Heriot ſhould be, ſcil. Beaſt, or other thing. Hob. 176.

26. In a ſecond deliverance for taking his Cattell at C. in a Place called Curles Yard: the Defendant made Conuſance, that Sir Fr. Barrington was ſeiſed of the Mannor of Curles, and that the Plaintiff was ſeiſed of the Land where, and held the ſame of the ſaid Sir Francis, as of his Mannor of &c. by Homage, Fealty, and Servitium Scuti and by the Rent of 10 l. payable at two Feaſts, of which rent he was ſeiſed by the hands of the Plaintiff, as by the hands of his very Tenant, in his Demeſne, as of Fee, and Avowed for Homage not done; whereupon the Plaintiff did demur; for that the Defendant had not ſhewed any Titles to have Homage; and that the cognizance is repugnant, and no ſufficient ſeiſin alledged of the Services. But it was anſwered and Reſolved, That Seiſin of rent was ſufficient ſeiſin of the other Services, and he might have traverſed the Tenure, and then the other party ought to ſhew whether he had done Homage before: And if a man Avow for Homage, and alledge Seiſin of Eſcuage without Homage it is good: And afterwards Judgment was entred for the Defendant. Trin. 20 Jac. in C. B. Whiteguift and *Eldersham*s Caſe. Hutton. 50.

2. What Seiſin, and by whoſe hands is ſufficient to make Avowry; And where it may be without alledging ſeiſin; where not. Where the Seiſin ſhall be traverſed, and where the Tenure; Where Seiſin of one thing ſhall be ſeiſin of another. And where ne unq; ſeiſed of the Services is good; where not.

1. IF the Diſſeiſor giveth Seiſin to the Grantee of a Seignory, it ſhall bind the Diſſeiſee; and yet the Grantee of the Seignory cannot compell the Diſſeiſor to give him Seiſin, if he had not Seiſin before within time of Limitation: ſo if one Joynt-Tenant giveth Seiſin of the Rent to the Lord, it ſhall bind his Companion. Cook 2. Part, 67. in Tookers Caſe.

2. A man holdeth Land by Homage, Fealty, Eſcuage, and Suit of Court, the Lord hath Seiſin of the Fealty onely: It was adjudged, That the ſame was a ſufficient Seiſin of all the other Services; for that Seiſin of any part of any ſervice, is a Seiſin of the whole; and Fealty is part of Homage: And ſo the Seiſin of ſuperiour ſervices, is the Seiſin of all inferiour Services which are incident unto it. And Seiſin of annual Services, is a Seiſin of Caſual Services; but Seiſin of one annuall ſervice, is not Seiſin of another annual ſervice: and all theſe are to be intended as to an Avowry; but to have an Aſſiſe an actuall Seiſin, is requiſite: and Seiſin in Law, is a ſufficient Seiſin to make an Avowry, within the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 2. by the expreſs words of the Statute: for the words are, actuall poſſeſſion, or Seiſin, in the diſjunctive. And therefore in the principal caſe it was Reſolved, That when the Tenant hath done Homage and Fealty, the ſame is a Seiſin of all other Services, as to make Avowry, which of right ought to be done, although that the Lord, nor any by whom he claimeth, hath had Seiſin within 60 years. Cook. 4. Part, 9. Bevills Caſe.

3. A. ſeiſed of a Mannor by Deed Indented, did enfeoffe thereof J. S. and his heirs, rendring yearly to A. his heirs and aſſigns, 10 l. Rent. A. dyed ſeiſed; The Rent diſcended to his ſon and heir, who dyed Inteſtate: his Adminiſtrators diſtrained, and avowed for the Rent. It was Reſolved in that caſe upon the Statute of 32 H. 8. which gives diſtreſs to Adminiſtrators in like manner and form, as the Teſtator might or ought to have done, That the Adminiſtrators were not driven in their Avowry for the Rent, to alledge any Seiſin within 40 years: For in caſe of Reſervation, or grant of a Rent, there the Deed is the Title, and the commencement of it doth appear within time of memory; and no encroachment in ſuch caſe ſhall hurt, nor any Seiſin is materiall: But the Statute ſhall be intended, when the Avowant was driven to alledge Seiſin by force of any ancient Statute of Limitation; and that was, when the Seiſin was material, and of ſuch force, that it ſhould not be avoided in an Avowry. But the Statute doth not compell any to alledge Seiſin, where Seiſin was not neceſſary before; and the Avowant needeth not in his Avowry to ſhew any Seiſin within 40 years; but that ſhall come in on the other ſide; ſcil. not ſeiſed of the Services after the Limitation. Mich. 6 Jac. Cook. 8. Part, Sir William Foſters Caſe. See Cook 10. Part, 108. Humphrey Loſields Caſe, acc.

4. Note: It was ſaid in the Caſe of the Lady Rogers, That in an Avowry, it is not ſufficient for to plead his Freehold; but if the Plaintiff will traverſe the ſame, he ought to make himſelf a Title: and it is not ſufficient to make it of his own Seiſin, but he muſt make it paramount of his Seiſin. Mich. 30 Eliz. in C. B. Goldeſbr. 65.

5. In a Replevin the Defendant did avow the taking of the Cattel, by reaſon that one A. held of him an acre of Land in the place where by Fealty and 16 s. Rent, the Rent payable at two Feaſts of the year, &c. And the Plaintiff ſaid, That he held the ſame Acre and two other Acres of the Avowant, by Fealty and 36 s. payable at one day abſq; hoc, that he held the ſaid Acre by the ſervices payable at two dayes. It was ſaid in this Caſe, That he ſhould have the Traverſe for the miſchief which otherwiſe would follow; for if he ſhould traverſe the Seiſin, thereby he ſhould confeſs Tenure: Periam, Juſtice, ſaid, That there is a difference in our books, which is this, That where they agree in the Tenure, there the Seiſin is traverſable; but where they do not agree in the Tenure. there the Tenure is traverſable; and he ſaid, That he conceived in the principal caſe, that the payment at two dayes did alter the Tenure, ſo as now it is another Tenure. And he ſaid, If white-acre, and black-acre be adjoyning, and are holden the one of J. S. and the other of J. D. and J. S. diſtrain and avow for both acres, he may well traverſe the Tenure. And ſee 8 H. 7. 5. by Brian, If Avowry be made for a Tenure of two acres by 20 s. and the Plaintiff ſaith, That he holdeth theſe two Acres, and two other acres, by 12 s. without that, that he holdeth the two acres by 20 s. that, that is good, for he cannot do otherwiſe. Trin. 26 Eliz. in C. B. Throgmorton and Tirringham's Caſe. Godbolt. 23. & 24.

6. In a Second Deliverance the Plaintiff declared, of taking of Cattel at a place called Nunn Field, in Swaffam Bulbeck; and detainer of them againſt Gages and pledges. The Defendant made Conuſance as Bayliff to Tho. March, and ſaid, That long time before the taking, one Tho. Marſh Father of the Plaintiff, was ſeiſed of the Manner of Michell-Hall in Swaffam Bulbeck aforeſaid, of which the Land in which was parcel; and that one Anthony Gage and Dorothy his Wife, and Tho. Grange, and Thomaſine his Wife, were ſeiſed of the Lands in which, in the right of their Wives in Fee, and held the Land in which, &c. of, &c. as of his Mannor of Michell-Hall, by Fealty and certain Rent payable at certain dayes; and that Tho. Marſh was ſeiſed of the ſaid Services by the hands of Anthony Gage, and Dorothy his Wife, Thomas Grange, and Thomaſine his Wife, as by the hands of his very Tenants, and derived the Tenancy to Sir Anthony Gage, and the Seignorie to Tho. Marſh the Son, by the death of his Father; and becauſe Fealty was not done by Sir Anthony Gage, he as Bayliff to Tho. March the ſon, did juſtifie the taking of the Cattel, ut infra feodum et dominium ſua, &c. The Plaintiff by Proteſtation ſaid, That Non Tenet the Lands of the ſaid Tho. March as of his ſaid Mannor of Michell Bulbeck by Fealty and Rent, for plea ſaid, That the Defendant took the Cattel as aforeſaid, and detained them againſt gages and pledges, and traverſed Abſq; hoc, that the ſaid Tho. March was ſeiſed of the ſaid Services by the hands of the ſaid Anthony Gage, and Dorothy his Wife, and Tho. Grange and Thomaſine his Wife, as by the hands of his very Tenants. Upon which the Defendant did Demur in Law. The Queſtions in this caſe were two; 1. Whether the Plaintiff were ſuch a party as was enabled by the Statute of 21 H. 8. Cap. 19. to take the plea or not? for that by the Common-Law he could plead nothing in barr of the Conuſans, but Hors de ſon Fee, or a plea which did amount to ſo much. 2. Whether the Traverſe in this caſe taken, were well taken, or not? As to the firſt Point, the Juſtices were divided in their Opinions; but the better Opinion ſeemed to be, That the Plaintiff might plead (though a ſtranger) any plea, which went in diſcharge of the Lands; for ſeeing that the Statute of 21 H. 8. now enables the Lord to avow upon the Land, not naming any perſon certain, It is but Juſtice and Equity that the Plaintiff ſhould be enabled to plead any thing in diſcharge of it; and this Statute hath been conſtrued by equity for the Lord, and therefore it ſhall be conſtrued by equity for the Tenant: and although the Plaintiff claims no intereſt for the Lands, yet for the ſaving of his goods he may plead the plea. But for the ſecond point, it was agreed and Reſolved by all the

Juſtices,

Juſtices, That the Traverſe taken by the Plaintiff, was not well taken; and that for many reaſons: for, 1. Where the Seiſin is not material, there it is not traverſable; and in this caſe, the Seiſin is not material; for it is out of the Statute of Limitations, and therefore not traverſable. 2. Where the Seignory is not in Queſtion, there no traverſe of the Seiſin. 3. Where the Lord and Tenant differ in the Services, there no traverſe of the Seiſin, but of the Tenure; but where they agree in the Services, there the Seiſin may be traverſed. 4. A man ſhall never traverſe the Seiſin of Services, without admitting of a Tenure: but in this caſe, the Plaintiff took the Tenure by Proteſtation only. 5. It is not good, becauſe he hath traverſed a thing not in demand, which is the rent, and he ought to have traverſed the Fealty for which the diſtreſs was taken, and not the rent: but as this caſe is, he could not traverſe the Fealty only, becauſe ſeiſin of Rent, is ſeiſin of Fealty: and therefore in this caſe he ought to have Traverſed the Tenure; and this being in caſe of Avowry, ſeiſin of the Rent is ſufficient ſeiſin of the Fealty as to avow: and ſo in the principal Caſe, Judgment was given for the Avowant. And Note in this caſe, It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices of the Common-Pleas, That a Traverſe of a Seiſin per manus generally without admitting of a Tenure, is not good, Hill. 17 Car. in C. B. Leyton and Granges Caſe.

7. In a Replevin for taking a Kettle at Cobham in Com. Surrey, the Defendant avowed as Bayliff to the Dean and Chapter of Windſor; That one A. held the place, &c. of the Dean and Canons, as of their Mannor of H. by Rent and Suit of Court, That A. being ſummoned, did not appear at the Court of the Mannor, that for Suit he did diſtrain and makes Conuſance, &c. The Plaintiff confeſſeth the Seiſin of the Dean and Canons, and of the Tenure; but ſaith, That 7. Aprilis, 9 Eliz. the Dean and Chapter did Leaſe the ſaid Mannor to J. S. for 51 years. that he entred, and was thereof poſſeſſed, the reverſion to the Dean and Canons; The Avowant confeſſeth the Leaſe, but ſaith, that thereby Leets, Lawdayes, Fines, Amercements, Perquiſites of Court, &c. were excepted: That J. S. 10. Oct. 11 Jac. granted all his Eſtate to J. D. who 12 Jac. by his Deed did grant all Leets, Courts, &c. to the Dean and Canons; and that they afterwards held the Courts; and that the Defendant did diſtrain for not doing the Suit at the Court. It was agreed in this caſe, 1. That the Exception in the Leaſe was void, becauſe the Mannor was Leaſed, and the Mannor could not be without a Court: But then it was inſiſted upon, That the plea was void, and not pleadable by him being a ſtranger: For it was ſaid, This was a Suit-Service due from A. the very Tenant, and for default of the Suit of A. he did diſtrain; Now the Plaintiff conveyed himſelf no Intereſt to the Tenancy, but as a ſtranger did entitle another to the ſervice, which he could not do, but onely plead Hors de ſon Fee: It was Reſolved, That this was a good Exception at the Common-Law; and it is in the Lords Choice ſtill to avow at the Common-Law; but he may leave that, and now by the Statute avow as upon the Land lyable to his Diſtreſſe (as here he hath done)! and then the Statute is indifferent to both: and now by Equity the Plaintiff may alledge any thing in diſcharge of the Lands. Tr. 13 Jac. in C. B. rott. 607. Brown and Goldſmiths Caſe. Hob. 150, 151.

8. If there be Lord and Tenant by Fealty and Rent, and the Tenant makes a Leaſe for years, and the Leſſee hath done his Fealty and paid his Rent, and yet the Lord diſtreins the Cattel of the Leſſee for the Rent, and avowes upon a ſtranger as his very Tenant: in this caſe the Leſſee may alledge, That the Leſſor is ſeiſed of the Tenancy, and the Lord ſhall be compelled to avow upon the Tenant, and the falſe Avowry upon a ſtranger who is not very Tenant, ſhall not hurt the Leſſee againſt the truth of his caſe. Cook 9. Part, 20. the Caſe of Avowry.

9. If the Lord avowes for other Services, there the Tenure is traverſable; but if he avow for more Services of the ſame nature, there the Seiſin is traverſable; for he may encroach ſervices, and it cannot be avoided in an Avowry; if it be not for an Outragious diſtreſs. But the Iſſue in taile, or the Succeſſour of a Biſhop, &c. may avoid ſeiſin in an Avowry: Seiſin in an Avowry is not traverſable generally: as to ſay, Never ſeiſed of the Services, becauſe by that means he leaveth no remedy to the Lord by Avowry: but in ſuch caſe, he may diſclaim, or plead, Out of his Fee, and ſo traverſe the Tenure. And in this caſe it was holden, That he who denyeth Seiſin after the Limitation, muſt firſt acknowledg a Tenure, that the Lord may have his Writ of Cuſtomes and Services. 42 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 9. Part, Buckualls Caſe, 33. acc. See Cook 4. Part, Bevill's Caſe, in fine acc.

3. Whether

3. Whether the Avowant ſhall have Damages and Coſts in a Replevin; whether not.

1. IN a Writ of Errour upon a Replevin, of a Judgment given in the Common-Pleas; the Caſe was this, Sir John Stowell was Lord of the Mannor of S. and James was one of the Tenants: and within the Mannor there was a Cuſtome, That the Steward might make Ordinances for the Ordering of the Common, and further to aſſeſs a pain upon thoſe who brake theſe Ordinances; and alſo to preſcribe to diſtrain for the pain. The Steward made an Ordinance, That he who put his Cattel beyond ſuch a Bound, ſhould pay 3 s. 4 d. James offended againſt this Ordinance; upon which a pain was aſſeſſed upon him, and a diſtreſs taken by Tintney, the Defendant, in the Replevin; and Judgment was given in the Common-Pleas for the Avowant. Whereupon a Writ of Errour was brought in the Kings-Bench. And in this Caſe, divers Points were Reſolved; 1. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That this Cuſtome was a reaſonable Cuſtome: and the difference was taken, where the Ordinance takes away the profit of the Commoners, and where it abridgeth it, or adds Limits and bounds to it. 2. It was Reſolved, That the Commoners ought to take Notice of this Ordinance. The onely point in difference was, Whether Damages and Coſts ſhould have been given in this Caſe for the Avowant. In which point, the Juſtices were divided in Opinions; for the Opinion of Croke and Barkley were, That the Avowant ſhould recover Damages and Coſts. But Bramſtone, Chief Juſtice, and Jones, Juſtice, were of Opinion, That Damages and Coſts ought not to be given: and that the ſame was neither within the Letter, nor within the Equity of the Statutes of 7 H. 8. cap. 14. or 21 H. 8. which give damages and not; was within the Letter, for the words are, Where a man diſtrains for Rents, Cuſtomes, and Services, or Damage-Feaſant; and in this Caſe he diſtrained for a pain aſſeſſed onely by Cuſtome: Nor with the Equity; for the miſchief at the Common-Law was, That Damages were not to be recovered for ſuch Rents, Services, &c. But this pain is no Rent nor Service; and it is a Rule, That in all Caſes, where at the Common-Law a man cannot recover Damages, there he ſhall recover no Coſts: And if a Statute give Damages, there he ſhall recover no Coſts; for the ſame is an Act of Creation, which gives remedy where none was before. But where there is an Act of Addition, which encreaſeth the Damages at Law, there he ſhall recover Coſts. Mich. 44 & 45 Eliz. Skepwiths Caſe, Avowry was for a Relief; and the Judgment was reverſed, becauſe Damages were aſſeſſed. Hill. 14 Jac. Rott. 471. Leader and Standwell's Caſe, In a Replevin, Avowry was made for an Amercement in a Leet, and found for the Defendant, and Damages aſſeſſed. But the Entry upon the Record was, Super quo nullo habito reſpectu, &c. the Plaintiff was diſcharged of the Damages, becauſe Nulla damna debent eſſe adjudicanda per legem terræ. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Tintney and James Caſe. Winch. 30, 31. See the ſame Caſe in Cro. 1. Part, 358. & 385. wherein the reaſons of Croke and Berkley, who were of the other Opinion, are at large recited. But no Judgment was given in the Caſe, by reaſon of the difference in Opinion of the Juſtices. See Book of Entries, 570. & 573. and Cook 8. Part, 38. Greiſleys Caſe.

Baile,

Baile.

1. Where Baile muſt be given; where not: what ſhall be good Baile; what not: And the difference between Baile in the Kings-Bench, and Common-Pleas: And where it is grantable; where not.

1. NOte, by Mr. Kemp, Secondary of the Kings-Bench Office; If a Latitat goeth forth againſt the huſband and wife, and the husband onely is taken, the husband ſhall find Bail for him and his wife; otherwiſe he ſhall lye in priſon untill he find ſuch Bail; and ſuch hath been the conſtant uſe of the Kings-Bench for 40 years of his knowledg. Mich. 43 Eliz. in B.R. Goldeſbr. 127.

2. William Gerrard was arreſted by a Latitat, and put in baile by the name of William Gerr; the Plaintiff declared againſt him by the name of William Gerratt, and all the proceedings were accordingly, and Judgment upon a Verdict was for the Plaintiff. In Arreſt of Judgment it was moved, That there was no baile entred; for the bail is Gerrett, and his name is Gerard: The Court was of Opinion, It was good; for otherwiſe, every man impleaded may give a falſe name to his Attorney by which he will be bailed, and then plead that in arreſt of Judgment; Judgment was entred for the Plaintiff. Mich. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Gerards Caſe, Goldeſbr. 138.

3. An Action of Aſſault and Battery was brought againſt husband and wife; the husband being an Attorney, appeared in propria perſona, the wife was in Cuſtodia; the Plaintiff ſo declared againſt them: The Queſtion was, Whether the husband ſhould not put in bail for his wife. It was the Opinion of the Court, That he ought to have put in bail for her; and the Declaration is not good againſt her in Cuſtodia: wherefore it was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff, Tr. 1650. Elſy and Mawditts Caſe. Styles, 226.

4. An Order of the publique Seſſions made againſt D. for keeping a Baſtard-Child, was removed into the Kings-Bench by Certiorari, and the party who was committed to Aylesbury Goal, was brought to the Court upon a Habeas Corpus: and Exception was taken to the Return, That it appears that the Order was made for D. by the Juſtices at the Quarter-Seſſions, to keep the Baſtard-Child; and for not obeying that Order, that he was committed to the Goal; whereas the Juſtices by that of the Quarter-Seſſions by the Statute, had no Authority to make ſuch Order; but it ought to be made by the two next Juſtices of the Peace of the place where the Baſtard was born: which was agreed by the Court. Yet the Court would not releaſe the Priſoner, untill he was bound over with good bail to the next Quarter-Seſſions for the County of Buck. to appear there, and to anſwer the fact. Mich. 1655. Dentons Caſe, in B. R. Styles 475.

5. The Court was moved, That an Action upon the Caſe was brought againſt Husband and wife, and the wife had appeared, but the husband would not; and the Plaintiff's Attorney ſtood to have ſpecial bail for her; which ſhe could not procure; and therefore it was moved, That ſhe might be delivered upon common bail. But the Chief Juſtice anſwered, If there be cauſe to have ſpecial bail, the wife muſt lye in priſon untill the husband appear, and put in bail for her; for ſhe cannot put in bail for her ſelf, being a Feme Covert. Mich. 1655. in B. R. Att. Lee, and the Lady Bellingſlas Caſe, Styles 475.

6. In a Writ of Accompt, the Defendant was awarded to accompt, and Capias ad Computandum awarded; The Defendant came in by Cepi Corpus, and Auditors were aſſigned him, &c. For which the Plaintiff entred into Accompt, and pleaded a payment by the Command of the Plaintiff; the Plaintiff traverſed the Commandment, and upon that they were at Iſſue; and after Iſſue was joyned, the Defendant was bailed by Recognizance; and afterwards the Iſſue was diſcontinued by the demiſe of the King before a Verdict was given. In that caſe, two Points were Reſolved; 1. That the bail were diſcharged by the demiſe of the King. 2. That after ſuch Judgment given, that the Defendant ſhould accompt, the Entry is, Ideo Conſideratum eſt quod prædict. M. Computet, et idem M. in memoria quia prius non Computavit. Cook 11. Part, 30. in Metcalf's Caſe.

7. A man was bail for another upon a Latitat in the Kings-Bench; and before Judgment, the Bail let his Lands for a valuable Conſideration; and afterwards Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. It was a Queſtion, Whether the Lands Leaſed ſed were lyable to the Bailment; and a difference was put between a Bayl in the Kings Bench, and a Bayl in the Common-Pleas; for there the Suit moveth by Originall, and the certainty of the debt appeareth in the Declaration, and there it is known from the beginning of the Bailment, for what the Bail ſhall be bound. But in the Kings Bench upon a Latitat, there is not any certainty till Judgment given, before which the Land is not bound; and the Land being now in another mans hands, it is not lyable: And it was Reſolved, Cook 5. part 70. in Hoes Caſe. If the Plaintiff releaſe to the Bail of the Defendant in a Suit in the Kings Bench, all Actions, Duties, and demands; This Releaſe ſhall not bar the Plaintiff, for that there is not any certain duty by the Bail before Judgment: But it was ſaid by ſome of the Juſtices, That the Land ſhould be bound, otherwiſe many Judgments and Bailments ſhould be defeated, which would be a great inconvenience. It was not adjourned Quia Curia adviſare vult. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. Baxtervill and Brooks's Caſe. Poph. 132. See Mich. 15 Jac. Cro. 2. part 149. the ſame Caſe.

8. A Writ of Error was brought of a Judgment in the Common-Pleas by the Bail; and the Writ ſuppoſed that the Error was in the principall Judgment, and alſo in the Judgment upon the Scire facias againſt the Bail et in redditione executionis ſuper inde. And the Error Aſſigned in the Execution againſt the Bail was, That no Capias was Awarded againſt the principal. And it was ſaid, That the Opinion of Hobart Chief Juſtice of the Common-Pleas was, That Execution might in that Court be ſued againſt the Bail, though there was no Capias againſt the Principal. But all the other Juſtices there held, That it is all one in the Common-Pleas and the Kings Bench, that a Capias againſt the Principal ought firſt to be taken out, and returned Non eſt inventus, otherwiſe no Scire facias ought to be againſt the Bail: For if the Principal be taken by the Capias, or he render himſelf upon the Judgment, no execution ought to be againſt the Bail. And ſuch was the Opinion of all the Juſtices in this Court, in this Caſe: But in this Caſe, It was agreed by the Court, That the Bail cannot Aſſign Error in the principall Judgment, nor take advantage of any Error therein: But becauſe the Error ſuppoſed the Error, to be in the Principal Judgment, and alſo in the Scire facias of Execution thereupon; ſome held the Error did lye for that part, but was void for the reſt: Others held the Writ of Error ſhould abate: The Caſe was not adjuged. Hill. 12 Car. in B. R. rott. 559. South and Griffiths Caſe. Cro. 1. part 343 344.

9. In Debt, It was moved by the Defendant, That the Plaintiff had declared upon an Obligation with a Condition, but had not ſet it out in the Declaration, and therefore deſired he might have Oyer of it, or elſe the Declaration being imperfect, and he being in Priſon, might be ſet at liberty. The Court ſaid; We cannot compell the Plaintiff to ſet it forth, but till he doth, the Defendant ſhall not be compelled to plead, and that the Plaintiff ſhew cauſe upon notice, why the Defendant ſhould not be at liberty upon common Bail; And in this Caſe it was agreed, That if one do Arreſt one, and do not proceed in three Terms, he ought to be ſet at liberty upon common Bail. Trin. 14 Car. in B. R. Sir Charls Coot and Plunkets Caſe. Sty. 125.

10. Note, One was brought into the Kings Bench by the Marſhall of the Fleet, by vertue of a Habeas Corpus directed to him out of this Court, And becauſe it did appear upon Record, that the party was charged with divers debts when he was turned over to the Fleet, he was not ſuffered to put in Bail in the Kings Bench, but he was remanded. Paſc. 1652. in B. 14. Note, In an Action of debt brought in the Kings Bench by Arthur Gorge, againſt Sir Robert Lane, upon a Bond of 3000 l. for not performance of Covenants; The Bail for Lane before any Judgment given againſt him, brought Lane into Court and prayed that they might be diſcharged, and Lane taken into Cuſtody. Doddridge Juſtice ſaid, There is a difference betwixt Manucaptors, which are that the party ſhall appear at the day, for there the Court will not excuſe them to bring the party in Court before the day: But in Caſe of Bail, there they may diſcharge themſelves if they bring the body of the Defendant into Court at any time before fore the Retorn of the ſecond Scire facias againſt the Defendant. For when one goeth upon Bail, it is intended that he is notwithſtanding that, in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli; for the Declarations are in Cuſtodia Mariſchalli Mariſchalſie; and ſo note the difference. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. 2. Where the rendring up of the Body of the Principall ſhall be a diſcharge of the Bail, where not? And what ſhall be a good diſcharge of the Bail, What not?

1. A. brought a Scire facias againſt B. upon a Recognizance of Bail for one J. S. and ſhewed that he had Judgment, Mich. 4 Jac. againſt J. S. and that he did neither render his body nor ſatisfy his debt: The Defendant pleaded that after the Judgment, J. S. came into Court, and rendred his body to the Priſon of the Fleet, in Execution and diſcharge of his bail, and that the Plaintiff did refuſe to take him in Execution; It was Reſolved by the Court, That this was ill pleaded, for the yielding of his body being an Act in Court, and in diſcharge of his bail which is of Record, muſt be alſo of it ſelf of Record, and therefore he ought to have concluded prout patet per recordum; but in truth the Caſe was, That there was no Record of it, and yet it was proved by Oath, that J. S. came for that and other cauſes, and was committed to the Fleet; But the true form is, That Entry be made of Record of the yielding in diſcharge of the bail; but if the Plaintiffs Attorney be preſent, he may take his Election, to take him in Execution, or to refuſe him, whereof Entry alſo is to be made; But if the Plaintiff and the Attorney be both dead, or in the like Caſe, there muſt be a Scire facias to the Plaintiff or his Executors to anſwer whether they will have him in Execution or not; And though a man refuſeth thus to take the Plaintiff in Execution upon his yielding, and that be entred of Record; Yet he may after take him by Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, for it is not a releaſing or renouncing of his Execution. Mich. 15 Jac. in C. B. rott. 2617. Welby and Coomings Caſe. Hob. 210.

2. If one be arreſted upon proceſſe in the Kings Bench, and puts in Bail, and afterwards the Plaintiff recovers, and the Defendant renders himſelf in ſafeguard of his Bail. The Plaintiff at his Election may take Execution, either againſt the Principall or Bail; but if he arreſts the bail, although he had not full ſatisfaction, he ſhall never afterwards meddle with the Principal. But if two be bail, though one be in Execution, yet he may take the other; but if the Principall be in Execution, he cannot take the bail. Paſc. 11 Jac. in B. R. Higgens Caſe. Cro. 2. part 320. See Bolſt. 2. part 68. acc.

3. In an Action of Trover againſt J. S; A. and B. were bail for him, and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff, and 140 l. damages. The Defendant according to the cuſtome of the Court of the Kings Bench, rendred himſelf into the Marſhalls Cuſtody in diſcharge of his bail, as by the Record of the Recogniſance appeared, whereby the Bail were diſcharged of the Recognizance according to the Cuſtome of the Court: The Plaintiff in the Action of Trover notwithſtanding, took out a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum againſt the Bail, directed to the Sheriff of London upon the ſaid Recognizance, to be taken in Execution, and to be deteined untill they paid the 140 l. For which the bail brought their Action upon the Caſe againſt him, and being found for the Plaintiff, It was adjudged the Action did well lye; and afterwards a Writ of Error being thereupon brought, the Judgment was affirmed. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Steer and Scobles Caſe. Cro. 2. part 667.

4. In a Scire facias upon a Recognizance, the Caſe was, A. recovered debt againſt B. who brought a Writ of Error in the Exchequer Chamber retornable 3. Febr. and did find the Defendant his Bail according to the Statute of 3 Jac. who was bound in a Recognizance that B. ſhould proſecute his Writ of Error with effect: and that 12 Feb. the Scire facias was brought againſt him upon the Recognizance; The Defendant pleaded, That whereas the Writ of Error was retornable, 3. Feb. D. the Principall, 2. Feb. venit hic in Curia, et reddidit ſe in eadem Curia, in diſcharge of his Bail, et per mandatum Curiæ committitur Mariſchallo et adhuc remanet in the Priſon of the Marſhalſey in Execution; It was the better Opinion of the Court, That the Principal rendring himſelf in Execution before the time of the Retorn of the Writ of Error: and the Judgment is not affirmed, that then the Bail upon the Recognizance is not to be charged; But the Opinion of the Court in the principall Caſe was, That the plea was not good, for he doth not ſay, that reddidit ſe priſonæ, ſed venit hic in curia, et ſic in eadem Curia reddidit ſe priſonæ; and that could not be becauſe 2. Feb. was not dies Juridicus, and then it was impoſſible ſo to do; alſo it ought to be that in eadem Curia reddidit ſe, et per eandem Curiam Commiſſus, for the Court ought to commit him in Execution; and this here was alſo impoſſible; and therefore for the inſufficiency of the Plea, of the Defendant. Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 14 Jac. in B. R. rott. 544. Auſtin and Monk's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. part 191.

5. The Plaintiff had Judgment in Debt in the Common-Pleas againſt the Defendant, and a Capias againſt him; and becauſe he could not be taken, a Scire facias was againſt the Bail, upon which Nihil was retorned: afterwards the Defendant brought a Writ of Error, and the Record was removed into B. R. After a ſecond Scire facias was granted againſt the Bail, who before the Retorn of it in his diſcharge, brought the Principall in, and prayed to have it allowed. It was adjudged in this Caſe, That if the bail do bring in the Principall upon the firſt Scire facias, this ought to be allowed; but if he do nothing till the ſecond Scire facias, and then bring in the Principall, it is not to be allowed: And this was ſaid by the Clerks, was the Ancient courſe of this Court: And ſo it was Reſolved in the principal Caſe. And Cook Chief Juſtice ſaid, It was ſo Reſolved in Sir George Bowes Caſe. Paſc. 14 Jac. in B. R. The Spaniſh Embaſſador and Gyffora's Caſe. Bolſtr. 3. part 182.

6. A. recovered againſt B. in debt, where there was Bail; and, upon the recovery, a Capias iſſued againſt B. the Defendant, and the ſame was retorned, but before it was filed, a Scire facias iſſued againſt the Bail: one of the Bail for his diſcharge did ſuggeſt an Action againſt B. the Principall, and had his body in Court, and he being in Court for his Suretiſhip, did move to have B. the Principal delivered, in Execution for the Debt of A. and in diſcharge of himſelf, in regard that if he ſhould dye before the next Term, he could not plead this to the Scire facias, but he ſhould then be charged with the debt: Wherefore upon his Prayer, B. the Principal was committed in Execution for the debt of A. by the Court: for this was conceived to be juſt and reaſonable by the Court, and A. was in this Caſe enforced of neceſſity to pray, the body of B. to be committed in Execution for his debt; And ſo Note, How the Bail may diſcharge himſelf from the Execution. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Duport and Wildgooſes Caſe. Bolſtr. 2. part 260, 261.

7. A Scire facias againſt the Defendant, being Bail at Yarmouth in an Action of Debt, for that the Principal did not render his body after Judgment; The Defendant pleaded, That after the firſt Action and bail found, the cauſe was removed by Habeas Corpus, and bail put in here and accepted. And afterwards the cauſe was remaunded by Procedendo, and then Judgment was given againſt the Principall; and therefore it was ſaid that the old bail was diſcharged by the Record removed; But all the Court held, That in this Caſe, the bail was chargeable: For when the Record is remaunded by Procedendo, it is as if it had never been removed, and there is no Record of the removal thereof; But if it be removed, and bail filed in this Court, and afterwards in another Term, it is remaunded, then it is otherwiſe, for then the Court is poſſeſſed of the Cauſe; but if it had been remaunded the ſame Term it was removed, it had bin otherwiſe, for there is no Record made thereof. Mich. 12 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 2. part Beſton and Baller's Caſe. 363. See the ſame Caſe in Bolſtr. 2. part 286.

8. In an Action upon the Caſe, the Defendant put in baile to the Court; and Judgment being given againſt him, he came into Court, and rendred himſelf, and prayed that in diſcharge of his bail, that the Court would record the rendring of himſelf, which was granted: And the Court demanded of the Plaintiff, If he would pray Execution of the body againſt the Defendant; and he ſaid, He would not: Whereupon the Court awarded, That the bail ſhould be diſcharged: and the Rule was entred, That the Defendant offered himſelf in diſcharge of his bail, et Attornatus Querentis allocutus per Curiam, &c. dixit ſe nolle. Ideo Conſideratum per Curiam, quod tam prædict. defend. quam prædict. Manucaptores de recognitione prædict. denariis in eadem, exonerentur. Paſch. 39 Eliz. in C. B. Fullwood and Fullwood's Caſe. Leon. 58.

9. In Audita Querela, the Caſe was; A. ſued a Bill of Debt againſt B. who found bail the Plaintiff and another: After, B. was condemned in the Action, and dyed, without paying the Condemnation, or rendring his body to priſon: for which a Scire facias was ſued againſt the Plaintiff his bail; and upon two Nihils returned, Execution was awarded againſt him: whereupon he brought his Audita Querela. It was moved, That the Baile might be diſcharged; for that it is now by the Act of God become impoſſible for the Defendant to render his body to pay the Condemnation; and there never was any Capias againſt the Defendant in his life-time. The Opinion of the whole Court was, That it was very reaſonable not to ſue Execution againſt the bail, untill a default were retorned in the principal; and the Recognizance of the bail is, that the principal ſhall yield himſelf, &c. is to be intended upon proceſs awarded againſt him: but no proceſs being awarded againſt him in his life-time, it is now impoſſible he ſhould yield himſelf to priſon being dead; and therefore the bail is diſcharged. Judgment was for the Plaintiff in the Audita Querela. Hill. 43 Eliz. in C. B. Hobbs and Tedcaſtles Caſe. Goldeſbr. 194.

10. In

10. In a Scire facias brought by Executors againſt A. and B. the Caſe was; That the Defendants were bail for one J. S. (who was condemned in an Action to the Teſtator) that the Defendant ſhould either render his body to priſon, or ſatisfie the Judgments. The Defendants pleaded, That after the Scire facias retorned, and preſently after the Judgment, the Defendant brought a Writ of Errour in the Exchequer Chamber; depending which, the Plaintiff reddidit ſe priſonæ in exoneratione Manucaptorum ſuorum, and there dyed. In this Caſe it was agreed by the Court, That by the Writ of Errour brought in, the bail was not diſcharged, becauſe it is incertain, whether the Judgment ſhall be reverſed, or not? But it was agreed, That if the Principal dyes before a Capias be awarded againſt him, that the bail is diſcharged. And in this Caſe it was Reſolved, That a Scire facias doth not lye againſt the bail, untill a Capias be awarded againſt the Principal; and no Capias in this caſe was awarded againſt the principall (which could not be, by reaſon of the Writ of Errour) before his death. It was adjudged, That the Plaintiffs ſhould take nothing per Billam. Trinit. 2 Car. in B. R. Calf and Nevill's Caſe. Popham 185.

11. In a Scire facias againſt the bail, he pleaded, That after the Judgment, and before any Capias was ſued out againſt the Principal, he dyed; and it was adjudged a good plea: and ſo (it was ſaid) it was adjudged, Hill. 4 Jac. in C. B. Rott. 975. in Timberly and Carverlys Caſe. Paſch. 20 Jac. in C. B. Suggs and Sparrowes Caſe. Hutton 47. See Mich. 1652. Wood and Mountneys Caſe, Styles 360. contra.

12. A. recovered in Debt againſt B: B. was brought by his bail by Habeas Corpus, with a purpoſe to ſave themſelves, A. prayed that he might be committed in Execution; and the bail prayed he might be received in their diſcharge. But it appeared to the Court, that A. had brought a Writ of Errour which was allowed, but the Retorn of it was not yet come: ſo as the Court was diſabled either to award Execution, or to put him in Execution; and for that cauſe the bail could not be diſcharged; for the Bail is not onely that he bring in the body, but that he become ſubject to the Court; which cannot now be, becauſe of the Writ of Errour; for the Entry muſt be, that the Defendant reddidit ſe to the Court, to be in Execution if the Plaintiff will; which cannot be here: and therefore Quære if the Defendant by his act hath not ſo diſabled himſelf, that the bail is forfeited, though he proceed not in the Writ of Errour. Note, the ſame Term there, upon another Habeas Corpus, the Plaintiff prayed the Defendant in Execution, which was granted, becauſe the day of the Retorn of the Writ of Errour was paſt; and ſo the Court was re-enabled to award Execution. Paſch. 14 Jac. in C. B. Wickſtead and Bradſhawes Caſe. Hob. 116.

13. The Condition of a Recognizance was, That whereas the Plaintiff had recovered againſt J. S. 200 l. and 14 l. for Coſts; And the ſaid J. S. had thereupon brought a Writ of Errour, That if he proſecuted it with effect; Or if it were affirmed, and the Recognizee paid the Condemnation, with Coſts which ſhould be adjudged for delay of Execution, that there, &c. The Defendant pleaded, That ſuch a day after the Recognizance, the ſaid J. S. before the Judgment, rendred himſelf to the Marſhalſhey to be chargeable for Execution, and to diſcharge his bail, and there yet remain. It was adjudged, That the ſame was no plea; For this Manucaption is not to render his body, but to pay the debt, which is grounded upon the Statute of 3 Jac. Cap. 8. Wherefore it is not ſufficient to render the body, but to pay the debt. Paſch. 14 Jac. Auſtine and Monks Caſe. See before, Sect. 4.

14. A. was bail for B. in debt at the Suit of W: A. is taken in Execution; B. obſcures himſelf: Upon a Motion for the Bail, a Rule was, That the Sheriff ſhould take B. the Principal: the Plaintiff gives B. Notice of the Rule of the Court, and adviſes B. to abſent himſelf; and if he would ſo do, the money ſhould be levied upon the bail, and he taken in Execution: yet the Sheriff did afterwards take B. and the Plaintiff wrote to the Sheriff, to let B. go at liberty, and he would ſave him harmleſs. This appearing upon Oath, The Court was of Opinion, That this was an Execution againſt the bail, by practice of the Plaintiff, to charge the Bail with the debt; and in regard the Principal was once taken, though diſcharged upon the Plaintiff's Letter, yet he being once in Execution, the Plaintiff had no remedy againſt the Bail: And therefore it was ruled, That the Bail be diſcharged, and the principal to remain in Execution for ſatisfaction of the debt. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Worſley and Browns Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. Part. 43.

15. Debt upon a ſingle Bill; the Defendant pleaded payment; which found againſt him, Judgment was given, and the Defendant taken; afterwards he brought an Audita Querela upon an Averment of payment, and was bailed: The Court being enformed of this; and that ſuch a plea of payment againſt a ſingle Bill, is no plea; and that the bailment was not in open Court, and no Cauſe for an Audita Querela, Ruled it, That the Audita Querela ſhould be quaſhed; and alſo that the bail ſhould be taken off, and diſcharged; and Execution de Novo taken out againſt the Defendant of the first Judgment. Trin. 9 Jac. in B. R. Torrey and Adyes Case. Bolstr. 1. Part, 140. See before in the Title of Audita Querela.

3. Where a Writ of Errour will lye by the Bail, where not: And where he shall take advantage of Errour; and where not: And what he may Assign for Errour, and what not: And where want of Bail will make the Judgment Erroneous; where not.

1. IN an Action of Trover and Conversion, the Plaintiff had a Verdict and Judgment; the Defendant brought Errour, and assigned two Errours; 1. That there was no bail filed. 2. That there was no Bill: and upon a Certiorari returned, It was certified, That there was neither bail nor Bill filed: Notwithstanding the Judgment was affirmed in the Exchequer Chamber: for that, 1. The want of Bill was taken to be within the meaning of the Statute of 18 Eliz. and remedied by Equity of that Statute. 2. That the bail was not material, because it might be the Defendant was in Custodia Marishalli, at the time of the Bill exhibited, as the Bill supposeth. Trin. 15 Jac. in B. R. Willis and Woodhouse Case. Hob. 264, 265.

2. Errour brought upon a Judgment in the Kings-Bench in Debt; the Errour assigned was, because the Bill was filed, 11. Febr. and the Bail was filed 12. Feb. so as the Bill was before any bail; and it doth not appear, that the Plaintiff was in the Custody of the Marshal: yet because the Bill whensoever it was filed, hath relation to the first day of the Term, and the day of filing is not material. It was holden by the Court, That this was no Errour: and so the Judgment was affirmed. Mich. 13 Jac. in the Exchequer, the Lady Platt and Plummers Case, Cro. 2. Part, 384. See Pasch. 18 Jac. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Webley and Gilmans Case. Cro. 2. Part, 568. acc.

3. Errour brought by the Bail of a Judgment given against the Principal in the Court of the City of Westmin. The Writ was, Quod tam in redditione Judicii, quam in redditione Executionis erratum fuit: The Errour assigned was, because a Capias was awarded against the bail, and he taken in Execution without a Scire facias sued against him: This was holden by the Court to be Errour. Exception was taken to the Writ, because the bail cannot have a Writ of Errour of the principal Judgment: That also was agreed by the Court. But then the Question was, The Record being removed, Whether he might have a Writ of Errour, quod coram vobis residet: of which the Court would advise. Mich. 19 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 404.

4. The Defendant and his Bail in the Common-Pleas brought a Writ of Errour; The Errour assigned was, That no Capias was against the Principal, and yet a Scire facias issued against the bail, and Judgment was given against them. It was moved, That the Bail ought not to joyn with the principal in the Writ of Errour, for that the bail may not avoid the Judgment against the principal, by any Errour which is in the proceedings: and of that Opinion were all the Justices. And it was agreed in that case, That the principal ought not to joyn in a Writ of Errour, to reverse the Judgment against the Bail. It was adjudged, That the Writ should abate. Trin. 10 Car. in B. R. Bushell and Telles Case. Cro. 1. Part, 295. See Hill. 15 Car. in B. R. Smith and James Case, Cro. 1. Part, 415. acc.

4. Where Bail in one Action put in, stands against all Actions brought by the same Plaintiff against the Defendant that Term; and when it stands as well for the Judgment, as Execution: And where if no Declaration be in three Terms, the bail shall be discharged.

1. ERrour brought to reverse a Judgment in Debt; where Bail being entred for the Defendant, Judgment was for the Plaintiff: Errour assigned was, That the Entry of the bail was, Sub pœna Executionis in adjudicatione Executionis; so it was entred for the Execution only; whereas it ought to have been Sub pœna Condemnationis. The Opinion of the Court was, That the bail being once taken, it stands as well for the Judgment, as the Execution: and therefore it was Ruled to be amended, and made Sub pœna Executionis Judicii. Hill. 8 Jac. in B. R. Hampton and Courtney's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 272. See Bulst. 1. Part, 107. the same Case.

2. Tho. Ashfield the elder, and Tho. Ashfield the younger, were both bound in a Bond to J. S. Tho. The Elder being arrested in London, was removed bo Habeas Corpus into the Kings-Bench, and put in bail. J. S. never declared upon that bail, but declared against Tho. Ashfield the younger: but no bail being filed, and he recovered; upon Errour brought, brought, and a Certiorari, this was assigned for Errour; It was prayed, that the same bail might be filed for Thomas the younger: But it was denyed by the Court; for that it appears upon the Habeas Corpus, that it was taken for Thomas the Elder, and it cannot be altered. Then it was moved, That the Plaintiff might declare this Term against Tho. the Elder. But it was Answered and Resolved, That none shall declare against any by reason of a Bill, but within 3. Terms after the bail filed. And that was also said to be the constant Rule and Course of this Court: And therefore because the Plaintiff had not filed a Bill upon this bail in this Term, which was the 4th Term after the bail taken, It was Ruled, That the bail should be taken off the File, and that the Defendant should not Answer. Mich. 18 Jac. in B. R. Ashfield and Kings Case. Cro. 2. Part, 620. Hill. 17 Car. in C. B. adjudged accordingly. See March. 157. See Mich. 1655. B. R. That the bail to one Action of the Plaintiff, is to be bail to all Actions brought by the same party against him that Term.

5. Where Bail may be discharged; where not, and how. And how far the bail is lyable for the principal.

1. ERrour of a Judgment in the Kings-Bench; The Record was removed in the Exchequer-Chamber: It was prayed, That the Defendant being in Execution, might be bailed: and because the Record was removed, and so there was not any Record here. It was holden, He could not be bailed here; and he cannot be bailed in the Exchequer-Chamber, for they have not any authority, but to affirm or Reverse the Judgment: Wherefore in this case the Defendant is not bailable. Hill. 3 Jac. in B. R. Shepherd and Allen's Case. Cro. 2. Part, 108.

2. In Scire facias against the bail, the Case was; In Debt against J. S. in Lynne, a Capias issued against him directed to the Serjeant at Mace there; who returned Cepi Corpus, and that J. S. according to the Custome of the Town, had found bail one J. D. who was dead, and the Defendant, and if he were condemned, to satisfie the Debt, or to render himself to prison: Judgment there was given for the Defendant; and Errour brought, and the Judgment reversed: and because the bail did not pay the debt, nor render the person, this Action was brought. It was the Opinion of the Court, That the bail being matter of Record, cannot be found before any, but before the Judge of the Court: and that for this cause the bail was not chargeable; but bail for appearance might be taken by the Serjeant. Mich 3 Jac. in B.R. Loffe and Keldridges Case. Cro. 2. Part, 94.

3. The Plaintiff recovered in Debt in the Kings-Bench, and a Capias ad satisfaciendum was awarded, and immediately upon the Awarding of the Capias ad satisfaciendum, the Defendant dyed: It was said, That in such case, the Executors having nothing, a Scire facias doth not lye against the bail. It was a Quære, If Debt lay against them? For it was said, That in the Court of Common-Pleas, the Court was divided in Opinion, 2. Judges being against the other 2. Judges: Ideo Quære. I conceive the debt doth not lye against the Bail. See before in the 3d. Section to that purpose. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Godbolt. 354.

Bailment of Goods.

1. IF a man have Goods delivered to him to deliver over to another, and afterwards a Writ of Detinue is brought against him, by him that hath right to have the Goods: If the Defendant depending the Action, deliver the Goods over to him, unto whom they were given to be delivered, this is a good Bar of that Action. Fitz. Nat. Br. 138.

2. Note, It was adjudged to be Law by the whole Court, That if a man bail Goods to another at such a day to re-bail, and before the day, the baylee doth sell the Goods in Market-Overt. Yet at the day the baylor may seise the Goods, for that the property of the Goods was alwayes in him, and not altered by the sale in Market-Overt. Mich. 7 Jac. in B. R. Godbolt. 160.

3. A man bails Goods to J. S. to keep safely, and the Goods are stolen away by the Servant of J. S. or by any other. In Detinue brought, It was adjudged, That the Baylee shall be charged with the Goods, because he took upon him at the delivery of them, safely to keep them; and therefore he ought to keep them at his perill, although he hath nothing for the keeping of them; But if a man accepteth goods to keep as he keeps his own goods, there if the goods be stolen, he shall not answer for them: The same Law, if the goods be delivered to him in pawn for mony, he shall not answer for them if they be stole, for he hath a property in the goods, and shall keep them, as he keeps his own goods. Pasc. 43 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. part 83, 84. Southcotes Case.

4. In

4. In an Action of Trover and Converſion: The Caſe was, A. pawned a Hatband ſet with Jewells, to B. a Goldſmith for 20 l. no certain day is ſet for redeeming of the ſame by payment of the mony. B. on his death-bed in the preſence of C. his Neighbor, commands his Wife to fetch the Hatband, and then delivers the ſame to C. wiſhing him to keep the ſame ſafely till the 20 l. were paid, and then to re-deliver the ſame to the owner, and makes his Wife his Executrix and dyeth; A. tenders the 20 l. to the Executrix, who refuſeth the ſame. Afterwards he comes to C. and demands the Hatband, who refuſeth to deliver it him: A. brings Trover and Converſion againſt C. It was objected, That this being a pawn, cannot be redeemed, but by him that pawned it, and that muſt be during the life time of the parties, and no time being limited for redeeming this pawn, the Law ſhall ſet down the time, and the longeſt time ſhall be during the life of the parties. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Action was well brought againſt C. the Baylee. For in this Caſe, there was a good Tender made of the mony to a right perſon: For in this caſe, he to whom the goods were pawned, had a property ſpeciall in them, untill the money be paid, but the general property remains in him who pawneth the goods, and he cannot loſe this property by the death of the other, And in this Caſe the mony was to be paid to the Executrix, who was privy to the Contract, and upon a tender and refuſall, an Action will lye; And the poſſeſſion of the Husband in this Caſe, being in a third perſon, will not alter the Caſe, for that he hath neither ſale, bargain, nor gift made to him of the ſame, but he hath onely a bare delivery thereof, and this onely for the ſafe Cuſtody of the ſame, and the delivery here of the Hatband to C. was in articulo mortis, and it remained ſtill a pawn in him to whom it was pawned; And then the Tender here being well made; the debt not being transferred over to the Baylee, but the bare poſſeſſion of the pawn in him; he refuſing to deliver it to the Plaintiff, who made the Tender of the 20 l. it is a Converſion; and ſo the Action is well brought. It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Trin. 8. Jac. in B. R. Sir John Ratcliff and Davies's Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. part 29, 30.

5. Upon Trover and Converſion, the Caſe was: There was A. B. and C: A. was endebted to C. in ſuch a ſum. And B was endebted to A. in ſuch a ſum. It was agreed betwixt them, that B. in diſcharge of his Debt to A. ſhould diſcharge the debt of A. to C. in payihg and delivering him certain commodities which he had in his hands of A. which B. by and with the conſent of A. did promiſe to do, and deliver to C. in diſcharge of the debt of A. but he contrariwiſe did convert them to his own uſe after the death of A. for this C. brought his Action of Trover and Converſion: In this Caſe, It was agreed by the whole Court, That the Action did well lye. For if a man bail goods to one for to bail them over unto another, if he to whom the bailment was made, contrary to the truſt in him repoſed, doth not deliver them over as he was to have done, but doth convert them to his own uſe, he hath by this deceit made himſelf lyable to an Action, both of the firſt Bailor, and alſo of the party to whom they were to be bailed over, and either of them may have his Action againſt him; And in the principal Caſe, notwithſtanding the third perſon here, to whom the Goods ought to have been bailed, never had the poſſeſſion of them: Yet this Converſion and Non-feaſance of that which he ought to have done, is a wrong, and prejudiciall to C. the third perſon; and for this wrong and prejudice, he may have his Action upon the Caſe as well as the firſt bailor; It was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Mich. 8 Jac. in B. R. Llewellin and Raves Caſe. Bolſtr. 1. part 68, 69.

6. If a bailee of goods, as of a Horſe &c. kill them, the Bailor ſhall have an Action of Treſpaſs againſt him, for that by the killing, the Property is deſtroyed: And ſo if a man delivereth a Horſe to another to keep ſafe; and the party ſo negligent keeps the horſe, that for want of good keeping, he dyeth: an Action upon the Caſe lyeth for this breach of truſt, Michaelmas 43 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. part the Counteſſe of Shrewsburyes Caſe. 13.

7. If a man deliver a Ring to another man to keep, and he breaks it, and Converts it to his own uſe. Quære, If Detinue lyeth for it, or if he ſhall have an Action upon the Caſe for it, It ſeems Detinue will not lye of it, becauſe the thing in demand cannot be delivered as it was. See the old books. 12 Eliz. 4. 8. 18 Eliz. 4. 32. But if a man delivers goods or Chattells to another to keep, and he will not deliver them back again, he may have Detinue of thoſe goods and Chattells. Fitzh. Nat. Br. acc.

Bayliff

Bayliff, or Baily.

1. IT was Reſolved by the whole Court. That if a diſtreſſe be taken for damage feaſant, the party may tender amends untill the Cattell be impounded: But ſuch Tendor made to the Bayliff of the Lord, or party, is not good, For he cannot deliver the diſtreſſe once taken, no more then he can change the Avowry of his Maſter, or demand a rent upon a condition of Re-entry. Paſc. 41 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. part 76. Pilkingtons Caſe.

2. Nott, It was agreed by the whole Court, That payment of a Rent by a Baily, ſhall be a ſufficient ſeiſin of the rent, if it worketh not ſpecial prejudice to the Lord; as if the Lord hath not bin ſeiſed of his rent within 60 years, and the Tenant maketh one his Baily generally of his Manor, he cannot without expreſſe commandment of his Maſter, pay a rent remedileſſe to the Lord, that that ſhall be a ſpecial prejudice to him, which a Baily without Commandment cannot do. Cook 6. part 59. in Bredimons Caſe.

3. In a Replevin againſt W. he made Conuſans as the Kings Baily, and ſaid that the King was ſeiſed of the Caſtle of L. as parcel of his Dutchy of Cornwall, and had a rent of 20 s. iſſuing out of the Town of F. and that all that had bin Dukes there, had bin ſeiſed time out of mind by the hands of thoſe who were demurrant and reſident in the ſame Town of T. and preſcribed to diſtrein for it, toties Quoties, &c. In that caſe, It was holden a good ſeiſin, for the rent was iſſuing out of the whole Town, and that all the reſidents and dwellers ought to pay it, in which Caſe he could not alledge ſeiſin by the hands of any perſons certain, for the ſeiſin given by one, bound all, wherefore by the adviſe of the Court, the Conuſans in ſuch Caſe was adjudged good. Cook. 6. part. Ibid.

4. If one be the Tenants Baily of his Mannor, or of his Lands; If the Baily cuts down Trees, and repairs an Ancient pail, the ſame is good, ſo if he payes Quit-rents it is good. 30 Eliz. in B. R. by Gawdy Juſtice. In Rouſes Caſe. Owen. 28.

5. Bailiffs may receive rents of old Tenants, they cannot accept new upon change of Tenants, nor can they enter for non-payment of rent; by Hobart Chief Juſtice, in the Argument of the caſe of Colt, and the Biſhop of Coventry, and Litchfields Caſe. 154. Heb.

6. A Writ of Enquiry of damages was directed to the Sheriff of N. thus Præceptum eſt Vic. quòd per Sacrament. 12. proborum et legalium hominum de balliva ſua diligenter inquirat quæ damna, &c. The Sheriff returned Quod mandavit J. S. Ballivo Libertatis Hundred de B. cui extent. prædict. brevis totaliter reſtat ſiendi, quod alibi infra com. prædict. per ſe fieri non poteſt. Qui quidem Ballivus, ſic ſibi reſpondet, and ſet down the Inquiſition before the Bailiff, and 40 l. damages aſſeſſed; and upon this a Writ of Error was brought in the Exchequer-Chamber; And it was agreed by all the Judges That the return was inſufficient, for it was apparantly untrue, and againſt Law, becauſe the Warrant was directed to the Sheriff himſelf to be Executed in any part of his Shire; and no Venue conteined in this Inqueſt of Office, as there is in other Writs, which entitles the Baylies of Liberties; yet although they conceived that the Return was inſufficient, yet they would not reverſe the Judgment, becauſe there were divers of the like, both in the Kings Bench and the Common-Pleas. Trin. 12 Jac. rott. 252. in the Exchequer-Chamber. Virely and Gunſtons Caſe. Hob. 83.

7. If the Lord diſtrein the Cattell of his Tenant, although nothing be behind, the Tenant for the reſpect and duty which he oweth to the Lord, and which belongeth to him, ſhall not have an Action of Treſpaſſe againſt him, vi et armis: But if the Lord commandeth his Baily in ſuch Caſe to diſtrein where nothing is behind, The Tenant ſhall have an Action of Treſpaſſe, vi et armis, againſt the Bailiff. Cook 9. part 76. in Combes Caſe.

8. The Caſe was; The Sheriff returns upon an Elegit, That the party had not any Lands but within the Liberty of St Edmonds-Bury, and that J. S. Bailiff there, hath the Execution of all Writs and return of them; who enquired and returned an extent by Inquiſition, and that the Bailiff delivered the moyety of the lands extended to the party, and that the Plaintiff by vertue of that extent entred; and whether it were a good Title for the Plaintiff, was the Queſtions? 1. Whether the Bayliff of Liberty may make Inquiſition and Extent upon Elegit by Warrant of the Sheriff directed unto him? And it was Reſolved, That he might. 2. When the Jury by Inquiſition find the Seiſin, and value of the Land, Whether the Jury ought to ſet out the moyety? Or if the Bayliff may deliver ſuch part of the Land for the moyety? It was Reſolved, That the Jury is to extend all the Lands; and the Bayliff or Sheriff (where there is no Franchiſe) ſhall deliver the Moyeties, and not the Jury. Trin. 9 Car. in B. R. Sparrow and Matterſocks Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 232.

9. In a Falſe Impriſonment againſt a man for for an Aſſault, Battery, and Impriſonment 6. dayes; The Defendant to all but the Aſſault, Battery, and Impriſonment for 6. hours, pleads, Not-guilty: And for the Battery & Impriſonment for 6. hours, he Juſtifies by a Warrant from the Sheriff of S. who directed his Warrant to his Baily to execute it; who Arreſted the Plaintiff, and required the Defendant to be ayding to him, which is the ſame Battery, &c. It was demurred upon the plea, becauſe it was not pleadee, That the Writ being executed, was Retorned; for the Writ is conditional, Ita quod Habeas Corpus in Curia tali die, &c. and therefore if the Sheriff himſelf will Juſtifie, it is no plea, without ſhewing the Retorn of the Writ; and the Bayliff ſhall not be in better Condition then his Maſter. But the Exception was not allowed by the Court: For the Court ſaid, It is true, the Sheriff ought to Retorn his Writ, otherwiſe his Juſtification is not good; but it is not ſo with his Baily, or Servant, for he hath no means to enforce the Sheriff to make retorn thereof, and that which he did was legally done, and it ſhall not be made illegall by the Sheriffs act, in not retorning the Writ. 2. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Sheriff might by peroly diſcharge the bail, that he keep not his Priſoner longer. Hill. 11 Car. in B. R. Girlings Caſe. Cro. 2. part 322, 323.

10. The Caſe was, The Sheriff of a County made a Warrant Ballivis ſuis, to Arreſt the body of ſuch a man, and the Bailiffs of the liberty returned a Reſcous; Exception was taken to it, becauſe the Warrant was Ballivis ſuis: and the retorn was made by thoſe who were not his bailiffs: but it was holden by the whole Court to be good, for the Liberty might be within his Bailiwick; and ſo are all the Preſidents. Paſc. 13 Car. in B. R. Winch. 25.

11. In Treſpaſſe, The Defendant made Conuſans as baily to another, the Plaintiff Replyed, That he took the Cattle of his own wrong, without that, that he was his Baily, Anderſon Chief Juſtice; If one hath good cauſe to diſtrein my goods, and a ſtranger of his own wrong, without any Warrant or Authority given him by the other, takes my goods, not as Baily or ſervant to the other, and I bring Treſpaſſe againſt him, may he excuſe himſelf by ſaying that he did it as Baily? he cannot do it, for once he was a Treſpaſſor. But if one diſtrein as Baily, although that in truth he is not Bailiff; If afterwards he in whoſe right he diſtreins agrees to it, it is a good diſtreſſe, and he ſhall not be a Treſpaſſor, for that his aſſent ſhall have relation to the diſtreſſe taken: all which was agreed by the Court: but it was then Objected, What if he diſtrein generally without manifeſting his intent, nor the cauſe for which he diſtreins, &c. ad quod non fuit reſponſum. Mich. 28, & 29 Eliz. in C. B. Goſbolt.

13. A Juſtice of Peace made a Warrant under his Seal to a Conſtable, to bring the Wife of J. S. before any Juſtice of the ſaid County, to find Sureties for her good behaviour: J. S. and J. D. offer a Recognizance to another Juſtice of the ſame County, who did not make the Warrant to appear at the Seſſions: The Conſtable carries the party before the Juſtice who made the Warrant; who there refuſed to find Sureties; wherefore the Conſtable carries the party to priſon; and a Falſe Impriſonment was brought againſt him: And in this caſe it was Reſolved, That the ſaid Warrant made Coram aliquo Juſticiariorum, was an Election in the Conſtable, to carry the party Arreſted to what Juſtice he pleaſed. And, 2. After the Officer in this caſe had brought the party before the Juſtice, and before him the party refuſed to give Sureties; It was Reſolved, That the Officer without any Warrant might carry the party to priſon; for that the words of the Warrant were, Et ſine recuſaverit, that then he carry the party to the next Goal. Hill. 32 Eliz. in B.R. Cook 5. Part, 59. Foſters Caſe.

14. The Biſhop of York made a Leaſe for years of divers Lands in Batterſey, rendring Rent at Batterſey; Proviſo, in the time of Vacation the Rent ſhall be paid to the Chapter ut iuſure ſuo; the Rent was behind ſede vacante; the Bayliff of the Succeſſour re-entred and diſtreined, and avowed Damage-Feaſant: In this caſe, amongſt other points, it was Reſolved, That the Bayliff might not re-enter for his Maſter without expreſs Commandment. And it was further Reſolved, That though it be not expreſſed who ſhould pay the Rent, yet it ſhall be intended the Tenant: and in this caſe, the Defendant did not ſhew the diſtreſs to be taken, after the Regreſs, and therefore it was not good. Paſch. 5 Eliz. in C. B. Dyer 221. the Biſhop of York's Caſe.

15. An Under-Sheriff brought Debt againſt one one of his Bayliffs upon an Obligation with Condition, to ſave the Under-Sheriff harmleſs, in executing of proceſs; and aſſigns the breach, That the Bayliff had not executed ſuch a Warrant ſent unto him upon a proces directed out of the Exchequer, to levy Iſſues upon certain Lands: The Defendant demurred to the Declaration; 1. Becauſe the Warrant made to him by the Under-Sheriff, was made out of the County. 2. It is not alledged, That the Mannor of A. where he is by the Warrant to levy the Iſſues, is within the Hundred where the Bayliff hath Juriſdiction. And this by the Opinion of the whole Court, was ſaid to be a good Exception; viz. That the breach aſſigned is is not shewed to be within the Condition of the Obligation, because the Baily cannot execute a precept out of the Hundred where he is Baily. Whereupon it was adjudged, That the Plaintiff take nothing by his Bill. Pasch. 23 Car. B. R. Styles 18.

15. Note, by Rolls, Chief Justice, A special Baily is bound to shew his Warrant to the party whom he is to arrest; otherwise the party to be arrested is not tyed to obey him; but, he is not bound to shew his Warrant to a stranger: But a known Baily is not bound to shew his Warrant to any. Hill. 1654. in B. R. Styles 405.

16. Note: It was Resolved in Mackalleys Case, That the Sheriff, Baily, or other Officer, ought to shew to him at whose Suit the Arrest is, and in what Court the process is, that the party arrested, may either pay the money, or take Order for his appearance: but that is to be intended, when the party submits himself to the Arrest of the Officer; and not when the party arrested makes resistance to the Officer in the execution of his Office, and so would escape: and there Resolved, That a known Baily, or a Serjeant at Mace, need not to shew their Warrant or Mace: and a special Baily is not bounden to shew his Warrant, without a demand of it: and if the Officer, Baily, or other, say to the party, I arrest you in the name of the King, &c. the same is a sufficient Notice, and the party at his peril ought to obey it. Cook 9. Part, 69. in Mackalleys Case.

1. Where a Bayliff shall be charged in Accompt; where not.

1. A Bayliff cannot be charged as Receiver; for then he should lose his charges upon his Accompt. And if an Enfant be Bayliff within age, he shall not be charged in Accompt, because by intendment of Law, he cannot have skill to make an Improvement. Cook 1. Part. Institutes, 171.

2. If one Tenant in Common taketh the profits of the whole Lands, an Accompt doth not lye against him by his Companion: But if one Tenant in Common makes his Companion his Bayliff, there an Accompt lyeth against him as Bayliff, and he ought to be charged as Bayliff; otherwise, Never his Bayliff to Accompt render, is a good plea. Cook 1. Part, Institutes, 200.

3. If a man be to charge one in an Accompt, That he hath received divers parcels of goods, and that he hath sold them to divers persons unknown; in such case and the like where he cannot charge the Defendant with any certainty of Receits; he must there charge him as Bayliff, and not as Receiver, for there he must shew the certainty of the Receipt, as the book in 46 E. 3. 3. and 9. is. Fitzh. Na. Br. 117.

4. If a man during the Nonage of the heir, enters into the Lands of the heir which he hath by discent, and taketh the profits thereof to the use of the heir, the heir at full age may have an Action of Accompt against him for the profits received, untill the heir came to the age of 14 years; and for the profits by him received after his age of 14 years, the heir shall have a Writ of Accompt against him as Bayliff, and not as Guardian; for he cannot be Guardian to the heir for Lands in Socage, but till the 14th year of the age of the heir; but the heir shall not have an Accompt against one as Guardian, untill the heir be of full age. See Old N. Br. 95. Fitzh. Na. Br. 118, 149. 16 E. 3. Acco. 120. 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer. 137. 6 Jac. Cro. 2. Part, 219. acc.

5. In Accompt, the Plaintiff charged the Defendant as Bayliff of his Shop, coram habeas et administrationem bonorum. The Defendant answered to the goods, and not to the shop. It was holden, That he ought to Answer to all. And it was holden, That if one be charged as Bayliff of his Goods and Merchandize, that he shall answer for the encrease; but if he charge him as Receivor, ad Computandum, it is otherwise. Mich. 29 Eliz. in B. R. Gomersales Case, Godbolt. 56. See Accompt before.

Bankrupts.

1. Who ſhall be ſaid to be a Bankrupt, who not, within the Statutes of 34 H. 8. Cap. 4. and 13 Eliz. Cap. 7. And what ſhall make a man to be a Bankrupt: And what Acts done by him after he is become a Bankrupt, is good; what not.

1. BY the Statute of 13 Eliz. Cap. 7. If any Merchant, or other perſon, uſing or exerciſing the Trade of Merchandiſe by way of Bargaining, Exchange, Rechange, Bartry, Chevisance, or otherwiſe in groſſe, or by Retail, or ſeeking his or their Trade of Living by buying and ſelling, and being a Subject born of this Realm, or of any of the Queens dominions or Denizen ſince the firſt day of this Parliament, hath, or at any time hereafter ſhall depart the Realm; or begin to keep his or her houſe or houſes, or otherwiſe to abſent him or her ſelf, or take Sanctuary; Or ſuffer him or her ſelf willingly to be arreſted for any debt or other thing not grown or due for money delivered, Wares ſold, or any other juſt or lawfull Cauſe or good Conſideration, or purpoſes; hath, or will ſuffer him or her ſelf to be Outlawed; or yield him or her ſelf to priſon; or depart from his or her dwelling houſe or houſes, to the intent or purpoſe to defraud or hinder any of his or her Creditors, being alſo a Subject born as aforeſaid, of the juſt debt or duty to ſuch Creditor or Creditors: ſhall be reputed, deemed, and taken for a Bankrupt. Stat. 13 Eliz. Cap. 7. Raſtall 2. Bankrupts.

2. By the Statute of 34 H. 4. where perſons craftily obtaining into their hands great ſubſtance of other mens goods, do ſuddenly fly to parts unknown, or keep their houſes, not minding to pay or reſtore to any of their Creditors their debts and duties; but at their own wills and pleaſures conſume the ſubſtance obtained by Credit of other men, for their own pleaſures and delicate Living againſt Reaſon, Equity, and Conſcience; That the Lord Chancellour, the Lord Treaſurer, Lord Privy-Seal, and other of the Kings Privy-Councel, and Juſtices of either Bench for the time being, or 3. of them, upon Complaint made to them in writing by any parties grieved concerning the premiſſes, have power by their diſcretions to take ſuch Order, as well with the bodies of ſuch Offenders whereſoever they may be had, by Impriſonment of their bodies or otherwiſe; as alſo with their Lands, Tenements, Fees, Annuities and Offices which they have in Fee-ſimple, Fee-tail, for term of life, term of years, or in the right of their wives, as much as the Intereſt, right and title of the ſame Offenders ſhall extend or be, and may be then lawfully departed with by the ſaid Offender; and alſo with their money, goods, Chattels, Wares, Merchandizes, and Debts, whereſoever they may be found, and to cauſe their ſaid Lands, Tenements, Fees, Annuities, Offices, Goods, Chattels, Wares, Merchandizes, to be ſearched, viewed, rated, and apprized, and to make ſale of the ſame Lands, Tenements, Fees, &c. or otherwiſe to order the ſame for true ſatisfaction and payment of the ſaid Creditors, that is to ſay, to each of the ſaid Creditors a proportion, rate and rate like, according to the Quantity of their debts: and every ſuch direction, Order, bargain, ſale, and other things authorized to be done as aforeſaid in writing, ſigned with their hands, by authority of this Act, ſhall be good and effectuall in the Law to all intents, conſtructions, and purpoſes, againſt the ſaid Offenders, their heirs and Executors for ever, as though the ſame direction, order, bargain, and ſale had been made by the Offendor or Offendors, at his or their own free will and Liberty in writing Indented, in any of the Kings Courts of Record. See Statute 34 H. 8. Cap. 4. Raſtal. 1. Bankrupts.

3. A. being a Mercer by his Trade, brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt B. for theſe words, Thou doeſt owe more then thou art worth, and art not able to pay thy debts. Upon Not-guilty, being found for the Plaintiff, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Action would not lye for thoſe words, becauſe they do not imply any ſhifting, fraud, or falſhood, and ſo cannot imply him to be a Bankrupt: For though he doth owe more then he is worth, and is not able to pay his debts, yet he may be an honeſt man, and have Credit and Friends to ſupport him in his Trade. And ſuch was the Opinion of the Court, for here is no fraud or deceit implyed which do make a Bankrupt, within all the Statutes of Bankrupts. Paſch. 1649. Rott. 1724. in B. R. Viccory and Barns Caſe, Styles 213.

4. In a Replevin upon an Avowry, the caſe was; A Tradeſman in Conſideration of marriage made a Conveyance of his Lands to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife, and afterwards becomes a Bankrupt: a Commiſſion is ſued againſt him, and his Lands are ſold by the Commiſſioners to the Avowant; the Queſtion was, Whether this Conveyance was within the Statute of Fraudulent Conveyances, and and the ſale made by the Commiſſioners, were good? It was Objected, It was not within the Statute; for that a valuable Conſideration is onely expreſſed in the Statute, and not a Conveyance upon Conſideration of Marriage; and the Wife is not compriſed within the Statute of 1 Jac. but onely children and other perſons; and the Wife is but one perſon with her husband. The Court was of Opinion, That the Law intends a Bankrupt which is ſo by fraud, as well as by accident. And here the matter in diſpute is not in a ſpecial Verdict, but comes in point of pleading; which ſhall be taken ſtrongeſt againſt him that pleads it; and he hath not expreſſed any valuable Conſideration, as he might have done by ſaying, In conſideration of a portion, or in recompence of marriage, or in performance of Articles made upon Marriage: But the Court held, That the Wife was within the Statute of 21 Jac. and the providing for wife and children to be a providing for himſelf. Trin. 1651. in B. R. rott. 388. Tucker and Coſhes Caſe. Styles 288, 289.

5. In an Ejectione Firmæ, upon the 4. Statutes of 34 H. 8. 13 Eliz. 1. and 21 Jac. of Bankrupts, the Caſe was this; A. 9 Jac. purchaſed a Copyhold to him and his ſon for their lives, the remainder to his wife in Fee: In 11 Jac. he became an Inholder, and about 12 years after a Commiſſion of Bankrupts was ſued againſt him, and the Copyhold was ſold by the Commiſſioners to the Defendant. A. dyed, and his ſon entred, and made a Leaſe to the Plaintiff; the Defendant entred upon him; whereupon the Action was brought: The points in this Caſe were three. The firſt, Whether an Inn-holder may be a Bankrupt within theſe Statutes? It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, that as to that point, That an Inn-holder, quatenus an Inn-holder, is not within theſe Statutes, becauſe an Inn-holder doth not live by buying and ſelling; for he doth not ſell any thing, but utter it: He that ſells any thing, doth it by way of Contract; but an Inn-holder doth not contract with his gueſts, but provides for them, and cannot take unreaſonable Rates, as he who ſells may; and if he doth, he may be endicted of Extortion, which the Seller cannot: And where the Statutes ſay, Get their Livings by buying and ſelling, that it ought to be for the greater part, that they gain the greater part of their Living thereby: And if a Gent. buy and ſell Land, he is not within the Statute, for it ought to be taken, thoſe who buy and ſell perſonal things. The ſecond point was, Whether Copyhold were within the Statutes of 13 Eliz. and 1 Jac. It was Reſolved by them all, That it is within the Statute; and the ſaid Statutes ſhall be conſtrued moſt beneficial for the Creditors, becauſe their ground is ſuum cuiq; tribuere. The third point was, That A. being no Inn-holder at the time of the purchaſe, and afterwards becoming an Inn-holder, Whether he were within the Statute of 13 Eliz. It was Reſolved, He was not. It is not within the words of the Statute, which are, If the Offender purchaſe; and here he was not an Offender at the time of the purchaſe: beſides, here the Son ſhould be puniſhed for the Offence of the Father; which the Law of God will not ſuffer: and he ought to be indebted at the time, and he might give away his goods before he was in debt: And in this caſe it was ſaid, That the thing which makes him an Offender, is his Intent to defraud his Creditors, and that doth not appear in this Caſe. It was afterwards adjudged for the Plaintiff againſt the Defendant, That he was not within the Statute; and that the purchaſe was well made, and not to be avoided. Trin. 15 Car. in B. R. Criſp and Pratts Caſe. March. 34, 35, 36, 37. See Cro. 1. Part, 395. The ſame Caſe.

6. In an Action upon the Caſe, for calling the Plaintiff (being a Shoo-maker) Bankrupt-Rogue, It was moved, That a Shoo-maker is not ſuch a perſon as may have an Action for theſe words, no more than a Labourer or Husband-man. But it was Reſolved, That the Action did lye; for that he is ſuch a perſon as is within the Statute of Bankrupts; for he lives by his Credit, in buying Leather, and ſelling Shoes, and not upon his manual Labour onely, as husband-men do. Paſch. 2 Car. in C. B. Cramp. and Barns Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 21.

7. Sir John Wolſtenhome was one of the Corporation of the Eaſt-India Company, being a gentleman of 3000 l. per annum, and had a Stock in the Company of his own, and ſate in the Committee of the ſaid Company as a Merchant in the management of the Trade, and did receive at ſeveral times the proceed of his ſtock upon Returns of Ships, and became endebted to divers perſons, and obſcured himſelf. It was agreed in that Caſe, That though he did not get the greateſt part of his living by buying and ſelling; yet his imployment in the ſaid Committee and Trade was ſuch a buying and ſelling, as made him capable to be a Bankrupt: and that the Statute ſhould be taken largely againſt Bankrupts, and the moſt beneficiall for the Creditors: and the taking out of his ſtock in goods, and diſpoſing of them; was a ſelling, within the Statute of 21 Jac. And it is not the Quality of the perſon, or the greatneſſe of his eſtate, which keeps him from being within the Law; but it is his buying and ſelling and trading, which makes him within the Law; and the being of the Corporation, and ſitting in the Committee for the Trade, and ordering the buying of goods, and the diſpoſing of them with the reſt of the Committee in the Trade of the Stock and Merchandize, makes him a Merchant, and a buyer and ſeller within the Law. Paſch. 1653. in the Kings-Bench, Sir John Wolſtenhomes Caſe.

2. Of the power of the Commiſſioners for the ſale of Bankrupts Lands & Goods; where their ſale ſhall be good; where not. How the diſtribution is to be made, and where. And where the Creditors muſt come in to have Diſtribution; and who ſhall be Creditors within the Statutes of Bankrupts.

1. A Man is endebted to A. and B. in 100 l. and afterwards becomes Bankrupt; a Commiſſion under the Great Seal, according to the Statute of 13 Eliz. is awarded to C. and D. to make ſale of the goods of the Bankrupt to the Creditors: Afterwards, the Bankrupt gives all his goods to another Creditor for payment of his debt; and afterwards the Commiſſioners ſell the goods joyntly. It was adjudged, 1. That the ſale by the Commiſſioners was good in this caſe, and according to the Statute; for the intent of the Statute was to Releive the Creditors equally; and that there ſhould be an equal and valuable proportion obſerved in the diſtribution of the goods to the Creditors: and that the Bankrupt himſelf after the Commiſſion, cannot make diſtribution of his goods to any Creditor. 2. It was Reſolved, That the ſale of the goods by the Commiſſioners, was good without a Deed enrolled; and although they do not view the goods. 3. It was Reſolved, That the Commiſſioners ought to make a ſeveral diſtribution to the ſeveral Creditors; and not to make a Joynt-ſale: but that is to be meant, when the debts are ſeveral. 4. It was Reſolved, That if a Creditor refuſe to come in to the Commiſſioners, and they ſell to others, the ſale is good, and the other ſhall not have benefit of it, for vigilantibus et non dormientibus jure ſubveniunt. Cook. 2. Part, 23. the Caſe of Bankrupts.

2. A Commiſſion was ſued out by ſome of the Creditors of the Bankrupt, and they purſued it, and the Land was ſold; and after, other Creditors who would neither partake nor aid them, prayed to be joyned with them. It was Reſolved in this caſe, 1. That the Commiſſioners may ſell and prepare for diſtribution preſently upon the execution of the Commiſſion; but till the 4 moneths paſt, they may not proceed to diſtribution. 2. That in this caſe, the Offer, of the Creditors to be joyned, was not an effectual offer, without offering to be contributary to the charge; but to offer any particular ſum, is not neceſſary: and theſe words, viz. [For the charge of the Commiſſion] is to be extended to all charges ariſing in ſuing forth of the Commiſſion, and in execution and defence thereof. 3. Reſolved, That at any time before diſtribution, the Creditors may come and pray to be joyned; but after the 4 moneths paſt, and diſtribution made, they come too late; for ſo the Diſtribution may be made void. Trinit. 17 Jac. in C. B. Ruggles Caſe. Hutton 37, 38.

3. In Trover and Converſion, it was found by Verdict, That A. being a Merchant, had made a Fraudulent Deed to the Defendant of the goods contained in the Declaration; but afterwards he went abroad to Church, to the Exchange, and did Trade and Commerce; and yet it was contained in the Indenture of ſale by the Commiſſioners to the Plaintiff, that he had made this fraudulent Deed; and that afterwards he had traded, untill a day after, at which day he wholly abſented himſelf: and upon this Verdict, the Defendant had Judgment. For every Deed to defraud other Creditors, (but thoſe to whom ſuch Deed is made) is not ſufficient to make one a Bankrupt: But if he make any Deed after he begins to become a Bankrupt, it ſhall not bind. But upon the Statute of 1 Jac. which makes him a Bankrupt which makes fraudulent Deeds, it ought not to be as this caſe was, viz. ſo long before he became a Bankrupt. Paſch. 15 Jac. in C. B. Cartwright and Underhills Caſe. Hutton 42, 43.

4. Upon the Statute of Bankrupts, this Caſe was moved, If a Bankrupt be indebted to one 20 l. and to another in 10 l. and hath a debt due to him by Bond of 20 l; Whether the Commiſſioners may aſſign this bond to the two Creditors joyntly? The Court was of Opinion, That it was to be aſſigned and divided as the words of the Statute are, viz. To every Creditor a portion, part and part like. Then it was moved, Whether they might joyn in the Suit or not? It was ſaid by ſome of the Juſtices, When part of the Bond is aſſigned to one, and part to another, the Act of Parliament doth operate upon it, and they may ſue ſeverally. And it was ſaid, That by Cuſtome of L. part of a debt might be attached. Trin. 10 Jac. in C. B. Godbolt. 195.

3. Whether

3. Whether the Bankrupt have ſuch an Intereſt in his Goods; after they are extended; and before a Liberate ſued; That the Commiſſioners may ſell ſuch Goods to Creditors of the Bankrupt within the Statutes of Bankrupts.

1. IN Trover, the Caſe was, A. and B. were poſſeſſed of goods, and uſed the Trade of Merchandiſe, and were bound to the Defendant in a Statute for a true debt, which being forfeited, the Defendant ſued forth an Extent to the Sheriffs of L. who 21. Novemb. 3 Car. extended thoſe goods, and retorned the Writ and Inquiſition into the Chancery: 3. Novemb. 3 Car. A. and B. became Bankrupts, being endebted to the Plaintiff and others for juſt debts. 6. Novemb. 3. Car. the Defendant ſued a Liberate upon the Extent, and the ſame day the goods were delivered by the Sheriff according to the apprizement in the Extent: 8. Novemb. 3 Car. the Plaintiff and others ſued out a Commiſſion of Bankrupts againſt A. and B. And 23. Novemb. the Commiſſioners ſold the goods; the Defendant 25. Novemb. the ſame year, converted them; upon which, Trover was brought. The queſtion was, Whether the ſale by the Commiſſioners after the goods delivered upon the Liberate, was good. It was objected that the Intereſt of the goods remained in the Conuſors, and then when they became Bankrupts before the Liberate, the Commiſſioners might ſell and diſtribute them amongſt the Creditors; But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That thoſe goods, extended before they became Bankrupts and delivered by the Liberate after they became Bankrupts, could not be ſold by the Commiſſioners; becauſe, being extended, they were in Cuſtodia legis; and the Conuſors had not power to give or ſell them; and eſpecially in this Caſe, becauſe the Extent is retorned before they became Bankrupts, and the Liberate was before the Commiſſion was ſued out; and when the Liberate is ſued out, it hath relation to the Extent; and the Statute being with an Exception. Where Execution is ſerved or Executed; this is to be accounted the Executing of one Extent where the goods be appriſed, and the Writ retorned: Wherefore in the principal Caſe, It was Reſolved, That the Extent being retorned ſerved, the goods be not ſubject to the other Execution, nor to the power of the Commiſſioners. It was adjudged for the Defendant. Hill. 3 Car. in B. R. rott. 943. Audly's and Halſey's Caſe. Cro. 1. part 107, 108.

2. The Caſe was; Mony was levied by the Sheriff upon an Execution for coſts and damages recovered, and before the retorn of the Writ, the Plaintiff became a Bankrupt, and by the Commiſſioners of Bankrupt, the mony recovered, was aſſigned to Creditors. It was the Opinion of the whole Court in this Caſe; That foraſmuch as the becoming Bankrupt, and the Aſſignment of the Commiſſioners were after the Writ of Execution ſued; That the monie remaining in the Sheriffs hands, was not Aſſignable, and being upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum, it was in the Sheriffs hands as in Cuſtodia Legis; and eſpecially it being upon a Capias ad ſatisfaciendum (as it was in this Caſe) and none can give a diſcharge thereof but the Plaintiff who is party to the Record: Wherefore it was Reſolved in this Caſe, That this mony ſhould be delivered to the party who recovered, and he to acknowledge ſatisfaction. Mich. 4 Car. in B.R. Benſon and Flowers Caſe, Cro. 1. part. 119, and 126.

3. Divers debts were aſſigned to Creditors by the Commiſſioners upon the Statutes of Bankrupts, and they brought Actions in their own names for theſe Debts, and it was ruled that the Actions did well lye, becauſe it is a debt transferred by Parliament; and it was holden, If the debts were upon contract, the Defendant might wage his Law; For although the Parliament transfer the debt, yet it is not a debt upon Record. Mich. 3 Jac. in C. B. Cro. 2. part 105. Bradſhawes Caſe.

4. A. and B. were ſureties for J. S. for the payment of mony, and had Counterbonds to ſave them harmleſſe, the mony was not paid at the day; the Sureties paid it; afterwards J. S. became Bankrukt; It was Reſolved in this Caſe, that A. and B. were Creditors within the Statutes of Bankrupts, Trin. 4 Jac. in C. B. Osborn and Churchmans Caſe. Cro. 2. part 127.

Bargain and Sale.

1. What ſhall be a good conſideration to raiſe a Uſe upon a Bargain and Sale; And where an Averment ſhall be to enforce the Conſideration; Where not.

1. A Man having Iſſue three daughters, ſeiſed of Lands in Fee-ſimple, married to three ſeverall perſons, in conſideration of a Joynture for his Wife, and for the advancement of the Iſſue Male of his body, if he ſhall have any; and for the advancement of his ſaid daughters, Covenants to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf for life; and after his deceaſe, of part of the Land to the uſe of his Wife for life, for her Joynture, and after their deceaſe, to the uſe of the Heirs Males of his body begotten; and of the other part, to the uſe of himſelf, and after to the uſe of his three daughters, and to the heirs of their ſeveral bodies: and if any of his ſaid three daughters dye without Iſſue male, that then her part ſhall ſurvive, Proviſo for their ſeverall Husbands, that if they ſurvive their Wives, and be not entituled to be Tenants by the Curteſie, that then he might limit any of the ſaid Land by his Will, for the payment of his debts, or for advancement to any perſon or perſons for life, lives, or years. One of the daughters dyeth without Iſſue Male, The Father Aſſigns a great part of the Land to the youngeſt daughter for her Advancement for 1000 years, without Reſervation of any Rent; And whether this was a good limitation was the queſtion: And in this Caſe, amongſt other points, it was Reſolved; 1. That a Uſe cannot be raiſed by any Covenant, Proviſo, or Bargain and ſale, upon a generall conſideration, without a ſpeciall Averment. But in ſuch Caſe, ſuch a Bargaynee, or he who ſhall take the uſe, may Aver that it was for a valuable conſideration of mony, or for the advancement of his bloud, if the perſon who ſhould take the uſe be certain. For an Averment may be taken which ſtands with the Deed, although it be not expreſly compriſed within the Deed. 2. When uſes are raiſed by Covenant, in conſideration of Fatherly affection to his ſon or daughters, and by the ſame Indenture there is a Proviſo added. That the Covenantor for good conſiderations may make Leaſes for years, the Covenantor cannot make any Leaſe; for ſuch a Covenant, upon ſuch a generall conſideration, cannot raiſe a uſe, and no particular Averment can be taken, that his intent at the time of the delivery of the Deed, was to deviſe the ſame to any perſon certain, and therefore his power to make Leaſes was void ab initio. But if the uſes had bin limited upon a Recovery, Fine, or Feoffment, that there needs not any conſideration to raiſe any of the uſes. And therefore in the principal caſe, It was taken for a rule, when the conſideration is generall, or the Covenant or bargain made with a perſon certain, there an Averment may be taken; but when the conſideration is generall, and the perſon incertain, there no Averment will be available. Hil. 26 Eliz. Cook 1. part 176. Mildmayes Caſe.

2. A. ſeiſeſed of Lands in Fee, demiſed the ſame to Husband and Wife, Habendum to the Husband and Wife for their lives, the Remainder to a ſtranger for life, rendring during their lives yearly 40 l. rent at Mich. and the Annunciation. The Husband dyed. Afterwards A. in conſideration of 10 l. to him paid, Demiſed, Granted, and in Forme, let the ſaid Lands to J. S. to have unto him from the date of the Indenture for 99. years, rendring yearly during the ſaid Term to J. S. &c. the yearly rent of 40 s. at the Annunciation and Michaelmas: The Wife did not Attorn; In this Caſe, theſe points were adjudged. 1. That the words (Demiſe and Grant) for conſideration of mony did amount to a bargain and ſale for the ſaid years, and ſhould be preſently executed by the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, and that there needed not any enrollment of the Deed, becauſe but a Term for years paſſed, and no eſtate of Freehold. 2. That if a man Covenant in conſideration of mony, to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of his ſon in Fee, if the Deed be enrolled, the ſame is a good bargain and ſale without words of bargain and ſale, becauſe they amount to as much, So if a man for mony alliен, and grant Lands to one and his heirs by deed, Indented and enrolled, the ſame amounts to a bargain and ſale, and the Land ſhall paſſe without any Livery and Seiſin. 7. Jac. Cook 8. part 93. Edward Foxes Caſe.

3. Tenant in Tail, the remainder in Fee, he in the remainder, by Deed Indented, and Enrolled, covenanted for conſideration of Deed, and other good conſiderations, to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf in tail, the Remainder to the Queen, her heirs and ſucceſſors, Kings and Queens of England, &c. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other points. 1. That no uſe could be raiſed to the Queen upon ſuch a general conſideration, without a ſpeciall Averment, that Valuable, or other good conſideration was given. 2. That the conſideration that the Land ſhould remain in his bloud, was no conſideration to raiſe an uſe to the Queen, becauſe there wanted Quid pro quo. 3. That the Conſi-

Conſideration that the King is the head of the Commonwealth, and ſhall preſerve the peace of the Realm, is no good conſideration to raiſe an Uſe; becauſe Kings ex officio, ought to Govern and preſerve their Subjects in peace and tranquillity. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 2. part 15. Wiſeman's Caſe.

4. A man made a Leaſe for years, and afterwards bargained, and ſold the Reverſion to one and his Heirs, and before the enrollment of the Deed, he levyed a Fine of the ſaid Lands to him and his heirs, and afterwards the Deed was enrolled within the 6 Months: In this Caſe it was Reſolved. 1. That the Conuſee ſhould be in by the Fine, and not by the Indenture enrolled: for when a Fee-ſimple paſſeth by the Fine to the Conuſee, and his heirs, the Inrolment of the Indenture of bargain and ſale cannot deveſt the eſtate which was given in him by the Fine; and an Inrollment ſhall have relation to avoid mean charges of the bargainor, but not to deveſt any lawfull eſtate ſetled in the interim in the bargainee himſelf. 2. Reſolved, That in ſuch Caſe Averment might be, that the deed was enrolled ſuch a day, the day after the Fine levyed; and the Law doth allow of Averments which ſtand with the Record. 3. It was ſaid by ſome of the Juſtices in this Caſe, but not Reſolved. That admit, That the Inrollment ſhall be preſumed to be made the ſame day, that the Fine was levied, That the bargainee ſhould have his Election, to have the Reverſion, either by the bargain and ſale, or by the Inrollment by the Fine. Mich. 34 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 2380. Cook 4. part Hindes Caſe.

5. The Husband ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf for life, and afterwards to the uſe of his Wife for her Joynter, upon Condition that ſhe ſhould perform his will: the Husband dyed: the Wife entred and agreed to the eſtate, and afterwards brought Dower. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, amongſt other poynts, That the eſtate made to the Wife upon condition to perform his Will, might be Averred to be for the Joynture of his Wife; and ſuch Averment is given by the expreſſe words of the Statute of 27 H. 8. 15 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 4. part 4. Vernons Caſe.

6. If a man Covenant to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of his Wife, Son, or Cozen, the ſame ſhall raiſe a uſe without any expreſſe Conſideration; But if the Father by Deed Indented in Conſideration paid by his ſons, Covenanteth to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of his ſon, there no uſe ſhall be raiſed, unleſſe the Deed be enrolled, becauſe the ſame is in the nature of a bargain and Sale. Cook 7. part 40. Bellels Caſe. See Cook 11. part 25. Harper's Caſe.

7. A man ſeiſed of the Mannors of D. and S. both holden by Knight-ſervices, as in Capite by deed Indented in conſideration of a marriage to be had betwixt him and B. and for the advancement of the Iſſues, which he ſhould have Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed of the Mannor of D. being of the yearly value of 30 l. to the uſe of himſelf, and the heirs Males of his body, upon the body of the ſaid B. to be begotten, and afterwards to the uſe of C. in tail, and afterwards to the uſe of his right heirs: And of the Mannor of S. to the uſe of him and B. for her Joynture, and to the heirs of her body begotten, and after to the uſe of C. in tail, and after to the uſe of himſelf in Fee. Afterwards they Intermarry; And afterwards A. purchaſed Lands to him and his heirs, holden in ſocage, and afterwards deviſed that his Executors ſhould ſell his ſocage Land, and dyed, having Iſſue a daughter on the body of B. It was Objected in that Caſe, That nothing paſſed to them in Remainder, becauſe they were not within the conſiderations expreſſed: But it was Reſolved, That the uſes were well raiſed to them in the Remainders for the reaſons, which are put in Cook 7. part. 46. in Bedells Caſe. where the Caſe upon the Record appeared to be this. A. ſeiſed of a houſe in Langley and Iver in Converſion. B. had Iſſue by his Wife, three ſons; and, by Indenture, in conſideration of the natural affection and love which he had to his Sons, and for their preferment and advancement, did Covenant that he and his heirs would ſtand ſeized to the uſe of himſelf for life, and after to the uſe of his Wife for life, and afterwards of one moyety to the uſe of one of his ſons in tail, and of the other moyety to the uſe of his other ſon in tail, and dyed; and, If any uſe ſhould be raiſed to the Wife, and the two brethren, was the Queſtion: In that Caſe it was Reſolved, That the Conſideration that ſhee was his Wife was apparent, in the Deed; and then a Conſideration which ſtandeth with the Deed, may be Averred, notwithſtanding that it be not conteined in the Deed; but if the conſideration to the Son had bin for mony, then the Deed ought to be inrolled. But things apparent need not be averred. Trin. 12 Jac. Cook 11. part 23, and 24. Henry Harpars Caſe.

8. In an Ejectione firme, the Caſe was, J. S. being ſeiſed of the Lands in Queſtion in Fee, made a Feoffment thereof to A. and B. and to their heirs untill they ſhould make a Leaſe of the ſaid Lands for divers years to certain uſes, to begin at the Feaſt of Philip and Jacob next comming. The Feoffees entred and made a Leaſe for years of the Lands to begin from the Feaſt of Philip and Jacob, next; the Queſtion was, whether the Feoffees had made ſuch a Leaſe as the Deed of Feoffment directed, and ſo the uſes are raiſed thereupon, and whether it ſhall be intended another Leaſe, not warrant-d.

ranted by the Feoffment, and ſo no uſes raiſed; It was holden, That here was a good conſideration to raiſe a uſe; For it was ſaid, That if Lands be paſſed for mony onely, the Deed ought to be enrolled; but if it be for mony and naturall affection, it is not needful to enroll it, but the Lands will paſſe without enrollment: And it was holden in this Caſe, That here was onely a matter of Truſt in the Feoffees, and the intent was not that the Feoffees ſhould have any thing by the not performing of the Truſt, but that the uſe ſhould be to the Feoffer. It was further holden in this Caſe, That this Leaſe was made to begin from the Feaſt of Philip and Jacob, and here it is made for a day longer then was agreed upon by the Deed; yet becauſe the intent of the parties is performed, it ſhall be conceived a good Leaſe, according to the agreement: And the Intent in this Caſe was not meant, That the Feoffees ſhould have any thing. But then it was ſaid, that the Intent of the parties ſhall not be implyed againſt the direct Rules of Law. It was adjudged againſt the Plaintiff. Trin. 24 Car. rott. 1529. in B. R. Watts and Dixes Caſe. Styles 188. 205.

2. Of Inrollments of Deeds of Bargain and Sale; Where Inrollment after the Death of the Bargaince is good; Where not: And where a uſe ſhall riſe by the Statute of uſes, and not of Inrollments: and when the Deed may be Inrolled.

1. THe Caſe was: A. and B. by Indenture dated 3. July, 13 Jac. did bargain and ſell the Mannor of D. to J. S. and his heirs for valuable Conſideration of mony paid. And 4 October 13 Jac. the Bargaynee dyed, his Heir of full age; It was Reſolved in this Caſe, the Land being holden in Capite, that his heir ſhould ſue his Livery; for it was ſaid that that differenced from all the Caſes, that are put of Recovery, for Fine Executory, and Covenants to raiſe uſes, where the eſtate veſts in the heir, quaſi Heir, and never veſted in the Anceſtor, for this upon Inrollment ſettles as between the Bargaynor and Bargaynee ab initio, upon the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, which doth joyn all the eſtates to the uſes ipſo facto; onely the Statute of Inrollment ſayes, that in that Caſe it ſhall not veſt, except the Deed be Enrolled, ſo if it be enrolled, it doth veſt, not by the Statute of Inrollments but by the Statute of uſes preſently; Yet it was agreed in this Caſe, That the Bargainee cannot ſell unto another, untill his own Deed be enrolled; and ſo it was adjudged in Bellinghams Caſe. Paſc. 15 Jac. in Curia Ward. Dimmocks Caſe. Hob. 136.

2. It was, amongſt other things, Reſolved by the whole Court, That if a Deed of Bargain and Sale be enrolled, it is ſufficient without any other acknowledgment before a Maſter of the Chancery: becauſe in ſuch caſe the Bargainee is in, by the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, and not by the Statute of Inrollments. 8 Jac. in C. B. the Earl of Lincolns Caſe adjudged.

3. In a Quare Impedit, the Plaintiff declared, That one R. B. was ſeiſed of the Parſonage of Horley, whereunto the Advowſon of the Vicaridge belonged, and that the Vicaridge became void by the death of A. and that it was in the Kings hands, by reaſon of the Wardſhip of the Son of R. B. who preſented J. S. and then conveyes the Parſonage to J. D. in Fee, who 1. Jan. 1601. granted to P. the next avoydance of the Vicaridge, who granted it to the Plaintiff; and that J. S. dyed, and ſo the Plaintiff ought to preſent; The Defendant as Parſon Imparſonee of the Vicaridge, ſaid, that King Henry the 8th was ſeiſed of the ſaid Parſonage of Horley, to which the Advowſon of the Vicaridge, &c. and ſo makes a diſcent of it from Henry the 8th, to Queen Elizabeth, who preſented J. S. and that, by his death, King James preſented him who was Inſtituted and Inducted; and traverſed, that R. B. was ſeiſed of the Rectory ad quam, &c. It was found by ſpeciall Verdict, That J. D. and his Wife were ſeiſed to them and the heirs of the Husband, of the Rectory of Horſham, and 10. May 31 H. 8. did give the ſame Rectory to Henry the 8th, and his Succeſſors, and that the ſaid King being ſeiſed of the Rectory of Horley, to which, &c. by Letters Pattents: 21. July 31 H. 8. in conſideration prædict. Rectoria de Horſham, &c. by the ſaid J. D. and his Wife granted to the ſaid King and his Succeſſors, gave to the ſaid J. D. and his Wife, the ſaid Rectory of Horley, and that 26 July 31 H. 8. and not before J. D. and his Wife, came into the Chancery, acknowledged the ſaid Deed, which was afterwards duly Inrolled; The queſtion amongſt other poynts was; That though the Deed to the King was not acknowledged, nor enrolled at the time of the Grant made by the King, yet the Inrollment afterwards of it, when the ſame comes, it ſhall make the Kings Grant good ab initio; And it was the better Opinion, That though the Grant to the King was not compleat, nor perfected for want of Inrollment at the time of the Kings Grant, yet when the Inrollment comes upon it, it takes effect, neither from the Inrollment, nor by it, but by the firſt Act, and therefore between the parties, it ſhall bind bind to all purpoſes ab initio; and it was holden, That if a man giveth Lands to the King by Deed, and afterwards chargeth the Land, and then a Fine is levyed to the King of the ſame Land, the King ſhall hold the ſame diſcharged. See before, Dymocks Caſe. Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. Needler and the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe. Hob. 222. acc.

4. Note, It was ſaid by the Court, That if a Leaſe be made from the making of the Leaſe, it takes effect preſently the ſame day, whether it be dated or not; ſo if a Bargain and Sale be not dated, the ſix Moneths muſt be accounted from the delivery: But in this Caſe; where a Writ was brought againſt the Hundred of G. upon the Statute of Hue-and-Cry, and the Robbery was layed to be 9. October 13 Jac. and the Teſte of the Writ was 9. October 13. Jac. In that Caſe it was holden, That in Caſes that depended, not upon Writings dated, but upon time to be reckoned from Acts done, as in this Caſe, from the Robbery committed, which muſt be confeſſed was done upon the 9th of October 13 Jac. and there cannot be two ninth dayes of October in one year, and he might have brought his Action at the firſt day that although the party robbed deſerveth favour, yet it being a penall Law againſt the Hundreds, upon the Statute, the Action brought would not lye. Hill. 14 Jac. in B. R. Norris and the Hundred of Gawtryes Caſe. Hob. 139, 140.

5. A. the 7th. of November 41 Eliz. Bargained and Sold Land by Deed Indented to J. S. and afterwards the 9th. November 41 Eliz. acknowledged a Recognizance to J. D. The Deed Indented, is Inrolled the 20th of November 41 Eliz. It was adjudged that A. was not ſeiſed of ſuch an Eſtate in the Land, 9th November 41 Eliz. becauſe the Bargain and Sale by Judgment of Law took effect from the delivery of the Deed when the enrollment came; And alſo in that Caſe it was adjudged, That neither the death of the Bargainor, nor of the Bargainee before the Inrollment did hinder the paſſing of the Eſtate; For a Releaſe by a Stranger to the Bargaynee before the Inrollment, is good; and ſo is a Recovery ſuffered by him before Inrollment, becauſe that in Judgment of Law, he was Tenant of the Land at the time of the Recovery, and if before the Inrollment he bargains and ſells the Land to another, and after the firſt Deed is Inrolled, the Bargain and Sale is good. Trin. 42 Eliz. rot. 1031. in C. B. Mallory and Jennings's Caſe. See 3 Jac. in C. B. Alſops Caſe. acc.

6. If an Enfant acknowledge a Recognizance, Statute, or Enrole an Obligation; in all theſe Caſes, he ought to avoid it in an Audita Querela during his Nonage, becauſe it ought to be tryed by Inſpection: But if an Enfant bargains and ſells Land by deed, indented and Inrolled, he may avoid it when he pleaſeth, becauſe the Deed was of no effect to raiſe a uſe; and the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Inrollments, is to be intended of Lawfull and effectuall bargains and Sales which might raiſe uſes at the Common-Law. Cook 2. part Inſtitutes, 673.

3. Where a Bargain and Sale ſhall be good to paſſe an Eſtate; where not: and where a man ſhall be ſaid to be in by the Bargain and Sale; where not.

1. J. S. by Indenture made between the Queen of the one part, and himſelf on the other part, reciting, That whereas he was endebted to the Queen in 800 l. to be paid 20 l. at every Feaſt of St. Mich. untill the ſaid whole ſum of 800 l. be paid, Covenanted with the Queen to convey to the Lord Treaſurer and Barons of the Exchequer, and their heirs certain Lands, to the uſe of the ſaid J. S. and his heirs, untill ſuch time as the ſaid J. S. and his heirs ſhall make default of payment of any of the ſaid ſums; and after ſuch default, to the uſe of the Queen, her heirs and Succeſſours, untill they ſhall have received of the profits thereof ſuch ſums of money of the ſaid debt as ſhould be behind; and after the ſaid debt paid, and ſo received, then to the uſe of the ſaid J. S. and his heirs for ever: and he levied a Fine to the Lord Treaſurer and Barons to the uſes aforeſaid: Afterwards being ſo ſeiſed, he bargained and ſold the Lands to a ſtranger; default of payment was made, The Queen ſeiſed the Lands, and granted them over to one and his heirs quouſq; the money was paid: and after, the money was paid. This Caſe being referred to the Juſtices for their Opinions; They were of Opinion, That J. S. ſhould have his Lands again; for at the time of the bargain and ſale, he had an Eſtate in Fee determinable upon default of payment, which accrued to him by the firſt Indenture and Fine; which Eſtate paſſed onely by the ſaid Indenture of bargain and ſale, and not the new Eſtate which paſſed to him by the latter limitation after that debt paid, for that was not in eſſe at the time of the bargain and ſale: But if the Conveyance had been by Feoffment, or Fine, all uſes and poſſibilities had been carried away by the operation of it. Mich. 28 Eliz. at Serjeants-Inne, a Caſe referred to the Judges. Leon. 33.

2. Note: It was agreed by the Court, That if a man bargains and sells his Lands by Deed Indented to be inrolled, and before the Deed Inrolled, he makes Livery to the bargainee, and after the Indenture is enrolled, that in that case the Livery doth prevent the operation of the Inrollment, and the party shall be accounted in by the Livery, and not by the bargain and sale; for Livery is the more worthy, and the more worthy ceremony to pass Estates, and therefore it shall be preferred. Mich. 26 Eliz. in B. R. in Stonely and Brasebridges Case. Leon. 5.

1. Where they are one person in Law, and to what intents; and where they shall take and hold by moyeties: where by Entierties.

1. SIr Robert Catlyne purchased Lands which were holden in Capite to him and his wife, and to the heirs of the husband; and the purchase was made without Licence; The Queen afterwards pardoned him all offences pro quacunq; alienatione sibi facta; in which Pardon, there was no mention made of the wife; and yet the Pardon was allowed, and he discharged in the Exchequer: and the reason was, because the husband and wife were one person in Law; and then the Release to one of them was good. 3 Eliz. Dyer. 196.

2. If a Joynt-Estate be made of Land to the husband and wife, and to a third person, there in right the husband and wife shall take but one moyety, and the third person shall have the other moyety; and the reason by Littleton is, Because that in Law the husband and wife are but one person. And see, 21 E. 3. 9. 39 H. 6. 28. 11 R. 2. Fitzh. Tit. Remitter. And all our Old Books are, That if husband and wife purchase Land joyntly in Fee; and the husband alieneth the whole, that the Wife shall have a Cui in vita for the whole; because they were but one person at the time of the purchase. Litt. 65.

3. If a Feoffment with Warranty be made to a man, and to a Feme sole, who afterwards do marry, and they do vouch, and recover in value, there shall not be moyeties betwixt them; for although they were sole when the Warranty was made; yet when they recovered in value, they were husband and wife, and one person in Law, and then shall not take by moyeties. And so if a Reversion be granted to a man and a single woman, and afterwards they entermarry, and then the Tenant attorneth; they shall not take by moyeties, but by entierties. Plo. Com. 483. in Nicholls Case.

4. If Land be given to husband and wife, and to a third person, and to the heirs of the husband and the third person; and the third person afterwards releaseth unto the husband and wife, and to the heirs of the wife; It was holden, by the Lord Dyer in his Reading, That in such case the Release should not entitle the wife: but Quære in that case, If the wife shall not have a moyety of the other part of him who releaseth. See 10 H. 6. 17. But if husband and wife, and a third person, purchase Land joyntly in Fee, and afterwards they are disseised, and the husband and wife are divorced, and afterwards the husband doth release to the Disseisor, and the third person dyeth; In that case it was holden, That the wife might enter, and hold a third part of the Land. Dyer. in his Reading. acc.

5. If Tenant in tail enfeoffeth a woman and dyeth, and his issue within age, entermarrieth with the said woman, It is a Remitter to the Enfant within age; and in that case the woman taketh nothing, because that the husband and wife are as one person in Law. Litt. 148. b. But if Tenant in tail enfeoffeth a man, having issue a daughter who entermarrieth with the Discontinuee, Quære in that case, If she shall be remitted. I conceive, she shall not.

6. If a woman who is disseised, entermarrieth with the disseisor, and then they are disseised, and the disseisor levieth a Fine, the husband having issue before the last disseisin; and the husband dyeth before the 4. Proclamations passed, and before the 5. years passed, the issue being of full age; and afterwards the mother dyeth, the 5. years passe, the Issue is bound as heir to his Father; but as heir to his Mother he shall have other 5. years; and that proves it is no Remitter to the wife. Plo. Com. 367. by Walsh.

7. The husband and wife, and A. purchased to them, and to the heirs of the husband, and A; A. released to the husband, without saying, To him and his heirs; The husband and wife made a Lease of the whole, rendring Rent to them and the heirs of the husband, and afterwards the husband dyed; and for the moyety of the Rent being behind after the death of the husband, the heir distreined the Lessee. It was Resolved in that Case, That the Release made in that case to the husband alone, did enure to him alone, and not to his wife; and that in that case there needed not the words To him and his heirs, in the Release, but that the the moyety, ſtate and Intereſt which the Releſſor had veſted and was put in the Husband in Feeſimple alone, and nothing in the wife; and the husband and wife were but as one perſon in Law. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer 263.

8. Sir Thomas Wiat in Conſideration of a Marriage of his Son, made a Feoffment and, re-took an Eſtate to himſelf for life, the remainder to Sir Tho. his ſon, and his wife that ſhould be: Afterwards, the marriage between the ſon and the woman was accompliſhed; The Father levied a Fine to the King of the ſaid Land, and bound him and his heirs to Warranty, and dyed; the Son was attainted of Treaſon, and executed, having iſſue living: Afterwards the Queen granted the Land to a ſtranger in tail; and afterwards the wife of the Son, and her iſſues were reſtored. It was a Queſtion in this caſe, amongſt other, between the Patentee and the Wife who was reſtored, If the wife had right to the intire Remainder, or but to a moyety? the Caſe is not there Reſolved: but it ſeems in ſuch caſe, that it being before marriage ſo ſettled, that the wife had but right to a moyety; for in that caſe the husband and wife took by moyeties, and not by entierty. 2 & 3 Ma. Dyer 122. Sir Thomas Wiat's Caſe.

9. An Action of Debt was brought againſt husband and wife, for the Recuſaney of the Wife; and the husband would have appeared by Superſedeas alone, without his wife: But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That they muſt either both appear, or be both Outlawed, for that they are one perſon in Law. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Lovelas Caſe. Hob. 179.

10. If a man marrieth a Wife who is indebted to divers perſons; living the wife, the husband and wife ſhall both be ſued for theſe debts; but if the wife dyeth, the husband ſhall not be charged with the debts after the death of the wife: but if the Creditor of the husband and wife do recover the debt during the Coverture which was done by the wife before his entermarriage with her; in that caſe, although the wife dyeth, yet the husband ſhall be charged with that debt after the death of the wife, in regard of the Recovery. Fitzh. Na. Br. 120. acc.

11. Note: It was Reſolved by all the Juſtices, That a Wife cannot be produced as a Witneſs, either for, or with, her husband, becauſe they are due animæ in carne una; and it might be a cauſe of diſcord and diſſention between the husband and wife, and a means of great Inconveniences which might follow. Paſch. 10 Jac. in C. B.

12. A Feoffment was made before the Statute of 27 H. 8. to the uſe of a man and a woman who was unmarried, and of the heirs of their two bodies; they entermarry, and then the Statute of 27 H. 8. is made; afterwards the husband bargains and ſells the whole Lands to one of the Feoffees, and dyeth; the wife claims the whole as Survivour. It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the wife ſhould have but a moyety of the Land, becauſe ſhe and her husband at firſt had but moyeties as Joynt-Tenants before the Entermarriage; and that the wife might have a Cui in vita of that moyety. But in that caſe it was holden, That if the wife dyed, the ſon might maintain a Formedon of the whole Land. 3 & 4 Ma. Dyer 149. Bedells Caſe.

13. If a man give Lands to a man and ſuch a woman as ſhall be his wife, the man taketh the whole; but if a man maketh a Feoffment in Fee to the uſe of himſelf and his wife that ſhall be, and afterwards he taketh a wife, his wife ſhall take joyntly with him, notwithſtanding all at the firſt veſts in the husband. Cook 1. Part, 101. in Sowleys Caſe.

14. After the Statute of 27 H. 8. A man made a Feoffment to the uſe of A. his wife; and if ſhe dyed living the husband, to the uſe of the husband and ſuch wife as he ſhould after marry for life for her Joynture. The Queſtion in this caſe was, If the Feoffor who reſerved the uſe to him and his ſecond wife which ſhould be, after the death of the firſt wife, ſhall have the Freehold veſted in him onely; and afterwards, when he takes a ſecond wife, If ſhe ſhall take joyntly with her husband in poſſeſſion, and the other Eſtate ſhall be drowned in the husband; Or that ſhe ſhall take by way of Remainder after the death of her husband, by the words, ſcil. to the intent that ſhe ſhall have it for life for her Joynture, or not. It was the Opinion of the Lord Dyer, That ſhe ſhould take neither the one way nor the other, becauſe ſhe was not capable, nor in eſſe at the time when the remainder fell to the husband; and then ſhe ſhall never have it after, no more then if it were a Remainder of Land in poſſeſſion fallen; which had been agreed on all ſides, that ſhe ſhould take nothing: But the Remainder being in uſe, all the other Juſtices conceived, That that changed the Law, by the Statute: but the Lord Dyer held, That it was all one after the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes. And it was holden in this caſe by Dyer, That the Remainder to a woman for life after the death of the husband, could not be termed nor taken to be a Joynture, with the Statutes of 11 H. 7. & 27 H. 8. Cap. 10. Hill 17 Eliz. Dyer 340.

15. If a Reverſion be granted to J. S. and to Jane G. and afterwards they entermarry, and the Tenant attorneth, they ſhall not now take by moyeties according to the purport of the Grant; but they ſhall now take by entierties, it being the Act of the Grantees themſelves. Cook 2. Part, 68. in Tookers Caſe.

16. Husband and wife are Joynt-Tenants for life, the remainder to the Husband in tail, the remainder to another in Fee, the husband ſuffers a Common Recovery: It is no barr to the iſſue in tail for any part, becauſe there are no moyeties betwixt Husband and Wife, and there when the husband ſuffers the Recovery alone, there is no lawful Tenant to the Precipe, and ſo the Recovery is no barr. Cook 3. Part, 5. in the Marqueſs of Wincheſter's Caſe.

17. If a Feoffment in Fee were made before the Statute of 27 H. 8. of Uſes, to the uſe of a man and a woman, and their Heirs, and they entermarry, and then the Statute were made: In this caſe they hold by moyeties; for if the husband alien, it is good for a moyety, becauſe the Statute executes the poſſeſſion according to ſuch quality, manner, form, and condition, as they had in the uſe; ſo as, though it veſt during the Coverture, yet the Act of Parliament executes ſeveral moyeties in them, ſeeing they had ſeveral moyeties in the uſe. Plo. Com. 58. in Talbois and Wimbiſhes Caſe. But if a Reverſion be granted to Husband and Wife, and before Attornment they entermarry, and then attornment is good, they ſhall not have any moyeties, no more than, where a Feoffment in Fee is made to a man and a woman, with a Letter of Attorney to make Livery, they entermarry, and then Livery is made ſecundum formam Chartæ, they ſhall have no Moyeties. Plo. Com. 483. in Nicholls Caſe.

18. If Husband and Wife were ſeiſed joyntly to them and their Heirs of an Eſtate of Inheritance in Lands made during the Coverture; and in ſuch Caſe, the Husband alone, or he together with his Wife, had made a Feoffment in Fee to a ſtranger, and the husband had dyed; in that caſe, the wife after the death of her husband by the Common-Law, might have had a Writ of Cui in vita, and recovered the whole Land, becauſe the Husband and Wife took by entierties; and in ſuch caſe, If the wife had dyed, her Heir might have had a Writ Sur Cui in vita; and now ſince the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 28. ſhe or her heir may enter after ſuch a diſcontinuance, without being put to their Actions. Cook 1. part, Inſtitutes, 326.

19. The Husband and Wife made a Feoffment to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife for life, the remainder over, the husband ſowed the Land, and dyed: In that caſe it was agreed, That the Wife ſhould have the Corn, and not the Executors of the husband, becauſe the wife was ſeiſed joyntly with her husband: and therewith agree the Old Books, 8 Aſſ. 21. 7 Aſſ. 18. 46 Aſſ. 2. But contrary, if the remainder had been limited to the wife, 15 Eliz. Dyer 316. See 44 Eliz. Cook 5. Part, 116. Olands Caſe adjudged; and ſo was it likewiſe adjudged, Mich. 5 Jac. Shele and Arnolds Caſe, acc. and in ſuch caſe, If the Husband ſoweth the Land, and dyeth; and a third part of the Land be aſſigned to the wife in Dower, ſhe ſhall have the Corn, becauſe ſhe ſhall be endowed of the laſt poſſeſſion of her husband. See Plow. Cogitat. 45. in that caſe, If Dower be aſſigned to her by the Sheriff, in ſuch caſe ſhe ſhall not have the Corn. Quære. 15 Eliz. Dyer. 316.

20. Upon an Evidence to a Jury in an Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was; A. 41 Eliz. purchaſed Lands to him and his wife, and their heirs. Afterwards 16 Jac. A. without his wife let the Lands to J. S. for 60 years, if they lived ſo long, rendring Rent; A. dyed; The Queſtion was, Whether by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 28. this Leaſe ſhould bind the wife: And upon Conſideration of the Statute, It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Leaſe ſhould bind the wife. The body of the Act is, That all Leaſes made of Land which the Husband is ſeiſed of in the right of his Wife, of Inheritance, or joyntly with his wife by purchaſe during the Coverture or before, ſhall be good and Effectuall; and that the Wife ſhall have ſuch remedy for the Rent, as he that made the Leaſe. The doubt reſted upon the Proviſo, which is, That ſuch Leaſe ſhall be made of ſuch Land whereof the Inheritance is in the wife, by Indenture in his and the Wifes name, and that ſhe ſhall ſeal; and that the Reverſion ſhall be to him and his wife, and to the heirs of the wife, during the Coverture. But it was holden, That cleerly by the body of the Act it was a good Leaſe, and not within the Proviſo, becauſe it is not the ſole Inheritance of the wife, and the Proviſo extends onely thereunto: and ſo it is out of the Intent of the Proviſo. The Caſe was not adjudged, but ended by Arbitrament. Mic. 1 Car. in C. B. Smith and Trinders Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 15, 16.

21. Land is given to the Husband and Wife, and to the heirs of their two bodies begotten; the husband maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and dyeth, having iſſue; and after the wife, before any entry made by her, dyeth. In this Caſe, theſe points were Reſolved; 1. That at the Common-Law, this Feoffment was a diſcontinuance to the Iſſue, for the iſſue ought to claim as heir of their two bodies immediately, and as heir to one onely he cannot be inherit, and ſo by conſequence he cannot enter. 2. That although the husband and wife have iſſue, and a joynt, and undivided eſtate, that this Joynt Eſtate was within the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 28. for ſhe had a Freehold and Inheritance in the Land, although ſhe had not the ſole Inheritance or Freehold. 3. That by the ſaid ſaid Statute, the Entry of the iſſue in tail was lawfull. 4. Reſolved, That if the Husband be Tenant in tail, the remainder to the wife wife in tail, If the Husband maketh a Feoffment in Fee, and dyeth without iſſue, that the wife may enter; but if the Husband ſuffereth a Recovery, and dyeth without iſſue, the wife is barred, and cannot enter by the Statute of 32 H. 8. 5. Reſolved, That if the Husband hath iſſue and alieneth, and the Wife dyeth, the iſſue cannot enter during the life of the Husband: But if the Husband alieneth, and afterwards the Wife is divorced cauſa præcontractûs, or for any other cauſe which diſſolves the Marriage à vinculo Matrimonii, there, by the Statute, the Wife may enter during the life of the Husband. Paſch. 7 Jac. Cook 8. Part, Greenlyes Caſe.

2. Where the Land of the Wife ſhall be charged with a Rent granted by the Husband, or with the debts of the Husband; where not. And where a Grant, Leaſe, Statute &c. acknowledged by them during the Coverture, ſhall bind the Wife after the death of the Husband; Where not.

1. NOte, in a Writ of Errour, for the reverſing of a Fine levied by the Husband and Wife, it was adjudged, That the Fine being reverſed for the Nonage of the Wife, the Husband and Wife ſhould have preſent reſtitution, becauſe when the Husband and Wife joyn in a Fine, yet all the Eſtate paſſeth from the Wife, and the Huſband joyneth of neceſſity and for Conformity; and the Law doth permit, that the whole Eſtate be reſtored to the Wife during the life of the Huſband. Mich. 31 Eliz. in C. B. Worſley and Charnicks Caſe. Cook. 3. Part. 77. in the Lord Cromwell's Caſe. And Hill. 33 Eliz. in C. B. In an Ejectione Firmæ for Lands bought in the County of Cornwall, It was adjudged, That where the Husband is ſeiſed of Land in the Right of his wife, and the Husband made a Leaſe of it for 21 years, and afterwards he and his wife levies a Fine ſur Conuſans de Droit, &c. to J. S. and his heirs, the husband dyed, that the Leaſe was ſevered by his death, and the Conuſee ſhould avoid it. And it was there ſaid, That it was adjudged in the Common-Pleas, where a Recovery is had againſt the Husband and Wife, of the Lands of the Husband whereof he is ſeiſed in tail, with a voucher over, the intent and purpoſe of joyning of the Wife, might be ſhewed, ſcil. to barr her of her Dower; and yet the recompence ſhall go to the iſſue in tail. Hill. 33 Eliz. in B. R. Harvey and Thomas's Caſe. Cook. 2. Part, 77. Lord Cromwell's Caſe. See Cook 1. Part, 76. Archers Caſe. acc.

2. If a man be endebted to the King, and takes a Leaſe to him and his Wife for years; and before Execution, the husband dyed: Execution in that Caſe was ſued againſt the wife; for it was the act of the husband, and he had power of the Term at the time of his death; and in that caſe the wife came to the Leaſe without valuable Conſideration. But if an Accomptant of the King be arrear in his Accompts, and he and his Wife be poſſeſſed of a Term for divers years, and the husband for valuable Conſideration, bargains and ſells the ſame to a ſtranger, If ſuch a ſale be made without Coyn, It ſhall bind the King, as alſo the wife. And in that Caſe it was holden, That a ſale of a Term, or of goods bona fide after Judgment, and before Execution, ſhall be good, and bind both the wife, as alſo the King: And it was holden in the principal Caſe, That an Accomptant ſhall not be in worſe condition then a Felon; who before Execution, may ſell his Goods and Chattels bona fide. Paſch. 8 Jac. Cook 8. Part, Sir Gerrard Fleetwood's Caſe. 171,

3. The Cuſtome of a Mannor was, That the Lord and Surveyor, or his Deputy, might demiſe by Copy; The Lord granted authority to two, to make Cuſtomary Eſtates for payment of their debts, and dyed; They held Court in their own names, and granted Coppies in reverſion according to the Cuſtome: The Wife of the Lord had one of the Copyholds aſſigned by the Sheriff, upon Recovery of the third part of the Mannor in Dower. It was holden, That ſhe ſhould avoid the Grant made by the two Aſſignees. Paſch. 8 Eliz. Dyer. 251. But Quære of that Caſe; for that, Paſch. 26 Eliz. In the Kings-Bench, It was adjudged, That where the Lord of a Mannor, wherein were many Copyholds for lives, took a wife, and afterwards a Copyholder dyed, and the Lord after Marriage did grant the Land again, according to the Cuſtome of the Mannor, for lives, and dyed; That the Wife ſhould not avoid ſuch Grants in a Writ of Dower: For although the Grant were after the title of Dower; yet the Cuſtome, which is the life and force of the Grant, was long before. Paſch. 26 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 4. Part, 31.

4. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was; Within the Mannor of D. there were divers Cuſtomary Lands, which by Cuſtome of the Mannor, time out of mind had been granted by Coppy of Court-Roll of the ſame Mannor, for one, two, or three lives;

J. S.

J. S. and his wife, as in the right of his ſaid wife, were ſeiſed of the ſaid Mannor, and at a Court of the ſaid Mannor granted the place where, &c. being parcel of the Cuſtomary Tenement to J. D. and B. his Wife, durante viduitate ſua. It was a Queſtion, Whether this was a good Grant within the Cuſtome? It was adjudged, That this Grant was good, and within the Cuſtome; for every Grant durante viduitate, was a Grant for life; but every Grant for life was not a Grant durante viduitate: And it was holden, That ſuch Grant after the death of the Husband ſhould bind the wife. Paſch. 36 Eliz. in B. R. Downe and Hopkins Caſe. Cook 4. Part, 30. See Cook. 8. Part, 63. Swaynes Caſe, acc.

5. A man ſeiſed of Lands in Fee holden in Socage, having iſſue 3. Daughters, deviſed the ſame to his youngeſt Daughter, when ſhe ſhould accompliſh the age of 18 years, and to the heirs of her body; the remainder to the eldeſt Daughter in tail, with divers remainders over: Proviſo, That if his ſaid daughter, or any other perſon before named, ſhould wittingly, willingly, or adviſedly conclude and agree to and for the doing and execution of any act or thing, whereby the premiſſes ſo entailed to them, ſhall or may be diſcontinued, or alienes; Or ſhall do any act or thing whereby the Remainder, Lands, &c. ſhall not diſcend or come to them, That then and immediately from and after ſuch concluding and agreeing, the Eſtates limited to them ſhould ceaſe and be void, as if ſuch perſon ſo concluding and agreeing, were naturally dead without iſſue of their body: The youngeſt daughter took a husband; The husband and wife concluded and agreed to ſuffer a Common Recovery to the uſe of them and their heirs; which was done accordingly; the eldeſt Daughter entred, the husband and wife did re-enter, and did treſpaſs upon the Land, and the other daughter brought Treſpaſs: In this caſe, amongſt other points, it was Reſolved, That the Concluſion and Agreement to ſuffer a Common Recovery, could not be reſtrained by any Condition or Limitation; becauſe they were incidents, ſcilicet annexed to their Eſtates, and therefore it ſhould be repugnant to the guift, to reſtrein them by any Condition or Limitation. 2. Admit, that the Condition might reſtrain them to ſuffer a Recovery; yet it was holden, That the Recovery ſuffered in this caſe by the wife, being a Feme Covert, was not any forfeiture of her Eſtate, becauſe that the Concluſion by the Indenture was as the party pretended, a forfeiture of her Eſtate, and then the Recovery was not of any effect, becauſe her Eſtate was determined before by the Concluſion before the Recovery; and againſt the Indenture, the wife might plead, That it was not her Deed. And it was holden, and given for a Rule in this Caſe, That no Feme Covert ſhould be barred by her Concluſion of her Inheritance; but when ſhe is examined in due courſe of Law: and a Feme Covert cannot be examined without a Writ. Alſo it was holden in this Caſe, That if Husband and Wife acknowledg a Statute, that it is void as to the wife, although ſhe over-liveth her husband; and ſo it is if they acknowledg a Deed Inrolled; and the reaſon is, becauſe no Writ is dependant againſt them, upon which the Wife may be examined. But it was holden, That if a Feme Covert do levy a Fine alone, the ſame ſhall bind her and her heirs, if the husband doth not enter and avoid the Eſtate of the Conuſee, becauſe in that caſe ſhe was examined, and alſo had power of the Land. 3. Where the Husband and Wife ought to bring their Actions joyntly, Where not; Where they ſhall be joyntly ſued, Where ſeverally, and where the Husband may Anſwer without the Wife, where not?

1. IN an Action upon the Caſe, brought by Husband and Wife, they declared, That A. was ſeiſed in Fee of a Meſſuage, and 100 Acres of Land, and Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife for their Lives, for the Joynture of the Wife, and after to his Son and heir, excepting the Timber Trees, ſaving that his Wife ſhall have and take the Shrowds and Loppings of them; A. dyed, the Wife ſurvived and married with the now Plaintiff. The ſon and Heir of A. cut down five Oaks growing upon the Lands, whereupon the Plaintiffs loſt the benefit which they might have had of the Shrowds and Loppings. Upon not guilty pleaded, it being found for the Plaintiffs; amongſt other exceptions, it was moved for ſtay of Judgment, becauſe the Action was brought by the Husband and Wife, where the Husband alone ſhould have brought the Action, for he alone might have releaſed the damages, and the wrong is done to his poſſeſſion; But it was Reſolved by the Court, That the Action was well brought, for he having the Land in the right of his Wife, he may well joyn her with him in ſuing for the damages; and ſhe ſhall have the damages, and the Action alſo, if ſhe ſurvive her Husband. Hill. 11 Car. in B. 2. A. and his Wife by deed Indented, deviſed a houſe and certain Lands, whereof he was ſeiſed in the Right of his Wife to S. for 21 years: S. Covenanted by the ſame Deed, for lives, his Executors and Adminiſtrators, with the Plaintiffs, that he, his Executors, Adminiſtrators or Aſſigns would build a Brickwall upon part of the Land demiſed, S. Aſſigned over his Term to J. and J. to the Defendant. And for not making the Brickwall, the Husband and Wife brought an Action of Covenant, againſt the Aſſignee of the Leſſee; and adjudged, that the Action was well brought by them both. Paſc. 25 Eliz. in B. 3. In an Information againſt Husband and Wife, for Intruſion into certain houſes; The Caſe was, A man ſeiſed of certain houſes holden in Socage, Deviſed them by his Will to his Wife (being an Allien born). The King by his Letters Patents under the Great Seal, made the Wife a Denizen, the Deviſor dyed, the Wife married another Husband; and the Letters Patents being corrupted in the Teſte, the Husband and his Wife got an exemplification of the enrollment of the Letters Patents under the great Seal, which was with the true Teſte, and afterwards an Office was found by force of a Commiſſion, under the Exchequer Seal, by which it was found, That the Wife was an Allien born; It was Reſolved in this Caſe, That the Office found by Commiſſion under the Exchequer Seal, was not good to entitle the King to the Lands of an Allien. 2. Reſolved That the Exemplification of the Letters Patents of Enrollment, of the Letters Patents of Denization, were well pleadable by the Husband and Wife by the Statute of 13 Eliz. chap. 6. Note in that Caſe, the Information was, againſt the Husband and Wife; and the Husband and Wife both joyn in the pleading of the Letters Patents of Denization, granted to the Wife. Mich. 30 Eliz. in Exchequer, Cook 5. part. 52. Pages Caſe.

4. In an Action of Covenant, the Caſe was; A man by deed enfeoffed J. S. and Covenanted for him and his heirs, with the Feoffee his heirs, and Aſſignes, to make further aſſurance upon requeſt; J. S. conveyed the Land to the Plaintiff and his Wife, and to the heirs of the Husband, and the Husband brought the Action alone without naming his Wife, againſt the Defendant; becauſe the Defendant did not levy a Fine upon the Plaintiffs requeſt, his Wife being then alive; It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Action was not well brought, for he ought to have joyned his Wife in the Action: wherefore Judgment was given, quod Querens nihil Capiat per billam. Trin. 14 Car. in B. R. Middlemore and Goodales Caſe, Cro. 1. part 361. 363.

5. An Action upon the Caſe in the nature of a conſpiracy was brought by Husband and Wife, for cauſing them to be Indicted of Felony falſly, and maliciouſly; and counted ad damnum ipſorum; Upon not guilty it was found for the Plaintiffs, and Judgment given. Whereupon Error was brought, and the Error Aſſigned was, becauſe it was ad damnum ipſorum; whereas the Wife cannot joyn with her Husband for damages, for it is a ſeverall damage to either of them; and a Woman may not joyn for a wrong done to her Husband, and of that Opinion was Barkley, Juſtice; But Croke, Juſtice, held the contrary, becauſe the Action is grounded upon one intire Record, by which they were both prejudiced; and they may joyn, if they will: Or the Husband onely may have the Action for it. It was adjourned for difference in Opinion. Mich. 14 Car. in B. R. rott. 415. Balby and Dorihalls Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 398.

6. In Aſſumpſit brought by Husband and Wife during Coverture, The Conſideration was, That if the Wife ſhould cure ſuch a wound, the Defendant did promiſe to pay unto her 10 l. and alledged in facto, that ſhe had cured the wound, and that the Defendant had not paid the money, to the damage of the Husband and Wife: and being found for the Plaintiffs, and Judgment given, Errour was brought; and it was aſſigned for Errour, That the Husband alone ſhould have had the Action; for being a promiſe during the Coverture, the non-performance of it was onely to the damage of the Husband, and not to the Wife. But becauſe, the cauſe and act is ariſing onely from the Labour and Skill of the Wife, therefore the Court held, That the Action was well brought; and the Judgment was affirmed. Hill. 15 Jac. in B. R. Braſhford and Buckingham's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 205.

7. The Queen by Letters Patents let an houſe to J. S. wherein were theſe words; And the Leſſee and his Executors and Aſſigns reparabant domum predict. and ſhall leave the houſe ſo repaired. The Queen granted the Reverſion to the Plaintiff, who for not repairing the houſe, brought an Action ſole againſt the Defendant Executor of the Leſſee; and upon the Declaration, the Defendant did demurr, Becauſe the Action was brought by the Husband alone; whereas by his own ſhewing, the wife had an Eſtate as well as the husband. And, 2. Becauſe the words of Covenant, are not the words of the Leſſee. But it was Reſolved by the whole Court, That the Action being perſonal, and damages onely to be recovered, the husband alone might have the Action, or joyn the wife with him in it, if he pleaſed. 2. They held, That the words in the Queens Patent did amount to a Covenant on the part of the Leſſee, and he accepting the Leaſe, Leaſe, is bound by the Covenant. Trin. 13 Jac. in B. R. Sir John Brett and Cumberland's Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 399. See Boſſtr. 3. Part, 163. the ſame Caſe.

8. Treſpaſſe was brought by Husband and Wife for breaking the Cloſe of the Husband, ad damnum eorum. After Verdict, It was moved, That the Declaration was not good; and ſo it was Reſolved by the whole Court, and that it was not helped by any Statute. Paſch. 16 Jac. in B. R. Marſhall and Doyles Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 473.

9. Treſpaſſe of Aſſault and Battery, for that the Defendant did aſſault, beat, and wound the Plaintiff; nec non, for that he aſſaulted, and beat the Plaintiffs Wife, per quod, conſortium uxoris ſuæ amiſit for three dayes: upon not guilty, It was found againſt the Defendant in both, and damages given, for that, the Plaintiffs Wife went with him, and lived in a ſuſpitious manner; It was moved in ſtay of Judgment, That the Husband ought not to joyn the battery of his Wife, with the battery done to himſelf; and he cannot have an Action for battery of his Wife, without joyning his Wife in the Action, for that the Wife ought to have the damages if ſhe ſurvive her Husband; and this Recovery of the Husband, ſhall not bar her, if ſhe ſurvive her Husband: But the Court held, That the Action was well brought, for it is not brought in reſpect of the harm done to the Wife, but for the Husbands particular loſſe, that he loſt the company of his Wife, which is onely a damage to himſelf;—And ſo it was adjudged. 23 Eliz. in this Court, in Chamley's Caſe, where the Husband brought an Action of Battery, for the Battery of his Wife per quod negotia ſua cui facta remanſerunt, and the Husband had Judgment to recover. Mich. 16. Jac. in B. R. Guy and Liveſes Caſe. Cro. 2. part 501.

10. Treſpaſs; for that the Defendant made aſſault upon the Plaintiff's Wife, et illam verberavit, &c. nec non the ſaid wife, ſimul cum one gown, one Petticoat, of the goods of the Plaintiff, ſimul cum his ſaid wife, apud D. cepit abduxit, et abcariavit, nec non, his ſaid wife per 5. annos, from the ſame Plaintiff detinuit, et Cuſtodivit, per quod ſolamen et Conſortium, nec non conſilium et auxilium in rebus domeſticis quæ idem the Plaintiff habere debuiſſet, &c. Upon Not-guilty, it was found againſt the Defendant, and Damages given 300 l; and upon Errour brought in the Exchequer-Chamber, It was aſſigned for Errour, Becauſe the Action was brought by the husband onely for the battery of his wife; for the wrong and damages are properly done to the wife, and therefore the husband alone without the wife cannot maintain the Action. It was ſaid by the Court, It is true, if the Action had been brought for the onely battery of the wife, that the wife ought to joyn in the action: but the Action is not here brought for the battery of his wife, but for the loſſe and wrong of the husband, for loſſe and want of his company and aid; and all is included in the per quod, which extends to all which was before. The ſecond Errour was, Becauſe it is Cepit, et abduxit, where it ought to have been rapuit. But to that, the Court ſaid, That it might be both wayes. The Judgment was affirmed. Paſch. 17 Jac. in B. R. rott. 157. Hide and Sciſſors Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 538. See Hill. 21 Jac. in B.R. Buckley and Hales Caſe. Cro. 2. Part, 655. acc.

11. Action of Trover and Converſion was brought of goods againſt husband and wife, ad uſum ipſorum; They pleaded, Not-guilty; and both were found guilty, and Damages aſſeſſed, It was moved in Arreſt of Judgment, That the Action lyes not againſt them joyntly, for the Converſion to their uſes during the Coverture; for when they joyn, it is the act of the husband onely, and the wife cannot convert to her own uſe: But Trover well lyes for Converſion by themſelves before Coverture, or by the wife only during the Coverture, for ſhe may do accordingly, and the husband ſhall be ſued with her; but not where ſhe joyns with the husband. Wherefore it was adjudged for the Defendant. Paſch. 8 Car. in B. R. Rbemes and Humphreys Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 184. See Trin. 13 Car. Perry and Diggs Caſe. Cro. 1. Part, 355.

12. Husband and wife brought an Action upon the Caſe againſt J. S. reciting, That the Biſhop of S. was ſeiſed in the right of his Biſhoprick of 4. Mills in the City of S. and that there is a Cuſtome there, That all Inhabitants reſident within the City, of any ancient houſe holden of the Biſhop, had uſed to grind all their grain ſpent in the ſaid Meſſuages or ſold, at the ſaid Mills, and not elſewhere; and then they ſhew, That the Mills were conveyed to them the Plaintiffs by demiſe; and that the Defendant dwelling in an ancient Meſſuage, 1. Decem. 2 Jac. et diverſis diebus et vicibus inter eandem diem, et 4. diem Aprilis Anno 2 Jac. ſpent and ſold divers parcels of Corn, which they did not grind at the aforeſaid Mills, ad damnum, &c. And upon Iſſue of Not-guilty, It was found for the Plaintiff: and notwithſtanding, Judgment was given againſt the Plaintiffs, 1. Becauſe the Cuſtome in it ſelf was unreaſonable: for the reaſon of which, ſee the Book at large. And, 2. Becauſe the Action was brought by the husband and wife both; being onely to recover damages, and not for the Tenn. Trin. 14 Jac. in B. R. rott. 2263. Harkin and Greenes Caſe, Hob. 189.

13. A. brought an Action of Debt againſt B. and his wife for 3 l. 13 s. and declared for 39 s. upon a Contract of the wives, dum ſola fuit, and the

the other 39 s. upon an Insimul computaverunt with B. the husband onely: and after Issue, Nihil debet found for the Plaintiff. And after, Judgment was arrested, because being severall Contracts made by them, they cannot be joyned in one Action. Hill. 14 Jac. in C. B. Revell and Greys Case. Hob. 184.

14. Errour was brought to reverse a Judgment given in an Inferiour Court at Norwich, in an Action upon the Case for a Trover and Conversion of certain goods; The goods layed to be in the hands and possession of Mary the wife; and a request layed to be made, and that the husband and wife refused to deliver them; and afterwards Mary the wife did convert them to her use: And upon Not-guilty pleaded, a Verdict and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. And upon this Judgment, a Writ of Errour was brought, because the Entry was, That the wife alone be in misericordia; where it ought to have been, That the husband and wife be both in misericordia; for here both of them were required to deliver the goods; and afterwards the wife converted them: and because the Entry was not accordingly, that the husband and wife be both in misericordia, the Judgment was reversed. Mich. 13 Jac. in B. R. Wood and Sucklifs Case. Bolstr. 3. Part, 150, 151.

15. Assumpsit against a woman administratrix of her husband; The Plaintiff declared, That her husband had bought of him Gold, Silver, Pearl, and was endebted for them 200 l. and that she likewise after his death bought of him Peal for 27 l. and upon Accompt she was found indebted both those sums to him, and promised to pay them. Judgment was for the Plaintiff. Whereupon Errour was brought, and assigned for Errour, That the Defendant was to be charged by two severall Actions, because she was charged in two manners one in her own right, the other as Administratrix. And of that Opinion was the whole Court; and therefore the Judgment was reversed. Hill. 12 Jac. rott. 912. in C. B. Ferenden and Palmers Case. Hob. 88.

16. Action upon the Case by husband and wife upon Assumpsit; the Plaintiffs declared, That in Consideration that the Plaintiff would marry A. the now Plaintiff's wife, the Defendant did promise to make good unto him a Legacy given unto her by her Fathers Will; and would also give her 40 l. more out of his own part, given him by the said Will, at her age of 18 years; and that he did marry her, &c. and so concludes to his damage, &c. Upon Non-Assumpsit, and a Verdict for the Plaintiff; It was moved, That the wife did here joyn in the Action with her husband; which she ought not to do, because the promise was made to her husband and his benefit; and the sole Consideration for the promise, doth arise from the husband; namely, his marriage of the woman. And it was holden by the Court, That the same was a good cause to stay the Judgment. And this Case was put by Rolls, Chief Justice, A promise was made by one to a Feme Covert, That if he will procure her husband to levy a Fine of such Lands, that he would give her a Riding-Suit. And it was adjudged, That the husband and wife cannot joyn in an Action for breach of this promise. Mich. 1651. in B. R. Cotterell and Theobalds Case. Styles 297.

17. Trover and Conversion was brought against husband and wife, of two Garbes, Anglicè Sheaves of Corn. It was holden by the Court, That the Conversion of two Garbes of Corn, was void for the incertainty. 2. It was layd in the Declaration, That they did Convert the Sheaves ad usum ipsorum; and that was also ruled by the Court, Not to be good, because the wife hath no property during the life of the husband: and the Court said, That that point had been often so adjudged: But yet the Court said, That they would look upon Presidents: For that Jones, Justice, said, That there might be a Conversion by the wife to her use; as in this case, to bake the Corn into bread, and to eat it her self. Mich. 15 Car. in B. R. Hodges and Simpson's Case. Marsh. 60.

18. In Debt against husband and wife; the husband was Outlawed, and the wife came in upon process, and brought the Queens pardon with her of her wavery. It was the Opinion of the Court, That she should be discharged of the Imprisonment of her body; but the Pardon was not allowed, because without her husband, she could not sue a Scire facias against the Plaintiff, to make him to declare upon the Original without her husband: Also the Pardon had a Condition, scil. ita quod ipsa starnet recta in Curia; which she could not do without her husband. Hill. 10 Eliz. Dyer 271.

19. Upon a Prohibition, the Case was; A woman unmarried being Proprietor of a Parsonage, took a husband; a Parishioner within the Parish set forth his Tythes, and immediately took them back; and according to the Statute of 2 E. 6. the husband alone sued the Parishioner for the treble value: Two Points were in the Case; 1. If this were a setting forth within the Statute? It was the Opinion of the Court, That it was not: and so, it was said, it had been adjudged, 45 Eliz. The second Point was, Whether the husband might sue alone for the treble value, without naming the wife? for although the husband may sue alone for a thing which is personal, as the Books of 4 E. 4. 31. and 15 E. 4, 5. & 11. are: Yet where the Statute saith, That the Proprietor shall have Suit for the not ſetting forth; The Court inclined to be of Opinion, That the husband is not intended Proprietor within the Statute, but the wife; and for that cauſe the wife ought to joyn with the husband in the Suit. Mich. 8 Jac. in C. B. Ford and Pomroys Caſe. Bownlow 2. Part 9.

20. A Feme ſole having the Cuſtody of the Land, and of the body of an Enfant, took a husband, and ſhe and her husband did tender a Convenient marriage to the Enfant, which he refuſed, and at his full age married elſewhere, and at his full age entred into the Land; and, If they ſhould both joyn in a Writ of Forfeiture of Marriage, or that the husband ſhould have it alone, was the Queſtion? It was ſaid, That the Wardſhip of a Ward and Land, is a thing reall, and the Survivour ſhall have it, and not the Executors of the husband: And if an Action be accrued before marriage, as if a Bond be made to the wife before marriage, ſhe ſhall joyn with her husband in the Action upon the Bond: But if a right of Action do accrue after the marriage, there ſhe ſhall joyn. See 43 E. 1. Statham. The husband alone brought a Raviſhment of Ward, for a Ward which he had in the right of his wife, and the Writ was good. In the principal caſe it was Reſolved, That the ſureſt way is to have both of them joyn in the Writ. Paſch. 5 Ma. in B. R. Owen 82, 83.

4. What Goods or Chattels the Wife ſhall have again by the death of her husband; what not. And what Goods and Chattels of the Wife the Huſband ſhall have after her death: And who ſhall have the goods upon a Divorce.

1. A Leaſe for years was made by Indenture, and the Leſſee Covenanted and granted, That if he, his Executors or Aſſigns did alien, that it ſhould be lawful for the Leſſor to enter; afterwards the Leſſee made his wife his Executrix, and dyed; the woman took another Husband, and he aliened: It was the Opinion of Brown and Shelley, Juſtices, That by the marriage the Term veſted in the Husband in manner as a guift of the Wife; and by reaſon of the Marriage, he had the Term, as in the right of his Wife, becauſe the wife ſhould have it again, if the Husband did not alien it, it being a Chattel real; but of Chattels meer perſonal, they are onely in the husband by the Intermarriage. Paſch. 28 H. 8. Dyer. 3.

2. Husband and Wife being poſſeſſed of a Term in the right of his wife, as Executrix of her former husband (a ſtranger pretending right to the ſaid Term) the Husband and Wife ſubmitted themſelves to an Arbitrament: The Arbitrator awarded one part to the pretender, and the other part to the husband and wife; the husband dyed; and the Queſtion was, Whether the Wife ſhould be bound by this Award: The Court delivered no Opinion to the matter in Law; but inclined, That the Wife was bound by it. But Detinue being brought by the Wife for the Indenture of Leaſe, becauſe the Defendant pleaded, Non Detinet per Patriam; where he ſhould have pleaded the ſpeciall matter: It was adjudged againſt the Defendant. Paſch. 2 Eliz. Dyer 183.

3. In an Ejectione Firme, the Caſe was; A. was poſſeſſed of a Leaſe of Lands for 31 years, of the Demiſe of the Dean and Chapter of Weſtmin. and married B. and then he and his Wife mortgaged their intereſt to one C. for the payment of 20 l; before the day of payment A. dyed. B. the Husband paid the money at the day, and entred, and made E. his Wife his Executrix, who entred; J. S. took Letters of Adminiſtration of the goods of A. the Wife of B. and entred upon the Leſſee; upon whom E. entred, and made the Leaſe to the Plaintiff. And in this Caſe it was adjudged for the Plaintiff: and the reaſon of the Judgment was, That although the Leaſe was at firſt the Wifes, and that the husband was poſſeſſed in her right, ſo as although he had purchaſed the Fee-ſimple, the Leaſe had not been extinct; yet by the Intermarriage he hath full power to alien it; and if he ſurvive his Wife, he is to enjoy it againſt her Executors and Adminiſtrators: ſo in the Caſe when he ſurvives, the Condition ſurvives to him, and reſtores him to the Leaſe in ſtatu as it ſhould have been if it had not been aliened. Paſch. 11 Jac. in C. B. rott. 1515. Young and Radford's Caſe. Hob. 3.

4. In an Ejectione Firme, the Caſe was this; A man poſſeſſed of a Term in the right of his wife, made a Leaſe for years of the ſame Land, to begin after his death who was the Leſſor; and afterwards he dyed, and his wife ſurvived him; The Queſtion was, Whether the Wife ſhall have the Land after the death of the Husband, or the Leſſee? It was agreed in this Caſe, That the Leſſee ſhould have it during his Term; for, as the Husband during his life, might Contract for the Land for the whole Term which his Wife had in it; ſo might he do for any part of the Term at his pleaſure: for if he may deviſe the Land for 21 years, to begin preſently, he may make it to begin at any time after his death, if the Term of the Wife be not expired; but for the remainder of the Term, if the Husband made no diſpoſition of it, the wife ſhould have it. Mich. 35 Eliz. in B. R. Popham 5.

5. In an Action of Debt for Rent, the Caſe was this; A man poſſeſſed of a Term for 20 years in the right of his wife, made a Leaſe for 10 years, rendring Rent to him, his Executors and Aſſignees, and dyed; The Queſtion was, Whether the Executors or the Wife ſhould have the Rent? Crooke and Haughton, Juſtices, held, That the Rent was gone. Mountague, contrary. But it was agreed by them all, That the Executors of the Husband ſhould not have it. It was alſo agreed, That if Leſſee for 20 years makes a Leaſe for 10. years, and then ſurrenders his Term, that the Rent is gone. And it was holden in the principal Caſe, If the Husband after the Leaſe made, had granted over the Reverſion; his Grantee ſhould not have the Rent. Mountague ſaid, That in the principal caſe, the Wife in Chancery might be relieved for the Rent. Trin. 16 Jac. in B.R. Blaxton and Hexly's Caſe. Godbolt. 299.

6. Lands were deviſed to the Husband and Wife for their lives, the remainder to the Survivor of them for years; The Husband granted over this Term of years, and dyed; and the Queſtion was, Whether the Wife ſhould have the Term of years, or the Grantee? And it was adjudged, That the Wife ſhould have it: and the reaſon was, becauſe there was nothing in the one or the other to grant, untill there was a Survivour; and the ſame Law had been, if the wife had dyed after the grant, and the Husband had ſurvived; yet he ſhall have the Term againſt his own grant. 20 Eliz. adjudged accord. See Popham 5. acc.

7. Husband and Wife were Leſſees of a Houſe in Fleetſtreet, called the Three Coneys; the Huſband made a Leaſe of it for part of the years, by theſe words, The Houſe and Tenements in Fleetſtreet, called the Three Coneys, with all the Chambers, Sellers, Shops, Excepting and reſerving to J. S. the Husband, the Shops for his proper and only uſe and occupation: and within the Term the Husband dyed; his Wife ſurvived him, and entred into the Shops. In this caſe it was adjudged, That the Entry of the Wife was lawfull; for the Exception of the Shops was void, and but temporary at the moſt; ſcil. during the time they were in the occupation of the Husband himſelf; and then by the death of the husband, the Houſe and Shops for and during the remainder of the Term, did remain to the Wife, not being diſpoſed of by the Husband in his life-time. Trin. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 264.

8. Note theſe Rules, concerning what things the Husband ſhall have by the Intermarriage with his Wife, and what not: 1. If the Wife hath a Term for years, or other Chattell-reall, and taketh a husband, he is poſſeſſed of the ſame in the right of his Wife, and may diſpoſe of it by Grant or Deviſe, or may forfeit it by Attainder or Outlawry: and ſuch a Term may be extended for the Debt of the Husband; but the Husband cannot diſpoſe of it by his Will. 2. If the Husband chargeth the Chattell-reall of the Wife, the ſame ſhall not bind the wife, if ſhe out-live her Husband. 3. If the Wife hath a Right of Action to, or for, a Chattel-reall, and ſhe taketh a Husband, and dyeth, the Husband ſhall not have the ſame by the Intermarriage, but the Executors or Adminiſtrators of the Wife: and ſo is the Law, If the wife hath but a poſſibility to a thing. 4. If a woman hath Chattels-real in the right of another as Executor, or as Adminiſtrator, or as Guardian in Socage, theſe are not given to the husband by the Intermarriage, although that he doth over-live his Wife. 5. If a woman granteth a Term to her uſe, and afterwards taketh a Husband, and dyeth, the Huſband ſhall not have the Truſt in the Term, but the Executors or Adminiſtrators of the Wife, becauſe the ſame conſiſts in privity. 6 Chattels real of a mixt nature, viz. part in poſſeſſion, and part in action, which happen during the Coverture, the Husband ſhall have them by the Intermarriage, if he over-liveth the Wife, as the Arrearages of a Rent encurred during the Coverture. But if the Husband ſurviveth, he ſhall have them. And now by the Statute of 32 H. 8. Cap. 37. the Husband ſhall have the Arrearages incurred before the Marriage, if he over-liveth the Wife. 7. All Chattels perſonals in poſſeſſion of the Wife in her own right, are given to the Husband, whether he over-live his wife or not; But Chattels which are perſonal in Action, the Husband ſhall not have them by the Intermarriage, if he and his wife do not recover them in the life-time of the Wife. 8. If the Woman hath but a bare poſſeſſion of Chattels perſonals, as by Trover or Bailment, theſe are not given to the Husband by the Intermarriage: but for ſuch, Detinue doth lye by the husband and wife. See Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 351, 352. And ſee for the proof of theſe Rules and Grounds, divers Caſes herein, after mentioned.

9. If a Leaſe be made to husband and wife during their lives, the remainder to the Executors of the Survivour of them; If the husband grants away this Term, and dyeth, the ſame ſhall not barre the wife, becauſe the wife had but a poſſibility, and no Intereſt. Hill. 17 Eliz. in C.B. adjudged accordingly. But if a man be poſſeſſed of a Term for 40 years in the right of his wife, and he maketh a Leaſe for 20 years reſerving Rent, and dyeth, albeit the wife ſhall have the reſidue of the Term, yet the Executors of the husband ſhall have the Rent, for that it was not incident to the Reverſion, becauſe the wife was not party to the Leaſe. And ſo it is, if the husband had made a grant of the whole Term, upon Condition, That the Grantee ſhould pay a ſum of money to his Executors, &c. and the husband had dyed, and upon breach of he Condition, the Executors had entred; It had been a good diſpoſition of the whole Term, and therewith he had been barred, becauſe the whole Intereſt was paſſed away by the husband. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 46. See Sect. 2. before. See Cook 10. Part. Lampits Caſe, acc.

10. A man deviſed, That after his debts and Legacies paid, That his wife ſhould have the reſidue of his goods to diſtribute for the ſoul of the Teſtator; and afterwards he made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; the wife took another huſband, who made his Executors, and dyed, againſt whom the wife brought an Action of Detinue for the goods of the firſt husband: And it was adjudged, That the Action did well lye: for that ſhe had not the goods as a Legatory, but as Executor to her firſt husband; and ſo ſhe being poſſeſſed of them in auter droit, they were not given to the ſecond husband by his Intermarriage with the wife; nor could the ſecond husband diſpoſe of them. 16 Eliz. Dyer 331.

11. Debt was brought againſt the husband and wife, upon an Obligation made by the wife before marriage; which being found againſt them, It was moved by the Defendant's Counſel, That the Writ againſt them, was in the Detinet tantum, where it ought to have been in the Debet et Detinet: For the wife who was party to the Action, made the Obligation by her ſelf; and the Intermarriage was a guift in Law of all the perſonal goods, and diſpoſition of all Chattels reals, and all thoſe he had to his own uſe, and not to another uſe, as Executors: And becauſe the husband hath the goods and Chattels of his wife to his own uſe, the Writ ſhall be brought againſt them in the Debet et Detinet: And of that Opinion was the whole Court; and that therefore the action brought in the Detinet onely, did not lye. Trin. 30 Eliz. in B. R. Cook 5. Part, 36. Walcotts Caſe.

12. If a Grant be made to a woman who taketh husband, and the woman dyeth, the Husband may vouch by force of this word [Grant] although he cometh to it by Act in Law, as by Intermarriage or otherwiſe: ſo if a man demiſe or grant Lands to a woman for years, and the Leſſor Covenanteth with the Leſſee, to repair the houſes during the Term, the woman taketh husband, and dyeth, the husband ſhall have an Action of Covenant as well upon the Covenant in Law, upon theſe words, [Demiſe and Grant] as upon an expreſſe Covenant. Cook 5. Part, 17. in Spencers Caſe.

13. The Caſe was; A woman being Adminiſtrator to her former husband, brought Debt upon a Bond due to her Teſtator, and had Judgment to recover; afterwards the wife dyed, and a year and a day being paſt, the husband brought a Scire facias to have Execution. It was holden, That the Scire facias did not lye for the husband, becauſe being a debt demanded by the wife as Adminiſtratrix, it is in auter droit; and although that they do recover, yet ſhe dying before Execution, the duty remains to him who takes new Adminiſtration as in the right of the Inteſtate; and although the husband be party to the Judgment, yet he hath no property in the debt; and he who ought to have the Scire facias, muſt have privity and property to have the debt: But if husband and wife bring an Action of Debt, for a debt due to the wife, and recover, and the wife dyeth, the husband may bring a Scire facias to execute the Judgment; for the debt being recovered, the husband ſhall have it after the death of the wife. Hill. 16 Car. in B.R. Beaumont and Longs Caſe, Cro. 1. Part, 150. See Trin. 12 Jac. in B. R. Cro. 1. Part, 334. acc.

14. In Ejectione Firmæ, the Caſe was; A Termor demiſed his Term to J. S. who made his Wife his Executrix, and dyed; the wife entred, and proved the Will, and afterwards took husband, and the husband takes a Leaſe of the Leſſor; after, the Deviſee entred, and granted his Eſtate to the husband and wife: Two Points were in this caſe; 1. If by this acceptance of the new Leaſe by the husband, the Term which the wife had to another, viz. to the uſe of the Teſtator ſhould be deemed a ſurrender. And the Opinion of the Court was clear, That it was a ſurrender. 2. When the Deviſee enters into the Term deviſed to him without the aſſent of the Executor, and after grants his right and Intereſt to the Executor, If the grant were good, becauſe he had not any Term in him, but onely a right of the Term ſuſpended in the Land? And it was holden to be a good Grant, and that it ſhall enure firſt to the agreement of the Executor by the acceptance of the Grant; and ſecondly, the Deed ſhall have operation to enure by way of Grant to paſs the Eſtate of the Deviſee to the Executor. Trin. 27 Eliz. in C. B. Carter and Lawes Caſe, Owen 56.

15. Note; That upon a Divorce, the woman ſhall have her goods again which were given in marriage, except they are ſpent, becauſe they were given for the Advancement of the woman; and Ceſſante Cauſa ceſſat effectus. 28 H. 8. Dyer 13. acc.

5. When

5. Where the Covenant or other Act by the husband, ſhall bind the Wife after his death; where not. And where the Act of the Wife ſhall bind the Husband, et è contra: And where the acts of them both ſhall bind them.

1. A Leaſe is made by Indenture to Husband and Wife for years, and there is a Proviſo in it, That if they are diſpoſed to alien, that the Leſſor ſhall have the firſt Offer, if he would give for it as another would: It was a doubt, Whether this were a Condition, or a Covenant? But by Shelley, Juſtice, If it be but a Covenant, the wife ſhall be bound by it, if ſhe ſurvives, and occupieth the Land, eſpecially being a Covenant which riſeth upon the Eſtate. Trin. 28 H. 8. Dyer 13.

2. A Woman brought a Scire facias to have execution of the third part of a Mannor recovered by Writ of Dower; The Tenant pleaded in barr, That after Judgment, and before the Scire facias, that ſhe had by her acquittance the receipt of 30 l. of the Defendant due for his Rent, parcel of the yearly Rent of 61. adjudged to the Plaintiff in full ſatisfaction of her whole Dower, which ſhe ought to have of all the Lands which were her late Husbands before the Marriage. And it was holden to be no Plea, becauſe it was not Iſſuing out of the Land in which ſhe demanded Dower, wherefore the Tenant pleaded, That it was Iſſuing out of that Land. It was holden, If it were iſſuing out of the Land Aſſigned to her in Dower, the Acceptance did bar her, otherwiſe not. Mich. 5 Ma. Dyer. 91. See Cook 4. Part Vernon's Caſe. In that Caſe it was ſaid, That if before the Statute of 32 H. 8. Husband and Wife do make a Leaſe for years by word, rendring Rent; and the Huſband dyeth, and the Wife accepteth the Rent, that that doth not make good and affirm the Leaſe, becauſe her aſſent is requiſite at the making of the Leaſe, which ſhe cannot do without Deed; Quære, of that: For ſee Cook 2. Part 61. in Wiſcotts Caſe. Paſc. 33 Eliz. Moſeley and Guilberts Caſe. Trin. 31 Eliz. Bateman and Allens Caſe, and divers other Preſidents vouched, That ſuch a demiſe made by Husband and Wife without alledging the ſame to be by Deed, was good enough.

3. Sir William Candiſh Treaſurer of the Kings Chamber, being ſeiſed of Lands, Covenanted to ſtand ſeiſed thereof to the uſe of himſelf and his Wife, and the heirs of the Husband, and dyed, his Wife married William Scyntlo Captain of the Guard, who were brought into the Exchequer by proceſſe to accompt; and returned to be Ter-Tenants of the Lands. It was agreed in that Caſe that they ſhould accompt, becauſe they were Ter-Tenants of that Land, of which Sir William Candiſh was ſole ſeiſed, after the Office was granted to him. But it was holden in that Caſe, That if Sir William Candiſh his Wife had bin a Joynt-purchaſor with her Husband of the Lands during the Coverture, and before the Office had bin granted to him, that the ſaid Land ſhould not have bin lyable. Trin. 6 Eliz. Dyer. 224.

4. The Caſe was, The Husband was ſeiſed of Lands in the right of his Wife, they both joyned in Exchange of the Lands with a ſtranger, for other Land, which Exchange was Executed; The Husband and Wife ſeiſed of the Lands taken in Exchange, alliened the ſame by Fine; It was holden by the Juſtices, That the Wife after the death of her Husband, might enter into her own Lands, notwithſtanding the Fine. And it was reſembled to the Caſe of 19 Eliz. Dyer. 359. The Husband after Marriage aſſured to his Wife a Joynture; they both levyed a Fine ſur Conuſans de droit, &c. of the gift of the Husband, that the ſame ſhall not bar the Wife of her Dower, for that the Election is not given to the Wife to claim her Dower, untill after the death of her Husband. Hill. 28 Eliz. in C. B. Leon. 285.

5. The Husband claimed Lands in the right of his Wife, and made a Leaſe to J. S. for 5 years, to try the Title, who thereupon brought an Ejectione firmæ: The Defendant pleaded: That the husband, the Leſſor dyed after the Leaſe made, and before the Action was brought, ſo as the Leaſe was void, and determined by his death, and it cannot be then ſuppoſed, that he doth ad hunc tenere the Plaintiff out of poſſeſſion, and as this Caſe is, the Leſſee hath no cauſe to have any habere facias Poſſeſſionem; but it was holden by the Court, That in regard the Wife had not entred after the death of her Husband, the Leaſe is not determined, nor void after the death of her Husband, but voidable onely. Mich. 11 Jac. in B. R. Jordan and Wikes Caſe. Cro. 2. part 332.

6. In Treſpaſſe, the Caſe was, Husband and Wife (in the right of his Wife) and a third perſon, were Joynt-Tenants for the lives of the Wife, and the 3d perſon. The Husband and Wife by Deed let the moyety for 21 years, the Wife dyed the ſurviving Joynt-Tenant entred, and drave out the Cattel of the Leſſee, who thereupon brought Treſpaſſe, and whether this Leaſe ſhould bind the Survivor was the queſtion; It was objected, That the Husband was not Joynt-Tenant, but in the right right of his Wife, and had not any power to contract for any longer, than during the life of his Wife, and here the Wife is dead, therefore the Leaſe is void, quoad to her and the ſurvivor. But it was holden by the Court, That the Leaſe was good, and is a good Leaſe made by her, untill ſhe after the Coverture, or one who claims in privity by her, avoids it by Entry, for it is not void by the death of the Husband, but voidable; and the avoydance cannot be by the Joynt-Tenant Survivor, for he is paramount the Wife, and not under her: and therefore the Leaſe being good, till it be avoided by one who hath privity, ſhall bind as long as any of the Joynt-Tenants be alive. Mich. 13 Jac. in B. R. rott. 609. Smalman and Agborowes Caſe. Cro. 2. Part 417.

7. Husband and Wife ſeiſed of Lands in London, in the right of the Wife, they by Indenture Covenanted to ſuffer a Recovery thereof, to the uſe of the Recoverers, untill they had made a Leaſe for 40 years, and after to the uſe of the Husband and Wife, and the heirs of the Wife; the Leaſe was made accordingly: The Husband dyed, the queſtion was, Whether this Caſe was determined by the death of the Husband, or not, and that the Wife ſhould avoid the Leaſe; It was the Opinion of the Juſtices, That the Wife ſhould not avoid the Leaſe by the limitation to the Recoverers untill, &c. but ſhall hold under the ſaid recovery; for her former eſtate was gon and extinct by the Recovery, ſo as the Term precedes her Eſtate: But what remedy ſhe had for the Rent reſerved, is there a Quære, becauſe the Wife came in en le poſt, and the Rent was reſerved, before her uſe created. Trin. 2. Eliz. Dyer. 290.

8. Husband and Wife made a Leaſe by Indenture for years rendring Rent, the Leſſee entred, the Husband before the day of payment of the Rent dyed, and the Wife alſo before the day of payment married a ſecond Husband, who accepted the Rent at the day; It was the Opinion of the Court, That the Wife could not ouſte the Termor, becauſe ſhe might have avoided the Term before the day at her pleaſure; which now ſhe hath reſigned to him, who was her ſecond Husband. Paſc. 4, & 5. Ma. Dyer. 159.

9. In Trover and Converſion for divers Jewels, brought by the Adminiſtrator of Serjeant Davis, againſt Sir Archibald Duglaſſe; The Caſe upon a Speciall Verdict was this, Serjeant Davis was poſſeſſed of 65. great Pearls, 65. ſmall Pearls, and a Diamond-Chain; and made his Will, and deviſed the uſe and occupation of all his Plate hangings, and Jewels to his Wife, during her Widowhood, ſhe giving Security to deliver and leave the ſame to his daughter at the day of her death, or ſecond marriage, which ſhould firſt happen, and dyed poſſeſſed of them, and that after his death Adminiſtration of his goods was committed to the Plaintiff. The Wife of Serjeant Davis was the daughter of the Earl of Caſtle-Haven. That ſhe in her life time uſed the ſaid Jewels, et ut ornamenta corporis ſui wore them: that afterwards ſhe married with the Defendant, and that he converted thoſe Jewels; This Caſe being argued by the Court, to whom the Jewels did belong, The Court was divided in Opinion; For Jones and Berkly held, That ſhe being the daughter of a Noble man, and permitted to uſe them ut ornamenta corporis ſui, ſhe ſhould have them as her Paraphernalia, and when there are no debts to be paid (as there was not in this Caſe) ſhe ſhould have them againſt the Executors and Adminiſtrators, and that the Husband could not diſpoſe them by his Will, but inſtantly upon his death, the property of them is veſted in the Wife; and although the Husband may make a gift of them in his life time yet he cannot make a Will of them, like as the Caſe, where the Wife hath a Term, and takes a Husband he may give and diſpoſe thereof in his life time, but he cannot diſpoſe of it by his Will. Plow. Com. 416. Bracebridges Caſe. And the permiſſion of the Wife to wear them, uſually is a gift of them by the Husband to the Wife. Richardſon and Croke Juſtices, contrary; That ſhe could not take them but according to the Will, and if the Husband had not made any Will; And where there be no debts of Legacies to pay, or Affects left to pay them; there peradventure the Law will allow the Wife to enjoy them as her Paraphernalia; but where he makes a Will, ſhe ought to take them as is appointed by the Will; and the permiſſion of the Husband to the Wife to wear them, can be neither a gift in Deed nor in Law of them, for the Husband cannot give ought to his Wife. And all Chattels (although the Wife had them before) the abſolute property of them by the marriage, is veſted in the Husband; and ſo of thoſe goods called Paraphernalia, the property is in the Husband, and he may diſpoſe of them: And in confirmation of their Opinions, they vouched the Caſe, Trin. 28 Eliz. Where the Executors of Viſcount Bindon brought Trover and Converſion of Jewells of the value of 1000 l. againſt Mary Viſcounteſſe Bindon; and ſhe pleaded, That at the time of his death, ſhe uſually wore thoſe Jewells, as Ornaments of her body, and averred, that the Executors had Affects to pay all debts, &c. beſides thoſe goods: And Iſſue was taken, that they had not Affects: in which Caſe it was obſerved; That Jewells of 1000 l. were not allowed Paraphernalia, if the Husband had diſpoſed of them in Legacies; But Quacunque via data; they agreed that the Husband might diſpoſe of them by his Will; and that the the Wife could not take them without the Aſſent of the Executors, and this expreſſe declaration in his Will, how the Jewells ſhall be diſpoſed of, controlls any implyed gift of them, as is pretended: Quære, for the Caſe was not Reſolved then by the Court. Trin. 8 Car. in B. R. The Lord Haſtings and Sir Archibald Douglaſſes Caſe. Cro. 1. Part 251, 252, 253.

10. A. was bound in a Statute of 2000 l. to B. who dyed Inteſtate, the Adminiſtration of the goods of B. was committed to his Wife, who entermarried with C: C. became bound with others to the King in 600 l. and then C. and his Wife did, by Deed Enrolled, aſſign this Statute to the King, for the payment of the ſaid Debt of 600 l. to the King. It was Reſolved in Court of Wards, that this Aſſignment made by the husband and Wife to the King was good, notwithſtanding the Statute of 7 Jac. which makes Aſſignment of debts void, other than ſuch as did grow due originally to the Kings debtor bona fide; and that this being C's. own debt, and though the Statute was not to his own uſe, but did belong to his Wife, to whom the Adminiſtration of the goods of B. was committed: yet by the inter-marriage C. had the Intereſt and power of this Statute, and ſo he might lawfully aſſign over the ſame to the King, in ſatisfaction of the Debt, which C. and others owed to the King: And it was holden, that as C. might have releaſed and diſcharged the Statute, and the ſame ſhould have bound his Wife; ſo by the ſame reaſon he might Aſſign the ſame. Paſc. 17 Jac. in the Court of Wards. Breadman and Coals Caſe. Hob. 253.

11. In an Ejectione firme, It was found by Special Verdict, That a Copyholper ſeiſed in the right of his Wife, made a Leaſe for years, and it was a queſtion whether it was a forfeiture of the Inheritance of the Wife. It was ſaid it was no forfeiture. But Dodderidge Juſtice took this difference; Where a Feme ſole is a Copy-holder, and ſhe takes a Husband, who makes a Leaſe for years without Licence, the ſame is forfeiture, becauſe it is her folly to take ſuch a Husband as will forfeit her Land; But where a Copyhold is granted to a Feme Covert, and the Husband maketh a Leaſe without Licence, in ſuch Caſe it is no forfeiture. Quære, and ſee Cook 8. Part 44. in Whittinghams Caſe. Trin. 21 Jac. in B. R. Severne and Smiths Caſe. Godbolt. 345.

12. Note, by Hobart Chief Juſtice, The Law of Nature hath put a Feme Covert under the obedience of her Husband, and hath ſubmitted her Will to his; the Rule of which is Cui ipſa in vita ſua Contradicere non potuit; and therefore will not bind her by her Act joyning with her Husband, becauſe they are judged his Acts, not hers: yet the Law of the Land makes bold, and diſpenſeth with this Law of Nature in ſome Caſe, and therefore the Law of the Land allowes of a Fine levyed by the Husband and Wife, becauſe ſhe is examined of her Free will by a perſon truſted by the Law, or by the Kings Writ, and ſo taken as a Feme Sole; Alſo if a Feme Covert levy a Fine alone, as if ſhe were a Feme Sole, this for the reaſon aforeſaid, ſhall bind her that ſhe ſhall not be received to ſay, that ſhe was a Feme Covert; although her Husband ſhall, and may enter, and reſtore the Land again to himſelf, and alſo to the Wife: See Cook 7. Part 8. the Counteſſe of Bedfords Caſe. acc. Hill. 12 Jac. in C. B. by Hobart, in Needler and the Biſhop of Wincheſters Caſe. Hob. 227.

13. Husband and Wife ſeiſed of Lands in the right of the Wife, levyed a Fine to the uſe of themſelves for their lives, and afterwards to the uſe of the Heirs of the Wife: Proviſo, that it ſhall and may be Lawfull for the Husband and Wife at any time during their lives, to make Leaſes for 21. years, or three lives. The Wife being Covert, made a Leaſe for 21. years; It was adjudged a good Leaſe againſt the Husband, although it was made when ſhe was Covert, and although it was made by her alone, by reaſon of the Proviſo. Paſc. 21. Jac. in C. B. Godbolt, 327.

14. In an Ejectione firme upon a Special Verdict found, The Caſe was this; Tenant for life, the Remainder to Husband and Wife, and their Heirs; the Husband and Wife ſuffered a common Recovery; and whether the heirs of the Wife ſhould be barred by this Recovery was the queſtion, becauſe it was conceived ſhe was not Tenant to the precipe, nor doth it appear that ſhe was examined, and ſo nothing was recovered from her. In other Caſes the party may be bound by Eſtople, namely, where he might have pleaded to the Writ, but here the Feme Covert is not admitted ſo to do; and the Feme Covert here is not ſo concluded, by her admiſſion, that ſhe may not be admitted to ſpeak againſt this Recovery, if ſhe ſurvive her Husband, neither are her heirs concluded ſo to do, although ſhe do not ſurvive, although peradventure as to the warranty they may be concluded: But the Court ſaid. 1. It is not to be queſtioned, Whether a Recovery bind a Feme Covert. 2. It is not neceſſary to examine a Feme Covert upon ſuffering a Recovery, although it be a prudentiall thing to do it; but if it be not done, it is not averrable, that it was not done: The materiall queſtion here is, If the Wife be Tenant to the Precipe or not, ſo as ſhe ſhall be eſtopped to ſpeak againſt the Recovery: It was holden ſhe was eſtopped, for ſhe joyns in it with her Husband, and here is no default made by the husband, and the Record cord is perfect; and she might have pleaded; and the recompence in value shall go to the heirs of the Wife; and she being party and privy to the Recovery is bound by it, and it shall bind her heirs also. Hill. 1651. rott. 1002. in C. B. Locker and Palfrimans Case. Styles 319, 320.

6. Where Acts done by them both, or either of them; and what Acts shall be good, what not: What Acts or things the Wife may do to the Husband, or the Husband to the Wife; what not; And where the Husband shall answer for the Act done by the Wife, and the Wife bound by the Act of the Husband.

1. A Man made a Feoffment in Fee of a Manor, to the use of himself and his Wife, and his heirs, in which Manner there were underwoods which were usually cut every 21. years. The husband suffered the underwoods to grow to 15. years growth. The question was, If this suffering of the husband of it to grow to 25 years, during the Coverture, should bind the Wife so as she could not cut down the woods without committing wast. The Opinion of the Court was, That this permission of the wife should bind the wife; for the time is limited by the Law, which cannot be altered, if it be not the Custome of the Country. And the wife cannot fell the woods, notwithstanding at the time of her estate she might, and therefore because it was not felled before such time as the Lease appointed it to be felled, if the wife cut them down it should be wast. Hill. 23 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt. 6.

2. Note, It was said by Manwood and Dyer Justices, That if a woman hath a Term, and takes a husband, who purchaseth Fee, that the Term is extinct, because the husband hath done an Act which destroyes the Term, viz. the purchase: But if the woman had enter-married with the Reversioner there the Term should not be extinguished, for the husband hath done no Act to destroy the Terme. Pasc. 17 Eliz. in C. B. Godbolt.

3. In an Action of Trespasse, The Custome of a Mannor was laid to let; That every Woman vire coverta poterit devise her Lands, being Copyhold-Lands, whereof she was seised in Fee to her husband, and surrender the same in the presence of the Reeve and six other persons: And it was found, That J. S. was seised of the Land where, &c. and had Issue two daughters, and dyed, and that they married two husbands, and that the one of the said daughters devised her part to her husband by Will in writing in the presence of the Reeve and six other persons, and afterwards at another day, she surrendered to her husband, and he was admitted, and the wife dyed, and her husband continued in possession: And the husband of the other daughter brought an Action of Trespasse against him: And it was the Opinion of the Court That the Custome was not good. 1. Because of the incertainty, for it is not mentioned of what estate she might make the Devise. 2. Because it is against reason that the wife should surrender to her Husband: for the wife hath not any Will, but the Will of her husband, and the wife cannot devise to her husband, for that should be the Act of the husband to convey the Land to himself: Also the custome is not good, For it is that Quælibet Femina vero cooperta poterit, &c. and it ought to be, that Feme Coverts possunt for Custome and Prescription must be in a thing done; also the devise is not according to the Custome. For that is that she may devise and surrender, and that ought to be at one time, and that in the presence of the Reeve and six other parties, at the surrender; and the words of a Custome must be performed strictly. It was holden that the Custome, surrender, nor devise were good; and therefore that the Action of Trespasse was well brought. Pasc. 25 Eliz. in C. B. Shipwithes Case. Godbolt, 14, 15, and 16.

4. A man being Tenant for life in the right of his Wife, made a Deed of Feoffment, Habendum, to the Feoffee and his heirs ad solum opus & usum, of the Feoffee and his heirs, for the life of the wife; and it was the clear Opinion of the whole Court, That in this Case, the husband by his Act had forfeited the estate of the Wife, because the Habendum was absolute, and the use in another clause, and although he doth not limit the use but for life, yet the Law limits the remainder of the use to the party who maketh the Feoffment. Mich. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Sir Raph Egerton's Case. Godbolt. 141.

5. Note by the Common-Law, A man could not by any conveyance in possession, Reversion, or Remainder limit an estate to his wife; nor since that Statute of 27 H. 8. can a man Covenant with his Wife to stand seised to her use, because he cannot grant nothing to her, nor can he covenant with her, they being one person in Law; but at this day a man may by his deed Covenant with others to stand seised to the use of his wife, or to make a Feoffment, or other conveyance to his wife, because a use is but a trust and confidence, which by by such a means may be limited by the husband to the wife. Cook 1. Part Institutes 112. And at this day, a man may surrender his Copy-hold Land to the use of his wife, because the husband doth it not immediately to the wife, but by two means, the surrender by the husband to the Lord to the use of his wife, and by the admittance of the Lord according to the surrender; but if the Estate did passe immediately from the husband to the wife, it could not be, as it was adjudged. Cook 4. Part 29. in Buntings Case.

6. Husband and Wife levied a Fine of the wives Land, the wife being within age, then both brought a Writ of Error to reverse the Fine, the question was, If it should be reversed as to the wife onely, or against both; or against the husband onely, according to the Opinion of Belknap. 50 E. 3. And after long debate, It was Resolved, It should be against them both, for that it is entire, and cannot be affirmed in part, and disaffirmed in part. 31 Eliz. in B. R. Charnock and Worsley's Case. Owen. 21.

7. In Debt upon an Obligation, the Case was, Two were bound to a third, joyntly and severally, the Obligee made the wife of one of the Obligors his Executrix and dyed, The woman Executrix Administred, Then the husband the Obligor made his Executrix and dyed, leaving Assetts to pay the debt, Then she dyed, and the Plaintiff took Letters of Administration of the Goods and Chattells of the Obligee unadministred, and brought his Action against the Defendant, being the surviving Obligor. It was adjudged by the Court, That when the Obligee makes the wife of one of the Obligors his Executrix, the Action at least was suspended, and a personal Action once suspended, is extinct; another reason more sure was, when the Obligor made the Executrix of the Obligee his Executrix, and left Assets, the debt was presently satisfied by way of retainer, and no new Action can be had for the same debt. Hill. 11 Jac. in C. B. 1990. Fryer and Gilbridge's Case. Hob. 10.

8. A. possessed of a Lease for 100. years by Indenture, betwixt him and his wife of the one part, and T. of the other part; Sealed by A. but not by his wife, Assigns all their estate in the Lease to T. reddendo et solvendo, to him and to his wife durante termino, to them, and the survivor of them, the rent of 7 l. at Michaelmas and Annunciation. Proviso, If the rent be behind 40 dayes after, &c. and not paid to him and his wife, or the survivor of them then it shall be lawfull to him and his wife, and the survivor of them and their Assigns to re-enter: A. dyes, his wife survives him, the rent is behind, the wife the last of the 40 dayes, demands it; the Administrator of A. also demands the Rent: T. Assigns his Interest and estate to the Plaintiff. The Administrator of A. enters, and lets the Land to the Defendant: The Opinion of the Justices was, That although the reddendo & solvendo durante termino; if there had been no more said, it had bin a Reservation during the Term, yet he doth not rest upon that, but sayes further, rendring to him and his wife and the survivor of them, if they live so long, that is an expresse reservation, that it shall not be during all the Term, but to him and his wife, and the survivor of them, and the reservation to his Wife is void, because she is no party in Interest or to the deed; And (to the survivor of them) is void also, therefore the Rent endures no longer then the life of the husband; Also, they held that the word here (solvendo) as was objected, cannot enure by way of grant to the wife, when it is by way of reservation to the husband, for it shall not be construed to enure in several manners; It was adjudged that neither the wife, nor the Administrator had Title to the rent, but the rent was gone: and it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 7 Car. in B. R. Bland and Inman's Case. Cro. 1. Part 210, 211.

9. Note, that after a Dedimus potestatem, a Conusance of a Fine taken of a Feme Sole, and before the day in Bank: for the Recording and Ingrossing of it, the woman took a husband: It was the Opinion of the Court, That notwithstanding that, the Fine should be recorded, as the Fine of a Feme Sole, for that she had done all that which was in her to do; and that the same should bind the wife and her heirs; and also it was said that the husband should be bound by such a Fine, for that the marriage of the wife was her own Act; but if the wife had dyed before the return of it, then the writ of Covenant had abated, because that was by the Act of God. 10. In Trover and Conversion of Hops; The Case appeared to be this: A woman was Tenant for life, the Remainder to another for life; And a certain parcell of Hops were growing out of the Ancient roots, being within the Lands in question The wife dyed, the Hops there growing, and not severed: And, whether the said Hops did belong to the husband, or to him in the Remainder was the question. The Court was of Opinion, That they should go to the husband, and not to him in the Remainder, like Emblements which shall go to the husband, or the Executor of the Tenant for life, and not to him in the remainder, and especially in this Case, because the wife dyed so small a while before the gathering of them, and that they be such things as grow by manurance and industry of the owner, by the making of hills, and setting of Poles. 11. In an Action of Waſte, the Plaintiff declared, That A. was ſeiſed of the Land, and gave it to B. and C. his Wife, and to the heirs of their two bodies, (whoſe heir the Plaintiff is) and that B. and C. his Wife, made a Leaſe to the Defendant for 21 years; and that B. and C. were dead, and that the Plaintiff was heir in tail, and that the Defendant had done Waſte. The Defendant pleaded, That the ſaid B. and C. did not demiſe, &c. Upon which being at Iſſue, The Jury found, That B. and C. by their Deed Indented, made the Leaſe, prout ſupra, and that B. dyed; and that after his death, C. entred, and diſagreed to the Leaſe; and if the Iſſue was found for the Plaintiff, foraſmuch as it was found that both made the Leaſe; Or, If it were found for the Defendant by matter, ex poſt facto, by the diſagreement of the Wife, was the queſtion: And after many Arguments made, It was adjudged for the Defendant, for now by the diſagreement of the Wife in Judgment of Law, it was the Leaſe of the Husband onely; and yet in truth, during the life of the Husband, it was the Leaſe of them both: but now by the diſagreement of the Wife ſubſequent, and the operation of the Law, it was the Leaſe of the Husband onely, for if ab initio, it had not bin the Leaſe of the Husband onely, the Iſſue had bin found for the Plaintiff. Paſc. 28 Eliz. in C. B. rott. 122. Thetford and Thetfords Case. vouch. in Cook 3. Part in Butler and Booker's Case. See Leon. 204. the ſame Caſe.

12. A. ſeiſed of Lands in Fee, levyed a Fine thereof to B. and C. and to the heirs of B. who granted, and rendred the ſame to A. and his Wife, who was not party to the Writ, or to the Coniſance, and to the heirs of A: A. ſuffered a Recovery with voucher in the life of his Wife, and afterwards dyed: the Wife dyed: he in the Remainder brought a Scire facias, to have execution of the Remainder: In this Caſe it was adjudged; 1. That the grant and render to the Wife was not void, but voidable, although ſhe were not party to the Writ, or Coniſance. 2. That this Recovery againſt the Husband onely, ſhould not bind the Remainder, for that between Husband and Wife, there are no moyeties, and the Joynture was not ſevered by the Recovery againſt the Husband alone; and this Caſe is as much as if the Husband had had a Remainder in tail, expectant upon an eſtate for life, in which caſe, a common recovery had againſt him, ſhall not bind, becauſe he was not Tenant to the Præcipe, nor ſeiſed by force of the tail; but the Recovery as to the eſtate of the Husband, took effect by Eſtoppell and Concluſion. Trin. 27. Eliz. in C. B. rott. 276. Owen and Morgans Case. vouched in Cook 3. Part 5. in the Biſhop of Wincheſters Case.

13. A Feme Covert cannot take any thing of the gift of her Husband; but ſhe may purchaſe from others without the Aſſent of her Husband; But if the Husband doth diſagree, the Eſtate is devested; and if the Husband do agree, yet after the death of the Husband, the wife may wave it, if ſhe do not agree to the purchaſe after the death of the Husband. Cook 1. Barr.

1. What ſhall be a good barr, in Debt brought upon an Obligation; and What not.

1. A. Brought Debt for 40 Quarters of Malt, and declared upon two Obligations; in which the Defendant acknowledged himſelf to owe 20 Quarters, to be delivered to J. ſuch a day; and if he failed, to pay 40. The Defendant pleaded a Tender, and that the Plaintiff refuſed Judgment of Action: upon which the Plaintiff demurred: and after, the Plaintiff releaſed 20 Quarters, and had Judgment. In that caſe it was holden, That the Defendant ought to have pleaded unto the firſt. See Cook. 1. Part, Inſtitutes, In Debt upon an Obligation for payment of money, If the Defendant plead a Tender at the day, there he ought to plead, That he is yet ready: But if a man be bounden to deliver bona peritura there in Debt, if the Defendant plead a Tender at the day, he ſhall not plead, That he is yet ready, becauſe it is a charge to him to keep them: but where the Condition is to perform a Collateral thing, there tender and refuſal is a perpetual barr. 18 H. 8. Dyer 24. Bickheads Caſe. Cook 1. Part, Inſtitutes, 207. See 5 Ma. Dyer 150. Panel's Caſe. acc.

2. Note; When the Condition in a Deed is to do a Collateral Act, there an Accord with Execution for money or other thing, is no plea to ſave the forfeiture; but when the Condition in a Deed by the Original Contract, is to pay money, there by accord another may be given in ſatisfaction of the money; becauſe Nummus eſt menſura, omnium rerum convertendarum. Cook 9. Part, 97. in Pytts Caſe. And there it is ſaid, That if a man be bounden in 200 Quarters of Corn, to pay 20 l. the Obligor may by accord betwixt them give to the Obligee, a Horſe or other thing in ſatisfaction of the 20 l. although the money be collaterall to the Obligation: but if a man be bounden in 100 Quarters of Corn, to pay 50, (as in the Caſe, Sect. 1.) he cannot give money or other thing in ſatisfaction of it, becauſe the Contract was not originally for money, but for a Collaterall thing. See Ibid.

Sect.

3. The Condition of an Obligation was, That the Obligor ſhould ſurrender certain Copy-hold Land, and alſo that he ſhould ſuffer the Obligee and his heirs peaceably to enjoy the Land without interruption; the Defendant pleaded performance, and that the Plaintiff continued his poſſeſſion peaceably according to the Condition; and that afterwards, the Rent being behind, the Lord according to the Cuſtome entred for a forfeiture: and that was holden a good plea: and the reaſon was, becauſe the forfeiture was the act of the Plaintiff himſelf, Hill. 28 H. 8. Dyer 30.

4. A man by Indenture bargained and ſold a Mannor; in which Indenture there were divers Covenants; for the performance of which, he bound himſelf in 40 l. In Debt brought upon the Obligation, the Defendant pleaded payment, but did not ſhew any acquittance. It was holden, To be no Plea. Mich. 26 H. 8. Dyer 6. But ſee Mich. 38 Eliz. in B. R. In Debt upon a ſingle Bill, the Defendant pleaded payment without an acquittance; upon which they were at Iſſue: and it was found for the Plaintiff. And although payment without an acquittance is no plea, and the Iſſue is joyned upon an Affirmative and Negative; and that the Iſſue was found for the Plaintiff; It was holden in that caſe, It was helped by the Statute of 32 H. 8. & 18 Eliz. and thereupon the Plaintiff had Judgment. Cook 5. Part, Nicholls Caſe.

5. The Abbot of Weſtminſt. brought Debt againſt the Executor of L. Clerk, upon an Obligation dat. 10. No. 12 H. 8. The Defendant pleaded a Defeaſance dated the ſame day, by which the Plaintiff demiſed to L. the Rectory of A. and the ſaid L. Covenanted by that Indenture, That he and his Aſſigns would diſcharge the Abbot de omnibus oneribus Ordinariis et extraordinariis, and would repair the houſes, and leave them repaired in the end of the term, &c. by virtue of which, L. entred, and occupied till 1. Auguſt, 21 H. 8. during which time, he paid the Rent, and paid five Marks debit. per appropriat. Rectoria prædict. which are omnia onera ordinaria, et extraordinaria, uſq; datum diem, quo die ſtatum ſuum conceſſit to one P; et hoc parati ſunt verificare: upon which plea, the Plaintiff Demurred; and divers Exceptions were taken to the Defendant's plea: amongſt which, ſome, were theſe; 1. That the Covenants be in the Copulative, that he and his Aſſignees would pay, &c. and it ought to have been pleaded Joynly; for although the Leſſor might have Covenant againſt the Aſſignee; yet the Leſſee was not thereby diſcharged. 2. Becauſe he ſhewed not the Licence of Alienation, which prohibits Eccleſiaſtical perſons to have Farms; as the Statute of 21 H.8. 3. He doth not ſhew, That the Aſſignee was a Lay-perſon; which if he were not, the Aſſignment was void. And for theſe and other cauſes, it was adjudged for the Plaintiff. Hill. 28 H. 8. Dyer 27. The Abbot of Weſtm. and Lemmans Caſe. But in that caſe it was holden, That the Leſſee might have had his Action againſt the Aſſignee alone, if he had pleaſed. And ſo it was adjudged in the like Caſe, Mich. 44 Eliz. in B. R. in the Dean and Chapter of Windſor, and Hide's Caſe. Cook 5. Part, 24.

6. A man who was condemned in an Action of Debt brought, paid part of the debt; the Plaintiff made an Acquittance to him in theſe words, ſcil. Received 10 l. in part of a more ſum; wherein the Defendant was condemned by Judgment before the Juſtices of Niſi Prius: whereas Judgment is alwayes in Banco. It was holden in that caſe, That he cannot have that as a Releaſe by way of plea, to have an Audita Querela, if Execution be after ſued of the whole, for that there was no ſuch Judgment: But in that caſe it was ſaid, If I releaſe all my right in White-acre which I purchaſed of ſuch a man, where I had it by diſcent; yet it is good, becauſe White-acre is named certain, and the reſt is ſurpluſage: but if it were all his Lands which he had purchaſed, it was void, becauſe general and incertain. Mich. 33 H. 8. Dyer. 50.

7. Queen Elizabeth, Anno 43. made mixt money in the Tower of London in England, and ſent the ſame into Ireland with a Proclamation, That the ſaid money ſhould be current in the ſame Realm, and ſhould be accepted and received by all her Subjects, uſing Trade and Merchandize within the ſame Realm: and by the ſaid Proclamation, made all other Coyns currant in that Realm, of no eſteem. A Merchant of Ireland was bound in an Obligation of 200 l. before the Proclamation, to J. S. of London, upon Condition, That he pay to J. S. 100 l. Sterling currant and lawfull money of England, in the Church of Dublin in Ireland: The day of payment fell after the Proclamation; at which day, the Merchant tendered the 100 l. in mixt money: And that being in Debt brought, pleaded in barr, the Queſtion was, If the tender in mixt money was good, or not, after the Proclamation, to ſave the forfeiture of the Obligation? And it was adjudged, That the tender made in mixt money was good: for it was holden, That the King might change his money in ſubſtance and impreſſion, and might enhance or abaſe it in value, and by his Proclamation make any Coyn lawful money of England; and if Coyns be of an Incertain value, he may ſet a certain value upon them. See the Caſe of Mixt moneys, in Sir John Davis Reports, Caſe, 3. See acc. Hill. 7 E. 6. Dyer 82.

8. The Condition of an Obligation was; That whereas A. the Plaintiff was bounden to B. the Defendant by a former Obligation, to perform the Covenants in an Indenture; whereof one was, That A. ſhould leave his Lands to diſcend to his Son, without making other diſpoſitions of them, &c. If B. at all times upon reaſonable requeſt, were ready, and did, and ſuffered to be done, all things which ſhould be thought reaſonable by the learned Councel of A. for his diſcharge and Releaſe of his ſaid Bond and Covenant, that then, &c. The Defendant pleaded, That there was no reaſonable requeſt made. The Plaintiff replyed, That J. D. his Councel deviſed a Releaſe of all Actions, Debts, Debates and Demands betwixt A. and B. aforeſaid, and one W. who was a ſtranger to the Covenant; which he ſent to B. to ſeal and deliver as his Deed to them both; which the Defendant refuſed to do: and averred, That there were not any other Obligations, Actions, Debts, &c. between the Plaintiff and the Defendant, beſides the ſaid Obligation and Indenture, but did not ſpeak any thing of W. And it was the clear Opinion of the whole Court, That the requeſt was an unreaſonable requeſt, and againſt the Condition of the Obligation; and the Defendant was not bounden to ſeal the ſaid Deed of Releaſe, although there was no Action and Demand betwixt him and W.; wherefore the plea in barr was holden good, That the Plaintiff ſhould be barred. Mich. 9 Eliz. Dyer. 218. Forteſcue and Stroads Caſe.

9. Note; If the Condition of an Obligation doth ſtand upon divers points: In Debt brought upon the ſame Obligation, If Iſſue be joyned upon one point, which is found againſt the Plaintiff, and he be barred; If after all the other points be broken; yet he ſhall never ſue his Obligation again: And ſuch was the Opinion of the whole Court. Mich. 21 Eliz. Dyer 371.

10. It was Reſolved by the whole Court, That in Actions perſonal, as Debt, Account, &c. the barr is perpetual: and therefore in ſuch caſe the party hath no remedy but by a Writ of Errour, or Attaint: But if a man be barred in an Action reall, by Judgment upon Demurrer, Verdict, or Confeſſion, yet he may have an Action of as high a nature, becauſe the ſame concerns his Freehold, and Inheritance; as if a man be barred in an Aſſize of Novel Diſſeiſin, yet he ſhall have an Aſſiſe of Mordauncester; and if he be barred in a Formedon in the Diſcender, yet he may have a Formedon in the Reverter, or Remainder, becauſe the Fee-ſimple is to be recovered. Mich. 44 Eliz. in C. B. Cook 6. Part, 7. Ferrers Caſe.

11. The Condition of an Obligation was ſuch; Whereas the Obligees, being husband and wife, have an Eſtate for term of their lives of, and in, certain Lands in D. by the Demiſe of A. and B. his wife, If the Obligor and his heirs do ratifie, confirm, and allow the ſaid demiſe at all times hereafter, and ſuffer the Obligees, and every of them, to enjoy the premiſſes without the Let, or diſturbance of the Obligor, or his heirs, and if the Obligor and his heirs do make ſuch farther aſſurance in Law, as the Obligees ſhall deviſe, &c. The Defendant, in Debt brought, pleaded, Quod ipſe ad omnia tempora poſt confectionem hujuſmodi Scripti hujuſq; ratificavit confirmavit et allocavit prædict. dimiſionem, &c. apud D. and further, That he had ſuffered the Obligees during the life of the husband, and after his deceaſe, his Wife, to enjoy, &c. And further, that the Obligees had not deviſed any further aſſurance in Law, De et ſuper præmiſſis fiend.; Upon which the Plaintiff did Demur. And the Opinion of the Court was, That it was no plea; but that he ought to have pleaded the Confirmation, by a Deed in writing. And therefore the party did afterwards confeſs the Action. Trin. 6 Eliz. Dyer. 229.

12. A. and his wife brought Debt againſt B. upon an Obligation of 100 l. made to the wife, when ſhe was ſole, for the payment of 50 l. The Defendant pleaded, That at the day of payment of the 50 l. he and his ſon did make a new Obligation of 100 l. to the ſaid wife being then ſole, for the payment of the ſaid 50 l. at another day then to come, in ſatisfaction of the ſaid 50 l; and that ſhe ſo accepted of it: It was adjudged for the Plaintiff: for it was holden by the whole Court, That it was no ſatisfaction actuall, as for the preſent, as it ought to be. Mich. 6 Jac. in C. B. rot. 1001. Sir Richard Lovelace, and Cookells Caſe. Hob. 68, 69.

13. In an Action of Covenant brought to diſcharge the Plaintiff of a ſingle Bill, in which he was bound for the debt of the Defendant; the Plaintiff alledged for breach, Non-payment, and that a Suit at Law and a Recovery was had againſt him for the money which remained in force. The Defendant pleaded, That he paid the money at the day, and thereof gave the Plaintiff Notice before the bringing of his Action: upon which, the Plaintiff did Demur; and it was holden by the whole Court, That the Defendant's plea was not good; and Judgment was given for the Plaintiff. Hill. 13 Jac. in C. B. Rident and Tooks Caſe. Brown. 1. Part, 24.

14. Debt upon an Obligation; the Defendant pleaded, That the Plaintiff brought another Action upon the ſame Bond in London, to which the Defendant fendant had pleaded, Non eſt factum, and that it was found there, That it was not the Defendant's Deed: and in London, the Entry is upon ſuch a Verdict, That the Defendant ſhall recover Damages againſt the Plaintiff, and that the Deſendant ſhould be without day, &c. but there was no Judgment, that the Defendant ſhould take nothing by the Writ, therefore no Judgment to be barred in another Suit; for it is onely a Tryal, and no Judgment: Wherefore the Opinion of the whole Court was, That the Defendant's plea was not good; and ſo no barr. Paſch. 9 Jac. in C. B. Levett and Halls Caſe. Brownlow 1. Part. 81, 82.

15. A man was bounden to perform Covenants contained in an Indenture of Leaſe of Tythes; and there was a Proviſo in the Leaſe, That if the Leſſee attempt and proſecute any Action againſt A. who pretended a former Leaſe, if Verdict paſſed againſt the Leſſee, that the Term ſhould ceaſe: In Debt upon the Obligation for Non-payment of the Rent, It is no plea, That A. enjoyed the Tythe by virtue of his former Leaſe; ſo that the Defendant could not have it according to his Leaſe; and ſo no articule ex parti ſua perimplend. for that the Opinion of the Court was, That the Rent was payable, untill the Verdict paſſed againſt the Defendant. Mich. 19 Eliz. Dyer 318.

16. Debt upon an Obligation to perform the the Arbitrament of two, of all Actions, &c. depending between the parties, ſo as the ſame Arbitrament were made and yielded up by the Arbitrators in writing, at or before 21 Julii. The Deſendant pleaded by Proteſtation, That the ſaid Arbitrators made not any Arbitrament between the parties aforeſaid; for plea, That the Arbitrators did not deliver the ſaid parties any Arbitrament in writing, De et ſuper premiſſis. The Plaintiff ſaid, That the Arbitrators after the making of the writing, and before the ſaid 21 July, per eorum arbitrium in Scriptis factum, et partibus prædict. per eoſdem Arbitratores tunc, et ibid. deliberat. &c. and ſhewed all the Arbitrament, which was, That Suits and Quarrels ſhould ceaſe and end; and that the Defendant ſhould pay to the Plaintiff 40 l. for Non-payment of which, the Action was brought: upon which, the Defendant did Demur in Law. And the Opinion of the whole Court was againſt the Plaintiff; For that it is not direct, but onely an argument that the Arbitrators delivered the Award; and he ought to have pleaded, That it was delivered at or before Mich. according to the Condition, and not before onely. Mich. 18 Eliz. Dyer 244.

17. An Action of Covenant was brought by an Adminiſtrator, and he declared, How that A. the Inteſtate bargained and ſold Land to the Defendant by Indenture, and Covenanted to make further aſſurance, and to deliver the Evidences; In Conſideration of which, the bargainee covenanted to pay to him 100 l. A. dyed Inteſtate, and the Adminiſtrator brought the Action, and declared, That A. perimplevit. &c. tamen the Defendant licet ſepa requiſit. did not pay the 100 l. The Defendant pleads a Releaſe of A. of all Actions, made after, &c. The Plaintiff ſaid, That he was an Ideot at the time, and ſo had been from his birth, to the times of his death. The Defendant Traverſed the Ideocy. Mich. 2 Ma. Dyer 112. Quære if it be a Jeofail. It ſeems the plea of the Ideocy was holden to be a good plea.

18. A man was bound by Indenture to pay a certain ſum of money; In an Action of Debt brought upon that Deed: the Defendant ſaid, That he had paid the ſum; and that without ſhewing an Acquittance. It was ſaid, That the plea was not good; for the Indenture is like to a ſimple Obligation, in which payment is no plea, without an acquittance: Otherwiſe it is, if the Obligation hath a Condition. 28 H. 8. Dyer 25.
